

IMPERIAL GAZETTEER OF INDIA

PROVINCIAL SERIES

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE

SUPERINTENDENT OF GOVERNMENT PRINTING
CALCUTTA

1908

Price Rs. 2-8, or 3s. 9d.]

17752

U:235k

D8.7

OXFORD: HORACE HART
PRINTER TO THE UNIVERSITY

PREFACE

THE articles contained in this volume were originally drafted by Mr. H. A. Rose, I.C.S., and were afterwards examined by the District and Political Officers concerned. In preparing the Provincial article valuable assistance was received from heads of departments. Mr. E. B. Howell, I.C.S., who was in charge of the final revision, has added later statistics and much interesting information, especially in the articles on Tribal Areas.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	PAGE
NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE	I-125
PHYSICAL ASPECTS	I-12
Position and boundaries	I
Natural features and scenery	I
Mountain systems	3
Rivers	4
Geology	4
Crystalline, igneous, and metamorphic rocks	4
Tanāwals	5
Basic dikes	5
The Attock slate series	5
Mesozoic, Tertiary, and post-Tertiary rocks to the south	5
Infra-Trias (Devonian?)	5
Trias	6
Jurassics	6
Cretaceous	6
Nummulitic (eocene)	7
Post-Tertiary and recent	7
Flora	8
Fauna	10
Climate and temperature	11
Rainfall	11
HISTORY	12-26
The Persians	12
The Greeks	13
The Bactrians	13
The Kushans	14
Later Kushans and White Huns	14
The Muhammadans	15
The Ghorids	15
Timūr	16
The Afghāns	16
The Mughals	16
Tribal rebellions	17
Decay of Mughal power	18
The Sikhs	18
The British	19
The Mutiny	19
Expeditions against frontier tribes	20
1849-57	20
1857-78	20

TABLE OF CONTENTS

v

	PAGE
Second Afghān War, 1878-80	21
Expeditions, 1878-97	21
Pathān revolt, 1897	22
In Tochi	22
In Swāt	22
The Mohmands	23
Tirāh	23
Punitive operations	24
1898-1902	25
Durand line	25
Formation of the North-West Frontier Province	26
ARCHAEOLOGY	26-28
Buddhist remains	27
Later buildings	28
POPULATION	28-37
Census statistics	28
Density	28
Towns and villages	28
Growth of population	29
Age statistics	29
Vital statistics	29
Diseases	30
Epidemics	30
Infant mortality. Sex statistics	30
Statistics of civil condition	30
Language	31
Castes and tribes	32
The Pathāns	32
Awāns, &c.	33
Religions	33
Christian missions	34
Occupations	34
Food	34
Dress	35
Dwellings	35
Disposal of dead	36
Amusements	36
Names and titles	36
Religious titles	37
AGRICULTURE	37-45
Soils and general agricultural conditions	37
Harvests	38
Rotation of crops	39
Ploughing, harvesting, &c.	39

	PAGE
Population supported by agriculture	39
Wheat	40
Barley	40
Gram	40
Maize	40
Spiked millet	40
Great millet	41
Rice	41
Pulses	41
Cotton	41
Oilseeds	41
Total produce	41
Fruit	41
Loans	42
Indebtedness	43
Cattle	43
Sheep and goats	43
Camels	43
Horses and donkeys	43
Irrigation	43
Canal revenue	45
System of water distribution	45
RENTS, WAGES, AND PRICES	45-48
Rents	45
Wages	46
Prices	47
Material condition of the people	47
FORESTS	48
MINES AND MINERALS	49-50
Salt	49
Other minerals	49
ARTS AND MANUFACTURES	50-52
Cotton	50
Afridi waxcloth	50
Wool	50
Silk	50
Embroidery	51
Jewellery	51
Iron-work	51
Brass- and copper-work	51
Pottery	51
Wood-work	52
Leather-work	52
Factories	52

TABLE OF CONTENTS

vii

	PAGE
COMMERCE AND TRADE	52-54
Trade routes	52
Imports from across the border	53
Exports across the border	54
Trade with other Provinces and States in India	54
MEANS OF COMMUNICATION	54-56
Railways	54
Roads	55
Means of conveyance	55
Rivers	56
Post Office	56
FAMINE	56
ADMINISTRATION	57-59
Administrative divisions	58
Political Agencies, &c.	59
Frontier chieftainships	59
LEGISLATION AND JUSTICE	59-61
Customary law	59
Legislation	59
Administration of justice	60
Civil courts	60
Criminal courts	60
Revenue courts	61
Trans-border territories	61
Registration	61
FINANCE	61
LAND REVENUE	62-64
Tenures	62
Redistribution of land	62
Settlement	63
Alienations	64
MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE	64-67
Salt	64
Excise	65
Liquors and drugs	66
Hemp drugs	66
Method of vend	66
Excise revenue	66
Stamps and income tax	67
LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL	67-68
Village communities	67
Municipal administration	67
District boards	68
PUBLIC WORKS	68
ARMY	69

	PAGE
POLICE	69-72
Proportion of police to area and population	70
Rural police	70
Municipal, cantonment, ferry, and railway police	71
Cognizable crime	71
Border military police	71
MILITIA AND LEVY CORPS	72-73
Militia	72
Chitrāli Scouts	72
Levy Corps	73
JAILS	73
EDUCATION	74-76
Present organization	74
Collegiate education	74
Secondary education	74
Primary education (male)	75
Female education	75
Muhammadan education	75
Statistics	75
MEDICAL	76-77
Hospitals and dispensaries	76
Lunatic asylums	76
Vaccination	76
SURVEYS	77
BIBLIOGRAPHY	77
STATISTICS	79-93
Table I. General Genealogy of the Pathān Tribes	79
" II. Expeditions undertaken against Frontier Tribes since the Annexation of the Punjab	80
" III. Temperature	83
" IV. Rainfall	83
" V. Distribution of Population, 1901	84
" VI. Statistics of Agriculture	85
" VII. Trade with other Provinces (including the Punjab) and States in India	86
" VIIA. Trade with Countries outside India	87
" VIII. Statistics of Criminal Justice	87
" IX. Statistics of Civil Justice	87
" X. Revenue and Expenditure	88
" XI. Income and Expenditure of Municipalities	89
" XII. Income and Expenditure of District Boards	90
" XIII. Police Statistics	91
" XIV. Education Finance	92
" XIVA. Colleges, Schools, and Scholars	92
" XV. Medical Statistics	93

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ix

	PAGE
MOUNTAINS	94-109
HIMALAYAS, THE	94-107
Name	94
Extent of range	94
Political distribution	94
Divisions of range	95
Scenery	96
Snow-line	96
Rivers	97
Highest peaks	97
Valleys and lakes	97
Geology	98
Age and origin of the range	98
The Siwālik series	99
Unfossiliferous rocks of Outer Himālayas	100
The crystalline axis	100
Fossiliferous rocks of the Tibetan zone	101
Economic minerals	102
Botany	102
Fauna	103
People	104
Agriculture	105
Forests	106
Means of communication	106
Bibliography	107
BLACK MOUNTAIN	107
MAHĀBAN	108
SĀMĀNA RANGE	108
RIVERS	109-120
INDUS	109-116
Course in Tibet and Kashmīr	109
In the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province	110
In Sind	112
The Indus delta	112
Changes in the river course	113
Inundations and irrigation	114
Principal canals	114
Navigation	115
Fish	116
SWĀT	116
KĀBUL	117
BĀRĀ	118
KURRAM	119

	PAGE
TOCHI	119
GUMAL	119
CANALS	120-122
SWĀT RIVER	120
KĀBUL RIVER	121
HISTORIC AREAS	122-125
AMB	122
DERAJĀT	122
GANDHĀRA	124
PAKHLI	124
UND	125
HAZĀRA DISTRICT	126-143
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems .	126
Geology	127
Botany	127
Fauna	127
•Climate and temperature	128
Rainfall	128
History	128
Archaeology	129
The people	129
Castes and occupations	130
Christian missions	131
General agricultural conditions	131
Chief agricultural statistics and principal crops	131
Improvements in agricultural practice	132
Cattle, ponies, and sheep	132
Irrigation	132
Forests	132
Mines and minerals	133
Arts and manufactures	134
Commerce and trade	134
Means of communication	134
Famine	134
District subdivisions and staff	135
Civil and criminal justice	135
Land revenue administration	135
Local and municipal	136
Police and jails	136
Education	136
Hospitals and dispensaries	137
Vaccination	137
Bibliography	137
ABBOTTĀBĀD TAHSĪL	137

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xi

	PAGE
HARĪPUR TAHSĪL	137
MĀNSEHRA TAHSĪL	137
TANĀWAL	138
ABBOTTĀBĀD TOWN	139
AGROR	139
BAFFA	140
BARA GALI	141
CHĀNGLA GALI	141
DUNGĀ GALI	141
Ghora DAKKA	141
HARĪPUR TOWN	141
KĀGĀN	142
KĀLĀBĀGH	142
KHAIRA GALI	142
KHANSPUR	142
MĀNSEHRA TOWN	142
NATHIA GALI	143
NAWĀSHAHR	143
OGHI	143
THANDĪANI	143
PESHĀWAR DISTRICT	143-167
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems .	143
Geology	145
Botany	145
Fauna	146
Climate and temperature	146
Rainfall	146
History and archaeology	146
The people	149
Castes and occupations	150
Christian missions	151
General agricultural conditions	151
Chief agricultural statistics and principal crops	151
Improvements in agricultural practice	152
Cattle, ponies, and sheep	152
Irrigation	152
Forests	152
Mines and minerals	153
Arts and manufactures	153
Commerce and trade	153
Communications	154
District subdivisions and staff	154
Civil and criminal justice	154
Land revenue administration	155

	PAGE
Local and municipal	156
Police and jails	156
Education	157
Hospitals and dispensaries	157
Vaccination	157
Bibliography	157
PESHĀWAR TAHSĪL	158
CHĀRSADDA TAHSĪL	158
YŪSUFZAI	158
MARDĀN TAHSĪL	159
SWĀBI TAHSĪL	160
NAUSHAHRA TAHSĪL	160
ABĀZAI	160
CHĀRSADDA TOWN	161
CHERĀT	161
HASHTNAGAR	162
MACKESON, FORT	162
MARDĀN TOWN	163
MICHNI	163
NAUSHAHRA TOWN	163
PESHĀWAR CITY	164
PRĀNG	166
SHABKADAR	167
TANGI	167
KOHĀT DISTRICT	167-182
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems	167
Geology	168
Botany	168
Fauna	169
Climate and temperature	169
History	169
The people	171
Castes and occupations	172
General agricultural conditions	172
Chief agricultural statistics and principal crops	173
Improvements in agricultural practice	173
Cattle, ponies, and sheep	174
Irrigation	174
Forests	174
Mines and minerals	174
Arts and manufactures	175
Commerce and trade	175
Communications	175
Famine	175

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xiii

	PAGE
District subdivisions and staff	175
Civil and criminal justice	176
Land revenue administration	176
Local and municipal	177
Police and jails	177
Education	178
Hospitals and dispensaries	178
Vaccination	178
Bibliography	178
KOHĀT TAHSĪL	178
TERI TAHSĪL	179
THAL SUBDIVISION	179
HANGU TAHSĪL	179
HANGU VILLAGE	180
KOHĀT TOWN	180
KOHĀT SALT QUARRIES	180
LOCKHART, FORT	181
SĀRAGARHI	181
THAL VILLAGE	181
BANNU DISTRICT	182-195
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems	182
Geology	183
Botany	183
Fauna	183
Climate and temperature	183
Rainfall	184
History	184
Archaeology	185
The people	186
Castes and occupations	186
Christian missions	187
General agricultural conditions	187
Chief agricultural statistics and principal crops	188
Improvements in agricultural practice	188
Cattle, ponies, and sheep	188
Irrigation	189
Forests	189
Minerals	189
Arts and manufactures	189
Commerce	189
Communications	189
Famine	190
District subdivisions and staff	190
Civil and criminal justice	190

	PAGE
Local and municipal	156
Police and jails	156
Education	157
Hospitals and dispensaries	157
Vaccination	157
Bibliography	157
PESHĀWAR TAHSĪL	158
CHĀRSADDA TAHSĪL	158
YŪSUFZAI	158
MARDĀN TAHSĪL	159
SWĀBI TAHSĪL	160
NAUSHAHRA TAHSĪL	160
ABĀZAI	160
CHĀRSADDA TOWN	161
CHERĀT	161
HASHTNAGAR	162
MACKESON, FORT	162
MARDĀN TOWN	163
MICHNI	163
NAUSHAHRA TOWN	163
PESHĀWAR CITY	164
PRĀNG	166
SHABKADAR	167
TANGI	167
KOHĀT DISTRICT	167-182
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems .	167
Geology	168
Botany	168
Fauna	169
Climate and temperature	169
History	169
The people	171
Castes and occupations	172
General agricultural conditions	172
Chief agricultural statistics and principal crops	173
Improvements in agricultural practice	173
Cattle, ponies, and sheep	174
Irrigation	174
Forests	174
Mines and minerals	174
Arts and manufactures	175
Commerce and trade	175
Communications	175
Famine	175

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xiii

	PAGE
District subdivisions and staff	175
Civil and criminal justice	176
Land revenue administration	176
Local and municipal	177
Police and jails	177
Education	178
Hospitals and dispensaries	178
Vaccination	178
Bibliography	178
KOHĀT TAHSĪL	178
TERI TAHSĪL	179
THAL SUBDIVISION	179
HANGU TAHSĪL	179
HANGU VILLAGE	180
KOHĀT TOWN	180
KOHĀT SALT QUARRIES	180
LOCKHART, FORT	181
SĀRAGARHI	181
THAL VILLAGE	181
BANNU DISTRICT	182-195
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems	182
Geology	183
Botany	183
Fauna	183
Climate and temperature	183
Rainfall	184
History	184
Archaeology	185
The people	186
Castes and occupations	186
Christian missions	187
General agricultural conditions	187
Chief agricultural statistics and principal crops	188
Improvements in agricultural practice	188
Cattle, ponies, and sheep	188
Irrigation	189
Forests	189
Minerals	189
Arts and manufactures	189
Commerce	189
Communications	189
Famine	190
District subdivisions and staff	190
Civil and criminal justice	190

