

Crime in India

WITH AN

INTRODUCTION

ON

FORENSIC DIFFICULTIES AND PECULIARITIES

by

SIR CECIL WALSH, K.C.

"The mystery, the romance, the coincidence of real life far transcend the mystery and the coincidence of fiction. . . . I pray that three things, peace, justice, and rule of law, may accompany India and ourselves throughout every stage of that long and arduous journey which lies before us."

Mr. Stanley Baldwin, in the House, 7th Nov. 1929.

L O N D O N

Ernest Benn Limited

By the same Author

THE AGRA DOUBLE MURDER
INDIAN VILLAGE CRIMES

FIRST PUBLISHED IN
1 9 3 0
PRINTED IN GREAT BRITAIN

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	Page 9
PART I
I. THE HILL-WOMAN'S DEATH	61
II. A PROBLEM OF PROVOCATION	96
III. A SACRIFICE, OR A CRIME PASSIONNEL?	123
IV. A STUDY IN COMPROMISE	135
V. THE SCAPEGOAT	156
VI. WIFELY SUBMISSION	163
VII. PROOF, OR PROBABILITY?	173
PART II
VIII. THE BITER BIT	191
IX. THE HORSE ERRANT	240
X. A POST-OFFICE PROBLEM	248
PART III
XI. WHAT IS A PROFESSING CHRISTIAN?	271
XII. THE 'THIRD DEGREE'	279

