CHAPTER I

GENERAL SURVEY

1. Introduction—The year, 1956-57, witnessed further expansion in almost all fields of University education, general, technical and professional. To meet the growing demand for higher education, new colleges were opened and the capacity of some of the existing ones was enlarged. To improve the content of education, new courses were introduced, increased facilities for research in both Humanities and Sciences were provided and libraries and laboratories were replenished. Efforts to improve the salary scales of teachers in universities and colleges were continued. Besides, the Central and State governments sanctioned grants for research and post-graduate education in Science.

2. Development of Education—The year under report was also a year of reform and development in the pattern of University education. The Central Advisory Board of Education had finally approved the vital reforms in the educational pattern of higher education in January, 1956, for providing a three-year intergrated course of study leading to the first University degree after the secondary education. Thus, the three-year degree course came to be regarded as the central point for improving the collegiate education including the improving of the libraries, the laboratories, the teacher-pupil ratio and reducing the over-crowding in colleges. To give it a practical shape, the Education Ministers' Conference held on 2nd-3rd September, 1956, recommended that a Committee be appointed to work out the details of the expenditure to be incurred in introducing these reforms. Accordingly, on 1st October, 1956, the Ministry of Education appointed a Three-Year Degree Course Estimates Committee under the Chairmanship of Dr. C. D. Deshmukh, Chairman, University Grants Commission, with the following terms of reference :

1. To make recommendations regarding the best manner in which three-year degree course could be introduced in the affiliated colleges and universities in the country and the arrangements which would be made during the interim period for admission of students to the reorganised arts and science colleges and the professional colleges as constituted at present till the new pattern is fully introduced.
2. To frame the estimates of expenditure involved in the reorganisation of collegiate education implicit in the introduction of three-year degree course in universities and affiliated colleges.
3. To suggest the proportions in which the expenditure may be shared between the Central Government and the State governments for introducing the three-year degree course.
4. To recommend the best manner in which interim grants from Central Government may be made to the State governments for the year 1956-57, in case, formulation of schemes by the State governments is delayed.

5. To consider and examine the future of the intermediate colleges and such other problems as may be ancillary to the main question of introducing three-year-degree course.
6. To consider any other issues which may be relevant to the question of introducing a three-year degree course in the universities and the affiliated colleges.

The Committee continued its deliberations, during the year, with a view to evolve general principles that should govern the allocation of Central grants to the State governments in order to help universities and affiliated colleges to introduce the three-year degree course.

2.1 The University Grants Commission, which has been functioning since 1953 and which was constituted as a statutory body with effect from 5th November, 1956, did a good deal for the development of University education during the year. Grants totalling to Rs. 2,14,34,730 were sanctioned to the various universities for this purpose. Of this, a sum of Rs. 60,98,367 was incurred on the Central Universities and Rs. 1,48,66,363 on other universities. Besides, a sum of Rs. 4,70,000 was paid to CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Everywhere) as import duty on scientific equipment received under the Wheat Loan Education Exchange Programme. The expenditure on various development schemes included Rs. 35,29,708 spent on Humanities, Rs. 68,67,477 on Science and Rs. 55,72,824 on Technology.

2.2 Other developmental activities of the University Grants Commission, during the year, included the following :

(a) Selection of Nizamiah Observatory of Osmania University and the Delhi University for development as centres for specialisation respectively in Experimental and Theoretical Astronomy and the Andhra and Banaras Hindu Universities for developing training and research facilities in Geophysics.

(b) Initiation of a number of schemes for the development of post-graduate teaching and research in Arts subjects.

(c) The appointment of Committees on Geology and Applied Geology and the sanction of the Departments of Applied Geology to the Universities of Saugar and Nagpur, the cost of which was to be borne by M/s C. P. Manganese Ore Co., Ltd.

(d) Payment of special grants for the following purposes :

- (i) Development of High Altitude Research Observatory, Gulmarg.
- (ii) Development of the Departments of Applied Physics, Applied Chemistry and Radio Physics and Electronics of Calcutta University.
- (iii) Strengthening of Engineering facilities and starting of new courses in the Universities of Aligarh, Banaras and Roorkee.
- (iv) Carrying out research in Social Tensions.

