

THE INTIMATE PAPERS OF COLONEL HOUSE
VOLUME IV

Amos James Bester 1919

THE INTIMATE PAPERS OF COLONEL HOUSE

ARRANGED AS A NARRATIVE BY CHARLES SEYMOUR,
LIT.D., LL.D., PROVOST AND STERLING PROFESSOR OF HISTORY, YALE UNIVERSITY

VOLUME IV
THE ENDING OF THE WAR
JUNE 1918—NOVEMBER 1919

"The war itself was like no other. . . . The peace, in turn, should have taken a new path. . . . It was an opportunity for sacrifice . . . which surely, later, would have garnered rich returns for all."

COLONEL HOUSE, April 9, 1928

ERNEST BENN LIMITED
BOUVERIE HOUSE FLEET STREET E.C.4

V.73:19 of 7MS8

F6.4

7951

First published November, 1928

Printed and Made in Great Britain by Hazell, Watson & Viney Ltd, London and Aylesbury

CONTENTS

VOLUME IV

CHAPTER		PAGE
I.	ANTECEDENTS OF THE COVENANT	I
	Turn of the Military Tide—Hastening of Plans for the Peace—Wilson's Increasing Emphasis upon a League as Keystone of the Peace—Views of Cecil, Lowell, and Lansing as Written to House—House's Conference with the Archbishop of York, Taft, Root, Lowell, and Mezes—House-Cecil Correspondence Regarding Principles of a League of Nations—The Phillimore Report—Wilson Asks House to Draft a Constitution for a League.
II.	FIRST AMERICAN DRAFTS OF THE COVENANT	27
	House's Draft of a "Covenant," July 15, 1917—Cecil's Comments on House's Principles—Conference between House and Reading—Root's Views as Expressed in Letter to House—Wilson's Visit to House at Magnolia—Wilson's Revision of the House Draft—Wiseman Cable on Wilson's Views—Wilson's Opposition to Publication of any Drafts of the Covenant.
III.	THE BEGINNING OF THE END	55
	Debates at German Military Headquarters at Spa—Continued Success of the Allies—Downfall of Bulgaria—Abortive Plan for Wilson's Mediation—Austria's Appeal for Peace, September 16—Allied Propaganda—Post-War Economic Policy of Allies toward Germany—House Warns Reading of the Dangers Involved—Urges upon Wilson Desirability of Committing Allies to Wilsonian Terms and the League—Wilson-House Conference on Means of Unifying Allied War Aims—Wilson's Speech of September 27—Effects of Speech—Cecil's Approval—

CHAPTER	PAGE
German Note of October 5, asking for Armistice— House's Opinion of German Overtures—Wilson Calls him to Washington—Discussion Regarding the Reply to Germany—Wilson's Reply—Continued Negotia- tions—More Conferences with Wilson—The President Sends House to Attend Supreme War Council Meet- ings on the Armistice.
IV. ARMISTICE CONFERENCES Foch Favours Granting an Armistice—Questions before the Supreme War Council—Arrival of House in Paris—Opinions on Granting of Armistice and on Terms—Views of the Military Leaders—Pershing's Memorandum—Character of Conferences that for- mulated Armistice Terms—The Steering Committee —Conferences of House and the Prime Ministers— Method of Procedure—Drafting the Armistice Terms with Austria-Hungary—Plans for Invasion of Ger- many from the South.	89
V. GERMANY SURRENDERS Foch's Responsibility for Military Terms of German Armistice—Views of Wilson, as Cabled to House— Foch's Conference with Commanders-in-Chief— Bliss Demands Complete Disarmament and Demo- bilization of German Army—House Meets with Prime Ministers to Discuss Foch's Terms—Haig Pro- tests they are too Stringent—Foch's Defence—Dis- cussion and Approval of Foch's Military Terms ; their Adoption by Supreme War Council—Clemen- ceau Insists upon Insertion of Reparation Clause— Disagreement over Naval Terms—Foch Objects to Stringent Naval Terms—Lloyd George's Suggestion of Compromise: Internment of Battleships and Cruisers in Neutral Ports—Approval of Terms, Re- vised, as Suggested by Lloyd George—Procedure in Communicating Terms to Germany—Foch's Con- versation with German Delegates—Clemenceau's Analysis of Situation, as he Reports it to House— House's Reports to Lansing and Wilson—Germany Signs the Armistice.	112

CONTENTS

vii

CHAPTER		PAGE
VI.	TRIUMPH OF THE FOURTEEN POINTS .	152
	German Acceptance of Armistice on Basis of Fourteen Points—Colonel House Studies Problem of Winning Explicit Allied Acceptance of Wilson's Terms—House has Drafted Interpretative Commentary on Fourteen Points—Approved by Wilson—Conferences of House with Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Sonnino, Regarding Fourteen Points—British Objections to Freedom of Seas—Italian Objections to Fourteen Points—Danger of a Break between United States and Allies—House's Threat of Referring Whole Question to Congress—British Draft Accepting Fourteen Points with Reservations—Was Italian Reservation to Fourteen Points Valid?—Clemenceau Accepts British Draft of Acceptance—British Finally Agree that Freedom of Seas may be Subject for Discussion at Peace Conference—Italian and Belgian Objections—Supreme War Council's Formal Approval of Memorandum to Wilson, Endorsing Fourteen Points with Reservations—Receipt by Germans of Wilson Note and the Memorandum—House and Clemenceau.
VII.	WAITING FOR THE PEACE CONFERENCE .	210
	House's Advocacy of a Quick Preliminary Peace—Delay in Convening Peace Conference—Question of Wilson Sitting as a Delegate—Place of the Conference—Number of Delegates—Choice of American Commissioners—Wilson's Political Mistakes—House's Activities—Conditions in Central Europe—Relief—Jugo-Slav-Italian Affairs—Italy and the Austrian Fleet—Red Cross—Language of the Conference—Reparations and Indemnity—American Troops in Italy—Polish Affairs—Arrangements for Reception of Wilson—Arrival of Wilson in Paris.
VIII.	THE PEACE CONFERENCE CONVENES .	261
	President Wilson's Prestige in Europe—League the Centre of Wilson's Whole Programme—Conferences in Paris—Poland—Red Cross—Preparations for the Conference—Plan for Studying Problems through Expert Committees—Financial and Economic Questions—Programme of the Conference—The Council of Ten—Attempted Agreements on Reparations ; French Security—Illness of Colonel House— Opening Session of the Conference—Waste of Time by the Conference—Supreme Economic Council— Other Commissions.

CHAPTER	PAGE
IX. DRAFTING THE COVENANT	290
Wilson's Ideas on a League before Reaching Paris— The Bowman Memorandum—Wilson Revises his Washington Draft of the Covenant—Question as to Whether the Covenant shall go into the Treaty— Resolution of the Peace Conference Approving Wilson's Plans—Discussions over Mandates—The Smuts Memorandum—Conferences between House, Cecil, and Smuts—Wilson and House Discuss Revised Drafts of the Covenant—The Hurst-Miller Draft— Meetings of the Commission for Drafting the Cove- nant—Difficulties with the French—Diary Notes of House on Commission Meetings—Japanese Prob- lems—The Peace Conference Approves the Covenant Draft—Wilson Leaves for the United States.
X. SPEEDING THE SETTLEMENT	332
Need of Speed in Reaching a Settlement—Attempt to Formulate Final Military and Naval Terms, Sup- ported by Balfour and Wilson—House and Wilson Discuss Speeding of Settlement—Wilson Asks House to Take his Place while Away—Attempted Assassination of Clemenceau—House's Reports on Situation in Paris—He and Balfour Anxious to Hasten Work on Treaties—The Reparations Prob- lem—The Rhinelands—House's Cables to Wilson Covering Conversations at Paris—House's Plans for League of Nations—Talks with Lloyd George and Clemenceau—Return of Wilson.
XI. CRISIS AND COMPROMISE	392
Factors Working Against Acceptance of American Policies—Necessary Concessions—House Meets Wilson at Brest—Meetings of Prime Ministers and Wilson—Origin of Council of Four—Disagreement on Crucial Issues—Dissatisfaction over Delay Inclu- sion of League in the Treaty—"Some Considerations

CONTENTS

ix

CHAPTER

PAGE

for the Peace Conference"—Anglo-French Disagreement—Clemenceau and Wilson Disagree over Saar Problem—Reparations—Wilson's Illness—House Takes his Place in the Council of Four—Wilson Agrees to Compromise—Tardieu and House Work for Mutual Concessions—German Responsibility for War Costs—House's Conferences with Cecil regarding Amendments to Covenant—Meetings of the League Commission—Question of the Site of the League; Choice of Geneva—Japanese Amendments—Monroe Doctrine Amendment—Discussion with British Regarding Limitation of Naval Armament—Cecil Letters and Memoranda—Revised Draft of Covenant Unanimously Adopted by Peace Conference.

XII. FIUME AND SHANTUNG 448

Invitation to Germany to Send Delegates to Versailles—Italian Claims in the Adriatic—House's Relations with Orlando—His Efforts to Reach Compromise with Italians—Conferences with Orlando Regarding Fiume—Crisis in the Peace Conference—Attitude of French and British—Departure of Orlando and Sonnino—Japanese Claims—Balfour Memorandum—House Approves Compromise with Japanese—The Shantung Settlement—Suspense and Uncertainty of the Conference—Belgian Claims—Return of Italians—Presentation of Treaty to German Delegates, May 7.

XIII. VERSAILLES 475

German Attitude on Treaty—Negotiations between Allies and Germany—House's Activities during Final Phase of Conference—Committee of Nine to Prepare Plans for Organization of League—Adriatic Negotiations with Orlando, Sonnino, and the Jugoslavs—Final Attempts to Reach Compromise—Peace Conference Procedure—Question of Changes in German Treaty—British Favour Concessions to Germany—Tardieu's Letter to House—No Essential Changes Made in Treaty—Plans for the Formation of Permanent Court of International Justice—Scapa Flow Sinking—Signing of German Treaty—House's Comments on the Conference and Treaty.

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
XIV. AFTER THE CONFERENCE	505
Colonel House in London for Mandates Commission Meetings—Clemenceau on League of Nations—Arrangements for Initial Meetings of Assembly and Council of League—House on Anglo-American Relations—Conferences with Grey and Haldane Regarding Settlement of Outstanding Differences—Grey Chosen as Special Envoy to United States—House on Financial Relations of Allies and the United States—His Letter to Wilson Regarding Allied Debts—House's Return to United States, and Illness—Offers to Appear before Committee on Foreign Relations—Struggle in the Senate over Ratification of Covenant—House's Letters to the President Advising Compromise in Order to Secure Ratification of the Treaty and Covenant—Relations of Wilson and House.
INDEX	535

APPENDIX

A Typical Page from the Visitors' Book or "Log" kept by the Yeomen at the Door of Colonel House's Apartment at the Hôtel de Crillon.

March 18, 1919

In	In
9.15 Mr. Rappard	12.55 Ambassador Willard
9.35 Mr. Frazier	1.45 Colonel Wallace
9.35 Mr. Straus	2.20 Mr. E. T. Williams
9.45 Sir William Wiseman	2.35 Mr. Vance C. McCormick
9.50 Admiral Benson	2.50 Mr. Oulahan
9.50 Mr. Sheldon	2.55 President Wilson
9.50 Mr. Norman Davis	3.00 Mr. Lloyd George
10.10 Mr. Peabody	3.00 Sir Maurice Hankey
10.15 Mr. R. H. Lord	3.00 M. Clemenceau
10.20 Mr. Galavrias	3.00 M. André Tardieu
10.35 Mr. Gregory	3.00 Mr. Philip Kerr
10.35 Mr. Desprit	3.30 Mr. Ferguson
10.50 Mr. Melville Stone	3.37 Judge M. B. Parker
10.55 Colonel Shannon	4.10 Mr. Norman Davis
10.55 Mr. Straus	Mr. J. M. Keynes
11.00 Captain Walter G. Davis	4.20 Lord Sumner
11.10 General Churchill	4.35 General Richardson
11.15 Mr. T. W. Lamont	4.55 Mr. H. Wickham Steed
11.40 Mr. James	5.05 The Spanish Ambassador
11.55 Admiral Benson	5.20 M. Paul Hymans
12.05 Commander Allen	5.30 Baron Makino
12.10 Lord Robert Cecil	Count Chinda
12.15 Mr. Rappard	5.30 Mr. Davison
Mr. Lansing	6.05 10 Newspaper Reporters
Mr. D. H. Miller	6.50 Mr. McCormick
12.25 Mr. H. Wickham Steed

INDEX

A

ABSOLUTISM in North and South America, barrier to, iv. 442.

Acherman, Carl, "The Peace Snag," iii. 133, letter to Col. House on political situation in Germany and Central Powers, iii. 365-7, policy of, iii. 368, letter to Col. House on strikes in Germany, iii. 369, cablegram to House, iii. 436.

Ador, President (of Switzerland), iv. 306.

Adriatic, question of, well understood by President Wilson, iii. 176, iv. 479-82, 483, 486, 487.

Africa, East, future of, iii. 241.

Agadir incident, iii. 85.

Air service, assistance in, from United States, expected, iii. 249.

Alderman, E. A., President of University of Virginia, iii. 326, commendation of President Wilson's reply to Pope's peace proposals, iii. 169, praise of the Fourteen Points (quoted), iii. 353.

Allenby, General (Lord), progress in Syria, iv. 61.

Allied Council, function of, iv. 98. See also Supreme War Council.

Countries, statements made helping German militarists, iii. 161, re-adjustment of finances of, House's plan for, iv. 516, 517.

Forces, lack of unity in, causes of, iii. 311.

leaders, difficulties in expressing personal convictions at Peace Conference, iv. 393.

Maritime Transport Council, enemy mercantile fleet to be under control of, iv. 255.

Naval Council, naval programme for conditions of Armistice, iv. 129, 131, demands for surrender of German ships, iv. 136.

units, temporary brigading of American troops with, iv. 443, 454.

Allies' Conference, important conversations at, iii. 252.

Allies, serious situation of, when America joined world's war, iii. 5, danger of friction between, iii. 56, six major, proposed naval agreement between, iii. 71, need of co-ordination in demands of, iii. 98, 99, request of immense loans from United States, iii. 101, fears of, of refusal of American loans, iii. 105, anxiety of, to secure from United States guarantee of monthly credits, iii. 103, liquidation of loan with J. P. Morgan and Co., iii. 104, declaration from, against indemnities and territorial encroachments, required by pacifists, iii. 137, request for demand from, of restatement of peace terms, iii. 143, difficulty of securing supplies for, iii. 183, advances of United States Treasury to, average monthly rate (1917), iii. 185, closer co-ordination of effort of, turning-point of war, iii. 252, 253, difficulty of obtaining joint statement from, regarding war aims, iii. 284, war aims, formulation in concrete form necessary, iii. 285, 286, controversies of, House's refusal to be drawn into, iii. 287, and United States, resolution regarding war aims, submitted by House to Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 289, 290, war aims of, impossibility of obtaining broad statement as to, iii. 325, aid of political strength conferred on, by America, iii. 327, advance of the (August-September 1918), iv. 56, optimism of (September 1918), iv. 57, obligations of, iv. 70, United States wrongly accused of depriving of victory, iv. 89, 90, 91, decision as to question of an armistice submitted to the, by Wilson, iv. 90, question of acceptance of the Fourteen Points as a basis for peace, iv. 92, repayment of war debts to United States by, iv. 278, 279, doubtful

- transactions among, iv. 467, vacillations of, regarding Peace Treaty, iv. 492, 493.
- Allies and United States, open discussions on war aims between, danger of precipitating, iii. 151, war aims of, different, iii. 151, unity of plans and of control between, iii. 225, unanimity between, iii. 439, 440. of 1814, proclamation of unending war upon Napoleon, and peace to French people, iii. 131.
- Alsace-Lorraine, pronouncement in the Fourteen Points speech regarding, iii. 355, restoration of, to France, iv. 162.
- Ambassadors, Allied, draft statements made for, iii. 374, President Wilson's first and second Notes to, regarding Japanese Expedition, iii. 404, 407, 408, 431, 432.
- America, opposition in, to Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 155, need of tremendous effort to defeat Germany, iii. 5, anti-British sentiments in, following 1916 rebellion in Ireland, iii. 79, North and South, barrier to absolutism in, iv. 442, direct guarantee for preservation of peace proposed by President Wilson, iv. 2.
- American Army, training of, Memorandum from General Pétain to Col. House respecting, iii. 292, training of, in France, iii. 292, 293, conditions of effective co-operation, iii. 293, creation of, advocated, iii. 445, condition of, at end of war, iv. 125. and British war aims, co-ordination between, iii. 243. destroyers, large numbers required for convoy duty, iii. 274, 275. experts mainly responsible for adjustment of war effort, iii. 301, 302. Food Commission, iv. 272. force, small, landed at Vladivostok, iii. 428. Geographical Society (New York), headquarters of the Inquiry, iii. 174. officers, training of, at front, iii. 87. Peace Programme, formulation of, by President Wilson, iii. 172, 173, formulation of, House's assistance enlisted, iii. 173. Press despatches, political censorship of, iv. 244, 245, political censorship of, withdrawn, iv. 246, 248.
- American soldiers, number required by Allies for 1919, iii. 263. supplies, competition amongst Allies for securing, iii. 94, 95. troops, shipment to France, Mr. Lloyd George's appeal for, iii. 249, training of, methods discussed, iii. 274, inclusion with British and French troops, iii. 309, despatch to France urgent, iii. 312, best means of proper equipment, iii. 312, transportation of, utilization of all tonnage of shipping for, iii. 312, transportation to France, absolute minimum required, 1917-18, iii. 316, 317, transportation to France, urgency of, iii. 317, 318, 319, 320, amalgamation with British and French Armies, suggestion of, by military leaders of the Entente, iii. 440, disposal in France, question as to, iii. 443, 444, temporary brigading with Allied units, resolution of Supreme War Council, iv. 453, 454. War Mission, financial difficulties leading to, iii. 101. War Mission to Europe, Lloyd George's wish for, iii. 189, representation of President by Col. House, iii. 209, 210, high expectations from work of, iii. 222, statement of, on unity of plan and control between all the Allies and the United States, iii. 225, conferences on problems of co-ordination, iii. 242, difficulty in deciding economic policy, iii. 242, technical members of, and British War Cabinet, joint conference between, iii. 247, 248, Col. House's attendance at, iii. 255, landing of members in England, iii. 260, achievement of, iii. 300, departure from France for United States, iii. 300, reports on serious military condition of Allies, iii. 308, return to New York (Dec. 15, 1917), iii. 313, effect upon war effort of United States, iii. 324, prestige of President Wilson increased by, iii. 326.
- Americans, anxiety of, to achieve unity of military control, iii. 257. at Paris, not Peace Commissioners, House's opinion of, iv. 235, 236.
- Anarchy, threat of, rendering treaties valueless, iv. 211.
- Angell, Norman, iii. 143.

