

INDEX

- ALLEN, Consul, on Chinese officials, 284
- Alostar, Kedah, 529
- American Settlement in Shanghai, 7
- Amherst, Lord, at Court of China, 303
- An-byon Monastery, 330
- Anderson, John, and Kedah, 527
- Angkor, France and, 513
- Ashmore, Rev. Dr., and Chinese missions, 281
- Asia, The civilisation of, 25
- Atrocities at Port Arthur, 595
- Audience question, Court of China, 302
- BALFOUR, F. H., quoted on China, 306
- Bangkok, 407, 422 (see also Siam)
- Bangkok society, 416
- Battambang, France and, 513
- Bhaskarawongse, Phya, and Siam, 461
- Bichidt, Prince, of Siam, 450
- Book-piracy in Hongkong, 29
- Boulger, D. C., quoted on China, 246
- Bourbon, Prince Henry of, at Peking, 280
- Bowring, Sir John, and Macao, 189
- Bozzolo, C. F., 534, 538, 558, 563, 567
- Brennan, Mr., and Japanese competition, 382
- Bribery and corruption in China, 266-7-8, 282-4-5, 295
- Brinkley, Captain, quoted on Japan, 392
- Britain, see Great Britain
- British middleman and Chinese merchant, 25
- British predominance in China, 317, 318
- British rule, Chinese and the, 26, 27, 41, 42
- British trade: with China, 242, 282, 311, 317, 318; with Shanghai, 15; with Siam, 518
- Bruce, Mr., on Chinese bribery, 233
- CAMOENS: on Kedah, 529; on Macao, 189, 190
- Campbell, J. D., C.M.G., and China, 233
- Candlin, Rev. Mr., and China, 284
- Canton, Justice at, 219
- Canton River, Blocking the, 270
- Cape St. James, Life at, 79
- Cavenagh, Sir Orfeur, and Siam, 581
- Chantabun, 427
- Chemalpo, population, trade, &c., 342
- Chiengmai, 427
- China: among the Great Powers, 260; and Europe, 301; foreign influence in, 282, 301, 311; foreign trade of, 242, 282, 317, 318; future of, 298, 593; government, the, 203; publicity of official interviews in, 253; rehabilitation of, possibilities of, 395; reorganisation of, by Japan, 384, 593
- China's trade, The race for, 503
- Chinese: adaptability, 119; admiral's lack of dignity, 264; army, condition of, 265, 275; army's lack of discipline, 273; army, "reform," 274; barbarity, 213, 219, 226, 237-8-9; capital in foreign companies, 15; cruelty to prisoners in war, 273; disposition under offence, 277; filth, 209, 291; Foreign Office, 300; hostility to foreigners, 25, 193, 253, 278, 283, 293; Imperial Maritime Customs, 231, 237, 239, 242; inconsistency, 294; in the Straits, 41, 42; justice dispensed, 220; love for British nationality, 41, 42; manufactures, 14; naval procedure, example of, 268; navy, 265, 271, 275; official view, teaching the, 286; officialdom corrupt, 266-7-8, 282-4-5, 295; overtaxed in Indo-China, 119; people, 276; predominance in

