RIALLARO

Some Press Opinions of LIMANORA on its first appearance

SCOTSMAN. '... imagined with a fine, large philosophical outlook upon the possibility of humanity, and it is both consistently and persuasively described....'

REVIEW OF REVIEWS. 'Limanora will immediately entrance all thinking people who are interested in modern science and development.'

ADELAIDE REGISTER. '... He reminds one sometimes of Wells, sometimes of Samuel Butler, and sometimes of Swift. . . .'

BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE. '... The author displays a very complete education and a philosophy which has the rare quality of combining scientific profundity with a powerful if sedate imagination. In its details it is as scientific as, say, The Descent of Man or Émile. . . . In the kindred subjects of Education and atavism Mr. Sweven is in advance of Darwin and Rousseau as a thinker.'

DR. ALFRED RUSSEL WALLACE. '... A very remarkable work. . . .'

MONSIEUR CAMILLE FLAMMARION. '... Le beau livre, Limanora. . . .'
