6th December 1881.

G. 1881, pp.

II.—EXTRACTS AND COPIES.

3. No uncertified copy or extract shall be obtainable of or from any document other than those described in Rule I, nor otherwise than under this Rule.
- Uncertified copies and extracts how obtainable.

Any person entitled to inspect any public document under Rule I may himself make a copy, or employ his own agent to make a copy, of any public document, or of any portion of any public document of which he has duly obtained inspection, but no copy so made shall be certified by any public officer.

* Amended by Act VII of 1886, section 6.

† "Sanads being documents which Government give into the hands of the persons whose titles they evidence, they do not form part of the records of any Government office. The only record kept of them is a register. Hence the law provides for extracts being given from these registers, when applied for, but not for the grant of copies of the sanads themselves.

In cases in which it is found necessary to make out a sanad in the names of several sharers, a copy may be given gratis to each, but each of such copies should be signed and executed by the same officer and treated as an original document. In no other case can a copy of a sanad be granted, but an extract from the register of sanads may be given on payment of the fees prescribed in the rules under section 213 of the Land Revenue Code and section 91 of the Registration Act." (G. R., R. D., No. 4180, dated 2nd June 1883.)

Every such copy, after being compared by the village accountant with the original, shall be signed by him in token of its being correct, and shall be sent by him to the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari for the purpose of being certified and made over to the applicant. No village officer shall himself certify a copy to be a true copy, or receive or grant an application for any such copy.

5. Subject to the proviso contained in the last preceding Rule, certified copies of public documents, or of portions of public documents other than those described in Rule I, may be granted by the officer in charge thereof to any person applying for the same, on payment of the fee hereinafter prescribed in this behalf : Provided—

Purchasers of forfeited occupancies sold at once should not be required to pay one anna in each rupee of the price realized to local funds, nor should one anna in the rupee of the whole sale proceeds be credited to local cess. But as the one-anna cess is chargeable on arrears of assessment and recoverable as land revenue, the sale proceeds of such lands should be credited in accordance with section 183 of the Land Revenue Code—

(b) to arrears of—

How to be calculated. two annas in the case of moveable property, and four annas in the case of immovable property, or in either case  $\frac{1}{8}$ th of the amount, if any, realized by the sale, whichever is the greater.

The Governor in Council has directed that the maximum penalty leviable under section 148 of the B. L. R. C., 1879, in default of payment of land revenue shall not exceed one-fourth of the amount of land revenue overdue.

It should be understood that resort is only to be had to the provision of section 148 in the case of ryots who are known to be able to pay but wilfully delay to do so. A penalty imposed may be remitted if the officer imposing it afterwards finds reason to believe that the ryot was not able to pay punctually. (G. R. No. 2485, dated 27th March 1893, R. D.)

Notes of Orders on Procedure, &c.

Award of costs to parties in cases under the Land Revenue Code.

Inasmuch as the office of any authority holding a summary inquiry under the provisions of the Bombay Land Revenue Code is a Civil Court for the purposes of such inquiry, such court may direct by whom the costs of each party are to be paid, whether by himself or by any other party to the inquiry and whether in whole or in what part or proportion. (G. R. No. 4468 of 10th July 1882, R. D.)

Mode of serving processes under the Land Revenue Code.

Processes in summary and formal enquiries under the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879, are to be served at the hands of persons temporarily employed for the purpose, and the charge on their account is to be debited to 'Land Revenue'. (G. R. No. 7350 of 21st October 1882, R. D.)

Dwelling-houses not to be broken into for the purpose of recovery of arrears.

No doubt, on the analogy of the English law and of the law now expressly applied by the Indian Legislature to our Civil Courts, it would be held that a dwelling-house may not be broken into for the purpose of distraining goods for the recovery of arrears of land revenue. (G. R. No. 9982 of 19th December 1884, R. D.)

Forms of Warrant of distraint.

No form of warrant of distraint is necessary under section 154, Land Revenue Code.

The Code does not require any form of warrant and the order may take the form of an ordinary order in the course of correspondence. (G. R. No. 1302 of 15th February 1889, R. D.)

(Notn. No. 4582, B. G. G., 1891, Part I., p. 568.)

- 2A. Every person who has furnished no security whatever, shall, on being appointed to officiate in any office such as is referred to in Rule 2, whatever the probable duration of his tenure thereof, furnish before entering thereon security to the amount required in respect of such office by the said rule or to such smaller amount as the Collector in the particular case may deem reasonable and sufficient.

* Instruments executed by Government officers and their sureties to secure the due accounting for property received by such officers by virtue of their office are exempt from stamp duty. (Bombay Government Gazette of 1889, p. 1008 et seq.—vide infra Part X.)

2 B. An officer who has furnished security to any amount required by Rule 2, shall not ordinarily, on being temporarily appointed to officiate in any office for which security to a greater amount is required by Rule 2, be required to furnish additional security unless his tenure of such office is in the opinion of the Collector likely to last more than three months.

2 C. Every officer appointed to officiate in any office such as is referred to in Rule 2, shall, if his tenure thereof is in the opinion of the Collector likely to last more than three months, furnish before entering thereon the full security required by Rule 2 in respect thereof.

3. It shall be at the option of the officer required to furnish security to deposit Government paper or to execute a bond for the amount of his security.

If he executes a bond, the number of sureties shall be one or more, at his option, if the amount of security does not exceed Rs. 1,000; and, if the amount of the security exceeds that sum, shall be not less than two.

4. Heads of offices under whom any officer required to furnish security is serving will be held responsible for seeing that the necessary security is duly furnished, and that it is good and sufficient both at the time it is first furnished and afterwards, until such time as the officer leaves the office or is transferred to an appointment in which security is not required.

For this purpose heads of offices shall carefully scrutinize the security and satisfy themselves as to its sufficiency both when it is first offered and also once a year after it has been accepted, and if they deem it insufficient shall require the officer concerned to furnish additional or fresh security.

Care must be taken that no one person's security is accepted in behalf of a disproportionately large number of officers, whether such officers belong to the same office or department or not.

5. The Collector, after obtaining similar returns from all heads of offices subordinate to him, shall submit annually to the Commissioner, on or before the 30th June, a statement in the form of Appendix A., showing the results of inquires as to the sufficiency of the security of each officer in his district required by Rule 2 to furnish security.

6. In the event of any surety being proceeded against under section 187 of the Land Revenue Code, for recovery of the amount, or of any portion of the amount, for which he has become liable, a report shall be submitted to the Commissioner before the sale of any property of such surety is commenced.

Surety's property not to be sold without previous report to Commissioner.

III.—DISPOSAL OF LAND, &c., THE PROPERTY OF GOVERNMENT. [Sections 37, 62 and 214 (i).]

7. Land and all rights in or over the same or appertaining thereto, which are the property of Government, may be disposed of by the Collector in any manner authorized by the following Rules, but not otherwise, except with the previous express sanction of Government:—

(Nota. No. 3518, B. G. G., 1890, p. 465.)

(A) The occupancy of salt lands, or of lands occasionally overflowed by salt water, should not ordinarily be disposed of, without first ascertaining by reference to the Salt Department, whether they are wanted or likely to be wanted for salt manufacture.

(B) On receiving an intimation from the Collector of Salt Revenue that any unoccupied land at the disposal of the Collector of the district is wanted or likely to be wanted for salt manufacture, the Collector of the district may, if he sees no objection to its appropriation for that purpose, dispose of such land to the Salt Department, and shall, in such case, cause a note to that effect to be made in the Village Register, and shall also cause to be cancelled any entry in that register as to any assessment fixed on it as land appropriated for purpose of agriculture.

Such land shall thenceforth be at the disposal of the Collector of Salt Revenue, subject to the general orders of Government, to let for the manufacture of salt or to make other arrangements as to its use for that purpose, on such conditions and for such period as, subject to the said orders, he may deem fit.

(C) If an occupant of unalienated land wishes to appropriate the same or any part thereof to the manufacture of salt or the construction of salt-pans, he shall apply to the Collector of the district for permission to do so. The Collector of the district, if he sees no objection to such appropriation, shall consult the Collector of Salt Revenue as to the terms on which such appropriation should be allowed, and may then either—

(a) require the applicant to relinquish his occupancy rights and to enter into an agreement that such land shall be placed at the disposal of the Salt Department, subject to a lease in favour of the applicant, on such terms and for such period as the Collector of Salt Revenue, under the general orders of Government, may require, or may

(b) permit the appropriation applied for, without requiring the occupant to relinquish his occupancy rights either—

(1) on payment of the fine leviable under section 65 and the new assessment, which may be leviable under section 48, or

(2) on such terms as may be specially agreed on under section 67 of the Land Revenue Code.

(1) Transfer of land to Railway Companies or to State Railways.

8. The transfers of land, whether permanently or temporarily, to Railway Companies or to State Railways shall be regulated by the orders of the Government of India and of the Governor of Bombay in Council from time to time issued in this behalf.*

(2) Alienations.

9. No land may be sold revenue-free in perpetuity without the previous sanction of the Government of India, excepting, subject to the previous sanction of the Governor of Bombay in Council, small plots of unoccupied waste land not exceeding ten acres in extent as may be required for buildings or gardens; and, except as is otherwise provided in these Rules, no land of any description may be sold revenue-free for a term without the sanction of the Governor of Bombay in Council.†

10. Revenue-free grants may be made by the Collector, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, of land not exceeding in each instance a quarter of an acre in area for the purposes of religious or charitable edifices or institutions, but exemption from assessment shall only be granted for sufficient reasons and not invariably as a matter of course. Land in the neighbourhood of railway-stations shall only be granted revenue-free for dharmshálas, if such dharmshálas, when erected, are to be in the charge of the Local Fund Committee.

11. In order to provide against abuse of any grant made under the preceding Rule, a sanad, in one of the forms prescribed in Appendix B., shall be issued to the grantee by the Collector. If a revenue-free grant is made with the sanction of Government for any purpose not mentioned in the preceding Rule, the form of sanad to be issued by the Collector will be specially prescribed by Government.

Every sanad issued under this Rule shall be registered in the register prescribed by Rule 57.

The Collector and all Revenue officers subordinate to him shall exercise due vigilance to prevent the terms of such sanads being either exceeded or evaded.

* The rules and orders relating to acquisition of land for Railways, are given in Part II of this compilation.

† See Appendix K. containing Government Resolution on alienation of Government land.

(Notn. No. 4771, B.G.G., 1885, Pt. I., p. 760, in substitution of Notification No. 721, B.G.G., 1884, Pt. I., p. 59.)

11A. In the district of Dhárwár, whenever unoccupied land is available for the purpose, the Collector may make a revenue-free grant of land bearing an annual assessment not exceeding Rs. 30 to any Shetsandi who is willing to hold the same in lieu of the usual annual cash remuneration : provided that no such grant shall be made of land of which the value exceeds five hundred rupees.

In the case of a grant made under this Rule no sanad need be issued to the grantee, but it is to be distinctly understood that the revenue-free tenure is granted in consideration of the Shetsandi's service only, and that the land will be resumable at the pleasure of Government.

12. No revenue-free grant of land and no right in, or over, or appertaining to, any land belonging to Government, may be made to or exercised by a Municipality or a Local Fund Committee without the previous sanction of Government. When any such transfer or exercise of right is sanctioned, it will be made subject to such conditions as Government shall think fit in each case to prescribe.

But nothing in this Rule shall be deemed to prevent the grant of occupancies to Municipalities or Local Fund Committees on the same terms as are applicable to such grants to other persons.

13. "Public streets" within municipal limits, "not being portions of provincial high roads or trunk roads specially reserved by Government," vest under section 17, clause (f) of the Bombay District Municipal Act in the municipality. The word "streets" must be understood with reference to the definition of that word in section 3 of the Act. It does not include building-sites and plots of open ground which have not been dedicated to public use. Such sites and plots, unless they have already been transferred to the municipality, vest in Government.

In an irregular street or road of varying width, small pieces of ground between the houses and the roadway should be recognized as forming part of the street and therefore vesting in the municipality, unless private individuals have rights thereto. But separate vacant sites between the houses do not vest in the municipality even though they be unenclosed, unless they have been transferred to the municipality by Government.

When the right to any piece of ground is in dispute between a municipality and the Government, the Collector shall endeavour to decide the dispute in accordance with the following rules:

Questions of rights between Government and municipality how to be dealt with.

ance with the foregoing principles. If the Collector is in doubt, or if the municipality does not accept his decision, the case shall be referred through the Commissioner for the orders of Government.

14. The right of Government to mines and mineral products in all un-
 Reservation of mines and mineral. alienated land having been expressly reserved by section 69 of the Land Revenue Code, the same reservation should be made in every alienation that may hereafter be made in the following terms, or in terms to the same effect (namely):

"This grant is made subject to the reservation of the right of the Secretary of State for India in Council to all mines and mineral products, and of full liberty of access for the purpose of working and searching for the same with all reasonable conveniences."*

(3) Grant of Occupancies.

15. Occupancies are of two classes, viz., (a) occupancies of land to which a survey settlement has been extended, and (b) occupancies of land to which a survey settlement has not been extended. The rules concerning each of these classes are given below separately, but are followed by some (c) general rules applicable to both: †

(a) Land to which a Survey Settlement has been extended.

16. The occupancy of any unoccupied survey number not assigned for special purposes may, at the Collector's discretion, be granted to such person as the Collector deems fit either upon payment of a price fixed by the Collector, or without charge, or be put up to public auction and sold, subject to his confirmation, to the highest bidder.

†1. It was not the intention of the Legislature to interfere with the right of an Inámdár to give out unoccupied land in his village or holding for cultivation, or to accept the relinquishment of the same from the occupant, or to exercise the power referred to in section 71 of the Land Revenue Code. (G. R. 5730 of 1st Oct. 1881.) See also notes to Rules 32 and 74 of these Rules.

2. There is no objection to the powers contemplated in clauses (a) and (b) of section 88 of the Revenue Code being conferred upon the Inámdár at once, but none of the powers mentioned in clauses (c) to (f) of that section can be conferred until a survey settlement has been extended to his village under section 216 of the Code (vide the proviso to section 88).

The first step, if the Inámdár is to be invested with any powers under clauses (c) to (f), is for

 "In exercise of the power conferred by section 216 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879, the Governor in Council is pleased to authorise the extension of the provisions of sections of the said Code to the village of in the taluka of the district.

By order, &c."

Government, under section 216 of the Code, to authorize the extension to the Inámdár's village (by notification in the form given in the margin) of the provisions of Chapters VIII to X of the Code which he may desire to have so extended, or of such of them as Government think fit to extend. Section 113 must, of necessity, be amongst the number of the sections to be so extended, when a survey settlement "made, approved and confirmed" under the authority of the Governor in Council, is already in force in the village. And when the existing assessments have not yet been declared by Government to be fixed for a term of years, sections 102 and 103 must of necessity also be included, in order that Government may have power at once to declare them to be so fixed and that the survey settlement may be formally introduced.

When the above notification has been issued, and when, if necessary, an order has been issued under section 102 and proceedings have been taken under section 103, the requirements of the proviso to section 88 will have been satisfied.

The powers which Government may then deem it fit to confer upon the Inámdár or upon any agent of his may be given, not by notification, but by a commission in the form of Schedule F. of the Code. If powers are conferred under clauses (a) and (b) of section 88 of the Code at once, without waiting for a survey settlement to be extended to the village under section 216, they, too, must be given by a commission. (G. R. 1338 of 8th March 1881.)

When the final bid at any such auction is for a sum not exceeding Rs 50, the power of confirming the sale may be delegated by the Collector, in his discretion, under section 12 of the Land Revenue Code, to the Mámlatdár.

17. If the survey number is to be appropriated

When special conditions may be annexed to the occupancy of a survey number. for purposes of agriculture, the Collector shall not annex any special condition to the occupancy without the previous sanction of the Commissioner. In any other case the Collector shall annex such conditions thereto as may be directed by Government, or, in the absence of any order of Government, may annex such conditions thereto as he shall think fit, subject to the control of the Commissioner.

18. If the survey number has not already been Survey number not already assessed to be assessed before occupancy is granted. assessed, it shall be assessed by the Collector (after reference to the Survey Department, if survey operations are still in progress in the district,) at the rates placed on similar soils in the same or neighbouring villages; and the assessment so fixed shall hold good pending the period for which the current survey settlement for the village in which the land is situated has been guaranteed, and shall be liable thereafter to revision at every general survey settlement of the said village.

19. If it shall appear that the bringing of any survey number under cultivation

When survey numbers may be given at reduced assessment. will be attended with large expense, or if for other special reasons it shall seem desirable, it shall be competent to the Collector, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, to give the numer revenue-free or at a reduced assessment for a certain term, or revenue-free for a certain term and at a reduced assessment for a further term, and to annex such special conditions to the occupancy as the outlay or other reasons aforesaid may seem to him to warrant: Provided always that, on the expiry of the term or terms so agreed upon, the land shall be liable to full assessment under the rules then in force for lands to which a survey settlement has been extended.*

20. Except under the provisions of the last preceding rule, or, in places in which special rules for the encouragement of the cultivation of waste lands may be sanctioned by Government, under the provisions of such rules, no survey number on which the assessment has been fixed is to be let for less than the amount of such assessment, in consequence of its having been long waste or for any other reason whatever.

* For form of lease on special terms to be granted under Rule 19, see G. R. No. 7033, dated 3rd September 1884, at end of Appendix Q to this part (pages 70, 71.)

(b) Land to which a Survey Settlement has not been extended.

21. The reclamation of salt land or land occasionally overflowed by salt water, provided it is not required or likely to be required for salt manufacture, should be encouraged whenever there is a reasonable prospect of success, and the occupancy of such land may be granted by the Collector subject to the confirmation of the Commissioner, on the following maximum terms, and with such modifications in particular cases as may be deemed fit:—

- (1) no revenue to be charged for the first ten years ;
- (2) revenue at the rate of four annas per acre to be levied for the next twenty years on the whole area granted, whether reclaimed or not ;
- (3) at the end of thirty years the land to be assessed to the land revenue and to be continued under the rules then in force for land to which a survey settlement has been extended ;
- (4) any portion of the land appropriated for public roads to be exempt from revenue ;
- (5) if half the area is not reclaimed at the end of five years, and the whole at the end of ten years, or if the reclamation is not carried on with due diligence within one year, the grant to be cancelled, but may be re-granted at the discretion of the Collector.

22. The occupancy of land in the beds of rivers used for growing melons shall be sold* annually by auction to the highest bidder for the term of one year or such further period as the Collector thinks fit, the bidders being informed that under Rule 53 such land will not be held liable for Land Revenue.

23. The occupancy of building-sites shall ordinarily be sold by auction to the highest bidder whenever the Collector shall be of opinion that there is a demand for such sites ; but the Collector may, in his discretion, dispose of the occupancies of such sites by private arrangement, either upon payment of a price fixed by him, or without charge, as he shall deem fit.

24. Auctions held under the last preceding Rule shall ordinarily be conducted in the town or village in which the land of which the occupancy is to be disposed of is situated, and the power of confirming the sales shall ordinarily be delegated by the Collector, under section 12 of the Land Revenue Code, to the Mámlatdár or Mahálkari, but on these points the Collector may in special cases give such directions as he shall deem fit.

25. Occupancies of building-sites shall ordinarily be disposed of for ninety-nine years, but subject to an annual ground-rent, the amount of which should be regulated by the value of the site, provided that—

- (1) when, as in the case of building-sites at hill-stations, Government have sanctioned special rules, such rules shall be followed;
- (2) the occupancy of land near a railway-station or in any situation where it is likely to become valuable or to be required for any public purpose, shall not be disposed of for long periods; and the occupancy of land near a railway-station shall not be disposed of without the previous sanction of the Commissioner, nor while the line is under construction without first consulting the railway authorities;
- (3) the occupancy of land of the nature described in the last clause or of land in towns and other places of considerable size or of increasing importance shall be disposed of subject to such conditions as to the style and size of the buildings to be erected thereupon as Government shall in any case direct.
- (4) in any case the ground-rent instead of being rendered annually may, with the consent of the Collector, be paid by the occupant at the time of the grant of the occupancy, or at any subsequent time, in a lump sum at once for the whole period of the lease or for the whole of the still unexpired period of the lease, as the case may be, a note of such payment being made at the foot of the lease or agreement which shall be executed in respect of the occupancy under Rule 31 or 32.

26. When the occupancy of land, such as is described in clauses (2) and (3) of the last preceding Rule is to be disposed of, the land should in the first instance be marked out in convenient lots and mapped in such a manner that persons desirous of becoming occupants may clearly know what plots are available.

Due provision should be made in the plans for roads and approaches and access of air and light, and careful regard should be had to sanitary requirements.

27. Whenever a new village site is established in lieu of a former one, which it is determined for any reason to abandon, the new site shall be carefully marked out and mapped in the manner prescribed in the last preceding section, and an agreement shall be taken, in the form of Appendix C., from each registered occupant previous to his being permitted, under section 60 of the Land Revenue Code, to enter upon occupation of any lot.

When an entirely new village-site is established, or an addition is made to an existing site, the same provisions shall be observed for demarcating such new or additional site, but the disposal of the lots therein will be made under the rules ordinarily applicable to the disposal of building sites.

28. In every case of the disposal of a building-site the occupancy only and proprietary right in site the occupancy only and building-sites not to be not full proprietary right in the parted with. soil is to be granted.

29. The occupancy of land to which none of the foregoing Rules is applicable, and concerning which no special Disposal of occupancy of land to which foregoing rules are in- orders have been passed by applicable. Government, shall be disposed of in such manner, for such period and subject to such special conditions, if any, as the Collector, subject to the control of the Commissioner, shall deem fit.

30. Whenever an occupancy is sold by public auction, an upset-price shall, if the Collector thinks fit, be placed thereon in order to guard the revenue against loss and to prevent applications being made for such occupancies when they are not really wanted.

31.* Whenever the occupancy of land is granted on special terms, whether as to the amount of assessment or as to the conditions of the When leases are to be granted.

His lease becomes thereby renewed from year to year and six months' previous notice to quit may be given for the purpose of terminating the lease at the close of any year of tenancy.

“2. But in the case of leases which entitle the lessees to a renewal of their lease on its expiration ‘on the same terms as are herein contained or on such other terms as shall then be agreed upon,’ the proper course will be for the Collector to serve each one with a notice reminding him that his lease has expired and that as he is holding over he is liable to be ejected at the close of the current year on receipt of six months' notice, that he should consider the said notice to be a notice to quit at the end of the current year (care being taken that six months of the current year have still to run when it is served) and that the notice will be enforced unless in the meantime he applies for a renewal of the expired lease when such his application will be considered. If an application for a renewed lease is made there will be no objection, I presume, to its being granted.” (G. R. No. 2028, 10th March 1883, R. D.)

Every such lease shall be in a form sanctioned† by Government, and, if no suitable form has been already so sanctioned, reference shall be made and a sanctioned form obtained before the lease is executed.

A duplicate shall be kept of every lease executed under this Rule.‡

32. In every case in which a lease is not executed under the last preceding Rule, an agreement, in the form of Appendix D., shall be taken from the person who is to become the registered occupant, and every such agreement shall be endorsed by two respectable witnesses and by the patel and village accountant of the village in which the land to which it relates is situate, to the effect prescribed below the said form; and the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari who takes the said agreements will be held responsible for exercising due care§ in ascertaining the identity of the persons signing the same, and their fitness to be accepted as occupants responsible for the payment of land revenue, notwithstanding that the agreements have been duly endorsed as hereinbefore required: Provided always that no such agreement shall be necessary when an agreement, in the form of Appendix C., is taken under Rule 27.

All agreements taken under this Rule or under Rule 27 shall be kept in separate files in the records of the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari.¶

33. It shall be the duty of every village accountant, if so desired by any occupant in his village or by any person about to become an occupant of land in his village, to prepare any agreement that

†Leases which require alterations in, or additions of special clauses to, the sanctioned form should be prepared by the Solicitor to Government at the expense of the lessees. (G. R. No. 3208, R. D., dated 16th May 1882.)

Whenever Mámíatdárs accept, without further inquiry, notices of relinquishment and agreements executed and duly endorsed by an Aval-kárkún, they will be held by Government to have exercised the due care enjoined by Rule 76 of the Rules framed under section 214 of the Land Revenue Code. A village accountant who prepares any such agreement shall affix his signature beneath the words "written by" on the lower left-hand corner of such agreement.

34. The permission in writing to be given by a Mámíatdár or Mahálkari under section 60 of the Land Revenue Code to enable an intending occupant to enter upon occupation shall be in the form of Appendix E.

No such permission shall be given until either a lease or an agreement has been duly executed and delivered under either Rule 31 or Rule 32 or under Rule 27, as the case may be.*

(d) Special Rules for Sites of certain Cities and Towns.

34A. Except as is otherwise provided in Rule 34G., nothing in Rules 15 to 34, both inclusive, shall be applicable to the grant of occupancies of lands within the sites of the cities and towns of Ahmedabad (inclusive of the suburb of Saraspur), Broach, Surat, Ránder and Bulsár. (Note. No. 8325, B.G.G., 1885, Pt. I., pp. 1203-4.)

To the said lands the provisions of the next following Rules 34B. to 34J., both inclusive, shall apply.

34B. Whenever the holder of a building-site within any of the said sites desires to acquire any small strip of ground belonging to Government which is adjacent to his site and which could not reasonably be dis-

"The rules relating to city surveys and to lands to which such surveys had been extended, which were in force when the Bombay Land Revenue Code became law, were specially saved by paragraph 3 of section 2 of that Code. Unless, therefore, they have since been superseded by some new rules or orders passed under the Code they are still in force.

"2. The general rules and orders prescribed by Government under section 214 of the Code in Notification No. 7368 of 6th December 1881 (Bombay Government Gazette for 1881, page 795), were made in supersession of all existing orders on the same subjects. Anything contained in those general rules and orders which is applicable to city surveys and the lands affected by them must therefore be deemed to supersede previous rules or orders on the same subjects, but except to such extent as they may have been thus superseded the old rules and orders are still in force.

"3. So much of Nos. 16—20 and 30—34 of the general rules and orders framed under section 214 of the Land Revenue Code as is applicable to such lands as come under a city survey must be deemed to apply to them and to supersede any previous rule inconsistent herewith. I do not think it will be found that the previous rules and orders applicable to city surveys have been materially affected; but if they have, means can be taken for saving them from supersession as regards any essential point if the City Survey Officers bring the matter to notice." (G. R. No. 2218, 17th March 1883, R.D.)

posed of by the Collector as a separate site, the Collector may, if he thinks fit and notwithstanding anything contained in Rule 9 to the contrary, dispose of such strip to the said holder by sale, subject to the same tenure and to payment of ground-rent or assessment at the same rate, if any, on which he holds the said site.

Mode in which other lands may be disposed of. 34C. Except as provided in the last preceding rule, the Collector shall not:

(a) dispose of the proprietary right in the soil of any land, within the site of any of the said towns or cities, or

(b) grant the occupancy of any land therein for any greater period than is prescribed in Rules 34E., 34F. and 34G., respectively.

34D. The occupancy of any unoccupied land within the site of any of the said towns or cities not assigned for special purposes may, at the Collector's discretion, be granted to such person as the Collector deems fit either for purposes of agriculture only or for other purposes.

Occupancies may be granted for agricultural or non-agricultural purposes.

34E. The occupancy of land for building-sites shall be granted under written leases at a ground-rent of two pies per square yard per annum on such terms and in such form as shall from time to time be approved by Government, for terms expiring on the date fixed in this behalf by Government for each city or town.

Terms on which building-sites may be disposed of.

34F. The occupancy of land eventually intended for building-sites, but of which the immediate disposal for the said purpose appears to the Collector to be undesirable, may be let, under written leases in a form approved by Government, for short terms not exceeding in any case seven years, at a ground-rent of one anna per square yard per annum. It will be a condition of such leases that no permanent building shall be erected upon the land, or, which amounts to the same thing, that at the end of the term the land shall be restored by the lessee in the same condition in which he takes it.

Terms on which lands intended for future building-sites may be temporarily disposed of.

34G. The occupancy of land granted by the Collector for purposes of agriculture only shall be granted for terms of one year only.

Terms on which lands may be disposed of for agricultural purposes only.

An agreement in the form of Appendix D shall be taken from every person who is to become a registered occupant of land under this section, and the provisions of Rule 32 shall be applicable to every agreement so taken.

This rule shall not be deemed to apply to agricultural lands which, though situated within the site of any of the towns or cities aforesaid, are subjected to a survey settlement similar to that applied to lands of the same description outside the said sites. Such lands shall be subject to the same rules as those last named.

34H. Except under special circumstances, no sale of an occupancy under Rule 34E shall be made by the Collector for less than one rupee per square yard.

Upset price fixed for certain occupancies.

34I. The occupancy of lands within the sites of the towns and cities aforesaid shall ordinarily be sold by auction to the highest bidder; but the Collector may in his discretion sell the same by private arrangement.

Method of disposing of occupancies.

34J. The permission in writing to be given by a Mámlatdár or Mahálkari under section 60 to enable an intending occupant to enter upon occupation shall be in the form of Appendix E.

Form of written permission to occupy.

No such permission shall be given until either a lease or an agreement has been duly executed and delivered under Rule 34E or 35F or 34G, as the case may be.

In each of the cities of Ahmedabad, Surat and Broach the power of a Mámlatdár under section 60 is hereby conferred, under section 19, on the Deputy Collectors in charge of the City Survey.

(4) Disposal of minor rights.

35. The produce of trees belonging to Government may be sold by auction annually.

Sale of produce of Government trees.

When any such trees are sold under section 41 of the Land Revenue Code, the sale shall be by auction or otherwise as the Collector may direct.

(Notn. No. 1239, B. G. G., 1888, Pt. I., p. 149.)

36. The grazing or other produce of all unoccupied land vesting in Government, whether a survey settlement has been extended to such land or not, and whether the same be assessed or not, and of all land especially reserved for grass or for grazing (except land assigned to villages for free pasturage) may be sold by public auction year by year, either field by field or in tracts, and at such time as the Collector shall determine: Provided that the purchaser's rights over such land shall entirely cease *Grazing and other similar produce to be ordinarily disposed of by sale for periods of one year.

*His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to authorize the Collectors of Sátara, Poona and Khándesh to assign to the Maháلكaris, &c., in their respective districts the power to sell by auction the grazing of all unoccupied land vested in Government within their charges and to confirm the sale when the sum finally bid is below Rs. 50. (G. R. 5431, dated 3rd July 1885, R. D.)

37. The Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, sanction the disposal of the grazing or other produce of any land, specified in the last preceding Rule, otherwise than by sale in public auction and for any term not exceeding five years.

38. The Collector may, at his discretion, sell by public auction, or otherwise dispose of the right to remove earth, stone, kankar, sand, muram or any* other material which is the property of Government for such periods in such quantities and on such terms as he thinks fit: Provided that such sale or other disposal be made subject to the privileges conceded by the two next following Rules.

The rate charged by the Collector under this Rule, when the right in question is not put up for sale by public auction, may be either a lump sum, or so much per cubit foot of excavation, or, in the case of a Railway Company requiring land for excavating ballast, so much per mile of the railway-line for which ballast is obtained, or otherwise as the Collector thinks fit.

†39. Any person may, within the limits of the village in which he resides, remove earth, stone, kankar, sand, muram or other material from the bed of the sea or from the beds of creeks, rivers and nálas, or from any unassessed waste land not assigned for special purposes, for his own boná-fide domestic or agricultural purposes, without payment of fee, on obtaining the written permission of the Police Patel.

Potters and brick and tile-makers shall be entitled to the same privilege for the bonâ-fide purposes of their trade as well as for domestic and agricultural purposes; but they must first obtain sanction of the Mámíatdár in all cases where an extensive trade is carried on and where excavation of the soil is likely to destroy valuable buildings or land required for public purposes.

If the Police Patel shall refuse permission when the same is applied for under this Rule, an appeal shall lie to the Mámíatdár. But, in such cases as he shall think fit, the Collector may prohibit the Mámíatdár, or the Police Patel, from giving permission without obtaining his previous sanction.

40. Any person may, with the sanction of the Police Patel, take free of all charge from village tanks as much earth, stone, kankar, sand, muram or other material as he requires, provided that no stones shall be removed that may have fallen in from the banks of built tanks, and that no excavation shall be made within ten cubits of the foot of the embankment of any such tank.

41. The Local Funds, Public Works, and other public Departments and Municipalities may, with the permission of the Collector*, and subject to his supervision, remove earth, stone, kankar, sand, muram and any other material from the bed of the sea or from the beds of rivers, creeks, nálas or public tanks, or from any unassessed land, or any unoccupied assessed land not assigned for special purposes, for works of public utility without payment, whether such works be constructed departmentally or by contract.

42. Every sale by auction, under these Rules, or in pursuance of any of the provisions of the Land Revenue Code, shall be conducted, so far as may be, in accordance with sections 165, 166, 170 to 177, both inclusive, and 180 of the said Code. The proclamation and written notice of sale required to be issued under sections 165 and 166 of the said Code shall be in one of the forms contained in Appendix M, or as near thereto as may be:—

Provided that in conducting the following sales:

- (a) Sales of the right of grazing and of the right to take or cut grass in waste lands; (Notn. No. 150, B. G. G., 1889, Pt. I., p. 21).
- (b) Sales of the right to take the fruit of specified Government trees for a specified period; and the procedure shall be in accordance with such orders as may from time to time be made by the Collector, either generally or specially in this behalf, instead of the procedure prescribed in sections 165 and 166 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code.

* The Collector is not bound to give this permission in every case. (G. R. 7562 of 13th November 1888, R. D.) The power to give this permission may be delegated by the Collectors to Mámíatdárs. (G. R. 4191 of 23rd May 1884, R. D.)

(c) Sales of dead wood,—

IV.—ASSIGNMENT OF LAND FOR SPECIAL PURPOSES. [Section 38.]

43. Burial and burning grounds, spots near villages on which the village cattle stand, and lands for the use of village dhobis and potters should be assigned for these purposes respectively, according to the reasonable requirements of the villagers without charge.*

V.—ALLUVION AND DILUVION. [Sections 47 and 214 (i).]

44. When a holding is bounded on any side by the bank or shore of a river,† creek or nála, or of the sea,‡ the holder will be permitted, subject in the case of unalienated holdings to such orders as may be legally passed under Rule 46, to occupy and use the land up to such bank or shore, notwithstanding that its position may shift from time to time.

45. It shall be the duty of the village officers, subject to the orders of the Mámlatdár or Mahálkari and of the Collector or of the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the táluca, to ascertain from time to time and to record the changes caused by alluvion and diluvion in every holding subject to such changes.

* The phrase "village cattle" does not include the cattle of any roving grazier who may choose to squat for a few months on the public ground of a village. (I. L. R. 2 Bom. 110.)

† Whatever may be the nature of the tenancy, the occupants of the land abutting on the stream, and not the Government, are entitled to the enjoyment and benefit of the water as it flows past. No doubt, all the occupants of land on the banks being equally entitled, each occupant or set of occupants is bound to use his right so as not materially to interfere with an equally beneficial enjoyment of it by the other occupants. An action will lie where the use by any of the occupants of the common right is unreasonable. But Government cannot arbitrarily curtail or interfere with, at any time during the occupancy, the enjoyment of the water by each occupant as it existed at the commencement of his occupancy and which must have constituted a most important consideration in fixing the amount of land assessment which each occupant agreed to pay. (Printed Judgments of 1882, p. 58. S. C. I. L. R. 7 Bom. 209.)

‡ The right of the public to fish in the sea, whether it and its subjacent soil be or be not vested in the Crown, is common, and is not the subject of property. This right in certain portions of the sea may be regulated by local custom. Members of the public exercising the common right to fish in the sea are bound to exercise that right in a fair and reasonable manner, and not so as to impede others from doing the same; and conduct which prevents another from a fair exercise of his equal right, if special injury thereby results to him, is actionable. I. L. R. 2 Bom. 19.

newly formed alluvial land or island, or of any abandoned river-bed, to which the provisions of section 46 or of section

64 of the Land Revenue Code apply, exceeds the limit prescribed in those sections, and the Mám-latdár shall deal with it under the orders of the Collector or Assistant Collector in the manner prescribed in the said sections respectively.

Newly-formed alluvial lands and islands, and abandoned river-beds, to which the the Land Revenue Code shall be heard and disposed of by the officer who makes the annual jamábandi settlement.

In order to provide against undue loss of revenue, care must be taken, whenever such claims are allowed, to trace out and assess the corresponding accretions of alluvial land, if any, in the same or in some other village.†

VI.‡—PURPOSES TO WHICH THE APPROPRIATION OF • UNALIENATED LAND IS PROHIBITED. [Sections 48 and 214 (c) and (i).]

48. Land included as unarable in a survey number assessed for purposes of Land occupied by a road or tank, &c., in an occupant's holding, may not be cultivated.

agriculture only may ordinarily be brought under cultivation without extra charge by the occupant of such number, or by any one claiming under him, but such cultivation is prohibited in the following cases (viz.) :—

(a) when the land is occupied by a road or by a tank used for irrigation or for drinking or domestic purposes ;

(b) when the land is used as a burial-ground ;

* In all cases in which the area of a holding is less than half an acre, only the one condition should be required of the loss by diluvion exceeding one-tenth of the holding affected (G. R. No. 2771 of 12th April 1886, R. D.)

† For rules regarding alluvion and diluvion owing to changes in the course of the river Indus, or other waters, in the Province of Sind, see Part XVIII (5) of this Compilation.

‡ Paragraph 2 of section 48 of the Land Revenue Code does not apply to lands assessed under a survey settlement before the date of the Land Revenue Code. The words of the paragraph 'the assessment fixed under the provisions of the Act' are specific, and section 112 declaring existing survey settlements 'to be in force subject to the provision of this Act' does not make the assessment fixed under such existing settlements an assessment fixed under the provisions of the Land Revenue Code. (G. R. No. 4758 of 3rd July 1886.)

(c) when the land has been assigned for the use of the village potters, or other public purposes :

Provided that this prohibition shall not apply in the case of a tank, when such tank is used for irrigation only and waters only land which is in the sole occupation of the occupant, or when the privilege of cultivating the dry bed of the tank has been specially conceded to the occupant.

49. No occupant of land assessed or held for purposes of agriculture only and no person claiming under any such occupant may make any use of the land so as, in the opinion of the Collector, thereby to destroy or materially injure the land for cultivation.

Occupant of an agricultural holding may not destroy or injure the land for cultivation.

But, provided this Rule be not infringed, the occupant and any person lawfully in possession of any such land may remove earth, stone, kankar, sand, muram or any other material of the soil thereof for his own bond fide domestic or agricultural purposes without previous permission and without payment of fee.

But earth, stone, &c., may be removed for the occupant's own use.

50. Compounds to bungalows and patches of open ground surrounding houses, not assessed for purposes of agriculture, may not, if the Collector shall on sanitary grounds think fit in any case so to direct, be appropriated to purposes of agriculture, but the grass shall be kept, cut or grazed by cattle.

When compounds, &c., may not be used for agriculture.

50A.* No occupant of any land within the limits of the city or suburban municipality of Poona or of the cantonment of Poona or within one mile from the said limits may grow sugarcane therein, if the Collector, having regard to the situation and extent of such land or to any other material consideration affecting the same, and after consulting the Sanitary Commissioner, shall be satisfied that the growth of sugarcane in such land is dangerous to the health of residents within the area to which this rule extends, and shall, on this ground, by order in writing addressed to the occupant of the land, prohibit the cultivation of the said crop therein :

Prohibition of growth of sugarcane in and around Poona.

(Notn.
No. 4230, B.
G. G., 1888,
Pt. I., p. 544.)

Provided that no order, issued by the Collector under this rule in respect of any land in which a sugarcane crop is growing at the date of such order, shall come into effect until two years after the time when the said crop was sown.

51. No unalienated land within the site of any city, town, or village may be excavated, without the previous permission, in writing, of the Collector, for any purpose except the laying of foundations for buildings, the sinking of wells and the making of grain-pits. When permission is granted by the Collector to excavate any such land as aforesaid for any purposes other than those above mentioned, such excavation may not be made otherwise than in accordance with such terms as the Collector shall in each case think fit to prescribe.

52. No occupant of any land may suffer such land to be or to become overgrown with prickly-pear or rank grass so as to become dangerous to the health or safety of the neighbourhood.

VII.—ASSESSMENT OF LAND REVENUE.

(1) Unsurveyed Lands.

53. No assessment shall be placed on land in the beds of rivers used for growing melons. The land revenue chargeable on such land shall be deemed to be included in the price of the occupancy thereof obtained in auction under Rule 22.

(2) Surveyed Lands.

54. Compounds surrounding bungalows and patches of open ground surrounding houses up to such limit* of area as Government may from time to time fix for each district shall be subject, as regards their assessment to the land revenue, to the same rules as are applicable to the land on which the bungalows or houses stand.

"No. 54 of the Land Revenue Code rules gives effect to a previous Resolution of Government. The ground on which pardí lands were exempted from assessment, if they did not exceed a quarter of an acre, was that they were 'considered to form part of the village-site'. The area in excess of a quarter of an acre was assessed as agricultural land. In the above rule, therefore, drafted by the committee appointed by Government to prepare a body of rules under the Code, it was laid down that such lands 'shall be subject, as regards their assessment to the land revenue, to the same rules as are applicable to the land on which the houses stand.' If the latter land is free from assessment, so will also the pardí land be, up to such limit as Government fixed for each district. The provision that the limit should be fixed by Government for each district was inserted because it was understood that the limit of a quarter of an acre had not been universally adopted." (G. R. No. 3171, 23rd April 1883, R. D.)

The maximum admissible area of unassessed Párdi land may be taken to be one-eighth of an acre in the Konkan and one-fourth of an acre elsewhere, but the maximum need not necessarily be allowed and regard should be had to local custom. When a larger area has been sanctioned by adequate authority it may be continued subject to future revision. The matter should be specially noticed in revision settlement reports. (G. R. No. 8293, R. D., of 12th November 1883.)

55. The following Rules, unless otherwise directed by Government, shall be observed in the conduct of revenue surveys of lands used, or which may be used, for the purposes of agriculture.

Survey Rules.

(Notn.
No. 4062, B.
G. G., 1889,
Pt. I., p. 509.)

(1) (a) Every occupancy separately recognized in the village accounts, if not less in extent than the minimum for survey numbers fixed in relation to such land under section 98, shall be separately measured, classified and assessed, and defined by boundary marks, and shall be made a survey number.

(b) Every occupancy separately recognized in the village accounts which is less in extent than the minimum for survey numbers fixed under section 98 in relation to such land, shall, unless the Survey Commissioner otherwise directs, be separately measured, classified and assessed and defined by boundary marks, and the Survey Commissioner may, at any time either by general order or in any particular case or class of cases, direct that such operations shall not be proceeded with unless and until an application accompanied with prepayment of all the costs of such operations, or such portion thereof as the Survey Commissioner may direct, has been presented by the parties interested.

(Notn.
No. 5546, B.
G. G., 1885,
Pt. I., p. 868.)

Recognized shares of survey numbers so defined by boundary marks shall be called "subordinate survey numbers", but shall be regarded for all purposes as recognized shares of survey numbers.

(2) When an occupancy is held by two or more co-occupants in shares, and each of the said occupants has a separate account to which he pays his quota of the land-revenue due in respect of the occupancy separately, but the proper share of each occupant has not been permanently divided from the rest, the entire occupancy shall be comprised in a survey number; and each co-occupant's share therein shall be recorded as a recognized share of such survey number, together with the proportion, reckoned in annas, which such share bears to the whole survey number and the assessment of such share.

(3) All measurements shall be recorded in a book to be kept in such form as shall be prescribed by the Survey Commissioner for each survey. The said books when prepared shall be preserved as a record of the survey.

(4) The original measurements made by the subordinate survey officers employed for the purpose shall be tested by the officers in charge of measuring establishments in such manner and to such extent as the Survey Commissioner shall deem sufficient.

(5) Village maps shall be prepared under the orders of the Survey Commissioner showing each survey number. The positions of the boundary marks of each survey number shall also be shown on the said maps.

(6) For the purposes of assessments all land shall be classed with respect to its productive qualities. The number of classes and their relative value reckoned in annas shall be fixed under the orders of the Survey Commissioner with reference to the circumstances of the different tracts of country to which the survey extends and to the nature of the cultivation.

(7) Every classer shall keep a field-book and record therein the particulars of his classification of each survey number and subordinate survey number and the reason which led him to place it in the particular class to which in his estimation it should be deemed to belong. Such field-books shall be preserved as permanent records of the survey.

(8) A test of the original classification made by the subordinate officers employed for this purpose shall be taken by the officers in charge of classing establishments, in such manner and to such extent as may be directed by the Survey Commissioner. The said test shall be an independent test, that is to say, it shall be made by the testing officer in entire ignorance of the original classer's proceedings or records until it has been completed and its results have been finally determined, when only the original classing valuation and the test valuation shall be compared and their separate results recorded.

(9) When rates of assessment have been sanctioned by Government, the assessment to be imposed on each survey number or subordinate survey number shall be determined according to the relative classification value of the land comprised therein.*

(10) Matters of detail not provided for in the foregoing Survey Rules shall be determined in each survey in accordance with such general or special orders as the Survey Commissioner acting under the general control of Government shall from time to time deem fit to issue.

(3) General.

56. When unalienated land assessed or held for purposes of agriculture only is subsequently appropriated† to any purpose unconnected with agriculture, the assessment upon the land actually so appropriated shall be altered in

Alteration of assessment when land assessed or held for agricultural purposes is appropriated to non-agricultural purposes.

*1. A special report for inám villages in tálukas already settled may be dispensed with. The rates sanctioned for adjacent Government villages previously settled may be held applicable to inám villages coming under settlement at any time after the settlement of the mass of the táluca. This order may be deemed sufficient sanction within the meaning of sections 102 and 103 of the Land Revenue Code. (G. R. 6386 of 6th December 1880.)

2. Before the survey rates are introduced in an inámdár's village, an agreement should be taken from the inámdár that he will pay the village officers according to the scale in force in Government villages, in order to ensure the independence of and payment of remuneration to the village officers. (G. R. 7322 of 3rd December 1881.)

accordance with the provisions of paragraph 2 of section 48 of the Land Revenue Code, and fixed at the following rates :—

If the village, town or city in which the land is situated is classed, under Rule 66, in Class I	...	...	Rs. 10	per acre, or ten	times the assessment for agri-	cultural purposes, whichever	be the greater.
" "	II	...	Rs. 5	or five times do.
" "	III	...	Rs. 2	or three times do.
" "	IV	...	Re. 1	or double the	assessment.

If the village, town or city in which the land is situated is classed, under Rule 66, in Class V, no alteration in assessment shall ordinarily be made.

p. 1203.)

56A. Nothing in the last preceding rule shall be applicable to lands within the sites of the cities and towns of Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat, Ránder and Bulsár.

In the said sites the rate to be imposed upon land appropriated as aforesaid shall be two pies per square yard.

VIII.—REGISTER OF ALIENATIONS.

[Section 53.]

57. The Register of Alienations to be kept under section 53 of the Land Revenue Code shall be in the form of Appendix F.

IX.—DISPOSAL OF FORFEITED HOLDINGS.

58. Whenever it shall appear to the Collector that an arrear of land revenue cannot be readily recovered by any of the means provided in Chapter XI of the land Revenue Code other than the forfeiture of the holding in respect of which the arrear is due, he shall declare such holding to be forfeited to Government. But care should be taken that such declaration is not made except in cases of necessity.*

* Whenever the land revenue is in arrear, Government is entitled to sell the land and realize its due, whoever is the defaulter, (I. L. R. 5 Bom. 74.)

2. Section 86 of the Land Revenue Code, 1879, expressly provides that the recovery of dues from inferior holders shall be made under the same rules and in the same manner as prescribed in Chapter XI for the realization of arrears due to the Government. An exception only is made in the case of section 137, in

(1) And which obviously could not be made applicable to superior holders. which the paramount right of Government to recover its land revenue over all other claims is recognized;<sup>(2)</sup> but every other rule in Chapter XI is applicable. Accordingly, where section 153 provides that the Collector may declare the occupancy in respect of which an arrear of land revenue is due to be forfeited to the Government, so he may declare a holding with which he is dealing under section 86 to have reverted to the superior holder. (G. R. 3089 of 30th May 1881.)

Under special circumstances the forfeiture of holdings under this Rule may be postponed by the Collector for one or more years.

If the holding in respect of which the arrear is due consists of two or more survey numbers, or of two or more portions of land, or estates separately assessed, and the Collector shall be of opinion that the whole amount of such arrear could be realized by the sale of some one or more only of such numbers, portions or estates, he may, in his discretion, restrict the forfeiture to such one or more of the said numbers, portions or estates.

59. The Collector shall cause the land comprised in any forfeited alienated holding to be entered in the records as unoccupied unalienated land, and may dispose of it forthwith, or at any subsequent time, in accordance with the rules and orders in force relating to land of that description : Provided that if the forfeited alienated holding was held for service, and the Collector is satisfied that the failure to pay the land revenue due thereupon arose solely from the inability of the watandár to meet the demand, he may deduct from the forfeited holding a portion of land of which the occupancy-price would be likely to equal the amount of the arrear recoverable, and deal with such portion in accordance with the rules and orders aforesaid, and restore the remainder of the forfeited holding to the watandár, or, with the previous permission of Government, may restore the entire forfeited holding to the watandár, and either remit the arrear of land revenue due, or make such arrangements for its being paid in the future as Government shall in each case sanction.

59A. If a defaulter shall desire that his forfeited occupancy be put up for sale on the ground—

Forfeited occupancies in certain cases to be sold at the desire of defaulters.

- (1) that he obtained it on payment of consideration for the same to Government or to the previous occupant; or
- (2) that the land comprised in the occupancy has been improved since the occupancy was last granted by Government;

the Collector shall inquire into the circumstances, and if the defaulter's request appears to him to be reasonable, shall put up the occupancy for sale :

Provided that the Collector shall not be bound to confirm the sale of any such occupancy, if he has reason to believe that the bidding thereat has not been bona-fide or that there has been collusion to recover the occupancy without payment in full of the arrears and charges due to Government, or if in the opinion of the Collector there has been some material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale, which is likely to have affected the amount of the highest bid or otherwise to have caused injury to any person.

59B. If a forfeited occupancy which falls under Rule 59A. is a recognized share of a survey number, it shall first be offered by the Collector at such price as it seems to him worth, to the occupants of the other recognized shares in the survey number in the order prescribed in section 99 (b). If none of them buys it, the Collector will then deal with the occupancy as is prescribed in Rule 59A.

60. In cases not falling under the last preceding rules, forfeited occupancies shall be put up for sale for recovery of the arrears due, except when the Collector thinks—

(a) that owing to the badness of the times, or to the want of demand for land of the description comprised in the occupancy, or to a combination of the neighbouring landholders, or for any other special cause, there will be no bidders at the sale, or that the highest amount bid will be considerably below the upset price of the occupancy : or

(b) that the land comprised in the occupancy is likely to be required either immediately, or within such time as the Collector deems reasonable for any such purpose as is described in section 38 of the Land Revenue Code.

61. Every sale of a forfeited occupancy, as such, shall be made subject to the same rules and orders as are applicable to the sale of unoccupied unalienated land so far as the same are consistent with the provisions of Chapter XI of the Land Revenue Code; and the provisions of Rules 31 to 33, both inclusive, shall apply to the case of every such sale.

(Notn.
No. 7346,
B. G. G.,
p. 905.)

62. If, for any reason, a forfeited occupancy is not sold, the Collector shall either cause the land comprised therein to be entered in the records as unoccupied, and direct that it be dealt with under the rules and orders in force relating to land of that description, or take steps for having it at once lawfully assigned for any such purpose as is described in section 38 of the Land Revenue Code.

63. It shall be in the discretion of the Collector to restore any forfeited occupancy at any time on payment of the arrear in respect of which the forfeiture was incurred, together with all costs and charges lawfully due by the defaulter, or, on security being given to his satisfaction for the payment of the said arrear, costs and charges within a reasonable period.

No forfeited alienated holding shall be restored without the previous sanction of Government.

64. When a holding which has been forfeited for default in payment of the land revenue due thereupon is not sold, the arrear payable by the defaulter shall ordinarily be remitted without having recourse to further compulsory process against him. But it is not intended that the right of recovering arrears from defaulters by other means, notwithstanding that their holdings have been forfeited and disposed of without being sold, should be altogether relinquished; in special cases the Collector may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, enforce that right.

X.—LIMIT OF FINES TO BE LEVIED UNDER SECTION 61.

65. The limit of fine to be levied under section 61 of the Land Revenue Code, when land is unauthorizably occupied and appropriated to any non-agricultural purpose, shall be double the amount of the fine that would be leviable under section 48 and section 66 of the Land Revenue Code, if the same land being in the lawful occupation of the trespasser had been appropriated by him to the same purpose without the permission of the Collector.*

XI.—FINES LEVIABLE WHEN UNALIENATED LAND ORIGINALLY APPROPRIATED FOR PURPOSES OF AGRICULTURE IS OTHERWISE APPROPRIATED. [Sections 65 and 66.]

66. For the purpose of determining the amounts of the fines leviable under section 65 of the Land Revenue Code, the Commissioners shall divide the villages, towns and cities in their respective divisions into five classes. As soon as possible after the issue of these Rules, the Commissioners shall publish notifications in the Bombay Government Gazette, specifying by name what villages in each district are placed in the first four of Villages, towns and cities to be divided by the Commissioners into classes.

* (1) Section 61 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code has no retrospective effect, i.e., its provisions cannot be enforced in respect of anything done before the Code became law on the 17th July 1879.

(2) But when an unauthorized occupation of land which commenced before the 17th July 1879 has been since continued, the Collector may, unless the occupier has in the meantime acquired a complete prescriptive title to the land,

(a) require payment of assessment under paragraphs 2 and 3 of section 61 for the whole period of occupation, except for any time prior to the 17th July 1879;

(b) summarily evict the person unauthorizably occupying;

(c) forfeit any crop raised on the land subsequently to the 17th July 1879;

(d) require the removal of any building or other construction which the person unauthorizably occupying the land may have erected thereon;

(e) failing obedience to the requisition under (d), forfeit the building or construction, whether it was erected before or since the 17th July 1879. (G. R. No. 6202, R. D., 1st September 1890.)

the said five classes; the fifth class comprising "all other villages in the taluka" not entered in the first four classes, and which need not be specified by name. The Commissioners may by similar notifications from time to time alter the said classification.*

67. In villages, towns and cities included in the first four classes by the said notifications, the fines leviable under section 65 of the Land Revenue Code shall ordinarily be at the following rates :—

Class I	Rs. 250 per acre	} of the land actually appropriated to any purpose unconnected with agriculture, and at the same rate in proportion for fractions of an acre.
" II	" 150 "
" III	" 100 "
" IV	" 50 "

In villages, towns and cities included in Class V by the said notifications no fine shall ordinarily be levied.

Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Collector may, in his discretion, require the payment of a fine not exceeding the rate prescribed for Class I in any village, town, or city in any of the other classes in any special case.

68. Notwithstanding anything contained in the last two preceding Rules the amount of fine imposable under section 65 of the Land Revenue Code in respect of lands within certain limits to be from time to time defined by Government by notification† in the Bombay Government Gazette in the neighbourhood of railway-stations, large towns, military cantonments, and wherever else Government may deem fit, shall be fixed by the Collector, in his discretion, at rates not exceeding Rs. 500 or Rs. 1,000 per acre, as may be directed by Government in the said notification.

appropriated demarcated and made into a separate number under section 116, shall be granted by the Collector, if the superficial contents of the land to which the application relates is less than two hundred square yards.

69. The fine leviable under section 66 shall be fixed by the Collector at his discretion, but shall not exceed five times the amount imposable by him under section 65 of the Land Revenue Code. For the purposes of this Rule, villages, towns, or cities included in Class V by the notifications issued under Rule 66 shall be deemed to have been included in Class IV.

*70. In such cases as Government deem exceptional or unusual the amount of the fine to be imposed by the Collector, whether under section 65 or 66 of the Land Revenue Code, will be specially fixed by Government at such rate as they deem fit, notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing Rules.

71. Nothing in Rules 66 to 70, both inclusive, shall be deemed to apply to potters and brick and tile-makers, who employ any material of the soil of the land in their occupancy for the purposes of their trade, or who erect huts or other buildings on their land for the more convenient pursuit of their trade. In the case of such persons no fine shall be levied under section 65 or 66 of the Land Revenue Code.

72. Nothing in Rules 66 to 70, both inclusive, shall apply, until further orders, to the district of Ratnágiri.

The application of the said Rules to the District of Kánara having by previous orders been stayed, it is directed that on and after the 10th day of June 1890 the said Rules 66 to 70, both inclusive, shall apply to, and be in force in, the said District of Kánara.

\ Building concessions at Bándra and other places near Bombay.—* For the present and until Government are in a position to appraise the value of building concession more accurately, each case must be dealt with by the Collector of Thána as a special case under Rule 70, and he must ascertain the market value of the concession and propose a fine which will bear a fair proportion to it for sanction of Government. The Assistant Collector should at once be directed to examine and report fully upon the various areas and situations in the villages contiguous to Bombay and near the line of railways in which agricultural lands are being applied to building purposes, their agricultural assessment, and their value as building sites. It is by no means necessary in the case of such exceptional areas as the suburbs of Bombay that a uniform rate of fine should be notified for each village; but if some general appraisements according to the value of the concession can be sanctioned by Government for particular localities and situations, it will be very easy for the Collector to let these be generally known without any notification in the Gazette, and cases may then be submitted for sanction under Rule 70 with tolerable certainty of the approval of Government so long as the local rate of appraisal is adhered to or any departure from it fully explained. (G. R. No. 2784, 12th April 1889, R. D.).

XII.—APPROPRIATION OF LANDS FOR PROHIBITED PURPOSES OR WITHOUT PERMISSION. [Sections 48, 66 and 214 (i).]

73. When the occupant, or any tenant or other person holding under or through him, shall appropriate land in his occupation to any purpose prohibited by Rule 48, or unconnected with agriculture, without the permission of the Collector being first obtained, he shall be deemed to have committed a breach of the conditions of his occupancy; and if after reasonable notice he shall fail to restore the land to its original condition, he shall be deemed to have forfeited his right to occupancy of the land, and the Collector may proceed to evict him summarily in the manner provided in section 202 of the Land Revenue Code.

The Collector may remove or cause to be removed any property, moveable or immovable, belonging to the occupant, standing or existing in or upon the land, and the cost of removal shall be defrayed by the occupant himself or in default by sale of the said property.

XIII.—RELINQUISHMENT OF OCCUPANCIES. [Sections 74 and 214 (i).]

*74. The written notice of relinquishment of an occupancy required by section 74 of the Land Revenue Code to be given to the Mámldár or Mahálkari, shall be in one or other of the forms in Appendix G.

75. The written agreement† to be entered into by the persons or by the principal of the persons, if any, in whose favour an occupancy is relinquished, shall be in the form of Appendix D.

76. Every notice and every agreement given under the last two Rules shall be endorsed by two respectable witnesses to the effect pre-

* As regards rájinámas and kabuláyats in alienated villages it is necessary to note that they are given in one of the three following ways:—

- (1) Absolute relinquishment (Section 74 of the Land Revenue Code).
- (2) Relinquishment in favour of another person and the agreement executed by that person (Section 74 of the Land Revenue Code).
- (3) Agreement executed by a person taking up new land (Rule 32 of these Rules).

As regards (1) and (2)—

- (a) In unsurveyed alienated villages inámdárs should continue to exercise the powers as they have hitherto been doing, section 74 not being applicable to such villages.
- (b) In surveyed alienated villages, the inámdárs should, as far as possible, under Section 88, be invested where necessary with the powers contemplated by section 74.

As regards (3)—

Section 60 does not apply to alienated lands, and the power of the inámdár in respect of such agreement is unrestricted whether in surveyed or unsurveyed villages. (G. R. 959 of 10th February 1882.)

† Vide G. R. 1743, dated 2nd March 1889, R. D., quoted supra in note to Rule 32.

‡ The Court-fee on these agreements has been remitted by the Governor-General in Council under section 35, Act VII of 1870. Notification 7019, B.G.G., 1889, Pt. I, p. 808, art. 24. 77. All notices and all agreements received under Rule 74 or Rule 75 shall be kept in separate files in the records of the village accountant until the expiry of one year after the end of the year in which they were given or executed, and afterwards in the records of the Mám-latdár or Mahálkari.

Notices and agreements to be preserved.

78. It shall be the duty of every village accountant if so desired by any occupant in his village or by any person in whose favour land is about to be relinquished by any occupant in his village, to prepare any notice or any agreement that may be necessary under Rule 74 or Rule 75, without fee or charge of any kind.

Village accountants to prepare notices and agreements without charge when so desired.

A village accountant who prepares any such notice or agreement shall affix his signature beneath the words "written by" on the lower left-hand corner thereof.

XIV.—SURVEY-FEES IN TOWNS AND CITIES,
[Section 132.]

79. Towns and cities to the sites of which a survey has been or may hereafter be extended will be divided by Government, by notification in the Bombay Government Gazette, into three classes for the purpose of determining the survey-fees to be levied therein respectively under section 132 of the Land Revenue Code.

Classification of towns and cities for the purposes of section 132.

The towns and cities hereinbelow mentioned, in which Bombay Act IV of 1868 was in force before the Code became law, shall belong to the following classes :—

Class I.	Class II.
Ahmedabad.	Ránder.
Surat.	Bulsár.
Broach.	Dhárwár.
Karáchi.	Hubli.
Hyderabad.	Bijápur.†
Sukkur.

Rates of Survey-fees chargeable in each class.

Class I.	Class II.
Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.

† Notification 1146, B. G. G. for 1885, Pt. I, p. 173.

81. The rates of survey-fees to be paid by the holder of each tenement in each class shall be fixed by the Collector or, subject to revision by him, by such officer as he may empower in that behalf, on a full consideration of the position, value, rental and area of each holder's tenement and of the labour, time and expense involved in the survey of such tenement: Provided that not more than one survey-fee shall be payable in respect of each separate tenement.

Explanation.—"Separate tenement" shall be deemed to include all the area within one ring-fence or in one locality and in the actual possession of one and the same person or family. If any portion of such area is sublet or occupied separately, such portion shall be deemed a "separate tenement."

XV.—RECOVERY OF LAND REVENUE.

[Sections 146 and 214 (c).]

82. All payments of land revenue shall be made to the officers of the village in which such revenue is due: Provided that, with the sanction of the Collector, such payments may in special cases be made into the Huzúr or Táluka Treasuries.*

83. In the Ratnágiri and Kánara Districts and in the khoti villages of the Kolába District, land revenue payable in respect of lands assessed for purposes of agriculture only shall, until further orders, continue to be paid in such instalments and on such dates as are now usual in those districts and villages respectively.

84. In all districts except Ratnágiri and Kánara, and in all the villages of the Kolába District, except the khoti villages, the land revenue payable in respect of lands assessed for purposes of agriculture only shall be paid in two equal or nearly equal instalments, on the following dates (namely) :—

* (In answer to an enquiry whether No. 82 of the rules passed under section 214 of the Land Revenue Code is applicable to local funds, ábkári, toll, kurans, &c., farms, the following Government Resolution was passed):—

"Monies payable on account of kurans are land revenue. To them undoubtedly No. 82 of the Land Revenue Code Rules is applicable.

"2. But that rule, which has been framed under sections 146 and 214 (c) of the Code, is applicable only to actual land revenue. Monies which are leviable as an arrear of land revenue may be recovered under the law and rules applicable to the levy of land revenue, if they are not paid when due; but the rules regulating the date when they become due and the times when, the places where, and the persons to whom they should be paid must not be sought in the Land Revenue Code, or in the rules framed under it, but in the enactments and rules relating respectively to such monies. Section 8 of Bombay Act III of 1869, for instance, empowers the Collectors to appoint the agency through which the local fund cess shall be recovered." (G. R., B. D., 2215, dated 17th March 1883.)

(a) in the Thána and Kolába Districts (excepting the Khoti villages of Kolába), the 1st January and the 16th February ;

(b) in other districts—in villages placed under Rule 85 in Class I, the 10th December and the 10th January ; in villages placed under the said Rule in Class II, the 10th January and the 10th March ; in villages placed under the said Rule in Class III, the 10th February and the 10th April ;

Provided that—

(1) in districts, or parts of districts where the above dates may be found to be unsuitable, the Collectors may, with the sanction of the Commissioner to whom they are respectively subordinate, fix such other dates as they may deem expedient according to the circumstances of the season and of the villages comprised in them and the character of the crops generally sown :

(2) when the total amount of assessment is Rs. 4 or under, it shall, if the Collector shall so order, be payable in a lump sum at the date of the first instalment ;

(3) if the person from whom the year's revenue is due so wishes, he may in any case pay the whole amount at once instead of by instalments.

85. For the purposes of clause (b) of the last preceding Rule the Collectors of the districts to which that clause applies shall, with the sanction of the Commissioner to whom they are respectively subordinate, classify the villages in the said districts into three classes :

Method of classifications under clause (b) of the last Rule.

Class I shall include khari villages in ghat districts and elsewhere where it is necessary that the revenue be secured specially early.

Class II shall include khari villages in Gujarát and elsewhere where no such special provision is necessary.

Class III shall include rabi villages generally.

86. Land revenue, to which the provisions of the last three Rules are inapplicable, shall ordinarily be paid in one instalment on such date as the Collector shall think fit in each case to prescribe ; but in special cases the Collector may, in his discretion, allow the payment to be made in two or more instalments on dates which shall be fixed by him.

Instalments of land revenue to which the last three Rules are inapplicable.

87. The notice of demand to be issued under section 152 of the Land Revenue Code shall be in the form of Appendix H.

Form of notice of demand.

The village officers shall be held responsible by the Collector for warning landholders verbally from time to time of the dates on which their instalments are due and for using their personal influence in securing prompt payment without resort to notices of demand or other compulsory process, and exemplary punishment should be awarded to any village officer who is remiss in the performance of this duty.

88. The village officers shall report to the Mám-latdárs or Maháلكaris to whom they are respectively subordinate the names of the landholders whom they have reason to believe, will not punctually pay their instalments, in order that the precautionary measures authorized by sections 140 to 145 of the Land Revenue Code may, when necessary, be adopted in due time.*

XVI.—ADMINISTRATION OF SURVEY SETTLEMENTS.

(1) Notification of Survey Settlement.†

89. When a survey settlement shall have received the sanction of Government under section 102 of the Land Revenue Code, a notification shall be published in the district or portion of a district to which the settlement extends, in the form of Appendix J., and the period for which the assessments have been fixed shall be notified in the Bombay Government Gazette.

When the settlement is introduced into a portion of a táluka already partially settled, the guarantee will be restricted to the unexpired portion of the period for which the assessments in the first settled portion of the táluka were fixed.

* Distraints should be made by táluka kárkúns, kulkarnis, talátis and patels, provided that they should be executed only by persons able to read and write. In special cases the Collectors and their Assistants may direct the warrant to any person considered competent to execute it. (G. R. 7858 of 23rd December 1881.)

† (a) The announcement and introduction of rates are identical, for the assessment is introduced by being announced. The revised assessment comes into force in the sense that it is levied in and from the year after its introduction, and as the intention is that rates once fixed should be collected for thirty years, His Excellency in Council considers that the guarantee for thirty years should run from the year in which the rates are first levied as the first year of the thirty. The second clause of section 104 applies to the year after that in which the rates are introduced, and although application is often made to extend the period for relinquishment by postponing the date from March 31st to June 30th, and this has been sanctioned without remark, it is not clear that this application is not made in some confusion between the year of introduction and the year following. The object of section 104 clearly is that in the year of introduction no enhancement shall be levied and in the year following also an occupant may escape the enhancement by relinquishing his land, but not otherwise. It is not enacted in section 104 that if the new assessment is less than the old, the difference between the new and old assessment will be remitted in the year of introduction, and if the assessment is introduced after the old assessment of the year of introduction has been collected, there is nothing further to be done. (G. R. No. 4559, 6th June 1885.)

(b) Memorandum from the Commissioner, S. D., No. 480-A., dated 4th March 1887:—

"2. It appears that it would be clearly illegal to levy the old rates or to refuse to grant refunds in the year of the introduction of the revised rates.

90 In isolated villages to which a survey settlement was extended before the 9th March 1858, the settlements shall be understood to have been fixed for a period of thirty years, unless there is specific evidence that a guarantee for a shorter period was given at the time.

Period of guarantee in villages settled before 9th March 1858.

"3. Section 103 of the Land Revenue Code (last paragraph) enacts 'that when the assessments are announced in the manner provided in the first clause, &c., &c., the survey settlement shall be held to have been introduced'; thus the year in the course of which a survey settlement is introduced is the year in which the new rates are announced irrespective of the year from which the guarantee runs. The amount which an occupant is liable to pay to Government as the land revenue demand on his land is the survey assessment on his land for the time being; when a survey settlement is introduced in a place in a particular year, the Government land revenue demand for that year in that place is the assessment announced at the settlement.

"4. If the new assessment is the revenue for the year, the liability of an occupant is restricted to that amount only, and undersigned fails to see how anything more than the revenue for the year can be collected from an occupant.

"5. The first clause of section 104 was enacted for the purpose of giving additional concessions to occupants and was certainly not intended to restrict their rights."

Resolution.—It appears to His Excellency the Governor in Council that the interpretation placed by the Commissioner, S. D., on section 103 is, when considered by the light of the discussions in the Legislative Council when Act I of 1875 revising Act I of 1865 was under consideration, incorrect. The Code contemplates (1) the year of introduction, (2) the year of levy. Section 103 lays down that when assessments have been announced in the manner provided, the survey settlement shall be held to have been introduced. Section 104 provides that the revised assessment shall be levied from the next following year. It is therefore clear that the new rates do not have effect in the year of introduction.

2. This view is supported by the speech of the Honourable Colonel Anderson in the discussion referred to above. He states as follows:—"If a settlement was introduced on the 25th August 1874, the new rates of assessment would take no effect in the year then current, and in the ensuing year 1875-76 the new rates would not be levied from any occupant who resigned his land before 31st March 1876." If then the new rates have no effect in the year of introduction, the old rates would have to be levied, and the question of remission does not arise. At a later stage in the discussion the particular question now brought forward was considered, it being proposed that the clause in the Bill might be altered so as to bring it into accord with the then custom; that where the new assessment was less than the old one the new only should be levied. This suggestion was however overruled, and looking to the manifest intention of the Legislature as indicated by the discussion above referred to, His Excellency the Governor in Council cannot construe section 104 of the Land Revenue Code as authorizing remissions in such cases as those now brought forward.

3. The Commissioner considers that, as Government have, in paragraph 5 of Government Resolution No. 10088, dated 16th December 1885, approved "of the practice of showing in the year in which a settlement is introduced, the new (be it more or less than the old) assessment as the revenue for the year, the liability of an occupant is restricted to that amount only." This however is merely a matter of accounts. The difference between the old and the new assessments, where the latter exceed the former, is shown in the accounts of the year of introduction as "remissions"; where the new assessments are less than the old there has hitherto been a difficulty in assigning a heading in the taluka accounts to which the difference may be credited. But in the revised Manual of Accounts shortly to be introduced these differences will be shown as "Occasional items of fixed revenue." It is simply for convenience sake; because the assessments have been announced and the exact amount to be paid by each holder made known, that the new assessments are shown in the year of introduction as the revenue. (G. B. No. 2836, 7th May 1887).

(2) Trees.

91 The extent to which the right of Government to trees is generally conceded under paragraph 2 of section 40 of the Land Revenue Code will be specified in the notification issued under Rule 89. The said general concession will ordinarily extend to all trees, except the following (namely) :—

- (1) all road-side trees planted by or under the orders of Government ;*
- (2) teak, blackwood, and sandalwood ;
- (3) trees, the produce of which has hitherto been disposed of by Government.

Trees in groves, trees round temples or places of encampment declared to be such by the Collector, and trees other than teak, blackwood or sandalwood which for any reason are of special value or utility will be specially reserved at the settlement and entries to that effect made in the settlement records.

The right to trees of any of the above classes which have already been specially assigned to the occupant or purchased by him, or to trees standing in public places, will, of course, not be affected by this Rule or by the notification issued under Rule 89.†

92. Notwithstanding anything contained in the last preceding Rule, Government may reserve trees not specified in the last Rule. Government will specially reserve their rights to all trees, or to

* The propriety of laying down a general law concerning road-side trees planted by landholders in their own land was much discussed by the Select Committee on the Revenue Code Bill. That Bill, as introduced, contained a specific provision on the subject (section 107, clause c), but it was much opposed and it has been omitted from section 42 of the Bill as read a third time and passed on the 15th April 1879.

The only way to prevent such road-side trees being cut down is to apply the provisions of Act X of 1870 for the acquisition for public purposes either of the trees, or of both the trees and the land on which they stand. (G. R. 3495 of 3rd July 1879.)

†1. If trees on the banks of rivers and nálas grow in land included in an occupied survey number, they belong to the occupant. If they grow in the dry beds of streams which are not included within the boundaries of such a number, they are to be treated as Government property unless and until the occupant can establish his claim to them.

In cases where the boundaries of a field are not laid down on the banks of a stream, the area of the field as recorded in the survey registers should be taken as the guide in determining how far the right of the occupant extends. The occupant should be allowed the benefit of the trees on the area recorded, all beyond it being held to be the property of Government, subject to the provisions of the Land Revenue Code regarding alluvion. (G. R. 649 of 30th January 1882.)

trees of other kinds than those therein enumerated, whenever it may be deemed expedient so to do.*

93. Of the trees to which the rights of Government are reserved, such numbers or kinds as Government may from time to time direct will be at the disposal of the Forest Department. Lists shall be kept of all occupied numbers, over the trees in which the Forest Department has any control or lien; the clearing of these numbers by the Forest Department shall be arranged in concert with the Collector, and every number when cleared shall be recorded as exempt from all interference in the future on the part of the Forest Department.

All reserved trees not placed at the disposal of the Forest Department shall be in charge of the Collector who may dispose of the same, or of the produce thereof, in such manner as he may from time to time deem fit.

94. In talukas in which the demarcation of forests has been completed, when the right of occupancy of any unoccupied number containing jungle or valuable trees which have not been included in any forest reserve is granted to any person, the Collector may, if he thinks it better to grant the land for cultivation than to keep it for jungle, offer the jungle or such of the trees as he may see fit to the occupant at a valuation to be made by the Collector. If the occupant agrees to purchase the same, the value shall be recovered from him by the Collector and credited to the Forest Department.

95. In talukas in which the demarcation of forest reserves has not been completed, the Collector may, if he thinks fit, consult the Conservator of Forests before the occupancy of any land containing jungle or valuable trees is granted; and if the occupancy of any such land is granted to any person, the provisions of the preceding Rule shall apply: Provided that specified trees of a valuable kind shall not be cut down, and that in no case shall the occupancy be granted if the land is likely to be required for forests.

* "Except as provided in the last paragraph of Rule 91, there is no legal objection to Government's reserving under Rule 92 any trees whatever in any lands to which the first-mentioned rule applies, i.e., to lands in 'villages or portions of villages of which the original survey settlement shall be completed after the passing of the Land Revenue Code.' (Vide paragraph 2 of section 40 of that Code, to which reference is made in Rule 91.)

"2. But trees in occupied lands over which the rights of Government have already been conceded or sold cannot in any case be again reserved unless the owner reconveys them first of all to Government." (G. R., R. D., 4891, 29th June 1883.)

96. Whenever the occupancy of survey number is disposed of at any time after the first introduction of a survey settlement, trees of the kind specified in clause (3) of Rule 91 shall be excluded from reservation, and shall be disposed of along with the occupancy under the provision of paragraph 2 of section 62 of the Land Revenue Code.

What trees should be disposed of along with an occupancy.

97. Whenever the right to unreserved trees in any survey number is at the disposal of Government simultaneously with the occupancy of such number, all such trees shall invariably be disposed of to the same person who acquires the occupancy and not to any other person.

The land and the trees thereupon should vest in the same person.

(Notn. No. 2919, B.G.G., 1889, Pt. I., p. 301.)

98. When the right of Government to any trees in a survey number has been once disposed of to the occupant, or when reserved trees have been once cut and removed either—

When once trees have been cut or disposed of, Government to have no right to after-growth.

- (1) at the grant of the occupancy, or
- (2) after such grant, or
- (3) in the Province of Sind at any time before such grant or
- (4) elsewhere than in the Province of Sind, within five years before such grant,

Government will have no further claim to trees of the same descriptions which may afterwards grow in the number, or which may spring up from the old roots or stumps during the occupancy of the said occupant.

(Notn. No. 3923, B.G.G., 1883, Pt. I., p. 372.)

The sale of any such tree, or of the timber thereof will confer no right to the after-growth from the root or stump of the tree so cut. The reservation of the rights of Government over the trees will extend to all such after-growth also.

Pending the issue of such orders, teak-trees growing in any such land shall be available for cuttings to be made from time to time by or under the orders of the Forest Department in consultation with the Collectors, and the sale of any teak-tree growing in any such land or of the timber thereof, will confer no right to the after-growth from the root or stump of the tree so cut, but the reservation of the rights of Government over the teak-trees will extend to their after-growth also.

(3) Entry of Co-occupants' Names.

99. On written application being made for this purpose to the Collector or, whilst survey operations are proceeding, to a survey officer, the names of the co-occupants of the registered occupant of any survey number and the share in fractional parts of a rupee of each such co-occupant in the occupancy may be entered in the records along with the name and share of the registered occupant of the number: Provided that no such entry shall—

Co-occupants' names and shares may be recorded.

(1) affect the liability of the occupants to Government, or amongst themselves, for the land revenue of the number, or

(2) be deemed to constitute the share to which it relates a recognized share of the survey number. (Notn. No. 5546, B. G. G., 1885, Pt. I, p. 368.)

(4) Inspection, Maintenance, and Repair of Boundary-marks.

100. On the introduction of a survey settlement into a district the Superintendent of Survey shall furnish the Collector with a map and statements showing the position, size and description of the boundary-marks erected or prescribed by or under the orders of the Survey Department, with a view to his taking measures for their maintenance and repair under section 124 of the Land Revenue Code.

Details of boundary-marks to be furnished by the Survey Department to the Collector.

101.* The digging of earth close around an earthen boundary-mark for the purpose of repairing it is prohibited. A space of two cubits in breadth all round each such mark is to be left untouched, so as to prevent injury to the mark from water lodging in the cavities from which earth is taken for the repairs.

102. Village officers shall examine all the boundary-marks in their respective villages once a year in November or December, and the village accountant shall record in village form No. 3 (Hope's Forms) the condition in which the boundary-marks are found.

Details of all marks found to be out of repair shall be entered in village form No. 4 (Hope's Forms) by the village accountant, and after the lapse of a sufficient time to allow of the repairs to the marks being completed, a second inspection shall be made of every field entered in this register.

103. Prior to the second inspection, the Collector shall issue a notification under section 122 of the Land Revenue Code requiring landholders to repair their boundary-marks within a period of ten days. The provisions of paragraph two of the said section shall be rigidly enforced in the case of any repairs remaining unexecuted at the time of the second inspection.

104. A further test-inspection of boundary-marks shall be made annually in each village by a Mámíatdár's kárkún. The inspection shall be made in the presence of the village officers and of such of the landholders as may attend. The results of these inspections shall be recorded in the village form No. 3, in the column provided for the purpose, and in column 15 of village form No. 4 (Hope's Forms).

For the first three years after the first introduction of a survey settlement this test-inspection shall extend to all the boundary-marks of each village. After the first three years the following Rules shall be observed :—

- (1) For the purpose of táluka inspection of boundary-marks, the number of fields in each village shall be divided into four equal sections, and the fields comprised in one section shall be inspected by the General Duty Kárkún in each successive year. Thus the whole village will be completely supervised in a period of four years.
- (2) The division of the boundary-marks of a village into sections as directed in the preceding Rule shall be made once for all by the Mámíatdár personally with the sanction of the Assistant Collector, who should be supplied with the division lists to enable him to take the necessary tests of the work performed by the Táluka Officers.

(3) Each General Duty Kárkún shall be duly supplied with lists specifying the fields of each village in his charge which he is required to inspect in a particular year.

(4) The inspections by General Duty Kárkúns must be careful and thorough, and the results of their inspections should be noted in village form No. 3 (Hope's Form) against each field as indicated in the form.

(5) The General Duty Kárkún should, when the required inspection in a village is over, sign a certificate at foot of village form No. 3 (Hope's Forms) to the following effect:—

“I hereby certify I have personally examined the boundary-marks of the fields noted by me as examined against each field.”

105. When the necessary repairs have all been completed, the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari shall prepare and forward to the Collector, or to the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the táluka, by a date to be specially fixed by the Collector of each district, a general abstract of the Inspection Registers.

106. Mámíatdárs and Mahálkaris and Assistant and Deputy Collectors in charge of tálukas will personally examine the boundary-marks of some of the numbers of several villages in every táluka as soon as possible after the completion of the second inspection required by Rule 102. In the case of tálukas which are in the immediate charge of the Collector, that officer shall mark off several numbers in the village registers for examination by the Daftardár or other high officer of his establishment.

The results of inspections made under this Rule shall be recorded in the same way as in the case of inspections made under Rule 104.

107. The Commissioners shall during their tours take measures to prevent the inspection and examination required by the foregoing Rules becoming a mere form.

XVII.—APPEALS. [Section 214 (h).]

108. Every appeal shall be made in the form of a petition addressed to the authority to whom an appeal lies, and shall be drawn up in concise, intelligible and respectful language, and bear the signature or mark of the appellant or of his duly authorized agent.

The petition should give the following particulars:—

the name, father's name, occupation and place of residence or address of the appellant ;
 the name and address of the writer of the petition ; and, if possible, the date of the order or decision appealed against and the name and designation of the officer who passed it.

The petition should also contain a brief and unexaggerated statement of the facts on which the appellant relies in support of his appeal ; and the grounds of the appellant's objection to the order or decision appealed against.

109. Appeals may either be presented to the authority to whom an appeal lies in person, or be forwarded to him by post.

Presentation.

When an appeal is sent by post the postage on the cover containing it must invariably be fully prepaid.

110. Inattention in any material respect to the requirements of either of the last two preceding Rules will render an appeal liable to be rejected without inquiry into its merits.

Rejection of appeals without inquiry into their merits.

XVIII.—PENALTIES. [Section 215.]

111. Breaches of the general Rules hereunder mentioned shall be punishable on conviction before a Magistrate* as follows :—

Breaches of the Rules how punishable.

Clause 1.—(a) Whoever without due authority shall take, or attempt to take, any produce of any tree belonging to Government ;

(b) whoever without due authority shall cut down or remove, or attempt to cut down or remove, any jungle or trees belonging to Government or the right to which has not been conceded by Government ;

(c) whoever without due authority shall remove, or attempt to remove, the grass or any other produce of land belonging to Government ;

(d) whoever without due authority shall dig or remove, or attempt to dig or remove, any earth, stone, kankar, sand or muram, or any other material from land belonging to Government ; shall be punished with imprisonment of either description which may extend to one month, or with fine† which may extend to five hundred rupees.

† Such fines should be recovered under section 181 B. L. R. C., that being a special or local law which is not affected by anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, section 1, para. 2. (G. R. 4697, 9th June 1885, R. D.)

- Clause 2.*—(a) Whoever shall unlawfully cultivate land of which the cultivation has been prohibited under Rule 48 ;
- (b) whoever shall unlawfully destroy or materially injure for cultivation land held for purposes of agriculture only ;
- (c) whoever shall appropriate for purposes of agriculture compounds to bungalows or patches of open ground surrounding houses after such cultivation has been prohibited by the Collector on sanitary grounds ;
- (d) whoever shall, except for the purpose of laying the foundations of buildings, sinking of wells, or making grain-pits, within the site of any village, town or city, excavate, without the previous permission in writing of the Collector, or, when such permission has been granted, shall excavate contrary to any terms prescribed by the Collector ;*
- (e) whoever shall suffer his land to be or to become overgrown with prickly-pear or rank grass so as to be dangerous to the health or safety of the neighbourhood ;†

* Excavating, without permission, a foundation on the site of a village and building a wall upon it is not an offence under No. 111, clause 2 (d).

I. vs. Sheshabhat bin Balkrishnabhat, per Kemball and Birdwood, JJ. (H. C. Crim. Rgs., 8th May 1884.)

† (Memo. by Acting L. R.) "The question is whether a Magistrate has in the case of an alienated village, power to take action under clause 2 (e) of Rule 111 of the Rules under section 214 of the Land Revenue Code.

In my opinion the answer must be in the negative.

I think clause 2 (e) of Rule 111 must be held to refer to Rule 52 which applies only to unalienated land.

(1.) The rules must be read all together ; and it is obvious that if Rule 111, clause 2 (e), is meant to be a rule for the punishment of any one who suffers his land—alienated or unalienated—to become overgrown with prickly-pear, &c., Rule 52 is superfluous. It seems improbable that this should have been intended, and more likely that Rule 111, clause 2 (e), should have been meant to refer back to Rule 52 with the wording of which it very closely corresponds.

(2.) Section 214 of the Land Revenue Code does not seem to authorize a rule to provide for the removal of prickly-pear, &c., from alienated lands.

No such rule could be made under section 214 (c) which deals simply with the appropriation of unalienated land (vide the last clause of section 48) ; nor could it, I think, be framed under clause (i). There is no other clause at all applicable.

Clause (i) runs as follows:—

The Governor in Council may from time to time make and from time to time vary or rescind rules or orders not inconsistent with this Act :

(i) Generally for the guidance of all persons in matters connected with the enforcement of this Act, or in cases not expressly provided for therein.

This clause no doubt is very vague and if construed quite literally would permit the prohibition of any act that was considered objectionable, however little connected it might be with Land Revenue administration. But this interpretation seems inadmissible. The rules to be framed under section 214 are intended to be in furtherance of the objects of the Act and in the preamble these are stated to be the amendment and consoli-shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

dition of 'the law relating to Revenue officers, and to the assessment and recovery of Land Revenue, and to other matters connected with the Land Revenue Administration.' Rules on other subjects appear to be ultra vires unless expressly authorized by some section of the Code.

It may perhaps be urged that Rule 52 departs somewhat from the purposes of the Act as thus stated, but incidentally it may be considered to protect the revenue by preventing injury to land liable to assessment; and at any rate it is within the provisions of the last clause of section 48.

But a similar rule when extended to alienated land becomes a mere sanitary regulation. It is based on no express section and does not appear any more authorized by the Code than would be a rule to regulate vaccination or to prevent the sale of unwholesome food." (G. R. No. 3639 dated 14th June 1887, R. D.)

"2. I do not see any reason why under that section an order should not issue for the removal of prickly pear or other vegetation, &c., from an abandoned site in a village, unless the village itself has been wholly deserted. The section contemplates the responsibility of the inhabitants of the village for the removal from all common or waste land. The two words are, I think, used as ejusdem generis (vide Maine's Village Communities, p. 120. et seq.) to denote that part of the village domain which is unappropriated to the use of individuals in severalty, but in which a communal interest is recognised. 'Common' seems to connote use by the community, while 'waste' in its etymological and popular sense means that which is spoilt (French gâter and Latin vastare), unfit for use, unused or deserted.

"3. An abandoned building site seems clearly to fall under the latter description.

"Section 34 apparently was intended to impose on the village collectively, in respect of all such land, a joint responsibility for sanitation corresponding to the several responsibilities imposed by section 33 on individuals (vide B. H. Ct. Crim. Rga. of 11th June 1874).

"4. The inhabitants of a village may, therefore, I think, be required to remove, or pay for the removal of, prickly pear, &c., from such a site within their village. If, however, the village is wholly deserted, the inhabitants of another village could not be made responsible for such deserted village.

"5. Reference is made in the correspondence to Rule 111, clause 2 (e) of the rules under the Bombay Land Revenue Code. I fear the High Court would consider that Rule ultra vires. It is a penal clause attached to Rule 52, which purports to be under sections 48 and 214(c) and (i) of the Bombay Land Revenue Code.

"Section 48 prescribes the penalties for appropriation of land to purposes alien to agriculture or prohibited.

"If, notwithstanding such express provision, it was legal to prescribe by rules an additional penalty for such appropriation, the further question would arise whether Rule 52, which deals with mere passive neglect and not with appropriation to any purpose whatever, comes within section 48 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code.

"6. For this reason, I think that it would be safer to adopt, in respect of occupied lands, the course suggested in the correspondence, and to proceed under section 33 of Bombay VII of 1867 which was expressly intended to protect the public health, rather than under Rule 52 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code which deals rather with the interests of the public revenue." (G. R., R. D., No. 6540, dated 4th September 1889.)

Clause 3.—(a) Whoever shall dig earth within a space of two cubits of any earthen boundary ;*

(b) whoever shall use land near villages which has been assigned for any of the purposes mentioned in Rule 43 for any other purpose, or shall use for any of such purposes, land near villages which has not been so assigned ;

shall be punished with a fine which may extend to ten rupees.

* NOTE ON CLAUSE 3 (a).—“ Rule 101 is not one that could legally be framed under section 214 (g). It is not a rule for the administration of a survey settlement:” Ruling by the High Court in I. vs. Irappa bin Shidapa—(H. O. Cr. Rgs., 6th September 1888.)

(Memo. by the Acting L. R.) “The High Court (Mr. Justice Birdwood and Mr. Justice Parsons) have held that Rule 101 of the Land Revenue Rules prohibiting digging within two cubits of a boundary mark, and by consequence Rule 111, Clause 3 (a), attaching a penalty to the breach of Rule 101 are ultra vires, and are not justified by section 214 of the Land Revenue Code, clause (g) which authorises rules ‘for the administration of a survey settlement.’

2. It has been suggested that such a rule might be made under section 214 (i) if not under section (214 (g) of the Land Revenue Code.

Maxwell on interpretation of Statutes, pages 265 to 267.

3. Statutory powers are always construed very strictly, especially where power is given to impose a penalty.

4. Section 214 (i) only empowers the making of rules for the guidance of all persons in matters connected with the enforcement of the Act or in cases not expressly provided for therein.

Rules for “guidance” are essentially directory and adjective ; they were meant to regulate procedure in enforcement of the Act, and not to operate as new substantive mandates, themselves to be enforced by penalty.

This is the view taken by the High Court. For the note made on the returns before the papers were called for by the High Court, runs as follows :—

‘Quære whether this rule is not ultra vires. Section 215 gives the Local Government power to impose penalties only in the case of general rules passed under section 214. It is not clear how this rule falls under that section. Probably Clause (i) is contemplated, but that is somewhat vague, and it seems doubtful whether a rule for the guidance of persons could properly have a penalty attached to it.’

5. No new powers or obligations could be created by rules under section 214 (i). Such rules could only indicate the manner in which powers and obligations already conferred or imposed by the Land Revenue Code should be carried out. There is no power under the Code to punish unintentional injury to a boundary mark, and the only obligation under the Code except in case of wilful injury is to construct and repair such marks or pay the charges incurred in respect thereof.

6. But it is within the discretion of the Superintendent of Survey to prescribe the size, material and description of boundary marks according to the requirements of soil and climate. Where the soil and climate are of such a nature that the boundary mark unless protected by a space of two cubits left untouched, would be liable to injury from water lodging in the cavities caused by digging round it, it would be perfectly within the powers of a Superintendent of Survey to require all boundary marks injured from such cause to be repaired substantially with stones or in such other durable manner or material as would be costly enough to deter land-holders from thoughtlessly injuring the marks.”

7. Resolution.—Government approve of the adoption of the course suggested in paragraph 6. (G. R. No. 2131, dated 19th March 1889, R. D.)

Clause 4.—Whoever, being a village officer,

(a) shall take or levy any fee for preparing any document or copy or extract of any document which he is bound by any Rule or Order to prepare without charge;

(b) or who shall charge any fee for granting any permission which he is authorized by these Rules to grant but for which no fee can lawfully be charged;

shall be punished with the punishment provided in clause 1 of this Rule.

Clause 5.—Whoever, being a village officer,

(a) shall refuse or neglect to prepare any document or copy or extract of any document, or to sign or certify the same, in the manner prescribed by any of the Rules;

(b) or shall neglect to make any report or to perform any duty which he is required by any of these Rules to make or to perform;

(c) or shall neglect to inspect the boundary-marks in his village in the manner and at the time required by these Rules;

shall be punished with the punishment provided in clause 2 of this Rule.

Nothing in this Rule shall prevent any person from being prosecuted under any enactment for any offence punishable under these Rules, or from being liable under any enactment to any other or higher penalty than is provided for such offence by this Rule: Provided that no person shall be punished twice for the same offence.

Financial Department Resolution No. 1452, dated 23rd June 1870.

Home Department Circular No. 427-36, dated 4th July 1870.

RESOLUTION.

In the Resolutions quoted above it was ruled that the sanction of the Government of India should be obtained to the alienation of all Government land, whether actually paying revenue or not, except grants of waste land made under the approved rules, and that Government land, whether paying revenue or not, should not be parted with save under the rules applicable to the expenditure of public money. It was also laid down that if the sale of small plots of escheated land for the benefit of local funds has not been duly sanctioned, it must be considered subject to the above restrictions.

2. Several local Governments and Administrations having represented the inconveniences arising from a strict adherence to these orders, the Governor General in Council has been pleased to modify them as follows:—

3. Lands to be disposed of will necessarily divide themselves into two classes:

First—Those which are the property of the State;

Second—Those which, under competent authority, have been constituted the property of a municipality or other local body.

4. Lands of the first class may be disposed of in various ways—

First—By sale at full market value;

Second—By sale on favourable terms—to a public body or association, or to an individual, for a public purpose;

Third—By gift or grant to—

(a) a public body or association, or to an individual, for a public purpose;

(b) private individuals in remuneration for public services to be performed;

(c) private individuals for their private benefit, without reference to future services.

5. As regards lands falling into the second of the above classes, which have been under a competent authority, constituted the property of a local body, the Government of India will exercise no interference. It will be the duty of local Governments and Administrations to satisfy themselves that the lands in question have been transferred under proper authority, and this having been ascertained, the sanction of the local Government or Administration will be sufficient for the disposal of the lands.

6. As regards lands, the property of the State, such of them as are governed by the rules for the grant of waste lands, will continue to be dealt with under the rules on this subject in force for the time being.

7. As regards lands, the property of the State, other than waste lands, which are sold for full value, no reference to the Government of India need be made where the full value does not exceed Rs. 10,000. Up to this amount the sanction of the local Government or Administration will in all cases be sufficient. The amount realized by the sale of the land should invariably be credited to the general revenues, and the sale should be duly noticed in the proceedings of the local Government or Administration.

8. As regards the sale of lands on favourable terms, for a public purpose, in no case should the recipient pay less than half the full market value of the lands granted; and whenever such full value exceeds the sum of Rs. 1,000, the sanction of the Government of India should be previously obtained. The amount realized by the sale should in all cases be credited to the general revenues, and the sale should be noticed in the proceedings of the local Government or Administration.

9. As regards the gift or grant of lands, the previous sanction of the Government of India should be obtained in cases where the value of the grant exceeds Rs. 3,000, when given as a site for the construction of Government schools hospitals, dispensaries, or other public works, at the cost of recognized local funds: where it exceeds Rs. 500, when given * N.B.—This does not refer to cases in which the local Government may have been separately authorised to dispose of lands under special rules sanctioned by the Government of India.

for any other public purpose, or to a private individual for services to be performed to the State, * or where it exceeds Rs. 100 when the services are to be performed to the community and in all cases of grants to individuals for their private benefit irrespective of any services to be performed.

No. 5215.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of Bombay in the Revenue Department, dated 29th September 1879.

Read the following letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, Home, Revenue and Agricultural Department, No. 2—11, dated 1st September 1879:—

In continuation of my circular Nos. 40 to 49, dated the 14th August 1871, making certain enquiries in regard to the mineral rights of Government, I am desired to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Governor in Council, a copy of the Proceedings of this Department for August 1872, Nos. 26 to 37, and of the marginally noted correspondence with the Government of Madras and the Solicitor to Government.

From the Government of Madras, No 847, dated the 27th February 1877, and enclosures.
From the Government of Madras, No. 320, dated the 23rd January 1877, and enclosures.
To the Solicitor to Government, No 1481, dated 5th December 1878.
Reply No. 83, dated 30th January 1879, and enclosures.
Despatch to the Secretary of State, No. 7, dated the 1st September 1879.

2. I am to explain that, on consideration of the papers which are recorded in the Proceedings for August 1872, it appeared that no immediate action was necessary, unless Government had been prepared to resort to legislation—a course the desirability of which did not seem to be sufficiently established at that time. No general legislative measure is now in contemplation, nor is it intended to institute in the Bombay Presidency any special enquiry as to the State's rights to minerals, unless, at any time, circumstances should arise which should render such an enquiry indispensable in the interests of those exclusive preminent powers which belong to the State as representing the community at large. Such powers it is all the more necessary carefully to guard when there is reason to believe that they may be valuable. It is therefore thought expedient now to direct attention to the matter, and to request, first, that, subject to any instructions which may be received from the Secretary of State in connection with the reference that has been made to him by the Government of Madras in all future grants and leases of Government waste land for cultivation in the Bombay Presidency, full rights may be reserved to Government in respect of all minerals which may be discovered in or under such land; and, secondly that, in all cases in which minerals may be discovered in any place where there is ground for the belief the Government may be entitled to them, or may have a right to assess them to land revenue, a full enquiry may be made and the result reported. Rights of way and other reasonable facilities for working, getting and carrying away such minerals as may be found should also be reserved on behalf of Government or the assignees of Government in deeds of sale and leases of waste lands.

3. Whenever it is found possible to do so, the right of Government to the minerals should be asserted and reserved in all future settlements; and if in any case this is not possible, then, in such settlements, the reservation should take the form of a right to put a separate assessment on mineral produce. This last direction, however, is of course subject to any special peculiarities which may exist in the local revenue system.

4. It will be understood that, except in so far as the precautions above directed require, it is not intended in any way to anticipate future events. Should any case similar to that of the gold discoveries in the Wynaad arise elsewhere, it can be dealt with, as it occurs, on the analogy of the instructions which Her Majesty's Secretary of State may be pleased to give on the despatch of the 1st current.

RESOLUTION.—The instructions of the Government of India should be communicated to the Commissioners of Divisions and the Commissioner of Survey for information and guidance.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

HOME, REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

State rights in Minerals and Mining Leases.

From the Government of India to the Secretary of State for India,—No. 7, dated Simla, the 1st September 1879.

We have now the honour to reply to your Lordship's despatches marginally noted, concerning the rights of the State in minerals, and the terms that should be imposed on gold mining leases on Government lands in the Wynaad districts of Madras. There has been

No. 40, dated 10th May 1877.
No. 69, dated 10th October 1878.

delay in coming to a decision on these points, because we were obliged to take legal advice on some of the questions raised, and because we desired to ascertain the policy recently adopted in Australia regarding mining leases in the gold-fields of that continent.

2. Regarding the State rights in minerals, three distinct questions had first to be considered, namely :—

- (1) whether the royal prerogative, as it obtains in England in respect to gold and silver mines, prevails in British India; and whether grantees of waste land are entitled to mines of gold and silver found thereunder, when the deed of grant is silent as to such mines;
- (2) whether, apart from such prerogative, the Crown in India can assert a right to gold, silver, or other minerals on any other ground;
- (3) whether, if both these questions are answered in the negative, the mineral resources of the land can be taken into account in assessing land-revenue.

3. The Madras Government, in their letter No. 320, dated 23rd January 1877, concurred with their Advocate General, and expressed an opinion that the royal prerogative regarding gold and silver mines did not prevail in India. They held that it would be impolitic, even if it were legally possible, to assert any Government right in the mineral resources of lands sold under the Waste-Land Sale Rules, or in lands held by certain ancient proprietors of the Malabar district. The Governor of Madras in Council advised also that the claims of ryots to the mineral wealth of their holdings should not be disturbed; and on this point His Grace in Council differed from the view expressed by the Madras Board of Revenue. The Madras Government pointed out that, if large numbers of gold-workers were to come to the mines, police and other expenses would be thrown on the Government, to meet which a reasonable royalty might properly be imposed. The Governor of Madras in Council also recommended that, until the policy of Government with reference to mineral rights in the soil was settled, all sales of Government land under the Waste-Land Sale Rules should be made subject to the reservation of the State rights in minerals found underneath those lands.

4. We referred the three questions stated in the second paragraph of this letter for the opinion of our Advocate General, of our standing Counsel, and of one of the first lawyers in Calcutta. We submit copies of the opinions of these gentlemen for your Lordship's information. It will be seen that they all three agree that the prerogative of the Crown regarding gold and silver mines does not exist in India outside the presidency towns, and that grantees of waste land are entitled to mines of gold or silver found thereunder when the terms of the grant are silent as to such mines. While there is no doubt that all the prerogatives essential to the maintenance of the executive power, such as the right of making war, peace and treaties, are in force throughout British India, yet, as the right to mines of gold and silver is merely a fiscal prerogative, and is not essential to the maintenance of the executive power, it stands precisely on the same footing as the prerogative rights to whales and sturgeon wrecks, treasure-trove, waifs and estrays—cases in which no one would maintain that the Crown has any right in India apart from express legislation. Such prerogatives, in fact, belong to that part of the English Common Law which has arisen from, and is adapted to, merely local requirements, and is not therefore in force in this country. Moreover, since the Indian Legislature, in the Punjab Land-Revenue Act (XXXII) of 1871, section 29, thought it necessary to declare that in the Punjab mines of metal shall be deemed to be the property of Government, and since, by the Ajmere Land-Revenue Regulation (II. of 1887), section 3, the Government is, with certain exceptions, presumed to be the sole owner of all mines until the contrary is proved, it would be inconsistent to contend that the prerogative right to gold and silver mines exists in India, as, if it did, there would have been no need for these express statutory provisions, or at least these particular metals would have been excluded in framing them. On these grounds, we consider that the opinion of the law officers may be finally accepted, and that whatever be the rights of the Government of India in the matter, no claim on the part of the State can be preferred on the ground of the prevalence in India of this royal prerogative outside the limits of the presidency towns. As to the right of grantees, the decisions in England are to the effect that mines of gold and silver will not pass by a grant from the Crown without express words granting them. We are, however, advised that the principle of such decisions is wholly inapplicable to India. When this principle was established in England, grants from the Crown of its land had the effect of impoverishing the Crown, being made from favour and without consideration moving from the grantee. But in India such grants have, it is believed, usually been made in consideration of a money payment, and have therefore had the effect of enriching the Crown. We are aware that this argument was used unsuccessfully before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the case of Woolley vs. The Attorney General of Victoria, Law Reports, 2 App., Ca. 163, 165. But the reason why it failed was that the Common Law of England (including all the prerogatives and the consequences thereof) had been introduced into the Colony of Victoria, from which that appeal was presented. No such introduction, it is conceived, can be held to have taken place in this ceded and conquered country. The reason why in England grants from the Crown are construed strictly against the grantee is generally said to be that prerogatives are conferred on the Crown for public use, and are therefore not to be understood as diminished by any grant beyond what it takes away by necessary and unavoidable construction. But where no such prerogative exists, of course that reason ceases. We therefore consider that grantees of waste lands (whether or not the grants expressly comprise "all products both above and below the surface") are, in the absence of any provision to the contrary, entitled to mines of gold and silver found thereunder.

5. In regard to the second question, whether the State possesses other general or special rights in minerals lying under lands which are private property, our Advocate General differs from the other two learned gentlemen who were consulted. Their opinions referred mainly to Bengal and the permanently-settled districts with the circumstances of which they were conversant. Mr. Paul considers that the State has rights in the minerals found in permanently-settled estates; while Messrs. Bell and Evans think that the State does not possess such rights. We consider that the latter is the opinion most likely to be taken by the Courts. And we are confirmed in this view by the practice of the past twenty years, whereby the Government or any private parties who desired to work coal or iron within the limits of a permanently-settled estate have been obliged to buy, or at any rate have bought, the right of so doing from the Zamindár of the lands underneath which such coal or iron might exist. Regarding the circumstances of other provinces, and the way in which State rights in minerals had been asserted or waived, enquiry was made from Local Governments in the year 1871. The replies to that enquiry are recorded in the Proceedings of the Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce Department for August 1872, Nos. 26 to 37, copies of which are now submitted for your Lordship's perusal. It appears from these papers that in most parts of the country no established law or practice was known upon the subject; and that, as no mines had been opened no occasion had arisen to determine the rights of the State in respect to such property. In the North-Western Provinces, however, it had been ruled that, where the surface land had been declared private property, the ownership extended, in default of some distinct and special reservation, to what was below the surface. In newer provinces, on the other hand, such as the Punjab, there was no settled judicial precedent making mines and metal private property. And accordingly opportunity was taken to declare by legislation (section 2 of Act XXXIII of 1871) that mines of metal in the Punjab and also in Ajmere (section 3 of Regulation II of 1877) should be deemed to be the property of Government. Similarly, in the Central Provinces, at the time when proprietary right in their lands was conferred upon the landholders, the full right of Government to minerals was reserved under the provisions of the Settlement Code. So also in Berar, a notification issued by the Resident in 1868 concerning the settlement then in progress declared that "the prior right to all valuable things below the surface belonged to the State."

6. On the third point, namely, whether minerals belonging to private proprietors can be taken into account in assessing the estates of those proprietors to land-revenue, the Advocate General and the other learned gentlemen consulted are, in the main, agreed that when temporarily-settled estates, come under resettlement, the minerals, just like the other resources of such estates, constitute assets on which land-revenue may fairly be assessed. This practice has been already partially followed in provinces where miscellaneous items are reckoned into the village assets for the purposes of the assessment of land-revenue.

We have already noticed (paragraph 3 of this despatch) the views of the Madras Government and of the Madras Board of Revenue regarding the rights of ryots to all mines and minerals in their holdings. Seeing that different classes of tenure may be grouped under the generic term of 'ryotwári tenure,' we hesitate finally to accept, without further enquiry, the view that all holders of ryotwári lands are entitled to all mines and minerals under the holdings. Probably the jenmies of Malabar, whose tenure is ancient, may be so entitled. But we shall ask the Madras Government to consider further the question of the rights of ordinary ryots in the minerals under their holdings.

7. Such being the opinions of the Law officers, and such being the reports or recommendations of the several Local Governments, we would advise your Lordship to answer the three questions summarised above (paragraph 2) thus :—

- (1) The Crown has in British India no special prerogative over gold and silver mines outside the presidency towns; and grantees of waste land are entitled to mines of gold or silver found thereunder when the deed of grant is silent as to such mines.
- (2) No general rule, applicable to all provinces, can properly be laid down, either that minerals and metals found in proprietary lands belong to Government, or that they do not so belong. Even in different parts of the same province, the law and the fact on this matter may be different. When the question arises in each province, it will have to be answered for that province only, in accordance with the practice of the Government and with judicial (or other) precedent. But in any province where proprietary rights have been a recent creation of the British Government, where their precise nature and extent are still unsettled, and where custom or practice about mines has not had time to grow up, advantage should be taken of favourable opportunity to declare by legislation that mines of metals in such provinces are State property.

- (3) Mineral resources of temporarily-settled lands, where the proprietors are held to be the owners of such resources, may be taken into account at any resettlement as assets on which the public demand for land-revenue may be assessed.

Further, we should have no hesitation in proposing legislation, if necessary, to provide for raising from mining communities the expenses of special police, special communications, regulating the water-supply, or other special administrative arrangements which might be necessary for the protection or welfare of such communities. Such legislation would be in accordance with the principle adopted in section 14 of Act V of 1861, where provision is made for enlisting special police for the protection of, and at the cost of, any manufactory or public work.

8. We have considered the proposal of the Madras Government that in future sales of waste lands the State should reserve full rights and property in all metals and minerals which may be found in such lands, and also all reasonable conveniences for working such minerals or metals, either by itself, or through other parties. We agree that it is expedient henceforward to sell or grant on lease waste lands subject to these reservations. We solicit your Lordship's sanction to our modifying the Waste-Land Sale Rules accordingly; and we enclose copy of a circular order we have issued, directing that, until your Lordship's orders are received, sales or leases of waste lands shall be made subject to such reservation of full State rights in mines and minerals, together with all convenient powers for getting the same.

9. Lastly, there remains the practical question, which requires early decision, namely, on what terms shall mining leases on Government waste lands in the Wynaad, Coorg, or adjacent auriferous tracts be given. We recognise the fact that it is of great importance to India that these gold sources should be worked to the best advantage; we admit that, if gold should be produced in large quantities, the effect of such production on the exchanges between England and India would be of great value; and we think that the terms as to royalty, area of mining leases, and the mode of working should be as liberal as may be possible without encouraging undue speculation. We learn from Mr. Brough Smyth that the most approved system of mining leases in Australia now is to let the land at a moderate rent (ten shillings) per acre, the lessee being bound to employ per acre, or per running yard of reef, a certain minimum quantity of labour on bond fide mining operations of an approved kind. If the lessee fails to fulfil this condition, he forfeits his lease; and the terms of the mining lease make the Governor of the Colony the final arbiter, on such evidence as may be laid before him, whether a particular lessee has, or has not, failed to fulfil the condition. In the early days of gold-mining industry in Australia, heavy fees (£ 3 and £ 2 per month) were charged for mining licenses. Subsequently an export duty was levied on gold taken from the colony; but latterly the Colonial Government of Victoria has found that the largest indirect advantages to the Colony are secured by making the mining leases simple and liberal, subject to the one condition that a certain quantity of labour is employed on bond fide mining operations for each acre leased.

10. Plans for levying a royalty on the ton of quartz raised, or for establishing a local office of assay and levying a royalty on the gold, have been proposed. But we consider that, for the present, while the industry is undeveloped, our object should be to make the terms of mining leases of Government lands as simple and liberal as possible. In order to prevent large areas falling into the hands of speculators, it has been suggested that a certain limit of available capital, or a certain quantity of (stamping or other) machinery, should be required per acre of land leased. But we are advised that these conditions have been tried, and have been found inoperative and unsatisfactory in Australia, and that the simple condition that a certain quantity of labour shall be employed per acre in bond fide mining has been found to work best. For the present, therefore, we would propose to authorise the Government of Madras to grant gold-mining leases of Government lands, in lots of from one to thirty acres, for a term of ten to twenty years, and at a rent of five rupees an acre, subject to the condition that not less than five labourers are regularly employed per acre on bond fide mining operations in such manner as the Government may approve. The leases should be liable to forfeiture on failure of this condition, or failure to pay rent, as soon as either failure had continued for a period of six months; and should be renewable, at the lessee's option, on such terms as the then Government may settle, at the expiration of the original term. The Governor of Madras in Council would be declared to be in each case the final arbiter whether the lessee had, or had not, fulfilled the conditions of his lease.

We would propose thus to leave wide discretion to the Local Government with reference to the term of each lease and the area comprised therein. We do not propose to levy any royalty or other tax, for the present, on the industry, because we deem it most important to attract capital to the Wynaad gold-fields. The cost of bringing machinery for quartz-crushing to the spot will be heavy; the pioneers of the undertaking will have to buy their experience in many directions; and it is very undesirable that the first ventures now to be made should be unsuccessful.

11. If your Lordship approves the foregoing sketch of the terms on which gold-mining leases of Government lands might be granted, we shall authorise the Government of Madras to act thereupon, and we shall cause draft leases to be drawn up by our legal advisers.

