

GEORGE ANNAND

2911

AFGHANISTAN

KABUL

Vale OF KASHMIR

LAHORE

DELHI

AGRA

LUCKNOW

BENARES

ARABIAN SEA

BOMBAY

GOA

MADRAS

PONDICHERY

TRICHINOPOLI

COCHIN

MADURA

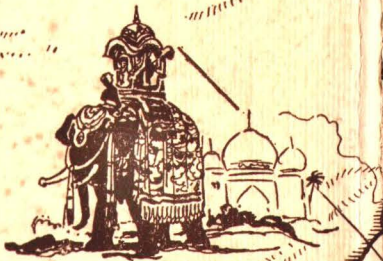

TRIVANDRUM

CAPE COMORIN

Colombo

India

TIBET

BHUTAN

DARJEELING

CALCUTTA

BURMA

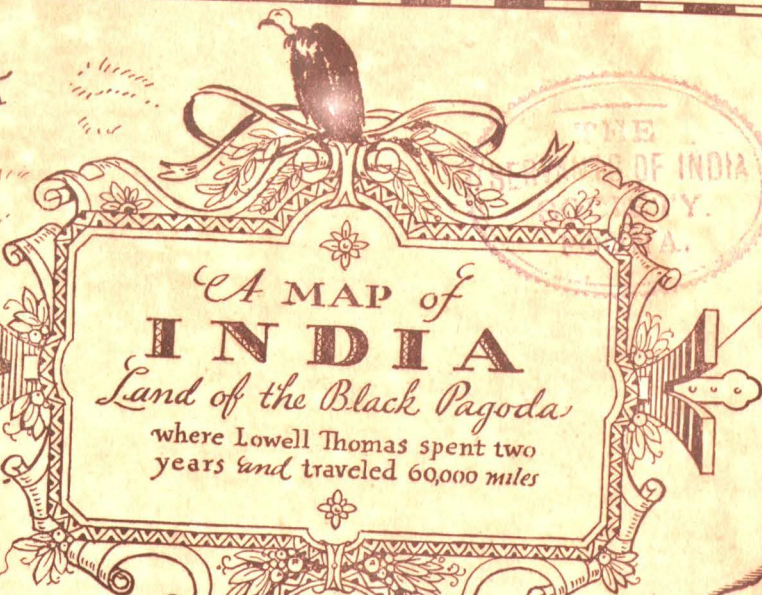

Bay of Bengal

SOUTH CHINA SEA

SIAM

French INDO-CHINA

Gulf of SIAM

A MAP of INDIA

Land of the Black Pagoda where Lowell Thomas spent two years and traveled 60,000 miles

