THE FOLLOWING VOLUME IS AFFECTIONATELY DEDICATED,

PREFACE

"THE story of a nation," we conceive, is read, not only in its political annals, in the records of the battle-field, and the details of treaties of peace; but in its social life, in the development of commerce, industry, literature, and the fine arts. Accordingly, whilst attempting throughout the following pages to give the history of Mediæval France, we have allowed a large share to what may be called the intellectual side of the subject, more especially to the formation and progress of national literature. Without pretending to exhaust the topic, we have illustrated it by extracts from several authors, accompanied, whenever necessary, by a translation in English. The reader will thus be able to follow at the same time the development of the language; and the glossary at the end of the volume will help him to understand the archaisms used in the original passages quoted in the text.

We have consulted the best sources for the preparation of this work, especially the histories of Messrs. Michelet, Duruy, Bordier and Charton, Demolins, and Chéruel ("Dictionnaire des institutions, mœurs et coutumes de la France"), and we trust that it may not be found unworthy of the series of which it forms a part.

GUSTAVE MASSON.

SOURCES TO CONSULT ON THE HISTORY OF FRANCE FROM HUGUES CAPET TO LOUIS XII.

THE CAPETIANS.

- 1 Glaber (Raoul), d. about 1046. His chronicle extends from 900 to 1044.
- 1 Richer, 10th century. "Richeri Historiarum," IV. libri, 888—995. Invaluable for the history of that time.
- 1 Helgaud, d. 1048? "Epitome vitæ Roberti regis," 997—1031. Written in a detestable style, and too much as a panegyric; but interesting.
- 1 Adalbéron, Bishop of Laon, d. 1030? 1031? Satirical poem inscribed to the king.
- 1 Eudes, monk of the Abbey of St. Maur des Fossés. Life of Bouchard (Burckhardt), Count of Melun and Corbeil, 950—1058.
- 1 Hugues de Sainte Marie, monk of Fleury (St. Benoît-sur-Loire), 11th century. "Chronicon Floriacense," —1108.
- 1 Hugues de Poitiers, 12th century. "Histoire du Monastère de Vézelay," Books ii.—iv., 1140—1167. Interesting details.
- 1 Guibert de Nogent, 1053—1124. "Gesta Dei per Francos" (History of the First Crusade); "de vitâ suâ." One of the best of mediæval chronicles.
- 1 Guillaume de St. Thierry.
1 Arnaud de Bonneval.
1 Geoffroi de Clairvaux.
- 1 Rigord, d. 1207? "Life of Philip Augustus," 1165—1208. For the history of the first thirty years of the reign this work is incomparably the best.
- 1 Guillaume le Breton (Guilielmus Brito), 1150?—1226. Continuation of the previous work, 1208—1223. "Philippidos," libri xii., an historical poem of great interest.
- 1 Nicolas de Bray, 1160?—1230? "Gesta Ludovici VIII." Historical poem.

- 6 "Chronique Métrique de Saint Magloire, 1223—1292.
- 6 "Chronique Métrique d'Adam de la Halle," 1282?
- 6 Guillaume Guiard, 13th century. "La Branche des royaux Lignages." A rhymed chronicle, 1165—1306.
- 6 Godefroi de Paris. "Chronique Métrique de Philippe le Bel," 1300—1316.

FROM HUGUES CAPET TO LOUIS XII. XXXIII

- 2.4.5 Le Sire de Joinville, 1224—1319. "Vie de Saint Louis." Charming by its style, its grace, and its simplicity.
2.6 Jean Froissart, 1337—1410. Chronique, 1326—1400. The chronicler par excellence.

THE VALOIS.