	PAGE
Land revenue administration	191
Local and municipal	192
Police and jails	192
Education	192
Hospitals and dispensaries	193
Vaccination	193
Bibliography	193
BANNU TAHSĪL	193
MARWAT TAHSĪL	193
BANNU TOWN (or Edwardesābād)	193
LAKKI	194
AKRA	194
DERA ISMAIL KHĀN DISTRICT	195-209
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems	195
Geology	196
Botany	197
Fauna	197
Climate and temperature	197
Rainfall	197
History	197
The people	199
Castes and occupations	199
Christian missions	200
General agricultural conditions	200
Chief agricultural statistics and principal crops	200
Improvements in agricultural practice	200
Cattle, ponies, and sheep	201
Irrigation	201
Forests	201
Minerals	202
Arts and manufactures	202
Commerce and trade	202
Communications	202
Famine	202
District subdivisions and staff	203
Civil and criminal justice	203
Land revenue administration	203
Local and municipal	204
Police and jails	204
Education	204
Hospitals and dispensaries	204
Vaccination	205
Bibliography	205
DERA ISMAIL KHĀN TAHSĪL	205

TABLE OF CONTENTS

XV

	PAGE
KULĀCHI TAHSĪL	205
TĀNK TAHSĪL	205
DERA ISMAIL KHĀN TOWN	207
KĀFIRKOT	208
KULĀCHI TOWN	208
SHEIKH BUDĪN	208
TĀNK TOWN	209
DĪR, SWĀT, AND CHITRĀL	210-223
CHITRĀL STATE	210-215
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems .	210
History	210
The people	213
General agricultural conditions	214
Manufactures and trade	214
Administration	214
Justice	214
Revenue	214
CHITRĀL TOWN	214
MASTŪJ	215
DĪR	215
SWĀT STATE	216
MALAKAND	221
CHAKDARRA	221
BĀJAUR	222
UTMĀN KHEL	222
BUNER	223-225
AMBELA	224
MOHMAND COUNTRY	225-227
KHYBER	227-236
Situation	227
Description	227
History	228
British expeditions	229
First Afghān War	229
Second Afghān War	230
Khyber Political Agency	231
The Afrīdis	231
British control	232
Outbreak of 1897	232
AFRĪDIS	232
JAMRŪD	233
LANDI KOTAL	233
TĪRĀH	233
BĀZĀR	236
ORAKZAI	236

	PAGE
KURRAM AGENCY	236-243
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems .	236
History	238
The people	240
General agricultural conditions	240
Means of communication	241
Administrative divisions and staff	241
Civil and criminal justice	241
Land revenue administration	242
Police and jails	242
Education	243
Hospitals and dispensaries	243
Vaccination	243
PĀRACHINĀR	243
SADDA	243
WAZĪRISTĀN, NORTHERN	243-248
BOYA	245
IDAK	245
MIRAM SHĀH	245
MAIZAR	245
DAUR	246
WAZĪRISTĀN, SOUTHERN	248-257
Boundaries, configuration, and hill and river systems .	248
Flora	249
Fauna	249
Climate	249
History	250
The people	251
Tribal customs	252
Agriculture	252
Mines and minerals	252
Arts and manufactures	252
Commerce and trade	253
WĀNĀ	253
GOMAL PASS	253
MAHSŪDS	253
BHITTANNI	255
JANDOLA	256
SHIRĀNI COUNTRY	256
TAKHT-I-SULAIMĀN	257
INDEX	259-280
MAP	at end

INDEX

A.

- Abāzai, fort (1852) and village in Peshāwar District, on the bank of the Swāt river, here 150 yards broad, 160; its ferry the highest in British territory, 161.
- Abbott, Major James, first Deputy-Commissioner (1847-53) of Hazāra, 139; his firm and wise rule before and during the second Sikh War, 129; his land settlement, 135.
- Abbottābād, well-timbered tahsil of Hazāra District, 137.
- Abbottābād town, head-quarters of Hazāra District and tahsil, 139, named after first Deputy-Commissioner, 139; a municipality and a cantonment, 139, their finance, 139.
- Abdul Ghafūr, the famous Akhund of Swāt (1835-77), or leader of fanatical sect, 20, 218, 219, 221; Ambela campaign against, 20, 21, 224, 225. See also Akhund.
- Adamzādas, one of the two upper classes or tribes of Chitrāl, 211, 213, joined Umrā Khān in the siege (1895) of Chitrāl, 212.
- Administration, 57-61; under the control of a Chief Commissioner, 57, also in political areas Agent to the Governor-General of India, 57, 59; his staff, and a list of the high officials of the Province, 57, 58; the five Districts, each under a Deputy-Commissioner and his staff, 58; subdivisions, each in charge of an Assistant or Extra Assistant Commissioner, 58; the sub-collectorates or tahsils, each in charge of a tahsildār and a naib-tahsildār, 58, kānungos, patwāris (accountants), village headmen, chaukidārs or village watchmen, 58; Political Agencies, 59; legislation and justice, 59-61.
- Afghānistān, trade with, 52, 53, through Peshāwar, 153, 166, by Gomal Pass, 53, 208, its increase since (1901) partial removal of restrictions by the present Amir, 53.
- Afghāns, their migration into Peshāwar in the fifteenth century, 148; their rise to power, 16, their dominant position in Northern India during the rule of the Lodis of Delhi, 16; their risings against the Mughals, 16-18, 235, their subjection (1738) of the Mughal governor, 18; Ahmad Shāh Durrāni ruler of the Peshāwar valley, 18, 149; the division of the province between the Bārakzais and Sadozais, 18; frontier settlements with, the Treaty (1879) of Gandamak, 21, the Durand mission (1893-5) and line, 25, 26, et passim under the Political Agencies; the operations on or about the Khyber, in the first Afghān War, 229, 230, in the second War, 230, 231; the history of the Kurram under, 239, 241; withdrawal (1893) from Wazīristān, 250, 251.
- Afridi waxcloth, a cotton fabric decorated with the oil of the wild safflower, 50.
- Afridis, the, a Pathān tribe, inhabiting Tirāh, the mountainous tract south of the Khyber, 232, the names, habitats, and strength of their chief subdivisions, 232; took possession of the Khyber during Sikh rule, 231; took service in the Indian army after Sikh War and served well in the Mutiny, 231; garrisoned Alī Masjid (1857-78) for the Afghāns, but were never on good terms with them, 231; spoiled the Afghāns and harassed the British in the second Afghān War, 231, 232, agreed to keep the Khyber (1879), 232, attacked (1897) the posts and were punished, 232, agreed to the construction of roads and railways through the Pass, 232.
- Age, statistics of, 29, returns untrustworthy, 29, lower mean age of Muhammadans than of Hindus due to their larger number of children, 29.
- Agent to the Governor-General, the Chief Commissioner, 57.
- Agha Khān, the chief of the Khoja community at Bombay, and head of the Maulai sect, 213, his adherents in Chitrāl, 213.
- Agriculture, 37-47; the difference in soil and character between sub-Himālayan Hazāra and the rest of the Province, 37, 38; the uncertainty of the rainfall and the large dependence on irrigation and floods, 38, 39; the two sowings and the two harvests, their seasons and crops, 38-41; fallows and rotation, 38, 39; primitive methods of tillage, harvesting, threshing, and winnowing, 39; cultivation of fruits, 41, 42; statistics of agriculture, 85; cattle, horses, and sheep, 43. See also under Agriculture in Districts.
- Agriculturists: number dependent on agriculture, 34, 39; 31 per cent. actual

- cultivators, 39, peasant proprietors more than half of these, 39, 46; agricultural landless labourers few, 40; their loans and debts, 42, 43; the rise in wages and in cost of food compared, 46, 48; the rise in the standard of comfort, 48; their extravagance and improvidence, 48.
- Agror, well-watered and fertile frontier valley in the Mānsehra tahsil of Hazāra District, 139, mentioned in the Rājā-taranginī and by Ptolemy, 139; its history since Timūr, 140; turbulence since annexation and punitive expeditions, 140; land settlement and revenue, 140.
- Ahmad Shāh Durrāni, his rule in the Peshāwar valley, 18.
- Akbar the Great, restored the Mughal power in the Province, 17, the victories of Mān Singh (1585), 17; the Roshānia (1586) revolt, 17; gave its present name to Peshāwar, 164; his agreement with a Khattak chief for the protection of country south of the Kābul river, 170; fortified (1587) the Malakand and Chakdarra, 221.
- Akhund, the, religious and political leader of a colony of Hindustāni fanatics, in and about the Swāt country, founded (1829) by Mir Saiyid Ahmad Shāh, 218, 224; his famous successor (1835-77), Abdul Ghafūr, 20, 218, 219, 221, his policy of neutrality during and after the Mutiny, 218, compelled to side against the British in the campaign of Ambela, 20, 21, 219, 224, 225; his shrine at Saidu, 221, his grandsons, 221.
- Akra (or Akarah), ancient site and excavated mound with 'culture strata,' as of Khotan in Chinese Turkestan, near Bannu town, 185, 186, 194, 195; finds of Hindu sculpture, engraved gems, 195, bibliography, 195.
- Alexander the Great, his campaign in the Province, 13.
- Ali Masjid, village and fort in the Khyber Pass, 10½ miles from Jamrūd, 227, the difficulty of the road beyond, 228, its capture by Captain Wade in the first Afghān War, and subsequent sieges, 229, 230, its evacuation by Moseley, 230, garrisoned by the Afghāns (1857-78), 231; its capture (1878) by Browne in the second Afghān War, 230.
- Alienation of land. See Land Alienation Act.
- Amān-ul-mulk, the great Mehtar (1880-92) of Chitrāl, 211, 219, his relations with the Kashmir Darbār and the Government of India, 211; the political confusion and fratricides after his death, 211, 212, 219. See also Umrā Khān.
- Amb, village in independent Tanāwal, whose ruler is Nawāb of Amb, K.C.S.I., 122, 138, 139.
- Ambela, mountain pass in Buner, just beyond north-east border of Peshāwar District, 20, 21, 219, 224, gave its name to the Ambela campaign (1863), 20, 21, 219, 224, 225.
- Amusements: fairs and festivals, 36; hawking and snaring in Peshāwar, 146; the Peshāwar Vale Hunt, the hounds of, 146.
- Aqueducts: of Swāt River Canal, 120; the famous Jhindi aqueduct, 167; of Bārā canal, 118, 119.
- Archaeology, general view of, 26-28; its objects, (a) roads, rock-inscriptions, buildings, and sculptures of Buddhist or Graeco-Buddhist civilization, 27, (b) Muhammadan mosques and religious buildings, 27, 28.
- Area, total of Province, of British territory, and of tribes, 1; of Districts, tahsils, and of tracts under political control of Agent, given under each. See also Table of Distribution of Population, 84.
- Army, the, 69; its strength, British and Native, 69; its distribution, 69, military stations of cavalry and infantry, 69; stations of artillery, 69, of sappers and miners, 69; transfer (1886) of Punjab Frontier Force to the control of the Commander-in-Chief, 69; concentration (1899) of garrisons at Naushahra and formation of mobile columns at six centres, 69. See also Cantonments, Forts, Outposts and garrisons.
- Aroras, a trading caste, 33, 130, 150.
- Artisans, classes of, 33, 130, 150 See also under Castes and Occupations in Districts.
- Arts and manufactures, 50-52; cotton, wool, silk, 50, embroidery, jewellery, metal-work, pottery, 51, woodwork, leather, factories, 52. See also under Arts and Manufactures in Districts.
- Arya Samāj, their good work in Bannu for female education, 192.
- Asgram (in Buner), identified with Asigramma of Ptolemy, 224.
- Asoka, his rock edicts near Mānsehra, 27, 129, 143; established Buddhism in Hazāra and Gandhāra, 13.
- Attock slate, (geological) series in Hazāra, 5.
- Aurangzeb, his conciliatory policy towards the Afghāns, 17, 18.
- Avitabile, General, ruler (1838-42) of the Province under Ranjit Singh, 18, 149; enlarged and walled Peshāwar, 164, 165.
- Awāns, or vassals, next in number to