INDIA : LAND OF THE BLACK PAGODA

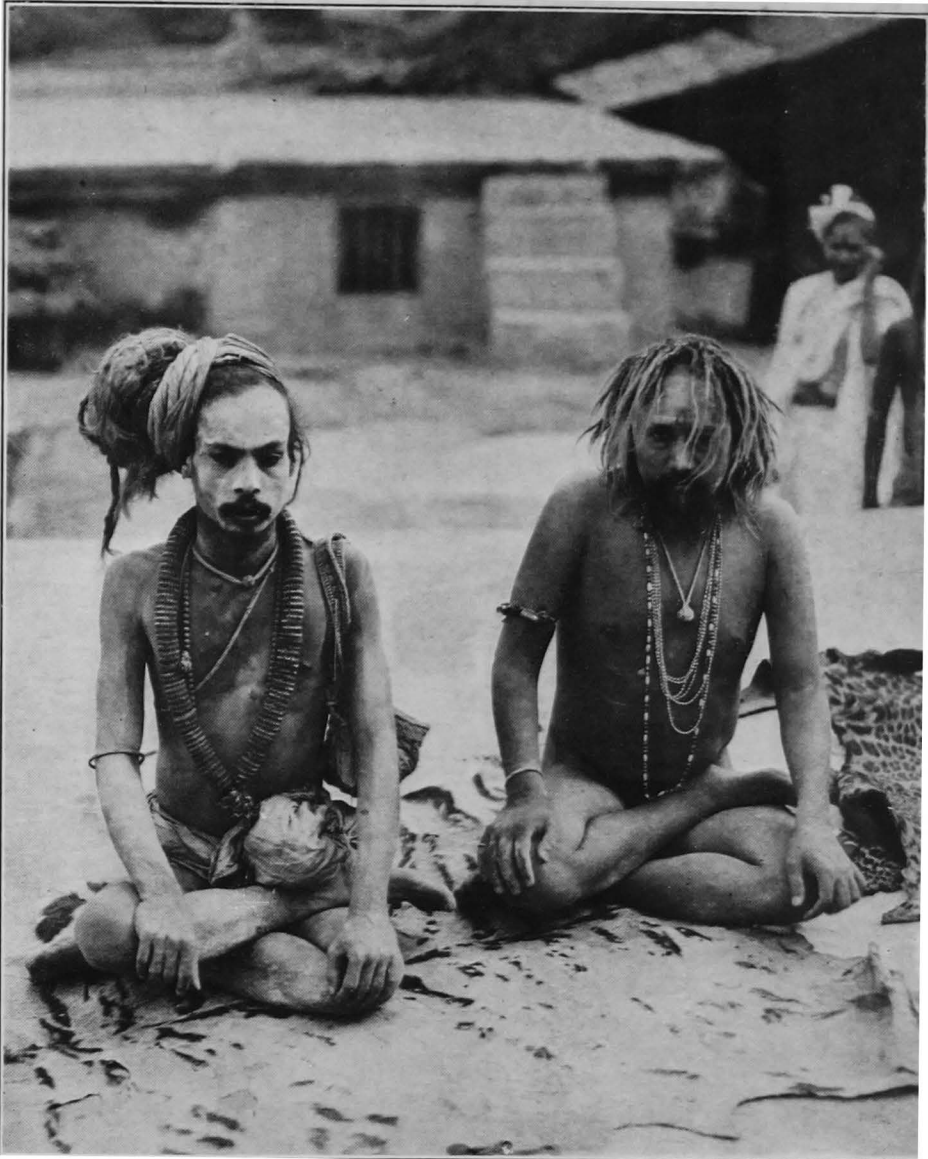

By the same Author :

WITH LAWRENCE IN ARABIA (61st thous.)

BEYOND KHYBER PASS

THE BOYS' LIFE OF COLONEL LAWRENCE

Etc.

There are 5,000,000 holy men in India who toil not neither do they spin. They abandon their wives and children, smear themselves with ashes, and ordure of the sacred cow, and wander from shrine to shrine seeking salvation for their souls.

Frontispiece

INDIA: LAND OF THE BLACK PAGODA

by
LOWELL THOMAS,
Author of
"With Lawrence in Arabia", etc.

64 pages of Illustrations from Photographs taken by
H. A. Chase, F.R.G.S., and by the Author

HUTCHINSON & CO. (Publishers), LTD.
PATERNOSTER ROW, LONDON, E.C.4

PRINTED IN GREAT BRITAIN
AT THE ANCHOR PRESS, TIPTREE, ESSEX
1931

TO
"Y. B."

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
I. BEFORE THE CURTAIN RISES - - -	17
II. THE FABULOUS CAPE AT THE TIP OF INDIA - -	25
III. IN A LOTUS-EATERS' LAND - - -	31
IV. THE CITY OF BLACK AND WHITE JEWS - -	36
V. MOPLAHS OF THE MALABAR COAST - - -	46
VI. RELIGION AT 100° FAHRENHEIT - - -	52
VII. AT THE SHRINE OF THE FISH-EYED GODDESS - -	60
VIII. THE ANGER OF ALAGAR - - -	66
IX. RUBIES, PRIESTS, AND SACRED BULLS - - -	73
X. AN IRISH HIGH PRIESTESS IN INDIA - - -	80
XI. WHERE CRIME IS A RELIGIOUS DUTY - - -	88
XII. THE MAN WHO STOLE SIX POLICEMEN - - -	95
XIII. WHERE THE FEMALE OF THE SPECIES IS SUPERIOR TO THE MALE - - -	102
XIV. GOLDEN GOA OF THE PORTUGUESE—A LAND WHERE TIME STANDS STILL - - -	110
XV. THE CAVES OF AJANTA - - -	118
XVI. THE MAGNIFICENT MOGHULS - - -	125
XVII. THE GRAVE OF NATIONS - - -	130
XVIII. THE WELL-JUMPERS OF DELHI - - -	135
XIX. THE LODESTAR OF HINDUSTAN - - -	140
XX. THE MEN WHO KEEP INDIA GOING - - -	146
XXI. BABUS, BAKSHEESH, AND BUREAUCRATS - - -	154