- Anglo-American friendship, sole obstacle to, iv. 187.
 guarantee to France, iv. 409, 410.
 naval rivalry, iv. 191.
 relations, settlement of, dependent on satisfaction of Irish aspirations, iii. 82.
- Anti-Bolshevik factions in Russia, formulation of policy of assisting, prevented by House, iii. 286, 287.
- Arbitrations in settlement of peace, iv. 19.
- Armand-Revertera peace negotiations, iii. 281, 282.
- Armenia, independence of (Wilson's Fourteen Points), iv. 162.
- Armistices based on the Fourteen Points, German request for, iii. 131, desire for, expressed by German High Command, iv. 74, question of, decision as to, submitted to Allies by Wilson, iv. 90, drafting of, critical study on, referred to, iv. 91, with Germany, and armistice with Austria, resolution passed at Conference as to, iv. 105, acceptance of, by Germany, iv. 144, two great features of, Col. House on, iv. 144, signing of, preliminary treaty after, advocated by House, iv. 211.
 applied for by Bulgarian Army, iv. 59, refused by French general, iv. 59, terms upon which granted and signed, iv. 61.
 Conferences, question of representation of Powers at, iv. 100, 101, representation of smaller nations at, iv. 101.
 Convention, iv. 211.
 German, acceptance of, iv. 152, renewal of, question of hardening terms, iv. 379.
 moderate, President Wilson's desires for, iv. 112, wish for, on part of Clemenceau and Lloyd George, iv. 113.
 negotiations for, German application for, iv. 75, suspicions as to, iv. 76, 77, plot underlying, iv. 81, conditions of grant stated by Wilson, iv. 84.
 renewal of, iv. 334, drastic terms proposed to be imposed in, iv. 335.
 terms of, accepted by German ministers, iv. 86, pressure of work of Supreme War Council with regard to, iv. 102, offered to Germany not to be made public till after acceptance, iv. 139, Bliss Memorandum on, iv. 148-50, comment of General Bliss upon, iv. 151; drastic extension, unfairness of, iv. 335, 336.
- Asia, possibility of Germany drawing food and raw material from, after conclusion of peace with Russia, iii. 416.
- "Associated power" (America's relation to Allies), iii. 32.
- Association of nations, first official schemes for, iv. 1.
- Aubert, Louis, French publicist, in charge of work of French High Commission, iv. 356.
- Austria, secret peace conversations promoted by, iii. 135, movement for peace of, compromise in, iii. 153, efforts to induce Germany to give way fruitless, iii. 154, discontent in, iii. 161, peace terms of, proposal for inquiry into, iii. 282, 283, peace negotiations with, plans for, failure of, iii. 283, 284, dangers of negotiations with, iii. 384, surrender of, question as to, iv. 102, complete collapse of, in 1918, effects of, on Italians, iv. 449.
 Bulgaria, and Turkey, collapse of, effect of, on Allies, iv. 126.
 Emperor of, secret peace offer of, iii. 383, telegraphs offer of peace to King of Spain, iii. 383, 384.
 German, to be intimidated not to join German Federation, iv. 345.
 and Germany during first three months of 1918, iii. 360.
 and Italy, boundary between, on north-east, question of, iv. 370.
- Austria-Hungary, acceptance of German denomination of, in new military treaty, iii. 435, relief of distress in, iv. 238.
- Austrian Fleet, action of Italian Government with regard to, iv. 243.
 peace settlement, question of Wilson's Fourteen Points applying to, iv. 183.
- Austro-Germanic agency suspected in peace proposals of the Pope, iii. 163, 164, 165.
- Autocracy, Secretary Lansing on, iv. 14, 15.

B

- BACON, Robert, iv. 93.
- Baker, Mr. R. S., biographer of President Wilson, iv. 4, Woodrow Wilson and the World Settlement, quoted, iv.

- 303, serious charges against British representatives at Peace Conference made by (Woodrow Wilson and the World War), iv. 373-91.
- Bakhmetieff, Russian Ambassador to U.S.A., opinion as to sending of Japanese Expeditionary Force to Siberia, iii. 405, 406.
- Balance of power, idea of, ill-effects, iv. 292.
- Balfour, Rt. Hon. A. J. (afterwards Earl Balfour), iii. 231, 273, 282, iv. 99, 108, impending calamity to the Allies without financial assistance, iii. 4, tact and magnetism of, at British Mission, iii. 41, and Col. House, discussion between, on peace terms in event of defeat of Germany, iii. 44-9, conference with President Wilson, iii. 51, 52, iv. 50, conference with Col. House, iii. 57, 58, on fears of financial disaster, iii. 106, views on peace proposals of the Pope, iii. 160, views on representation of United States on Supreme War Council, iii. 233, conference with Col. House and Mr. Lloyd George as to questions discussed at Cabinet meeting, iii. 241, war aims in relation to territorial division, iii. 242, on disposal of American troops in France, iii. 445, on advisability of United States threatening Bulgaria, iv. 58, on severity of terms of German Armistice, iv. 120, conciliatory attitude of, regarding Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 172, resolutions dealing with territorial and economic clauses of preliminary peace terms with Germany, iv. 347, 348, on establishment of Rhenish Republic, iv. 356, 357, resolutions calling for speeding-up of work on economic problems connected with German treaty, iv. 373, charge against, of attempt to frustrate proposal for immediate military treaty with Germany, iv. 373-91, suggestion of only small changes being made in German armistice, iv. 380, refutation of charge against, of attempt to frustrate proposal for immediate military treaty with Germany, iv. 382-4.
- British Mission to United States, head of, iii. 35, result of, iii. 67, work of, iii. 62.
- Memorandum on Japan and Shantung, iv. 468.
- Balkan front, military problems connected with, resolutions passed at opening session of Supreme War Council, iii. 278.
- Balkans, and Near Eastern question, peace conference on, information needed, iii. 173.
- affairs of, President Wilson's deep knowledge of, iii. 176, military situation in, resolution passed at Supreme War Council, iii. 297.
- Battleships, two, completion of, iii. 77.
- Beer, George Louis, work of, on the Inquiry, iii. 176, Memorandum on Mesopotamia, iv. 295.
- Belgian Army, resolution regarding, passed at Supreme War Council, iii. 296.
- front, military problems connected with, resolutions passed at opening session of Supreme War Council, iii. 278.
- Mission, arrival of, in America, iii. 38.
- Belgium, representation at Armistice Conferences, iv. 100, 101, objections of, to Point III of Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 180, 181, estimation of damage done by Germans in, iv. 246, priority claim of 500 million dollars granted to, iv. 363, 364.
- and Italy, withdrawal of objections of, to Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 184.
- and reparations, iv. 471.
- Below, General (Austrian Army), on victory of, iii. 214.
- Beneš, Edouard, iv. 109.
- Benson, General, iii. 273.
- Rear-Admiral W. S., iii. 211, 241, 248, iv. 93, conclusions as to work to be done by United States Navy, iii. 274, plan for ensuring mine barrage of Straits of Dover, iii. 307, secret memorandum to House regarding naval arrangements, iii. 307, admiration for British Navy, iii. 308, excerpt from report to American War Mission, iii. 311, Col. House's confidence in, iv. 133, and sinking of all German craft, iv. 133, 134, on internment of German ships during Armistice, iv. 134, 135, Col. House's opinion of, iv. 236.
- Bergson, Henri, discussion with Col. House on methods of co-operation with France, iii. 15, appeal for

- Inter-Allied intervention in Russia and Siberia, iii. 420.
- Berliner Tageblatt* and New York World, open debate on war aims in, suggested by Col. House, iii. 146-52, draft of challenge to, from New York World on open debate on war aims, iii. 152.
- Bernstorff, dismissal of, iii. 5.
- Bethmann, Chancellor, peace desired by, iii. 154, resignation of, iii. 155.
- Billy, M. de, cablegram to, from M. Tardieu, iii. 319.
- Bismarck, influence of imponderables, ii. 129.
- Bliss, General Tasker H., iii. 211, 218, 276, iv. 111, on unified command in the field, iii. 221, on necessity for unity of military control, iii. 258, 259, comments on Memorandum on Unity of Control, iii. 259, 261, and Sir William Robertson, discussion on necessity of contribution by America of Allied man-power, iii. 261-2, military representative of Supreme War Council, iii. 269, excerpt from report to American War Mission, iii. 311, opinion as to transportation of American troops to France, iii. 317, "The Armistices" quoted, iv. 90, 91, 334, 335, insistence on stringent conditions of German armistice, iv. 91, 95, unconditional surrender of enemy as principal condition of armistice, iv. 116, 117, opinions of British military leaders regarding, iv. 118, Memorandum on Armistice Terms, iv. 148-50, Comment of, on Armistice Terms, iv. 151, appointed member of Peace Commission, iv. 230, 235.
- Blockade, question of, iv. 305, 306, agreement as to, fixed by Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 306.
Lloyd George's attitude regarding, iv. 189.
- Blue Water School, British, iv. 267.
- Bohemia, importance of, as metallurgical centre, iv. 109, 110, organization against invasion by Germany, iv. 110, Skoda works situate in, iv. 110.
- Bolsheviks, advent to power in Russia, iii. 214, effect on Germany, iii. 398, real cause of, iii. 399, 400.
secret treaties released by, publication of texts by Manchester Guardian, iii. 326, distrustful regarding programme of the Fourteen Points, iii. 356, refusal to enter Prinkipo Conference, iv. 358.
- Bolshevism, dictatorship, establishment of, in Russia, iii. 215, dangers of, to Germany and Allies, iv. 121, German appeal to Allies regarding, iv. 141, poison of, why accepted, iv. 293, universal spread of, iv. 405, 407.
- Bonsal, Colonel S., House's opinion of, iv. 237, memorandum to Col. House on Foreign Relations Committee, iv. 520, 521.
- Botha, General, on injustices to Germans in Peace Treaty, iv. 482.
- Bourgeois, Léon, President of Society for League of Nations, iv. 249, demands of, at League of Nations Commission, iv. 318, 320, 325.
- Bowman, Dr. Isaiah, executive officer of the Inquiry, iii. 174, 175, iv. 290, 291, memorandum on conference with President Wilson, iv. 291, dispute between Wilson and Clemenceau over the Saar question (What Really Happened in Paris, quoted), iv. 411.
- Boycott, the alternative to war, iv. 292.
- Brady, Peter, visit to Col. House, iii. 15.
- Branting, Swedish Socialist, President at Stockholm Conference, iii. 162.
- Brazil, German tonnage seized in, iii. 86, question of disposal of German ships interned by, iv. 496.
- Brenner frontier, Italy's claim to, iv. 450.
- Brest, landing port of Wilson in France, iv. 251.
- Brest-Litovsk, peace negotiations at, iii. 361, failure of, iii. 362.
Treaty of, iii. 408, 410, 415, 438, signed by Bolsheviks under German pressure, iii. 408, ratification by Soviet Congress, iii. 412.
- Briand, M. Aristide, correspondence with Baron Lancken re German secret peace negotiations, iii. 281, on necessity of the Allies formulating war aims in concrete form, iii. 285, on thoroughness shown by Germany in definition of war aims, iii. 285.
- Bridgeheads on Rhine, importance of holding by Allies, iv. 123, 125.
- Bridges, General, of British Mission to America, 39.
- British and American war aims, coordination between, iii. 243.

- British Army, condition of, towards end of war, iii. 125, military leaders' opposition to supreme control in hands of French, iii. 218, Chief of Staff, criticism of constitution of Supreme War Council, iii. 221.
- Army Council, criticism of constitution of Supreme War Council, iii. 221.
- blame laid on America regarding sinking of German fleet at Scapa Flow, iv. 500-1.
- Cabinet (Nov. 21), questions discussed at meeting needing American opinion, pending settlement, iii. 241, Lord Northcliffe's refusal of offer of seat in, iii. 244.
- Foreign Office proposal of Inter-Allied Expedition to Siberia, iii. 414, 415.
- Fourth Army, disaster to, iii. 301.
- and French Armies, amalgamation of American troops with, suggested by military leaders of the Entente, iii. 440.
- and French Governments, political censorship upon American press despatches, iv. 244, 245.
- and French troops, inclusion of American troops with (1917), iii. 309.
- Government, refusal to allow passports to Stockholm Socialist Conference, iii. 162, advice from Mr. Lockhart against Japanese intervention in Siberia, iii. 412.
- lines, extension on Western front, discussed at private conference of Supreme War Council, iii. 275.
- naval policy and Anglo-American policy, iv. 187, stand regarding naval armaments, iv. 512, 513.
- Navy, admiration of, by Admiral Benson, iii. 308.
- representatives at Peace Conference, serious charges against, iv. 373-91.
- sea power, Wilson's reference to, in interview, iv. 262.
- war activities, co-ordination of, iii. 87, 88, ignorance of United States Government and newspapers regarding, iii. 96, false views of, spread by German and Irish propaganda, iii. 96, improvements in, demanded by Northcliffe press, iii. 245, 247.
- war aims, exposition of, by Mr. Lloyd George, iii. 240, in relation to territorial division, iii. 242.
- British War Cabinet and American War Mission (technical members), joint conference between, iii. 247, 248, opinion regarding Japanese intervention in Siberia, iii. 413.
- War Mission to United States under Mr. Balfour, iii. 35, 246, arrival of, at Washington, iii. 38.
- Brockdorff-Rantzau, Count, behaviour and speech of, at Peace Treaty, iv. 473, 474.
- Brown, Louis E., opposition to Inter-Allied intervention in Russia and Siberia, iii. 420.
- Bryce, Lord, interview with House, iii. 236, suggestion of appointment of commission for formulation of plans to secure peace after the war, iii. 236, suggestion of, to Lord Bryce, for a league of nations, iv. 10.
- Buchan, J., History of the Great War, quoted, iii. 215, 286, on justification of granting the armistice (History of the Great War, quoted), iv. 96, 97, on the importance of the League of Nations (History of the Great War, quoted), iv. 358.
- Buckler, W. H., of London Embassy, iii. 173.
- Bulgaria, relations of United States with, iv. 58, relief of distress in, iv. 238.
- Austria, and Turkey, effect of collapse of, on Allies, iv. 126.
- Bulgarian Army, appeal for armistice from, iv. 59, action of French General regarding appeal, iv. 59, unconditional surrender of, iv. 60, 61.
- Bulgarians and Germans, driven from defences and put to flight on Macedonian front (Sept. 1918), iv. 57.
- Bullard, Arthur, letter to House, iii. 399, 400.
- Burian, Austrian Foreign Secretary, successor to Czernin, iv. 55.
- Burke, definition of freedom of governments, iv. 293.
- Burleson, iv. 232.
- Buxton, Charles H., 143.

C

- CADORNA, General, defeat of, iii. 214, Permanent Military Representative of Supreme War Council for Italy, iii. 251.