2.3 In the field of Engineering and Technological education, development grants totalling to Rs. 65.76 lakhs were paid to government and non-government institutions on the recommendations of the All-India Council for Technical Education. The purposes for which these grants were made are indicated below:

- (i) Development and expansion of post-graduate courses and advanced training and research in Engineering and Technology.
- (ii) Development of affiliated colleges conducting post-graduate courses in basic sciences.
- (iii) Development of instructional facilities at degree and diploma levels in Engineering and Technological subjects.
- (iv) Establishment and development of specialised courses, such as, Printing Technology, Industrial Administration, Business Management, Ore Dressing, Architecture, etc.
- (v) Expansion of training facilities in Mining Engineering at degree and diploma levels.

2.4 The All-India Council for Technical Education decided that a Joint Committee consisting of the representatives of the Council, Inter-University Board, the University Grants Commission and Industry and Commerce be constituted to examine the question of re-organisation and development of university commerce courses and to submit detailed proposals in this behalf.

2.5. In accordance with the recommendations of a Consultative Committee of a few Vice-Chancellors, a team of eight senior university teachers was sent to the U.S.A. and U. K. to study the organisation of General Education courses in some of the leading universities there and to report on the possibility of introducing similar and suitable courses in Indian Universities. The report received from them in August, 1956, was examined by the Universities in five regional conferences held at Hyderabad, Baroda, Delhi, Aligarh and Calcutta.

2.6 To promote fundamental research in various branches of Science in the universities and other educational centres, grants-in-aid were continued to be paid to individual research workers who experienced difficulties in the pursuit of their research work. During the year, a sum of Rs. 3,41,770 was paid to 65 research workers under this scheme.

2.7. On the recommendation of the Reviewing Committee appointed by the University Grants Commission to fix block grants of the Central Universities, the following amounts were fixed for the quinquennium 1956-61 :

- (i) Aligarh Muslim University.....Rs. 37,90,000 per annum
- (ii) Banaras Hindu UniversityRs. 55,50,000 per annum
- (iii) Delhi University.Rs. 27,00,000 per annum
- (iv) Visva-BharatiRs. 13,75,000 per annum

2.8. Central assistance was made also available to State governments for schemes on University education included in their development programmes. During the year, Central assistance amounting to Rs. 5 lakhs was given to the States of Bihar, Jammu & Kashmir, Madhya Pradesh, Punjab, Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh for the implementation of the scheme relating to the development of women's education at collegiate level.

3. Improvement of Salary Scales—The improvement of education is closely linked with the question of improving the salary scales and other conditions of service of teachers. During the year, the University Grants Commission further considered the question of revision of pay scales of university teachers and recommended the following scales of salaries for them under the Second Five Year Plan :

Professor	Rs. 800—50—1,250
Reader	Rs. 500—25—800
Lecturer	Rs. 250—20—500
University teacher below the above ranks	not less than Rs. 150

Under this scheme, the Commission was to bear the entire additional cost of upgrading the salaries of teachers in the case of Central Universities and to the extent of 80 per cent in that of other universities, the remaining 20 per cent being payable by the State government or the University concerned. The Central Universities and the Universities of Andhra, Gujarat, Karnatak, Madras, Rajputana and Travancore adopted these scales during the year under report. This recommendation could not be implemented in some universities as the respective State governments/Universities could not provide for the necessary matching grant of 20 per cent. Along with this scheme of upgrading the salary scale of teachers, the Commission appointed a 3-man committee, under the Chairmanship of Dr. C.D. Deshmukh to go into the question of qualifications of different categories of university teachers.

4. Library and Laboratory facilities—The improvement of library and laboratory facilities and the provision of hostel accommodation are vital for raising educational standard. With the aid of the grants given by the University Grants Commission, new libraries were constructed at the Universities of Delhi, Nagpur, Baroda and Saugar, while new library buildings were at various stages of construction at the Universities of Sri Venkateswara, Gauhati, Karnatak, Poona, Annamalai, S.N.D.T. Women's and Aligarh. Moreover, the Universities of Bombay, Saugar, Banaras, Baroda and Nagpur completed the construction of laboratories for some of their Science, Engineering and Technological Departments with the aid of grants given by the Commission. The construction work for schemes aided by the Commission was in progress at 14 other universities. Besides, the Union Ministry of Education granted loans to universities, constituent and affiliated colleges and other educational institutions for the construction of hostel and staff quarters.

4.1 To commemorate the centenaries of the Universities of Bombay, Calcutta and Madras, the University Grants Commission decided to pay a grant of Rupees one crore to each of these universities. It was, however, suggested that about 75 per cent of the centenary grant should be utilised for the construction or expansion of buildings (including fittings, furniture and equipment) and the remaining 25 per cent for endowing Professorships and Fellowships.