- the Pathāns, 33; in Hazāra, 130. See also under Castes and Occupations in Districts.
- B.
- Eābar, his first (1505) raid into India, 16, his subsequent control of the Province, 16; quoted on the irrigation of the Eannu territory, 189; his diplomatic marriage with a Yūsufzai princess, 217.
- Baffa, town in Hazāra District, 140, the principal mart of Northern Hazāra and adjoining independent tracts and a municipality, 140, 141.
- Bājaur, tract of five valleys in Dir, Swāt, and Chitral Agency, 222; its tribes, communal party government, chieftains, and supreme Khān, 222; history of, 217, 220.
- Bangash, a branch of the Pathāns, inhabitants of the Hangu tahsil of Kohāt District, 169, 170, their characteristics, 172.
- Banj (in Buner), possibly the place of the shrine to commemorate Buddha's offering of his body to feed a starving tigress, 27, 223, 224.
- Bannu District, 182-193, a circular basin drained by the Kurram and Tochi rivers, 182; the climate of the District better than that of the town, 183, 194; left desolate by Mahmūd of Ghazni, and gradually colonized by the Bannūchis and Marwats, 184, ravaged by Nadir Shah (1738), the Durrānis, and Kanjīt Singh, 184, brought under British influence (1847) by Herbert Edwardes, 185; finally (1849) annexed, 185; the Akra mound, 185, 186; its sandy soil, refreshed by silt, manure, and irrigation (30 per cent.), 187-189; metallised tonga roads from Bannu town to Dera Ismail Khān and up the Tochi valley, 189, 190, the important mule road, connecting the outposts on the frontier, 190; the Marwat tahsil declared insecure from famine, 190, the diminution of serious crime since the operations (1902) against the Kābul Khel, 190; the old revenue system of collecting from ta'fās, 191; the first settlement by Edwardes, the last in 1903, and rates of assessment, 191, 192; education, most advanced among the Sikhs, but generally backward, 192, 193; bibliography, 193.
- Bannu tahsil, 193, a green, fertile oasis, in the doāb of the Kurram and Tochi, 187, 193.
- Bannu town (or Edwardesābād), headquarters of District, a cantonment with a fort (Dhulīgarh), 193, 194, a municipality and of considerable trade, 194, 79 miles from Kohāt railway station, 194; a waterlogged, unhealthy site, 194; named after its founder (1848), 194; the rising (1849) of the Sikh garrison, 185.
- Bannūchis, a tribe of Bannu District, 184; their evil characteristics, moral and physical, 186, 187.
- Bārā River, a small affluent of the Kābul, rising in Tirāh, 118, long used for irrigation, 118; its weir for the supply of two modern canals, 118, 119; supplies water to Peshāwar city, 118.
- Bārā (river) canals, their aqueducts and tunnels, 118, 119.
- Bara Gali, small summer cantonment in Hazāra District, 141.
- Barandu, river and valley of Buner, 223.
- Barley, next in importance to wheat, its area, irrigation, and yield, 40. See also under Agriculture in Districts.
- Basic dike rocks (dolerites), 5.
- Bāzār, valley in Khyber Political Agency, 236, inhabited by the thieving Zakka Khel or clan of the Afrīdis, 236, punitive expeditions (1879-98) against, 236.
- Beecher, Major, his firm hold of Hazāra District during the Mutiny, 129.
- Bhaug, generally imported from the Punjab, 66, its considerable consumption, 66, restrictions on sale, 66, duty on, 66, revenue from, 67.
- Bhittanni, tribe inhabiting the hilly, bare country between Derajāt and Mahsūd territory, 255, 256, partly under political control of Deputy-Commissioner of Dera Ismail Khān, 255, expedition (1880) against, 80; lately identified with British interests and forming a company of South Wazīristān militia, 255; their hereditary feud with the Mahsūds, 255; their more civilized ways, 256.
- Bibliography: of the Province, 77, 78; of Himālayas, 107; of the Indus, 116; of Districts, Hazāra, 137, Peshāwar, 157, Kohāt, 178, Bannu, 193, Dera Ismail Khān, 205; of Akra, 195, Kafirkot, 208, Takht-i-Sulaimān, 257.
- Birth-rate, statistics of, 30, the marked excess (120 to 100) of male over female births, 30.
- Bishops, Anglican and Roman Catholic, of Lahore, 34.
- Black Mountain, range on the north-western border of Hazāra, 107, 25 to 30 miles long, 8,000 feet high, 107, its passes and gorges, 107; its turbulent tribes, 107; numerous punitive expeditions against from 1851 to 1892, 20-22, 80-82, 107, 108, their complete pacification, 108.

- Boat-building, 52.
- Bokhāra, steady decline of trade with, due to transit and customs dues imposed by Russia and Afghānistān, 53, trade through Peshāwar, 153, 166.
- Botany, general view of, 8-10, of the plains as of the south-east of Punjab, mainly shrub jungle, 8, of Waziristān and of the Kurram valley, 8, 9, of the Safed Koh, 9, of the hills north of the Kābul river, 9, of higher and more northerly tracts, as of Kashmir, 10; of Himālayas, 102, 103. See also under Botany in Districts.
- Boundaries, of Province, 1; of Districts and Regions, see under first paragraph in each.
- Boya, village in the Daur valley with garrison of Northern Waziristān militia, 245.
- Bridges: (railway) over Indus (and sub-way) at Attock, 54, 111, 154, in construction at Khushālgarh, 54, in Sind, 112; (boat) over Kābul river at Naushahra, 164, over Indus at Attock, Khushālgarh, Dera Ismail Khān, 54, 55, 56, over Kābul river, 118, 154, 164; (road) over Swāt river, 154, 161, over Landai, 154; (swing) over gorges of the Himālayas, 106; (iron suspension) over the Kunhār, Kishangangā, and Jhelum rivers, on the main Kashmir road, 134.
- Buddha, his offering of his eyes, 161, of his body, 27, 223, 224. See also Buddhism.
- Buddhism, remains of, 27; Gandhāra a great centre of, and of Graeco-Buddhist art, 124, 147, the reports of Fa Hian (c. 404), Hiuen Tsiang, and of U-K'ong, 124, 147; persecuted (A.D. 515) by Mihirakula, the Hun, 124; remains of, in Hazāra, 27, 129, 143; the stūpa and shrine where Buddha made an alms-offering of his eyes, at Chārsadda, 161, of his body to a starving tigress, at Banj, 224, the begging-pot of Buddha, a holy pīpal tree, and Kanishka's enormous stūpa, once at Peshāwar, 164; the Gor Khattri, once a monastery, 165; Buddhism (c. A.D. 900) of Chitrāl and Mastūj, Dir and Swāt, 210, 211, 217; identification of its sites in Buner by Dr. Stein, 223, 224; remains of, west of Khyber Pass, 227. See also Asoka.
- Buner, tract on north-east border of Peshāwar District, under political control of Deputy-Commissioner, 223, comprises the isolated, fertile basin of the Barandu river, 223; its interesting archaeological remains investigated (1898) by Dr. Stein, 223, 224; its history, 217-220.
- C.
- Camels, largely used but not bred save in Kohāt District, 43; trade caravans of, 53, 202, 208, 253.
- Canals, for irrigation, 43-45, 120-122, their present and proposed areas of supply, 43-44, of the Indus, 114, 115, their administration, 58, 68, 69, revenue and expenditure, 45, 88; canals south of Peshāwar, private, 45, 189, 201. See also under Irrigation in Districts.
- Canara, Colonel, in Sikh employ, killed by insurgents at outbreak of second Sikh War, monument to at Haripur, 141.
- Cantonments: Abbottābād, 139, Bara Gali, 141, Ghora Dakka, 141, Kalābāgh, 142, Kbaira Gali and Khanspur, 142, Dera Ismail Khān, 207, Hangu, 180; Jamrūd, 233; Kohāt, 180; Mardān, 163, Naushahra, 69, 163; Peshāwar, 164, 165, 166; Cherāt, 161, 162.
- Castes, classes, and tribes, 32, 33; Pathāns, 32, 33; Awāns, Gūjars, Jats, &c., 33; Hindu castes, 33; artisan and menial classes, 33. See also under Castes in Districts.
- Cattle, poor except the Peshāwar buffalo, 43. See also under Cattle in Districts.
- Cess, consolidated for District boards, 68.
- Chakdarra, military post on the Swāt river, 221, garrisoned (1895) by the Chitrāl relief force and since retained, 221; its siege (1897) by the 'Mad Mullā,' 221.
- Chamberlain, General Sir Neville, commander (1863) in Ambela campaign, 20, 21, 81, 225, and in 1855, 1859, and 1860 in frontier expeditions, 80, 81, 239, 250; his friendly mission (1878) to Amir of Afghānistān repelled at Ali Masjid, 230.
- Chāngia Gali, small hill station in Hazāra District, 141, head-quarters of Northern Command School of Musketry, 141.
- Charas, hemp drug, imported in bond from Central Asia, 66, also smuggled from Bokhāra through Chitrāl, 66, restrictions on sale, 66, duty on, 66, revenue from, 67.
- Chārsadda, tahsil of Peshāwar District, consists of a well-irrigated and fertile doāb between the Swāt and Kābul rivers, and of the Hashtnagar tappas or circles, 158.
- Chārsadda town, on Swāt river, head-quarters of tahsil in Peshāwar District, large and prosperous, 161, connected with Peshāwar by a good road of 20 miles, with five permanent bridges of boats, 161; with Prāng identified as Pushkalāvati, capital of region in Greek times, 161, its extensive ruins and finds of coins and

- pottery, 161; once a place of pilgrimage and of the stūpa commemorating Buddha's aims-offering of his eyes, 161.
- Chaukidārs*, village watchmen or rural police, their appointment, duties, remuneration, and number, 70, 71, 91.
- Cherāt, hill sanitarium (4,500 feet) and (summer) cantonment (1886) in Peshāwar District, 161, good water-supply and bearable June nights, 162.
- Chief Commissioner, the, also Agent to the Governor-General, 57.
- Chinese pilgrims to Gandhāra, their reports on the state of Buddhism, 124, saw well-wooded slopes now bare, 153.
- Chitrāl, State in the Dīr, Swāt, and Chitrāl Agency, 210-215; comprises three fertile, well-cultivated valleys, 210, 214; the Mehtar or chief descended from Sangin Ali (d. 1570), 211; the great Mehtar, Amān-ul-mulk (1880-92), his friendly relations with the British, 211, his death followed by wars, fratricides, and revolutions, 211, 212; the invasion and successes against the British of Umrā Khān, 212, the siege of the Political Agent at Chitrāl (1895), 212, raised by a force from Gilgit and finally relieved by a force from the south, 213, the dispersion of invaders and insurgents, 213; its present reduced garrison, 213; the visits of the Mehtar to Calcutta (1900), the Delhi Darbār (1903), and to Peshāwar (1904), 213; the languages and uncertain origin of the three strata of the people, the lowest only paying taxes and land revenue, 213, their religion and justice, Muhammadan, 213, 214; their mineral industries, 214; administration and exaction of revenue, 214; medical, 213; the sale of girls to Afghān harems, 214.
- Chitrāl (Chitrār or Kashkār) town, or group of villages, 214, capital of Chitrāl State and seat of the Assistant Political Resident, 215; the siege (1895) of the fort, 212.
- Chitrālī Scouts, a feudal militia of marksmen, under honorary command of the Mehtar, for the defence of the passes into Chitrāl, 72, their strength, period of service, and armament, 73, 213.
- Cholera, an occasional visitant, deaths per 1,000 from, 30.
- Christian missions, flourishing of the Church Missionary Society, 34, their good work in female education, 157, 192, the benefits of the medical mission, 34, 76. See also under Christian Missions in Districts.
- Civil courts of justice, 60; statistics of, 87.
- Civil and military surgeons, 76.
- Clerks, income and expenditure of, 47.
- Climate and temperature, very diversified, of hills and plains, 11, 12. See also under same head in Districts.
- Coal, its occurrence in Hazāra, 7, 127.
- College, Edwardes Church Mission (the only one in the Province), affiliated to the Punjab University, 74.
- Communication, means of, railways, roads, rivers, post, 54-56; of Hazāra District (no railway), 134, Peshāwar, 154, Kohāt, 175, Bannu (no railway), 189, 190, Dera Ismail Khān (no railway), 202, Kurram Agency, 241. See also Railways, Roads, Rivers, Bridges, Ferries, Fords, Passes, Mail tongas.
- Conveyance and Carriage, means of: mail tongas, 55, other means, mainly pack-camels, 55.
- Copper-ware, hammered, and for Muhammadan use tinned, a speciality of Peshāwar, 51; the Persian character and feeling of the forms and chasing, 51.
- Cotton, grown mostly in Peshāwar and Dera Ismail Khān Districts, 41, its area varying between 3 and 109 square miles according to season, 41, 151; importation of, 85.
- Cotton, industries, 50; imports of piece-goods, 85.
- Courts of justice, civil and criminal, 60, 61; council of elders, 61.
- Cretaceous rocks, with characteristic cenomanian fossils, 6, 7.
- Crime, statistics of cognizable, 71.
- Crimes. See under Civil Justice and Crime in Districts.
- Criminal courts of justice, 60, 61; statistics of, 87.
- Crops, determined more by irrigation, floods, and rainfall than by fertility of soil, 38, 39; rotation of, 39; the principal, with their season, area, and yield, 40, 41, 85; double crops, 38, 39, their area, 85. See also under Agriculture in Districts.
- Crystalline, igneous, and metamorphic rocks, 4.
- Cultivation, conditions and state of, in the settled Districts, 37-39; cultivated, cultivable, uncultivable, and non-cultivated areas of the Province, 85; the total and cultivated areas of each tahsīl, under Chief Agricultural Statistics in Districts. See also Agriculture, Crops.
- Customary law, its wide sphere of application, 59, in the Kurram, 241, of the Dauris, 247, of the Wazīrs, 252.

D.

