

THE POLITICAL IDEAS OF
G. K. GOKHALE

His place in modern Indian political thought

Author : Fukuo Noda

The Political Ideas of G. K. Gokhale

His place in modern Indian political thought

by Fukuō Noda

Originally published in Japanese in its entirety in Aziya Kenkyū (Asiatic Studies), journal of the Society for Asian Political and Economic Studies, Vol. VII, No. 4, March 1961, pp. 31-87.

To Prof. D. N. Gadgil
With the compliments of
Juno Woda

V2xM66:9

K1

94975

*Introductory remark

I. Historical Background

1. British rule
2. The movement of the Indian National Congress

II. His Life and Achievements

1. Fergusson College
2. The Servants of India Society
3. Imperial Legislative Council
4. Visits to Britain
5. Role in the National Congress
6. The communal problem
7. The South African problem
8. His political testament

III. Characteristics of Ideas

1. Loyalty to Britain
2. Self-government within the British Empire and constitutional means
3. Imperialism vs. nationalism

IV. Development of Modern Indian Political Thought

1. Ranade and Gokhale
- * 2. Tilak and Gokhale
- * 3. Gokhale and Gandhi
- * 4. Gandhi, Tilak and Gokhale

*Concluding remark

* The sections so marked have been translated and presented below.