- Hongkong, 26; predominance in Shanghai, 12; secret societies in Singapore, 39; silk trade, 10, 11, 311; tea trade, 10, 311; under British rule, 26, 27; usefulness in Vladivostok, 147
- Chino-French Frontier, On the, 95
- Chino-French relations at Monkay, 101
- Chino-French War, Memories of, 84
- Clarke, C. C., quoted on China, 315
- Clémenceau, M., and French colonisation, 112, 123
- Clifford, Hugh, on Pahang, 60
- Cochin-China: 77; Customs duties, 120; "fonctionnaires," 115
- Cockfighting in Manila, 177
- Confucian teaching in China, 313
- Confucius, Shrine of, 204
- Contemporary Review* quoted on the War, 265
- Cooke, Geo. W., quoted on China, 276, 294
- Cornish, N. E., at Kiangnan, 269
- Courbet, Admiral, and Franco-Chinese War, 86
- Cremation in Siam, 418
- Customs service of China, 231-7-9, 242
- DAMRONG, Prince, of Siam, 415, 447; and education schemes, 459, 460, 461
- David, Mr., and Macao, 189
- Devawongse, Prince, of Siam, 444, 451; and the French question, 478, 488-9, 490-4-5-6-7; and the Perak disputed territory, 549
- Develle, M.: and the Franco-English-Siamese question, 505-6-7-8-9, 512-3-4-5-6-7; and the Franco-Siamese question, 491
- Douglas, Professor R. K., quoted on China, 224, 295
- Dufferin, Lord: and the Franco-English-Siamese question, 505-7-8-9, 513-5-6; and the Franco-Siamese negotiations, 472
- Dugéane, Colonel, and Tongking, 98
- East India Company and Kedah, 528
- England, see Great Britain
- England's charity to China misapplied, 282, 284
- Ermolaiew, Rear-Admiral, 145
- Etienne, M., and French colonisation, 111-2-5-6
- Examination for office in China, 203, 312
- FAMINE in China, Where England's subscription went, 282, 284
- Favier, Abbé, and China, 279
- Ferry, Jules, and Tongking, 128
- Foreign Legion, The French, 98
- Foville, M. de, and French statistics, 125
- France and colonisation to-day, 592
- France and Great Britain in Siam, 503, 597 (see Great Britain)
- France and Siam, True story of, 468; various French annexations in Indo-China, 468; M. Lanessan's proposal for new limit on Siamese side, 469; French explanation to Britain, 471; Joint Commission and interim arrangement, 471; France definitely claims Mekong left bank to be its western boundary, 472; M. Waddington's statement, 473; Siam desires arbitration, 473; French military movements, 474; Britain's position and advice to Siam, 475-6; Siam prepares her defences, 476; Captain Thoreux captured, and Siamese disclaimer, 477-8; Siamese misrepresentation to Britain, 478; engagement involving the case of Pra Yot, 480; closing the river against the French, 484; France's grievances, 485; Siamese Court advisers, 486; French rights in Siamese waters, 488; Battle of Paknam, 492; the French ultimatum, 494; eventual surrender of Siam, 497; future relations finally settled, 500; the net result, 500
- France's future in the Far East, 591
- Franco-Chinese: Frontier, On the, 95; relations at Monkay, 101; War, Memories of, 84
- French: Colonial administration, 103, 112; colony, the cost of a, 124; revenue decreasing, 591; Settlement in Shanghai, 6, 7; statistical complexities, 124; view of colonisation, 114
- French Indo-China: 71; Chinese overtaxed in, 119; misgoverned, 122; restrictions on foreigners in, 121; society in, 103
- GAMBLING in Macao, 191
- Gambling in Siam, 421
- Garnier, Francis, and Tongking, 127
- Gold Flower, 530
- Gordon, General: and Li Hung-chang, 245-6; and Russia v. China, 275; and Shanghai, 6