Dāman, 'skirt of the hills,' a great plain stretching between the Indus and the

- Sulaimān mountains, 38, 195; a natural desert transformed by irrigation, 195, 196, 200.
- Dargai, military station in the Peshāwar division, 69, 219, at the foot of the Malakand Pass, 220; railway to, from Nausabāra, 54.
- Daur, valley of the Tochi river and only administered portion of the Northern Waziristān Agency, 246, unhealthy in the hot season, 246; taken over (1895) at the petition of the inhabitants, 246, the Dauris, a despised Afghān race of 'satyr-like spademen,' 246; the great fertility of the valley, 247, its cotton-weaving industry, system of rents, irrigation, and customary law, 247; the land settlement, with payment in cash or kind, 247, 248.
- Dead, disposal of, as elsewhere, Hindu by cremation, Muhammadan by burial, 36.
- Death-rate, statistics of, 30; infant mortality, 30; deaths from principal diseases, 30; in jails, 73, 74.
- Density of population, 28; statistical table of, 84. See also under People in Districts.
- Deodār, forest revenue mostly from sale of, 47.
- Dera Ismail Khān District, 195-209; between the Indus and the western hills, 195, the dāman or 'skirt of the hills,' cleft and fertilized by the silt of rain-fed torrents, 195, 196, 200; geology, 196; fairly healthy, 197; its history under Baluchi Hots, Durrānis, and Sikhs, 197, 198; under Edwardes (1847) and the British, 198; irrigation (4 per cent.) mostly by private canals, 201; its trade, mainly through, 202; its nearest railway station at Daryā Khān over the river, 202; summary and regular settlements, 203; the high standard of literacy among Sikhs and Hindus, low among Muhammadans, 204; bibliography, 205.
- Dera Ismail Khān tahsil, a bare, generally barren plain, with extreme scarcity of water in the hot season, 205.
- Dera Ismail Khān town, head-quarters of the District and tahsil, and an extensive cantonment, 207; original town swept away (1823) by the Indus, 207; its two bazars and separate quarters of Hindus and Muhammadans, 207; winter head-quarters of Derajāt Brigade, 207; a municipality with bad drainage, 207; increasing trade with Khorāsān and Afghānistān by Gomal Pass, 208.
- Derajāt, local name of the plain between the Indus and Sulaimān range, 122, includes the three Deras, 122; the Baloch immigration in the fifteenth century, 122; the dynasty of the Mirānis for fifteen generations at Dera Ghāzi Khān, 122, 123; overlords of the Baloch feudatories of Kābul, 123; under the Durrānis, 123; tributary to the Sikhs, 123; annexed (1849) by the British, 124; the Derajāt Brigade, 69, 207.
- Dir, 215, 216; territory in the Dir, Swāt, and Chitrāl Agency, 215, comprises the country drained by the Panjkora down to its junction with the Bājaur, 215; fairly fertile and well cultivated, 216, unhealthy in its lower regions, 216; its Khān, the overlord of the clan chiefs, 216; its tribes and languages, 216; the Dir levies, 216; its history, 217-220.
- Dir, Swāt, and Chitrāl Political Agency, 210; formed 1896, Chitrāl added (1897) from the Gilgit Agency, 210; bounded, roughly, north, east, and west by the Hindu Kush, Kashmīr, and Afghānistān, 210; head-quarters on the Malakand Pass, 211.
- Dir, Swāt, Bājaur, and Utmān Khel, their history, 217-220; their early Buddhism and Hindu population and kings, 217; the invasions in the fifteenth century of the Yūsufzais, and introduction of Muhammadanism, 217; their restlessness under the Mughals, 217, 218; their religious dissensions, 17, 218; their independence from the decline of the Mughals to the time of Nādir Shāh, 218; the strong rule of the Akhund, a religious leader (1835-77), 20, 218, 219; the British punitive expedition or campaign (1863) of Ambela, 20, 21, 219, 224, 225; the intrigues and aggressions of Umrā Khān of Jandol, 212, 219, the rising (1897) under the 'Mad Mullā,' 22, 23, 220; the opening (1901) of a railway from Nausabāra to Dargai at the foot of the Malakand, 54, 220; subsequent internal disturbances, 220.
- Diseases, principal, and the mortality from, 30; in jails, 73, 74.
- District, the, unit for police, medical, and educational measures, 58, the Deputy-Commissioner of, and his ordinary staff, 58.
- District Boards, their finance and sphere of duty, 68, 90, consultative, not initiating, bodies, 68. See also under Local and Municipal Boards in Districts.
- Divorce, 31.
- Do-Kora ('two homes'), term applied to Mohmand settlers for a season, 225.
- Donkeys, stallions maintained by veterinary department, 132, 152.
- Dress and coiffure of men and women, 35; Hindus formerly not allowed to wear turbans, 35; the cost of, to wage-earning classes, 46, 47.

Dungā Gali, small sanitarium in Hazāra District, 141.

Durand, Sir Henry, fourth Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, killed (1870) by an accident at Tānk, 198, buried at Dera Ismail Khān, 198.

Durand, Sir Mortimer, negotiated the Durand line (1893-5) with Afghānistān, 25, 26.

Durrānis, rule of, in Peshāwar, 18, in Derajāt, 123. See also Afghāns.

Dwellings, generally a single room, with walls and roof often of mud, 35; its furniture, 35; the village guest- and club-house, 36.

E.

Education, its present organization under an Inspector-General, 74; the Edwardes Church Mission College at Peshāwar, 74; primary and secondary (male) schools, 74, 75; female education of Muhammadan girls by themselves in Urdū schools, 75, of Hindu and Sikhs in Hindi or Gurmukhī, 75; Muhammadan education, backward but progressing, 75, 192, 204; statistics of schools, public and private, pupils and finance, 75, 92. See also under Education in Districts.

Edwardes, Sir Herbert, his pacification (1847-8) and settlement of the Bannu valley, and of Dera Ismail Khān, 185, 191, 203; took part (1848) with new and loyal levies at the siege and storm of Multān, 185, 198; founded (1848) Edwardesābād, 194; the Kābul gate at Peshāwar in his memory, 165; his policy in Tānk, 206.

Edwardes Church Mission College and Anglo-vernacular school at Peshāwar, 74, 166.

Edwardesābād. See Bannu town.

Embroidery, herring-bone, with silk and on muslin, 51.

Excise, revenue from spirituous liquors and intoxicant drugs, 65-67; number and location of shops for retail of, fixed, 66; auction of licences, 66; consumption per head, 63; the control of, in the Agencies, 66.

Exports, across the border, 54; table of values, 87, the excess of value of exports over imports, and the excess of exported over imported treasure, 54; to other Provinces and States of India, 54; of Peshāwar, 153, 166, of Dera Ismail Khān, 201, 207, 208.

Eye, affections of, common in hot, dry Districts of Eaznu and Dera Ismail Khān, 30.

F.

Factories, one cotton-ginning and cleaning at Peshāwar, 52, ice factories at Bannu and Kohāt, 52.

Fairs and festivals, 34, 36.

Fakīr, term applied to a Pathān who has lost his share in the estate and his voice in the councils of the tribe, 32.

Fakīr miskīn ('poor beggars'), the lowest and only tax-paying class in Chiūrāl State, 213, 214.

Fallows, 38.

Famine proper never recorded, 56, the absence of its conditions, want of water and pressure of population, 56; the several Districts in respect of presence of rainfall or irrigation or both, 56, 57; resources of the population other than agriculture, 56, 57; Marwat tahsil of, Bannu District declared (1903) insecure from, 190.

Fault (geological), the great, 5.

Fauna, general view of, 10, 11, of large carnivorous game the tiger now extinct, 10, deer, mārkhōr, and uriāl, 10; game-birds, birds of prey, and others, 10, fish and snakes, 10, 11; of Himālayas, 103, 104. See also under Fauna in Districts.

Female education, 75; statistics of, 92.

Ferries: over Indus, steam at Dera Ismail Khān in hot season, its difficulties, 56, ordinary boats, 56, 111, 116, 154, 202; inflated skins, giving facilities to criminals and so requiring licence, 56; often swept away, 110; over Kābul river, 118, 154, 163, over Swāt, 154, 160, over Landai, 154.

Festivals and fairs, 34, 36.

Finance, 61-67; revenue and expenditure wholly Imperial, 61; statistics of, since 1902-3, 83; large excess of expenditure over income due to requirements of Imperial policy, 62; land revenue, 62-64; miscellaneous revenue, 64-67.

Fishing, in the Indus, 116, 128, in Hazāra, 128, in Peshāwar, 146, in Kohāt, 169.

Floods, of the Indus, 114, of the Kābul river, 118, of the Gomal, 120.

Food, of peasants improved since annexation, 34; generally vegetarian, from economy not principle, 35; outside of towns the use of spirits and opium disreputable, 35; vain efforts of Mullās to stop universal smoking, 35; its price compared with wages, 46, 48.

Food-grains, their total production, 41, their greater consumption due to immigrants and Government servants, 41; imports of, 53, 86; average prices of (1880-1903) in Peshāwar and Dera Ismail Khān, 48.

Fords, of the Indus, 110, 113; of the Swāt, 116; of the Kābul river, 118, the catastrophe (1879) at the Jalālābād ford, 118.

Forests, 'reserved' and systematically administered only in Hazāra, 48, 132, 133; financial results of, mainly from sale of deodār, 48; other forests, their general administration and principal trees, 48, 49, 133; once common in Peshāwar, 152, 153. See also under Forests and Chief Agricultural Statistics in Districts.

Forts, of the Sāmāna range, 109; the Bāla Hisār, outside Peshāwar, 165, Dhulipgarh of Bannu, 194, of Chitrāl, 212, 213, of Mastūj, 215, Abāzai, 161, 162, Alī Masjid, 228-230, Jamrūd, 233, Landi Kotal and other posts in the Khyber, 233, Kurram, 240, Fort Lockhart, 181, Fort Mackeson, 162, Michni, 163, Mardān, 163, Shabkadar, 167; mud fort of Tānk, 209.

Fox-hounds, pack of, at Peshāwar, 146.

Frontier, settlement of, and control over, by Treaty of Gandamak, 21, 231, 232; the Durand line (1893-5), 25, 26; border military police, 71, militia, 72.

Frontier tribes, expeditions against, 20-26; a table of, 80-82.

Fruits, cultivation, home consumption, and exportation of, 41, 42; in the suburbs of Peshāwar, 165, of Kurram valley, 241. See also Orchards.

G.

Gambila. See Tochi river.

Game, large and small, quadruped, winged, and finned, 10, 11. See also under Fauna in Districts, Fishing, and Amusements.

Gandamak, Treaty of (1879), giving the British the control of the Khyber and Mohmand Passes, 21, 231, 232.

Gandhāra (Gandaria of the Greeks), the ancient name of a tract including Peshāwar District, the Mohmand country, Swāt, Bajaur, Buner, part of Kohāt, and the great city of Takshasilā, 124, 147; sent a contingent to Darius in his invasion of Greece, 124; its capitals at different times, 124, 125; a great seat of Buddhist and Graeco-Bactrian culture till about A. D. 515, 124; the famous Gandhāra school of sculpture, 124.

Gardens. See Fruits and Orchards.

Geology, general view of, 4-8; its great diversity, 4, the older unfossiliferous formations, 4-5, the later Mesozoic and Tertiary rocks to the south, 5-7; the salt rocks below the Nummulitic beds, 7, 168, post-Tertiary and recent formations, 7, 8, evidence of old glacial moraines, 8; of the Himalayas, 98-102. See also under Geology in Districts.

Ghora Dakka, small (summer) cantonment in Hazāra District, 141.

Gomal or Gumal river, 119, rising in Afghānistān, enters British territory at Domandi, 119, its tributaries, 119, 120; irrigates Dera Ismail Khān, 120; its waters do not reach the Indus save in flood times, 120; in Southern Waziristān, 249.

Gomal (or Gumal) Pass, from Dera Ismail Khān through the Southern Waziristān Agency to the Afghān plateau, 253, 254; the oldest and most used of the trade routes between India and Afghānistān, 53, 208, 253, the armed caravans of the Powindas, 53, 202; measures taken by the British for its protection by the Mahsūds and themselves, 250, 251, 254.

Gorkhatri, the, at Peshāwar, once a Buddhist monastery, since a Hindu temple and residence of Avitabile, and now a tahsil, 27, 28, 165.

Graeco-Bactrian Kingdom, 13, 14; Gandhāra a great seat of its culture, 124; find of coins in Takhli, 129, in Peshāwar valley, 147; traces of, at Akra in Bannu District, 185, 186, 195.

Graeco-Buddhist art and civilization, remains of, 27; at Gandhāra, 124, 127, 147.

Gram, a spring harvest crop, its area and yield, 40.

Greeks, the, Alexander's invasion (327 B. C.), and his successors, 13, 14; Peshāwar, the meeting-place of Greek with Buddhist culture, 146, 147.

Guest-house, in every Pathān village, 36.

Guides, Queen's Own Corps of, stationed at Mardān, 163.

Guinea-worm, a disease due to drinking tank-water, 30.

Gūjars, the, a tribe professing to be aborigines, the places of their strength, 33; predominant in Hazāra District, 130.

Gumal. See Gomal.

H.

Hangu, tahsil (or Mirānzai) of Kohāt District, consisting of the fertile Mirānzai valley, 179, inhabited by a tribe of the Bangash Pathāns, 179.

Hangu village, head-quarters of tahsil, and of Thal subdivision, 180, a station on the Khushālgarh-Thal branch of the railway, 180, its summer and winter garrison, 180.

'Hangu breeze,' the, a cutting west wind blowing down to Kohāt, 169.

- Haripur, tahsil of Hazāra District, 137.
- Haripur town, head-quarters of tahsil and of District, 1849-53, and a municipality, 141; the obelisk over the grave (1845) of Colonel Canara, 141.
- Harvests: kharif or autumn, sown from May to August, 38, rabi or spring, sown from October to January, 38; the chief crops of each, 40, 41. See also under Agriculture of Districts.
- Hashtnagar ("eight cities"), a tract of high plain and lowlands, from the east of the Swāt to the Kābul river, 162; disputed derivation of the name, 162.
- Hazāra, origin of the name, probably Urasā, the ancient name of Pakhli, 124, 128, 129.
- Hazāra District, 126-143; the only territory of the Province east of the Indus, 126, a wedge thrust between Kashmir and the independent hills of the west, 125; its variety of scenery, altitude, and climate, 126, 128; geology, 127; plentiful fauna, 127, 128, healthy climate and abundant rainfall, 128; its obscure history before the Durrānis, 128, its slow subjection by the Sikhs, 129, transferred by exchange to British after first Sikh War, 129, its firm rule by Major Abbott (1847) before and during the second Sikh War, 129, of Major Beecher during the Mutiny, 129, final pacification of the Black Mountain, 129; its important archaeology, 129; population, with a table of statistics, 129, 130; agriculture, 131, 132, its important "reserved" and village forests, 132, 133; no railways, the principal metalled road from Attock to Kashmir, 134; administration, 135; land settlement and revenue, the reduction of the Sikh demand, 135, 136; backward education, 136, 137; bibliography, 137.
- Headmen, village, collectors of revenue, 58; as responsible officers, a British innovation, 67.
- Hill stations, Chāngla Gali, 141, Nathia Gali, 143, Sheikh Budin, 209. See also Cantonments, Forts, Sanitaria.
- Hills. See Mountains.
- Himālayas, the ("abode of snow"), 94-107; our imperfect knowledge of them, fasim; their extent from the Dhāng river on the east to the snows on the west, 94, 97; their political distribution, 94, 95; a series of high ranges with diverging spurs (Outer Himālayas) ending abruptly, 45; the final and lower range of Siwāliks, 95, 99; the true watershed the boundary between India and Tibet, 95; scenery, snow-line, and protruding glaciers, 96, 97; highest peaks, 97; the source of the great rivers of the Indo-Gangetic system, 97; the valleys of Kashmir and Nepal, 97, 98; geology, 98-102; origin due to a great folding, mainly in Tertiary era, 98, 99; flora, 102, 103; fauna, 103, 104; tribes, religions, and languages of people, 104, 105; crops and forests, 105, 106; present and projected means of communication by railways, roads, bridle-paths, passes, swinging bridges over great rivers flowing in deep gorges, 106; bibliography, 107.
- Hindu Kush or Koh, or Indian Caucasus, 3, separated by the Indus from the Himālayas proper, 94.
- Hindus, number of speakers of Hindī and kindred dialects, 32, marriage among, 30, cremation of dead, 36, as traders, 33, formerly not allowed to wear turbans, 35, honorific titles of, 37, male and female education among, 75, 204, by Pathān customary law among the Dauris a Hindu counts as half a man, 247.
- History of the Province, 12-26; its always closer political relations with Eastern Irān and Afghānistān than with India, 12; as two satrapies of the Persian empire, 13; during the Greek invasion and short occupation, 13; under the Mauryans and Asoka, 13; the Graeco-Bactrian power, 13, 14; under the Kushans, 14, under the White Huns, 14; part (c. A.D. 1000) of the Ghaznavid empire, 15, under the Ghorids, 15, Mongol invasions and supremacy, 15, 16; Timūr's (1398) devastation, 16; the rise of the Afghāns to power, 16; under Bābar, Akbar, and the Mughal power (1526-1738), 15-18; the revolts (1586-1660) of the Roshānias, 17; Nādir Shāh and Ahmād Shāh Durrāni, 18; under the Barākkzais and Sadozais, 18; the invasions and conquests (1818-49) of the Sikhs, 18; British annexation (1849) and administration, 19; the frontier Districts a source of strength during the Mutiny, 19, 20; the frontier tribes and Afghānistān, British relations with as determined by the Treaty (1875) of Gandamak, 21, and the Durand line (1893-5), 25, 26; expeditions against the frontier tribes (1849-1902), 20-25, a statistical table of, 80-82; formation (1901) of the Province, 26.
- Hsien Tsiang, Buddhist pilgrim from China of the seventh century, lamented decline of Buddhism in Gandhāra, 124, 161, found Pakhli tributary to Kashmir, 125, describes Und, 125; his Ki Kiangha and Falana identified with Kurram and Bannu, 26, 27.