5. Foreign Assistance and Exchange of Personnel—Foreign assistance in the form of library books, laboratory equipment, experts, etc., was received in good measure during 1956-57. Under the India Wheat Loan Educational Exchange Programme for the development of higher education, initiated in 1954-55, books and scientific equipment were received for strengthening the libraries and laboratories of various universities. Eleven librarians and twenty-one scientists were sent to the U.S.A. for short study tours in their respective fields.

5.1 Assistance to selected colleges and faculties in Home Science was continued in accordance with the provision of the agreement executed between the Governments of India and the U.S.A. in 1955, for a period of three years, for the development of Home Science Education and Research in India. The services of an American technician, training facilities for Indian teachers in U.S.A. and books and equipment for the colleges were obtained during the year.

5.2 Under an Agreement, signed in 1955 for a period of 3 years, between the Governments of India and the U.S.A. for the establishment and development of a Public Administration Centre at the Lucknow University, the services of an American expert for the Institute of Public Administration, Lucknow, and books for its library were obtained during the year.

5.3 Under the Indo-U. S. Agreement for Financing Certain Educational Exchange Programmes (Fulbright Programme) administered by the United States Educational Foundation in India, 7 Professors and Research Scholars, 15 school teachers and 89 students were sent from India to the U.S.A. and 21 Professors and Research Scholars, 4 school teachers and 16 students came from the U.S.A. to India during the year.

5.4 With the assistance of the Ford Foundation, the Ministry of Education and Scientific Research, in cooperation with the Ministry of Community Development, launched a scheme of "Apprenticeship in Village Development" in 1956-57 for a period of three years. The object of the scheme was to develop, in university teachers and students, a realistic spirit of social service and a responsible understanding of the problems of rural reconstruction in India. The scheme envisaged the training of 6,000 apprentices in three years. During the year, 1,500 apprentices were selected for training-cum-service.

6. Scholarships—In order to make available educational opportunities to meritorious but poor students, various scholarship schemes were operative during the year. Brief details of the scholarships awarded during 1956-57 are given below :

- (i) A sum of Rs. 10.96 lakhs was incurred on the scheme of granting Research Training Scholarships and National Research Fellowships for research in Science/Technology.
- (ii) To conduct research in various branches of Humanities, 24 scholars were selected for grant of scholarships of Rs. 200 each.
- (iii) Under the Government of India Scheme for granting Post-Matriculation Scholarships to the students belonging to Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Other Backward Classes, 39,485 students were granted scholarships at the cost of Rs. 187.30 lakhs. Besides, students continued to receive assistance for their higher studies in India and abroad under other scholarship schemes of the Government of India, namely, Modified Overseas Scholarships Scheme; Central States Scholarships Scheme; Foreign Languages Scholarships Scheme; Overseas Scholarships Scheme for Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Other Backward Classes; Twenty Fully-Paid Overseas Scholarships, etc.

- (iv) The University Grants Commission decided to institute 80 post-graduate and 50 research scholarships of the value of Rs. 100 and Rs. 150 respectively, for the study of Humanities in the universities.

7. Extra Curricular Activities—Extra-curricular activities were also given their due importance in the educational programmes of colleges and universities. These helped to canalize the energies of the students to constructive and disciplined life. The Third Inter-University Youth Festival was organised in October, 1956. Thirty-one universities sent 1,441 delegates to participate in the programme, which included competitions in Arts and Crafts, Dancing, Drama, Music and Elocution. An Expenditure of Rs. 2.54 lakhs was incurred on it.

8. Youth Welfare—Attention was also paid to the welfare of the youth during the year. In order to set up a comprehensive organisation to implement Youth Welfare Programme, it was suggested to the universities that they might set up Youth Welfare Boards and Committees. It was decided to assist the universities to meet 50 per cent of the administrative expenditure up to Rs. 4,000 for the establishment of such Boards and Committees.

CHAPTER II

STATISTICAL SURVEY

Institutions

(A) Universities

With the establishment of Sardar Vallabhbhai Vidyapeeth during the year under report, the number of universities in the country rose to 33. Information about their years of foundation/reconstitution, territorial jurisdiction and type, as also about the faculties provided and the medium of instruction/examination is given in Table I.

Of all the universities, Agra University alone was of the purely affiliating type, as Jammu & Kashmir University started teaching departments during the year under report, while Bombay University continued to be a teaching and federal one. The number of residential and teaching universities declined by 1 to 10 during the year as Sri Venkateswara University changed its complexion from residential and teaching to teaching and affiliating. The residential and teaching universities were Aligarh, Allahabad, Annamalai, Banaras, Baroda, Jadavpur, Lucknow, Patna, Roorkee and Visva-Bharati. The remaining 21 universities were of the teaching and affiliating type.