12. There is apparently ground for believing that some of the best gold reefs that are known in India lie in the estates of the Rájá of Nellambor and of other private proprietors. The Alpha Gold Company's works were opened in the Nellambor lands. As yet the Rájá has made his own terms with companies intending to carry on gold-mining; and at present we are not prepared to urge the Madras Government to undertake legislation with a view of compelling private landowners to give gold-mining leases on any particular terms, or against their will.

13. We shall be glad to be favoured with early instructions from your Lordship, not only on the subject of the terms on which mining leases should be granted in the Wynaad, but also on the three questions raised in paragraph 2 and answered in paragraph 7 of the present despatch. And we solicit your Lordship's confirmation of our orders directing that, in all future sales or agricultural leases of waste lands in any part of India, mines and minerals found on such lands shall be reserved to the State, together with all convenient powers for working and getting and carrying them away.

From the Secretary of State for India to the Government of India,—No. 35 (Revenue—Minerals) dated India Office, London, the 25th March 1880.

I have considered in Council your letter, with accompaniments,* dealing with the important questions of the general rights of the State to minerals in India, of modifications of the Waste-Land Rules necessary to secure these rights, and of the terms on which applications to mine in Government waste lands in auriferous tracts shall be complied with.

* No. 7 (Home, Revenue and Agricultural Department) of 1st September 1879.

2. You point out that, regarding general State rights in minerals, three distinct questions have to be considered. In the first place, you hold, and I concur in your view, that the royal prerogative, as it obtains in England in respect to gold and silver mines, does not prevail in British India, at least outside the presidency towns. You proceed to infer that grantees of waste lands, whether or not the grants expressly comprise all products above and below the surface, are in the absence of provision to the contrary, entitled to mines of gold and silver found thereunder. If this proposition be limited to grantees of waste lands "in fee simple" under the rules framed in different provinces in accordance with the instructions given by my predecessor, Sir C. Wood, in his despatch No. 14 of 1862, I do not dispute it. But I must point out that the expression "grantees of waste land," used without limitation, might be held to include persons who have received, under ordinary terms of settlement, the proprietary rights in lands formerly waste and unoccupied; and to such grantees this view does not apply.

3. As regards the second question, whether, apart from the prerogative, the Crown in India can assert a right to gold, silver, and other minerals found in proprietary lands, you are disposed to agree with Messrs. Bell and Evans that, in the permanently-settled districts, the State does not possess such right. This was the view arrived at by my predecessor, Sir C. Wood, after consideration of Mr. Millet's reports, dated 26th March 1842. But, without weighing this opinion against that of your learned Advocate General, I am disposed to think that even if the legal right to minerals in permanently-settled estates could be established, it would not be desirable to enforce it. I agree with you that the indirect advantages resulting from making available the mineral resources of India are likely to be more valuable to the State than any direct returns; and I therefore consider that it would not be desirable to enforce the right of the State, supposing that such right can be established to mines in permanently-settled estates. Industries requiring skilled and scientific management and the extensive application of capital have flourished under the permanent settlement: and I apprehend that, speaking generally, the landholders of the Lower Provinces are sufficiently alive to their own interests either themselves to develop the mineral resources their estates may contain, or to afford facilities to others to do so.

4. This, however, does not apply to many other parts of India. I look upon it as pretty certain that the mineral resources of their lands will not be effectually worked by the present proprietors themselves of Madras or Bombay, or by the village communities of Northern India: and I apprehend that other promoters of mining enterprise would be likely to meet with considerable obstacles from intricacies of tenure and the difficulty of dealing with numerous small landholders. I consider, therefore, that care should be taken to reserve all State's right to minerals which still exist. And I am of opinion, especially with reference to the views of the Madras Government mentioned in paragraphs 3 and 6 of your letter, that, in the absence of any distinct judicial precedent or of established law or practice, such rights should be presumed still to exist throughout India. I take it that the notion that payment of an assessment based on the agricultural value of land, and intended to cover the right of cultivation, conveys property in minerals below the surface of the soil is essentially a modern one, and would never have occurred to the Native Governments to which our own succeeded. I approve therefore of the instructions you proposed (paragraph 6 of your letter) to give to the Government of Madras on this subject. With regard to the other provinces, you state that no general rule, universally applicable, can be laid down, either that minerals found in proprietary lands belong to the State, or that they do not so belong. But, speaking generally, in the North-West Provinces it was ruled, but not, as it appears, by judicial authority, that when the surface is private property, the ownership extends, in default of special reservations, to what is below the surface. The precise degree of authority possessed by this ruling should, however, receive further consideration. In the Central Provinces and Berar the full right of Government to minerals has been reserved at settlement, while in the Punjab and Ajmere, and, it may be added, in the Bombay Presidency,* it has been declared by legislation that mines are the property of Government. You conclude therefore that whenever the question as to the right of the State to minerals found in proprietary lands actually arises, it will have to be answered for that locality in accordance with practice and precedent. But that where the nature and extent of proprietary rights are still unsettled, and where custom and practice regarding mines has been established, opportunity should be taken to declare by legislation that mines are State property. With these views I fully concur.

5. With regard to the third question, you consider that where proprietors of lands temporarily settled are held to be the owners of the minerals they may contain, such mineral resources may be taken into account for assessment on resettlement. In this view I concur but request that care may be taken not to confer proprietary rights in minerals by including them among assessable assets where such ownership has not been proved previously to exist.

6. Upon the second point discussed in your letter,—the modification of the Waste-Land Rules suggested by the Government of Madras,—I agree with you that, in future, sales and leases of waste lands for agricultural purposes should be generally made subject to reservation of the full right of the State in mines and minerals, and of right of access and other reasonable conveniences for working them on behalf of Government, or the assignees of Government. I approve the circular you have issued on this subject, and sanction the necessary modification of the Waste-Land Rules.

7. Regarding the last subject discussed in your letter,—the terms on which applications to mine in Government waste land in Wynaad and similar auriferous tracts shall now be granted,—you point out that, if gold should be largely produced in India, the effect on exchanges would be highly beneficial, and that it is consequently of great importance that the gold sources in India should be worked to the best advantage. You consider therefore that the mining terms granted by Government should be as liberal as possible without encouraging undue speculation, and you deem it of importance thus to attract capital to the Wynaad gold fields. You have ascertained that Australian experience is that the largest indirect advantage to the State is secured by making mining leases simple and liberal, on the one condition that a certain quantity of labour is employed per acre on bonâ fide mining operations. You propose therefore to authorise the Government of Madras to grant gold-mining leases of Government lands, in lots of from 1 to 30 acres, for terms of 10 or 20 years, at a rent of Rs. 5 per acre, on condition that not less than five labourers per acre are regularly employed on bonâ fide mining operations, in such manner as Government may approve. Power will be given to the Government of Madras to enforce fulfilment of these conditions, and the leases are to be renewable at the expiration of the original period on such terms as the Madras Government may then settle. You thus leave to the Government of Madras wide discretion with reference to the term and area of each lease, and you do not propose for the present to levy any royalty or other tax on the industry.

8. These arrangements appear to me to be judicious, and I approve them. With reference, however, to the last sentence of the preceding paragraph, and also to the last clause of paragraph 7 of your letter, I am of opinion that it should be made clear that for the term of leases now granted there will be no liability to any future royalty or other tax in addition to the rent, with the exception of any taxation which may hereafter be found necessary to provide, at the expense of mining communities,—the expenses of special police, communications, water-supply, sanitation, or other similar administrative arrangements needful for their own protection or convenience.

9. Finally, I have to observe that the arrangements you now propose appear to refer to mining operations in Government waste lands only. Should, however, it be decided that mineral rights in any owned or occupied lands in Madras are vested in Government, and should gold be discovered in any such lands, I presume that, with due regard to the rights of the cultivating proprietors, mining privileges will be granted on terms similar to those now approved for Government lands.

From the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India to all Local Governments and Administrations,—No. 1-40-48 (Mineral), dated Simla, the 15th May 1880.

In continuation of my Circular No. 2-11-19, dated the 1st September 1879, I am desired to forward copy of a despatch No. 35, dated 25th March 1880, from the Secretary of State for India, regarding rights of Government to minerals in this country. The policy of the Government of India, as already announced, is generally approved, subject to certain additions to be noticed below.

2. The most important declaration contained in the despatch is that expressed in the fourth paragraph. Hereafter, except in permanently settled estates, it will be presumed throughout India that, in the absence of any distinct judicial precedent or proof of established usage, the State has a right to minerals.

3. Attention is invited to paragraph 2 of the despatch, under which the ruling that grantees of waste lands, whether or not the grants expressly comprise all products above and below the surface, are, in the absence of provision to the contrary, entitled to mines of gold and silver found thereunder, is limited to grantees of waste land "in fee simple," made in accordance with the rules framed upon the instructions given in Sir C. Wood's despatch No. 14 of 1862. Should any question hereafter arise in respect to grants of waste land made on other terms, Local Governments and Administrations will have to consider, in each class of cases, what is the specific effect of the form of grant regulating them as touching rights to minerals. The general ruling above quoted must be held not to apply to ordinary cultivating leases made in the course of settlement operations, or in the routine of district revenue work.

4. The direction in paragraph 5 of the despatch, to avoid conferring proprietary rights in minerals by including them amongst the assessable assets where such ownership has not been previously proved to exist, will be duly observed in making temporary settlements. The view of the Government of India, that where proprietors of temporarily-settled lands have been judicially held to be owners of minerals contained therein, such mineral resources may be taken into account for assessment on resettlement, has been accepted by the Secretary of State. But, as explained in paragraph 2 above, in the absence of a judicial decision, the presumption will be that such landholders are not owners of the minerals underneath the surface of their lands.

5. With reference to paragraph 6 of the despatch, I am to request that the rules regarding the sale and lease of waste lands for agricultural purposes in force in _____ may be modified, so far as may be necessary, to make leases and sales under them subject to reservation of the full right of the State in mines and minerals, and of right of access and other reasonable conveniences for working them on behalf of Government or the assignees of Government. Full publication should be given to the modifications of rule made under these instructions; and copies of such orders as may be passed by the _____ on the matter should be forwarded to this Department for information.

Provided that, if without his own fault, he do not obtain possession of the land in due time to make use of it that year, he shall not be chargeable with the assessment and local-fund cess thereof till the next following year.

11. The sale is also subject to all rights of way over the land and all rights of the public to the use of any tank or burial ground existing on the land, and the purchaser shall not be entitled to cultivate or make any other use of the land subject to such rights of way or occupied by any such tank or burial-ground.

12. The sale is subject to the right of Government to the following trees standing in the land, which have been specially reserved (viz.) :—

(Here enter the number and description of trees to be reserved.)

The trees, other than the reserved ones, are sold along with the occupancy right.

13. (Where there are toddy and other juice-producing trees, the following condition should be inserted :—)

Government reserves to itself the right of prohibiting the extraction of the juice of all cocoanut, toddy, bherlímád, shindi, or other trees growing in the land, and of permitting any person to extract it on certain conditions. The purchaser must afford all reasonable facilities and conveniences to any person licensed by, or under the authority of, Government, to extract juice from any such tree.

In the division of an estate ordered by the decree of a civil court paying land revenue to Government, the Collector is bound by the rules laid down in section 113 of the Land Revenue Code whenever they are applicable. If a court assigns rights in specified areas in survey numbers of less extent than the minima prescribed under section 98 of the Code, these rights cannot be registered in the Government accounts, or be otherwise recognized by Government. (G. R. 7052 of 23rd November 1881.)

2. Circular No. 83, at pages 46 and 47 of the High Court Civil Circulars having been cancelled, the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that in future Collectors shall be left free to use their powers under the Bombay Land Revenue Code for the levy of the costs of the partition in execution of a civil court's decree of estates paying revenue to Government. 2. The amount of such rate shall be subject to the approval of Government, and shall, after sanction, be notified in the office of the Mukhtyárkar of the táluks in which the land on account of which the rate is levied is situated.

3. Any person desiring to grow rice in land not assessed as rice land shall make an application in writing to the Mukhtyárkar, or other officer duly authorized to receive such application, for permission to make use of the supply of water needful for growing rice, stating if he requires it for one year only or permanently; and if any person cultivates rice in such land without such permission, he shall be charged with double the rate he would otherwise have been required to pay had he applied for and obtained permission.

4. All persons, who now hold or may hereafter apply to take up lands assessed and recorded in the Survey Registers as rice lands, shall, as soon as possible after the publication of these Rules or on application to take up such lands, be tendered a list of such rice lands then being or about to be in their occupation, and rice shall not be grown on any number not included in such lists except on payment of the extra rate.

NOTE.—It is not necessary or possible that all security bonds, to be executed in future, shall be drawn up in the exact form which is here prescribed. Modifications will no doubt be required to render the form of agreement suitable in particular cases, but it is important that there should be as little difference as possible in the nature of the obligations of the signatories to the bond, and the interests of Government must in every instance be fully secured.

The Revenue authorities are, subject to the orders of Government, responsible for seeing that adequate security is taken from any of their subordinates (including all officers in district and sub-treasuries) who may be entrusted with the custody of public money. (G. R. 3739 of 2nd October 1882, F. D.)

The above form is to be used in cases in which Government paper is deposited under section 23 of the Land Revenue Code: in other cases the form prescribed by section 23 of the Code must be used. (G. R. 7522 of 26th October 1882.)

It should be left optional with subordinate Revenue officers who are entrusted with the charge of public money either to deposit Government Promissory notes, or to execute a bond in the form contained in Schedule B. of the Bombay Land Revenue Code of 1879.) (G. R. 3031 of 17th August 1883, F. D.)

*Form of lease to be granted to an occupant who takes up land on special terms under
 No. 19 of the Land Revenue Code Rules.*

This is to certify that, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner (in Sind, or as the case may be)

_____ of _____ has been granted the occupancy of Survey No. _____ in the village of _____ in the _____ Taluka of the _____ District for a term of _____ years from the _____ day of _____ 189 _____, subject to the payment of land revenue as follows (viz.):
 (a) for the first _____ years, A. D. 189. _____ to 189 _____, nil;

(Here describe as accurately as possible the work to be executed).

The conditions on which this lease is granted are :

(1) that the lessee shall completely execute the work aforesaid to the satisfaction of the said _____ within the period above mentioned ;

(2) that he shall keep the said work when executed in good order and repairs to the satisfaction of the said _____ until the expiry of this lease ;

(3) that if the lessee shall fail to perform either of the aforesaid conditions he shall be liable, notwithstanding anything hereinbefore written, to pay the full assessment of the land comprised in this lease, amounting to Rs. _____, for the year during which such failure shall take place and for every subsequent year of the term of this lease :

(4) that the lessee shall be entitled, on the expiry of this lease, to retain the occupancy of the land herein comprised, subject to the payment of the full assessment from time to time fixed thereupon under the law and rules in force in this behalf, on his executing an agreement in the form prescribed for persons who intend to become registered occupants.

This lease is executed on behalf of the Secretary of State for India in Council, by order of the Governor of Bombay in Council, by the Collector of _____, and under his seal of office, this _____ day of _____ 189 .

ADDITIONAL ORDERS AND OPINIONS.

Clauses (1) and (2) of section 31 of the Land Revenue Code should be construed strictly in the case of stipendiary village accountants and permission should not be given to them to engage in money lending or to purchase lands at public sales. Clause 3 if strictly enforced would prohibit them from holding any lands paying revenue to Government. His Excellency in Council does not however object to the holding of hereditary lands by stipendiary village accountants or absolutely to their holding of lands purchased otherwise than at a public sale. The section requires that every revenue officer who holds land paying revenue to Government in the district in which he is employed, should obtain permission to continue to hold it and the Collector can give or withhold permission according to the merits of each case, taking care that his orders are not unduly harsh. If the Collector considers that the position of a taláti as a holder of land in his own charge, taluka or district, conflicts in any case with the proper performance of his duty as a village accountant, he can have him transferred. (G. R. No. 5635, dated 31st July 1883, R. D.)

Section 32.

The maximum period for which suspension from office should be awardable as a specific punishment under section 32 of the Land Revenue Code should be fixed at six months. This is the period mentioned in the Hereditary Offices Act and in the Bombay Village Police Act. It appears hardly practicable to fix any maximum period for suspension pending or during inquiry into alleged or suspected misconduct, but in cases where an officer is suspended for such a cause the inquiry should be carried out as promptly and speedily as possible and no unnecessary delay should be permitted to occur. Such an inquiry would ordinarily not occupy a very long period, but when it is not completed within two months from the date of the suspension of the official concerned a monthly report by the Collector should be furnished. (G. R. No. 9981, dated 19th December 1884, R. D.)

Application of section 58 of the Land Revenue Code.

Section 85 prohibits the receipt of his rents direct by any inámdár in whose village there exist an hereditary pátil and village accountant. If the latter officers fail to account to the inámdár for his dues, or if there are no such officers in his village, the Code does not prohibit his making his levies direct. But whether he recovers his dues direct or through the village officers, the second paragraph of section 58 requires him to give a written receipt for every payment of rent or land revenue made to him, and such receipts must be countersigned by the village accountant, if any. This latter provision shows that the paragraph in question is not intended to operate only when an inámdár recovers direct. Even when payments are received by an inámdár through the village officers he must sign the written receipt. The village accountant must countersign it merely. (G. R., R. D., No. 5804 of 4th August 1883.)

“It does not appear to be legally necessary that an inámdár should be present when the village officers are making the collections or that he should give an immediate receipt for each individual payment the moment it is made.

“2. It would suffice if all the receipts (which should be already countersigned by the village accountant) were brought to the inámdár to sign when the collections had been completed, or at stated intervals. There is no reason why these receipts should not be given in the rayat's receipt-books, whenever that would be the most convenient course.” (G. R. No. 9107 of 18th November 1884, R. D.)

Section 85 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code applies to payments in kind as well as to cash payments. Village officers ought to be present at the time of payment in kind which could then be made through them and they would countersign the receipt as required by clause 2 of section 58. (G. R. No. 6020, dated 15th August 1883, R. D.)

Application of section 61.

Section 61 of the Revenue Code is not applicable to alienated villages or lands. An inámdár's proper remedy, in case of unauthorised occupation of his land, is a suit in the Civil Court. (G. R. No. 5205, dated 25th June 1885, R. D.)

Application of section 72 of the Land Revenue Code.

A registered occupant of a survey number died without known heirs, but before his death transferred the possession of his land to a third person by a deed of sale duly registered: the necessary corrections were not made in Government books.

" Under the latter part of section 79 of the Code, the Collector was not bound to recognize the deceased occupant's vendee.

" Section 79 was expressly inserted in the Code in order that the parties to transfers of occupancies might be made to feel the absolute necessity of obtaining a mutation of names in the Collector's books, and so, in time, the recorded occupants would always be found to be the actual occupants. (G. R. No. 3102 of 20th April 1883, R. D.)

Memo. by L. R.:—"The ordinary law regarding the property of a person who dies intestate and without known heirs is that contained in section 10 of Regulation VIII of 1827. Under it the District Court appoints an administrator for the management of the property, and after he has had charge of it for about two years, it is sold under the orders of the High Court and the proceeds are 'deposited in the public treasury for the eventual benefit of all concerned.'

Duty of Collector as to occupancy of deceased, intestate and without known heirs.

"2. Section 72 of the Revenue Code excepts occupancies belonging to Hindus, Mahomedans or Buddhists from this general law, and directs that in their case 'the occupancy shall be disposed of by the Collector by sale subject to the provisions in force * * * for the sale of forfeited occupancies in realization of the land revenue' and that the net proceeds only shall be subject to the provisions of the ordinary law regarding intestate property. The effect of this is that the occupancy of a Hindu, Mahomedan or Buddhist who dies intestate and without known heirs, instead of being managed and eventually sold by the Názir of the District Court (who is generally the administrator appointed under section 10, Regulation VIII of 1827), is sold by the Collector, and the net proceeds are made over by the latter to the Názir for credit to the deceased's estate.

"3. The doubt is whether when occupancies are thus sold by the Collector, they are to be sold 'freed from all tenures, incumbrances and rights created by the occupant,' like forfeited occupancies (vide section 56 of the Revenue Code) or whether the right, title and interest of the deceased occupant merely are to be disposed of.

"4. The intention of section 72 of the Code appears to be to prevent the occupancies of persons dying intestate coming under the management of the District Court's administrator. The section was inserted by the Select Committee who, in paragraph 32 of their final report on the Revenue Code Bill, dated 1st May 1877, said its purpose was 'to enable the Collector to dispose of the occupancy of an occupant dying intestate and to stay the operation of the law regarding property left by persons dying intestate until the occupancy has been sold and arrears due to Government secured.' Much correspondence and trouble are saved by keeping the control of such property in the hands of the Collector, who is obviously far better able than the District Court's Názir to manage and sell it to the advantage of the deceased's estate. It was not the intention of the Legislature to forfeit in such cases subordinate rights created by the deceased occupant. The words in section 72 'subject to the provisions * * * in force for the sale of forfeited occupancies in realization of the land revenue' may, at first sight, be thought to bear this meaning, but it ought not to be concluded that it was the intention of the Legislature thus to abrogate vested rights unless such intention is very clearly and unmistakably indicated in the language of the enactment. The words quoted do not appear to mean more than that an intestate occupant's occupancy should be sold subject to the same rules for regulating the sale as a forfeited occupancy, and this construction of them is consistent with the apparent purpose of the section. There is no reason to think that the Legislature contemplated attaching the same penal consequences to an occupant dying intestate and without known heirs as to the failure of a living occupant to pay the land revenue due on his occupancy. Such a provision would be unjust, and whenever the language of an enactment 'admits of two constructions, according to one of which the enactment would be unjust * * * and according to the other it would be reasonable and wholesome, it is obvious that the latter must be adopted as that which the Legislature intended.' (Maxwell, Interpretation of Statutes, 179).

"5. On these grounds, under section 72 of the Revenue Code, all that the Collector sells is the right, title and interest of the deceased occupant, and subordinate rights are not affected by such sale. This was the opinion quoted in the preamble of Government Resolution No. 2711 of 26th April 1882—'the occupancy in this case is not forfeited by Government before it is disposed of by sale. It is sold as the heritable transferable property of the deceased occupant.'

"6. But although subordinate rights are not affected by the sale, still, as stated in the preamble to Government Resolution No. 3102 of 20th April 1883, if the deceased was a registered occupant the Collector is not bound to recognize his vendees or other subordinate holders. If the deceased person is the registered occupant, the Collector is not bound to recognize 'any person to whom any interest in any portion of the occupancy * * * has been assigned' (vide section 79 of the Revenue Code).

"7. It is not necessary that the Collector should hold an inquiry for the purpose of ascertaining 'whether the occupancy has not passed to some other person who is in lawful possession.' The Collector, if he held any such inquiry, would not be competent to pass any order determinative of the rights of the respective claimants and possibly many claimants would object to reveal their title to him. The title of the deceased should be sold for what it is worth, the purchaser making his own terms with, or taking such steps as he thinks fit against, other claimants. It may be that the purchaser of a deceased registered occupant's right, title and interest will sometimes acquire nothing by the purchase except the right to become the registered occupant. In such cases it will usually be to the interest of the assignee or of one of the assignees of the deceased registered occupant to become the purchaser.

"8. The words 'the Collector shall dispose of his occupancy by sale' in section 72 appear to leave the Collector no option. The right, title and interest of the deceased must be sold for what they will fetch. The reason of this is that the Collector, so far as regards these occupancy rights of persons dying intestate, takes the place of the administrator appointed by the District Court under Regulation VIII. of 1827, and just as it was formerly the duty of the administrator to sell such rights for whatever they might fetch for the eventual benefit of all concerned, so is it now the Collector's duty to realize by the sale of the deceased's right, title and interest whatever he can for the benefit of the estate.

"9. The word 'occupant' which is used in section 72 must be taken in its general sense, as defined in section 3, clause (16) of the code, and not be deemed to apply to registered occupants only. If the person who has died intestate and without known heirs is an occupant, but not a registered occupant, his right, title and interest will be sold by the Collector without affecting in any way the title of the registered occupant." (G. R. No. 783, dated 27th January 1885, R. D.)

Opinion of the Honourable the Advocate General.

1. In the case of a registered occupant such as described in section 72 of the Land Revenue Code dying intestate and without known heirs, and of another person claiming that the occupancy has been sold to him by the deceased though not transferred in the Government books, I am of opinion that the provisions of section 72 come into force, by which it is enacted that—

"The Collector shall dispose of his occupancy by sale, subject to the provisions of this Act or of any other law at the time in force for the sale of forfeited occupancies in realization of the land revenue."

It is difficult not to consider the provisions of section 56 as being 'provisions for the sale of forfeited occupancies in realization of the land revenue' within the meaning of section 72, and having regard to the provisions in section 79—

"That the Collector shall not be bound in any case to recognize any person to whom any interest in any portion of an occupancy or absolute holding has been assigned, unless the transfer has been recorded in the revenue records in accordance with the foregoing provisions,"

I think that the Collector is empowered to sell the occupancy of the deceased registered occupant without regard to the rights (if any) of the alleged vendee.

2. But I think that the Collector should exercise this power so as to interfere as little as possible with any right the existence of which is established to his satisfaction. In my opinion the provisions of section 81 which afford an alternative procedure in certain cases for the sale of a forfeited occupancy in realization of land revenue may properly be regarded as included among the provisions referred to in section 72. If therefore the Collector is satisfied that the occupancy has really been sold by the deceased registered occupant to the alleged vendee, and that such procedure will meet the justice of the case, I think that he may properly substitute the name of the alleged vendee in the revenue records for that of the deceased registered occupant.

3. I observe that section 56 enables the Collector to dispose of a forfeited occupancy under rules or orders to be made under section 214. I am not aware whether any rules have been made in this behalf under section 214; but if such rules have been made and the Collector has power thereunder to dispose of a forfeited occupancy without prejudice to rights previously created by the occupant, it seems desirable that he should adopt such mode of procedure in cases similar to the one suggested under section 72, when the case does not seem to him to be one in which the provisions of section 81 can be properly applied. (Concurred in by Government in G. R. No. 10023, dated 14th December 1885.)

"The word 'occupant' cannot be held to include a holder of alienated land and the Collector should not, I think, attempt to take action under section 72 of the Revenue Code in the case of alienated holdings." (G. R. No. 3812, dated 13th May 1885, R. D.)

Section 72 inapplicable to alienated lands.

“Section 19 of the Bombay Village Police Act (Bombay VIII of 1867) imposes upon the police pátíl the duty of taking charge of all unclaimed property and of reporting his proceedings to the Magistrate to whom he is subordinate. Property left by a person who dies intestate and without known heirs is ‘unclaimed property’ within the meaning of this section, and if, in addition to some moveable property, the intestate has left some land, inquiry will soon enable the Magistrate to determine whether the deceased was an occupant and whether, therefore, the Collector should take action under section 72 of the Revenue Code. As a matter of practice, I believe, every case of a person dying intestate is reported by the village officers to the higher authorities, whether under the provisions of section 19 of the Village Police Act, or otherwise, and there is little probability, I should think, of any case of any importance escaping notice. The Collector can only take action in the cases which are reported to him, and I do not think there is any need for special measures to ensure every case being reported. The number of occupants, not being registered occupants, who die intestate and without known heirs is probably inconsiderable.” (G. R. No. 3813, dated 13th May 1885, R. D.)

Memo. by the Acting L. R. :—

“2. Land wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Government land revenue is liable on the death of the last holder intestate and without known heirs, to be dealt with under section 10 of Regulation VIII of 1827, and the High Court may direct either (a) that it should continue under the management of an administrator appointed by the District Judge, or (b) that it be sold under the authority of the Court and that the proceeds be deposited in the public treasury for the eventual benefit of all concerned.

“3. If the latter course be taken, the exemption being a heritable transferable property, the land must necessarily be sold free from liability to assessment, as otherwise the person entitled to the proceeds would lose part of the value of the estate.

“4. But if this sale take place, Government must necessarily lose what, if there are no heirs or assignees of the intestate, Government would otherwise gain, viz., the right to the full assessment which might be levied on the extinction of all rights to exemption.

“5. In view of the opinion expressed by the Advocate General in his No. 74 of 12th June 1872, Government modified Resolution No. 1983 of 25th April 1872 by Government Resolution No. 2985 of 19th June 1872, by directing that the Collector should deal with such land subject to any order that may be made by the Civil Court under Regulation VIII of 1827, section 10.

“But the Resolution thus modified directs the Collector to declare the land khálsa at once, and leaves any heirs that may subsequently appear to be referred to Government. (Vide Nairne's Revenue Hand-book, page 538.)

“6. The Collector of Dhárwár points out that an order declaring the land khálsa may be practically set aside by an order of the District Judge appointing an administrator.

“7. The Collector adds that no executive order could operate to make the land khálsa.

“8. The difficulty referred to by the Collector of Dhárwár is one that could only arise when the High Court has directed the sale of lands wholly or partially exempt for the eventual benefit of all concerned.

“9. But this procedure would only be followed in cases in which no person had appeared and established a right.

“10. Before such procedure can be taken, section 10, clause I, requires a proclamation to issue calling upon the heir of the deceased or any person entitled to receive charge of the property to attend and prefer his claim, and under clause 3 of the same section, if any person appears and satisfies the Judge of his right to the possession of the property or any part of it as heir, executor, administrator or otherwise, it shall be delivered up to him.

“11. If no such person appear or establish such right there are two alternatives open to the High Court—

(a) to direct the property to continue under the management of an administrator for a further period, or

(b) to direct a sale.

“12. But if there be no heir, assign or other person claiming through the deceased intestate, the property lapses to the Crown by escheat.

1 Beng. L. R. O. C. 87. The property vests in Her Majesty not by virtue of Regulation VIII of 1827, but by virtue of the territorial law of British India.

"13. On failure of heirs, the Collector, it appears to me, would be as much 'entitled to receive charge of the property' on behalf of Her Majesty, as any other person to whom rights accrued on the death of the deceased.

"14. If any heir subsequently appear, the result would be the same as if the estate had been claimed by a private person, whose right was afterwards found to be excluded by a better title.

"15. In such case Government would be responsible to such heir.

"16. But there is no necessity for a sale by the Court, nor do I think that the property could be sold, if the Collector claimed that he was entitled to receive charge of the property on behalf of Her Majesty.

"17. In order, however, to avoid the risk of litigation in such cases as to claims that might afterwards be brought forward, I think the High Court might be moved to direct under section 10, clause 4, that such property should continue under the management of an administrator, until such period had elapsed as would render the chance of any claim being preferred infinitesimally small, and Government might then through the Collector, put in their claim to the property as having passed to Her Majesty by escheat. The land could then be dealt with as proposed in Government Resolutions Nos. 1983 and 2935 of 1872, Nairne's Hand-book, page 538.

"18. The declaration that the land had become khálsa would no doubt be inoperative as against any person purchasing the property as the estate of the deceased under the order of the Court. But such an order could not, I think, be passed if the land were claimed by the Crown. For sale can only be directed when no one appears and establishes a right to receive charge of the property. Government appear to me to have as good a right to put in their claims and protest against such sale, as any other claimant to the estate of an intestate, and if it appear that there are no heirs, &c., the Courts would I think be bound to recognize the right of the Crown, and to direct delivery to its officers, on such claim being preferred, instead of directing a sale.

"19. The point has, so far as I can ascertain, never been decided, but there are several cases on record in which Government have claimed the right to specific property by escheat, and there is no law which requires that instead of taking the specific property, Government would be entitled only to the proceeds realised by its sale. Legislation is, therefore, I would submit, unnecessary.

"20. The question involved might perhaps be raised in a test case if desired, and if the High Court hold that intestate property must in all cases be sold whether the right of the Crown is put forward or no, steps might then be taken to modify the law as to the procedure to be taken in such cases. But I think the rights of the Crown do not depend on Regulation VIII of 1827 and that section 10, clause 4 only prescribes the procedure when no claim whatever is preferred to the property."—(G. R. No. 8407, dated 15th December 1888,—R.D.)

Exercise by Mámlatdárs and Maháلكaris of powers under sections 86 and 87 of the Land Revenue Code.

In districts where the practice still obtains, the Mámlatdárs may continue to exercise the same powers under sections 86 and 87 of the Land Revenue Code which they previously exercised under Regulation XVII of 1827. As regards Surat and Thána where the practice has been discontinued, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to authorize the Collectors to delegate to the Mámlatdárs in their districts powers under sections 86 and 87 of the Code. (G. R. No. 2598 of 31st March 1883.)

Government Resolution No. 2598, dated 31st March last, should be held applicable to Maháلكaris, who should continue to exercise the same powers under sections 86 and 87 of the Land Revenue Code which they previously exercised under Regulation XVII of 1827. (G. R. No. 6024 of 15th August 1883, R. D.)

Right to assistance in recovery of Local Fund Cess.

Memo. of L. R. ;—Looking to the manner in which Bombay Act III of 1869 has been amended by Bombay Act I of 1884, and especially to the fact that the references in it to the older revenue law have been changed throughout to references to the Bombay Land Revenue Code, I am unable to concur in the Commissioner's present argument that the term "superior holder" in section 8 of Bombay Act III of 1869 must be interpreted according to the definition of that term in Bombay Act I of 1865 and not according to the definition in the Land Revenue Code.

Assistance to superior holders in recovery of dues.

Meaning of Superior Holder in Bombay Act III of 1869 to be gathered from the B. L. R. C.

2. Section 8, Bombay Act III of 1869, enacts that "the provisions of the law relative to the assistance to be given to superior holders for the recovery of their dues from their tenants * * * shall be applicable to all superior holders * * * in respect of the recovery of this cess from their tenants"; and when we enquire what law is here referred to, we find it now-a-days in Sections 86 and 87 of the Land Revenue Code, in which the term "superior holder" is governed by the definition of it given in that Code. On this ground also, I am of opinion that the term "superior holder" in Bombay Act III of 1869 has now the same meaning as in the Land Revenue Code. No special meaning is attached to it in Bombay Act III of 1869 and the enactment which is referred to with respect to it is, therefore, I think, the one in which its meaning must be sought.

3. Without denying that the Desái has a reversionary right in the village of Ranujla or that it is a part of the political holding standing in his sole name in the Collector's records, he is not at present the de facto superior holder of it; his bháyads are the superior holders and they, and not he, are legally liable for the local fund cess to Government and they, therefore, and not he, are the persons who are entitled to be assisted, if necessary, to recover it from the tenants. (G. R. No. 2072 of 4th April 1888, R. D.)

Memo. by the Acting L. R. :—"In the accompaniments to Government memorandum No. 8681 of 15th November 1889, the question raised is whether superior holders applying under Section 86 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code for assistance in recovery of dues from inferior holders can be represented by any person who is not a Pleader.

Appearances under Sections 86 and 87 need not be made by Pleaders.

"2. The difficulty arises from Section 196, Bombay Land Revenue Code, which declares that all formal and summary enquiries under that Act shall be deemed judicial proceedings within the meaning of Sections 193, 219 and 228 of the Indian Penal Code, and that the office of any authority holding any such enquiry shall be deemed a Civil Court for the purposes of such enquiry.

"3. It would seem that such inquiries under Sections 86 and 87 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code are judicial proceedings for the purposes only of Sections 193, 219 and 228, Indian Penal Code, and under the maxim expressio unius est exclusio alterius are not judicial proceedings for the purposes of any other enactments.

"4. The office of the authority making such an inquiry is a Civil Court for the purposes of the inquiry, but the proceedings are judicial only in the above limited sense and the appearances, applications and acts authorised by law to be made or done, are not made or done by parties to a suit or appeal within Section 36, Civil Procedure Code, and Section 37 of the Civil Procedure Code would not appear therefore to apply.

"5. That such offices are not Civil Courts for all purposes is clear from Section 87 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, which provides for recourse to the Civil Courts as distinguished from such offices.

"6. Regulation II of 1827, Section 47 (1), which is still in force, requires that no person shall be allowed to act in any judicial proceeding in any Court except the Pleaders, the parties or their recognised agents.

"7. But Section 47 refers to Courts appointed under that Act with jurisdiction over all suits of a civil nature of which their cognizance was not barred. It did not refer to what were then called Revenue Courts.

"8. The recourse to the Civil Courts, now reserved by Section 87, Bombay Land Revenue Code, was, under Clause 5 of Section 26 of Regulation 17 of 1827, to the Collector and when this jurisdiction was taken from him by Bombay Act II of 1866, special provision was made by Section 8 of the last-mentioned Act for pleaders engaged in such suits, then pending, to appear in the Civil Courts. This seems to indicate that Section 47 of Regulation II of 1827 was not deemed applicable to Revenue Courts.

"9. As, moreover, inquiries under Section 87, Bombay Land Revenue Code, are by Section 196 judicial proceedings only within the meaning of the specified Sections of the Indian Penal Code, Section 47 of Regulation II of 1827 would not apply to them.

"10. If there is any doubt whatever as to the applicability of Section 37 of the Civil Procedure Code to inquiries under Section 87 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, it is open to Government, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, to declare that the provisions of Section 37, Civil Procedure Code, shall not apply to such inquiries (vide Section 4A (1) of the Civil Procedure Code, as amended by Act VII of 1888, Section 3), or shall apply with such modifications as may be prescribed." (G. R. No. 840, 1st February 1890, R. D.)

Section 88.

Memo. by the Acting L. R. :—"One of the inámdárs of a village has applied under section 216 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879, for the extension of the provisions of Chapters VIII to X of that Code to the said village, but one of the sub-sharers has not consented to the introduction of the survey rates into the village. The Commissioner, C. D., considers that the dissent of the sub-sharer is immaterial.

Assent of all shares in an Inám village necessary to extension of Chapters VIII to X thereto.

"2. I am unable to take the view that the assent of a co-sharer is immaterial. Under Section 217, the holders of all lands in a village into which a Survey Settlement has been introduced acquire thereby the same rights and are affected by the same responsibilities as occupants in unalienated villages have or are affected by. Among other results as pointed out by the Honourable Mr. Naylor in his report No. 956 of 1880, dated 31st July 1880, the introduction of the Survey Settlement would bar the right of the inámdárs to enhance the rayats' rents above the survey assessments.

"I do not think the sub-sharer's rights in this and other respects could be limited without his assent.

"3. Section 216, Bombay Land Revenue Code, requires as the condition on which Chapters VIII to X can be extended to alienated villages that there should be an application in writing made by the holder of the village.

'Holder' is defined in Section 3 (II) of the Bombay Land Revenue Code as 'the person in whom a right to hold land is vested whether solely on his own account, or wholly or partially in trust for another person or for a class of persons, or for the public.'

'Village' under Section 3 (20) includes all lands belonging to the village.

"I do not think one of two or more sharers can be said to be vested with a right to hold all the lands in his village either solely on his own account or wholly or partially in trust for the other sharers.

"Until therefore the assent of all those in whom such right is vested has been obtained, no extension of Chapters VIII to X of the Bombay Land Revenue Code can, I think, be legally authorized under Section 216." (G. R. No. 3346, 7th May 1889, R. D.)

Until the Land Revenue Code is amended by the insertion of a section empowering Government to survey alienated villages and to obtain agricultural statistics from them, it appears necessary to exclude such villages from the agricultural returns. His Excellency in Council cannot, however, but consider that statistics for alienated villages which have been surveyed and assessed may be obtained even under the present law with the co-operation of the owners. Such co-operation may be made a condition of the grant of powers under Section 88. The Director of Agriculture should keep the matter in view and make any suggestions which may hereafter appear to him practicable. (G. R. No. 7136, 24th Sept. 1883, R. D.)

Memo. by the L. R.—"An inámdár who holds a commission conferring upon him the power described in clause (a) of Section 88 of the Land Revenue Code is entitled to take 'such precautions as the Collector is authorized to take under Sections 141 to 143.' Referring to Section 138 of the Code it appears that the Collector is only authorized to take precautions under Sections 141 to 143 for the recovery of 'the land-revenue of the current year' and the inámdár's power is, I think, similarly restricted.

Issue of notices by Inámdárs before attaching for default unnecessary.

"2. The power to attach property conferred upon an inámdár under clause (b) of Section 88 of the Code is not restricted by any reference to any other section or provision of that enactment, and there is no reason, I think, for holding that the inámdár is bound to issue a notice of his demand before proceeding to attach his defaulter's property. There can be no legal objection to his sending a preliminary notice to the defaulter, if he thinks fit to do so; such a course would be commendable, but it is not obligatory, and the inámdár would not be entitled afterwards to recover as a revenue-demand the cost of issuing and serving such notice." (G. R. No. 2901, 15th April 1886, R. D.)

Section 113.

Circular No. 83 at pages 46 and 47 of the High Court's Civil Circulars having been cancelled, the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that in future Collectors shall be left free to use their powers under the Bombay Land Revenue Code for the levy of the costs of the partition in execution of a Civil Court's decree of estates paying revenue to Government. (G. R. No. 1993, 14th April 1890, R. D.)

Levy of cost of partitions.

Section 119.

His Excellency the Governor in Council concurs with the Legal Remembrancer that Section 119 does not contemplate revision of boundaries on the ground of incorrectness in their location by the survey. (G. R. No. 3796, 23rd May 1889, R. D.)

Revision of boundaries.

Section 152.

Memo. by the L. R.—When recoveries are made by the officers of the Revenue Department under the provisions of Section 187 of the Land Revenue Code, notice-fees, cost of arrears and expenses of sale, or any one or more of these that may be recovered should be credited to the Land Revenue Department and penalty or interest alone should be credited to the department for which the recovery is made. I base my opinion on the principle that amounts directly connected with the execution of processes, in other words, amounts which represent the money value of the trouble and loss of time caused to the officers of Government, ought naturally to go to the department on which devolves the duty of executing the processes. (G. R. No. 9587, 4th December 1884, R. D.)

Section 176.

“Certain land has lately been put up to auction in the Olpád Táluka by the Collector in execution of a Civil Court decree. It fetched a bid of Rs. 84, but the purchaser failed to make full payment. The deposit was therefore forfeited to Government and the property again put up to sale, but no bidder appeared. The whole of the price bid at the former sale has therefore been recovered from the defaulting purchaser.”

“The deposit being one-fourth of the bid has been credited to Government under Section 175 of the Land Revenue Code. The question is what is to be done with the other three-fourths.”

Memo. by the L. R.—“As there was no bidder at the second auction, no sale of the property has yet been effected. Section 176 of the Land Revenue Code is, therefore, in my opinion, inapplicable to the case at present.*

“2 But supposing that the property should be eventually sold for, say, one rupee, the defaulting purchaser would, I think, be liable to pay under Section 176 the difference between the amount of his bid and one rupee, i. e., Rs. 84—1=Rs. 83. For this sum he would, it seems to me, be liable in addition to the forfeiture of his deposit already made under Section 175, the object of Section 176 being to secure to the owner of the property at least the amount bid for it in the first auction.” (G. R. No. 4779, 5th July 1886, R. D.)

Resolutions on Rules 93 to 98. (Vide p. 43 et seqq.)

There is no question that the general policy of Government is, as the Legal Remembrancer represents, to withdraw all interference with the occupants of survey fields, and to leave the land to the cultivator with the use of all that grows upon it. But it is often necessary to make exceptions to a general rule, and a variation of the standing orders in the case of varkas land, of which the circumstances are exceptional, is not a reversal of the general policy.

2. The necessity of treating varkas exceptionally has been established by facts, and is affirmed by officers of great local experience who are themselves among the advocates of the general policy of non-interference and whose advice the Governor in Council is unable to disregard.

3. It is proposed to make an exception to the general rule in the case of three districts only and in these districts only with regard to the peculiar kind of land classed as varkas. This land, though technically occupied, is really forest rather than cultivated land and should never have been brought within the scope of rules properly applicable to the latter. It is covered with valuable trees hitherto reserved, the destruction of which would cause a heavy loss to the State; and it is simply proposed to maintain the reservation, and manage the trees through the Forest Department for the benefit of the public revenues. There will be no stricter surveillance or greater interference on the part of the Forest Department than there has been in the past.

4. What is required is that in varkas lands the Forest Department shall not be bound to cut its reserved timber as soon as possible and to withdraw its interference which is the general rule, but should be empowered to manage the reserved trees, principally teak, to the best advantage, obtaining successive growths by coppicing, and exercising continuous control. In the special circumstances of varkas lands this would not appear necessarily to involve annoyance to the occupants. (G. R. No. 3462, 5th May 1883, R. D.)

Memo. from the Commissioner, C. D., states that in paragraph 6 of Government Resolution No. 4565, dated 13th July 1882, on the forest settlement of the Sátára District, Government direct that the plan of selling to holders of occupied numbers, which are not wanted and never will be required for inclusion in reserved forests, the teak trees growing in those numbers, should be adopted; and enquires whether he is to understand from this order that a notification should be issued informing the owners or holders of such lands that they are at liberty to purchase these trees if they should wish to do so; the Collector states that he sees no objection to the issue of a notice; the Commissioner stating that special orders are necessary for the sale of the trees; making remarks and suggestions; and submitting for approval a form of register of the tree settlement of all non-forest lands.

* Cf. B. H. C. P. J. for 1886, p. 263.

Resolution.—By Resolution No. 3462, dated the 5th May 1883, a special rule has been sanctioned for the preservation of reserved trees in certain exceptional areas below the gháts. If there are exceptional areas in other districts in which the public interests call for a similar special rule, their cases will be considered as they are submitted.

2. This special rule and the demarcation of forests in progress will obviate all danger of the destruction of forests on water-sheds and mountain slopes which is urged as a reason for not disposing of the trees in occupied numbers to the occupants.

3. The Government trees in numbers which have been registered for future inclusion in forests should not be disposed of, and the Collector has full discretion not to grant the right of occupancy of numbers which contain valuable trees. The orders however in Resolution No. 4565 of July 13th, 1882, paragraph 6, relate to the sale to the occupants of reserved trees in occupied numbers which are not wanted for inclusion in forests. In regard to these the policy of Government is that stated by the Commissioner, C. D.

4. As the demarcation and settlement of forests is now well advanced, it is expedient, as a general rule, that the sale of the trees to the occupants should follow on the completion of the settlement. The area of forest will then have been finally determined, and the trees on occupied numbers not included or to be included in forests should pass into the charge of the Collector, who should offer the whole of the trees on each number to the occupant at a fair upset price. The procedure suggested by the Survey and Settlement Commissioner should be followed, viz., that "the option of purchasing at that price should be continued to the cultivator for a period of, say, two years, in order that, if not possessed of the necessary funds at once, he may try to scrape the amount together. Lists showing all the numbers, the reserved trees in which have not been sold outright and stating the upset price of the trees, should be hung up in the chávdi of the village, so that there may be no chance of any misunderstanding." If the occupant finally declines to purchase, the reserved trees should be cut and removed by the Forest Department.

5. There will be no necessity of a separate register if every sale out and out of reserved kinds of trees to the occupant is communicated by official order of the Mámlatdár to the village accountant, who can record the fact with number and date of order in the column of remarks in the village Register (Hope's Form No. 1). (G. R. No. 3906, 22nd May 1883, R. D.)

Revenue officers cannot assist Superior Holder to recover on agreement more than is leviable by law.

Memo. by the Acting L. R. :—1. A Jághirdár obtained agreements from his tenants binding them to pay as Local Fund cess sums in excess of the Local Fund actually payable by them in respect of their holdings.

"2. He filed suits on these agreements, and the Subordinate Judge decreed his claim thereon.

"The Jághirdár petitioned the Collector for an order to enable him to obtain the assistance of Revenue officers in recovering these claims.

"3. The Collector considered that the agreement, on which the Jághirdár insisted was void under Section 24 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872), and that the Subordinate Judge's decision was therefore wrong.

"4. No doubt, under Bombay Act III of 1869, Section 8, the right of the Jághirdár to make such recoveries as arrears of land-revenue with the assistance of Revenue officers is strictly limited, in the case of each tenant, to the amount leviable by law as Local Fund cess in respect of that tenant's holding.

"The Act gives the special power and privilege, and defines the limits to their exercise. It would, therefore, be illegal for a Revenue officer to assist the Jághirdár in recovering more than that Act authorises by the special procedure of the Bombay Land Revenue Code (Sections 86 and 87 of Bombay Act V of 1879).

"5. Such contracts would not extend the powers of Revenue officers to give their assistance for recovery. The Jághirdár, therefore, could not enforce such contracts without recourse to the Civil Courts.

"6. But there is nothing in Section 8 of Bombay Act III of 1869, which makes it unlawful for any one to pay more or to contract to pay more than the law would oblige him to pay, or more than could be recovered by the special summary procedure there prescribed.

"8. If there were any room for doubt as to the lawfulness of the object, the only way that the question could be raised would be by an appeal made by the tenants themselves. But there is clearly nothing unlawful in an undertaking to pay money. Possibly a tenant might raise the question whether there was any consideration for such an agreement. The Court would then probably consider that the mere mention of the Local Fund cess as the nominal reason for the addition to the rent, would not materially distinguish the case from that of an ordinary agreement to pay so much rent in a lump sum without distinguishing or specifying the items. The contract might be successfully impugned of course, if undue influence, misrepresentation or coercion were shown. Such objection would have to be taken by the tenant in Court. But if the tenants have entered into the contract with their eyes open, there is nothing to prevent the plaintiff from enforcing the contract in a Civil Court, although the contract would, by no means, entitle him to recover from his tenants, as Local Fund cess, with the assistance of Revenue officers, more than he could recover under the Act (Bombay Act III of 1869, Section 8) without such contract." (G. R. No. 4013 of 3rd June 1889, R. D.)

RULES UNDER THE LAND ACQUISITION ACT, 1870.*

The following Rules prescribed by His Excellency <sup>(B. G. G., 1873, p. 226.)</sup> the Governor in Council under section 59 of the Land Acquisition Act X of 1870, together with the instructions laid down for the administration of the Act, are published for general information:—†

1. † Whenever it shall appear to the Collector Government revenue, desirable that the Government &c., if remitted in compensation to be deducted from award. revenue or haks of any kind shall be remitted in payment or part-payment of the compensation to be awarded for land taken under this Act, he shall estimate the value of such revenue or haks, and deduct it from the estimated compensation to be awarded to the owner of the land.

2. If the land has been surveyed and assessed to the land revenue under the provisions of Act I of 1865, or when it bears an assessment according to existing practice, the value of the Government claims on such land shall be calculated at not less than twenty-five times the survey assessment; but houses, trees, crops, wells and improvements shall be estimated separately on the best information available to the Collector.

3. When the land to be taken under this Act has not been so surveyed and assessed under Act I of 1865, or does not bear an assessment

* Local Funds and Cantonment-Funds are not public revenues within the meaning of the proviso of section 6 of Act X of 1870. (G. R. 255 of 14th January 1882 and 1079 of 16th February 1882) Acts relating to the acquisition of lands for public purposes must be construed strictly in favor of the subject. (12 B. H. C. Reports, 250.)

† These rules are published as those actually in use. To give them validity under section 59 of the Act the sanction of the Governor General in Council would have been necessary.

‡ (a) Redemption of land tax is not permissible under the orders of the Government of India. (G. R. 1860, dated 29th February 1884, R. D.)

(b) When land is taken up under the Land Acquisition Act for a Municipality or Company, "such Municipality or Company should be held liable for the revenue, but might be allowed to compound for it." (G. R. 4390, dated 2nd June 1884, R. D.)

(c) Reduction of judi in cases of acquisition under the Act.

RESOLUTION.—The case seems to stand thus:—

An Inámdár was owner of the entire profits of the land taken up, except the judi.

If he received compensation equal to the capitalized entire profits, he was entitled to no reduction of the judi thereon.

If he received compensation equal to the capitalized profits less the judi thereon, he was entitled to a reduction equal to the judi thereon.

If he gave up the land without compensation he was no longer liable for the judi thereon, and was entitled to a reduction equal to the judi thereon.

In the 2nd and 3rd case Government would have a claim to receive the judi on the land or its capitalized value from the party to whom the land is transferred.

In any case Government should clearly not be mulcted in the portion of the assessment which they did not receive and which belonged to the inámdár.

2. The case of service lands is different. There the assessment is what Government allowed to the holder in return for service, and it reverts to Government when he relinquishes the land. (G. R. 4547, 6th June 1885, R. D.)

according to existing practice, the Collector shall proceed to assess it on the best information he can procure, and the value of the Government claims on such lands shall be calculated at not less than twenty-five times the assessment fixed by the Collector, with the approval of the Revenue Commissioner.

4. When making an award of compensation to be given under section 42 of Act X of 1870, the Collector or Court shall record separately the compensation to be granted under the first clause of section 24 of the Act, which concerns the market value of the land and the portion of compensation to be granted under the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th clauses of that section.

Compensation how to be recorded.

5. The procedure required for a reference under section 15 shall be applicable to a reference under section 43.

Procedure when temporary occupation is required.

6. When the amount of compensation to be awarded under section 43 (for temporary occupation of land) has been fixed, and there is a dispute as to the division of the amount among the persons interested, the Collector shall refer such dispute to the Court for decision, and the procedure prescribed by section 39 shall be applicable to such reference.

Reference if dispute as to apportionment.

7. Any informality in the proceedings of the Collector or Court under this Act shall not vitiate the award, unless the interests of any party or parties are injuriously affected thereby.

Informalities in proceedings.

1. The first part of Act X of 1870 is concerned principally with definitions, among which the only one to which it is necessary to direct special notice is that of the expression "Collector." This includes "any officer specially appointed by the Local Government to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act," but no provision is made in the Act for the delegation by the Collector of any of his powers to a Deputy or Assistant Collector; no such delegation is lawful.

Collector cannot delegate his powers under the Act.

2. Rules for taking up land for Guaranteed Railways were issued by the Government of India in their Circular No. 55 of 29th June 1861 as modified by No. 27 of 27th September 1869 (Appendix H). The applications for this land will be forwarded by the Railway Companies to the Consulting Engineer for Railways, who will, when necessary, submit them for the orders of Government.

When land required for Guaranteed Railways.

3. The Rules for taking up land for State Railways are contained in Government of India's Circular No. 10, dated 25th August 1871 (Appendix K).* Land for this purpose will also be applied for through the Consulting Engineer for Railways, unless otherwise ordered.

4. When land is required for public purposes in any other case, the officer requiring it should, in the first instance, consult the Collector of the district, and obtain from him the fullest possible information as to the probable cost of the land per acre or otherwise, together with the value of buildings, &c., situated on the property, and for which compensation will have to be paid. Upon the information thus obtained, an estimate should be framed by the said officer, and submitted through the proper channel for sanction. When sanction to an estimate, framed as above directed, has been obtained, the said officer should commit the matter to the Revenue officer, who will take the necessary preliminary action for the appropriation of the land under the Act, or for its acquisition by private negotiation, subject to the instructions which he may receive from the Revenue authorities to whom he is subordinate.

The sanction will be communicated by Government to the chief officer of the department through which the reference has been made, and also to the Commissioner, and Controller of Public Works Accounts, or the Accountant General, as the case may be; and the Government order will also state against what particular item of the budget the expenditure is to be charged.

5. When the estimate originally framed and sanctioned is likely, when the land comes to be acquired, to be materially exceeded, the Revenue officer shall refer the matter again to the officer concerned to ascertain whether the object sought cannot be otherwise secured, either by obtaining some other plot of land in lieu of that originally proposed for acquisition, or in some other manner. When such a reference is made, the said officer should, in personal communication with the Revenue officer, consider the case, and, if it is found impossible to obtain the land required without materially exceeding the original estimate, should submit a revised estimate for sanction.

(Do. do.)

6. Whenever it is thought necessary or expedient that steps should be taken for the acquisition of the land under the Act, an application to that effect should be submitted, with the reasons for the same, by the Collector, through the ordinary channel, to Government in the Revenue Department.*

7. Sections 4 and 5 lay down certain rules, under which a preliminary investigation is to be made into the condition and circumstances of lands which the Local Government may consider likely to be needed for any public purpose. It is to be observed that the preliminary investigation provided for by these sections of the Act will not be, in all cases, necessary. In ordinary cases, the demarcation and measurement required by section 8 of the Act will answer all the purposes which the provisions of sections 4 and 5 are designed to serve under peculiar circumstances. Should any such circumstances exist, they should be reported to Government by the Collector, or head of the department for the use of which the land is required, with a view to the publication of a notification under section 4; and, upon such publication, the following Rules will be observed in carrying out the provisions of the sections under notice.

8. The conduct of the preliminary investigation will, unless otherwise specially ordered, fall into the hands of the chief local representative of the particular department or company for the use of which it is proposed to occupy the land. In the case of lands required for local or municipal purposes, the Collector of the district, or one of his Assistants or Deputies, is to be deemed the representative of the municipality or local fund committee.

9. The officer entrusted with the preliminary investigation should, in the first instance, prepare a draft notification, in Form A., for issue under section 4 of the Act, and submit the same to Government through the Collector.

10. After publication of the notification in the Government Gazette, due notice of the substance of such a notification will be publicly given by the Collector at convenient places in the locality, and the Collector must invariably apprise the officer entrusted with the preliminary investigation of the issue of the public notice prescribed by section 4. It is illegal for such officer to commence his investigation until he is certified of such issue of the notice.

11. After having been informed of the issue of the public notice from the Collector, the officer entrusted with the preliminary investigation will proceed to examine the land according to the provisions of section 4, and to prepare a map or plan of the land in accordance with prescribed rules, and make it over to the Collector, who shall prepare the draft declaration under section 6. He will take care to tender payment for all damage under section 5.

* When land has to be taken up for public purposes either by private arrangements or under the Land Acquisition Act, the Collector or other officer or department requiring it should invariably report the probable amount of compensation which will have to be paid for it and the source from which it is proposed to meet the charge. The draft notification to be published under the Act should be prepared in strict accordance, as far as possible, with the form of declaration given in Appendix B to the rules prescribed under the Act (G. R. No. 615, 24th January 1883, R. D.)

12. The investigation to be made by the Collector in cases referred to him under section 5 is a summary one. He must be guided by the result of a local inquiry, which he is at liberty to make either in person or by deputy. He will himself, however, be held responsible for the award made by him, and if the claim be for any sum exceeding Rs. 300, the enquiry should be conducted by an Assistant or Deputy Collector, but the award must be made by the Collector himself.

13. When no preliminary investigation is considered necessary under section 4, the Collector, on being applied to by the Consulting Engineer for Railways or other responsible executive officer, and on being furnished with the plan of the land required, and other requisite particulars, shall prepare the draft declaration for submission to Government.

(Notn. No. 1133, B. G. G., 1879, Pt. I., p. 279.)

14. Although the particular land to be acquired must be described in the declaration to be made under section 6, the law does not require that its precise boundaries or area should be exactly specified. The declaration should be in the form of Appendix B., and should be so generally worded that no impediment may afterwards arise from its terms to the appropriation of all the land that can possibly be required. In other respects the declaration should be as precise, and should contain as accurate a specification of the boundaries, as possible. The declaration will be issued by Government in the Revenue Department.

(Notn. No. 1501, B. G. G., 1879, Pt. I., p. 402.)

15. When issuing the declaration, Government will at the same time direct the Collector or one of his Assistants to take order for the acquisition of the land. The Collector, in making his report, should mention the name of the Assistant he wishes to take order under section 7.

(Notn. No. 1133, B. G. G., 1879, Pt. I., p. 279.)

16. After the issue of the declaration, the officer who was entrusted with the preliminary investigation, or, in case no such investigation shall have been held, some officer on behalf of the department or company for which the land is required, such department, not being the Revenue Department, shall, if it has not already been done, mark out the boundaries of the land, and furnish the Collector with a plan or map of it, prepared according to rule. The Demarcation and departmental map and preparation of surveyor's plans, when land is required for other than the Revenue Department.

Collector will then proceed to have the plan carefully tested by a competent surveyor, and, in case of any error or discrepancy being apparent, shall correct it.

17. If the land be required for the Revenue Department, the necessary demarcation and the preparation of the map will be carried out by an officer deputed for the purpose by the Collector.

Demarcation and departmental map, and preparation of surveyor's plans when land is for the Revenue Department.

18. When the Collector or other officer vested with the necessary powers under section 3 shall have satisfied himself that the plan is correct, he will proceed to ascertain the rates of rent paid, and will record them, and will appraise the value of the land, houses, wells, trees, or crops, or improvements upon it. The Collector may delegate to an Assistant or Deputy Collector the conduct of the inquiry contemplated in this paragraph.

Surveyor's work to be tested, and rates of rent, &c., to be ascertained.

19. As soon as the operations prescribed by the last preceding instruction have been completed, the notices described in section 9 should be issued and subsequent proceedings taken in accordance with the law. Forms of notice will be found in Appendices C and D. A form of requisition under section 10 is given in Appendix E.

Issue of notices under section 9, and their form.

20. The Collector's attention is drawn to the 4th rule of the rules having the force of law, published in Government Gazette dated 13th March 1873, which directs the Court to make a separate finding, under the first head of section 24, for the calculation of the additional compensation.

Additional compensation.

21. An award made by a Collector cannot, if it is made in accordance with the provisions of the law, be subsequently amended by any authority. Officers should, therefore, be most careful before making an award, to take all precautions to avoid error or oversight.

* Awards to be made with due caution.

22. Section 16 empowers the Collector, or other officer vested under section 3, to take possession of the land as soon as he has made an award or a reference to the Court, and the Act empowers no one else to do so. It is to be distinctly understood that occupation of such land by any other officer or person, without written authority from the Collector, is illegal, and that the limitation prescribed by the latter clause of section 58 will not apply to any suit that may be instituted against the offender. When the land has been taken up, possession should be given by the Collector to an officer nominated, in writing, to receive it by the Railway Company, Executive Engineer, or other authority on whose behalf the application was originally made, and to no other person.

Taking possession under section 16.

*Memo. by L. R. :—A person who, when land is being acquired under Act X of 1870, says that the land is his, but puts in no claim for compensation for it, surrenders any right he may have in the land and is no longer 'a person making a claim in respect thereof.' The Collector without deciding upon the merits of such person's alleged title should, I think, proceed with the inquiry as if that person had not appeared at all. (G. R. No. 6971, 30th September 1886, B. D.)

23. In cases of urgency, section 17 allows occupation by the Collector, under special orders from the Local Government, before award or reference. But the Collector must offer compensation for crops and trees on such land. It is only necessary, in regard to this section, to notice that it applies to "waste and arable" land only, and not to land occupied by roads, tanks, buildings, &c.

24. Sections 18 to 36 regulate the procedure to be adopted by the Court in the investigation of cases referred by the Collector. The only sections among them, other than sections 24 and 25 already referred to, which concern the Collector, are sections 18, 19 and 35, and their provisions call for no special remark, except that the assessor to be nominated by the Collector under section 19 should be, as a rule, an officer of Government specially selected for that purpose.

25. The rules for payment are contained in sections 40 to 42. The Collector is personally responsible for the disbursement of the amount as soon as it falls due, under the provisions of these sections. If the amount to be disbursed is likely to exceed the funds at the Collector's command, he should take timely steps for obtaining, in accordance with departmental instructions, the necessary supply of money before the date on which the payment becomes due; but payment must, in any case, be made when due.*

* Memo. by L. R.:—"Section 40 of Act X of 1870 directs that 'payments of the compensation shall be made by the Collector according to the award to the persons named therein.' There is no provision for the payment of the money into Court and I think it would be useless to ask the Court to take charge of it.

"2. If the persons entitled to compensation abstain from applying to the Collector for it till the date of determining the amount of the compensation (see Act XV of 1877, Schedule 11, Article 17), their claim to it will be extinguished, but until the expiry of that period they can claim it at any time. It is not competent to the Collector or to Government by notice or otherwise to extinguish their claim before the expiry of the period of limitation.

The Collector need not trouble to issue any further notice to the parties, and as a rule it is unnecessary that he should issue a notice at all. (G. R. No. 227 of 10th January 1884, R. D.)

Letter from Accountant General.—The orders of the Government of India contained in G. R. R. D. No. 5518, dated 4th August 1886, require that compensation should be paid into the Government Treasury as revenue deposits after a year from the award, and be then treated in the same manner as other revenue deposits, being credited to Government only if unclaimed within three years. Even after being credited to Government payment may be made with the permission of the Accountant General (C. A. Code, ch. XIV, para. 12). Resolution.—The orders of the Government of India may be carried out. (G. R. No. 2753, 4th May 1887, R. D.)

26. When the lands have been held heretofore free of rent in cash or kind, or on a quit-rent, on condition of the performance of some public service, the Collector should, if necessary, refer the matter to the Revenue Commissioner, in view to obtain instructions for the due representation, before the Court making the award, of the Government interest involved in the apportionment of the compensation in respect to its lien, for the purposes of the public service.

27. The Collector must disburse all costs of measurement under section 8. Disbursement of costs under section 8; and Costs when incurred under sections 4 and 5 will be disbursed by the officer entrusted with the preliminary investigation.

28. The Act does not authorise the Collector, whether the award shall have been made by himself or by the Court, to make any portion of the payment in the form of an abatement of the Government revenue; but by rules passed by Government, and having the force of law, provision has been made to that effect, and it will be the duty of the Collector, before proceeding to determine the amount of compensation to be allowed, to decide, after careful consideration, whether any portion of the payment should or should not be made in the form of such abatement, and to pay strict attention to those rules which will be found in Government Gazette dated 13th March 1873. He will be guided in his decision by the principle laid down in the next succeeding paragraph, and, in cases referred by him to the Civil Court for adjudication, he shall communicate his decision on this point to the Court, which is bound, under the rules, to give effect to it.

29. When the land may be acquired for Government, the account to which the compensation money may be debited should also be charged with the value of the Government revenue abated, and such amount should be credited per contra under the head of land revenue.

30. When land is acquired for municipalities and companies, they will be required, in cases when payment of compensation may have been made, partly or wholly by an abatement of revenue, to pay to Government, in addition to the cash compensation awarded to persons interested in the land, the value of the abatement of Government revenue made for such land as recorded in the award calculated at not less than 25 years' purchase.

31. The attention of Collectors is called to the provisions of section 42, by which an additional compensation of fifteen per cent. on the market value, not the total award, is to be paid to the owners of the land occupied.

32. Sections 43 to 45 prescribe the procedure to be followed in procuring temporary occupation of land. All the procedure required by paragraph 13 of the instructions will apply. Generally, also, the same procedure will apply as in cases of land taken permanently.

Temporary occupation of land under sections 43 to 45.

33. Sections 46 to 50, making special provision for the terms on which Government will take up lands for the use of companies, need no particular comment. The officer of any company for whom Government may undertake to acquire land will, when authorised under section 4, proceed according to the instructions already given. Under section 50, the agreement must appear in the Gazette of India as well as in the Local Official Gazette.

Acquisition of land for companies under sections 46 to 50.

34. The award of the Collector under section 54 must be made, as under section 5, on a summary inquiry, but a record should be kept:—the Collector's order is final.

Awards under section 54 made on summary inquiry.

35. When the case has been appealed, it will be submitted with Statement F., and will show the award as finally determined. And as soon as the time for an appeal has passed, the Collector shall forward to Government the information contained in Appendix G.

Tabular returns.

36. Whenever a special officer is deputed for taking up lands for public purposes, as for a railway, canal, or road, he will be supplied with funds by the Controller of Public Works Accounts, by means of credit orders, and he will render to that officer monthly accounts of expenditure, as prescribed for a civil disbursing officer. In all other cases, the Collector will make the necessary disbursement from his general treasury balance, and will enter the expenditure, in his cash account, under the head to which it is properly debitable, for adjustment by the Accountant General.

Disbursement* how to be made, and bills to be submitted.

37. Alienations of land under this Act should be carefully noted in the village maps and registers.

Alienations to be noted in General Register (A).

No registration of receipts for money paid under awards necessary.

38. Receipts for money paid under awards under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, do not need to be registered †

* For procedure to be observed in the payment of compensation for land taken up under the Land Acquisition Act see note at end of this part, infra p. 101.

† Receipts for money paid for land acquired by private agreement are compulsorily registrable when the amount of consideration is one hundred rupees or upwards. In such cases clause (c) of section 17 of Act III of 1877 is applicable because the receipts are not mere receipts for money. They are the only written evidence of the agreement and they show that the money is received on account of the assignment of the payees' right, title and interest in the property concerned. (G. R. 933, dated 31st January 1885, R. D.). The fees for registration of receipts in the case of lands purchased by agreement for forests should be paid out of the sum sanctioned by Government for expenditure on the taking up of such lands. (G. R. 5175, dated 24th June 1885, R.D.)

(Memo. by Acting L. R.)—"2. In all cases under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, an award must be drawn up.

"If the amount of compensation is settled by the agreement of the persons interested, the Collector must make the award under his hand for the same.

"The award must then be filed in the Collector's office (section 14 of X of 1870), but no stamp is chargeable on the original, and no fee is chargeable on a copy thereof supplied to the parties claiming under it (section 57 of X of 1870), and registration is unnecessary (section 17 (i) of III of 1877).

"Such award is conclusive evidence not only of the value of the land and the amount of compensation allowed for the same (section 14 of X of 1870), but also of any apportionment agreed to by the persons interested (section 37). If the parties interested do not agree, either as to the amount or apportionment, a reference to the District Court must follow, and the award of that, or of the Appellate, Court is then such conclusive evidence.

"3. It follows that any other evidence would be inconclusive and secondary on these points.

"4. But the title to the land passes not by the award, but by virtue of proceedings taken in accordance with the Act. If all the preliminaries required have been observed, the land vests absolutely in Government (section 16 of X of 1870),

(a) on the making of an award on agreement, or

(b) on reference to the Court in case of disagreement, or

(c) within fifteen days of the notice in cases of urgency, if the land be waste or arable, even prior to award or reference, if the Local Government so direct (section 17), and the Collector is then entitled to take possession (section 16), unless under section 41 he allows any occupants thereof to remain in possession, until it is required.

"5. There is no necessity for registration of any receipt on payment. The payment of compensation is not consideration on account of the creation, declaration, assignment, limitation or extinction of a right, title or interest. The payee's right, title and interest are extinguished by the operation of the law, and the payment is not consideration for the extinction of title, but compensation fixed by an award for losses of various kinds sustained in consequence of the compulsory acquisition. The title is extinguished or assigned not because of the payment received, but because of the exercise of statutory powers.

"6. A receipt, moreover, if taken, would without registration be evidence admissible to prove the satisfaction of all claims between the parties, and the actual payment of money is a fact always susceptible of proof by oral evidence without production of a written or registered acknowledgment. [See paragraph 2 of Special Instructions.]

Rules for taking up Land for Railway purposes (by the Government of India), issued 29th June 1861.

1. Land required for Railway purposes may be divided into 4 classes—A., B., C., and D. First, Class A.—Land which a Railway Company receives free of charge, under the contract with the Government for permanent occupation. Second, Class B.—Land also provided free of cost, but only for temporary occupation. Third, Class C.—Land which the Railway Company has to provide at its own cost. Fourth, Class D.—Land which does not come directly into the possession of the Railway Company at all.

2. Class A. will comprise the land acquired for the permanent works of a Railway, including the road with its bridges, &c., and all stations, workshops, permanent storehouses, and the like, necessary for the line when opened, and which under the contracts is to be provided by Government, free of cost, to the Railway Companies. The occupation of this land by a Railway Company will be so far permanent that it will only cease when their contract is terminated or surrendered, and the whole lapses to Government. It is all provided free of charge.

3. Class B. will contain land essential for the execution of the permanent works of a Railway, but not required after the completion of the line in part or in whole. It also is provided free of charge—such as land for spoil banks, extra excavation to make banks, for river diversion, and for the storage of Railway materials held in stock by the Railway Company pending the construction of the line or their despatch to the works;* the occupation of this class of land will be temporary. On its restoration to the Government, the proper time for which will be settled in each case between the Railway Officers and the Consulting Engineer; it will be for the Revenue Officers to dispose of it to the best advantage of Government.

4. Class C. will contain the land which a Railway Company has to provide at its own cost. This is the land which is required for the provision or preparation of materials; for purposes contingent on the actual execution for the works on the line, or for other miscellaneous objects, which the Government recognizes as falling legitimately within the scope of the Railway Company's operations, though not giving the Company a claim to the provision of land free of charge. As a Railway Company is bound to pay for the construction of all works out of the Capital, receiving only from Government, without charge, the land on which the works stand, the provision of all materials, and the means of facilitating the execution of all works, are to be at the cost of the Railway Company.† It is proper to bear in mind, in fixing the rent, that this land will in part deteriorate by the use to which it is put and in part will not so deteriorate. In all cases, however, it will be most convenient to deal with the land, in the first instance, in the same manner. It will be taken possession of by Government, and handed over to the Railway Company for occupation at a fair rental. When the necessity for occupation ceases, the land will be given up again to Government by the Railway Company, the proper time for this being determined, as under Class B., by the Railway Officers and Consulting Engineer.

5. Class D. will contain that land which, being required in consequence of the works of a Railway, still does not come directly into the occupation of the Railway Company; it will be provided free of charge. It will be exclusively land for roads—either new roads leading to Railway stations, or to permanent storeyards or workshops, detached from the main works, diversions, or changes or old roads made necessary by Railway works.

* This last sort of land is allowed free under the Right Honourable the Secretary of State's letter No. 25 of 30th November 1858.

† The following words were also in the original rules:—

"In this class, therefore, will fall all land for brick-making, quarrying, ballast<sup>(1)</sup> for houses, for persons employed on the work, &c., so also land for houses for Engine-drivers, and the like on the line when opened, and for other similar purposes, will come under Class C."

But H. M.'s Secretary of State for India thought that any particularization in the rule might raise questions as to the power of Government to alter or vary the terms of the contract (a power which the Government has no intention of claiming). It has, therefore, been thought best to give these words in a note, simply for the guidance of the officers of Government and parties interested, as to the construction which Government puts on the contract in regard to certain points of frequent practical application.

6. Inconvenience is likely to arise if Railway Companies are permitted to hold land on their own account or otherwise than as above explained. By causing them to rent from the Government all land to which they are not entitled free, in the manner above explained, simplicity in the tenure of their property will be secured, which will be a matter of importance at a future time when the Railway may be transferred to Government. The determination of the value to be paid by the Government for any land not included in Class A., which might be held by a Railway Company, would certainly be, in such an event, a great embarrassment.

7. Houses, trees, tanks, or other property on land which is not provided free of charge, and for which special payment or compensation is necessary, will be paid for at once by the Railway Company. In the case of land provided free of charge, the materials, &c., derived from the "clearance" of the surface, which then will be at the expense of Government, will be disposed of by the Revenue Officers to the best advantage.

8. All land required for a line of Railway will be applied for in continuous portions; the plans will be drawn to a scale of 150 feet to the inch, and the measurement and areas will be recorded in accordance with the fiscal divisions of villages, estates, or mauzas, parganas, and zillas, in a schedule, of which a form is annexed, showing in detail the several classes to which the land belongs.

9. The several classes of lands will be coloured pink, yellow, purple and green, respectively, in the plans, and the exact purpose to which each parcel of land is to be devoted will be noticed in the schedule.

10. Detached portions of land should be referred to some fixed point on one of the main sheets, with such distances and compass or other bearing as will enable the land to be identified at once. A corresponding entry should also be made on the main sheet to draw attention to the detached portion.

11. The general correctness of the plans and schedules of the Railway Engineers being attested by the Consulting Engineer to Government, the application will be forwarded to, and dealt with as may be necessary by, the Revenue authorities under the orders of the Local Government. The Revenue Officers are to be held strictly responsible for the regular adjustment, by Railway Companies, of all charges on account of land to be determined in the manner above explained.

12. A complete set of land plans should be recorded in the chief Engineer's Office of each Railway, and a copy forwarded to the Consulting Engineer to Government, by whom a duplicate will be given to the Revenue Board, which, in turn, will supply Collectors of districts with transcripts of parts included in their respective zillas. When it may be found expedient, in order to expedite the making over of the land, to employ a special Land Commissioner for this duty, the Railway Engineers should supply an additional copy of the land plan for the use of the Land Commissioner.

13. The Consulting Engineer to Government and local Revenue authorities will, respectively, be held responsible for the punctual fulfilment of the foregoing orders in the several departments, and for the careful record of plans in their respective offices.

14. All contemplated changes in the land in possession of a Railway Company should be promptly reported by the Railway Agent to the Consulting Engineer to Government, who will notify the same to the Local Government. It will be for the latter to see that the necessary steps are taken by the Revenue authorities for entering such changes in their records, and for carrying out all further proceedings that are requisite on such an occurrence.

15. It will be necessary for the Local Government to see that a correct register and record of title of all Railway lands is maintained, for the whole of such lands will one day revert to the Crown. Also, that all rents or payments for clearances, &c., chargeable on behalf of Government against the Railway Company are duly realized.

16. It is essential that there should be for each Railway one set of plans in a regular sequence to show all the land, and that the plans of each Railway Company's estate after they have once been prepared, should constantly be corrected, and always be maintained complete.

CIRCULAR NO. VIII RAILWAY, GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, 22ND APRIL 1890.

RESOLUTION.—In a recent case it was found that land had been taken up by the Civil authorities for a Company's railway without the correctness of the plans and schedules having been first attested by the responsible Consulting Engineer, as required in paragraph 11 of the Circular herein read, under a misapprehension that the rules contained in this Circular were intended to apply to Guaranteed Railways only.

2. As any departure from the authorised procedure for the acquisition of land for Railway Companies may cause serious inconvenience and lead to complications, the Government of India desires to invite particular attention to the Circular which is now republished for general information; and, in order to remove any doubts on the subject, is pleased to rule that the provisions of the Circular shall apply to all railways constructed by Companies, whether Guaranteed, Assisted or Private, for which the land is acquired under the orders of Government.

3. The Government of India desires that the land plans should be prepared on a scale of 400 feet to the inch, or, where a larger scale is required, 100 feet to the inch, instead of on the scale of 150 feet to the inch, as contemplated in paragraph 8 of the Circular now republished and also prescribed in Public Works Department Circular No. XV Railway, dated 8th June 1882, which is hereby cancelled.

4. It will be incumbent on Consulting Engineers to endeavour to avoid the emplacement of the railway upon land the acquisition of which will entail either unnecessary expenditure on Government, or annoyance to the owners, if the object sought can be equally well attained by a slight alteration of the alignment, or in some other manner.
The Consulting Engineers to Government and the local Revenue authorities will be held responsible that, in taking up land, the fullest consideration is given both to the convenience of the proprietors and the interests of Government. (Circulated by G. R. 1297 of 29th May 1890, P. W. D., Railway).

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.
(RAILWAY.)

(Modifying the Rules issued in Circular No. 55 of 29th June 1861.)

RENT FOR CLASS C. LANDS.

1. The Government of Bombay represents that the rules laid down by the Government of India, as to the mode in which the rents for C. Lands should be calculated, will, if acted upon, lead to some loss of Government money, and recommends that rent should not, in all cases, be determined by the same rule.

2. The Bombay Government is of opinion that, for Government land leased for house building, a fixed rent, irrespective of the classification of the soil and district, or locality, should be charged, and that, where money has been paid for the surrender of a lease, 5 per cent. on the amount of compensation should be added to the rent.

3. For land taken up for houses, from private owners, 5 per cent. per annum on the purchase-money is considered by the Bombay Government to be a fair arrangement.

4. For land required for ballast pits, quarries, &c., the Government of Bombay thinks that the Company should be called upon to pay the full amount spent for the acquisition of the property, plus a nominal yearly rent during occupation, the proceeds from the sale of the land, when surrendered, being credited to the Company. For Government land, a yearly rent should be charged to cover deterioration, in addition to the cost of resumption, if any. The Chief Commissioner of Oudh also points out that any possible deterioration of the C. Lands, by reason of the purposes to which they may be put, does not appear to have been provided for in the rules last issued. This was referred to in the Circular Orders of 1861, on the subject of Railway lands, and was not provided for in the last rules through inadvertence.

5. The references may be met by an additional rule, and the following rules should accordingly be promulgated in supersession of those issued with Circular No. 2 R. of 1869:—

pany, shall be fixed at 5 per cent. on the outlay incurred by Government in taking up the land plus any revenue or rent payable to Government in respect of the said land.

II.—But in the case of land already belonging to, and in the occupation of the Government, the rent shall be fixed at 5 per cent. on the value of the land as estimated by the Collector.

III.—In the event of the land being required for purposes through which its letting value will be diminished, the Railway Company, on relinquishing it, shall pay, in addition to any rent paid during the occupation of the land under the previous rules, the estimated difference between the actual value of the land when relinquished and the value that the land would have had if the rent remained at the amount that was paid during the occupancy of the Company.

IV.—When land presented in free gift by a private individual for the purposes of a Railway is made over to a guaranteed Railway Company in Class C., no rent shall be charged by Government beyond the jamá or revenue previously paid to Government for the land.

6. With reference to Rule III., it is observed that the real value of the land to the Government, before it was handed over to the Company, would be properly estimated on the basis of the rent charged for it. But when land has been actually paid for by the Company already, as in Bombay, no re-opening of the old transaction should take place, and the adjustment can be made when any land is given up.

7. Compensation paid for surrender of a lease, or any other charge, should be considered in fixing the rent. If the land is not in the occupation of the Government, and cannot be transferred to the Company without charge of any sort, it comes under Rule I.

8. It is optional to the Government of Bombay to fix the rent under Rule II at Rs. 5 per acre for agricultural land occupied by houses of the Company's staff, or at any other amount it may deem desirable.

APPENDIX K.

Revised Rules prescribed by the Government of India (Circular No. 7R. of 14th May 1884) for the acquisition of land for State Railways.

(RAILWAY.)

RULES FOR THE ACQUISITION OF LAND FOR STATE RAILWAYS.

I.—The general course of procedure laid down in the Public Works Code, Chapter XV paragraph 92, is to be followed on State Railways.

II.—Railway officers shall not obtain possession of land, whether by purchase, lease, or on simple toleration, except through the proper Revenue Authorities.

III.—Engineers in preparing land plans for submission will divide their applications under two heads, viz :—

(a) Land required permanently or land necessary for the railway when it is opened for public traffic and when the works of construction are finished.—Such lands are the sites of bridges, embankments, cuttings, fences, and other works, the cess or berm introduced for the sake of safety between the limit of the works and the adjacent spoil bank, bazár, or side cutting; roads permanently required, such as those immediately in the neighbourhood of stations, over-bridges, under-bridges, or level crossings on the railway; land or water required for the water-supply; land wanted for the preparation and reception of such materials as are used in maintenance, as ballast pits; land for the permanent diversion of water-courses, all space permanently required at the stations, whether for traffic, storage, workshops, dwellings, or recreation, and also, as a general rule, land required for side cuttings and spoil banks.

(b) Land required temporarily or land necessary to be taken up, but not permanently wanted.—Such land will be for side cuttings and spoil banks, for roads, for access to works while in progress, but which will subsequently be abandoned; for the preparation and reception of materials used in constructing the railway, as brick fields, quarries, ballast pits, or the temporary diversions of streams and highways. The sites of such dwellings as will be occupied only during construction will also come in this class.

IV.—The land to be taken up permanently for the through line of railway will be, in the first instance, sufficient for a double line, so as to allow of a cart road to exist parallel to the railway inside the fence. This road will be useful not only during construction for service purposes, but afterwards for access to the stations, for maintenance purposes, and for stacking materials.

V.—The enclosed sections, which are not intended to be used as a type for fencing, but merely as an illustration showing the amount of land to be taken up, show the widths to be allowed for different purposes, and the relative position of the road, fence, and ditch with reference to the railway. The boundary of the railway land permanently acquired is in every case to be considered as the outside edge of the ditch. Beyond the ditch a clear space or berm of not less than 6 feet must be left free from the spoil bank or side-cutting nearest to the railway, the cutting or bank being sloped off at an angle of not less than 2 to 1 to prevent any encroachment on this berm from the effects of weather. It will be seen from the section that the width of land to be permanently acquired for a line on the 5 feet 6 inch gauge will be for embankments 70 feet, for cuttings 76 feet, in addition to the width required in each case for the bases of the slopes. For a line on the metre gauge the widths will be embankments 64 feet, for cuttings 70 feet, in addition to the slopes.

VI.—Land for side cuttings and spoil banks will, as a rule, be permanently taken up by Government, and subsequently disposed of when no longer required. Estimates will provide and be sanctioned for the full cost of purchase, and should also exhibit the sum which it is estimated may be realized by the ultimate sale of the land.

Embankments under 3 feet in height will only require side cutting on one side of the railway. Slopes of side cutting will be generally 2 to 1 all round, but care must be taken to provide for exceptional cases when a flatter slope may be needed. Similarly, the contents of cuttings under 3 feet high will be laid to spoil on one side only. Side cuttings should not be too deep: a depth of 6 feet may be estimated for in calculating the width of land required for side cuttings. They should be formed into well defined tanks of moderate length; and should not, as a rule, be connected with each other or with adjacent water-courses. Valuable land should not be taken up for side cuttings or for temporary purposes. A sufficient watercourse should be provided at right angles to the centre line of railway for each culvert or bridge, and on either side of this watercourse land will be left clear of the side cuttings sufficient to prevent the water from the river running into the side cuttings. The precaution of leaving land uncut in this manner is necessary to prevent the formation of a dangerous stream parallel to the railway.

VII.—In the neighbourhood of towns or other places where land is above the ordinary value, the width of land to be taken for slopes, fence, &c., must be specially considered to secure economy.

VIII.—All land will be applied for in continuous portions and shown when practicable mile by mile or village by village, on each sheet. The plans will be drawn to a scale of 150 feet to an inch; the centre line of railway will be shown divided into chains of 100 feet, and all dimensions will be figured in feet. The name of each zilla, pargana, and mouzah will be shown on each sheet. On curves the tangential point on the centre line will be marked and the radius of curvature given. The areas in acres, roods, and poles will be recorded in accordance with fiscal divisions in a schedule (form the same as that issued with Circular No. 10 Railway of 1871), showing in detail the class to which the land belongs, and the purpose to which it is to be devoted. Land required permanently will be colored pink; land required for temporary occupation will be colored yellow; although, as pointed out in Rule VI, it will as a rule be acquired by Government permanently.

IX.—Detached portions of land should be referred to some fixed point on one of the main sheets with distances and compass or other bearings, or such reference to the published maps of the neighbourhood as will ensure a ready identification of the land. A corresponding entry should be made on the main sheet to draw attention to the detached plot.

X.—As a general rule, three complete sets of land plans and schedules will suffice for record, viz., one for the Engineer in charge of the railway, one for the local Government or Administration, and one for the Revenue authorities; but should more be required, they will be supplied by the Railway Engineers.

XI.—The general correctness of the plans and schedules submitted by the Railway Engineer in charge being attested by the Engineer-in-Chief or Manager of the State Railway, the application will be forwarded to the Revenue authorities, and will be dealt with by them under the orders of the local Government or Administration.

XII.—The land plans and schedules will be rectified from time to time as changes occur, and local Governments will see that a correct register of all railway lands is maintained.

XIII.—When land is no longer required for the railway, it will be retransferred to the Revenue authorities and disposed of by them. All contemplated changes in the land occupied by a railway should be reported to the local Government; and it will be for the latter to see that the necessary steps are taken by the Revenue authorities for entering such changes in their records and for carrying out all further requisite proceedings.

XIV.—In Native States all land will be obtained through the Political Agent, and the distinction of temporary and permanent need not be observed; but this will not make it the less incumbent on the officials concerned to see that all land not permanently required for the purposes of the railway is restored when no longer wanted, and to keep as complete records of the land retained for railway purposes in Native States as in British territory. Such plans and schedules as the Political Agent may require will be supplied by the Railway Engineers.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, 13th January 1879. -

The following letter from the officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, Public, No. 2—27, dated 4th instant, is published for general information :—

" A case has recently been brought to the notice of the Government of India, in which the Civil authorities had proposed to cut a railway embankment with the object of letting off flood waters, the overflow of which threatened to cause much damage and loss. It seems desirable that district officers should be instructed not to order the destruction of any railway embankment or bridge, or other large work, whether it be the property of the State or of a private company, without first taking the advice of some responsible professional officer. As a rule, the engineering authorities charged with the control of the work concerned should be consulted.

" 2. I am accordingly directed to request that, with the permission of His Excellency the Governor in Council, you will be good enough to cause all Civil officers to be instructed in the sense of these remarks. In any case of difference of opinion respecting the property of the State, the point at issue should, if time permit, be promptly referred to the Government of India for decision."

Government Resolutions on various matters connected with Act X of 1870.Act inapplicable except to acquisition for public purpose.

"Government in their Resolution No. 2337* of 12th June 1869 held that 'the declaration required by the Act could not properly be made with reference to any lands which it is intended to re-convey to individual persons for the erection of buildings for private occupation, as the proposed use does not come within the definition of a public purpose.' They further said: 'the notification should be limited to such lands as may be required for the roads, public buildings and public walks of the proposed new town and the intermediate sites must be left to the disposal of the present owners.'

"2. These same orders, which were quite in accordance with the intention of the legislature, apply equally to the present Act X of 1870. Subsequent references made by Government to the Governments of Bengal and Madras elicited the fact that in those Presidencies also the term 'public purpose' was strictly construed." (G. R. No. 8202 of 17th October 1884, R. D.)

There is no question that the notification under section 4 of Act X of 1870 may describe the locality in which land is likely to be needed in the most general terms, but if it is described by enumeration of villages, it seems advisable that the list of villages should be complete in order that difficulty may not arise in case of a prosecution under section 52 or even on action being taken under section 4, because if certain villages are named, it will be inferred by the Courts that the notification does not extend to others which are not named. (G. R. No. 8880 of 11th November 1884, R. D.)

Result of delay in taking possession under the Act.

Memo. by L. R. :—"By section 54 of Act X of 1870 it is obligatory on Government, when an award has been made by the Collector or a reference directed to the court, to complete the acquisition, and the courts would no doubt hold that the acquisition should be completed within a reasonable time after the amount of compensation has been finally settled by the Collector's award or by the court.

"2. Under section 16 of the Act, the Collector may take possession before the amount of compensation is settled, when a reference has been directed to the court; but this is a provision for cases in which the land is wanted without delay, and section 42 provides that 6 per cent. interest shall be paid from the time of taking possession, if it is taken before the compensation is paid. But where the acquisition is not immediately necessary it may often be to the advantage both of Government and of the owner that the Collector should not take possession till some time after the amount of compensation has been settled, as, for instance, when the owner has crops standing on the land which he wishes to bring to maturity and then remove. It is for this reason, I think, that the Act prescribes no period within which possession must be taken.

"3. But in the case reported by the Collector of Poona the court settled the compensation more than two years ago and it was not to suit the convenience of the owner that the Collector deferred taking possession all this time, but because the Irrigation Department were not in immediate want of the land. The owner knew, however, that the Collector might at any time take possession, and that if he should cultivate it, he would run the risk of losing the fruits of his labour and expense. A prudent owner would under such circumstances refrain from cultivating and hold Government responsible, if they failed to complete the acquisition and pay the compensation awarded by the court within a reasonable time.

"4. Had the owner in this case behaved in this manner and called upon Government from time to time to complete the acquisition, he would, I think, have a good claim for interest on his compensation money, not under section 42 of the Act, but by way of damages. It appears, however, that he has remained silent, and it is stated that he has cultivated the land for some portion of the time and reaped the crops. Whether in the uncertainty which existed as to when the Collector would take possession he was able to realize the full fruits of the soil may be doubted, but the fact that he realized something would go in mitigation of his claim for damages.

"5. I would recommend that the Collector now take possession of the land at once or, if the owner has crops on it at present, as soon as they are removed, and that he tender to the owner simultaneously the amount of compensation awarded by the court; and if the owner persists in claiming interest by way of compensation for the delay that has occurred in completing the acquisition, I would suggest that fuller inquiry be made into the circumstances of the cultivation of the land, and that the owner's own statement regarding it be taken. Government will then be in a position to determine whether some compensation appears to be fairly due to him for the delay, or, whether they will leave him to his remedy in the civil courts. (G. R. No. 1288 of February 1885, R. D.)

Application of the Act where possession has already been taken.

Memo. by L. R.—“I do not think that land which has already been taken possession of by Government and made over to the Railway Company, can be subsequently acquired under Act X of 1870, for the simple reason that there is nothing to acquire, and because the declarations and notices required by the Act refer exclusively to intended acquisition. Under the Act the Collector can only take possession of land after an award under section 14, or a reference to the Court under section 15, or in cases of urgency, after the expiration of 15 days from the date of notice under section 9.

“If matters could be restored to the status quo ante, and the land thus reverted to the parties originally interested in it, then the Act might be enforced; but if the land has been already taken up under private agreement with some of the parties interested, the only course available, as far as I can see, is to endeavour to come to terms with the remaining interested parties whose consent has not yet been obtained.”

Memo. by L. R.—“A perusal of sections 8 and 9 of Act X of 1870 shows clearly that its provisions are intended to apply to land of which the persons entitled thereto are in possession. The legislature did not contemplate that any Department of Government would enter upon land unauthorizedly and retain possession as a trespasser, and then afterwards seek to acquire a legal title thereto; and the Act, of course, makes no provision for such a case.

“2. Nevertheless, there is no legal objection, I think, to measures being taken now for acquiring the land under the Act. If it is possible, it would be expedient that possession should be restored to the rightful holders before such measures are set on foot; but this is not indispensable. In any case the acquisition will count only from the date on which the Collector lawfully takes possession under section 16 or 17 of the Act. The Act does not empower the Collector or other officer when making an award of compensation under it to settle damages for trespass previous to the legal acquisition of the land. For this, unless the Collector and the parties can come to terms separately, an action will lie against Government.” (G. R. No. 441 of 7th February 1884, R. D.)

“Memo. by Acting L. R.—It appears that the Honourable Mr. Naylor held that under certain circumstances a good title could be secured to Government under the Land Acquisition Act, notwithstanding the previous illegal occupation of land by Government.

“2. In the present case there is nothing to show that Government ever took possession illegally of the land in dispute at present occupied by the Pandharpur market. It seems merely to have assigned its interest, such as it might be, to the Municipality, and that body took possession and built on the ground without regard to the rights of Tátya bin Mandir. Under these circumstances as the land is not in the possession of Government at present, I can see no legal objection in the wording of the Land Acquisition Act to its acquisition for a public purpose, notwithstanding that purpose may be its use by the Pandharpur Municipality as a market.

“3. Although the Municipality has heretofore been in occupation of the land as a trespasser, it seems to me competent to Government, if it thinks fit, now to remedy the defect of title by taking up the land for its use in the manner proposed, subject, of course, to the payment by it of such compensation as may be awarded to Tátya bin Mandir or any other claimant. Had Government itself been the trespasser, possibly the case might have been different, but this is a point on which I need express no opinion as it does not arise.” (G. R. No. 223 of 11th January 1885, R. D.)

The Bombay High Court has ruled that the District Court has no power to determine questions as to interest and payments of awards under Act X of 1870, but that if the District Court's jurisdiction is not objected to when the case is before that Court, its decree will not be interfered with on appeal: Dipaji Chandrarao v. Collector of Poona. (Decided 20th March 1890, as yet unpublished.)*

Payments where land is taken by private arrangements.

† Rules 5 and 6 of the rules prescribed by the Government of India regulating the procedure to be observed in bringing to account payments of compensation for land taken up under the Land Acquisition Act may be observed in the cases of lands required by private negotiations outside the Act. (G. R. No. 8762 of 13th December 1886, R. D.)

Payment of Awards under the Land Acquisition Act by Cheques.

Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, dated 14th August 1886.

*It is to be noted, accordingly, that if an application is made to a District Court, to determine the amount of interest payable under section 42, or to obtain an order for the payment of the compensation with interest, objection should at once be taken to the jurisdiction of the Court, which, when the award and apportionment have been made, is functus officio, and has no jurisdiction in execution under the Act. Extract paragraph 3 of the letter from the Government of Bengal, No. 211-T-F., dated the 28th April 1886, as given below :—

The Lieutenant-Governor here desires to express his opinion that all payments of awards in land acquisition cases should be made by means of cheques, and that the use of cheques should be safe-guarded by a rigid observance of the following rules :—

- (1) Every cheque-book should contain a certain number of cheques with consecutive printed numbers, and each book should contain its own serial number.
- (2) The serial number of the cheque-book, and the number of cheques it contains, should be reported to the Treasury Officer before the book is brought into use.
- (3) The cheque-book should be kept under lock and key by the Land Acquisition Officer himself.
- (4) The cheques should be filled up by the Land Acquisition Officer, with his own hand, in words as well as figures, and cheques should be enfaced under Rs.
- (5) A periodical examination of pass-books from the treasury with the counterfoils of the cheque-books should be made by the Land Acquisition Officer himself.

“RESOLUTION.—The Government of Bengal proposes that all payments of awards in land acquisition cases should be made by means of cheques, but there is reason to fear that the adoption of an invariable rule of this nature might in some instances be productive of inconvenience.

“When the property taken up by Government is near a treasury, the system of payment by cheques may be as convenient as payments in cash by the Land Acquisition Officer. But where the property is situated at a distance from a Treasury, and when the Land Acquisition Officer pays the compensation at or near the village in which the owners reside,—a course which is enjoined in paragraph 9 of the Resolution of 29th June 1886, the making of payments by means of cheques would probably be inconvenient to the payees, and the advantage of making final payments on the spot would be lost. The Governor-General in Council is therefore not prepared to direct that all payments shall be made by cheque. There is, however, no objection to a Local Government directing any particular Land Acquisition Officer to make all his payments by cheque if it appears that this practice will not cause inconvenience of the kind above referred to.

“The rules proposed by the Government of Bengal in order to safe-guard the use of cheques are approved. Those rules should be observed by all officers paying compensation for land who draw money from the treasury by cheque, whether in lump sums to be distributed to the payees in cash by the officer, or in detail, each cheque being payable to one of the persons to whom compensation is due.” (G. R. No. 6596 of 17th September 1886, R. D.)

Orders of Government of India on the question of the debit of cost of temporary subordinate establishment specially engaged in connection with land acquisition, to work under officers of the Revenue Department, not placed at the disposal of the Public Works Department.

‘In the cases provided for in the Civil Account Code, Rule 5, Chapter VI, i.e., when the Civil Officer is made a Public Works disburser, there is no objection to any special establishment entertained by him (under orders of Government) being charged to the works concerned. But if he is not a Public Works disburser, then the charges should be brought to account in the Civil Department, and should not be debited to the Public Works Department.’ (G. R. No. 2508 of 30th March 1889, R. D.)

Procedure to be observed for the payment of compensation for land taken up for public purposes under the Land Acquisition Act.

Government Resolution No. 5518, dated 4th August 1886, Revenue Department. Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 1580, dated 29th June 1886 :—

“It has been brought to the notice of the Governor General in Council that the orders regarding the payment of compensation for land taken up for public purposes under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, and the audit of such payments are not everywhere carefully observed, and that it is desirable to consolidate and in some respects to modify these orders.

“2. His Excellency accordingly, in supersession of all previous orders, directs that the following procedure shall be observed.

“3. After all preliminaries in respect to estimate, &c., that may be required under departmental rules in force for the time being have been duly carried out, the land will be taken up under the Act either by the Collector or by some special officer who is placed at the disposal of the Public Works Department, and invested with the powers of a Collector under the Act; the procedure differs in the two cases.

"4. Officers who are especially employed for this work, being invested with the powers of a Collector under the Act and placed at the disposal of the Public Works Department, are regarded as Public Works disbursers and are supplied with funds in the same manner as an Executive Engineer, as described in Chapter 23 of the Civil Account Code. The following procedure shall be observed by such officers.

"5. When the amount of compensation is accepted by the persons interested, and an award is made under section 14 of the Act, the officer shall have a statement prepared in the appended form (marked A) showing the amounts payable to each person under the award, and shall on the day the award is made forward a copy of the statement, signed by himself, to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts with whom he is in account. Before signing the copy, the officer should carefully satisfy himself that it correctly shows the amounts due under the award, and should himself both in the original and copy enter the total of column 6 of the statement in words.*

"6. In paying the amounts due under the award, the officer shall take the receipt of each person to whom money is paid on a separate voucher in the accompanying form (marked B), containing a reference to the item showing the amount due to that person in the statement prescribed in the preceding paragraph. The officer shall forward the receipts of the payees to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts with whom he is in account when forwarding to him the account of the month in which the payments are made.*

"7. In the event of the payees not presenting themselves for payment within a year from the date of the award, the amounts due may be paid into the Treasury on Revenue deposit, and vouched for in the accompanying form (marked C). Every endeavour should, however, be made to secure the presence of the payees to receive payment, so as to avoid as far as possible payment into the Treasury on deposit. When the payees ultimately claim payment of sums placed on deposit, the amounts will be paid to them in the same manner as ordinary Revenue deposits, under the authority of the Collector.

"8. When the compensation offered is not accepted by the persons interested, and the amounts payable are consequently settled by the award made by the Court under the provisions of Part III of the Act, the special officer shall, as soon as he ascertains what the award of the Court is, prepare a statement in Form A showing the amounts due under the award, and forward a copy to the Examiner in the same manner as prescribed in paragraph 5. In paying the amounts due under such award, the officer shall take from each person to whom a payment is made a receipt in Form B, or, in the event of the payees not presenting themselves for payment within a year from the date of the award, from the Treasury Officer in Form C, containing a reference to the entry showing the amount due in the statement just referred to, and shall forward those receipts to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in forwarding to him the accounts of the month in which the payments are made.

"9. The special officer should, as far as possible, arrange to make the payments due in or near the village to which the payees belong. This will make it more easy to secure the attendance of the payees, and so reduce the number of sums which it will be necessary to place on deposit under paragraph 7.

"10. In any case in which a reference is made to the Civil Court, and the award of the Court is not made till after the special officer has been relieved of his special duties, the payments due under the award shall be made by the Collector, who will observe the same procedure as if the reference to the Civil Court had been made by himself, as prescribed in paragraphs 11 and 12 below.

"11. When the land is taken up by the Collector or other Civil Officer not specially employed for the work, such Collector or Civil Officer is not a Public Works disburser, but draws money for payment due under the award, made by him or by the Civil Court, from the Civil Treasury. Such Collector or Civil Officer shall, as soon as he makes the award, or as soon as he ascertains that an award has been made by the Civil Court, prepare a statement in Form A showing the amounts due, and forward a copy thereof to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts concerned in the manner prescribed in paragraphs 5 and 8.

"12. In making the payments due under the award, the Collector shall take from each person to whom payment is made a receipt in Form B containing a reference to the particular entry in the award showing the amount due to the payee. These receipts will be the Treasury Officer's vouchers for the payments, and shall be forwarded by him with the accounts of the month to the Accountant General of the province, who will in ordinary course forward them to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts. In the event of the payees not presenting themselves to receive payment within a year from the date of the award, the amounts due may be placed on Revenue deposit, and receipts taken in Form C in the same manner as is provided in Rule 7.

"13. The Treasury Officer has no concern with the award or with the award statement; he makes the payments on the authority of the Collector, or other officer assessing compensation. The Collector may either draw the amount due to each payee separately, in which case he should countersign the receipt in Form B, and make it payable at the Treasury to the payee, altering the words 'Paid in my presence <sup>in cash</sup>' to 'Pay'; or he may draw the total amount due under the award on his own receipt as an advance, and after making the payments forward the receipts of the payees to the Treasury Officer in adjustment of the advance. In the former case, an advice list of the forms passed for payment should be sent to the Treasury Officer, who in turn should send weekly an advice of orders paid.

"14. Whether the payment is made by a special officer or by the Collector (or other Civil Officer), the audit of the Examiner of Public Works Accounts shall consist in seeing that every payment is supported by a receipt in Form B or C, and that the amount paid on such receipt is the amount payable to the payee under the award, as shown in the statements of which he will have received copies under the preceding orders. The Examiner will also note in the last column of Form A the date on which possession is taken, as reported to him, by the Executive Engineer or other officer.

"15. The Examiner will, as he receives the vouchers, fill in the entries in column 8 of the award statement (Form A); and as he receives the reports of possession he will fill in the entries in column 9: when all the vouchers showing either payment to the payee or payment into the Treasury on deposit and the reports of possession have been received, he will forward a copy of the completed statement in Form A to the Chief Revenue Authority. This will complete the audit of the Examiner; any other or further returns or reports from the officers who assess or pay compensation, and any reports regarding the payment of sums placed on deposit under Rules 7 and 12 above, will be disposed of by the Chief Revenue Authority without reference to the Examiner.

"16. When the land is acquired for, and the cost is débitable to, the Military Works Department, the procedure above laid down will be observed, the Examiner of Military Works Accounts being substituted for the Examiner of Public Works Accounts.

"17. When the land is acquired for, and the cost is débitable to, any other Department than the Public Works Department or Military Works Department, the procedure will also be the same, the Account Officer who will audit the payments being substituted for the Examiner of Public Works Accounts.

"18. In any case in which land is acquired for a Municipality or other body financially independent of Government, the Local Government may direct that the payments, instead of being made and audited in the same manner as the ordinary payments of such body, shall be made and audited as if the land were being acquired for Government. If the Local Government issues such an order, the Collector or other officer who makes payments on account of the land acquired shall draw funds from the Treasury and make payments in the manner laid down in these rules, using the forms prescribed, and shall render his accounts to the Civil Accountant General. The Municipality or other body will pay the estimated cost of the compensation to the credit of Government in advance on such dates and in such instalments as the Local Government may direct, further payment to Government being required as soon as the Accountant General reports that the payments made exceed the amount received in advance. The Accountant General will deal with the accounts and payments as prescribed in these rules, debiting the payments against the advances received from the Municipality or other body.

PART III.

*RULES UNDER THE AGRICULTURISTS' LOANS ACT, XII OF 1884.

Under the provisions of section 4 of Act XII of 1884 the Governor of Bombay in Council is pleased, with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, to prescribe the following rules as to loans to be made for the purposes hereinafter appearing to

*In Government Resolution No. 3016 of 2nd May, 1891, Revenue Department, the Governor in Council has laid down the following instructions for the guidance of District officers in making advances to cultivators under Acts XII of 1884 and XIX of 1883, viz :—

(1.) Government do not wish that these Acts should remain a dead letter. This fact should be generally made known to the rayats and due notice should be taken of all cases in which the rayats complain of inattention on the part of the Government officers in the matter of making advances.

(2.) The public notice contemplated in Section 5 of Act XIX of 1883 should not be issued except in cases of large loans for improvements which might affect prejudicially neighbouring holdings.

(3.) The Commissioners of Divisions in their joint report on this subject have made the following suggestions :—

“ Each Mámíatdár should select 8 or 10 villages of a reasonable size in his táluka representing as it were specimens of groups of villages in various parts of his charge. Two or three months before the sowing season he should visit each selected village, assemble the rayats in the Chávdí, and explain to them fully the rules and conditions under which the advances are to be made. He should immediately ascertain who are in want of advances, make inquiries on the spot, and grant advances then and there in cash or by means of a cheque on the Táluka Treasury. In the case of larger amounts sanction of higher authority should be obtained within a month and immediate payment made at the village by the Mámíatdár or Aval-kárukun. This should have precedence over all other work. The Mámíatdár would require about two days in each village so that the whole would not take more than a month, allowing ten days for other urgent work, magisterial cases, and travelling. The result would be that the rayats of villages in which advances are thus made, as also those of adjoining villages will practically understand what the rules are, and will be able to appreciate the benevolent intentions of Government. If this process be repeated for two or three years, changing the villages each year, every one in the táluka would thoroughly understand the rules, &c.”

These suggestions of the Commissioners are approved and should be acted upon.

(4.) The sufficiency of the security offered by the intended borrower should not be tested with unnecessary severity. The officer granting the loan should in this matter be guided by the same tests as an ordinary money-lender applies in the case of private loans.

(5.) In cases where advances prove irrecoverable, the personal responsibility of Mámíatdárs should not be enforced when no fraud is proved, and the Mámíatdár can establish to the satisfaction of the Collector and Commissioner that he made proper inquiries and took reasonable precautions.

(6.) Assistant and Deputy Collectors while on tour should set an example to the Mámíatdárs by personally taking up and disposing of a few cases every year. Instances of marked interest taken by any Táluka officers should be specially brought to the notice of Government by the Commissioners.

(7.) Applications for loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act should be disposed of as speedily as practicable, and if possible within one month from the date of the application.

(8.) Rules 10, 13, 16, 17 and 19 under the Land Improvement Loans Act and Rules 5 (b), 7 and 10 under the Agriculturists' Loans Act should be administered by the District officers in a liberal spirit.

(9.) To bring the advantageous offers of Government to the attention of the rayats notices should be issued in all the villages throughout the district and published in the first place in the Chávdí of the village, a copy being kept in the current daftar of the village accountant.

(10.) In districts where establishments of the Agricultural Department are employed, the officers of that Department should suggest such improvements to the cultivators as occur to them.

holders (as defined in Section 3 (11) of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879) of arable land:—

1. Government will inform the Commissioners what sum will be available for loans under the Act in their respective divisions for each financial year. Each Commissioner will divide the allotted sum between the districts of his division at his discretion and may, at any time during the year, transfer any sum or portion of a sum assigned to one district to any other district. But expenditure within a division must be kept within the amount allotted by Government to that division. If an additional allotment be required for any division, it should be applied for by the Commissioner without delay. Government may at any time transfer any unexpended balance of the allotment of one division to any other division.

(Notn. No. 5150 A, B. G. G., 1890, Pt. I., p. 728, 23rd July 1890.)

1A. For the purposes of these rules, in the districts where the Gujarát Tálukdárs' Act, 1888, is in force, the Tálukdári Settlement Officer shall, with reference to all immovable property under his management, be deemed to be an Assistant Collector in charge of a sub-division.

2. Loans may be granted to holders of arable land for the following objects:—

- (a). Purchase of seed and grain, cattle and agricultural stock;
- (b). Rebuilding houses destroyed by fire or flood;
- (c). Any other purpose, not specified in the land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, connected with agricultural objects.

3. Every application for a loan, if made verbally and not in writing, by the applicant shall be at once reduced to writing by the officer to whom it is made.

Applications if not in writing, to be reduced to writing.

(Notn. No. 2016 A, B. G. G., 1891, Pt. I., p. 370, May 7th, 1891.)

4. (1) Every application for a loan shall be made to the Collector, Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-division or to the Mámíatdár of the táluka or the Mahálkari of the petha.

(2) If the application is made to the Collector, Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-division, such officer may, after making such enquiry as he may deem necessary, grant the loan applied for.

(3) If the application is made to the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari, such officer, after making personal enquiry as to the character of the applicant, his ability to give security and the fitness of the application,

- (a) may, if the loan applied for does not exceed Rs. 50, and if he is satisfied with the result of such enquiry, grant the loan without the sanction of any superior officer, and

(b) shall, if the loan applied for exceeds Rs. 50, submit without unnecessary delay the application with his report to the Assistant or Deputy Collector, who shall pass such order thereon as he may deem proper.

(4) An Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of a sub-division may, without the sanction of the Collector, grant applications for loans not exceeding Rs. 200 each.

(5) If a loan applied for exceeds Rs. 200, the Assistant or Deputy Collector shall at once apply for and before making the grant obtain the sanction of the Collector; and

(6) If the loan exceeds Rs. 500, the Collector shall at once apply for and before making the grant obtain the sanction of the Commissioner:

Provided that no loan shall be given to any holder who is in arrears for land revenue or for any loan made to him under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1833, or these rules, except under a detailed order of the Collector granting the loan.

5. Loans shall be granted on the following conditions of repayment:—

Conditions on which loans may be granted.

(a) A loan for the purchase of seed shall be repaid within one year;

(b) A loan for the purchase of cattle or for any other lawful purpose shall be repaid within two years or such further period not exceeding ten as the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, may see fit to fix.

6. Any person desirous of repaying the whole or part of the loan granted him at any time before the expiration of the period mentioned in the order may do so.

Repayment before expiry of period fixed allowed.