Honorific titles, 37.
 Horses, donkeys, and mules, their breed encouraged by Imperial Remount department in Hazāra and by District Boards, 43. See also under Cattle, Ponies, and Sheep in Districts.
 Hospitals and Dispensaries, 76, statistics of, 93. See also under Hospitals and Dispensaries in Districts.
 Hot (Baluchi) dynasty of Upper Derajāt from fifteenth to eighteenth century, 197, founded by Malik Sohrāb, 197, 207, the towns founded and named by his sons Ismail and Fateh Khān, 197, 207.
 Huns, the White, held Northern India, 14, their king Mihirakula defeated (528) by a confederacy of Indian princes, 15; his persecution of Buddhism, 124.

I.

Idak, village and garrisoned post in Northern Waziristān Agency, in the Daur valley, 245.
 Imports, from across the borders, 53, a table of values, 87; from other Provinces and States of India, 54, a table of items and values, 86; of Peshāwar, 153, 166, of Dera Ismail Khān, 202, 207, 208.
 Income tax, revenue from, number of assesses and incidence, 67.
 Indus river (Greek, Sinθος; Latin, Sindus), the great river of North-Western India, 4, 109-114; its course of 1,800 miles, and the principal towns on its banks, 109; its gorge through the Himālayas, 110; in the North-West Frontier Province, 110; its great tributaries, 110, 111; its width, depth, fall, velocity, volume, temperature, and colour at different places and seasons, 109-112; navigable below Attock, 110; its bridges and ferries, 110-112; its timberless and generally infertile delta, 112, 113; its changed course and shifting channels and estuaries, 113, 114; its inundations, embankments, and irrigation, 113, 114; its principal canals, 114, 115; its difficult navigation and disappointing traffic, 115, 116; fish, and boats, 116; bibliography, 116.
 Infant mortality, not high, if registration were full and trustworthy, 30; female infanticide not suspected, 30.
 Infra-Trias (geological), formation of Hazāra, 5, 6.
 Inoculation, old hereditary habit of, 77.
 Intoxicants (liquors and drugs), the restrictions on their free use by limited manufacture, by duties, by limiting the number of licensed shops for their sale, by selling licences, 65, 66, the amount, slightly decreasing, of their consumption per head, 65; general abstinence of Muhammadans from alcoholic liquors, not from drugs, 65.

 Intoxicating drugs. See Bhang, Charas, and Opium.
 Intoxicating liquors: imported beer, sale of, 66; country spirits, manufacture of, in the Province, 66, importation of, 66, consumption of, 66; restrictions on sale, 66; revenue from, 67.
 Iron-work, manufacture of sword-blades and knives at Peshāwar and of fire-arms in Kohāt Pass, 51; once a common industry of the frontier, 51.
 Irrigation, 43-45, 57; of cultivated area 25 per cent. by canals, 2 per cent. by perennial streams or floods, 1 per cent. by wells, 43, 85; present and projected canals and their sources, 43-45, 120-122; areas of, 44, 57; system of water distribution, 45; canal revenue and expenditure, 45, 88, the insanitary effects of excessive, at Bannu, 183; transformation of the dāman desert by, 195, 196, 200.

J.

Jails, 73, 74; under Administrative Medical Officer of Province, 73; statistics of their number, population, earnings, decreasing mortality, and increasing cost, 73; the causes of the decrease in mortality are also causes of increased cost, 74. See also under Police and Jails in Districts.
 Jamrūd, fort and cantonment at mouth of Khyber Pass, just beyond the border of Peshāwar District, 233, head-quarters of Khyber Rifles, and the toll station for the Pass, 233; large mobilization camping-ground between it and Peshāwar, 233, its branch railway line, 233.
 Jandola (or Jandula), village of the Bhit-tanni, and fortified post on the border of the Southern Waziristān Agency, 236.
 Jats, practically all Muhammadans, numerous in the Indus Valley, 33, 199.
 Jewellery, manufacture of, at Peshāwar and in Hazāra, 51.
Jirgas, or councils of elders, 61.
 Judicial Commissioner, the, supreme civil and criminal court of, 60.
 Jurassic (geological) formation, 6.
 Justice, in the Province, based on customary law, and in its absence Hindu or Muhammadan law, 59, its civil and criminal courts, judges, and magistrates, 60, 61; in the trans-border territories, 61; in Chitrāl, 214; in the Kurram Agency, 241.

K.

- Kābul river, its source in Afghānistān, 117, its tributaries and rapid growth below Kābul city, 117, reaches British territory near Michni fort, 117, after a course of 316 miles joins the Indus at Attock, 117; useful only for irrigation to Jalālābād, 117, thence to Dobandi, navigable by skin-rafts, 117, 118, thence by boats and small ships, 118; its fords, ferries, and bridges, 118.
- Kābul River Canal, a perennial irrigation work, supplying 30,000 acres, 121, a revival of an old Mughal work, 121; its channels and district of supply, 121; capital cost and profit of 24 per cent., 122.
- Kāfirkot (Til Kāfirkot, Rājā Sir-kot), extensive ruins of walls and temples in Ismail Dera Khān District, 208, south of the junction of the Kurram with the Indus, 208.
- Kāgān (or Khāgān), mountain valley in Hazāra District, 142, the most northerly point of British India, 142, surrounded save at its mouth by the high hills of Kashmīr, 142; its large 'reserved' forests, and timber rafts down the Kunhār to Jhelum, 142.
- Kālābāgh, small (summer) cantonment in Hazāra District, 142.
- Khāgān. See Kāgān.
- Khaibar. See Khyber.
- Khaira Gali, small (summer) cantonment in Hazāra District, 142.
- Khanspur, part of Ghora Dakka (summer) cantonment in Hazāra District, 142.
- Khattaks, a Pathān tribe, dominant in the Deri tahsil of Kohāt District, 169, 170; their moral and physical characteristics, 172, 179.
- Khattris, a trading caste, 33, 130, 150.
- Khels* or clans of Pathān tribes, for principal see Afrīdis, Orakzais, Wazīrs, Yūsufzais; also Expeditions against Frontier Tribes, 20-25, 80-82.
- Khushālgarh, railway bridge over Indus at, 54, 175.
- Khyber (or Khaibar), celebrated Pass from Peshāwar District into Afghānistān, now part of the Khyber Political Agency, 227-232, over the last spurs of the Safed Koh, 227; 33 miles long from Jamrūd to Dakka, 3,400 feet high, 227; its chief points and conditions of ascent and descent, 227, 228; always a gateway into India, 228, its history, 228, 229; first crossed by a British force (1839) conveying Shāh Shujā's son to Kābul, 229, in the first Afghān War (1839-42), 229, 230; in the second Afghān War (1878-80), 230, 231; the Khyber tribes left under British control by the Treaty (1879) of Gandamak, 231, 232, the care of the Pass entrusted to the tribesmen, 232, their treachery (1897) and punishment, 232, the last (1898) settlement with the Afrīdis and augmentation of Khyber Rifles, 232; Landi Kotal and other posts in the Pass, 233; the Pass picketed twice a week for the passage of caravans, 53, 231.
- Khyber Political Agency, comprising the country on both sides of the Pass, Tirāh and Mallagori, none of it administered, 231; now as always held or inhabited by Afrīdi Pathāns, 228.
- Khyber Rifles, the garrison of the Khyber Pass, 233, their formation and subsequent (1898) augmentation and command by British officers, 232.
- Kohāt District, 167-182; central of the Province, 167, a raised plateau, broken by lines of moderate hills, 168, with extremes of heat and cold, drought and flood, 169; its salt beds, 168, 174; its history under Bangash and Khattak chiefs through Mughal and Durrāni supremacy, 169, 170, under the Sikhs and the British, 170, 171; expeditions against the Mirānzai tribes, 171; a recent decrease in the cultivated area, partly due to lightness of revenue demand and large frontier remissions, 173, 176; increasing rail-borne trade with Tirāh and Kābul, 175; railway and roads, 175; the border military police, 177, 178; education very backward, 178; bibliography, 178.
- Kohāt tahsil, 178, 179.
- Kohāt town, head-quarters of District and tahsil, and cantonment, 180, a municipality, on a branch of the North-Western Railway, 180.
- Kohāt Pass, 53, 144, 175; its entrance commanded by Fort Mackeson, 162.
- Kohāt salt quarries, many in the District, 49, 180; salt of good quality but of inferior colour, 168, 181; quantity excavated (1903-4) and average revenue, 181; large exports, 181; the considerable preventive staff necessary, 181.
- Kohāt Toi, small disappearing and re-appearing affluent of the Indus, 168.
- Kulāchi, tahsil of Dera Ismail Khān District immediately below the Sulaimān mountains, 205, a bare plain cleft by deep water-runs, utilized for irrigation, 205.
- Kulāchi town, head-quarters of the tahsil, an aggregation of separate hamlets, 208, a municipality with a reviving trade with the Wazīrs, 208.
- Kunhār, river of the Kāgān valley in

- Hazāra, affluent of the Jhelum, 4, 126, 142.
- Kurram (or Kuram) Political Agency, a section of the Kurram valley, 236-243; the beauty and healthiness of Upper Kurram, 238, the dreariness and heat of Lower, 238; its legendary and authentic history to the decline of the Mughals, 238, 239; the aborigines supplanted by the Tūris, 239, their raids and punishment (1854-78), 239, the fort occupied (1878) and evacuated (1880) by General Roberts, 241; its administration finally (1892) taken over by the British at the request of the Tūris, 240-243; its natural productiveness under irrigation, 240, 241, its increasing crops and fruits, 241; its good road (54 miles) to the railway terminus at Thal, 181, and bridle-paths constructed in 1893, 241; the summary settlement and the resettlement (1904), 242, the political and religious allowances, 242; its generally backward education, 243; military and civil hospitals for men and women, 243.
- Kurram river, rising in Afghānistān, runs through the Kurram valley proper, 237, 238, Kohāt and Bannu Districts, and falls into the Indus opposite Mīanwāli, 4, 119, in Bannu District, 182; the fertilizing value of its irrigation and silt, 183, 187.
- Kurram Pass, 53, 227, twice (1878-9) forced by General Roberts, 239, 240.
- Kushans, the, an early (Scythian) dynasty of North-Western India, 14, their famous kings, Kadphises I and II and Kanishka, 14, their school (Gandhāra) of art, 14, 124; supplanted by Ki-to-lo, 14; in Peshāwar valley, 147.
- L.
- Labourers, wages and condition of, 47.
- Lac turnery and ware, 52.
- Lakki, head-quarters of the Marwat tahsīl, Bannu District, 194; displaced (1864) as capital of Marwat by a Sikh fort and town built 1844, 194.
- Land, rise in value of, 46, 48. See also Rents.
- Land Alienation Act, the (Punjab), extended to most of the Province, to prevent land passing to money-lenders, 43, 64, not to purely Pathān Districts of Peshāwar and Kohāt, 64.
- Land revenue, native methods of assessing and collecting, 45, 46, 158, 191; in the British Districts as in the Punjab, 63; in the Agencies, 63, 64. See also Settlement.
- Landai river, formed by the junction of the Kābul and Swāt rivers, 4, drains a vast but dry area, 4, its size also reduced by irrigation, 4, joins the Indus at Attock, 110, 145, its bridges of boats and ferries, 154.
- Landi Kotal, post and fort at the top of Khyber Pass, 233, taken (1897) by Afridis, 233.
- Language, Iranian Pashtū the dominant, in its two dialects and their sub-dialects, 31, 32, the distribution of their speakers, 31, 32; the dialects of the conquered strata, 32; a table of the numbers speaking the chief languages, 32. See also under People in Districts.
- Lawrence, George, British officer at Peshāwar, 170, took refuge in Kohāt on outbreak of second Sikh War, 170, treacherously surrendered by Sultān to Sikhs, 171.
- Leather-work, chiefly shooting-belts and shoes, 52.
- Legislation, no Legislative Council in the Province, 59; the chief legislative measures affecting the Province passed since 1880, 59.
- Lepers, institution for, 76.
- Levy Corps, now replaced by Militia (q.v.) save in Dir, Swāt, and Chitral Agency, 73, their duties and armament, 73.
- Liquors. See Intoxicants.
- Literacy, statistics of. See under People and Education in Districts.
- Loans to agriculturists by Government, 42, 43, by money-lenders, 43, 48.
- Lockhart, Fort, military outpost on the Sāmāna range, in Kohāt District, 181, summer head-quarters of general commanding military district, 181, the monuments here and elsewhere to the gallant Sikhs massacred at Saragarhi in 1897, 181.
- Lockhart, Sir W., his punitive expedition (1898) against the Afridis of the Khyber Pass, 232, 235; commander in frontier expedition of 1891 against Orakzais, 83.
- Lunatics, no asylum for, in the Province, 76.
- M.
- Mackeson, Fort, in Peshāwar District, built to command the north entrance to the Kohāt Pass, 162, dismantled (1887) save the keep, 162.
- Magistrates, 60; honorary, 61.
- Mahāban ('Great Forest'), a mountain in independent territory, bordering on Peshāwar and Hazāra Districts, 108; its tribes, 108; wrongfully identified with the site of Aornos, taken by Alexander, 108, 223.
- Mahsūds, a branch of the Wazirs, history and raids of the tribe since 1860, 20-25, 250, 251, 253, 254, 255; country of the,

