

DH. 32
4,000

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA MINISTRY OF HEALTH

R E P O R T

OF THE

COMMITTEE TO ASSESS AND EVALUATE THE PRESENT STATUS OF AYURVEDIC SYSTEM OF MEDICINE

Price : Rs. 2.12 nP or 3 Sh. 6 d. per copy

PRINTED AT NATIONAL PRINTING WORKS (THE TIMES OF INDIA PRESS),
10, DARYAGANJ, DELHI (INDIA)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER—I	INTRODUCTION	1—9
	Historical background—Prosperous period—Decadence—Earlier attempts at revival—Bhore Committee—Health Ministers' Conference—Chopra Committee recommendations and Central Government's decision.—Pandit Committee recommendations and action thereon—General remarks.
CHAPTER—II	TERMS OF REFERENCE AND METHODS OF STUDY	10—18
	Present Committee—Constitution—Terms of reference—Questionnaires—Tours of the Committee.
CHAPTER—III	GENERAL OBSERVATIONS	19—24
CHAPTER—IV	TRAINING	25—72
	Previous History—Existing facilities in Ayurvedic Training—Integration Vs Shudh Ayurveda—Merits and Demerits of present methods of Training—Suggestions for improvement—Recognition by Government—Efficient Teachers—Teachers' Training Centres— Status of Teachers—Curricula for Integrated and Shudh Ayurvedic courses—Methods of Teaching—Preparation of Standard Text-books—Facilities for Practical Training, buildings, medicinal plants, gardens, museums, pharmacy, hospitals, recreational facilities, hostels—Proper type of students; qualifications for admission, future prospects; girl students—Post-Graduate facilities; post-graduate departments in teaching institutions; post-graduate centres under Government of India; Post-Graduate courses for Shudh Ayurved, Integrated and modern medical graduates; Chairs of Indian Medicine; Jamnagar Post-Graduate Centre—Research facilities; reserach departments in teaching institutions; Research Centres under Government of India; Jamnagar Research Centre— Availability of ready-made medicines for practitioners; co-operative pharmacies—Affiliation to Universities and separate faculties of Ayurveda—Central council of Indian Medicine—Financial aspects of Ayurvedic Training

Summary

CHAPTER—V

RESEARCH

73—114

Introductory—Work done by modern medical people, by Central and State Government, by institutions and individuals—Suggestions regarding Jamnagar Research Centre— and Post-Graduate Training Centre—Lines of research followed by Bombay Board of Research—Suggestions regarding types of Research in Ayurveda to be done— Clinical, Literary, Chemical, Botanical, Pharmacognosical, Pharmacological, Basic principles of Ayurveda—Other branches of Ayurveda where research should be planned— Central Council of Ayurvedic Research— Three more model research centres— State Boards of research—General suggestions regarding research workers
Summary

CHAPTER—VI

PHARMACEUTICAL PRODUCTS

115—133

Historical background—Present position of pharmacies and pharmaceutical concerns—Position of medicinal plants gardens and museums—Drawbacks and suggestions for improvement—Survey of medicinal plants etc. used in Ayurveda—Identification—Establishment of drug farm—Standardisation of raw materials—Preparation of Pharmacognosy— Collection, preservation and storage—Standardisation of mineral products and organic materials used in Ayurveda—Central Testing Laboratory and Laboratories in commercial concerns—Standardisation of process of preparation of medicine —Pharmacopoeia—Standard weights and measures—Mechanisation of Pharmacies—Technical Staff in pharmaceutical concerns—Proper labelling of preparations— Standardisation of prepared medicines—Drugs Act for Indian medicines—Ayurvedic Drugs Controllers; Pharmacy Council; Drugs Advisory Council.
Summary

CHAPTER—VII	STATUS OF PRACTICE	134—162
	Historical—Present Administrative set up —Budgets—Accommodation—Economic status of practitioners—Hospitals and dispensaries—Expenditure on Ayurveda—Medical relief under Ayurvedic system—Utilisation of Vaidyas for nation building programmes—Boards of Indian Medicine—their powers—registration of Ayurvedic practitioners—Defects in Ayurvedic practice—Use of modern drugs and modern diagnostic methods—Secret remedies—Want of specialisation in all eight branches of Ayurveda—non-availability of ready-made medicines—Reimbursement of expenditure on Ayurvedic treatment—Inadequate emoluments—Powers to issue medical certificates—Excise tax on Asavas and Arishtas—Remedial measures—Action by individual practitioners—Professional ethics—All-India Organisation of Ayurvedic Practitioners. Summary
CHAPTER—VIII	FINAL RECOMMENDATIONS	163—172
CHAPTER—IX	CONCLUDING REMARKS	173—174
	APPENDICES I to X	175—246

LIST OF TABLES

Tables	Pages
I Places and Institutions visited by Committee— individuals contacted	12—18
II Factual information regarding Ayurveda in Individual States.	24
III Present position of Ayurvedic Training in States	34—36
IV Approximate Total expenditure of Ayurvedic Teaching Institutions and per capita expenditure on students.	71
V Pharmacological Deptts. of modern medical colleges doing work on indigenous drugs.	75
VI Research work by State Governments.	82—89
VII Places where various disease are investigated on Ayurvedic lines.	93
VIII Places where Chemical Research on Indian drugs is being carried out.	102
IX Present Position in States regarding medicinal plants, gardens, museums, etc.	121
X State budgets for development of indigenous systems of medicine etc.	136
XI Aurvedic Hospitals and Dispensaries in States.	139
XII Details of Ayurvedic Practitioners in various States.	145
XIII Boards of Indian Medicines—Registration of Practitioners.	149

LIST OF MAPS

Maps	Pages
1. Location o Ayurvedic Colleges	28
2. Various units in India engaged in research in indigenous medicine	91
3. Ayurvedic Pharmaceutical Concerns	117
4. Number of Ayurvedic Physicians in relation to population for 1957.	147

LIST OF FIGURES

Figures	Pages
1. Number of Ayurvedic and modern medical colleges in various States	27
2. Comparative growth of Ayurvedic and modern medical colleges	31
3. Expenditure on Research in Indian Medicine and modern medicine	79
4. Ayurvedic Research Units in various States	90
4-A. Proposed four-fold scheme of Clinical Research	98
5. Evolution of Ayurvedic Pharmacies in India.	116
6. Sale of Medicines from Co-operative Pharmacy, Adyar Madras	120
7. Comparative Statement of budgetary allotment for 1958-59 for Ayurveda and modern medicine.	137
8. Expenditure on Departments of Ayurveda and Modern medicine in Uttar Pradesh.	138
9. Growth of Ayurvedic and modern medical hospitals and dispensaries in the country between 1947-48 and 1958-59.	141
10. Number of Ayurvedic and modern hospitals and dispensaries in States.	142
11. Per Capita expenditure in naye paise on Indian medicines in different States.	143
12. Number of Registered Ayurvedic and modern medical practitioners.	148
13. Progress of Registration of Ayurvedic Physicians in the whole country.	151