7. Repayments of loans shall be made by such instalments including interest as the officer granting the loan may determine:

(Notn. No. 3016A., B. G. G., 1891, Pt. I., p. 370, 7th May 1891.)

Provided that instalments may be suspended by order of the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-division on his being satisfied that there is good and sufficient reason for such indulgence.

8. (1) The rate of interest on loans granted under this Act shall be such, not less than  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. per annum and not exceeding  $6\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. per annum, as Government may direct either by special order in any particular or by general orders in respect of any taluka, district or division. But Government may, at its discretion for special reasons, direct that no interest at all shall be charged, or may remit any part of the interest due.

under the proviso to Rule 7, or of any interest chargeable thereon or of the costs, if any incurred in making the loan, be not paid when the same becomes due, compound interest shall be chargeable on such sum from the date when such sum becomes due to the date of payment, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, or at such higher rate as in any special case may, under the directions of the Governor in Council have been fixed in the conditions on which the loan has been granted.

9. Mortgage-bonds, in the form hereinafter prescribed in Appendix A., shall ordinarily be taken from the holders of lands to whom loans are made as security for repayment, and when the amount is considerable, should invariably be taken.

Mortgage-bonds when and in what form to be taken.

In all cases in which mortgage-bonds are not taken, an agreement in the form hereinafter prescribed in Appendix B. shall be executed.

10. Security of a Sāvkar shall not be demanded for a loan, but in all cases the Collector should take measures, under the provisions of Chapter XI of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879, to secure repayment of the loan as an arrear of land revenue, and when there are several applicants in the same village they should, if possible, be induced to become security one for the other.

But expenditure within a division must be kept within the amount allotted by Government to that division. ## PART IV.

(A).—RULES OF LOCAL APPLICATION.

Under section 31 (i).

The following rules made by the Governor in Council under section 31 (i) of the Indian Forest Act, 1878, for regulating the pasturing of cattle in the Protected Forests in the districts of Kánara, Belgaum and Dhárwár, are published with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council :—

(Notn. No.
2419, B. G.
G., 1883, Pt.
I., p. 253.)

*As regards rules under section 27 of the Act, a committee appointed to consider a draft set of rules relating to village and protected forests reported the following opinion :—

“2. The subjects submitted for our report were—1st, village forests, the remarks of the Government of India upon them, and the rules needed for them under section 27 of the Forest Act.

“There are no village forests as constituted by the Forest Act in this Presidency, and it appears to us to be very doubtful whether Government will for some time at least find it expedient to make any forests of this class. In the present condition of forests in Bombay it will, we think, be hardly possible for Government to assign its rights in forest lands to any village community without so much reservation that, as pointed out by the Government of India in paragraph 7 of their letter, it would be more expedient to begin by reserving and to make concessions than to begin by concession and make reservations. In the Southern Division, Government might be able to admit the people in some places to participate in forest privileges, but we question whether the village communities in such situations are sufficiently organized to be dealt with as a responsible body. We think, therefore, that for the present there is no need for any rules providing for village forests under section 27.

“3. 2nd, Protected forests.—This class of reserve appears to have been constituted by the legislature to meet the case of lands which it is not desirable to subject to rigid conservation in view of public right or convenience, and the tenor of the remarks in the letter of the Government of India leads generally to a conclusion that the recognition of such claims should be as little hampered by rules and procedure as is consistent with conservation.

“4. The Act, moreover, does not require that rules should be made all at once; it contemplates that they should be ‘made from time to time.’

“5. The rules submitted to the Government of India were framed, we understand, to meet the requirements of certain forest areas in the Southern Division, and they are believed to embody the departmental procedure in force in those areas; but it is hardly possible that they should be equally applicable in the districts of the Northern Division in which the formation of protected forests is in contemplation.

“6. The conclusion which we have come to regarding the rules for protected forests is to recommend to Government that the reports of the Settlement Officer, the Conservator and the Collector concerned in the formation of protected forests should be awaited, and such rules as may be found requisite in each case should be adopted. It may be that some general rules applicable to all cases may be framed, but, as at present informed, we are of opinion that it would be premature to adopt any of those in the draft as of general application.” (G. R. 6698 of 18th December 1880.)

(1) In every protected forest a fee shall be charged at such rates as shall from time to time be sanctioned by Government for the pasturing of cattle within such limits as shall from time to time be assigned by, or under the orders of, the Conservator of Forests for this purpose.

(2) No person shall pasture cattle in any portion of any such protected forest so assigned without previously paying the prescribed fee.

(3) Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to abridge or affect :

(a) any recorded right of any private person in any protected forest, or

(b) any existing grazing right of any private person in any protected forest declared under section 34 of the Act and in which rights of private persons have not been enquired into, settled and recorded.

(Notn.
No. 185,
B. G. G.,
1886, pp. 29
and 30.)

II.—*Regulating the management of the Protected Forests in the marginally noted* Villages of the Akola Taluka of the District of Ahmednagar.*

1. Lands of either of the two following descriptions may be cleared or broken up for cultivation in the said forest subject to the conditions, if any, respectively applicable thereto, viz. :

(a) land the right to cultivate which has been recorded in an enquiry under section 28 of the Forest Act, or

(b) land let for cultivation under a lease which is at the time in force and has been granted under these rules.

2. The unoccupied land in the said forest suitable for cultivation having been divided off by the Survey Department, under the orders of Government, into fields which bear distinctive numbers and having been measured and assessed by the said Department at a moderate rent, any of the said fields (hereinafter called "numbers") may be let at the rent so assessed to any person who is, and has been for not less than five years previously, a resident of the village in which the number is situate, subject to the conditions contained in these rules.

3. The lease of a number may be sold by public auction or granted, at the discretion of the Divisional Forest Officer, with or without payment of a premium.

4. Every lease granted under these rules shall be in the form A hereto annexed and shall be executed by the Divisional Forest Officer, if he is competent under the rules in force in this behalf to execute such an instrument, or otherwise by the Conservator.

No such lease shall be granted until the intending lessee has executed a counterpart agreement in the form B hereto annexed, bearing an endorsement of the tenor prescribed in the said form signed by the village officers.

5. In the first year in which these rules are in force leases shall be granted for a term of thirty years. Leases granted after the said first year shall be for terms which will expire simultaneously with the terms of the first year's leases.

6. The rent due annually in respect of lands leased under these rules shall be payable in two equal instalments on the 10th December and 10th January respectively.

7. On the expiry of the term of any lease granted under these rules the lessee shall be entitled to a renewed lease for such term and subject to such conditions and the payment of such rent as Government shall think fit to prescribe.

8. Every lease granted or renewed under these rules may at any time be cancelled by the Divisional Forest Officer or the Conservator of Forests :

- (a) If the lessee or any co-sharer of the land held by the lessee is convicted of any offence under section 32 of the Forest Act and such conviction is not subsequently reversed or quashed; or
- (b) if the land included in the lease or any portion of it is subjected, without the previous sanction of the Divisional Forest Officer or of the Conservator of Forests, to any mortgage, charge, sub-lease or alienation; or
- (c) if the land included in the lease or any portion of it is subjected to dalhi cultivation; or
- (d) if any instalment of rent due in respect of the land is not paid or recovered under section 81 of the Forest Act, before the close of the revenue year in which it is payable;
- (e) if the lessee ceases to be a resident of the village in which the land is situate.

When a lease is cancelled under this rule, it shall be deemed for the purposes of Rule 1 to cease to be in force from such date as shall be fixed in this behalf by the officer cancelling the same.

9. An appeal shall lie from any order made by the Divisional Forest Officer under the last preceding rule to the Conservator of Forests. The order of the Conservator of Forests shall be final.

10. No lease granted under these rules shall be deemed to confer upon the lessee any right in or over the trees or other forest produce of the land included in such lease; but, subject to a reservation of the right of Government at any time to reconsider and amend or cancel such concession and to the provision of Rule 11, the Governor in Council directs that the lessee of any land of which a lease is granted or renewed under these rules shall be permitted upon or from the said land :

- (a) to lop trees, not being trees which are reserved under section 29 of the Forest Act, for the purpose of obtaining rāb for manure;
- (b) with the written authority of the Divisional Forest Officer to cut and remove trees, not being trees reserved as aforesaid and not exceeding 15 inches in circumference at the base, which in the opinion of the said officer impede cultivation;
- (c) to pasture and to cut and remove grass for his own cattle, sheep and goats;
- (d) to gather and remove edible fruits and roots;
- (e) to gather and remove dead wood for fuel;
- (f) to quarry or gather and remove stones for his own use for any agricultural or domestic purpose..

11. Lessees exercising the privilege of lopping trees for obtaining rāb conceded by clause (a) of the last preceding rule shall leave uncut a main leading shoot (shenda) of each tree which they so lop.

12. Any person permanently residing in any of the said villages may, in any unoccupied number of the protected forest in the village in which he resides, pasture, or cut and remove grass for his own cattle, sheep and goats without license or payment of any fee.

The Governor in Council reserves the right at any time to reconsider and amend or cancel this concession.

13. Except as provided in Rule 10 and in the last preceding rule, no cattle, sheep or goats may be pastured and no grass may be cut in the said protected forest without written authority from the Divisional Forest Officer.

without a pass from a Conservator of Forests, or from some officer empowered by a Conservator of Forests, or from some person duly authorized under Rule 13 to issue such pass, or otherwise than in accordance with the conditions of such pass :

Provided that nothing in this rule shall be deemed

- (a) to apply to timber or forest produce which is the property of Government, or place beyond the frontier of British India, may be conveyed within such frontier by any of the routes named in Appendix A., or by such routes as may be prescribed by the Conservator of Forests or by any officer of Government authorized by him in that behalf as far as the first depôt on such route established under Rule 15, without a pass under Rule 3, if it is covered by a Foreign Pass in proper form and duly signed and if, in the case of timber of large scantling, it is marked with a registered Foreign Property-mark, but not otherwise.

* Memo. by L. R. :—Land which is declared to be a reserved or protected forest does not cease to form part of the village in which it was originally situated merely because it becomes a forest. I think, therefore, that proviso (c) to No. 3 of the rules under section 41 of the Forest Act dispenses with the necessity of a pass for timber taken from a reserved or protected forest to any other part of the same village in which such forest is situated. (G. R. No. 3806 of 26th May 1886, R. D.)

No such timber or forest produce shall be stacked, or deposited in any place between the frontier and such depôt, or be moved beyond such depôt without a pass issued under the said rule.

8. If the Conservator of Forests of the Division shall so direct, no timber of large scantling, which has been imported as aforesaid by any particular route, shall be moved beyond such first depôt without first having a Government transit mark of such description as the said Conservator shall prescribe stamped upon it.

9. In respect of every pass issued under Rule 3 there shall be payable such fee, if any, as the Conservator of Forests shall, from time to time, prescribe with the previous sanction of Government, for each district, and no such pass shall be issued until the fee so prescribed has been paid.

10. No person who belongs to a community to which a Village Forest is assigned and no inhabitant of a town or village in the vicinity of a Protected Forest, who is permitted to take timber or other forest produce from such forest for his own use, shall be entitled to receive a pass under Rule 3 for the removal of timber or forest produce from such forest to any place beyond the limits of the town or village in which such person resides :

Provided that in the district of Kánara a pass may be issued for moving from the said district any timber which has been given, on payment of the fees to be hereafter prescribed, for a specific purpose, and has been used by the grantee for that purpose, but only on payment of an additional fee of fifty per cent. on the amount of the fee originally paid, if such timber is being moved by any person other than the original grantee, unless the Collector, or the Conservator of Forests, or any of their Assistants or Deputies to whom an application may be made in this behalf, shall be satisfied that such timber is being moved for charitable purpose and shall be of opinion that such additional fee should be reduced or remitted, in which case a pass may be granted either without additional fee or on payment of a reduced fee, as the Collector or other officer aforesaid shall determine.

11. In every other case the owner of timber or other forest produce shall be entitled to receive a pass for the same under Rule 3 for any of the purposes for which such passes may be granted.

12. In the district of Kánara passes under Rule 3 for the moving of timber or other forest produce beyond the inland frontier of the said district will be issued in duplicate, one white and one green, and the date of exit will be recorded upon each of such duplicate passes by the Forest Officer at the appointed watch-house on the frontier, and the green pass shall be surrendered by the holder thereof to such officer, who shall return it without delay to the office from which it was issued.

13. The Conservator of Forests may, if he thinks fit, at any time, by an order in writing :

(a) authorize any person who is an owner of timber or other forest produce, or the agent of any such owner, to issue passes under Rule 3 in respect of any timber or other forest produce which belongs to such person, or to the person for whom such person is agent, and

(b) cancel such authorization.

When the Conservator of Forests authorizes any person under clause (a) of this rule, he shall furnish such person from time to time with authenticated books of blank printed forms of passes with the particulars required by clauses (4) and (5) of Rule 4 already filled in, and no alteration shall be made by such person in any of the said particulars, or if made, shall have any validity. (G. R. 5028, 5th July 1883.)

The said person shall pay for each such book such sum as shall from time to time be determined by the Conservator of Forests, and in the event of an order being passed by the Conservator of Forests under clause (b) of this rule, shall at once return to the said Conservator every unused book and every unused portion of any such book then remaining in his possession, and shall be entitled to receive back the amount paid by him in respect of such unused book or portion of a book.

No pass issued by any such person after the issue of an order under clause (b) of this rule, and no pass issued by him which is not on a form supplied to him as aforesaid, shall have any validity.

*14. Timber or other forest produce in transit may be stopped and examined at any place by any Forest or Police officer if such officer shall have reasonable ground for suspecting that any money which is payable to Government in respect thereof has not been paid, or that any forest offence has been or is being committed in respect thereof.

The person in charge of any such timber or other forest produce shall furnish to any such officer all the information which he is able regarding such timber or other forest produce, and if he is removing the same under a pass shall produce such pass, on demand, for the inspection of such officer, and shall not in any way prevent or resist the stoppage or examination of the said timber or other forest produce by such officer :

*All officers of the Customs, Salt and Abkari Departments are appointed Forest Officers for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of Section 52 of the Indian Forest Act, 1878, and Rule 14 of the Rules made under Section 41 of the same Act, but this does not apply to the Ahmedabad, Kaira and Broach Districts. (Notification No. 7990-A, B. G. G. 1882, pt. I. p. 97, and Notification No. 2430, B. G. G. 1883, pt. I. p. 258.)

Provided always that no such officer shall vexatiously or unnecessarily delay the transit of any timber or other forest produce which is lawfully in transit, nor vexatiously or unnecessarily unload any such timber or other forest produce, or cause the same to be unloaded, for the purpose of examination.

15. The Conservator of Forests may establish at such convenient places as he shall think fit on the routes by which timber or other forest produce may lawfully be conveyed, depôts to which such timber or other produce shall be taken for all or any of the following purposes (namely) :—

for examination previous to the grant of a pass in respect thereof under Rule 3 or under Rule 13, or for determining the amount of money, if any, payable on account thereof to Government, and for the payment of such money, or in order that any mark required by law or by these rules to be affixed thereto, may be so affixed.

16. A Forest Officer appointed by or under the orders of the Conservator shall have charge of each such depôt, and no timber or other forest produce shall be brought into, stored at, or removed from a depôt without the permission of such officer, and for storing timber or other forest produce in such depôt, and allowing laden carts, or loads or cattle to stand or to be deposited therein, such fees shall be payable as the Conservator of Forests, with the previous sanction of Government, shall from time to time notify.

17. The Conservator of Forests shall from time to time make known by notification published in the Bombay Government Gazette, and locally in such manner as he deems fit, the name and situation of every depôt in his division.

18. The person in charge of any vessel which carries timber or other forest produce on a river on the banks of which one or more of such depôts are situated, shall call and stop his vessel at each such depôt which he has to pass, in order that the timber or other forest produce may be examined, if necessary, under the provisions of Rule 14, and the person in charge of such vessel shall not proceed with such vessel past any such depôt without the permission of the Forest Officer in charge of such depôt.

19. No person shall close up or obstruct the channel or any portion of the bank of any river lawfully used for the transit of timber or other forest produce, or throw grass, brushwood, branches, or leaves into any such river, or do any other act which may cause such river to be closed or obstructed.

20. Any Forest Officer not lower in rank than a Sub-Assistant Conservator of Forests may take such measures as he shall at any time deem to be emergently necessary for the prevention, or removal of any obstruction of the channel, or of any part of a bank of a river lawfully used for the transit of timber or other forest produce, but any such case which is not emergent shall be reported to the Collector, who may by written notice require the person whose act or negligence has caused or is likely to cause the obstruction, to remove or take steps for preventing the same within a period to be named in such notice, and if such person fails to comply with such notice may himself cause such measures to be taken as he shall deem necessary.

The reasonable costs incurred by a Forest Officer or by the Collector under this rule shall be payable to Government by the person whose act or negligence necessitated the same.

*21. No person shall establish a saw-pit or convert, cut, burn, conceal or mark timber within one mile of the limits of any Reserved Forest (whether a Village Forest or not) or of any Protected Forest, without the previous written permission of a Forest Officer not lower in rank than a Sub-Assistant Conservator.

22. No timber of large scantling which does not belong to Government shall be moved from any district of the Presidency of Bombay, unless there is affixed thereto a distinguishable Private Property-mark of the owner of such timber of a description which has been registered in the office of the Conservator of the Division, nor (if the said Conservator shall so direct) unless there has been made thereupon a Government transit mark of such description as shall from time to time be prescribed in this behalf by the said Conservator.

23. The Conservator of Forests shall, upon receipt of an application for registration of any form, mark, or name for the purposes of Rule 6 or Rule 22, inquire into the authenticity of the same, and if he sees no objection shall, on payment by the applicant of such fee as shall from time to time be prescribed by Government, register such form, mark or name in his office.

Every such registration shall be held good for a period of one year only.

24. No person other than a Forest Officer whose duty it is to use such mark, shall use any property.

*Timber under section 41 of the Forest Act and the rules passed under that section has been decided to be, timber when found in or brought from a Government or private forest. Rule 21 cannot therefore be applied to trees or brushwood growing on occupied land outside a forest. Government consider that Rule 21 cannot be used to prohibit absolutely the establishment of a bangle-maker's furnace. It can only be applied to the burning therein of timber from a forest, so that if any one is proved to have burned such timber in a furnace within the prescribed limit without a permit, he is liable to the penalties prescribed in Rule 26. (G. R. No. 3758, 25th May 1886, R. D.) (N.B.—This Resolution was based upon the interpretation put upon Section 41 before Act V of 1890 became law.)

mark for timber which is identical with, or nearly resembles any Government transit mark, or any mark with which timber belonging to Government is marked ; and no person shall, while any timber is in transit under a pass issued under Rule 13, alter or efface any mark on the same.

25. Nothing in the foregoing Rules 2 to 24, both inclusive, shall be deemed to apply to the Province of Sind.*

In that Province the special rules contained in Appendix B shall be applicable.

26. Any person who breaks any of the foregoing Rules 2 to 24, both inclusive, or any of the rules contained in Appendix B, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or both.

27. Nothing in the foregoing Rules 2 to 26, of both inclusive, shall be deemed to apply to the city Bombay as defined in the Bombay General Clauses Act, 1866.†

1. No person who is not entitled under the said Survey Settlement to any privilege, in respect of any tree belonging to Government growing in any varkas land to which that Settlement has been extended, shall fell, remove, destroy, lop or in any way injure any such tree, except under the order of the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the táluka, or of the Divisional Forest Officer.

2. No person who is entitled to any privilege conceded under the said Settlement in respect of any such tree as aforesaid shall—

(a) exercise such privilege except in such manner and to such extent as may be allowed by any rule at the time in force prescribed in this behalf by the Collector of Thána under section 44 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879;

(b) fell, remove, destroy, lop or in any way injure any teak, tiwas or blackwood tree belonging to Government, growing in any such land as aforesaid, except under the order of the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the táluka, or of the Divisional Forest Officer.

3. If an occupant of any such land as aforesaid wishes to clear the same for cultivation, he shall first of all make an application to the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the táluka giving the following details:—

(a) his name, caste and residence;

(b) the village in which the land is situated, its survey number, the area of the land to be cleared, the name of the registered occupant;

(c) the numbers and kinds of trees to be cut down.

The Assistant or Deputy Collector, after making inquiry, shall forward the application with a report, to the Collector for orders.

If permission is given to clear the land, the trees when cut shall be at the disposal of the Forest Department.

Rules made by the Collector of Thána, in exercise of the power conferred by section 44 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879, for regulating the exercise of the privilege of cutting firewood and timber for domestic or agricultural purposes conceded under the terms of the Survey Settlement extended to the villages formerly comprised in the Sanján and Kolvan Tálukas of the Thána District to the occupants of varkas land subject to the said Settlement and to their tenants (namely):—

1. The said concession did not extend to teak, tiwas or blackwood trees (which are hereinafter called "the excepted trees"), and persons exercising the privilege must not remove, destroy, lop, or in any way injure any tree of any of those three descriptions.

2. The said concession did not extend to the removal of any tree or any portion of a tree for the purposes of sale or trade, and persons exercising the privilege must do so only for their own boná fide domestic or agricultural purposes.

3. Persons exercising the privilege for the purpose of obtaining ráb must not cut the leading shoot (shendá) of any tree which they lop for this purpose, nor touch young shoots or seedlings.

4. Persons entitled to exercise the privilege may, without previously obtaining permission, do any of the following things in any varkas land in their respective occupation, provided that the wood, &c., gathered or cut is for use within the limits of the village in which the gathering or cutting is made (vis.):—

(1) gather fallen dead wood and, if that is insufficient, cut wood from any but the excepted trees, for firewood;

(2) cut wood from any but the excepted trees or bamboos for the purpose of making or preparing any agricultural implement;

(3) cut branches for ráb from any but the excepted trees;

(4) cut thorny bushes or bamboos for hedges.

*It is not intended by the rules to place any restrictions on the enjoyment of the privilege conceded to holders of occupied varkas lands at the time of the survey settlement, but simply to regulate the exercise of those privileges so as to enable Government officers to restrict them to their just limits and to prevent any reckless denudation of the varkas lands on which mainly the ryots have to depend for the supply of materials for ráb, as also to preserve the teak, blackwood and tiwas trees growing on such lands, which are the property of Government, from injury or loss.

As regards the rights of occupants to trees in varkas lands, the Umbargaon Patha should be treated on the same footing as the rest of the Dáhánu Táluka. (G. R. No. 202, 9th January 1885, R. D.)

ADDITIONAL ORDERS, OPINIONS, &c.

MEMORANDUM on the Legal Position of Government in respect of Forests and rights to Trees as ascertained by the results of recent Suits, circulated with Government Resolution No. 2493 of 4th May 1881, Revenue Department.

The great principle which is recognized by the courts in all questions as to rights to trees is that the proprietary right to trees follows the property in the soil. Hence wherever it can be shown that land is the property of Government, the immediate inference is drawn that in the absence of any other circumstance which creates a proprietary right in the trees in the landholder the trees belong to Government.

2. Thus in the case of Govind Purshotam v. the Sub-Collector and Deputy Collector of Forests, Kolába, (C. Bom. H. C. R. 188, A. C. J.) Couch, C. J., said "this is a case between landlord and tenant. There is nothing to show that the tenancy confers any other right than that of occupying and cultivating the land for 30 years, as guaranteed by the settlement. * * * The trees are timber trees growing on Government land, and the proprietary right to the trees is derived from the property in the land." The plaintiff's land had been surveyed and settled before the passing of the Bombay Survey Act of 1865, and Section 40 of that Act did not apply to his holding, because that section had no retrospective effect. It was not contended that he held the land on any tenure or on any special terms, which implied proprietary right to the trees; and although he relied on Dunlop's proclamation* and on No. 10† of the old Joint Survey Rules, it appears to have been considered that he was not entitled to the benefit of either of these. This case, which is the earliest of the reported ones of the Bombay High Court on this subject, was decided in 1869.

3. In an earlier case, that of Ruttonji Edulji Shet v. the Collector of Thána and the Conservator of Forests (10 W. R. 13, Pr. C.) the Privy Council followed the same principle. The plaintiff in that case held the village of Ghátkapur in the island of Sálsette on a lease granted to him by the Collector of Thána in A.D. 1845, and he claimed the right under that lease to fell unassessed trees in the village, and to apply them to his own use. Their Lordships of the Privy Council said: "At the time when this lease was made, the whole of the land and all the rights connected with the land, subject to such claims as third parties might have upon it, belonged to the Government. The trees upon the land were part of the land, and the right to cut down and sell those trees was incident to the proprietorship of the land. The appellant (plaintiff) therefore * * * must ground his title to these trees and the right to cut them down either upon this, that it is a necessary incident of the lease by reason of the objects of the lease; or secondly, upon some positive law; or thirdly, under some custom to be incorporated in the lease; or fourthly, under the express terms of the lease." And as none of these circumstances, which might affect the general principle, appeared to their Lordships to have been established, they held that the case of the appellant entirely failed.

Lessees are not entitled to cut down trees, except under special provisions or circumstances.

4. The first question that arises in every case of a disputed right to forests or trees is, therefore, whether the Government is the proprietor of the soil, or the alienee (inámdár) or landholder. In the case of alienated lands the determination of this question sometimes raises difficult issues.

In all cases the proprietary right to the soil is the first point to be determined.

5. The leading case on this point is Váman Janárdan Joshi v. the Collector of Thána and the Conservator of Forests (6 Bom. H. C. R. 199, A. C. J.). In that case the plaintiff (an inámdár) claimed the right to deal as he pleased with the forests in his inám village on the strength of his original sanads from Angria and the Peshwa. It was held by Melvill, J. (Gibbs, J., concurring) that "in a contest of this kind it is surely most just that such a rule as that by which English Courts of Law are guided in the construction of grants from the Crown, should be applied in the most stringent possible manner; and that the plaintiff's sanads should not be construed as conferring a right to the forests, unless such right be conferred in clear and unambiguous terms," and that the sanads ought to "show plainly and unequivocally that the proprietorship of the land of the village was granted to the plaintiff's ancestor." It was allowed, quoting Westropp, J.'s learned judgment in another‡ case, that sanadi grants in inám, &c., are "generally speaking more properly described as alienations of the royal share in the produce of the land" (i.e., of the Government revenues) "than grants of land." The sanads in question contained no such words as necessarily indicated a grant of the property in the soil. They did not contain the words common in Maráthi sanads, when the property in the soil is granted, viz., jal, taru, tran, páshán, nidhi, nikskep, (i.e., water, trees, grass, wood, stone and buried or concealed treasure.) It was therefore held that they conferred only a right to the revenues of the village, and did not operate as an alienation of the soil and therefore gave the plaintiff no right to the timber growing on the soil ("for," said Melvill, "the owner of the land is owner also of the timber which grows upon the land").

Leading case as to construction of written grants from the State, when proprietary rights are claimed under such grants.

6. In the decision of the Conservator of Forests v. Nágardás Saubháyadás, known as the Pigonde Case (High Court's Printed Judgments for 1875, pp. 325—332), the same principle was followed. The plaintiff in this instance was a khot of the Kolába District, and he claimed a right to the trees and forests of the villages of Pigonde to the extent of his ½th share in khotki. But although the suit related to a khoti village, the plaintiff based his claim on certain sanads, and the khot, considering that his rights were "laid down with sufficient distinctness in the documents thus propounded by him" did not go into the question of the general rights of khots§ and found that the sanads relied upon did not contain any such words as those above alluded to and were not intended to convey any proprietary right in the soil. This decision has since been confirmed on appeal by the Privy Council (L. R. VII. Ind. App. 55; S. C. I. L. R. 4 B. 264). In the judgment of Westropp, C. J., there is the following passage which states the opinion of the Court in very clear language:—

The same principle applied to the decision of a khot's claim to forests, when the khot based his title on a sanad.

*See infra, para. 17.

‡Krisnaráo Ganesh v. Rangráo (4 Bom. H. C. R. 1, A. C. J.)

§ But although the general rights of khots were not considered in this case, Melvill, J., referring in his judgment in the Collector of Ratnágiri v. Raghunáthráo bin Rámájiráo Sarve (H. Ct.'s Printed Judgments for 1875, p. 324) to the decision therein said: "It has been decided in Regular Appeal No. 15 of 1869 (and in this decision we concur) that a khot has no right to cut timber, either as a khot, or by virtue of Mr. Dunlop's proclamation, unless he can prove the grant of a proprietary title in the land of the village."

"In *Vykhunta* v. the Government of Bombay*, decided by my brother West and myself on the 1st May last, we pointed out that when the State grants a village eo nomine, without further words, the proprietorship in the soil does not necessarily, or even ordinarily, pass to the grantee, and that the latter only takes thereby the royal share in the produce of the village, or so much of that share as the sanad may purport to grant. Mr. Mountstuart Elphinstone is very clear on that point (see his History of India, 4th Edition, p. 74, note)."

There is no part of the judgment in the Kánara Land Assessment Case which states this point in these very distinct terms, but the parts of that judgment to which the Chief Justice has referred are stated by himself in a marginal note to be "12 Bom. H. C. R. App. pp. 1, 33, 34 and especially 39, 40."

7. In this judgment in the Pigoñde Case, Westropp, C. J., further observed, with reference to the rule of construction of grants from the Crown that he "adopted the rule laid down authoritatively on behalf of Her Majesty's Privy Council by Sir John Coleridge in Lord v. the Commissioners of Sydney (12 Moor P. C. 497) that although their Lordships 'did not intend to differ from the old authorities in respect to Crown grants,' yet they held that 'upon a question of the meaning of words, the same rules of common sense and justice must apply whether the subject-matter of construction be a grant from the Crown or from a subject,' and that 'it is always a question of intention to be collected from the language used with reference to the surrounding circumstances.' If those guides to a satisfactory construction fail, but not otherwise, the ancient rule that 'if the king's grant can enure to two intents, it shall be taken to the intent that makes most for the king's benefit ought to be applied.'" In Ráoji Náráyan Mandlik v. the Múmlatdár of Ratnágiri (I. L. R. 1 Bom. 523), it was held that "if words are employed in a grant which expressly or by necessary implication indicate that Government intends that so far as it may have any ownership in the soil that ownership shall pass to the grantee," it is not permissible to anybody to say that the ownership did not so pass, "unless there are in the grant such detailed provisions as show that such words are limited in their operation."†

8. These are all the important decisions hitherto passed on the question of the construction of sanads or other written grants. But it is important to note that it has been ruled that where there has been a formal adjudication of title, the right of the grantee depends, not upon the terms of the original grant, but upon the meaning of the order of adjudication. Thus in Vásudeo Pandit v. the Collector of Poona (10 Bom. H. C. R. 471), West and Nánábhái Haridás, JJ., held that the plaintiff's title rested, not upon the sanad granting the inám, but upon the construction of the decision passed by the Inám Commissioner under Rule 1, Schedule B. of Act X of 1852, for continuing the village; and the words in the decision "báki darobast gáv chálvára" (let the whole remainder of the village continue) were construed as "an adjudication of all proprietary rights free from exceptions of any kind, except those specified." Original sanads which have of late years been superseded by summary settlement sanads would also, no doubt, upon a similar principle, be left out of consideration; the title of the inámdár be held to depend entirely upon the meaning of the latter sanads. These summary settlement sanads continue inám villages and lands for ever as "the private property" of the holders, and it was held in the last-named case (10 Bom. H. C. R. 471), that it was an invasion of the right of an inámdár whose lands had been recognized by Government as his private property to quarry stone or take sand from those lands without his permission or authority. What is there said of quarrying stone or taking sand would apply equally to cutting timber, all these rights being incidents of the general proprietorship of the soil.

9. Alleged proprietary titles are not always based upon written grants. In all cases, however, the spirit of the above rule of construction of grants would, no doubt, be observed in weighing the value of any evidence that might be adduced against the Government. In the Kánara Land Assessment Case (12 Bom. H. C. R. 214, 215, App.) it was said that "if it be the duty of the Court not to enforce the written grant of the Crown unless it be clear and unambiguous, it is not too much to say that at the very least, it is equally incumbent on the Court to ascertain beyond doubt that the Crown has intended to part with its prerogative to which it has succeeded, by right of conquest, when the evidence offered in proof of such an alienation is not any grant or sanad or any entry in a Government book * * * but is sought to be spelt out against the Crown from the acts and statements of its officers."

*This is the celebrated Kánara Land Assessment Case reported in 12 Bom. H. C. R. App. 1-224.

†The law officers of the Government of India have recently considered the applicability in this country of the English rule for the construction of Crown grants in connection with the question of the right of Government to mines and minerals. They hold it to be inapplicable (1) where grants have been made in consideration of a money payment, and (2) where the grants have not been made in exercise of a prerogative (see Government of India's letter to Secretary of State, No. 7, of 1st September 1879, para. 4, published in Supplement to Gazette of India of 22nd May 1880, p. 864).

10. The right to trees in lands not held upon any inám tenure but under one or other of the ordinary ancient tenures of the country depends upon the same question, viz., whether the property in such lands belongs to the sovereign power of the State or to the landholder. This question was very thoroughly considered in the Kánara Land Assessment Case. After a full review of the authorities, Westropp, C. J., and West, J., arrived at the conclusion in that case, that "the proprietary right of the sovereign derives no warrant from the ancient laws or institutions of the Hindus, and is not recognized by modern Hindu lawyers as exclusive or incompatible with individual ownership." (12 Bom. H. C. R., 53, App.). Under the Muhamadans also the holders of cultivated lands were shown to have been regarded as the owners thereof (ibid., 53—57). Proprietorship in the soil was expressly recognized as existing in the bhágdári and narwádári villages in parts of Gujarát (ibid., p. 43)* and it was so strongly stated that there is reason to believe that the mirási tenure in the Bombay Presidency carries with it private property in the soil (ibid., pp. 46-7, 43, 50, 51 and 70) that there is little doubt that if the point had been directly in issue, it would have been held that mirasdárs also are proprietors † of their lands, just as it was held (ibid., p. 1, head note) that the mulavarydár in Kánara "enjoys an hereditary and transferable property in the soil."

11. But whatever may be the rights of rayats in respect of their cultivated lands, it is now clearly established that waste lands under the ancient Hindu and Muhamadan laws, as well as under the British law now in force in this Presidency, belong to Government. This was clearly laid down in the Kánara Land Assessment Case (12 Bom. H. C. R., 57-9 App.), in Pendse's Case (High Court's Printed Judgments for 1879, p. 276), which will be more particularly referred to in the next paragraph, and in the Kánara Forest Case (I. L. R. 3 Bom. 583-4, 542 and 546-7). The two last-named cases are the two important suits in which respectively the rights of Government to trees in varkas lands in the Konkan and in kumri lands in Kánara have been recently contested.

12. In Wásudeo Bháskar Pendse v. the Collector of Thánu (High Court's Printed Judgments for 1879, pp. 274—287) the plaintiff sued "to establish his rights as against the Government to cut down all trees growing upon certain lands held by him in the Narsápur or Karjat taluka of the Thána district." He claimed a proprietary right in his lands by virtue of his being a sutidár, and he alleged that a sutidár in the Konkan was equivalent to a mirásdár in the Deccan. Melvill and Kembal, J.J., who decided the case, felt "no doubt that there is such a tenure as a suti tenure," but were unable on the imperfect evidence before them to determine "whether a sutidár in the Konkan has the same proprietary title in the soil of his estate as a mirásdár in the Deccan." ‡ But they deemed it unnecessary to decide this point, § because (owing to a mistake in the conduct of the suit in the District Court) the plaintiff's right to the trees in his rice fields had been conceded by Government, and it was clear that it "was only in respect of plaintiff's rice fields that any suti tenure could be set up," the "varkas land never being entered in the Government accounts as suti, but being carefully distinguished from it."

13. The judgment of the High Court in this case was therefore limited to a consideration of the respective rights of Government and of the plaintiff in his varkas lands. Varkas is defined in the judgment as being "land on which, in accordance with the mode of cultivation in use in the Konkan, the cultivators cut grass, brushwood and branches of trees to be burned as manure (ráb) on their rice fields. This and not cultivation is the use to which varkas land is ordinarily appropriated; but patches of such land are from time to time used

* Its existence in talukdári villages is recognized by section 20, Bombay Act VI of 1862, as regards villages which have been managed by the Talukdári Settlement Officer, and a Government Resolution extended the same recognition to talukdári villages which did not come under management.

† In Pendse's case (Printed Judgments for 1879, p. 275) Melvill and Kembal, J.J., said: "If he (the plaintiff) were a mirásdár we should probably on the authority of Mr. Mountstuart Elphinstone (a) hold that he was proprietor of his estate and of all trees growing upon it."

‡ The plaintiff also made some attempt to establish his proprietary title on the ground of his being a "pándharpesha;" but the Court held that pándharpeshas had no greater proprietary rights than any other occupant, the only privilege they enjoyed being a certain remission of the Government assessment, and even that privilege had been discontinued since A.D. 1864.

§ In a later case, however, between private parties, Wáman Bhíváji v. Vináyak Rámchandra Lakshmanji (High Court's Printed Judgments for 1879, p. 429) the same Judges said that "sut" is a "term which may be taken to be equivalent to the 'mirási' in the Deccan, and to mean 'and of which the holder is proprietor subject to the payment to Government of a certain defined share of the produce.'

for raising scanty crops of inferior grain." The important points determined with respect to such lands are:—

(1) that varkas lands must be regarded to all intents and purposes as waste lands and, therefore, according to the settled law concerning waste lands, belong to the State;

(2) that neither the use, with the acquiescence of Government, of defined portions of such lands for obtaining manure, nor the occasional and sporadic cultivation for several generations of patches of such land can be held to create a proprietary title.

14. The claim in the Kánara Forest case (I. L. R., 3 Bom. 452—785) although of very much greater magnitude in its extent, was very similar in its nature to the above. Kumri cultivation consists in the clearing and cultivating of spots in the jungles or forests, which after a season or two are again abandoned for other similar spots. The judgments recorded by Green and West, J.J., in the case are extremely lengthy and complicated, and as the suit related principally to questions of a purely local nature, they have been summarized in a separate memorandum. But the following points of general applicability may be noted as having been determined in it (viz.):—

(1) That under British rule the principle from which we must start is that waste lands belong to Government (ibid., p. 584).

(2) That the levy of a tax does not necessarily make a proprietor, but that to levy money from a ryot on account of any land implies a knowledge that he is there and in some way beneficially connected with it (ibid., pp. 578, 586).

(3) That for whatever purpose land may be used, tacit acquiescence by Government in its occupation wherever definitely invited and plainly manifested, has the effect of creating decisive test of ownership (ibid., 578-79).

(4) That mere temporary occupation of spots in a forest "without appropriation of any spot for more than some months or a year" is not necessarily a property or possession (ibid., 581).

(5) That as there must be certainty in a grant as to the area conferred, so there must be certainty as to area, or at least as to the identity of the object occupied, if the occupation is to raise the presumption of a grant, or of acquiescence in a definite occupation. There must be the "essential elements of possession, a fixed, a definable, an exclusive occupation, * * * present to the perception of the parties" (ibid., 585).

(6) That the acquiescence of Government in the levy by another person of fees for the cultivation of land within limits which that person claimed as his own, and the fact of Government's refraining from levying such fees direct and assessing such person's income from the fees levied by him, must be held to mark Government's recognition of such person's ownership (593, 636).

(7) That "a property in the soil must not be understood to convey the same rights in India as in England." Under one system an ownership may subsist unimpaired side by side with a limited right in exercise of which acts may be done which under another system would be regarded as contradictions of any ownership (ibid., 715).

15. Failing proof of absolute ownership of the soil, an attempt is sometimes made to establish a prescriptive or customary right to the trees on Government lands. This however, it has now been ruled, cannot be done. In Váman Janárdan Joshi v. the Collector of Thána and the Conservator of Forests (6 Bom. H. C. R. 201, 202, A. C. J.), Melvill, J., held (Gibbs, J., concurring) that the plaintiff could not acquire by prescription a right to dispose as proprietor of all timber growing on another's land. Again in Vásudeo Bháskar Pendse v. the Collector of Thána (High Court's Printed Judgments for 1879, p. 278) the same Judge (Kemball, J., concurring) said, it is clear upon authority that if the soil be the property of another, the plaintiff cannot, either by custom or prescription, acquire an unlimited right to cut down trees growing upon that soil. "A profit a prendre in another's soil cannot be claimed by custom, however ancient, uniform and clear the exercise of that custom may have been" and "an unlimited profit a prendre on another's soil cannot be claimed by prescription."

16. West, J., held to the same effect in his judgment in the Kánara Forest Case (I. L. R., 3 Bom. 640-641), but he pointed out that "the right to cut timber is" nevertheless "separable as a legal notion, from the residual ownership with which it is usually joined in England; and in this country the reserve of the forests or of timber trees of special value by the State in a grant of land is a general and well understood incident of the estate thus granted. In Gujarat it is not unusual for the owner of trees and the owner of the soil in which they grow to be different Prescriptive or customary rights to trees in Government lands impossible.

But partial rights of individuals in or over trees not incompatible with the general ownership of Government and vice versa.

persons. This custom may have sprung from the Mahomedan law. It does not necessarily follow, therefore, from the cutting of trees by the Government that the Government asserting an unqualified ownership of the soil, extruded every private claimant." That particular rights over, or in respect of, the trees in certain lands may exist without carrying with them an absolute right of property over the whole is illustrated in the Pigonde Case (High Court's Printed Judgments for 1875, p. 332), in which the Chief Justice said: "A practice for the khot to charge fees to other persons for cutting firewood does not, in my opinion, afford any solid ground for contending that he had any right to teak or other valuable trees. It might as well be contended that a right to firebote in England conferred upon the tenant a right to cut down oak and other valuable trees."*

17. Both in the South Konkan and the Kánara Districts, certain proclamations (in the South Konkan, Dunlop's proclamation of A.D. 1824, and in Kánara, Harris' proclamation of A.D. 1823) are relied upon by the landholders as giving them rights to timber. The two proclamations which are very similar are to be found quoted at 8 Bom. H. C. R., 2 A. C. J. and I. L. R., 3 Bom. 728, respectively. With respect to the former it was admitted for the plaintiff in the Pigonde Case and the principle of the admission was endorsed by the Court (see Kembell, J.'s judgment, p. 327) that unless a khot was proprietor of his land, it neither conferred upon, nor confirmed to, him any rights in the timber trees; and it was also held in the Kánara Forest Case, that the latter related only to timber in proprietary estates (I. L. R., 3 Bom. 690-691). In the Collector of Ratnágiri v. Venkatráo Náráyen Sarve (8 Bom. H. C. R., 1 A. C. J.), it was argued on behalf of Government that Dunlop's proclamation had been cancelled by a subsequent Government notification issued in 1851; but it was held "that Government cannot, by issuing a subsequent proclamation, resume a grant made by a previous proclamation, inasmuch as it cannot, any more than a private person, without the consent of the donee, revoke a gift actually made."

18. In Vásudeo Bháskar Pendse v. the Collector of Thána, when it had been held in the first place that the varkas lands in dispute were the property of Government, and therefore that the trees standing on them were prima facie also the property of Government, the plaintiff endeavoured to establish his title in virtue of "special grants and recognitions made by Government from time to time." The decisions recorded by the Court upon the various points thus raised are only applicable to the district of Thána, and some of them, perhaps, to certain talukas only of that district, but as indicating the nature of the questions which arise in such cases, it may be useful briefly to state them here. The Court held that—

- (1) in the Thána district, previous to the introduction of the Revenue Survey—
  - (a) the felling of teak trees was universally prohibited and the right of Government to do this was never questioned;
  - (b) the right to all other trees standing upon, or to be afterwards planted upon their own lands was conceded to the occupants;
  - (c) varkas lands were treated as Government waste and not as private lands;
  - (d) the right of cultivators to take "ráb" from varkas lands for manuring their rice fields was recognized; but
  - (e) they were prohibited from felling trees of certain specified descriptions, although permitted, as a favour, to cut common wood for domestic use but not for trading purposes;
- (2) there is considerable confusion about the introduction of the Joint Survey Rules into the Konkan, but Captain (now Colonel) Francis' order for introducing them must either be held to have been unauthorized and invalid, or else that order and a subsequent order issued by him for modifying Rule X.* must be taken as constituting a single proceeding, so that either Rule X. was not introduced into the Konkan, or it was introduced with a reservation of the rights of Government in certain trees;

* With reference to the rights of khots to timber and to land in their villages, the recent decisions of the High Court reported at I. L. R., XI B. 680 and I. L. R., XII B. 535 required to be noticed. The head-note in the first of these two cases contains the following:—"The mere fact of the defendants being vatandár khots did not make them proprietors of the cultivated land in the village; proprietary rights are not essential to the conception of a khotship; in levying thal on the lands tilled, the defendants did not assert, they certainly did not establish, a proprietary right to the soil." The judgment in the case reported at I. L. R., XII B. 535 contains the following passages: "(1) In the absence of a sannad expressly granting it, the ownership neither of the soil nor of cultivated or uncultivated land passes by the grant of the vatandár khotship. (2) The grant of the vatani khot did not make the khot a perpetual tenant of Government in respect of all lands in the village except dhára lands. Held on the authority of Tajubai's case (3 B. H. C. R. 132, A. C. J.) and Ramchandra Mahajan v. the Collector of Ratnágiri (7 B. H. C. R., A. C. J., at p. 43) that a permanent relationship was created between the Government and the khot which could not be interfered with as long as the settlement of 1788 was in force except with the khot's consent, and, therefore, that Government could not when the paháni of 1788 was in force, withdraw a thikán (included in that paháni of the village) from the khot's cultivation. (3) In the absence of evidence to show that the right to the jungle produce was intended to be reserved to Government, the khot was entitled to cut down brushwood whether as a source of revenue or for the purpose of bringing the land into cultivation. (4) The Khot had no right to cut timber in forest and uncultivated lands whether by virtue of his khotship or Dunlop's proclamation.

(3) the present intentions of Government and of the Legislature appeared from Government Resolution No. 6646, dated 27th November 1875, and from the Bombay

(a) See section 40 of the Revenue Code, which has since become law.

Land Revenue Code Bill (a) to be to reserve teak and black-wood trees only, and therefore that the plaintiff's title to cut trees in the varkas land of which he is survey occupant extends to all trees except these;

(4) as regards varkas land in the plaintiff's occupation but not included in any survey number, he is not entitled to cut down any trees.

19. In unalienated lands which are not the property of their holders and which have been subjected to a survey settlement, the rights to trees are now defined by section 40 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code.

MEMORANDUM BY THE L. R.—SECTIONS 4 AND 9 OF THE FOREST ACT.

Two questions have been submitted to Government for decision:—

First—Whether any land other than forest land or waste land which is the property of Government or over which the Government has proprietary right or to the whole or any part of the forest produce of which the Government is entitled can be constituted a reserved forest under the provisions of Chapter II. of Act VII of 1878?

Secondly—Whether the rights referred to in section 9 of that Act include right of way or right to a water-course?

2. On the first question it is quite clear that Chapter II. relates to forest land or waste land described in section 3 and to no other land.

3. Section 3 specifies what land it shall be lawful for the Government to constitute reserved forest; namely, forest and waste land belonging to Government. The words "any land" in section 4 cannot include any other land than what it is lawful for the Government to constitute a reserved forest. The Government cannot notify cultivated lands, whether alienated or unalienated, as forest reserves, except by first acquiring all the rights of ownership and converting them into waste lands. The object of section 10 is to meet the case of any claim that may possibly be made of private ownership in or over such forest land or waste land or any portion thereof as is notified under section 4, and to empower the Forest Settlement Officer to exclude such land from the proposed forest or obtain a surrender of it from the claimant or acquire it under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870.

4. With regard to any land other than forest land or waste land belonging to Government, if required for the purposes of the Forest Act, 1878, section 83 provides that it can be treated as required for a public purpose and dealt with under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870. When such land has been so acquired, it becomes, with all rights in or over the same, public property, subject always to the right of way and all other rights of the public or of individuals legally subsisting. If Government does not dispose of it in any other way or for any other purpose, it becomes waste land belonging to Government, and may be constituted a reserved forest in the manner provided in Chapter II. of the Forest Act.

5. On the second question right of way and right to a water-course are included in the rights referred to in section 9.]

6. The Forest Settlement Officer is appointed to inquire into and determine the existence, nature and extent of any rights alleged to exist in favour of any person in or over any land comprised within the specified limits of the proposed forest, and to deal with

* No. X. of the Joint Survey Rules was as follows:—

"Proprietors of inam, judi and miras lands, having possession of the same, have the right of cutting down or otherwise disposing of all trees growing therein, and also holders of Government fields, of which they have been in uninterrupted occupancy from a period anterior to the age of the trees, or for a period of twenty years, or who have purchased the trees under the provisions of Rule 2."

Captain Francis' order for modifying this rule in the Konkan was as follows:—

"Clause 10 provides that the proprietor of a field has the right to cut down trees growing in the field. Such right must be understood to exist in this petha: but this clause does not authorize the felling of trees which are under the conservation of Dr. Gibson, the Conservator of Forests; they should be preserved as hitherto."

the same as provided in Chapter II. He has, therefore, two principal duties to attend to; first, to make a proper inquiry; and, secondly, to dispose of the claims in accordance with the provisions of the said chapter.

7. His enquiry is to be made not only into all claims duly preferred, but he is to search for the existence of any rights which are not claimed, by examining Government records, taking the evidence of persons likely to be acquainted with any such rights, and personally surveying and mapping out the proposed forest.

8. The rights so contemplated are classed as follows:—

- (1.) Right of pasture.
- (2.) Right to forest produce.
- (3.) Right of way.
- (4.) Right to water-courses.
- (5.) All other rights in or over any land.

9. Section 10 provides how the Forest Settlement Officer shall deal with the last class of rights.

10. Sections 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 provide how the Forest Settlement Officer shall deal with the first and second classes of rights.

11. The third and fourth classes relate to certain incorporeal hereditaments or easements attaching to the land which is the property of Government. It is obvious that when once after due inquiry a claim to any such right is admitted, or when once the existence of any such right is discovered, the fact of the right is sufficiently established.

12. Where no claims are preferred in respect of these rights, it is undoubtedly the duty of the Forest Settlement Officer not to overlook their existence and not to neglect to make every possible enquiry to ascertain whether any such rights do exist. It depends on the Forest Settlement Officer to prevent any hardship occurring to villagers living near proposed forests in respect to the use of public pathways or of water-courses in the forests; and it is not likely that any such rights, where they are clearly defined and ascertainable, will become extinct through the operation of section 9. Any right of this description which is so obscure as not to be claimed at the proper time, or to come to knowledge after careful search has been made, cannot be of much worth.

13. It is clearly the intention of the Legislature that all existing rights of way or to water-courses should be carefully ascertained and preserved intact unless it is found convenient to stop such ways or water-courses and substitute others for them, as provided by Section 24.

14. Any person who shall enter a forest except by such public or private way will be a trespasser. An unlawful entry on another's land is a trespass; but it is not an offence punishable under the Penal Code, which only contemplates the offence called "criminal trespass," i. e., trespass with intent to commit an offence or to annoy the person in possession. But unlawful entry on a reserved forest is a forest offence punishable under the Forest Act, 1878. (G. R. 3112 of 31st May 1881.)

(RULES FOR THE ASSIGNMENT OF LAND FOR KUMRI CULTIVATION.)

(1) The period of fallow should never be less than ten years after cultivation for two.

(2) Personal inspection should annually be made both by the Collector and the Assistant Collector with a view to ascertaining that the prescribed limits of the Kumri assignment in each case have not been exceeded.

(3) Kumri assignments should, as far as possible, never be allowed within 100 yards of streams running as late as December, and on the upper third of the slopes of hills. (See G. R. 5319 of 9th August 1882.)

Sanad to be examined before Inámdár is allowed to fell.

It is advisable that the sanad should be examined in every case before forest is allowed to be cut down in inám villages. (G. R. 6457 of 29th October 1881.)

Rights of Government on Trees in Waste Land.

Enjoyment of the produce of trees on Government waste land, by custom or under a lax system of administration, does not amount to a recognition by Government of a right which the Forest Department must respect.

The exception in section 41 of the Land Revenue Code in favour of private rights extends to lands set apart for forest reserves under section 38. (G. R. 6550 of 3rd November 1881.)

Extract of Instructions as to Forest Settlement.

Under section 13 of the Forest Act a Forest Settlement Officer should record, in respect of a right admitted, the extent of such right, and then, if he determines to proceed under section 14, clause (c), he should record an order continuing the right and declaring it to be exercisable only at such seasons and within such portions of the forest and under such rules as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe.

The Act distinctly provides that the Settlement Officer shall determine the extent of the rights in each forest under settlement, and shall then consider whether, having regard to the maintenance of the forest, they can be continued. If so, he arranges for their continuance; otherwise he commutes the rights. If he continues a right, the Local Government can make rules to regulate its exercise, but these rules must not substantially detract from the rights of either the claimant or the State. Such rules are not intended to define the legal status of rights claimed, but only to control the exercise of rights admitted, for the power to make such rules is limited, and does not extend to fixing the number of cattle which a right-holder may send into the forest, or the amount of produce he may extract. An order admitting a claim to rights of pasture or forest produce cannot therefore be limited by any declaration in rules framed under section 14 (c) of the Forest Act.

It is of vital importance that only such rights should be recorded, under sections 11 and 13 of the Forest Act, as are proved to exist, and that they should be recorded only to the extent thus proven.

There is nothing in the Forest Act that justifies the Forest Settlement Officer in providing for the prospective wants of non-existing settlers or of a future and possibly more numerous generation; nothing that permits the concession by a Forest Settlement Officer of more extensive rights than those to which he finds claimants to be entitled at the time of settlement. The rights claimed must be actually existing rights, vested in an individual or person, or in a definite body of persons like a number of co-owners or a village community.

They may be rights in gross unconnected with the ownership of immoveable property (houses or land), or they may be rights attached to the ownership of such property. They may be rights enduring only for a certain period or for the life of the person in whom they are vested, or they may be rights which will pass to the heirs of that person, or pass in perpetuity with the property to which they are attached. But they must be existing and vested in some person or body of persons who can claim them at the time of settlement.

If the Forest Settlement Officer is permitted to provide for indefinite prospective wants of an indefinite prospective number of right-holders, he may be providing for the gradual absorption and final extinction of the actually existing rights of the State.

A Forest Settlement Officer goes beyond his province in providing for rights in favour of all the inhabitants of the village, present and future, including persons who could not claim as successors to any persons now entitled, but only by virtue of some original and independent right acquired simply by the fact of their becoming inhabitants. The rights should be recorded either in favour of the several individuals composing the village or of the village community as a body in possession of the village lands.

There might possibly be a local customary law which would confer a right on every person directly he became an inhabitant, and it is true that the recent tendency of the English law courts has been to recognize such customs more freely than would have been the case several years ago. It would, however, be difficult under any circumstances to establish a custom giving a right of a nature of a profit a prendre, and the Forest Act not only makes no provision for rights to arise in future in this way, but even bars the accrual thereof in section 22. Whenever, therefore, rights have been recorded in the names of individuals, and it is desirable that new inhabitants of a village should enjoy the same advantages as established right-holders, this can be effected as a matter of favour by executive arrangements, but no provision should be made for it under sections 13 and 14 of the Forest Act.

It is conceivable that a claimant might establish a right of such a nature that it would probably in course of time entitle him to larger benefits from a forest than he was entitled to at the time of settlement. For instance he might show that he was entitled to pasture for all cattle employed by him in the cultivation of his land, and he might be in possession of extensive waste land, which he was gradually bringing under cultivation—a process which of necessity would tend to increase the number of his cattle. Here the Forest Settlement Officer, though dealing only with “actually existing rights,” would also have to take into account “prospective wants.” In such a case, which could probably only arise when the right claimed is based on a former grant, revenue settlement or sanad, it would seem reasonable to admit the rights of the proprietor within a maximum, which should be determined with reference to the rights actually enjoyed by him at the time of making the record and to the potential capabilities of the forest. But a maximum should not be imposed, unless there is a clear necessity for its imposition, and, in such cases, it should be liberally fixed.

It cannot be admitted that a prescriptive right over any forest can be acquired by the continuous purchase of its produce from the owner at market rates, the element of adverse enjoyment and of enjoyment as of right, on which prescription rests, being wholly wanting. A Forest Settlement Officer should not therefore burden Government property with legal obligations, which may prove embarrassing and may prevent the Government from making the best use of its forests.

Whilst, however, desirous that all settlement records of legal rights should be kept within the strictest limits in order to prevent any unnecessary future embarrassment, the Government of India freely admits that every State forest should be worked in such a manner as to secure the greatest possible benefit to the people of the country, and, in preference, to those living in the vicinity of the forest. (G. R. No. 934, 4th February 1886, R. D., circulating No. 48 F. from the G. of I., R. D., dated 16th January 1886.)

Section 3.—Forest Land and Waste Land.

Memo. by L. R. :—The land which section 3 of the Forest Act (VII of 1878) empowers Government to constitute a ‘reserved forest’ is precisely the same as the land which under section 28 of the Act may be constituted a ‘protected forest,’ viz., ‘forest land or waste land which is the property of Government, or over which the Government has proprietary rights, or to the whole or any part of the forest produce of which the Government is entitled.’

“2. Land ‘which has been given out for cultivation’ is certainly not ‘waste land.’ ‘Forest land’ is not defined in the Act, and it is a term not easy of definition, but land which has been given out for agricultural purposes on the ordinary survey tenure, or land which the holder thereof has in any way acquired a right to hold for survey purposes on such a tenure, cannot, I think, properly be called ‘forest land, even though it was forest land before it was so given out, and even though Government have reserved their right to the trees, or to some of the trees growing therein. This was in effect the opinion in which Government concurred in their Resolution No. 3112 of 31st May 1881, and it is equally valid whether the proposal is to constitute such land a reserved or a protected forest.

“3. But where land which was originally waste and more or less overgrown with forest trees and jungle has been given out merely for grazing or for dalhi cultivation under conditions restraining the cutting of the forest trees, as is the case, I believe, with much warkas land in the Kolaba District, such land is, in my opinion, still forest land and may be dealt with by Government under either section 3 or section 28 of the Act. But care would have to be taken not to include any such land as that described above in paragraph 2.” (G. R. No. 904, dated 2nd February 1883, R. D.)

Section 15.—Commutation and its effect.

The object of Chapter II of the Forest Act is to enable the State to maintain certain areas permanently as reserved forest, and with this view an elaborate procedure is prescribed. The Forest Settlement Officer hears claims to rights, and, under section 13, makes a record of such rights as he admits. Then under section 14, ‘having due regard to the maintenance of the reserved forest’ he proceeds to pass such orders as will ensure the continued exercise of the rights so admitted. If, however, he finds it impossible, having, again, ‘due regard to maintenance of the reserved forest,’ to arrange the matter suitably, he can, under section 15, commute such rights, either by money payment, or by grant of land, ‘or in such other manner as he thinks fit.’ The Government of India is advised that the commutation of rights thus provided for must be of a permanent, and not of a temporary, character, and that, in fact, it must be of such a nature (in whatever manner it may be made) as to absolutely extinguish the right which the Forest Settlement Officer has admitted, but the exercise of which cannot be allowed with due regard to the maintenance of the reserved forest. It may be observed that the words 'other manner,' in the expression "in such other manner as he thinks fit," simply refer to the nature of the consideration which the right-holder is to receive for the commutation of his rights, and imply that it must be a mode Ejusdem generis with payment of a lump sum or a grant of land. (Letter from Under Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agriculture Departments (Forests) No. 893, dated 23rd September 1887.)

"I think that the commutation of rights provided for in section 15 of the Act was intended to be, and according to the true construction of the terms of the section is, an extinguishment of the right commuted for the consideration mentioned, just as by section 10 an absolute surrender (sub-clause 2), or complete and permanent acquisition (Sub-clause 3) of the rights dealt with by that section, are provided for. This view is, to my mind, supported by the terms of section 26, which appear to assume the operation of the Act on forest rights to be limited to extinguishment or absolute acquisition of the same, and by the fact that nowhere in the Act is there any trace of an intention that forest right should, under its provisions, be suspended or temporarily taken up by Government. The expression at the end of section 15, 'in such other manner as he thinks fit,' I construe as having reference only to the consideration to be paid or given for the right commuted, and I am of opinion that these words cannot properly be interpreted as in any degree amplifying or affecting the meaning of the word 'commuting' which must be read in its ordinary signification of 'exchanging,' out and out, and permanently.

"The same objection seems to me to apply to the amended rule suggested by Mr. Fulton in his report, No. 1356* of 1887, dated the 10th October 1887. I think that an arrangement such as is contemplated in that amended rule would be, not a commutation under section 15, but a contract between Government and the right-holder altogether déhors the section, and it appears to me that it would be inappropriate and misleading to officers carrying out the Act to provide for such an arrangement in a rule purporting to be made under section 15, for the guidance of officers 'commuting' (i.e. permanently acquiring) rights under that section. If in particular cases such arrangements are deemed desirable, and can be come to with the right-holders, they ought, in my opinion, to be embodied in separate and independent agreements, outside and apart from the Act. Such an agreement could, I apprehend, be made in any case, either in the first instance in lieu of a commutation under Section 15 or subsequently to such commutation by way of novation or substituted contract, but under no circumstance could a contract of this kind be deemed to be made under or by virtue of section 15, and having regard to its terms I think the special sanction of Government would be requisite for the making of every such contract.

"I see no reason why a cash allowance, either permanent or temporary and terminable, at a fixed period or on the expiry of one or more lives, should not form the consideration for the commutation (i.e. permanent acquisition) of rights under section 15. The granting of such allowances, either permanent or temporary, in lieu of the rights commuted, would, I think, be within the scope of the words 'in such other manner as he thinks fit,' at the close of the section, and no rule appears to me to be necessary to warrant the adoption of this course.

"There can, I venture to think, be few forest rights, for the permanent acquisition (commutation) of which allowances, terminable at periods more or less remote, according to the nature and value of the rights, would not be adequate compensation." (Quoted G. R. 8524, dated 15th December 1887, R. D.)

Engagement of Counsel in enquiry into Claims under the Indian Forest Act.

RESOLUTION.—In the enquiry into all important claims on which the Forest Settlement Officer will pass orders under sections 10, 11, 14 or 15 of the Forest Act, or in regard to which an appeal is preferred under section 16, the Forest Officers who are responsible that the interests of Government are adequately represented, should apply under the standing rules for the advice and assistance of the Legal Remembrancer who will make proposals to engage Counsel as he may think necessary. The Collector who is deputed to hear appeals under section 16 should not, of course, take part in these proceedings.

* The rule suggested in the Report referred to was as follows:—

"With the consent of the party interested the Forest Settlement Officer may grant an annual allowance in commutation of rights under section 15 of the Forest Act, provided that in such case he shall always direct that the allowance shall cease if the right shall at any time be restored and shall, before accepting such consent, explain this condition to the grantee."

The Forest Settlement Officer who exercises in these enquiries the powers of a Civil Court, cannot with propriety take part in communications relating to the evidence to be collected for the defence. Any decision of the Executive Government against the admission of forest rights is simply a statement of the position which Government propose to defend if it is assailed in the Forest Settlement Officer's Court and is in no way intended as an instruction to the Forest Settlement Officer in his judicial capacity. This should be obvious, but the matter is plainly stated here because it has sometimes been misunderstood. (G. R. No. 7829, 26th September 1885, R. D.)

Sections 9 and 15 inapplicable to Protected Forests.

Memo. by L. R.—“It is not competent to Government to extend the provisions of section 9 of the Forest Act, regarding the extinction of rights in reserved forests, and of section 15, regarding the commutation of rights in such forests, to protected forests. In the case of a protected forest all that the Act contemplates is an enquiry and a record of rights, not a settlement. If the existence of a right is denied by Government in a protected forest there is nothing to prevent the claimant from resorting to the usual remedy in the Civil Courts to establish his claim, if he is so minded. And if his right is admitted he cannot be in any way compelled to commute or part with it. A ‘settlement’ with him can only be made with his consent.” (G. R. 2711 of 31st March 1885 R. D.)

Letter from the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, No. 531 of 1883, on the subject of Forest Rights in Inám Villages subjected to a Summary Settlement under Bombay Act VII of 1863 in the Thána District.

2. In a large number of the cases reported upon by Mr. Ebdon, the inámdárs' original sanad contained the words which have been held by the High Court to convey proprietary rights in the soil and therefore in the forests. I apprehend that there can and will be no question as to the necessity for recognizing the title of these inámdárs to their forests, whatever peculiarities may have been detected in the manner in which the Collector and his subordinates gave effect to the provisions of the Summary Settlement Act in respect to them.

3. The only point which may appear doubtful with regard to inámdárs of this class is whether Government are bound by the terms of the kabuláyat which the Collector had taken from them, to the effect that in lieu of paying a summary settlement cess on their forest-area they would pay one-eighth of two-thirds of the proceeds of every sale of their timber whenever they might fall. These kabuláyats, it seems, are divisible into two classes, viz., (1) those taken after Government Resolution No. 254 of 23rd January 1865 was passed and (2) those taken before that date. There is no ground for any contention against the validity of kabuláyats of the first class, because the above Resolution expressly authorized the Collector to take them.

4. But as regards kabuláyats of the second class there is this to be said, that the Collector had them taken on his own responsibility and that Government have never since formally ratified his act. The history of these kabuláyats is very clearly given in paragraphs 18—34 of Mr. Ebdon's able report. It appears that the Collector, Mr. Gordon, finding himself unable to carry out the orders of the Revenue Commissioner, given in his No. 2250 A. of 17th October 1863, as to the manner in which forests should be assessed for the purpose of summary settlements, thought of this plan of avoiding the difficulty. Before asking for the sanction of Government to the plan he took steps for ascertaining whether the inámdárs would accept it. He found that they would, and about seventeen kabuláyats had already been executed before he wrote in for the sanction. In his letter he did not ask Government to ratify the kabuláyats which had already been taken, he did not even mention that any had been taken. With the recommendation, however, of the Revenue Commissioner, Government, in the Resolution named in the last paragraph, sanctioned the Collector's proposal, and I do not suppose that Mr. Gordon in the least doubted that this sanction was sufficient to cover all the kabuláyats already taken. Had Government sanctioned his proposal with some essential modification, it would have been necessary, no doubt, to take fresh kabuláyats and to cancel those previously taken; but in the absence of any such cause the ex post facto sanction was very naturally considered by the Collector to be sufficient authority for what he had done in anticipation of it.

5. If, at the time, it had been brought to the notice of Government that these kabuláyats had already been taken, it is certain that Government would have approved them. I think, therefore, the fact that Government shortly afterwards sanctioned generally the Collector's proposal was sufficient to justify him in deeming that Government had ratified the kabuláyats already taken. That this was his opinion is evident because he did not issue orders for having the kabuláyats taken over again as he might easily have done, if he entertained any doubt.

6. These same kabuláyats have now been in force, without any question being raised as to their validity, for twenty years, and, in that interval, have no doubt been more than once acted upon by both parties. It is not likely, I think, that any Civil Court would, under the circumstances, set aside these kabuláyats as having been made without authority.

7. I am of opinion, therefore, that none of these kabuláyats could now be cancelled except by consent of the parties thereto. Further, the only result of any such kabuláyat being cancelled would be that the forest would have to be assessed under Rule 2 of Section 6 of Bombay Act VII of 1863, and it is, I think, very doubtful whether such assessment would be as profitable to Government as the arrangement in force under the kabuláyats.

8. The foregoing remarks (paragraphs 4 to 7) have been limited to the case of inám-dárs whose proprietary title was evidenced by their original sanads. But it will be evident that the same reasoning is equally applicable to all other inámdárs whose holdings contained forests, if they were otherwise entitled to have the summary settlement extended to those forests.

9. As regards inámdárs whose forest rights were not clearly evidenced by their original title-deeds, the only questions raised which I need discuss are, therefore :—

(1.) What is the effect of the manner in which the notices issued under the Summary Settlement Act to these inámdárs were worded—

(a) with respect to the area or revenue of the holding, and

(b) with respect to the foot-notes, which are translated in paragraph 43 of Mr. Ebden's letter?

(2.) What is the effect of no decision having been come to before their kabuláyat was taken, as to whether the forests were their property or not?

10. It is important that it should be borne in mind that the summary settlements in question were not merely contracts between the inámdárs and Government, the terms of which must be sought in the offer made on the one hand and the acceptance given on the other. These settlements were made under the provisions of Bombay Act VII of 1863, an enactment expressly passed for the purpose of legalizing, regulating and facilitating them. The correspondence to which Government allude in their letter under reply establishes that the following points, which I have from time to time submitted for the consideration of Government, have been concurred in by two successive Advocates-General, the Honourable Mr. Marriott and the Honourable Mr. Latham.

(1.) That on the acceptance by the holder of any land of the summary settlement, the said land becomes his "heritable and transferable property" (Section 6, Bombay Act VII of 1863);

(2.) That the right to the trees necessarily follows the property in the soil (VI., Bo. H. C. R. 188, A. C. J.);

(3.) That such right extends to the whole area in respect of which the summary settlement was offered and accepted; and

(4.) That Rule 2, section 6 of Bombay Act VII of 1863, merely enabled the Collector to assess land of an exceptional character at his discretion, but did not permit of his excluding such land or the trees growing upon it from the operation of the settlement.

In further explanation of the last two points, I may now add :—

(5.) That there is nowhere in the Act any authority for splitting up a holding and for offering the summary settlement in respect of one portion of it and withholding the offer in respect of the rest. The evident intention of the Act is that each holder of "lands held either wholly or partially exempt from the payment of land-revenue" shall be entitled to the summary settlement in respect of his entire holding.

11. Section 9 of the Act provides for the service of a notice upon the holder of lands held wholly or partially exempt from land-revenue. There is no provision in it that the area of the lands to which it applies shall be set forth in the notice. The notice is to call upon the holder of the exempt lands "to state whether he is willing to accept and abide by the settlement" prescribed by the Act, "or whether he demands formal inquiry into his title." It is also to "explain the nature of the alternatives offered on the part of Government." Nothing more.

12. A person receiving a notice and looking to the terms of the Act under which it was issued would therefore be entitled, in my opinion, to regard anything contained in it which was not prescribed by the Act as surplusage which could not affect his legal position one way or another. At any rate he would not be bound by anything which was inconsistent with the Act.

13. Now it was not essential that the notices should set forth the area of the holding to which they related. The Collector of Thána appears to have been aware of this, for in his very first instructions issued on 11th September 1863, he directed that the area of a village should only be entered when the survey of that village had been completed, and that in other cases it would be sufficient to write "sabandh gaon", the entire village "nime gaon", half the village, &c., as the case might be. It does not appear to me reasonable to hold the Collector, and still less the inámdárs, responsible for the various entries which the Mámlatdárs and their clerks made in the notices, in execution of, or in spite of this order. I do not think Mr. Ebden has succeeded in showing that there was any intention on the Collector's part of limiting the settlement to the precise area set forth in the notice; and if he had any such intention it was, I think, inconsistent with the Act. His object really appears to have been merely to indicate with sufficient clearness the holding to which the notice referred, and this is all that was necessary under the Act. Just as the parties to a deed are not held to be bound by an erroneous entry therein of the extent of area of the property affected, so also the figures in one of these notices were unessential if the holding to which the notice related was otherwise clearly indicated therein.

14. The same may be said, I think, with regard to the amount of assessment or revenue shown in the notices. There was no legal necessity for setting forth in them the amount of the assessment on which quit-rent would be leviable. The Act clearly prescribes how the amount is to be ascertained and a reference to those rules would have sufficed. No legal presumption can be drawn from the fact that the assessment of forests was or was not shown, along with the assessment of the cultivated area, in the notices.

15. The Collector at first directed that the holders of forest villages should not be served with notices until orders should be received as to how to calculate the forest revenue. Afterwards, when he had received the Revenue Commissioner's instructions as to the manner in which the assessment of forest lands should be ascertained, he called for a list of inám villages in which the forest had been decided to belong to the inámdár, and directed that the notices for forest villages in which the forest had been decided to belong to Government should not show the forest revenue. From these two orders and from the Collector's subsequent order it seems that Mr. Gordon's idea was that the entire assessment on which quit-rent was to be levied should be shown in the notice. But when he attempted to give effect to the Revenue Commissioner's orders for fixing the assessment of the forests, he found himself beset by difficulties, and so, as he was pressed not to delay issuing notices, he issued them to the holders of forest villages without showing the assessment of the forest but with foot-notes added to the effect that the quit-rent in respect of the forest would be levied separately, and in doubtful cases that the question of the inámdár's right to the forest would be the subject of future inquiry. In all this Mr. Gordon no doubt acted cautiously and discreetly, but the absence from the notices issued under his orders of the forest assessment or revenue is not a certain indication that he did not intend the forests to be included in the settlement even if it was competent to him (which it was not) to exercise his own will in the matter.

16. With regard to the foot-notes which Mr. Gordon caused to be added to some of the notices, it is clear, I think, that they could have no binding force. The inámdárs might receive them as indicating the Collector's view of the law or as affording information of his intentions at that time, but their acceptance of the summary settlement, or their failure to reply to the notice had, in my opinion, no other effect than what the Act itself prescribes.

17. With regard to the reservation of the right of future inquiry into the inámdár's claims to the forest, I cannot help thinking that Mr. Gordon went much further than the Revenue Commissioner or Government intended. The Revenue Commissioner, Mr. Ellis, in the last paragraph of his letter No. 2250-A of 17th October 1863 stated as follows:—

"3. This rule applies only to inám villages in which the inámdár claims his right over a forest not included in the assessed lands of his village, but does not apply to forest admitted to be Government reserves which may happen to be situated within the limits of inám villages."

The words used are "claims" as regards inámdárs' forest and "admitted" as regards "Government reserves." There is no indication here of an intention that there should be a preliminary inquiry and a decision in every case as to the inámdár's right to his forest. So again Government Resolution No. 254 of 23rd January 1865 was passed upon the assurance of the Revenue Commissioner that "the settlement suggested was applicable only to alienated forests and not to those which were admitted to be Government property." The Revenue Commissioner evidently thought that the summary settlement should and would extend to all forests within inám villages not admitted to belong to Government.

18. Mr. Ebden has devoted some paragraphs to show that an inquiry and a decision on this question of an inámdár's right to his forest would not be foreign to the intention and meaning of the Summary Settlement Act. From this opinion I entirely differ. The primary object of the Summary Settlement Act was to dispense with the necessity of all preliminary inquiry or decision, and the erroneousness of Mr. Ebden's argument is, I think, at once evident if we attempt to answer the questions: (1) by what authority could such an inquiry be conducted and (2) what legal force would the Collector's decision have as against the express provision of the Summary Settlement Act that the entire holding of every inámdár who accepts a summary settlement shall thenceforward become his heritable and transferable property ?

19. The Resolution of Government, No. 3988 of 14th October 1864, placed the question of summary settlement holders' rights to trees and forests in its correct light. It said:—

“The Resolution of Government, No. 5388 of 1861, was intended to set at rest all doubts in regard to ináms to which the summary settlement was applied, that is, lands actually in the occupation of persons claiming them as ináms.

“2. The decision in all cases with regard to the claims to trees will therefore turn upon the fact whether the inámdár was exercising over the lands in which the said trees are situated, rights of occupancy. If he was, his right to the trees should be admitted under the summary settlement, but if, as frequently happens the forest reserves were distinct from the rest of the village lands, and the inámdár exercised no rights of occupancy over them at the time the settlement was made, he should not be admitted under it to a right in such reserves.”

20. This Resolution seems to have escaped Mr. Ebden's notice. It was no doubt in the hands both of the Revenue Commissioner, N. D., and of the Collector of Thána soon after the date which it bears, and it probably accounts for the fact that the Collector never made the threatened inquiries into the forest rights of those inámdárs whose original sanads did not in distinct words convey to them a proprietary title. If he was satisfied that a forest was included in the area within an inámdár's occupation, both the above Government-Resolution and the Summary Settlement Act gave the inámdár a perfect title to that forest.

21. With reference, therefore, to the second question which I have set myself to answer (supra paragraph 9) I am of opinion that the Collector's reservation of a right of inquiry and decision into forest claims was unnecessary and unauthorized, and therefore void, and that the kabuláyat taken from an inámdár before any such decision was passed was therefore good and binding, if the forest to which it related was within his holding and not a distinct forest reserve admittedly belonging to Government.

22. I may add that even had my opinion as to the forest-rights of inámdárs under a summary settlement been other than it is, I should have felt great difficulty in advising Government that they might ignore and set aside agreements which were executed twenty years ago and which, as I have said above, have probably been acted upon in the interval more than once. (Accompaniment to G. R. No. 1674, 8th September 1883.)

Opinion of the Advocate-General on the Forest rights of certain Inámdárs in the Thána Collectorate.

Before proceeding to categorically answer the several questions contained in the letter No. 3854 of 1883, Revenue Department (19th May last), from the Under Secretary to Government to the Solicitor to Government, it will be well to draw attention to the provisions of the Summary Settlement Act (Bombay Act VII of 1863).

The Act recites that it is expedient to provide with certain exceptions for the summary settlement of all claims to hold land wholly or partially exempt from the payment of land revenue and

Section 2, clause 1, enacts that when the holders (holder is defined as the person who by himself or his tenants, &c., is in possession) of lands (except, &c.) held either wholly or partially exempt from the payment of land revenue, shall consent to the terms and conditions thereafter described, it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to finally authorize and guarantee by sanad the continuance in perpetuity of the said land to the holders, their heirs and assigns.

Section 6 enacts that the lands so continued in perpetuity shall be the heritable and transferable property of the holders, their heirs, &c., and be continued in perpetuity at a fixed annual payment to Government.

Section 9 enacts that in order to ascertain whether a holder desires to accept the settlement the Collector, &c., shall serve him with a notice calling upon him to state whether he is willing to accept the settlement or whether he demands an enquiry into his title, and clause 8, that if the holder makes no answer for six months stating that he declines the settlement, &c., he shall be deemed to have dispensed with enquiry and the lands shall be dealt with under sections 2 and 6.

Section 10 enacts that if a holder claims an enquiry, then enquiry shall be conducted under the rules enacted—Clause 2, that all land held in excess of that by which title is established, shall be fully assessed.

It is to be observed upon these provisions that the benefit of the Act is to be given to such holders, i.e., persons in possession, as consent to the terms and conditions of the Act, in preference to being obliged to prove their title to exemption, and there is to be no enquiry into title save when the holder demands such enquiry.

The sole question is the fact of occupancy, and clause 2 of section 10 shows, that save where there is an enquiry into title, the right to occupancy is not a subject of enquiry.

Government in my opinion in their Resolution No. 3988 of 14th October 1862 @ 64 (referred to in paragraph 19 of Mr. Naylor's report 531 of 1883) took a perfectly correct view of the Act and were quite right in laying down in the 2nd paragraph of that Resolution that "claims to trees will therefore turn upon the fact whether the inámdár was exercising, over the lands in which the trees are situated, rights of occupancy. If he was, his right to the trees should be admitted."

So where the fact of occupancy exists there is no enquiry into the occupant's rights— if he occupies forest land there is no enquiry whether under the terms of his sanad or otherwise he is entitled to the ownership of the forest or not.

And thus the foot-notes to the notices referred to in Mr. Ebden's letter reserving the question of the ownership of the Forest until inspection of the sanads are not in accordance with the Act.

I now proceed to answer the questions put in the Under Secretary's letter. If "an

I. Is it consistent with the Summary Settlement Act to make an enquiry for the purpose of determining whether forest land forms part of the holding of an inámdár and in his possession?

enquiry" in this question means an enquiry at which the inámdár is to attend and by which he is to be bound, I think such an enquiry is inconsistent with the Summary Settlement Act, for there is no provision regarding such an enquiry, nor is there any means for making the enquiry binding upon the inámdár.

The only enquiry contemplated by the Act is that under section 10 where the inámdár claims an enquiry and under clause 2 of that section, a full assessment is leviable on all land found upon such enquiry to be held in excess of that to which the title is established.

The Act does not contemplate that there would be any question respecting the area of the holding.

Certainly, and the effect is that the ownership in the soil and trees of the forest referred to in A. under the provisions of the Act become the absolute property of the inámdár.

II. Does a kabuláyat in form A. constitute by itself a contract binding on Government?

And I have already pointed out that where the forest was in the occupancy of the inámdár any reservation in the notice of the question of forest rights was ultra vires of the Act.

I should consider it unlikely that any kabuláyat was executed without any notice under section 9 of the Act.

III. When such a kabuláyat was executed prior to the issue of the notice of settlement and when the notice of settlement issued subsequently reserved the question of forest rights must the settlement be held to have extended to the forests, or is it still open to Government to enquire whether the forest land was in the possession of the inámdár and formed part of his holding at the time of the settlement? Would the burden of proving the exercise of rights or possession lie on the inámdár?

Whether a preliminary notice under section 9 was given or not, would not affect the validity of the kabuláyat, and the kabuláyats in my opinion would be binding upon Government for the whole area mentioned in them, whether forest or not; and I think it is not now open to Government to enquire whether the forest land was in the possession of the inámdár and formed part of his holding at the time of the settlement.

A contract can only be rectified when through fraud or mutual mistake of both parties it does not truly express their intention [Specific Relief Act I of 1877, section 31]; and a contract is void only where both parties to it were under a mistake as to an essential matter of fact; it is not voidable merely because it was caused by one of the parties to it being under a mistake as to a matter of fact [Indian Contract Act 9 of 1872, sections 20 and 22].

No fraud is alleged on the inámdár's part, the utmost that can be said is that Government officials were mistaken as to area in the inámdár's holding.

No kabuláyat has been granted for Maniavli, but here as in all other cases the ques-

IV. Does the entry of the words Sabandh Gaon (entire village) in the notice of settlement have the effect of extending the settlement to the forest lands notwithstanding any reservation which may be made regarding such land? The High Court in their decree No. 9 of 1868 rejected the Maniavli inámdár's claim to forest rights on the ground that the sanad did not convey the soil (vide entry No. 42 in Mr. Ebden's list among the papers) though in the notices of summary settlement the phrase "Sabandh Gaon" was used.

tion is, what is the area of the holding; for that area the inámdár would be entitled to the summary settlement with its consequent advantages and if that area comprised the forest, the subject of the decision of the decree, the inámdár would be entitled to the summary settlement in respect of that forest notwithstanding the High Court's decree on the construction of the sanad.

If the inámdár was in possession of part only of the village, the entry of Sabandh Gaon in the notice, by mistake, would not bind Government and the settlement would be for the actual area of the holding. If, however, the holding comprised the whole village, including the forest, the exclusion of the forest by the foot-note to the notice could not deprive the inámdár of his right to the summary settlement in respect of that forest.

I cannot advise on this limited statement of facts.

V. In the case of the village of Khadavli must the entry of the words "Sabandh Gaon" without any reference to forests in the notice of settlement, be construed as an extension of the settlement, to forest land notwithstanding that Government had previously decided that the inámdárs had no right in the Forest land?

VI. Does the unauthorized taking of a kabuláyat regarding the forest land in Bárangi have the effect of extending the settlement to such land, or does it constitute an agreement outside the settlement which is binding on Government?

The foot-note to the notice reserving forest rights was, as before stated, ultra vires, and the circumstance that no proof was given that the inámdár held the wahivat of the forest or that his sanad gave no forest rights cannot affect the validity of the kabuláyat—vide my reply to question No. 3.

It would not appear that any settlement has been not to cases where (although there is no line of demarcation) it can be said Government is entitled to one portion and the inámdár to the other.—(Accompaniment to G. R. No. 1674, dated 8th September 1883.)

In cases in which a summary settlement has been made and a kabuláyat has been executed regarding the forests, the right of the inámdár to the forests on the conditions specified in the kabuláyat, should be admitted. (G. R. No. 1674, dated 8th September 1883.)

Enquiries into Claims to Forest Rights before they are admitted by Government.

It has not been decided that the fact of a summary settlement having been applied to a village is sufficient proof, prima facie, of full forest rights having been granted, but only that when a summary settlement has been made it is unnecessary to go beyond it, that is, to investigate the antecedent validity of title, and it has been directed that in every case it should be clearly ascertained whether the settlement extended to forests, and that a report should be made to Government on that point before any claim to forests is admitted. In cases in which a summary settlement has not been made, the existence of a valid sanad in which full forest rights throughout a village are granted is conclusive, and when that fact is established, further inquiry is unnecessary, but all claims to forests should be reported to Government through the Legal Remembrancer for final orders. (G. R. No. 1305, dated 17th February 1883, R. D.)

Title of Inámdárs to Forests under Summary Settlement when not to be questioned.

The opinion of the late Advocate-General recognizes the possibility of a summary settlement which has been applied to cultivated lands not having been extended to forests in the same village. It has not been ordered, and it is not intended, that inámdárs should be called upon to prove their right to forests. If it cannot be proved from the Collector's records or otherwise that the forests were at the time of the settlement in the possession of Government, the title of the inámdár will not be questioned. But it is obviously desirable that before the settlement of the táluks or district is considered complete, it should be clearly determined to what lands the summary settlement has been applied. (G. R. No. 3079, dated 15th April 1884, R. D.)

It is not said whether the inámdár held the forest or not or whether he accepted the offer of summary settlement or whether any sanad has been granted.

Here the kabuláyat has been taken so long ago as February 1875.

made. But it would seem that the inámdár is in possession, and if that be so, notwithstanding his sanad, he would be entitled to the forest under the Act.

I must know something more of the facts. It may be that a question had arisen respecting the inámdár's right to the forest and that the Conservator of Forests without definitely deciding upon those rights gave him leave to cut; if so, this would be equivalent to admitting the inámdár's right to possession.

Act VII of 1878, section 79, enacts that if Government and any person be "jointly interested." I think "jointly interested" is intended to apply to cases where there is unity of possession by Government and the inámdár of the forest in question, not to cases where (although there is no line of demarcation) it can be said Government is entitled to one portion and the inámdár to the other.—(Accompaniment to G. R. No. 1674, dated 8th September 1883.)

ly deciding upon those rights gave him leave to cut; if so, this would be equivalent to admitting the inámdár's right to possession.

Act VII of 1878, section 79, enacts that if Government and any person be "jointly interested." I think "jointly interested" is intended to apply to cases where there is unity of possession by Government and the inámdár of the forest in question,

The opinion of the late Advocate-General recognizes the possibility of a summary settlement which has been applied to cultivated lands not having been extended to forests in the same village. It has not been ordered, and it is not intended, that inámdárs should be called upon to prove their right to forests. If it cannot be proved from the Collector's records or otherwise that the forests were at the time of the settlement in the possession of Government, the title of the inámdár will not be questioned. But it is obviously desirable that before the settlement of the táluks or district is considered complete, it should be clearly determined to what lands the summary settlement has been applied. (G. R. No. 3079, dated 15th April 1884, R. D.)

Rights to Forests how conferred (a) by Sanad (b) by Summary Settlement.

The Governor in Council is of opinion that the rules on which Government have hitherto acted in deciding cases regarding the forest rights of inámdárs in their inám villages should be adhered to. These rules are (1) that the words "jal, taru, &c." in a sanad give a right to the forest; (2) that the Inám Commissioner's decisions are final; and (3) that the summary settlement gives a right to the forests. (G. R. No. 8185, dated 9th October 1885, R. D.)

Object of enquiries into Inámdár's Forest rights.

The object of these enquiries, as connected with forest settlements, is to enable Government to decide in each case whether Government has the right, should it be deemed desirable, to constitute part of the land of the village State forest. It has been held that Government has no such right when all Government rights have been granted to the inámdár without reservation, or with reservations which do not include the trees. (G. R. No. 8838, dated 31st October 1885, R. D.)

Nature of enquiries.

"It is not necessary that the inámdár should be called upon in every case to state whether he claims forest rights, and if so, upon what grounds. The object of these inquiries, which are not in any sense judicial or conclusive inquiries, is, to enable Government to determine in what inám villages they will and in what they will not assert forest rights. When once it is ascertained that a village has come under the summary settlement, Government have at once the means of determining their course without further investigation, and it seems quite unnecessary to trouble the inámdár. In most other cases also the nature of an inámdár's title is ascertainable without reference to him, and the inámdár should only be asked to furnish information or to state his own views when the Forest Settlement Officer has reason for doubting the real state of the case concerning his village." (G. R. No. 469, dated 20th January 1866, R. D.)

Submission of cases regarding the Forest Rights of Inámdárs.

Cases regarding inámdárs' forest rights may in future be sent by Forest Settlement Officers and Collectors direct to the Legal Remembrancer. (G. R. No. 7851, 5th November 1886, R. D.)

Distinction between Notifications under section 4 and under section 19, Forest Act.

Surveys for the purpose of demarcating forests merely, need not necessarily be made under the provisions of Chapters VIII to X of the B. L. R. Code. Section 8 of the Indian Forest Act, 1878, empowers a Forest Settlement Officer 'to enter by himself or any officer authorized by him for the purpose, upon any land, and to survey, demarcate and make a map of the same'; and appears to be quite sufficient for all the purposes of this Act. Such survey and demarcation can, however, only take place after a notification declaring that it is proposed to constitute a reserved forest has been issued under section 4 of the Forest Act. In such notification it is 'sufficient to describe the limits of the forest, by roads, rivers, ridges or other well known or readily intelligible boundaries' (vide explanation 1 to section 4). In the notification finally declaring a forest reserved, to be issued under section 19, the limits must be specified definitely, according to boundary-marks erected or otherwise. (G. R. No. 2813, dated 9th April 1883, R. D.)

Powers of Officers enquiring into Forest rights.

Section 189 of the Revenue Code empowers a 'revenue officer' to summon witnesses, &c., 'for the purposes of any inquiry which such officer is legally empowered to make.' The term 'revenue officer' is defined in section 3, clause 2 of the Code, to mean an officer appointed under that Code and employed in or about the business of the land revenue or of the surveys, assessment, accounts, or records connected therewith. An officer employed in ascertaining whether the forest rights in a certain village belong to Government or to the inámdár is not a revenue officer as thus defined, and he could not legally exercise the powers conferred by section 189 of the Code for the purposes of any such inquiry. Even were he gazetted an Assistant Collector, the inquiry would not relate to 'the business of the land revenue', nor could it be held to be an inquiry which an Assistant Collector is legally empowered to make. (G. R. No. 4964, dated 20th June 1884, R. D.)

Levy of Judi on "Cuttings" under Agreement.

The decision of the question whether 'Judi' is to be levied from inámdárs on the proceeds from the sale of such minor produce as the leaves of Apta, Temburni and Pallas trees, Hirdás, Shikakái, &c., growing in their forests," must rest in each case on the terms of the agreement executed by the inámdár, and a general rule cannot be laid down without regard to the agreements. When an inámdár has agreed merely to pay judi on timber or on "cuttings," judi cannot be levied on profits derived from minor forest produce. (G. R. No. 6632, dated 8th September 1883, R. D.)

The Commissioner, C. D., raised the following questions:—

First.—Whether in cases in which the summary settlement levies have been fixed as permanent without assessing the kuran or waste lands, the judi can now be modified on that account.

Secondly.—Whether in cases where settlement judi is liable to modification on the introduction of survey rates, and the unassessed waste lands have not hitherto been assessed, an assessment can now be imposed and an addition of judi levied on such assessment without waiting for the introduction of the survey.

Thirdly.—Whether on a refusal on the part of an inámdár to pay such additional judi the lands in question could be forfeited to Government and treated as ordinary khálsa lands.

Report by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs:—"I would answer each of the three questions in the negative; but a single reply in the negative might lead to misapprehension.

"2. With regard to the first question, the test is whether the assessment of a village for the purpose of settling the amount of quit-rent payable under the summary settlement by the inámdár of that village has been already, once for all, fixed under either Rule 1 or Rule 2 of section 2, Bombay Act II of 1863. If it has, it cannot now be questioned; but if the question of the proper assessment of any village or of any portion of a village was expressly reserved for future consideration, there would be good ground for completing what was previously left unfinished.

"3. With regard to the second question, a reference to the above-mentioned Rule 1 will show that the Collector errs in saying that settlement judi is liable to modification 'on the introduction of survey rates' into an inám village. All that the rule contemplated was that in the case of villages as to the assessment of which, for the purpose of calculating summary settlement quit-rent, the Collector and the holder could not agree, the assessment should be 'the existing rental of the lands until the revenue survey * * * shall have placed a new assessment thereon, after which the assessment so placed by the said revenue survey shall be understood to be the assessment.' There is a great difference between the introduction of survey rates into a village and the placing of an assessment on a village by the revenue survey, and if the settlement of the assessment has been deferred in any case till the former occurrence takes place, the procedure has been irregular. In other districts, I believe the revenue survey assessed some inám villages merely for the purpose of satisfying the requirements of the above Rule 1. Where this has been done, the assessment fixed by the survey is, in my opinion, final, whether the survey assessed kurans and waste land or not.

"4. As to the third question, inám land could, of course, not be forfeited to recover any illegal demand, but if an inámdár refused to pay quit-rent lawfully due by him, all the methods prescribed by the Revenue Code for the recovery of revenue demands could be enforced against him or his property." (G. R. No. 1957, dated 12th March 1886, R. D.)

"1. Section 40 of the Land Revenue Code is inapplicable to lands held for service, which are 'alienated' and not 'unalienated lands.'

"2. The former portion of No. 10 of the Joint Rules applies in every village in the Násik District into which a survey settlement was introduced during the period when that rule was in force.

"3. But as the rule is relied upon as conveying a grant or concession by Government, it should be strictly construed in favour of the State, and the words 'proprietors of inám, judi and mirás lands' may reasonably be taken to mean persons having proprietary rights in such lands. The use of the word 'proprietors' in such a context is unusual and unless it was intended by using it to lay stress upon the possession of proprietary right, it is not easy to account for the more ordinary words 'holders,' or the more natural terms 'inámdárs, mirásdárs, &c.,' not having been employed.

"4. Government may fairly claim that the Joint Rule No. 10 merely acknowledged the right over trees possessed by proprietary inámdárs, which has since been frequently decreed by the civil courts.

"5. Primâ facie lands held for service are not held under a proprietary title and there is no reason for thinking that the lands of the Hatnore jâgliâs are exceptional. Unless they hold under a title-deed which confers proprietary rights in express terms, they are not entitled to the timber on their lands or to forest rights." (G. R. No. 419, dated 17th January 1887, R. D.)

Forest Rights in Service Lands.

The distinction between a holder of service lands and an ordinary occupant is clear. Service tenure is a privileged tenure and the extent of the alienation conveyed in the privilege is governed by the general rules which do not presume cession of forest rights in the absence of proof.

2. Government can disallow altogether the cutting of trees in service lands or can permit it subject to such conditions as they may think fit to impose. (No. 5987, dated 6th September 1888, R. D.)

Section 55.—Meaning of term "Forest Produce."

Memo. by L. R. :—"The definition of the term 'forest produce' given in the Forest Act is not exhaustive, and reading the term in its ordinary sense it means anything which is produced in a forest and it therefore includes, in my opinion, a crop raised in a forest reserve.

"2. I agree with the Collector that in the case he mentions the crop is the property of Government by accession, and, therefore, under section 55 of the Act, it may, I think, be taken charge of by a Forest officer." (G. R. No. 6910 of 28th August 1884, R. D.)

Section 63.—Powers of seizure.

In accordance with the opinion of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs a Forest officer has power, under section 63 of the Indian Forest Act, to arrest without warrant a person guilty or reasonably suspected of having cut without the requisite permission Government teak trees on occupied numbers, but at the same time as such teak is not forest produce he has not authority to seize it under section 52 of the Act. The unlawful cuttings and loppings under the rule under section 75 published in Government Notification No. 343, dated 15th January 1883, being the property of Government can however be seized and detained, pending final disposal of the case, by the officers of Government under the ordinary criminal law like any other stolen property. (G. R. No. 9961 of 11th December 1885, R. D.)

Section 81.—Meaning of "Price of any Forest Produce."

Letter from the Conservator of Forests, N. D. :—"5. The marginal note in the Forest Act against section 81 reads thus: 'Recovery of money due to Government.' The grazing of a reserved forest was sold to a contractor who was bound under written agreement to pay the amount of any damages which might occur by proceedings or default on his part beyond the stipulations of his agreement. The contractor let in sheep into the reserved forest which he was not entitled to do, and the sheep devoured plants, which a Committee, the contractor being a member thereof, valued at Rs. 26. I deferentially submit that this money comes in the words of section 81 of the Forest Act within the description of 'on account of the price of any forest produce,' and if the marginal note 'Recovery of money due to Government' is meant to express the intention of section 81 then the money is, I still think, leviable under that section."

Memo. by L. R. :—"The 'price' of a thing is the sum for which it is sold, not the value at which a thing may be assessed after it has been misappropriated. Marginal notes are merely a guide to the contents of the sections of an enactment; they are not a part of the law." (G. R. No. 1422 of 14th February 1884, R. D.)

Memo. by Acting L. R. :—"Government calls for my opinion as to the legal course to be adopted for the recovery from persons resident in Native States of monies due, which in the Bombay Presidency would be recoverable as arrears of land revenue.

2. In the particular instance referred to, a man bought Government timber for Rs. 209, deposited Rs. 43, and never paid the rest. The timber on resale by the Forest Department realized only Rs. 114. The balance of Rs. 52 has yet to be recovered. The purchaser, however, after the sale went and lived in a Native State. The Political Agent expressed his inability to realise the deficit as an arrear of land revenue.

3. The statement of the Law contained in the preamble to Government Resolution No. 2877, Revenue Department, of 21st May 1881, appears to be indisputably correct and equally applicable to Native States as to Districts in another Presidency.

4. There appear to be two courses open therefore :—

(a) to wait till the debtor re-appears in British territory, and then enforce recovery under the Bombay Land Revenue Code, against any available property he may have with him, the balance of the price being, as pointed out in Government Resolution No. 7373 of 6th November 1888, still recoverable as land revenue, or

(b) to file a suit against him in the Court within whose jurisdiction the cause of action arose, the service of summons being effected under section 89 or section 90, Civil Procedure Code, as amended by section 12 of Act VII of 1888, as the case may be, and on decree being obtained execution will probably be obtainable, by transfer of the decree to the appropriate Court established or continued by the authority of the Governor General in Council in the territories of the Native State, if the Governor General in Council has by notification in the Gazette of India declared section 229A, Civil Procedure Code, as amended by section 24 of Act VII of 1888, to apply thereto (vide section 229A as amended by section 24 of VII of 1888).

5. If section 229A has not been made applicable to the Native State in question, there would be apparently no means of executing the decree till the debtor appears in British territory. If he does so re-appear he might be called on to give security to appear and answer any decree that might be passed against him (section 447, Civil Procedure Code), and on failure to give security he might under section 481 be detained till he complies.

3. Otherwise there appears to be no remedy unless Government should decide to sue the debtor in a Court having jurisdiction in the Native State in question. (G. R. No. 7103 of 20th September 1889, R. D.)

Sections 81 and 82.—Recovery by Collector after sale by Forest Department.

“Memo by Acting L. R.:—A purchaser of Government timber at auction paid only a portion of the price. The Forest Department appear to have taken possession of a portion of such timber and to have sold it by public auction in order to realize the balance of the price.

“The price fetched at this second sale not realizing all that was due, the Conservator applied to the Collector to realize the outstanding under section 81 of the Forest Act VII of 1878.

“The Collector declined on the ground that the balance due was not part of the price but a deficit on re-sale for which no provision existed such as in analogous cases under the Land Revenue Code is made by sections 175, 176 and 177.

“2. The question is whether the money can be recovered under section 81 of the Forest Act as if it were an arrear of land revenue.

“3. Section 81 provides that money payable on account of forest produce may be recovered as if it were an arrear of land revenue.

“4. This was clearly the opinion of the Honourable Mr. Naylor as expressed in his report No. 1645 of 22nd December 1813 (Government Resolution No. 239, dated 10th January 1884).

“5. Money payable on account of the price does not lose its character by the mere fact that part recovery has been effected under another procedure. If a portion of the price had been recovered as it fell due by civil suit or by auction sale under the Land Revenue Code, or in any other way, that would not affect the power conferred by section 81 in respect of the balance.

“6. The Collector appears to regard section 82 of the Forest Act as providing for a re-sale.

“7. I do not think section 82 refers to re-sale. It is evidently framed so as to include all cases where money is due under the Act or under the rules and would cover such cases as are provided for by rules under section 51 (c), and all cases in which money is payable under the Act as duty, fee, royalty, &c.

“8. This I think accounts for the omission in section 82 of all reference to deficit and re-sale.

"9. Indeed section 82 does not treat the sales made by a forest officer under its provisions as a re-sale at all. In cases where the legislature provides for re-sale (vide Civil Procedure Code, section 308 and Land Revenue Code (Bombay V of 1879, section 175) the defaulting purchaser is declared to forfeit all claims to the property or to any part of the sum for which it may be sold.

"10. Section 82 does not do this and does not extinguish the property in the produce sold, but only declares it subject to a charge.

"11. Section 82 therefore does not operate as a rescission of the sale, but only as one of the means by which money payable for or in respect of produce may be recovered, and the balance unrecovered is therefore still due on account of the price, and does not become due as a deficit on re-sale.

"12. I am therefore of opinion that such balance of the price is recoverable under section 81 as if it were an arrear of land revenue notwithstanding any other steps short of a rescission of the sale that may have been previously taken for recovery. (G. R. No. 7373, dated 6th November 1888, R. D.)

PART V.

RULES UNDER THE BOMBAY IRRIGATION ACT, 1879.

Under Section 70 of the Bombay Irrigation Act, 1879, the Right Honourable the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following Rules for the administration of canals in the Bombay Presidency :—

I.—APPLICATION FOR WATER FOR IRRIGATION.

1. Applications for water for the purpose of irrigation must be made in duplicate to the Executive Engineer of the district or to some other canal officer duly empowered to receive such applications, in the form of Appendix No. I, blank copies of which will be supplied to intending applicants free of charge.

When the land to be irrigated is held jointly by two or more holders, the application must be signed by each of such joint holders.

One copy of the application will be retained by the Executive Engineer or other officer aforesaid; the other will be returned with columns 10 and 11 filled in by the Executive Engineer, or other officer aforesaid, to the applicant or applicants.

Applications for water for any purpose other than irrigation may be made in the form of an ordinary letter addressed to the Executive Engineer or other officer aforesaid. No application for water will be received unless signed by the registered occupant of the land, or his recognized representative; and the application must bear the countersignature of the Patel of the village in token of its being correct.

2. The Executive Engineer, or other officer aforesaid, after instituting due inquiry, may either reject the application, or comply with it, either in its original form, or subject to such amendment as the applicant at his suggestion accepts: Provided that—

(1) in every case in which he rejects the application, the Executive Engineer, or other officer aforesaid, shall report his proceedings to the Superintending Engineer for confirmation, to whom also an appeal shall lie against his order;

(2) no owner of a water-course or other person entitled to a supply of water under section 21 (d) shall be refused the supply to which he is so entitled.

3. Except in the case named in the second proviso to the last preceding rule, no application for water for irrigation will be entertained unless the land to be irrigated is demarcated by a clearly distinguishable boundary and has been prepared for irrigation.
Applications only to be entertained for certain lands.

(Notn.No. 13,
B.G.G., 1883,
Pt. I., p. 777.)

4. Perennial crops will invariably be classed as kharif. All other crops, for which the first waterings are taken between 15th January and 15th October, will be classed as kharif. Those for which the first waterings are taken after 15th October will be classed as rabi.

Applications for wet kharif crops (such as rice, &c.) should be made before the 1st May, and for rabi crops before the 15th November.

Applications for water for monsoon dry-crops may be submitted at any time, but applications received before the 1st of May will have priority over those subsequently made.

In all other cases, applications for water shall be complied with, as far as possible, according to their priority.

5. The decision of the Executive Engineer on applications for water from each water-course should be given on the spot, as far as possible, in the presence of all applicants, who should receive notice to attend.

6. If, from any cause, the water-supply from a canal proves insufficient to meet all the accepted applications for water, all questions regarding priority of right to receive the available water, and the quantity and regulation of supply, shall be finally determined by the Executive Engineer of the district: Provided always that the claims of those applicants whose applications were made before the 1st May for kharif crops, and before the 15 November for rabi crops, shall have priority over those subsequently made.

II.—CLOSING OF CANALS FOR REPAIRS, &c.

7. No canal shall be closed for the execution of any repairs, alterations, or additions thereto, except in cases of emergency without the previous sanction of the Superintendent Engineer, who shall fix the period, or periods, for which the supply of water may be stopped under section 28 (e) on account of the execution of such repairs, &c. In cases of emergency a canal may be closed, and the said period, or periods, may be fixed by the canal officer of highest rank on the spot.

III.—WATER-SUPPLY RATES FOR IRRIGATION.

8. The rates leviable for canal water supplied for purposes of irrigation will be fixed at a certain amount per acre, varying according to the kind of crop to be irrigated and the season of the year in which it is to be grown, and according as the water is obtainable from the canal by lift or flow.

9. When a field receives the first or preliminary watering, and afterwards no crop is sown during the period named in column 8 of the application as that in which the crop for which the water was applied for should ordinarily come to maturity, the lowest rate chargeable for lift or flow (as the case may be) will be levied.

Rate leviable when no crop is sown after first watering.

10. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, or if different crops be grown in different parts of the same field, the rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop grown during the period for which water is taken.

Rate leviable when mixed or several different kinds of crops are grown.

11. When the crop first sown fails and is ploughed up and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the rate shall be levied on that crop only which comes to maturity.

Rate leviable when first crop fails and a fresh one is sown.

12. If only part of a field be irrigated, the rate shall be chargeable on the area of the whole field unless such part shall, from the first commencement of the irrigation, have been clearly demarcated by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

Rate leviable when only a part of a field is irrigated.

13. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal-water and a portion with well-water, the rate shall be chargeable on the whole field unless the portion irrigated by well-water shall, from the first commencement of the irrigation, have been clearly demarcated by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

Rate leviable when part of a field is irrigated with well-water and part with canal-water.

If the portion demarcated for the purpose of being irrigated by canal-water has nevertheless been partly irrigated by well-water, enquiry shall be made whether the use of well-water was necessitated by a deficiency in the supply of canal-water, and, if it be shown to the satisfaction of the Executive Engineer that it was so, the rate chargeable on the portion irrigated by canal-water shall not exceed the lift rate.

14. If well-water is conveyed to any land irrigated from a canal in the same channel as the canal-water, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole of the land irrigated from such channel: Provided that if it be shown to the satisfaction of the Executive Engineer that the use of well-water was necessitated by a deficiency in the supply of canal-water, the rate chargeable shall not exceed the lift rate.

Rate leviable when well-water and canal-water are conveyed in the same course.

15. The same provisions shall apply to irrigation from escape channels as to irrigation from other parts of a canal.

Provisions applicable to supply from escape channels.

When the supply of water from any such channel lasts continuously throughout the period for which it is required for use, the same rates shall be levied as for a supply from the canal. When the supply is intermittent, such reduced rates shall be charged as may be fixed in each particular case under the orders of Government.

16. If a supply of water is obtained by any person from a canal for the purpose of irrigation without the previous permission of the Executive Engineer of the district, the rate chargeable for such water shall be double the rate chargeable for the authorized irrigation of the area irrigated, and this rate shall be leviable in addition to any penalty which may be imposed under the Act.

17. Water may be given for the purpose of forming threshing-floors free to holder of canal-irrigated fields, and to others at a charge per floor not exceeding half the lowest acreage rate.

Water-supply Rates for Non-irrigational purposes.

18. Water supplied from a canal for any purpose other than irrigation will be charged for by volume, or otherwise at such rate as Government shall from time to time determine.

IV.—OCCASIONAL RATES.

19. The charge to be made under Section 45 on account of water supplied through a water-course used in an unauthorized manner shall be as follows (namely):—

(a) if the water so used has flowed on any land and such land has derived benefit therefrom, } double the highest rate leviable for a single crop ;

(b) if the water has flowed on any land but such land has not derived benefit therefrom, } double the rate that would be chargeable under Rule 9 ;

(c) in any other case, } double the rate chargeable under Rule 18 on the volume of water estimated by the Executive Engineer to have been used.

The above charges will be leviable in addition to any penalty which may be imposed under the Act on the person who unauthorizedly used the water.

20. The charge to be made under Section 46 on account of water supplied through a water-course which is suffered to run to waste shall be as follows (namely):—

- (a) if the water has flowed on any land, { double the rate that would be chargeable under Rule 9;
- (b) in any other case, { double the rate chargeable under Rule 18 on the volume of water estimated by the Executive Engineer to have been wasted.

V.—REMISSIONS.

21. Remissions of water-rate under the last paragraph of Section 31 may be granted by Superintending Engineer. Remissions under last paragraph of Section 31 may be granted by Superintending Engineer. to the Superintendenting Engineer and may extend to the whole or to a part only of the rate, as he shall in each case think fit.

22. Claims for such remissions shall be preferred to the Executive Engineer of the district direct; and, if not so preferred within one month from the time when the damage in respect of which the remission claimed is alleged to have occurred, shall not be entertained.

If, without giving the Executive Engineer at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention, the claimant cuts the crop alleged to have been damaged at any time within 20 days after preferring his application, his claim shall not be entertained.

23. If the application be preferred within the period prescribed by the last rule, the Executive Engineer shall, within 20 days after the date of its receipt or within the period of the notice, if any, given to him under the said rule, make or cause to be made a local inquiry, at which he or any person acting under his special order in this behalf shall be present, and the result of which shall be recorded on the application, which, together with the opinion of the Executive Engineer, shall then be forwarded to the superintending Engineer for disposal.

The order passed on the application shall be communicated to the applicant by the Executive Engineer.

24. Remissions of water-rates may also be granted, at his discretion, by the Superintendenting Engineer on reasonable cause being shown and after due inquiry for any loss caused by deficiency or excessive supply of water; Superintending Engineer may also grant remissions for loss caused by deficiency or excessive supply of water; excess in the supply of water when such deficiency or excess has been occasioned by some act or omission of a canal officer and independently of any act or omission of the person chargeable with the rate.

Applications for the remission of excess charges and on account of excess charges on account of water-rates shall also be disposed of by the Superintending Engineer, to whom such applications shall be forwarded for consideration by the Executive Engineer, or by the Collector, through the Executive Engineer.

25. Any claim for remission of water-rate not falling under Rule 21 or 24 shall be reported by the Collector, through the Commissioner of the Division, for the orders of Government in the Public Works Department.

26. Intimation of remissions under Rules 21 and 24 will be communicated by the Superintending Engineer to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts and the Executive Engineer in statements prepared in the form of Appendix No. II.

The Executive Engineer shall keep a register of all authorized deductions from water-rates in the same form.

VI.—RECOVERY OF DUES.

27. A return of measurements and assessments in the form of Appendix No. III shall be prepared by such subordinate canal officer as shall from time to time be deputed to this duty by the Executive Engineer of the District and submitted to the Executive Engineer, who, with the aid of his establishment, shall test at least 10 per cent. of the measured areas.

28. The Executive Engineer shall, from the Register and Return Nos. II and III, frame a statement of demands for water-rates according to the form of Appendix No. IV., which he shall forward, together with copies of the Register No. II and of the Return No. III, to the Collector. This statement shall be rendered on 15th December for kharif and on 1st May for rabi.

29. On receipt of the demand statement the Collector shall issue instructions for the recovery of the amounts therein named from the persons respectively liable for the same.

The rates for kharif shall be payable on the 1st February and those for rabi on the 15th June. They shall be payable, each in one instalment, to the revenue officers to whom the land revenue is payable by persons holding land in the villages in which the persons liable therefor respectively reside.