- 253-255, its difficulty of penetration, 254; the branches of its robber tribe, 254; British attempts to organize and regulate by allowances to its maliks, 255; risings of and expeditions against, 20, 22, 25.
- Mail tongas, 55.
- Maizar, village in Northern Waziristan Agency, 245, the treachery (1897) and punishment of the Mada Khels, 22, 244, 245.
- Maize, chief crop of autumn harvest, its area, localities, and return per acre of irrigated and unirrigated land, 40.
- Malakand, pass from Sam Rānizai into the Swāt valley, with military post, 221; taken (1895) by Chitrāl relief force and since occupied, 221, attacked (1897) by Swātis under 'Mad Mullā', 221; the head-quarters of the Dir, Swāt, and Chitrāl Agency, 221; the railway from Naushahra to Dargai at its foot, 54, 220; proposed irrigation tunnel under, 44, 121.
- Malaria, its virulent and malignant forms in 'Peshāwar fever' and in Dera Ismail Khān, 30, 146; mortality from, 30; in Hazāra, 128, in Kohāt, 169, in Bannu, 184; in Dera Ismail Khān, 197; of Lower Swāt, as a cause of physical and moral inferiority, 217, 220, 225.
- Malik Sohrāb, founder of Hot dynasty of Upper Derajāt, 197, 207.
- Maliks*, heads of Pathān tribes, 241; the failure of the British to introduce responsible government by them among the Mahsūds, 255.
- Mānsehra, tahsil of Hazāra District, 137, 138.
- Mānsehra town, head-quarters of tahsil, 142, on the main road to the Kashmir border, 142; its trade in grain and country produce, 142; near two rocks inscribed with thirteen of Asoka's edicts in Kharoshthī character, 27, 143.
- Mardān, tahsil of Peshāwar District, 159, 160.
- Mardān town, head-quarters of tahsil, cantonment, and permanent head-quarters of Queen's Own Corps of Guides, 163, fort Luilit (1854) by Hodsop, 163.
- Mārkhōr*, or wild goat, 10.
- Marriage, among Muhammadans a civil contract, among Hindus in theory a sacrament, 30; purchase of wives and sale of widows, 31; divorce and other penalties of infidelity, 31; statistics of married, unmarried, and widowed men and women, 31.
- Marwat, tahsil, 193; manly tribe of Bannu District, 184, 186; range, 182.
- Mastūj, village, fort, and district irregularly subject to Chitrāl, 215, its elevation of 7,800 feet and severe winters, 215; its Sanskrit rock-inscription, 210, 211.
- Material condition of the people, general improvement in, 47, 48, checked by the faults and vices of the population, 48.
- Mātim kotāhs*, Shiah mourning-houses, 242.
- Maulai, sect in Chitrāl, recognizing headship of the Agha Khān, 213.
- Medical department under an Administrative Medical Officer, 76; civil and military medical officers, 76; hospitals and dispensaries for men and women, 76; vaccination and inoculation, 76, 77; statistics of patients, of income and its sources, of expenditure upon hospitals and dispensaries, and of the number, success, and cost of vaccinations, 93. See also under Hospitals and Dispensaries in Districts.
- Mesozoic (geological) formations, 5.
- Michni, fort (1851) in District and tahsil of Peshāwar, 163, commands an important ferry over Kābul river, 163; murder of Lieutenant Boulnois (1852), of Major MacDonald (1873) by Mohmands, 163; since 1885 held by border military police, 163.
- Migration, immigration, and emigration, 29, in times of scarcity, 57.
- Militia, local levies from either side of the border, employed in garrisoning trans-border outposts, 72, their strength, armament, and stations, 72.
- Millet, spiked (bājra) and great (jowār), their area, localities, and return per irrigated and unirrigated acre, 41.
- Mines and minerals, 49, 50; rock-salt alone of commercial importance, 49; lignite in Hazāra, 49; coal in the Maidān range, 49; iron, 49, 50. See also under Mines and Minerals in Districts.
- Mirām Shāh, head-quarters (with garrison) of Northern Waziristan Agency, 245.
- Mirānis, dynasty of, in Derajāt, 122, 123.
- Mirānzai valleys, 168, 169 tribes of, 169-171, punitive expedition (1855) against, 171.
- Mohmand Country, north-east of Peshāwar District, partly in British territory, under political control of Political Agent, 225-227, its unfavourable and unhealthy physical aspects, 225; the Mohmands and their vassal tribes, 225; the history of the people and of the Khāns of Lālpura, 226; their unruliness and outrages, and the necessity of repeated punitive expeditions, 23, 24, 163, 167, 227. See also Pathān Revolt.

Mongol invasions, 15, 16.
 Monsoon, the, 11, 12, 169.
 Mortality. See Death-rate.
 Mountain systems, general view of, 2-4, principal ranges, 94-109. See also under Hill System in the several Districts.
 Mughals, the: Bābar's first (1505) raid into India, 16; his control of the Province after his victory (1526) at Pānīpat, 16; subsequent revolts and weakening of Mughal control till the victories of Akbar's general, Mān Singh, 16, 17, the risings of the Roshānia heretics against Akbar, Jahāngīr, Shāh Jahān, and Aurangzeb, 17, defeats of the imperial forces, 17, the conciliatory policy of Aurangzeb, 18; the decline of the Mughals, and the subjection (1738) of their governor to Nādir Shāh, 18; their inability to keep open the Khyber Pass due to the hostility of the Afridis, 228.
 Muhammadan invasions and supremacy, 15, 16, early (986) of Ghaznivids, 15, 184, later (1179) of Ghorids, 15; the Mongol invasions and overlordship, 15, 16; later of Yūsufzais, 217.
 Muhammadans, 92 per cent. of population, mainly Sunnis, 33; their fanatical Mullās, 34, 35; ample toleration of Hindu traders, 33, names, religions, and honorific titles among, 37; backward state of education among, and its special encouragement by stipends and scholarships, 75, 192, 204; female education among, conducted in Urdū, 75; abstain from intoxicating liquors, not from drugs, 65; customary law of, 59, 241, 247.
 Mules, breeding of, encouraged, 43.
 Mullā Mastān, the 'Mad Mullā,' of Swāt, his early history, 221; incited (1897) the Pathān Revolt, 22, 23, 220.
 Mullā, the Adda, 227.
 Mullā Powinda, a fanatic leader of the Mahsūds, 251, 253.
 Mullagori road, by which the Khyber can be turned, 228.
 Mullās, fanatical priests of the Sunnis, 34, 35; their opposition to education, 157.
 Municipalities, their history, composition, revenue, and expenditure, 67, 68, 89. See also under Local and Municipal Boards in Districts.
 Music, Pathān, 36.
 Mutiny, the (1857): disarmament of troops at Dera Ismail Khān and Kohāt, 19, at Peshāwar, 19, 149; the rising, pursuit by Nicholson, and ultimate destruction of rebels of Mardān, 19, 149; the raising of new levies, 19, 20; the Province a source of strength, 20. See also under History in Districts.

N.

Nādir Shāh's defeat (1738) of the Mughal governor of Kābul, 18, 184, 218.
 Names and titles, 36, 37, a son never named after his father, 37; importance of honorific titles, official, social, and especially religious, 37; a man's name a plain indication of his religion, 37.
 Nathia Gali, hill station in Hazāra District, 143, with Dungā Gali a 'notified area,' 143.
 Naushahra, tahsil of Peshāwar District, 160.
 Naushahra town, head-quarters of tahsil, and important cantonment, 69, 163, on the North-Western Railway and the grand trunk road, 163, the Kābul river crossed (1903) by railway bridge, iron road, and bridge of boats, 164, good roads to Mardān and Chārsadda, 164; the railway to Dargai at the foot of the Malakand Pass, 54, 220; the flood of 1858, 114.
 Nawāshahr, municipality in Hazāra District, 143.
 Newspaper, only one published, a weekly missionary journal, in Urdū, 75, 76.
 Nicholson, General John, the Nicholson Memorial at Bannu, 194; his pursuit of the rebels of Mardān, 149; raised new levies, 20; made first summary settlement of Bannu, 191.
 Nilābi, the boatmen of the Kābul river, 118.
 North-West Frontier Province, its position, boundaries, and area, 1; physical aspects, 1-12; the history of the territory from the empire of Darius Hystaspes (c. 516 B.C.) till the formation (A.D. 1901) of the new Province, 12-26; archaeology, 26-28; population, 28-37; agriculture, 37-43; irrigation, 43-45; rents, wages, and prices, 45-47; material condition of the people, 47, 48; forests, 48, 49; mines and minerals, 49, 50; arts and manufactures, 50-52; commerce and trade, 52-54; means of communication, 54-56; famine, 56, 57; administration, 57-61, 67-69; finance, 61-67; army, 69; police, 69-74; education, 74-76; medical, 76, 77; surveys, 77; bibliography, 77, 78; genealogical, historical, and statistical tables, 79-93; mountains, rivers, canals, and historical areas, 94-125; accounts in detail of its five Districts, 126-209; tribal areas, &c., 210-257.
 'Notified areas' under Act of 1891, 68.
 Nummulitic (eocene) formations, 7; the occurrence of coal and mineral oil in connexion with them, 7; overlies the Kohāt salt, 7, 168.

O.

- Occupations, 34; 64½ per cent. of population dependent on agriculture, 34. See also under Castes and Occupations in Districts.
- Oetroi, chief source of municipal income, 68.
- Oghi (or Ughi), chief place in the Agror valley, Hazāra District, 143, head-quarters of Hazāra border military police, 143.
- Ohind. See Und.
- Oilseeds, principally til and rapeseed, 41; area of cultivation, 41, 85.
- Opium, all imported, from Bengal, Mālwa, Afghānistān, and Kashmir, 65; Punjab duty-paid admitted free, 65; price of, 65, consumption, total and per head, 65, revenue from, 67.
- Orakzai, Pathān tribe of Sāmāna range and Tirāh, 236; its chief subdivisions and their strength, 236; risings and punitive expeditions against, 22, 23, 80, 81, 82. See also Pathān Revolt.
- Orchards and gardens, cultivation of fruits in, 41, 42, area of 4,000 acres, 41, mostly in Peshāwar District, 42, 165, annual exports of fruits from Peshāwar, 42; a daily fruit van in autumn to Calcutta, 42; of Kurram, 244.
- Outposts and garrisons, military, 72; Abāzai, 161, 162, Boya, 245, Chakdarra, 221, Malakand, 221, Ilangu, 180, Idak, 245, Jandola, 207, 256, Fort Lockhart, 181, Sāragaihi, 181, Fort Cavagnari or Gulistān, 109, Mirām Shāh, 245, Oghi, 143, Pārachinār, 243, Sadda, 243, Tānk, 209, Thal, 181, 182, Wānā, 253, Drosh in Chitrāl, 213, Drazinda, 69, 207, Jatta, 69, 207, Zam, 69; the frontier road connecting the outposts, 190. See also Cantonments, Forts, Hill Stations, Sanitaria, Stations (military).

P.

- Pakli, its ancient name of Urasā (Hazāra), 124, 128, 129; an ancient sarkār or district of the Mughal empire, 124, roughly between the Indus and Jhelum rivers, 124; in its early history associated with Kashmir, 125; in Bābar's time, 125; its boundaries in the Ain-i-Akbari, 125; under the Durrānis, 125; find of Græco-Bactrian, Kushan, and other coins, 129.
- Pakhto. See Pashtū.
- Panjhora, river (affluent of Swāt) and valley of Dir, 215, 216.
- Pārachinār, head-quarters of the Kurram Agency and militia, 243, its temperate climate and natural fertility under irrigation, 243.

Pashtū, the dominant speech, 31; its main dialects—hard or north-eastern Pakhto, soft or south-western Pashto, 31, their asserted correspondence respectively with oligarchic and democratic organization, 31; its classical and literary dialect of the Yūsufzai, 31, 32.

Passes, British control of, by Treaty of Gandamak, 20, 25, 232, by Durand agreement, 25, 26; surveys of, 77; as trade routes, 27, 53; defence of, in Chitrāl by scouts, 72, 73; over the Himālayas to Tibet, 106, 107; from Peshāwar into Swāt, 144, Lawarai to Chitrāl, 213, Mohmand, 21, 225, 226, Ambela, 224, 225, the Peiwar Kotal, 2, 55, 240, the Shutargardan, 21, 55, 239, 240, Kurram, 227, 239, 242, Kohāt to Bannu, 53, 144, 175, Gomal, 253, 254, Malakand, 53, 221, Khyber, 227-232, of the Black Mountain, 107.

Pathān Revolt, the (1897), its religious and other causes, and spread from Tochi, through Swāt, the Mohmands, and Tirāh, 23, 24; its suppression (1898) and punishment, 24, 82.