CHAPTER	PAGE
XXII. WATER-WIZARDS - - - -	159
XXIII. SERVANTS TO HIS HIGHNESS THE SAHIB - -	163
XXIV. ABSALOM ADRIFT - - - -	167
XXV. A PARLIAMENT IN PYJAMAS - - - -	174
XXVI. SMITH AND ISAACS ON THE THRONE OF AKBAR-	181
XXVII. THE GENTLE ART OF MASSACRE - - - -	186
XXVIII. A SAVAGE TALE - - - -	192
XXIX. THE WATCHER OF THE CLOUDS - - - -	200
XXX. THE CITY OF CEASELESS PRAYER - - - -	207
XXXI. WHERE THE SAHIB GOES TO FORGET - - - -	215
XXXII. THE VALE OF KASHMIR - - - -	224
XXXIII. THE LONDON OF JOHN BULL'S TROPIC REALM -	230
XXXIV. ON THE ROAD TO ELEUSIS - - - -	236
XXXV. THE MAN WHO RAISES THE DEAD - - - -	241
XXXVI. THE VOICE OF THE BLUE STONE - - - -	247
XXXVII. AT THE SHRINE OF THE LORD OF THE WORLD -	253
XXXVIII. THE JOURNEY OF THE CAR OF JUGGERNAUT -	259
XXXIX. EASTERN LOVE - - - -	265
XL. THE BLACK PAGODA - - - -	270
XLI. THE BLINKERS OF BUREAUCRACY - - - -	282

ILLUSTRATIONS

There are 5,000,000 holy men in India who toil not neither do they spin - - - - - Frontispiece

FACING
PAGE

In a native catamaran we cross the strait from Ceylon to the extreme southernmost tip of Hindustan, where few travellers have come before us - - - - -	24
Major Francis Yeats-Brown, the Bengal Lancer - - - - -	25
Cochin is called "The City with a Curse" - - - - -	32
The spice port of Cochin is inhabited by two groups of Jews, some black and some white - - - - -	33
On the Malabar Coast we encounter Moplahs, fanatical Muhammadans who loathe all such "idolators" as the Hindus -	40
As we journey north we find we are in a country where not all of the inhabitants wear their hearts on their sleeves - - -	41
Ascetics about to lie down for an afternoon siesta on their feather beds—of sharp iron spikes - - - - -	48
At the top of the cast system are the haughty "twice-born" Brahmins - - - - -	49
A gloomy Hindu ascetic who shows us the sights of the Black Pagoda - - - - -	56
A joyous Hindu religious festival is in progress - - - - -	57
The holy man who rolls ten miles around the temple with a baby in his arms - - - - -	64

ILLUSTRATIONS

	FACING PAGE
Many of the low-caste peoples are descendants of the aborigines - who lived here thousands of years before the first white Aryans came down from Central Asia and foisted the curse of caste upon them - - - - -	65
Some 250,000 people come to Madura to attend the Festival of the Fish-eyed Goddess - - - - -	72
Many of the women who worship in the Temple of the Bull are barren - - - - -	73
One of the important shrines in the "Southlands of Siva" is the phallic temple of Nandi, the sacred bull of Tanjore - - -	80
We often pass men who walk up and down on long beams, all day long, week in and week out, in the broiling sun, in order to raise water from their wells to irrigate the rice fields - - -	81
Some hold their arms above their heads until they wither in their sockets and become paralyzed, and they can never put them down again - - - - -	88
Many years ago an Irish woman came East, adopted native costume, and became the high priestess of a new religion—Mrs. Annie Besant - - - - -	89
He was known as "the chief who stole six policemen" - - -	96
The direst disgrace that can befall a member of the Criminal Tribes is to be caught and put in goal ; he purifies himself by getting drunk - - - - -	97
Formerly it was the custom to expose the saint's bones to the public - - - - -	104
Before she died Mumtaz Mahal made two requests of her emperor : that he should build her a tomb and that he should never marry again - - - - -	105
The Taj Mahal - - - - -	112
In a Moghul palace in Delhi we find a miniature painting of the Lady of the Taj, done on ivory, while she was still alive - - -	113

