LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

	FACING PAGE
ETTELBRUCK —This city was called for the "Scourge of God," "Attila's Bridge." It is a "new town" without great interest on its own account, but the meeting of the valleys in which lie the castles . . .	245
BOURSCHEID —About these walls rode the ghost of a crusader in battered armor. He ceased his vigil when Palestine fell to the British	252
VIANDEN —It defied armies and the elements but succumbed at last to the insidious junk man	261
VIANDEN —Outer wall, chapel and gables of the immense Salle des Chevaliers	268
VIANDEN —The Watch Tower	277
VIANDEN —Underground Passage	277
VIANDEN —Inner Court	284
VIANDEN —The Double Chapel	289
VIANDEN —Remains of Upper Floor	289
VIANDEN —Roman Ovens	304
VIANDEN —Roman Kitchens	304
MARIENTHAL —From the Precipice	321
MARIENTHAL —Vale of Eternal Tranquillity	321
BRANDENBOURG —Here a small garrison made a gallant stand against the torchmen of Louis XIV—and strange things have been happening ever since	336
BOURSCHEID —The castle was one of the strongest in the duchy but was dismantled by Louis XIV when he set Vauban to strengthening the works of Luxemburg City, inland Gibraltar	357
ESCH-SUR-SURE —The crusading graf hung a Saracen's head to the ramparts in testimony of his prowess . . . even now can be heard the noises of the men at arms, the clanking of heavy armor and the jingle of chain-mail	364
BEAUFORT —The château is remarkable chiefly for its excellent masonry. It is one of the duchy's finest examples of medieval military architecture	392
LAROCLETTE —Above the town on its high rocks sits the castle. Much of the village is built within the line of its dismantled outer circle of defenses	420
FROM THE RAMPARTS OF HOLLENFELS —Hundreds of feet above the spot where the toes of the castle crag dip into a little river . . .	465
LUXEMBURG CITY —German artillery in retreat through Luxemburg City—November, 1918	480
LUXEMBURG CITY —The German retreat of November, 1918 . . .	480