Pathāns (Pakhtāna), the dominant class, speaking the dominant language, 32; no longer race but the status of a sharer in the tribal estate and councils denoted by the term, 32; their distribution, number, and often mixed origin, 32, 33; genealogical table of, 79; their toleration of Hindus, 33, abstemiousness, 35, extravagant hospitality, 35, 36, their love of field sports, robbery, and music, 36, their club in the guest-house, 36; their natural and acquired laziness as cultivators, 39; their extravagance, improvidence, litigation, and crime, 48; their ancient systems of tenure and of the periodical redistribution of land, 62, 63; their claim of 'eye for eye,' 247; their blood-feuds, 247, 252.

Patwāris, or village accountants, 58.

Peshāwar District, 143-167; a huge basin, surrounded by hills save to the east, and drained by the Kābul river, 143, 144; the independent tribes of the hills, 143, 144; from May to October dusty, hot, and oppressive, with deadly malaria, 146, large game scanty, 146; its early history as the meeting-point of Greek and Buddhist culture, 146, 147, under Muhammadan, Mongol, and Mughal supremacies, 147-149, the immigration of Afghāns in the fifteenth century, 148, under the Durrānis and the Sikhs, 149, under the British (1848) and during the Mutiny, 149; its great fertility under irrigation (40 per cent.), 151,

- 152; its cotton, woollen, and copper industries, 153; its internal trade and more important through trade from Kābul and Bokhāra, 153; its railways, roads, and rivers, 154; its heavy criminal work, 155; the land settlements and revenue, 155, 156, frontier remissions, 156; police, civil and border military, 156, 157; standard of literacy (4 per cent.) lower now than in 1891, 157; medical, 157; bibliography, 157.
- Peshāwar tahsīl, consists of a low-lying basin of the Kābul river, and of uplands rising to Afrīdī hills, 158; intersected by Kābul River Canal, 158; its headquarters the city and cantonment of Peshāwar, 158.
- Peshāwar City, capital of the Province, head-quarters of the District and tahsīl, 164-166; its historical importance and religious associations, 164; its connexions by rail with Calcutta and Bombay, and with Jamrūd fort (10½ miles) near the Khyber Pass, 164, by road (190 miles) with Kābul, 164; its population of nearly 100,000, over two-thirds Muhammadans, 164; its large cantonment, the head-quarters of the Peshāwar military division of the Northern Command, and its finance, 164, 165, 166; the garrison pack of hounds, 146; the modern town with mud (being replaced by brick) walls and sixteen gates, 165; water-works and good sanitation, 165; handsome mosques, and the Gor Khattri, once Buddhist and Hindu, now the tahsīlī, 165; the strongly fortified and armed Bāla Hisār outside the walls, 165; the public and private gardens of the suburbs, 165; finance of the municipality, 166; public institutions, 166; trade, 166.
- Petroleum springs in Kohāt District, 7, 174.
- Pinjra*, lattice-work made at Peshāwar, 52.
- Plague, epidemic, its appearance (1906) in parts, 30.
- Police, border military, originally formed on the silladāri system, to guard against border raids, 71, now a regular force of horse and foot, on garrison and patrol duty, 72, 157; its strength, 72. See also under Police and Jails in Districts.
- Police, civil, its administration under an Inspector-General, 69, 70, its history since annexation, 70; its present position, strength, armament, and training, 70; proportion of, to area and population, 70; rural, municipal, cantonment, ferry, and railway police, 70, 71; cognizable crime, statistics of, 71; statistics of and expenditure on, 91. See also under Police and Jails in Districts.
- Political Agencies, five, each under a Political Agent, 59.
- Pollock, General, the march of his army (1842) back to India through the Khyber Pass, 230, the various fortunes of the three divisions, 230.
- Pomegranates, of Peshāwar, 42.
- Population, total of, nearly four millions, 28; average density, 152 per square mile, highest (152) in valley of Peshāwar, lowest (42) in Kurram Agency, 28; its distribution between towns and rural areas, 28; the tendency, due to the sense of security, to found new homesteads, 28; growth of, 30 per cent. since 1881, nearly 10 per cent. between 1891 and 1901, 29; statistics of age, 29; statistical table of distribution, &c., of population, 84. See also under People in Districts.
- Post office, two postal divisions, 56; Province included with Kashmir in a single telegraph division, 56.
- Post-Tertiary and recent (geological) formations, 7, 8.
- Pottery, glazed and unglazed for native use, made at Peshāwar, 51, unglazed^o in Hazāra and Bannu, 52.
- Powindas, nomad merchants, armed conductors of camel caravans, pass through without breaking bulk, 53, 202; the articles of their trade, 202; of Gomal Pass, 208, 253.
- Prāng, town in Peshāwar District, practically a part of Chārsadda (q. v.), 166, 167.
- Prices, of agricultural staples and salt, 47, 48, their rise compared with the greater rise in wages, 47; of opium, 65.
- Public works (save canals and railways), in charge of Commanding Royal Engineer of the Province, 68.
- Pulses, other than gram, their area of cultivation, 41; average prices of, 48.
- Punjab Frontier Force, formerly responsible for the peace of the border, 19, 69; its transfer (1886), with enlarged sphere of service, to control of Commander-in-Chief, 69; the present cavalry and infantry regiments of the force, 69.
- Pushkalāvati (Peukelaus or Peukelaotis of Greek historians), ancient capital of Gandhāra, 124; identified by Cunningham with Chārsadda and Prāng (q. v.), 13, 161.

R.

Railways, 188 miles of, 55; the Province traversed by the North-Western Railway, crossing the Indus at Attock to Peshāwar, 54; its three points of communication: from Peshāwar a broad-gauge extension (12 miles) to Fort Jamrūd at the mouth of the Khyber, 54, 154; from Naushahra cantonment a narrow-gauge branch to Dargai at the foot of the Malakand Pass, 54, 220; at Khushālgarh, 53 miles below Attock, the Māri-Attock branch and a bridge of boats (soon to be replaced by a railway bridge) connecting main line indirectly with narrow-gauge to Kohāt and Thal, 54, 175; indirect communication of Dera Ismail Khān by a bridge of boats in the cold season with Daryā Khān, on the Sind-Sāgar branch of the North-Western Railway, 54, 55; railway police, 71. See also under Means of Communication in Districts.

Rainfall, 11; everywhere capricious, but on an average sufficient, 38, 56, 57; 72 per cent. of cultivated area dependent on, 43; lightest (9 inches) in Dera Ismail Khān District, heaviest (45 inches) in Hazāra District, 11, 57; statistical table of, 83; its variations and compensations in different tracts, 56, 57. See also under Rainfall in Districts.

Rapeseed, 41.

Registration, of documents, chiefly by officials, 61.

Religion, 92 per cent. Muhammadaus, mainly Sunnis, 33; the gloomy fanaticism, compatible with low morality, preached by the Sunni Mullās or priests, 34, 35; religious titles, 37; the numerous shrines of pilgrimage with fairs and cures, 34; Christians, 0.25 per cent., 34, the Anglican and Roman Catholic ecclesiastical administration, 34; the influence of fanatics of old, under the Mughals, 17, recently, 20, 22, 23, 218, 219, 224, 251. See also under People in Districts, Akhund, Mullās, Roshānias, Saiyids.

Rents, as surplus over for owner of land, under native rule, none, 45; now the margin left by milder British assessments and often three times their value, 45, 46; paid in cash and kind, 46; their regulation in cases with rights of occupancy, 46; the rise in, 46, 48.

Revenue courts, 61.

Rice, little cultivated, 41, 85; its area, localities, and return per irrigated acre, 41.

Rivers, 4, 56, 97, 109-120, all part of the Indus system except the Kunhār of Hazāra, 4, 126; trade on and conveyance over, 56. See also under River System in the several Districts.

Roads, supplementing railway system, 55, metalled: the grand trunk to Peshāwar through the Khyber to Landi Kotal, 55; metalled road from Peshāwar through the Province to Ismail Dera Khān, 55; from Khushālgarh to Kohāt and Thal, 55; from Thal up the Kurram valley to Pārachinār, whence a trade route over Peiwar and Shutargardan Passes to Kābul, 55; to Datta Khel and Murtazā, 55; the road to Hazāra and thence to Kashmir, starting from Hassan Abdāl Station on the North-Western Railway, 55; other roads, 55; their maintenance, 55; the frontier road or mule track connecting the outposts, 190. See also under Means of Communication in Districts.

Roberts (Lord), forced pass and occupied (1878) Kurram fort, 240, crossed the Shutargardan Pass, 240.

Roshānias, heretics and rebels (1586-1676) against the Mughal empire, 17, 218, their frequent defeats of the imperial forces, 17, their leader Jalāla, 17, their stronghold in Tīrah, 17; in the Khyber country, 228, repulsed the Mughals (1620) in Tīrah, 235.

Rotation of crops, 38, 39.

Rūd river, 222, valley of, part of Bājaur, its tribes and communal party government, 222.

S.

Sadda, post in the Kurram Agency, 243.

Safed Koh ('white mountain') range, the watershed between the valley of Jalālābād and the Kurram, 237, its line, spurs, and peaks, 3, 237, its branches from Mittugarh enclosing the valleys of Tīrah, 233, 234, the Khyber Pass on its last spurs, 227.

Saiyids, revered by the Shiah as descendants of Ali, 34; Saiyid Ahmād of Bareilly, his colony (1825) of fanatics in Swāt, 218, 224, defeated and slain by the Sikhs, 224; his successor Saiyid Akbar Shāh, his fort at Mālka, 224, campaigns of 1853, 1858 against, 20, 224, of Ambela (1893), 21, 225.

Salt, industry of, 49, 64; the Kohāt quarries, 180, 181; its purity and colour, grey to black, compared with the red or pink of the Salt Range, 168, its geology, 7, 168 and u.

Salt, revenue from, 64, 65; duties on, 64, preventive line (1849) withdrawn (1896), export to cis-Indus still prohibited, 64; table of large exports beyond

- the Province, of small imports, and of gross revenue, 65, consumption per head, 65; the preventive establishment, 181.
- Sāmāna Range, separating the Mirānzai and Khānki valleys, 108, its line of forts, 109.
- Sāmāna Rifles, with head-quarters at Hangu, 180.
- Sandeman, Sir R., opened (1889) Gomal Pass, 250.
- Sanitaria, in Hazāra District, Dungā Gali, 141, 143; Thandiāni, 143; in Peshāwar, Cherāt, 161, 162; between Bannu and Dera Ismail Khān, Sheikh Budīn, 208, 209.
- Sanitation, municipal expenditure on, 89; good of Peshāwar, 165, good natural of Kohāt cantonment, 180, bad of Dera Ismail Khān, 207.
- Sappers and miners, stations of, 69.
- Sāragarhi, village on the crest of Sāmāna range, Kohāt District, held by the Bābi Khel, 181; outpost built (1891), overwhelmed (1897) by Orakzais and the small Sikh garrison massacred, 181.
- Sarwar Khān, progressive Nawāb of Tānk, 206, his submission to the Sikhs, 206, his grandson, protected by Edwardes, made and unmade chief by the British, 206, died 1882, 206.
- Scenery, general of Province, 1, 2; of Himālayas, 96, of the Indus, 109, 110, 112, of Hazāra, 126, 127, of Agror, 139, of Peshāwar, 144, of Dera Ismail Khān, 195, 196, of the Mohmand country, 225, of the Khyber, 227, 228, of Kurram Agency, 238, of Southern Waziristān, 248, 249, of the country of the Mahsūds, 254.
- Schools, primary and secondary, 74, 75, Urdū and Hindi, &c., schools, 75, Anglo-vernacular, 74, 75. See also under Education in Districts.
- Self-government, local: by municipalities of appointed and ex-officio members, their history and present position, 67, 68; revenue and expenditure, 68, 89; by District boards, composed of nominated members, their sphere, income, and expenditure, 68, 90. See also under Local and Municipal Boards in Districts.
- Settlement, or assessment of land revenue, 63, in the Districts as in the Punjab, but, often for political reasons, lighter, 63; frontier remissions, 156, 173; the demand in different Districts between 52 and 75 per cent. of half 'net assets,' 63, the term, generally twenty years, 63; in the Agencies, 63, 64, in Kurram, 241, 242; settlement maps, 77. See also under Land Revenue in Districts.
- Sex, statistics of, 30; the decreasing ratio (834) of females to (1,000) males, 30.
- Shabkadar, fort in Peshāwar District, connected by a good road of 17 miles with Peshāwar, 167; since 1885 held by border military police, 167, defeat of raiding Mohmands (1897), 167.
- Shāhbāzgarhi in Peshāwar, Asoka's Kharoshthī rock-inscriptions at, 27.
- Sheep (and goats), thin-tailed and fat-tailed, 43, a large demand for mutton in the cantonments, 43. See also under Cattle, Ponies, and Sheep in Districts.
- Sheikh Budīn, hill (4,516 feet) station and sanitarium (1860), military and civil, between Bannu and Dera Ismail Khān Districts, 208, 209; bare, hot, and short of water, 209.
- Sher Afzal, pretender and disturber of Chitrāl, finally deported to India, 212, 213.
- Shiahs, their very small number, 33, their reverence for Saiyids, the descendants of Alī, 34, 130; the endowment by the British of their mātim kotāhs or 'mourning-houses' in Waziristān, 242.
- Shirāni Country, a poor hilly tract on the western border of Dera Ismail Khān District, 256, divided into a lowland under political control (1899) of North-Western Frontier Province, and a highland under that of Baluchistān, 256; the intense democracy and robber raiding habits of the tribe, 256, 257; the British agreement with (1899), 257; the murder (1902) of the Extra Assistant Commissioner, and the escape into Afghānistān of the murderer and his gang of malcontents, 257.
- Sikhs, the: their invasions and conquests from 1818, their great victories over the Afghāns (1823 and 1832), 18, 149; their raids and exactions of tribute (1823-34), 18, 149; the change of Sikh policy, after the death of Ranjīt Singh, 18; the rule of General Avitabile (1838-42), 18, 149; the outbreak (1848) of the second War at Multān, 185, the march thither of Edwardes with new levies, 185; the invasion of Bannu repelled by Reynell Taylor, 185; their heroism (1897) at Sāragarhi, 181; the most advanced community in Bannu, 192, in Dera Ismail Khān, 204; their rule (and exactions) in Hazāra, 129, 135; in Peshāwar, 149; the inability of Ranjīt Singh to levy revenue in Kohāt and Bannu, 170, 184; in Dera Ismail Khān, 198.
- Silk-spinning and weaving, important industries at Peshāwar and Kohāt, 50, 153, 175.
- Silladāri system of border military police, adopted, abused, abolished, 71.