- Cambon, M., interview with House, iii. 234, 235, 236, on advisability of the four principal Powers holding preliminary meeting in Paris before general Conference, iii. 235, review of war conditions in Great Britain, France, and Italy, iii. 235.
- Caporetto, disaster to Italian Army at, iii. 214, 216, 301, 302.
- Cecil, Lord Robert, iv. 54, House's interview with, iii. 232, British Minister of Blockade, iii. 306, and Sir E. Grey, advocates of a League of Nations, iv. 6, proposal for diminishing likelihood of war, iv. 6, formation of League of Nations, iv. 9, and proposed League of Nations, iv. 17, Wilson's conference with, iv. 300, 301, view of mandatory principle, iv. 307, member of Commission for presenting plan for League of Nations, iv. 312, 313, British position of naval armaments question, iv. 433, 434, 437.
- Censorship, political, of American press despatches, iv. 244, withdrawn, iv. 246, 248, removal of, iv. 293.
- Central Powers, no bargain or compromise with, possible, iii. 70, policy of, statement required, iii. 160, resources mobilized and under control, iii. 309, success of, during spring of 1918, iii. 435, political and military dignitaries of, conference at German headquarters, Spa, iv. 55, 56.
and United States, Col. House's fears of separate peace between, iv. 170.
- Centralization, necessity of, before United States could bring effective help to Allies, iii. 12.
- Chau, Admiral de, of British Mission to America, iii. 39.
- Chemin des Dames, defeat of General Neville at, iii. 2.
- Chesterfield House, allocated to Col. House during American Mission, iii. 230, 231.
- Chiefs of Staff, exclusion of, from Supreme War Council, iii. 266, 267, 268.
- China, justice for, iv. 470.
- Chinda, Viscount, Japanese Ambassador, London, iii. 273, iv. 321, 322, 323, 324, 325.
- Churchill, Mr. Winston, letter to, from Lord Northcliffe, iii. 90, presence at Supreme War Council explained, iv. 378.
- Classics, study of, advantages of, iii. 50, 51.
- Clemenceau, M. Georges, iii. 282, 283, iv. 93, 108, 109, 250, 251, 310, 403, 404, Ministry of, formed, iii. 221, approval of, of American scheme of Military Executive Council, iii. 262, and Supreme War Council, iii. 264, opening speech at Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 272, discussion with House on training of American troops, iii. 274, House's high opinion of, iii. 274, insistence of extension of British lines on Western Front, iii. 275, opening speech at first session of Supreme War Council, summarized, iii. 276, advice to Armand regarding secret peace negotiations, iii. 281, 282, motto upon which he undertook formation of his Ministry, iii. 286, opposed to manifesto regarding war aims, iii. 286, suggestion of appointment of General Foch to Supreme Command, iii. 315, memorandum on transportation of American troops, iii. 316, 317, statement by, iii. 371, discusses possibility of military intervention in Russia after advent of Bolsheviks to power, iii. 399, message from, to President regarding Inter-Allied intervention in Russia and Siberia, iii. 419, 420, House's friendship for, iv. 64, objection to inviting Germans to an armistice, iv. 103, 104, wish for moderate armistice by, iv. 113, on reparations for damages in Armistice, iv. 127, 128, attitude towards Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 166, 167, 168, and Col. House, friendship between, iv. 196, characteristics of, iv. 197, success of, in obtaining Treaty of Versailles, iv. 198, on delay in summoning Peace Conference, iv. 215, 216, objection to Wilson sitting at Peace Conference, iv. 222, letter to House on extension of Red Cross activities, iv. 270, advocacy of League of Nations, iv. 281, delay in demobilization desired by, iv. 337, 338, attempted assassination by Communist, iv. 341, 342, creation of Rhenish Republic insisted on by, iv. 345, on amount of German

- reparations, iv. 355, statement regarding French position on problem of Rhine and French security, iv. 408, 409, disagreement with Wilson over the Saar question, iv. 411, remarks on German reparations, iv. 415, gratitude to Americans regarding Treaty of Peace, iv. 499, enthusiasm of, for League of Nations, iv. 506, 507. See also House, Col. E. M., and General Bliss, memorandum of conversation.
- Clémentel, discussion with House on economic embargo to be threatened to Germany, iii. 273.
- Coal, exportation to Germany, iv. 110.
- Coalition Government, President Wilson's dislike of, iii. 12.
- Cobb, Frank I., iii. 146, 147, 149, 152, acceptance of suggestion by Col. House of open debate of war aims in New York World and Berliner Tageblatt, iii. 147, inadvisability of President sitting at Peace Conference, iv. 219, 220.
- Colby, Bainbridge, iii. 212, 232, 317.
- Colcord, Lincoln, visit to Col. House, iii. 15.
- Colonial administration, terms on which conducted an international concern, iv. 295.
- Ministers, discussion on mandates question, iv. 309, 310.
- Commander-in-Chief, Allied, proposed appointment of, iii. 260.
- Communist, attempted assassination of Clemenceau by, iv. 341, 342.
- Congress, President Wilson's decisions communicated through, iii. 378, want of sympathy with President Wilson's speech, iii. 382.
- Co-ordination in British and American war aims, iii. 243.
- Council of Four of Peace Conference, iv. 100, first meeting of, iv. 402, question of German Reparations referred to, iv. 412, 413, determination of future ownership of Saar Valley, iv. 420, 421, Japan's wish to join, iv. 484, 485.
- of Ten, iv. 333, 365, 367, 369, functions and work of, iv. 284, 285, termination of meetings, iv. 402.
- "Covenant of a League of Nations," draft by Col. House, iv. 27, alterations in draft, iv. 295, first Paris draft, iv. 298, second Paris draft, iv. 298, 299, Magnolia draft, iv. 298, Washington draft, iv. 298, British draft, iv. 299, British draft and second Paris draft, similarity between, iv. 299, to be integral part of Peace Treaty, iv. 300, 304, revised by D. Miller, iv. 311, 312, 313, question of incorporation in Peace Treaty, iv. 405, 406, revision of, iv. 426, 427, 428, recognition of Monroe Doctrine in, iv. 429, 431, Wilson's amendment to, iv. 440, 441, Preamble, Japanese, amendment to, iv. 443, 444, Plenary Conference on Resolution for, iv. 445.
- Covenant of the League and President Wilson, iv. 4.
- Covenants, idea of, iv. 291.
- Cravath, Paul, iii. 212, 302.
- Crawford, Sir Richard, British financial representative to United States, iii. 102.
- Croly, H., visit to Col. House, iii. 15.
- Crosby, Oscar T., iii. 211, 212, Assistant Secretary, United States Treasury, iii. 184, 186, financial discussion with Lord Reading, iii. 186.
- Cunliffe, Lord, of British Mission to America, iii. 39.
- Currencies, Continental European, débâcle of, iv. 212.
- Curzon of Kedleston, Marquess, iii. 234.
- Czecho-Slovak forces, utilization in organizing Bohemia and Galicia against invasion by Germany, iv. 110.
- Czecho-Slovakia, iv. 109, food-supply to, difficulties in, iv. 364, aid to, iii. 427, 428.
- Czernin, iii. 155, Austrian Minister for Foreign Affairs, peace projects of, iii. 136, on war aims of Ludendorff, iii. 153, need of early peace recognized by, iii. 153, 154, reply to Wilson's speech, iii. 362, 363, determination of, to secure peace, iii. 363, 364, disagreement with Ludendorff and German military party, iii. 364, Austrian Foreign Secretary, resignation of, iv. 55.

D

Daily Mail, leading article in, urging compromise at Peace Conference and rapid conclusion of peace, iv. 394-6, statement for, regarding Treaty of Peace, iv. 498.

- Daily News*, plea for endorsement of President Wilson's principles of peace settlement, iv. 73, comment on Wilson's peace proposals, iv. 78.
- Davis, Norman, iv. 249, 397.
- Davison, H. P., iv. 93, 243, appointed executive head of Red Cross, iii. 17, suggestion of enlarging scope of International Red Cross to include peace-time activities, iv. 268, 269.
- Day, Clive, work of, on the Inquiry, iii. 176.
- Delaney, Marcel (French Ambassador to Japan), message from Clemenceau to President Wilson regarding Inter-Allied intervention in Russia and Siberia, iii. 419, 420.
- Democracy, Americans fight for, iii. 33, Secretary Lansing on, iv. 14, 15.
- Democratic Congress, Wilson's appeal for, iv. 68, Wilson's appeal for return of, iv. 231, Wilson's appeal for, disapproved by House, iv. 68.
- Democrats and Republicans, Col. House and differences between, iii. 10, 11.
- Derby, Lord, House's communication with, re political censorship of American press despatches, iv. 245, 246.
- Destroyers, American, building of, iii. 69, 77, large number for convoy duty required, iii. 274, 275.
- Diaz, General, action upon receipt of application from Austrian General for terms, iv. 105, submission of Austrian terms of surrender to, iv. 107.
and others, terms of Armistice left to, iv. 113, 114.
- Diplomatic situation during first three months of 1918, iii. 360.
- Dmowski, M., iv. 275.
- Dodge, Cleveland, suggestion relating to American Red Cross, iii. 17.
- Dover, Straits of, Admiral Benson's plan for effecting mine barrage, iii. 307.
- Drummond, Sir Eric, iii. 34, 35, 70, 231, iv. 54, of British Mission to America, iii. 39, first Secretary-General of League of Nations, iv. 445.
- E
- EASTMAN, Max, visit to Col. House, iii. 15.
- Economic embargo, plans for threat of, to Germany after the war, iii. 273.
- Economic policy to be directed towards Germany after the war, iv. 62.
- Edwards, General Clarence, iv. 193.
- Egan, Maurice, Report on Conditions in Germany, iii. 9.
- Emergency Fleet Corporation and Shipping Board, strained relations between, iii. 22.
- Enemy mercantile fleet, use of, for purposes of relief, iv. 255.
- England, number of fighting men in France and Flanders, iii. 263, visit of President Wilson to, iv. 265, request for loan from, to France, iv. 361, granted, iv. 362, antagonism of, to United States, iv. 510.
- Entente Powers, relation with Russia after the Revolution, iii. 134, peace terms of United States Government not acceptable to, iii. 149, difficulty of, in accepting programme of the Fourteen Points, iii. 356, Liberals of, reason for their regard for President Wilson, iii. 357, need of diplomatic as well as military unity to meet German onslaught (1918), iii. 435.
- Erzberger, Matthias, iii. 155, German intriguer, liberal views of, iii. 136, formation of party in Reichstag, advocating peace of compromise, iii. 154, leader of Centre Party in Reichstag, iii. 154.
- Essex, Lady, iii. 233.
- Europe, newspaper press opinions of the Fourteen Points in, iii. 355, destitute peoples of, to be furnished with food and other necessaries by United States, iv. 240, 241.
Central, amalgamation of, intended, iii. 133.
- European Allies, dangers of starvation of, owing to German submarine warfare, iii. 3, 4. See also Allies, belligerents, diplomatic crises with, iv. 2.
- Evacuation of German army, terms as to, iv. 81, 84, 85.
- F
- FINANCE, British, fear of collapse of, in 1917, iii. 4.
- Finances of Allied Countries, House's plan for readjustment of, iv. 516, 517.
- Financial crisis in France, iv. 361.
questions during war, worry of, to politicians, iii. 101.

- Financiers, small group of, in France, ready for unconditional peace, iii. 235.
- Finland, protection against Bolshevik invasion, iv. 359.
- Fiume, Italy's claim to, iv. 449, 461, 462, Italy's claim to, threat of war resulting from, iv. 453, Italy's claim to, unwise, iv. 454, as independent port, suggestions relating to, iv. 458-9, compromise regarding, iv. 460, Wilson's manifesto regarding, iv. 463.
- Flag Day speech of President Wilson, iii. 139, 140, Col. House's praise of, iii. 141, 142.
- Foch, Marshal, iv. 94, 110, Permanent Military Representative of Supreme War Council for France, iii. 251, co-ordination by, of action of Allied Armies on Western Front, iii. 259, on Italian situation (Dec. 1917), iii. 273, suggestion of appointment to Supreme Command, iii. 315, opinion as to transportation of American troops to France, iii. 317, plan of general reserve drawn from Allied Armies, iii. 446, 447, triumphant counter-offensive of Allied Armies under, iv. 1, question from House as to his preference for Germans signing or rejecting armistice, iv. 91, his terms for an armistice, manuscript entrusted to House, iv. 93, military terms of German armistice drafted by, iv. 112, severity of his terms for armistice, iv. 116, on Allied occupation of German territory, iv. 122, 123, 124, Mr. Lloyd George's approval of his terms for armistice, iv. 126, on surrender of German ships, iv. 130, 135, 136, notification to German Government of parlementaire to be sent to, iv. 139, advocacy of immediate peace with Germany, iv. 336, possibility of dictation of terms of peace to Germany, iv. 343.
-and others, terms of armistice left to, iv. 113, 114.
- Food Administration, Mr. Hoover's abilities as head of, 19.
Control, International, iv. 249.
Council, Inter-Allied, iii. 305.
supplies of world, availability for relief, iv. 255, 256, difficulties of, iv. 364, 365, 367, 369.
- Ford, Henry, iii. 97, offer of 6,000 tractors for Great Britain, iii. 97.
- Fourteen Points, the, iii. 324, iv. 61, 295, armistice based on, German request for, iii. 131, origin of, iii. 291, drafting of, iii. 292, tributes of appreciation, iii. 353, appreciation from New York Tribune, iii. 353, 354, French opinion regarding, iii. 355, insistence on freedom of the seas in, iii. 355, press opinions of, in Europe, iii. 355, pronouncement on Alsace-Lorraine in, iii. 355, Italian dislike of, iii. 355, 356, acceptance by Entente Allies difficult, iii. 356, failure as a political manifesto, iii. 356, opinion in Germany and Russia uninfluenced by, iii. 356, final importance of, iii. 356, 357, principle of justice to all peoples and nationalities contained in, iii. 357, impetus given by, for foundation of League of Nations, iii. 357, 358, special appeal for Russia in, iii. 401, vituperation of, by Radek (Bolshevik propagandist), iii. 402, Wilson's speech of, culmination of, iv. 4, question of acceptance by the Allies as a basis for peace, iv. 92, Germany's attitude towards, iv. 152, 153, House's fight for, with Allied leaders, iv. 154, 155, opposition to, in America, iv. 155, House's success with Allies relating to, iv. 156, interpretation by Frank Cobb, iv. 157, interpretation of, during Conference in Paris, iv. 158, Armistice conditioned on, iv. 167, difficulties of Col. House relating to acceptance of, by Allied Prime Ministers, iv. 172-6, victory of, iv. 194, official American commentary on, iv. 198-209, acceptance as basis of peace, iv. 211.
- France, war-weariness in, iii. 2, America's historical sympathy with, iii. 33, classes in, opposed to ending of war, iii. 235, peace-on-any-terms elements in (Nov. 1917), iii. 235, insistence by, for large American army for defensive operations, iii. 262, losses of man-power (1917), iii. 262, 263, training of American Army in, iii. 292, 293, transportation of American troops to, absolute minimum required (1917-18), iii. 316, 317, transportation of American troops to, urgency of, iii. 317, 318, 319, 320, disposal of American troops in, question as to, iii. 443, 444,

- and conditions of peace, iv. 128, war debt of, cancellation suggested, iv. 281, demand for international force operating under League of Nations, iv. 318, 320, 325, insistence on establishment of Rhenish Republic, iv. 356, 357, financial crisis in, iv. 361, need of loan from England, iv. 361, military security of, iv. 406, 407, Anglo-American guarantee to, iv. 409, 410, claim to the Saar, iv. 411, objections to Wilson's amendment to Covenant, iv. 441, 443, refusal to shorten period of occupation, iv. 491.
- France, Great Britain, and Italy, necessity for co-ordination of war efforts as between, iii. 302, 303.
- Northern, estimation of damage done by Germans in, iv. 246.
- Franchet d'Esperey, General, action with regard to appeal for armistice from Bulgarian Army, iv. 59.
- Franco-American attack (Sept. 12, 1918), victory of, iv. 56.
- Franco-British attack, Hindenburg line pierced by (Sept. 22, 1918), iv. 56.
- Frazier, A. H., iv. 445, on difficulties of the Allies, iii. 8, letter to Col. House on statement by M. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George, iii. 371, draft telegram for, from President Wilson, relating to Supreme War Council, iii. 373, report to House on desire of military leaders of the Entente for amalgamation of American with British and French troops, iii. 441, 442, House's opinion of, iv. 237.
- Freedom of the Seas, iv. 264, 266, 267, 432, insistence upon, in the Fourteen Points, iii. 355, Britain's rebellion against, at Peace Conference, iv. 165, Lloyd George on, iv. 165, 166, 168, House's interpretation of, iv. 169, threat of President Wilson to British relations to, iv. 184, difficulty with British concerning, iv. 185, 186, freedom for discussion of, at Peace Conference, iv. 190, sole factor of difference between Great Britain and America, iv. 191, benefits which would accrue to Great Britain following, iv. 192.
- French Army, supplies from United States, iii. 84, supplies from United States, cabled orders for, iii. 84, condition of, at end of war, iv. 125.
- French and British Armies, amalgamation of American troops with, iii. 309, suggested by military leaders of the Entente, iii. 440.
- flags, burning of, by Germans, iv. 500.
- Government, refusal to allow passports to Stockholm Socialist Conference, iii. 162, direct advocacy of Japanese intervention in Siberia, iii. 413.
- Peace Commission, iii. 82.
- people, proclamation of peace to, by Allies (1814), iii. 131.
- War Mission, arrival of, in America, iii. 38.
- French, Lord, interview with Col. House, iii. 236.

