PREFATORY NOTE

The Health Section of the Secretariat of the League of Nations presents herewith the thirteenth volume of a series of handbooks on the vital statistics of various countries. In doing so, it wishes to express its gratitude and thanks for the generous help given by the competent authorities, with whom much consultation and correspondence was necessary by the authors of the text.

On the invitation of the Health Section, this handbook was prepared by Professor Major Greenwood and Major P. Granville Edge, of London, England. The Section appreciates the interest and care with which the authors performed their work, and wishes to thank them most cordially.
