PREFACE

The first two parts of this book were originally written to be published in the series of Bulletins published by the old Department of Industries in the Government of India, of which the author's Conciliation and Arbitration was one; indeed, the publication of a volume on wages and profit-sharing was promised in Conciliation and Arbitration (Bulletin No. 23, published in 1922). Before the second bulletin was published, however, the Inchcape retrenchment axe fell, and it killed the whole series of publications on labour projected by the Department. The University of Calcutta took over the manuscript on the payment of wages and profit-sharing, and to it was added, by the wish of the late Sir Asutosh Mookerjee, a chapter dealing with the Indian bearings of the subject. For permission to publish this chapter the author has to thank the Hon'ble Mr. Emerson, Member of H. E. The Governor's Executive Council.

The first two parts are published substantially as they were written in 1922, but, as will be apparent from the text and footnotes, an attempt was made to bring them up to date as the work went through the press. Appendix A is another attempt, within the small compass here possible, to bring up to date the material contained in the author's Bulletin on Conciliation and Arbitration.