G

- GALICIA, organization against invasion, by Germany, iv. 110.
- Geddes, Sir Eric, interview with Col. House, iii. 238, remarks on the submarine situation, iii. 238, request for examination of transport problem by, resolution passed at Supreme War Council, iii. 296, naval programme for conditions of armistice, iv. 129.
- Geneva selected as site of League of Nations, iv. 430.
- George V, H.M. King, Col. House's audience with, iii. 233.
- and H.M. the Queen, at lunch with, iii. 234.
- George, Rt. Hon. D. Lloyd, iii. 218, 273, 289, 290, iv. 108, 109, 110, 217, 250, 310, cablegram to, from Lord Northcliffe on war propaganda, iii. 145, desire for American War Mission to Europe, iii. 189, desire to launch co-ordinated attack against weakest point of enemy, iii. 189, 190, and Military Staff, disagreement between, iii. 190, dissatisfaction with Sir William Robertson, iii. 191, letter to Col. House on sending United States representative to Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 192, insistence on unified command in the war, iii. 216, 217, proposal of M. Painlevé to, as to creation of Inter-Allied Staff, iii. 219, criticism of his conduct of war from professional soldiers, iii. 221, question of American representation on Supreme War Council raised by, iii. 223,

- demand for greater unity of control in the war, iii. 226, 227, ratification of Rapallo policy of, iii. 230, exposition to House of British war aims, iii. 240, conference with Col. House and Mr. Balfour as to questions discussed at Cabinet meeting, iii. 241, address at conferences between technical members of American Mission and British War Cabinet, iii. 248, 249, and political control of Supreme War Council, iii. 255, opposition of, to inclusion in Supreme War Council of Chiefs of Staff, iii. 261, interview with Col. House, iii. 266, anger against M. Clemenceau, iii. 267, elation after close of opening session of Supreme War Council, iii. 279, proposal for inquiry into peace terms of Austria, iii. 282, 283, not inclined to support liberal restatement of war aims, iii. 286, statement by, iii. 371, attack on, by British Liberal weeklies, iii. 373, views on economic treatment of Germany after the war, iv. 62, 63, on question of representation of Powers at Armistice Conferences, iv. 100, 101, discussion as to case of Germany and Austria at Armistice Conference, iv. 104, 105, advice as to preparation of terms of surrender for Austria, iv. 106, wish for moderate armistice by, iv. 113, on severity of terms of German Armistice, iv. 121, on terms of conditions of armistice proposed by Allied Naval Council, iv. 131, 132, on internment of German ships, iv. 133, 134, 135, 136,—and surrender of German submarines, iv. 136, attitude towards Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 167, 168, overwhelming success at British General Election (Dec. 1918), iv. 266, view of mandatory principle, iv. 306, 308, views regarding intervention in Russia, iv. 359, difficulties of, regarding German Reparations, iv. 397, letter from Wilson, Clemenceau, and Orlando requesting him to stay on in Paris, iv. 403, 404, acceptance of compromise by, iv. 408.
- George, Rt. Hon. D. Lloyd, Lord Reading, and Sir William Wiseman, House's discussion of war situation with, iii. 238.
and Sir W. Robertson, mutual suspicion between, iii. 255.
- George Washington*, date of embarkation of President Wilson upon, iv. 53, 54.
- German agency in inducing signature of Treaty of Brest-Litovsk, iii. 408.
answer to Wilson's reply to demand for peace proposals, iv. 81.
Army, to be used as means of pressure during peace negotiations, iv. 81, terms as to evacuation of, iv. 81, 84, 85, condition of, towards end of war, iv. 123, estimation of damage done by, in Belgium and Northern France, iv. 246.
boundaries, settlement of difficulties regarding, iv. 355.
Chancellor, application to President Wilson to enter into negotiations for an armistice, iv. 75.
colonies, future of, iv. 292, 293, 306, 307.
delegates, meeting of, in Forest of Compiègne with Foch and Wemyss, iv. 139, report of conversation with, iv. 139-41, depression of, at meeting with Allied leaders, iv. 142.
- Empire, colonies formerly belonging to, to be governed by mandatory power, iv. 330, 331.
Federation, German Austria to be intimated not to join, iv. 345.
Government, to be notified to send parlementaire to Marshal Foch, iv. 139.
High Command, desire for armistice expressed by, iv. 74.
Imperial régime, President Wilson's hostility towards, iii. 131, 132, 140, 141.
Merchant Marine, suggestion of use for relief purposes, iv. 240, 241.
militarists aided by statements made in Allied countries, iii. 161.
military autocracy, Allies' refusal to deal with, iii. 59, amalgamation of Central Europe intended by, iii. 133.
military commanders, failure of hopes for complete victory, iv. 55, 56, President Wilson's policy of declaring relentless war upon, iii. 365.
military party, determination to resist proposals for peace, iii. 154, moral bankruptcy of, iii. 159.
Ministers, agreement to accept armistice conditions, iv. 86.

- German Ministry, resignation of, at signing of Peace Treaty, iv. 494.
- Navy, internment of, iv. 358.
- offensive on Western Front, victorious (March 21, 1918), iii. 415, in France, final collapse of, iv. 1.
- people, instilment of idea of war of liberation into, iii. 130, exculpation of, criticism at President Wilson's attempt at, iii. 131, President Wilson's friendship towards, iii. 131, 132, 140, President Wilson's plan of appealing to, as against their Government, not approved by Entente Allies, iii. 435, 436.
- propaganda, false views regarding British action in the war spread by, iii. 96.
- request for armistice based on the Fourteen Points, iii. 131.
- ships, disposal of, iv. 368, 369.
- situation (1917), Col. House commissioned to make study of, iii. 135.
- submarines, British capture of, iii. 238.
- tonnage, seized in Brazil, 86.
- Treaty, resolution as to hastening, passed by Special Commission, iv. 337, immediate, resolution requiring, passed by Supreme Council, iv. 339.
- troops, transference from Eastern to Western Front, imminent danger from, iii. 317, 318, 319.
- German-Americans, aid to liberal movement in Germany, iii. 143, 144.
- Germans, stimulation during the war of Socialist feelings in Entente countries against Governments, iii. 131, 132, fears of re-arming of, during armistice discussions, Gen. Bliss on, iv. 117, feeding of, by Allies, iv. 142, 144, temper and unreliability of, at time of Peace Treaty, iv. 500.
- and Bulgarians driven from defences and put to flight on Macedonian Front (Sept. 1918), iv. 57.
- Germany, report on conditions of, iii. 9, propaganda work of Lord Northcliffe in, regarding President Wilson's views, iii. 91, liberal movement in, iii. 134, 136, 137, fruitless efforts of Austria to induce, to yield, iii. 154, peace movement in, iii. 155, discontent in, iii. 161, disastrous effect upon, of peace along lines of status quo ante under Imperialist Government, iii. 163, threat of economic war against, iii. 233, plans for threat to, of economic embargo after the war, iii. 273, allies of, crushing of, before final attempt at overthrow of Germany, iii. 276, 277, defeat of, the only way to end the war proclaimed by President Wilson, iii. 279, secret peace negotiations emanating from, iii. 280, letter to The Times from Lord Lansdowne on possibility of peace negotiations with, iii. 284, war aims of, clear definition to the nation, iii. 285, destruction of militarism in, most essential war aim, iii. 286, proposed diplomatic offensive against, iii. 328, public opinion in, unmoved by the Fourteen Points, iii. 356, efforts for peace with Russia, iii. 361, plans to take from Russia border provinces, iii. 361, general strike in, iii. 362, plan for economic war against, iii. 377, possibility of drawing food and raw materials from Asia after conclusion of peace with Russia, iii. 416, successes of, in spring of 1918, iii. 435, economic policy to be directed towards, after the war, iv. 62, prevention of export of oil or coal to, iv. 110, complete internal disruption of Allies protected by, during Peace Conference, iv. 118, terms of armistice offered to, not to be made public till after acceptance, iv. 139, memorandum to be sent to, of observations by Allied Governments of correspondence between Wilson and German Governments, iv. 139, surrender of, at armistice, not unconditional, iv. 152, war costs of Belgium to be paid by, iv. 161, Spartacus movement in, iv. 273, compensation payable by, iv. 277, 278, preliminary peace with, programme for making, iv. 340, indemnity to be paid by, iv. 344, food supply to, iv. 365, bankruptcy of, iv. 397, future boundaries, question of, iv. 398, 409, question of admission into League of Nations, iv. 407, attitude of, towards President Wilson after signing of peace, iv. 475.
- Germany, preliminary peace treaty with, necessity for, iv. 344, 345, territorial and economic clauses, iv. 347.

- 348, naval and military terms, question of settlement, iv. 348, 349.
- Germany and Austria during first three months of 1918, iii. 360, and situation in Austria-Hungary, iii. 367.
- and Great Britain, surmise as to result of fighting without the Allies, iii. 240.
- and Poland, settlement of provisional frontier between, desired, iv. 344, 345.
- Goethals, Gen. G., appointed head of Emergency Fleet Corporation, iii. 19, memorandum of, relating to shipbuilding in war, iii. 21, 22.
- Government and people, policy of driving wedge between, iii. 131, 132.
- Governments, freedom of, as defined by Burke, iv. 293.
- Grasty, Mr., correspondent of New York Times, iii. 254.
- Great Britain, mainstay of Entente in 1917, iii. 3, serious condition of finance in 1917, iii. 10, America's distrust of, iii. 33, ability to continue the war (Nov. 1917), iii. 235, surmise as to result of fighting Germany without the Allies, iii. 240, objection of, to putting British troops under foreign commander, iii. 266, fear of occupation of German territory by Allied armies, iv. 122, labour difficulties in, iv. 361, 365.
- France, and Italy, necessity for co-ordination of war efforts as between, iii. 302, 303.
- and United States, suggested union between, for just peace, iii. 41, respective naval programmes of, iv. 432-9.
- Greece, situation of, discussed at Supreme War Council, iii. 277, 278, military equipment and food-supply of, resolution passed at Supreme War Council, iii. 296, 297.
- Gregory, Attorney-General, memorandum criticizing President's appeal for return of Democratic Congress and selection of personnel of Peace Commission, iv. 231-4.
- Grew, Joseph, appointed Secretary of American Commission, iv. 242.
- Grey of Fallodon, Viscount, demands of Rumania in war, iii. 43, suggested envoy to United States, iii. 55, commendation of President Wilson's reply to Pope's peace proposals, iii. 169, conference with House, iii. 234, letters to Col. House on importance of international organization and concert, iv. 3, task of settling questions between Great Britain and United States, iv. 509, mission to United States, iv. 514.
- Grey of Fallodon, Viscount, and Lord Robert Cecil, advocates of a League of Nations, iv. 6.

H

- HAIG, Sir Douglas (afterwards Earl Haig), iii. 218, iv. 93, on necessity of concentrating on main battlefield in France, iii. 190, conditions of German armistice, iv. 95, moderate conditions of, for armistice, iv. 115, on Allied occupation of German territory, iv. 122, 123, 124.
- and others, terms of armistice left to, iv. 113, 114.
- and Sir W. Robertson, differences between, iii. 272.
- Hankey, Sir Maurice, Secretary of British War Cabinet, iv. 99.
- Hapsburg Monarchy, dissolution of (Wilson's Fourteen Points), iv. 162.
- Haskins, Charles H., work of, on the Inquiry, iii. 176.
- Herron, Dr., and separate peace offer of Emperor of Austria, iii. 383.
- Hertling, Count, reply to Wilson's speech, iii. 362, 363, aversion of, to general peace, iii. 364, 367, programme relating to peace proposals, President Wilson's criticism of, iii. 381.
- and Czernin, President Wilson's decision relating to answer to speeches of, iii. 377.
- Heye, Col., iv. 81.
- Hillquit, Morris, iii. 353.
- Hindenburg line pierced by Franco-British attack (Sept. 22, 1918), iv. 56.
- Holy Alliance, original work of, iv. 7.
- Home Rule, Irish, effect on relations between Great Britain and America, iv. 514.
- Hoover, Herbert, iii. 212, iv. 278, and Belgian relief, iii. 18, appointed Food Commissioner, iii. 19, system of food-supply organized by, iv. 238, appointed Director-General of Relief, iv. 240, arrival in Paris, iv. 248, 249, difficulties of food-supply to Czecho-Slovakia and Jugo-Slavia, iv. 364.

- Hope, Admiral, on surrender of German ships during armistice, iv. 132.
- Horodyski, iii. 273.
- House, Col., papers of, reflecting realization of need of American aid in world's war, iii. 5, not in favour of large expeditionary force, iii. 6, on necessity of large supplies from America to Allies, iii. 7, avoidance of office by, iii. 14, presence of, at series of informal conferences, iii. 14, visits to, of notable personages, iii. 14, 15, on Hoover and food control, iii. 18, on Gen. Goethal's shipbuilding programme, iii. 20, 21, conferences with foreign envoys, iii. 23, on Japan, iii. 25, 26, interest in Japanese problem, iii. 26, on Mr. Balfour's Mission, iii. 36, 37, 38, on avoidance of peace settlements at British Mission, iii. 40, probabilities of a German republic, iii. 60, on Allies and German military autocracy, iii. 60, correspondence of, iii. 78, influence of, iii. 82, admiration for Lord Northcliffe, iii. 91, confidence of Lord Northcliffe in, iii. 91, long conferences with financial representatives of Allied Powers, iii. 100, commissioned by President Wilson to make study of German situation, iii. 135, praise of President Wilson's Flag Day speech, iii. 141, 142, suggestion of open debate on war aims in New York World and Berliner Tageblatt, iii. 146, appeal to President Wilson to make public statement of war aims of United States Government, iii. 161, disastrous effect upon Germany of peace along lines of status quo ante under Imperialist Government, iii. 163, assistance enlisted by President in formulation of American Peace programme, iii. 173, suggestion of the Inquiry by, iii. 175, work of the Inquiry summarized by, iii. 176, President Wilson's confidence in, iii. 178, representative of President in American War Mission, iii. 209, 210, stay at Chesterfield House during American Mission, iii. 230, 231, impressions of Lord Milner, iii. 232, interview with Mr. Bonar Law, iii. 232, interview with Lord Robert Cecil, iii. 232, audience with H.M. the King, iii. 233, impressions of Sir William Robertson, iii. 233, lunch with the King and the Queen, iii. 234, conference with Lord Grey of Fallodon, iii. 234, impressions of General Smuts, iii. 234, interview with M. Cambon, iii. 234, 235, 236, interview with Lord Bryce, iii. 236, interview with Lord French, iii. 236, interview with Sir William Tyrrell, iii. 236, 237, interview with and impressions of the Marquess of Lansdowne, iii. 237, discussion of war situation with Mr. Lloyd George, Lord Reading, and Sir William Wiseman, iii. 238, interview with Sir Eric Geddes, iii. 238, interview with Venizelos, iii. 239, interview with Lord Loreburn, iii. 239, 240, surmise as to result if Great Britain fought Germany without the Allies, iii. 240, discussion with Mr. Lloyd George on British war aims, iii. 240, visit to the Admiralty, and interview with Lord Jellicoe, iii. 240, 241, conference with Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Balfour as to questions discussed at Cabinet meeting, iii. 241, interview with Lord Northcliffe, iii. 243, interview with Mr. Lloyd George relating to formation of military council with executive officer, iii. 266, discussion with Tardieu and Clémentel over economic embargo to be threatened to Germany, iii. 273, discussion with Clemenceau, Pétain, and Pershing on training of American troops, iii. 274, high opinion of M. Clemenceau, iii. 274, report of opening meeting of Supreme War Council, iii. 275, difficulty in persuading European Allies to issue joint statement of war aims, iii. 284, conversation with M. Briand on clearer definition of war aims by the Allies, iii. 285, mild form of restatement of war aims by Allies secured by, iii. 286, prevention of formulation of policy of assisting anti-Bolshevik factions in Russia, iii. 286, 287, refusal to be drawn into Allied controversies, iii. 287, desires suppression of statements in American newspapers that Russia should be regarded as an enemy, iii. 287, submission of resolution to be offered for approval at Inter-Allied Conference regarding war aims, iii. 287, 288, resolution regarding war aims of Allies and

United States submitted to Inter-Allied Council, iii. 289, 290, memorandum submitted to, by General Pétain, regarding training of the American Army, iii. 292, alternative proposition combining proposals by M. Maklakoff and Colonel House (Draft Resolutions to be submitted to Russia), iii. 297, speech closing Inter-Allied Conference (Dec. 3, 1917), iii. 299, 300, achievements of Inter-Allied Conference emphasized by, iii. 301, excerpt from report to American War Mission, iii. 308-10, appointment as American political representative on Supreme War Council, iii. 314, 315, impossibility of obtaining broad statement of war aims from Allies, iii. 325, situation in Germany at beginning of 1918, iii. 365, eliminations in President Wilson's Message prepared for Congress, iii. 379, appreciation of President Wilson's speech at Congress, iii. 384, opposition to military intervention in Russia after advent of Bolsheviks to power, iii. 399, confidential opinion as to Inter-Allied Expedition to Siberia, iii. 414, 415, notes of British Statement regarding Inter-Allied intervention in Russia and Siberia, iii. 415-19, proposal of Russian Relief Commission, iii. 420, 421, 425, notes of substance of cablegram from Mr. Balfour to Lord Reading (dealing with Inter-Allied intervention in Siberia), iii. 422-4, report to, by Mr. Frazier, of desire of military leaders of the Entente for amalgamation of American with British and French troops, iii. 441, 442, fruitless Mission of, in 1914, iv. 2, enthusiasm for League of Nations, iv. 6, task of gathering material for Peace Conference, iv. 6, discussion on elements of League of Nations with American advocates, iv. 8, on League to Enforce Peace, iv. 12, conference at house of, to discuss League to Enforce Peace, iv. 12, on standard of international honour, iv. 17, on general wish for organized opposition to war, iv. 20, on League of Nations, iv. 22, 23, on draft of convention for League of Nations, iv. 23, 24, work of (with D. H. Miller), in drafting constitution of League, iv.