- Gowan, Dr., and the King of Siam, 436
- Granville, Lord, and Siamese dominions, 532
- Great Britain, Alliance between Japan and, 399
- Great Britain and France in Siam: the race for China's trade, 503; England's reversionary rights over Shan States, 503; alarm at the French advance, 504; Luang Prabang and adjacent countries claimed by France, 506; inconsistency of the French position, 506; English remonstrance and French obduracy, 507; French agree to consider a buffer, 508; a one-sided bargain, 509; boundaries of the buffer State, 510; an artificial arrangement, 511; the question only opening, 512; another frontier question: French designs on the Lake Provinces, 513; England repels proposal of territorial exchange, 515; British Government and Siam's independence, 515; French occupation of Chantabun, 517; Siamese natives registered as French subjects, 518; French Commissioners as an influence, 518; French commerce a minute fraction of British, 518; British or French protection for Siam? 519, 597
- Great Britain and Russia in the Far East, 590
- Great Britain and the Franco-Siamese negotiations: the proposal for barrier between British and French possessions, 471; re French claim of asserted Annamese territory, 472-3; Siam counting on British intervention, 475; Britain's attitude and advice to Siam, 476, 483, 496-7; Siamese misrepresentation to Britain, 478; re France's grievances, 485; re French officers' action at Paknam, 492
- Great Britain and the future of Malaya, 532, 590
- Great Britain and the future of Siam, 502, 518, 519, 597
- Great Britain and the Siamese-Perak disputed territory, 549
- Great Britain and the Siamese intrusion in Kelantan and Tringanu, 530
- Great Britain's chance to open China, 316
- Great Britain's future in the Far East, 598
- Great Wall of China, 215
- Grindrod, G. H., and service in Siam, 458, 461
- Gubbins, J. H., and Japanese competition, 382
- HAIIPHONG, 71; port charges, 119
- Hanoi, 74
- Hart, Sir Robert, and his work, 231-8-9, 240
- Heathenism in China, 281
- Herbinger, Colonel, and French colonisation, 128
- Hongay coal, 110
- Hongkong: 16; a great outpost, 35; an Arcadia for criminals, 27; behind civilisation, 29; British petition to Parliament, 31; Chinese predominance in, 26; danger from Chinese, 25; docks and defences, 24, 25; frequency of "acting" officers, 34; history, 22; laws, 29; legislative system defective, 30; Peak, the; 19; piracy, 26; plague, 25, 34; population, 28; Praya Reclamation scheme, 18; progress, 23; Retrenchment Commission, 35; revenue and expenditure, 28; shipping, 29; terrorism in, 27
- Huc, Abbé, and Macao, 188
- Hunt, Mr., on Japanese competition, 383; on Korean society, 346-7
- INDIA and Thibet, 316
- Infanticide in China, 289
- JACQUEMYS, M. Rolin, and Siam, 426, 494, 498
- Japan: and the future of Korea, 368; and the future of Manila, 590; and the re-organisation of China, 384, 593; as a commercial rival, 15, 380; as a first-class Power, 376; as the equal of European Powers, 384; future of, 594; in the Korean market, 383; present political dangers, 389; and Russia, 368, 401
- Japanese: army statistics, 377; patriotism for the war, 379; preponderance in Korea, 367
- Japan's ally, Question of, 399; Great Britain the choice, 399; Alternatives—France, 400, Russia, 401; Interests concerned—Japanese, 402, Russian, 402, British, 403
- Jelebu, 58
- Johnston, Mr. H. H., quoted on British Empire, 599
- Johor, 63

- Johor, Sultan of, 63
 Joly, Mr., on Macao "tea," 187
 Jones, Captain, V.C., and the Franco-Siamese negotiations, 471, 473, 494
 Jungle journey in Malaya, 534; a game preserve, 550; animal life, 547; camp-building, 540; elephants indispensable, 542; Hill of Death, 553; on the disputed territory, 549; "shooting" fish, 551
 Justice in China, 219
- KEDAH: and the Siamese control, Story of, 527; fettered by Siam, 529
 Kelantan: a contemplated revolution, 578; an industrial village, 568; and the intrusion of Siam, 530; danger from the Raja, 569; deserted villages, 567; gold-mines, 568; Kota Bharu, 575; penetrating the State, 534; Raja, the, and white men, 534, 562, 582; Raja, the, interview with, 583; rapids, the, 562, 564; run aground and stacked, 584; Sakeis, the, 566; Tana Merah, 572
 Khanburi, 427
 Khorat, 427
 Kiangnan arsenal, 539
 Kim, Mr., in Korean Court, 351
 Korea: 323; absorption of, by Russia, 166; China and a dependent, 362; events in, during the war, 366; events leading to the war, 378; fertility of, 325, 338; foreign community, 352; future of, 368, 590; Japan and China re, 356; Japan the principal seller to, 383; Japanese preponderance in, 367; King, the, 351; official assassination in, 348; omnipotence of the official, 329, 345; uncivilised under China, 347 (see also Seoul)
 Korean: army, navy, and Foreign Office, 350; hatred of Russians, 147; people, 336, 344, 353; unconcern, 346 (see also Seoul)
 Kowloon: 22; Customs authorities and, 23
 Kung, Prince, of China, 299
- LABET, Captain, of Kuala Leh, 559, 560
 Lanessan, M. de: and French colonisation, 111; and French empire in Siam, 469, 474, 513; recall of, 593
 Lang, Captain, R.N., and the Chinese forces, 263, 270, 275
 Lefoy-Beaulieu, M.: and France in Siam, 518; and French colonisation, 120, 126, 136; on French finances, 592
 Li Hung-chang: and General Gordon, 245, 246; and medical schools, 258; and Western relations, 258; as capitalist, 14, 15; career, 244; disregard for foreigners, 256; his army and the war, 248; interview with, 253; on China, Korea, and Russia, 255; personally, 251; reported degradation of, 259
 Llama Temple, 205
 Low, Sir Hugh, and Perak, 56
- MACAO: a mongrel community, 183; coolie traffic, 185; future of, 590; history, 184; "lie" tea, 187
 Macartney, Lord, at Court of China, 303
 Malacca, 44
 Malay character, the, 545
 Malay Native States: 593; future of, 532, 590; native rule, effect of, 525, 549; revenue and its disposal, 526
 Malay Protected States: 52; fertility of, 67; future of, 67; history, 54; population, trade, finance, 56; prosperity insecure, 66; residential system, 64
 Malaya, Britain and the future of, 532, 590
 Manchuria, Russia and the future of, 591
 Manila: 169; a Roman Catholic product, 174; future of, 590; history, 172; tobacco-making, 175
 Martin, Rev. Dr., on China, 314, 315
 Matchmaking in Japan, 382
 Maxwell, W. E., and Selangor, 57
 Mayo, Lord, and the King of Siam, 436
 Mayréna in French Indo-China, 90
 Medhurst, quoted on China, 278
 Medicine in China, 291
 Michie, Mr. Alex, quoted on China, 289, 304, 307
 Milner, Mr. Alfred, quoted on Englishmen in foreign service, 459
 Ming tombs, 217
 Missionary question in China, 280, 304
 Monkey: 98; French and Chinese relations at, 101
 Morant, Mr. R. L.: and education in Siam, 459, 460; at the Court of Siam, 456, 438, 486
- NAMOA, piracy of the British ship, 26