(B) Teaching Departments

During the year, the universities expanded their teaching functions considerably, with the result that the number of teaching departments increased from 305 to 329. The details of the new departments started during the year are given below :

University	Teaching Departments
Bihar	Rural Economics & Cooperation, Sociology.
Bombay	Politics & Civics, Sociology.
Gauhati	Agricultural Botany.
Jammu & Kashmir	Economics, English, Geology.
Karnatak	Kannada Research Institute, Dharwar*, Politics.
Lucknow	Anaesthesia, Business Administration, Private Law, Public Law, Psychology, Sociology & Social work Statistics, Oto Laryngology.
Nagpur	Pharmacy, Library Science.
Patna	Commerce.
Saugar	Applied Geology.
Utkal	Engineering, Rural Economics & Sociology.

* Karnatak University took over the Research Institute from Bombay Government with effect from 1st November, 1956. The institute is treated as a teaching department of the University.

The Department of Tuberculosis, Delhi University, was merged with the Patel Chest Institute, Delhi and the Department of Law, Allahabad University, was bifurcated into 2 departments viz., (i) Department of Constitutional and General Law and (ii) Department of Private and Statute Law.

(C) Colleges

The expansion of facilities for higher education was not confined to university teaching departments alone, but was shared by the colleges also. During the year, the number of colleges maintained by or affiliated to various universities rose from 1,025 to 1,107. Of the 1,025 colleges in 1955-56, 29 belonging to the Universities of Agra (1), Andhra (16), Gujarat (4), Panjab (1) and Rajasthan (7) were either disaffiliated or closed down. Sri Venkateswara University granted affiliation to 15 of the 16 colleges of Andhra University mentioned above and Sardar Vallabhbhai Vidyapeeth to all the 4 colleges of Gujarat University. Patel Chest Institute, Delhi which was returned as a teaching department of the Delhi University during the previous year was reported as an affiliated college during the year under report. The additional 91 colleges were distributed among 19 universities as follows: Agra 7, Allahabad 1, Banaras 1, Bihar 2, Bombay 1, Calcutta 9, Delhi 1, Gauhati 1, Gujarat 7, Jammu & Kashmir 1, Kerala 3, Madras 6, Mysore 2, Nagpur 4, Osmania 12, Panjab 13, Poona 1, Rajasthan 3 and Saugar 16.

A reference to table II will show that of the 1,107 colleges during 1956-57 220 were university constituent colleges and 887 affiliated/associated colleges, the corresponding number for 1955-56 being 187 and 839 respectively. The break up of these colleges according to managements was: government 297 (26.8 per cent), universities 118 (10.6 per cent), local boards 5 (0.5 per cent) and private bodies 687 (62.1 per cent).

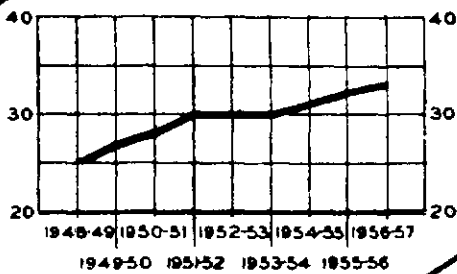

The distribution of colleges by type of education is given in table III. Of the total number of colleges, 574 provided instruction in general education—which includes the study of Arts, Science, Oriental Learning, Theology, Home Science, Social Work, Music and Fine Arts—301 in professional education and the remaining 232 in general as well as professional education. Further classification of colleges for professional education is given below:

Besides, 232 colleges for general education had 268 classes for professional education attached to them. Their details are as follows : Classes for Agriculture 8, for Commerce 179, for Education/Teachers' Training 37, for Engineering and Technology 1, for Law 32, for Medicine 5, for Physical Educational and for other subjects like Business Management, Journalism and Library Science 5.

(D) Boards of Intermediate Education

In addition to 33 universities, there were 3* Boards of Intermediate Education, viz., Board of High School and Intermediate Education, Uttar Pradesh, Allahabad ; Board of Secondary Education, Madhya Bharat Region, Gwalior (M.P.) and Central Board of Secondary Education, Ajmer, which functioned as examining bodies for Intermediate and High School etc., examinations. During the year, 867 colleges were affiliated to them for Intermediate examination, of which 66 colleges were also affiliated to the universities for degree/post-graduate courses.