Small-pox, very common among Pathāns, 76, its small mortality, 30; hereditary art of inoculation for, 76, 77; vaccination against, 76, 77.

Soils, their character and variety, 37, 38, their fertility not so important as facilities for their irrigation, 38, 39. See also under Agriculture in Districts.

Stallions, for improvement of breed of horses and donkeys, maintained by Veterinary department, 132, 152.

Stamps, judicial and non-judicial, revenue from, 67.

Stations, military, a list of, 69. See also Cantonments, Forts, Hill Stations, Outposts and garrisons.

Stein, Dr., on the mistaken identification of Aornos with Mahāban, 108, 223; on the derivation of Hazāra, 128; his visit (1898) to Buner and identification of several sites of historical or religious interest, 27, 223, 224.

Stone, a common disease, 30.

Stūpas. See Buddhism.

Surveys, conducted independently by local Revenue establishment and by Survey department, 77; its progress in settled and unsettled territory, 77; surveys of the passes, 77.

Swābi, tahsil of Peshāwar District, formerly known as Utmān Bulak, 160.

Swāt, 23, 24, 216-221; tract in the Dir, Swāt, and Chitrāl Agency, the fertile valleys drained by the Swāt river, 216, the forests of the upper tract or Kohistān, 216, the malaria of the lower tract, its moral and physical effects, 217; its tribes, clans, languages, and religion, 220, 221; for its history, religious and other wars, punitive expeditions, &c., against, see under Dir, Swāt, Bājaur, and Utmān Khel, their history. See also Pathān Revolt.

Swāt river, formed by junction of the Gabral and Ushu, 116, its course of 400 miles to its junction with the Kābul river, 116; fordable in midwinter, 116; its canal, 120; its three bridges of boats and twelve ferries, 154, 161.

Swāt River Canal, a perennial irrigation work, supplying 155,000 acres, 120; its natural weir, channels, aqueducts (167), and district of supply, 120; its proposed extension, 121; its capital cost, and unexpected profits, 121.

T.

Tahsils, tahsildārs, and naiib-tahsildārs, 58.

Takht-i-Sulaimān ('Solomon's throne'). a shrine (Jārat) on the Sulaimān range (11,295 feet), 3, 257; its legend, 257.

Tanāwal (or Tunāwal), a mountainous tract in Hazāra District and semi-independent estate, 138; its history under the Tanāwalis, a tribe of Mughal descent, 138, its present chiefs with large powers, the Nawāb of Amb, K.C.S.I., and the Khān of Phulra, 138, 139.

Tanāwals, arenaceous and calcareous rocks in Hazāra, partly infra-Trias, 4, 5.

Tangi, town in Peshāwar District, near the Jhindi aqueduct of the Swāt River Canal, 167.

Tānk, subdivision and tahsil of Ismail Dera Khān District, 205; a dry plain intersected by ravines and hills, assiduously and successfully cultivated, 207; once a semi-independent State under a Nawāb of the Daulat Khel, 205; the progressive rule of Sarwar Khān, 206; its submission to the Sikhs and their exactions, 206; the restitution of the ruling family (1849) in Shāh Nawāz Khān and his deprivation, 206.

Tānk town, head-quarters of subdivision and tahsil, 209; its mud wall and ruined fort, 209, a 'notified area,' 209, its trade with Waziristān, 209; the place of the death (1870) of Sir Henry Durand, Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, 209.

Tappa, a block or circle of villages, the old administrative and fiscal unit in Bannu, 158, 191, the method of collecting revenue from, 191.

Tarkhāns, or carpenters, a numerous artisan class, rising to be a professional class of trained engineers, 33. See also under Castes and Occupations in District.

Taylor, Lieutenant Reynell, Edwardes's successor in Bannu District, 185, kept invaders at bay during second Sikh War, 185.

Temperature, 12, maximum 122° at Dera Ismail Khān, minimum minus 13° at Wānā in January, 1905, 12; statistical table of, 83. See also under Climate and Temperature in Districts.

Tenants (agricultural), paying rent, not a very large class, 39, 45, 46; the ratio of rents to assessments and produce, 46; the protection of tenants with rights of occupancy, 46, and of all in respect of ejection and compensation for improvements, 46.

Tenures of land, native or Pathān, originally tribal, 62; the divisions and subdivisions of the holding of a tribe into final scattered shares, each of an individual, 62; the periodical (from every five to twenty years) redistribution (vesh) of the land by lot or otherwise, 62, 63; the vesh now becoming obsolete, save in the unadministered territories, 63.

- Tenures of land, present, generally as in the Punjab, 63; in Hazāra, 131; by peasant proprietors in Peshāwar, 151, and in Bannu, 188; in Dera Ismail Khān, 200.
- Teri tahsil, forming half of Kohāt District, 179; its distinct fiscal history, 177; the loyalty of the Khān during the Afghān War, 171, 177, his reward, 179; its inhabitants, the Khattaks, 179.
- Tertiary (geological) rocks, 5-7.
- Thal, subdivision of Kohāt District, with head-quarters at Hangu, 179, 180.
- Thal village, military outpost in Kohāt District, on a branch of North-Western Railway, 181, new police post and resthouse (1905), 182; dépôt for through trade by Kurram valley, 181, 241.
- Thandiāni, small hill sanitarium of Abbottābād cantonment, 143.
- Til, oilseed, 41.
- Tillage of soil, primitive and half-hearted, 39.
- Timūr, his devastation (1398) of the Punjab, 16.
- Tirāh, a mountainous tract of unadministered territory, 233-236, 23, 24; its inhabiting tribes, 233, rivers, valleys, and branches of the Safed Koh, 233, 234; high elevation and generally healthy climate, 234; history of resistance to Mughal empire and independence since its decay, 235; the punitive expedition (1898) under Lockhart, 235, 236; increasing rail-borne trade with, 175. See also Pathān Revolt.
- Titles, official, social, and religious, of Muhammadans and Hindus, 37.
- Tobacco, area of cultivation, 85; its universal use opposed by Mullās, 35.
- Tochi (or Gambila) river, 100-150 miles long, rising in Afghānistān, falls into Kurram, 119; much formerly, less lately, used for irrigation, 119; in Bannu District, 182, 187.
- Tochi valley, 246, 247; the treachery and rising in the beginning of the Pathān Revolt, 22, 33.
- Tongas (wheeled vehicles), 55.
- Towns, one (Peshāwar) large, five with more than 10,000 inhabitants, fifteen smaller, 28; total population of (269,905), 28, 84.
- Trade and Commerce: its importance due to the Province lying across great trade-routes, 52; routes to and items and values of trade with Buner and Bājaur (including countries east of the Hindu Kush), Tirāh, Afghānistān, Central Asia (through Kābul), Kashmir, and other Provinces and States of India, 52-54, 153; statistical tables of trade of Province, 86, 87; restrictions on trade with Bokhāra and Afghānistān, 53; main trade through rather than in or with the Province, 153; of Peshāwar, 153, 166, of Dera Ismail Khān, 202, 207, 208. See also under Trade in Districts.
- Trade castes and classes, the Aroras and the Khattrīs, 33, 130, 150. See also under Castes and Occupations in Districts.
- Trade centres of Peshāwar, 153, Kohāt, 175, Bannu, 189, Dera Ismail Khān, 202.
- Treasure, excess of exported over imported, 54, 87.
- Trees, principal of forests, 49, 133.
- Trias (geological) formation, the beginning of a generally continuous zoological sequence, 6.
- Tribe, the, the social unit of the Pathāns, 67; its periodical redistribution of property and rights, 62, 63, 67; the introduction of the village community and responsible headman by the British, 67; the tribal customs of the Wazīrs, 252; the failure to make the maliks responsible representatives of the Mahsūds, 255.
- Tribes, of the Pathāns, 32, 33, 79; of the Himalāyas, 104, 105; of Black Mountain, 107, 108; of Mahāban, 108; of the Peshāwar hills, 143, 144; of the Political Agencies, 210-257; statistical table of tribes against whom expeditions have been undertaken (1849-92), 80-82; genealogical table of Pathān, 79.
- Tunnels, irrigation, 119; proposed under Malakand, 44, 121.
- Tūris, the dominant tribe of the Kurram valley, 239, 240; the Tūrisūna or customary law, 241; their administration taken over (1892), at their own request, by the British, 240.
- Typhus fever, frequent recent epidemics of, 30; former ravages of, in jails, 74.

U.

- Udyāna, ancient kingdom of (Swāt), 26; knowledge of, derived mainly from coins and inscriptions, 27.
- Ughi. See Oghi.
- Umra Khān of Jandol, his conquest (1882-90) of Dir, 219, his interference with Chitrāl (1895), 212, his final rupture with the British Government, open war, and siege of Chitrāl, 212, his defeat and flight (1896) to Kābul, 219.

Und (Hind, Ohind, or Waihind), now a village, on the west bank of the Indus, 15 miles above Attock, 125, once a rich and great city, the capital of the rulers of the Kābul valley and Gandhāra before the Muhammadan invasion, 124, 125; the place of the victory of Mahmūd of Ghazni, which opened his way to the Punjab, 125.

Uriāl, or wild sheep, 10.

Utmān Khel, mountainous tract on both banks of the Swāt in Dir, Swāt, and Chitral Agency, 222; inhabited by quarrelsome clans of Utmān Khel Afghāns, 222; punitive expeditions against, 24, 82, 222.

V.

Vaccination, organization of, 76, popular but interfered with by old hereditary habit of inoculation, 77; successful transformation of inoculators into vaccinators, 77; full statistics of, 93. See also under Vaccination in Districts.

V'esh (khulla vesh, 'mouth division'), the Pathān practice (now obsolescent) of periodical redistribution of the lands, water-rights, and houses of the tribe, 62, 63, 67, 188; its bad effect upon cultivation, 39, 216.

Veterinary department, its stallions for the improvement of horses and donkeys, in Hazāra, 132, in Peshāwar, 152.

Village community, the, not indigenous, 67, introduced by British with responsible headman, 67.

Villages (and rural areas), population of (1,855,575), 28, number of (3,348), 28, 84; hitherto and still, beyond administrative border, fortified against one another and external enemies, 28, 29; the village guest- and club-house, 35, 36; watchmen, 70, 71, 91, accountant, 58, headmen, 58, 67.

Vital statistics, defective data of, 29, method of collection, 29, principal statistics, 30.

W.

Wages (and income), of landless labourers, 47, of cultivating tenants, 47, of peasant proprietors, 47, of skilled labour, 47, of clerks, 47; have risen more than prices, 47.

Wānā, a wide open valley, containing the Wānā post, the head-quarters of the Southern Waziristān Agency, 253; its well-cultivated and irrigated riverain of the Toi, 253.

Wānā, post and head-quarters of the Southern Waziristān Agency, 253, scene of Mahsūd attack (1894) on British delimitation escort, 253.

Water-rights, their value and intricacy, 45, 189, water rates or rent, 46, et passim under Land Revenue; water-supply to Peshāwar, 118, 165; expenditure of Province on, 89.

Wazirs, the tribe of, their two great sections, the Darwesh Khel and the Mahsūds, 251; their subdivision into numerous clans, 187, 244, 254; their language and tribal customs, 251, 252.

Waziristān, Northern, Political Agency, with head-quarters at Miram Shāh, 243-248; its boundaries, hills, and four large and fertile valleys, 243, 244; none of it administered save the Tochī or Daur Valley, 245; its inhabitants Darwesh Khel Wazirs, the least tractable of Pathān tribes, 244; raids and punitive expeditions, 244, 245; the militia and its posts, 245.

Waziristān, Southern, Political Agency, with head-quarters at Wānā, constituted in 1896, 248-253; its boundaries, 248; the Wazirs, its dominant tribe, 248, 251, 252; its peaks, plateaux, river, and Gomal Pass, 248-250, flora and considerable fauna, 249, its unwholesome lower valleys, healthy higher, 249, 250; the history of the Mahsūd Wazirs (1860-1900), a series of raids, punitive expeditions, and broken agreements, 20-25, 250, 251, 254, 255; its insufficient agriculture, 252, inconsiderable iron and other industries and trade, 252, 253; its militia, 251.

Weather, the, at different seasons, 11, 12; at Peshāwar, 146. See also under Climate and Temperature in Districts.

Wells, irrigate less than one per cent. of cultivated area, 43, 85, their places of occurrence, 44, their construction and working, 132.

Wheat, chief crop of spring harvest, its area, 40, one-third irrigated, 40, its yield per irrigated and unirrigated acre, 40; wheaten bread the rule in towns, 34; average price of, 48. See also under Agriculture in Districts.

Widows, no prejudice against remarriage of, 31; their number, rights, and liability to be sold, 31.

Women, low position of, 30; purchase of wives, 31; rights of widows and unmarried daughters, 31; divorce, 31; dress and coiffure of, 35; reluctance to register births of daughters, 29; female education, Muhammadan and Hindu, 75, by lady missionaries, 151; hospitals and dispensaries for, 76; the - sale of Chitrāl girls for Afghān harems, 214.

- Woodwork : boat-building and carpentry, 52; pinjra lattice-work, jointed not glued, of Peshāwar, 52; lac turnery and lac-ware, 52.
- Woollen industries, 50.
- Y.
- Yūsufzai, a subdivision of Peshāwar District, comprising the tahsīls of Swābi and Mardān, 159; properly the whole territory held by the Yūsufzai tribe of Pathāns, 158; their clans, 220; their speech, the classical and literary dialect of Pashtū, 31, 32, 220. See also Dīr, Swāt, Bājaur, and Utmān Khel.
- Z.
- Zakka Khel or clan of Afrīdis in the Bāzār valley, 236; the most active thieves on the frontier, 236; punitive expeditions against, 81, 82, 236.
- Zanāna Mission at Peshāwar, 151, 157; at Dera Ismail Khān, 200.

See Continuation