ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This study was undertaken and completed by me at the Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Poona 4, under the guidance of Dr. Kshitimohan Mukerji. I am extremely indebted to him for his valuable suggestions, constructive criticisms and general guidance which have resulted in improvements in the thesis.

Financial support for this study came from the Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics. The initial pre-doctoral fellowship for a period of one year was followed up by a Ph.D. fellowship extending over a period of two years and nine months. This together with the excellent library facilities provided by the Institute considerably helped in the task of completing the thesis. These facilities are gratefully acknowledged. I also take this opportunity to thank the members of the research staff of the Institute for their constant encouragement and advice. In particular, I would like to express my appreciation of the help rendered by Miss Sadhana Deshpande, Mr. D. B. Unde and Mr. S.N.Gadem in the statistical analysis. I am also grateful to the Director, Deccan College Post-Graduate and Research Institute, Poona, for granting permission to make use of the Deccan College Library.

The data for the study was provided by sixty-four firms in Madras city and their help and co-operation are gratefully acknowledged. In the course of my research, I obtained statistical material and other information from many official and non-official organizations. I acknowledge with gratitude the help and co-operation given by the following agencies: Department of Statistics, Madras; State Trading Corporation of India Limited, Regional Office, Madras; the Office of the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies, Madras; Office of the Chief Inspector of Factories, Madras; Department of Industries and Commerce, Madras; the Madras Printers and Lithographers Association; the Madras Press Labour Union; the Directorate of National Sample Survey, New Delhi; National Buildings Organisation, Ministry of Works and Housing, Government of India, New Delhi; the United States Information Service, New Delhi; the All-India Federation of Master Printers, Bombay; and the Printing, Packaging and Allied Trade Research Association, Surrey, England.

I am also grateful to the following persons for supplying me with many published and unpublished materials and for their valuable suggestions: Prof. Fred C. Munson, Associate Professor of Industrial Relations, Graduate School of Business Administration, The University of Michigan; Prof. D. T. Lakdawala, Director, Department of Economics, University of Bombay; Mr. R. Venkateswaran of U.P.S. Pvt. Ltd., Madras; Mr. S. K. Thamba of Southern Languages Book Trust, Madras; Mr. M. Cunchitapadam of the Andhra Patrika, Madras; Mr. M.R. Madhevan of the Hindu, Madras; Mr. D.D. Gangal of Loksangraha

Works, Poona; Mr. P. H. Patwardhan of Sangam Press, Poona; Mr. Noman L. Contractor of Rainbow Ink and Varnish Mfg. Co. Pvt. Ltd., Bombay; Mr. S. N. Guha Ray of Sri Saraswathy Press Ltd., Calcutta; Mr. A. B. Mazumdar of the Monotype Corporation Ltd., Calcutta; Mr. N. Balasubramaniam of Linotype and Machinery Ltd., Calcutta; and the Principals of the four Regional Schools of Printing Technology.

Last but not least, I would like to thank Mr. V. N. Inamdar, the typist, for the care and precision with which he has typed the thesis.

CHAPTER II : THE STRUCTURE OF THE INDUSTRY	36-53
Structure of the Industry in Madras State
Structure of the Industry in Maharashtra
Structure of the Industry in West Bengal
Layout and Planning in the Industry
CHAPTER III : PROCESSES OF PRODUCTION AND METHODS OF PRINTING	54-85
Techniques of Reproduction and the Process of Printing
Technical Optimum and Size
CHAPTER IV : DEMAND PATTERN	86 - 134
CHAPTER V : METHODOLOGY OF THE STUDY	135 - 154
CHAPTER VI : DYNAMICS OF INDUSTRIAL STRUCTURE	155 - 265
Pattern of Industrial Units in Madras City
Capital-Output Ratio and Profits
Costs and Pricing
Capacity Utilization and Estimates
Estimates from Sample to Population
Aggregate Production Functions of Letterpress Printing Units

CHAPTER VII : INPUT REQUIREMENTS AND PROBLEMS OF PROCUREMENT	266 - 304
CHAPTER VIII : FINANCIAL RESOURCES	305 - 323
CHAPTER IX : LABOUR-PRODUCTIVITY, DEMAND AND SUPPLY	324 - 374
Labour, Wage Rates and Earnings Education, Training and Research
CHAPTER X : CONCLUSIONS	375 - 389
Techniques of Production Finance and Costing Labour and Management Government's Role in the Industry General Remarks
