

MISSIONS IN FAR EASTERN CULTURAL RELATIONS

By

M. SEARLE BATES

Nanking University

Eighth Conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations
Mont Tremblant, Quebec, Canada
December, 1942

American Council Paper No. 6

AMERICAN COUNCIL
INSTITUTE OF PACIFIC RELATIONS
129 East 52nd Street
New York

MISSIONS IN FAR EASTERN CULTURAL RELATIONS

By

M. SEARLE BATES

Hankin University

This study is submitted by the American Council as a document of the Eighth Conference of the IPR to be held in December, 1942. The author alone is responsible for statements of fact or opinion in this study.

American Council Paper No. 6

AMERICAN COUNCIL
INSTITUTE OF PACIFIC RELATIONS
129 East 52nd Street
New York

CONTENTS

	Page
INTRODUCTION	1
1. Nature and Importance of Cultural Contacts. 2. Cultural Movements and Religion. 3. Recent Trends in North American Missions. 4. Protestant Societies the Basis of Study. 5. China the Major Area.
I. AIMS, ORGANIZATION AND METHODS OF MISSIONS.	2
1. Motive and Objectives. 2. Organizations. 3. The Christian Community: Nationals and Missionaries. 4. Functional Aspects of Missions.
II. CHARACTERISTICS OF MISSIONARY SERVICE	4
Distinctive Achievements. 4
1. Personal Contacts; Remarkable Distribution of Localities. 2. Women Missionaries and Work with Women. 3. Unusual Quality of Relations with Christian Nationals. 4. Significance of Mission Education. 5. Democratic Procedure and Social Effort. 6. Opportunity and Leadership. 7. Knowledge of Language and Society. 8. Educational Influence in North America. 9. Unconscious Demonstration of Western Ways. 10. Private, Independent Status. 11. Influence on Public Opinion and Government in America. 12. Christian Contributions to a World Culture.
Outstanding Weaknesses 8
1. Instances of Narrow Religion. 2. Individualism and Sectarian Division. 3. Inadequate Entry into Oriental Cultures. 4. Partial Failure to Enlist Nationals of High Quality. 5. Difficulty of Propagation from a High Economic Level into a Lower Level. 6. Family Standards of Living. 7. Backward North America. 8. North American Lack in Reciprocity and Fellowship. 9. Institutional Inertia, East and West. 10. Administrative Complexity of International Cooperation.
III. QUANTITATIVE SUMMARY OF MISSIONS AND CHRISTIAN WORK IN CHINA AND JAPAN.	9
1. China: Missionaries and Churches. 2. China: Educational. 3. China: Medical Work. 4. China: YMCA and YWCA. 5. China: Christian Publications. 6. China: Rockefeller Foundation and Harvard-Yenching Institute. 7. Japan. 8. Korea-Formosa-Manchuria. 9. Extent of Roman Catholic Missions. 10. Suggestive Data Regarding Missionary Finance and Support. 11. Data on Mission Expenditure in China and Japan.

IV. RECENT TRENDS WITHIN MISSION ENTERPRISES 23

1. Growth of Cooperation and Union.
2. Relations of Missions and Japanese Churches.
3. Expression in Eastern Cultural Forms.
4. Chinese and Japanese Contributions to North America: Cultured Personalities.
5. Educational Method in Religion.
6. Rural Community Programs.
7. Cooperation with Governments.
8. The Church and Social Duty.
9. Changes in Missionary Personnel: Type and Age.
10. Unusual Developments in Japan and in China.
11. Interest of the Sending Churches.

V. WARTIME CHANGES. 30

1. Displacement of Missionaries.
2. Serious Effects on National Personnel.
3. Loss and Damage to Property.
4. Japanese Military and Governmental Influences.
5. Dislocation of Institutions and Constituencies.
6. Emergency Services: Medicine, Refuge, Relief.
7. Current Attitudes in North American Churches.

VI. TRENDS AND PRESENT OUTLOOK IN CONDITIONS OF CHINA AND JAPAN AS AFFECTING MISSIONS. 36

1. Government Concern with Religious, Educational and Social Organizations.
2. Opposition to Foreign and International Connections.
3. Defence of Threatened Culture, Including Traditional Religions.
4. Assertion of Vernaculars.
5. Questions of Western Prestige.
6. Chinese Appreciation of Christian Services.
7. Doubt of Underlying Concepts.
8. Economic Distress.
9. Problems of Internal Readjustment.
10. Possibilities of Cultural Undertakings on the International Scale, by the American and Other Governments.
11. Continuing Needs.
12. Dominant Importance of Peace.

SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY 40