23, 24, and restrictions of League of Great Powers, iv. 25, importance of preamble to Covenant of League of Nations, iv. 28, on advisability of threat from United States to Bulgaria, iv. 58, advice to Wilson with regard to proposed Bulgarian armistice, iv. 59, friendship for Clemenceau, iv. 64, opinion as to effect of victory of Allies on Wilson's popularity, iv. 65, suggestion of incorporation of League of Nations into Peace Treaty, iv. 66, disapproval of Wilson's appeal for Democratic Congress, iv. 68, advice to Wilson with regard to German application for armistice, iv. 75, 76, discussion with Wilson as to the reply to peace proposals, iv. 78, 79, appointed personal representative of President at Supreme War Council, iv. 87, appointed Special Representative of Government of the United States at Supreme War Council, iv. 87, question to Marshal Foch as to his preference for Germans signing or rejecting armistice, iv. 91, interviews upon arrival in Paris (Oct. 26, 1918), iv. 92-4, suggestion of course to be followed with regard to terms of armistice, iv. 103, meeting with Prime Ministers and Foreign Ministers to discuss German Armistice, iv. 119, on the basis for peace, iv. 129, on internment of German ships, iv. 133, support of England relating to naval terms in armistice, iv. 138, support of Marshal Foch in military terms in armistice, iv. 138, two great features of armistice, iv. 144, and death of autocracy, iv. 145, threat of, to Allied Prime Ministers relating to Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 174, 176, confidence of European statesmen in, iv. 196, personal friendship with Clemenceau, iv. 196, personal description of Clemenceau, iv. 197, preliminary treaty after signing of Armistice advocated by, iv. 211, memorandum on preliminary treaty, iv. 212, question of admission as American delegate to Peace Conference, iv. 218, advice to Wilson not to sit at Peace Conference, iv. 221, 222, negotiations regarding place of holding Peace Conference, iv. 226-30, on respective numbers of delegates from each country to Peace Conference, iv. 226, 227, appointed member of Peace Commission, iv. 230, resolution regarding organization of relief drafted by, for Supreme War Council, iv. 238, interview with King of Montenegro, iv. 239, suggestion of formation of International Relief Organization, iv. 240, complaint of political censorship of American press despatches, iv. 244, 245, 246, interview with Dmowski, Chairman of Polish Committee in Paris, iv. 248, arrangements for Wilson's arrival at Peace Conference, iv. 248, information to Wilson of arrangements made on his arrival in France, iv. 252, plan for relief of destitute in Europe, iv. 254, report upon London Conference of British, French, and Italian Prime Ministers, iv. 259, ideas as to repayment of war debts by Allies, iv. 278, 279, enlists Clemenceau in cause of League of Nations, iv. 280, 281, severe illness of, just before opening of Peace Conference, iv. 284, view of mandatory principle, iv. 307, advice to Wilson regarding efforts for League of Nations, iv. 311, Member of Commission for Presenting Plan for League of Nations, iv. 314, 316, approval of preliminary peace treaty with Germany, iv. 349, conferences with Balfour on establishment of Rhenish Republic, iv. 356, 357, negotiation of priority claim of 500 million dollars for Belgium, iv. 363, 364, tribute to character and work of, iv. 371, comments on difficulties of Peace Conference, iv. 372, views on necessity of speedy decision as regards peace settlement, iv. 394, solution regarding German Reparations, iv. 396, view with regard to fixation of future boundaries of Germany, iv. 398, 399, comments on delay in business of Peace Conference, iv. 405, tribute to energy of M. Tardieu, iv. 408, statement from Clemenceau regarding French position on problem of Rhine and French security, iv. 408, 409, Reparations Draft, prepared by, iv. 415, 416, position of United States with regard to naval armaments, iv. 436, 438, eulogy on Orlando, iv. 452, anxiety for cordial relations between British Empire and United States, iv. 509, on payment of loans to the Entente, iv. 512, 513, illness of, while returning to America, iv. 519, advice of, to Wilson regarding ratification of Peace Treaty, iv. 524-6.

House, Col., and Gen. Bliss, memorandum of conversation with M. Clemenceau and General Pétain, iii. 262.

and President Wilson, friendship between, iii. 179, changed relations between, iv. 527, mystery of separation between, iv. 533.

House - Drummond Memorandum, points outlined in, iii. 61.

House Mission, see American War Mission.

House of Commons, debate in, on demand for greater unity of control in the war, iii. 226, 227.

Hovelague, Emile, on serious conditions in France, iii. 55.

Hurst-Miller draft of Covenant, iv. 312, 313, 316.

I

IMMIGRATION Laws of America, effect of, on Japan, 24.

Imperial system, old, revolt against final surrender in world war, iii. 129. Imponderables, political influence of, iii. 129.

Indemnities, declaration against, required from Allies by pacifists, iii. 137.

Inquiry, The, Director of, iii. 174, 175, headquarters of, iii. 174, executive officer of, iii. 175, Secretary of, iii. 174, 175, staff of, iii. 174, 175, 176, inauguration of, chief interest in, iii. 176, 177, production of complete territorial programme by, iii. 328, report of, two main sections contained in, iii. 328, 329, opinion regarding future boundaries of Germany expressed by experts in, iv. 398.

work of, iii. 174, Wiseman Memorandum on, iii. 174-6, work of, summarized by House, iii. 176.

Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 273, iv. 217, eighteen nations represented at, iii. 253, small working committees of, iii. 253, 254, preparations for, iii. 269, danger of speeches at, iii. 270, elements of danger in, iii. 271, abrupt adjournment of, iii. 272,

- resolution regarding war aims of United States and Allies submitted by House for approval at, iii. 287, 288, failure of resolution regarding war aims of United States and Allies submitted by House for approval at, iii. 288, statement of war aims by, iii. 289, inability to agree upon statement of war aims by, iii. 291, draft resolutions to be addressed to Russia, iii. 297, second and final plenary session (Dec. 3, 1917), iii. 299, House's speech at close of second and final plenary session (Dec. 3, 1917), iii. 299, 300, co-ordination of Allied resources by, iii. 301, achievements of, iii. 301, Inter-Allied Councils created as a result of, iii. 305, agreements on blockade, man-power, etc., settled at, iii. 306.
- Inter-Allied Council on War Purchases and Finance, iii. 305.
- expedition to Siberia proposed by British Foreign Office, iii. 414, 415.
- Food Council, iii. 305.
- Munitions Council, iii. 305.
- Naval Council, iii. 306.
- Petroleum Conference, iii. 305.
- War Council, iii. 226, 227.
- International aspect of Colonial administration, iv. 295.
- Relief Organization, iv. 240.
- Ireland, effect of struggle of for self-government, on American politics, iii. 79.
- Irish aspirations, America's strong sympathy with, iii. 82, effect of, on Anglo-American relations, iii. 82.
- propaganda, false views regarding British action in the war spread by, iii. 96.
- question, settlement of, between England and America, iv. 510, 511.
- Italian Army, disaster to, at Caporetto, iii. 214, 216, 249, 301, 302, 311, cause of collapse, iii. 235.
- Front, military problems connected with, resolutions passed at opening session of Supreme War Council, iii. 278, resolution passed at Supreme War Council regarding, iii. 295, transport problem affecting resolution passed at Supreme War Council, iii. 296.
- Government, consent of representatives at conference to proposal for inquiry into peace terms of Austria, iii. 283, action with regard to Austrian Fleet, iv. 243.
- Italian War Mission, arrival of, in America, iii. 38.
- Italians, insistence on Treaty of London, iii. 286, objections of, to Point IX of Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 180, and Jugo-Slavs, quarrel between, iv. 358.
- Italy, situation in (Nov. 1917), iii. 239, amount of assistance required by, discussed at Supreme War Council, iii. 277, discontent with the Fourteen Points speech in, iii. 355, 356, determination of, iii. 371, settlement of frontiers by Point IX (Wilson's Fourteen Points), iv. 162, possible danger to, arising from separation of German from Austro-Hungarian question, iv. 350, claims of, in Adriatic, iv. 448, attitude of President Wilson towards, regarding the Fourteen Points, iv. 450, claim of, to Brenner Frontier, iv. 450, anger of, at Wilson's manifesto regarding Fiume, iv. 464.
- and Austria, question of north-east boundary between, iv. 370.
- France, and Great Britain, necessity for co-ordination of war efforts as between, iii. 302, 303.
- and Jugo-Slavs, discussion with Col. House on disputed territories, iv. 480-2.

J

- JAPAN, Ambassador of, interview with Col. House, iii. 24.
- desire of, for favoured-nation treatment, iii. 29, two military parties in, iii. 427, representation at Armistice Conferences, iv. 100, 101, demands of, relating to German rights in Shantung, iv. 448, claims of, iv. 465, 466.
- and China, differences between, iv. 467.
- and Shantung Peninsula, iv. 466.
- Japanese amendment to Preamble of Covenant, iv. 443, 444.
- and American Expeditionary Force, despatch to Siberia, subsequent difficulties, iii. 428, fruitlessness of, iii. 429, 430.
- Expeditionary Force, proposed military intervention by, in Siberia, iii. 399, 402-34, dangers of, iii. 403,

- 405, 406, 407, President Wilson's attitude towards, iii. 403, 404, racial objections to, iii. 403, 407, arguments for, iii. 409, separate opinions of French, British, and United States Governments regarding, iii. 413, 414, despatch to Siberia and landing at Vladivostok, iii. 428.
- Japanese Government, advice from House required for, iv. 327, President Wilson's negotiations with, iii. 427, 428.
- Jellicoe, Admiral Lord, iii. 213, interview with House, iii. 240, 241.
- Joffre, Marshal, iii. 54, leader of French Mission, iii. 38, personal appearance of, iii. 55, 56.
- Johnson, Douglas, work of, on The Inquiry, iii. 176.
- Jugo-Slavia, difficult territorial question of, iv. 242, food-supply to, difficulties in, iv. 364.
- Jugo-Slavs, states assigned to, iv. 455, and Italians, quarrel between, iv. 358, discussion with House on disputed territories, iv. 480-2.
- Jusserand, French Ambassador to America, Col. House's relations with, iii. 27.
- K
- KAISER, the, question of trial of, iv. 250.
- Karl, Emperor of Austria, message by wireless to Italian Supreme Command, as to suspension of hostilities, iv. 105, 106.
- Kerensky, iii. 239, 400, Imperialist war purposes disavowed by, iii. 134, political views of, iii. 134, overthrow of Government of, at Petrograd, iii. 215.
- Klotz, M., iv. 361, Minister of French Treasury, iv. 355, summary of French position on question of German Reparations, iv. 413.
- Knox (of Pennsylvania), iv. 233.
- Kühlmann, peace desired by, iii. 154.
- L
- LABOUR difficulties in Great Britain, iv. 361, 365.
- Organization, International, idea of, iv. 296, 297.
- Lammach, Dr., and secret peace offer of Emperor of Austria, iii. 383, proposals of, iii. 384.
- Lamont, Thomas W., iii. 401, iv. 353, 354, 355, on amount of German Reparations (What Really Happened at Paris quoted), iv. 398.
- Lancken, Baron, German secret peace negotiations through, iii. 280.
- Land-hunger of Russian peasants, satisfaction by Bolsheviks, iii. 399, 400.
- Lansdowne, Marquess of, interview with Col. House, iii. 237, characteristics, iii. 237, views on the war, iii. 237, letter to The Times on possibility of peace negotiations with Germany, iii. 284.
- Lansing, Secretary, abilities of, as Secretary of State, iii. 23, 174, letter to Col. House on League to Enforce Peace, iv. 13, member of Peace Commission, iv. 230, resolution regarding presentation of peace terms to Germany, carried, iv. 340, 351, approval of preliminary peace treaty with Germany, iv. 349.
- Law, Rt. Hon. A. Bonar, House's interview with, iii. 232.
- League of Democracies, iv. 14.
- League of Nations, iv. 64, 65, 66, 263, 264, impetus given for formation of, by speech of Fourteen Points, iii. 357, 358, emphasis placed by President Wilson upon, iv. 1, President Wilson champion of, iv. 3, fundamental principles of, iv. 19, 20, first formal American drafts of, iv. 21, Draft of Convention of, by Col. House, iv. 23, 24, question of inclusion in Peace Treaty, iv. 49, constitution and details of, public discussion of, postponed, iv. 52, 53, constitution of, improvements in, iv. 53, incorporation into Peace Treaty, House's suggestion of, iv. 66, desire for, in United States, iv. 213, International Red Cross and, iv. 268, Covenant of, iv. 276, Clemenceau's approval of, iv. 281, Committee of, iv. 289, project of, iv. 291, what is implied by, iv. 292, centre to be chosen for, iv. 292, corner-stone in a coming international régime, iv. 294, residuary trusteeship of, iv. 294, 295, Peace Conference, Resolutions on, iv. 300, 301, 302, constitution and functions to be worked out by Peace Conference Committee, iv. 302, representation of neutral Governments on, iv. 306, 307, birth of,

- iv. 328, 329, functioning of, iv. 362, 363, unjust charge of plot against, in Wilson's absence, iv. 373-91, question of admission of Germany into, iv. 407, site of, iv. 429, 430, site selected, iv. 430, question of official text for, iv. 440, Secretary-General of, iv. 445, House's keen interest in, iv. 506, settlement of, between England and America, iv. 510, 511. See also Covenant of League of Nations.
- League of Nations Commission, Members of, iv. 314, 315, work of, iv. 316, 317, 320, 322, 323-6, 328. Committee, critical meetings of, iv. 433, 439.
- League to Enforce Peace, iv. 11, 12, 13; 21, 291.
- Lebrun, M., iii. 306.
- Lemberg, attack of Ukrainian Bolshevik Army on, iv. 273.
- Lenin, iii. 400, establishment of Bolshevik Dictatorship of, iii. 215, disbelief in sincerity of President Wilson, iii. 401, 402.
- Letters, innumerable, received by Col. House during the war, iii. 16.
- Lever, Sir Hardman, British Financial Representative in United States, 102.
- Liberal movement in Germany, strength of, iii. 134.
- Liberals, German, iii. 136, 137, encouragement to be given to, iii. 136, 137. of Entente countries, reason for their regard for President Wilson, iii. 357.
- Liberation, world war to be a war of, iii. 130.
- Liberty Loan drive, iv. 67.
- Lincoln, President Abraham, educational difficulties of, iii. 50, greatness of, iii. 181.
- Lippmann, Walter, Secretary of The Inquiry, iii. 174, 175.
- Literature and art, effect of national influences on, President Wilson's ideas as to, iv. 69.
- Lockhart, Mr., British Commissioner in Russia, cablegram to London respecting Trotsky's enquiry, iii. 411, advises British Government against Japanese intervention in Siberia, iii. 412.
- Lodge Resolution, refusal of Wilson to accept, iv. 520.
- Lodge, Senator, iv. 77.
- London, Conference between British, French, and Italian Prime Ministers in, matters settled at, iv. 250, 257-60, House's report upon, iv. 257. Treaty of, iv. 242, 264.
- Lowell, Pres. A. Lawrence, letter to Col. House on proposed League of Nations, iv. 10, 11.
- Ludendorff, General, iii. 155, iv. 81, war aims of, iii. 153, transfer of troops from Russian Front to Western, iii. 360, appeal to German Social Democrats against, fruitless, iii. 437, and United States troops, position reached of race between (1918), iii. 440, review of military situation (August 1918), quoted, iv. 55, 56, desire for peace negotiations expressed by, iv. 74, views as to acceptance of armistice conditions, iv. 85, 86.
- Luxemburg, question of, iv. 364, 365.

