

INDIAN ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE.

Tabular Statement collating recommendations in Nehru Report, All-India Muslim Conference Resolution of 1st January 1929, Indian Central Committee's Report, Indian Statutory Commission's Report, Despatches from Provincial Governments and Government of India on proposals for Constitutional Reform (1930).

Note.

The general arrangement of the statement by subjects is shown in the table immediately below.

As the Indian Statutory Commission's report and the governmental despatches are much more voluminous, and more closely inter-related, than the other documents, it has been found convenient to follow very largely their order of subjects and to place their recommendations first under each head. In instances when it was impossible to classify recommendations in the other documents under the same heads, some separate notes have been recorded at the end of the appropriate part of the statement.

It will of course be understood that the purpose of the compilation is not to provide a readable short "summary" of the recommendations in the different reports, but simply to act as a kind of concordance to facilitate reference to the views expressed on any given topic by the various reports.