- 2.4.5 Christine de Pisan, 1363?—1431. "Le Livre des faits et bonnes mœurs du sage roy Charles (V)." Authentic and interesting, but too pompous in style, 1336—1380.
2 "La Chronique du bon Duc Louis de Bourbon," 1360—1410.
4.5 "Le livre des faicts du bon Messire Jean le Maingre, dit Mareschal de Boucicaut," 1368—1421.
3 "Chronique du Religieux de Saint Denis," 1380—1422.
4 Jean Juvenal des Ursins, 1388—1473. "Histoire de Charles VI., roi de France," 1380—1422.
2.6 Enguerrand de Monstrelet, 1390?—1453. Chronique, 1400—1444. Tedious when compared to Froissart, but valuable for its accuracy and completeness.
2.6 Lefèvre de Saint Rémy, 1394—1468. Mémoires, 1407—1435.
2.4.5 Pierre de Fémins. Mémoires, 1408—1425.
4 "Journal d'un bourgeois de Paris sous le règne de Charles VI," 1408—1422.
7 Guillaume Cousinot. "Chronique de la Pucelle," 1422—1429.
7 Pierre Cochon, —1443. "Chronique Normande," 1118—1430.
7 Jean Chartier, —1462. "Chronique de Charles VII.", 1422—1461.
4.5 Th. Godesfrol. "Histoire d'Artus III., Duc de Bretaigne, Comte de Richemont, et connétable de France," 1413—1457.
4.5 Th. Godesfrol. "Mémoires relatifs à Florent, Sire d'Illiers."
4.6 "Journal d'un bourgeois de Paris sous le règne de Charles VII," 1422—1449.
4.5 Olivier de la Marche, 1426—1502. Mémoires, 1er et 2nd livres, 1435—1488.
4.5 Olivier de la Marche. "S'ensuyt l'état de la maison du Due Charles de Bourgogne, dit le Hardi, 1474.
4.5.6 Jacques du Clercq, 1420?, seigneur de Beauvoir en Ternois. Mémoires, 1448—1467.
2.6 Mathieu d'Escouchy (or de Courcy). Chronique, 1444—1461. Continuator of Monstrelet.
2.4.5 Philippe de Commynes, 1445—1509. Mémoires, 1464—1498. The first French author who has written history with the depth and sagacity of a man accustomed to political life.
4.5 "Chronique Scandaleuse," 1460—1483. On the life of Louis XI. Does not deserve the title under which it is known.
2 Thomas Basin, 1412—1491. "Histoire de Charles VII, et de Louis XI." Written in Latin; most valuable.

XXXIV SOURCES FOR HISTORY OF FRANCE.

- 3 Jean Masselin, —1500. "Journal des états généraux de 1484."
4,5 Guillaume de Villeneuve. Mémoires, 1494—1497. Very curious memoirs.
4,5 Jean Boucher, 1476—1550? "Panégyrique du Chevalier sans reproche," 1460—1525.
2,4 "Le Loyal Serviteur." Très joyeuse, plaisante, et récréative histoire du bon chevalier sans paour et sans reproche, 1476—1520. A masterpiece.
6 George Chastellain, 1403—1475. "Chronique du bon chevalier Jacques de Lalaing," 1430—1453.
6 George Chastellain. "Déclaration de tous les hautz faitz et glorieuses adventures du duc Philippe de Bourgogne," 1464—1470.

C. BRANCH OF VALOIS—ORLÉANS.

LOUIS XII., LE PÈRE DU PEUPLE, Grandson of Charles V. = (1) JEANNE of France.
b. 1462; Duke of Orléans, 1466; Governor of Paris, 1483; (2) ANNE of Brittany, b. 1476; d. 1514.
and of Normandy, 1491; Duke of Milan, 1494; k. 1498; (3) MARY, daughter of Henry VII., King of England, d. 1515.

A TABULAR VIEW OF THE STATES-GENERAL FROM THEIR COMMENCEMENT TO THE REIGN OF LOUIS XII. INCLUSIVE.