Pupils

The total number of students on rolls in university teaching departments, constituent colleges and colleges affiliated to universities and boards of intermediate education increased from 7,12,697 (6,20,804 boys and 91,893 girls) in 1955-56 to 7,69,468 (6,62,677 boys and 1,06,791 girls) during the year under report. The rate of increase was 8.0 per cent, during 1956-57, as against 9.4 per cent during 1955-56.

The distribution of enrolment according to type of institutions is given below :

Type of Institution	1955-56		1956-57

*Besides these, there were 12 Boards of Secondary Education in States of Andhra, Bihar, Bombay, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Madras, West Bengal, Mysore and the Union Territory of Delhi. These Boards conducted examinations for High/higher Secondary Certificates.

† Includes enrolment in University Colleges of Calcutta University.

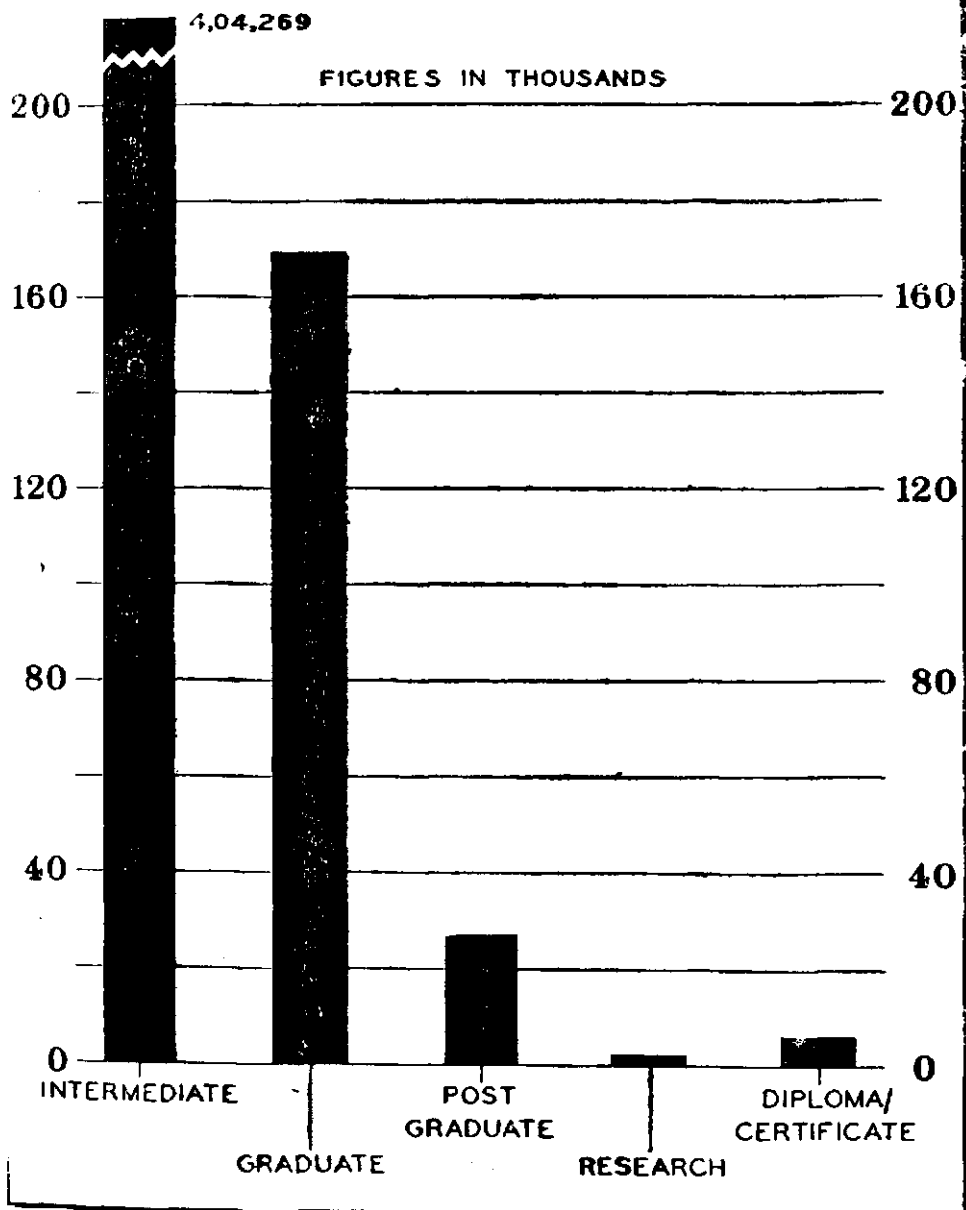

A reference to Table IV will show that the Calcutta University, as usual, reported the highest enrolment (1,13,751), followed by the universities of Madras (60,296), Panjab (51,172), Bihar (48,047), Agra (41,805), Bombay (39,456) and Kerala (30,787). In contrast to these, the enrolment in Visva-Bharati was 627 and that in Roorkee 673. Of the remaining, 12 universities enrolled between ten thousand and thirty thousand students each, and the remaining 12 universities enrolled between one thousand and ten thousand each. So far as the boards of intermediate education were concerned, the colleges of the Uttar Pradesh Board enrolled as many as 91·3 per cent of the total number of intermediate students studying in colleges attached to all the boards put together.

An inter-university comparison of the enrolment figures for 1956-57 and 1955-56 shows that the enrolment during the year increased in all the universities except Andhra and Jadavpur. It declined in the former case on account of the transfer of some of its colleges to Sri Venkateswara University and in the latter case on account of the disaffiliation of Jadavpur Polytechnic. Numerically, the increase in enrolment was highest in case of Calcutta University (13,450), followed