M

- McAdoo, W. G., iii. 86, 95, iv. 234, 235, full co-operation between America and Allies chiefly brought about by, iii. 32, financial help to Allies, iii. 104, financial services in the war, iii. 304, control of Allied loans by, iii. 305.
- McCall, Governor, iv. 233, 234.
- McCormick, M., on attitude of Middle West towards the war, iii. 81.
- McCormick, Vance C., iii. 212, iv. 353, 354, Chairman of War Trade Board, iii. 306, on settlement of technical misunderstandings at Inter-Allied Conferences, iii. 306.
- MacDonald, Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay, iii. 143.
- McDonough, Sir George, Director of Military Intelligence, iii. 231, 232.
- Macedonian Front, great victory of Allies on, iv. 57.
- McKinstry, Brig.-Gen., iv. 279, appointed to estimate damage done by Germans in Belgium and North France, iv. 246.
- Magnolia, Col. House's country house, iii. 178, President Wilson's visit to Col. House at, iii. 179.
- Makino, Baron, iv. 321, 322, 323, 325, letter to, from Mr. Balfour on question of Shantung, iv. 468, 469.
- Maklakoff, M., proposition by (Draft Resolution to be addressed to Russia), iii. 297, alternative pro-

- position combining proposals by M. Maklakoff and Col. House (Draft Resolution to be submitted to Russia), iii. 297.
- Manchester Guardian*, publication of secret treaties released by Bolsheviks, iii. 326, comment on Wilson's peace proposals, iv. 78.
- Mandates, principle of, iv. 294, 295, 296, not included in British draft of Covenant, iv. 299, contested for by Wilson, iv. 306, as defined by Smuts accepted by colonial Ministers, iv. 310.
discussion on, at Peace Conference, iv. 305, different types of, article defining drafted, iv. 306, General Smuts's resolution on, iv. 330.
- Mandatories for administration of conquered territories in the name of the League, President Wilson's idea of, iv. 53.
- Man-power, American, necessity of, to Allied victory, iii. 9, assistance from United States urgently needed, iii. 317, 318, 320.
- Mantoux, M., interpreter to Supreme War Council, iv. 91.
- Maritime Laws, Revision of, American Government's desire for, iv. 184.
Transport Council, functions of, iii. 306.
- Masaryk, Thomas G., President of Czecho-Slovak Committee, iv. 249, discussion on Russia with House, iii. 420.
- Massachusetts, Republican Convention, iv. 213.
- Matsui, Japanese Ambassador, Paris, iii. 273.
- Maximilian of Baden, Prince, appointed German Chancellor (Oct. 4, 1918), iv. 74, application to President Wilson to enter into negotiations for an armistice, iv. 75.
- Mensdorff, Count, statement regarding possibility of peace negotiations with Austria, iii. 284.
- Merchantmen, protection of, during war, proposed plan for, 74.
- Mesopotamia, Memorandum on, by G. L. Beer, iv. 295.
- Meyer, President, Director of The Inquiry, iii. 174, 175.
- Michaelis, iii. 155.
- Middle West United States, attitude towards the war, iii. 81.
- Mihiel salient, cleared by Franco-American attack (Sept. 12, 1918), iv. 56.
- Militarism in Germany, destruction of most essential war aim, iii. 286.
- Military advisers of Supreme War Council, duties and limitations of, outlined, iii. 276, 277.
Council with executive officer, American plan of, iii. 264-6.
crisis expected (Dec. 1917), iii. 311, 312, best means of meeting, iii. 312.
judgment, President Wilson's insistence of expert for settling terms of German Armistice, iv. 113.
- Miller, D. H., iv. 297, work of, on The Inquiry, iii. 175, and Col. House, work of, in drafting constitution of League, iv. 23, 24, The Drafting of the Covenant (1928), iv. 290, revision of Covenant of League of Nations by, iv. 311, 312, 313, Orlando's Conference with, relating to Adriatic question, iv. 479.
- Milne, Gen., iv. 59.
- Milner, Lord, House's impressions of, iii. 232, on military terms of preliminary peace treaty with Germany, iv. 352, discussion on course to be taken with regard to concluding naval and military terms with Germany, iv. 385.
- Mine barrage of North Sea, iii. 307.
- Mines delayed, planted by Germans, action of Germans relating to, iv. 143.
- Monroe Doctrine, iv. 440-2, working of, iv. 292, recognition of, in Covenant, iv. 429, 431, amendment on, iv. 433, 439, reservation of, iv. 440, 441, barrier against absolutism in North and South America, iv. 442, principles of, when laid down, iv. 442.
- Montagu, Rt. Hon. E. S., on dangers of breaking up Turkish Empire, iv. 483.
- Montenegro, King of, House's interview with, iv. 239.
- Morel, E. D., 143.
- Morgan, J. P. and Co., purchasing and financial agents for British and French agents, iii. 103.
- Morgan Loan, divisions of, among banks and banking institutions, iii. 104.
Loans, liquidation of, by selling of collateral, feared results of, iii. 105.

- Munitions Council, Inter-Allied, iii. 305, functions of, iii. 305.
 Minister of, warning to, from Lord Reading, iii. 187.
 Ministry of, embarrassment of, probable, iii. 186.
 Murray, Postmaster of Boston, iii. 167.
- N
- NAPOLEON, Emperor, proclamation of unending war on, by Allies (1814), iii. 131.
 Nations, some standard of honour, as in other matters, to prevail in affairs of, iv. 28.
 small, claims of, iii. 25, 26, President Wilson on, iv. 25, Col. House on, iv. 25.
 Naturalization Law, effect of racial distinction on Japan, 29.
 Naval arrangements, Admiral Benson's secret, memorandum regarding, iii. 307.
 building problem, settlement of, between England and America, iv. 510, 511.
 Council, Inter-Allied, iii. 306, severity of terms of, for German Armistice, iv. 120.
 officers at Hampton Roads, President Wilson's talks to, iii. 180.
 programmes, respective, of Great Britain and United States, iv. 432-9, no rivalry in, iv. 511, 513.
 proposals of Mr. Balfour and House, iii. 73.
 Treaties of 1922, iii. 71.
 Navies, British and American, discussion on relative strength of, iii. 68.
 Navy Bill (1916), iii. 69. See also British Navy.
 Nelson, Knute, iv. 233.
 Neutral Governments, representation on League of Nations, question of, iv. 306, 307.
 shipping, advisability of universal commandeering of, iii. 232.
 "New Austrian Republic, the," iv. 486.
 Newspaper press opinions of the Fourteen Points in Europe, iii. 355.
 Newspapers, American, ignorance of, regarding British action in the war, iii. 96.
 New York Tribune (leading article), appreciation of the Fourteen Points (quoted), iii. 354.
 New York World, draft of challenge to Berliner Tageblatt on open debate on war aims, iii. 152.
 New York World and Berliner Tageblatt, open debate on war aims in, suggested by House, iii. 146-52.
 Nitti, The Wreck of Europe (quoted), iv. 408.
 Nivelle, Gen., defeat of, at Chemin des Dames, iii. 2.
 Northcliffe, Lord, iii. 304, iv. 275, organization of most effective scheme of propaganda known to modern history, iii. 61, head of special British Missions of co-ordination, iii. 82, 88, 89, belief in necessity for strength of United States to settle the war, iii. 90, propaganda work in Germany regarding President Wilson's views, iii. 91, energies of, during war, iii. 91, confidence of, in Col. House, iii. 92, close contact of, with leaders of industry, reason for, iii. 97, visit to Henry Ford at Detroit, iii. 97, on Congressional wranglings about finance, iii. 104, cablegram to Mr. Lloyd George relating to Lord Reading, iii. 183, interview with House, iii. 243, refusal of offer of seat in British Cabinet, iii. 244.
 and A. Tardieu, difficulties of, as heads of War Mission, iii. 89, work together in America, iii. 99.
 Northcliffe Press, improvements in British war methods demanded by, iii. 245, 247.
 North Sea, mine barrage of, iii. 307.
- O
- O'CONNOR, Rt. Hon. T. P., Irish situation outlined by, to Col. House, iii. 15.
 Officers, American, training of, at front, iii. 87.
 Oil, exportation to Germany, prevention of, iv. 110.
 Organization Committee of League of Nations, resolutions of, iii. 477, 478.
 Orlando, iii. 282, 283, iv. 98, 403, 404, difficulties of, iv. 451, characteristics of, iv. 452, Wilson's kindly feelings towards, iv. 453, attitude of, towards Jugo-Slavs, iv. 456, House's and Miller's conferences with, iv. 478, 479.
 and House, conferences between, relating to Fiume, iv. 456, 457.

Orlando and Sonnino, departure of, from Paris after Wilson's manifesto regarding Fiume, iv. 464.
 Orpen, Sir William, portrait of Col. House, iv. 485, portrait of President Wilson, iv. 494, 495, 498.
 Ostend, raiding of, suggested, iii. 274.

P

PACIFICISTS, so-called, favourable influence of President Wilson on, iii. 131, declaration against indemnities or territorial encroachments required from Allies by, iii. 137, prominent, request for demand from Allies of restatement of peace terms, iii. 143, stupidity of, President Wilson's contempt for, iii. 279.

Paderewski, I. J., plans for formation of Polish army discussed with Col. House, iii. 14, 20, letter to House on grave state of Poland (Jan. 1919), iv. 272.

Page, Walter H., American Ambassador to Great Britain, resignation of, iv. 68.

Painlevé, M., proposal to Mr. Lloyd George of creation of Inter-Allied Staff with General Foch as chief, iii. 219, resignation of French Premiership by, iii. 221, memoirs of, iii. 268

Pall Mall Gazette, on debate in the House of Commons on greater unity of control in the war, iii. 227.

Panama tolls controversy, settled by President Wilson, iii. 234.

Pan-American Pact, negotiation of, planned by President Wilson, iv. 2.

Parlementaire, notification to German Government of, to be sent to Marshal Foch, iv. 139.

Parsons, Col. Barkley, iv. 239.

Peace, appointment of commission to formulate plans for securing, after the war, suggested by Lord Bryce, iii. 236.

Peace Commission, personnel of, Wilson's selection, iv. 230, 232, criticized, iv. 233.
 Conference, iv. 49, 64, 65, 366, data for, preparation of, iii. 174, basis of representation at, iv. 101, American point of view at, iv. 161, delay in summoning, iv. 215, inadvisability of President Wilson sitting at, iv. 219, 220, choice of place for, iv. 226-30, delegates respectively from each country to, iv. 226, 227, choice of place for, views of various statesmen respecting, iv. 226-30, article in The Times respecting place for, iv. 229, selection of Versailles as place for, iv. 230, period of, one of confusion, iv. 239, official languages at, iv. 245, 246, 247, convention of, iv. 261, procedure of, plan for, not drafted by political leaders, iv. 282, 283, business of, slow progress at outset, iv. 285, resolutions on League of Nations, iv. 300, 301, 302, discussion on mandates at, iv. 305, double task of, iv. 319, work of, progress during February and early March 1919, iv. 371, difficulties in, iv. 371, 372, British representatives at, serious charges against, iv. 373-91, difficulties attending action at, iv. 392, difficulties of Allied leaders in expressing personal convictions at, iv. 393, compromise at, iv. 394, business of, delay in, iv. 405, speeding-up of, iv. 419, question regarding respective Naval Programmes of Great Britain and United States, iv. 432-9. See also Inquiry (The).

Peace conversations, secret, promoted by Austria, iii. 135.
 League to Enforce, iv. 291.
 movement in Germany, iii. 155.
 negotiations, question of, iii. 280, secret, German, through Baron Lancken, iii. 280, secret, German, passed on to London through Belgium and Madrid, iii. 280, secret, between Austrian and French representatives of General Staff, iii. 281, 282, with Austria, plans for, failure of, iii. 283, 284, with Germany, possibility of, letter to The Times from Lord Lansdowne on, iii. 284, German Army to be used as means of pressure during, iv. 81.
 not created by treaties, iv. 211.
 of compromise, resolution advocating, passed in German Reichstag, iii. 154.
 permanent, protraction in making possible, iv. 212.
 preliminary, need for, iv. 212.
 preparations for, iv. 1.
 programme, American, formula-

- tion of, by President Wilson, iii. 172, 173.
- Peace, proposals for, resisted by German military party, iii. 154.
- proposals, Austro-German, Wilson's reply to, comments on, iv. 80, Wilson's reply to, principles directing, iv. 80, answer from Germans, iv. 81.
- proposals of the Pope, iii. 153-77, along the basis of status quo ante among the belligerents, iii. 155, 157, 159, 163, objections to, stated by President Wilson, iii. 159, views of Mr. A. J. Balfour, iii. 160, views of Russian Ambassador to U.S.A., iii. 162, suspicion of Austro-Germanic agency in, iii. 163, 164, 165, condemnation by M. Jusserand, iii. 163, 164, 165, President Wilson's reply to, iii. 166-72, memorandum of President Wilson's reply, iii. 168, 169, general commendation of President Wilson's reply to, iii. 169, 170.
- question of, acceptance of the Fourteen Points by the Allies as a basis for, iv. 92.
- reflected by treaties, iv. 211.
- settlement desirable, Wilson's speech on principles of, at Liberty Loan drive, iv. 67, 69-72, not immediately endorsed by Allies, iv. 73.
- settlement, President Wilson's attitude towards, iv. 153, 154.
- American and British point of view regarding, iv. 163.
- "Peace Snag, The" (C. Ackerman), iii. 133.
- Peace terms, demand for restatement of, by Allies, iii. 143, drafting of, progress made with, at time of Armistice, iv. 210, of Austria, proposal for inquiry into, iii. 282, 283, of United States Government, not acceptable to Entente Powers, iii. 149.
- Peace-time activities, enlargement of International Red Cross to include, iv. 268.
- Peace Treaty, question of inclusion of a league of nations in, iv. 49, incorporation of League of Nations into House's suggestion of, iv. 66, Covenant to be integral part of, iv. 300, 304, preliminary Naval and Military, with Germany, iv. 381, 382, preliminary Naval and Military, with Germany, origin of, iv. 382, necessity for rapid conclusion of, iv. 394, question of incorporation of Covenant in, iv. 405, 406, protests by Foch at reading of, iv. 472, signing of, iv. 472, 473, pageantry at signing of, iv. 501, 502, defeat in Senate of Ratification of, iv. 522.
- Peace Treaty, unconditional, elements favouring, in France (Nov. 1917), iii. 235.
- People and Government, policy of driving wedge between, iii. 131.
- Perkins, T. N., iii. 212, letter to House (plea for supreme effort on part of United States), iii. 319, 320.
- Pershing, Gen., iii. 273, discussion with House on training of American troops, iii. 274, opinion as to transportation of American troops to France, iii. 317, all American combatant forces placed at disposal of General Foch by, after March crisis (1918), iii. 453, protest against granting an armistice, iv. 95, 96, agreement of, with Pétain regarding conditions for armistice, iv. 115, on Allied occupation of German territory, iv. 124.
- and Col. House, discussion on return of troops to America, iv. 484.
- and others, terms of Armistice left to, iv. 113, 114.
- Pétain, Gen., approval of American scheme of military executive council, iii. 262, and Supreme War Council, iii. 264, discussion with House on training of American troops, iii. 274, Memorandum submitted to Col. House respecting training of the American Army, iii. 292, rigorous conditions of, for armistice, iv. 14. See also House, Col. E. M., and Bliss, General, Memorandum of Conversation.
- and others, terms of armistice left to, iv. 113, 114.
- Petrograd, overthrow of Kerensky Government at, iii. 215.
- Government (1917), expression of sympathy with, by President Wilson, iii. 135.
- Petroleum Conference, Inter-Allied, iii. 305.
- Philippines, probabilities of attack on, by Japan, iii. 75.
- Phillimore, Sir Walter, Chairman of Committee on scheme for formation of League of Nations, iv. 9.
- Committee, preliminary report of League of Nations, iv. 17.

- Phillimore Report, iv. 21, 24, delayed publication of, iv. 49, 51, 52, President Wilson's opinion of, iv. 52.
- Phillips, Mr., Assistant Secretary of State, iii. 173.
- Pichon, iii. 271, 282, iv. 361, French Minister for Foreign Affairs, iv. 93, 94, 99.
- Plenary Conference on Covenant of League of Nations, resolution for, iv. 445, decision of, iv. 476.
- Plunkett, Sir Horace, correspondence with Col. House, iii. 78, friendship of, with Col. House, iii. 78, labours of, to smooth Anglo-American relations, iii. 79, Chairman of Irish Convention for settlement of Irish question, iii. 80.
- Poindexter, Senator, iv. 77.
- Point III (Wilson's Fourteen Points), interpretation of, iv. 160.
- Point IV (Wilson's Fourteen Points), disarmament, iv. 160.
- Point V (Wilson's Fourteen Points), colonial claims, commentary on, iv. 160, 161.
- Point IX (Wilson's Fourteen Points), Italian frontiers, iv. 162.
- Poland, Paderewski's discussions on, to Col. House, iii. 14, 20, political struggles in, President Wilson's deep knowledge of, iii. 176, independence of (Wilson's Fourteen Points), iv. 162, grave state of, letter from Paderewski to House upon, iv. 273, protection against Bolshevik invasion, iv. 359.
and Germany, settlement of provisional frontier between, desired, iv. 344, 345.
- Poles, defeat of Ukrainians by, iv. 275.
- Pollen, A. H., praise of Lord Northcliffe, 91, commission to England suggested by, iii. 180.
- Pope, His Holiness the, peace proposals of, iii. 153-77.
- Powers, Great Four (France, Great Britain, Italy, United States), preliminary conference to be held between, iv. 101.
standard of honour between, to be inviolate, iv. 28.
- Pre-Armistice Agreement, iv. 423, 424, meaning of, iv. 152.
- Prinkipo Conference, refusal of Bolsheviks to enter, iv. 358.
- Private property, immunity of, at sea, in time of war, iv. 432.
- Profiteering, prevention of, in systems of relief, iv. 256.
- Propaganda, Irish and German, false views regarding British action in the war spread by, iii. 96.
- Prussian companies, firing on crowds in Posen, iv. 273.
militarism, President Wilson's war efforts directed towards overcoming, iii. 130.
- Prussianism, necessity of defeat of, iv. 15.
- Purchasing Board created in America, iii. 102.