30. If any objection is raised before the Collector, or any of his subordinates, as to any entry in the said statement, such objections shall be forwarded by the Collector, through the Executive Engineer of the District, to the Superintending Engineer for disposal under Rule 24, if it has reference to some action on the part of the Public Works Department; otherwise it shall be disposed of by the Collector, or, subject to the law and rules in force relating to the recovery of arrears of land revenue, by his subordinates.

If the decision of any such objection by the Collector, or any of his subordinates, results in the remission of any portion of any charge entered in the demand statement, the result shall be communicated by the Collector to the Executive Engineer of the District, and shall also be shown in the return No. VII to be submitted, under Rule 37, to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts.

Appeals.

31. Every order passed by an Executive Engineer under Rule 13 or 14 shall be appealable to the Collector, and every order passed by any such officer under Rule 19 or 20 shall be appealable to the Superintending Engineer: Provided always that the appeal be presented within thirty days of the date on which the order appealed against was communicated to the appellant.

32. All appeals preferred under the Act or under these Rules must be made by written petition signed by the appellant. Such petition may be delivered at the office of the authority appealed to by the appellant in person during office hours, or be forwarded through the post.

MISCELLANEOUS.

33. Applications for free grants of water-supply shall be referred for the orders of Government in the Public Works Department, and no such grant shall be made without the previous sanction of Government.

34. In cases of dispute regarding water-supply, or remission or abatement of water-rate, the water-gauges and meters set up by the Public Works Department shall, if certified by the Executive Engineer of the district to have been in good order during the period to which the dispute relates, be held to furnish authoritative data for all calculations of discharge.

35. No canal officer or other officer or subordinate in the Public Works Department shall—Certain acts forbidden to canal officers, &c.

- (1) acquire, directly or indirectly, any share of interest in the distribution of water from any canal; or,
- (2) purchase, or bid either in person or by agent, or in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others, for any Government property in, on, or appertaining to any canal.

Breach of this rule shall be punishable with a penalty under Section 61, clause (9) of the Act.

36. The Executive Engineer shall furnish an annual return, for kharif and rabi respectively, as per form of Appendix No. V, to the Superintending Engineer and to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts on the same dates on which the statement of demands (No. IV) is sent, under Rule 28, to the Collector. He shall also furnish the Superintending Engineer and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts with a general return, as per form of Appendix No. VI, on the 15th April of each year.

37. The Collector shall furnish the Superintending Engineer through the Executive Engineer of the district and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, with annual returns in the form of Appendix No. VII, for kharif and rabi separately, on the 15th April of each year, showing the water-rates and miscellaneous revenue assessed and realized in the Civil Department.

38. When separate water-rates have not been fixed by Government, but a consolidated soil and water-rate is levied, the Collector shall furnish the Superintending Engineer, through the Executive Engineer of the district and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, with an annual general return of consolidated revenue in the form of Appendix No. VIII as soon after the close of the revenue year as possible.

39. The Collectors in Sind shall furnish the Superintending Engineer in Sind and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, on 15th April of each year, with returns in the form of Appendix No. IX for kharif and rabi respectively, of receipts from "haccaba" on Jaghír lands, and of miscellaneous receipts from canals; and the Collectors in Gujarát and the Deccan shall furnish similar returns in cases where separate water-rates are recovered, as per Survey Register and credited to Government in the Public Works Department.

The following Rules were made under Section 70 of the Bombay Irrigation Act, 1879, by the Governor in Council for regulating the preparation of lists of persons bound, under Section 58 of the said

(Notn. No. 14,
P. W. D., B.
G. G., 1883,
Pt. I., p. 857.)

Act, to assist in the execution of work on the occasion of an emergency, (namely) :—

1. Whenever it appears to a Canal Officer duly empowered to act under section 58 of the Act, that circumstances may probably arise which will render it necessary for the provisions of that section to be put into operation for the execution of any repair, clearance, or work which is being or is about to be carried on by the Irrigation Department, he shall communicate with the Collector, who shall thereupon cause a list to be prepared of the able-bodied persons to whom the said provisions are applicable.

The list so prepared may from time to time be revised and amended.

2. The list shall include the names of persons holding land or resident within such distance from the locality of the repair, clearance, or work as the Collector, having regard to the number of persons likely to be required to assist at such repair, clearance, or work, shall think proper.

3. The list shall contain the name of every able-bodied man or woman, who holds land within the area fixed by the Collector under the last preceding rule, or who resides within the said area, and earns his or her livelihood by manual labour : Provided that—

(a) the names of persons who appear to the Collector to be under sixteen or over fifty years of age shall be omitted, and

(b) any land-holder who is unaccustomed to manual labour shall be permitted, when called to assist at any repair, clearance or work, to furnish as a substitute any able-bodied person whose name is not on the list.

4. The Collector shall cause the names of the persons holding land or resident in each village within the area fixed under Rule 2, included in the list, to be posted up in the chauri or on some other public building in such village, and to be proclaimed in the village by beat of drum.

5. Any person whose name is entered in the list may apply in writing to the Collector to have his name removed therefrom. The Collector, after such inquiry (if any) as he thinks necessary, shall record his decision in writing for either rejecting or granting the application.

Subject, as provided in section 67 of the Act, to the supervision and control of the Commissioner of the division, the Collector's order shall be final.

6. In these Rules the word "Collector" shall include any officer appointed by the Governor in Council to exercise the power of a Collector under section 59 of the Act.

ADDITIONAL ORDERS AND RULINGS.

1. An irrigation tank which is maintained (i.e. repaired and otherwise kept in order) by Government is a "canal" within the meaning of that word as defined in section 3 (1) (a) of the Bombay Irrigation Act, 1879, and therefore section 28 and section 61, clause 10 of that Act both apply to any private water-course which is supplied with water from any such tank. (Opinion of Legal Remembrancer quoted in G. R. No. 76 A. I.—212 of 28th June 1886, P. W. D.)

2. Under section 44 of Bombay Act VII of 1879 water-rates are leviable from inám-dárs as well as from Government occupants on account of increased water-supply owing to the improvement of an existing reservoir. In the case of irrigated inám lands which were assessed and recorded as dry-crop at the first survey settlement, there can be no difficulty in applying section 44 to the levy of water-rate on account of improved supply from these lands if they now take the Government water. But there may be some difficulty in dealing with lands which, at the original settlement or in summary settlement sanads, were assessed and recorded as irrigated. There may in such cases be a doubt or contention as to the extent to which the amount or duration of the water-supply has been increased by the improvement. If the supply, having formerly lasted up to the end of January, has by the improvement become perennial, the improvement is clear and decided; but if the supply which previously lasted up to the end of January is now stated to have been extended by the improvement,—say, up to the middle of March,—care will be necessary not to over-estimate the extent of the improvement to the injury of the inám-dárs. In such cases Government in the Revenue Department are of opinion that the powers given by section 44 of the Irrigation Act should be used with caution. (G. R. 3706 of 28th June 1881.)

3. Looking to section 27 and the last paragraph of section 44 of the Act it does not seem to have been the intention of the Legislature that land-holders should be bound to pay for an increased water-supply which is furnished by the Irrigation Department without being applied for. The last words of section 44 "or by any person who uses the water so supplied," must be held to refer to water which is supplied by the Department on application, and which is voluntarily used by some person other than the applicant. (G. R. 13 A. I.—43 of 2nd February 1885.)

4. The right to the water of a river flowing in a natural channel through a man's land, and the right to water flowing to it through an artificial water-course constructed on his neighbour's land, do not rest on the same principle. In the former case each successive riparian proprietor is primâ facie entitled to the unimpeded flow of the water in its natural course, and to its reasonable enjoyment as it passes through his land as a natural incident to his ownership of it. In the latter, any right to the flow of the water must rest on some grant or arrangement, either proved or presumed, from or with the owners of the lands from which the water is artificially brought, or on some other legal origin. (Law Reports, VI Indian Appeals, p. 33.)

Memo. by L. R.:—"I am of opinion that overdue water rates payable under section 57 of the Irrigation Act can only be recovered like arrears of land revenue, and that the provisions of sections 140-145 of the Revenue Code for securing the recovery of land revenue by measures to be taken before it is in arrear are, therefore, not applicable to such water rates." (G. R. No. 2882, 9th April 1885, R. D.)

Memo. by L. R.:—"No power is provided by the Irrigation Act for requiring the owners of existing water-courses to alter their position or alignment so as to enable the canal officers to supply them with water from other sluices than at present. When water-courses have been constructed on the understanding that the sluice is to be in a certain place, it would be a breach of contract on the part of the canal officer to close the sluice afterwards and to require the owner of the water-course to get his supply from some other sluice. And if, as appears, the existing sluices have been constructed by the owners of the water-courses who got the supply from them at their own expense, the breach of contract would be still more obvious.

2. Section 8 of the Act empowers canal officers to enter upon any land in order to do whatever is necessary for the proper regulation and management of the canal, but this must of course be understood to refer only to things which may be legal and reasonable.

3. The canal officers can arrange as they think proper in respect of new water-courses; and I may add that under sections 21 (c) and 23 they may utilize not only existing sluices but also the water-courses attached thereto, or portions of them, for supplying water in fresh directions. (G. R. No. 5 W. I.—13 of 13th January 1885, P. W. D.)

Sluices and outlets to be under control of canal officer. It is essential that the sluice or outlet, through which water is supplied from a canal, shall be under the control of the canal officer.

2. Permanent heads to existing water-courses may be gradually constructed by Government as funds became available, estimates being at once submitted for such canals as are liable to injure the Railway.

3. In the case of new water-courses, an agreement should be taken from the applicants to pay half the cost of permanent head-works, Government defraying the other half and maintaining the entire work in the future.

4. If from an insecure head-work or from no head-work at all, water is running to waste and doing injury to property, it must obviously be shut off till it can be again brought under proper control. (G. R. No. 274 W. I.—595 of 16th December 1884, P. W. D.).

Memo. by L. R. :—Section 28 of the Irrigation Act provides for every case in which a supply of water may legally be stopped, and seems to me to cover such cases as those referred to in G. R. No. 274 W. I.—595 of 16th December 1884, para. 4. Section 35 regulates the award of compensation for the stoppage of a water-supply. (G. R. No. 82 W. I.—180 of 15th April 1885, P. W. D.)

PART VI.

(1) RULES UNDER BOMBAY ACT XI OF 1852, SCHEDULE B., SECTION 10, AND THE BOMBAY SUMMARY SETTLEMENT ACT, VII OF 1863, SECTION 2, CLAUSE 3.

1. An inquiry into the title by which any land held for service is enjoyed may be instituted from time to time by such officer as Government may direct.

2. Lands originally held for service, and which have been continued, or may hereafter be continued under section 15, Bombay Act III of 1874, on condition of payment of a certain portion of the assessment thereof in commutation of service, shall continue to be held in accordance with the terms of the sanads issued or hereafter to be issued, in confirmation of the said commutation settlements.

3. Service lands, in respect of which no such commutation settlement has been effected, and which have been already declared by Government, or by any officer acting under the orders of Government, to be resumable on the demise of certain persons, or on the extinction of certain families or lines of descent, shall be resumed accordingly.

4. Service lands which do not fall under either of the two last rules shall be continued, subject to the provisions of Bombay Act III of 1874, and of any other law for the time being in force relating thereto, to the heirs of the present holders, or in the event of the same being at any time lawfully alienated, to the heirs of the alienees, without restriction as to adoption or female or collateral succession; but such lands shall be resumed in default of any heir in whom, in the ordinary course of descent, the deceased holder's private property would vest, and shall not be liable to be dealt with under the ordinary law for the time being in force relating to intestate property :

Provided that if Government are at any time satisfied that the service in respect of which any such lands are held is no longer performed, or that its performance is no longer necessary, or that for the service performed the remuneration derived from the profits of the enjoyment of such lands is unnecessarily high, or, in the case of service lands to which the provisions of Bombay Act III of 1874 do not apply, if it shall appear that the holder has been guilty of any serious offence or misconduct, Government will, in their discretion, direct either (1) the resumption of such lands, or (2) the continuance of the same, subject to such new conditions as they shall deem fit to impose, or (3) the resumption of a portion of such lands and the continuance of the rest thereof, subject to such conditions as aforesaid.

5. When the sanad issued in confirmation of any service commutation settlement expressly authorizes the alienation or transfer of the service lands, the same shall be continued without question to any lawful holder thereof on fulfilment of the terms of the sanad. But in every other case contemplated by No. 2 of these rules, and in every case contemplated by Nos. 3 and 4 of these rules, if any land held for service shall at any time be or become alienated contrary to the provisions of Bombay Act III of 1874, or of any other law for the time being in force, or, in the case of land to which the provisions of Bombay Act III of 1874 do not apply, if the same shall be alienated or in any way encumbered without the previous sanction of Government, the said land shall, if Government deem fit so to direct, be forthwith resumed, anything in the said rules to the contrary notwithstanding. (Approved and promulgated by G. R. No. 1364, dated 15th March 1878, R. D.)

RELIGIOUS AND CHARITABLE ENDOWMENTS.

In preventing misappropriation of religious and charitable endowments, the same policy should be pursued in the old provinces to which Bombay Act VII of 1863 and the new provinces to which Bombay Act II of 1863 are applicable.* (G. R. 6411 of 9th November 1876.)

Rules.

1. If the sale of lands held free of assessment for religious and charitable purposes under a decree of the civil court has not yet been confirmed, application should be made to the Subordinate Judge under section 311 of the Code of Civil Procedure to set aside the sale on the ground of material irregularity, and, if the court declines to set aside the sale, an appeal should be made. (Under section 313, the purchaser can apply to have the sale set aside, if the person whose property is purported to be sold had had no saleable interest therein.)

2. If the sale has been confirmed, proceedings should be taken under section 334 of the Civil Procedure Code; but the Collector should not intervene in case of sales under decree of court which are not recent and appear to be "time-barred." In recent and future cases he should intervene as advised by the Legal Remembrancer, and Government will defray the costs in such cases, if necessary.

3. In cases of private sales and alienations not under decree, and of sales under decree "time-barred," it is not desirable that the Collector should bring a suit to enforce the proper application of the endowment; but he should assist, as far as he can, any person who may wish to bring such a suit, and Government will be prepared to consider the propriety, on the Collector's recommendation, of guaranteeing such a suitor the costs of the suit if decreed against him. (G. R. 4908 of 27th August 1875, R. D., and G. R. 6921, of 9th December 1875, R. D.)

*Bombay Act II of 1863, Section 8, clause 3, merely declares the pre-existing common law of this country, that religious endowments, whether Hindu or Mahomedan, are not alienable, though the annual revenues of such endowments may occasionally be pledged for purposes essential to the temple or other institution endowed, but not further or otherwise. (I. L. R., 5 Bom., 393.)

ORDER AS TO JOINT HOLDERS WITH FULL POWER OF ALIENATION OF THEIR RIGHTS UNDER BOMBAY ACT II OF 1863.

Section 11, clause 5, refers to cases of persons holding lands jointly, and in such cases service of notice upon any one of them is made sufficient.

The obvious intention of the Act was to give the Government a right to demand fees or nazrána from any holder who had a power of alienation, whenever that alienation took effect, whether by a transaction inter vivos, or by the holder's death. And in this respect the Government is placed by this Act with reference to the holders of land in a position analogous to the position of a lord of a manor to a copyholder tenant under the English law.

The more frequent the alienations are made, and the greater the number of tenants on the court rolls of the manor, the larger is the income of the lord of the manor, and the more valuable is his property.

The object of the Act is to provide for an increase of the Government revenues in consequence "of the change of possession of the land or a part thereof by inheritance or transfer."

It is necessary, therefore, to have the names of the holders entered in the Government books according to the exact amount of land over which they have the power of alienation. (G. R. 1664 of 6th April 1872.)

ADDITIONAL ORDERS AND RULINGS.

Grant of the soil—onus probandi—Partibility.

The grant in jághír or saranjám is very rarely a grant of the soil, and the burden of proving that it is in any particular case a grant of the soil lies very heavily upon the party alleging it. It is for the Government to determine how *saranjám*s are to be held and inherited; and in cases where the civil courts have jurisdiction over claims relating to *saranjám*s, in consequence of the non-applicability of the Pensions Act XXIII of 1871, or otherwise, they would be bound to determine such claims according to the rules, general or special, laid down by the Bombay Government. In the absence of such rules, the courts would be guided by the law applicable to impartible property. Semble that a saranjám is impartible and on the death of the eldest son descends to his son in preference to his surviving brother. (I. L. R., 6 Bom., 598.)

Construction of Ambiguous words in Grant.

The true sense of such words as "village," "saranjám," ought in every case to be determined by a consideration of all the circumstances, as such words have an almost technical, and therefore an ambiguous, meaning. (Printed Judgments of 1879, p. 14.)

Construction of Grant.

The introduction of the words "as jághír" in a grant to A., B. and his heirs for ever in consideration of the past services of the grantee, was not intended to control the right of alienation inherent in the operative terms of the grant. (I. L. R., 9 Bom., 561.)

"Jághír, a life estate.

A jághír must be taken, prima facie, to be an estate only for life, although it may possibly be granted in such terms as to make it hereditary. (I. L. R., 3 Bom., 186.)

Bo. II of 1863, Section 6, Clause 2, a provision for benefit of Government only.

The provision as to the non-recognition of adoption by a civil court relates only to the question of the assessability of lands when raised between Government and a claimant of exemption. Only Government is entitled to take advantage of the provision.

The Inám Commissioner's decision that a village should be continued to the male descendants of the original grantee, regulates the duration of the exemption, and not the enjoyment of it as between the heirs of the original grantee. (I. L. R., 2 Bom., 529.)

Notice must be issued to holders.

Section 7 of Bombay VII of 1863 was intended to protect Government in the event of any mistake having been made in ascertaining the rightful owner to be served with the notice, but was not intended to authorize the Collector deliberately to overlook the rights of holders known by him to be such. Where the Collector believed the peta inámdárs to be holders perfectly independent of the persons to whom notice was issued, and the Collector nevertheless ignored them as persons entitled to demand an enquiry into their title under the Act, it was held that there had not been any summary settlement in respect of the land in their holding either with any de facto or de jure holder thereof. (I. L. R., 6 Bom., 247.) Section 28 of Act B. VII of 1863, does not preclude a suit by a person who is not a "holder" in respect of a Summary Settlement. (B. H. C. P. J., 1889, p. 82.)

Sanad cannot be cancelled by Government without assent of all interested.

Where a sanad has been granted under Bombay Act VII of 1863, Government cannot reform it or set it aside without the assent of all parties interested therein. The quit-rent fixed by the sanad is binding alike on Government and the rightful owner, and, if the sanad has been granted through mistake to a person not the rightful owner, the latter may recover the land from the grantee, who will be deemed to have taken the sanad as trustee for the owner. (I. L. R., 4 Bom., 367.)

Grants cannot affect third parties.

The State cannot by its grants destroy rights in the land which are good against itself (Printed Judgments of 1880, p. 279. I. L. R., 4 Bom., 643.)

Inámdár's powers to enhance Rent or enclose Land.

An inámdár's power to enhance the rent of mirási tenant is limited. He cannot demand more rent than what is fair and equitable according to the custom of the country.

Unless the terms of his inám grant authorize an inámdár to enclose a piece of land used immemorially as pasture ground by the inhabitants of his inám village, he cannot do so at will merely by virtue of his being an inámdár. (I. L. R., 3 Bom., 147.)

The tenants of an inámdár cannot be ejected as mere trespassers. If they are yearly tenants, they are entitled to a clear six months' notice to quit before they can be evicted. If they are tenants for a term of years or for a life or lives, there must be proof of an expiration of the term by effluxion of time or of the falling of the life or lives. (I. L. R., 6 Bom., 70.)

Superior holder cannot distribute liability for Quit-rent among Tenants.

There is no provision in Bombay Act VII of 1863 which enables a landlord or superior holder to distribute the quit-rent among his tenants or inferior holders. (Printed Judgments of 1880, p. 88 : vide also I. B. R., 4 Bom., 79, and I. L. R., 6 Bom., 244.)

Enhancement of Assessment no ground for raising fixed Rent.

A superior holder cannot raise the rent of his permanent tenant holding at a fixed rent, on the ground that the assessment on the land has been enhanced at the Government survey. The civil courts cannot relieve the superior holder from the hardship caused to him by this enhancement, and it is doubtful whether Government (except by legislation) can interfere with contracts made by private persons. (I. L. R., 4 Bom., 473.)

Long possession ; evidence of Mirásdárs' title.

Mirásdárs who had sanads and have lost them, and those who never had them, may prove their title by other evidence, and long possession is a strong element in such proof. Perpetuity of tenure may be proved by many means, as for instance, local usage and uniformity of payment of rent or assessment. (I. L. R., 3 Bom., 340.)

Mirásdár relinquishing in favour of another person.

B., a mirásdár, addressed a rájináma to the Mámlatdár, resigning certain mirás lands in favour of L. (to whom at the same time he delivered possession of the lands), and containing no reservation or qualification ; held that the transfer to L. was complete and the right of B. wholly extinguished. (I. L. R., 1 Bom., 91.)

Mirásdár relinquishing to Collector.

A mirásdár who has given in a rájináma is entitled to eject the tenant put in possession of his mirás lands by the Collector, provided he sue within the period of limitation and the rájináma contain no stipulation whereby he expressly abandons his mirás rights. (I. L. R., 1 Bom., 208. See also p. 577.)

On the resumption of an inám, the inámdár's right to exemption from the payment of the Government assessment ceases, and the inámdár becomes liable to pay such assessment : but all his other rights remain unaffected, and therefore those who were his tenants before the resumption do not cease to be so, and can be ejected, if they are not permanent tenants, or are not otherwise entitled to remain in possession. (I. L. R., 9 Bom., 419.)

In the absence of a contrary intention, the resumption by the British Government of a saranjám or inám leaves the occupancy rights of the saranjám-dár or inám-dár untouched. A saranjám-dár or inám-dár may acquire occupancy rights during the continuance of the saranjám or inám. The fact that revenue officers placed the name of a lessee in the Government books as the occupant paying assessment did not make the lessee's possession adverse to the saranjám-dár or inám-dár and could not prejudice his rights as landlord (I. L. R. 10 Bom. 112.)

The Peshwa, by sanad, granted for the support of the Hindu temple an annual cash allowance out of the Antástha Sadilyár and three khandies of rice out of the Kherij Jamabandi Parbhare to be levied from certain maháls and forts mentioned in the sanad. Held that the grant was irresumable, inalienable and perpetual. (I. L. R. 6 Bom. 546.)

Sale of right, title and interest of holder of land for temple service.

The property of a temple cannot be sold away from the temple: but there is no objection to the sale of the right, title, and interest of a servant of the temple in the land belonging to the temple which he holds as a remuneration for his service, the interest sold being subject in the hands of the alienee to determination by the death of the original holder or by his removal from his office on account of his failure to perform the service. (I. L. R. 6 Bom. 596.)

Alienation of religious endowment and of land declared to be held for service.

A Hindu religious endowment cannot be sold or permanently alienated, though its income may be temporarily pledged for necessary purposes, such as the repairs, &c., of the temple. A Guru, also Jangám or presiding Lingáyat priest of a Muth, mortgaged two fields in 1863 and died in 1874. In 1882 his successor in office brought a suit to recover possession on the grounds that the mortgage was good only for the life of the mortgagor and that the lands were, under section 8, clause 3, of Bombay II, of 1863, inalienable from the Muth. It appears that in 1862 Government had issued to the mortgagor a sanad declaring the land in dispute his personal inám and continuable for ever as transferable private property subject only to chavthái and nazarána. This sanad was withdrawn in 1888 and another sanad was issued, declaring the land to be service emolument appertaining to the office of the jangám, and stating: "As this vatan is held for the performance of service, it cannot be transferred and in consequence no nazarána will be levied." The nazarána levied under the sanad of 1862 was refunded. It was held that this repayment of nazarána showed that in the opinion of Government a personal inám had been wrongly granted by the sanad of 1862, and there was nothing to show that the decision ultimately arrived at by Government was objected to. After the passing of Bombay II of 1863 it would not have been open to the mortgagor, as it was not open to the mortgagee, to contest that decision in any way, for by section 16, clause (d) of that Act it is competent to Government to determine any question as to whether or not any lands are held for service, and the decision of Government, when once made, is final. Since 1868 there could be no question that the lands comprised in the sanad had not been alienable by the jangám of the Muth beyond his lifetime, and as they belonged to a service vatan they were held on a tenure of successive life-estates. After the death of the mortgagor his successor in office was entitled to the whole of the inám land claimed by him. (I. L. R. 10 Bom. 34.)

Summary Settlement where the assessment has been reduced at the Revision Survey.

Memo. by Acting L. R. :—When the quit-rent payable under Bombay VII of 1863, Section 6, Rule 4, in respect of summarily settled alienated land has once been imposed as ascertained by an assessment made by the Revenue Survey, it cannot be affected in any way by any subsequent revision of survey. The rule runs :—

'Quit-rent imposed under this section (section 6) shall not be liable to increase or decrease on any new assessment save in so far as is above in Rule 1 of this section (section 6) provided to the contrary, in the case of lands which have not been already assessed by the Revenue Survey now in progress.'

The Legislature evidently contemplated the possibility of a fall as well as a rise in the assessment on revision, and declared that revision rates should not affect the quit-rent once imposed on the assessment.

"2. There are no reasons given for the opinion of the late Mr. Cordeaux quoted in the preamble to Government Resolution No. 8391 of 30th November 1882. Apparently, however, his opinion has reference not to the quit-rent payable under the Summary Settlement Act, but to the judi, salámi or other quit-rent or land-tax 'already paid to Government.' Under section 6, Rule 3, the quit-rent is calculated at one-eighth of the then assessment minus any sum which irrespective of the settlement was payable to Government. This quit-rent could not be affected by revision. But if the sum which was payable irrespective of the summary settlement had been imposed under section 5 of Bombay VII of 1863, (repealed by Bombay V of 1879 and replaced by section 49 of that Act), as a commuted assessment, such commuted assessment could not be in excess of the assessment to which the land would ordinarily be subject, if no right to exemption existed in respect thereof.

Revision would affect such commuted assessment, it could not affect in any way the quit-rent ascertained under Bombay VII of 1863, section 6, Rule 4.

There is no provision of law which requires judi to be reduced to the level of a revised assessment. It is of course competent to Government to allow such a revision as an act of grace. It could not be claimed as of right. (G. R. No. 4733 of 3rd July 1889, Revenue Department.)

Devasthán Lands—Sanads—Consequence of Alienation.

Memo. by Acting L. R.:—(1.) Under Hindu Law devasthán lands are inalienable (Indian Law Report V., Bombay, page 393), but may perhaps be temporarily mortgaged (Indian Law Report IX., Bombay, page 422). The matter does not seem to be affected by Bombay Act VII of 1863. It is true that section 6 says that when the Governor in Council shall under clause 1 of section 2 finally authorize and guarantee the continuance in perpetuity to the holders, their heirs and assigns of land wholly or partially exempt from the ordinary payment of annual land revenue the said lands shall (subject to the enactments contained in section 7) be the heritable and transferable property of the said holders, their heirs and assigns. But this section is qualified by the proviso in section 7: "Provided always that the said rightful owner, his heirs and assigns shall not by this Act or anything therein contained be deprived of any rights or remedies to which he or they would be entitled against the said holder, his heirs or assigns for the recovery of the said lands or any part thereof if this Act had not been passed." The result is that by the application of the summary settlement under Act VII of 1863 the continuance for ever of the exemption from assessment has been guaranteed by Government without regard to the person who may for the time being be in possession. But the rights of persons beneficially entitled to the property are not affected inter se. In the case of devasthán lands there may be a good deal of difficulty in deciding who is the real owner, but I think there can be no doubt that the community for whose benefit the temple exists have an interest in the grant which is preserved by section 7 and which gives them power to sue in the proper way for the restitution of the property if diverted to secular uses. The managers for the time being are certainly not the owners. They are mere trustees and the summary settlement does not confer on them any rights of alienation which they did not before possess.

2. I think in the revised sanads the name of the person who was manager at the time the settlement was accepted should be inserted. The usual way in which I have seen sanads for devasthán land drawn up is in the name of the god with the addition of the manager (e. g., Shri Vithoba, vahivátdár). The right to a sanad was complete as soon as the settlement was accepted under section 2, and as it may be difficult to ascertain to whom the right of management may have subsequently passed the safest course will be to enter the name of the manager at that time.

3. I do not think that Government can levy full survey rates from the alienees when devasthán land has been alienated from the institution to which it was granted. According to Hindu Law a grant to a temple is permanent and cannot be resumed (Indian Law Reports VI., Bombay, page 546). And the fact that the managers may have illegally alienated it will not have the effect of making it revert to Government, or justify it in, as it were, participating in the sacrilege by imposing a full assessment on the land. Least of all can this be done in cases to which the summary settlement has been applied. In whatever terms the sanad may have been worded, the effect of section 6 is to guarantee for ever the exemption of the land from assessment wholly or partially as the case may be. In regard to this point I would call attention to Mr. Naylor's opinion No. 757 of 17th November 1875, referred to in Government Resolution No. 6921 of 9th December 1875.

II.—The only thing I think that can be done when the Collector finds that devasthán land has been diverted from its legitimate uses is to take action under section 539 of the Civil Procedure Code with a view to its restoration. No other remedy seems possible in the present state of the law, and probably owing to the difficulty of obtaining accurate information this is not one that can often be resorted to. A Bill for the better administration of the Hindu and Mahomedan endowments was submitted by Mr. Naylor with his letter No. 43 of 15th January 1879, but the proposed legislation was not carried out.

III.—In the above remarks I have referred only to Hindu devastháns. They apply however with equal force to Musalmán Wakf property which by Mahomedan Law is similarly inalienable.

G. R. on above.—With regard to the sanads the safest and simplest course will be to have them made out in the name of the institution, adding the name of the manager with whom the summary settlement was effected, if he is still living, and provided he was the vahivátdár at the time of settlement. If he is dead the name of the actual manager should be entered, and the sanad should be handed over to the manager whose name is entered in it. But if the person who would thus be entitled to receive the sanad desires that it be delivered to some other person his request should be complied with, and where there is a person in possession of the institution and of the property appertaining to it, who is not the manager with whom the summary settlement was effected or his regular successor, and the person in possession claims the sanad against the wish of the said manager or of his regular successor, it should be given to the person with whom the settlement was effected as above shown. In any other case delivery of the sanad should be withheld until the parties obtain a decision in the Civil Courts declaring who is entitled to it. (G. R. No. 6595, 29th September 1887, R. D.)

Collectors to report diversions of devasthán land.

The Collectors throughout the Presidency and in Sind are directed to report for the information of Government any flagrant cases of the diversion of devasthán land from its legitimate uses, which may come to their notice, so that if necessary action may be taken for its restoration. (G. R. No. 7306, dated 26th October 1887, R. D.)

Procedure in cases of Alienation.

RESOLUTION.—Bombay Act II. of 1863 is in force in the Poona District and by section 8, clause 3, of that Act religious endowments, wholly or partly exempted as such from land tax, are declared inalienable. They are equally inalienable where the Act is not in force, for though Bombay Act VII of 1863 contains no such provision as section 8 of Bombay Act II. of 1863, yet religious endowments are in their very nature inalienable. In the case of a religious endowment or public institution no sanad at all is necessary as has been decided by the High Court in the printed judgments* in the case of Manohar Ganesh vs. Lakhmirám. A declaratory entry in the Government registers is quite sufficient and any one thereafter interfering with the property assumes the responsibility of a trustee.

2. The Collector may anywhere outside the Presidency Town take steps under section 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure to prevent the fraudulent alienation of land or of revenues constituting an endowment. The simplest course to follow in such a case is to give notice and thereafter exact the full assessment. The possessor who had taken the land by alienation or who declined to fulfil the conditions as trustee of the holding could not take advantage of his own fraud as the Acting Remembrancer of Legal Affairs seems to have thought he could in such a case (see Report No. 1117 of 1887, annexed to Government Resolution No. 6595 of 1887.) By taking or giving in alienation, by refusing or omitting to perform the service annexed to the holding, the occupier would have estopped himself from alleging it was sacred property. In the case of land sold in execution this would be specially the case unless indeed the land had been sold under some special circumstances as sacred property—a case that would very seldom occur.

3. In the printed judgment† in the case of Náráyanráo vs. Ráji Mahomed, it is pointed out that a Musalmán's duty in relation to a grant for pír's tomb is not transferable to a Hindu. Such a transfer therefore would estop the Hindu transferee from setting up any exemption on account of the sacred character of the tenure.

4. In all instances of alienation of religious endowments it is for those who are really interested in the celebration or other continuation of the pious service to come forward and require that it be performed. The Collector's duty is merely to see that an alienation of the public property or revenue is not enjoyed under false pretences. In each case before taking any active measures the Collector should convince himself from such inquiry as he may deem necessary that there is at least prima facie proof that there has been a defeat of the object of the endowment, as by the transfer of a sacred endowment to purely secular hands and purposes. Transfers within a family or priestly class are sometimes allowed, but an alienation to other than sacred uses is not permissible.

5. If the Collector does interfere under section 539, Civil Procedure Code, he should always demand his costs from the defendant and alternatively from the endowment. These costs will in general be only those of taking legal advice and may generally be recovered directly from the relators who appear as plaintiffs in the suit.

6. The general introduction of Act XX of 1863, now in force only in the district of Kánara in this Presidency, would place all these endowments of any consequence in the hands of trustees, and this would perhaps be the best course that could now be adopted. Before, however, taking any action in respect of the extension of the Act to the whole Presidency, Government desire the opinions of the Commissioners and of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs on the point. (G. R. 2023 of 28th March 1888, R. D.)

Assessment of Devastháns improperly Alienated.

RESOLUTION.—The opinions of the officers whose views have been obtained are divided as to the expediency of bringing into operation in the Presidency generally Act XX of 1863, or a measure framed on the same lines. Two officers (Mr. Candy and Mr. Todd) who have had a long experience of Kánara where Act XX of 1863 is in force are in favour of its extension to the entire Presidency, but owing to the peculiar wording of the Act it possibly might be found difficult to attain the desired end by this simple expedient. There are also many devastháns the property in which is vested in families or devolves by a series of successions or substitutions regulated by the original constituting document or by prescription. In such cases it would be improper to withdraw the property and management of the endowments from the hands designated by the founders. The proper course would under ordinary circumstances be for Government to control and superintend and prevent waste, but to the adoption of such a procedure objections exist which are insurmountable. Failing this the best course probably would be to provide for the voluntary formation in towns and districts of Committees of Hindus, Mahomedans and members of other religious communities for the purpose of acting as Charity Commissioners over the endowments in which their own communities are interested. These committees should possess visitatorial powers, and a right to recoupment of expenses reasonably incurred in connexion with any institution under their care. They would be appointed by the Collector on his being satisfied that the community desired such an appointment. The control should be left to the Civil Courts so as to keep the administrative body free from all connexion with the endowments. Provision should be made that the appropriation and use of charitable and religious endowments may be varied conformably to their original principles by the Courts in drawing up when necessary improved schemes of management. The Dákor Temple case shows that if the Courts felt free to act they would provide extensively for the beneficial use of sacred funds in the support of schools and dispensaries. On these lines generally the Governor in Council is of opinion that it may be advisable to legislate and the subject will now receive further consideration.

2<sup>d</sup> In the meantime the concern of Government with the subject from the administrative point of view is to see that if charity and shrines are robbed the public shall not be robbed too by unjust exemptions from land-tax or other impositions, and with this object in view the Collectors should be vigilant and active in exacting the assessment from all property alleged to be tax-free as sacred but held and dealt with in a way incompatible with its alleged sacred character. (G. R. 18 of 4th January 1889, R. D.)

(2) RULES UNDER THE HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT, 1874.

Rules under Part I. of the Act.

Section 1.—The meaning of the term “ Regulation Districts ” is defined in the Bombay General Clauses Bo. Act X of 1866.*

Section 4.—The wide extent of the words “ watan property ” as here defined requires particular notice. The profits of watan property are frequently specially mentioned in particular sections. A right to profits is of course an interest in the watan. The definition of the watan, which includes the hereditary office with its rights and privileges, and the property, if any, attached thereto, is believed to be in accord with the notion conveyed in the popular use of the word. The fact that it is often found that the share in a watan bears no proportion to the share in the land or other watan property, shows the distinction between the two things, e.g., a watandár universally recognized as an eight-anna sharer sometimes has no share whatever in the property. This indicates the abstract meaning of the term watan in ordinary parlance, and this meaning is intended in the definition.

(G. R. No. 5115 of 6th September 1875.)

The language used in defining “ watandár ” includes under that term acquirers under the native governments, and those claiming now under such acquirers. It would be inexpedient to re-investigate the title to such acquisitions. As to subsequent acquisitions, the definition only includes those who have acquired them in a legal manner; and in determining on this point, it will be necessary to refer to the provisions of Regulation XVI. of 1827 and Act XI of 1843 and to the Settlement Acts. Fraudulent transfers made contrary to the express provisions of the law cannot be considered legal.

Rules under Part II. of the Act.†

Section 5.—Cancelled. (G. R. 2793 of 3rd May 1888, R. D).

Section 7.—Without the previous sanction of Government the part of the watan property assigned for the officiator cannot be alienated in any way to any person whatever.

Section 8.—Section 8 provides a means by which the Collector can enforce contribution for the remuneration of the officiator in the following circumstances :—

(a) Where any part of a watan whatever or profits have passed by a British decree before the * Repealed by Bo. Act III of 1886, section 2 and Schedule A.

† For the purposes of Part II. of the Watan Act each taksim should be treated as a separate watan. The land of each taksim will be watan, but a member of the one taksim will have no hereditary interest in the watan land of the other taksim. He therefore as regards that land is not a watandár, and the lands in which he has an hereditary interest must be held to constitute a watan separate from that enjoyed by the other taksim in which he has no such interest. (G. R. No. 6026, dated 25th July 1875, R. D.).

passing of this Act into the enjoyment of any person except the officiator for the time being.

- (b) Where, before the passing of the Act, any part whatever of the watan or profits has without a British decree passed into the enjoyment of a watandár not being the officiator.
- (c) Where after the passing of the Act, by means of a British decree, any part except that assigned for the officiator has passed into the enjoyment of any other watandár.

The above three cases may be regarded as exceptions to the procedure provided in section 9, by which a resumption of the property or profits of any part of the watan whatever may be made. Section 9* governs cases fulfilling all the following conditions :—

- (1) Alienation before the passing of the Act.
- (2) Without both a British decree and a proper consent by the Revenue authorities.
- (3) To an outsider.

In case (a) the reason of the exception is that although the property may have been illegally alienated, it was by decree of a British Court.

In case (b) the reason is that the transfer, though invalid and without a decree, was made from one member of the watan to another.

In case (c) the reason is that the transfer will be from one member to another, and by a decree, of the part not assigned to the officiator. The case is the common one of a partition or succession at Hindu law, where the civil courts define each person's rights.

Section 12.— It will be perceived from the above, that by section 8 an alienee who has come into possession of profits of watan property under certain circumstances, cannot be dispossessed by the Collector. Hence, under the definition of watandár the alienee has an interest in the watan and is a watandár, but cannot be entered in the register as a representative watandár unless he has established a customary right to serve. On the other hand, if these circumstances do not exist, the Collector may, under section 9† dispossess the alienee of the profits. But this section is not, like sections 10 and 11, which refer to alienations made after the passing of the Act,

* Section 9 is inapplicable to alienations made before the Act came into force and which took place either by virtue of or in execution of a decree or order of a British Court, or with the consent of the Collector and a mutation of names in the revenue records. (G. R. No. 2253, dated 19th March 1883, R. D.)

† The statement that section 9 is permissive only and not imperative, applies only to section 9, clause 1, the provisions of which confer a power and do not impose a duty to be in certain circumstances performed.

Section 9, clause 2, on the other hand, as pointed out in Government Resolution No. 9506 of 26th December 1883, is imperative, for it imposes a duty to be performed when the occasion arises, and does not merely confer a power to be exercised at discretion. (Memo. by Acting L. R., G. R. No. 947, dated 4th February 1890, R. D.)

Julius vs. Bishop of Oxford—L. R. 5, App. Ca. 214.

Maxwell on Interpretation of Statutes, 218.

imperative but permissive only, and it is desirable to lay down some rule for the guidance of the Collector in exercising the power conferred on him by section 9.

The general rule is that alienations effected before the passing of Act XI of 1843, and in lately acquired territory before the introduction of British rule, shall not be interfered with. The profits thus alienated will, of course, be liable to contribution to the emoluments of the officiator under section 23, and the alienee cannot be registered as a representative watandár unless he has established a customary right to serve under section 26.

Alienations effected since 1843 should not be interfered with when fraud is not apparent, when reasonable consideration was passed, and when the profits have actually been in the enjoyment of the alienee. In other cases the Collector should, according to his discretion, have recourse to one or the other of the two courses laid down in section 12, which section is more fully explanatory of section 9.

*Sections 10 and 11.**—Sections 10 and 11 provide amply against future alienations of an illegal kind. Section 10 applies where the watan is attached or sold by a court. The Collector's certificate leads to the removal of any process attaching the officiator's share, at the instance of any person whatever, and will have the like effect as to the rest of the watan when an illegal transfer has been made to any outsider. The certificate does not apply to property (except that assigned to the officiator) disposed of among the watandárs themselves by a suit inter se.

Section 11 provides for summary proceedings by the Collector himself in all future cases not supported by a court's order of (1) alienation of the officiator's share, (2) alienation of any part to an outsider.

The procedure by certificate or resumption under sections 10 and 11 can take effect only where the property affected has been recorded or registered. Hence it will be the duty of Collectors to pay particular attention to those functions.

Section 13.—Watan assigned as the remuneration of the officiator and its profits cannot be attached by civil courts. Where this is done by inadvertence, the Collector can cause the removal of the process.

The Collectors should inform all patels and kul-karnis and all the members of watandár families, that it is their duty to bring to notice all illegal alienations of watan or profits, and all invalid attachments or process placed upon them in future.

* Sections 10 and 11 of the Act, so far as they affect alienations of life interests in "unassigned" watans, were repealed by implication under Bombay Act V of 1886.

For "if the co-existence of two sets of provisions would be destructive of the objects for which they were passed, the earlier would be repealed by the latter." (Memo. by Maxwell on Interpretation of Statutes, page 145. Acting L. R., G. R. No. 8513, 20th December 1888, R. D.)

Section 14.—It is not thought desirable that two or more hereditary offices should be combined except for very substantial reasons.

(G. R. No. 4235, dated 27th May 1885.)

Section 15.—This section is intended in the conservative spirit which pervades the Act to give the completest confirmation to settlements in commutation of service already agreed upon by Government and the watandárs.

Section 16.—With the same desire to avoid interference with ancient rights and customs, the Legislature has let alone whatever rights and duties may exist between watandárs and villagers.

*Section 17.**—It is inexpedient that the present rates and mode of payment in alienated villages should be altered except when serious disputes arise, or the parties agree on a new scale.

Section 18.—This section was introduced in order to provide for the legal definition of the rights and duties of the village Mhárs and watchmen, and to lead to a peaceful settlement of the quarrels which at present tend to the damage of the Mhárs, who revenge themselves by poisoning the cattle of the ryots. The section can only be used when application is made by a person interested. By employing a village pancháyat to deal with these minute and intricate matters, the Collectors are enabled to avoid an annoying responsibility. Government desire to impress on all the Government servite the necessity of showing very great patience in using the pancháyat. Experience has shown that many delays and more informalities are tolerated by such a tribunal, and that, without some aid and even judicious supervision, the institution may become too tardy for action. The Government hope, however, that their officers

* "The haks which a kulkarni is entitled to recover from the cultivators of an inám village are not 'charges on the revenue or rent of villages, or other defined portions of territory.' They are payments for which the cultivators are liable to the kulkarni in addition to the rent, if any, which they pay to the inámdár and are not recoverable from that rent. Moreover it cannot reasonably be contended that the words 'villages or other defined portions of territory' include cultivator's holdings. Such haks as those in question are not covered by the definition of the word 'land' in section 3 (4) of the Land Revenue Code, and the kulkarni, who is entitled to receive such haks, is not in respect thereof a superior holder.

"2. According to the view approved by Government in Government Resolution No. 7884 of 26th December 1881, section 17, Bombay Act III of 1874, is the law which applies to haks such as those in question. This seems to be admitted by the Collector, but he is encountered by the difficulty that in unsurveyed inám villages he cannot tell whether the aggregate of the haks would or would not be more than 'equivalent to the amount that would be payable under the scale in force for the time being in the case of Government villages,' and therefore cannot tell whether in determining under that section the amount of payments recoverable by a kulkarni, he transgresses the proviso to the section. An approximate estimate of the amount that would be payable if the village were a Government village will sufficiently satisfy the proviso, and such estimate may be based upon general considerations without requiring the detailed particulars obtainable in a surveyed village." (G. R. No. 3786, dated 26th May 1886, R. D.) will apply themselves to gaining the great advantage of decisions of pancháyats by exercise of caution and patience, and that the influence of the mámlatdárs and patels will prevent extravagant delays.

The Government are convinced of the necessity of dealing with the village Mhárs and watchmen with the utmost care and caution ; it is not at all desirable that the authority conferred by section 18 should be generally used : it will be sufficient to apply it when the disputes grow so high as to lead to fighting, arson, or poisoning of cattle. In fact, it should only be used in the last resort. Generally the ryots and the Mhárs are a fair match for each other : each class is sure to try to interest inexperienced officers in hopes of gaining some petty advantage. A very slight gain in one village will incite the same class in neighbouring villages to petition for settlement—a consequence it is in every way desirable to avoid. Hence the anxiety of Government that section 18 should not be used except under pressing circumstances, and that the decisions when it is used should invariably be those of pancháyats.

Rule under Part IV. of the Act.

Section 22.—The creation of new watans and the assignment of lapsed watans are matters belonging to the Government, and require no directions here.

Rules under Part V. of the Act.

* Section 23.—No new line of action in fixing the emoluments of officiators is indicated, or at present desired.

Rules under Part VI. of the Act.

Section 24.—In Part VI. an endeavour has been made to supplement the provisions of the law existing before the passing of the Act, and to give greater form and accuracy, and consequently more binding effect to the registers already instituted by law or departmental orders, or both combined.

The representative watandár is by definition a watandár registered by the Collector as having a right to perform the duties.

The ample inquiry which took place before the passing of the Bill showed the extreme difficulty of legislating for the great number of ancient customs and recent practices, which vary much in each province and even district. In some districts Act XI of 1843 has very recently been applied in such a way as to increase the number of recognized sharers until the watan has become almost unmanageable. In others very careful inquiries have been made and the results registered, and the shares thus settled have become generally known. It is obviously expedient to deal in different ways with these two classes. While, therefore, section 26 provides that the Collector shall not be bound to recognize appointments and sub-divisions made subsequently to the introduction of Act XI of 1843, which he considers mere practices contrary to the custom of the watan, section 73, clause 2, on the other hand, indicates plainly that practices established after the careful inquiries instituted from about the year 1866, A.D., and acquiesced in since, are not to be disturbed; and Government will not be disposed to deviate from the existing registers in such instances without very weighty reasons being adduced.

*It appears that the watan land on which Scale Judi has been imposed according to rules for the payment of remuneration to Patels and Kulkarnis is watan lands the profits of which have been assigned (in part at least) towards the emoluments of officiators, and as such it should be treated as land assigned for the remuneration of an officiator under section 23 of the Bombay Act III of 1874. (G. R. No. 5986 of 24th July 1885, R. D.

Government would also draw prominent attention to the different manner in which the words "custom" and "practice" are used in the Act. The practice is by section 26 to be looked at, but so also the records; both are species of evidence of custom. This should be borne in mind where they do not coincide; in many cases it will be found that the practice since British rule began has been to appoint from one or more families, while other families have acquiesced on the understanding that their rights subsisted unaffected. This understanding is often proved by official entries; it often subsists in well-known and undisputed tradition. The Collectors will, of course, subject to the rule contained in section 73, clause 2, bring as much research and experience as possible to their judgment on the evidence, taking care that mere accident shall not prejudice just rights, and at the same time that mere recent practices of sub-divisions shall not be allowed to weaken the village system contrary to the proviso of section 26.

It is necessary that particular attention should be paid, under Part VI of the Act, to decisions of the civil courts in suits instituted before the Act came into operation. Such decisions, Government are advised, should be accepted as evidence within the meaning of section 26 of the Act, and as conclusive evidence so far as they are consistent with the provisions of the Act.

The following rules are therefore to be observed on this point:—

- (I.)—Decisions passed by the Collector since 1866 shall not be accepted under clause 2 of section 73 of the Act when they have been set aside or modified by the civil courts, but in such cases the courts' decrees shall be acted upon, so far as they may be consistent with the provisions of the Act.
- (II.)—When litigation is still pending concerning any such decision it should not be accepted, nor should any final order be passed under section 73 of the Act until the final decree of the civil courts is obtained, when it should be acted upon as in the case of already existing decrees.
- (III.)—Government reserve the right of directing that previous decisions other than the above shall not be accepted in particular cases.

\ Rules under Part VII. of the Act.*

Section 40.—Where the Collector has defined the order of service to be that of successive periods, the representative watandárs are entitled to elect an officiator. This procedure meets the views of many of the Revenue officers, who hoped that the best and most influential men would be elected by the good sense of the wátandárs. It is most desirable that this safeguard should be preserved and the popular custom maintained; the Government believe that the influence of the Collector and his Assistants, otherwise secured by the power of veto, will be sufficient to prevent grossly improper election, without interfering with its many advantages.

\ Rules under Part VIII of the Act.*

The sections in Part VIII. go much into detail as to appointments and removals of watandárs and deputies, and require no particular discussion.

Section 42.—With reference to section 42 it should be remembered that it is the wish of Government that representative watandárs should serve in person and that, as a rule, the appointment of deputies should only be permitted in cases in which watans are owned by sardárs of so high a rank that they could not be reasonably expected to serve in person.

†Section 43.—The determination of the number of officiators required should be made by the Collector under section 43, with much regard to the condition of family as well as to the needs of the village. Neither in this nor in any other matter is general or rapid change desirable. With a view to preserve the family and to secure the most respectable servants, it is provided that deputies must be watandárs except in particular contingencies. The broad appli-

* The portion of the Rules relating to Matádárs is omitted in this edition, the law now applicable being the Matádárs Act, Bo. VI of 1887. Elections under section 17 of that Act are regulated by the Rules made under section 18 thereof—Vide Notification No. 1339, B. G. G., 1883, Pt. I., p. 198, et infra.

† In registering a watan it is not necessary to say anything about the performance of the police pátil's duty in the way of assigning the right to it to any person.

Under section 43 the Collector determines the number of officiators required for the duties, i.e., he says one officiator can do all the duties, both revenue and police, or the village being large, two officiators are required contemporaneously. But he does not say, of these A is to do the revenue and B the police duties. When the Magistrate appoints a police pátil under Bombay Act VIII of 1867, section 5, he respects the settlement of officiators as far as he can. Thus Government decided in Resolution No. 7127, dated December 20th, 1875, that when there are two officiators, the Magistrate gives the sanad of police pátil to whichever of the two he pleases. (G. R. No. 4157 of 10th June 1886, R. D.)

In practice there are two classes of cases :—

1st.—When the office of police pátil has been customarily given to the revenue pátil. In such cases the representative watandár, if fit for revenue office, will presumably be also fit for police duty and no question of nomination of a deputy will arise. If the representative watandár is not qualified for the revenue duty and is allowed to appoint a deputy, the Magistrate can either select a police pátil from the other representative watandárs, if any, or if there are none, or none fit, can invest the deputy with the office of police pátil.

cation of the term watandár to collaterals should not be lost sight of.

*Section 54.—When the Collector appoints a deputy the term should be five years.

Rule under Part IX of the Act.

The provisions as to penalties require no remarks.

Rules under Part XII of the Act.

Section 69.—Section 69 imposes on the hereditary officers the duty of rendering both customary services and those specifically required by law. Where doubts exist, Government will determine under section 83.

Section 71.—The privilege of signing village papers, where it has been customary, is preserved to heads of families whether representative watandárs or not. This concession to the feelings of an influential

2nd.—When the office of police pátil is held as a separate watan from that of revenue pátil. In this case if there be only one representative registered by the Collector and he is unfit to serve, but not unfit to nominate a deputy, the Magistrate should call upon him to nominate under Chapter VIII of the Watan Act. If there be more than one representative registered by the Collector, and the watandár whose turn it is to serve is not fit, the Magistrate may appoint any other registered representative, and if none are fit, may call upon the watandár whose turn it is to serve to nominate a deputy under Chapter VIII of the Watan Act. (G. R. No. 3057 of 25th April 1889, R. D.)

Section 5 of Bo. Act VIII of 1867 binds the Magistrate to appoint as police pátil the person having sole hereditary right to that office if there is one, but in case there is no such person and there are two or three claimants having an hereditary interest in the office, the Magistrate is not bound to follow particular order of rotation but can select from among them. He would not be justified, however, in selecting from a branch which in consequence of some ancient alienation or family custom had long lost its right to perform police duties.

The question appears to be entirely one of custom, and that can be decided by the Collector when preparing the watan register. Section 25 imposes on him the duty of determining the custom of the watan as to service, and in the register he can note down any rules or limitations which are authorized by custom.

In cases in which there are distinct takshims belonging to radically different families and attached to distinct offices, there is no objection to treating the several takshims with their respective offices as district watans. But where the different branches of the family spring from one original watandár, it does not appear necessary to do so. The heads of the families can be registered as representative watandárs of one watan. If the Collector thinks that one branch has by custom acquired the sole right to serve as police pátil, he can register such right, and the Magistrate who makes the appointment of police pátil will be bound to recognize it under the first sentence of the clause from the Police Act above quoted.

It will be observed that the mere fact of registration as a representative watandár does not necessarily include the right to discharge at some time or other every function of pátil, for in each case it is the duty of the Collector to determine the custom of the watan after consideration of the practice heretofore observed from the earliest period for which there are records or other evidence available. (G. R. No. 5902 of 2nd September 1887, R. D.)

*The provisions of section 54 of the Act do not appear to be opposed to permitting a watandár who has resigned office owing to inability to serve, to nominate a deputy for the remainder of his term of office which is less than five years; but when the officiating watandár resigned the Kalkarniship for the purpose of taking office in another village he should be deemed to have vacated. (G. R. No. 451 of 20th January 1886, R. D.)

class of men should be worked in the spirit in which it was enacted.

*Rules under Part XIII of the Act.**

It is hoped that the defined procedure set forth will simplify investigations. The Collector's proceedings are, by section 74, under the control of the Revenue Commissioner, and for this reason, and in order to secure discussion, some uniformity and reference to general as well as local reasons, Government direct that all references, reports and returns relating to watans on which Government have to pass order should be forwarded through the Revenue Commissioner; and submitted with his remarks or opinion.

†Sections 76 to 78.—The rules as to appeals place decisions of the Revenue officers on much the same footing as those of Magistrates of the first class; there is more safeguard of written proceedings than under the former law, and thus more finality is secured.

Appointment of a Deputy to the office of the Police Pátíl.

Section 79.—But, as already noticed, some uniformity is desirable, and section 79 gives Government a general power of revision, which will be exercised where decisions are passed contrary to the provisions of the Act. The Revenue Commissioner should report such cases. This section, it is to be observed, gives Government alone the power of calling for cases; and on the principle of expressio unius est exclusio alterius neither the Collectors nor the Revenue Commissioners have the power to call for cases which are not brought before them by regular appeal, since the decision of an Assistant or Deputy Collector under the power vested in him (which must be delegated to him under section 10, Bombay Act V of 1879) is as good and as conclusive as that of the Collector himself, and is not therefore liable to be reviewed by the latter. Government consider it, however, desirable that the Revenue Commissioners and Collectors should be empowered to call for cases disposed of under the Act by officers subordinate to them, even if no appeal be presented, and under section 82 of the Act this power is hereby conferred on the officers named. Should it be put in force it will not be in the Col-

* Section 73 is not exhaustive in its enumeration of investigations requiring record in writing; and though it does not require an order refusing the service of a representative watandár to be so recorded, section 45 (e) as amended by section 9 of Bombay Act V of 1886 does.

Section 45 only contemplates such a refusal in the case of a representative watandár who is personally of bad character, and such refusal must be preceded by a summary enquiry regulated by section 195, Bombay Land Revenue Code, in which a minute of the proceedings must be recorded in the Collector's own hand and must embrace the material averments of the parties. (Memo. of Acting L. R., G. R. No. 5365 of 27th July 1889, R. D.)

lector's or Revenue Commissioner's power to review or alter the decision, but only to report upon it to Government under section 79 of the Act.

Section 81.—When it is necessary to take steps under section 81 for the recovery of any payment in kind, the Collector may direct that if the person liable for the payment does not, upon demand, pay what is due by him in kind, steps shall be taken for enforcing payment of the money value thereof at the market rates of the day. (G. R. No. 831 of 2nd February 1886, R. D.)

Section 82.—Government desire that the Collectors should, in suggesting general rules, adhere, as far as the Act permits, to existing arrangements, except where serious reason exists for alteration, or where trifling changes lead to more general uniformity.

When it has been the custom for a member of each of two or more takshims to serve contemporaneously, and in one or more of such takshims a member of each of several families has performed the duties in successive periods, the custom as to contemporaneous service shall, subject to the provisions of section 43, be recognized, and the rights of the representative watandár, or of the representative watandárs of each takshim as to service, shall be determined under the provisions of the Act as if each such takshim constituted a distinct watan.

(Note.
No. 6387, B.
G. G. for
p. 807.)

When on enquiry it appears to the Collector that there are strong reasons for doubting the fact or legality of an adoption reported to him under section 34 of the said Act, he may make an order suspending registration of the name of the alleged adoptive heir until such time as the adoption is declared valid by a competent Court: Provided that in any such case he shall fully record the grounds of making such order and shall communicate them to any party concerned, and provided that he may at any time for sufficient reason set aside such order and direct registration of the name or further enquiry as he may think suitable.

Costs of copies of original papers recorded in watan proceedings.

When any party in a watan case who has filed any document in evidence applies to have such document returned to him, the document may be returned. But in every such case a copy of such document properly certified and made at the expense of the applicant shall be substituted for such document in the record of the case. (G. R. No. 148 of 11th January 1886, R. D.)

ELECTION RULES UNDER THE MATA'DARS
ACT, B. VI OF 1887.

27th February 1888.

In exercise of the power conferred by Section 18 of the Matádárs Act, No. VI of 1887, published at pages 1—11 of the Bombay Government Gazette of the 30th January 1888, Part IV, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules :—

1. On, or in anticipation of, the occurrence of a vacancy in the office of Patel in any village to which section 15 of the above Act applies, the Collector, or with his sanction, an Assistant or Deputy Collector, shall issue a notice in the form hereto appended to all the Matádárs of the village, fixing a date and place for the election of a Patel.

2. The date fixed for the election shall not be less than 14 days from the date of notice.

3. The notice shall be endorsed by all the Matádárs of the village, or by as many of them as can be found, and a copy shall be posted up at the Chowra or at some other conspicuous place in the village. The original notice endorsed by the Matádárs shall be returned to the officer issuing it before the date fixed for the election.

4. Only females shall be allowed to vote by proxy, such proxy being on paper bearing one rupee stamp and duly attested.

5. Each voter shall, in the presence of the presiding officer, write or cause to be written the name of his or her nominee on a piece of paper which shall be signed by the voter.

6. No elector shall vote for more than one person, provided that an elector who is the guardian of a minor Matádár of the village, shall have two votes on each question.

7. An election fails,—

- (1) if a majority of the Matádárs do not attend in person (or in case of females, by proxy) ;
- (2) if no person eligible under the Act obtains the votes of more than half the total number of Matádárs of the village ;
- (3) if the person elected is unfit or disqualified, or within 14 days declines, or fails to accept, the appointment.

8. If a majority of the total number of Matádárs then and there agree upon the term, exceeding five years, during which their nominee is to serve, he shall be appointed for such term. Failing such agreement the term shall be five years (Section 23).

9. When an election fails, the presiding officer shall call on the representative Matádár of the family, whose turn it is to officiate, to serve in person or by deputy.

ADDITIONAL ORDERS AND RULINGS.

Forfeiture and disposal of Watan Land for Arrears.

Watan land is "alienated land" within the meaning of clause 19, section 3 of the Revenue Code, and when an arrear of land revenue is due in respect of any such alienated holding, the Collector may, under section 153, declare the holding to be forfeited to Government. When the holding has been thus forfeited, the Collector, may, under section 57, take immediate possession, and it then can either be sold or be disposed of under rules or orders made in this behalf by Government under sections 56 and 214 (e).

If the holding is simply sold by the Collector as an alienated holding, the purchaser would become entitled to the same exemption from land revenue as the defaulter enjoyed. Government will no doubt think it inexpedient to continue exemptions in this way without any necessity, and the class of cases referred to by the Collector is therefore one calling for an express order under sections 56 and 214 (e). The Collector, when he has forfeited any such alienated holding, shall not sell it, but shall enter the land comprised therein in his records as unoccupied unalienated land, and deal with it under the law and the rules relating to land of that description. The arrear of judi will still be recoverable from the watan-dárs by any of the other means allowed by Chapter XI. of the Code, and if not recoverable at all within what Government consider a reasonable period may, if Government think fit so to direct, be written off.

The loss of land appertaining to a watan will not necessarily involve the loss of the right of service. According to the definition in section 4 of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act, "the watan property, if any, and the hereditary office and the rights and privileges attached to them together constitute the watan." There may still be a watan, although no partially exempt land is attached to it. Section 32 of the same Act enacts that "when watan property of profits has been voluntarily relinquished without abandonment of right of service, such right of service shall be dealt with as if the watan-dárs were still in receipt of such emoluments. (G. R. 3016 of 10th June 1880).

Memo. by the L. R.:—The power of forfeiture conferred on Government by section 60 of the Hereditary Offices Act extends only to the particular watan in discharging the duties for which an offence has been committed. (G. R. 9728, 5th December 1884, R.D.)

Power of Government to resume Watan in hands of Strangers.

A watan being an estate held from Government is subject to special rules both as to devolution and as to the capacity for proprietorship. Government has usually bestowed it on a particular family with reference to the special fitness of that family on account of caste or social or political status for the performance of certain public services annexed as an obligation, though not as a condition to the grant. Enjoyment by that family is thus an essential element of the tenure. This being so, the tenure fails on the entail, so to speak, being broken and the property passing into the possession of one not a member of the family of beneficiaries. This is recognized in an important Full Bench judgment of the Bombay High Court, reported at pages 93—132 of the Indian Law Reports, IX, Bombay Series. If then the original family of watan-dárs have allowed themselves to be ousted so long or in such wise as that they can no longer assert their rights against the intruders, the result is not to destroy the latent ultimate right of the donor on terms as reversioner, i.e., Government, but to bring the reversionary right into immediate operation. The ousted watan-dárs if they have conspired with the intruders have been guilty of a fraud on the donor tending to the destruction of the residuary estate, which is recognized as a ground of forfeiture of the tenure. If they have been put out by force or fraud or the operation of any particular law, their estate has simply perished and that out of which it was carved, (vis. the estate of Government) becomes integral again. The intruders cannot as against Government take advantage of the fraud or the negligence of the tenant watan-dárs so as to destroy the higher estate of the Sovereign except when the right of the latter is barred by limitation. Watan lands are also service lands, and Government under general rules may resume them at discretion (G. R. 6890 of 13th September 1889, R. D.)

Question as to whether Widow's own Heirs in absence of Husband's Heirs, succeed to Property inherited by her from her Husband in bar of Government's claim to escheat.

According to the general Hindu law as interpreted by recent decisions it seems clear that a widow's own heirs can never succeed to immoveable property inherited by her from her husband. See Mayne's Hindu Law, paragraphs 519—525, Bhugwandas vs. Mynabai, 11 Moore's I. A., 487, 513, and Collector of Masulipatam vs. Cavaly, 8 Moore's I. A., 529. But this like all other rules of Hindu law is liable to be overruled by proof of a special custom to a different effect; and the passages in Steel, 231, West and Bühler, 540 and 541, and the opinion cited at West and Bühler, 546, point to there being, in some parts at least of the Deccan, a custom under which a widow's own heirs do, in absence of any heir of her husband, succeed on her death to immoveable property inherited by her from him. (G. R. No. 6288, 27th August 1889, R. D.)

Resumption of Cash Allowances for Village Services no longer performed.

Memo. by Acting L. R.:—The Commissioner, C. D., questions whether Government Resolution No. 512 of 24th January 1882 and No. 6310 of 25th August 1883, authorize the resumption of cash allowances originally granted as remuneration to village servants useful to the community on attempted alienations thereof by the holders.

2. The resolutions in question do not expressly authorise such resumptions, as they mention only the resumption of land by levy of full assessment. But the intention of Government by implication appears to have been that the same rule should apply to cash allowances. The original reference on which these Resolutions were passed dealt with such cash allowances as well as with land, and after considerable correspondence, on which it was decided that the Bombay District Hereditary Offices Act should not be extended so as to apply to such offices, Government arrived at the conclusion that all the sanads which have been issued prohibited alienations of the property to which they relate.

Letter No. 741, dated 25th March 1881, from the Commissioner, C. D., quoted in the preamble of Government Resolution No. 2188, Revenue Department, 14th April 1881.

The Commissioner, C. D., in reply to Government Resolution No. 5705, Revenue Department, of 30th September 1881 reported that this condition was included in all sanads issued to village servants useful to village communities in all the Districts of his Division.

3. The Bombay Hereditary Offices Act undoubtedly has no application to such cases (vide Government Resolution No. 5705, Revenue Department, dated 30th September 1881), and if a cash allowance is conditioned on performance of service by a particular family, it is, I think, perfectly competent to Government to withhold it from any claimant outside the family of the original grantees. Under the Pensions Act (XXIII. of 1871) no suit could lie, should Government determine to withhold the allowance from the original grantee or from the person claiming as his transferee. (Indian Law Reports, 1 Bombay 80.)

4. In the instance referred to by the Commissioner, C. D., in paragraph 3 of his letter now under reference, a condition against alienation was expressly included. In that particular case the allowance was necessarily inalienable out of the family as it was attached to a religious office. Government could not of course be liable to suit in case they determined to resume such cash allowance, but such grants are not in their nature resumable (West and Bücher, page 398), "the holder of the office can be constrained if necessary to perform the duties when properly called on." Government could withhold payment from any alienee outside the family, but it would be contrary to the general principles of the Hindu law to withhold the emoluments of a religious office from the family of the original grantee. RESOLUTION.—The Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the orders contained in G. Rns. No. 512, dated 24th January 1882, and No. 6310 dated 25th August 1883, shall be regarded as applicable to cash allowances as well as to service lands. (G. R. No. 2643 of 5th April 1889, R. D.)

Resumption of Lands held for Service useful to the Village Community.

The terms of the settlement made in the case of village servants useful to the community should be held applicable to all cases in which their service lands have ceased to constitute the remuneration of such servants, and the lands should be resumed at once irrespective of the date of alienation.

It should be borne in mind that by resumption in such instances is only meant the levy of full assessment from the person in occupation other than the original grantee or his descendants. The present holders should therefore be allowed to remain in possession on payment of the full assessment to which the lands are liable.

If the original holders or their descendants have thought proper to alienate their lands in which they had only a life-interest and have thus deprived themselves of the remuneration provided for the performance of their duties, they themselves are alone to blame for their own action, and the Governor in Council does not consider them to be entitled to any consideration. The full assessment to be levied in the case of these alienations should accordingly be credited to Government (G. R. No. 6310 of 25th August 1883, R. D.).

By the orders in G. R. No. 3045, dated 16th June 1874, it was directed that when watanárs did not accept a commutation settlement, service up to the full value of the watan should be exacted. (G. R. No. 6260, dated 16th September 1887, R. D.)

Lands held by Non-Watandári Patels.

When lands are held by non-watandári patels for service and have been alienated without the previous sanction of competent authority, they are resumable at the pleasure of Government. The Collector should therefore resume them and should assign to the officiating patel in each case so much of the land resumed, including the land in his own occupation, as may be required to provide for his remuneration according to scale. If any surplus land remains after providing for the remuneration of the officiator, such surplus may be re-granted to the present occupants at survey rates.

The officiating patels should continue to be nominated by the Collector according to present custom, and they should be made to understand that they hold the lands assigned to them so long only as they continue to serve. It is not desirable to create new watan rights under Act III. of 1874 (G. R. 1170 of 5th February 1881.).

Alienations of Commuted Service Land.

Alienees of long standing should not be interfered with whether the settlement was made with them or not. (G. R. 656 of 23rd January 1885, R. D.)

Village Servants useful to community. Resumption on Alienation.

Bombay Act III of 1874 does not appear to be applicable to village servants useful to the community. All the sanads which have been issued to such servants prohibit alienation of the property to which they relate. Under the terms of the settlement, land which ceases to be held as remuneration for service to the village community may be resumed (G. R. 5705 of 30th September 1881, and 512 of 12th January 1882).

Where service is still required and performed.

A settlement was made, not with the Kázi's family, but with the family which, so long ago as A. D. 1805, had purchased the Kázi's land. The sanad granted to this latter family recognizes them as the holders of the land 'claimed as emolument appertaining to the office of Kázi,' and declares that that land shall be continued as the emolument of the office so long as the village community may require the services, on the conditions that the holders shall perform the usual services to the community and shall continue faithful subjects of the British Government.

2. If these two conditions are fulfilled and the village community still requires the services, the land cannot be resumed. The mere fact that the land is held by strangers is not a sufficient ground for resumption, when the settlement was made with those strangers and the conditions of the sanad are fulfilled by them. They of course cannot in this instance perform the duties in person, because they are Hindus; but if they perform the services vicariously, that is a sufficient compliance with the sanad, and the land may be said to be 'in the enjoyment of the persons who perform the services' within the meaning of paragraph 2 of Memorandum No. 966 of 21st July 1883, quoted in the preamble of Government Resolution No. 6310 of 25th August 1883 (G. R. No. 4996 of 21st June 1884, R. D.).

Collector's Procedure if he considers there are no heirs.

Memo. by L. R.—The provisions of section 36 of the Hereditary Offices Act prescribe the course which is to be observed by the Collector ordinarily, i.e., when there are heirs of a deceased representative watandár and the only question is which of them is entitled to be recognized as representative watandár in the place of the deceased. For the uncommon case of there being no person in whom the right of inheritance appears to the Collector to vest, the section makes no provision; but in such a case the Collector, as the representative of Government, is clearly entitled to refuse to recognize any claim which he deems to be unfounded and to treat the watan or the share of the deceased representative watandár as lapsed.

2. Section 22 of the Act shows that it was contemplated by the Legislature that watans or parts of watans will occasionally lapse to Government, and it cannot have been intended that under section 36 the Collector should be compelled to recognize the claim of a person to succeed as heir, merely because he produces a certificate of heirship, notwithstanding that the Collector may have good reason for questioning his title. A certificate of heirship is granted under Regulation VIII of 1827 upon a very summary inquiry and frequently ex parte. The Civil Courts themselves do not regard the orders passed in such inquiries as final; the person to whom a certificate is granted is merely held to be prima facie heir.

3. In every case, therefore, in which the Collector considers that there is no person entitled to succeed to a watan or share of a watan, he is justified in declaring such watan or share of a watan lapsed. This declaration may be made by him as soon as his inquiries satisfy him on the point; but whether he should arrive at a conclusion and declare a lapse, of his own authority, or after reference to the Commissioner or to Government, is an administrative detail as to which it is open to Government to prescribe such rules as they think fit.

4. The declaration of a lapse and the appropriation of the watan or portion of a watan to which such declaration applies as the property of Government, will involve Government in liability to a civil suit at the instance of any person who deems himself entitled to succeed to the property as heir of the deceased, and there is no bar to such a suit except the twelve years' limitation rule. If therefore a person comes forward within the above period and lays claim to the property, his claim ought not to be set aside, because he did not appear sooner or because the watan or portion of a watan has already been treated as a lapse; but his claim ought to be enquired into as that of a person who may hereafter sue Government in the Civil Courts, and if he has obtained a certificate of heirship, that fact should be regarded as indicating that he has some evidence in support of his claim. Whether any such claim should be finally resisted or admitted depends, of course, upon the merits of each case. There is nothing in the Hereditary Offices Act that prevents its being admitted and the claimant's name being registered under section 36 at any time.

RESOLUTION.—As regards paragraph 3 above the Governor in Council doubts the necessity for any formal rules. Cases of the nature in question are very rare and a Collector may be trusted to exercise his own discretion in dealing with them, proceeding in the manner mentioned in paragraph 4 of the Legal Remembrancer's report. If any person whose claim is rejected is dissatisfied, he will naturally appeal to the Commissioner and to Government, and the propriety of the Collector's order can then be considered (G. R. No. 531, dated 19th January 1885, R. D.).

Illegitimate Sons of Sudras are Heirs.

Memo. by L. R.—Amongst Sudras the right of succession undoubtedly devolves on illegitimate sons, in the absence of legitimate sons, son's sons, or son's son's sons. I am not aware that watan property forms any exception to the general rule of succession in this respect (G. R. No. 104, 7th January 1885, R. D.)

Heirship, Claims to Certificates of—Government Pleader to be instructed.

In applications in the District Court for certificates of heirship in cases in which alienations of watans are liable to be perpetuated, or in which Government is otherwise interested, the Government Pleader should be instructed to watch the proceedings of each case, and the Collector should see that the evidence of heirship tendered is trustworthy (G. R. 945 of 15th February 1881).

Heirs—Sons by different wives.

In Pedda Rámapa vs. Banguri Sheshaunna (Indian Law Reports, 2 Madras, 286) the Privy Council distinctly held that there was no distinction between the son of a first wife and of any subsequent wife. It was held generally that 'among sons born of wives equal in their class and without any other distinction, there can be no seniority in right of the mothers'.

It is now settled law that the junior son of a first married Hindu wife takes no precedence over the senior son of a subsequent wife, if both wives are of equal class. (G. R. 2499, 21st March 1884, R. D.).

Meaning of the term "Nearest Heir" in section 36.

Report by L. R.—“The term ‘nearest heir’ which is used in section 36 of Bombay Act III. of 1874, is not a very accurate one: but looking to the fact that only one person's name can be registered in the room of that of a deceased representative watandár, whilst there may frequently be several co-heirs of the deceased person all equally near to him in relationship, the meaning of the Act is not, I think, doubtful. The context shows, I think, that what the section means is that the Collector should recognize as representative watandár the senior amongst co-heirs of the same degree of relationship and the nearest relation amongst heirs of different degrees of relationship. And by senior I do not mean the eldest in age, because a second or third wife is often older than her predecessor or predecessors; but I mean the one who, whether by birth or marriage, first acquired the status which gave him or her the right of inheritance. (G. R. 3530 of 2nd May 1884, R. D.).

Bom. V of 1886, section 2, Meaning of word "through". Daughters take absolute estate.

The word “through” in section 2 implies some intermediate links between the claimant and the last holder and does not apply to the case of a son claiming his mother's property as such. It can hardly be said that a person claiming direct from the last holder in whom the whole estate was vested claims through such holder.

The Full Bench decision of Bhagirthibai v. Káhunjerai, 11 I. R., Bombay, 285, decided that under Hindu law prevailing in the Presidency of Bombay a daughter inheriting from either mother or father takes an absolute estate which passes on her death to her own heirs and not to those of the preceding owner. This decision overruled the opinion expressed in the case of Dulpat v. Bhagvan, 9 I. R., Bombay, 301, that daughters would not take such an absolute estate in cases governed by the Mitákshara, and lays down the law on the point for this Presidency. It follows that the law over the whole of the Bombay Presidency is that the heirs of a daughter on whom a watan had devolved before Act V of 1886 came into force will succeed to it on her death. (G. R. No. 2793 of 3rd May 1888, R. D.)

Recognition of Adoption when no notice given.

Memo. of L. R.:—"No doubt the words of section 35 of the Hereditary Offices' Act clearly prohibit the Collector from recognizing any adoption of which notice has not been given as provided in sections 33 and 34, unless upon production of certificate of heirship or of a decree of a competent Court establishing the validity of such adoption.

"2. Where there are, or are likely to be disputes amongst the watandárs themselves either as to the fact or as to the validity of an alleged adoption, this provision should, I think, be strictly enforced. But if the question affects nobody but the alleged adoptee and the Government, it is competent to Government, if they think fit, to dispense with the necessity for a strict compliance with the law, and when the adoption was made with the Collector's sanction and notice of it was not given under section 33 through oversight merely, there would be good reason for not insisting upon the observance of the letter of the law.

"On the other hand, if there is no dispute amongst the watandárs as to the adoptee's claim he will have no difficulty in obtaining a certificate of heirship in the District Court. Some trouble and some expense are all that it will involve." (G. R. No. 6102, 30th July 1884, R. D.)

The sanction of Government to an adoption by a kulkarni or his widow, or by a co-parcener in a kulkarniship or his widow, is not necessary to give it validity. (I. L. R., 1 Bom., 607.)

Adoption—Right of Adoptee to be registered.

Section 33 appears to have been intended to enact that if any watandár who is or was head of a family, or chief representative of a branch of a watandár family (or his widow), has adopted an heir before the Act came into force notice of such adoption must be given to the Collector within 12 months of the Act coming into force, and, if this is done, the adoption is conditionally recognized, and the right of the heir to be registered is admitted as if he had been a born son of his father by adoption. (G. R. 5559 of 24th September 1881.)

Posthumous adoption to deceased son of sole surviving male representative.

A sole surviving male representative of a pátil watandár family gave notice under Section 34 of Bombay Act III 1874 of adoption of an heir selected by his daughters-in-law. Strictly speaking, the terms of section 34 of the Hereditary Offices Act are not applicable to the circumstances of the case, because the adoption has not been made by a registered representative watandár or his widow. But the adoption has been made by the widows of the deceased son of the present representative watandár with his approval, and the adopted son becomes by virtue of the adoption the heir of the present representative watandár in preference to the widows who have adopted him, and if he survives him, will be entitled, under section 36, to be registered as representative watandár in his stead. In these circumstances the Collector should register the name of the adoptive boy as heir, on the ground that the provisions of the Act have been as nearly complied with as was possible.

Section 34 of the Act requires that the name of an adopted child should be registered by the Collector as heir merely. If notice of the adoption is made at a time when the adoptee is by virtue of his adoption at once entitled to be registered as representative watandár, he should be so registered also; but otherwise his registration as representative watandár will take place under section 36, only on the death of the existing representative watandár. (G. R. No. 5846 of 19th July 1884, R. D.)

The Collector is not bound by the Hereditary Offices Act to accept a judicial decision as conclusive, but when the question which the Collector has to decide has been fought out in the civil Courts and a judgment of the highest tribunal has been passed, the Revenue authorities properly consider that they should be guided by that judgment. (G. R. No. 2949 of 27th April 1886, J. D.)

The Collector, the sole Judge as to right to officiate.

From the date of the coming into force of Bombay Act III of 1874, the civil Court cannot entertain a suit for a declaration of right to officiate as the sole representative of a branch of a watandár family, or that a person is eligible to officiate, the Act constituting the Collector a Judge for this and other purposes of the Act. (I. L. R., 2 Bom., 370 and 479.)

But Civil Courts can declare who is a Watandár.

Under Bombay Act II of 1874 as under the law antecedent to it, the civil Court has jurisdiction to entertain a suit to be declared a watandar (I. L. R., 8 B., 26; see also B. H. C. P. J. for 1888, p. 224) or to be regarded as the adopted son of a deceased watandár, but not for a declaration of a share in the watan and of title to entry of name in the watan register. (I. L. R., 9 B., 25.)

Alienation of Hereditary Office—its Effects and Registry.

The hereditary office being a part of the watan (vide definition of 'watan' in section 4 of the Hereditary Offices Act), the terms of section 5 apply to alienations of it. To a watandár of the same watan such an office may be alienated in perpetuity, or for life or any other term, at the owner's pleasure. If a representative watandár alienates in a lawful manner his right of service, the alienee becomes thereby 'the representative watandár' in his stead. Recognitions of transfers of hereditary offices should, therefore, be regulated by these considerations.

There ought to be no objection to substituting the name of the lawful alienee of a representative watandár in the register, if there is no question and no doubt as to the alienation and as to its legality. When there is any question between the parties as to the fact of the alienation, or as to its validity as against any of them, they should be desired to produce a decree of a competent Court under section 36 of the Act before any mutation of names in the register is allowed. (G. R. No. 2776 of 7th April 1883, R. D.)

Section 59 does not apply to cases of removal for ordinary misconduct under Section 57.

Section 57 of the Hereditary Offices' Act empowers the Collector to inflict minor punishments on an officiator for ordinary misconduct or neglect of duty and section 58 enables him, with the sanction of Government, to remove an officiator from office in 'case of fraud * * * or other grave misconduct.'

Section 7 of Act XI of 1843, and section 58 of the Bombay Hereditary Offices' Act do not, therefore, apply to precisely similar cases; and it would be hard to visit upon a watandár, who had been removed from office under the former section for ordinary misconduct or incompetency, the consequences which section 59 of the Hereditary Offices Act reserves for those removed from office for grave misconduct. Moreover there is nothing in the Hereditary Offices' Act which indicates that the legislature intended that removals from office under Act XI of 1843 should be equivalent to removals under the more restrictive provisions of the former Act. (G. R. 6518, 1st September 1883, R. D.)

All appointments lawfully made under Act XI of 1843 remain unaffected by the Watan Act No. III of 1874. (G. R. 515 of 24th January 1876.)

Probationary not contemplated by the Act.

* Probationary appointments are not in accordance with the Act. The whole tenor of the Act is in the direction of making final appointments for fixed terms so as to prevent frequent changes and the trouble and local excitement they involve. (G. R. No. 4433 of 3rd June 1885, R. D.)

Section 45 as amended by Section 9 of Bom. V of 1886, Educational Test.

Joint letter from the Commissioners of Divisions, No. s. r.—12, dated 14th February 1888:—

We have the honour to report that we have considered, in committee, the question of the educational test to be prescribed for pátíl officiators under section 45 (b) of the Hereditary Offices' Act as amended by section 9 of Act V of 1886, as also under section 30 (c) of the Gujarát Matádárs' Act VI of 1887.

2. As Government are probably aware, although no test was prescribed by the Watan Act before its amendment, it was usual, as far as practicable, to insist on an officiator being able to read and write simple characters or at least to sign his own name. More than this could not be expected in most cases, and we are of opinion that any test which may now be prescribed under the sections above quoted should also be of the simplest character. Ability to read the Village Police Act, to write a short report on an ordinary matter, and to read simple manuscript may, for the present, be considered sufficient qualification, and the Collector should have the power to dispense even with this simple test in cases in which he considers it advisable to do so.

3. We do not think that any regular examinations need, or ought to, be held. A pátíl's qualifications can always be ascertained prior to his nomination.
4. We will add that those Collectors who have been consulted on the subject express entire concurrence in these views."

RESOLUTION.—The views expressed by the Commissioners of Divisions meet with the approval of His Excellency the Governor in Council, and the educational test proposed by them should be enforced except in cases where the Collectors consider it inadvisable to do so. (G. R. 2718, 2nd May 1888, R. D.)

Alienation before Bom. III of 1874—Effect of adverse possession and res judicata on succeeding holders.

A mortgage or sale by a watandár of watan property, executed where Regulation XVI of 1827 was in force, was in its inception void against the heir of the said watandár, and did not become validated when Bombay Act III of 1874 repealed that regulation.

Adverse possession begins to run against the heir from the date of the death of the watandár. (I. L. R. (V.) Bom., 435 and 437.)

In the absence of fraud and collusion :—

- (a) Adverse possession for twelve years during the life-time of one holder of service watan lands is a bar to succeeding holders and
- (b) Judgment against one holder of service watan lands is res judicata as regards a succeeding holder. (I. L. R., 9 Bom., 198.)

Section 9, cl. 2, imperative.

Clause 2 of section 9 of Bombay Act III of 1874 is mandatory and not discretionary, so that if the part of a watan to which that section is applicable is land, it is compulsory and not optional for the Collector to recover and demand the full rent instead of transferring the possession. When the legislature intended that the cause to be adopted should be in the Collector's discretion, this is expressed in unmistakable terms (vide section 11 of the Act). Although such expressions, as "it shall be lawful," are at first sight only directory or permissive, it has been so often decided as to have become an axiom that such expressions have a compulsory force, unless there be special grounds for a different construction. (G. R. 9506 of 26th December 1888, R. D.)

Maxwell on the Interpretation of Statutes, p. 219.

Section 10.—Watan property not assigned is liable to process, but Collector may remove process by certificate.

It is only watan property which has been assigned as remuneration of an officiator which is not liable to process of a civil Court, section 13 of Bombay Act III of 1874. With respect to the rest of the watan property, there is no provision in the Act exempting it from such liability, although the Collector under section 10 may, if he thinks proper, remove any process pending, and set aside any sale. (I. L. R., 9 Bom., 104.)

Section 10.—Certificate—to what Court to be sent. Limit of power to issue.

The Collector's certificate issued under section 10 should be sent to the Court by whose decree or order the watan is affected. The words "without the sanction of Government" qualify the whole section, and the Collector cannot issue his certificate when an alienation has been sanctioned by Government.

The Act does not authorize the Collector to issue his certificate in order to prevent the rectification of a subordinate Court's decree by the High Court, or the reinstatement of a person in possession of which he has been deprived by the execution of the erroneous decree of a subordinate Court. (I. L. R., 5 Bom., 284.)

Section 12 (a).—Powers of Collector on Appeal.

The terms of section 12 (a) of the Act are sufficiently wide to authorize the Collector to evict a person whom, on appeal, he considers his assistant has wrongly placed in possession.

of the land under section 9 and to make over the land to the person to whom he decides it should be given. (G. R. 25 dated 28th March 1883 R. D.)

Certificate should not issue to prevent alienation to Watandar of the same Watan of "unassigned" property.

Memo. of the Acting L.R.:—It appears that Gopal Hanmant in 1863 obtained a decree of the civil Court establishing his right as hereditary deputy to obtain payment of a certain sum annually out of the income of the deshpánde watan. In execution of this decree a warrant has been issued to the Mámlatdár of Sholápur directing that Rs. 658, otherwise payable to the deshpánde Kondo during the present month, be attached and forwarded to the Court for payment to Gopal Hanmant, the decree-holder.

The question now is whether the Collector should issue a certificate under section 10 of the Bombay Watan Act to set aside the civil Court's process.

In my opinion no such certificate can legally be issued.

The first part of the section refers to cases where watan property, assigned under section 23 as remuneration of an officiator, has passed after the Act came into force or may pass without the sanction of Government into the ownership or possession of any person other than the officiator.

This portion of the section is clearly inapplicable. It is not contended that the cash allowance attached has been assigned as remuneration for the officiator; and as no deshpánde service is now required there can apparently be no official remuneration.

The second part of the section provides that when it appears that any part of a watan or any of the profits thereof not so assigned has or have passed or may pass by virtue of or in execution of a decree into the ownership or beneficial possession of any person not a watandár of the same watan, the Court shall, on receipt of a certificate of the Collector stating that the property to which the decree or order relates is a watan or part of a watan or that such property constitutes the profits or part of the profits of a watan * * * *, remove any attachment or other process.

Under the second part of this section the Collector can only issue his certificate to prevent the watan or any portion of it passing into the hands of a person who is not a watandár of the same watan.

The question then is whether the decree-holder, Gopal Hanmant, is a watandár of this watan.

That question must be answered in the affirmative. It is true he is not registered as a representative watandár, as when he applied in 1880 to be so registered, the Collector held that as the deshpánde service was not required, no one could be recognized as representative watandár. With this decision of course the Courts cannot interfere, as it is a matter entirely within the cognizance of the Collector. But none the less Gopal Hanmant appears to be a watandár of this watan, though not registered as a representative watanádr. The distinction is explained in Rámchant vs. A'nant (Indian Law Reports, VIII Bombay, page 25).

In the Watan Act, section 4, a watandár is defined as a person having an hereditary interest in a watan. It seems hardly possible to hold that Gopal Hanmant has not such an interest. The decree of 1863 is not before me, but it is fully explained in the judgment of Westropp, C. J., in Miscellaneous Appeal 7 of 1876. It was there held that "Gopal's status as hereditary deputy watandár having been ascertained and established in 1863 is a fact which neither a Revenue nor a civil Court could ignore or re-open. It is a res judicata." The decree declared that he had an interest in the watan and was entitled to receive therefrom a certain sum annually. He therefore fulfils the definition of watandár given in the Act, and I do not think that any certificate ought to be issued under section 10.

It is true that one was given in 1875 which the High Court was unable to set aside though their Lordships supposed it was passed in ignorance of the terms of the decree of 1863; and now no doubt if a certificate were issued, the Courts would be obliged to act upon it.

But although such a certificate, if granted, would be effective, it of course cannot be issued otherwise than as prescribed by the Act, and in 1875 it must have been given under some misunderstanding.

It may be argued that the non-service settlement abolished Gopal's office of hereditary deputy. No doubt the occasion for his services has ceased. But his interest in the original watan was a species of property of which he could not be deprived by any arrangement between Government and the deshpánde to which he was not a party. "Service lands (or allowances) are a property, not merely a remuneration" (vide the remarks of West, J., on page 215 of Indian Law Reports, Bombay, IX.): and this principle seems to apply no less to the emoluments of the hereditary deputy than those of the original deshpánde.

For the above reasons I consider that no certificate can be issued in this case under section 10 of the Watan Act, and that the order of the Court should be accepted (G. R. No. 4188 of 7th July 1887, R. D.).

Certificate only operates on the one execution it is issued to stop.

The Collector's certificate under section 10 of Bombay Act III of 1874 is exhausted in operating on the execution which it is issued to stop. A fresh certificate would be necessary to operate in fresh proceedings in execution (I. L. R., 9 Bom., 328).

Section 17—its Object.

Section 17.—The object of this section is to fix definitely what the emoluments should be, and the wording of it is such as to leave the settlement entirely in the discretion of the Collector, subject only to the restriction mentioned in the proviso. In order to preserve the variability of this kind of watan property, the Collector's settlement is, under section 21, a periodical one. In each instance as it occurs the Collector must determine what is fair adequate remuneration, due regard being had to the nature and extent of the service performed (G. R. 476 of 23rd January 1882).

Section 17.—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts as to Kulkarni's perquisites from ryot does not affect Collector's powers.

Bombay Act III of 1874 does not deprive the civil Courts of jurisdiction to try the question whether a watandár kulkarni is entitled to receive perquisites from his ryot, but no decree will affect the Collector's powers under section 17 of that Act, when he chooses to exercise them (I. L. R., XII Bom., 278).

Section 17.—Payments recoverable from persons occupying Inám land.

19. A tenant of an inámdár is a person "occupying immovable property free from assessment" within the meaning of section 17, and it is immaterial whether the cultivators do or do not pay rent to the inámdár (G. R. 7884 of 26th December 1881).

Section 18 only applies where the services are connected with civil administration.

Memo. by the Acting L. R. :—Under section 18 of Bombay Act III of 1874, Bombay Hereditary Offices, the term 'watan' applies only to hereditary offices, watan property, and rights and privileges attached thereto.

The term 'Hereditary Office' is limited to offices held for the performance of duties connected with the civil administration, whether those duties are now demanded or not.

The term 'watan property' is limited to property provided for the remuneration of such duties only.

Section 18 therefore does not apply to any services unconnected with the civil administration, nor does it apply to any remuneration for such services, or to any rights and privileges attaching to such services or to such remuneration.

Whether the duties connected with civil administration are now required to be performed or not, the section would not apply to any other kind of services demanded either by the village community or by individuals, the remuneration for which must be a matter concerning only those who perform such services and those who demand them.

RESOLUTION.—Care must be taken that the customary services, due from Mahárs under section 69 of the Watan Act in connection with village sanitation, are not treated as private service to individuals (G. R. No. 4273 of 28th June 1888 R. D.).

Section 23.—Presumption as to whether property has been assigned.

Memo. by the Acting L. R. :—Subject to the provisions of the Watan Act and local custom the right of succession to watan property is governed by the ordinary law of inheritance.

In the present case Lála Chándkhán held the field in dispute from 1858-59 to 1878-79. After his death his son Guljár took possession and held it till 1882. The Assistant Collector then ejected him in favour of Edu—who had been appointed officiating pátíl—on the ground that it should be presumed that the land had been assigned as remuneration for the officiator. The Collector reversed this order and restored Guljár.

The Collector's order appears to be correct. The Assistant Collector's opinion that it should be presumed that the right to the possession of land had been assigned as official remuneration is I think erroneous. The presumption is the other way. The ordinary law of inheritance from the last possessor prevails until the circumstances which require some other order of descent are proved. There is really no proof that this land was assigned as official remuneration. Such assignment could only be the result of a specific order or of general custom. As it is not suggested that the Government Records show any trace of an official order about this land, it may safely be assumed that none has ever been passed. And as regards custom there is no proof that by it the land has been reserved for the officiator. It is true that Lála and Guljár held from 1858 to 1882 and that at the same time they successively officiated as pátils; but these facts are quite insufficient to establish the custom. To do so it would be necessary to show that for a very long series of years the possession of this land always went with the office irrespective of the ordinary law of descent, and that the existence of the custom was generally admitted by the family.

I do not think the imposition of extrajudi on the land to make up the scale remuneration to the officiator, and the grant to the latter of a stipend in cash from the treasury affect in any way the right to possession of the land. Though the extrajudi is indirectly paid to the officiator, the very most that can be said is that its imposition may amount to an assignment of part of the profits as official remuneration; but it cannot in my opinion be held to be an assignment of the land itself.

Apparently the appeal to the Collector was time-barred but as his order seems right on the merits of the case, I think it should be confirmed. Under section 79 of the Watan Act Government has power to dispose of the matter as it thinks proper (G. R. No. 3774 of 22nd June 1887, R. D.).

Watan, continuable as long as male heir exists, how to be entered.

As district watan lands and cash allowances in the Deccan and Southern Marátha Country were continuable by the sanads hereditarily to the holders and their heirs, as long as any male heir to the watan—lineal, collateral or adopted—shall be in existence, the watan property secured by the sanad should be entered in the Government records in the name of the male heir from time to time entitled to succeed to it. At the same time it is stated in the sanad that Government will not raise any objection or question in consequence of the watan property being held by any other person with the consent of the owners under the sanad, and this concession appears to His Excellency the Governor in Council to make sufficient provision for any rights of other persons than the male heirs (G. R. No. 1071 of 4th February 1885, R. D.).

Widow under Gordon's Settlement.

A widow under Gordon's settlement or the terms of the sanad has no right to succeed to the property, watan or cash payment; she can in no circumstances claim the latter or sue the Collector, if he pays it to the lineal male heir who does claim it (G. R. No. 10407 of 24th December 1885, R. D.).

According to the ordinary rule of Hindu law, a widow would inherit in a divided family. But the question is whether the widow is excluded from inheritance by the terms of a particular grant.

2. Government have decided to adhere to the view adopted on the advice of the Acting Legal Remembrancer in 1885 that male heirs only can be recognized under the sanads. The construction of the sanads is however a proper matter for adjudication by the civil Courts.

3. If a widow desires to sue the recognized male heir in order to establish her title to any watan property to which she may consider herself entitled, the Collector should grant her the certificate which would probably be required under the Pensions Act to enable her to institute the necessary proceedings (G. R. No. 1653 of 2nd March 1886, R. D.).

The terms of the sanads granted under what is known as the Gordon Settlement are to be strictly adhered to. Widows can have no claim. Sections 10 and 11 of Bombay Act III of 1874 are applicable to such watans except in the cases in which the terms of that settlement expressly render the watan alienable without the consent of Government (G. R. 3279 of 2nd June 1876; 6070 of 8th October 1877; and 2915 of 23rd May 1881).

Claim to share in commuted service watan cognizable by the Courts.

There is nothing in Bombay Act III of 1874 or in Act X of 1876 excluding the jurisdiction of the civil Court in a suit to establish a right to share in the emoluments of a watan which has ceased to be a service watan (I. L. R., 5 Bom., 578).

Partition of Watan.

There is no general presumption in favour of the impartibility of estates such as a deshgat watan. When the watan is property appertaining to an hereditary office, a decree for partition does not prejudice the watanár's right to any income payable out of it for the performance of his duties (I. L. R., 4 Bom., 494).

Settlement under Section 15 cannot operate retrospectively.

No conduct on the part of the Collector making a settlement under section 15 of Bombay Act III of 1874 can act retrospectively so as to give a previous mortgage of a chowdri sirdeshmukhi and kulkarni watan a greater degree of efficacy than it had under Regulation XVI of 1827, section 120, the law in existence when the mortgage was created (Printed Judgments of 1882, p. 68, S. C. I. L. R. 6 B. 211).

Sanction of Collector to suit for Partition unnecessary.

Sanction of the Collector to the bringing of a suit for partition of a watan is not necessary (Printed Judgments of 1880, p. 292).

Partibility of commuted service watan.

A cessation (even though sanctioned by Government) of the performance of service attached to an impartible watan does not make it partible (12 B. H. C. R., 224).

Collector has no power to review his own decision.

A Collector has no authority under the Bombay Hereditary Offices' Act to review a decision passed by himself (G. R. 5922, 19th August 1886, R. D.).

APPENDIX A.

Government Selections CXXXII, New Series, contains Colonel Etheridge's interesting narrative of the Bombay Inám Commission, dated 21st April 1873, which Government ordered to be published as a valuable work of reference, and gives a good deal of useful information on the subject of summary settlements.

See also Colonel Etheridge's Preface to his List of Saranjáms.

The following extracts are taken from the judgment of the High Court, dated 12th June 1882, in a suit for partition of saranjám property, and will be found useful for reference* :—

In Krishnarao Ganesh v. Rungrau et al. (b) Westropp, C. J., said, "Sanadi grants in inám, saranjám, jághir, vazifa, wakf, devasthán, and sevasthán, are, generally speaking, more properly described as alienations of the royal share in the produce of land, i.e., of land revenue, than grants of land, although in popular parlance, and in this judgment, occasionally so-called." This observation has frequently been quoted with approval, and the principle involved in it was the foundation of the decision in Vaman Janardhan Joshi v. The Collector of Thána (c), which has been followed in many subsequent decisions. In Kavyi Narayan v. Dadaji Bapuji (d) Westropp, C. J., repeated his former observation as being undoubtedly true, though he qualified it by adding that "if words are employed in a grant, which expressly, or by necessary implication, indicate that Government intends that so far as it may have any ownership in the soil that ownership may pass to the grantee, neither Government, nor any person subsequently to the date of the grant deriving under Government, can be permitted to say that the ownership did not so pass." He then added "In the sanad in evidence here, whosoever framed it, was apparently determined that no ambiguity should exist as to what the force of the term "village" might be; and in order to be explicit, he added to the grant of the village in inám the words "including the waters, the trees, the stones (including quarries), the mines, and the hidden treasures therein." Consequently, in that particular case the Chief Justice refused to hold the Pensions' Act applicable; remarking that "an enactment of a character so arbitrary as Act XXIII of 1871, which purports to deprive the subject of his right to resort to the ordinary Courts of justice for relief in certain cases, ought to be construed strictly, and the Court should not extend its operation further than the language of the Legislature requires." But the principle that grants in inám are ordinarily to be regarded as grants of land revenue, and nothing more, is in no way weakened by the decision in that case.

If this principle be true as regards grants in inám generally, it appears to us to be specially applicable to grants in jághir or saranjám.

Of these two terms Colonel Etheridge says in the Preface to the List of Saranjáms published by him as the same stood on the 1st August, 1874, "Under the Mahomedan dynasty such holdings were known as Jághir, under the Marátha rule as Saranjám. If any original distinctive feature marked the tenure of Jághir and Saranjám, it ceased to exist during the Marátha Empire: for, at the period of the introduction of the British Government, there was no practical difference between a Jághirdár and a Saranjám-dár, either in the Deccan or Southern Marátha Country. The terms Jághir and Saranjám are convertible terms in these districts. The latter is now almost universally adopted. These holdings, being of a political character, were not transferable nor necessarily hereditary, but, as a rule, were held at the pleasure of the Sovereign. On succession a nazrána was levied. When of a personal nature, they were termed Jat Saranjám, when for the maintenance of troops, Fauj Saranjám."

Colonel Etheridge's observation that jághirs were not necessarily hereditary hardly conveys a correct idea of the fact. It would have been more correct, if he had said that jághírs were not necessarily grants for life only, but might occasionally be hereditary. This is how the fact is stated by the Judicial Committee in (e). Ind. Law Rep., 3 Bom., 186. Gulabdas Jagjivandas v. The Collector of Surat (e), where, their Lordships say that a jághír must be taken prima facie, to be an estate only for life, although it may possibly be granted in such terms as to make it hereditary. Similarly, in the Fifth Report from the Select Committee on Indian Affairs (page 86) it was said: "With regard to the jághírs granted by Mahomedans, either as marks of favour or as rewards for public service, they generally, if not always, reverted to the State on the decease of the grantee, unless continued to his heir under a new sanad; for the alienation in perpetuity of the rights of Government in the soil was inconsistent with the established policy of the Mahomedans, from which they deviated only in the case of endowments to the religious establishments and offices of public duty, and in some rare instances of grants to holy men and celebrated scholars."

The circumstance that grants of this kind were ordinarily of so temporary a nature raises a presumption even stronger than that which exists in regard to ináms generally that the grants were ordinarily grants of the land revenue, and not of the soil. And the best authorities on the subject agree in so defining the nature of jághírs and *saranjám*s. Colonel Etheridge, in the Preface to which we have already referred, says: "It was the practice under former Governments, both Mahomedan and Marátha, to maintain a species of feudal aristocracy for State purposes by temporary assignments of revenue, either for the support of troops for personal service, the maintenance of official dignity, or other specific reason. Holders of such grants were entrusted at the same time with the powers requisite to enable them to collect and appropriate the revenue, and to administer the general government of the tract of land which produced it. Under the Mahomedan dynasty such holdings were known as jághír; under the Marátha rule as saranjám." Professor Wilson in his Glossary defines *saranjám*s as "temporary assignments of revenue from villages or lands for the support of troops, or for personal service, usually for the life of the grantee; also grants made to persons appointed to civil offices of the State to enable them to maintain their dignity. They were neither transferable nor hereditary, and were held at the pleasure of the Sovereign." The term jághír he defines as "a tenure common under the Mahomedan Government, in which the public revenues of a given tract of land were made over to a servant of the State, together with the powers requisite to enable him to collect and appropriate such revenue, and administer the general government of the district." Mr. Steele (Hindu Castes, page 207) says: "Grants by the Native Government in Jághír were either Fouj Saranjám, subject to the performance of military service, or Jat Saranjám, personal Jághír. The subject of these grants were the whole or particular portions of the revenues of villages belonging to the Sirkár * * * * *. Usually the grants depended on the pleasure of the Sovereign, and the fidelity of the grantee * * * * *. They were not in general hereditary; sanads seldom exist; on the first grant it was usual to give the grantee a Khat or order addressed to the Government officers of the district." Mr. Neil Baillie, in his Essay on the Land Tax of India, says (page XLIV) "The Jághír is, properly speaking, an order upon the Kiraj of particular lands, which are said to be granted by way of Jághír. Two examples of it are given in the Appendix; and the terms in which they are expressed are worthy of attention. In both a sum of money, so many lákhs of dams, is said to be bestowed out of a particular pargana, the officers and inhabitants of which are directed to account for their just rents and dues of the Diváni (that is of the Civil Government) to the agent of the Jághírdár, up to the sum specified, from which they are forbidden to withhold or deduct a single dam." He then goes on to say: "Though the Jághír was, in form, an order for the payment of the Khiraj, there is no doubt that the Jághírdár was treated, in some respects, as the Zamíndár, or holder of the land. Thus No. IV. of the Appendix is a Perwannah, addressed to the agent of a Jághírdár, in which he is required to do justice to a complainant; and though the purpose of the Jághír was to make a provision by an order on the revenue, yet this was said to be by way of Jághír, as if some holding or taking of the land itself was necessary to give due effect to this object. The Jághír is thus sometimes treated as an estate in land, not only in the Regulations, of the Indian Government but also in the decisions of the Courts of justice, and in this sense it is considered to be, essentially, an estate for life. There is reason however to think this view of the Jághír to be erroneous. As an order for payment of the Khiraj to a particular person, it necessarily fell to the ground on his death, unless some other persons, by name or description, were included in the grant. Such other persons might be his children: and if a Jághír were granted to a man and his children, there seems to be no just reason why it should not pass to them at his death; much less is there any just cause for suspecting the genuineness of a document constituting a jághír, because it contains such words as seems to have been done in the case above alluded to." We understand Mr. Neil Baillie as expressing in this passage a clear opinion that, although the etymology of the word jághír has sometimes given rise to the idea that the term involves a taking of land, or an estate in land, and although a Jághírdár has been treated as having some of the powers of a land-holder, yet, in fact, the grant is nothing more than an assignment of land revenue. And the case of The East India Company v. Syed Ali (f) shows that it was upon this ground that the Madras Government justified the resumption of jághírs, when it assumed the Government of the Carnatic in 1801. At page 575 of the Report is the plea of the East India Company that "even when the language of the grants might seem to convey a proprietary interest in the soil, the grantees confessedly possessed no such interest, the subject-matter of the grant being a mere Jághir, or portion of public land revenue, together with the Government powers of collecting the same."

The authorities which we have quoted, (and none have been shown to us which support a different conclusion), may, we think, be taken as at least establishing that a grant in jághir or saranjám is very rarely a grant of the soil, and that the burden of proving that it is in any particular case a grant of the soil lies very heavily upon the party alleging it. If it had not been that in the present case, in which there is no sanad, a Division Bench remanded the case for the taking of evidence, we should have been disposed to say that such a contention could not be made out by any evidence except such a sanad as was produced in Ravji Narayan v. Dadaji Bapuji already referred to.

The history of the manner in which Deccan saranjáms were dealt with by the Government of India and the East India Company, when it succeeded to the Government of the Peshwa, is succinctly stated in Colonel Etheridge's Preface. The correspondence cited by him shows clearly enough that, when on the advice of Mr. Mountstuart Elphinstone, then Commissioner at Poona, it was determined that all saranjáms granted prior to A.D. 1751 should be considered hereditary; this concession was made, not as of right, but as an act of grace and State policy, and the Government reserved to itself the power of determining, whenever occasions might arise, the nature and extent of its own bounty. This reservation of the power of Government has been recognised in all the legislations on the subject since Mr. Mountstuart Elphinstone, as Governor of Bombay, framed his Code of Regulations. Section 38 of Regulation XVII of 1827, provides that "land held exempt as Jághir shall be liable to resumption and assessment under the general rules at the pleasure of Government." This is explained in Clause 3, Section I, Regulation VI of 1833, which says "Jághir or other lands held on service tenure are declared to be resumable at the pleasure of Government, under the forms laid down in Clause First, Section 38, Regulation XVII, A.D. 1827, it being understood that the expression used in the said clause, viz., "under the general rules" meant "such rules as Government may think proper to issue from time to time." Act XI of 1852, after providing for rules for adjudicating upon titles to exemption from payment of land revenue, says (section 10): "These rules shall not be necessarily applicable to Jághirs, saranjáms or other tenures for service to Government, or tenures of a political nature, the title and continuance of which shall be determined, as heretofore, under such rules as Government may find it necessary to issue from time to time." So, in Bombay Act II of 1863, which was an Act to facilitate the adjustment of unsettled claims to exemption from the payment of Government land revenue in those parts of the Bombay Presidency, which are subject to the operation of Act XI of 1852, Section 1, Clause 2, says: "The excepted cases, to which the authority of adjustment and guarantee vested in the Governor-in-Council by this provision shall not extend, are the cases of lands held as follows:—

1st. * * * * *

2nd. Lands granted or held as Jághirs or Saranjáms, or on similar political tenure.

And then, lest any question should be raised, (as was attempted to be raised in the argument in this case), whether the mere order of Government that land should be entered in the accounts under the heading "Political" is conclusive as to the political character of the grant, section 16 of the Act goes on to say: "'Political tenure' is defined to be tenure created from, or dependent upon, political considerations, the existence of which shall be determined by the Government." So, in Bombay Act VII of 1863, which is a similar Act relating to districts not subject to the operation of Act XI of 1852, Section 2, Clause 2, provides that "lands granted or held as Saranjám, or on similar political tenure, shall be resumable or continuable in such manner, and on such terms as Government, on political considerations, may from time to time see fit to determine;" and section 32 contains a definition of the term "political tenure," similar to that which we have quoted from Bombay Act II of 1863. The Regulations and Acts which we have cited show beyond all question that it is for the Government to determine how saranjáms are to be held and inherited, and that, if the Civil Courts had jurisdiction over claims relating to Saranjáms, they would be bound to determine such claims according to the rules laid down by the Government. It would, therefore, be useless to refer, as in this case we have been referred, to evidence tending to show that under the Native Government, the ancestors of the parties dealt with their Saranjám villages as if they were proprietors of the soil, and partitioned the villages among their families. The questions which the Courts would have to consider would simply be, what are the terms of the grant by which the British Government continued the Saranjám? and what is the rule of succession laid down by the British Government for saranjáms in general, or for this saranjám in particular?

It would appear that, under "the Saranjám Rules" an hereditary Saranjám is considered by the Revenue authorities to descend entire to the eldest representative of the last holder and that, if the eldest son predeceases his father, his son takes precedence of the next surviving son of the last holder.

We have been informed that the only rules are those contained in the Preface to Colonel Etheridge's List of Saranjáms, to which we have so repeatedly referred. As the Regulations and Acts which we have quoted contemplate that jághirs and saranjáms should be continuable under general rules to be issued from time to time by Government, it seems strange that no rules should be forthcoming, bearing the authorisation of the signature of a Secretary to Government. We, must, however, take it that Colonel Etheridge speaks, under the authority of Government, when he says in the Preface to which we have been referred, that succession to Saranjáms is restricted to lineal male heirs in the order of primogeniture; and that the eldest son is the heir in the first instance. Colonel Etheridge says that in Saranjáms of the second class, if the eldest son of the first British grantee die before his father, but leave a son, that son, on his grandfather's death, is to be considered the second generation, and the whole Saranjám will be continued to him. But curiously enough, Colonel Etheridge does not say whether the same rule of succession would be applicable to hereditary Saranjáms; and on this point, therefore, we are left without any distinct rule. The rule to which the Revenue Commissioner referred in 1865 as giving to the son of a predeceased eldest son a preference over his uncle is not forthcoming in the Secretariat; nor does Mr. Nairne in his Handbook mention any such rule, except that which we have already quoted from Colonel Etheridge's Preface, as applicable to Saranjáms of the second class. In the absence of a rule made by Government, the Courts would, if they had jurisdiction in the matter, be obliged to decide according to the ordinary rule of Hindu law applicable to impartible property; and although, as stated by Mr. Mayne in his work on Hindu Law (section 461), there is rather a want of authority as to the rule to be adopted where an eldest son, who has never taken the estate, has died leaving younger brothers, and also a son, yet the Courts would probably hold that the grandson took in preference to his deceased father's eldest surviving brother.

As regards the question of the impartibility of a saranjám, the rule stated by Colonel Etheridge is in accordance with the orders conveyed in a despatch from the Court of Directors, No. 27, dated 12th December 1855. In para. 20 of that despatch they say: "We agree with you that Saranjáms should not be sub-divided, but that the holders should be required to make a suitable provision for their younger brothers." A jághír, to which service is attached, is certainly not divisible, but descends to the eldest son

—Hurlall Singh v. Jorasvun Singh,* cited with approbation by Lord Kingsdown in 6 Moore's Indian Appeals, 125, and Rajha Nilmoney Singh v. Bakranath Singh, decided by the Privy Council, 10th March 1882. There is some evidence in the present case that the Saranjám was originally given for the maintenance of a body of horse, and was, therefore, in its inception a jághír held for service. But independently of this and of any Government rule, the same principle would probably be applied to all saranjáms on the ground stated by Mr. Mayne (Hindu Law, Section 393), that an estate, which has been allotted by Government to a man of rank for the maintenance of his rank, is indivisible as otherwise the purpose of the grant would be frustrated.