by the Universities of Sri Venkateswara (9,574) and Bihar (8,051). In 11 of the remaining universities the increase was between one thousand and five thousands and in 16 others it was less than one thousand each. On percentage basis, Sri Venkateswara reported the highest increase because of affiliation granted by it to 15 colleges. It was followed by the universities of Saugar (35·4 per cent), S.N.D.T. Women's (23·6 per cent), Bihar (20·1 per cent), Aligarh (19·0 per cent) and Roorkee (18·7 per cent). The lowest percentage of increase was reported by Banaras and Nagpur Universities (2·5 per cent).

Of the total enrolment of 7,69,468 in the universities and colleges, 6,09,652 students (79·2 per cent) were enrolled for general education and 1,59,816 students (20·8 per cent) for professional or technical education. There was practically no change in the pattern of distribution of enrolment in general and professional education from the previous year. The enrolment for general education increased by 8·1 per cent and that for professional education by 7·4 per cent as compared to 8·7 per cent and 12·3 per cent respectively during 1955-56.

The distribution of the total enrolment by stage of education is as follows: intermediate stage 4,42,542 students (including 1,08,924 students in colleges affiliated to boards of intermediate education), or 57·5 per cent, graduate stage 2,76,999 students or 36·0 per cent and post-graduate and research stage 36,508 students or 4·7 per cent. The remaining 13,419 students or 1·8 per Girl students in the universities and colleges numbered 1,06,791 and formed 13.9 per cent of the total enrolment. Of these, 97,294 (91.1 per cent) were enrolled for general education and the remaining 9,497 (8.9 per cent) for professional and technical education. In professional education, Medicine continued to attract the largest number of girls viz., 4,331 and the next best favourite subject was teachers' training with an enrolment of 4,096. Both these courses accounted for 88.7 per cent of the total number of girls in professional and technical education, leaving only 11.3 per cent to join other professional and technical subjects.