R

- RACIAL minorities of States, equality of treatment, iv. 297.
- Radek (Bolshevist propagandist), vituperation of the Fourteen Points by, iii. 402.
- Rapallo Agreement, iii. 225, 226, 228, acrid criticism of, in France, iii. 255, military representatives subordinated to political by, iii. 255, Mr. Lloyd George's acceptance of, iii. 266, 267.
plan for Supreme War Council approved at, iii. 220. policy of Mr. Lloyd George, ratification of, iii. 230.
- Reading, Lord, iii. 244, 283, 289, iv. 62, and Col. House, relations between, iii. 182, skill and tact of, as British Commissioner, iii. 182, characteristics of, iii. 182, 183, Memorandum on Supplies, iii. 184-7, financial discussion with Mr. Crosby, of United States Treasury, iii. 186, recommendations to United States Treasury, iii. 186, warning to Minister of Munitions, iii. 187, appreciation of President Wilson's speech at Congress, iii. 382, communication to, from British Government, regarding Japanese intervention in Siberia, iii. 413, communication with House regarding Inter-Allied intervention in Siberia, iii. 415.
Mr. Lloyd George, and Sir William Wiseman, House's discussion of war situation with, iii. 238.
- Red Cross, American, iv. 271.
French, iv. 271.
International, at Geneva, enlargement to include peace-time activities, iv. 268, 269.

- Red Cross Societies, League of, found in Paris (May 1919), iv. 271.
 suggested use for purposes of relief, iv. 243.
- Reichstag, German, members of, doubting possibility of complete victory, iii. 154, resolution advocating peace of understanding carried in, iii. 154.
- Relief, use of Red Cross for purposes of suggested, iv. 243.
- Religious minorities of States, equality of treatment, iv. 297.
- Reparations Commission, iv. 414, 415.
 German, amount of, payable, iv. 354, 355, 368, fixed sum not to be inserted in Treaty, iv. 355, House's solution regarding, iv. 396, fixation of amount of, left undecided, iv. 398, question of, referred to Council of Four, iv. 412, 413.
 Problem, Commission on, iv. 353.
 American members, iv. 353.
- Republicans and Democrats, Col. House and differences between, iii. 10, 11.
- Rhenish Republic, creation of, advocated by Clemenceau and opposed by Wilson, iv. 345, 346, objections to, iv. 356, 370, insistence upon, by France, iv. 357.
- Ribot, M., suspicion as to sincerity of German peace negotiations, iii. 281, suggestions as to cancellation of war debt, iv. 281.
- Robertson, Sir W., on Mr. Lloyd George's war policy in 1917, iii. 189, 190, Mr. Lloyd George's dissatisfaction with, iii. 191, Soldiers and Statesmen, quoted, iii. 217, House's impressions of, iii. 233, views regarding conduct of the war, iii. 233, Mr. Lloyd George's prejudice against, iii. 255, question asked of M. Venizelos at Supreme War Council, iii. 277, 278, opinion as to transportation of American troops to France, iii. 317.
 and General Bliss, discussion on necessity of contribution by America of Allied man-power, iii. 261, 262.
 and Field-Marshal Haig, differences between, iii. 272.
- Robins, Raymond (Chief of American Red Cross in Russia), interview of Trotsky with, iii. 411.
- Roosevelt, Col. Theodore, iv. 231, not given a command in the war, iii. 13, opposition to Wilson's Fourteen Points, iii. 155, approval of the Fourteen Points, iii. 353.
- Root, Senator Elihu, iv. 230, 231, and principle of a World Court, iv. 5, disagreement of, with Lansing on democracies, iv. 16, memorandum of, iv. 16, 17, opinion regarding sending of Japanese Expeditionary Force to Siberia, iii. 406, 407.
- Rumania, year of disaster for (1916), iii. 217, situation in (Nov. 1917), iii. 239, co-operation with adjacent Allied forces, iii. 241, surrender of, iii. 435.
- Russia, chaos in, effect on German morale, iii. 10, relation of Entente Powers with, after the Revolution, iii. 134, advent to power of Bolsheviks in, iii. 214, establishment of Bolshevik dictatorship in, iii. 215, political condition in (Nov. 1917), iii. 238, 239, anti-Bolshevik factions, formulation of policy of assisting, prevented by House, iii. 286, 287, treatment as an enemy, suppression of such statements in American papers counselled by House, iii. 287, question of statement regarding continuance of the war to be made to, iii. 289, suggestion that President Wilson should send message to, stating disinterested motives of United States in the war, iii. 291, draft resolutions to be submitted to Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 297, withdrawal of, from war, iii. 360, effect on Germany of advent of Bolsheviks to power in, iii. 398, American Red Cross Mission in, iii. 399, 401, special appeal for, in speech of the Fourteen Points, iii. 401, possibility of Germany drawing food and raw material from Asia after conclusion of peace with, iii. 416, reassuring declaration to, by United States Government, iii. 428, 429, surrender of, iii. 435, non-Bolshevik, question of aid to, iv. 359, non-intervention of United States with, iv. 360.
 military intervention in, on part of Allies after advent of Bolsheviks to power, question of, iii. 398, 399, advocacy by the French, iii. 399, opposition to, by House, iii. 399.
- Russian Ambassador to U.S.A., relations with Col. House, iii. 27, conference with Col. House on peace proposals of Pope, iii. 162.

 Russian Relief Commission proposed by House, iii. 420, 421, 425, suggested advantages of, iii. 421, proposal of Mr. Hoover as Chief of, iii. 421, 422, 425.
 Revolution (1917), iii. 246, 248, effect of, on the Allies, iii. 2, 3, attitude of Entente Powers towards, iii. 134, effect of, iii. 161.

S

- SAAR Valley, claim of France to, iv. 411, determination of future ownership of, iv. 420, 421.
 Salonika, situation at, discussed at Supreme War Council, iii. 277.
 Sato, Japanese Ambassador to America, Memorandum of, iii. 28, 29.
Saturday Evening Post, article by C. A. Ackerman on relation to strikes in Germany, iii. 369.
 Scapa Flow, sinking of German Fleet at, iv. 499-500.
 Schwab, Mr. C. M., and American shipyards, iii. 22.
 Sea, immunity of private property at, in time of war, iv. 432.
 Secret treaties, text of, released by Bolsheviks' publication in Manchester Guardian, iii. 326.
 Senate, approach of struggle over ratification of Treaty, iv. 320.
 Foreign Relations Committee, Wilson's failure to placate, iv. 400, 401.
 Serbia, year of disaster for (1915), iii. 217.
 Settlements, separate, proposed at time of peace, results of, iii. 378.
 Shantung, Japanese demands in relation to German rights in, iv. 448, Japan's attitude regarding, iv. 466-9, and signing of Peace Treaty by Chinese delegates, iv. 485.
 Sharp, Mr. Ambassador, iv. 93.
 House's opinion of, iv. 235.
 Shipbuilding programme of United States, great increase in tonnage required, iii. 318, 319.
 Shipping Board, and Emergency Fleet Corporation, strained relations between, iii. 22, neutral, advisability of universal commandeering of, iii. 232, utilization of all tonnage possible for transportation of American troops, iii. 312.
 Ships, British, building of, in America, difficult question of, iii. 93, 94.
 capital, need and value of, iii. 76, value of, to America, iii. 69.
 German, surrender of, as conditions of Armistice, iv. 130.
 leaving United Kingdom, percentage of loss of, during German submarine warfare, iii. 4.
 major, of Great Britain, suggested option on, for America, iii. 70.
 Shotwell, Prof. J. T., iv., 295, work of, on the Inquiry, iii. 175.
 Shulski, iii. 273.
 Siberia, despatch of Japanese Expeditionary Force to, iii. 428, Inter-Allied Expedition to, proposed by British Foreign Office, iii. 414, 415, proposed military intervention by Japanese Expeditionary Force in, iii. 399, 402-34.
 Simonds, Frank, iii. 353.
 Sims, Admiral, iii. 213, comment on President Wilson's remarks about sacrifice of the Fleet, iii. 181.
 Skoda Works, situate in Bohemia, iv. 110.
 Smuts, General, iv. 53, 54, 309, proposed visit to America for British war propaganda, iii. 96, House's impressions of, iii. 234, delegate to Switzerland, with regard to peace negotiations with Austria, iii. 283, 284, pamphlet of, iv. 296, 298, draft of article defining different types of mandates, iv. 306, Member of Commission for presenting plan for League of Nations, iv. 312, 313, Resolution on Mandates, iv. 330, on injustices to Germans in Peace Treaty, iv. 482.
 and Lord Robert Cecil, plans of, regarding smaller nations, iv. 26.
 Snowden, Rt. Hon. Philip, iii. 143.
 Socialist Conference at Stockholm, aim of, iii. 162, passports to attend refused by British and French Governments, iii. 162.
 Party, French, ready for unconditional peace, iii. 235.
 Socialists and Imperialists, German, President Wilson's attitude towards, iii. 376, and President Wilson, mutual hostility to German imperialism, iii. 376, French, promise

- of rousing reception to Wilson in Paris, iv. 248.
- Somme, Battle of, iii. 3.
- Sonnino, Baron, iii. 282, 283, iv. 244, difficulties with, at Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 289, 290, on Italy's reason for entering the war, iii. 372, difficulties as to peace negotiations with Austria raised by, iv. 104, attitude towards Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 166, 167, objections of, to 9th Clause of Wilson's Fourteen Points, iv. 177-8, objections to preliminary peace treaty with Germany, iv. 349, 350, conciliatory attitude towards House, iv. 478.
- Soviet Congress, message of President Wilson to, iii. 411, 412, 432, ratification of Treaty of Brest-Litovsk, by, iii. 412, reply to President Wilson's message, iii. 412, 433.
- Government, first peace proposals of, iii. 215, 216.
- Spa (German headquarters), Conference of political and military dignitaries of Central Powers at, iv. 55, 56.
- Spartacus movement in Germany, iv. 273.
- Spring-Rice, Sir Cecil, iii. 87, English Ambassador to America, Col. House's praise of, 27, 28.
- Star, the, praise of the Fourteen Points, iii. 353.
- Steed, H. Wickham, iv. 275, vital work of, iii. 384, on importance of League of Nations in relation to Peace Conference, iv. 276, opening of Peace Conference (Through Thirty Years, quoted), iv. 284, article urging necessity of completion of Covenant, iv. 318, 319, on the inception of the League of Nations (quoted), iv. 329, tribute to character and work of, iv. 371.
- Stettinius, E. R., charge of co-ordination and purchase of supplies, iii. 103.
- Stockholm, Socialist Conference at, iii. 162.
- "Street Parliament," article by C. W. Ackerman refused by the Saturday Evening Post, iii. 369.
- Strikes, general, in Germany, iii. 362.
- Strong, Governor Benjamin, iv. 67, presides at Liberty Loan drive, iv. 69, 72.
- Stuart, Sir Campbell, Secretary to British War Mission, 92.
- Submarine warfare, German, resulting in America joining World's War, iii. 2, German, peril of, to England, iii. 3, German, effect of, on German morale, iii. 9, terrors of, eliminated by Freedom of the Seas, iv. 192.
- Submarines German, British capture of, iii. 278, imprisonment of, iii. 307.
- Supreme Command, question of appointment to, iii. 315.
- Supreme Council, iv. 284, 286, 287, proposals passed at, iv. 287, resolution requiring an immediate Treaty passed by, iv. 339.
- Council for Supply and Relief, establishment of, iv. 240.
- Supreme War Council, origin of, iii. 220, functions not clearly defined, iii. 220, exclusion of Chiefs of Staff from, iii. 221, question of American representation on, iii. 223, approved by President Wilson, iii. 224, 225, representation of United States upon, Mr. Balfour's views, iii. 233, British Military Member of (Sir Henry Wilson), iii. 233, resolution passed by, concerning relief to distressed nations, iv. 258, creation of, iii. 250, scheme of organization of, iii. 250, composition of, iii. 250, Mission of, iii. 250, initial session of, at Versailles, iii. 254, purpose of, iii. 254, and British Chief of Staff, Mr. Lloyd George's action relating to, iii. 255, 256, functions of, iii. 260, non-concurrence of M. Clemenceau and General Pétain in, iii. 264, effect of, on future of Mr. Lloyd George, iii. 267, discussion at private conference on extension of British lines on Western Front, iii. 275, military adviser's duties and limitations of, outlined, iii. 276, 277, military advisers, information to be supplied to, iii. 277, 278, military committee, international character of, iii. 277, defective constitution of (Dec. 1917), iii. 310, appointment of House as American political representative on, iii. 314, 315, statement regarding speeches of Czernin and Hertling, iii. 370, 371, effect of, on Ludendorff's position in Germany, iii. 376, appointment of House as Special Representative of United States Government on, iv. 87, interpreter to, iv. 91, steering committee of, iv. 98, 99, 102, pressure of work with - regard to terms of Armistice, iv. 102, meeting at Versailles in preparation for, at Col. House's headquarters, iv. 121, resolution with regard to temporary brigading of American troops with Allied units, iv. 453, 454.

- Supreme War Council, opening session at Versailles (Dec. 1, 1917), iii. 275, Clémenceau's speech at, summarized, iii. 276, resolution passed at, iii. 277, 278, discussion of many subjects without definite conclusion, iii. 278, 279.
- resolutions passed by, regarding provision of material for examination, iii. 294, regarding information to be supplied to permanent Military Advisers, iii. 294, regarding information to be supplied by Ministries of Marine (Admiralty), iii. 295, regarding information to be supplied by Foreign Offices, iii. 295, regarding duties of Permanent Secretarial Staff, iii. 295, regarding information to be supplied by Departments of Munitions, Aviation, etc., iii. 295, regarding Italian Front, iii. 295, 296, regarding Transport Problem, iii. 296, regarding the Belgian Army, iii. 296.
- Syria, difficulty regarding, iv. 371, successes by General Allenby in, iv. 61.
- T
- Taft, W., iv. 230, 231, advocate of League of Nations, iv. 361, suggested reservation of Monroe Doctrine, iv. 440, 441.
- Tardieu, André, iii. 401, head of special French mission of co-ordination, iii. 82, distinguished career of, iii. 82, 83, on American achievements in war, iii. 83, author of articles on the Agadir incident, iii. 85, on necessity for an Inter-Allied organization, iii. 245, discussion with House on economic embargo to be threatened to Germany, iii. 273, France and America (quoted), iii. 301, supreme war effort embarked upon by United States, iii. 322, on question of appointment to Supreme Command, iii. 315, proposal of plan for economic war against, iii. 377, plans for Peace Conference outlined by, iv. 282, 283, indispensable work of, at Peace Conference, iv. 408.
- Tardieu, André, and Col. House, lasting friendship between, iii. 85.
- and Lord Northcliffe, difficulties of, as heads of war missions, iii. 89, 90, work together in America, iii. 99.
- Tariff war, Germany's fears of, iii. 377.
- Taylor, Alonzo E., iii. 212.
- Territorial division, British war aims in relation to, iii. 242.
- encroachments, declaration against, by Allies required by pacifists, iii. 137.
- Thomas, Albert, Paris Socialist, iv. 248.
- Thompson, Colonel W. B., Chief of American Red Cross Mission, in Russia, iii. 401.
- Times, The*, on debate in House of Commons on greater unity of control in the war, iii. 227, letter to, from Lord Lansdowne, on possibility of peace negotiations with Germany, iii. 284, principal criticism of the Fourteen Points, iii. 355, article respecting selection of place for Peace Conference, iv. 229.
- Tonnage, German, seized in Brazil, 86.
- Tractors, Ford's, iii. 97, offer of, to England, by Henry Ford, iii. 97.
- Trade barriers, removal of (Wilson's Fourteen Points), iv. 180-1.
- Transport problem, as affecting Italian Front, resolution passed at Supreme War Council, iii. 296, general, resolution passed at Supreme War Council, iii. 296.
- Treaties, peace not created by, iv. 211, peace reflected by, iv. 211, threat of anarchy rendering them valueless, iv. 211.
- secret, iii. 43, 47, 52, 53, 63, 64, and officials of United States, iii. 63, 64.
- Treaty of Brest-Litovsk, iii. 408, 410, 415.
- of London, iii. 356, and President Wilson, iii. 64, 65, insistence of Italians upon, iii. 286.
- preliminary, after signing of Armistice, advocated by Col. House, iv. 211, House's memorandum on, iv. 212, opportunity for making, when lost, iv. 214.
- Trevelyan, Sir Charles, Bt., iii. 143.
- Triple Alliance and other secret treaties, First Point directed against, iv. 158, 159.
- Trotsky, iii. 400, Soviet Commissary for Foreign Affairs, iii. 216, hostility of, to Imperialism, iii. 361, indignation of, against Germany, iii. 361, disbelief in sincerity of President Wilson, iii. 401, 402, interview with Raymond Robins (Chief of American Red Cross in Russia), iii. 411.