- Narath, Prince, of Siam, 436
 Narath, Prince, of Siam, 449
 Naris, Prince, of Siam, 449
 Negri Sembilan, 58
 Nègrier, Colonel, and French colonisation, 128
- OMSEN, Mr., on Korean character, 346
- Ord, Sir Harry, and Tringanu, 531
 O'Rell, Max, on English liberty, 600
 Orleans, Prince Henry d': on Asia, 599; on Tongking, 117
- PAAGODA Anchorage engagement, 86
 Pahang, 58; the "sick man," 60
 Paknam, Battle of, 464, 492
 Parkes, Sir Harry, and China, 285, 302
 Patani, 530
 Pavie, M., and the Siamese negotiations, 488, 489, 497-4-5
 Pearson, Charles, and China, 262
 Peking: 195; history, 196; filth, 209
 Penang: discontent and finance, 44; trade with Malay States, 525, 526
 Perak: progress, 56; Sultan of, 61; the disputed territory, 549
 Philippine Islands, 178, 590
 Phipp, Mr., and the Franco-Siamese negotiations, 485
 Piracy: at Hongkong, 26; at Tongking, 106
 Port Arthur and Russia, 401; Japanese atrocities at, 595
 Porteu, M., and French colonisation, 135
 Portugal's decadence in the Far East, 192, 590
 Prostitute class in the Far East, 43
 Protection in Tongking, result of, 135
 Protestant missions in China, 305
- RAILWAYS in Tongking, 107
 Railway schemes: in China, 308; in Siam, 455
 Ratburi, 427
 Residential system in Malay States, 64
 Ribot, M., and the Siamese question, 470
 Richaud, M., and French colonisation, 104, 120
 Richelieu, M. de, and Siam, 424, 456, 463, 486
 Rivière, Commandant: and Tongking, 127; death of, 88
 Rodger, Mr., and Pahang, 58
 Roman Catholic: missions in China, 305; sway in Manila, 174
 Ross, Rev. John, on Chinese havoc, 273
- Rosebery, Lord: and Siam's independence, 450; and the Anglo-Russian entente, 402; and the Franco-English-Siamese question, 505, 506, 512-5-6; and the Franco-Siamese negotiations, 473, 476, 492-6-7; on a "small" England, 601
 Russia: and Britain in the Far East, 590; and the future of Korea, 166, 369; and the future of Manchuria, 591; on the Pacific, 151, 165; and Japan, 368, 401; Anglo-Russian-Japanese understanding, 402, 591
- SAIGON, 77; customs duties at, 120
 St James, Cape, Life at, 79
St. James's Gazette on Japan and China, 398
 Salisbury, Lord: and the Franco-English-Siamese question, 506; and the Franco-Siamese negotiations, 471
 Samudh, Phya, of Paknam, 408
 Schau, Major, and the Siamese army, 463
 Secret societies in Singapore, 39
 Selangor, 57
 Seoul: 341, 344; foreign community, the, 352 (see also Korea)
 Shameen indemnity, source of the, 283
 Shanghai: 3; American Settlement, 7; Chinese manufactures, 14; Chinese predominance, 12; French Settlement, 6, 7; history, 5; Japan and the neutrality of the port, 269; land regulations, 12; municipal government, 7; outpost of British trade, 15; population, 8; Republic Army, 9; rise of the commission agent, 13; social life, 9; trade, 10
 Siam: and France, the true story of, 468 (see France); and the control of Kedah, story of, 527; and the Perak disputed territory, 549; Crown Prince, the late, 437; Crown Prince, the present, 597; foreigners kept distant, 410; future of, 597; Great Britain and the future of, 502, 518, 519; King's brothers, the, 448; King's character and power, the, 434; King's collapse, the, 432, 452, 598; lavishness of royal ceremonies, 419; means of communication neglected, 426, 455; Palace, 412; Provincial Commissioners, 443
 Siamese: amusements, 421; army, 461; cabinet and administration, 440, 451; customs service, 457; Education Department, 459; Foreign