Teachers

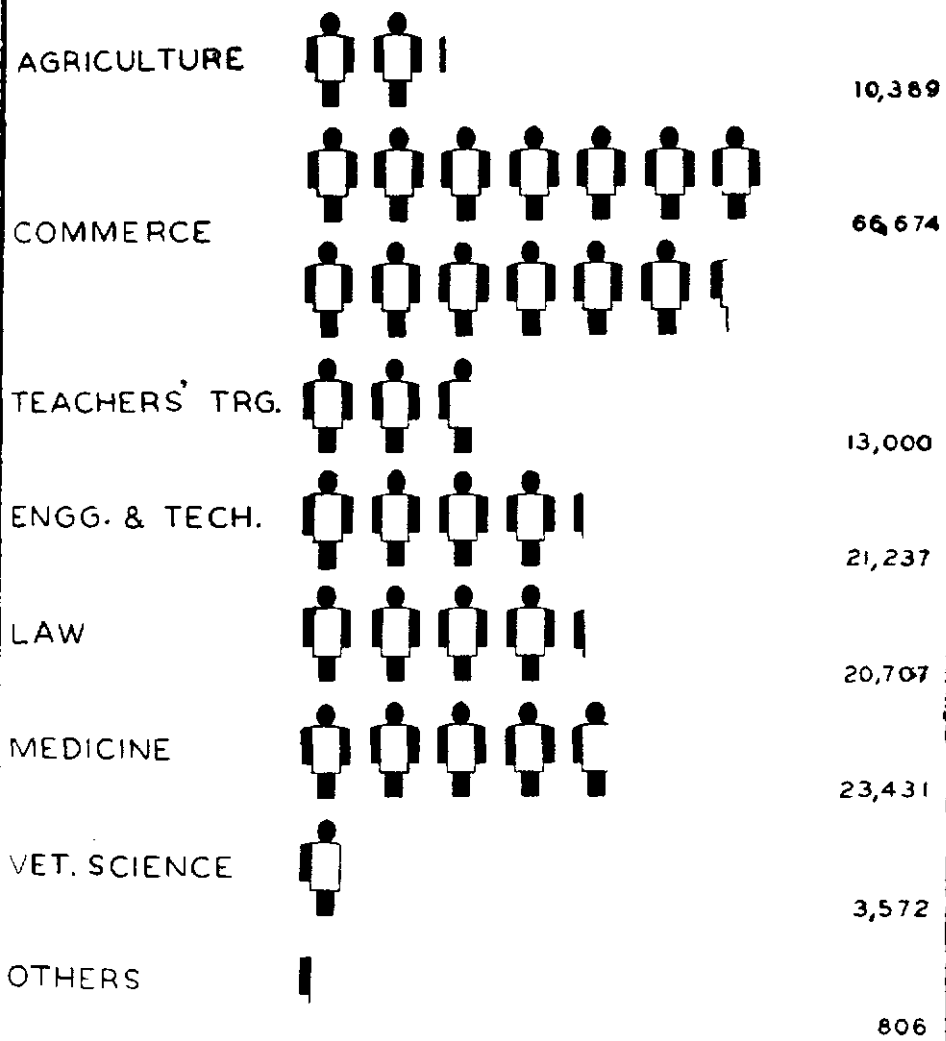

During the year under report, the total number of teachers working in the universities and their colleges (excluding those teaching in colleges affiliated to boards of intermediate education) [rose from 33,208 (29,782 men and 3,426 women) to 36,504 (32,554 men and 3,950 women) giving an increase of 9.9 per cent (9.3 per cent in the case of men teachers and 15.3 per cent in the case of women teachers). The increase during the previous year was of the order of 10.3 per cent (9.9 per cent in the case of men teachers and 13.3 per cent in the case of women teachers). The following table gives the distribution of teachers by type of institution.

Type of Institution	1955-56		1956-57

Total	29,782	3,426	32,554	3,950

The above table shows that during 1956-57, the number of teachers in university teaching departments rose by 3.7 per cent and in university/constituent and affiliated colleges by 10.3 per cent. The corresponding increases during 1955-56 were 4.6 per cent in case of university teaching departments and 10.7 per cent in case of university/constituent and affiliated colleges. Of the total number of 36,504 teachers, 25,940 or 71.1 per cent were teaching general education courses and the remaining 10,564 or 28.9 per cent professional education courses. The corresponding percentages for the previous year were 71.3 and 28.7 respectively. For further university-wise details, reference may be made to Table VIII.

The disparity in the pay scales of teachers working in universities and colleges continued to persist. The scales varied from university to university and even within same university from college to college under different managements. Efforts made during the year to revise the pay scales of teachers to bring them at par with the scales recommended by the University Grants Commission for the Second Five Year Plan brought about the following improvements :

Table IX shows the scales of pay of lecturers, readers and professors working in university teaching departments. The minimum of lecturer's scale in all the universities except those of Andhra, Annamalai, Baroda, Bihar, Kerala, Madras, Mysore, Nagpur, Patna, S.N.D.T. Women's and Visva-Bharati was either equal to or higher than Rs. 250 as recommended by the University Grants Commission for the Second Five Year Plan period. In the case of those universities where the minimum was less than Rs. 250, it ranged between Rs. 100 in Mysore and Rs. 125 in Kerala. Mysore University, however, reported an improved pay scale, starting at Rs. 200 to take effect from 1st January, 1957.

Total	33,291	100.0

The above statement is revealing as it shows that half of the teachers (except honorary/part-time) received a monthly salary upto Rs. 224 each and that only 9 per cent of them received a salary exceeding Rs. 500 per month.