 Trumbitch and Adriatic Question, iv. 480, 481.
 Tumulty, Joseph, Private Secretary to President Wilson, iii. 228, denial of statement made in cablegram to House by President Wilson, iii. 228, 229.
 Turkey, relief of distress in, iv. 238.
 Austria, and Bulgaria, effect of collapse of, on Allies, iv. 126.
 Turkish Empire, countries formerly included in, to be governed by mandatory powers, iv. 330, 331, territories taken from, future of, iv. 295, 296.
 Tyrrell, Sir William, advocacy of formation of League of Nations, iv. 65, 66, interview with Col. House, iii. 236, 237.

U

UKRAINIAN Bolshevik Army, attack on Lemberg, iv. 273, defeat of, by Poles, iv. 275.
 United States, entry into the war, iii. 1 et seq., large supplies for war needed from, iii. 33, difficulties of obtaining co-ordinated action with Allies, iii. 67, supply-power of, and needs of Europe, Tardieu's work in mechanism of arrangement between, iii. 83, 84, supplies for French Army from, iii. 84, difficulties of, on being placed on a belligerent footing, iii. 89, strength of, necessary to settle the war, Lord Northcliffe's belief in, iii. 90, potential resources of, iii. 98, loans of, to Allies necessary for victory, iii. 101, war aims of, difference from those of Allies, iii. 151, suggested mission to Europe, iii. 188, extreme war sentiment aroused in, iv. 77, 79, question of representation on Supreme War Council, iii. 223, representation on Supreme War Council, Mr. Balfour's views, iii. 233, repayment of war debts to, by Allies, iv. 278, 279, organization of Inter-Allied war machinery by, iii. 303, 304, inability to supply required war materials to Allies (autumn of 1917), iii. 305, man-power assistance from, urgently needed, iii. 317, 318, 320, shipbuilding programme, great increase in tonnage required, iii. 318, 319, policy of force against Germany outlined in President's speech (April 6, 1918), iii. 438, 439, troops and Ludendorff, position reached of race between (1918), iii. 440, relations with Bulgaria, iv. 58, wrongly accused of depriving Allies of victory, iv. 89, 90, 91, direct interest in peace settlement, reasons for, iv. 154, desire for League of Nations in, iv. 213, food and other supplies for the destitute in Europe to be furnished by, iv. 240, 241, contribution of, to Allied man-power, iii. 261, non-intervention with Russia, iv. 359.
 United States and Allies, open discussions on war aims between, danger of precipitating, iii. 151, unity of plan and of control between, iii. 225, war aims, resolution regarding, to be offered for approval at Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 287, 288.
 and Central Powers, Col. House's fears of separate peace between, iv. 170.
 and Great Britain, respective naval programmes of, iv. 432-9.
 and Western Allies, unanimity between, iii. 439, 440.
 disinterested attitude in the war, suggestion that President Wilson should send message to Russia regarding, iii. 291, President Wilson's allusion to, in Message to Congress, iii. 291.
 Government of, ignorance regarding British action in the war, iii. 96, peace terms of, not acceptable to Entente Powers, iii. 149, war aims of, public statement regarding, required from President by Col. House, iii. 161, want of organization for war, iii. 184, assistance in air service expected from, iii. 249, appeal for transmission by, of troops to France, iii. 249, opinion regarding Japanese intervention in Siberia, iii. 414, reassuring declaration to Russia, iii. 428, appointment of House as Special Representative at Supreme War Council, iv. 87, recommendations of Foch accepted by, iv. 112.
 Treasury, cash outgoings of (Oct. 1917), iii. 185, advances to

- the Allies, average monthly rate (1917), iii. 185, nervousness of officials of, iii. 186, Lord Reading's recommendations to, iii. 186.
- United States, war supreme effort embarked upon, iii. 322, effect of American War Mission on, iii. 324.
- Unity of control, Memorandum on, iii. 259.
- V
- VENICE, possible loss of, to Italy, iii. 235.
- Venizelos, Greek Prime Minister, interview with House, iii. 239, inconclusive explanation of situation in Greece, at Supreme War Council, iii. 277, interview with House, iv. 93.
- Versailles, selection as meeting-place for Peace Conference, iv. 226-30.
- Council and German Armistice, iv. 113.
- Treaty of, iv. 213, protests of German delegates against, iv. 193.
- Victory, United States wrongly accused of depriving Allies of, iv. 89, 90, 91.
- Viviani, leader of French Mission, iii. 38.
- Vladivostok, small American force and subsequently Japanese Army landed at, iii. 428.
- W
- WAR, the, entry of United States into, iii. 1 et seq., futility of isolated American effort in, iii. 31.
- immunity of private property at sea, in time of, iv. 432.
- practice of, only method of learning, iii. 86, final surrender in, causes of, iii. 129, no popular enthusiasm for, in America, iii. 182, economic policy to be adopted towards Germany after, iv. 62.
- War aims, declaration of, by Wilson, in speech at Liberty Loan drive, iv. 69-72, open debate on, in New York World and Berliner Tageblatt, suggested by Col. House, iii. 146-52, President's objections to open debate on, in New York World and Berliner Tageblatt, iii. 149, 151, open discussions on, between United States and Allies, danger of precipitating, iii. 151.
- British, exposition of, by Mr. Lloyd George, iii. 240, in relation to territorial division, iii. 242, and American, co-ordination between, iii. 243.
- War aims of Allies, formulation in concrete form necessary, iii. 285, 286, impossibility of obtaining broad statement as to, iii. 325, submission by House of resolution regarding, to be offered for approval at Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 287, 288, resolution regarding, submitted by House to Inter-Allied Conference, iii. 289, 290.
- of Germany, clear definition to the nation, iii. 285.
- of United States and those of Allies, different, iii. 151.
- restatement of, by European Allies, opposition to, iii. 286, mild form of, secured by House, iii. 286.
- War Boards, President Wilson's appointments to, without regard to political factors, iii. 13.
- craft, German, proposed interament of, during period of Armistice, iv. 133, 134, 135, 136, decision of Supreme War Council regarding, iv. 137, internment of, at Scapa Flow, iv. 137.
- debt, French, cancellation of, suggested, iv. 281.
- debts, repayment to United States by Allies, iv. 278, 279.
- effort, adjustment of, iii. 299, adjustment of, American experts chiefly responsible for, iii. 301, 302.
- industries, question of organization of, iii. 85, 86.
- materials, inability of United States to supply (autumn, 1917), iii. 305.
- Mission, to United States, proposed, Memorandum on, iii. 88.
- propaganda, Lord Northcliffe's views on, iii. 145.
- Purchases and Finance, General Council of Allies on, formation delayed, iii. 188, Inter-Allied Council on, iii. 305, Inter-Allied Council on, functions of, iii. 305.
- Trade Board, iii. 306.
- Washington Conference (1921), origin of, iv. 432.
- Washington, George, and Lincoln, comparison between, iii. 181.
- Watchword for America during war, iii. 33.
- Weigand, Karl von, commendation of President Wilson's reply to Pope's peace proposals, iii. 170.

- Wemyss, Sir Rosslyn, meeting with German delegates, iv. 139-41, report of conversation between; iv. 139-41.
- Westermann, W. L., work of, on the Inquiry, iii. 176.
- Western Front, imminent danger from transference of German troops to, iii. 317, 318, 319, victorious German offensive on (March 21, 1918), iii. 415, abruptness of end of fighting on, iv. 210.
- Westminster Gazette*, praise of the Fourteen Points, iii. 355.
- Weygand, Gen., military representative of Supreme War Council, iii. 269.
- White, Henry, appointed member of Peace Commission, iv. 230, 231, 234, 235.
- Whitlock, Brand, House's opinion of, iv. 236.
- Willard, Joseph, American Ambassador to Spain, iii. 273.
- Wilson, Sir Henry, iii. 216, 236, achievement of Allied military co-ordination, iii. 190, British Military Member of Supreme War Council, iii. 233, 251, 269, characteristics of, iii. 255, plan of general reserve drawn from Allied armies, iii. 446, 447.
- Wilson, Woodrow, President, U.S.A., reasons for America joining in world's war, iii. 1, change of opinion of, regarding America and world's war, iii. 1, 2, resolve of, to administer complete defeat to Germany, iii. 2, capacity for popular leadership, iii. 11, Coalition Cabinet refused by, iii. 12, gratitude of, to Col. House, iii. 17, confidence of, in Col. House's judgment in matters of foreign relations, iii. 28, severe criticism of, relating to question of war aims, iii. 43, literary abilities of, iii. 49, conception of idea of mandatories to administer conquered territory in the name of the League, iii. 53, views of, disseminated in Germany by Lord Northcliffe, iii. 91, war policy of, Sir W. Wiseman's Memorandum on, iii. 129, 130, favourable influence on so-called pacifists, iii. 131, hostility to German Imperial régime, iii. 131, 132, 140, 141, friendship towards German people, iii. 131, 132, 140, 141, expression of sympathy with Petrograd Government (1917), iii. 135, commissions
- Col. House to make study of German situation, iii. 135, Flag Day speech of, iii. 139, 140, objections to open debate on war aims in New York and Berlin newspapers, iii. 149, answer to Mr. Balfour regarding the Pope's peace offer conveyed through Col. House, iii. 158, 159, objections to peace offer of the Pope, iii. 159, appeal from Col. House to make public statement of war aims of United States Government, iii. 161, disastrous effect upon Germany of peace along lines of status quo ante under Imperialist Government, iii. 163, reply to peace proposals of the Pope, iii. 166-72, formulation of American peace programme by, iii. 172, 173, profound knowledge of affairs of the Balkans, struggle in Poland, and question of Adriatic, iii. 176, requests to Col. House, iii. 178, 179, talk to naval officers at Hampton Roads, iii. 180, patience and courage of, iii. 181, nervousness in public speaking, iii. 181, characteristics of, iii. 181, represented by Col. House in American War Mission, iii. 209, 210, official-credentials from, for Col. House's presentation to Allied Governments, iii. 210, full support of Supreme War Council (paraphrase of cable to House), iii. 224, 225, settlement of Panama tolls controversy by, iii. 234, mention in Message (Dec. 4, 1917) of possibility of economic embargo on Germany after the war, iii. 273, contempt for stupidity of pacifists, iii. 279, on the only way to end the war, iii. 279, approval of House's suggested resolution regarding war aims of United States and Allies, iii. 288, prestige of, increased by American War Mission, iii. 326, aid of political strength conferred on Allies by, iii. 327, address on the Fourteen Points, appreciations of, iii. 353, 354, reason for regard of Liberals of Entente countries for, iii. 357, reply to speech of, in Austria and Germany, iii. 362, effect of address of, on political situation in enemy countries, iii. 366, effect of address of, on neutral countries, iii. 366, encouragement of Social Democrats of Germany by, iii. 369, and declaration of Supreme

War Council, iii. 373, House's eliminations in Message of, prepared for Congress, iii. 379, speech of, at Congress, iii. 380-2, general principles of peace settlement stated by, iii. 381, disbelief of Trotsky and Lenin in sincerity of, iii. 401, 402, attitude towards Japanese intervention in Siberia, iii. 403, policy regarding the Far East, iii. 404, First and Second Notes to Allied Ambassadors regarding Japanese Expedition, iii. 404, 407, 408, 431, 432, message to Soviet Congress, iii. 411, 412, 432, message to, from Clemenceau, regarding Inter-Allied intervention in Russia and Siberia, iii. 419, 420, negotiations with Japanese Government, iii. 427, 428, plan of appeal to German people against their Government not favoured by Governments of Entente Allies, iii. 435, 436, suspension of plan of appealing to German people as against their Government, iii. 437, speech on force against Germany (April 6, 1918), iii. 438, 439, communication to General Pershing on suggestion of amalgamation of American with British and French troops, iii. 440, views on disposal of American troops in France, iii. 444, opinion of the Phillimore Report, iv. 52, postponement of discussion of constitution and details of League of Nations, iv. 52, 53, date of embarkation upon the George Washington for Europe, iv. 53, 54, consent to act as intermediary with regard to armistice for Bulgaria, iv. 59, 60, views on economic treatment of Germany after the war, iv. 62, 63, speech on the principles of a desirable peace settlement, delivered at Liberty Loan drive (Sept. 27, 1918), iv. 67, 69-72, appeal for a Democratic Congress, iv. 68, opinion as effect of national influences on literature and art, iv. 69, speech on the principles of a desirable peace settlement, reception of, iv. 72, 73, reply to Austro-German peace proposals, iv. 78, 79, 80, difficulties of, regarding peace negotiations, iv. 84, second Note regarding Austro-German peace proposals, iv. 84, unjustly made responsible for a premature peace, iv. 89, decision as to question of an armistice submitted to Allies by, iv. 90, to be requested to ask Germans to send parliamentary with white flag to approach Marshal Foch, iv. 104, insistence of, on expert military judgment in settling terms of German armistice, iv. 113, Fourteen Points of, Germany's stipulation that peace would be in accordance with, iv. 152, 153, peace terms of, Allies' reasons for difficulty in accepting, iv. 153, British attitude towards, principles of, iv. 164, unjust attacks upon, iv. 213, resentment of advice not to sit at Peace Conference, iv. 222, 223, selection of personnel for Peace Commission, iv. 230, appeal for return of Democratic Congress, iv. 231, arrangements for his arrival at Peace Conference, iv. 248, place of residence in Paris during Peace Conference, iv. 251, 253, objections to visiting devastated regions in France, iv. 252, warmth of reception given to, in London and Paris, iv. 261, interview with, containing reference to British Sea Power, iv. 262, visit to England (at end of Dec. 1918), iv. 265, Bowman Memorandum on Conference with, iv. 291, formulation of principle of mandates, iv. 294, 295, 296, conference with Lord Robert Cecil, iv. 300, 301, alleged struggle with European opponents of League, not substantiated, iv. 303, disagreement with British, French, and Colonial Prime Ministers, iv. 310, Member of Commission for Presenting Plan for League of Nations, iv. 314, 316, message to Members of Foreign Affairs Committee, iv. 327, departure for United States (Feb. 15, 1919), iv. 329, 330, mental energy of, preoccupied by the Covenant, iv. 332, opposition to proposal for creation of Rhenish Republic, iv. 346, opposed to intervention in Russia by United States, iv. 359, return to France (March 14, 1919), iv. 373, charge against British Representatives of plot against League of Nations in absence of, iv. 373-91, failure to placate Senate Foreign Relations Committee, iv. 400, 401, acceptance of compromise by, iv. 408, disagreement with Clemenceau over the Saar question,

- iv. 411, succumbs to influenza (April 3-8); iv. 413, concessions on major problems at Peace Conference (April 8-22, 1919), iv. 420-3, amendment on Monroe Doctrine, iv. 433, 439, amendment to Covenant, iv. 440, 441, his final appeal for amendment, iv. 442, on the unfair attitude towards Japan, iv. 467, qualities of, iv. 495, loss of prestige by joining Peace Conference at Paris, iv. 503, Western tour of, result, iv. 531, illness of, iv. 514.
- Wilson, Woodrow, and Col. House, disagreement between, relating to question of capital ships, iii. 76, 78, friendship between, iii. 179, changed relations between, iv. 527, mystery of separation between, iv. 533.
- and Mr. Balfour, conference between, iii. 51, 52.
- Wiseman, Sir William, iii. 146, 183, 244, iv. 62, 299, 300, 307, 397, reliability of reports of, iii. 32, memorandum on American Co-operation, iii. 32, on arrangements for communications between England and America, iii. 68, memorandum upon conference with President, iii. 73, memorandum upon proposed War Mission to United States, iii. 88, post held by, iii. 92, America as most important ally to Great Britain, iii. 98, memorandum on President Wilson's war policy, iii. 129, 130, memorandum on the work of the Inquiry, iii. 174-6, on necessity of American Mission to Allied Council, iii. 188, on problem of man-power, iii. 317, 318, confidential consultation with House as to Inter-Allied Expedition to Siberia, iii. 414, on courses open respecting Inter-Allied intervention in Siberia, iii. 415, 433, comments on Col. House's interest in early plans for League of Nations, iv. 5, on League of Nations and Phillimore Report, iv. 51, 52, memorandum of discussion on League of Nations, iv. 305, 306, disposal of American troops in France, iii. 443, 444.
- Wiseman, Sir William, Mr. Lloyd George, and Lord Reading, House's discussion of war situation with, iii. 238.
- Wood, General, not given command in the war, iii. 13.

Y

- YORK, Archbishop of (Dr. Lang), degree conferred on, at Columbia University, iv. 17.
- Young, Allyn A., work of, on the Inquiry, iii. 176.

Z

- ZEEBRUGGE, raiding of, suggested, iii. 274.