APPENDIX B.

No. 6018.

Extract from the proceedings of the Government of Bombay in the Revenue Department, dated the 25th October 1875.

READ the undermentioned papers:—

Letter from J. E. Oliphant, Esq., Acting Revenue Commissioner, S. D., to the Chief Secretary to Government, No. 5, dated 4th January 1875.

In continuation of my Memorandum No. 4307, dated the 24th November last, I have the honour to request you will favour me with the instructions of Government as to the course to be followed in cases in which the watan lands belonging to district hereditary officers and subjected to the summary settlement are purchased by parties (not members of the watan-dár's family) at auction sales under decrees of the civil courts. Such purchasers frequently make applications to have the lands entered in their names in the Government accounts, and the question for consideration is, whether or not their applications should be complied with.

2. As the right of Government to exact service from the lands in question has been commuted under the settlement effected by the late Mr. Gordon, I see no objection to enter the lands in the purchaser's names on their agreeing to pay in future the additional naz-rána of one anna for each rupee of the assessment, as prescribed for adoptions out of the family of watan-dárs.

Memorandum from Colonel A. T. Etheridge, C. S. I., Alienation Settlement Officer, S. D., No. 28, dated 15th January 1875.

Referring to Government endorsement No. 163 of 12th instant, Colonel Etheridge has the honour to observe that he is very doubtful whether a purchaser's name should be entered in the Government accounts, as suggested by the Revenue Commissioner, in the case of a district watan disposed of at an auction. It seems to the Alienation Officer that the terms of the sanads issued under Mr. Gordon's watan-dári settlement will scarcely admit of this course. As there is a doubt, the question might perhaps be referred to the Legal Remembrancer.

Report by J. R. Naylor, Esq., C. S., on special duty, No. 176, dated 8th May 1875.

Clause 2, Section 15, Bombay Act III of 1874 (the Hereditary Officers' Act), enacts that any settlement for commutation of service made with the holder of any watan before that Act came into force, shall have the same force as if made under that Act. And clause I of the same section enacts that such settlement may be made "upon such condition whether consistent with the provisions of this Act or not, as may be agreed upon." The effect of this appears to be to legalise any terms that may be, or may heretofore have been, mutually agreed upon between Government and the holder of a watan, even though such terms may not be consistent with the provisions of the Act. But watan property does not cease to be watan property, because the duties, for the performance of which it was originally acquired have been commuted for a money payment, and unless there be something in the terms of the commutation settlement inconsistent therewith, the law ordinarily applicable to such property still applies to it, I think, notwithstanding that Government have dispensed with the necessity for service.

2. Under this view, I am of opinion that section 5 of Bombay Act III of 1874, which enacts that "no watandár shall, without the sanction of Government, sell, mortgage, or otherwise alienate or assign any watan or part thereof, or interest therein, to any person not a watandár of the same watan," is applicable to the watans of district hereditary officers whose liability to service has been commuted for a money payment, because, as far as I am aware, there is nothing in the settlements entered into with them to the contrary. I say as far as I am aware, because I find from Colonel Etheridge's narrative* of the Inám Commission (latter part of para. 69) that the sanads which have been issued "are not only not the same throughout the Presidency, but are not the same in all respects in the same division."

3. The only form of sanad which has come to my notice is that sanctioned originally by Government Resolution No. 2871, dated 25th August 1863, in the Revenue Department, for Poona and Sátára. The former portion of it has been since somewhat changed on the recommendation of the Legal Remembrancer, but the essential portion would appear from the standard form (Sanad 14), recently printed at the Central Press, after being sent to me for revision (vide Government Memorandum No. 4958, dated 16th September 1874), to have remained intact. It is as follows:—

"It is hereby declared that the said lands and cash allowances shall be continued hereditarily by the British Government, on the following conditions: that is to say, that the said holders and their heirs shall continue faithful subjects of the British Government, and shall render to the same the following fixed yearly dues:—

			Rs.
Mámul Judi	...	...	...
In lieu of service	...	...	...
Total			...

"In consideration of the fulfilment of which conditions—

"1st.—The said lands and cash allowances shall be continued without demand of service, and without increase of land tax over the above fixed amounts, and without objection or question on the part of Government as to the rights of any holders thereof, so long as any male heir to the watan, lineal, collateral, or adopted, within the limits of the watandár family, shall be in existence.

"2nd.—No nazrána or other demand on the part of Government will be imposed on account of the succession of heirs, lineal, collateral, or adopted within the limits of the watandár family, and permission to make such adoptions need not hereafter be obtained from Government.

"3rd.—When† all the sharers of the watan agree to request it, then the general privilege of adopting at any time any person (without restriction as to family) who can be legally adopted, will be granted by Government to the watan, on the payment from that time forward in perpetuity of an annual nazrána of one anna in each rupee of the above total emoluments of the watan."

* Bombay Government Selections, No. CXXXII., New Series, p. 50.

† In condition 3 of the conditions embodied in the form of sanad issued to District Hereditary Officers, &c., the words 'all the sharers of the watan' should be interpreted literally. There is nothing in the sanad to indicate that only the sharers whose names are entered in the Collector's records are meant." (G. R., R. D., No. 5854, dated 16th August 1886).

Adoption by widow Memo. by L. R.:—A cash allowance stood in the name of Daryábái, widow of Jayavantráo Shitole Deshmukh. But in January 1882 the Commissioner directed that the name of Bábaji Khandaráo should be substituted for that of the widow, he being a collateral who, in the state of the family as it then existed, would succeed as nearest heir on the death of the widow.

Since then, however, the widow has made a lawful adoption from within the watan family. It is evident from the form of sanad issued to district hereditary officers in the Poona District, in confirmation of the service commutation settlement made with them by Mr. Gordon that Govern-

The above conditions, so far from being inconsistent with the provisions of the Hereditary Officers' Act, are, it seems, in strict accordance with section 5 of it, which prohibits a transfer of the watan property to any person not being a watandár of the same watan. And if the same conditions are contained in all the sanads alluded to by Colonel Etheridge, the variances being in other details only, I am of opinion that no portion of watan to which any such sanad applies can be alienated to any person other than a watandár of the same watan without the sanction of Government, and that the Collectors may lawfully, in case of any such alienation in the future, have recourse to the powers given to them by sections X. and XI. of the Act, and in the case of alienations effected before the Act was passed otherwise than by the intervention of the courts, to the powers given them by section IX. of the Act.

4. It cannot, I think, be said that the property of any watan to which a sanad containing the above conditions has been given, has been thereby converted into private property in the usual wide sense of that term, and if I am correct in supposing that similar conditions have been inserted in all such sanads, I would respectfully suggest that the latter part of the 1st para. of Government Resolution No. 4248, dated 24th July 1873, might perhaps be modified with a view of removing possible misunderstanding. The closing part of the Collector of Dhárwár's Memorandum of the 10th October 1872,* to which the Hon'ble Colonel Anderson took exception in para. 5† of his No. 970, dated 1st July 1873 (vide Compilation No. 1063 of 1873), appears also to have been correct, whilst the latter's views are certainly not in accordance with those expressed in para. 4 of Government Resolution No. 3167, dated 19th September 1863.‡

ment have recognized the right of succession in virtue of such adoptions and therefore that the widow's adoptive son has a preferential claim to the allowance over collaterals. Had the adoption taken place previous to Jayavantráo's death, the allowance would have been entered in the adoptive son's name in lieu of his without the least hesitation. A boy adopted by a widow has, according to Hindu law, precisely the same status as if he had been adopted during the widow's husband's life-time. I am of opinion therefore that the adoptive boy's right should be recognized by the Collector and that his name should now be entered in the records in lieu of Bábáji Khandaráo's. (G. R. No. 10054, dated 22nd December 1884, R. D.)

*"The above rules (proposed for the collection of judi on inám holdings) will apply to all kinds of ináms in this district with such few modifications as would be necessary according to the different conditions under which the ináms may have been continued; for instance, in the case of the district hereditary officers' lands, the same rules would apply, with this exception, that the transfer contemplated in the rules should not be permitted when the transferee is some person out of the watandár's family; this is necessary, as these watans have not been made transferable private property." (Mr. E. P. Robertson, Collector of Dhárwár's Memo. dated 10th October 1872.)

†"The rules proposed by the Collector of Dhárwár would act beneficially beyond all doubt, and with a definition of the share of each sub-inámdár, would give a much more secure and comfortable tenure to all inámdárs, freeing them from all chance of molestation from the misdeeds or machinations of their co-sharers; but Colonel Anderson cannot agree with the closing part of the Collector's memo. of the 10th October 1872, in making district hereditary officers' lands only an exception. It would appear very inexpedient to allow the permanent transfer to any person, not of the office family, of any lands now held on service tenure. When all liability for service has been commuted no such objection exists. It would be far preferable, considering their present status, to allow district hereditary officers to do what they please with their lands than to grant the same liberty to the patels and kulkarnis, which, however, does not appear to be objected to by the Collector of Dhárwár. To facilitate the scattering of patels and kulkarnis' land would be a political as well as an administrative error, while it appears by no means certain that the same measure would not be a political advantage in the case of the district hereditary officers whose service is no longer required, and whose ancient family influence, which is still very great and little to the advantage of Government, would be decreased by the dispersion of their lands." (Colonel Anderson's Memo. No. 970, dated 1st July 1873.)

‡ "With reference to paragraphs 26 to 29 (of the Watan Commissioner's report), the Governor in Council agrees with Mr. Hart (vide extract (a) para. 4 of his report given below) in accordance with whose views the point therein referred should be disposed of. With a view to give practical proof of the desire of Government to increase rather than to diminish the share which those officers have hitherto had in the efficient administration of the country, Government will be glad to receive from the Commission list of any of these Hereditary officers whom they, after consultation with the Collectors, would recommend to be gazetted as Honorary Magistrates, together with a draft of any rules they may think it desirable to lay down for regulating the proceedings of such officers in the execution of their functions. Great care should be taken in the selection of officers with regard, not only to their personal character and social position, but their capacity to appreciate the honour done to them and their class by their selection." (Government Resolution No. 3167, dated 19th September 1863, para. 4.)

(a) Extract para. 4 of Mr. Hart's Report above referred to:—"There is only one other point on which the Revenue Commissioner considers any remark beyond the notice of his general concurrence necessary, and this is not a point of any importance as regards the financial part of the settlement. In paragraph 28 of the Special Commissioners' letter, they mention the desire of the zamindárs, that in order to keep up the recognition of the consideration in which they have been hitherto held by the community, 'they should be considered to have a right to sit in the kacheri.' This ought not to be assented to in such terms as to recognise their rights to frequent the Mám-

5. I should add that a similar question to that on which I am now reporting has been raised in the suit marginally noted, the defence of which was sanctioned in Government Resolution No. 5510, dated 17th October 1874, and in adverting to para. 9 of my Report No. 158, dated 13th October 1874, upon this suit, I must explain that sections V and IX of Bombay Act III of 1874 have placed the law as to the inalienability of watan property in a much clearer light than the vague provision of clause I, section 20 of Regulation XVI of 1827 did.†

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF POONA.
Original No. 2 of 1874.
*Náro Dámodar Ghugri.
vs.
The Collector of Poona.

Memorandum from Aderji Jamsetji, Esq., Acting Alienation Settlement Officer, N. D., No. 306, dated 14th June 1875.

The queries put in Government Memorandum No. 2824, dated 17th May 1875, to the Revenue Commissioner, N. D., are :—

- (1.) Whether the same conditions have been entered in the sanads issued to the watandárs in the districts of the Northern Division as those stated by Mr. Naylor?
- (2.) Whether the entry of the names of purchasers of watans is not permitted in the Northern Division?

2. As regards the first query, the undersigned begs to append a memorandum showing the conditions of the sanads issued to the watandárs in the different Collectorates of Gujarát.

3. In the remaining Collectorates of Khándesh, Násik, Thána and Kolába, the conditions of the sanads issued to the watandárs of those districts are the same as those stated by Mr. Naylor.

4. With respect to the second query, the undersigned begs to state that the entry of the names of purchasers of watans in the districts of Surat, Broach and Kaira has been permitted. A specimen of such entry is given below :—

“Haridás Navalráam, purchaser of Dhanshankar Lakhmishankar's hak.”

5. Applications for the entry of the name of a purchaser or mortgagee of the watan mentioned in para. 3 of this memorandum have been rejected by this department.

6. The conditions of the sanads issued to the watandárs of the Ahmedabad District admit of a purchaser's name being entered, provided the watandárs have agreed to the payment of an annual nazrána of one anna in each rupee of the total emoluments of the watan.

Conditions of the Sanad granted to the District Hereditary Officers of Surat and Broach as per Government sanction No. 3929, dated 14th November 1867.

“The watan, of which the share specified in the schedule below given is a part, as now confirmed, shall be continued (subject to the condition of loyalty to the British Government on the part of the holders thereof) by the British Government without demand of service, and without any further deduction therefrom on that account, or any objection or question on the part of Government as to title, to whomsoever shall from time to time be the lawful holders thereof, but without affecting the rights and interests of other parties.”

Conditions of the Sanad granted to the District Hereditary Officers of Ahmedabad as per Government sanction No. 234, dated 17th January 1867.

“1st.—The watan, as now confirmed, and below specified, shall be continued (subject to the condition of loyalty to the British Government on the part of the holders thereof) hereditarily without demand of service, and without any further deduction therefrom on account of service, and without objection or question on the part of Government as to the rights of any holders thereof, so long as there shall remain in existence any legal heir to the watan, whether lineal, collateral, or adopted, within the limits of the watandár's family, and whether descended in the male or female line.

“2nd.—When all the recorded sharers in the watan agree to request it, the general privilege of adopting at any time any person out of the watandár's family, who can be legally adopted, and of transferring the watan or any recognized share thereof, by sale, mortgage, &c., as private property, will be granted by Government to the watan on the payment from that time forward; in perpetuity of an annual nazrána of one anna in each rupee of the total emoluments of the watan as now confirmed, and from the date of the imposition of this latdárs' kacheris, or interfere in the kacheri work, at their own pleasure, which might cause great inconvenience and abuses of various kinds, but that when they do attend, in pursuance of invitations such as are contemplated at the close of the Special Commissioners' 28th paragraph, or in pursuance of any legitimate business, they shall be treated with no less consideration in such matters, as being allowed to be seated, &c., than they have hitherto been. The Revenue Commissioner believes that this is what is intended by the Special Committee, but has considered it right to notice the matter, trivial as it may appear, more particularly than they have done.” (Mr. Hart's Memo. No. 2302, dated 24th July 1863.)

nazrána the whole watan, or the recognized shares thereof, will be converted into private property, heritable and transferable in all legal modes."

Conditions of the Sanad granted to the District Hereditary Officers of Kaira as per Government sanction No. 2376, dated 16th May 1872.

"This sanad is accordingly issued; and it is hereby declared that the emoluments of the said watan specified below shall, as now confirmed, be continued, (subject to the condition of loyalty to the British Government on the part of the holders thereof) by the British Government in perpetuity, without demand of service or any further deduction therefrom on that account, and without any objection or question on the part of Government as to title, whether it shall have accrued in virtue of inheritance, adoption, transfer, or otherwise to whomsoever shall from time to time be the lawful holders thereof, but without affecting the rights and interests of other parties."

RESOLUTION.—The question raised by Mr. Oliphant is a very important one, and requires definite orders. But owing to the variety of agreements which have been made with watan-dárs and to other causes, no distinct ruling of general application has yet been laid down.

2. Government are inclined to think that the rule laid down for Surat and Broach in Government Resolution No. 4425 of 16th December 1867 (a copy of which will be found in the précis attached), is the one which should be adopted everywhere, viz., that Government will not question alienations by district hereditary officers who have accepted the settlement, but that this course does not prevent parties interested from suing to set aside alienations as illegal. In that case it would be as well to forego the right to claim a nazrána of one anna on alienations or adoptions in which this has been stipulated for in the sanads. The amount of nazrána to be lost will be very small. If this course were adopted, the rule would be that the Collector should enter the names of alienees, if not objected to by the watan-dárs, on which point inquiries should be made. If the watan-dárs object, the Collector would refuse to make the entry, and leave the parties to obtain decision from the Civil Court.

3. Government will, however, feel obliged by the Revenue Commissioners considering the important question at issue thoroughly, and favouring them with their opinion upon it. Government would wish to be informed, at the same time, how far the condition has already been enforced of payment of nazrána where such a provision has been inserted in the sanads, and whether any complications would follow the abandonment of it.

4. Mr. Naylor should be asked his opinion whether, if the question were decided in the manner indicated, it would be necessary to issue new sanads, or whether the decision would be a mere concession which the watan-dárs cannot object to; in other words, would an order merely directing the Collectors not to enforce certain stipulations in the sanads be objectionable?

5. Mr. Naylor should forward duplicate copies of his report to the Revenue Commissioners as well as to Government, in order that the Revenue Commissioners may have the benefit of his opinion when submitting their reports.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Letter from Mr. J. R. Naylor, C. S., on Special Duty, No. 21, dated 7th January 1876.

Letter from the Revenue Commissioner, S. D., No. 1333, dated 20th April 1876.

Letter from the Revenue Commissioner, N. D., No. 3133, dated 20th May 1876.

Replying to Government Resolution No. 6018, dated 25th October 1875—Calling for opinion on the question as to the advisability of permitting alienations or adoptions out of the families by district hereditary officers who have accepted the watan settlement, without payment of nazrána.

RESOLUTION.—His Excellency in Council does not think it would be expedient to forego the nazrána of one anna, and it seems to him that the method least likely to cause difficulty would be to adhere strictly to the terms of the sanads in each case.

APPENDIX

Extract from reports of the Acting Legal Remembrancer, quoted in Government Resolution No. 2318, Revenue Department, dated 8th April 1882.

"Government have decided on several occasions that a daughter married out of a watan family is not by reason of such marriage divested of her rights and does not lose her status as watan-dár.

" 2. In the present instance it appears that the petitioner has already been recognized as representative watandár, and that under section 51 of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act, 1874, she appointed her husband to be her deputy. As section 53 of that Act provides that none but a watandár shall be appointed as deputy, the question is whether the petitioner's husband can be deemed to be a watandár, that is, 'a person having an hereditary interest in a watan' within the meaning of that section.

" 3. The answer to this question must depend upon the decision of the other important question whether the watan property which a daughter inherits from her father is stridhan, and, therefore, transmissible to her heirs, or whether it is a limited and restricted estate only, that is to say, which she is entitled to enjoy for her life-time, and on her death devolves on the line of the last male owner, her father.

" 4. If the watan is regarded as stridhan, it seems clear from the best authorities that on the death of the daughter her children are entitled to inherit it, and if she has no children, her husband will be her heir and on failure of him his nearest sapindás, which term includes, on the father's side, all blood relations within six degrees together with the wives of the males, and on the mother's side, those within four degrees. Consequently no objection could be taken to the appointment of the watandár's husband or one of his relations within those degrees as her deputy.

" 5. There is, however, a very great difference of opinion on the subject. The Bombay High Court have ruled that according to Hindu law on this side of India property inherited by a married woman from her father descends on her death to her own and not to her father's heirs (see I. Bombay High Court Reports, 209). Subsequently the same Court held that the property acquired by a married woman by inheritance, with the exception of property inherited by a widow from her husband, classes as stridhan and descends accordingly (see 6 Bombay High Court Reports, 1). Lastly it was decided in an elaborate judgment by Mr. Justice West (8 Bombay High Court Reports, 244) that the Mitákshara (which is the highest authority in this Presidency) recognizes only one class of stridhan and includes in that class all property acquired by a woman by inheritance, and if she has been married according to one of the approved forms, on her death childless, descends to her husband and his sapindás; but over stridhan acquired by inheritance her power of alienation is limited. So, too, in the latest case reported in Indian Law Reports (III. Bombay, 171) the Chief Justice (Westropp) held that the daughter had succeeded not to a qualified estate but to an absolute and several estate in her father's immoveable property.

" 6. On the other hand the rulings of the High Courts of Calcutta and Madras are quite opposed to the Bombay rulings, and have been entirely approved of by the Privy Council in Chotay Lall v. Chimno Lall (6 Law Reports Indian Appeals, 15). In Commenting on Mr. Justice West's judgment the Chief Justice of the Calcutta High Court in this case pointed out that there was no substantial difference of opinion on the law between the Calcutta and Madras High Courts, and that they ought not to unsettle the law which had been received for the last fifty years on account of the opinion of a judge of the High Court at Bombay, however learned he may be. The Privy Council observed that the question of the daughter's estate cannot be considered as 'res integra'; that the result appears to be that the Courts in Bengal and Madras have determined in a series of decisions that the daughter takes a qualified estate only, whereas in the Courts of Bombay there have been rulings and dicta in favour of the view that she takes the entire property. But 'their Lordships do not think it necessary, especially after their own decisions as to widows' estates, to go into an examination of the Indian cases. They agree in the conclusion of the Calcutta High Court affirming the law as stated by Sir William Macnaughten, that immoveable property acquired by a daughter by inheritance, on her death in default of issue male, goes not as stridhan to her husband or other heir but reverts to her father's heirs.

" 7. It must be observed that this difference of opinion rests on a different interpretation of old and obscure texts. The original text of the Mitákshara, it is stated in the above judgment of the Privy Council, does not afford any foundation for the argument in favour of the right of the daughter to the entire interest in land acquired by inheritance, though the interpretation of the commentator, Vijnáneshvar, on which Mr. Justice West's reasoning rests, does. It seems, therefore, that there is a preponderance of decisions against the Bombay rulings. What would be the result of an appeal to the Privy Council from this Presidency it is not easy to say. Mr. Justice West observes that it is reasonable to suppose that in such case his arguments would have much weight with their Lordships. In the Calcutta appeal, however, the Privy Council had an opportunity of weighing the Bombay rulings as they are carefully reviewed in the judgment of the Chief Justice Couch which was on appeal before their Lordships. The conclusion come to by their Lordships is that it was unsafe to open the question and unsettle a rule of inheritance affirmed by a long course of decisions.

" 8. The question of course now is whether Government should follow the law as stated by the Bombay High Court or as it is stated by the High Courts of Bengal and Madras, and recognize the female watandár's husband or his relative as having an hereditary interest in the watan.

"9. In deciding this question it must be remembered that the Bombay rulings extend over a period of some twenty years and were laid down by Judges whose reputation for learning is beyond all question—Sir Mathew Sausse, Sir Joseph Arnould, and Mr. R. West, and have been followed and accepted as the law by the people of this Presidency. The Bengal and Madras rulings, though entitled to every respect, are not binding here, while the judgment of the Privy Council cannot be said to decide the question in its direct applicability to the people of this side of India.

"10. On the next occasion of the question arising as it almost certainly will, the Bombay High Court Judges will have to decide it in the light of the Privy Council's decision and it remains to be seen whether the High Court will adhere to its former view of the law as applicable to this Presidency or will alter it in accordance with the views of the Bengal and Madras Courts.

"11. There is, therefore, no objection to the Bombay rulings being followed in the present instance, as it is clear the husband is otherwise fully competent to officiate as deputy for his wife. Government can safely leave it to the members of the original watandár's family on the death of the female representative watandár to contest with her husband or his relatives the question of the devolution of the watan estate now discussed.

"12. In the case reported in the Indian Law Reports, Volume VI., Bombay Series, page 87, Bulákhiddás v. Keshavlál, Mr. Justice Melvill says: 'In this Presidency, and especially in Gujarát from whence this case comes, the Vyavahára Mayukha, is a principal authority, and on the strength of Chapter IV., Section 8, paragraph 10 of the Mayukha, it has become the established rule in this Presidency that daughters take by inheritance an absolute estate and not a limited interest as they would under the Mitákshara.' It seems from this remark that the interpretation of the Mitákshara which has been unhesitatingly adopted by the Privy Council must be accepted in this Presidency, but inasmuch as the Mayukha is a principal authority in this Presidency and more especially in Gujarát, we must fall back on the Mayukha which Mr. Justice Melvill declares to be a sufficient authority that daughters take not only absolute but several estates, and consequently, when not having any issue, may dispose of such property during life or may devise it by will."*

APPENDIX D.

Opinion of the Honourable the Advocate General quoted in G. R. No. 6444, dated 30th August 1883:—

"I quite agree with Mr. Naylor in his reports 11 and 554 of 1883.

"A watandár is defined in section 4 of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act (Bombay Act III of 1874) to be 'a person having an hereditary interest in a watan.'

"Hereditary interest means an interest that a person has obtained through, or which has descended to him from, an ancestor.

"According to Hindu Law a son by birth acquires an hereditary interest in ancestral estate. Thus in the genealogy given by the Revenue Commissioner, Wáman on his birth acquired an hereditary interest in the watan and had in the life-time of his father, Malhár, and of his uncles, Sakhárám and Amrit (assuming he was born in their life-time), a present interest in the watan and was a watandár within the definition given by section 4. In like manner if Sakhárám and Amrit had had sons, such sons would likewise have acquired by birth present interests in the watan and would have been watandárs.

"But the class that acquires such interest by birth is confined to the lineal descendants of the acquirer of the property and does not comprise collateral members of the acquirer's family. Such collateral members have the possibility of succeeding to the property if the acquirer's descendants become extinct; but until such descendants become extinct such collaterals have no interest or estate in the property. There is no such thing as a vested remainder in Hindu Law.

"Thus to revert to the Commissioner's genealogy, the watan was acquired by Rághopant, brother of Visáji, the ancestor of Antáji; and Visáji never had any interest therein. Consequently his descendants including Antáji never acquired by birth or otherwise any interest. Nothing shows this more clearly than the fact that on the death of Wáman without male issue his widow as his heir succeeded to the watan in preference to Antáji, and Antáji has now no interest in the watan. His right (if any) to succeed depends upon his surviving the widow, for he has no vested remainder; and if he does succeed the watan will be self-acquired property in his hands and not ancestral property which again shows that he has now no hereditary interest in the watan and consequently is not a watandár."

20. Every district local board shall forward to each taluka local board subordinate to it an extract of so much of the district local board's own budget-estimate as shall be necessary to convey to the taluka local board full information of the works, services, &c., to be executed or maintained in the taluka subject to its authority by the district local board.

(G. N. No. 4072, B. G. G., Pt. I., 1886, p. 488.)

24. The approval of an estimate of the cost of a work or service and the provision of funds for the execution or maintenance of that work or service are two entirely distinct proceedings. The mere approval of an estimate does not authorize the outlay of funds on a work or service. Both the approval of the estimate of the cost and provision of funds for the same in a budget-estimate are necessary before a work or service can be commenced.

Indispensability of budget provision before expenditure is incurred.

To this rule the only admissible exception is the case of a pressing emergency provided for in section 58 of the Act.

(2) Every such work, as aforesaid, of which the estimated cost does not exceed Rs. 2,500, but which the Government Executive Engineer of the district shall, for reasons stated, certify that it is desirable that he should execute, and which, on consideration of such certificate, the Commissioner of the division shall instruct the said Executive Engineer to execute.

Extract from the Proceedings of Government in the Public Works Department, dated 26th March 1885.

(No. 154A.—176 of 1885, B. G. G., Pt. I., p. 465; G. N. No. 1657, S. O. G., Jan. to June 1885, Pt. I., p. 425.)

RESOLUTION.—By para. 3 of section 61 of the Bombay Local Boards Act, 1884, it is enacted that when any work is executed under that section by a Government Executive Engineer either wholly or partly with the aid of his own Government establishment, such charge shall be payable on account of such establishment by the local board at whose cost the work is being executed, as shall be agreed upon between such board and the Executive Engineer.

2. Hitherto a fixed rate of 15 per cent. on the total outlay has been charged against local funds by the Public Works Department, in respect of any work executed by it at the cost of those funds, and it will probably be found most convenient both to the local boards and to the Public Works Department, that the cost of establishment should, whenever possible, continue to be paid by a percentage rate.

3. The rate of 15 per cent., hitherto in force, included (1) the costs of audit, for which now under sections 46 and 60 of the above Act, a distinct charge, at the rate of 2 per cent., will be made, in accordance with Government Resolution No. 153A.—175, dated 26th March 1885, and (2) some charge, calculated at about 1·75 per cent., for the services of the Executive Engineer, which now, in accordance with the proviso to section 61 of the Act, are not to be charged for.

4. The deduction which ought, therefore, to be made from the 15 per cent. rate is 3·75; but the Governor in Council, being desirous of dealing liberally with local boards, and with a view to encourage agreements for percentage payments, is pleased to authorize Executive Engineers to accept payment for Government establishments employed by them in the execution of works for local boards, at the rate of 10 per cent. on the total outlay on the works for which they are employed. If any local board is, in any case, not willing to agree to these terms, the Executive Engineer should, before coming to any agreement based upon the actual cost of the Government establishment to be employed, report the circumstances through the usual channel of communication, for the orders of Government."

GENERAL BUDGET ESTIMATE

of _____ Local Board of _____ 18 -9 .

Approved by the said Board at their meeting of the _____ of _____ 18

In preparing this Budget Estimate attention should be given to Section 57 of the Bombay Local Boards Act, 1884, and the following points:—

- a. What is expected to be paid (under proper sanction) during the year should be provided for—not the liability falling due within the year.
- b. For fixed charges the detail estimates should show the full amount of the sanctioned scale; where it is found by experience that a saving will arise from any cause a lump deduction may be made.
- c. The number of employes should be carefully stated in the detail estimates and checked; the rate of pay should be stated whenever possible, in order to admit of verification with the column of charge.
- d. In the case of every item of fluctuating charge, such as travelling allowance, contingencies and the like, the actual expenditure of each of the three years last past should be noted for the purpose of comparison.
- e. For proposed outlay on works, whether original works or repairs, no entry may be made in the budget unless the provisions of Section 57 (b) have been complied with.

“Every person who wishes to offer himself for election for any group of villages shall, at least fourteen days before the date fixed for the election, inform the Mukhtyárkar of the táluka in which the election is to be held of his wish by letter under his signature. The Mukhtyárkar shall, if such person's name is in the revised List No. I last published, include such person's name in a List of Candidates which shall be prepared under his signature and posted up at least ten days before the date of the election, in some conspicuous spot in his office and at the place where the election is to be held.

“When elections for two or more groups of villages are to be held at or about the same time, one and the same person may, if he thinks fit, become a candidate for election for each such group.”

‡ In Rule 6, para. 2, for “the village accountant” read in Sind “the Tapedár.”

7. On the day of the election each intending voter shall, as he arrives at the place appointed for holding the election, receive a voting-paper in the following form* :—

Vote for a member of the Taluka Local Board of _____ for the _____ Group.

Name of candidate voted for.	Signature or mark of voter (or name of voter and signature or mark of proxy, as the case may be).	Address of voter.

8. Each voter may vote for one candidate only. A vote for any person whose name is not included in the List of Candidates published by the Mámldár or Mahákarí under Rule 5 shall not be received.

†9. Females may vote by proxy: provided that the proxy empowering any person to vote for a female is attested by the Patel of the village in which the voter resides and by two other residents of the same village whose names are included in the revised List No. II last published.

In every other case voters must vote in person.

10. If a voter or proxy is able to read and write, he shall fill up the voting-paper himself; otherwise§ the paper shall be filled up by the polling officer, in the presence of the assembled village accountants at the voter's or proxy's dictation, and the latter shall affix his mark thereto.

11. No vote shall be received by the polling officer from, or on behalf of, any person whose name is not in the revised List No. II last published.

12. The polling officer shall satisfy himself as to the identity of the persons tendering votes, and may refuse the vote of any person who declines

* Rule 7.—The form in Sind is :—

Vote for a Member of the Taluka Local Board of for the _____ Group.

Name of candidate voted for.	Signature or mark of voter.	Address of voter.

† In Rule 8 for "Mámldár or Mahákarí" read in Sind "Muktiárkar."

‡ For Sind in place of Rule 9 the following is substituted :—
9. In every case the voters must vote in person.

§ In Rule 10 for all after the word "otherwise" read (in Sind "the paper may be filled up by one of the Tapedárs at the voter's dictation and the latter shall affix his mark thereto.")

16. The Mámlatdár or Maháلكari* or other person aforesaid shall, as soon as may be, scrutinise the votes and the polling officer's records and declare the result of the election, which he shall also communicate, without delay, in writing under his signature, to the Collector for publication in the Bombay Government Gazette.

17. In the event of any person being elected for two or more groups of villages such person shall be at liberty to choose the group which he will represent, and in every other group for which the said person has been returned the result of the election shall be determined as if no votes had been recorded for him.

III.—Elections by Táluka Local Boards.

18. When the Collector has fixed the date, under section 16 (a), for the election of one or more members of the district local board by a táluka local board or by a joint board under section 7 (a), he shall cause a written notice to be sent by post or otherwise as he shall think proper, to the address of each of the members of the said táluka local board or joint board informing him of the date fixed and prescribing the hour and place at which the members shall assemble for the purpose of the said election.

The said notices shall be issued by the Collector so that they should in the ordinary course be delivered not later than seven days before the date of the election.

19. The members of the táluka local or joint board present at the time and place prescribed in the said notices shall choose one of their number to be chairman for the occasion.

The meeting shall then proceed, under the presidency of the chairman so chosen, to elect from amongst the members of the táluka local board or joint board, the requisite number of members of the district local board.

20. Any member who desires or is willing to be elected must be proposed by one and seconded by another member other than himself present at such meeting, and the votes of the members present at the said meeting upon every such proposal shall be taken by the chairman.

The election shall be decided by a majority of votes of the members present at the meeting, the chairman having a second or casting vote in every case of an equality of votes.

21. The result of the election shall be declared by the chairman of the said meeting, and shall be communicated by him without delay in writing to the Collector for publication in the Bombay Government Gazette†.

*Rule 16.—In Sind Rules the word "Muktiárkar" is substituted for "Mámlatdár or Maháلكari," and the words "Sind Official Gazette" for "Bombay Government Gazette."

†Rule 21.—In Sind Rules for the "Bombay Government Gazette" the words "Sind Official Gazette" are substituted.

22. The chairman shall also forward to the Collector, under his signature, minutes of the proceedings of the meeting, in which shall be recorded :

- (a) the names of the members present :
- (b) the names of the proposer and seconder of each proposal and of the member proposed :
- (c) the names of the members voting, respectively, for and against each proposal.

PANCH MAHÁLS.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 4, 8, 13, 27 and 69 of the Bombay Local Boards Act, 1884, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following orders regarding the establishment of Local Boards in the district of the Panch Maháls (namely) :—

(Notn. No. 2154, B. G. G., 1884, Pt. I., pp. 459 and 460.)

1. The members of the first local boards to be established under the Act in the said district shall commence their terms of office on such date as shall hereafter be notified by the Governor in Council.

2. There shall be one taluka local board for each of the three talukas* of the said district as at present constituted under the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879.

- *1. The Godhra Taluka.
- 2. The Dohad Taluka (inclusive of the Jhalod Mahál).
- 3. The Kálol Taluka (inclusive of the Hálol Mahál).

3. The Panch Maháls district having been, as yet, only a few years under British administration and being behind other districts in social development, is not, in the opinion of the Governor in Council, sufficiently advanced for the introduction of the franchise in the manner and to the extent contemplated in sections 5, 6 and 7 of the Bombay Local Boards Act, 1884. It is therefore directed that the provisions of those sections and the subsequent provisions of the said Act which refer to those sections shall not apply to the local boards of the Panch Maháls district and that, in lieu thereof, the constitution of the said boards shall be regulated by the following provisions :—

(1). The Taluka Local Board of Godhra shall consist of six members, as follows :—

- 1. The Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the Godhra Taluka, ex-officio ;
- 2. The Mámlatdár of Godhra, ex-officio ;
- 3, 4. Two members, being land-holders resident within the said taluka, whose holdings situate within the taluka are assessed (or, in the case of alienated lands, would be assessed if they were not alienated) to the land revenue at not less than forty-eight rupees per annum, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government ;
- 5. One member, being a resident of the Godhra Taluka and the holder of an entire alienated village in the said taluka, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government ;
- 6. One member elected by the Municipal Commissioners of Godhra from amongst their own number.

(2). The Taluka Local Board of Dohad shall consist of seven members as follows :—

- 1. The Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the Dohad Taluka, ex-officio ;
- 2. The Mámlatdár or Dohad, ex-officio ;

3. The Mahálkari of Jhálod, ex-officio ;
  4. One member, being a land-holder resident within that portion of the Dohád Táluka which is not comprised within the Jhálod Mahál whose holding situate within the said portion of the said tálukas is assessed (or, in the case of alienated lands, would be assessed if it were not alienated) to the land revenue at not less than forty-eight rupees per annum, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government ;
  5. One member, being a land-holder resident in the Jhálod Mahál, whose holding situate within the said Mahál is assessed (or, in the case of alienated lands, would be assessed if it were not alienated) to the land revenue at not less than forty-eight rupees per annum, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government ;
  6. One member being a resident of the táluka of Dohad and the holder of an entire alienated village in the said táluka, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government ;
  7. One member, elected by the Municipal Commissioner of Dohad from amongst their own members :
- (3). The Táluka Local Board of Kálol shall consist of six members as follows :
1. The Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of Kálol Táluka, ex-officio ;
  2. The Mámlatdár of Kálol, ex-officio ;
  3. The Mahálkari of Hálol, ex-officio ;
  4. One member, being a land-holder resident within that portion of the Kálol Táluka which is not comprised within the Hálol Mahál whose holding situate within the said portion of the said táluka is assessed (or, in the case of alienated lands, would be assessed if it were not alienated) to the land revenue at not less than forty-eight rupees per annum, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government ;
  5. One member, being a land-holder resident within the Hálol Mahál whose holding situate within the said Mahál is assessed (or, in the case of alienated lands, would be assessed if it were not alienated) to the land revenue at not less than forty-eight rupees per annum, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government ;
  6. One member being a resident of the táluka of Kálol and the holder of an entire alienated village in the said táluka of Kálol, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government.
- (4). The District Local Board of the Panch Maháls shall consist of ten members as follows:—
1. The Collector, ex-officio ;
  2. The Assistant Collector, ex-officio ;
  3. The District Deputy Collector, ex-officio ;
  - 4, 5. Two members, being land-holders resident within the Godhra Táluka, whose holdings situate within the said Táluka are assessed (or, in the case of alienated lands, would be assessed if they were not alienated) to the land revenue at not less than forty-eight rupees per annum, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government ;
  - 6, 7, 8, 9. Four members, being land-holders resident respectively within the Jhálod Mahál, the Hálol Mahál, that portion of the Dohad Táluka not comprised within the Jhálod Mahál and that portion of the Kálol Táluka not comprised within the Hálol

Mahál, whose holdings situate within the said maháls and portions of tálukas respectively are assessed (or, in the case of alienated lands, would be assessed if they were not alienated) to the land revenue at not less than forty-eight rupees per annum nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government.

10. One member, being a resident of the district and the holder of an entire alienated village in the district, nominated by the Commissioner with the sanction of Government.

4. The Collector shall be the President of the District Local Board of the Panch Maháls and the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the táluka shall be the President of the Táluka Local Boards of Godhra, Dohad and Kálol respectively.

ADDITIONAL ORDERS AND RULINGS.

Delegation of power of appointing all Nominated Members.

Section 5 (b).—His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to authorize the Commissioners of Divisions to appoint all nominated members of Local Boards in their respective Divisions. (G. R. No. 3613, dated 13th June 1887, R. D.)

Section 6 (a) and 7 (b).—A Municipal Commissioner elected under Section 6 (a) or 7 (b) of the Bombay Local Boards Act, 1884, to be a member of a Local Board does not become disqualified for the latter office on ceasing to be a Municipal Commissioner.

2. The Act does not prescribe it as a necessary qualification of the person who is the Local Board member of a Municipal district that he shall be a Municipal Commissioner of that district. It requires that one of the elective members of the Local Board shall be a member elected by the Municipal Commissioners of a municipal district from amongst their own number. At the time of his election this member must therefore be a Commissioner of the Municipality by which he is elected, but the Act nowhere provides that he shall be disqualified for the Local Board when he ceases to be a Municipal Commissioner. The person elected will be ex hypothesi a suitable and efficient representative of the municipal interests, and that is all that is required for the purposes of the Act. (G. R. No. 10188, 27th December 1884, R. D.)

Holder of entire Alienated Villages.

Section 6 (c) and 7 (c), meaning of.—The holder of half a village of which the other half has been confiscated cannot be regarded as the holder of an entire village. A Sharákati village is an entire alienated village under the definition of "alienated" in the Land Revenue Code. The case of Nival Dumala villages where the holders pay so many annas in the rupee to Government as settlement is the same as that of Sharákati villages. In a case in which the holder was invested with the management of the whole village and voluntarily resigned one-fourth of the lands in settlement of the claims of Government on the revenue, this act need not exclude him from the privileges of sections 6 (c) and 7 (c). In the case where a few pot inám numbers alienated before the grant of the village and not included in that grant have lapsed to Government and not to the inámdár, his position as holder of the village is not materially affected, and this fact need not exclude him from the privileges of sections 6 (c) and 7 (c). In applying these rulings some discretion may be exercised by the Collector. The main point is that the inámdár should be substantially the holder of the village as a whole.

2. It should be observed that even if the inámdár is held to be non-qualified under Sections 6 (c) and 7 (c), he will nevertheless enjoy the franchise under Section 10 (1) if he has a qualifying holding. (G. R. No. 7507, 20th September 1884, R. D.)

Memorandum from the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs :—Section 16 (a).—"The words used in section 16 (a) are 'as early as conveniently may be after the elections, and appointments to the táluka local boards * * * are completed.' The intention of these words appears to be that the Collector should wait till all the elections, including fresh elections, if any such be ordered by the District Judge under section 25, are over, and then fix the date for the elections of the members of the district local board. Section 16 (b) permits the Collector to fix the date for the original elections of táluka local board members at any time within three months and compels him to fix it at some time not later than one month before the commencement of those members' term of office. The object of this provision appears to be to allow sufficient time for the elections of these members to be completed in the above sense before it is necessary to fix the date for the elections of members of the district local board.

"2. If, by some mischance, the election of one or more members of a táluka board should not be completed by the latest date which the Collector can reasonably fix for the election by that board of its member of the district local board, the members of the táluka local board whose election is complete might legally proceed to elect their nominee to the district local board notwithstanding the vacancy or vacancies in their board [vide Section 32 (b)]." (G. R. No. 1291, 7th April 1884, F. D.)

"If one and the same person or one and the same co-parcenary holds two or more entire villages within the local area for which a member has to be elected, such person or the representative of such co-parcenary shall have but one vote.

"2. The person recorded in the Collector's revenue records as the holder of an alienated village shall be the person entitled to vote and qualified to be elected in respect of that holding, whether such person be the actual inámdár or a mortgagee in possession (vide Section 3 (5) of the Local Boards Act and Section 3 (11) of the Revenue Code) or, in the case of villages held for the support of religious or charitable institutions, the manager.

"3. If an alienated village is entered in the Collector's revenue records as held jointly, or in shares, by two or more persons or, indefinitely, as being held by a co-parcenary (as "Samast Brahman," etc.), the Collector shall select from amongst the persons whose names are so recorded, or from amongst the co-sharers, as the case may be, one person who shall be the person entitled to vote and be qualified to be elected in respect of such holding.

Before making such selection the Collector shall take such means as he shall think fit for ascertaining the wishes of the persons whose names are recorded as aforesaid or of the co-sharers, as the case may be, but he shall not be bound to ascertain the wish of any one who is absent from the local area for which a member has to be elected or to await the receipt, beyond such period as he shall think reasonable, of an expression of the wish of any such person or co-sharer. If a majority of not less than  $\frac{2}{3}$ ths, the persons or co-sharers whose wishes are known to the Collector are in favour of one person or co-sharer, that person or co-sharer shall be selected by the Collector; otherwise he shall himself make choice of such person or co-sharer as shall appear to him by reason of education, intelligence or local report and influence fittest to represent the holders of the alienated village in question. The holders of half-villages are excluded by the terms of the Act. (G. R. No. 1521, dated 26th April 1884, F. D.)

Qualifications—Sections 10 (3) and 18 &c., (meaning of the word "Reside.")

Letter from the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs:—"To 'reside' means primarily to have a permanent abode. Ordinarily, therefore, there will not be much difficulty in determining whether a person resides in a certain place or within a certain local area, or not.

"2. But a person may be a new comer and then the question will arise whether he is to be deemed a resident or a temporary sojourner merely. The intention of the new comer is the test to apply in such a case. If he has taken up his abode with an animus manendi, i. e., with an intention of remaining, and not merely as a visitor, then he should be deemed to be a resident, however recent his arrival may be.

"3. But it is not necessary that a person should be always actually present at his place of abode in order that he may be deemed to reside there. Residence implies personal presence at some time or other, but as has been held under the law which regulates the borough-vote for members of Parliament in England (Whitchom vs. Thomas, 7 M. and G. 1) it may consist of 'actual occupation of a place of residence by the party himself or an occupation by his family or servants, there being an animus revertendi on his part.'

"4. Thus, as has been held in another English case (Balcot vs. Botfield Kay, 534), 'a person may be said to have more than one residence. If he have houses in different places, at each of which he keeps an establishment, each may be called his residence, though he may not go there for years.'

"5. But with regard to this 'constructive' residence, it was held in Rex vs. Mitchell (10 East. 511) that in the case of an unmarried Military officer who had no other home than his mother's house at which he used to reside whenever he obtained leave, which he usually did for three months in the year, and where apartments were always reserved for his use, that being, as an officer, subject to the will and pleasure of the Queen, he was not sui juris and therefore could not have such an intention of returning as to constitute a constructive residence. The principle of this decision will apply to the native servants of Government, who, under it, will be held to reside at the place where they are from time to time officially posted and not at their paternal or ancestral home also.

"6. On the other hand it was held by the High Court of Bombay (8 Bo. H. C. R. 236, O. C. J.), following several similar decisions of the Calcutta High Court, that 'an inhabitant of Baroda who carries on the business of a banker at Bombay by a múnim and has a place of business there, is constructively an inhabitant of Bombay.' The same banker would reasonably be held to 'reside at Bombay if he occasionally used his place of business there as a residence though he might not go there for years.'

"7. It would not be possible to lay down any fixed rules for determining what shall, and what shall not, constitute residence for the purposes of section 18 of the Local Boards Act, 1883. Each case should be liberally decided upon its particular merits in accordance with the above principles, the basis of which appears to be that a person, who claims to be qualified to vote as a resident of any place must have an appreciable interest in the good government of that place." (G. R. No. 485, 6th February 1884, F. D.)

Sections 11 & 19. Females—Holders of alienated land and tenants.—Females are not qualified to be elected members of Local Boards (section 11) but they are not disqualified as females from voting. The disqualification of females in section 19 was struck out when the Bill was under discussion by the Legislative Council.

2. The same rule should be applied to female holders of entire alienated villages (if any) by the Collector under section 17.

3. Holders of land in alienated villages are entitled to be entered in Lists I and II if they come forward and establish their right under Section 22. Sections 10 and 18 do not exclude tenants, but if their right is not patent from the Collector's records, they are bound to make application to the Collector to insert their names under section 22. (G. R. No. 1498, 24th April 1884, F. D.)

Proxy by a female exempted from stamp duty.—The stamp duty payable under Article 50 (b) of Schedule I of the said Act on a proxy executed by a female empowering any person to vote at any one election of members of a Local Board held under the provisions of Bombay Act I of 1884 (The Bombay Local Boards Act, 1884,) is reduced to one anna. (No. 8931, R. D., republishing G. of I. Notification 4409, B. G., 1884, Pt. I., p. 975.)

Section 22.—Memorandum from the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs:—Applications to a Collector under section 22 of the Local Boards Act are liable to court-fee of eight annas under Act VII of 1870, Schedule II, Article 1 (b).” (G. R. No. 3725, 8th May 1885, R. D.)

Section 38.—Powers as to Officers and Servants.—Memo. by L. R. :—“Section 38 of the Act empowers the District Local Board to ‘engage’ such officers and servants as they deem necessary for all the Local Boards of the district.

“2. Section 28 (c) authorizes the Presidents of each Local Board to ‘dispose of all questions relating to the service’ of the officers and servants of that Board, and this power covers the grant of leave of absence from service.

“3. Section 40 expressly declares that the power of punishing or dismissing officers and servants vests in the District Local Boards.

“4. Section 32 enables each Local Board to make regulations ‘generally in respect to the transaction of business,’ and in virtue of this power the District Local Board may make regulations regarding the appointment, punishment and dismissal of officers and servants and, in those regulations, may if they think fit delegate any of these matters under clause (6) to Committees.

“5. But the regulations to be made under section 32 (including those under clause (6) regarding the delegation of the Board’s powers to committees) must be consistent with ‘any rules or orders made by Government under section 69.’ And section 40 vests the power of punishing and dismissing in the District Local Board also, subject to any rule or order made by the Governor in Council under section 69.’

“6. Section 69 (c) empowers the Governor in Council to prescribe ‘such general conditions as shall seem fit * * * as to the appointment, control, punishment and dismissal of officers and servants of Local Boards.’ In virtue of this power it is competent to Government to require that in the case of certain officers and servants or, if necessary, of all officers and servants appointments, punishments and dismissals shall in the first instance be made by the President of the District Local Board or of the Taluka Local Board as the case may be, or by some superior Local Board officer, and that all appointments, punishments and dismissals so made shall be subject to ratification only by the District Local Board, or by any Committee to whom the District Local Board think fit to delegate the power. The convenient discharge of business requires that some such rule should be prescribed, but officers above a certain rank might be exempt from it.

“7. In the absence of any such general rule made by Government under section 69 (c) of the Act, it is competent to any District Local Board to make a regulation to the same effect under section 32.

“8. The general regulations which a District Local Board is empowered to frame by section 39 of the Act are general regulations as to the length of service of the officers and servants of the Board, the leave they may receive, the allowances they may draw whilst on leave, the remuneration of persons acting for them and the pensions, &c., they are to receive on retirement. In granting leave and disposing of other questions under section 28 (c), the President is to act subject to these regulations, i.e. is not to make any order inconsistent with them. The regulations to be made under section 39 have nothing to do with the delegation of any of the Board’s powers, and therefore that section does not appear to be in any way inconsistent with section 32 (6), which does deal with such delegation. Moreover, the grant of leave is not one of the Board’s powers: that is vested by section 28 (c) in the President of each Local Board.” (G. R. No. 1234, 15th February 1886, R. D.)

Section 39.—Pound-keepers and Ferrymen not servants of Local Boards.—Pound-keepers and ferrymen are not employed and paid by the Local Boards but by Government, and therefore they should not be included in regulations framed by the Local Boards under section 39 of Bombay Act I of 1884. (G. R. No. 2362, 26th March 1886, R. D.)

Appointment of Pound-keepers and disposal of realizations.—Memo. by L. R. :—The intention of the Legislature appears to be that the District Magistrate should ordinarily appoint the pound-keeper and pay his remuneration and that all realizations should be sent to the District Magistrate, the surplus, if any, being disposed of periodically in such manner as Government direct. This should, be the practice for all pounds in respect of which the District Magistrate’s functions under sections 5, 6, 12 and 17 have not been legally transferred to some local body. In the case of any pound in respect of which the said functions have been transferred to a local body the proceeds will be paid to that body instead of to the District Magistrate and that body will dispose of the surplus by appro-prising it or otherwise as Government may from time to time direct under section 1 (b) of Act XVIII of 1883." (G. R. No. 383, 17th January 1887, R. D.)

Section 44.—Investment of Local Funds illegal.—The investment of any portion of Local Funds is not only forbidden by the Government of India but is also not authorized by Bombay Act I of 1884. (G. R. No. 1778 of 22nd June 1886, F. D.)

Section 44 (c).—Charges on account of Ferries.—It is clear from clause (c) of section 44 of the Act that all charges on account of ferries are chargeable to Provincial Revenues, the term maintenance including current repairs to existing boats as well as the construction of new ones. This arrangement does not involve any loss to Provincial Revenues, because the gross proceeds of the ferries are credited to those revenues and only the net proceeds after deducting all charges are payable to local fund concerned. (G. R. No. 6949 of 27th August 1885, R. D.)

Maintenance of Ferries.—The term "maintenance of ferries" in section 44 of the Local Boards Act undoubtedly includes the provision of boats for working the ferries, and no modification of the orders issued in Government Resolution No. 6949, dated 27th August 1885, is required. It should however be understood that ferries do not include approaches to them and piers, which if constructed by Local Fund Committees and Local Boards vest in the Boards, in which case they are responsible for the maintenance and repair of them.

2. If the cost of working public ferries exceeds the receipts, the Local Boards are not bound to make good the deficit. But there ought to be no deficits. Public ferries ought to be so managed as to pay, and heavy charges for approaches, &c., should not be incurred from the Ferry Fund but by Local Boards.

3. The Governor in Council is unable to perceive how Local Boards can establish and maintain ferries distinct from the public ferries established under Bombay Act II of 1868. (G. R. No. 265 of 2nd February 1885, F. D.)

Construction of new ferry boats.—If the cost of construction of a new boat is provided by Provincial funds the amount will have to be recovered before any surplus is handed over to the Local Board. It therefore comes to the same thing as far as their funds are concerned whether the money is provided from Provincial or Local resources. The cost of the boat will cause a "deficit" only if the net receipts from the date of last providing a new boat have not been sufficient to cover the charge. In these circumstances it will be best that the Local Fund should provide the assignment required for a new boat, and if they can show that the cost will involve a genuine deficit, Government will be ready to consider their claim for aid from Provincial funds. (G. R. No. 3646 of 2nd December 1886, F. D.)

Section 44 (f).—Quarry fees.—It would appear from the letter of the Collector of Kánara and from the reports of the Commissioners, C. D. and N. D., that there is still some diversity of practice as regards the treatment of quarrying fees in some districts which it is desirable to put a stop to. The Commissioner, C. D., proposes that all fees for quarrying stones, muram, &c., levied in respect of land outside municipal limits should be credited to Local Funds and that within municipal limits they should be credited to Local Funds or to Municipalities according as the property in the land vests in Government or the Municipality. The course suggested by the Commissioner, C. D., appears well calculated to secure uniformity. Its adoption is accordingly sanctioned in supersession of previous orders on the subject, and the Commissioners should be requested to draw up in consultation and circulate for the information and guidance of the Mámlatdárs and other subordinate district officers such instructions in the matter as may appear to them to be necessary to secure uniformity of procedure with reference to the treatment of these fees.

It should be clearly understood that the permission given to Local Funds to appropriate the fees derived from quarrying or delving in waste lands is not to prejudice in any way the proprietary rights of Government as to its power of disposal over the lands in question. (G. R. No. 1057 of 8th February 1890, R. D.)

Section 45.—Expenditure outside local area.—The condition on which the law permits a Local Board to make a grant from the Local Fund for expenditure outside of the area under its authority is that such expenditure is for the use and benefit of that area, and with every desire to assist the Municipalities Government is bound by law to see that this condition is fulfilled before its sanction is given as required by section 45. The District Board cannot regulate its grant with reference to the percentage of the extra school expenditure on the municipal revenue. Moreover, although it was not desired that the Local Government Acts should place new charges on Municipalities, this is a distinct matter from the provision of funds to take the place of the District Local Fund money which has been justly restored to the District Local Boards, and the Municipalities must expect to add to their taxation an equivalent of the school rate which the rural population have paid for some twenty years past.

2. Government cannot with due regard to the law sanction a larger grant from a District Local Fund to Municipalities than the sum which bears, to the total cost which must in the absence of such grant be met from municipal funds proper, the same proportion as the children in the schools whose parents are payers of cess to the District Local Fund on land outside municipal limits bear to all the children attending the schools. (G. R. No. 8663 of 24th October 1885, R. D.)

Section 46 (a) and section 46 (c) distinguished.—Section 46 (a) refers to establishments engaged at any time by District Local Boards under section 33, to which sanction of superior authority is not required by the Act subject only to section 63. Section 46 (c) relates to establishments employed at any time in Government offices or elsewhere for Local Board business by order of Government, and these establishments cannot be engaged without reference to Government and explanation of the necessity for engaging them.

2. The two classes are quite distinct and should not be confused. If the establishments under discussion are employed in Government offices on treasury business, a distinct report should be submitted to show that they are necessary, how they will be employed and what they will cost. Until this has been done the Accountant General is correct in checking them for want of sanction. (G. R. No. 5458 of 31st July 1886, R. D.)

Section 46 (c).—Pay of Clerks in Government Offices.—All clerks employed in any Government office on the educational business of a Local Board under section 46 (c) must be paid for out of the portion of the General Local Fund which remains after the one-third for educational purposes has been set apart. (G. R. No. 1692, dated 17th September 1885, E. D.)

The clerks employed in the offices of Collectors on the business of Local Boards like all other establishments coming under section 46 (c) of the Local Boards Act, are to be regarded as Government servants in accordance with the view taken in paragraph 5 of Government Resolution No. 2854, dated 3rd August 1883, and the proper course appears to be for Government to defray the charges on account of them from General Revenues, recovering them ultimately from Local Funds. (G. R. No. 3084, dated 6th November 1885, F. D.)

Section 47.—Assignments to Municipalities.—Section 47 of the Bombay Local Boards Act lays down quite clearly that only the cess levied on lands within the municipal district can be assigned by a District Local Board to a Municipality under that section. The cess on land in the area under the authority of a District Local Board is naturally credited to the District Local Fund, but its expenditure outside the same area is justified by the last clause of section 45. (G. R. No. 6787 of 21st August 1885, R. D.)

Every Municipality has been liable for the maintenance of an adequate provision for primary schools from the date on which Bombay Act II of 1884 came into force. This being so, Government leave it to the local bodies responsible to administer their funds as they are permitted or required by the law. The Provincial grant of one-third total cost can be claimed only from the date on which the Municipalities undertook the maintenance of the town schools. (G. R. No. 6609 of 17th September 1886, R. D.)

Section 48.—Expenditure for educational purposes and deduction for Municipal District.—By section 48 of the Bombay Act I of 1884 (Local Boards) the Educational one-third of the net proceeds of the local cess is placed at the disposal of the District Local Board with this exception, that the Educational one-third of the cess, levied on lands within Municipal districts and Cantonments included in the area for which such board is established, is to be assigned and paid to such Municipalities and Cantonments and spent by them on educational purposes. Therefore, the cess levied on lands outside of municipal and Cantonment limits, the owners or occupants of which reside within Municipal limits, is at the disposal of the Taluka Local Board. This is the correct principle, for it is clear that if local rates, instead of being spent locally for the benefit of the area for which the Local Board administration is created, should be claimed by non-resident cess-payers and carried off to be expended in any place where they happen to reside, the object of Local Funds would be defeated.

2. Nevertheless the case now put may be met in the following way. In section 30 provision is to be made in certain matters for the areas subject to the Boards, not in the areas. Section 45 enacts that with the sanction of Government expenditure may be made for the use or benefit of the said area, outside of that area. By section 36 Joint Committees may be appointed by District Local Boards and Municipalities for any purpose in which they are jointly interested. If then a District Local Board considers that it will be for the use or benefit of the area under its authority, that is of the rate or cess-payers of that area, to subsidise, from the funds at its disposal, primary schools established in Municipalities included in that area, it can do so with the sanction of Government by use of the above provisions. (G. R. No. 1884 of 6th November 1884, E. D.)

Section 52.—Accounts to be verified before publication.—It is evidently desirable that the annual accounts of every Local Board should, before being published in the Official Gazette as required by section 52 of the Act, be verified with the audited accounts maintained in the Accountant General's Office. The Presidents of Local Boards should be requested to adopt this course if they have not already done so. (G. R. No. 6608 of 17th September 1886, R. D.)

Procedure for publication of accounts.—Government consider that the accounts of each district should be published in the Government Gazette by the Collector, and the Accountant General should accordingly be instructed to forward the accounts after verification to the Collector concerned in future and not to Government unless orders on any particular points are needed. (G. R. No. 1 of 3rd January 1887, F. D.)

Section 57 (b).—Detailed estimate of work how to be approved.—Memo. from L. R.:—Looking at section 57 (b) no provision can be legally made by a Local Board in its Budget Estimate for any work, unless it has first of all, whether at the same meeting at which the Budget is considered, or previously approved, a detailed estimate of the cost of such work, a distinct resolution should be passed by the Board recording its approval of any such estimate, and such resolution should appear in the Minute of Proceedings. Although it is not obligatory, it would be convenient, if each detailed estimate, which is thus approved by the Board, were endorsed under the signature of the President or of some other officer of the Board, to the effect that it was approved by the Board at their meeting of the 189 . If this procedure is not adopted, the Collector may, at the request of the Government Executive Engineer, call for an extract from the Board's proceedings under section 62 (b), to enable him to satisfy himself that the detailed estimate of any work, which he is required to execute for the Board, has been duly approved. (No. 27A—45 of 28th May 1886, P. W. D.)

Section 57.—Executive Engineer's Plans and Estimates.—Local Boards cannot reject the Executive Engineer's plans and estimates, prepared under section 57 (b), nor can they deviate from them, unless such deviation is approved by the Superintending Engineer, on a reference from the Local Board concerned.

Under section 61, clause 2, Local Boards do not obtain estimates, but entrust works to the Executive Engineer for execution. If in any case outside the Act they simply obtain advice about a work within their own competence, they are not bound to take that advice. (No. 32 A—69 dated 10th August 1886, P. W. D.)

Section 61.—Charges by Executive Engineers for Plans and Estimates.—Government authorize charges, as under, being made by Executive Engineers, for preparing plans and estimates, called for by Local Boards in connection with Local Fund works:—

1 per cent. on estimate for review of projects.

2½ per cent. on estimates for preparation of detailed plans and estimates.

Local Board adopting standard or plans supplied to another Board.—If one Local Board desires to adopt the standard or any other plans supplied to another Board, the proper course would appear to be for them to ask the Local Board for copies, without reference to the Executive Engineer. The Local Board concerned would then modify the estimate to suit their conditions, and the project would only require review by the Executive Engineer, for which a charge of 1 per cent. only would be made. (G. R. No. 35 A—69, dated 25th September 1886, P. W. D.)

Sections 64, 65.—Delegation by Collector of his powers to Assistant or Deputy: Powers under sections 64 and 65 to be reserved.—Memo. from L. R.:—The Land Revenue Code, Bombay Act V of 1879, is an Act passed 'to consolidate and amend the law relating to Revenue Officers, as well as the law relating to the assessment and recovery of land-revenue. Chapter II of the Code deals with the 'Constitution and Powers of Revenue Officers' and section 10, which occurs in that Chapter lays down that an Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of talukás shall, subject to appeal, perform all the duties and exercise all the powers conferred upon a Collector of a district by the Code or 'any other law at the time being in force,' so far as regards the talukás in his charge; but authority is given to the Collector to withdraw any duties or powers that he thinks fit from any Assistant or Deputy.

2. There is no ground, I think, for limiting the meaning of the words 'or any other law at the time being in force' by holding that only laws relating to land-revenue are meant. If this had been intended, the Legislature would, I think, have employed language which would have made such intention clear. The intention of the words actually used is, I think, that in his talukás the powers and duties of an Assistant or Deputy Collector shall be the same as are conferred or imposed by any law upon the Collector, subject always to a right of appeal to the Collector and to the power of the Collector to direct his Assistant or Deputy not to perform certain duties or exercise certain powers.

3. The Local Boards Act has been passed by the Legislature with a knowledge that this was the general law, and as it has not thought fit to enact that the Collector's duties and powers under that Act shall not be performed or exercised in their respective talukás by his Assistants or Deputies, I am of opinion that the general law applies to the Collector's functions under the Local Boards Act.

RESOLUTION.—The Collector will have no difficulty in deciding what powers conferred upon the Collector by Act I of 1884 he should reserve to himself. The powers under sections 64 and 65 should be so reserved. (G. R. No. 8718, dated 5th November 1884, R. D.)

Correspondence.

A rule that Presidents of Táluka Boards (the Assistant Collectors in charge of tálukás) are not to correspond direct with the Executive Engineers cannot be made, and it seems expedient that Presidents of Táluka Boards should correspond direct with Executive Engineers on matters relating to works for which the Táluka Board is responsible. When the District Board is also interested and should be consulted, the correspondence no doubt must pass through the District Board. The matter should be adjusted locally according to circumstances. (No. 10 A—12, dated 30th January 1886, P. W. D.)

Postage Stamps.—Members of Local Boards when forwarding by post correspondence relating exclusively to Local Funds questions must use ordinary stamps, and can if they so desire recover their value from Local Funds. (G. R. No. 2363, dated 26th March 1886, R. D.)

Stamps on Instruments and Court Fees.

“ Clause 18 of the 2nd Schedule to the Stamp Act is as follows :—

“ Any instruments executed by, or on behalf or in favour of Government in cases where but for the exemption the Government would be liable to pay the duty chargeable in respect of such instrument.”

This exemption clearly relates to instruments executed by or on behalf of Government or in its favour only in cases in which the Government would be chargeable with the duty like any private person, but for the exemption.

Cheques drawn by Presidents or Secretaries of the Local or District Boards in their official capacity are clearly not instruments made on behalf of Government; consequently they do not come within the meaning of the exemption above quoted. The fact that the duty would come out of funds which are Government money is irrelevant to the question submitted.

Suppose a deed is drawn in favour of a Government servant, but it is understood though not mentioned in it that such Government servant is a Trustee for the Government, and the Government servant as a party to the instrument would have to pay the stamp duty (which would have to be recouped by Government), such a document would be liable to stamp duty, Government not being a party mentioned therein, though eventually the payment of the stamp duty would have to be made by the Government.

Under these circumstances the cheques in the question are not exempt from duty but are liable to the usual stamp duty. (G. R. No. 2759 of 26th September 1885, F. D.)

Cheque on Government Treasury.

Memo. from L. R. :—“ Under section 50 of the Local Boards Act money required by a Local Board to provide or replenish a permanent advance can only be drawn from the Government Treasury by cheque.

“ 2. Rule 46 prescribes the form of cheque. It may be doubted, whether this order is properly designated a cheque as defined in the General Stamp Act on the ground that in the case of Local Funds which under section 44 of the Act Government is bound to keep it cannot be said to be acting as a banker. But even if this doubt is correct, the document fulfils the conditions of a bill of exchange as defined in Section 5 of Act XXVI of 1881 and is equally liable, if for more than Rs. 20, to a stamp duty of one anna under Article 11 (a) of Schedule I of the General Stamp Act.

“ 3. There is no rule which requires the first cheque drawn for money required to begin a permanent advance to be accompanied by any receipt at all. In the absence of any such rule any demand for a receipt seems irregular. It would be quite sufficient if the cheque were merely accompanied by a memorandum stating the purpose for which the money was required, but not in the form of a receipt. If however for any reason a written acknowledgment of the receipt of money (over Rs. 20) is given by the officer drawing the cheque, it must be stamped as it appears to be a receipt as defined in the General Stamp Act.

“ 4. As regards money drawn to recoup advances Rule 45 prescribes exactly what documents must accompany the cheque, viz., a bill supported by sub-vouchers. There is nothing requiring the receipt of the officer who draws the money, and the bill which he sends in should not be in the form of a receipt. If for any reason he does give a written acknowledgment of receipt of money (over Rs. 20) it must be stamped, but his doing so seems quite superfluous.

“ 5. For the reasons given by the Advocate General of Bengal (quoted in Government Resolution No. 2759, dated 26th September 1885), documents executed by officers of Local Boards are liable to stamp duty.

6. When a doubt arises as to the liability of any class of documents to stamp duty the proper course is to refer a test case under section 46 of the Stamp Act to the High Court and not to Government which can give no binding orders on the subject." (G. R. No. 4621 of 2nd July 1887, R. D.)

Issue of Cheque-books.

Letter from the Accountant General :—

"I have the honour to suggest for the consideration of Government that in future the stock of cheque books for the use of Local Boards may be kept in this office, and issued from it instead of by the Superintendent, Central Press, as at present.

"These cheques I propose to issue with an impressed stamp as a check against possible frauds in the Boards offices. They are now stamped with the ordinary adhesive receipt stamps, the charges for which are unsupported by vouchers, as Treasury Officers grant receipts only for service and Local Fund Postage stamps. They might be required to give receipts for receipt stamps purchased by Local Boards, but on the whole it seems to me a safer plan to issue the cheque books with the stamp impressed. When indenting it will be necessary for the Boards first to pay into the Government Treasury the sum due for the stamps, and this office will then have the cheques impressed by the Superintendent of Stamps and forward them.

"The expenditure upon receipt stamps is considerable, and incurred, I believe, almost wholly for cheques."

RESOLUTION.—The suggestion of the Accountant General is approved. (G. R. No. 6478, dated 2nd September 1889, R. D.).

† N.B.—A Cantonment Authority is now to be deemed a Local Authority within the meaning of Act XI of 1879. Vide XIII of 1889, section 60 (3).

6th, a detailed account of the revenue and expenditure of the Local Authority for the three last preceding years :

[Note.—Debt and deposit transactions, such as receipts from, and repayments of, loans and deposits from contractors and others, should not be included under revenue and expenditure, but should be shown separately. All important variations in the amounts of revenue and expenditure should be explained.]

7th, all existing prior charges upon the funds of the Local Authority.

6. The Local Government shall cause such enquiry as it thinks necessary or expedient to be made into the statements contained in the application and into the use and value of the proposed work.

7. If it appears to the Local Government that the loan ought not to be granted, it shall reject the application.

8. If it appears to the Local Government probable that the loan ought to be granted, it shall cause to be published in the local official Gazette, and otherwise, as it deems fit within the local limits of the area subject to the control of the Local Authority, a copy of the application and such particulars in regard to any enquiry made under Rule 7, as it may think necessary.

9. After the expiry of one month from such publication, and after calling for any further information which it may require, and considering any objections which may be preferred, the Local Government may either reject the application, or grant the loan if funds are available from the grant placed at its disposal for the purpose: Provided that, where the Local Authority is any one of the Corporations mentioned or referred to in clause (a) of the proviso to section 8 of the Act, the Local Government, if it approves the application, shall not itself proceed to sanction it, but shall refer the application for the orders of the Governor General in Council.

10. The Local Government shall make such provision as may seem to be necessary for the proper inspection of all works which are being carried out by means of a loan, and for ascertaining and securing that the loan is duly applied to the purposes for which it is made. Every such work, and the accounts connected therewith shall be open at all times to the inspection of the Superintending or Executive Engineer in whose division the work is situate, and of any person who may be authorised to inspect the accounts of the Local Authority, and of any other person specially authorised by the Local Government in this behalf.

11. If the Local Government considers that the conditions on which a loan was granted have not been fulfilled, or that the Local Authority has failed to comply with any of the requirements of these Rules, it may, at any time, order that no further payments shall be made on account of such loan, and recover the amount advanced, with interest thereon, in the manner mentioned in section 6 of the Act.

12. Interest shall be charged half-yearly on each loan at the rate agreed upon: and shall be reckoned and paid on each instalment from the date on which it is received.

13. The Local Authority may, at any time with the previous consent of the Local Government, repay the whole or any part of a loan made from the Public Treasury in advance of the period fixed by the conditions of the loan.

14. The cost of any enquiry made under Rule 7, of advertisements published under Rule 9, of inspections made under Rule 11, and of any other proceedings by order of the Local Government or the Governor General in Council under these Rules, shall be determined by the Local Government, and shall be paid by the Local Authority.

15. (a) The accounts of every loan shall be kept by the Accountant General of the Province in which it is made.

(b) The Local Authority shall give to the Accountant General and the Local Government any information which they may require regarding the expenditure of the loan, and regarding its funds.

16. An annual statement of all loans granted under the Act, repayments due and made during the year, and balances outstanding at the beginning and end of the year in each province, or under each Local Government, shall be prepared by the Accountant General and submitted to the Government of India through the Local Government which shall add a report of the progress of the works. Such statement shall be published in the local official Gazette.

17. An attachment of any funds under section 6 of the Act shall be made by a notice to the Local Authority prohibiting the collection or management of such funds by the Local Authority, and vesting the administration thereof in such officer as the Local Government may appoint. Such notice shall be published in the local official Gazette, and otherwise, as may be directed by the Local Government, within the local limits of the area subject to the control of the Local Authority. The moneys collected or received under such attachment shall be paid into the Government Treasury; and the accounts of moneys so collected, and of the cost of the collection shall be prepared in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct. A copy of the Accounts shall be delivered to the Local Authority, and published in the local official Gazette.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879, the Governor General in Council has made the following Rules for the raising of loans by Local Authorities in the open market:—

1. These rules shall come into force on the 1st day of February 1889. On and from that date the rules published with Notifications Nos. 2748 and 2471*, dated 17th August 1883 and 11th May 1888, respectively, in so far as they relate to the authorisation of loans, shall be rescinded, except as regards loans applied for before these Rules come into force.

2. In these Rules (1) 'the Act' means The Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879; (2) 'Local Authority' and (3) 'funds' have the meanings assigned to them respectively in the Act; (4) 'the Local Authority' means the Authority applying for permission to raise or, as the case may be, raising or having raised the loan; and (5) 'loan' means a Loan under the Act.

3. A loan must be defined in rupees and not by the sterling or any other foreign standard.

(Notn. No. 3057, B. G. G., 1889, Pt. I., p. 703, republishing G. of I. Notn. 4105, dated 9th August 1889.)

4. A loan shall not be raised except for the construction or repair of works of public utility within the local limits of the area subject to the control of the Local Authority, or for the benefit of the inhabitants within those limits; and the term of a loan shall not extend over a longer period than twenty years except under very exceptional circumstances, and in no case over a longer period than thirty years.

5. Whenever it is desired to obtain the authorisation of the Government to the raising of a loan under section 7 of the Act a statement shall be submitted to the Local Government showing:—

1st, the work or works for the construction or repair of which the loan is required and an estimate of the cost thereof:

2nd, the amount which it is proposed borrow:

3rd, the fund or funds on the security of which it is proposed to borrow:

4th, the law or laws under which the said fund or funds is or are levied, received or held:

5th, the dates between which the money borrowed is to be received:

[NOTE.—It is essential that the authority to borrow in the market should be limited to a reasonable time, as loans of any considerable amount cannot be held in suspense indefinitely. The dates, therefore, must be fixed with reference to this condition, and must not be so wide apart and so indefinite as practically to be no limitation.]†

6th, the term of years for which the money is to be borrowed, the instalments, if any, in which it is to be repaid, and the amount of sinking fund, if any, provided for its repayment:

* Republished at pages 610—11 and 433 of the Bombay Government Gazette, dated respectively the 23rd August 1883 and 17th May 1888.

† It cannot be said that a statement of the maximum amount of the instalments and of the maximum period within which they will be received is a compliance with the rule. (G. R. 1868 of 31st May 1888, G. D.)

7th, a detailed account of the revenue and expenditure of the Local Authority for the last three preceding years :

[Note.—Debt and deposit transactions, such as receipts from, and repayments of, loans and deposits from contractors and others should not be included under revenue and expenditure but should be shown separately. All important variations in revenue and expenditure should be explained.]

8th, all existing prior charges upon the funds of the Local Authority.

6. The Local Government shall cause enquiry as it thinks necessary or expedient to be made into the statements contained in the application and into the use and value of the proposed work.

7. If it appears to the Local Government that the loan ought not to be raised, it shall reject the application.

8. If it appears to the Local Government probable that the loan ought to be raised it shall cause to be published in the local official Gazette, and otherwise, as it deems fit, within the local limits of the area subject to the control of the Local Authority, a copy of the application and such particulars in regard to any enquiry made under Rule 6 as it may think necessary.

9. After the expiry of one month from such publication, and after calling for any further information which it may require, and considering any objections which may be preferred, the Local Government may either reject the application or sanction it : Provided that, where the Local Authority is any one of the Corporations mentioned or referred to in clause (a) of the proviso to section 8 of the Act, the Local Government, if it approves the application, shall not itself proceed to sanction it unless it is authorized so to do by some special enactment for the time being applicable to the Corporation, but shall refer the application for the orders of the Governor General in Council.

10. The Local Government shall make such provision as may seem to be necessary for the proper inspection of all works which are being carried out by means of a loan, and for ascertaining and securing that the loan is duly applied to the purposes for which it is raised. Every such work, and the accounts connected therewith shall be open at all times to the inspection of the Superintending or Executive Engineer in whose division the work is situate, and of any person who may be authorized to inspect the accounts of the Local Authority, and of any other person specially authorized by the Local Government in this behalf.

11. The cost of any enquiry made under Rule 6, of advertisements published under Rule 10, of inspections made under Rule 10, and of any other proceedings by order of the Local Government or the Governor General in Council under these Rules, shall be determined by the Local Government and shall be paid by the Local Authority.

12. The Local Authority shall give to the Accountant General and the Local Government any information which they may require regarding the expenditure of the loan and regarding its funds.

13. An attachment of any funds under section 6 of the Act shall be made by a notice to the Local Authority prohibiting the collection or management of such funds by the Local Authority, and vesting the administration thereof in such officer as the Local Government may appoint. Such notice shall be published in the local official Gazette, and otherwise, as may be directed by the Local Government, within the local limits of the area subject to the control of the Local Authority. The moneys collected or received under such attachment shall be paid to the lender, and the account of moneys so collected, and of the cost of collection, shall be prepared in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct. A copy of the accounts shall be delivered to the Local Authority, and published in the local official Gazette.

PART IX.

RULES MADE BY THE COMMISSIONERS NORTHERN, CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN DIVISIONS, WITH THE APPROVAL OF GOVERNMENT, UNDER THE PENSIONS ACT, 1871.*

In exercise of the powers conferred by Sections 5, 8 and 14 of the Pensions Act, 1871, the Commissioners, Northern Division, Central Division, and Southern Division, have, with the approval of Government, framed the following rules in supersession of the rules under section 14 of the said Act, published at page 656 of the Bombay Government Gazette of 7th August 1873, and of all other rules and orders on the same subject hitherto in force in any part of the Divisions of the said Commissioners:—

I.—Under Section 5.†

1. Claims relating to pensions or gratuities on account of service, whether in the civil, military, naval, or any other department of the administration, are to be inquired into and disposed of in such manner as may be directed in the Civil Pension Code, or in any rules or orders for the time being in force applicable to such pensions respectively.

(G. No. 6649, B. G. G., 1879, Pt. I., pp. 1020 to 1027.)

2. Claims relating to any cash payment forming part of the property of a watan, and of claims relating to service watan allowances, in respect of which no service commutation settlement has been effected, will be inquired into and disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act and of the rules and orders from time to time in force thereunder. In the event of any such claim being preferred to which none of the said provisions shall appear to be applicable, the orders of Government should be obtained through the proper channel previous to the disposal thereof.

‡3. Nothing in the rest of these Rules applies to any pension, gratuity or cash payment to which the two last Rules apply.

Extent of applicability of rest of these Rules.

4. Claims preferred to a Collector under section 5 of the Act may be either—

Disposal of claims preferred under section 5.

- (a) against Government only, or
- (b) against Government and one or more private parties jointly, or

* These Rules have been adapted to Sind under Government Resolution No. 7171 of 28th November 1880.

The Rules known as the "Amended Rules of 1842," under which cash allowances were adjudicated, have the force of law under the Pensions Act in this Presidency, but are now seldom required.

† The provisions of sections 4, 5, & 6 of the Pensions Act, 1871 do not appear applicable to haks payable by an Inámdár and not by Government. The Act relates only to cash allowances payable by Government. (G. R. No. 477 of 17th January 1885, R. D.)

‡ With reference to Devasthán cash allowances vide Memo. by Acting L. R. accompanying G. R. 7099, 20th September 1889, R. D., quoted infra, p. 305.

Claims falling under class (a) or (b) shall ordinarily be disposed of by the Collector; but whenever any important legal question is involved which the Revenue Officers concerned may not feel themselves competent satisfactorily to deal with, the Collector may, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, issue a certificate under section 6 of the Act authorizing the Civil Court to try the case.

Claims falling under class (c) shall be disposed of by the Collector if the question at issue between the parties is not of a complicated or difficult nature; but if the claimant applies for a certificate under section 6 of the Act, and sets forth satisfactory reasons for such application, or if the question at issue between the parties appears to be of a complicated or difficult nature, or if the claim is one which if awarded could only be enforced by a Civil Court, the Collector may issue a certificate under the said section 6 authorising the Civil Court to try the case: Provided that no certificate shall be issued for any case which could not be decided by the Civil Court in favour of one or more of the parties thereto without making an order or decree such as it is prohibited from making by the said section.

5. Except in the cases provided for in the last paragraph of Rule 7; no claim by which the liability of Government to pay any pension or grant is affected directly or indirectly shall be disposed of by a Collector without first obtaining the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the order which he proposes to pass.

6. Any claim preferred to a Collector under section 5 of the Act may be referred by him for inquiry to any Assistant or Deputy Collector or other officer subordinate to him, and every Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of talukas may receive claims on behalf of the Collector and forward the same with his opinion after inquiry to the Collector; but every order for disposing of a claim or for granting a certificate under section 6 shall be made with the previous sanction of the Commissioner by the Collector himself.

7. Claims relating to pensions or grants are to be disposed of in accordance with—

(a) The law, if any, for the time being in force applicable to such claims,

(b) The terms and conditions of the sanad or other document, if any, under which such pensions or grants are enjoyed.

(c) The rules or orders of Government for the time being in force if applicable to such claims,

But if any claim is brought, the subject-matter of which has been already inquired into and disposed of by competent authority, the Collector will merely record the fact of such previous decision, and dispose of the claim accordingly.

II.—Under Section 8.

8. All payments of pensions or grants are usually to be made in one lump sum for the year commencing on the 1st May and ending 30th April, but applications for their payment by monthly or quarterly instalments may be considered and disposed of by the Collectors, subject to the sanction of the Commissioners.

9. Pensions and grants, for the payment of which application is duly made at the proper period, will be paid in full, except in the case of payment being suspended, pending the orders of a Civil Court or pending inquiries by Government or by any officer of Government. But if, owing to non-application or other neglect on the part of the claimants, such payments fall into arrear, the pensions or grants will be paid as follows:—

For the current year, in full.

First year's arrears, in full.

Second do., subject to a deduction of 10 per cent.

Third do., do. 20 do.

Fourth do., do. 30 do.

Fifth do., do. 40 do.

Provided that no deduction shall be made under this Rule from arrears of payments due (1) on account of village devasthan allowance not exceeding Rs. 5 per annum in amount, or (2) under compensation bonds.

The "current year" means the year within which payment is properly due under Rule 14.

10. Subject to the provisions of Rule 9, Collectors may authorize the payment of arrears due to a deceased person after such investigation as shall satisfy them:—

(a) of the actual date of such person's death, and

(b) that the applicant is entitled as such person's legal heir, or otherwise, to receive payment.

11. Any pension or grant for payment of which no application is duly made for more than six years, or in the case of Hardás Gosávis' allowances, two years, is to be struck off the books, and all arrears forfeited.*

*NOTE.—"A cash allowance payable to two persons A and B is disbursed to them in alternate years, so that if A receives payment of the whole allowance during 1882, B will be entitled to receive it during 1883, and so on.

"A not having presented himself before the Mámálatdár to demand the money payable when his turns came, it has remained unpaid for over six years. The other co-sharer B has however received payment of the allowance during the years in which it was payable to him according to the arrangement mentioned in the last paragraph.

Memorandum from the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs:—"It appears that the pension receivable by A and B in alternate years is one and the same pension. B has duly applied for

But if the pension or grant is held under a permanent or hereditary title, is may be re-admitted without payment of arrears if a claim thereto is duly preferred under section 5 of the Act within twelve years from the date of the last payment.

12. The date on which application for payment was made must be noted by the disbursing officer on all bills for arrears.

Date of applications for arrears to be noted.

III.—Under Section 14.

13. Pensions or grants will be paid at the following places, namely :—

Place of payment of pensions and grants.

(1) If payable on behalf of a religious institution, at the treasury of the district or taluka in which such institution is situated, when the amount of the pension or grant exceeds Rs. 5 per annum, or, whatever the amount, when there is no hereditary patel in the village in which such institution is situated, and through the patel of the village in which such institution is situated when the amount does not exceed Rs. 5 per annum and there is an officiating hereditary patel in such village.*

(2) If payable on behalf of a religious institution in foreign territory, at the nearest Government treasury.

(3) If the pension or grant is personal, at the treasury most convenient to the recipient.

Orders for permitting transfers of payment under the above clause (3) will be made by the Collectors if the transfer sought is from one treasury to another within the same Collectorate, by the Commissioners if the transfer sought is from a treasury in one Collectorate to a treasury in another Collectorate within the same division, and by Government in any other case.

and received the pension in the year in which he was entitled to payment and his applications should, I think, be held to have kept the title to the pension both of himself and of A alive. The terms of No. 11 of the rules under section 8 of the Pensions Act do not apply to the case any more than they would be applicable if A and B were one and the same individual, who for some reason of his own neglected to apply for payment in alternate years. Rule 9 is, I think, the only rule that can be fairly applied to the case." (G. R. No. 22, dated 3rd January 1883, R. D).

*Now, in cases where the allowances are paid to hereditary Patels a case requiring the operation of Rule XI of the Pension Rules is not likely to occur, as Government divest themselves of all responsibility as regards the allowances after they are once disbursed. But when there is no hereditary Patel in the village in which a religious institution is situated, the payment of any grant pertaining to it, whether it exceeds Rs. 5 or not, is to be made under the rules at the treasury of the district or taluka in which the village is situated. In such cases Rule XI of course applies, and under it any pension or grant, whatever be its amount, for payment of which no application is duly made for more than six years, should be struck off the books, and all arrear forfeited. (G. R. No. 3625, dated 5th May 1885, R. D.)

14. All pensions and grants shall be deemed to be due on the 1st May next after the completion of the year in respect of which they are payable, but shall ordinarily be payable only in the months respectively fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by or under the orders of Government for payment of pensions and grants of the various descriptions. But when payment in monthly or quarterly instalments has been directed by the Collector under Rule 8, payments will be made in accordance with such direction.

*15. Pensions and grants will be paid only to those persons whose names have been authorizedly entered in the records as the payees thereof, or to their duly empowered attorneys or mukhtyárs, or, if they are minors, to their administrators.

Except as is otherwise provided in Rule 23, payments will be made to an attorney, mukhtyár or administrator only, on his satisfying the disbursing officer by the production of a certificate, signed by a Magistrate or by some other well known person of respectability, that the payee was living on the last day of the year or other period for which the pension or grant is due.

16. In the case of pensions or grants which Government recognize as alienable, the name of the lawful holder for the time being shall, subject to the provisions of Rules 17 and 18, be entered in the records as payee.

But if any such pension or grant is continuable by Government only so long as the original grantee and certain of his descendants shall be in existence, and the payee has obtained a transfer of the same by sale, gift, mortgage, or the like, such payee must produce at the time of each payment a certificate from the Mámldár or Mahálkari of the táluka or mahál in which the original grantee or his descendants reside, or, if their residence be in foreign territory, of some British officer resident in the said territory, that such grantee or his said descendants (who should invariably be named) on whose behalf payment is claimed was or were alive on the last day of the year or other period for which such payment is due.

†17. Applications for mutation of payees' names in the records shall be received and disposed of by the Collectors.

*With regard to entries vide G. R. No. 176 of 8th January 1887, R. D., infra p. 304.

† In view of hardships brought to notice by the Controller of Military Accounts and of the provisions of the Pensions Act, 1871, His Excellency the Governor in Council approves of the adoption of the following rule, subject to the sanction of the Government of India, which will be requested with reference to Articles 495 and 496 of Army Regulations, India, Vol. I, Part II:—

In the case of a transfer of any pension or grant which Government recognize as alienable, such mutation may be made on obtaining the consent in writing of the existing payee without further inquiry.

In the case of alienations; and

In the case of the death of a payee, the Collector may require the production by the applicant of a certificate of heirship and of such other evidence as he deems fit.

in case of death of former payee.

But whenever there is any dispute between conflicting parties, and whenever the Collector doubts whether the pension or grant is any longer continuable, the application shall be regarded by him as a claim under section 5 of the Act, and shall be dealt with accordingly.

When application for mutation of names may be treated as a claim under section 5 of the Act.

Any mutation of names rendered necessary by the decision in any claim under section 5 of the Act (including applications of the nature specified in the last preceding paragraph of this Rule) may be made by the Collector without further investigation.

Mutation of names consequent upon decision of claims under section 5 of the Act.

18. As a rule, the name of one person only will be entered as payee of each separate entire pension or grant.

Whose name may be entered as payee.

In the case of two or more joint transferees of a pension or grant which Government recognize as alienable, they must elect which one's name shall be so entered, and in the event of their failing so to do within such period as shall be fixed by the Collector, the Collector shall enter the name of such one of them as he deems fit.

In the case of joint transferees; and

In the case of joint-heirs, the Collector will determine who is the eldest male representative of the senior surviving branch of the original

In the case of joint-heirs.

"The Pension Paymaster shall pay arrears of pension due to the estate of a deceased native pensioner to any person whose name may have been registered in his office by the deceased pensioner as the person entitled to such payment. Pensioners should be encouraged to make such registration during their lifetime.

"2. If no such registration has been made, the Pension Paymaster shall pay the arrears which shall be limited to three months except when proof is given of the exact date of the death of the pensioner to any person who shall produce a certificate from the Collector of the district, in which the deceased pensioner resided, declaring such person to be entitled to such payment.

"3. The Collector will grant such a certificate to such person as shall, upon enquiry, appear to him to be best entitled to receive payment, either as sole heir, or as principal representative of all the heirs. For example, if the pensioner has left a widow and sons, the certificate will be given to the eldest son, if of full age, or to the widow as guardian of the sons, if the sons are minors." (G. R. No. 3698 of 6th September 1886, Military Department, and G. R. No. 78 of 10th January 1887, Military Department.)

grantee's or of the transferee's family, or, in the absence of male heirs, who is the senior heiress, and enter his or her name as payee: Provided that at the request of the person thus entitled to be entered as payee, the name of any other member of the family may be substituted by the Collector for that of the said person during such person's life-time.

19. If any pension or grant has been hitherto entered in the records in the joint names of two or more persons, or, if any division of a pension or grant has been recognised, and the shares entered separately in the names of the respective co-sharers, such entries may hereafter be continued; but no such new entries shall be made in the records except with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, which shall be given only under very special circumstances.

But Collectors may, on written application, sanction sub-divisions of pensions or grants by disbursing officers at the time of payment by special written order in each case.

20. Whenever, in consequence of disagreements amongst joint-payees or for any other reason, their joint receipt shall not be obtainable for any payment already due, the Collector may authorize such payment to be made to any one or more of such joint payees who are willing to pass a receipt.

21. The persons recorded as the payees of pensions or grants, and the persons to whom any payment may be made under the last preceding Rule, are not necessarily entitled to appropriate the whole of such pensions, grants or payment to themselves, but are responsible for distributing the same to all co-sharers or sub-sharers in the proportions to which they are respectively entitled.

22. Except, as is otherwise provided in Rule 23, a descriptive roll in the form of Appendix A shall be kept by the disbursing officer of every payee entitled to receive payment of a pension or grant from him. A copy of such roll under the disbursing officer's signature shall be furnished to the payee for production by him at the time of each payment, which shall be noted therein in the manner shown in the form.

The person applying for payment must be identified by comparison with the particulars given in the descriptive roll, and the disbursing officer should take every precaution against fraudulent personation. When the payee can write, his signature should, at the time of payment, be compared with that in the descriptive roll in the disbursing officer's possession.

23. Descriptive rolls and life-certificates may be dispensed with in the case of natives of rank and pardah-posh ladies; but the disbursing officer will not on that account be exempt from the general responsibility which necessarily attaches to all payments.

Descriptive Rolls and life-certificates may be dispensed with in certain cases.

Descriptive rolls will not be necessary in the case of pensions or grants on account of native religious or charitable institutions which are paid to panchs or committees or to the village patels, nor in the case of payees of allowances which have been declared to be continuable hereditarily.

24. Each Commissioner will prepare under his signature lists in English and in the vernacular of all pensions and grants in each Collectorate in his Division and furnish printed copies thereof to the Mámlatdárs, the Collectors, their Assistants and Deputies, the Accountant General and to Government.

Printed lists to be kept of sanctioned pensions and grants.

Where such lists have already been prepared under the signature of the Alienation Settlement Officer, new ones need not be prepared.

25. A monthly statement of all proposed alterations in or additions to the said lists in consequence of decisions or orders passed during the preceding month affecting the same, shall be submitted by each Collector on such date as may be fixed for their submission in communication with the Accountant General to the Commissioner, Central Division, who shall cause the same to be promptly scrutinized in his office, and, after countersigning the same, shall cause duplicate thereof to be sent to the Accountant General with the orders of the Commissioner duly recorded thereon; and shall also direct that the lists in his own office and in the various offices in the Collectorate shall be corrected accordingly. The Accountant General shall also correct his lists in accordance with the duplicate copy of the statement so countersigned and forwarded to him.

Monthly Correction Statements to be submitted to the Commissioner, Central Division.

(G. N., No. 10347, B. G. G., 1885, Pt. I., p. 1430.)

No pension or grant shall be entered in, or struck out from, the accounts or the said lists, except with the previous sanction of the Commissioner.

26. Disbursing officers will, on the 1st of May of each year, or as soon after as possible, prepare ledgers (peta-khátewahis) agreeably to the táluka forms* Nos. 21 and 22 contained in Hope's Manual of Accounts, and will keep books in the táluka forms Nos. 11 and 12 contained in that Manual, and will be held responsible for the correctness of the entries in these ledgers and books and for their being properly filled in from time to time.

Accounts to be kept by disbursing officers.

* Nos. 23 and 24 in the revised edition.

27. Sanads in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council will be executed by the Collectors, as authorized in the Government of India's Resolution No. 684, dated 31st May 1878, Home Department (vide Government Resolution No. 3518, dated 14th June 1878, Judicial Department*), in favour of the payee or payees for the time being of every pension or grant in respect of which the issue of such sanads has been or may hereafter be sanctioned by Government. Such sanads will be issued once for all, and sanads already issued by Alienation Settlement Officers or by Collectors, or by any other officer authorized by Government in this behalf, shall be deemed to have been issued under this Rule.

The terms and conditions to be inserted in these sanads will be such as Government may from time to time authorize, or as may already have been so authorized.

28. Registers of these sanads will be kept by each Collector, and a general register by each Commissioner.

The said registers shall be open to public inspection during office hours, and extracts from the same shall be obtainable, subject to the same rules and to the payment of the same fees as apply to the case of registers of the documents mentioned in clause (d), section 90 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

29. Reference to the Civil Court under section 6 of the Act of any person claiming a right of succession to or participation in any pension or grant, or any other right relating to any pension or grant, shall be made in accordance with Rule 4 by the Collectors, granting to such person a certificate in the form of Appendix B. authorizing the Civil Court to try the case set forth in such person's claim.

Cash Alienation Lists.

All the work of examining and passing the monthly cash alteration lists should be done by the Commissioner, C. D., in the Alienation Branch of his office; and all Collectors should send their monthly cash alienation alteration statements to that office for approval and admission or orders. These will then be forwarded to the Account General. (G. R. No. 6967, 28th November 1885, R. D.)

ADDITIONAL ORDERS, AND OPINIONS.

Cash Allowance to Childless Widow.

A cash allowance continued to a childless widow "for life" must reasonably be held to refer only to such period as the widow remains unmarried after the decease of her first husband. The allowance is granted to her for her maintenance after his death, but when she re-marries, her maintenance devolves upon her second husband, and she has consequently no claim to an allowance from the State for the purpose. To avoid any possible doubt in any future cases which may arise when an allowance is given for the maintenance of a widow, it should be specified that such allowance is granted "for life or until re-marriage." (G. R. No. 9501, 26th December 1883, R. D.)

Entry of name of Posthumously Adopted Son, when right to adopt is recognised.

Memo. by L. R.:—A cash allowance stood in the name of Daryabai, widow of Jayavantrao Shitole Deshmukh. But in January 1882 the Commissioner, acting in accordance with the above resolution, directed that the name of Babaji Khanderao should be substituted for that of the widow, he being a collateral who, in the state of the family as it then existed, would succeed as nearest heir on the death of the widow.

Since then, however, the widow has made a lawful adoption from within the watan family. It is evident from the form of sanad issued to district hereditary officers in the Poona district, in confirmation of the service commutation settlement made with them by Mr. Gordon, that Government have recognized the right of succession in virtue of such adoptions and therefore that the widow's adoptive son has a preferential claim to the allowance over collaterals. Had the adoption taken place previous to Jayavantrao's death, the allowance would have been entered in the adoptive son's name in lieu of his without the least hesitation. A boy adopted by a widow has, according to Hindu law, precisely the same status as if he had been adopted during the widow's husband's life-time. I am of opinion therefore that the adoptive boy's right should be recognized by the Collector, and that his name should now be entered in the records in lieu of Babaji Khanderao's. (G. R. No. 10054 of 22nd December 1884, R. D.)

Rule 15.—Entry of Gordon Settlement Cash Allowances.

Letter from the Commissioner, S. D.:—

"With regard to hereditary district officers' watans brought under Gordon's settlement, Government in their Resolution No. 4659—65—Conf. of 30th June last ruled as follows:—

'Pending any further judicial decision, the practice of entering the name of the male heir of the original grantee should continue and there should be no active interference with any holder of the property as long as a male heir is in existence.'

"2. From this I understand that although the name of the male heir of the original grantee is to be entered, Government is not to interfere with the possession or enjoyment of the watan property by whomsoever it may be held so long as a male heir is in existence. Watan property includes cash allowances. It, therefore, follows that their payment to persons in enjoyment of them for a long period is not to be interfered with, notwithstanding the fact that they may be standing in the Government accounts in the name of the male heir. Under No. 15 of the Rules under the Pensions

Ratnagiri.—Varshasan.
1335 Ganesh Ramchandrabhat Thatté for Ramchandra Vasudev Thatte.

Bijapur.—Varshasan.

108 Bhimbhat bin Visvanathbhat (N.B.—Out of this sum of Rs. 57 a maintenance allowance of Rs. 24 per annum is to be paid to Kashibai, widow of Apabhat (eldest son of Bapubhat), during her life-time as per instructions from the Revenue Commissioner, S. D., No. 1688 of 24th October 1861).

Kolaba.—Allowances in lieu of inam land, Kaji Shabudin Falad Kaji Ibrahim, his mortgagee Bhikaji Ramohandra.

Act, however, these allowances are to be paid 'only to those persons whose names have been authorizedly entered in the records as the payees, thereof or to their duly empowered attorneys, &c., &c. The names of the actual holders not being entered in Government accounts there will be an account objection to payments being made to them. I, therefore, propose that the name of the actual holder be entered after that of the male heir as recipient of the allowance, e.g., Ramchandra Vithal, recipient Govind Vishvanath. Such entries already appear (vide margin) in the Cash Alienation Lists. It will of course be stated in the column of remarks that the allowance will be continued only so long as the male heir of the original grantee is in existence and at the time of every payment the production of the life certificate of the person in whose name the allowance stands will be insisted upon."

RESOLUTION.—The course proposed by the Commissioner, S. D., which is supported by the Commissioners, C. and N. Divisions, is approved and sanctioned. (G. R. No. 176 of 8th January 1887, R. D.)

Memo. by L. R.—“I do not think that Government can raise any objection to the attachment by the Civil Court of the allowance, which by the sanad is to be continued without objection or question on the part of Government as to the rights of any rightful holders thereof, whether such rights shall have accrued by inheritance, adoption, assignment or otherwise.

“2. The allowance is not protected from attachment by Section 11 of the Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871), for it is not a pension granted or continued by Government on political considerations on account of past services or present infirmities or as a compassionate allowance.” (G. R. No. 8644 of 24th October 1885, R. D.).

Devasthān Cash Allowance liable to attachment—No Certificate necessary to suit for—

Report by the Acting Remembrancer of Legal Affairs on the question whether a suit between the claimants to a devasthān cash allowance requires a certificate under the Pensions Act, and whether in the absence of such certificate execution can be withheld by the Collector.

2. The cases noted in the margin are authorities which appear to support the Subordinate Judge who decided the suit, in his view that the Pensions Act would not bar the suit. There has never, I think, been any decree precisely on the point in the Bombay High Court. But I think it very probable the question would in this Presidency be decided on the same grounds as in Madras.

3. Pensions and grants imply pensioners and grantees, personal recipients of the bounty of Government, and Government alone have a right to decide as to the distribution of that bounty.

4. But religious endowments are at least in theory impersonal, and are either for the support of some services deemed religious, or the maintenance of some building regarded as sacred. The object of the bounty is not a man at all, although the fund must necessarily be administered by some trustee or manager who no doubt practically exercises proprietary rights over it. Government have no particular interest in seeing that such trustee performs the duties of his trust. If he neglects them or wastes the funds, those interested might bring a suit under section 539, Civil Procedure Code, to compel performance, and the Courts might appoint some other trustee or manager, and Government would pay the cash allowance to the trustees so appointed.

5. Religious endowments are no doubt inalienable under Hindu Law and also, if they take the form of land, under Bombay II of 1863, section 8, clause 3.

6. But the restriction applies rather to the corpus than to the revenue, or management would be impossible. Alienation is perfectly justifiable within certain limits as to time, justifying necessity and provision for performance of the duties, and Government can hardly in the case of a Hindu religious endowment be in a position to dispute these points with the recipients, even if Government had any interest in doing so.

7. I must also note that in a very recent decision it has been held that the Pensions Act would not restrict the jurisdiction of the Courts to entertain suits relating to allowances for which Government are admittedly liable to some one or other. The Act is always construed strictly,* and according to the Allahabad High Court, even if the cash allowance were a pension, no certificate would be necessary to a suit between rival claimants thereto, if Government admitted that some one or other was entitled to it. In the case of a devasthān cash allowance, it would probably be held that it was neither a pension nor a grant within the meaning of sections 4, 5 and 6 of the Pensions Act, but an endowment. Government do not dispute their liability to pay the allowance. It seems to be utterly immaterial to Government who is the actual payee.

8. It could not for a moment be urged that section 11 of the Pensions Act would exempt the allowance in question from attachment. That section refers to pensions granted on political considerations on account of past services or present infirmities or as a compassionate allowance. It has no reference to any but personal grantees. (G. R. No. 7099 of 20th September 1889, R. D.)

Pensions Act: Rulings of the High Court on the—

Toda giras haks are within the scope of the Pensions Act, 1871, and a suit in respect of them must be brought under certificate required by section 6.

The word hak, “allowance” or “fee” is equivalent to the word “right” in section 3. (I. L. R. 1 Bom. 203).

Section 4.—Pensions Act applies to Suits between rival Claimants, not only to Suits against Government, but not to Lands.

Section 4 of the Act debars the Civil Court from taking cognizance of any suit relating to pension, &c., whether Government is a party to it or not, without a certificate. Section 6 enables the Revenue Officer to refer the parties to the Civil Court for the determination of their respective interests in the income or other benefit, which the executive will, however, still, as against either or both of the litigants, be at liberty to allow or to withhold.

Lands held free of assessment under a grant from Government, bestowing the land, not merely the revenue, are not within the scope of the Act. (I. L. R. 1 Bom. 75.)

Toda Giras Hak is not exempt from attachment.

A toda giras hak is not exempted from attachment under a decree of a Civil Court by Section 11 of the Pensions Act. The word pension in section 11 of the Pensions Act is used in its ordinary and well known sense, viz., that of a periodical allowance or stipend granted in this respect of any right, privilege, perquisite or office but on account of past service or particular merits, or as compensation to dethroned princes, their families and dependants. (I. L. R. 4 Bom. 432.)

Suit to recover Percentage on the Revenue.

A plaintiff alleging that as hereditary deshmukh of certain maháls he was entitled to be paid directly by the ryots of those maháls a percentage on the revenue thereon directly assessed, sued to recover a portion of such percentage which had been collected along with the revenue and retained by the Government. Held that the claim was "a suit relating to a grant of money or land revenue" and as such excluded from the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts by section 4 of the Pensions Act. (I. L. R. 2 Bom. 9, S. C. L. R. 4 I. A. 119.)

Pensions Act to be strictly construed.

Though sanadi grants in inám, saranjám, &c., are, generally speaking, alienations of land revenue and not grants of land, this is not invariably the case. The ownership in the soil passes if words are employed in the grant which expressly, or by necessary implication, indicate an intention of transfer of such ownership.

The Pensions Act, as an arbitrary enactment, should be construed strictly, and the words "grant of money or land revenue" do not include a grant of the proprietorship of the soil. (I. L. R. 1 Bom. 523.)

Political Pension probably Impartible; Certificate necessary for Suit for its partition.

A saranjám is ordinarily impartible, and, semble, a political pension granted in substitution of a resumed saranjám is so likewise. The Pensions Act prevents the Court declaring such a pension partible, unless the Collector should authorize it to do so; and the fact that the Collector authorizes a suit for maintenance out of such a pension affords no ground for presuming that he authorizes a suit for partition of the pension. (I. L. R. 2 Bom. 346.)

Suit for grant of Land Revenue.

A suit in a Civil Court by a hereditary deshmukh relating to a grant of land revenue is prohibited by the Pensions Act XXIII of 1871. (I. L. R. 6 Bom. 209.)

Section 4 applies to Toda Giras, and not merely to rights in nature of Pensions.

A suit against Government upon an alleged agreement by Government to pay money from its treasury in lieu of toda giras hak is prohibited by section 4 from being entertained, whatever may have been the consideration for such grant, or the nature of the payment, claim, or right for which such grant may have been substituted. Quere, whether Government is bound perpetually to collect toda giras for the girásíás, and whether specific performance of such a contract could be enforced. (I. L. R. 4 Bom. 437). This was affirmed on appeal. (I. L. R. 5 Bom. 408, P. C.). There is no reason, either in the language of the Act itself or in any antecedent legislation, for construing section 4 as applicable only to rights in the nature of pensions. (S. C. L. R. 8, I. A. 77).

Jághírs generally within the Pensions Act.

A grant in jághír or saranjám is very rarely grant of the soil. As a general rule they are grants of land revenue only to which the Pensions Act is applicable (vide page 231 of Printed Judgments of 1882, and also Appendix A of Part VI of this Compilation.)

Rules under the Act not retrospective.

No. 16 of rules under the Pensions Act does not apply to rights acquired to pensions before the Act came into force, as there is nothing to show that the legislature intended it to have retrospective effect. Lalbhái Sambhulá, B. H. C. P. J., p. 202 for 1889 per Scott and Jardine, J.J.

Suit requiring Certificate, if brought without one, is without jurisdiction.

When the mortgagee of a desaigiri hak, without obtaining the Collector's certificate under section 6 of Act XXIII of 1871, sued the representative of the mortgagor to enforce the mortgage-debt by a sale of the hak, and obtained a decree without jurisdiction: Held that the proceedings in the suit were without jurisdiction, and that the decree could not constitute the basis of any title or estop the representative from suing for a declaration of his right to the hak as a life-holder as against the purchaser at the auction sale held in execution of the decree. (L. L. R. 9 Bom. 285).

Inámdár's claim to Ábkári Taxes is barred by the Pensions Act.

An Inámdár, relying on a grant by the Peshwa's Government of the villages with water trees, grass, wood, quarries, mines, buried treasure, present and future cesses and taxes and assessments, contended that the revenue derived by Government from the licenses granted for tapping trees in the village was a tax within the contemplation of the grant: Held that the case falls under the Pensions Act XXIII of 1871 and the Court is therefore ousted of its jurisdiction. ## PART X.

RULES BY THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA TO REGULATE THE SUPPLY AND SALE OF STAMPS OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

(Notn. No. 5422, B. G. G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 644, re publishing G. of I. Notn. No. 1596 of 28th June 1886.)

The following rules laid down by the Government of India to regulate the custody, supply and sale of stamps of all descriptions, viz., General stamps used to denote the duties payable under the Indian Stamp Act, No. I of 1879; Court-fee stamps used to denote the fees payable under the Court Fees Act, No. VII of 1870; Telegraph stamps and Postage stamps, are published for general information. Those portions of the rules which apply to General and Court-fee stamps are adopted and issued by His Excellency the Governor in Council under the authority conferred on him by section 55 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, and section 27 of the Indian Court Fees Act, 1870, respectively :—

CENTRAL DEPÔTS.

1. There shall be three central depôts for stamps of all descriptions in charge of the Superintendents of Stamps at Madras, Bombay and Calcutta respectively. These central depôts shall maintain a stock of stamps sufficient for two years' consumption. The Superintendents of Stamps in Madras and Bombay shall, for this purpose, forward, not later than the last week in September in each year, indents for the supply of the various descriptions of stamps required in the following year for the territories dependent on them for the supply of stamps to the Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta.

* * * * *

3. Stamps for the Presidency of Bombay, including Sind, the Berars, the Central Provinces, and local depôts subordinate to Bombay, shall be supplied from the central depôt, Bombay, on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

* * * * *

5. The Superintendent of Stamps, Bombay, on receiving an indent from a local depôt, shall have the indent examined to ascertain that the indent is such as to insure the local depôt having a proper supply, and may comply with the indents in full or in part, as he thinks fit. If he thinks that the indent should be increased, he should request the officer who submitted the indent to submit a supplementary indent. The Superintendent of Stamps should also, if the monthly statements of transactions (Rule 33) show that the balance of any kind of stamp in any local depôt is falling too low, call the attention of the officer in charge to the fact. The Presidency Post Offices of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay may indent for supplies of the central depôts.

LOCAL DEPÔTS.

6. Every treasury throughout India, including those attached to political and salt agencies, shall be a local depôt for the custody and sale of stamps of all descriptions. Local Governments may establish local depôts at places where there is no Treasury.

7. Each local depôt shall, unless the Local Government otherwise directs, maintain a supply of stamps equal to the probable consumption of five months. Local Governments may direct that the supply to be maintained either generally or in respect of any particular kind of stamp or in certain local depôts shall be equal to the probable consumption of such other period as they deem expedient.

8. As soon as the number of stamps in the local depôt falls below the number issued from the depôt in the preceding six months, the officer in charge of the depôt shall prepare an indent for a supply equal to the probable consumption of three months. The indent shall show in separate columns for each denomination of stamp of which a supply is required the total of the balance in the local depôt and any branch* depôts subordinate to it, the quantity sold in the preceding six months and the quantity indented for, which should be approximately one-half of the quantity sold in the preceding six months. The periods of 'six months' and 'three months' of this rule may, like that of five months in Rule 7, be altered by Local Governments to such other periods as they may deem expedient. This indent will be forwarded direct to the Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay or Calcutta, as the case may be; but the Local Government of any province may direct that the indents shall be forwarded through any other officer, such as the Superintendent of Stamps of the province, or that a copy of the indent shall be forwarded to such officer.

9. If the supply of stamps in any local depôt should run short before the receipt of the supply from the central depôt, the officer in charge of the local depôt should indent for a supply from a neighbouring depôt, sending a copy of the indent to the Superintendent or Commissioner of Stamps of the province, or such other officer as the

* For branch depôts the figures of the latest periodical return received at the local depôt showing details of stamp balances may be used for the purpose of calculating the total required for entry in each column.

Local Government may direct. It is the duty of the Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay or Calcutta, to report to the Local Government (or such authority as the Local Government may direct), in the case of general and Court-fee stamps, * * * any case in which it may come to his knowledge that the stock of stamps in any local depôt of any description has fallen below the prescribed amount.