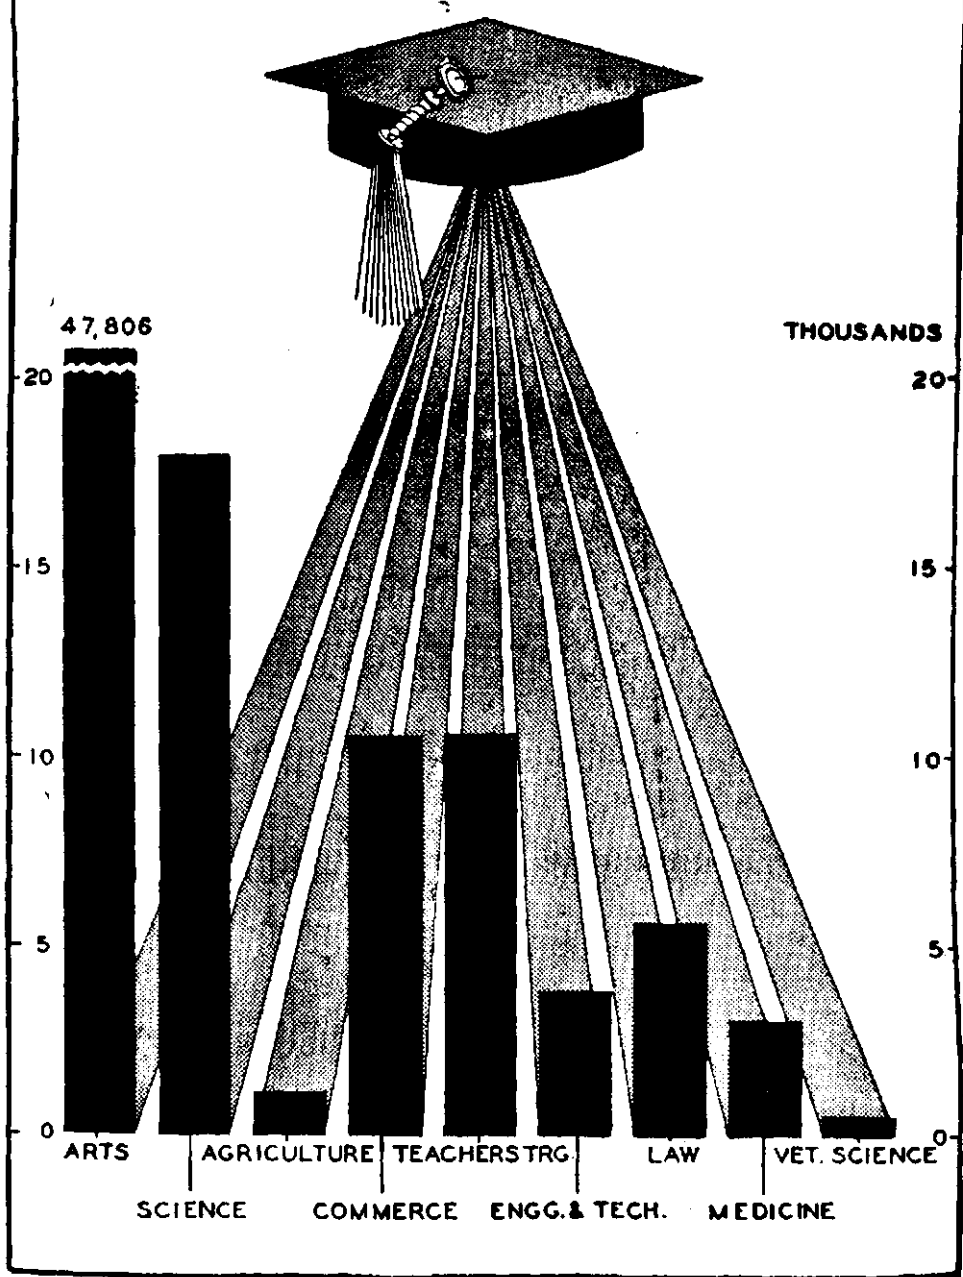

Examination Results

Of the total number of 5,76,192 candidates (4,90,173 boys and 86,019 girls), who appeared in the post-Matriculation (and equivalent) annual and supplementary examinations conducted by the universities and the boards of intermediate examinations in 1957, 2,76,851 (2,30,018 boys and 46,836 girls) were declared successful (Table XI). The comparative figures for the year 1956 were : Number appeared 5,34,712 (4,63,288 boys and 71,424 girls) and number passed 2,55,001 (2,16,543 boys and 38,458 girls). The pass percentage slightly improved from 47.7 in 1956 to 48.0 in 1957. The break up of passes in different examinations at various levels is given below:—
