FOREWORD.

The printing of this volume which was started early in the year has been delayed owing to a combination of adverse circumstances. For all that the writer hopes that its contents will prove of interest to those who are desirous of gaining an insight into the present unrest. It has been his aim to present an impartial and critical review of the stirring events of 1919-20. How far he has succeeded he leaves it to the reader to decide.

Another volume on the same lines, dealing with the events up to 1st August, 1921, the day fixed for the declaration of Swaraj, will, it is hoped, be ready for publication on or before the 15th October, 1921.