10. As soon as possible after the arrival of a supply of stamps from the central depôt or from another local depôt, the officer in charge of the local depôt shall have the boxes or packets opened in his presence, and the contents of each box or packet counted either by himself or in his presence immediately on being opened. The number of stamps received shall be compared by the officer in charge with the number in the invoice, and a receipt shall be sent as soon as possible to the officer who despatched the stamps.

11. Local Governments may issue such orders as may be thought necessary regarding the detailed counting of stamps received in a local depôt, and as to the descriptions of stamps which the officer in charge must count with his own hands. Such orders may include instructions that a certain percentage only of sealed packets marked as containing a certain number of stamps need be opened and counted at the time of receipt, and the remainder, if the percentage opened are all found correct, left with seals unbroken to be counted as they are required on being given out from double lock. The officer in charge is responsible for observing any such instructions, and for satisfying himself as to the number of stamps received before signing the receipt.

12. If any of the stamps received are found to be unfit for issue, they should be at once returned to the Superintendent of Stamps. Stamps which are through any accident rendered unfit for issue at any time after receipt should be similarly returned to the Superintendent as soon as their unfitness is discovered. The necessary entries on account of stamps so returned should be made in the monthly statement (Rule 33), and in the plus and minus memoranda (Rule 35).

13. Immediately after the stamps received have been counted, they shall be placed in proper receptacles in the store under double lock, arranged in parcels or packets containing known quantities, the amount of each denomination being entered in a register maintained to show the receipts and issues to and from the store under double lock.

14. The treasurer, or such other officer as the Local Government may direct, shall be the ex-officio vendor of all descriptions of stamps in each local depôt. Sales to the public or to licensed vendors shall not be made direct from the stores under double lock, such sales being made by the ex-officio vendor from the supply entrusted to him for this purpose to be kept by him under single lock, as prescribed in the following rules.

15. The stock to be made over to the ex-officio vendor to be kept by him under single lock should ordinarily be sufficient for the probable demand of one month. On a fixed date near the beginning of each month the ex-officio vendor shall prepare an indent for the quantity required for the month in a form showing the balance in his hands, an average month's consumption, and the quantity required. When this indent is approved by the officer in charge, who should examine the balance under single lock, and ascertain that the quantities shown agree with the quantities shown in the indent, he shall give out the quantity required from the store under double lock. The same procedure shall be followed if any stamps should be required at any intermediate date. Local Governments may reduce the period of one month mentioned in this rule to one week or any other period less than  $\frac{1}{2}$  month, if they consider this desirable with reference to the amount of the treasurer's security or for any other reason.

16. From the stock so made over to his charge and kept by him under single lock, the ex-officio vendor shall sell stamps to the public and to licensed vendors for cash. He shall keep in such language as the Local Government may direct an account of the daily sales for each of the four descriptions of stamps in a form showing for each denomination the balance in his hand at the beginning of the day, the quantity sold during the day, and the balance in his hand at the end of the day. He shall pay daily into the treasury the cash received by him for stamps sold, the amount realized on account of each of the four descriptions of stamps—namely, General, Court-fees, Postage and Telegraph—being paid in separately. The account of daily sales should be inspected every day by the officer in charge of the depôt.

17. The rules regulating the grant of discount and the grant of licenses to licensed vendors for the sale of General and Court-fee stamps vary in different provinces, and are prescribed by Local Governments, subject to the general rule that no change in the rates of discount shall be made without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council.

18. Local Governments may direct that the sales to the public of General and Court-fee stamps by ex-officio vendors shall be limited to stamps of a value higher than a named amount, the sale to the public of stamps of lower value being left to licensed vendors.*

23. The officer in charge of every post office, receiving office, tahsil, thána, and police-station at which letters are received for despatch, and every person licensed under the rules framed under the Stamp Act, 1879, to sell General stamps, are required to keep a supply of ordinary postage stamps for sale to the public sufficient for the probable demands of one week. To such persons ordinary postage stamps, except soldiers' envelopes, are sold from local depôts for cash on the same conditions as to quantity as those prescribed in the preceding rule; and on such sales discount at the rate of quarter of an anna in the rupee is allowed.

23 A. The officers in charge of post offices, receiving offices, tahsils, thánas and police stations at which letters are received for despatch, are also required to keep a supply of one-anna revenue stamps for sale to the public. To such officers one anna revenue stamps are sold from local depôts on the same conditions as to quantity as those prescribed in Rule 22. On such sales discount at the rate of one-half anna in the rupee is allowed.

"RESOLUTION.—With a view to make one-anna Revenue or Receipt Stamps as widely available to the public as possible, the Governor General in Council directs that the Post Office as a Department shall undertake the sale of such stamps in the same way as postage stamps and prescribes the following rules on the subject:—

- (1) Officers in charge of Post Offices and other postal officers who are required to keep a supply of ordinary postage stamps for sale to the public under Rule 23 of the Rules issued by Resolution No. 1596, dated 28th June 1886, are required also to keep a supply of one-anna revenue stamps for sale to the public.
- (2) Those officers shall obtain supplies of, sell and account for, the one-anna revenue stamps in the same manner and subject to the same conditions (except as to the rate of discount) as ordinary postage stamps.
- (3) The rate of discount on purchases by these officers of one-anna revenue stamps shall be one-half anna in the rupee."

(Notn. No. 5721, B. G. G., 1886, Pt. I, p. 666, republishing G. of I. Notn. 2036 of 27th July 1886.) (G. R. No. 5989, 21st Aug. 1886, R. D., republishing G. of I. Resolution, F. & G. Department, No. 2035, 27th July 1886.)

BRANCH DEPÔTS.

26. Every subordinate, branch, or tahsil treasury shall be a branch depôt for the sale of stamps of all descriptions.

27. The sub-treasurer, or such other officer as the Local Government may direct, shall be the ex-officio vendor of stamps at a branch depôt.

28. The officer in charge of the branch depôt shall obtain his supplies from the local depôt to which the branch depôt is subordinate in the same manner as the ex-officio vendor at the local depôt obtains his supplies, except that the indent and the stamps must be sent by post or messenger to and from the local depôt; and that the examination of the balance in hand and the comparison of the amounts shown with those shown in the indent shall be done by the officer in charge of the branch depôt.

The ex-officio vendor shall obtain his supplies from the officer in charge of the branch depôt in the same manner as the ex-officio vendor at the local depôt obtains his supplies from the officer in charge.

29. The supply to be kept in a branch depôt should be equal to the probable demand for three months; but Local Governments may direct that the supply shall be equal to the demand of any other period instead of three months which they may consider expedient. The stock should be kept up to this amount by indenting and obtaining supplies from the local depôt from time to time as may be necessary.

30. Local Governments shall fix the period a supply sufficient for which shall be kept under single lock by the ex-officio vendor, and the remainder of the stamps in the branch depôt shall be kept under double lock of the officer in charge of the branch depôt and of the ex-officio vendor, and given out to single lock as required.

31. Sales from branch depôts will be made subject to the same rules as those from local depôts.

RETURNS TO AND BY THE SUPERINTENDENT OF STAMPS AND ACCOUNTANTS GENERAL.

32. On the last open day of September and March each year, the officer in charge of each local depôt will count, or have counted in his presence, the stamps in the depôt, both those under double lock and those under single lock, and will require the officers in charge of the branch depôts subordinate to him similarly to count the stamps in the branch depôt. He will attach to the monthly statements for September and March rendered to the Superintendents of Stamps, Madras, Bombay or Calcutta, a certificate in the following form:—

“I do hereby certify that I have personally examined and counted, or had counted in my presence, the stamps of all descriptions in store in this local depôt on the <sup>September</sup> 18 <sub>March</sub> and found the value of each description to be as stated in the margin.* Also that I have received certificates from the officers in charge of the subordinate branch depôts that they have similarly counted the stamps in the branch depôts on the last day of the month of <sup>September</sup> <sub>March</sub> of which the accounts are incorporated in the Head Treasury accounts, and that these certificates show the value of each description of stamps to be as stated in the margin.†

The total values of stamps in this depôt and the branch depôts, as found by the above certified examination, are therefore—which amounts agree with the balances shown in the monthly statement for <sup>September</sup> <sub>March</sub> to which this certificate is attached. If there is any difference, add with the exception of the following differences:—

..... the explanation of which is as follows:—

33. Monthly statements showing the receipts and issues of each local depôt, including the transactions of the subordinate branch depôts, shall be prepared by the officer in charge of the local depôt and forwarded in the first week of the succeeding month to the Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay or Calcutta, separate statements being prepared for General stamps, Court-fee stamps, Telegraph stamps, and Postage stamps.

These statements shall show for each denomination of stamp the values of the balance in hand at the beginning of each month, of the quantities received from the Superintendent of Stamps or other officer during the month, of the quantity sold during the month, and of the balance in hand at the end of the month. These statements may be forwarded to the Superintendents of Stamps, Madras, Bombay or Calcutta, either direct; or, if the Local Government so order, through any officer named by the Local Government.

34. These statements shall be checked by the Superintendents of Stamps by comparison with previous statements and the accounts of the central depôt, and shall be used by them to check indents and to watch the balances in the local depôts.

35. Treasury Officers and other officers in charge of local depôts shall forward to the Accountant General or Comptroller such returns of the receipts and sales of stamps as the Comptroller General may direct, in the form of plus and minus memoranda or otherwise.

36. The Superintendents of Stamps, Madras, Bombay and Calcutta, shall send to the Accountant General or Comptroller such accounts of the transactions of the central and local depôts as the Comptroller General may prescribe.

37. They shall also every six months intimate to the Accountant General or Comptroller for comparison with the amounts shown in the returns received from Treasuries and other local depôts under Rule 35, the receipt of the certificates prescribed in Rule 32, and the amount of stock certified to be in balance in each local depôt.

(Notn. No. 1949, B. G. G., 1887, Pt. I., p. 272.)

* Stamps for copies are included under Court-fee stamps.

38. The Comptroller General shall prescribe such rules as he considers necessary for the disposal of the accounts mentioned in the foregoing rules, and for the check of the receipts, issues and sales.

39. The Local Governments of Madras, Bombay and Bengal shall arrange for a periodical verification by counting of the stock of stamps in the respective central depôts. The verification shall be carried out in the manner and form to be prescribed by the Comptroller General, to whom the result will be reported.

40. The Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay and Calcutta, shall forward every month to the Director General of the Post Office, statements showing the balances and receipts in the central depôt, and the issues to each local depôt of Postage stamps during the month. They shall also send monthly to the Comptroller of the Post Office a statement of the sales during the past month of the several denominations of Postage stamps in the local and branch depôts subordinate to them. The Accountant General or Comptroller will, with his monthly account current with the Examiner of Telegraph Accounts, forward a statement showing the total realisations at each Treasury from the sales of Telegraph stamps during the month.

(b) Adhesive Stamps sold to the public for use by them in accordance with these rules.

CHAPTER II.—Of Impressed Sheets.

4. (a) Hundís other than hundís which can be stamped with an adhesive stamp under section 10 of the said Act shall be written as follows :

(1) Hundís payable otherwise than on demand, but not more than one year after date or sight, and for amounts not exceeding Rs. 30,000 in individual value, on impressed sheets bearing the word Hundí;

* Republished at pages 195 to 197, 1048, 246, 1229-30, 92, 549, 886 and 887, 1144 and 1330 of Part I of the Bombay Government Gazette dated respectively the 16th March 1882, 7th December 1882, 22nd March 1883, 22nd October 1885, 4th February 1886, 1st July 1886, 3rd November 1887, 20th November 1890, and 25th December 1890.

(b) When a single sheet (other than an impressed sheet bearing the word 'Hundi') is found insufficient to admit of the entire instrument being written on the side of the paper which bears the stamp, so much plain paper may be subjoined thereto as may be necessary for the complete writing of such instrument; provided that in every such case the side of the sheet which bears the stamp must be covered by a substantial part of the instrument before any part of the latter can be written on the plain paper joined to such sheet.

(c) When any instrument of transfer of shares in a company or association is written on an impressed sheet, and the value impressed thereon is subsequently (in consequence of a rise in the market value of such shares) found to fall short of the amount of duty chargeable under article 60 (a), schedule I of the Act, one or more adhesive 'Share Transfer Stamps' hereinafter mentioned may be used to make up the required amount.

8. The duty payable on any instrument chargeable with a duty of one anna may be denoted by a coloured impression marked on a skeleton form of

RULES BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL UNDER SECTION 55.

The following Rules made by the Government of Bombay under section 55 of the Indian Stamp Act, No. I of 1879, are published for general information:—

1. For the purposes of these Rules stamps are divided into three classes:—

Class I., Impressed stamps—that is to say, sheets of paper bearing the impression of stamps of different values engraved thereon and sold to the public for use by them in accordance with the Rules published in the Bombay Government Gazette under Government Notifications† No. 1251 dated 2nd March 1881 (republishing Government of India's Notification No. 875 dated the 26th February 1881), and No. 3300 dated the 8th June 1881 (republishing Government of India's Notification No. 966 dated 4th idem), and Hundi stamps, that is, papers supplied for sale by the Government, and to which stamped labels have been affixed by one of the officers mentioned in Rule 7, clause (b) of the

(G. N. No. 5311, B. G. G., 1881, Pt. I., pp. 505 to 507.)

NOTE.—A lease, for one year certain, containing an expression on the tenant's part of readiness to hold the land longer at the same rent if the landlord should desire it, is a lease for a term not exceeding one year. (I. L. R., 2 Bom., 21).

2. There is nothing in the law to vitiate an instrument partly written on the reverse side of an impressed stamp paper. Section 12 of the Stamp Act, however, requires the stamp to appear on the face of the instrument, so that it is necessary that part of the instrument should be written on the side of the paper which bears the stamp impression. Bombay Government Gazette of 9th March 1891, p. 123.)

3. The whole consideration in respect of which a judicial sale is liable to duty (when the sale is made subject to a mortgage lien) is the sum of the purchase-money and the principal money (but not the interest due at the time of the sale on such mortgage. (I. L. R., 5. Bom., 470.)

*The Collector may delegate the inquiry to a Mámaldár or Mahálkari, provided he passes final order himself. Memo. of Legal Remembrancer. (G. R. 211 of 14th January 1880.)

†These notifications were superseded by the Government of India's Notification 1288 of 3rd March 1882, which, in its turn, has been superseded by the Government of India's Notification No. 2170 of 22nd May 1891. Vide supra p. 314.

above-mentioned Rules, and defaced by him in manner provided by Rule 8.

Class II., Adhesive stamps*—that is, stamps sold to the public for use by them in the case of instruments mentioned in section X. of the said Act.

Class III., Impressed labels—that is, stamps affixed only by Government officers in the manner prescribed in the above-mentioned Notifications.

2. Stamps in Class I. shall be sold by ex-officio and licensed vendors in accordance with these rules.

(Notn No. 1080, B. G. G., 1884, p. 169.)

8. Stamps in Class II. shall be sold as follows:—
India Revenue, Foreign Bill and Share Transfer Stamps—By ex-officio and licensed vendors.

Samps for Notarial acts—By ex-officio vendors only.

4. Such officers as Government may appoint shall be ex-officio vendors, who shall sell such stamps as they may be directed. The Treasurer of each Local Treasury shall be an ex-officio vendor of stamps.

5. In the Presidency Town there shall be two ex-officio vendors of stamps who shall be members of the establishment of the Superintendent of Stamps. The duties of one of these ex-officio vendors shall be confined to the sale of stamps of Class I. The second ex-officio vendor shall sell stamps of Class II.

(Notn. No. 385, B. G. G., 1883, Pt. I., p. 60.)

6. Such persons as may be licensed by the Collector or other officer empowered by Government to grant licenses shall be licensed vendors, who shall sell such stamps and of such values as may be indicated in their licenses and no others.

NOTE.—Whenever it is deemed necessary that a license should be granted for the sale of any general stamp of the value of Rs. 50 and upwards for the convenience of the public which cannot be otherwise attended to, the sanction of Government should be obtained.

7. Every license granted under the last Rule shall be in the following form:—

To vendors licensed at other places ... .. „ 5 do.

To the public—

No discount shall be granted on the sale of adhesive stamps to the public.

(Notn. No. 8971, B. G. G., 1885, Pt. I, p. 1282.)

NOTE.—Licensed vendors will not be allowed any discount on the purchase of any general stamp, of which the value is more than Rs. 50.

10. Licensed vendors shall ordinarily be required to pay ready money for all stamps supplied to them. But stamps of Class I may be issued on credit at such places as may be specially sanctioned by Government: Provided that the vendors give sufficient security to cover the value of stamps issued to them and that the discount allowed on the sale of such stamps shall in no case exceed two per centum.

11. Every licensed vendor shall at all times have stuck up in a conspicuous station, outside his place of vend, a sign-board bearing, in English and in the vernacular language of the district, his name and the words “Licensed Vendor of Stamps.” He shall also have in his place of vend, placed so that they can readily be seen and read by purchasers, a copy of the Indian Stamp Act and of its schedules, and a copy of these rules in English and the said vernacular, with copies of all Notifications of the Governor General in Council modifying or in any way amending the schedule of stamp rates.

* 12. Every ex-officio or licensed vendor shall with his own hand write on the back of every stamp of Class I which he sells a serial number, the date of sale, the name and residence of the purchaser (i.e., of the person for whom the stamp is bought), and the value of the stamp in full in words and his own ordinary signature ; at the same time he shall make corresponding entries in a register to be kept by him in the following form :—

Date.	Serial Number.	Description of Stamps.	Value of Stamps.	Name of Purchaser.	Residence of Purchaser.

No vendor shall knowingly make a false endorsement on the stamp sold or a false entry in his register.

(G. N. No. 7180, B. G. G., 1889, Pt. I, p. 822.)

12A. Provided that whenever at the General Stamp Office, Bombay, a demand for more than one hundred impressed stamps or hundi stamps of any one description and value is made on one and the same day by one and the same purchaser, the date of sale, the name and residence of such purchaser, and the value of each such stamp may, instead of being written by the ex-officio stamp vendor, be printed on each such stamp.

(Nctn. No. 4969, B. G. G., 1891, Pt. I, p. 616.)

13 (a). Whenever application is made to a stamp-vendor for an impressed stamp of a specified value not exceeding the highest value which such stamp-vendor is authorized to sell, he shall, if he is able, furnish a single stamp of the required value.

(b). If the stamp-vendor is unable to furnish a single impressed stamp of the required value, he shall supply to the purchaser the smallest number of impressed stamps which he can furnish so as to make up the required value, and shall give to the purchaser a certificate signed by himself that he is unable to furnish a single stamp of the required value and that the stamps with which he supplies the purchaser, which he shall specify in the certificate,

* The writing of the name of the purchaser and other particulars on the back of stamp is required in the case of impressed stamps by the Rules for the sale of stamps. The rules go no further than to require these endorsements to be made by the stamp vendors, and there is no provision of the Acts or of any rule made under them that a stamp so endorsed may only be used by or on behalf of the person whose name is so endorsed. The purpose of the rules requiring the endorsement seems to be merely the provision of a means of ascertaining when, where, and by whom a stamp has been purchased. But there is nothing to prevent an impressed stamp purchased by one person being used by some other person.

2. As regards Court-fee adhesive stamps, there is not even a rule to require "the name of the purchaser, the date of sale and the signature of the vendor" to be written in the blank space left for them. Government Resolution No. 3780 of 16th May 1883, Revenue Department, is the only authority for the practice. Act XVIII of 1869 having been wholly repealed by Act I of 1879, there is no law under which rules for the sale of Court-fee stamps can now be framed (vide section 34 of Act VII of 1870). Government may, of course, issue executive orders as in the abovementioned Resolution, but such orders have not the force of law.

3. I am of opinion, therefore, that adhesive Court-fee stamps as well as impressed stamps used under the General Stamp Act or the Court-fees Act can legally be used by persons other than those whose names they bear as purchasers. Memo. by Legal Remembrancer. (G. R. No. 7199, 9th September 1884, R. D.).

are the smallest number which he can furnish so as to make up the required value.

14. Nothing in the last preceding rule shall be deemed to authorize a stamp-vendor to give a certificate as aforesaid when the value of the stamp required exceeds the highest value which he is authorized to sell or to furnish a purchaser with two or more impressed stamps in order to make up any such value.

15. Every licensed vendor shall, without delay, deliver any stamp which he has in his possession for sale on demand by any person tendering the value in any currency which would be accepted on behalf of Government by the Collector of the district. A license vendor shall not demand or accept for any stamp any consideration exceeding the value of such stamp.

16. No vendor shall sell any stamps the use of which has been ordered by competent authority to be discontinued.

17. Except at the Presidency Town, the accounts to be kept and rendered by licensed vendors shall be in accordance with the forms prescribed in Hope's Manual of Revenue Accounts or by Government.

18. At the Presidency Town each licensed vendor shall keep a book, showing in detail the supplies purchased from the Stamp Office and the daily sale. At the close of each month he shall submit to the Superintendent of Stamps a statement in the form of Appendix A.

19. Licensed vendors must give security for the due performance of their duties. The security bond to be taken from them shall be in the form of Appendix B. The amount of the security shall be fixed in each case by the Collector or other authority who gives the license, but as stamps will ordinarily only be supplied to the licensees on payment of ready money, it need not be large.

20. No licensed vendor shall at any time offer any objection or resistance to the inspection of his register or the examination of the store of stamps in his possession by any officer duly authorized by the Collector or by Government to make such inspection or examination.

21. Every licensed vendor shall, at any time, on the demand of the Collector or other officer duly authorized by Government, deliver up all stamps of Class I remaining in his possession: Provided that, if such stamps have been paid for, he shall be entitled to receive back the value thereof, less any discount which he may have been allowed.

22. If a licensed vendor shall at any time desire to discontinue his business, he shall be entitled, on delivering up his license and all unsold stamps remaining in his possession, to receive back the value of such stamps, if they have been paid for, less any discount which he may have been allowed.

ADDITIONAL ORDERS, RULINGS, &c.

Refund and renewal of spoiled and useless Stamps.

Under Chapter VI. of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, provision is made for the renewal or refund of the value of stamps spoiled or rendered useless, or which for any reason are not required by the possessor, on the condition that the application for such renewal or refund shall be made within six months from the date on which the stamp was spoiled, or on which it was rendered useless, or on which it was purchased.

Instances have occurred in which this limit has operated as a serious hardship. Without any fraudulent motive, holders of spoiled or useless stamps are sometimes unavoidably prevented from applying for refund or renewal within the prescribed period, and so cannot, under the provisions of the Act, obtain any relief. In such cases an order of the Government of India is now necessary before refund can be sanctioned. For the future the Governor General in Council authorises Local Governments to allow refunds or renewals of spoiled or useless stamps, or the repurchase of stamps not required, provided that application for renewal or refund be made within one year from the date of purchase of the stamp, or one year from date on which the stamp has been spoilt or rendered useless. (G. R. 601 of 28th January 1881.)

The sanction of the Local Government should be obtained in each case. (G. R. 1472 of 11th March 1881.)

Rules as to sale by District Officers of Court-fee and Revenue Stamps while moving in the Districts on their annual tours.

I. Revenue officers* shall be supplied with Court-fee and Revenue stamps from the Treasury, before proceeding on tour, for sale to bonâ fide petitioners in places where such stamps are not readily procurable.

II. The Court-fee stamps shall consist of the two denominations of one and eight annas and the Revenue Stamps of one denomination of one anna each.

III. The stamps so issued should be considered as a portion of the stock of the Treasury ("Depôt" or "Branch Depôt") from which they are taken and should be represented there by the receipt of the Revenue Officer until duly returned or accounted for.

IV. As often as possible during the tour fresh stamps should be purchased from the most convenient "Depôt" or "Branch Depôt" in lieu of those sold, and on returning to the station, the head of the office should account for the stamps issued to him and get back his receipt.

V. The karkûn entrusted with the duty of selling stamps should be allowed, in addition to his pay, a commission at the sanctioned rate on the realizations for his trouble and responsibility in the matter. (G. R. 6376, 9th September 1886, R. D.)

* The term Revenue officers in the above rules is to be held to include all Revenue officers who have to receive stamped petitions while on tour. This includes Mamlatdars in the N., C. and S. Divisions and Muktiarkars in Sind. (G. R. 8372, 27th November 1886, R. D., and G. R. 8607, 7th December 1886, R. D.) District Officers are allowed to sell when on tour Revenue stamped papers of four and eight annas in places where stamps are not readily procurable. (G. R. 9024, 24th December 1886, R. D.)

Sale of stamps by a person not authorized to sell them.

One Sobharam Trambakji was convicted by the Second Class Magistrate of Dohád of selling a stamp without authority to do so under Section 68 of Act I. of 1879, and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 15 or in default to suffer one month's rigorous imprisonment; the case was under Section 438 of the Criminal Procedure Code referred to the High Court, which passed the following order:—

“As the accused is not a person appointed to sell stamps and has sold a stamp the conviction under Section 68 of Act I. of 1879 seems quite legal;” (G. R. 1125, 19th February 1887, R. D.)

High Court Rulings on various Sections of the Act.

Section 3 (4) Bond.—An attested instrument reciting that an account was made up of principal and interest due on a former bond executed by the same obligor, and that a certain sum was found due at the date of the instrument, the obligor promising to pay interest at a certain rate on the sum thus found due and to pay the principal on demand. Held a bond within the definition in I. of 1879, requiring to be stamped accordingly (I. L. R., 8 B., 297).

Agreement to repay Loan of Grain.—An attested instrument in which the obligor states that he borrowed a certain quantity of grain from the obligee and agreed to repay it at a future time in greater quantity is a bond within section 3 (4) (b) of I. of 1879 although the instrument is silent as to the money value of the grain. When the value of such instrument was ascertained to be less than Rs. 10, it was held properly stamped as a bond with a stamp of 2 annas (I. L. R., 7 B., 137).

Sixteen persons borrowed a quantity of rice and executed a bond for the debt showing how much had been borrowed by each. They did not bind themselves to repay jointly and severally. Held that the instrument should be regarded as comprising sixteen distinct contracts, so as to fall within the purview of Section 7 of I. of 1879 and should be stamped accordingly (I. L. R., 10 B., 47).

Surety's contract added after Principal's.

Section 7.—A bond in which the contract of the principal was written first, and after his signature followed the contract of the surety signed by the latter, was held not open to objection under Sections 7, 13 and 14 of Act I. of 1879 (I. L. R., 5 B., 188).

Stipulations to repay Mortgagor for protecting title.

A mortgage does not require additional stamp duty on account of stipulations to repay the mortgagor costs incurred in protecting the title (I. L. R., 9 B., 435).

Section 12.—For the meaning of the words “on the face of the instrument” vide I. L. R., 5 B., 188.

Section 7 and Schedule I, Article 54.—In one and the same instrument two brothers relinquished their rights to certain property in favour of a third brother who undertook to discharge certain debts and pay them an annuity. Held that the instrument was a release only under Article 54. (I. L. R., 9 B., 417.)

Section 24 and Schedule I, Articles 16 and 21.—If property is sold at a Court auction subject to a mortgage and the amount of the mortgage is set out in the certificate of sale, the stamp duty must be calculated (under section 24 and Articles 16 and 21 of Schedule I) on the amount of the purchase money paid at the sale plus the principal (not the interest) set forth in the certificate as due on the mortgage. It is otherwise if the mortgage is only recited in the proclamation of sale and not expressly set out in the certificate of sale.

Arrears of interest due on the mortgage in such case must under Section 23 be excluded in calculating the stamp duty (I. L. R., 5 B., 470).

Certificates to eight persons of property sold subject to one mortgage.

Where immovable property was sold at a Court-sale in eight lots to different persons subject to one mortgage, the whole of the principal due on the mortgage and not a proportionate amount plus the price paid for each lot at the auction sale was to be regarded in calculating the ad valorem stamp duty as the consideration for each purchase on which a separate sale certificate was obtained (I. L. R., 10 B., 58).

Section 34.—The question for the Court is whether a document when tendered in evidence bears the proper stamp on it. The Court need not and cannot go into the question as to when the stamp was affixed (I. L. R., 12 B., 208; 24, W. R., 198).

Sections 37—40 and 61.—The Collector is bound to give an opportunity for the payment of duty and penalty to a person before proceeding against him under Section 61 (I. L. R., 7 B., 82).

Section 61.—Merely receiving an unstamped instrument does not amount to abetment of its execution (I. L. R., 7 B., 82).

Section 64.—A prosecution for refusing to give a receipt cannot be instituted without the sanction required by Section 69 (I. L. R., 9 B., 27).

Schedule 1, Article 1.—An account stated containing no promise in writing is sufficiently stamped with one anna (I. L. R., 8 B., 194).

Articles 5 and 28.—Indemnity note given to a Railway by a consignee is not an indemnity bond within Article 28 but an agreement, Article 5 (c), chargeable only with an 8-anna stamp (I. L. R., 5 B., 478).

Article 13.—The Government of India considers that declarations of trust should be charged with stamp duty on an ad valorem scale, similar to that prescribed for bonds in Article 13 of Schedule I of the Stamp Act, subject, however, to a maximum duty of Rs. 15 (Memo. of Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce quoted, G. Receipts passed by Municipalities on account of house-tax and cesses, &c., for sums exceeding Rs. 20 are not exempt from stamp duty.

Judgment of the High Court in Reference No. 36 of 1886 made by the Commissioner in Sind under Section 46 of the Indian Stamp Act I. of 1879.

We think the question referred to us must be answered in the affirmative. The receipt sent up with the reference is one for the payment of money "the amount * * * * * of which exceeds twenty rupees." It is, therefore, an instrument requiring a stamp under Act I., of 1879, Schedule I. Article 52, unless it comes under Schedule II., Article 15 (b). That article exempts from stamp duty a receipt for payment of money "without consideration." The exemption was intended apparently to apply to receipts for "voluntary" payments, which in the ordinary legal acceptance of the term are payments without consideration, such as payments made merely in consideration of natural love or affection or mere gifts. The receipt in question is one for payment of house rate due to the Municipality under the Act constituting the Municipality. The payment is not gratuitous, but one in satisfaction or discharge of a legal obligation imposed by the Act, and in order to relieve the payer from the consequence which would ensue in case of his committing default, and is therefore not one without "consideration." (G. R. 5862 1st September 1887, R. D.)

Schedule 2, Article 13.—A lease of immoveable property for any purpose other than cultivation is not exempted by Article 13 (b), Schedule II. (I. L. R., 10 B., 173.)

Meaning of "Cultivator."—The term cultivator in Article 13 does not include middlemen, but those who cultivate themselves or by the members of their household or with their own stock. (I. L. R., 5 All., 360.)

3. 4. Ex-officio vendors shall not be required, except in the Town of Bombay to sell Court Fees Stamps of a lower value than 50 rupees each. Court Fees Stamps of lower values shall be sold by the licensed vendors.

5. Every license shall be revocable at any time by the Local Government, or by the authority who granted it. Every license shall specify the name of the licensee, the description of stamps which may be sold under the license, and the place of vend, and it shall be signed by the authority granting it. †Mem<sup>o</sup>. from the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs:— The rule does not require that a person who has to pay a Court Fee of Rs. 50 or upwards shall obtain all the impressed stamps or lables necessary to represent the fee from an ex-officio vendor or from a stamp-vendor holding a special license. And the rule was not, in my opinion, transgressed if the plaintiff, after having purchased an impressed paper of the value of Rs. 60 (the highest suitable value at the time obtainable) from the local ex-officio vendor, used, in order to make up the fee of Rs. 67-8-0, lables which he purchased either then expressly or at any previous time from a licensed stamp-vendor. Nor can it be said that the licensed stamp-vendor transgressed the rule if he sold lables to the plaintiff for Rs. 7-8-0 knowing that he intended to use them for the above purpose, because he was not bound to inquire what purpose the lables were to be put to. The rule merely prohibits the sale by a licensed stamp-vendor of any impressed Court-fee stamp of the value of Rs. 50, or upwards, except under a special license; and no such sale appears to have taken place. (G. R. No. 2821, 14th April 1886, R. D.)

He shall also have in the place of vend the Acts of the Legislature, and the schedules referring to the stamps sold by him, together with these Rules in English and the vernacular, placed so that they can readily be seen and read by purchasers.

8. In the case of impressed stamps, every ex-officio or licensed vendor shall write, on the back of every such stamp which he sells, the date of sale, the name and residence of the purchaser, and the value of the stamp in full in words, and his own ordinary signature, at the same time he shall make corresponding entries in register to be kept by him in the form prescribed in Rule 13. No such vendor shall knowingly make a false endorsement on the stamp sold, or a false entry in his register.*

9. Every licensed vendor of the Court Fees Stamps shall, without delay, deliver any stamp which he has in his possession for sale, on demand by any person tendering the price thereof.

10. No vendor shall sell any stamps the use of which has been ordered by a competent authority to be discontinued. On returning such stamps to the Depôt within six months from the date of such order of discontinuation, he shall be entitled to receive back the value thereof, less any discount which may have been allowed.

11. Every vendor shall keep and render such account as may be prescribed by the Local Government, and shall allow the Collector of the district or any officer duly authorized by such Collector or by the Local Government, at any time, to inspect such account and the register which he is required to keep under Rule 8, and to examine the store of stamps in his possession.

12. Every vendor shall, at any time on the demand of the Collector or other officer duly authorized by the Local Government, deliver up all stamps remaining in his possession; and, if such stamps have been paid for, shall receive back the value thereof, less any discount which may have been allowed.

13. The register required to be kept under Rule 8 shall be in the following form:—

Date.	Description of Stamp.	Value of Stamp.	Name of Purchaser.	Residence of Purchaser.

14. An ex-officio vendor of Court Fees Stamps may be required to give security for the proper performance of his duties, if such appear necessary to the head of the office in which the vend of the stamps is to be conducted. The terms of the bond can be specially framed to meet the requirements of the case.

RULES UNDER SECTION 20.

(B. G. G.,
1875, Pt. I.,
p. 697.)

The Government of India having approved of the following Rule made by the High Court, Bombay, under Section 20 of the Court Fees Act, VII of 1870, for the Revenue Courts in the Bombay Presidency proper, and sanctioned its acceptance as the Rule contemplated under Section 23 of that Act; it is hereby published for general information :—

The fees chargeable by all Revenue Courts shall be—

- (1) for every Notice or Summons, 3 annas; and
- (2) for every Warrant of Arrest issued on application of parties, 6 annas.

Section 20 of the Court Fees Act, 1870, empowers the High Court to make rules for the fees of processes issued by Civil and Revenue Courts. Although the term "Revenue Court" appears to be falling into disuse, powers of a judicial nature, which under the Regulations of 1827 and subsequent years were exercised by officers considered to constitute such Courts, are still exercised by Revenue officers, and, as may be seen, the term is still retained in the Court Fees and perhaps a few other Acts of later years. There is no objection to the definition, of the term as "any Revenue authority holding, as such, a judicial proceeding."

The Courts of Mámlatdárs acting under Bombay Act III of 1876 are Civil and not Revenue Courts, and an account of the work of these Courts should be embodied in the High Court's Report on the Administration of Justice, the Collectors furnishing the information in the form the High Court may prescribe.

The Revenue officers enumerated in the statement given below,* when acting under the provisions of the law therein quoted, should submit a report of their work to Government and not to the High Court.

The scale of fees prescribed by the High Court under section 20 of the Court Fees Act can be applied to processes issued by the officers above mentioned, unless such processes are issued by the officers proprio motu, or at the instance of other officers acting on behalf of Government. (G. R. 5855, J. D., of 5th and 6444 of 30th September 1881).

Note.—The above scale was originally intended to be applicable to the Mámlatdárs' Courts constituted under Act III of 1876, and should still be observed in those Courts. The scale of fees applicable to Courts constituted under the Bombay Civil Courts Act, 1869, is not to be observed in the Mámlatdárs' Courts. See Part XVII of this compilation.

3. In formal and summary enquiries under the Land Revenue Code which it is desirable should not be dismissed through default of the parties in furnishing Court-fee or batta for witnesses, the Revenue authority holding the enquiry should accept the petition or complaint and summon the witnesses proprio motu. The procedure sanctioned in the Government of India Resolution 3025 of 31st December 1878, published at page 79, No. 121 of the present edition of the High Courts' Circular Orders, should be adopted in such cases as far as practicable. (G. R. 6737 of 11th November 1881, R. D.)

RULES FOR THE REFUND OF VALUE OF IMPRESSED COURT-FEE STAMPS AND ADHESIVE LABELS.

In supersession of all existing orders on the subject, the Governor General in Council is pleased to authorise the refund of the value of impressed Court-fee stamps and of Court-fee adhesive labels in accordance with the following rules :—

- 1 (a) When any person is possessed of impressed Court-fee stamps for which he has no immediate use, or which have been spoiled or rendered unfit or useless for the purpose intended, or
- (b) When any person is possessed of two or more (or in the case of denominations below Rs. 5, four or more) Court-fee adhesive labels which have never been detached from each other and for which he has no immediate use, the Collector shall, on application, repay to him the value of such stamps or labels in money, deducting one anna in the rupee, upon such person delivering up the same to be cancelled and proving to the Collector's satisfaction that they were purchased by him with a bond fide intention to use them, that he has paid the full price thereof and that they were so purchased or, in the case of impressed Court-fee stamps, so purchased, spoiled or rendered useless, within the period of six months preceding the date on which they are so delivered. Provided that Local Governments may, in special cases, allow refunds when application is made within one year from the date of purchase of the stamps or labels, or, also in the case of impressed Court-fee stamps, within one year from the date on which the stamps were spoiled or rendered useless. The Local Governments may at their discretion delegate this power to any subordinate authority.

“2. When a licensed vendor surrenders his license or dies, the Collector may, at his discretion, if he considers that the circumstances justify the application, repay to him or his representatives, as the case may be, the values of stamps and labels, not spoiled or rendered unfit for use, returned into the Collector's store, deducting one anna in the rupee; or he may issue stamps and labels of other values in exchange, provided that, in the case of adhesive Court-fee labels their value may not be refunded nor stamps and labels of other values issued in exchange, unless, in cases where the value of each label is not less than Rs. 5, there are at least two such labels which have never been detached from each other; and in cases where the value of each label is less than Rs. 5 unless there are at least four such labels which have never been detached from each other.

“3. When adhesive labels are attached to impressed sheets of Court-fee stamps in accordance with the directions contained in Notification by the Government of India in this Department, No. 361, dated the 18th April 1883, such labels should be regarded as impressed stamps for the purposes of refund under these rules. (Government of India, Resolution No. 132, dated 11th January 1888, quoted by the Bombay Government Resolution No. 819, dated 6th February 1888, R. D.)

ORDERS AND OPINIONS IN CONNECTION WITH THE COURT-FEES ACT.

Schedule I.—Article 9.Proceedings under B. Act III of 1874.

Letter from the Acting L. R. :—“ A Court-fee is leviable under Article 9 of Schedule I of VII of 1870 (the Court Fees Act) in respect of all orders or proceedings passed after investigation under Bombay III of 1874.

“ 2. It may be doubted whether proceedings or orders under the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act come within the meaning of the word ‘ revenue ’ used in Article 9 of Schedule I of Act VII of 1870. But if an investigation has been made, they would be covered by the word ‘ judicial ’ in that article (Section 71 of Bombay III of 1874).

“ 3. Purely departmental or office orders in which there is no investigation or appeal such as orders under section 64 (c) and mere orders to register facts already recorded according to law or under the orders of Government (section 76) are of course not within the meaning of Article 9 of Schedule I of the Court Fees Act as they are neither Revenue nor Judicial orders, and no copies of mere orders from an office unless they come under the description of an ‘ account, statement, report or the like, ’ are liable to fees.” (G. R. No. 1885, 9th March 1889, R. D.)

Memo. from the L. R. :—“ The record of a Sub-Registrar's reasons for refusing to admit a document to registration is not ‘ a revenue or judicial proceeding ’ within the meaning of Article 9, Schedule I. of the Court Fees Act, and certified copies of such reasons are properly chargeable with stamp-duty under Article 22, Schedule I. of the General Stamp Act.” (G. R. No. 2752, dated 12th April 1886, R. D.)

Memo. from the L. R. :—“ The Inspector-General of Registration's question turns upon whether letters of administration are a ‘ judicial proceeding ’ within the meaning of Article 9, Schedule I of the Court Fees' Act (VII of) 1870 or not. In my opinion they are not, and therefore, copies of letters of administration are, I think, rightly charged with stamp-duty under Article 22, Schedule I of the General Stamp Act and not with a Court-fee.” (G. R. No. 8714, dated 10th December 1886, R. D.)

Schedule I.—Article 22.

Article 22 of Schedule I of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, “ must refer to copies of, or extracts from, records which a public officer is bound by law to keep.” It is quite clear that the law in question must be the law for the time being in force in British India. (G. R. No. 4091, dated 5th July 1887, R. D.)

Schedule II.— Article I, Clause b.

“ The Mámlatdárs Courts Act does not require defendants to file written statements, nor is it contemplated by that Act that a written statement should ever be put in. The Mámlatdár is apparently expected by examination of the defendant, or his pleader, to ascertain what his defence is. But if in a rare case the Mámlatdár permits the defendant to file a written statement, there is nothing in the Court Fees Act, that renders such a statement liable to a court-fee. If it takes the form of an application or petition, then, under the second paragraph of clause (b), Article 1 of Schedule II of the last-named Act, it will be liable to a court-fee of 8 annas.” (G. R. No. 1267, dated 11th February 1885, R. D.)

Applications.Full Stamp Duty on Reminders.

The practice of affixing a one-anna court-fee stamp to applications or petitions of the nature of reminders should be discontinued, and in future the full stamp duty authorized by law should be required thereon. (G. R. No. 6322, dated 13th September 1882, R. D.)

Reports are not Applications.

An Inámdár's report on attaching a defaulter's property under section 90, Bombay Land Revenue Code, is not an application and does not require to be stamped. (G. R. No. 987, dated 11th June 1882, R. D.)

Notices to Municipalities are not Applications.

Memo. by L. R. :—The notice required by section 33 of the Bombay District Municipal Act is not an application or petition within the meaning of Schedule II, Article I (a), paragraph 3 of the Court Fees Act, 1870, and is therefore not liable to payment of a court-fee. (G. R. No. 4408, dated 19th June 1884, J. D.)

Optional Applications.

“No formal application seems necessary either for the adjournment of an Income Tax appeal or to inform the court that a compoundable offence (not being one under sections 324, 335, 337 or 338, Indian Penal Code) has been compounded. In the case of offences under these four sections formal application to compound appears requisite.

“To requests which need not be made as formal applications the first two paragraphs of High Court Circular 52 A of 19th February 1884 (published on page 150 of the Government Gazette for that year) appear applicable. For convenience of reference they are transcribed below:—

“As the law does not require any formal application to be made for the return of documents under section 142 or section 144 of the Code of Civil Procedure, they may be returned to the persons entitled to receive them on their oral request, and on taking their receipt in writing in the usual form.

‘In case any such person chooses to make his request in writing, the paper, as this is optional, need bear no stamp.’” (G. R. No. 66, dated 5th January 1888, R. D.)

Affidavits.

Report by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs:—

“Government Resolution No. 2308 of 12th June 1871 does not, in terms, apply to affidavits. It refers to ‘powers-of-attorney or other like documents.’ An affidavit is scarcely ejusdem generis as a power-of-attorney, but, in Sind and possibly elsewhere also, the Resolution has been understood as applying to affidavits. It is competent, I think, to Government now to reconsider the Resolution and direct specifically whether it shall be held applicable to these documents or not.

“2. The Judicial Commissioner doubts ‘whether it would be lawful for Government to direct that any particular class of officer administering the oath of a declarant of an affidavit should not certify that he has done so till a Court-fee label of one rupee is attached to the affidavit on account of his signature.’ The Resolution requires the payment of a fee by way of a charge for certain services rendered by public officers to private individuals over and above any official obligation imposed upon such officers by law. I am not aware of any law which imposes upon any Court or public officer the duty of attesting affidavits. If Government permit their officers to attest such documents, it is, I think, open to Government to require the convenience to the applicants and the loss of the public officers’ time to be paid for. Section 197 of the Civil Procedure Code indicates what public functionaries may administer the oath of a declarant in the case of any affidavit under that Code, but it does not require any of the said functionaries, on application, to administer the oath to a declarant and attest his affidavit and there is nothing in its provisions which appears to me to be inconsistent with the requirement of Government that a charge shall be paid for the attestation. The second paragraph of section 196 of the Civil Procedure Code, on the other hand, recognizes that affidavits cannot be made without ‘cost.’” (G. R. No. 429, dated 21st January 1887, J. D.)

Report by L. R. :—“Affidavits are chargeable under Article 3, Schedule I. of Act I of 1879, with a stamp-duty of one rupee, except when made in the circumstances under which Article 1 of Schedule II. of that Act declares them to be exempt.

“Affidavits are not chargeable with a Court-fee, not even those affidavits which by reason of their being made ‘for the immediate purpose of being filed or used in any Court or before the officer of any Court’ are exempt from stamp-duty. The reason for affidavits made for judicial purposes being exempt from Court-fee as well as stamp-duty is, perhaps, to be found in the fact that, by section 19, Clause XIV. of Act VII of 1870, applications in respect of the production or filing of such affidavits are expressly rendered liable to a Court-fee.” (G. R. No. 4374, 28th July 1887, J. D.)

Fees on Affidavits to be distinguished from Stamp Duty and Court-fees.

Memo. by Acting L. R. :—Government may legally require the payment of the prescribed fee in respect of affidavits sworn under section 197 of the Civil Procedure Code and attested by the officers before whom they are sworn.

The fees to be taken under the paragraphs of the preceding Resolution are not stamp duties or court-fees, but mere charges for the services which Government allows its servants to perform for the convenience of the public, though they are not bound by law to perform them.

As the Resolutions are not based on the Court Fees Act, 1870, or Indian Stamp Act, 1879, they do not affect and are themselves unaffected by, the provisions of section 6 of the former Act, or section 34 and Schedule II., Article 1, of the latter Act. (Section 6 of VII of 1870 and section 34 of I of 1879 render inadmissible in Courts of Justice any document or instrument not stamped as required under the Schedules to those Acts. Schedule II of I of 1879 exempts from stamp duty affidavits used for certain purposes). Therefore, on the one hand, the non-payment of a fee, chargeable under the above Resolutions on an affidavit, could not affect its admissibility, and, on the other, the exemption of an affidavit from stamp-duty under the Stamp Act does not disentitle Government to charge a fee for the services of the officer who attests the affidavit, a service which he is not bound by any law to perform. (G. R. No. 853, 14th February 1889, J. D.)

Native Chiefs, not exempt from Stamp Laws.

Whenever a Chief, Tálukdár, or any person of rank invokes the authority of a British officer, especially on account of property situated, or transactions effected, in British territory, he must do so subject in every respect to the laws and regulations applicable to British Subjects. When an application made to British Courts or officers is such, that a particular form, stamp, or procedure is required by law, the functionary is not at liberty to dispense with, and thus to proclaim himself superior to, the law. So also on the part of the applicant, his application implies for the purpose in hand a submission to the law, and to the system of law with its accessories which he invokes, and he cannot, as an applicant or suitor, demand terms differing from those prescribed by law. (G. R. No. 2740, 17th April 1888, P. D.)

Copies.

Memo. by the L. R. :—" Article 8, Schedule I. of the Court Fees Act, applies only to a copy which is (1) a copy of a document liable to stamp-duty under the General Stamp Act, and (2) which is left by a party to a suit or proceeding in place of the original withdrawn. It does not apply to copies of documents on plain paper which are not produced in original by reason of their being entries in books or such as would not become void or useless by force of the decree. These copies are not certified copies and,—the original documents not having been filed according to law,—cannot be said to have been left in place of the original documents withdrawn as contemplated by Article 8 of Schedule 1 of the Court Fees Act." (G. R. No. 1608, 27th February 1886, R. D.)

" Section 26 of the Court Fees Act contemplates that the stamps to be used to denote any fee chargeable under that Act may be either impressed or adhesive or partly impressed and partly adhesive; and yet section 30 enacts that the stamp is in every case to be cancelled before the document which bears it is acted upon in any Court or office. From this the necessary inference is that the Legislature intended the figure-head of the stamp to be punched out whether the stamp is adhesive or impressed, and this direction of the law is binding upon all courts and offices." (G. R. No. 6641, dated 8th September 1883, R. D.)

Destruction of Court Fee Registers.

"The High Court has recently framed rules for the destruction of useless records of District and Subordinate Courts (including Courts of Village Munsiffs under Act XVII of 1879) which have been forwarded for the sanction of the Government of India; Rules 12 and 13 of those rules provide that Court-fee books and daily registers of Court-fees realized in the said Courts should be destroyed after the expiration of six years; Government are of opinion that registers of Court-fees kept in the Revenue Courts and offices should also be preserved for six years." (G. R. No. 8624, 19th December 1887, R. D.)

Register Books.

It is incumbent on all Revenue officers to keep a register of Court-fees received by them and Government see no reason to make an exception in favour of the Forest Department. (G. R. No 2150, dated 7th April 1888, R. D.)

PART XI.

The following Rules framed by the Inspector-General of Registration, Bombay, in exercise of the powers conferred by the Indian Registration Act, 1877, in supersession of all Rules at present in force under section 2 of that Act, having been approved and sanctioned by Government, are published for general information :—

I.—REGISTER BOOKS.

1. The Register Books, Nos. I to V, prescribed in section 51, shall be kept in the forms of Appendices A, B, C, D and E, respectively. (B.G.G. 1878 Pt. I, pp. 128—156.)

Forms of Register Books, Nos. I to V.

When the stock of books issued under Act XX of 1866 or Act VIII of 1871 in any office is likely to last for any length of time, the Inspector-General will issue directions for the re-numbering or re-labeling of such books, so as to adapt them for use under the present Act.

2. For the purposes of sections 64, 65, 66 and 67 a separate Paste-Book forming a supplement to Book No. I is to be kept, to be called "Supplement to Book No. I, Part I," copies of maps or plans, such as those mentioned in section 21, should be filed in a Paste-Book, forming another Supplement, to be called "Supplement to Book No. I, Part II," and certificates under the Land Improvement Act, 1871, received by a Registering Officer under section 89 should be filed in another supplement, to be called "Supplement to Book No. I, Part III."

3. It shall be the duty of every Registering Officer on receiving a new register book, to count the pages, and satisfy himself that the number of pages corresponds with that given in the certificate on the title-page. If the number be found correct, he shall certify to that effect on the title-page. If there be a discrepancy, he shall return the book for correction to the officer from whom it was received.

4. The volumes of each Register Book shall be numbered in a consecutive series, which shall not terminate with the year but be carried on perpetually. It shall not be necessary to commence a fresh volume at the commencement of a new year; but a fresh numerical series of entries must be commenced each year as required by section 53. When the amount of copying is great, two or more volumes of Book Nos. I, III, or IV may be used simultaneously. When two volumes are thus in use at the same time, documents bearing an even number should be copied into one, and those bearing an odd number into the other.

II.—INDEXES.

5. Indexes Nos. I to IV, prescribed in section 55, shall be kept in the forms of Appendices F, G, H and I, respectively.

Forms of Indexes, Nos. 1 to IV.

6. In Registrars' Offices these Indexes are to be prepared in English, in Sub-Registrars' Offices in the vernacular language of the sub-district.

Language in which the Indexes are to be prepared.

7. In preparing the Indexes the transliteration table given in Appendix J should be followed. English names should be indexed under the first letter of the person's family name; native names under the first letter of the person's proper name, all prefixes denoting rank, occupation, or caste being put into the column for profession, rank, &c. The names of Native Christians, who have Christian names, and family names, should be indexed in the same manner as English names. In the case of a Native Christian who has no family name, and who adds his father's name or the name of his village to his own, the name should be indexed in the same manner as an ordinary native name.

Manner of preparing Indexes.

8. All documents executed by or on behalf of Government should be indexed under "Government" in English, and "Sircar" in the vernaculars. A document executed under the authority of a power-of-attorney should be indexed in the name of the principal, a document executed by a guardian on behalf of a minor in the name of the minor, and a document executed by, or on behalf of a company, or corporation, in the name of such company or corporation.

Manner of indexing documents executed by, or on behalf of Government or by an Attorney or Guardian, or by a Company or Corporation.

But in every case contemplated by this rule the name and occupation of the actual executant should be shown in column 3 of Index No. I or IV, and in brackets in column 4 of Index No. II, immediately below the name in which the document is indexed.

9. The index entries of copies, memoranda, or certificates, filed under sections 64, 65, 66, 67 and 89 should be in red ink, but are to be made in the same Indexes and in the same manner as entries concerning documents copied in Book No. I.

Index entries of copies, memoranda, and certificates how to be made.

10. In entering the date of registration in any of the Indexes, the date of the certificate of registration required by section 60 shall be taken to be the date of registration; but in the case of copies or memoranda filed in the Supplement to Book No. I, Part I, or of certificates under the Land Improvement Act, 1871, filed in the Supplement to Book No. I, Part III, the date of filing such copies, memoranda, or certificates shall be considered the date of registration.

What to be considered the "date of registration" for the purposes of the Indexes.

11. In Index No. I, column 1, when there are several executants of a deed, a separate entry shall be made under the name of each in its proper alphabetical place in this form, viz., "Gopal Narayan, and four others."

Entries in Indexes where there are several executants or the property is situate in several different villages.

The same rule shall apply mutatis mutandis to the names of villages in column 1 of Index No. II, when the property is situate in several villages within the same district or sub-district.

12. The Indexes Nos. I, II, III and IV will be supplied to Registering Officers in loose sheets bearing all the letters of the alphabet printed on their lower margins.

Method of using the loose sheets supplied for Indexes.

A Registering Officer, desiring to employ one of such sheets for the purpose of indexing under any particular letter, will remove all the letters below the required Index letter by cutting them out, and cancel all those appearing above such required letter by drawing an ink line through them. The page of each Index should be arranged alphabetically before being bound up.

13. The copies of entries in Indexes Nos. I and II, which Sub-Registrars are required by section 56 to send to the Registrars to whom they are respectively subordinate shall be so sent by them on the 1st of every third month. And the copies of entries in Index No. III shall be so sent by them once a year in the month of January.

Copies of entries in Indexes Nos. I, II, and III, when to be sent by Sub-Registrars to the Registrars.

14. The copies of entries in Indexes Nos. I and II received by the Registrars under the last rule should be filed according to sub-districts, so as to prevent their getting mixed up, and at the end of the year should be bound into volumes. In binding, the volumes containing copies of entries in Index No. I should be distinct from those containing copies of entries in Index No. II.; but each Sub-Registrar's copies of entries in each Index for one year may be bound into one or more volumes, or the copies of entries in each Index for the same period of several Sub-Registrars may be bound up into a single volume, as may be most convenient. The Registrars and Sub-Registrars' own original Indexes Nos. I and II should be bound into volumes in a similar manner, but if it be deemed advisable, a Registrar's own original Indexes Nos. I and II may be bound up in the same volumes which contain the copies of Indexes Nos. I and II, respectively for the same year, received under Rule 13 from the Sub-Registrars.

Arrangement and binding of copies of Indexes Nos. I. and II. and of original Indexes.

15. The copies of entries in Index No. III, received by each Registrar should, together with the Registrar's own Original Index No. III, be either bound into one yearly volume for the entire district or into one district volume for several years as may be most convenient, the sheets being carefully arranged according to the offices to which they relate. In each Sub-Registry Office the Original Index No. III for each year should be either bound into a separate volume or if more convenient that Index for several years may be bound together.

16. Columns 7, 8, 9 and 11 of Index No. III should not be filled in until it has been ascertained beyond dispute that the testator or donor, to whose will or authority to adopt the index entry relates, is dead. If the fact of such death is not ascertained till after the copy of the Index in which the entry was made has been sent by the Sub-Registrar to the Registrar, the Sub-Registrar shall immediately forward to the Registrar a statement of the particulars to be inserted in the said columns, and the Registrar shall thereupon cause the said particulars to be duly entered in the copy of the Sub-Registrar's Index filed in his office.

III.—MISCELLANEOUS RECORDS AND ACCOUNT BOOKS.

17. At the end of every year an alphabetical index shall be prepared at the end of Book No. II of all entries in such book according to the form given in Appendix K.

When a document has been presented for, or admitted to registration, or a power-of-attorney authenticated, either at a private residence or a jail, a minute to that effect shall appear in the Minute Book.

When a document purporting to have been executed by, or on behalf of, Government is presented for registration, that fact shall be specially noted, and it shall be shown in the proceedings recorded in the Minute Book that the Registering Officer has been satisfied of the due execution of the document by an officer who is exempt from personal appearance in the Registration Office under section 88; and when in any case the Registering Officer is acquainted either with the parties admitting execution, or with the witnesses to their identity, he shall make a record to that effect in his Minute Book.

In this Minute Book shall also be recorded the depositions of witnesses, &c., examined by a Registrar when holding an enquiry under section 74, and the order which the Registrar may pass at the close of such inquiry, and the substance of any statement which a Registering Officer may record under section 63.

In a Registrar's Office the Registrar may, with the previous assent of the Inspector General, delegate the duty of writing the minutes under this Rule to his head clerk, for him, the Registrar, to sign. (Notn. No. 3721, B. G. G., 1887, Pt. I., p. 509.)

In Bombay the fees shall be remitted in the same manner to the New Bank of Bombay. If a Sub-Registrar's office be at a place where there is no Treasury, remittances shall be made to the Treasury whenever the amount in hand exceeds Rs. 50. (Notn. No. 5961, B. G. G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 665.)

In the district of Bombay the transfer of completed books from the Sub-Registry offices to the office of the Registrar of the district shall be made as the Inspector General shall from time to time direct. The Indexes of such Sub-Registry Office shall be retained in the office to which they belong.

The following form of security bond, prescribed under Government Resolution No. 4022, dated 15th July 1873, for use in the Registration Department, is published for general information in lieu of the form (U) published at page 854 of the Government Gazette of 3rd August 1871:—

2. Whereas the abovenamed A. is appointed to fill the office of a Sub-Registrar of Assurances in the Bombay Presidency, including Sind, and as the holder of such office he is a Public Accountant within the meaning of Act XII of 1850. 4. Now the condition of the above-written bond or obligation is such, that if the said A., B., and C., or any of them, their, or any of their Heirs, Executors or Administrators, shall pay, or cause to be paid, unto the said Secretary of State for India in Council, his successors or assigns, the amount of any loss or defalcation in the accounts of A., or of any loss or damage sustained by Government owing to the misconduct or neglect of the said A. with regard to the documents in his charge within 24 hours after the amount of any such loss or defalcation shall have been demanded by the person or persons at the head of the office to which the said A. belongs, such demand to be in writing, and to be left at the office or place of residence of A., B., and C., respectively, then the above-written bond or obligation shall be void, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue, and the person or persons at the head of the office, to which the said A. belongs, may proceed against him, and his sureties, the said B. and C., for the said loss or defalcation in the accounts of A., or arising out of his misconduct or neglect as if the amount thereof were an arrear of land revenue due by them or any of them to Government. #### RULINGS ON VARIOUS SECTIONS OF THE ACT.

Section 3—Lease.—“ An undertaking to cultivate or occupy ” means an accepted undertaking giving the lessee a right or interest in the thing let : I. L. R. 3 B. 21.

Section 17—Value of right created, &c.—The consideration mentioned in a deed of sale by the parties thereto must be regarded as showing the value of the interest conveyed for the purposes of registration : 11 B. H. C. R. 149.

Assignment of Mortgage.

A deed of assignment of mortgage in consideration of Rs. 5 paid in cash, and the withdrawal of a suit brought on the mortgage being stamped by the parties with a stamp of Rs. 168 was held compulsorily registrable under section 17, VIII of 1871 : I. L. R. 8 B. 610.

Value of right created by Mortgage.

The value of the right, title and interest created by a mortgage is estimated by the amount of the principal money thereby secured. The words “ or in future ” refer to estates in remainder or in reversion in immoveable property or estates otherwise deferred in enjoyment, not to interest which may or may not be payable in future on money lent : I. L. R. 2 B. 353.

Court's Certificate of Sale requires registration if for more than Rs. 100.

A certificate under the Civil Procedure Code of the sale of immoveable property of the value of more than one hundred rupees must be registered : 7 B. H. C. R. A. C. J. 136 ; 10 B. H. C. R. A. C. G. 435 ; I. L. R. 4 B. 155.

Memo. of Revenue Sale does not require registration.

But a memorandum declaring the successful bidder at a revenue sale, is not an instrument creating or declaring an interest in immoveable property. What operates to create the right of occupancy is the revenue sale and consequent entry of the name in the Collector's book : 11 B. H. C. R. 218.

Separate Certificates each under Rs. 100 do not require registration.

A certificate under the Civil Procedure Code of the sale of four lots, each under Rs. 100 should be regarded as four separate certificates, each of which did not require registration : I. L. R. 8 B. 377.

Recital of Partition.

A document reciting that there had been a partition of immoveable property but not itself the instrument of partition, was held not to require registration. The word "declare" in section 17 is to be taken in the same sense as the word "create, assign, &c.," viz., as implying a definite change of legal relation to the property by an expression of will embodied in the document referred to: I. L. R. 5 B. 232.

Lease.

An agreement for a lease needs registration if the parties intend to create a present demise: I. L. R. 10 B. 101.

Lease for one year certain with option to Landlord to renew.

A lease under which the tenant could claim possession of the land for one year, but agreed to pay rent so long as the landlord might leave the land with him, held not to require registration: I. L. R. 8 B. 493.

Bargain Paper.

A bargain paper for the sale of immoveable property for over Rs. 100 contemplating execution of a future conveyance is not compulsorily registrable: 12 B. H. C. R. 175; I. L. R. 7 B. 310.

Effect of unregistered Bargain Paper.

But such document could not operate as a conveyance but only as giving a right in personam: I. L. R. 5 B. 143.

Presentation at private residence.

Section 31.—Presentation for registration at the residence of the executing party is, if special cause is shown, valid. The registering officer is the judge of the sufficiency of the special cause, and if the procedure is in good faith, it is valid under section 87 even if irregular: I. L. R. 6 B. 96.

Section 23.—Time for presentation for registration.—The Act fixes no time within which registration must be completed. If an instrument has been once presented within the time fixed by the Act, but delay subsequently occurs, as where the registration has been declared invalid, or where it is insufficiently stamped when presented, the document may be again submitted for registration although the periods fixed in the Act have expired: 15. B. L. R. 228; 24. W. R. 75; L. R. 1. A. 210; I. L. R. 11. Calc. 750.

Powers of Registrar General and duties of Registering Officer.

Section 69.—Section 80 of Act XX for 1886 (corresponding with section 69 of Act III of 1877) in no way empowers the Registrar General to pass any rule directing by what particular description of evidence a person producing a deed to be registered shall prove his right to have it registered, or to frame a rule different from the ordinary law of evidence as to what fact shall be proved by oral or what by documentary evidence. When all the executants admit execution, the registering officer has nothing to do with the recitals of a deed or with its possible operation as regards third parties, e. g., a minor whose rights are reserved in the deed: 16 W. R. 180.

Section 24.—Finality of order.—When an application for registration of a sale deed had been presented after the expiry of the period prescribed by law for registration and had been dealt with under section 24, and the Registrar had directed that the document should be registered on payment of the prescribed fine, and such fine had been paid, held that it was not competent for the successor in office of the Registrar dealing with the document under section 74 to go behind the order of his predecessor: I. L. R. 6 All. 460.

OPINIONS ON POINTS ARISING IN CONNECTION WITH THE ACT.

Tolls are not Immoveable Property within the meaning of the Act.

Memo. by the L. R.:—“The definition of immoveable property given in section 3 of the present Registration Act (III of 1877) must alone be looked to in determining, for the purposes of that Act, what is and what is not immoveable property.

“2. ‘Ferries’ are expressly included within the definition. A ferry is an exclusive right to carry persons and their goods across a river and to take payment for the service rendered. ‘Tolls,’ as they exist in this Presidency, are simply taxes on traffic on roads and bridges. There is no substantial similarity between ferries and tolls, and as ‘tolls’ are not specially named in the above definition, the fact that ferries are named therein affords no argument that tolls must be meant to be included also.

"3. Tolls can only be held to fall within the definition if they are 'benefits to arise out of land.' This I do not think they can reasonably be said to be; they are simply taxes imposed under the authority of a legislative enactment, on traffic, and there is no more reason, in my opinion, for classing them as immoveable property for the purposes of the Registration Act than for including ábkári and opium taxes in the same category." (G. R. No. 6268, 4th August 1884, R. D.)

Memo. by the L. R. :—The third paragraph of section 5 of the Registration Act (III of) 1877, very clearly provides that territorial changes shall take effect, after the date of the notification on a day to be mentioned therein. In the face of this enactment, it is not possible for Government, by notification, to sanction or give validity to such changes retrospectively. (G. R. 5028, 14th July 1886, R. D.)

Section 33.—Power-of-Attorney executed in a Native State.

Memo. by the L. R. :— "Section 33, clause (e) of Act III of 1877, does not require a power-of-attorney, executed by a principal at the time of execution residing in a Native State, to be executed before a British Court, Judge or Magistrate, but before any Court, Judge or Magistrate. A power-of-attorney executed before and authenticated by a Native Court, Judge or Magistrate of a Native State should, therefore, in my opinion, be accepted by the Registering Officer." (G. R. No. 4172, 23rd May 1885, R. D.)

Execution of two Documents each under Rs. 100 instead of one for over Rs. 100 is not an evasion of Duties.

Memo. by the Acting L. R. :— "The Collector of Kaira raises the question whether the execution of two documents each creating an interest under Rs. 100 in immoveable property, in place of one document for the total amount is not a contravention of section 27 of the Stamp Act rendering the documents inadmissible in evidence.

"2. It is very possible that the object of executing two documents instead of one was to avoid the expense, as well as the publicity, of registration.

"3. But section 27 requires only such facts and circumstances as affect the chargeability of an instrument with duty to be set forth.

'Duty' is the amount chargeable under Schedule 1 of the Stamp Act, and does not include registration fees which are levied not as a source of revenue but for services performed and benefits received.

"4. The provisions of sections 49 and 50 of Act III of 1877 declare the consequences of non-registration.

"5. Each of these documents creates an interest under Rs. 100 in value. Neither of them is inadmissible in evidence to prove either of such charges. But neither of them would avail against a registered mortgage, and their separate operation is quite different from what the effect of one mortgage for their combined amount would be. A mortgage for the combined amount would be indivisible, whereas each of these mortgages may be separately redeemed.

"6. As they do not profess to operate as one document for the combined amount would operate, there is nothing to prevent their admissibility in evidence though their operation is subject to the provisions of the Registration Act giving preference to any registered charges in existence relating to the same property." (G. R. No. 7000, dated 20th October 1888, R. D.)

Transport.

7. The transport from one place to another within the presidency of Bombay of any quantity of opium exceeding ten tolás in weight is prohibited, except under cover of a permit in Form B., hereto annexed, or in such other form as the Commissioner from time to time prescribes, granted—

- (a) in the case of opium to be transported from one place to another within the town of Bombay, or from any place within to any place without the town of Bombay, by the Collector;
- (b) in the case of opium to be transported from any place in the presidency outside the town of Bombay to the town of Bombay, or to any other place in the presidency, by the Collector of the place from which it is to be despatched:

10. The permit and the packages shall, on arrival, be presented for examination to the Collector.

If, after examination, the Collector concludes that the packages have not been opened or tampered with in transit, if their number is complete, and if they be found to be of the full weight specified in the pass (less such allowance for dryage, if any, as the Local Government from time to time prescribes), the packages may be dealt with by the owner as the law or these rules allow, the permit being retained by the examining officer. Otherwise the packages shall be detained and dealt with as the law or the orders of any duly authorised authority may direct.

Import.

11. No opium shall be imported into the presidency of Bombay by sea except in whole or half chests for re-exportation as provided by Rule 29 :

Provided, however, that at the port of Bombay only, opium may be imported otherwise than in whole or half chests for re-exportation, subject in all cases to payment of the full duty imposed by the Sea Customs Tariff for the time being in force and to any special orders passed by the Commissioner as to subsequent possession and disposal of the opium imported.

12. No opium shall be imported into the presidency of Bombay by land, unless it be :

- (a) booked through by railway for re-exportation to other parts of British India, or to native states ;
- (b) for exportation by sea from the port of Bombay ;
- (c) for retail sale by licensed vendors, in any district in which the direct importation of opium for such sale is sanctioned by the Local Government, and subject to any conditions which the Local Government may from time to time prescribe:*

Provided that any opium imported for either of the purposes mentioned in clause (b) and clause (c) may after it reaches its destination in the presidency of Bombay, and with the permission in writing of the Collector, be dealt with in any other way permitted by the law for the time being in force. But, subject to any conditions which the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, permission shall not be granted by the Collector until the difference between the duty on the opium in question, calculated at the rates in force at the date of the application, on opium intended for exportation and on opium intended for retail sale, respectively, shall have been recovered or refunded, as the case may be.

13. No opium shall be imported into the presidency of Bombay by land except by one of the following routes, that is to say—

(a) from any place on the frontier of the Kadi division in the territory of His Highness the Gáikwár, which the Local Government may from time to time appoint, direct to the town of Ahmedabad;

(b) by railway, from Khándwa, or via Pálanpur and Ahmedabad.

(G. N. No. 229, B. G. G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 32.)

13A. Notwithstanding anything contained in Rule 13, Opium, the property of His Highness the Mahárával of Dungarpur may be imported into Ahmedabad, under an escort furnished by His Highness the Mahárával, by the following route, viz., from Kherwáda, by Vichwáda, Samera, Samlaji, Tintoi, Bákrol, Lembhoi, Dhákrol, Modhuka, Hársol, Ujdia, Dehgam, Národa to Ahmedabad, and subject to examination as to number, weight and tampering in transit, at any of the above places which the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

14. Opium booked through for re-exportation to other parts of British India or Native States shall be detained and examined as to number, weight and tampering in transit at any railway-station in the presidency which the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

15. Opium imported by land for exportation by sea shall be brought direct to the town of Bombay, and there deposited, in the manner provided in Rule 21, until such time as it may be disposed of.

16. No opium shall be imported by land except after payment of the duty, if any,† imposed by the Governor General in Council under section 6 of the Act, and under a pass in Form D., hereto annexed, or in such other form as the Commissioner from time to time prescribes, granted by the Government Opium Agent at Indore, Chitor, Ujjein, Rutlam, Dhár, Ajmir, Ahmedabad, Mundisar, or Bhopál, or by some other officer duly authorized in that behalf by the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, respectively.

* Vide Appendix A.

16A.—Notwithstanding anything contained in Rule 16, opium imported from the Kadi Division of His Highness the Gaikwár's territory under clause (a), Rule 13, and opium imported under Rule 13A from the territories of His Highness the Maharával of Dongarpur, shall be allowed to be brought to the scales at Ahmedabad on provisional passes to be granted by the Opium Agent, Ahmedabad, in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner from time to time without previous payment of duty. But no such opium shall be allowed to be passed from the scales except on payment of duty, if any, and under a pass as provided in Rule 16.

(Notn. No. 6914, B. G. G., 1889, Pt. I., p. 804.)

17. The duty on opium intended for exportation by sea shall be payable as follows :—

at the Ahmedabad Opium Agency, in cash or by hundi payable at sight at the Bank of Bombay ;
at the Ajmir Agency, in cash or by hundi drawn on some trustworthy firm in Bombay, and payable at sight ;

at all agencies subordinate to the Opium Agent, Indore, by hundis drawn on some trustworthy firm in Bombay and payable at six days' sight.

18. Intimation of the passes granted and hundis received daily shall be sent by the officer granting and receiving the same direct to the Collector of Customs and to the Bank of Bombay (in the case of hundis thereon) ; and, when the opium concerned is intended for retail sale by licensed vendors, or for immediate re-exportation from the Presidency of Bombay to another part of British India or to a Native State, to the Collector or Political Officer of the locality to which the opium is to be sent. The passes shall be delivered to the importers to cover their consignments.

19. Save as permitted in Rules 11 and 20, no opium shall be imported into the Presidency of Bombay—

(a) except in whole chests containing 140 lbs. of opium, or half-chests containing 70 lbs., plus such allowance, if any, for dryage as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe ;

(b) unless each such chest or half-chest be marked with the consecutive number of the pass, the total number of chests forming the consignment and the distinctive brand of the office from which the pass was issued.

20. Notwithstanding anything contained in Rule 19, opium booked through by railway for re-exportation to the Presidency of Madras may be imported in strong wicker baskets subject to the following conditions :—

- (a) each basket shall be stoutly and securely sewn over with leather, and shall contain 10 lbs. of opium;
- (b) seven of such baskets shall be packed in a strong gunny or cloth bag, which shall be securely sewn;
- (c) each bag shall have a label sewn on it, showing the number of its covering pass and its weight at the scales, and a distinguishing number or mark.

21. Opium imported into the Presidency for exportation by sea shall be conveyed to Bombay and shall, on arrival, be presented to the Collector, together with the pass covering the same. The consignment shall be verified in the manner specified in Rule 10, and conveyed direct to and deposited in the warehouse :

Provided that any such opium may be detained by the Collector at the risk of the consignee, until payment of the duty, when it is paid by hundi, has been certified by the Bank of Bombay, or until any other condition prescribed by this rule has been fulfilled.

22. Opium imported into the town of Bombay may, for export purposes, be manufactured into chandul, but such chandul shall continue liable to all the restrictions on transport which under these rules apply to opium. The manufacture shall be conducted under licenses to be issued by the Collector on such conditions as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe.

Export.

23. Opium imported under Rule 12 for exportation by sea may be so exported from the port of Bombay only.

24. Opium so exported by sea shall be packed in whole or half chests containing the weights specified in Rule 19.

25. When opium is to be removed for exportation by sea, the exporter shall enter in the shipping bill, under which the opium is to be exported, the marks and numbers of packages and the number of packages of each mark to be removed from the warehouse. The shipping bill so prepared shall be checked with the warehouse register and removals noted therein.

26. Opium converted into chandul under Rule 22 may be exported under the same conditions as are provided in Rules 23 to 25 for ordinary opium, at the rate of 140 lbs. of chandul to 70 lbs. of opium.

27. When any person desires to export opium from the Presidency of Bombay into any foreign State, or into any other part of British India, he shall obtain a pass for each consignment, in such form as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe, from the Collector of the district from which such opium is to be exported, or, in the case of export from the town of Bombay, from the Collector of Customs.

The pass shall specify—

- (1) the name of the person in charge of the consignment,
- (2) the name of the consignee,
- (3) the number of packages and the weight and contents of each, and
- (4) the destination of the consignment.

But no such pass shall be granted unless the person applying for it produces a written permission so to apply, signed by the Collector of the district, or the Political Officer accredited to the foreign State into which such opium is to be imported.

28. The Collector may thereupon grant a pass for the export of such opium.

Each package shall be sealed in the presence of the officer granting the pass and with his official seal.

Transshipment and Re-export.

29. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained to the contrary, opium not the produce of India may be imported by sea into the port of Bombay or Karáchi, and opium, whether the produce of India or not, may be imported by sea into the port of Aden: provided in each case that the opium so imported be manifested for transshipment or for re-exportation in the same bottom.

Opium so imported may be re-exported by sea from the said ports.

All such opium imported into and re-exported from the said ports in the same bottom shall be liable to a duty at the following rates on each chest not exceeding 140½ lbs. avoirdupois net weight:—

when the consignment* does not exceed 150 chests, at Rs. 5 per chest.

from 151 to 300 chests, at Rs. 4 per chest.

from 301 to 600 chests, at „ 3 „

601 chests and upwards, at „ 2 „

Provided that opium on which a transshipment or re-export fee has been levied at one of the said ports shall be exempt from the payment of a re-export fee at any other of the said ports.

30. Small parcels of opium imported under Rule 11, on which full customs-duty has been paid, may be exported by sea or land under the special orders of the Commissioner.

General Rules as to Opium transported, imported and exported.

31. No railway company shall receive or convey opium not covered and accompanied by a permit or pass of an officer competent under these rules to grant the same; or shall convey opium otherwise than direct, and in the custody of its own officers, to the station at which, according to the route prescribed in such permit or pass, it should leave the railway.

* The term "Consignment" obviously means the quantity consigned by one person or firm to another person or firm (G. R. No. 8415 of 15th November 1883, R. D.).

32. The bulk of a consignment of opium in transport or in transit in the course of importation or exportation shall not be broken; and any revenue officer not inferior in grade to a Mahálkari, or any inspector or sub-inspector in the Ábkári or Opium Department, or any police officer not inferior in grade to a head constable, may at any time examine such a consignment.

If, after such examination, the officer concludes that the packages have not been opened or tampered with in such transport or transit, if their number corresponds with the number specified in the permit or pass, and if they be of the full weight specified in such permit or pass (less the allowance, if any, granted for dryage), the consignment shall be allowed to proceed. Otherwise the consignment shall be detained and disposed of according to law.

His Highness the Gáikwár for the retail sale of opium in His Highness's territories, and intended for the supply of the said farmer's retail shops, may be imported into and transported through or exported from British territory when taken direct from one or other of the depôts and sub-depôts mentioned in the margin under cover of permits issued and signed by a Náib-Subha of a division or of a táluka of His Highness's territories to the retail shop at which it is to be sold. Such permit shall be in Form C. appended to these rules.

(Notn. No. 4426, B. G. G., 1891, Pt. I., p. 538, 2nd July 1891.)

33A. The conditions subject to which the transport through British territory of opium which has been seized as liable to confiscation in any part of the territories of His Highness the Gáikwár of Baroda, but which has not been ordered to be confiscated, shall be permitted, are as follows :

- (a) that the opium shall be transported by the most direct route from the place of seizure to the place at which its liability to confiscation is to be decided ;
- (b) that it shall be covered by a pass which shall contain the following particulars :
  - (i) the route by which, the time during which, and the places from and to which transport is to be effected ;
  - (ii) the quantity of the opium to which the pass refers ;
- (c) that every such pass shall be—
  - (1) in the Form F hereto appended,
  - (2) signed by the Náib Subha of the Division,
  - (3) kept during transport in the possession of the person in charge of the opium,
  - (4) produced on demand made by any British officer of the Departments of Land Revenue, Police, Opium and Ábkári ;

- (d) that no quantity shall be so transported in excess of that mentioned in any pass granted or produced in respect thereof or by any route other than that mentioned in such pass;
- (e) that intimation of the route by which any such opium is to be transported shall be given to the Police patel of the first village in British territory through which the opium may have to pass not less than twenty-four hours before the transport through such village is commenced.

34. Opium is said to be sold "retail" when a quantity less than half a chest of 140 lbs. is sold in a single transaction. It is said to be sold "wholesale" when half such a chest or any larger quantity is so sold.

35. No person shall sell any opium to any person not legally authorized to possess the same.

36. Opium deposited in the warehouse under Rule 21 may be sold wholesale in the town of Bombay pending its disposal, subject to the provisions of these and of the Bombay Opium Warehouse Rules as to removal from the warehouse, and provided that only whole chests or half-chests shall be so sold.

36A. Opium imported into Ahmedabad under Rule 13A may be sold wholesale to Native Chiefs and British farmers or licensed vendors in the city of Ahmedabad pending its disposal, subject to the provisions of these rules as to transport or export, as the case may be, and provided that only whole chests or half-chests shall be so sold. (Notn. No. 229, B.G.G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 32.)

37. No person shall retail opium without a license: Provided that any medical practitioner to whom a license has been granted under Rule 6 may sell opium in quantities not exceeding in any one transaction ten tolás as medicine or in medical preparations.

38. No retail vendor shall sell more than ten tolás of the inspissated juice of the poppy, or of any preparation or admixture thereof, or of any intoxicating drug prepared from the poppy, or more than five sers of poppy-heads, except to a licensed vendor or farmer or to a medical practitioner or other person holding a special permit granted by the Collector under Rule 6, or under a special order from the Commissioner or a Collector.

39. Licenses for the retail of opium or for the manufacture and retail of all or any intoxicating drugs prepared from the poppy may be granted for the town of Bombay by the Collector of Customs and for other parts of the Presidency by the Collector of the district. Such licenses shall be in the Form E., hereto annexed, or in such other form as the Commissioner from time to time prescribes.

40. Whenever a license is granted for the retail of opium, the officer who grants it shall demand such payments and shall impose in the license such conditions on the licensee as may from time to time be prescribed by the Commissioner.

42. Licenses for retail shall be granted for one year only, unless the Commissioner shall otherwise specially direct.

43. With the general or special sanction of the Commissioner, the Collector may let in farm the right to retail opium, or to manufacture and retail all or any intoxicating drugs prepared from the poppy, in any local area under his control, for a term not exceeding five years. The Commissioner may prescribe rules :

(a) for the invitation and acceptance of tenders for such farms.

(b) for the requisition of security for the due fulfilment of the engagements entered into by the farmers, and

(c) as to the form and conditions of such leases.

Any breach of such engagement shall render the lease liable to annulment by the authority by whom the farm was sanctioned.

44. When any such farm is given, the farmer may make his own arrangements for the appointment of subordinate vendors, and for the manufacture of intoxicating drugs, within the limits of his farm and subject to the conditions of his lease: provided that no opium except that supplied from a Government depôt and opium lawfully imported under clause (c), Rule 12, and opium otherwise lawfully obtained, shall be retailed or used in the manufacture of such drugs.

45. Licenses for the retail of opium, or of intoxicating drugs prepared from the poppy, by persons appointed by the farmer to retail on his behalf, shall be granted by the Collector in such form and on such conditions, consistent with the conditions of the farm, as the Commissioner from time to time prescribes.

46. With the sanction of the Commissioner, the Collector may cancel any lease granted under Rule 43; or may, within the period of the lease, impose any new reservation or restriction on the farmer.

If any such lease be cancelled for any cause other than a breach of the conditions thereof, or if any reservation or restriction with respect to the grant of licenses be imposed during the lease, the Commissioner shall award such compensation as he thinks reasonable to the farmer for any damage sustained by him by reason of such cancellation, reservation, or restriction.

47. If any licensed vendor or farmer shall have in his possession, on the expiry of his license or farm, any opium which he is unable to dispose of, to the satisfaction of the Collector, by private sale to other licensed vendors or farmers, he shall surrender the same to the Collector; and the incoming licensed vendor or farmer, or, if the expired license or farm is not renewed, any licensed vendor or farmer within the district, when required by the Collector, shall be bound to purchase the opium aforesaid to the extent of two months' supply at such price and in such quantities as the Collector shall adjudge: provided that the price of opium thus adjudged shall in no case exceed the rate at which it can be procured from the Government; provided also that, if such opium be in the opinion of the Collector unfit for use, the Collector shall cause it to be destroyed.

48. Central and subsidiary depôts of opium for issue to licensed retailers and farmers and for other Government purposes shall be established at Bombay and such other places as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

49. The opium required for these depôts shall be imported from Málwa or Bengal, or otherwise procured as the Local Government may direct, and shall be stored in the first instance at the central depôts, whence it will be supplied on indents to the subsidiary depôts as required.

*50. Opium shall be issued from the Government depôts to licensed vendors at a price to be fixed and notified from time to time by the Local Government.

Import, &c., on behalf of the Government.

51. Nothing contained in the foregoing rules shall be deemed to affect the possession, transport, import, export or sale of opium by or on behalf of the Government.

Permission to import, export, transport and sell Opium.

52. Subject to the prohibitions, conditions and regulations imposed and prescribed by the foregoing rules, the manufacture, possession, import, export, transport and sale of opium are permitted.

Disposal of things confiscated.

53. Opium confiscated under the Act shall be examined by the Collector, and, if declared by him to be fit for use, shall be sent to the nearest depôt. If declared to be unfit for use, it shall be immediately destroyed.

54. If the opium so sent to a depôt be of quality sufficiently good for retail purposes, it shall be added to the stock at the depôt. But if such opium be of inferior quality, it may be issued to retail dealers at a special rate proportioned to its quality, but shall be subject in other respects to the same conditions as other opium.

*Opium is issued from all Government depôts in the Presidency of Bombay including Sind at the fixed rate of Rs. 10 per lb. of 40 tolás each. (Notn. No. 3023, B. G. G., 1883, p. 296, and Notn. No. 4772, B. G. G., 1885, p. 735.)

55. All property, other than opium, which is confiscated under the Act, shall be sold under the orders of the Magistrate or other officer by whom the confiscation was adjudged.

Rewards to be paid to Officers and Informers.

*56. Any Magistrate convicting an offender under section 9, or any Magistrate or other authorized officer ordering the confiscation of opium under section 12 of the Act, may grant, in such proportions as he thinks fit, to any person or persons who have contributed to the seizure of the opium, or the conviction of the offender, a reward not exceeding the value of the opium and other articles confiscated in the case plus the amount of any fine imposed; or may place such aggregate amount to be awarded at the disposal of the head of the department, any officer or officers of which may have contributed to the seizure of the opium or the conviction of the offender, to be distributed by such head of the department in such proportion as he thinks fit among persons whom he may consider to be entitled to reward in connection with such seizure or conviction.

(Notn. No. 7007, B. G. C., 1888, Pt. I., p. 840.)

1. Every order for reward shall state exactly the sum of money awarded as a reward from—
  - (a) the value of the opium and other articles confiscated in the case, and
  - (b) the amount of fine imposed.
2. For the purpose of determining the amount of reward under head (a) above, the value of the opium shall invariably be calculated at the rate of Rs. 6 per lb. (unless the officer passing the order considers the opium to be decidedly valueless and records an opinion to that effect) and the value of other confiscated articles shall be appraised by him at his discretion.
3. Immediately after an order for a reward is passed, a warrant shall be issued on the Treasury for the prompt disbursement of the amount of reward adjudged under the head (a), Rule I, and for the payment of the amount adjudged under the head (b) after the recovery of the fine shall have been certified by the Magistrate concerned, a copy of the warrant being at the same time given to the intended recipient.
4. The sufficiency of the amount adjudged as a reward in each case should be judged (a) by the importance of the seizure, and (b) by the dexterity displayed, and the trouble and risk undergone, by the informers, captors and others concerned, acting in good faith.

*Government regret to notice that in comparatively few cases have the Magistrates availed themselves of the power conferred upon them to grant rewards in cases of opium smuggling. In the interests of the public revenue it is desirable that such rewards should always be granted when fairly earned. (G. R. No. 273, dated 26th January 1882, R. D.)

5. If the fine is not paid within 24 hours, or only paid in part, the convicting Magistrate may, within a limit of Rs. 100, order payment of its full amount or of the unrealised balance, as the case may be, from the Treasury. (Notn. No. 8664, B.G.G., 1890, p. 1227, 11th Dec. 1890.)
6. If an officer who passes an order for a reward considers the maximum amount of reward which he is competent to grant or the amount actually available for reward to be insufficient, or if the District Magistrate is of opinion that the reward granted in any case by a subordinate Court or officer is insufficient, the District Magistrate may, on the application of the officer concerned in the former case, and of his own accord in the latter case, apply for the sanction of the Commissioner to supplement the reward by a further reward under Rule 57 of the Opium Rules of such amount as the District Magistrate may deem fit to recommend, submitting at the same time a clear statement of the case, and of the grounds for his recommendation. The Commissioner may sanction, modify or reject the District Magistrate's recommendation as he may think fit in each case.

57. In any case in which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, any person has performed any service of special merit in respect of the prevention or detection of opium-smuggling or of any offence against the Act, the Commissioner may grant to such person a reward not exceeding in amount five hundred rupees.

The Commissioner, or, with the sanction of the Commissioner, a Collector or the Collector of Salt-revenue, may incur at his discretion expenditure not exceeding five hundred rupees in each case for the employment of informers or for any other purpose connected with the prevention or detection of opium-smuggling or of any offence against the Act.

The Commissioner shall, from time to time, report to the Government the circumstances under which any reward may have been granted or expenditure may have been incurred under this rule.

Control.

58. All Collectors shall, as regards any matter arising in the administration of these rules, be subject to the general control of the Commissioner.

59. The decision of the Collector as to the value of opium which has been seized shall be final.

 (both inclusive) upon the following conditions :—

1. That he will sell by retail at the shops aforesaid not less than pounds of duty-paid opium in the aggregate during the period aforesaid. If he sells less than that quantity, he will pay to Government in the manner and on the dates hereinafter specified penalty at the rate of Rs. 5 per pound on the quantity of opium required to make up the said minimum.

2. That he will purchase from the Collector confiscated opium and opium surrendered to the Collector by the retiring licensed vendor or farmer of the district, in such quantities not exceeding two months' supply, and at such price not exceeding the rate at which opium can be procured from a Government depôt, as the Collector shall adjudge.

3. That he will sell no opium but such as may have been previously approved and passed by the Collector or by some other officer authorized by the Collector to approve and pass the same, and no opium but such as he may have—

- (a) purchased from a Government depôt, or
- (b) purchased from a wholesale dealer in Bombay and transported for retail sale in accordance with the provisions of the Opium Act and the Rules framed thereunder, or
- (c) lawfully imported for retail sale in accordance with the same Act and Rules, or
- (d) purchased from the Collector under the provisions of Clause 2 of this license.

That he will not receive or have in his possession any opium obtained in any other manner.

4. That he will bring all opium purchased by him from a wholesale dealer, or lawfully imported by him, under the last preceding clause, direct to the Huzúr Treasury to be there examined by the Collector or other officer nominated by the Collector to examine and pass opium for retail sale; that he will remove and dispose of forthwith in some lawful manner other than for retail sale at his shops any portion of the opium tendered for examination which the Collector or other officer aforesaid may reject as being unsuited for retail sale in the locality concerned; and that he will lodge such opium as may be passed by the Collector or other officer aforesaid, as well as all opium purchased from a Government depôt, or from the Collector under Clause 2 of this license, at such place, in such manner and under such custody, and will remove and transport opium from such place of deposit, at such times and in such manner as the Collector or other officer aforesaid may from time to time direct.

6. * One-tenth of the minimum number of pounds guaranteed for a whole year.

whom opium may be sold in quantities exceeding five tolas at one time, and will render to the Collector on or before the 5th of each month a statement showing the number of pounds of opium lodged into, removed from, and in store at, the place of deposit mentioned in Clause 4, and the number of pounds of opium received, sold and in store at each of his shops, during the preceding month, and will furnish forthwith on demand by the Collector such other accounts, returns and information respecting his dealings and arrangements under this license as the Collector may require; and that the keeping or rendering of incorrect accounts, statements or information will constitute a breach of the conditions of this license.

8. That the Collector shall have a lien on all opium held in stock by the licensee at the place of deposit mentioned in Clause 4 for the recovery of the penalty payable by the licensee under Clauses 1 and 7,† (of the contribution for establishment recoverable under Clause 21A.) and of any fine levied on him under Clause 25.

9. That the licensee will, immediately after the expiry or recall of this license, surrender to the Collector all opium remaining unsold on his hands on the date of the expiry or recall of this license as he may have been unable to dispose of in lawful manner, and will receive from the Collector such price, including duty, as the Collector shall adjudge for so much of the opium so surrendered as may not be liable to confiscation and as may be declared by the Collector to be of good quality and fit for retail sale; but he will not be entitled to receive any payment whatever for any portion of the opium so surrendered which may be liable to confiscation or which may be declared by the Collector to be unfit for retail sale.

10. That he will not sublet any of his opium shops without permission of the Collector, or employ for the retail sale of opium any person for whose employment in that behalf he may not have previously received written sanction and a separate license signed by the Collector authorizing such person to sell opium on behalf of the licensee.

11. That he will cause each ball of opium intended for sale to be threaded and stamped with the Collector's or Mamlatdar's official seal, at his own expense and in such manner as the Collector may prescribe; that in retailing opium, only the quantity required by each successive customer shall, as far as possible, be cut off from a sealed ball; that he shall not have in his possession at each of his shops more than one broken ball of opium at a time for sale to customers.

12. That he will retail opium only in the shops above mentioned, and that he will open and maintain new shops and close existing shops as may be required by the Collector from time to time during the currency of this license.

13. That he will keep and use for selling opium by retail and other purposes of this license such weights as the Collector may direct.

14. That, except to a medical practitioner or other person holding a special license from the Collector, he will not sell more than ten tolas weight of opium to any person at one time.

17. That he will not open his shop or make sales therein before sunrise; that he will not keep it open or make sales therein after 9 o'clock P.M.; and that he will not harbour any person therein during the night.

* One-twelfth, if the license is for one year; one-twenty-fourth, if the license is for two years; one-thirty-sixth, if the license is for three years; and so on.

21. That the “pound” mentioned in this license will be a pound equal in weight to 40 tolas, a tola being reckoned as equal to 180 grains.

*21A. That the licensee shall pay into the Collector’s treasury monthly the sum of Rs. as contribution towards the cost of the Government establishment employed for the prevention of opium smuggling in the district. The first payment shall be made not later than the 31st August 189 , and subsequent payments not later than the last working day of each successive month during the term of this license.

22. That he has deposited with the Collector the sum of Rs. † in cash or Government Promissory Notes as security for the due performance by him of the conditions prescribed in this license, and that the said amount or such portion of it as may not have been appropriated by the Collector in liquidation of Government demands against him will be returned to him after the expiry of this license and after all demands against the licensee shall have been fully satisfied.

23. That his license may be recalled by the Collector—

- (a) for default of punctual payment of the penalty mentioned in Clauses 1 and 7; or
- (b) for default in or violation of any of the conditions specified in this license; or
- (c) if the holder thereof be convicted of a breach of the peace or of any other offence during the currency of this license; or
- (d) if he infringes any of the conditions imposed on him by the Opium Act, 1878, or by the rules in force thereunder.

24. That any loss caused to Government in consequence of the recall of this license for any of the aforesaid causes shall be recovered from him from the cash deposited by him with the Collector, or by attachment and sale of the stocks of opium held by him, or in such other lawful manner as the Collector shall direct. He shall not be entitled to any sum that may be realized over and above the sum payable by him by putting the license to sale in consequence of his default, nor shall he be entitled to any compensation or refund of any sums paid by him. Should the Collector desire to cancel this license before the expiry of the period for which it has been granted for any causes other than those specified in the preceding clauses, the Collector shall give him three months’ previous notice and absolve him from all liabilities under this license for the unexpired term of the license, or if notice be not given, shall make such further compensation in default of notice as the Commissioner of Customs, Salt, Opium and A’bkari may direct.

25. That the Collector shall have power at any time to impose a fine not exceeding Rs. 1,000 on the licensee, instead of recalling this license, for infringement by the licensee, or by any of his servants, agents, or sub-tenants, of any of the conditions of this license, and to recover the amount of the fine so imposed from the cash deposited by the licensee, or by attachment and sale of the opium lodged under Clause 4, or in such other lawful manner as the Collector may think fit. Nothing contained in this clause or in Clauses 23 and 24 shall however affect the liability of the licensee to criminal prosecution under the Opium Act.

26. That this license does not cover the manufacture and sale by the licensee of chandul, madat or any other preparation of poppy juice, other than opium. ## BOMBAY OPIUM WAREHOUSE RULES.

(Notn. No. 4472, B. G. G., 1885, Pt. I., pp. 698—703.)

In exercise of the power conferred by section 8 of the Opium Act, 1878, the Governor in Council is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to make the following rules relating to the warehouse appointed in Notification No. 2205,* dated 15th March 1885, (published at page 341 of the Bombay Government Gazette of the 19th idem), for the storage and deposit of opium legally imported into the Presidency of Bombay intended for exportation by sea therefrom, viz. :—

1. The said warehouse shall be known as “The Bombay Opium Warehouse” and these rules may be cited as “The Bombay Opium Warehouse Rules.”

2. In these rules, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context, any word or expression which is defined in the Opium Act, 1878, or in the Bombay Opium Rules shall be deemed to have the meaning attributed to it by that Act or those rules.

3. Opium brought to the warehouse for deposit shall be accompanied by the passport covering it issued at the scales.

4. At the time of receipt of the opium into the warehouse, the warehouse-keeper, or some other officer authorized by him in this behalf, shall examine the marks, numbers and other particulars on the chests or half-chests and verify the same by comparison with those entered in the passport.

5. If the marks, numbers and other particulars on the chests or half-chests are not found to correspond with those given in the passport, the warehouse keeper shall at once report the fact for the orders of the Collector, the opium being held in safe custody pending such orders.

If they correspond, the opium shall be stored in the warehouse.

6. After storage of the opium, the warehouse-keeper shall stamp across the passport the word “warehoused” and shall enter therein, in the place provided for the purpose, the number of the compartment of the warehouse in which the opium has been stored, with the date and his signature.

The passport shall then be sent to the Opium Department.

7. On receipt of the passport in the Opium Department, the particulars thereof shall be entered in a register; the passport shall then be stamped with the word “cancelled” and retained in the Opium Department. The date of warehousing shall also be noted in the register of passports.

8. All opium deposited in the warehouse as above shall be at the disposal of the owners, to be dealt with

*Notification No. 2205 appoints the building, known as the Port Trust Apollo Bonded Warehouse, situated in Marine Street, Fort, Bombay, to be the place for the storage and deposit of opium legally imported into the Presidency of Bombay and intended for exportation by sea therefrom. (Established under authority quoted in Notification No. 3862, B. G. G. of 1884, p. 363.)

as provided in the Opium Act and the Bombay Opium Rules.

9. No warehoused opium shall be removed from the warehouse until application in writing has been made to the Collector and a permit for such removal has been obtained from him.

This rule shall not apply to the removal of opium from one compartment of the warehouse to another.

10. Before removal of warehoused opium for exportation by sea, the exporter's shipping bill, which shall be in the form of schedule A, or to the like effect, and shall be prepared in the manner provided in No. 25 of the Bombay Opium Rules, shall be presented to the warehouse-keeper, together with the Collector's permit authorizing such removal.

11. As the opium is passed out of the warehouse, the warehouse-keeper, or some other officer authorised by him in this behalf, shall compare the marks and numbers and other particulars on the chests or half-chests with those entered on the shipping bill, and shall permit the removal of the opium only on finding the particulars to correspond.

12. When all the opium covered by a shipping bill has been passed out of the warehouse, the warehouse-keeper or other officer aforesaid shall note on the shipping bill the fact of the removal of the opium and the date thereof.

13. The warehouse-keeper shall then note in the shipping bill the hours between which the opium shall be transported from the warehouse to the place of shipment, and return it to the exporter.

14. Before removal of any warehoused opium, under the proviso to No. 12 of the Bombay Opium Rules, for consumption within the Presidency of Bombay or for exportation under No. 27 of the said rules into any foreign State or into any part of British India outside of the Presidency of Bombay, the pass required by No. 7 or No. 27 of the said rules, as the case may be, shall be presented to the warehouse-keeper, together with the Collector's permit authorizing such removal.

15. Previous to permitting removal of any opium under Rule 14, the warehouse-keeper shall check by weighment the contents of each chest or half-chest, and shall compare the weight with that given in the pass, and in the case of opium which is to be exported under No. 27 of the Bombay Opium Rules, shall seal each package as required by No. 28 of those rules.

16. On the removal of any such opium from the warehouse the warehouse-keeper shall note on the pass the fact of the removal and the date thereof, returning the pass to the person who presented it.

17. Before any warehoused opium is removed, whether under Rules 10—13 or 14—16, the warehouse-keeper, or other officer authorized by him in this behalf, shall mark each chest or half-chest with the Government stamp provided for this purpose.

18. Unless the Collector by a special order or otherwise directs, no opium shall be taken into, or passed out of the warehouse except in whole or half-chests and in the manner prescribed in the foregoing rules.

19. Every operation connected with the deposit and removal of opium in or from the warehouse, the bringing of the same to the proper place for examination and weighment, and putting thereof into and out of the scales, and the opening, sorting, lotting, marking and numbering of packages of opium, in accordance with or for the purposes of these rules, shall be performed by, or at the expense of, the owner of the opium.

20. The warehouse-keeper, or any person duly authorized by the Collector, may at any time enter any compartment or part of the warehouse, and may weigh or otherwise take an account of any opium that may be there.

21. All assays, tests, examinations and samplings shall be performed within the warehouse.

22. Assaying, testing and other operations in which the use of fire is necessary shall be carried on only in the part of the warehouse premises set apart for that purpose and known as the 'testing-rooms.'

23. The balance of opium, if any, remaining after assay or test shall be removed from the testing-rooms and again deposited in the portion of the warehouse set apart for its storage.

24. The use of fires and naked lights and smoking within the warehouse are absolutely prohibited except in the testing-rooms.

25. The use of covered lights and lanterns may be permitted by the warehouse-keeper whenever it is shown to his satisfaction that it is necessary to allow the packing and sorting of opium to be proceeded with in the warehouse after sunset. The use of petroleum or other inflammable or dangerous oils for the purpose of lighting is strictly prohibited.

26. The warehouse shall be closed on Sundays and on New Year's Day, Good Friday, the Empress' Birthday, Christmas-day and all other days on which the closing of public offices is ordered by Government. The Collector, however, may, on application, permit the warehouse to be opened on these days on payment of such fees as the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, may from time to time fix.

27. The ordinary working hours in the warehouse shall be from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. But when the owner of any opium to be deposited in the warehouse, or of any opium already in the warehouse, makes—

(a) a verbal request that the warehouse be kept open at any other time between sunrise and sunset, or

(b) a written application, giving sufficient reasons for the request, that the warehouse be kept open after sunset up to an hour not later than 10 P.M., the warehouse-keeper shall open or allow the warehouse to remain open as desired.

28. No opium, or any other article, shall be brought into or removed from the warehouse except between the hours of sunrise and sunset: provided that opium unavoidably detained in transit to the warehouse and brought to the warehouse after sunset may be received in safe custody pending verification in the manner specified in Rule 4.

RULINGS BY THE HIGH COURT.

1. Sections 14, 20, 64, 65, 66 and 67.—Trees—Toddy producing-tree.—The words “Any tree” in section 14 and “every toddy-producing tree” in section 20 of the Bombay Abkári Act V of 1878, mean all trees in the Bombay Presidency to which the Act applies, from which toddy is drawn or produced, and not merely those in regard to which no special rights of drawing toddy previously existed. Ardesir Jehangir v. The Secretary of State for India—I. L. R., 6 Bom., 398.

2. Section 24.—Per Birdwood, J.—The expression “land revenue” as used in Act X of 1876 does not include either the duties leviable under Regulation XXI of 1827 on the manufacture of spirits, or the taxes on the tapping of toddy trees, the levy of which in certain districts was legalised by section 24 of the Bombay Abkári Act, No. V of 1878. A farmer of duties on the manufacture of spirits is not authorized to levy a duty on any juice in trees, either under Regulation XXI of 1827 or Act X of 1876, or Bombay Act V of 1878. Juice in toddy-producing trees is not spirit, which includes toddy in a fermented, state only. Narayan Venka Kalgatkar v. Sakharam Nago Keregannker—I. L. R., 9 Bom., 462.

3. Section 43 and 53.—Possession of distilling materials.—Mere possession, without a license, of utensils for distilling liquor, is not an offence punishable under section 43 of the Abkári Act (Bombay), No. V of 1878. It is only in cases where such possession is not satisfactorily accounted for that, under section 53, it is to be presumed, until the contrary is proved, that a person in possession of such utensils has committed an offence under section. 43. Queen Empress v. Pestanji Barjoji—I. L. R., 9 Bom., 456.

4. Section 43, Cl. F., and 53.—Burden of proof.—Mere possession of mowra flowers does not constitute an offence under section 43 of the Abkári Act, V of 1878, unless such possession is made out by the prosecution to have been for the purposes of distilling liquor therefrom. Nor is a seller of these flowers criminally responsible for any illicit use of them after they have passed from his control. In re the petition of Limda Koya—I. L. R., 9 Bom., 556.

Section 43.—Growing “gánja” without a permit is not an offence under section 43 of the Bombay Act V of 1878. In re Narayan Soma—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 26th April 1883.

Sections 9 and 43.—Carrying without a pass or permit liquor through a British Indian village on the way between two villages in a Native State is punishable under the Act as importing liquor. I. v. Jevia Sukhla—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 24th November 1886.

Section 43 (b).—Where accused removed some gánja grown in one of his survey numbers to a threshing floor in his adjoining survey number for the purpose of preparing it, the two survey numbers being practically one field, held that his act was not a removal from one place to another, punishable under section 43 (b). I. v. Satwa bin Rama—B. H. Ct. Rgs., 13th June 1889.

Section 43 (b).—A person holding a pass for tapping toddy trees and carrying toddy to his shop, told his niece to drive a buffalo laden with toddy while he himself searched for his runaway pony. The girl was convicted for transporting toddy without a pass. The conviction was reversed, on the ground that she could not be considered as herself transporting the toddy, as her uncle, who had but momentarily withdrawn, might be deemed as still controlling the buffalo laden with it.—I. v. Nagowa kom Lalapa—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 21st October 1886.

Section 43 (c).—Mere cultivation of ganja plants is not a process of manufacturing intoxicating drugs within the meaning of section 43 (c).—I. v. Dada bin Apaji—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 15th November 1888; I. v. Narayan valad Soma, ib., 26th April 1883.

Section 43, cl. (g).—A transfer of gánja from one shop to another, both shops belonging to the same licensee, does not constitute a sale punishable under section 43 (g). Mohon valad Vithoba—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 1st October 1885.

Section 45 (c).—A licensee required by his license to maintain at his retail shops such minimum stocks of spirits as the Collector should from time to time direct, and on no account to allow the stock to be less than the quantity so fixed, was held properly convicted for breach of his license, on the stock at one shop being found insufficient, on the principle that an act failing to comply with terms legally imposed is illegal in the affirmative as well as in the negative sense. I. v. Pedru bin Saver—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 15th February 1887.

Section 45, cl. c., applies only to the “holder of a license” and not to a mere servant of the licensee. I. v. Gaffur valad Adam et al—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 6th August 1885, followed in I. v. Gopal Vishram et al—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 26th July 1888; I. v. Gopal Vishram—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 13th September 1888; I. v. Ramji Raghaji—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 15th November 1888.

Section 45, and Section 33, I. P. C.—A licensee for selling bháng and gánja was convicted of breach of his license by omitting to open shops at certain places and to keep accounts. Held that neither omission was an “act” in breach of any condition of his license, section 33 of the Indian Penal Code having no application to this case. I. v. Nana Mahadeo—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 11th March 1886.

Section 45 (c).—An accused was convicted of a breach of a license under section 45 (c) of the Bombay A'bkári Act, in that he did not establish toddy shops at certain places in the Bijápur Táluka within a certain time. The license did not specify any time for the opening of the shops. Held that the matter was left by the license to subsequent adjustment between the Collector and the contractor, and the conviction was reversed. B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 6th March 1886.

Section 47.—The law does not allow the head of a family to have in his possession, without license, permit, pass or special order, a larger quantity of country liquor than may legally be sold under section 17 merely because he has adults living with him. I. v. Farsu Dumji Damel—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 27th May 1886.

Section 47.—Conviction for being in possession without a license, permit or pass of more than a certain quantity of country liquor should cite the authority which under sections 17 and 47 makes such possession illegal; otherwise the conviction is on its face insufficient. I. v. Kana Bulkur—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 11th November 1886.

Section 53.—An accused was proved to have in his possession 44 bottles of country liquor much exceeding in strength that which might be sold in the district. He was convicted of offences against sections 43 and 47, and sentenced to imprisonment under section 43 and to fine under section 47. Held (1) the presumption intended to be drawn by section 53 of the Act is the presumption of an offence under section 43 or 47 or both according to the facts of each particular case. (2) To make section 43 applicable, there ought to be, beyond mere possession, some affirmative evidence of the facts necessary to constitute an offence under that section, and in the absence of such evidence accused could be convicted only under section 47. I. v. Byramji Kharsedji—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 11th July 1889.

Section 55.—A Magistrate cannot order confiscation under the Bombay A'bkári Act V of 1878, the Collector only being invested with such power. I. v. Baslingapa—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 22nd July 1880.

Section 60 does not apply to an appeal by a person convicted by a Magistrate of a breach of a license. Enhancement under section 209, Bombay Land Revenue Code, of a fine imposed under section 56 of the A'bkári Act, 1878, was, therefore, illegal. I. v. Miya Saheb valad Mahomed—B. H. Ct. Cr. Rgs., 15th February 1885.

Restrictions on the powers of Local Governments and Administrations to enter into contracts involving liabilities on the State.

The Government of India having had under consideration certain cases in which agreements have been made with private persons or mercantile firms, which have resulted in loss or inconvenience to the State, has prescribed the following rules for the guidance of Local Governments and Administrations :—

- I.—In those cases where it is considered expedient to grant concessions or to make agreements which create any exclusive privilege or impose any corresponding obligation upon the Government, the deed of concession, or the agreement, if the rights under it are transferable, must be so framed that it will be beyond the power of the persons with whom the agreement is made to transfer their rights, or a part of them, without the sanction of the Government.
- II.—Whenever it is considered that the circumstances are such that it may be expedient that the property or rights should be placed in the hands of a joint stock company, the circumstances must be reported to the Government of India before the agreement is concluded or the concession finally made.
- III.—All contracts, agreements or concessions creating any exclusive privilege or imposing an corresponding obligation upon the Government which have a currency of more than five years must be forwarded before execution for the approval of the Government of India, unless powers have been unconditionally reserved to Government in the contract to terminate it on giving notice of such intention.

- IV.—Agreements with private persons, firms, or companies, under which a Local Government undertakes to execute works or perform services for them which involve expenditure from Government funds to the extent of a l  kh of rupees altogether, or of a yearly sum of Rs. 5,000, or the cession of Government property valued at a l  kh of rupees, should be submitted to the Government of India for approval.
- V.—Contracts or agreements which fall under the terms of clause III will be subject to any special provision made by Government to meet particular cases, or particular classes of cases, in which a strict application of that clause would be inadvisable.
- VI.—When agreements of the class referred to in this Resolution are executed by a Local Government, their terms should be considered in the Judicial Department and by the highest legal adviser to that Government, and they should be executed by the Secretary to the Local Government in the Judicial Department (Government Resolution No. 3491, 20th November 1888. [9th August 1870.]

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the twenty-second and twenty-third years of the reign of Her present Majesty, amending an Act passed in the twenty-first and twenty-second years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intitled "An Act for the better government of India," it was provided that any deed, contract, or other instrument made by the authorities therein named, for the purpose of disposing of real and personal estate in India vested in Her Majesty under the said last-mentioned Act, or of raising money on such real estate by way of mortgage, or of making proper assurance for that purpose, or of purchasing and acquiring any lands and hereditaments, or any interest therein, stores, goods, chattles and other property in India, and of entering into any contracts whatsoever for the purposes of the said first-mentioned Act, may be expressed to be executed as on behalf of the Secretary of State for India in Council, by or by order of the Governor General in Council, or the Governor of Fort St. George or of Bombay in Council :

And whereas by an Act passed in the thirty-second and thirty-third years of Her said Majesty, it was recited that certain deeds had been issued for inam lands in the Presidency of Fort Saint George by the Inam Commissioner in the execution of his office in that respect, which, by reason of certain defects in the expression of the execution thereof, it was apprehended might be invalid ; and provision was thereupon made by the said last-mentioned Act that the said title-deeds should not be deemed invalid by reason of such defects :

And whereas it is apprehended that other deeds, contracts, and instruments made for the purpose expressed in the said first-recited Act, besides such title-deeds as aforesaid, may be invalid or deemed invalid for the like reason, and such provision as aforesaid should therefore be made more general :

Every deed, contract, or other instrument made in India for the purposes and by the authorities expressed in the said first-recited Act up to the date of the passing of this Act, and for any further period within the limit of one year to which the Governor General in Council may deem it advisable to extend the operation of this Act, which is expressed to be executed by or by order of or on behalf of the Governor General of India in Council, the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council, or the Governor of Bombay in Council, or by any Lieutenant-Governor or Chief Commissioner, or any other officer for the time being entrusted with the government, charge, or care of any presidency, province or district of British India within the limits of their respective governments, provinces, or districts, and every deed, contract, or other instrument so executed in British India by any person authorised in this behalf by the Secretary of State for India in Council, shall be, and be deemed to have been as valid as if it had been executed in conformity with the provisions of the said first-recited Act ; provided that such deed, contract, or other instrument has been in other respects duly executed according to the law in force at the date of its execution.