- Office, 414; government breakdown, 452; intrusion in Kelantan and Tringaku, 530; justice, 454; misrepresentation to Britain, 478; money, 428; navy, 463; Postal and Telegraph, 457; Public Works Department, 455; Red Cross Society, 482; titles, 429 (see also Bangkok)
- Siemrap, France and, 513
- Sikhs & policemen, 21
- Silver: and China, 311; depreciation of, 28 note, 46, 48, 49, 132 note, 242 note
- Singapore: 37; secret societies in, 39; trade and finances, 46; varied inhabitants of city, 39 (see also Straits Settlements)
- Skertchly, S. B. J., quoted on China, 293
- Skinner, Mr. A. M., on the Malay Native States, 525-6-7
- Smith, Sir Cecil, and the Straits finances, 47, 51.
- Spain's influence and future in the Far East, 179, 590
- Stigand, Consul, on Manila, 172, 173
- Straits Settlements: 37, 44; and military contribution, 46; Chinese in the, 41, 42; financial position, 48; trade with Siam, 519 (see also Singapore)
- Sungei Ujong, 58
- Superstition among Chinese, 292
- Svasti, Prince of Siam, 446, 451-2-3
- Swedish missionaries murdered, 301
- Swettenham, Mr. F. A., and Perak, 56
- TEMOR and its gold-mines, 556
- Theatres in Siam, 421
- Thibet: and England, 316, 403; Li Hung-chang and, 254
- Times* correspondents quoted, 164, 273-4-6, 286, 293
- Ting, Admiral, 264
- Tobacco-making in Manila, 175
- Tongking: change of Governors-general, 118; coal, 110; cost of, 27; future of, 122, 593; history, 127; people, 6; piracy, 106; railway jobbery, 107; result of protection, 135
- Tfans-Siberian railway: and its results, 159, 256; terminus in Korea, 165, 369
- Tremlett, Consul, on Tongking, 106, 112
- Tringanu: and the intrusion of Siam, 530; Sultan, the, 586
- Troup, Mr., on Japanese competition, 383
- Tsëng, Marquis, 297
- Tsaungli Yamën, 297, 300
- VILERS, M. le Myre de: and Tongking, 116, 120; and Siam, 498, 515, 517
- Vladivostok: 141; a military town, 126, 148; ice at the port, 158; impressions of the forces, 156; life at, 147; restrictions on foreign vessels, 155; value in case of war, 151, 590
- WADDINGTON, M., and the French claim in Siam, 506
- Wallace, A. Russel, quoted on Malaya, 52
- Walsham, Sir John, at Court of China, 502
- War, Chino-Japanese, the: effect on China's status, 261; events leading up to, 356; Japan justified, 367; Japanese atrocities at Port Arthur, 595; Japan's conditions of peace, 395; Japan's moderation, 360; Li's army, 248; murder of Kim Ok-kyun, 361; untrue accounts, 380
- Watchmaking in Japan, 382
- Wellesley, Province, 44
- Whitehead, Hon. T. H., and Hongkong, 30, 31
- Williams, Mr. David, and Siamese Customs, 456
- Williamson, Rev. Dr., on missions, 281, 307
- Wonsan, town and port, 324
- YAMAGATA, Marshal, on Chinese cruelty, 274
- Yunnan, the race for, 503

