PREFACE.

Since the manuscript of the following pages was handed over to the press, the Resident in Mewar has been relieved of the political supervision of Dungarpur, Banswara and Partabgarh, and these three States have been placed under a separate officer styled the Political Agent, Southern Rajputana States. The volume consequently relates not only to the Mewar Residency (as the cover and opening pages suggest) but also to the Southern Rajputana States Agency.

The Darbars were good enough to tell off the following officials to furnish me with all available information under certain prescribed heads, and I am indebted to them for much useful assistance in the earlier stages:—Lala Tribhuvan Lal of Udaipur; Balwant Ram Chandra, Magistrate and Civil Judge of Dungarpur; Sanmukh Ram, Naib-Kamdar of Banswara; and the late Babu Jodh Karan, who was formerly Faujdar at Partabgarh. The notes supplied by the second and third of the above were kindly checked and amplified by Captains S. B. Patterson and R. E. A. Hamilton, who were Assistants to the Resident at Dungarpur and Banswara respectively. My thanks are also due to the Rev. Dr. Shepherd of Udaipur, the Rev. Mr. Outram of Kherwara, and Lieut.-Col. Hutton Dawson, Commandant of the Mewar Bhil Corps, for help in writing the concluding chapter on the Bhils.

There are three others to whom I am particularly indebted, namely Major A. F. Pinhey, Mr. A. T. Holme and Pandit Gauri Shankar. Major Pinhey's connection with Banswara and Partabgarh commenced as far back as 1886, and continued almost uninterruptedly till 1895; he was also Resident in Mewar from 1900 to 1906 and, as such, in political charge of all the States dealt with in this volume. His intimate knowledge of these territories and their affairs has enabled him to give me much information which was not to be found either in the annual Administration Reports or in the earlier Gazetteers; he has further helped me in the historical portion of both Udaipur and Dungarpur. Mr. Holme was Assistant to the Resident from 1904 to 1906 and subsequently the first Political Agent of the Southern Rajputana States. In addition to these duties, he introduced the existing land revenue settlements in Dungarpur, Banswara and Partabgarh, and his final reports, from which I have quoted freely, contained a mass of new and interesting material. Last but not least comes Pandit Gauri Shankar, the learned Secretary of the Victoria Hall at Udaipur, than whom there is no more enthusiastic antiquary in India. His knowledge of the early history not only of the Sesodia Rajputs but also of the Chauhans, Rathors, Kachwahas and others is immense, and he has cheerfully responded to my numerous calls for light and guidance in these matters.