2. It shall be lawful for the Governor General, by Resolution in Council, from time to time to vary the form of the execution prescribed by the said first-recited Act for the deeds, contracts, and other instruments to which it relates, and to empower such authorities as to him may seem expedient to vary it within the respective limits of their local jurisdiction ; and deeds, contracts, and other instruments executed according to forms so altered shall have in all respects, the like validity as if they had been executed according to the provisions of the said first-recited Act.

24th January 1880.

In all cases in which, under the provisions of paragraph 1 of section 320 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the execution of certain decrees has been, or may hereafter be, transferred to the Collector, the Governor in Council is pleased, in exercise of the powers conferred by paragraph 2 of the aforesaid section, and in supersession of the Rules published under date the 16th December 1878, to prescribe the following rules for the transmission of such decrees from the Court to the Collector, and for regulating the procedure of the Collector and his subordinates in executing the same, and for retransmitting the said decrees from the Collector to the Court, namely :—

(No. 499, B. G. G., 1880, Pt. I., pp. 96 and 99.)

1. If the Court shall be satisfied that the decree is one to which this notification applies, it shall cause a copy thereof to be forwarded to the Collector by post, or in such other manner as shall be most convenient.

2. Along with the said copy the Court shall send—

- (a) A copy of the judgment, if any, of the Court which passed the decree ;
- (b) If the decree is that of an Appellate Court, a copy of the judgment of the Court which tried the suit originally, and, when there has been a special or second appeal, of the judgment of the first Appellate Court ;
- (c) A statement showing the extent, if any, to which the decree has been already executed, and clearly setting forth what portion of the decree still remains to be satisfied ;
- (d) A copy of the application for execution of the decree and of the order, if any, made thereon for sale.

3. The aforesaid documents shall be prepared and transmitted to the Collector, free of all cost to the parties ; the copies, &c., being prepared by the Court's establishment.

4. On receipt of the decree and of the other documents mentioned in Rule 2, the Collector may either proceed to execute it himself, or may refer it for execution, subject to his supervision and control, to any of his subordinates not lower in rank than a Mahalkari.

5. The Collector, or the officer to whom the Collector so refers the decree shall, without delay, appoint a day for hearing any representations which the parties or any of them may desire to make, as to the manner in which the decree should be executed, and shall cause a written notice to be served on each of the parties to the decree of the day so fixed, and shall also require the judgment-debtor to produce all title-deeds and other documents affecting the property in question which may be in his possession or power ; and shall, after such enquiry as he considers necessary, proceed according to the methods prescribed by section 321 to 325 C. of the Civil Procedure Code, as may be appropriate to the nature of the case.

6. The Collector or other officer aforesaid may, from time to time, by similar written notices, require the attendance of the parties to the decree, or any of them, for the purpose of ascertaining their wishes or of obtaining any information which he may consider necessary to enable him to provide satisfactorily for the execution of the decree; and if any party does not attend, in pursuance of any such notice, the Collector or other officer aforesaid shall decide the matter in his absence, and he shall not afterwards be entitled to be heard with respect thereto.

7. Every such notice, and every notice which the Collector shall issue under section 324 of the Code of Civil Procedure to the judgment-debtor or his representative, may be served in the manner prescribed by section 191 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code or by forwarding the same to the Court to be served upon the pleader, if any, of the party to whom such notice is addressed. Every other notice issued under these rules shall be served in the manner prescribed in section 191 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code. (Notn. 3132, B. G. G., 1883, Pt. I., p. 358.)

8. All orders which the Collector or other officer aforesaid shall pass in respect of the execution of the decree, or of the management or sale of the immoveable* property of the judgment-debtor, shall be made in writing, and shall be dated and signed by him; and a diary of his proceedings shall be kept in the language of the district, in the Form B. at page 148 of the Circulars of the High Court of Bombay.

9. Previous to proceeding to sell any property, the Collector or other officer aforesaid shall, unless he has already proceeded under section 322A. or 322C., publish a notice in the language of the district calling upon all persons having rights in, or charges or claims on, the said property, or any part thereof, to submit on or before a date which shall be named in such notice, and which shall not be less than six weeks after the date of such notice, a statement of the right, charge or interest claimed, and to produce the documents, if any, on which such claims are based.

Such notice shall be published in the manner prescribed for the notice to be issued by the Collector under section 322A. of the Code of Civil Procedure. (Notn. 3132, B. G. G., 1883, Pt. I., p. 358.)

10. If, in the opinion of the Collector or other officer aforesaid, any statement so produced is not sufficiently precise or clear; or if it shall appear to the Collector or such other officer that all the documents in the claimant's possession or power relating to the property to be sold have not been produced, he may refuse to receive such statement, and may give or may not give, as he deems fit, time for the production of a fresh statement.

* RESOLUTION.—The sale of what is in the mofussil called the equity of redemption of mortgaged property, is really a sale of the property burdened with a certain debt. The latter circumstance does not make it, it seems to the Governor in Council, less a sale of the property, and the rules already issued provide for execution of decrees ordering a sale of immoveable property by the Collectors. (G. R. No. 1668, J. D., 25th March 1890.)

The Collector or other officer aforesaid shall peruse the documents of title which any such claimant produces ; but such documents shall not, without a special order, the reasons for which must be recorded, be handed for perusal to any other person than the Collector or other officer aforesaid, and his clerk, reader or interpreter : and they shall, after such perusal, be restored to the persons who have produced them with an endorsement signed by the Collector or other officer aforesaid on each of the date on which and the purpose for which they were presented and of the date of return and of the person to whom they are returned.

(Notn. 3132, B. G. G., 1883, Pt. I., p. 358 ; (Notn. 6437, B. G. G., 1883, p. 695.)

11. Every sale of property shall be held before the Collector or other officer aforesaid or before any Revenue officer not lower in rank than a Mahalkari's first Karkun specially nominated by the Collector or other officer aforesaid in this behalf.

Except as is otherwise provided by the Code of Civil Procedure, every such sale shall be proclaimed* and held in the manner prescribed by the rules for the time being in force relating to the sale of immoveable property in realization of arrears of land revenue.

Every proclamation of any such sale shall contain, in addition to the particulars required by the said rules :—

(a) A list of all claims of which statements have been drawn up under section 322B. or section 322C., or have been duly submitted and accepted by the Collector or other officer aforesaid under No. 10 of these Rules, and which shall appear to the Collector or such other officer to be prima facie honest and reasonable.

(b) A caution that no guarantee is given either of the judgment-debtor's title or of the validity of any of the rights, charges or interest claimed by third parties.

12. The Collector or other officer aforesaid shall retain the title-deeds and other documents produced by the judgment-debtor under Rule 5 ; and, if the whole of the property to which they relate is sold, shall hand them over to the purchaser.

(Notn. 3280, B. G. G., 1885, Pt. I., p. 631 ; see also Notn. No. 2890, B. G. G., 1890, Pt. I., p. 510.)

12A. No holder of a decree in execution of which property is sold shall, without the express permission of the Collector or other officer aforesaid, bid for or purchase the property.

---

* The form of proclamation is given in the Appendix to this Part.

13. When any sale has been finally completed, the Collector or other officer aforesaid shall give to the purchaser a certificate of sale, as nearly as may be, in the Form No. 150 of Schedule IV. of the Code of Civil Procedure.

14. When the property sold is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor, or of any other person, and a certificate in respect thereof has been granted under the last preceding Rule, the Collector or other officer aforesaid shall, on application by the purchaser, order delivery to be made by putting the purchaser or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf in possession of the property; by proclaiming to the occupant by beat of drum, or in such other manner as may be customary, at some convenient place, that the interest of the judgment-debtor has been transferred to the purchaser; and, if need be, by removing any person who refuses to vacate the same.

15. When execution of the decree has been, as far as possible, completed, and the balance, if any, of all monies which have come to his hands, disposed of in accordance with the provisions of section 324A. of the Code of Civil Procedure, the Collector shall re-transmit the papers received by him under Rules 1 and 2, together with the execution proceedings, to the Court by post, or in such other manner as shall be most convenient.

16. The following powers are conferred on Collectors or such of their gazetted subordinates to whom a decree has or may hereafter be referred under Rule 4 :—

(Notn. No. 92,
B. G. G., 1890,
Pt. I., pp. 38

(1) The power referred to in section 294 of the Code of Civil Procedure to grant express permission to the holder of a decree, in execution of which property is sold, to bid for or purchase the property: Provided that the Collector or other officer aforesaid, to whom an application for such permission may be made, shall not grant such permission unless the decree-holder—

(a) satisfies him that the application is made in good faith, and that the judgment-debtor is not a minor;

(b) undertakes that he will not himself or through any other person bid or purchase for a sum less than such amount as the Collector or other officer granting the permission, having regard to the fair market value of the interest to be sold, may determine, and that the permission shall be subject to this condition;

(c) agrees that if the decree-holder or any one on his behalf becomes the purchaser, the purchase-money shall be paid to the Collector or other officer executing the decree.

(2) The power referred to in paragraph 1 of Section 312, Civil Procedure Code, to pass an order confirming a sale if no application to set the sale aside has been made within the time limited by law,* or if every application so made has been disallowed.

17. If any application to set aside a sale be made within the time limited by law to the Collector or other officer aforesaid, he shall refer the applicant to the Civil Court.

The arrangement in Rules 16 and 17 is provisional pending a reconsideration of the whole subject of execution of decrees by Collectors. (G. R., J. D., No. 91, 8th January 1890.)

---

ADDITIONAL ORDERS, &c.

1. As the law stands, no fees for the service and execution of processes, issued by the Collector in the exercise of powers under section 320 of the Civil Procedure Code, are leviable. (G. R. 1619, J. D., of 11th March 1881.)

Rules for the guidance of Collectors in accepting or declining appointments as receivers under Section 504, Civil Procedure Code.

"1. Collectors shall only consent to act as Receivers under section 504 of the Civil Procedure Code in as many cases as they are from time to time of opinion they or, subject to their supervision, their subordinates can properly attend to, and shall exercise their discretion as to what cases they shall consent to act in. (Notn. No. 3913, B. G. G., 1883, Pt. I, p. 386.)

"2. They should decline to act in any case in which previous to their appointment they have not been consulted by the District Court as to their willingness to act.

"3. They should decline to act in every case in which, after inquiry, they find—

(a) that the estate is of insignificant value ; or

(b) that if they accept the office, no sufficient provision will remain for the support of the judgment-debtor and his family during the management ; or

(c) that owing to the property being an undivided share, or for any such reason, the management will probably be attended with litigation or serious complications and difficulties of which it would be unreasonable to throw the burden upon the officers available for the management ;

(d) that a more satisfactory method of dealing with the case would be for the Court to transfer execution of the decree under section 320 of the Civil Procedure Code, if that section is applicable ; or

(e) that the case is one to which the provisions of section 326 of the Code ought to be applied and to which they propose to apply those provisions.

"4. They should accept the office as a rule when the judgment-debtor is a person of rank and position, or the descendant of such a person, and there is reasonable hope of the management of his attached estate conducing to his advantage and the judgment-creditor consents to a reasonable allowance being made out of the proceeds for the maintenance of such judgment-debtor and his family during the management if he has no other sufficient means of support."

It has been held that where there are competing decree-holders who have applied for execution of their decrees, section 294 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) must be taken as subject to the provisions of section 295, so that the decree-holder, who has been permitted under the former section to purchase the property in execution of his own decree, must share the proceeds of the sale rateably with such competing decree-holders, and will not be allowed to set off the purchase money against the amount due to him on his decree. (I. L. R., 6 B., 571.)

The relation of the Collector executing the decree to the Court was previous to section 30 of Act VII of 1888, empowering the Local Government to confer certain judicial powers, defined as follows:—

Per West, J. :—The Collector, like the Názir in India, is a ministerial officer when he executes a decree. He, like the Názir, must carry out the decree of a Civil Court in general subjection to the judicial direction of the Court on whose authority the coercive power exercised by him rests and which alone can deal judicially with the questions that arise in execution. His proceedings and orders are subject accordingly to revision and correction on the application of a party aggrieved, whenever he misconceives the decree or acts illegally in giving effect to it. He is limited strictly to the precise line of activity laid down for him in the Code and the orders under it; and in cases of error or doubt it is the Court that must determine whether he, as its ministerial officer, has or has not transgressed his powers.

Per Birdwood, J. :—A sale made by a Collector under Chapter XIX of the Civil Procedure Code is subject to confirmation by the Civil Court under section 312. As soon as the Collector has exercised or performed the powers or duties conferred or imposed upon him by sections 321 to 325 of the Code, he is functus officio. If he has sold the property or re-sold it under the power given by Clause (c) of section 325, he has completed the execution of the decree so far as he can legally complete it, and it is then his duty to retransmit the decree to the Court, under rules prescribed in that behalf by Government under the second paragraph of section 320. Where the property has been sold or resold, the sale or resale cannot be set aside by the Collector. Any application for setting it aside must be made to the Civil Court under section 311, and dealt with by it under section 312, and if no application is made to the Court, the sale must be confirmed by it under that section.

Therefore when a Mámlatdár had put up immoveable property for sale and the sale had been confirmed by the Mámlatdár with the sanction of the Collector, and the auction purchaser had applied to the Collector for a certificate of sale which the Collector had refused, it was held that the Subordinate Judge who transferred the decree to the Collector for execution had jurisdiction to deal with an application against the refusal of the Collector to grant certificate and could revise the Collector's proceedings.

Held also, the Collector having through his subordinate put up for sale the judgment debtor's property and confirmed the sale had completely executed the decree so far as he could and was so far functus officio. His duty was to make a return to the Court of what he had done. After confirmation of the sale he could not set it aside. (I. L. R., 11 B., 478.)

(It would seem that when the powers of a Court under section 312, Civil Procedure Code, have not been conferred on the Collector under section 320 as amended by section 30 of VII of 1888, his position would still be as described in the above ruling).

A Collector, to whom a decree for sale of mortgaged property has been transferred for execution under section 320 of the Civil Procedure Code, is limited to one of the three courses specified in section 321, and may not depart from them; much less may he do what the Court itself could not do in such a case, allow payment of the debt to be made by instalments.

A Collector, to whom a decree has been so transferred for execution, acts ministerially and, when he delegates his functions to an assistant or Mámlatdár, incurs a risk of having to answer in damages to the person who is by any error or mistake deprived of the fruits of his judgment; and this risk attaches independently of malice or negligence. (I. L. R., 7 B., 332.)

The following will also apply when judicial powers have not been conferred on the Collector under section 320 as amended by section 30 of VII of 1888.

The Court that has made a decree or judicial order, which has been transmitted to the Collector for execution, is not deprived of the judicial powers with respect to it which may still at any particular time be competent to such Court, and which it would have had had the order been placed in the hands of its own ordinary officer, the Názir. In the exercise of such powers the Court has authority to re-call its own record transmitted to the Collector. (I. L. R., 7 B., 332.)

A ruling of the Allahabad High Court (I. L. R., 5 All., 315) seems to be somewhat in conflict with the above, but it should be remembered that the Collectors are bound to follow the decrees of the Court to which they are subordinate and are not at liberty to adopt a contrary opinion expressed by another High Court. (I. L. R., 10 C., 82.)

7. In any case in which it is proposed to require the services of the Advocate General on behalf of some third person not directly identified in interest with Government, Government will determine whether the case is one in which they have such an interest as to render it advisable that it should be conducted on their behalf, and when it has been so determined, it is the duty of the Advocate General to afford his services, as he would if Government were directly a party to the case.

8. It is the duty of the Advocate General to prosecute as leading Counsel in all original criminal cases tried before the High Court in which Government direct that their Law officers shall prosecute.

9. In ordinary original criminal cases tried before the High Court the Advocate General will exercise his discretion and prosecute as leading Counsel whenever he deems it desirable, in the interests of the public, that he should do so.

In any such case, the Public Prosecutor may, at his discretion, appear by the Government Pleader. If he thinks the case a fit one for the employment of special counsel he will report it to Government for orders, or in emergent cases may act in anticipation of such orders.

25. Except as is otherwise provided in Rules 15 and 19, the employment of special counsel, when necessary, on behalf of Government in any case, whether civil or criminal, which arises originally in the Mofussil, and the settlement of their fees, is also a part of the duties of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs; and subject to the orders of Government, he is to exercise a control over all expenditure incurred on account of law charges, in connection with both civil and criminal cases in, or arising in, the Mofussil.

If there is not time for this communication to be made before the date fixed, or likely to be fixed, for the hearing or trial of the case, the Court or Magistrate should be asked to adjourn it or to fix the date in the first instance at a sufficient distance of time to enable the officer concerned to obtain sanction for the employment of special counsel. (5). The appeal or application will then be drawn up by the Government Pleader and after consultation with the special counsel, if any, whom Government authorize him to retain for the purpose.

(6). Neither the grounds of appeal or application nor the arguments used in support of the same at the hearing need be limited to those stated in the Legal Remembrancer's opinion. The Government Pleader or other counsel will be at liberty to exercise his own discretion as to the manner in which the appeal should be conducted or the application supported, subject only to any special reservations which may be made in the Government Resolution sanctioning the appeal or application.

If a written judgment is recorded by the Court, he will obtain with as little delay as possible two copies of it, and forward one to the Legal Remembrancer and one, with the papers, to the officer who proposed the appeal or application.

(9).* The result of the appeal or application will be specially reported to Government by the Legal Remembrancer only in such cases as appear to him to be important. As a general rule it will suffice if the different cases and their results are mentioned in

32. It is also the duty of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs to draw Bills embodying such proposals for legislation as may be sent to him for the purpose from any of the Executive Departments of Government.

33. Bills so drawn will in the first instance be regarded merely as drafts intended to facilitate the further discussion of the proposed measure in the Executive Department of Government for which they have been prepared, or with such persons as that Department may think it desirable to consult.

34. If it should ultimately be determined to proceed to legislation, the draft prepared by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs will be returned to him; and it will be his duty to revise the draft, embodying in it all the provisions held to be necessary or desirable, and to finally mould the Bill in the shape in which it should be introduced into the Legislative Council, adding to it the usual Statement of Objects and Reasons. He will then cause the Bill to be printed under his supervision, and submit it to the department for which it has been prepared.

35. The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs is bound also to bring to the notice of Government from time to time all new enactments which require the issue by Government of rules, orders, bye-laws, or notifications, or which involve any change in any existing rules, orders, bye-laws, or notifications, and on receipt of the necessary instructions, to draft all such rules, orders, bye-laws, or notifications, as it may be necessary to issue, for the approval of Government. And all rules, orders, bye-laws, or notifications which it is at any time proposed to issue in the name of the Governor in Council in virtue of any power derived from any legislative enactment should be forwarded to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs in order that he may revise the same before they are issued with a view to legal precision and correctness.

36. The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs is to submit an annual report for the calendar year to Government, detailing the general results of the civil litigation in the mofussil in which Government or Government Officers were concerned, and of the criminal prosecutions, if any, in which special measures may have been taken on behalf of Government to secure conviction, and bringing to the notice of Government all such other matters of interest in connection with their legal affairs as he may think necessary. † In Sind Rules the following addition has been made to No. 45 after the word "order" in line 20:—

The Government Pleader in the Sadar Court shall also appear in the Sadar Court—

(a) When so directed by the Judicial Commissioner of the province of Sind or instructed by a Judge of a District in that province to support an order imposing a fine,

(b) When so directed by the Commissioner in Sind or by the Judicial Commissioner of the province of Sind or instructed by a Judge of a District in that province to support allegations of misbehaviour against a pleader in proceedings held for the purpose of determining whether such pleader should be removed or suspended from practice under Section 16 of Bom. Act XII of 1866. (Notn. No. 1950, B. G. G., 1893, p. 312.)

* 46. Whenever special counsel is employed by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, under Rule 25, in Bombay for any case to be heard either in Bombay or in the Mofussil, the Government Pleader in the High Court shall take (under instructions from the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs) the usual steps for retaining such counsel. The counsel's brief will be prepared, for any case to be tried in Bombay, by the Government Pleader in the High Court, and for any case to be tried in the Mofussil, by the Government Pleader of the district, or by the Public Prosecutor of the district or division in which the case is to be tried; and, in the latter case, the brief when prepared will be forwarded by the District Government Pleader, or the Public Prosecutor to the Government Pleader, in the High Court for submittal to the counsel.

† 47. The Government Pleader in the High Court is appointed Public Prosecutor for the purpose of presenting appeals to the High Court in cases of acquittal on behalf of Government under section 417 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and for the purpose of appearing for the prosecution in criminal appeals heard before the High Court under section 423 of the said Code, and for the Crown in other criminal cases which come before the High Court on its Appellate Side under the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code.

46. Whenever special counsel is employed by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs under Rule 25 for any civil or criminal case to be heard in Sind, the counsel's brief will be prepared by the Government Pleader of the district in which the case is to be heard. † In Sind Rules No. 47 is as follows:—

47. The Public Prosecutor for Sind is liable to appear for the Crown in the Sadar Court:

(c) in any other criminal cases which come before that Court under the Criminal Procedure Code.

He is appointed by Government under section 22 of the Criminal Procedure Code to receive notices of criminal appeals to be heard before the Sadar Court. (Notn. No. 436, B. G. G., 1883, p. 76.)

When the District Magistrate gives such sanction he shall submit a full report of the circumstances making this necessary to the Commissioner in Sind. (Notn. No. 4227, B. G. G., 1888, Pt. I., p. 652.)

After the word "commitments" insert "and appeals" and after the figure "218" insert "and 422."

Omit the word "District" before the words "Public Prosecutor."

For the words "appear for the prosecution" substitute "shall appear."

When so required by the Sessions Judge, the Magistrate of the district, or by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, it is their duty also to conduct the prosecution in any trial before a Magistrate. Whenever the previous connection of the District Public Prosecutor with any case has been such as to embarrass him in the discharge of his functions as Public Prosecutor, a reference shall be made to Government by the Magistrate of the District with a view to the appointment of a special Public Prosecutor for such case.

But no such person shall be appointed by a Magistrate of the district without the concurrence of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, and if, for special reasons, a higher rate of remuneration than the above is deemed necessary for the person whom it is proposed to appoint, the sanction of Government must be obtained, through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, before any liability is incurred.

When the Public Prosecutor for the Presidency or special counsel appears for the prosecution in any case before the High Court, or any Sessions Court, the Government Pleader or Prosecuting Pleader will appear also and assist, or instruct the Public Prosecutor or special counsel, as may be necessary.

The duties of the Government Pleader in the High Court are ordinarily restricted to that Court, but it is his duty, also, whenever his services can be spared without inconvenience to that Court, and the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs so requires, to appear in any case, whether civil or criminal, in any Court in the Mofussil.

* In Sind Rules No. 50 runs as follows :—

50. When under section 492 of the Criminal Procedure Code, a district Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate appoints any person to be Public Prosecutor in any particular case, such person shall be entitled to the same remuneration as would be payable under these rules to the Public Prosecutor of the district if he conducted the prosecution. ### RULES FOR THE INSTITUTION AND DEFENCE OF SUITS.

The following rules for the guidance of all Officers in connection with the Institution and Defence of Suits and other Civil Proceedings in the Mofussil, in which Government, or any Officer of Government is a party, or in which Government have any interest, are issued in supersession of all existing Rules or Orders on the same subject. These rules do not apply to the Province of Sind :—

I.—Institution of Suits on behalf of Government.

*Notn. No.
6452 C., B.
G. G., 1878,
Pt. I., pp.
751 to 765.

Any officer wishing to institute a suit shall submit a clear and detailed report, before a suit is instituted, through the ordinary channel of communication, to the Head of his department, showing—

- (a) the circumstances which render the suit necessary ;
- (b) the exact nature of the claim for which it is to be brought ;
- (c) the steps, if any, which have been taken to obtain satisfaction of the claim without bringing a suit ;
- (d) what objection or excuse, if any, the defendant has urged against the claim ;
- (e) the evidence, both oral and documentary, which it is proposed to adduce in support of the claim ; and
- (f) the evidence which, so far as is known, the defendant will be able to adduce in his defence.

All documents relied upon, and all the correspondence and written proceedings, whether in English or in the vernacular, connected with the proposed suit, should accompany the report.

2. It should be stated in the report whether or not the circumstances of the person against whom it is proposed to institute the suit are such as to render it likely that execution will be obtained of any decree that may be given against him.

The probability of the recovery of a sum at least equal to the costs should be ascertained before recommending the institution of any suit, unless, for reasons which should be explained, it is considered that the suit should be brought, notwithstanding that the recovery of costs is doubtful.

3. The head of the department, if he thinks that all the necessary preliminary steps have been taken, and that there is prima facie sufficient cause for the institution of a suit on behalf of Government, shall refer the report with his opinion to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

* The Sind Rules are, with the verbal modifications, noted in the foot-notes identical with those for the rest of the Presidency and were published by Notn. No. 6849, B. G. G., 1882, Pt. I., pp. 951 to 961.

4. The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs will then thoroughly inform himself of the whole of the circumstances, calling for such further information, or additional papers as he thinks necessary, and report his opinion to Government in detail as to the advisability of instituting a suit.

The report of the officer who proposed the institution of the suit and the opinion of the head of the department should accompany the report of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs to Government; but the rest of the papers should be retained by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs pending the orders of Government, unless for any reason he deems it necessary that any of them should be laid before Government.

5. The report of the officer who proposed the institution of the suit and all other documents accompanying the report of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs to Government will be returned to him with the order of Government for record in his office.

6. If the institution of the suit be sanctioned, a draft of the plaint will be prepared by the Government Pleader of the district in which the suit is to be instituted, in consultation with the officer who proposed its institution, and will be submitted by him direct to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs for approval.

II.—Defence of Suits.

7. Section 424 of the Civil Procedure Code requires that suits against Government or Government officers should be preceded by a notice* to be left either with a Secretary to Government, or with the officer concerned. When a notice of this kind is received by a Secretary to Government it will be at once forwarded to the officer principally concerned in, or cognizant of the matter respecting which an action is threatened.

The officer receiving any such notice, whether from a Secretary to Government, or direct from the complainant, should give it immediate and careful attention. The complainant should be desired, when his complaint is vague in the statement of the alleged right or alleged infringement of this right, or of the officer whose acts are impugned, to set these points forth succinctly and clearly, as the most effectual means towards obtaining such relief as may properly be given. Should it prove impossible to obtain a lucid and definite statement of the complainant's case in this way he should be examined orally as to all important points, and his answers should be taken down in writing, and verified by his signature, or by a memorandum that the paper was read over to the complainant and assented to by him. The documents above referred to should in every case be carefully preserved, together with any that the complainant may produce in support of his claim or complaint.

* N.B.—A notice printed in a newspaper containing other matter does not satisfy the requirements of section 424, C. P. C. (See B. H. C. P. J., 1881, p. 286.)

A public officer is entitled to notice only in those cases in which he is sued for damages for some wrong committed by him in the discharge of his duty. (I. L. R., 7 C., 499.) But all suits against the Secretary of State in Council require a notice.

8. The conduct or act complained of may have been either (1) wholly indefensible, (2) justifiable or (3) of a mixed or doubtful character.

Examination of the grounds of complaint.

In every case the officer receiving the notice should endeavour, without prejudice, to determine to which of these classes it is to be assigned.

If it is indefensible, it is his duty to do what lies in his power to give immediate redress, or to obtain it by a full report to the proper authorities.

If the complaint is plainly groundless or if the threatened action is one which must undoubtedly be defended, if it is brought, no further notice need be taken of the complaint, but the officer concerned should at once proceed, as far as possible, to collect the information and papers which will be afterwards required under Rules 11 and 12.

The chief difficulty arises in the third class of cases; and in these the officer receiving the notice should use every possible effort to distinguish between acts which have been properly done in the discharge of a public duty and those in which, through carelessness, ignorance, or imprudence, some real cause for complaint has been given. Such analysis will, in the majority of cases, reduce these acts under one of the two heads already considered, and they should then be dealt with accordingly. Where there is a doubt as to the real intention of the Government or of a superior authority in any order, the carrying out of which has occasioned the complaint, that doubt should be cleared up by an immediate reference. When there is a doubt as to the legality of the act complained of, though in apparent fulfilment of a rule or order, issued by a superior authority, a clear statement of the case should be submitted for orders to be issued after the opinion of the law officers shall, if necessary, have been obtained.

Pending references in cases falling under either the first and third head, the complainant should be informed that some delay is requisite for the proper disposal of his complaint, and, when instructions have been received, he should be at once informed of what is to be done; but every endeavour should be made to have the matter disposed of within the period of two months from the delivery of the notice allowed by the Civil Procedure Code before the threatened action can be instituted.

9. When a suit has been instituted, if it is against Government and the summons is therefore served on the Government Pleader, he shall at once procure an uncertified copy of the plaint and forward it and the copy of the summons received by him (with the date of its receipt by him noted on the back) to the officer who himself, or by his subordinates, is alleged to have given rise to the plaintiff's cause of action.

If the plaint relates to the acts of two or more officers, the Government Pleader shall communicate as above with the principal of such officers.

10. If, owing to the suit being against an officer in his official capacity, the summons is served on that officer personally, he shall at once forward a vakalatnāma to the Government Pleader (unless the Government Pleader already holds a general power-of-attorney from him), and procure from him an uncertified copy of the plaint.

11. The officer to whom the Government Pleader refers under Rule 9, and any officer who is sued in his official capacity, and who desires that Government should undertake the defence of the suit, shall collect, with the least practicable delay, all the information regarding the facts of the case which he can procure.

12. He is then, within one month from the date of his being first apprized of the institution of the suit, to submit the following papers, through the ordinary channel of communication, to the head of his department (namely):—

(a) a copy of the plaint in the vernacular ;

(b) a translation of the same into English in half margin, the more important of the statements therein being distinctly marked with letters (a), (b), &c., and notes being added in the margin stating whether such statements are correct or not, and if not, in what respect they are inaccurate : (when the requisite explanation cannot be thus compressed, reference should be made to the para. of the accompanying statement in which the matter should be fully discussed) ;

(c) a full and detailed statement (1) of the circumstances which led to the suit, (2) of the course which it is proposed to adopt, namely, whether to admit, compromise, or defend the suit, and of the reasons for the same, and (3) if it is proposed to defend the suit, of the grounds on which it is proposed to base the defence, and of the evidence to be adduced ;

(d) if the case turns on documentary evidence, copies of the documents (or the originals) relied on by the plaintiff (if procurable) and by the defence ;

(e) all the correspondence and written proceedings, whether in English or in the vernacular, connected with the subject-matter of the suit.

The forwarding report should state distinctly (1) the number of the suit, (2) the date on which, and the Court in which, it was instituted, (3) the names of all the parties, (4) the amount or value of the claim, (5) the date fixed by the Court for the first hearing, and (6) whether notice of the action has been given under section 424 of the Civil Procedure Code, and if so, the date of delivery of such notice.

13. If the suit is against an officer in his official capacity he shall instruct the Government Pleader to move the Court, from time to time, to grant an extension of the time for hearing the claim, under section 423 of the Civil Procedure Code, until the orders of Government are received. In the case of suits against Government, the Government Pleader shall make the necessary applications to the Court for time, under section 420 of the Code, without express instructions. If in any instance the Court is likely to decline to grant further time, it is the duty of the Government Pleader to inform the officer concerned in the defence of the suit, and in emergent cases, the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

14. If two or more officers belonging to different departments are sued jointly, or if the plaint in a suit against Government relates to the acts of two or more such officers, they should, with the least possible delay, communicate one with the other, and after, if possible, mutual consultation with a view to a common line of defence, arrange for the preparation of a joint report. When a joint report is not sent, a separate report should be submitted simultaneously by each officer, care being taken by the officer principally concerned that all the requirements of Rule 12 are complied with.

15. The provisions of Rules 3, 4 and 5 relating to the institution of suits on behalf of Government shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to reports submitted under Rule 12.

16. If the defence of a suit against Government is sanctioned, or if Government undertakes the defence of a suit against an officer in his official capacity, the written statement to be filed in answer to the plaint shall be subscribed and verified by the Government Pleader whose duty it is, under sections 420 and 426 of the Civil Procedure Code, to "answer to the plaint," and in the case of a suit of the latter class the Government Resolution sanctioning the defence is to be deemed to be the Government Pleader's "authority to appear and answer the plaint," and he shall at once on receipt thereof move the Court to cause a note of his authority to be entered in the register, but shall not produce such Resolution in Court.

17. The written statement and the issues sought on behalf of Government are ordinarily to be in strict accordance with the requirements of Rule 12.

cordance with the opinion of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs so far as concurred in by Government; but the Government Pleader is responsible in communication with the officer concerned in the suit, for the correctness and exhaustiveness of the details of the defence.

III.—Conduct of Suits.

18. The responsibility for the conduct of a suit in accordance with the opinion of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, so far as concurred in by Government, shall rest with the Government Pleader unless special counsel is appointed on behalf of Government; and it is the duty of the Government Pleader, during the progress of the suit, to consult the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs on all matters connected with it as to which he experiences any difficulty or doubt, and especially in respect of any interlocutory order made by the Court, on any application of the opposite party, which seems to require particular instructions.

Government Pleader's duties whilst a suit is under trial.

If special counsel is appointed, it is the duty of the Government Pleader, subject to the orders of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, to instruct him, and, when necessary, to prepare his brief, and generally to aid him in the conduct of the case.

19. In cases connected with the departments under the control of the Collector and Magistrate of the district, it is his duty, or that of any subordinate whom he may specially depute for the purpose, and in cases connected with any other department, it is the duty of the officer who proposed the institution, or who sought the sanction of Government for the defence, of the suit (as the case may be), to ascertain that the Government Pleader, or special counsel, is thoroughly acquainted with the facts of the case, and with the evidence to be adduced in support of the claim, and to see that the necessary evidence, whether oral or documentary, is ready by the proper time. The Government Pleader must keep the Collector, or other officer, informed on all points on which his co-operation is necessary, and report, with the least possible delay, if any further evidence, or information, is required, moving the Court, if necessary, from time to time to postpone the case, or adjourn the hearing.

Collector or other Officer to furnish information and prepare evidence.

20. When a suit is under trial, some intelligent officer thoroughly conversant with the facts of the case should be deputed to be present to instruct the Government Pleader as to the truth concerning matters which arise unexpectedly, and to direct his attention to the documents, or other evidence, that may become important, at each stage of the trial. In important cases, and in every case in which special counsel is retained, an Assistant or Deputy Collector, or an officer of similar rank should be deputed for this purpose.

21. Should there be a difference of opinion between the Government Pleader or special counsel and the Collector or other officer at whose desire the suit has been instituted or defended, as to the manner of conducting the case, or should the opinion of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs prove unintelligible on any point, or open to objection, the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs shall at once be communicated with in order that the difficulty may be settled. Should there eventually be an irreconcilable difference of opinion between the Collector or other officer and the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, a reference shall forthwith be made by the latter to Government.

22. The following important points relating to the conduct of all suits should be carefully attended to by Government Pleaders and all officers concerned (namely) :—

(a) the averments in a plaint, or in a written statement, should generally be based in every material point on the proof which can be adduced in support of them ;

(b) the evidence, whether oral or documentary, on which it is intended to rely should be carefully scrutinized by the Government Pleader before it is adduced, and he should advise as to its admissibility, and probable importance, or unimportance, for the purposes of the suit, and suggest what evidence, if it be forthcoming, may with advantage be substituted for that which, in his opinion, would be weak or inadmissible ;

(c) all the available evidence should be assiduously collected and made ready for the day fixed for its reception, and the necessity of making applications for adjournment should, as much as possible, be avoided, and such applications on behalf of the opposite party should, unless they are made for sufficient reasons, be resisted as tending to prolong the litigation, and to give opportunities for the fabrication of false evidence ;

(d) all documentary evidence should be ready and be produced at the first hearing of the suit, (i.e. the day fixed for the settlement of issues), as required by section 131 of the Civil Procedure Code, and when a suit is instituted, the documents sued upon should be produced in Court when the plaint is presented, together with copies thereof, as required by sections 59 and 62 of the Code, and the list of other documents relied upon as evidence, which is required by section 59 to be annexed to the plaint should be very carefully prepared. Applications to the Court to accept any document in evidence, at any subsequent stage of the trial, should, unless under special circumstances, be avoided, as such applications cannot be granted without the grant of similar indulgence to the opposite party, which may place Government at a disadvantage, and should be resisted, as holding out a temptation to forgery ;

(e) documents filed by the opposite party should be carefully examined at the earliest opportunity, and compared with originals in the Government records, or with other papers which tend to establish, or subvert, their authenticity ;

(f) the production of documents in the possession of Government or of any Government officer when lawfully required by the Court, or by the opposite party, should not be resisted unless for good and sufficient reasons such as are recognized by law ; but the question of the admissibility of the documents, when produced, should be carefully considered, and argued, it being borne in mind that the opinions of individual officers contained in official correspondence (which is so often called for by persons engaged in litigation with Government in order to establish their case) are, as a rule, not admissible in evidence ;

(g) the object of Government in sanctioning either the institution, or defence, of any suit is simply to establish the truth ; and whilst Government expect the utmost vigilance and care on the part of those entrusted with the conduct of litigation on their behalf in asserting and protecting their just interests, they would impress upon pleaders who have the charge of cases that they will not countenance any attempt to snatch an unfair advantage by the withholding of important evidence, or by any disingenuous proceeding whatever.

23. As soon as a suit is decided, the Government Pleader shall communicate the nature of the decision to the Collector, or other officer concerned, giving, in important or interesting cases, a brief statement of the grounds thereof. A duplicate of the Government Pleader's report shall be at once forwarded by him direct to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

24. The Government Pleader shall then obtain with as little delay as possible two copies, one certified and the other uncertified, of the Court's judgment, and one certified copy of its decree. The certified copies of the judgment and decree he shall forward to the Collector or other officer concerned ; the uncertified copy of the judgment he shall forward to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs direct.

25. If the decision is entirely in favour of Government, the copies may be forwarded by the Government Pleader according to the last rule without comment, and the Collector or other officer shall communicate the result of the suit to the head of his department, sending him a copy of the judgment, or not, as, under the circumstances of the case, he thinks fit. The result need not be communicated by the head of the department to Government unless he is of opinion that for special reasons it is desirable to do so, in which case he shall submit his report to Government through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

The general results of all litigation will be communicated to Government by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs in his annual report.

IV.—Appeals.

26. If the decision is either wholly or partially adverse to Government the Government Pleader, when forwarding copies of the decree and judgment to the Collector or other officer concerned, shall state his opinion, with reasons, as to whether an appeal should be brought.

27. The Collector or other officer, after perusing the judgment, shall call upon the Government Pleader to send him uncertified copies of such of the exhibits recorded in the case as he deems necessary to explain the grounds of the decision so far as it deals with the merits of the case (or in important cases, of all the material exhibits), and shall forward them, together with the certified copies of the judgment and decree already received from the Government Pleader, with a report, stating his opinion as to whether the decision should be acquiesced in or appealed against, direct to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

28. This report must be despatched so as to reach the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs within fifteen days after the date of the decree, in cases in which an appeal lies to the District Judge, and within one month after the said date in cases in which an appeal lies to the High Court.*

29. A copy of the report shall be sent simultaneously to the head of the department, who, if he concurs in it, will merely file it, but if he differs from it, or considers it otherwise necessary to address Government on the subject of it, shall submit a separate report on it without delay to Government through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

30. The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, after calling for such further information, or additional papers, as he thinks necessary, shall report his opinion to Government as to whether an appeal should be made or not, or as to what other course should be pursued. His report must be despatched in time to enable the orders of Government upon it to be acted upon, if necessary, within the period prescribed by law for filing an appeal.

The report of the Collector or other officer, and, if any have been received, that of the head of the department also, should accompany the report of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs to Government; but the rest of the papers should be retained by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, pending the orders of Government, unless for any reason he deems it necessary that any of them should be laid before Government.

31. The report of the Collector, or other officer, and of the head of the department, if any, and all other documents which accompany the report of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs to Government, will be returned to him with the order of Government for record in his office.

Papers to be recorded in the Legal Remembrancer's Office.

32. If an appeal be sanctioned the Collector, or other officer, will instruct the Government Pleader in the District Court, or in the High Court,* accordingly, at the same time sending him a vakalatnama (unless the Government Pleader already holds a general power-of-attorney from him), if the suit is against him personally. If the appeal has to be made to the District Judge, the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs will return the copies received by him, under Rule 27, to the Collector, or other officer, who shall make them over to the Government Pleader for his use in the appeal. If the appeal has to be made to the High Court, the said copies shall be sent by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs direct to the Government Pleader in that Court, and it shall be the duty of the Collector, or other officer, in consultation with the District Government Pleader, to send to the Government Pleader in the High Court,* with the least practicable delay, copies of all the remaining material exhibits and other papers connected with the suits for his information and guidance.

Procedure if an appeal is sanctioned.

33. Appeals are ordinarily to be based strictly on the grounds recommended by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs and concurred in by Government; but when an appeal is sanctioned generally against a decision, the Government Pleader is responsible for availing himself of all legitimate grounds on which the decree may be open to objection, notwithstanding that any of them may have escaped the notice of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, or not have been mentioned by him.

Preparation of memorandum of appeal.

In important or intricate cases the memorandum of appeal should be submitted to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs for approval before being filed in Court.

* Vide note to rule 28.

34. If an appeal is brought by the opposite party against a decision either entirely, or partly, in favour of Government, a notice of the appeal will be served by the Court either on the Government Pleader or on the officer concerned. In the former case the Government Pleader shall at once obtain an uncertified copy of the memorandum of appeal, and forward it and the notice received by him (with the date of its receipt noted on the back) to the Collector or other officer concerned, or to the principal of the officers concerned. In the latter case the officer concerned shall at once send the Government Pleader a vakálatnáma (unless the Government Pleader already holds a general power-of-attorney from him), and obtain from him an uncertified copy of the memorandum of appeal.

35. The Collector or other officer concerned shall then carefully compare the grounds of appeal with the Court's judgment, and after consultation, if necessary, with the District Government Pleader, report his opinion as to whether the appeal should be defended, and make any explanation or remarks that may be needed with reference to the grounds of appeal. His report should be submitted to the head of his department and be accompanied by the same documents as are required to accompany a report under Rule 27.

36. The Head of the Department shall refer the report, with his own opinion, to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, and the provisions of Rules 30, 31 and 32 shall then apply, mutatis mutandis, to the said report and its accompaniments, and to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs with regard to his duty in respect thereof, and to the instruction of the Government Pleader, if the defence of the appeal is sanctioned by Government.

37. The provisions of Rules 18, 19, 20 and 21 apply equally to the conduct of appeals as to the conduct of original suits except—

(1) that a discretion must be exercised by the Government Pleader in meeting new points raised for the first time in appeal, but that he should apply for an adjournment to enable him to advise with the officer concerned, or with the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, if necessary, on any such points in which he may not have been fully instructed, or to which he is not able to furnish an immediate reply ;

(2) that it is only necessary to depute an officer to be present to assist the Government Pleader in the High Court * when express orders are received from Government to that effect.

* Vide note to rule 28.

38. When two or more officers of different departments are concerned in a case in which an appeal is desired on behalf of Government, or in which an appeal is brought by the opposite party, the foregoing duties will devolve on the principal of such officers, subject, as far as may be, to the provisions of Rule 14.

Procedure when two or more officers are concerned in an appeal case.

39. When an appeal has been decided by a District Court, the provisions of the Rules 23, 24 and 25 shall be observed so far as they are applicable, just as in the case of the decision of an original suit.

Applicability of Rules 23, 24 and 25 to decisions in appeals.

V.—Second Appeals.

40. When an appeal from an original decree has been decided by a District Court, either wholly or partially adversely to Government, the same course is to be pursued with respect to the bringing of a second appeal as in the case of an appeal from an original decree, provided that if the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs is clearly of opinion that the case is one in which the law allows no second appeal, it shall not be necessary for him to refer it for the orders of Government, and the result of the first appeal need not be communicated to Government unless the head of the department, or the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, is of opinion, for special reasons, that it should be. If the head of the department communicates the result of an appeal to Government under this rule, he shall submit his report to Government through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

Procedure when an appeal has been decided adversely by a District Court.

41. When a second appeal is brought against an appellate decree either wholly or partly in favour of Government, the same course shall be pursued as when an appeal is brought in the High Court* against a similar original decree.

Procedure when a second appeal is brought against an appellate decree in favour of Government.

42. When an appeal has been decided by the High Court,* whether against an original or appellate decree, the Government Pleader shall communicate the nature of the decision, as soon as it is pronounced, to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, giving a brief statement of the grounds of the decision.

High Court's decision in an appeal how to be reported.

(Note No. 2895, B. G. O., 1933, p. 425.)

He shall then obtain, with as little delay as possible, two uncertified printed copies of the Court's written judgment, if any, and forward one to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, and one, with the papers in the case, to the Collector or other officer concerned. * If the Court records no written judgment, the Government Pleader shall inform the Collector or other officer to that effect and return the papers. The Collector, or other officer, shall inform the head of his department of the result of the case, sending him a copy of the written judgment, if any, or not, as he deems necessary.

The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs shall communicate the result of any such appeal to Government only when he thinks necessary, in special cases submitting a copy of the written judgment also, if any have been recorded; but, as a general rule, he should confine himself to mentioning the different cases and their results in his annual report. Nor need the result of any such appeal be communicated to Government by the head of the department unless the decision appears to him to be specially inconvenient, or to affect the administration in some unusual manner, in which case he shall forward his report to Government through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

VI.—Appeals to Her Majesty in Council.

43. Applications under Chapter XLV of the Civil Procedure Code for permission to appeal how to be dealt with. Applications for permission to appeal to Her Majesty in Council, whether in behalf of or against Government, shall be dealt with generally under the same rules as are applicable to appeals to the High Court.†

‡44. When the High Court† has granted a certificate that a case is a fit one for such appeal, the Government Pleader in that Court shall take steps for selecting the exhibits to be included in the transcript of the record in accordance with No. 6 of the rules published by the High Court on the 23rd February 1870 (vide B. G. G. for 1870, p. 167) referring for instructions in all matters of doubt to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

45. When the High Court† has declared the appeal admitted under Section 603 of the Civil Procedure Code, the Government Pleader shall at once inform the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, and, so far as permitted by the rules of the Court, shall give his careful attention to the preparation of the transcript of the record and see that it contains copies of all the documents necessary on behalf of Government and that it is conveniently arranged and indexed.

46. On receipt of intimation that an appeal has been declared admitted, the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs shall prepare a statement—
Statement of case to be prepared by Legal Remembrancer.

* The Sind Rules omit in No. 42 the words "If the Court records," to "return the papers."

† Vide note to rule 28.

‡ In the Sind Rules omit in No. 44 the words from "in accordance with" to "p. 167."

- (1) embodying the facts of the case,
- (2) explaining the reasons on which further prosecution of the suit is recommended,
- (3) setting out the principal points insisted upon for the Government in the Courts of this country, and
- (4) adding such observations upon the past conduct of the case and upon the judgments of the Courts in this country as will conduce to an understanding and proper representation of the Government case at the hearing of the appeal.

47. If the Advocate General has appeared in the case before the High Court* on behalf of Government, the above statement shall be signed by him as well as by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs and shall contain their joint opinion as to the precise legal grounds on which the appeal should be argued. If the Advocate General has not appeared in the case, the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs shall forward the statement to the Solicitor to Government, who will submit it to the Advocate General for his opinion as to the soundness of the arguments relied upon for Government and for his advice generally.

48. The said statement, together with the opinion of the Advocate General, if it is recorded separately, shall then be printed under the superintendence of the Solicitor to Government so as to be ready by the same time that the transcript of the record is likely to be transmitted by the High Court* to the Privy Council. The Government Pleader shall keep the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs and the Solicitor to Government informed as to when the transcript will probably be transmitted.

49. As soon as the Government Pleader has ascertained that the transcript of the record has been transmitted by the High Court* to the Privy Council, he shall inform the Solicitor to Government and at the same time forward to him twenty-two printed copies of the transcript record, if the same is printed in India, under the provisions of Section 602 of the Civil Procedure Code.

50. The Solicitor to Government shall then without delay submit twenty printed copies of the transcript and of the statement (printed in accordance with Rule 48) to Government, namely, ten for the records of Government and ten for transmission to the Secretary of State with a view to the Solicitors of the India Office being duly instructed. He shall also send one printed copy of the transcript and one of the statements to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs for his records.

* Vide note to rule 28.

51. If the transcript of the record is not printed in India, the Government Pleader shall apply, through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, for the instructions of Government as to the number of the authenticated manuscript copies to be prepared in lieu of printed copies, for the purposes of the last two rules.

VII.—Execution of Decrees.

52. Whenever it has been determined not any further to contest a decision which is either wholly or partly adverse to Government, the Collector, or other officer concerned, shall at once instruct the Government Pleader to pay into the Court, whose duty it is to execute the decree, all moneys payable under the decree, care being taken that the decree is fully satisfied within the time fixed for its satisfaction under section 429 of the Civil Procedure Code.

53. Immediately on a decree being given in favour of Government, the Collector, or other officer concerned, is to proceed, in consultation with the Government Pleader, to take steps for the recovery of costs and of the amount, if any, decreed, unless for special reasons (which he should report through the head of his department to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs for the orders of Government) he deems it undesirable that any such step should be taken, or that they should be taken immediately.

54. If any appeal is instituted, and the execution of the decree is stayed by order of the Court, the interval before the decision of the appeal should be made use of in making inquiries as to the property of the judgment-debtor.

55. When the officer concerned is not the Collector, or a subordinate of the Collector, he may apply to the Collector to assist him in prosecuting the necessary inquiries as to the property of the judgment-debtor.

56. The provisions of section 545 of the Civil Procedure Code are ordinarily sufficient to prevent any fraudulent disposal of property by the judgment-debtor during the time gained by an appeal; but the Government Pleader, in communication with the Collector, or other officer concerned, shall see that the security taken by the Court is sufficient, petitioning the Court, if he considers that the security offered is not valid, or sufficient, to be allowed to execute the decree at once.

57. If such application is refused, the Collector, or other officer, should endeavour to keep a watch on the property of the debtor, so as to prevent any fraudulent alienation or concealment of it.

58. District Government Pleaders shall send to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, on the 1st January, 1st April, 1st July, and 1st October, through the Collector, a quarterly return, in the following form, showing the progress made in realizing amounts due under decrees to Government in the districts to which they are respectively appointed:—

Name of Court, and Number and Year of Suit.	PARTIES' NAMES.		AMOUNT TO BE REALIZED.			AMOUNT REALIZED.			Balance yet to be recovered.	RE- MARKS.
	Plaintiff.	Defendant.	Amount of Claim decreed.	Amount of Costs decreed.	Total.	Previously.	During the Quarter under report.	Total.

In the column of remarks, any reasons for delay, or for want of progress in the recovery of dues, should be fully explained; and when any sums are considered to be absolutely irrecoverable, the Collector, or other officer, shall report the amount to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, who shall submit the same to Government for orders. If Government direct any such sum to be written off as irrecoverable, it need no longer be shown by the Government Pleader in his quarterly return.

59. Should the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs consider the progress made in the recovery of moneys due to Government under decrees unsatisfactory, he shall bring the matter to the notice of Government.

60. Any sum due to Government under a decree may, if convenient, be recovered otherwise than through the agency of the Courts; but the Government Pleader should be instructed, under section 258 of the Civil Procedure Code, to certify every such recovery to the Court.

Whenever any money is recovered on behalf of Government in execution of a decree, the Government Pleader shall pay the amount into the treasury to the credit of the department concerned, and intimate the fact to the Head of the Department.

61. The practice of deputing Government servants to bid on behalf of Government at Court's auctions with a view of purchasing the property of judgment-debtors by whom money is due to Government is, generally speaking, objectionable, as it is likely to involve Government in much litigation of a doubtful character, and it should never be resorted to, unless with the special sanction of Government, to be obtained through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.

Purchase of judgment-debtor's property for Government forbidden.

VIII.—Suits by Paupers.

62. Notices of the day fixed by any Court under section 408 of the Civil Procedure Code for receiving evidence as to an applicant's alleged pauperism, and applications under section 414 of the Code for dispaupering a plaintiff, should be respectively received and made by the District Government Pleaders in the case of any Court situated at his head-quarters, and by the Subordinate Government Pleader appointed for the Court in the case of any other Court.

63. Government Pleaders need not busy themselves about calling evidence in every case in which a notice is served upon them under section 408. But on receipt of any such notice they should at once communicate with the * Mámíatdár or Mahálkari of the táluka or mahál in which the applicant resides.

If such officer, after inquiry, informs him that the applicant is a pauper within the meaning of section 401 of the Code, he need take no further steps in the matter. But if such officer considers that the applicant is not a pauper, he should collect such evidence as he is able in disproof of his alleged pauperism, and instruct the Government Pleader, who will then appear on the day fixed for the hearing, and oppose the application under section 409.

Applications to dispauper a plaintiff under section 414 will be made by a Government Pleader only under express instructions; but it is the duty of Government Pleaders to communicate to the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari any fact which at any time comes to their knowledge which appears to render it desirable that such an application should be made.

IX.—Miscellaneous.

(Notn. No. 6381, B. G. G., 1879, Pt. I., p. 856.)

63A. As soon as a Government Pleader receives from the Court a copy of a decree directing payment of pauper costs, he shall enter the particulars thereof in a Register which he shall keep for this purpose in the following form :—

Consecutive No. of entry.	Date of receipt of Decree from Court.	Name of Court which passed the Decree.	No. and year of Suit or Appeal.	Names of parties.	Substance of orders as to payment of pauper costs.	Pauper costs recoverable.
						Parties liable.	Amount
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.

* In No. 63 the Sind Rules read "Mukhtyárkar" for "Mámíatdár or Mahálkari" and omit the word "mahál."

RECOVERIES.			WRITTEN OFF AS IRRECOVERABLE.		Total of Columns 11 and 13.	REMARKS.
How recovered.	Date.	Amount.	No. and date of Government Resolution.	Amount.
9	10	11	12	13	14	15

63B. If the party liable to the payment of any such costs or his Pleader is known to the Government Pleader and is readily accessible to him, he shall endeavour to recover the amount due from him at once, and forward the copy of the decree with a report of his proceedings to the Collector.

If the amount due, or any portion of it, cannot be thus recovered, the Government Pleader shall, without delay, forward the copy of the decree to the Mámíatdár of the táluka in which the person liable for the amount due has his residence.

63C. On receipt of a copy of a decree under the last Rule the Mámíatdár shall make inquiries as to the property and means of the person liable, and, if possible, obtain from him the amount due, or such portion thereof as he is able to pay.

If the Mámíatdár obtains any payment either at this, or at any subsequent time, he shall inform the Government Pleader of the amount thereof.

63D. If the Mámíatdár is unable to obtain any payment from the person liable for the same, or obtains only a portion of the whole amount due, he shall forward the copy of the decree together with all the information he is able to procure as to the property of the said person, and as to the probability of his being able to pay what is due by him, either at once or at any time thereafter within the period of limitation, to the Collector for orders.

63E. The Collector shall, thereupon, in consultation, if necessary, with the Government Pleader, issue such orders as to the making of an application in Court for the recovery of the amount due, or otherwise, as he thinks fit.

If it shall appear altogether improbable that the person liable will be able to pay what is due by him under the decree, or the balance of what is so due by him within the period of limitation, or if for any reason the Collector shall think it inexpedient that such person should be further pressed, he may at once apply to Government under Rule 58 for sanction to write off the amount still due, but as a general rule steps for the recovery of pauper costs should be unremittingly continued until the period of limitation expires when, if necessary, application should be made by the Collector as aforesaid under Rule 58.

63F. If the decree under which pauper costs are recoverable awards to the person liable for the same any money, or other property, the Government Pleader shall carefully watch the execution of such decree and at the proper time enforce the prior right of Government in respect of any such money or other property.

It shall also be the duty of the Government Pleader at all times to furnish the Collector or Mámlatdár with any information which comes to his knowledge, the possession of which is likely to facilitate the recovery of the monies due to Government, and when the period of limitation for the execution of any decree is nearly expiring without such decree having been fully satisfied, he shall specially report the fact to the Collector.

63G. When Government sanction the writing off of any pauper costs as irrecoverable the particulars of the Resolution shall be communicated by the Collector to the Government Pleader.

The Government Pleader shall make the requisite entries in columns 9—13 of the Register kept by him under Rule 63A from time to time as he himself recovers, or obtains information of the recovery, or writing off of the pauper costs due in respect of each decree entered in the Register.

The Quarterly Return forwarded to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs by District Government Pleaders under Rule 58 shall show separately the progress made in realizing amounts due to Government under decrees on account of pauper costs and in realizing amounts so due on any other account, and to enable the District Government Pleaders to make complete returns, each Subordinate Government Pleader shall submit to the District Government Pleader to whom he is subordinate a return in the same form and on the same dates as are prescribed in Rule 58 for the returns to be prepared by the latter.

*64. Copies of documents on the Government records are often applied for as a means of supporting a claim either before or after the commencement of a suit against Government. Such copies should be furnished when the documents are of a public character and are pertinent to the case for which they are required

* In Sind Rules Nos. 64 to 73 are given under the heading "IX.—Miscellaneous."

Copies of confidential communications, as those between Government and an officer or between one officer and another dealing with particular transactions or the rights or duties of individuals, should not in general be given. Vague and fishing applications for copies should be rejected. In cases of doubt the proper criterion to apply is that of whether, if a copy is refused, the original may properly be called for by the Court, or whether such a call may properly be resisted according to the principles of sections 123 and 124 of the Indian Evidence Act. When there is a right to inspect, it must be borne in mind that section 76 of the same Act gives a right to a copy. Every copy taken, or its original, should be carefully considered by the Government Pleader, for whose perusal it will be submitted by the officer making the copy.

65. When documents in the charge of a head of a department are called for by a Court, he should consider whether they include communications made in official confidence, the production of which will be injurious to the public interest. To the production of such documents he should object, as falling within the principles of section 124 of the Indian Evidence Act, and he will be careful to prevent his subordinates transgressing this rule upon summons directed to them personally, instead of to himself, in whom the custody of the documents is vested, and without whose orders subordinates are not at liberty to remove or otherwise deal with the documents of the department.

66. If it appears advisable to a Collector, or other officer, to intervene in any suit to which Government have not been made a party, or, if he shall deem it necessary to institute, or shall be called upon to defend, any miscellaneous civil proceeding on behalf of Government, the rules prescribed for regular suits in all their stages shall, mutatis mutandis, be deemed applicable, provided that in cases of emergency the Collector or other officer may act in anticipation of the order of Government, but shall at once report his proceedings through the channel prescribed by the said rules.

67. Cases which are referred to the Civil Court under section 15 of the Land Acquisition Act X of 1870 need not, as a general rule, be referred under the foregoing rules to Government, through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs for orders, but the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs may be consulted direct on any points that may arise in respect of such cases involving legal doubts or difficulties.

68. No suit, or other civil proceeding, is to be settled out of Court or compromised in Court, by any officer of Government, without the express orders of Government to be obtained through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, after submitting full explanation of the course proposed to be adopted.

69. All correspondence and all Resolutions of Government on the subject of suits, or other civil proceedings are to be regarded, by all officers of Government and by all pleaders into whose hands they may come, as strictly confidential. No public officer shall grant copies of any such correspondence or Government Resolution during the pendency of the suit or civil proceeding, or until after its final decision by the highest Court before which it is likely to be brought, for any reason whatever, and no such copies shall be granted at any time after such final decision without the previous sanction of the head of the department.

70. The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs is to keep in his office complete records of all the correspondence connected with every suit or other civil proceeding in which Government, or any Government officer, is concerned. Rules 5, 15, 31 and 36 have been framed with a view of facilitating this purpose, and where the rules do not expressly make provision to that effect, it is to be understood that all original correspondence on the subject of such suits or proceedings is eventually to be returned to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs for record.

71. Collectors and other officers, who are frequently concerned in suits, or other civil proceedings, should furnish the Government Pleader in the High Court,* and the Government Pleader of the district in which such suits, or other proceedings, originate, with a general power of attorney.†

72. When the exhibits in an original suit, or other proceeding, are so numerous or so important as to necessitate a District Government Pleader's obtaining copies thereof for his own use, or for that of special counsel, and whenever a District Government Pleader for any reason whatever obtains copies of any such exhibit, he shall take care to have them legibly written on one side only of the paper, with a quarter margin (the paper being of the ordinary foolscap size in use in official correspondence), so that they may be afterwards used by counsel and others (as, for instance, for the purposes of Rules 27 and 35) in every subsequent stage of the case, and the expense of procuring fresh copies from time to time may be thus avoided.

It should be borne in mind that correct uncertified copies (which need not bear any Court-fee Stamp) are for all purposes, except for filing in Court, as good and as useful as certified stamped copies, and copies of the latter kind should, therefore, only be * In cases from the Kánarese Districts, Maráthi or English translations must accompany all copies of Kánarese exhibits intended for the use of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs or of the Government Pleader in the High Court.

† 73. District Government Pleaders shall send a return to the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs on the first of every month in the following form. When there are no cases to be entered in the return it shall nevertheless be sent in blank:—

Government Pleader.

* For the last paragraph of No. 72, the Sind Rules, substitute the following:—

“English translation must be sent of all vernacular papers intended for the use of Government or of the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs.”

† In No. 73 for the words “on the 1st of every month” the Sind Rules, substitute “on the 1st of January and the 1st of July.”

APPENDIX.

ACCOUNTS.

1. Government Pleaders will draw their salaries, and their fees for criminal cases, and any special fees which may from time to time be sanctioned by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs or by Government, on submitting bills in the usual form to the proper Treasury Officer.

2. To enable them to meet the minor charges incident to the institution and conduct of the cases, whether civil or criminal, with which they are entrusted, the Government Pleader in the High* Court shall be allowed a permanent advance of Rs. 500, and such of the District and Subordinate Government Pleaders as the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs authorizes to receive the same, shall be allowed each a permanent advance not exceeding Rs. 200. Only those Government Pleaders who have usually a large number of Government cases on hand shall be authorized by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs to receive this advance.

3. Government Pleaders are to defray all the charges connected with each case as they arise, and to submit a bill for the same (and for their own fees in civil cases), as soon as possible, after each case has been decided, to the Collector or other officer concerned in the case.

But when, as in the case of the court-fee chargeable on an appeal in which the claim is for a large amount, a Government Pleader has to pay considerable sums out of pocket at once, he may submit separate bills for such sums immediately, provided that the amount of any such bill shall not, in the case of the Government Pleader in the High Court, be less than Rs. 50, and of other Government Pleaders, Rs. 35.

A bill of charges submitted under the first para. of this rule shall include the whole of the charges on account of the case for which it is submitted and any sums which may have been already drawn on account of the case under para. 2 of this rule shall be shown at the end of the bill and deducted.

4. Every bill submitted by a Government Pleader under the last rule is to be forwarded by him through the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs and must be accompanied by vouchers, or by a copy of the Court's decree in support of every item contained in it.

The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs shall, if he passes the bill, countersign and forward it to the officer by whom it is to be paid. The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs is responsible for curtailing unnecessary, or exorbitant charges, and generally for controlling all expenditure incurred by Government Pleaders.

† 5. Postal and other general contingent charges may be drawn by the Government Pleader in the High Court on bills countersigned by the Remembrancer of Legal Affairs according to the rules in force for payment at the Presidency.

‡ 6. The Judges of the Courts to which District and Subordinate Government Pleaders are respectively attached are authorized to cause their letters and packets to be franked as if they issued from their own offices, and also to pay any bearing charges on official covers which they may receive. The Government Pleaders shall be responsible that such letters, packets, and covers are bond fide despatched, or received, on Her Imperial Majesty's service only. District and Subordinate Government Pleaders shall not incur any contingent expenses apart from the necessary charges connected with the cases which they have to conduct.

* In the appendix to the Sind Rules the words "Sadar Court" are throughout substituted for "High Court."

† No. 5 is omitted in the appendix to the Sind Rules.

‡ In No. 6, the Sind Rules, omit the words "District and Subordinate" before the words "Government Pleaders."

PART XVII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ROAD TOLLS.

Army Act, 1881, 44 and 45 Vict., c. 58.

Section 143.—All officers and soldiers of Her Majesty's regular forces on duty or on the march; and their horses and baggage; and all prisoners under military escort; and all carriages and horses belonging to Her Majesty or employed in her military service, when conveying any such persons as above in this section mentioned, or baggage or stores, or returning from conveying the same; shall be exempted from payment of any duties or tolls on embarking or disembarking from or upon any pier, wharf, quay, or landing place, or in passing along or over any turnpike or other road or bridge, otherwise demandable by virtue of any Act of Parliament already passed or hereafter to be passed, or by virtue of any Act, ordinance, order or direction of the Legislature or other authority in India or any colony:

Provided that nothing in this section shall exempt any boats, barges, or other vessels employed in conveying the said persons, horses, baggage, or stores along any canal from payment of tolls in like manner as other boats, barges, and vessels.*

† Exemptions under Section 5 of the Tolls Bombay Act III of 1875, amended by Bombay Act I of 1881.

1. † Military officers and camp followers, carts, cattle, &c., when moving under the orders of competent Military authority; animals belonging to the Government cattle farm and vehicles plying to and from Government cattle farms on farm service.

* These words are extremely comprehensive and appear to include municipal tolls demandable by virtue of the Bombay Municipal Acts, whatever be the nature of these tolls. (G. R. 1309, 30th April 1887, G. D.)

† All Native States are expected to render every facility to Government in carrying out public works, especially such as they are directly interested in and benefited by. * * While, therefore, no Resolutions of Government or British laws can or need be enforced, the Governor in Council looks to the Chiefs, or to those who are in their places, to issue on their own part such orders as will facilitate the execution of public works in which their subjects are as much interested as British subjects. (Resolution on the levy of tolls by Native States on materials of the Public Works Department passing through their territories.) (G. R. No. 6645, 5th Oct. 1888, Pol. D.)

‡ These words do not exempt contractors' carts conveying Government hay from the kurans to the stackyards at Poona and Kirkee. The toll leviable on such carts should be paid in the first instance and the sum paid, subsequently recovered by a contingent bill under clause 7. (G. R. No. 7348, 15th Sept. 1884, P. D.)

(B. G. G., 1876,
pp. 203-204.

2. His Excellency the Governor General and His Excellency the Governor, with their camps.

3. Foreign Rulers or Native Chiefs and their followers or retainers; also other Natives of distinction whom Government, the Commissioner, or the Collector, may see fit for special reasons to exempt.

4. Grass-cutters attached to Cavalry or Artillery regiments.

5. Cultivators, wood-cutters, grass-cutters, and the like, who have daily or constantly to pass the toll on their way to their daily occupation (the precise terms of this exemption will be left to the decision of the Collector).

6. Carts containing public treasure, with their escorts and luggage.

7. Carts actually employed in the conveyance of material for the construction or repair of public works, constructed or maintained by Imperial, Provincial, or Local Funds.* In other cases when a toll is passed by carts, &c., hired for, or in use on the public service, the toll is to be paid and the sum recovered by a contingent bill. For instance, a Collector will pay toll for the whole of the carts containing his own luggage and the Government records and tents, recovering the toll on account of the latter by a contingent bill.†

8. Peons of all departments wearing their belts.

9. Mail carts, tongas, horses, vans, actually carrying Her Majesty's mails; led ponies employed in the mail service, and empty mail tongas (i.e., Red Mail Carts), on all mail tonga lines.

10. Overseers of the Postal Department when travelling on duty.

11. Officers and subordinates of the Public Works Department while on duty on the roads under their charge, on which they are actually engaged in supervising repairs.

12. Foresters and Forest Inspectors at public ferries when actually travelling on duty.

13. A'bkári Inspectors and their subordinates when travelling on duty.

14. Stray cattle when being taken to the pound, but in respect for tolls for the levy of which a lease has been granted under section 10 of Bombay Act V of 1881, this exemption shall come into force on the expiry of such lease.

Tolls Act Amendment Act, 1881.

Under this Act a lessee of tolls, and every person employed by him as his agent for collecting them, will have power to seize any part of the burden or load of the carriage or animal in respect of which a toll is chargeable and is not paid; and if any toll remains unpaid for twenty-four hours, the case must, under section 4 of Bombay Act III of 1875, be brought before the officer appointed to superintend the collection of the toll, who may sell the property seized if the owner of it does not, before the commencement of the sale, tender the amount of all the expenses incurred, and of double the toll payable by him. (G. R. 7234, 30th November 1881, R. D.)

Care must be taken to guard against the abuses to which the power of seizing property granted to the lessee of tolls and his employés is liable. (G. R. 7234, 30th November 1881, R. D.)

Local Fund Committees are appointed to manage and the Mámlatdárs and Maháلكaris within their respective charges to superintend, the collection of tolls. Provided also that the exemption from payment of Ferry tolls in the case of Government officers is

Bombay Public Ferries Act, 1868.

Section 2.—Notification issued 16th December <sup>(B. G. G., 1868, p. 1235.)</sup>
1868:—†

All existing Ferries within the limits of the Presidency of Bombay which have been declared to be Public Ferries under the provisions of any law heretofore in force shall be deemed to be Public Ferries under the present Act.

The following powers have been delegated under section 17 of the said Act:—

To the Commissioner in Sind.—The powers conferred on the Governor of Bombay in Council, sections †2 and 3 of the Act. <sup>(B. G. G., 1870, p. 1019. B. G. G., 1871, p. 297.)</sup>

To Revenue Commissioners.—Power under section 5 to lease any Public Ferry by public auction or by private contract for a period not exceeding seven years.

Sections 6, 12 and 17.—Power to approve and, <sup>(B. G. G., 1869, p. 902.)</sup> modify rules made by Collectors of districts for the regulation of Public Ferries under section 12.

To Collectors of Districts.—(1) Power under section 4 to provide for the appointment of Toll-keepers, Ferrymen, and other servants for the management and conduct of the Public Ferries within their districts.

(2) Power under section 5 to confirm all existing leases of Public Ferries for the remaining periods of the leases, provided such period do not exceed seven years.

(3) Power to lease any Public Ferry by public auction or by private contract for a period not exceeding one year.

Power to approve of regulations made by lessees, <sup>(B. G. G., 1869, p. 902.)</sup> contractors or farmers under section 6.

Power to determine the number of boats and men <sup>(B. G. G., 1870, p. 892.)</sup> to be kept up at each Ferry, and the dates on which instalments shall be paid, which are to be included among the conditions of the lease under section 5 of the Act; and to exercise general control of the public ferries in their districts, under the orders of Government and subject to the general control of the Revenue Commissioner.

* The object of the provision is to prevent any misapplication of the term 'actual conveyance.' For instance, an officer may require six riding horses to accomplish a journey. In crossing a ferry the horse he happens to be riding is exempt but not the other five horses. So, too, if an officer is making a journey by stages using various modes of conveyance, the particular one which he is actually using when he has to cross a ferry alone is exempt from payment of toll, whether it happens to be a carriage and pair, or a riding horse, or a camel, or an elephant, or any other kind of conveyance. (G. R. No. 2294 of 20th June 1882.)

† This is in force in Sind. Notification, 27th Jan. 1869, B. G. G., 1869, p. 66.

‡ For exercise of these powers vide Notification, 1874, S. O. G., 1886, p. 777.

(B. G. G., 1870,
Pt. I., pp. 890-
892.)

All Ferries in the Bombay Presidency shall be divided into classes, and the rates of toll leviable at each class of Ferry shall be as specified below.

Classified table of Ferry Fares.

Large tidal Ferries, which the same boat will not work across both ways more than twice in the day, are to be treated as special cases; other Ferries may be classed as follows:—

Class 1.—To comprise those where the same boat cannot go and return more than six times in a day of fourteen hours.

Class 2.—Those where the same ferry boat will cross and recross from seven to ten times.

Class 3.—Those where one boat will cross and recross from eleven to fifteen times.

Class 4.—Those where it will do so more than fifteen times.

It is to be understood that this classification of Ferries according to the number of times which a boat can cross is not to be strictly adhered to.

Description.	RATES OF FERRY FARES.
	At Ferries of 1st Class.	At Ferries of 2nd Class.	At Ferries of 3rd Class.	At Ferries of 4th Class.
Goods and merchandise un- loaded from carts at one side of a ferry for the pur- pose of being re-loaded into carts at the other side.	3 annas for each cart un- loaded.	2 annas for each cart un- loaded.	1 anna for each cart unloaded	1 anna for each cart unloaded.

The rates to be levied at special Ferries shall be fixed by the Collector in each case with the sanction of Government.

*Sic. O. This appears to have been an erratum for 3 pies.

These fares, besides giving the persons paying them a right to the conveyance of their vehicles and animals and their loads across the Ferry, are, in cases of wheeled vehicles, to pay for embarkation, disembarkation, and (at the Ferries where it is declared necessary by the Collector) taking the vehicles to the top of the opposite bank, sufficient men for this purpose being provided by the Ferry contractor, without causing delay in the working of the boat. No charge to be made for little children in arms. The fare chargeable for a wheeled vehicle is not to cover the fare for the animal or animals which may draw it. Half rates only should be charged for animals made to swim alongside of the boat.

The conditions which Government deem it advisable to insert in leases of Public Ferries are :—

- (a) That the contract shall not be sublet without the express sanction of the Collector given in writing.
- (b) That the amount of the contract shall be paid by the farmer in monthly instalments, on dates to be fixed by the Collector and inserted in the contract.
- (c) That satisfactory security be given for the punctual payment of the amount of the contract, and of interest at one per cent. per mensem on all sums which may fall into arrears.
- (d) That the contract may be cancelled for failure on the contractor's part to observe any of its terms, and that the contractor and his securities shall be answerable for any loss which may be caused, by its resale, and the direct management of the Ferry for the period which remained for it to run.
- (e) That the Collector may make all necessary additions or repairs to the contractor's boats or baskets; on his failing to do so for five days after being required in writing, the cost to be defrayed by the contractor, and recovered from him as a revenue demand in default of payment.
- (f) That a certain number of boats and men, to be fixed by the Collector, shall be maintained during the period of the contract.
- (g) Any other conditions consistent with the provisions of the Act which may be specially sanctioned by the Revenue Commissioners, to whom power is hereby delegated under section 17 of the Act for this purpose.

ADDITIONAL ORDERS.

Memo. of Legal Remembrancer. Meaning of the word "Ferry."—"Ferry" is defined in Wharton's Law Lexicon as "the right to carry persons and their goods in boats across a river and to take toll for such carriage." The ordinary meaning of the word "across" as given in the Dictionaries is "from side to side."

Ferry only applies to boats plying across a river.

2. Bombay Act II of 1868 is an Act to amend the law relating to Public Ferries. It nowhere defines what is a ferry, but section 2 empowers Government to declare what "Ferries" are "Public Ferries," and also to establish any new "Public Ferry" or discontinue any existing "Public Ferry."

3. The word "Ferry" must therefore, I think, be given its ordinary generally recognized meaning, and the wording of section 14 of the Act which prescribes a penalty for any one conveying either persons or goods, &c., across any creek or river to any point on the opposite shore or bank not being more than three miles on either side above or below any Public Ferry, supplies abundant proof, if any were needed, that the Act itself intended the meaning of the word to be so understood.

4. I am therefore of opinion that the right of carrying passengers, &c., to and fro down and up the creek between Bassein and Bhiwandi is not a ferry, and that it is not competent to Government under the Act to declare that to be a ferry which is not so.

5. Fresh legislation would, I think, be necessary to legalise the granting of monopolies in the ordinary carrying trade. (G. R. No. 2747 of 23rd September 1874, G. D.)

Section 14.

Section 14 refers to conveyance, not to letting a boat for hire.

Memo. from the Acting L. R. :—"The question raised is whether section 14 of the Bombay Ferries' Act, II of 1868, makes it penal for a person to let a boat for hire, within three miles of a public ferry, without a license.

"2. The Collector of Kánara, who makes the reference, is of opinion that the latter part of section 13, exempting from liability the letting of a boat for hire, is included in the exception provided by section 14, but as his predecessor had taken a different view, desires to have the question finally settled.

I. L. R. 9 B. 97.
I. L. R. 9 B. 558.
I. L. R. 10 B. 78.

"3. I would submit that the question cannot be finally settled except by judicial decision, and the Courts could not of course be bound by any opinion I might form on the subject.

"4. But as it may be desired for executive action I may state my opinion that section 14 refers only to conveyance for hire, and not to the letting of boats for hire.

"In conveyance for hire, the person contracting to convey takes the responsibility of conveying on himself. In letting for hire, he makes no such contract. Bombay Act II of 1878, section 2, amending Bombay Act II of 1868, shows that conveyance may be otherwise than by boat.

"5. I think as a penal enactment must be construed strictly, section 14 refers only to 'conveying for hire' and not to the supplying another, whether for hire or otherwise, with the means of conveying himself or his friends.

"6. The exception in section 14 refers only to that part of section 13 which treats of 'conveying'. But there is nothing in section 14 which renders it penal for a man to convey himself, his friends, servants or goods by any means at his disposal, or to supply any person with such means." (G. R. 4529, 26th December 1888, G. D.)

Ferry between British Territory and Native States.

Government are of opinion that when a Ferry plies between British territory and a Native State, the proceeds should be equally divided between the two Governments.

2. This rule should be followed in regard to all Ferries hereafter established, and the States concerned should be asked to acquiesce in it before any disputes arise as to the division of profits. It may be also applied to any Ferries which may have been recently established. In regard, however, to a Ferry like that at Siddapur in the Sāngli State, of which the proceeds have been enjoyed by Sāngli from very ancient days, Government will not press their rights, not because they admit that the treaty is opposed to such a claim, but simply because they have not claimed their rights since the establishment of British rule in the Deccan.

3. Government are further of opinion that a Ferry established in British territory may be declared a Public Ferry even though the opposite side of the river be in a Native territory. The Native States concerned should however be urged, if they have not already done so, to promulgate rules similar to those contained in Bombay Act II of 1868, for application to any Ferries that may have been or may hereafter be declared by the British Government to be Public Ferries. (G. R. No. 7184 of 7th December 1886, Pol. D.)

Memo. by the L. R.—Application of Act XIX of 1838 to Ferry Boats.—I think that Local Boards must be counted amongst 'Her Majesty's subjects residing within the Presidency of Bombay' and therefore vessels belonging to them are liable to be registered under Act XIX of 1838, if they are employed in such places as would render them liable to be registered under that Act if they were the property of private owners.

2. I put my opinion in these words, because the Collector's question and the Commissioner's explanation do not appear to refer to the same class of ferry boats. The Collector speaks of "Ferry boats which ply on the rivers and creeks of the district, whilst the Commissioner limits his observations to "boats used on Ferries in harbour and coast waters." The Act applies to 'harbour craft' and to vessels 'employed on the coasts', i.e., on the sea-coast. It does not apply to vessels employed exclusively on rivers and creeks, unless they ply to places which, although situated on such rivers or creeks, may reasonably be held to be on the sea-coast. (G. R. No. 1607 of 8th March 1888, R. D.)

Questions as to levy of Ferry Tolls in case of Cart-drivers, Passengers in Carts or Riders or Syces in charge of Horses crossing.

I.—Does the charge for the unladen cart include the charge for the driver ?

II.—Does the fare for the laden cart include the fare of the passengers who may have engaged the cart ?

• III.—Does the fare for the horse include fare for either rider or syce ? •

The existing practice should be continued during each current term as the contract may be supposed to have been made in contemplation of it. But in future one person taking care of a horse or a vehicle, but not more than one, may properly be regarded as merely incidental, and in respect of such person no toll should be leviable, but all other persons with the horse or vehicle should be charged for separately. 1891, Pt. I.,
p. 254.)

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of Act XXV of 1867, as amended by Act X of 1890, and in supersession of the directions contained in the Notification published under the said section in the Bombay Government Gazette for 1868, page 93, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the places and officers at which and to whom the delivery of books by printers in accordance with the said section shall be made, shall be as follows :—

At the office of the Collector of Land Revenue, Customs and Opium, Bombay, and to the Collector of Land Revenue, Customs and Opium, Bombay.

In the case of books issuing from a Press situated elsewhere,—

At the head-quarter station of the Collector of the district in which the Press issuing the book is situated and to the Collector of that district.

(Notn. No.
994A, B. G.

I., p. 255.)

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 20 of Act XXV of 1867 as amended by Act X of 1890 and in supersession of the rules made under the said section and published at the Bombay Government Gazette of 1871, page 783, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules, namely :—

(i) Every Collector on receiving from a printer delivery of a book under clause (a) of the first paragraph of section 9 of Act XXV of 1867 as amended by Act X of 1890 shall forward the same to the Registrar of Native Publications.

(ii) The Registrar of Native Publications on receiving a book forwarded under the rule last preceding shall, after the same has been registered, use it for the preparation of the annual review of literature, and when it is no longer required for that purpose shall forward it to the Director of Records at the Record Office.

(iii) The memoranda required by section 19 of the said Act to be published quarterly in the local Gazette shall be prepared by the Registrar of Native Publications, who shall send 15 copies of the memoranda so published to the Under Secretary to Government, General Department.

(Notn. No.
1326, B. G. G.,
1891, Pt. I.,
p. 327.)

(iv) Copies of books delivered under clause (b) of section 9 of Act XXV of 1867 as amended by Act X of 1890, shall be forwarded to the Curator, Government Central Book Depôt, who shall transmit the same, through Government in the General Department, to the Secretary of State for India or the British Museum or to both on the receipt of orders and in accordance therewith.

1. All books, maps, sketches, charts and papers, printed or published under the orders of Government or for official purposes. (B. G. G., 1868, p. 228.)
  2. All reprints and translations, without comment or annotation, of Acts of the several Indian Legislatures published in British India. (Notn., B. G. G., 1871, p. 7; B. G. G., 1872, p. 5.)
  3. Reprints of books without additions or alterations, and without new notes or commentaries.
  4. Acts of the Legislative Council without notes or commentaries.
  5. Price lists and tradesmen's circulars.
  6. Catalogues of books and other articles, auctioneers' notices and advertisements.
  7. Play bills, comprising advertisements of theatrical and musical and entertainments.
  8. Decisions of Courts of law without notes or commentaries.
  9. Petitions and appeals addressed to constituted authority under the provisions of law.

ADDITIONAL ORDERS, OPINIONS, &amp;c.

Declaration under Section 5 and Section 8 how to be filed. Returns by Magistrates of Districts.

All declarations under the Act shall be kept by the Magistrate in a separate file. Each District Magistrate should furnish Government in the General Department with a return showing all the periodical newspapers published in his district, with the name of the printer and publisher and the place of printing and publication of each, as well as the date of the declaration required by law. The returns should be for the financial and not for the calendar year, and should be submitted by the end of April in each year.

In Bombay the Chief Presidency Magistrate should be requested to furnish the annual return for that city. (Circ. No. 7169 of 13th December 1887, J. D., as modified by Circ. No. 3558 of 29th August 1889, G. D., and G. R. No. 287 of 20th January 1890, G. D.)

Declaration required by Section 5 when to be made.

The form of declaration in the present tense is meant to cover the cases of an existing publication continued, of one just begun, and of one beginning or about to begin forthwith. In each case the publication is regarded as being, for a moment, virtually contemporaneous with the declaration, and the declaration must not be delayed for any substantial time after the commencement of publication. (G. R. No. 637 of 1st February 1888, J. D.)

Effect of, and obligation to make, Declaration.

“Memo. by Acting L. R.—A declaration made under section 5 of Act XXV of 1867 holds good until either—

- (a) a new declaration has become necessary under the Act itself, or
- (b) the person making it has made a new declaration under Section 8 of the Act, stating that he has ceased to be the printer or publisher of the work in question.

“2. A new declaration becomes necessary—

- (a) when the place of printing or publication is changed, or
- (b) when the printer or publisher who made the original declaration leaves British India.

“3. No new declaration is rendered necessary in any other case.

“The object of the Act is, apparently, not so much to supply information as to the actual quantity of printed matter issued periodically, as to ascertain the persons responsible for the printing and publication of what is issued.

“4. Sections 7 and 8 indicate this. Civil and criminal responsibility in respect of periodical works continues to attach to the declarant until he declares that he has ceased to be the printer or publisher.

“5. If a publication ceases for a time, the printer or publisher is under no obligation either to declare the cessation, or on reviving the work to make a fresh declaration. But if he does not declare the cessation of his connection with the work, his civil and criminal liability in respect of any future issue of it under the declared title will continue unaffected by any temporary suspension. The Act does not require a printer or publisher to keep any authority informed of any suspension or cessation of a periodical, but only keeps alive his responsibility for every issue until he makes a declaration under Section 8.” (G. R. No. 1222, 25th March 1890, G. D.)

*DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS,
ACT III OF 1879.

All the rules and orders made before the passing of the Act have, under section 6 of the Act, the force of law until they are rescinded by rules made under the Act. The Commissioners have power, under section 4 of the Act, from time to time to make rules regarding the disposal, destruction, &c., of records, books and papers belonging to or in the custody of the Revenue Courts and offices; and all such rules, after being confirmed by the Local Government and sanctioned by the Government of India, must be published in the local official Gazette, and thereupon have the force of law. No fresh rules or orders have been passed since the Act came into force which relate to the Revenue Department.

* Rules under this Act are now under consideration.

* THE MA'MLATDARS' COURTS ACT, BOM. III OF 1876.

Rulings by the High Court.

1. The purpose of Act XVI of 1838 and Bombay Act V of 1864 was temporary only, and chiefly to provide for the cultivation of the land and to prevent breaches of the peace until the Civil Courts should determine the rights of the disputants. The decisions of the Revenue and the Mámlatdárs' Courts as to possession and dispossession do not bind the Civil Courts, being of a summary character. The Civil Courts alone can entertain the question of title. (I. L. R. 1 Bom. 624.)

Mámlatdárs' orders cannot decide questions of title.

And are not conclusive as to fact of possession.

A Mámlatdár's order is not conclusive evidence of the facts of possession and dispossession between the parties. (I. L. R. 1 Bom. 624.)

The Mámlatdár's Court constituted by Bombay Act III of 1876 is a Civil Court within the meaning of section 468† of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Therefore a complaint of an offence mentioned in that section when such offence is committed before or against the Mámlatdár's Court shall not be entertained in the Criminal Courts except with the sanction of the Mámlatdár's Court or the High Court to which it is subordinate. (I. L. R. 5 Bom. 137. See also Part VIII (3), Court Fees Act.)

Sanction necessary for complaint of false evidence, &c., committed in Mámlatdár's Court.

Regulation XI of 1827, section 5, clause 2, provides that it shall be competent to the Sadar Diváni Adálat to call for the proceedings of any subordinate Civil Court, and to issue such orders thereon as the case may require. This power, called the Extraordinary Jurisdiction, was transferred to the High Court by section 9 of Statute 24 and 25 Victoria, cap. 104.

High Court's power of superintendence and revision.

The Mámlatdárs' Courts constituted under Bombay Act V of 1864 were expressly declared by that Act to be the same Courts which are referred to in Regulation VI of 1830 as subordinate to the Sadar Diváni Adálat.

The High Court has, therefore, power to set aside an order made by a Mámlatdár under Bombay Act V of 1864 (Mahádáji v. Sonu, 9 Bom. H. C. Rep. 249). The effect of Bombay Act III of 1876 has not been to divest the High Court of the power of superintendence and revision which it exercised over Mámlatdárs' Courts previously to the passing of the Act.‡

Such Courts have jurisdiction in a town or city within the táluka, and over houses, which term is included in "premises" in section 5. (Bái Jamna v. Bái Jadav, I. L. R. 4 Bom. 168.)

A Mámlatdár has no jurisdiction to declare a plaintiff entitled to joint possession with the defendant of land the joint property of the plaintiff and defendant or to award him separate possession of a specific half of it. (Reso Dinker v. Moor Sakharan, B. H. C. P. J., 1883, p. 120.)

Mámlatdár has no jurisdiction as to undivided property.

Section 4 gives the Mámlatdar power to give immediate possession when the plaintiff is entitled to restoration of the land by reason of the determination of the tenancy whether by efflux of time or by any other cause agreed on by the parties at the time of creating the tenancy (Shridhur v. Bhagwant, B. H. C. P. J., 1882, p. 370.)

Section 4.—Immediate possession on determination of tenancy.

The removal of earth from a field is a taking of a portion of the substance and not merely of a profit of the land; and the Mámlatdár has no jurisdiction, under section 4 of Bom. III. of 1876, to entertain an application for an injunction to restrain the defendant from obstructing the plaintiff in the exercise of her right to take earth from the defendant's land. (I. L. R. 7 Bom. 425.)

Removal of earth from a field.

Decision by Mámlatdár does not bind third parties.

A Mámlatdár's jurisdiction is not barred by a decision in a former suit not between the same parties. (I. L. R. 10 Bom. 1878).

* The charge for process issued under Bom. III of 1876 shall be regulated in accordance with the rule prescribed by the High Court under section 20 of the Court Fees Act VII of 1870, for the Revenue Courts in the Bombay Presidency proper. (Notification 6330, B. G. G., 1882, p. 707.)

† The Code here referred to is X of 1872. The corresponding section in X of 1882 is section 195.

‡ Section 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act X of 1877) gives the High Court power to call for the record of any case in which no appeal lies to the High Court, if the Court by which the case was decided appears to have acted without jurisdiction, or illegally, or irregularly.

This section would appear to apply to ordinary Civil Courts and not to Mámlatdárs' Courts, which are, however, subordinate Civil Courts within the meaning of section 2 of Reg. II of 1827, which is still in force.

The ruling of the High Court in Bái Jamna v. Bái Jadav does not refer to section 622 of the Civil Procedure Code, but follows the ruling in Mahádáji v. Sonu.

A distinction is drawn in Bombay Act III of 1876 between Mámlatdárs' Courts and ordinary Civil Courts, and a peculiar procedure laid down therein for the former.

If appears, therefore, that although Mámlatdárs' Courts are in some senses and for certain purposes Civil Courts, they are not Civil Courts to which the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code can be held applicable.

Mámlatdárs in the exercise of their judicial functions are bound to be governed by the law as they understand it, or as expounded by superior judicial authority, not as it is understood or expounded by unjudicial persons. (I. L. R., 9 Bom., 97; 10 Bom., 78.)

OPINIONS.*

Procedure where parties come to terms.

Memo. by Acting L. R. :—The Mámlatdár has power under Bombay Act III of 1876—to award immediate possession, to restore a use,

to grant an injunction.

He cannot pass any other order in respect of the dispute between the parties. If at the commencement of the trial the plaintiff should appear without his witnesses, and express his readiness to withdraw his plaint, the Mámlatdár would be justified in rejecting the plaint under section 13 of the Act.

If the plaintiff should be present with his witnesses and signify his intention of not going on with the case, the Mámlatdár should examine him as a witness, and on the evidence of his own statement record a finding on each issue in favour of the defendant and then reject the plaint under section 15 of the Act.

If the plaintiff and defendant come to an arrangement between themselves, the Mámlatdár should examine the parties, and then, if possible, record a finding on the issues in accordance with the terms of the arrangement, and decide whether his order should be one rejecting the plaint or any one of the three orders above mentioned. If the agreement or compromise is of such a nature as not to admit of his passing any one of the three orders above mentioned, he should reject the plaint.

The Mámlatdár has no authority to pass any other order in accordance with the terms of an agreement or compromise between the parties, and no such order would be legally binding on the parties.

The following illustrations will be useful :—

- (a) Plaintiff A. sues defendant B. for immediate possession of a house. At the time of the trial they both are present with their witnesses. But B. says he is willing to pay A. rent if he is left in possession; A. consents to this. It is quite clear that B. really admits the claim, and therefore the Mámlatdár should record a finding on the issues in favour of A. and award him immediate possession, leaving it to A. to accept B. as a tenant if he chooses. The Mámlatdár cannot order A. to leave B. in possession as a tenant.
- (b) The plaintiff A. and defendant B. both appear with their witnesses. They put in an agreement in compromise of the suit that the Mámlatdár should pass an order that the parties had settled the dispute out of Court and each party should bear his own costs. The Mámlatdár should pass a decree rejecting the plaint, and as the costs must follow the decree, should direct the plaintiff to pay the costs. The Mámlatdár cannot divide the costs or order each party to pay a proportion thereof, but he must leave it to the parties to do this amongst themselves.

It will no doubt prevent any misunderstanding if the Mámlatdárs are careful to bear in mind that their procedure under the Act is intended to be as simple as possible and must not be elaborated by following the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. They should pass no order that is not strictly in conformity with the Act. (G. R. 5949 of 10th October 1881.)

Procedure in Execution.

Memo. of Acting L. R. :—6. The provisions of sections 328 to 331 of the Code of Civil Procedure are not applicable to the decisions of the Mámlatdárs' Courts established under the provisions of Bombay Act III of 1876, and unless such application of the provisions of that Code is expressly enacted in the latter local law, it is not open to the Mámlatdárs to follow the procedure laid down in those sections. (G. R. 1673 of 11th March 1882, R. D.)

Disturbance of Possession.

Opinion of the Honourable the Advocate General :—A Mámlatdár's Court has jurisdiction to take cognizance of a plaint in which a party in possession of land sues for an injunction against a person who obstructs him in erecting a house on the land. The Mámlatdár should determine at the hearing whether the acts complained of constitute a disturbance or obstruction of possession or enjoyment of the plaintiff, and if it is proved that the defendant was acting within his rights the suit will be dismissed. (G. R. 4596 of 14th July 1882.)

* N.B.—Mámlatdárs are to be guided by cases judicially decided and their own judgment. The opinions of the Legal Remembrancer are not to be accepted by them as binding. (I. L. R., 9 Bom., 97, and 10 Bom., 1878; vide also G. R. 3357, 7th May 1889; G. R. 1809, 9th March 1888, P. D.; G. R. 7186, 22nd October 1887, R. D.; G. R. 3555, 8th June 1887, R. D.)

Subordinates in temporary charge of Mámlatdárs' duties.

Memo. from the L. R. :—"The Remembrancer of Legal Affairs has the honour to report that in his opinion the words 'under this Act' in section 15 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, 1879, expressly limit the functions of a subordinate in temporary charge of a Mámlatdár's or Mahálkari's office to the exercise of the powers and the discharge of the duties conferred or imposed upon a Mámlatdár or Mahálkari by that Code.

"2. Such a subordinate in temporary charge of a Mámlatdár's office cannot, in the view of the undersigned, be correctly described as a revenue officer ordinarily exercising the powers of a Mámlatdár within the meaning of section 3, clause (1) of the Mámlatdárs' Courts' Act, 1876. He exercises such powers temporarily only and as a special arrangement.

"3. It seems, therefore, to the undersigned that no subordinate in temporary charge, whether of a Mámlatdár's or Mahálkari's office, can be deemed to be a 'Mámlatdár' under the Mámlatdárs' Act, 1876, unless he is specially authorized by the Governor in Council to exercise the powers of a Mámlatdár under that Act." (G. R. No. 1683, 28th February 1883, R. D.)

Procedure when Mámlatdár's Court closed for want of officer with powers.

Memo. by L. R. :—"Section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, applies, in my opinion, only to suits for which the period of limitation is prescribed by that Act, and therefore not to suits instituted in Mámlatdárs' courts. A Mámlatdár's court need not, however, be absolutely closed, because there is no officer on the spot invested with the powers of a Mámlatdár under the Act. The plaints may, I think, be taken and kept until a duly empowered officer is able to dispose of them. This is the course that was followed in the ordinary civil courts before section 5 of the Limitation Act became law." (G. R. No. 3099 of 20th April 1883, R. D.)

Acting Mámlatdár's powers.

"Looking to paragraph 2 of section 20 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, which enacts that an officer appointed to act temporarily for another officer 'shall exercise the same powers and perform the same duties as might be performed or exercised by the officer for whom he is so appointed to act,' I think that an Acting Mámlatdár is a Mámlatdár within the meaning of Bombay Act III of 1876, just as much as a permanent holder of the appointment. He is a Mámlatdár pro tem., the word 'Acting' having no significance except to the Financial Department of Government.

"2. The case of a subordinate in temporary charge of a Mámlatdár's office, disposed of in Government Resolution No. 1683, dated 28th February 1883, is quite different. Section 15 of the Revenue Code distinctly provides that 'he shall be held to be the Mámlatdár under this Act' until he is relieved. Temporarily, therefore, and for the purposes of the Revenue Code only, such a subordinate is to be held to be a Mámlatdár, but he is really only a subordinate in charge of the Mámlatdár's office." (G. R. No. 3339 of 16th May 1883, J. D.)

Gazetting.

Memo. by L. R. :—"All appointments of Mámlatdárs, whether substantive or acting, must be made by the Commissioners and gazetted, and when this is done it will be unnecessary in accordance with G. R. No. 3339 of 16th May 1883, for Acting Mámlatdárs' powers under Bombay Act III of 1876 to be gazetted; and if subordinates take charge temporarily only of Mámlatdárs' offices as is intended by section 15 of the Code, it will hardly ever be necessary or expedient that they should be invested with these powers. For short vacancies the Commissioners might still accept the Collector's nominations without question but should gazette them as appointments made by themselves. (G. R. No. 6825 of 2nd October 1883, J. D.)

Mukhtyár's right to appear in Mámlatdárs' Courts.

Memo. by L. R. :—"Mukhtyárs, as such, have no right to appear on behalf of the parties to a cause in a Mámlatdár's Court and their admission is illegal. Clause (2) of Section 3 of the Mámlatdárs' Courts Acts, 1876, expressly provides that the words 'plaintiff' and 'defendant' in that Act include a pleader and the recognized agent of a plaintiff or defendant as defined in the Civil Procedure Code; 'Mukhtyárs' are not included. (G. R. No. 2831 of 16th April 1884, J. D.)

Transfer of Cases.

The Law does not authorize the transfer of cases from the Court of one Mámlatdár to that of another. (G. R. No. 474 of 17th January 1885, R. D.)

Procedure on death of Plaintiff.

Memo. from the L. R. :—"I think the Mámíatdár should postpone the case for a reasonable time to give the plaintiff's heir an opportunity of appearing and asking to have his name entered in the record in lieu of that of the deceased. If after such postponement nobody appears as plaintiff, the suit should be rejected under section 13, with costs." (G. R. No. 7140 of 6th October 1886, R. D.)

Possession of Crops.

Memo. from the L. R. :—"A sited in the Mámíatdár's court for an injunction to restrain B from obstructing him in the possession of a field, and process issued, but before the hearing B forcibly cut and carried the crop of the field. Looking to the broad terms of section 4 of the Mámíatdárs' Courts Act, it is, I think, competent to the Mámíatdár to give immediate possession of the crop of the grain and straw composing it (i.e. 'any profits of the same') in such a case as that described.

"2. I think that the Mámíatdár should allow the plaint to be amended and that, as regards the land, the proper issues would be those set forth in clause (c), and as regards the crop, those set forth in clause (a) of section 15 of the Act." (G. R. No. 308, of 13th May 1887, R. D.)

Appointment of Guardian ad litem.

Memo. from the L. R. :—"The question is whether a Mámíatdár trying a suit under Bombay Act III of 1876 can appoint a guardian ad litem to conduct the defence on behalf of a minor defendant.

"2. My opinion is that he can do so.

"3. At the time when the above Act was passed the procedure of ordinary Civil Courts was governed by Act VIII of 1859. This Act contained no provisions for the defence of suits on behalf of minors: but it was uniformly held that the ordinary practice of courts admitted of the appointment of next friends or guardians to represent them. In Maganbhái vs. Vithoba (IX., Bo. A. C. J., page 7), Couch, C. J., remarked that 'if this could not be done a ..... minor would be disabled from suing for any injury to his property.' This principle appears to be not less applicable to the courts of Mámíatdárs than to other Civil courts.

"4. Subsequently Act VIII of 1859 was superseded by Act X of 1877 which in turn was replaced by Act XIV of 1882.

"5. These latter Acts contain specific provisions for the institution and defence of suits on behalf of minors, but the question how far, if at all, the Civil Procedure Code affects Mámíatdárs' courts has not, so far as I am aware, been authoritatively decided and appears to present various difficulties.

"6. For the purposes of this reference, however, it does not seem necessary to determine this question. The Mámíatdár may, I think, safely follow the provisions of Chapter XXXI. of the Code. They embody the pre-existing practice of Civil Courts, and it is immaterial whether the Mámíatdár's authority for acting on them is based on the old practice or the Code itself. In either case he has such authority subject of course to the restrictions imposed by section 2 of Act XX of 1864. These restrictions, however, seldom come into effect (vide I. L. R., V. Bo., 306, and I. L. R., VIII Bo., 239), and as a general rule I think it may be said that the Mámíatdár may appoint any suitable person who is willing to act as guardian ad litem for a minor defendant except in cases in which an administrator has actually been appointed under Act XX of 1864. In such cases of course the administrator will represent the minor's estate.

"7. The Mámíatdárs will doubtless remember that in disposing of points of law such as the above (which are liable to come before the High Court on revision) they must exercise their own judgments, and that Government cannot authoritatively decide such questions for them (I. L. R., IX. Bo., p. 97)." (G. R. No. 3555 of 8th June 1887, R. D.)

Mámíatdárs' decisions are not binding on third parties. (G. R. No. 7416 of 31st March 1887, R. D.)

Possession when alleged trespasser has built on land in dispute.

Memo. from the L. R. :—"In my opinion the Court has jurisdiction in the circumstances provided the suit is filed within the time prescribed by section 4. If he finds in favour of the plaintiff he can give him possession of the land and any building that may be on it at the time." (G. R. No. 7186 of 22nd October 1887, R. D.)

Jurisdiction when a Sardár is a party.

Letter from the Acting L. R. :—"Having regard to the provisions of section 4 of Bombay Act III, of 1876 I am of opinion that the Mámíatdár's Court has jurisdiction to entertain suits to which a Sardár is a party. It is true that section 3 of Regulation 29 of 1830 provides that Sardárs of certain rank shall not come under the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts and that it has been ruled that a Mámílatdár's Court is a Civil Court. But section 4 of the Mámílatdárs' Courts' Act offers relief to 'any person' dispossessed and makes no exception in the case of Sardárs. I think then it must be held to override the provisions of Regulation 29 of 1827. No doubt as a general rule an Act of general application does not control an earlier Act expressly framed to provide for a particular class of cases: but the Mámílatdárs' Act was passed with a special object to provide a speedy remedy in certain cases, and if it had been intended to exempt Sardárs from its operation the intention would, I think, have been stated. As a matter of fact I have little doubt that it was not intended to exempt them. When Bombay Act V of 1864 and Bombay Act III of 1878 were passed it was not thought that Mámílatdárs' Court were Civil Courts, and in section 18 of the latter Act the word 'Civil-Court' is used in contradistinction to 'Mámílatdárs' Courts.' At that time I believe it was supposed that the latter were Revenue Courts of the kind referred in clause 2 of section 1 of Act 16 of 1838 and the fact that they were Civil Courts was not established till afterwards.

"At the same time I must point out that this is not a question which Government can authoritatively decide for the Mámílatdár (vide L. L. R., X Bom. p. 78). He must act on his own judgment, and either accept or refuse jurisdiction as he thinks proper. In either case his decision is liable to correction by the High Court in its extraordinary jurisdiction on the application of the party dissatisfied therewith." (G. R. No. 1809, 9th March 1889, R. D.)

Amendment of Plaintiff overstating the facts.

Memo. by the Acting L. R. :—" 10. Section 8 of the Act shows that the Mámílatdár could not, after the evidence had been taken, direct an amendment of the plaint. That can only be done where the plaint is on the face of it defective or objectionable in form, and not in order merely to render it consistent with the evidence adduced. But a plaint is not, I think, liable to rejection under section 15 merely because plaintiff has failed to prove every item. The antepenultimate paragraph of section 15 provides that the orders to be passed shall be such as the circumstances of the case, in the opinion of the Court, require. This leaves a discretion and latitude to the Court to adapt its orders to the requirements of each case appearing from the facts proved.

" 11. The Legislature never intended that an innocent error as to the extent of a right claimed should deprive the party aggrieved of all redress. In cases of wilful misstatement section 20 of the Act indicates the appropriate procedure." (G. R. No. 3357 of 7th May 1889, R. D.)

THE TREASURE TROVE ACT, VI OF 1878.

13th March 1882.

In exercise of the power conferred by section 19 of the Indian Treasure Trove Act, 1878, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rule:—

In cases in which treasure is found hidden in soil the ownership of which vests in Government, the Collector making the inquiry under the Indian Treasure Trove Act, 1878, shall serve the special notice in writing required by clause (b) of section 5 of the Act on the Government Pleader of any Civil Court within the limits of the jurisdiction of which the treasure has been found, or on any officer who may be appointed by Government as agent in this behalf, and such Government Pleader or officer shall, except in cases in which treasure is less than one hundred rupees in value, appear on behalf of Government before the Collector making the said enquiry on the day mentioned in the said notice.

The Government Pleader shall be entitled to the usual fees calculated on the value of the share of the treasure to which Government lays claim, subject to any increase that may be sanctioned by Government in particular cases. (No. 913, B. G. G., 1882, p. 188.)

Form of Notification under Section 5.

*Here describe the nature, amount and approximate value.

† Here describe the place.

‡ Such day not being earlier than four months nor later than six months after the date of notification.

“In accordance with the provisions of section 5 of Act VI of 1878, notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that on the _____ day of _____ 189 certain treasure, to wit* _____ was found in† _____ and all persons claiming the said treasure, or any part thereof, are hereby required to appear personally or by agent before the Collector on the‡ _____ day of _____ 189 at _____, when the Collector will proceed to hold an enquiry in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

Collector.”

(Approved in Government Resolution No. 1879 of 20th June 1878.)

Notification under section 5 should be forwarded to the Publisher of the Gazette of India for insertion in the Gazette direct by the Collectors in the Bombay Presidency. (Government of India No. 167, 11th September 1879.)

Orders as to supply of coins to learned Societies.

In all cases where any old or curious coins are found, the whole of them are sent by the Collector of the district in which they are found to the Secretary of the Royal Asiatic society at Bombay. The Society choose such as they wish to purchase at the Collector's valuation, and send the remainder to the Government Mint, where their value is credited to Government.

‘The Collector and the Secretary of the Asiatic Society then adjust accounts in direct communication with each other.’

The Asiatic Society at Bombay will be asked, in all cases where there are more than one coin of a sort, to select duplicates for the Asiatic Society at Calcutta, and communicate their description, &c., to that Society, who could then purchase them or not, as they pleased (Government Resolution No. 3269, dated 29th October 1878, G. D.)

The following Resolution of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department is published for general information (B. G. G., 1889, pp. 417 and 418):—

“Cir. No.  $\frac{34}{42}$  Arch.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department,—dated 28th March 1889.

The definition of treasure as framed in the original Bill was enlarged by the Select Committee for the express purpose of covering sculptures and similar antiquities, as well as coins.

3. The Treasure Trove Act permits the Government to claim the possession of treasure of which, as laid down in section 4 of the Act, the amount or value is over ten rupees. Such ‘value’ is not, as in section 16, the price which the mere materials of the article found would fetch, but the market value or the price which the discovered object might, if offered for sale, reasonably be presumed to realize. The conditions under which the finder of treasure is to be compensated in cases where the claim of Government is asserted, are described in section 16 of the Act. The value at which the treasure is to be assessed is there defined as the value of the materials only plus one-fifth of such value. The extra price which the discovered article might realize in virtue of its value as an object of archaeological interest need not enter into account. It will not therefore be difficult to secure for preservation in national institutions the most important antiquities which may be discovered in any part of British India, without inordinate expenditure.

4. The Governor General in Council now desires that the conditions under which the Government can claim articles of antiquarian interest should be made generally known, as well to the officials upon whom the responsibility vests of giving effect to the provision of the Treasure Trove Act, as to the general public. His Excellency in Council is convinced that the Local Governments and Administrations will, on every occasion on which it may be considered proper to exercise the rights conferred by the law upon the State, act with due liberality, and with proper consideration for the natural claims and expectations of the finders of treasure, and will bear in mind that the object in view will be defeated if those who may discover objects of archæological value are not induced by the prospect of a sufficient reward to make their discoveries known to the officials of Government. On the other hand, it must be enjoined on all servants of the State that it is their duty to protect national interests so far as to ascertain the particulars of any discovery which may be brought to their notice, and to report the circumstances to the proper authorities under such rules and instructions as may be laid down for their guidance by the Local Government or Administration.

5. With regard to antiquities which cannot be brought under the definition of 'treasure' in the Act of 1878, and of which the location in a national institution is considered desirable, no further action can be advised than to ascertain from the finder whether he is willing to surrender the object to Government at a reasonable price.

6. Nothing in this Resolution should be held to interfere with the instructions which are contained in the Resolution No.  $\frac{1}{58-71}$  of 8th June 1883 for dealing with discoveries made by Government officials and which, for the purpose of easy reference, are reprinted in the Appendix to this Resolution. The same instructions will be applicable, mutatis mutandis, to objects of archæological interest claimed and purchased under the Treasure Trove Act.

7. With the above remarks the Governor General in Council is content to leave the matter to the discretion of Local Governments and Administrations, but desires that any action which may be taken under this Resolution should be briefly noticed in the Annual Report of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, as the Department which in most provinces is connected with the administration of Museums.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Archæology),—No. 1—58-71 dated Simla, the 8th June 1883.

- I.—All discoveries of objects of archæological interest made by Government officers (whether belonging to the Archæological Survey or not) should be reported by them to the head of the Local Government or Administration within which the discovery is made. When such a report is made, it will rest with the Local Government or Administration to issue orders for the preservation of the objects discovered in situ, or for their removal to a Provincial or Local Museum, where such exists, in accordance with the general principles set forth in the paragraphs marginally quoted above. Where there is no Local Museum, the object should be sent to the Imperial Museum, if the Trustees, to whom information of the discovery should be conveyed by the Local Government or Administration, should so desire.
- II.—Local Governments and Administrations will furnish the Trustees of Indian Museum with lists of all Museums in the province and with descriptive catalogues of their contents, and will report to the Trustees all fresh discoveries dealt with under the preceding clause.
- III.—The Trustees will be at liberty to arrange with Local Governments and Administrations either for the transfer to the Indian Museum of any object the Trustees require or for acquiring it by exchange or for obtaining casts or other impressions of it, any points as to which there is a difference of opinion being referred to the Government of India for final decision. In dealing with such application from the Trustees, Local Governments and Administrations will not fail to attach due weight to the desirability of completing any particular archæological series to which the Trustees of the Indian Museum may attach importance."

The Collectors should be requested to impress on all taluka and village officers that it is their duty to protect national interests so far as to ascertain the particulars of any discovery which may be brought to their notice, and to report the circumstances to the proper authorities.

2. In this Presidency no museum is under the administration of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture but the Collectors should inform that officer of any action that may be taken by them under these orders with a view to the embodiment of the information in his annual report. (G. R. No. 1672 of 30th April 1889, G. D.)

In paragraph 2 of Government of India, Home Department (Public), No. 46—1668-82, dated 9th October 1884, quoted in Government Resolution, General Department, No. 3950, dated 30th October 1884, the Government of India stated that Collectors and District officers should be instructed to invariably acquire under section 16 of the Act the whole of such coins found.