ILLUSTRATIONS

xi

FACING
PAGE

Taking pictures in a Muhammadan mosque is not a particularly healthy pastime - - - - -	120
The great Moghuls of India used to entertain their courts by making people jump into this eighty-foot well - - - - -	121
Although it is against the law now, we still find a few old grey-beards who for a shilling or two step off the ledge into the green waters eighty feet below - - - - -	128
The governor sends one of his elephants to meet us and we particularly enjoy this trip because it gives us an opportunity of looking in at other people's second-story bedroom windows - - - - -	129
We see many curious signs above the shops in every Indian city - - - - -	144
Occasionally we encounter victims of a typical, old-time Indian famine - - - - -	145
On the left, a bheestie, or waterman; on the right, a sweeper, porter of ordure, eater of offal - - - - -	160
Mahatma Ghandi - - - - -	161
The shrine of Janamasthan at Nankhana-Sahib in the Punjaub, and the high priest who burned one hundred of his enemies in oil - - - - -	168
The only place in the world where the British flag flies night and day and is never furled - - - - -	169
Rabindranath Tagore, poet and philosopher of Bengal - - - - -	176
C. F. Andrews, a brilliant Englishman who teaches in the Tagore schools; also a Frenchman and a portly Hindu who are members of the embryonic "World University" - - - - -	177
The City of Ceaseless Prayer, where even the murderer can bathe and have his sins washed away - - - - -	184
Some of the monks are so old and weatherbeaten that they look a bit like Bill Fagin - - - - -	185

	FACING PAGE
During the torrid summer months all who can get away from the blazing plains of India flee to the Himalayas or to hill stations elsewhere. - - - - -	192
Spearing fish in Dal Lake - - - - -	193
Across the valley in front of us are the ice-capped monarchs that guard the grim passes between India and Tibet - - -	200
A native ruler of long ago confined 140 Europeans in a room the exact size of this enclosure—the Black Hole of Calcutta -	201
Calcutta, the second largest city in the British Empire - -	208
Some holy men half-bury themselves with earth and remain this way for hours, and others lie with enormous stones on their stomachs; all done to impress passing pilgrims with their piety - - - - -	209
Near the phallic temple in Puri we meet a holy man who runs up and down the street barking like a dog - - - - -	216
Occasionally we encounter a Hindu holy woman - - - - -	217
Other fakirs stand on their heads for long stretches at a time, in order to save their souls - - - - -	224
A holy man who claims to have the power of raising the dead -	225
Jagannath (Juggernaut) on the left, his brother on the right, and his wife down at the bottom in the middle - - - - -	232
In entering some Hindu temples a worshipper must run a gauntlet of weird and sometimes indescribable carvings - - -	233
Hanuman, the monkey god - - - - -	240
Occasionally an old man or woman will hurl himself in front of the wheels, believing that if he is crushed to death by the car of Juggernaut that he will go straight to Paradise without suffering the tortures of coming back to this world in any other incarnations - - - - -	241
Four enormous ropes are attached to the car of Jagannath (Juggernaut) and then hundreds of thousands of pilgrims pull him through the street - - - - -	248

ILLUSTRATIONS

xiii

	FACING PAGE
The car of Jagannath (Juggernaut) has sixteen ponderous wheels and occasionally gets off its course and crashes into a building - - - - -	249
Privacy shrouds all domestic affairs in the East - - -	256
When the car of Jagannath (Juggernaut) comes to a halt some are so overcome with religious fervour that they throw themselves into the dust to pray and kiss the ropes - - -	257
To reach the Black Pagoda we make an overnight journey in a palanquin - - - - -	264
The origin of the Black Pagoda seems lost in the mists of antiquity	265
Few travellers from foreign countries have ventured to make the journey to the Black Pagoda - - - - -	272
Most of the carvings on the Black Pagoda do not bear close inspection - - - - -	273
Ganesha, the god who is known as the remover of obstacles -	280
Everywhere we go we encounter holy cows or bulls - -	281