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

THE REAL JAPAN:

STUDIES OF CONTEMPORARY JAPANESE MANNERS, MORALS,
ADMINISTRATION AND POLITICS.

Fourth and Cheaper Edition, Illustrated, Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

The Times.—"Mr. Norman . . . is painstaking, candid, keen in observation, vivid in presentment, facile in reflection. In a word, his essays present a picture of Japan as exhibited in the camera of what Matthew Arnold called 'the New Journalism.' The impression is instantaneous, and the portraiture, subject to its inherent limitations, is lifelike and full of actuality. It is not perhaps possible to interview a nation, but, if it were, Mr. Norman is evidently the man to undertake the task."

The Daily Telegraph.—"This is a book which everybody should read, not only because it is superlatively amusing from beginning to end, but because it teems with authentic information, by the light of which many prevalent and popular errors in respect to the significance and import of certain Japanese customs may be corrected."

The Pall Mall Gazette.—"Mr. Norman's book is the only work of its kind which is quite up to date, and which treats of some of the momentous changes which have recently taken place in a land where the old is continually giving place to the new. . . . The book throughout is exceedingly informing, and presents, within reasonable dimensions, a more life-like picture of the country and people than any similar work we know."

The Speaker.—"A graphic and substantial account of the state of the country at the present time. . . . Mr. Norman may fairly claim that he has told us many things upon which his predecessors have been either silent or misinformed."

The National Observer.—"Few will hesitate to acknowledge that his ['An Unwritten Chapter of Japanese Life'] is a contribution towards the solution of a great and grave question for which, after many days, the philanthropist and the legislator may be duly grateful. . . . On many other points of great interest in this excellent book we can touch but lightly. . . . Mr. Norman courts the severest criticism by adopting a most ambitious title. We can pay him no higher compliment than to say that he comes nearer to giving us a real insight into contemporary 'Japanese manners, morals (immorals), administration and politics,' than any other prowler with camera and pen has done."

The New York Tribune.—"The author of this book had unusual opportunities for acquiring information concerning the actual acts of that very modern progressive—or at least evolutionary—movement, which has made Japan the source and centre of so much interest. He has used these opportunities wisely and well, and has given his readers what no other work on Japan affords, namely, a series of clearly drawn pictures of the country and people as they appear to-day, and as they are affected by the changes which have been occurring with bewildering rapidity of late years."

The North China Daily News.—"A traveller who wants to know what the real Japan is will be thoroughly equipped if he takes with him this book, Chamberlain's Things Japanese, and Satow's Guide."

The Japan Daily Mail.—"Mr. Henry Norman differed in two essential respects from the crowd of bookmakers who have found in Japan material to fill their pages: he possessed the practised capacities of a trained writer who knows exactly how to collect and digest information, and he was so thoroughly in earnest that his whole time and energies during his stay in this country were devoted to getting as far as possible below the surface of everything he saw and heard. We are not surprised, therefore, to find that his book, 'The Real Japan,' occupies a unique place. Within the limits which he sets himself, he stands at the head of all previous writers in respect of accuracy and fulness of information. Nobody had previously told us what he tells about Japanese Journalism, about Japanese Justice, about Japanese Education, about Japanese Arts and Crafts, about Japanese Women, and about the Japanese Yoshiwara. He has established his right to the ambitious title chosen for his work. . . . To him belongs the great credit of having taught many an unlearned lesson to the oldest resident among us, and of having taught it in words so well chosen and picturesque that they impart a charm to the driest subject."