2. Such charges would be debited to the minor head 'Charges for search for hidden Treasure' under 32, Miscellaneous. (G. R. No. 2423, 21st June 1889, G. D.)

Orders and Opinions.

Memo. by L. R. :—"Section 19, Bombay Act VIII of 1867, is intended primarily to apply to lost or strayed property which is usually made over to the charge of the police because the finder has no claim to it. When the law as to treasure trove was in a state of uncertainty, it was perhaps expedient for any person finding hidden treasure to make over charge of it in the same way to the police patel, and before the passing of Act VI of 1878 it might perhaps have been argued that it was the duty of the police patel to take charge of such treasure. But leges posteriores leges priores contrarias abrogant, and so far as regards treasure trove the special provisions of Act VI of 1878 must be held to supersede those of section 19 of Bombay Act VIII of 1867, even if it be correct to argue that the latter enactment was formerly applicable to such treasure. Now, moreover, it seems to be scarcely right to regard treasure trove as "unclaimed property," because Act VI of 1878 gives the finder a very considerable claim thereto if it turns out to be ownerless." (G. R. 6737, J. D., of 9th October 1880.)

Powers of Mámlatdárs under the Act.

Memo. by Acting L. R. :—When the Mámlatdárs were appointed* under section 3 of the Act to perform in their several charges the functions of Collectors, they became Collectors for all the purposes of the Act, and Government cannot lawfully restrict or limit the power which they are invested with. If the finder of treasure of any value over ten rupees gives notice to the Mámlatdár, that officer is bound by law to follow the procedure laid down by the Act. Rules regulating procedure can be made, but none can be made in restraint of those powers. The Mámlatdárs' proceedings should be closely and carefully watched by the Collectors. (G. R. 2390 of 23rd July 1881.)

Memo. of the Ag. L. R. :—There is no express provision in the Treasure Trove Act, 1878, for the case of treasure found hidden in soil, the ownership of which vests in Government, as for instance, a public road, which under section 37 of the Land Revenue Code, 1879, is the property of Government.

Section 5 of the Treasure Trove Act provides that when the place in which the treasure was found belongs to some person other than the finder, the Collector shall serve on such person a special notice to the same effect as the notification in the Government Gazette; and if such person appears and claims a share as owner of the place, the Collector is required to apportion the said person one-fourth and the finder three-fourths of the treasure.

It appears, therefore, that according to the Act a notice ought to be served on Government and a formal appearance made on behalf of Government before the Collector, in order to warrant a division of the property between Government and the finder; otherwise the right of Government must, under section 6 of the Act, be considered forfeited. Attention is drawn to G. R. No. 3269 of 29th October 1878 regarding supply of coins to learned societies. (G. R. No. 255 of 27th January 1878.)

1. During excavation work carried on at Bijápur by the Treasure found by convict gang. extra-mural convict gang one of the convicts unearths buried treasure valued at more than Rs. 10.

2. The Superintendent of the Gang claims to be considered the finder, the gang being under his immediate orders.

3. Government, and not the Superintendent of the Convict Gang, or the convict, who found the treasure, should be regarded as the finder of the treasure for the purposes of Act VI of 1878. (G. R. No. 710 of 23rd February 1886, G. D.)

Meaning of the word "Finder."

Memo. by the Ag. L. R. :—"There is no definition of the term 'finder' in the Indian Treasure Trove Act, 1878, and it must, therefore, be interpreted according to principles of law which are generally accepted; while under the general clauses Act, 1868, the word 'finder' in the Indian Treasure Trove Act includes 'finders'.

"2. If two or more persons find treasure concealed in the ground, they all come within the meaning of 'finder' in the Act. So, too, if a person employs another person to dig the ground and search, they would both be finders of any treasure found; but it results from the general principle of law, quicquid acquiritur seruo acquiritur domino, that only the master or employer, and not the servant or labourer, would be entitled to the treasure or to share it with the owner of the ground. There is also the familiar maxim, qui facit per alium per se ipsum facere videtur, from which it may be inferred that the master or employer must be presumed to have discovered through his agent what he would in all probability have discovered himself, had he executed the work with his own hands and not by paid agency.

"3. There is, in fact, an implied contract to this effect in every engagement between master and servant, principal and agent. There may, of course, be instances in which a servant or agent may accidentally and by good luck find treasure in his master's or principal's ground and be entitled to claim it or share it with him. The question will depend in each case on whether the servant or labourer was actually performing the work for which he stipulated when he discovered the treasure.

"4. It is true that section 12 of the Act contemplates cases in which either subsequent to, or in anticipation of, the discovery of treasure, the finder and the owner have entered into an agreement regarding the disposal thereof; but I do not think the legislature intended by this, that unless a master or employer shall enter into a special agreement with every servant or labourer he employs regarding the disposal of any treasure that may possibly be discovered in the performance of the contract work, the servant or workman who happens to be the actual finder, and not the master or employer, is entitled to the treasure.

"5. I may give the following illustration of the agreement referred to in the above section, and the implied contract between principal and agent. Dr. Schliemann entered into certain arrangements and agreements with the Government of the Sultán of Turkey and the owners of the ground, acquiring a right to excavate the ancient mounds on the plain of Troy to search for the ruins of the Ilium of Homer, a search which would no doubt involve the discovery of buried treasure of great value. He employed a great number of operatives and supervisors to excavate so many square feet of ground a day on fixed wages. Whatever hidden treasure was found became the property of Dr. Schliemann, subject to the terms of his agreement with the Sultán and the owners of the ground, the operatives having no share whatever in the same. These are the principles of law which in such case may be found to be observed all the world over.

"6. The object of passing the Indian Treasure Trove Act was not to interfere with any such fixed principles of law hitherto governing such cases, but to insure a proper, regular investigation of the ownership of found treasure before declaring it to be ownerless and to vest in the finder. The meaning of 'finder' was left to be determined by the tribunals, and it would have been inconvenient to have narrowed the signification of the term by defining it.

"7. Lastly, there is the question whether a servant or labourer, not being a finder entitled to treasure found by him in fulfilling his contract of service as against his master or employer, can be deemed to be 'finder' for the purposes of section 20 of the Act, that is to say, for the purpose of being punished if he fails to give notice of the treasure to the Collector as required by section 4 of the Act.]

"8. With regard to this question, I think that if a servant or workman hands over treasure he has found in performing the work contracted for to his master, it becomes the duty of the latter to give the requisite notice to the authorities. If, however, the servant or workman should conceal the fact of the discovery from his employer and carry away the treasure for his own use, he would no doubt be properly convicted and punished as a 'finder' who had failed to give the notice required by section 4, but still more properly would he be convicted of criminal mis-appropriation of property. As the term 'finder' is a wide one and undefined, it would be difficult to hold that such a person was not a finder liable to the prescribed penalties; and such a result would not involve the forfeiture of the treasure to Her Majesty, because the person so convicted never had any right or title therein, as against his principal, which could be thus forfeited." (G. R. No. 3747 of 20th September 1882, G. D.).

Collector to proceed under Section 5 even if finder gives no notice.

Memo. from the L. R. :—"Looking to section 20 of the Treasure Trove Act, which enacts that 'if the finder of any treasure fails to give notice * * * * * , the share of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof to which he would otherwise be entitled, shall vest in Her Majesty,' I am of opinion that it is intended that the Collector shall take proceedings under section 5 and the following sections, even when the finder gives no notice. Otherwise, the share of the treasure to which the finder would be entitled could not be ascertained. It cannot have been intended by the Legislature that a finder of treasure should have it in his power to frustrate the object of the Act by neglecting to give notice to the Collector of his having found such treasure. The words 'on receiving a notice under section 4,' which occur at the beginning of section 5 of the Act, should, therefore, I think, be taken to refer only to those cases in which a notice is given." (G. R. No. 4332 of 16th December 1886, G. D.).

Treasure found buried in a private house.

Memo. of the L. R. :—Looking to the definition of Treasure in Act VI of 1878 it appears to me that the property now in the hands of the authorities which was found by digging in the house of Shivsangapa, deceased, is treasure trove and must be dealt with under the provisions of the Act.

2. The inconvenience of holding the Act applicable to money found buried in private houses is real, but the wording of the law is so comprehensive that I do not see how such money can be excluded from its provisions. Searches by the authorities in private houses would not usually take place, as they could not be conducted without the consent of the persons in possession. In the present case such consent appears to have been given.

3. Basana and Takava may be liable to the penalties provided by section 20, but it is not necessary for Government to enforce them or to direct a prosecution if it does not think proper to do so.

4. As the deceased left heirs who were in possession of his house when he died, Regulation VIII of 1827 does not seem to apply and Chapter XLIII of the Criminal Procedure Code seems equally inapplicable. (G. R. No. 282 of 25th January 1882, G. D.)

Procedure when finder fails to give notice and converts the Treasure.

Memo. of the Acting L. R. :—1. One Bhana Hira found treasure and instead of giving notice and depositing the treasure in the Government Treasury or giving security for its production as required by section 4 of the Act, he appropriated it to his own use and brought with it ornaments worth Rs. 80-4-0 and a house worth Rs. 210.

2. On procedure duly taken under the Act the treasure was declared ownerless and the owner of the place where it was found was awarded one-fourth thereof. The balance was declared forfeited to Government.

3. The Commissioner raises the question whether the order of forfeiture applies to the house and ornaments purchased by the finder with the treasure or its proceeds.

4. The Act makes no provision as to the way in which treasure trove is to be recovered if appropriated by the finder.

“It only provides that the finder’s share or the money in lieu thereof shall vest in Her Majesty and that the finder shall be liable to certain penalties.

“The remedy therefore appears to be left to the ordinary law.

5. It is to be noted that under section 20 the finder’s share is not forfeited to Government by the order of the Magistrate, but vests in Her Majesty on the finder’s default on giving notice.

“The property vested therefore before, and irrespective of, the Magisterial order which therefore cannot affect in any way the right of Government.

6. The treasure having vested in Government on such failure to give notice, the finder became civilly liable for the conversions as soon as he applied the treasure to his own use.

“But as the Act provides no procedure for recovery from the finder, it seems that if the Magistrate has omitted to make an order as to the ornaments under section 517, Criminal Procedure Code (vide Explanation to that section) the only course open would be a civil suit against the finder for the conversion.

7. If the finder has not been proceeded against before a Magistrate, I think that he should be, and it is probable in such case if the ornaments are produced, and it is proved that they are the property for which the treasure has been converted or exchanged, a portion at least of the finder’s share will be recovered by the Magistrate’s order in the case (517, Criminal Procedure Code, Explanation).

8. In the absence of judicial decision Government cannot claim any specific part of the finder’s property as acquired by conversion or exchange of the treasure.

“The whole of the finder’s property however will of course be liable whether for the fine that may be imposed under section 20 or civilly for the value of the treasure converted by him.” (G. R. No. 3722 of 20th October 1888, G. D.)

THE MUNICIPAL TAXATION ACT, 1881.

(Notn. No. 4041, B. G. G., 1881, pp. 757-758.)

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 3 of Act XI. of 1881 (The Municipal Taxation Act, 1881), the Governor General in Council is pleased to prohibit the levy by any Municipal Committee upon the persons described below of taxes of the following kinds :—

Persons exempted.

All persons exclusively in military employ, or belonging to any department directly attached to the Army or to the Public Works Department, Military Branch, being persons subject to the Army Discipline and Regulation Act, 1879, or the Indian Articles of War, and compelled by the exigencies of military duty to reside within the limits of a Municipality.

Taxes from the operation of which exemption is granted.

- (1) Municipal taxes on salaries.
- (2) Municipal taxes on professions, trades, callings, offices or appointments.
- (3) Municipal taxes on horses,* mules, or ponies kept for military duty.
- (4) Municipal tolls leviable on any ferry or road in respect of animals or vehicles kept or used for military duty.

In exercise of the power conferred by section 24 of Act III. of 1880 (The Cantonments Act, 1880), the Governor General in Council is pleased to declare that in any Cantonment situated in British India which may have been, or may in future be, brought under the operation of a Municipal Act, the following classes of persons shall, when on duty in such cantonment, be exempted from the operation of taxes of the following kinds :—

Persons exempted.

All persons exclusively in military employ or belonging to any department directly attached to the Army or to the Public Works Department, Military Branch, being persons subject to the Army Discipline and Regulation Act, 1879, or the Indian Articles of War.

Taxes from the operation of which exemption is granted.

- (1) Municipal taxes on salaries.
- (2) Municipal taxes on professions, trades, callings, offices or appointments.
- (3) Municipal taxes on horses,* mules, or ponies kept for military duty.

* G. R. No. 35, 7th January 1884, General Department, Circulating letter from Government of India, Home Department, (Municipal) No. 182, 22nd December 1883.

The exemption extends to the number of horses for which an officer draws horse allowance, or for which horse allowance is included in his pay.

(4) Municipal tolls leviable on any ferry or road in respect of animals or vehicles kept or used for military duty.

1. In further exercise of the power conferred by the same section, the Governor General in Council is pleased to prohibit the levy, in any cantonment in British India, of any municipal tax whatsoever on public property, such as animals or vehicles.

2. In this order the expressions "municipal tax," "municipal taxes," and "municipal tolls," include any tax or toll imposed by virtue of the provisions of a Municipal Act under the operation of which any cantonment may have been, or may in future be, brought.

If the officer goes on leave keeping up his horses, the exemption does not cease to have effect. Provided an officer maintains his establishment of horses, their disposal during his absence is a matter of private arrangements with which the authorities should not interfere.

Generally speaking, an officer not employed on military duty is not entitled to exemption, but a specific reference should be made regarding any class of officer in respect of which a doubt exists as to the application of the rule. (G. R. No. 35 of 7th January, 1884, G. D.)

REVISED RULES FOR REGULATING THE BESTOWAL AND CONTINUANCE OF GOVERNMENT GRANTS-IN-AID TO CHARITABLE DISPENSARIES AND THE ADMINISTRATION OF DISPENSARIES TO WHICH SUCH GRANTS ARE MADE.

Conditions on which Government aid will be granted.

1. Government will sanction the establishment and aid in the maintenance of a charitable dispensary only when a municipality or a district local board or some private individual undertakes to provide for the establishment or maintenance or for the establishment and maintenance of such dispensary (as the case may be), subject to the provisions of these rules.

2. The previous sanction of Government shall be necessary to the establishment of any new dispensary for which it is intended to ask any of the benefits of these rules.

Establishment of new Dispensaries.

3. Applications for such sanction shall be made to Government either through the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay or through the Collector of the district. In the latter case the Collector shall forward the application to Government through the Surgeon-General.

4. In forwarding any such application to Government the Surgeon-General shall report whether, in his opinion, the application should be sanctioned, and whether there is a Hospital Assistant or Assistant Surgeon (according as the importance of the place where it is proposed to establish the dispensary may seem to require) available whose services may be lent for employment at such dispensary.

5. Every such application shall be forwarded to Government through the Sanitary Commissioner who shall report upon it.

There will be three standard plans for dispensaries and the application should state which one of the three standards it is desired to construct.

The standard plans are classed A., B. and C., and the requirements for each will be as follows:—

The list of surgical instruments, &c., given in the appendix comprises the fullest supply which will be allowed to any dispensary.

It will in every case be in the discretion of the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay to modify the list so as to prevent needless expenditure.

Supply of Medicines.

8. Every charitable dispensary supplied under the sanction of Government with medicines from the public stores will be charged for the same at the rate of ten per cent. over their cost price.

Annual Grants-in-aid.

9. When Government sanction an annual grant-in-aid for the maintenance of a dispensary, the amount to be paid shall not ordinarily exceed one-half the total cost of the maintenance of the dispensary as estimated by the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay, and shall, as a rule, be regulated according to the population of the place in which the dispensary is to be maintained. The grant-in-aid must be drawn in the year it is due.

The Surgeon-General's estimate of the cost of maintaining a dispensary shall include the pay and allowances of an Assistant Surgeon of the third class if the charge is to be held by an Assistant Surgeon, and of a Hospital Assistant of the highest class if to be held by a Hospital Assistant.

10. The amount of the Government annual grant-in-aid to any dispensary shall be subject to revision by Government once every three years. The grant-in-aid may, if Government think fit, be at any time discontinued. Its continuance shall at all times be conditional on:

- (a) the maintenance of the dispensary building and its furniture by the district local board, municipality or individual responsible therefor in good condition and repair, to the satisfaction of the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay;
- (b) the opinion of Government as to the need for continuing to maintain the dispensary in the locality in which it is situated;

- (c) the due observance, in or in respect of the dispensary, of the provisions hereinafter contained, or of any other similar provisions that may hereafter from time to time be prescribed by Government.

Administration of Government-aided Dispensaries.

11. Every dispensary at present in receipt of an annual grant-in-aid from Government situated in any area subject to the authority of a district local board shall, on and from the date of the first establishment of such district local board, be transferred to the management, control and administration of the said board, whose duty it will be, under sections 30 (b) and 49 (b) of the Bombay Local Boards Act, 1884, to maintain the same.

12. Every dispensary in receipt of an annual grant-in-aid from Government situated in any Municipal district in which the Bombay District Municipal Acts, 1873 and 1884, are in force shall be under the management, control and administration of the said municipality, whose duty it will be to maintain the same. Vide section 24, clause (13) of B. III of 1873, as amended by section 49, clause (c) of B. II of 1884.

The amount of the grant-in-aid paid by Government in respect of any dispensary such as is referred to in the above Rule or in Rule 11, or of any new dispensary that may be hereafter established by a district local board, or in a municipal district by the municipality of such district, shall be credited to a separate fund belonging to each such dispensary to be called the dispensary fund.

13. Nothing in the last three rules shall apply to any dispensary endowed or partly maintained by a private individual, which Government have agreed or may hereafter agree to aid on specific terms. In every such case the terms so agreed upon will be strictly adhered to.

14. When a dispensary under the management of a municipality is partly supported by the district local board or vice versa, the amounts of the respective contributions of the two bodies towards the maintenance thereof shall from time to time be determined by the municipality and the district local board in consultation or by a joint committee of the two bodies.

Appointment and Duties of Dispensary Committees.

15. The affairs of every dispensary for which Government give a grant-in-aid shall be supervised by a Dispensary Committee appointed by the district local board or municipality to whose management such dispensary is subject, or, in the case of any dispensary not subject to the management of a district local board or of a municipality, by Government or by such officer as Government empower in this behalf.

16. The Dispensary Committee shall see that the registers supplied to the Medical Officer in charge of the dispensary by the Surgeon-General are regularly and carefully written up, that the returns are regularly sent, that the dispensary hours are strictly observed, and that patients are not neglected. Such Committee shall maintain a direct general supervision over the conduct of the dispensary, reporting any neglect of duty, inefficiency or misconduct on the part of the Medical Officer to the Collector, who will, if he thinks it necessary, submit the case for orders to higher authority. They shall keep, or cause to be kept, an account of the receipts and disbursements of the dispensary in such form as may be from time to time prescribed for all Government-aided dispensaries by the Surgeon-General.

For the purposes of this rule the Committee shall depute two of their number to visit and inspect the dispensary at least once in each month. The inspection of medicines and surgical instruments forms no part of the duties of the members of the Dispensary Committee.

17. The appointment, suspension and dismissal of all dispensary servants except members of the Medical Department, who are under the control of their departmental superiors, shall rest with the Committee, but no increase of the establishment will be permitted without the previous sanction of the Surgeon-General.

The appointment of a compounder proposed by a Dispensary Committee should be subject to the approval of a competent medical authority, who should be the Civil Surgeon of the district or the Inspecting Medical Officer, who in distant dispensaries is the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner.

18. Casual leave to Medical Officers or Subordinates in charge of dispensaries should not be granted without the consent of either the Surgeon-General at the Presidency or the Deputy Surgeon-General in Sind. In cases of extreme urgency such leave may be granted by the Collector of the district or the President of the Dispensary Committee, the Surgeon-General, or in Sind the Deputy Surgeon-General and the Civil Surgeon of the district being informed of the fact.

19. All payments due to Government servants lent to dispensaries shall be made at the same rates and with the same regularity and punctuality as if the servants were in Government employ :

Provided that if an Assistant Surgeon of the first or second class is appointed to any dispensary, the difference between his pay and allowances and those of a third class Assistant will be borne by Government.

All pay abstracts of Government servants shall be forwarded to the Surgeon-General for countersignature before being paid, or in Sind to the Deputy Surgeon-General.

20. Whenever the surplus balance with any Dispensary Committee appointed by Government or by some officer of Government empowered in this behalf exceeds Rs. 500 and there is no immediate prospect of its being required for current expenses, it should not be allowed to lie idle but should at once be invested in Government paper.

21. Every Dispensary Committee shall render to the Collector :

(a) quarterly reports of their visits in accordance with Rule 16 ;

(b) annual accounts, as soon as possible after the 31st March annually, giving a complete abstract of receipts and disbursements during the year, the balance at the Committee's disposal, and other detailed particulars prepared and signed by the Medical Officer in charge of the dispensary on and according to a printed form to be obtained direct from the Superintendent, Government Central Press, on an indent accompanied by a remittance.

It shall be the duty of the Collector to call for these reports and accounts if they are not furnished punctually, and if he discovers any error in any monthly or annual account forwarded to him he shall at once return such account for correction and re-submission. On receipt of monthly and annual accounts which after examination appear to the Collector to be correct, he shall countersign and forward them to the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay or in Sind to the Deputy Surgeon-General.

22. No expenditure should be incurred which has not been previously estimated for and sanctioned by the Surgeon-General in the regular monthly estimate, provided that a Dispensary Committee may, without the previous sanction of the Surgeon-General, purchase with the funds at its disposal warm clothing, additional medicines, and extra furniture in cases of emergency or in unforeseen circumstances rendering desirable the immediate obtaining of such articles. Any expenditure so incurred should, however, be reported without delay to the Surgeon-General.

23. No new buildings should be constructed ; no additions made to existing buildings without the previous sanction of Government, provided that urgent repairs to buildings and furniture, for which the necessity has suddenly arisen, may be carried out by a Dispensary Committee from the funds at its disposal without previous sanction, report being, however, furnished without delay showing the repairs effected, the urgent need for them, and the outlay incurred on them.

24. All communications on medical matters between the Assistant Surgeon or Hospital Assistant in charge of any Government-aided dispensary and the Medical Department shall be sent to the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay through his Secretary, or in Sind to the Deputy Surgeon-General.

In matters affecting the expenditure and control of funds and administration of any dispensary not managed by a district local board or a municipality, the Chairman of the Dispensary Committee and the Collector or his Assistant or Deputy in charge of the taluka shall be the medium of communication. The medium of communication between the local and Municipal boards on the one hand and the Surgeon-General on the other is the President of the board concerned.

Inspection of Dispensaries.

25. Every Government-aided dispensary shall be open at any time to inspection by Deputy Sanitary Commissioners, District Revenue Officers and by the Civil Surgeon of the District.

Civil Surgeons shall visit every dispensary in their districts once a year.

The Sanitary Commissioner and Deputy Sanitary Commissioners shall inspect dispensaries while they are on their tours.

Reports by Inspecting Officers.

26. Inspecting officers shall report to the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay fully on the conduct and qualifications of the Assistant Surgeon or Hospital Assistant in charge of a dispensary and on the successful working or otherwise of the dispensary, adding such suggestions as they may think it advisable to offer. The reports of Civil Surgeons in the Presidency proper shall be submitted direct to the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay ; those of Civil Surgeons in Sind shall be submitted through the Deputy Surgeon-General. Those of Deputy Sanitary Commissioners shall be submitted to the Sanitary Commissioner and shall be forwarded by that officer to the Surgeon-General. The Surgeon-General shall furnish to the Collector of the district either a copy of or such extracts from the inspection report as the latter officer may require for his annual Administration Report.

Internal management of Dispensaries and duties of Medical Officers.

27. The following rules shall be observed and enforced with regard to internal management and the duties of medical officers in every Government-aided dispensary (viz.)—

- (1). The dispensary shall, as a rule, be open from 7 to 10 A.M., and from 5 to 7 P.M., for the treatment of ordinary out-patients.
- (2). The dispensary shall not be left by the officer in charge except for urgent reasons; and he shall not at any time be compelled to visit a patient at his own residence, except in urgent cases and when the patient cannot be moved, or when an epidemic is prevailing or when the patient is a Government servant entitled to his attendance at his own residence. Visits of the kind are to be strictly limited to the town or immediate neighbourhood, to places where cholera or epidemic disease prevails within the limits of a six hours' journey from and to the dispensary, and excepting when accident or serious sudden illness may occur to a Government official entitled to attendance at his residence.
- (3). The Medical Officer shall abide by the following rules for regulating the cases in which and the rates at which medicines and medical attendance and advice are to be charged for:
  - (a) All persons paying Income Tax, all persons paying land revenue to the amount of Rs. 300 and upwards per annum, all persons whose income from land held by them is Rs. 500 per annum and upwards, and all servants, whether Municipal or Local Board, or servants of any firm or company, pensioners, other than military, servants of Native States, including persons of neighbouring villages of Native States, drawing Rs. 40 per mensem or upwards, who may attend dispensaries for medical advice and treatment for themselves or their household, shall pay the following charges:—
    - 8 annas for consultation at the dispensary, and 3 annas for medicines, including an ordinary bottle of medicine and anything else prescribed.
    - 4 annas for every succeeding consultation, and 3 annas for medicines, provided that Government servants who are entitled under the orders of the Government of India contained in their Resolution No. 14—447—64,* dated 23rd October 1884, to gratuitous medical attendance and medicines shall be exempted from payment of the fees at dispensaries where an Assistant Surgeon or a Hospital Assistant is stationed by Government.
  - (b) All persons of the classes mentioned in Rule (a), if attended for themselves or their household at their own houses within the limits of the town or village in which the dispensary is situated, shall pay Re. 1 for each visit of the Medical Officer in charge of the dispensary, and 3 annas for medicines. Non-paying patients will not be attended at their houses save in cases of urgent necessity. Such attendance is not to be so given or demanded as to prevent the fulfilment of other duties.
  - (1). If attended beyond the limits of the village or town in which the dispensary is situated they shall pay Rs. 2 for each visit, and 2 annas per mile for the distance travelled, unless a suitable conveyance is provided to and from the patient's house, and 3 annas for medicines. The Medical Officer shall not be required to travel more than 10 miles unless there is railway communication, when his fare according to the scale laid down by Government for the travelling of officers of his class shall be paid in addition to the fee and charge for medicines.
  - (c) Fees for attendance on patients away from dispensaries shall be the property of the officer in charge of the dispensary. Fees for attendance on patients at the dispensary and all charges for medicines shall be credited to the Dispensary Fund and to Government in the same proportions as the Local or Municipal Board and Government contribute to the dispensary.
  - (d) Fees for visits between sunset and sunrise shall be double the above rates and shall be the property of the Medical Officer.
  - (e) Where the Medical Officer is an Assistant Surgeon he shall be entitled to receive double the above fee.
  - (f) Fees for operations, except such minor ones as tooth-drawing, should be the subject of private arrangement between the patient and the Medical Officer.
- (4). The Committee shall determine whether the dieting of in-patients shall be at the charge of the Dispensary Fund or otherwise.
- (5). When there is not sufficient accommodation for all applicants for admission to the dispensary, preference shall be given to persons suffering from severe injuries or to persons who have to undergo surgical operations.
- (6). Vaccination shall be carried on by dispensary officers in such dispensary towns as the Sanitary Commissioner may direct.
- (7). It shall be the duty of the Assistant Surgeon or Hospital Assistant in charge of a dispensary, when there is no other medical officer at the station to make the usual post-mortem examination and report, according to the rules laid down in section * Government Notification, General Department, No. 4243, dated 19th November 1884, published at page 1005 of the Bombay Government Gazette of the 20th idem, Part I. All clerks of Army Head-quarters offices are entitled to gratuitous medical attendance and medicines for themselves and their families.

XXIV., clause 43 (1—20), Medical Code, on every corpse sent to him for this purpose by any Magistrate or Police Officer, and to retain post-mortem notes for the information of inspecting officers and others in the form prescribed by the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay.

- (8). Registers of sick, &c., shall be regularly kept in the usual forms.
- (9). Every patient, on his name being entered on the register, shall be provided with a paper, according to Form No. 18 of the Civil Medical Department, on which the prescriptions, and, in important cases, the symptoms shall be noted at each visit; on the medicine being dispensed, the case diaries shall be retained in the dispensary, arranged, and re-issued to the applicant at the next visit.
- (10). Separate monthly returns of in and out-patients in Form C. M. 29 shall be transmitted to the Surgeon-General in the Presidency and to the Deputy Surgeon-General in Sind.
- (11). Annual returns and reports of the medical and surgical work of the dispensary shall be carefully drawn up and punctually submitted by the Medical Officer in charge on or before the 10th January, accompanied by the diaries of six of the most important cases which have occurred during the year among the in or out-patients.
- (12). A list of the instruments belonging to the dispensary shall be kept for the purposes of inspection and verification, and shall be corrected or renewed from time to time under the signature of the inspecting officer.

Instruments and Medicines.

28. The instruments provided gratuitously by Government on the first establishment of a Dispensary cannot be returned into store in exchange for others, nor can any instruments be afterwards obtained from the Government stores except upon payment. All instruments which may have been originally obtained by purchase or otherwise from the Government Medical Stores must, when no longer required, be returned to the Government Medical Stores or disposed of as the Surgeon-General may direct.
29. Repairs to instruments may be made by the Cutler to the Medical Stores, Bombay, for which purpose the instruments may be sent to Bombay. The full cost of such repairs must be met by the dispensary concerned.
30. Indents for instruments or medicines to be supplied from the Government Medical Stores must be countersigned by the President or the Vice-President of the district local board or municipality, if the dispensary is managed by a district local board or municipality, and by the Collector or his Assistant or Deputy in any other case, and submitted, through the Collector, to the Surgeon-General in the Presidency and in Sind to the Deputy Surgeon-General for sanction. After sanction, the indents will be forwarded to the Store-keeper for compliance. The Store-keeper will forward the medical stores direct to the dispensaries, and will furnish the Examiner, Medical Accounts, with a list of the stores for pricing.
31. The authority who countersigns an indent shall be careful to see that the funds at the disposal of the Committee are sufficient to meet the charge for the medical stores indented for. If there is any doubt about this and the cost of the stores is not known, the price should be ascertained before the indent is sent on.
32. The following arrangements have been made for the adjustment of the Military Department debits for medicine and medical stores supplied to charitable dispensaries :—
  - (1) The Military Department will debit through its account current the full value of the supply plus the authorized percentage for departmental charges, &c., and any expenditure that may be disbursed in the Military Department for carriage of the stores.
  - (2) The Collector of the district will be advised by the Accountant General of the debit and should see that the value is duly recovered and credited without delay. He should advise the Accountant General if any difficulty is experienced.

The military debits will be held in the books of the Accountant General's office to the debit of "Advances Recoverable," and the credits at the treasury should be classed under the same head in a special column subordinate to "Miscellaneous Advances" headed "Medical Supplies from Military Departments"; the number and date of Accountant General's office advice should be noted against each credit in the receipt schedule referred to in paragraph 2 of Consolidated Circular I.

The Medical Stores Department will, as far as possible, avoid making payments for railway and other forwarding charges for medical stores; these, when the stores are sent "to pay" (or bearing), should be disbursed by the officer to whom they are consigned, who, in the case of charges to be borne by Government, should include them in his "Medical Contingent Bill" as final charges, whether they belong to his district or not; but when they are recoverable from a charitable dispensary and it is necessary to pay the charges direct from the treasury, the Treasury Officer should debit the amount to Advances Recoverable, Miscellaneous Advances, "Other Items," and take prompt steps to have the amount recovered and credited in his own other or an treasury, if the latter is more convenient.

Miscellaneous.

33. Assistant-Surgeons in charge of dispensaries who were studying for medical diplomas in or before September 1876 are entitled to allowances in addition to pay on the following scale:—

1st or 2nd class ...	Rs. 150
3rd class ...	„ 100

But Assistant Surgeons who were not studying for medical diplomas in or before September 1876 and have been subsequently appointed to the public service will receive the pay of their grade and allowance varying from a minimum of Rs. 20 to a maximum of Rs. 60 per mensem, increments between these limits being given upon the recommendation of the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay founded upon superior qualification or approved service. In like manner certain Hospital Assistants appointed prior to 29th March 1868, and educated in the Vernacular Class, are allowed Rs. 30 in addition to the pay of their rank so long as they remain in the 3rd class.

34. It is desirable that every Dispensary Committee should endeavour to lessen the cost of their dispensary to Government and to the local or municipal fund by obtaining donations, subscriptions or gifts towards a Dispensary Endowment Fund. The object of such a fund is to accumulate a capital sum, the interest of which only shall be used for the expenditure of the dispensary, and which, as it increases, will gradually render the dispensary independent of Government and all other aid.

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF JUDGING COMMITTEES OF DISTRICT HORSE SHOWS.*

(Notn.
No. 1035, B.
G. G., 1882,
Pt. I., p. 109.)

1. Only bona fide horse-breeders will be allowed to compete for prizes. The Judging Committee will decide as to the eligibility of competitors.
2. A mare of 4 years of age in foal or with foal at foot, the result of having been covered before 4 years of age, will not be eligible to compete.
3. No mares or stock will be allowed to compete as "served by Government stallions," or "got by Government stallions," unless a certificate to that effect is produced by the exhibitor. These certificates are obtainable from officers in charge of stallions.
4. Intending exhibitors should, on arrival at the show, apply to the Secretary of the Judging Committee for a ticket or tickets, as the case may be, stating the class in which they propose to compete.
5. Each ticket will be worn by the animal as a token of the right to compete.
6. When the tickets are given, the Secretary will name the date, hour and place at the Show, when and where the horses should be brought for examination. A shamiana (or large tent) or shed, to afford shade to the Committee, within a temporary railed enclosure, should be erected to allow of the members to carefully examine the stock. The public should not be permitted to enter the enclosure during the Committee's proceedings.
7. Prizes will be awarded on the day appointed by the President for the Judging Committee.
8. A certificate (parvāna) will be given to each winner whether he takes his prizes in money, khillat, or medal, as he may think best.
9. Discretion is to be used by the Judging Committee in awarding only a portion of prizes to any class, if the stock of that class be not considered worthy of all prizes noted and the money not awarded may be devoted to the giving of extra prizes in other classes deemed by the Judging Committee as worthy of them, as it is the desire of Government to award the total sum granted, provided any of the classes of stock competing are in any way worthy of it.

10. The system of marks will be adopted as follows :—

Soundness	...	...	...	...	...	25
Power	...	...	...	...	...	25
Quality	...	...	...	...	...	25
Produce (if any)	...	...	...	...	...	25
Total						100

If no produce, the total will be ... .. 75

All other stock :—

Soundness	...	...	...	...	...	25
Power	...	...	...	...	...	25
Quality	...	...	...	...	...	25
Action	...	...	...	...	...	25
Total...						100

Marks for action have not been accorded to mares, as some competing may be too heavy in foal to allow of their action being shown. The Judging Committees are requested to be good enough to attach a return to their reports showing the number of the several marks allotted to winners of prizes.

NOTE.—On future occasions, prizes for geldings will be increased in number and value, and those for colts not castrated will be proportionately decreased. To enable a horse to become eligible to compete in the gelding class both testicles must have been excised.

2. The prizes allotted to the class geldings are to be invariably awarded to the best competing irrespective of their worth in other respects. Prizes in this class to be awarded only to stock that have been castrated when in possession of their present owners, bona fide horse-breeders, and provided the Judging Committee are satisfied the animals have been castrated with a view of competing for the prizes.

PART XVIII.

THE INCUMBERED ESTATES ACTS.*

†Rules under the Broach and Kaira Incumbered Estates Act XXI of 1881.

In exercise of the power conferred by section 31 of Act XIV of 1877, the Governor in Council is pleased to frame the following rules, viz:—

1. All subordinate officers entrusted under the said Act with the collection, receipt, or custody of moneys, or of any valuable property, shall furnish security to the extent of three years' salary. [B. G. G., 1877, pp. 731

2. The order of management and the notices required to be issued under sections, 7, 12 and 26 of the Act shall be respectively in the Forms A, B and C, appended of these rules.

3. The Tálukdári Settlement Officer, or other Manager, appointed under the Act, shall make the enquiry prescribed by section 12, and prepare the Schedule of debts and liabilities and the liquidation scheme, required by section 17 in accordance with the following rules.

4. He shall ascertain the principal sum or sums originally or from time to time lent by each of the creditors severally, and this sum, or the aggregate of these sums, with 9 per cent. per annum simple interest on the amount of each debt, from the time when each debt was incurred up to the date on which the order of management was published, shall be the amount to be awarded, but subject to the following conditions, (namely):—

(1.)—That the amount of interest shall in no case exceed that of the principal;

(2.)—That the heir in the second generation of the person who originally incurred the debt shall pay the principal only and no interest;

(3.)—That the amount to be assigned in settlement of bonds held for services rendered by the creditor shall be determined by the Manager after hearing evidence as to the nature and extent of the service in question;

(4.)—That no interest shall be allowed on debts, accounts relating to which are not produced to the satisfaction of the Manager;

(5.)—That when the amount of the original principal is not satisfactorily proved, a deduction of 50 per cent. shall be made from the amount of the debt as it stood at the first stage at the which satisfactory proof of the existence of the debt is given;

(6.)—That when no accounts are produced, the claim shall be disallowed, unless the debtor acknowledges the receipt of a sum in cash, in which case that sum shall be treated as the principal of the debt, but no interest shall be allowed;

*The rules under B. VI of 1862 are placed at the end of this Part.

† These rules were made under section 31 of XIV of 1877. But under section 2 of Act XXI of 1881, all rules made under XIV of 1877, are deemed to have been made and published under Act XXI of 1881. (Memo. of Acting L. R. quoted, G. R. 2274, 6th April 1882, R. D.)

(7.)—That interest shall not be allowed on account-debts in the absence of any writing showing that interest on such debts should be allowed;

(7a.)—A claim supported by a decree of a Civil Court shall be subject to the same enquiry as any other claim; but in cases where it shall appear to the Manager that the suit was contested, and that the amount awarded either on account of principal or interest by the decree does not exceed by more than 25 per cent. the amount which could have been awarded by the Manager, if no such decree had been passed, the amount so awarded may be allowed, provided clause 1 of this rule be not infringed. But if interest subsequent to decree be claimed, it shall be calculated as if no decree had been passed.

(8.)—That all payments made by the Thákur to any creditor, and all profits which have been enjoyed by such creditor towards the liquidation of any debt or liability before the date of the order of management, shall be deducted from the principal sum of the said debt or liability, and interest on the amount so deducted shall be disallowed from the time of such payment or enjoyment, and the Manager shall determine the amount of profits realized under such enjoyment after examining such proofs as may be produced before him;

(9.)—That if the principal of all the debts due by any Thákur with simple interest at 9 per cent. shall exceed the amount which it is estimated will be available for the settlement of the creditors' claims, subject to the provisions of section 11 of the Act, during a period of twenty years, no interest shall be allowed on such debts as were not incurred by the present Thákur; and that if after disallowing interest on such debts the amount necessary to liquidate the whole of the debts be still in excess of the amount estimated to be available for their liquidation, the rate of interest to be awarded on the remaining debts shall be decreased until the aggregate amount of capital and interest payable falls within the requisite limit.

5. Whenever a bond or decree or other claim has been transferred by sale, gift or otherwise from the original holder to any other person, the present holder thereof must support his claim by the same proofs as if he were the original holder.

(Notn. No. 4113, B. G. G., 1878, p. 502.)

6.—All admitted debts shall be satisfied proportionately in the following order:—

1st.—Money lent on the security of the estate.

2nd.—Decreed and bonded debts.

3rd.—Account debts.

7. In deciding what claims are admissible, and to what amount they shall be admitted, the manager may appoint a Committee of experienced natives—consisting of three persons of whom one only shall be in the service of Government—to assist him, and may re-imburse the said Committee their necessary expenses out of percentage of the rents and profits which he may receive to be reserved by him to cover these and similar charges connected with the discharge of his duties.

8. If the creditors of any debtor themselves produce a schedule of the original sums lent by them severally, signed by the debtor, and both parties assent to the said schedule in presence of the Manager, the Manager may accept such schedule without further investigation, and make it the basis of the liquidation scheme.

9. If the creditors agree to accept a sum of money from the Manager in immediate satisfaction of all their claims against the debtor, and the Manager shall determine to borrow money from Government for the purpose of making such payment, the Manager shall, on receipt of the orders of Government sanctioning such loan, order payment to be made to the creditors from the Government Treasury, provided that the creditors shall first severally pass receipts in full for all their claims, and that if any fraud is subsequently discovered to have been committed by any creditor in respect to any money received by him under this rule, such creditor shall be liable to forfeit all sums so received, and all claim to further compensation for any debt due to him which may have been notified to the Manager for satisfaction under the Act. The interest chargeable on such loan shall be at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, or at such rate as may be specially fixed by the Manager with the sanction of Government and shall be repayable together with the amount of the loan as provided in section 11 of the Act. (Notn. No. 2274, B. G. G., 1882, p. 289.)

10. In estimating the amount of cash to be paid under the last rule in immediate satisfaction of admitted claims, the following points are to be considered (namely) :— (Notn. No. 2485, B. G. G., 1879, pp. 528-529.)

(a) The income of the debtor, the amount of the debt, and the probability or improbability that the creditor would have been able to recover his debt if the Act had not been passed,

(b) The nature of the particular debt,

(c) The period for which the debt had been outstanding,

(d) The interest hitherto enjoyed by the creditor, the rate of interest originally fixed, and the proportion between the amounts due as principal and interest respectively at the present time.

11. If at any time the condition of a Thákur's estate shall be found sufficiently prosperous, the Commissioner may make such further awards beyond what is permitted by the previous rules as the circumstances shall seem to him to warrant.

12. The fact of his having sanctioned a liquidation scheme shall be notified by the Commissioner under section 20 of the Act by a written notice in English and Gujaráti, which shall be published in the Bombay Government Gazette, and of which one copy shall be affixed in the Court of the Subordinate Judge within whose jurisdiction the debtor resides or the bulk of his estate is situated and one copy in the Court of the District Judge to whom such Judge is subordinate. (Notn. No. 934, B. G. G., 1879, p. 124.)

1. All subordinate officers entrusted under this Act with the collection, receipt, or custody of moneys or valuable properties shall furnish security to the extent of three years' salary. (S. O. G., 1877, p. 360-361.)

2. The notices required to be issued under sections 12 and 26 shall be in the Forms A and B appended to these Rules.

3. Every Manager appointed under section 6 of this Act should make the enquiry prescribed by section 12, and shall prepare the schedule of debts and liabilities, and the scheme for the settlement thereof required by section 17 in the following manner.

4. He shall ascertain the principal sum or sums originally or from time to time lent by each of the creditors severally, and this sum or these sums, with 9 per cent. per annum simple interest from the time when the debt was incurred up to the date on which the order provided for in section 8 of the Act is published, and no further, shall in each case be the amount awarded, but subject to the following conditions :—

I.—The amount of interest shall in no case exceed that of the principal.

II.—The heir in the second generation of the person who originally incurred the debt, to pay the principal only and no interest.

III.—The amount assigned in settlement of bonds held for services rendered by the creditor to be determined by the Manager after hearing evidence of the service in question.

IV.—No interest to be allowed on debts whose accounts to the satisfaction of the Manager are not produced.

V.—When the first principal is not satisfactorily proved, a deduction of 50 per cent. to be made from the amount of the debt as it stands at the first stage at which satisfactory proof of the existence of the debt is given.

VI.—When no accounts are produced, the claim shall be disallowed, unless the debtor acknowledges the receipt of a sum in cash, in which case that sum shall be treated as the principal of the debt, but no interest shall be allowed.

VII.—Interest not to be allowed on account of debts in the absence of any specification that it shall be allowed.

VIII.—A claim supported by a decree of a civil court shall be subject to the same enquiry as any (S. O. G., 1878, July to Dec. p. 89.)

* These Rules were made under section 30 of XIV of 1876, but are kept alive by section 2 of XX of 1881, for such rules publication in the S. O. G. alone is required.

other claim; but in cases where it shall appear to the Manager that the suit was contested, and that the amount awarded either on account of principal or interest by the decree does not exceed by more than 25 per cent. the amount which could have been awarded by the Manager, if no such decree had been passed, the amount so awarded may be allowed, provided rule 4, clause 1, be not infringed. But if interest subsequent to decree be claimed, it shall be calculated as if no decree had been passed.

5. All payments made by Jágirdár or Zamindár to any creditor, or profits which have been enjoyed by such creditor towards the liquidation of any debt or liability before the settlement under the Act, shall be deducted from the principal sum of the said debt or liability, and interest on an amount equal to such deducted sum shall be disallowed from time of such payment or enjoyment, and the Manager shall be competent to decide on the amounts of profits realized under such enjoyment after examining such proofs as are presented to him.

6. Whenever a bond or decree or other claim has been transferred by sale, gift, or otherwise from the original holder to any other person, the present holder shall be called upon to support his claim by the same proofs as if he were the original holder.

7. All admitted debts shall be satisfied proportionately in the following order :—

1st.—Money lent on the security of the estate.

2nd.—Decreed and bonded debts.

3rd.—Account debts.

8. If the principal of all the debts with simple interest at 9 per cent., shall exceed the amount which may be estimated to be available for the settlement of the creditors' claims as provided for in section 11 of the Act during the period the estate shall be under management, then no interest shall be allowed on such debts as were not incurred by the present Jágirdár or Zamindár. If the amount be then still in excess of the aforesaid amount, the rate of interest to be awarded on the remaining debts shall be decreased until their amount falls within the requisite limit. For the purposes of calculation under this rule, (20) twenty years shall be taken as the limit of the period of management.

9. In deciding what claims are admissible for settlement, and to what amount they shall be admitted, it shall be competent to the Manager to appoint a Committee of experienced Natives—consisting of three persons, of whom one only shall be in the service of Government—to assist him, and it shall further be competent to the Manager to reimburse the said Committee for their necessary expenses out of a percentage to be reserved on the rents and profits which the Manager may receive to cover all charges arising directly from the special nature of his duties.

10. Provided, however, that if the creditors of any estate shall of themselves produce a schedule of the original sums lent by them severally signed by the debtor, and both parties shall consent to the said schedule in presence of the Manager, it shall be competent to the said Manager to accept such schedule without further investigation, and to make it the basis of the settlement.

11. If the creditors shall agree to accept a sum of money from the Manager in immediate satisfaction of all their claims on any estate, and the Manager shall determine to borrow money from Government for the purpose of meeting such payment, it shall be competent for the Manager, on receipt of the orders of the Commissioner in Sind sanctioning such loan, to order payment to be made to the creditors from the Government Treasury, provided that the creditors shall first severally sign receipts in full for all their claims on the estate, and that if any fraud is subsequently discovered to have been committed by any creditor, in respect to any money received by him under this rule, such creditor shall be liable to forfeit all sums so received, and all claim to further compensation for any debt due to him which may have been notified to the Manager for satisfaction under this Act. And all sums advanced by Government under this rule, shall be recovered from the estate in the same manner as other debts due, or liabilities incurred, to the Crown or Government may be recovered under this Act.

12. In estimating the amount of cash composition to be paid for admitted claims, the following points should be considered :—

(a).—The income of the debtor, the amount of the debt, and the probability that the creditor would have been able to recover his debt if this Act had not been passed.

(b).—The nature of this particular debt.

(c).—The period for which the debt had been outstanding.

(d).—The interest hitherto enjoyed by the creditor, the rate of interest originally fixed, and the proportion between the amounts due as principal and interest, respectively, at the present time.

13. Advances made with the object of facilitating the settlement of the claims against any Jágirdár or Zamindár's estate brought under the provisions of the said Act shall, when the Commissioner in Sind shall so direct, be chargeable with interest at the rate of (5) five per cent.

14. When the condition of an estate shall be found sufficiently prosperous, it shall be competent to the Commissioner in Sind to make such further awards beyond what is permitted by the previous rules as the circumstances shall seem to warrant.

Opinion of the Advocate General.—When an estate is held jointly by a person who is a Zamindár under the Sind Incumbered Estates' Act (XX of 1881) and by one who is not a Zamindár under the definition in the Act, the estate cannot legally be placed under management. Section 8 of the Act enacts that the order of management "shall extend to all immoveable property of or to which the debtor is on the date of its publication possessed or entitled in his own right, &c." Now when property is held by the persons jointly neither of them can be said to be possessed or entitled to any portion of that property in his own right, for they are each of them interested in every portion of it. Moreover the provisions of Chapters III, IV and V of the Act are absolutely inconsistent with any person other than the Zamindár being interested in the property put under management. The Zamindár is entitled to have the estate partitioned and after partition he would be entitled to the benefit of the Act in respect of the portion allotted to him (Accompaniment to G. R. 6869, 15th September 1883, R. D.).

Memo. of L. R.—Expended advances made before a liquidation scheme is sanctioned are part of the "costs of the management" and by clause (1), Section 11 of Act XX of 1881, they are made a first charge upon the sums received or recovered by the manager under Section 10, whether before or after a liquidation scheme is sanctioned. They may, therefore, be recovered before an order is made under Section 19 of the Act for relinquishing the estate, by the exercise of any of the powers with which the manager is invested by Section 10 previous to the sanction of a liquidation scheme. One of these powers is the grant of a lease for any term not exceeding two years of the whole or any part of the property under management. (G. R. No. 4166, 23rd May 1884, R. D.)

SPECIAL LOCAL LAWS.

* RULES UNDER SECTION 6 OF BOMBAY ACT VI OF 1862.

The officer or officers who are to be appointed under section 1 of the Act shall prepare the scheme mentioned in section 10 of the Act in the following manner :—

1. The officer or officers shall ascertain the principal sum originally lent by each of the creditors severally, and this sum, with 9 per cent. per annum simple interest from the time when the debt was incurred up to the date on which the declaration provided for in section I of the Act shall be made, and no further, shall in each case be the amount awarded, but subject to the following conditions :—

I. The amount of interest shall in no case exceed that of the principal.

II. The heir in the second generation of the person who originally incurred the debt to pay the principal only, and no interest.

III. The amount assigned in settlement of bonds held for services rendered by the creditor, to be determined by the Settling Officer after hearing evidence of the service in question.

IV. No interest to be allowed on debts where accounts to the satisfaction of the Settling Officer are not produced.

V. When the first principal is not satisfactorily proved, a deduction of 50 per cent. to be made from the amount of the debt as it stands at the first stage at which satisfactory proof of the existence of the debt is given.

VI. When no accounts are produced the claim shall be disallowed, unless the debtor acknowledges the receipt of a sum in cash, in which case that sum shall be treated as the principal of the debt, but no interest shall be allowed.

VII. Interest not to be allowed on account debts in the absence of any specification that it shall be allowed.

VIII. A claim supported by a decree of a Civil Court shall be subject to the same enquiry as any other claim; but in cases where it shall appear to the Settling Officer that the suit was contested, and that the amount awarded either on account of principal or interest by the decree does not exceed by more than 25 per cent. the amount which could have been awarded by the Settling Officer, if no such decree had been passed, the amount so awarded may be allowed, provided clause I of this rule be not infringed. But if interest subsequent to decree be claimed, it shall be calculated as if no decree had been passed. (G. R. No. 4113, 14th August 1878, R. D.)

2. All payments made by the Tálukdár to any creditor, or profits which have been enjoyed by such creditor, towards the liquidation of any debt or liability, before the settlement under the Act, shall be deducted from the principal sum of the said debt or liability, and interest on an amount equal to such deducted sum shall be disallowed from the time of such payment or enjoyment; and the Settling Officer shall be competent to decide on the amount of profits realized under such enjoyment, after examining such proofs as are presented to him.

3. Whenever a bond, a decree, or other claim has been transferred by sale, gift, or otherwise, from the original holder to any other person, the present holder shall be called upon to support his claim by the same proofs as if he were the original holder.

4. When profits or income arising from a Tálukdár's estate have been divided into shares, and it has been customary to consider each share separately liable for the debts of the proprietor of that share, a separate settlement shall be made of the debts of each sharer, instead of for the whole estate.

5. All admitted debts shall be satisfied proportionately in the following order :—

1st.—Money lent on the security of the estate.

2nd.—Decreed and bonded debts.

3rd.—Account debts. (G. R. No. 4113, 14th August 1878, R. D.)

6. If the principal of all the debts, with simple interest at 9 per cent., shall exceed the amount which may be estimated to be available for the settlement of the creditor's claims, as provided for in Section VII of the Act, during the period the estate shall be under management, then no interest shall be allowed on such debts as were not incurred by the present Tálukdár. If the amount be then still in excess of the aforesaid amount,

* N.B. "Rules under section 6 of Bombay VI. of 1862, need not be published in the G. G." (G. R. No. 4113, 14th August 1878, R. D.)

Section 34 of Bombay VI of 1888 provides that no new declaration shall be made under section 1 of Bombay Act VI of 1862 at any time after six months from the date on which Bombay VI of 1888 came into force. These rules therefore will probably soon become obsolete.

the rate of interest to be awarded on the remaining debts shall be decreased until their amount falls within the required limit.

7. In deciding what claims are admissible for settlement, and to what amount they shall be admitted, it shall be competent to the Settling Officer to appoint a Committee of experienced Natives, consisting of three persons, of whom one only shall be in the service of Government, to assist him, and it shall further be competent to the Settling Officer to reimburse the said Committee for their necessary expenses out of a percentage to be reserved on the rents and profits which the Settling Officer may receive to cover all charges arising directly from the special nature of his duties.

8. Provided, however, that if the creditors of any estate shall of themselves produce a schedule of the original sums lent by them severally, signed by the debtor, and both parties shall consent to the said schedule in presence of the Settling Officer, it shall be competent to the said officer to accept such schedule without further investigation, and to make it the basis of his settlement.

9. During the period the estate may be under management, the Tálukdár shall not, unless for special reasons to be reported to Government, be displaced from the internal management of his estate, but he shall in regard to every thing relating to the said management, be subject to the supervision of the Settling Officer, who shall be fully authorized to take any steps which he may think advisable to ascertain and secure the full value of the yearly revenues of the estate or estates.

10. In the case of villages or lands held by superior Chiefs in virtue of mortgages or loan transactions, it shall be competent to the Settling Officer, with a view to avoiding undesirable agitation, to effect any compromise with regard to the possession of the village or the land which may meet the consent of both parties.

11. Where Wanta lands which may be admitted by Government to be held as transferable property which the holder may charge or alienate, shall be found to have been at the passing of this Act in the bond fide possession and enjoyment of any mortgagee in satisfaction of any claims secured upon such lands, such unsatisfied claims shall be satisfied in full from the rents and profits of such lands on which they are secured, next after any claims of Government on the said lands, and to such amount as shall be proved and established under the foregoing rules.

12. If the creditors shall agree to receive a sum of money from the Government Treasury in immediate satisfaction of all their claims on any estate, it shall be competent for the officer appointed under section 1 of the Act, with the sanction of Government, to order such payment, provided that the creditors shall first severally sign receipts in full for all their claims on the estate, and that if any fraud is subsequently discovered to have been committed by any creditor in respect to any money received by him under this rule, such creditor shall be liable to forfeit all sums so received, and all claim to further compensation for any debt due to him which may have been notified to the said Officer for satisfaction under this Act. And all sums advanced by Government under this rule shall be recovered from the estate, in the same manner as other debts due or liabilities incurred to the Crown or Government may be recovered under this Act.

13. The notification of any claim under section 8 of the said Act shall be understood to denote the statement of such claim before the Settlement Officer, accompanied by all such proofs and original documents required under the preceding rules, as it is the intention of the claimant to produce in support of the same. (Extra rule sanctioned, May 6th, 1863).

14. Advances made with the object of facilitating the settlement of the claims against any tálukdári estate brought under the provisions of the said Act shall, when the Governor in Council shall so direct, be chargeable with interest at 5 per cent. per annum. (Extra rule, Government Resolution No. 2080, June 2nd, 1864).

15. When the condition of an estate shall be found sufficiently prosperous, it shall be competent to the Governor in Council to make such further award beyond what is permitted by the previous rules as the circumstances shall seem to warrant. (Extra Rule, Government Resolution No. 299, January 25th, 1865).

II.—RULES UNDER THE DECCAN
of 1879.

The following Rules regulating registration by Village Registrars under the provisions of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act, 1879, are published for general information:—

The following Rules are made by the Inspector-General of Registration with the previous sanction of the Governor of Bombay in Council under the provisions of section 61 of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act, 1879, for regulating the proceedings and providing for the custody of the records of Village Registrars, in supersession of all previous Rules on the same subject:—

(AMENDED BY ACTS XXIII OF 1881, XXII OF 1882 & XXIII OF 1886.)

(A)—UNDER SECTION 61.

Definitions.

I.—In these Rules:

(Notn. No.
6710, B.G.G.,
1882, p. 867.)

- (a) "Registrar" means the Registrar of a District appointed under the Indian Registration Act, 1877;
- (b) "Táluka Village Registrar" means a Village Registrar having concurrent jurisdiction over the whole táluka of which he is Táluka Village Registrar and who is also a Sub-Registrar under the Indian Registration Act, 1877;
- (c) "Special Village Registrar" means a Village Registrar of a circle consisting of one or more villages.

N.B.—Táluka Village Registrars may be also Special Village Registrars of Circles.

II.—RECORDS.

2. The Registers prescribed by section 58 of the Deccan Agriculturists Relief Act, 1879, shall be a book kept in the form of Appendix A.

* For meaning of the word "agriculturists" vide I. L. R., 4 B., 360, and I. L. R., 10 B., 367, and section 52 as amended by XXII of 1882.

Memo. by the L. R.—I am of opinion that a Village Registrar should regard as an agriculturist any person who claims to be such and should not make any inquiry into the correctness of his description of himself. The only matter the Village Registrar is required to satisfy himself about is the identity of the intending executants (section 57 of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act). If a person who is not really an agriculturist passes himself off as such before a Village Registrar, the consequences, if his deception is afterwards brought to light, will be upon his own head (G. R. No. 1820 of 15th March 1883, J. D.)

† Registration of instruments to which Government is a party.

Memo. by L. R.—An instrument to which Government or an officer of Government in his official capacity is a party should not be executed by a Village Registrar, but as regards Registration should follow the general law contained in the Indian Registration Act, 1877 (G. R. 3075, 7th May 1883, J. D.)

Documents to be registered by Village Registrars.

Memo. by L. R.—The practice of Village Registrars in construing section 56 as applying generally to all deeds of whatsoever description executed by agriculturists of the four districts is clearly wrong. Chapter VIII of the Deccan Agriculturists Relief Act does not, and was never intended to, apply to 'all deeds of whatsoever description, executed by agriculturists' but only to such instruments as are covered by the terms of section 56. An ordinary deed of adoption, i. e., a deed which records the fact of adoption and nothing more, is not, in my opinion, an instrument of the nature described in that section (G. R. No. 3144, 5th May 1885, J. D.)

3. A Village Registrar before bringing a new Register Book into use shall count the pages, and satisfy himself that the number thereof corresponds with that given in the certificate on the title page. If the number be found correct, he shall certify to that effect on the title page. If there be a discrepancy, he shall return the book for correction to the officer from whom it was received.

4. The volumes of Register Books in each office shall be numbered in a consecutive series, which shall not terminate with the year but be carried on perpetually. It shall not be necessary to commence a fresh volume at the commencement of a new year. When the amount of copying is great, two volumes of a Register Book may be employed simultaneously, instruments bearing an even serial number being copied into one and those bearing an odd serial number into the other.

(b) Index of Register.

5. An Index of all entries in the Registers shall be prepared in the form of Appendix B. The Index shall be prepared alphabetically in each Táluka Village Registry Office and Village Registry Office, and shall in the latter case be forwarded on or before the 5th of each calendar month by the Village Registrar to his Táluka Village Registrar.

6. It shall be the duty of the Táluka Village Registrar to arrange the Index of each of the Village Registry Offices of his táluka circle, including that of his own immediate circle, in due order for binding, taking especial care that no Index sheets of one Village Registry Office are mixed up with those of another, and seeing that all the sheets bearing one and the same letter are, for each Village Registry Office, brought together for the year according to the order of their preparation before being bound. A blank page should be inserted in each Index file, before being bound at each place where the Index for one Village Registry Office terminates and that of another commences. At the end of the year the Index for the táluka shall be bound into volumes.

7. The rules for the time being applicable to the Indexes of the Registers kept under the Indian Registration Act, 1877, shall be followed in the preparation of the Index under these rules so far as regards:

- (a) the method of indexing and transliterating names of villages;
- (b) the use of the loose sheets supplied for the preparation of the Index.

(c) Claim-Note and Day Books.

(Notn. No. 7538, B.G.G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 1077.)

8. A claim Note Book in the form of Appendix C and a Day-Book in that of Appendix D shall be kept by each Village Registrar.

If the registration of an instrument is completed on the day for the attestation of the instrument and before the claiming party under such instrument leaves the office, no claim-note from this book need be granted to such party.

It shall be the duty of the Village Registrar, if possible, to complete the registration of an instrument on the same day on which such instrument is prepared and attested by him.

If, however, when a party claiming under an instrument leaves the office, the registration of such instrument is not complete, the Village Registrar shall grant to such party a claim-note, with the amount of fee endorsed thereon, which shall afterwards be taken back and filed when the instrument to which it relates is delivered to the party who claims it or to such other person, if any, as he has nominated in writing in that behalf in the claim-note, and the signature of such party shall be taken in the Day-Book acknowledging receipt of such instrument.

(d) Cash Book.

9. Every Táluka Village Registrar and Village Cash Book. Registrar shall keep a Cash Book in the form given in Appendix E, and in this book shall be entered all fees paid for registration, &c.

(e) General Provisions.

10. The office of every Táluka Village Registrar shall be the local office of issue for books, forms, &c., to the other Village Registrars of the táluka in which such office is situate.

The office of each Táluka Village Registrar shall be a central office of record for the Village Registry Offices of the táluka, and the Register Books of the latter Village Registry Offices shall be forwarded to the said Táluka Village Registrar for the purpose of being recorded as they from time to time become complete.

Subject to the sanction of the Inspector General of Registration, a Cash or Day-Book may be destroyed after a lapse of six years from the date of the final entry appearing therein.

(Notn. No. 6438, B.G.G., 1890, Pt. I., p. 941, 11th Sept. 1890.)

11. All Village Registrars except Táluka Village Registrars shall hold their office in the chávdi of the Village, which is the head-quarters of his circle, office hours being from 11 A.M. to 5 P.M. On closing the office, the registration books, &c., shall be secured in a box or otherwise and given in charge of the Village Police for safe custody.

All Táluka Village Registrars and Village Registrars shall provide out of the amount received by them as remuneration whatever writing materials they may require for the work of their respective offices, excepting such blank forms and books as are supplied by Government. They shall be responsible that all instruments drawn up by them or under their superintendence are written intelligibly, legibly and distinctly, and that their records are kept neatly and in order.

12. No Village Registrar shall destroy any of the old papers of his office without having first obtained the sanction of the Registrar through the Táluka Village Registrar.

Destruction of old papers.

III.—PROCEDURE.

(f) Execution and Registration of Instruments under Sections 57 and 58.

(Notn. No. 7538, B.G.G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 1078.)

13. Village Registrars shall duly satisfy themselves of the identify of each executant, and shall receive the fee for registration before the instrument is written.

Preliminary measures to be taken before an instrument is written.

They shall also pay careful attention to the requirements of the Stamp Act and the rules issued under it.

14. Every Village Registrar shall be provided under the orders of the Registrar with specimen forms of all instruments to which agriculturists are ordinarily parties. In drafting an instrument care must be taken to follow the best obtainable form, and while fully expressing the intentions of the parties, to avoid repetition or prolixity.

Preparation of instruments.

Above all; the language employed should be simple and clear, and the description of immoveable property, if any has to be mentioned in the instrument, should be such as to enable the property to be unmistakeably identified. When the instrument relates to land to which a survey has been extended, the survey numbers shall be set forth.

The Village Registrar shall ordinarily draw up the instrument himself, and shall only employ any person to do so under his superintendence when he is prevented by an exceptional press of work, or other unavoidable cause, from drawing up the instrument himself.

When the instrument is not drawn up by the Village Registrar himself but under his superintendence, the person drawing up the instrument shall be chosen by the Village Registrar, and is in no case to be remunerated by the parties themselves but by the Village Registrar from his percentage fees.

15. When the instrument has been written, it shall be read out to all the parties by the Village Registrar and executed as provided in section 57 as amended by Act XXIII of 1881.

Endorsements to be made on the instruments after its execution.

(Notn. No. 7538, B.G.G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 1077.)

The Village Registrar shall then endorse upon the instrument a note in the following form :—

“ Fee received for—

	Rs.	a.	p.

Total ...Rs.	_____

by attaching his initials thereto and certify at the foot of the entry that these mistakes were made at the time of copying. (Notn. No. 7538, B. G. G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 1077.)

24. All entries in a Register Book shall be numbered in a consecutive series which shall commence and terminate with the year, a fresh series being commenced at the beginning of each year. The serial number shall appear in column 11, being distinguished in the case of instruments relating to immoveable property by the letter A and in that of instruments relating to moveable property by the letter B.

An ink line shall be drawn from left to right across the page of the Register Book to show where one entry terminates and where the next begins, such line being drawn immediately below that portion of the copy, whether in column 2 or column 3, which appears lowest down on the page. The entry relating to one instrument in one column shall in no case be made alongside of the entry relating to any other instrument in the other column.

(h) Copies and Searches.

25. All errors, interlineations, &c., appearing in the registered entry shall be shown in any copy granted under the fourth paragraph of section 58 in the same manner as they appear in the Register as required by Rule 22, and mistakes made in preparing the copy shall be corrected in the manner prescribed in Rule 23 for correcting mistakes when copying instruments in the Register. In certifying any copy of a registered entry a Village Registrar shall attach his full official designation thereto as well as his signature. (Notn. No. 7538, B. G. G., 1886, Pt. I., p. 1078.)

* On furnishing a copy† as aforesaid, the Village Registrar will fill in the first two columns of the Day-Book with a reference to the entry for a copy of which the application is made; he shall further enter in the fourth column the date on which the copy is granted and in the fifth column shall obtain the signature of the party or of the agent or representative to whom the copy is delivered."

*Memo. by Legal Remembrancer as to copies of wills:—
"will" in the sense in which that word is understood by Europeans, is an instrument to which there is only one party, the testator himself. The testator is the party entitled to the custody of the original instrument, and under para. 2 of section 58 of the Khan Agriculturists' Act, the will ought to be delivered by the Village Registrar before whom it is executed. If there is no "other party" to such an instrument, the direction in the section as to supplying a copy of the instrument to the party, must in such a case be held inoperative. But with a will amongst natives, is frequently given by them in possession of the person intended to be benefited by the executant's intention in any case that comes before the Registrar, there is, I think, no reason why the direction of section 58 of the Act should not be fully carried out. (C. L. J. 22nd April 1885, J. D.)

† A copy granted under para. 4 of section 58 of the Act is stamp duty under the Government of India Act of 3rd January 1880, published at p. 40, B. G. G. (see now Notn. 5833, B. G. G., 1889, pp. 104-5 in Part X. of this compilation.)

The amounts thus remitted monthly shall be sent so as to reach the Táluka Village Registrar not later than the 25th, or in the case of Táluka Village Registry Offices where there are no Treasuries, not later than the 20th of each month; or if these dates fall upon a Sunday or gazetted public holiday, not later than the day preceding such Sunday or holiday. In March remittances may be made so as to reach the Táluka Village Registrar not later than the 31st of that month.

A remittance by a Táluka Village Registrar shall be accompanied by his Cash Book in which, on the remittance being paid in, the receipt of the Treasury Officer for the amount shall be obtained.

Remittances by Village Registrars shall be accompanied by a Chullan, which Chullan shall be countersigned by Táluka Village Registrar as acknowledgment of receipt of money and re-transmitted by him to the Village Registrar in whose office it shall be filed.

(k) Correspondence.

Táluka Village Registrars to be the medium of communication between Village Registrars and the Registrars.

29. Táluka Village Registrars shall, as regards official correspondence, be the medium of communication between the Village Registrars and the Registrars.

Where there is no post-office, correspondence from and to the offices of Village Registrars shall be sent by means of the village Mahárs, who shall be remunerated at the rate of rupee one per mensem.

Correspondence how to be sent.

References from Village Registrars, regarding matters of procedure, when the point involved is of minor importance and the Táluka Village Registrar to whom the reference is addressed entertains no doubt as to what the answer should be, may be disposed of by the latter without further reference to the Registrar. The reply of the Táluka Village Registrar to a reference of the above nature shall, however, be in the shape of advice, not in that of an order. A Register of such references, showing also the manner in which they have been disposed of shall be kept by each Táluka Village Registrar, who shall be responsible for the exercise of due discretion in replying thereto. When in doubt any point, the Village Registrar shall refer the matter to the Registrar.

30. If an original instrument which has been executed and registered under the provisions of section 58 of Act XVII of 1879 being unclaimed by the party entitled to the custody of the same, is maintained in the custody of a Village Registrar, such Village Registrar shall forward the original instrument to the Táluka Village Registrar for safe custody.

G. O., 1886,
Pt. I., p.
1079.)

5. Applications for copies under the fourth paragraph of section 58 must be made in writing.

(No. 801, B.
G. O., 1887,

*In preparing any instrument under section 63A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Acts 1879 to 1886, Sub-Registrars shall be guided by the provisions of Nos. 13, 14, 15, 15B, 16, 17 and 18 of the rules made under section 61 of the said Acts by the Inspector General of Registration with the sanction of Government for regulating the proceedings of Village Registrars.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 29 and 75 of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act, 1879, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following Rules for the management by the Collector of immoveable property* of which he takes possession under section 22 or section 29 of that Act and generally for carrying out the provisions of the Act in respect of such property:—

(No. 892, B.
G. O., 1885,
Pt. I., p.

1. When a Court directs the Collector to take possession of any immoveable property of a judgment-debtor or insolvent, it shall transmit with its order copies of all documents, orders or proceedings which it may think necessary to make the Collector aware of essential facts concerning the position of the judgment-debtor or insolvent, and the nature and extent of the property to be managed by him.

It shall also at any time furnish the Collector with copies of any documents, orders, or proceedings, other than those transmitted which the Collector for the purpose aforesaid desires to see.

2. The aforesaid copies shall be prepared and sent to the Collector free of all cost to the parties, being made by the Court's establishment.

3. On receipt of the Court's order, the Collector may either himself proceed to execute it, or may refer it, for disposal, subject to his supervision and control, to any of his subordinates not lower in rank than a Mahalkari.

4. The Collector or other officer to whom he so refers the Court's order, shall appoint a day for hearing any representations which the parties may desire to make, and shall cause a written notice to be served on each of them on the day so fixed.

On the appointed day, or as soon thereafter as may be, the Collector or other officer aforesaid shall, after such inquiry as he deems fit, determine whether any portion of the property to which the Court's order relates is required for the support of the judgment-debtor or of the insolvent, and the support of the members of his family dependent upon him. The decision of any officer other than the Collector under this rule shall be subject to confirmation by the Collector.

5. Possession of the property or of so much of it as is not, in the opinion of the Collector, required for the support of the persons aforesaid, shall then be taken by the Collector or by the officer aforesaid on behalf of the Collector, and the fact of possession having been so taken shall be published by written notice to the parties, and by proclamation on or near the property in such manner as the Collector or other officer aforesaid deems suitable.

*Standing crops were held to be immoveable property within the meaning of section 22 of XVII of 1879, I. L. R., 6 B., p. 592. But that section as amended by section 7 of Act XXIII of 1886 no longer exempts standing crops from attachment and sale. They appear, however, still to be immoveable property of which the Collector may under section 22 take charge.

6. If the fact of the judgment-debtor or insolvent being entitled to possession be disputed, or if any objection be raised to the Collector's taking possession of the property or of any portion of it, the Collector shall refer the parties concerned to the Court, and pending such reference shall stay proceedings in respect of so much of the property as is in dispute.

7. If after possession of the property has been taken under Rule 6, any order in writing is made by the Collector, under section 73A of the Act, directing that any other immoveable property not so taken shall be deemed to be reserved for the support of the judgment-debtor or insolvent, and the members of his family dependent on him, such order shall be published in the same manner as the fact of possession having been taken.

8. The Collector, or other officer aforesaid, may from time to time require by written notice the attendance of the parties in order to ascertain their wishes, or to obtain information which he may consider necessary to enable him to provide satisfactorily for the execution of the Court's order, and if any party fail to attend in pursuance of such notice, the Collector or other officer aforesaid may decide the matter in his absence, and he shall not be entitled to be heard afterwards with respect thereto.

9. If the property of which possession has been taken by or on behalf of the Collector is in the occupation of a tenant paying rent for a share of the produce to the judgment-debtor or insolvent, the Collector or other officer aforesaid shall issue a written notice to such tenant, requiring him to pay the rent or share to him for so long as his tenure subsists.

If there be no tenant in possession, or on the expiration of the tenure if the land is in the occupation of a tenant, the Collector or other officer aforesaid may let, for a term not exceeding the seven years to which his management extends, with or without payment of a premium, the whole or any part of the said property to the highest bidder; or may let on farm or manage by himself or another, the whole or any part of such property, or may adopt partly one of such modes and partly another or others of such modes as he may deem most convenient and profitable.

The person to whom the Collector or other officer aforesaid lets the property, or through whom he manages it, may be the judgment-debtor or insolvent, or any person who holds a decree against the judgment-debtor or insolvent, or a third party as may appear most convenient and beneficial to the parties.

10. The Collector shall from time to time render to the Court an account of all monies which come to his hands or to the hands of the officer aforesaid, and of all charges incurred in respect of the property in his management; and shall hold the balance at the disposal of the Court. Such charges shall include all debts and liabilities from time to time due to the Government in respect of the property, or any part thereof, and the rent, if any, from time to time due to a superior holder in respect of such property or part.

11. Where the management is at an end and all monies which have come into the Collector's hands have been disposed of, he shall retransmit the papers received by him under Rule I, together with the proceedings connected with the management of the property, to the Court by post or in such manner as may be most convenient.

12. Every notice issued by the Collector or other officer aforesaid under these rules may be served in the manner prescribed by section 191 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, or if the person to be served is a party to the proceedings in the Court and has a pleader, by forwarding a copy thereof to the Court to be served upon the pleader.

Departmental Rules.

Inspection.

1. The District Inspectors of Village Registry Offices shall be responsible that the work in the offices in their respective charges is carried out in strict accordance with the rules laid down, and also that the provisions of the Stamp Act and rules are duly complied with. The Inspection Reports of the Village Registry Offices by these officers shall be sent to the Registrars, who shall forward the same to the Inspector-General for perusal, by whom they shall be returned to the Registrar with any observations that he may think necessary. A copy of such report in Vernacular shall be given by the Inspector to the Village Registrar in charge of office concerned, for reference when the final orders are received by him. It will also be the duty of these Inspectors to make special reports to the Registrar of any irregularities or neglect of duty on the part of Táluka or Village Registrars which may come under their notice, as also regarding any complaints which they may from time to time receive from the public.

2. The District Inspectors shall also submit to the Registrar a monthly diary showing the number of offices visited and inspected by them and also anything special which may come under their notice in connection with Village Registration. The diary shall be an accompaniment to their Travelling Allowance Bill which will be passed by the Registrar.

Occasional Inspection for other officers.

3. Village Registry offices shall also be from time to time inspected by each of the following officers, viz. :—

1. The Collector of the District,
2. The Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the Táluka.
3. The Inspectors of Registration and Stamps,
4. The Mámálatdár or Mahálkari of the táluka or mahál,

7. The Subordinate Judges, who shall bring to the special notice of the Inspector-General or Registrar any irregularities, &c., which they may observe.

4. The Inspector of Registration and Stamps shall submit a report of the results of his examination of Village Registry Offices, sending it to the Inspector-General of Registration through the Registrar. A vernacular copy of the same shall be handed over to the Village Registrar for record and reference when final orders on it are received. No Inspector shall issue any order on the subject of his inspection direct to any Village Registrar. Any of the officers named in the last preceding Rule other than the Collector who inspects a Village Registry Office, shall communicate his observations to the Registrar of the District.

On receipt of any such report or observations as aforesaid, the Registrar shall himself dispose of such matters as do not appear to him to require further reference. In more important matters he shall refer to the Inspector-General of Registration before passing orders.

5. Every Officer on completing the examination of a Village Registry Office shall sign the Cash Book, Day Book, &c., and authenticate the Register Book in current use by making a record therein to the following effect:—

(Signed) A. B.

6. Inspection Reports on Village Registry Offices shall be as brief as the circumstances of the case will admit of. They shall state generally whether the fees are properly levied, whether instruments are properly stamped and carefully drawn up, whether the work of registration is done with accuracy (especially with reference to the endorsements of attestation) and despatch, whether the writing in the Register is nearly done, and whether the fee collections have been properly remitted.

Annual Reports.

7. The Registrar of each District in which the Deccan Agriculturists Relief Act, 1879, is in force, shall, shortly after the close of the official year on the 31st March, submit to the Inspector-General an Annual Report containing such general remarks as he may deem necessary on the work performed during that year by the Village Registrars of his District, with any suggestions which he may have to offer for facilitating, extending or improving the system of Village Registration. He shall also forward with such report such forms of annual returns as may be called for by the Inspector-General. (Approved by G. R. No. 6709, 26th October 1882, J. D.)

Rulings of High Court on the Act.

Section 13.—A contract on which a decree has been passed is merged in the decree, and no revision of either can thereafter be made under section 13. (I. L. R. 7 B. p. 330.)

Section 15 B.—A mortgagor cannot after expiry, without payment of time fixed by decree for redemption, be afterwards allowed to pay the amount of the decree by instalments. (I. L. R. 7 B. p. 532.)

Section 15B allows the Court to order payment of a decree by instalments either in the decree or in the Court of execution. But it does not authorise a variation of any order once so made, nor does section 20 authorise a series of instalment-orders, each one varying from the preceding. (I. L. R. 12 B. 326.)

III.—THE KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT,
BOMBAY I OF 1880.

RULES UNDER SECTION 40.

In exercise of the power conferred on him in this behalf under section 40 of the Khoti Settlement Act, 1880 (Bombay I of 1880), the Governor in Council is pleased to frame the following Rules under clauses (a), (b), (c) and (f) of that section (namely) :—

Crop Appraisement Rules under clause (a).

I. Whenever the rent payable to the khot consists of a share of the produce of the tenant's land, the amount of produce claimable by the khot shall be ascertained by an estimate of the probable yield of the crop of each field to be made by the khot on an inspection of the crop a reasonable time before the same is ready for reaping in the presence of the tenant, or a member of his family appointed by him in writing for that purpose, or his legally appointed agent, and of two respectable witnesses, one of whom is able to read and write, provided that unless the tenant otherwise desires the khot shall inspect and appraise the crops specified below on or before the dates entered below :—

Halwa Nágli—On or before the 10th September. (Notn. No. 1659, B. G. G. 1882, Pt. I., pp. 262 and 275.)

Other Halwa crops—On or before the 1st October 1886, p. 808.)

Late crops, that is, harik, kulith, udid, tág, and túr—On or before the 15th November.

Other late crops—On or before the 1st November.

Rabi, e. g., gram, &c.—On or before the 1st March.

Summer crops, e. g., páwta, &c.—On or before the 20th March.

Hot-weather crops, e. g., rice (wáigan), náchni (gimvas), jack-fruit, &c.—On or before the 20th May :

Provided further that in the case of bágáyat crops the mámlatdár or mahálkari shall decide what constitutes a reasonable time within the meaning of this rule.

II. The days fixed by the khot for inspection and appraisement of crops shall be notified by him in writing to all and every one of his tenants in the village, and the Police Patel shall be directed by the Collector to affix notices to the temples and by beat of drum and otherwise to make these dates known at least seven days previously and if for any sufficient cause (as that the crop is not ripe, &c.) any crop is not inspected or appraised on the days so fixed, the inspection and appraisement shall not, except with the consent of the tenant, take place until after a similar second notification has been made in the village. But the date fixed by the second notification must be within the limits specified in the preceding rule.

III. If notwithstanding that the days fixed for the inspection and appraisement have been notified as aforesaid, the tenant, or a member of his family appointed by him in writing for that purpose, or his legally appointed agent, is not present in his field on the days so fixed, the khot shall nevertheless proceed to inspect and appraise such tenant's crops and shall inform such tenant in writing of the appraisement so made within 24 hours of the same by sending him a copy of the entries relating to his fields by the khot in the abhavani patrak mentioned in the rule immediately following.

(Notn. No. 6720, B. B. G., 1886, p. 808.)

IV. It shall be the duty of the khot to keep a book to be called the abhavani patrak in such form as the Collector may, from time to time, prescribe, in which he shall, at the time of every inspection and appraisement that he shall make, enter on the spot the particulars of such inspection and appraisement, or cause the same to be entered. Each entry in the said book shall bear the date on which it is made, and shall be signed by the khot making the inspection and appraisement, by both witnesses, and also, if the tenant, or a member of his family appointed by him in writing for that purpose, or his legally appointed agent be present and admit the correctness of the entry, by the tenant, such member of his family, or such agent, provided always that such tenant, member or agent is able to write his name and does not use a mark.

Ditto.

V. The khot shall be bound, if the tenant, or a member of his family appointed by him in writing for that purpose, or his legally appointed agent is present, to give him then and there a signed copy of the entries relating to his fields made in the abhavani patrak. If the tenant admits the correctness of the entries and has brought his receipt-book, the entries shall be copied on the debit side of the receipt-book. In all other cases the copy shall be on a separate slip.

Ditto.

VI. An entry duly made in the abhavani patrak in accordance with the foregoing provisions, and signed with his name by the tenant or a member of his family appointed by him in writing for that purpose, or his legally appointed agent, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein recorded, and the appraisement shall be deemed to be final; and an entry so made when the tenant, or a member of his family appointed by him in writing for that purpose, or his legally appointed agent, fails to be present, shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is proved in the manner prescribed in the next following rule, and provided the tenant has been informed of the appraisement in the manner prescribed in the last part of Rule III.

Ditto.

VII. A tenant who has not signed the abhavani patrak, or who has signed it with a mark only, may, if dissatisfied with the appraisement, petition the Mámlatdár or Mahálkari of the Táluka or Mahál in which the village is situate, within six days of the khot making the appraisement, and such officer shall forthwith nominate three respectable inhabitants of the village or its neighbourhood to inspect and appraise the crop within seven days. The appraisement made by such persons, or a majority of them, shall be final and shall be entered by the khot at the time it is made in the abhavani patrak, and the entry shall be signed by the said three persons or the majority of them.

VIII. If the khot fails to keep an abhayani patrak or to inspect or appraise the crop at the time and in the manner laid down in Rule I or to make an entry or to cause the same to be made therein in the manner hereinbefore provided, or to give information to the tenant in the manner provided in Rule III, he shall be entitled to recover from the tenant such rent only as may be due according to the yield of the crop admitted by the tenant.

IX. It shall not be lawful for a tenant to reap his crop until after the same has been inspected and appraised, or until the expiry of the dates mentioned in Rule I, within which the inspections and appraisements of crops by the khot should be completed. If the tenant reaps his crop in contravention of the above rule, every presumption on doubtful points shall be made in the khot's favour.

X. If the tenant without making a petition under Rule VII reaps his crop after it has been inspected and appraised by the Khot in the presence of such tenant, or a member of his family appointed by him in writing for that purpose, or his legally appointed agent, or after the Khot has given such tenant information in the manner provided in Rule III, he shall be deemed to have admitted the correctness of the Khot's estimate.

Rules under Clause (b).

I. An entry in the Paháni Kharda of Dhára, if not rebutted, shall be conclusive proof of dhára. If the Paháni Kharda only shows that a certain area was held as dhára, but gives no thikáns, the land to be entered as dhára shall be chosen at the discretion of the Settlement Officer from the survey numbers in the rayat's possession; always provided that the area and the proportion of rice to varkas land which may be given in the Paháni Kharda be not exceeded, and that if no information is available as to the said proportion, it shall be assumed to be 1 acre of rice to 4 acres of varkas.

II. Where there is no Paháni Kharda but a Goshwára entry only, this entry, if not rebutted, shall be conclusive proof that the Khátedár holds some dhára. To ascertain the area of his dhára, it will be necessary to discover at what rates the land assessment of the village was fixed. Evidence of this may be obtained from the Paháni Khardas of surrounding villages or otherwise. The Settlement Officer shall then proceed as in the last clause of Rule I. If the land assessment rates cannot be ascertained to the satisfaction of the Settlement Officer, the highest rate known to have existed at the date of the Goshwára must be taken as a basis and the same procedure followed.

III. The evidence of entry in Paháni Kharda or Goshwára may be rebutted by the Khot producing written proof from his accounts that he has taken "Thal" or "Makta" payments for three consecutive years within the twelve years preceding the introduction of the survey. In "Thal" he must show for varkas land payments in successive years from the same land of the three crops of náchni, wari, and harik.

IV. If there is no Paháni Kharda or Goshwára, the possession of dhára may be proved by the production of receipt-books showing dhára payments for a sufficient number of years to satisfy the Settlement Officer. If no thikáns are given in the receipt-books, he shall proceed as in the last clause of Rule I.

V. If a rayat is proved to hold some dhára, and if it is not proved that any of the land in his possession has paid thal, the whole of the land in his possession shall be entered as dhára.

Rules under Clause (e).

I. When a Khot sharer sells any of his private Khoti land (Khoti Khásgi), the buyer thereof shall be entered in the survey papers in respect of that land as an occupancy tenant paying customary rates with the right to alienate his land.

II. A Khelta Dhárekari shall be bound every year, on or before the 30th April, to give notice to the Khot, stating what fields in the Khoti-nisbat Kháta he intends during the ensuing season to cultivate at dhára rates. If he fails to do so, he will be presumed to have waived his right for that season and will have to pay "Thal" for any Khoti land that he does cultivate.

III. The rent payable to the managing Khot by Khot sharers for their private Khoti land shall be the customary rates of the village for occupancy tenants, unless it is proved that before 1865 Khot sharers paid a Makta or a lower rate of "Thal," in which case the ancient practice shall be followed.

IV. Land about which there is, or has been, a boundary dispute between two villages shall be entered in the name of the occupant as follows:—

(a). If both villages are Niwal Dhára, as dhára land.

(b). If both villages are Niwal Khoti, as occupancy tenant's land paying ardhel and tirdhel.

(c). In any other case, as occupancy tenant's land paying survey assessment and local fund cess only.

V. A Khelta Dhárekari has no right to cut trees.

VI. The Khot shall keep under section 15 the following three accounts:—

1. The Appraisal Register.
2. The Ledger.
3. The Rayat's Receipt-books.

They shall be kept in the forms hereunto annexed (Appendix I).

(Notn. No. 6972, B. G. G., 1887, P. 853.)

The Appraisement Register shall be filled up at the time of the crop appraisement in the manner laid down in Rule IV of the Appraisement Rules under clause (a) of section XL.

The Ledger is to be kept in the ordinary form of debit and credit account, showing the amount due from and paid by each rayat in a separate kháta for each kháta of the Botkhat. The items on the debit side of the rayat's account relating to grain payments are to be written up within 15 days from the date within which the appraisement of the crops to which the items severally relate must be made under the Appraisement Rules.

The rayat's receipt-book is to be written up on the debit side, in cases of grain payments, within one month from the several dates within which the appraisement of the crops must severally be made; in cases of dhára or quasi-dhára, payments before the 1st September.

Whenever a payment is made by a rayat, a receipt is then and there to be entered by the Khot on the credit side of the rayat's receipt-book and the book returned to its owner.

If the rayats do not bring their books to be written up on the debit side within the proper time, the Khot shall immediately on the expiry of the period make a report to the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari to that effect, who will then issue the necessary instructions to the rayats.

If a rayat brings grain or cash in payment of his revenue to the Khot without bringing his receipt-book also, the Khot shall accept the payment, but note the omission in the entry of payment in the rayat's kháta and give a separate dated receipt.

All the account books must be brought or sent by the Khot to the Kacheri of the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari to be sealed on or before the 1st July of the year preceding that for which they are to be used. This includes fresh rayats' receipt-books which must be handed over to the Khot for this purpose by the rayat on or before the 1st June of the year preceding that in which they are to be first used.

Every page of every account-book shall be sealed. The books for the first two accounts shall be provided by the Khot. Each rayat shall provide his own receipt-book. Besides the three accounts above mentioned the Khot shall take a copy of the Botkhat at his own expense, and shall keep it properly corrected, as the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari shall notify.

The copy of the Botkhat so made shall, if the village be attached, be delivered up by the Khot to the Mámíatdár for the use of the Japtidár, and on the attachment ceasing shall be returned to the Khot. The Khot shall also take a copy of "Sud" and "Phalni" books. If he does not do so, he will be responsible for any mistakes that might have been prevented by the use of those books, but shall not be subject to any other penalty.

The managing Khot shall be bound to provide a convenient place within the boundaries of the village itself to which the rayats may bring their payments whether in cash or kind. He shall not be entitled, on any pretence whatever, to require a tenant to pay his rent in any other place except the village in the survey papers of which the tenant's name is entered.

VII. The Botkhat shall be in the form hereto annexed (Appendix No. I, Form No. 1). The customary rates of the village shall be recorded in full at the bottom of the Botkhat.

Any corrections ordered to be made in the Botkhat shall be signed by the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari.

If a proper wantap or division has been made, each Khot sharer shall be denoted by number and each rayat's kháta containing Khoti land shall have the said Khoti land entered with the number denoting the khot sharer in whose share the land is affixed to the survey number, and all the survey numbers in the share of one particular Khot sharer shall be entered consecutively.

In all cases in which the Settlement Officer has decided that Khoti land is alienable by a tenant, the fact shall be entered in column 5 of the Botkhat by the Mámíatdár or Mahálkari.

Rules under Clause (f).

I. No forfeiture under section X shall be certified in the case of an occupancy tenant unless he has failed to pay rent for two consecutive years, nor if the tenant is a minor, shall any forfeiture be certified until two years after he has attained his majority and has failed to pay rent.

II. If the Khot is in actual possession when the minor attains his majority and refuses to vacate, the Collector shall on the minor's application put him in possession.

III. If from any cause whatever, except the necessity of keeping fallows, an occupancy tenant fails to cultivate his land, the Khot may cultivate it for him during that season, just as if it were Khot-nisbat land, but if he does so cultivate, he shall be entitled to no assistance under section XIV.

IV. The form of written application under section 12 shall be as follows:—

TO THE COLLECTOR OF RATNA'GIRI.

I, (or we), the undersigned Khot (or Kho sharers) of the village of (—) do hereby certify that I (or we) have conferred on A.B. the rights and privileges of a dhárekari, (or quasi-dhárekari, &c., as the case may and I (or we) do request that an entry to this effect may be made in the Botkhat of the said village.

(Signed)———

(Date)———

All the known Khot sharers or their duly empowered attorneys shall sign—otherwise the application will be rejected.

V. Under section 27, if there is no agreement as to the order of rotation, the Mámíatdár or Maháikari shall, on or before the 1st June in each year, issue a notice calling on the co-sharers to nominate one of their number on or before the 30th of June, to be Managing Khot for the following revenue year.

VI. The dates for the payments of instalments of the Khot's jama shall be as at present, viz., 15th December, 1st February, 15th March, 1st May.

The dates for payment of rents by dhárekaris and quasi-dhárekaris shall be the same as for Khots; but a dupetkari shall pay his grain rents on the same dates as occupancy tenants do.

Occupancy tenants shall pay their grain rents as follows:—

On the 15th December—

Half the total "Thal" payment due in Halwa or early rice and Mahán or late rice and the total Thal payment due in Halwa Varkas.

On the 1st February—

The other half of the total Thal payment due in Halwa rice and Mahán rice and half the total Thal payment due in Mahán Varkas.

On the 15th March—

The other half of total "Thal" payment due in Mahán Varkas.

On the 1st June—

The total Thal payment due on account of all other crops except Bágáyat, the Thal payment for which must be paid within what the Mámíatdár or Maháikari in each disputed case may consider a reasonable time.

If the occupancy tenant pays a Makta, he shall pay it in three equal instalments on the 15th December, 1st February, and 15th March.

VII. The certificate to be given to the Managing Khot under section 29 is to be in the form hereto annexed (Appendix I, Form 4).

ADDITIONAL ORDERS, RULINGS AND OPINIONS.

Khots under the Act are Superior holders.

The position of a Khot in the villages to which the Bombay Khoti Act I of 1880, has been extended is that of a superior holder, and in the event of the attachment of his village, his rights in respect of khoti profits, on his resuming the management of the village would be regulated by section 102 of the Revenue Code, Bombay Act V of 1879. But this rule does not hold good where the village attached is one in the Kolába District to which the Khoti Settlement Act has not been extended, unless the Khots therein are Sanadi or Vatandar Khots (I. L. R., 8 Bom., 525).

Section 21, Appeals.—The decisions of the Khoti Settlement Officer under section 21, of Bombay I of 1880 are not appealable to any higher executive authority. (G. R. No. 6292, dated 16th September 1887, R. D.)

Section 36.—Recovery of Local Fund Cess before introduction of Survey Settlement.

Memo. by L. R.:—A question has arisen as to whether the khots in the Rájápur Táluka of the Ratnágiri District, where the survey settlement has not yet been introduced, can levy Local Fund Cess from their tenants.

“According to paragraph 1 of section 23 of the Khoti Settlement Act, section 36 of that Act does not apply to a khoti village until such a time as a survey settlement or a revised survey settlement is first introduced therein after the passing of the Act.

“2. Under paragraph 2 of section 23 the rights and responsibilities of all persons in a khoti village in respect of the payment of Local Fund Cess until such time, are to continue to be such as they would be if section 36 had not been enacted.

"3. The result is that in the villages in which a survey settlement has not yet been introduced the law as to the levy of Local Fund Cess is at present precisely the same as it was when Government Resolution No. 2102 of 23rd April 1878, was passed. My locum tenens, Dr. Pollen, described the state of that law and the difficulties which it presents in khoti villages in his No. 336 of 9th April 1878. I concur generally in what he wrote; but I think that the difficulty in respect of recoveries by khots from inferior tenants under section 8 of Bombay Act III of 1869 is one which is not limited to them, but applies also to inámdárs and all superior land-holders whose estates have not been subjected to a survey assessment.

"4. There is no doubt that lands held by khots are liable under section 6 of the last-mentioned Act to the Local Fund Cess. There is little doubt either that they, as well as inámdárs, are entitled under the latter part of section 8 of the Act to recover this cess from their tenants. But they, as well as inámdárs, can only recover from their tenants what they themselves actually pay to Government and each individual tenant is only liable for the proportion which the assessment or rental of his land bears to the total assessment or rental of the entire village. Neither a khot nor an inámdár is at liberty to make use of the provisions of the Act as a means of profit to himself by levying from his tenants in the name of Local Fund Cess a larger amount than he himself has to pay to Government on that account. This was so held by the Bombay High Court in Special Appeal No. 303 of 1873 (High Court's Printed Judgments for 1874, page 23). The Court said: 'The plaintiff's claim to recover as Local Cess one anna on every rupee of his own rent is clearly inadmissible. He has not given evidence * * * * to prove what would be the proper proportional amount of the Government assessment on the field in dispute, as deduced from the total assessment of the village; and therefore (assuming that the cess is recoverable from the defendant) there are no materials for determining the amount.'

"5. Where every holding in a village has been surveyed and assessed, there is no difficulty in determining what is the amount of each individual tenant's liability; but where this is not the case, the burden is on the superior holder to establish that the amount which he seeks to recover from any inferior holder is the proportion of the aggregate amount of cess payable for the village fairly due by that inferior holder." (G. R. No. 4180, dated 7th July 1887, R. D.)

IV.—RULES APPLICABLE TO THE PROVINCE OF SIND UNDER THE INDIAN SALT ACT XII OF 1882.*

The following rules made by the Governor General in Council in exercise of the power conferred by the 'Inland Customs Act, 1875,' extended to the province of Sind by Notification No. 262, dated the 28th December 1887, are published under section 30 of the said Act:—

(Notn. 4112, B. G. G., 1878, pp. 498 to 501, re-publishing G. of I. Notn. 244 of 7th August 1878.)

1. In the following Rules the word 'Commissioner' means the Commissioner in Sind, and the word 'Collector' in any provision of these rules, includes (a), any revenue officer in independent charge of a district; and (b), any officer not lower in rank than a Mukhtyárkar duly authorized by the Governor of Bombay in Council to discharge the functions of a Collector under such provision.

2. 'Manufacture of salt' in these rules does not include the excavation or removal of natural saline deposits or efflorescence.†

CHAPTER I.

Of the manufacture of salt.

3. No salt shall be manufactured in any part of Sind except in the Karáchi, Hyderabad, Shikárpur, and Upper Sind Frontier districts.

4. The manufacture of salt is authorized, subject to the conditions next hereinafter prescribed, in the Karáchi, Hyderabad, Shikárpur, and Upper Frontier districts.

5. On all salt manufactured in any of the said districts, there shall be levied a duty at the rate of Rs. 2-8-0 per Indian maund.

6. Any person wishing to manufacture salt in the said districts may apply to the Collector for a license.

In case of refusal, an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner, whose orders shall be final.

The license shall be in the form given in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be signed and issued by the Collector.

* These rules were made under VIII of 1875. That Act is repealed but section 2 of XII of 1882 keeps the rules alive. Act XX of 1884 gives the Governor of Bombay in Council power by notification to fix the date for the repeal of the words in section 1 of XII of 1882 making the last mentioned Act applicable to Sind.

By Notifications 6673, B. G. G., 1890, Pt. I, p. 954, the Governor of Bombay in Council has exercised the power conferred by Act XX of 1884, and directed that the words "to the Province of Sind" and the word "Province" in paragraphs 3 and 4, respectively of section 1 of the Indian Salt Act, 1882, shall be repealed from the 1st day of October 1890.

By Notifications 6673A ibid the Governor in Council has under section 1, sub-section (2), of the Bombay Salt Act, 1890, directed that that Act shall come into force on the 2nd day of October 1890.

By Notification 6673B ibid the Governor in Council has, under section 1 of Act V of 1868, delegated the powers conferred upon him as the Local Government of the Province of Sind by sections 6; 10, clause 1; 17, clause 2; 24, clauses 1 and 2 (except the power to suppress a salt-work), and 25 of the Bombay Salt Act to the Commissioner in Sind.

† Salt earth is not a "saline deposit or efflorescence." (G. R. 3674 of 6th June 1882).

‡ The Sudder Court in Sind has ruled (1) that the mere dissolving of salt earth in water is not a manufacture of salt, for it is not a separation of salt from earth or other substance so as to procure alimentary salt—S. S. O. G. Rg. 30th September 1881; (2) that the removal of Kalar or salt earth is not a manufacture of salt—S. S. O. G. Rg. 25th Nov. 1881.

7. The manufacture of salt, and the storage and sale of the salt manufactured shall be carried on in conformity with the conditions of the license, and under the supervision of the Revenue and Salt Establishment.

8. No salt shall be removed from the place of manufacture for the purpose of storage, or after storage from the place of storage for the purpose of re-storage, to any other place, except under the written authority of the officer in charge of the works; and all salt removed under such authority shall be weighed previous to removal in the presence of such officer, or other officer whom he may depute.

9. No salt shall be removed for consumption from the place of manufacture or of storage unless covered by a permit certifying that duty at the prescribed rate has been paid on it.

10. Previous to removal under Rule 9, the salt shall be weighed in the presence of the officer in charge of the works, who shall enter on the permit the weight of the salt removed and the date of removal, and shall certify that he has personally weighed the salt, and that no greater quantity has been removed than that mentioned in the permit.

11. Licenses may be cancelled by the Collector giving one month's notice, or no notice, at the application of the licensee.

In the case of cancelment of license for infringement of its conditions, no notice shall be necessary.

12. Within the limits of the districts mentioned in Rule 4, no person shall have in his possession, or shall sell any salt without a license from the Collector, salt exceeding twenty sers in weight.

13. Nothing contained in this Chapter shall apply to the manufacture of salt by or on behalf of the Government.

CHAPTER II.

14. The area defined for the purposes of section 10, clause (j) of the Inland Customs Act, 1875, round such natural salt deposit in Sind, shall extend to a distance of ten miles from the boundary of such deposit on all sides. Such an area is hereinafter termed a "protected area."

Period of currency of rawánna.      such period, not being less than five days or more than six weeks, as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe.

But when a rawánna is presented at the deposit and the salt is ready for delivery and is tendered to the holder more than seven days previous to the expiry of such period, such rawánna shall cease to be valid on the expiry of seven days from the date on which the salt has been tendered, unless the officer in charge of the deposit by an order endorsed upon the rawánna allows it to run on for its full period or any portion thereof.

The period of currency shall count from the day on which the rawánna is delivered to the applicant, that day being included and being noted on the face of the rawánna.

19. The Commissioner may from time to time make rules to limit the number of rawánnas with reference to the quantity of salt to be delivered to any person at one time, and may fix the minimum quantity of salt to be covered by a single rawánna.

Limitation of number of rawánnas.      make rules to limit the number of rawánnas with reference to the quantity of salt to be delivered to any person at one time, and may fix the minimum quantity of salt to be covered by a single rawánna.

20. On a rawánna being presented at the deposit and salt being issued thereunder, the officer in charge before allowing such salt to be removed shall ascertain that such rawánna is still in force and covers the amount of salt being issued; and shall then endorse such rawánna and return it to the purchaser.

21. When on the application of a purchaser salt is got ready for delivery and is tendered to him, he shall remove it that same day to a distance of at least one mile from the deposit, unless the officer in charge of the deposit, by an order endorsed on the rawánna, permits him to keep it within a shorter distance.

Removal of salt delivered to purchaser.      When on the application of a purchaser salt is got ready for delivery and is tendered to him, he shall remove it that same day to a distance of at least one mile from the deposit, unless the officer in charge of the deposit, by an order endorsed on the rawánna, permits him to keep it within a shorter distance.

22. If a purchaser desires to divide the despatch of salt covered by the rawánna, he shall apply to the Collector who issued the rawánna and the Collector shall issue as many partition or atráfi rawánnas as may be required, and cancel and resume the original rawánna.

23. If anything occurs to prevent the purchaser taking delivery of the salt, rawánna, in time to remove it from the protected area before the expiry of his rawánna, the Collector may in his discretion, but subject to such restrictions as the Commissioner may from time to time impose, renew such rawánna at any time not more than six months from the date of original issue. If application for renewal is made later than one week before the expiration of the original rawánna, it shall be complied with only on the applicant paying a fee of one-twentieth of the price originally paid.

The currency of the fresh rawánna shall not exceed the limits prescribed under Rule 18.

25. Applications for renewal, except as provided in Rules 23 and 24, shall be forwarded for the orders of the Commissioner, who may, to protect traders from unmerited loss, authorise such further renewals as he may deem fit.

26. The deposit of salt for retail sale to the people inhabiting a protected area may, subject to any conditions prescribed by the Commissioner, be permitted at any place within the limits of such area approved of by the Collector. The rawánna designed to cover such deposit shall be endorsed by the Collector for that purpose, and shall remain in force for a period not exceeding four months.

27. Every person retailing salt under such a rawánna shall keep a register of sales daily written up, and shall give to each purchaser a certificate stating the date of sale, the name of such purchaser, and the quantity purchased.

28. A certificate given under Rule 27 shall cover the salt sold under it while in the possession of the purchaser as if it were a rawánna.

29. When a rawánna is lost or destroyed, the person to whom it was granted may make application to the Collector for a duplicate, and with his application shall deposit with the Collector an amount equivalent to that paid for the original rawánna, plus five per cent. on the same as a fee. The Collector may thereupon grant a duplicate rawánna.

On the expiry of the currency of the original rawánna, if it has not been utilised, the amount paid for such rawánna shall be refunded. The extra five per cent. shall be retained and credited to Government, unless the Collector thinks fit to refund the whole or any portion of it.

30. When any salt is stopped for examination within the protected area by a Salt Officer, the rawánna covering the despatch shall be presented by the trader or his agent to such officer, who will satisfy himself that it is a genuine document, and that its currency has not expired, and may then proceed to examine and superintend the weighment of the despatch.

He may weigh at the Government scales either the entire despatch or such proportion of it as may be prescribed from time to time by rules to be issued by the Commissioner.

31. If only a portion of the despatch is weighed and any excess is found over the quantities specified in the rawánna, the weight of the whole despatch may, unless the trader objects, be calculated proportionately.

32. If on weighment of the salt it is found to exceed the quantity entered in the rawánna, the following practice shall, as a general rule, be observed by the officer in charge of the post:—

- (a) If the excess is not more than one per cent., he shall allow the despatch to pass.
- (b) If the excess is more than one and not more than five per cent., he shall, on submitting his report under section 21 of the Act, recommend that the despatch be released on the trader paying a sum equal to double the Government price of the excess.
- (c) If the excess is more than five per cent., or in any case if there be reason to suspect fraud, he shall recommend confiscation.

CHAPTER III.

Of the seizure, disposal or destruction of things liable to be seized or destroyed under the Act.

33. When anything is seized and detained under the Act or the rules made under the Act, it shall not be released until all duty, penalties and charges due on account thereof have been paid by the owner to the officer who is in possession of such thing.

If the thing is reported for confiscation, it shall not be released unless orders for the release are received from competent authority.

34. If an animal is so seized and detained, the owner shall provide for its due care and keep, in default of which the animal may be sold to defray charges.

V.—RULES REGARDING ALLUVION AND DILUVION, OWING TO CHANGES IN THE COURSE OF THE RIVER INDUS, OR OTHER WATERS, IN THE PROVINCE OF SIND.

1. Any land, separated from the main banks of the river or sea-shore by a channel which contains water throughout its length during the whole year, is to be considered an island. Commenced in Sind, M: 22nd, 1852.

2. Islands newly thrown up by the river or sea are the property of Government.

†3. All new land not separated from the main land by a channel containing water throughout its length during the whole year, is to be considered as the property of the owner of the old land to which it is annexed, subject to Government assessment in the cases provided for in the rules below.

4. These rules hold good only in cases of lands newly thrown up by the river in such a manner as to make it impossible to identify them with any lands which may have previously existed on the same spot, and been since swept away. If the river, by a sudden change in its course, cut off a portion of an estate without gradual encroachment, so as merely to separate such portion of land from the rest of the estate to which it previously belonged, without destroying the identity or preventing the recognition of the land so cut off, then the land, on being clearly and unmistakeably identified, will continue to be held on the same tenure as before its separation.

5. But no weight should be allowed to the pretended recognition of lands which have been so entirely swept away at some previous period, that they disappeared during the whole of a season, and which, on the river again changing its course, are supposed to re-appear merely because in situation or composition they somewhat resemble those previously swept away. These would come under Rules 2 and 3.

6. Where lands bordering on the river are leased out by Government, it is to be the rule that whenever  $\frac{1}{10}$ th of the land, or a portion of the land yielding  $\frac{1}{10}$ th of the rental, may be swept away, the lessee can claim a re-settlement of the estate. On the other hand, the Government can assert no claim to assess any increment to lands so leased, unless it amount in extent or produce to more than  $\frac{1}{10}$ th of the estate leased.

7. This rule should be observed even though no provision for such a contingency may have been made in the original lease.

† Rule 3 relates to the case of the owner of land. Section 64 of the B. L. R. C., 1879, when in force, applies to the occupant. (G. R. 1649, 11th March 1882, R. D.). The ordinary law independent of the B. L. R. C. is that riparian proprietor becomes the owner of land gained from a river by gradual accretion (incrementum latens). (2 B. H. C. R. 366, revised edn.; see also 6 Moore's Indian Appeals 267.)

8. When a revision of settlement takes place under these rules on the plea of diluvion, if the total assets of the whole estate settled be found to be from any cause, as large as, or larger than, they were computed to be at the time of settlement, the claim for reduction in the lease will be disallowed. If they be less, a proportionate deduction will be allowed, the assessment being calculated on the whole existing assets, in the same manner as when the settlement was originally made.

Rule para. 262 of Directions for Revenue Officers, N.-W. Provinces, No. 211.

9. And when Government claim an increase of assessment, on account of increment above  $\frac{1}{10}$ th, the lessee may, at his option, either have the whole estate resettled, or come under a new engagement, for the sum which may be demandable upon the newly accrued portion alone.

10. Remissions of assessment granted on account of diluvion in fixed leases, are to be reported to the Commissioner; and likewise increase of assessment on account of alluvion.

11. Holders of lands in jâghir, or on other rent-free tenure, are to be left in possession of all lands attached to their estates under Rule 3, provided the increment do not exceed, by more than 10 per cent., the land which they held at the date of the latest confirmatory grant issued by competent authority.

12. If the increment exceed 10 per cent. all lands, beyond those previously held under sanction of competent authority, will be liable to assessment, but remain the property of the holder of the original rent-free estate.

13. In cases, however, where a certain fixed quantity of land has been granted rent-free, and not a village mukan or estate, then the holder can have no claim on any increment to his original lands.

14. If any claim being preferred by Government to assess lands newly attached to rent-free estates it be proved that more or an equal amount of land has, since the date of the last confirmatory grant to the rent-free holder, been lost by diluvion from the same estate, then the claim to assess shall be disallowed.

15. This plea is in no case to hold good, with reference to lands which had been swept away before the conquest of Sind.

16. If a rent-free estate be entirely carried away the holder will have no claim to a new grant, nor in the event of new lands being subsequently formed by the river again receding will the rent-free estate be revived. The new lands will be an increment to the estate to which they are attached under Rule 3.

17. Where villages or estates have been granted subject to payment of a quit-rent, Government will not claim to assess any increment until it reaches 10 per cent.; when it exceeds 10 per cent., the whole of the increment will be liable to the ordinary assessment.

18. The same rules which would apply to

- Example.*
- A holds a Jāghir  $\frac{1}{4}$  of the Government revenue of the village of Syndpur producing 10,000 Rs. per annum.
- (a) Case. Land producing Rs. 500 per annum is swept away. A. will receive only  $\frac{1}{4}$  of the remaining Rs. 9,500.
- (b) Case. A similar amount of land is added. A. will then receive  $\frac{1}{4}$  of Rs. 10,500.
- (c) Case. Land yielding a revenue of Rs. 2,000 is swept away. A. will receive only  $\frac{1}{4}$  of Rs. 8,000.
- (d) Case. Land yielding Rs. 2,000 is added. A. has still a right to only  $\frac{1}{4}$  of Rs. 10,000.
- (e) Case. The village in 1848, when the grant was confirmed to A. yielded Rs. 15,000 Government revenue, though latterly, the value has been only Rs. 10,000. In the case if land yielding Rs. 2,000 be added, A. will receive a fourth of the additional Rs. 2,000 as well as of the Rs. 10,000.
- alienations, or leases of the whole Government share, shall be applicable where only a fractional portion of such share has been alienated, the addition or deduction, as the case may be, being proportioned to the extent to which the rights of Government may in each instance have been alienated.

19. Claims founded on grants by competent authority, specifying particularly the alienation of alluvial land formed by increment must be decided specially on consideration of the terms of the grant.

20. If cases should arise in the Civil Courts involving questions of alluvion and diluvion, the litigants should be called upon to prove, if possible, the local usage; and by that, if the practice be clear and free from doubt, the Court should decide all cases resulting to alluvial land between the parties where estates may be liable to such usage. Where this proof fails, the Court should decide in the spirit of the above rules.