DATE.	KING.	PLACE OF MEETING.	PRINCIPAL SUBJECTS DISCUSSED.
1302 (April 10)	Philip the Fair	Paris.	Pope Boniface VIII. having asserted in the Bull ausculta fili the absolute supremacy of the Pope, this pretension was condemned by the States-General.
1308 (April)	--	Tours.	The conduct of the king with reference to the Knights-Templar is approved.
1317 (February)	Philip V.	Paris.	The Salic law by virtue of which women are declared incapable of reigning, is confirmed.
1351 (February)	John	--	The States-General grant a subsidy for carrying on the war against the English.
1355 (April 2)	--	--	The States-General of the "Langue d'oil" votes fresh subsidies, but reserve for themselves the right of superintending the administration and outlay of these funds, delegating for that purpose a commission of nine members ( généraux et superintendants ). On the 10th of December the king, agreeably to the wish of the States, issues an edict in thirty-three articles, thoroughly reforming the administration.—Salt-tax is established, as also a tax of eight deniers per livre on all articles sold.

TABLE OF THE STATES-GENERAL.

1350 (October)	—	The popular party (Robert le Coq, Etienne Marcel, &c.) insists upon reforms, but Dauphin contrives to postpone these, and dismisses the States, promising at the same time to summon them again shortly. Subsidies granted for the payment of 30,000 men. In return, the deputies insist upon the dismissal of twenty-two of the Dauphin's ministers and friends, and upon the creation of a council of reform. The Dauphin publishes an edict in thirty-six articles for the carrying out of necessary improvements, but it has no effect.
1357 (February)	—	—
1357 (November) to 1358	—	—
1358 (January)	—	Compiègne. A fresh edict of reform is issued in twenty-eight articles.
1358 (May)	—	Paris. General amnesty proclaimed by the Regent. The Treaty signed by King John with the English is annulled. Subsidies granted.
1359 (May)	—	Amiens. Subsidies granted. Another edict of reform (December 5th).
1363 (November— December)	—	—
1369 (May 9)	Charles V.	Paris. Threatened rupture between France and England. The king's conduct approved.
1382 (April)	Charles VI.	Compiègne. The States-General had only one sitting. Application for money made by the king.
1413 (January)	—	Paris. Statement of grievances on the part of the deputies. Subsidy asked for by the king. Edict for the police of the kingdom ( ordonnance Cabochienne ) published on the 25th of May, annulled on the 5th of September following.

DATE. 1420 (December 6—10)	KING. Charles VI.	PLACE OF MEETING. Paris.	PRINCIPAL SUBJECTS DISCUSSED.
1423 (January)	Charles VII.	Bourges or Selles in Berry.	A grant of 1,000,000 francs made by the States.
1428 (October)	—	Chinon.	The States demand the reform of the chambre des comptes and of the inferior Law Courts, appeal to the patriotism of all the feudal lords, and grant a subsidy of 400,000 livres .
1434 (April)	—	Blois? Tours?	No details.
1435 (February)	—	?	This assembly seems to have consisted chiefly of deputies of the Langue d'oc. Subsidies voted.
1439 (October— November)	—	Orléans.	Negotiations with the English sanctioned. Funds granted for the re-organization of the army which was now modelled, and made permanent by an edict published on the 2nd of November.
1440 (September)	—	Bourges.	The States-General discussed exclusively religious questions, and chiefly the Papal schism. They pronounced for Eugénie IV. against Félix V.
1468 (April)	Louis XI.	Tours.	On the necessity of putting down abuses and of maintaining the unity of the kingdom.
1484 (January)	Charles VIII.	Tours.	The votes are taken by nations (France, Burgundy, Normandy, Aquitaine, Langue d'oc, Langue d'oïl). The regency is given to Madame de Beaujeu.
1501? 1502? (January)	Louis XII.	Blois.	No details.
1506 (May)	—	Tours.	The title, "Father of the People," voted to Louis XII.; he is requested, and consents to give his only daughter Claude in marriage to Francis, Duke d'Angoulême, heir to the throne.
