CHAPTER 5.—MARITAL CONDITION OF OCCUPIED WOMEN

INTRODUCTION

This chapter presents statistics relating to the marital condition of the gainfully occupied women of the United States, as returned at the Fifteenth (1930) Census, with comparative data for preceding censuses. Statistics are presented for the United States (Tables 1 to 14), for divisions and States (Tables 15 to 19), and for the principal cities (Tables 20 to 24).

Scope of the statistics.—Since marital status in relation to occupation is so much more significant in the case of female workers than in the case of male workers, the Fifteenth Census statistics relating to the marital condition of gainful workers have been limited to statistics for females. The statistics presented in this chapter for the United States, for States, and for cities of 100,000 or more, are limited to women 15 years old and over, while those presented for cities of 25,000 to 100,000 relate to all females 10 years old and over.

The statistics relating to the marital condition of gainfully occupied women compiled at the censuses of 1890 and 1900 included all gainfully occupied females 10 years old and over. In the statistics presented for 1890 and 1900 in this chapter, however, it is assumed that at each of these censuses all gainfully occupied married women were at least 15 years old. That this assumption is substantially correct is evidenced by the fact that at the census of 1910 only 35 married women 15 years old were tabulated as gainfully occupied.

Age classification.—The age classification presented in this chapter, as in other census statistics, is based on age at last birthday, that is, age in completed years.

In the tabulation of the data for gainfully occupied women by marital condition two of the three groups, namely, the "single and unknown" and the "married," were classified by age, and the statistics for these groups are shown by age in many of the tables. Mechanical limitations made it impracticable to tabulate directly by age the data for the third group, comprising "widowed and divorced" women in gainful occupations, but the age distribution of this class can be obtained by adding the two other classes in each age group and subtracting the sum from the total number of gainfully occupied women in the corresponding age group. The age distribution of widowed and divorced women in gainful occupations which is presented for the United States in Tables 5 and 6 was obtained in this way. (The age distribution of the gainfully occupied widowed and divorced women of a State or of a city of 100,000 or more may be computed in a similar way, as explained in the text of Volume IV of the Fifteenth Census Reports on Population. This volume, entitled "Occupations, by States," presents occupation statistics for the several States and their principal cities.)

Statistics for specified occupations.—Tables 10 to 14 show, for the United States, by color and nativity, the number of women 15 years old and over in each occupation of the census classification, distributed by marital condition, with a further distribution of the single and unknown and of the married by age. Corresponding statistics, but limited to selected occupations, are presented for States and for cities of 100,000 or more in Volume IV of the Fifteenth Census Reports on Population, entitled "Occupations, by States."

Color and nativity.—In the main classifications of gainful workers by color and nativity, four classes are distinguished, namely, (a) native white, that is, white persons born in the United States or any of its territories or possessions; (b) foreign-born white; (c) Negro, including both black and mulatto; and (d) other races, comprising Mexicans, Indians, Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos, etc. At censuses prior to 1930 Mexicans were included for the most part with the white population. In 1930 all persons born in Mexico or having parents born in Mexico who were not definitely returned as white, Indian, Negro, Chinese, or Japanese, were given a separate classification and counted as "Mexican."

Gainful workers.—The term "gainful workers," as here used, includes all persons 10 years old and over who usually follow a gainful occupation, even though they may not have been actually employed at the time the census was taken. It does not include women doing housework in their own homes, without wages, and having no other employment, nor children working at home, merely on general household work, on chores, or at odd times on other work. Statistics relating to women home-makers are presented in a series of bulletins and reports on "Families."

Changes in proportion gainfully occupied.—In the percentages presented in Table 1 for the 40-year period from 1890 to 1930, two very important facts stand out strikingly. The first is the marked increase during this period in the proportion of all women—and particularly in the proportion of all married women—gainfully occupied. The second is the striking increase in the proportion which married women form of all gainfully occupied women—an increase from 13.9 per cent in 1890 to 28.9 per cent in 1930.

OCCUPATIONS—GENERAL REPORT

It is believed that too many women were enumerated as agricultural laborers in 1910 and too few in 1920 and that as a result, the increase from 1900 to 1910 in the proportion of women 15 years old and over gainfully occupied, as shown by the percentages of Table 1, is too large, and that the decrease from 1910 to 1920 in the corresponding proportion is probably an apparent decrease only.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> This group was not subdivided in 1920.<sup>2</sup> Because of changes made in 1930 in the classification of agricultural pursuits, it is impossible to group the 1920 occupations exactly according to the 1930 classification. It is believed, however, that the effect of the difference in grouping on the comparability of the figures here presented is negligible. In addition to the changes referred to, proprietors, foremen, and laborers on turpentine farms, classified in "Agriculture, forestry, etc." in 1920, were transferred to "Manufacturing and mechanical industries" in 1930.<sup>3</sup> Since, in 1920, only farm laborers on general farms were distinguished as working on the "home farm" or "working out," farm laborers on dairy farms, stock farms, truck farms, poultry farms, etc., who were, in fact, working on the "home farm" as "unpaid family workers" were not included in the group "Farm laborers (home farm)." Hence, as here compiled for 1920, the number of farm laborers classified as "Wage workers" probably is somewhat too large, and the number classified as "Unpaid family workers" probably is somewhat too small.<sup>4</sup> Includes, for 1920, the following groups, otherwise classified in 1930: "Apprentices, steam railroad"; "Apprentices, telegraph and telephone"; "Apprentices, other transportation and communication"; "Apprentices, wholesale and retail trade"; "Apprentices to other professional persons." (The group "Architects, designers, and draftsmen's apprentices," classified in "Manufacturing and mechanical industries" in 1920, was transferred to "Professional service" in 1930.)<sup>5</sup> The few operatives in rayon factories in 1920 were classified in "Not specified textile mills."<sup>6</sup> Includes tin-plate mills.<sup>7</sup> Includes iron foundries.

<sup>1</sup> This group was not subdivided in 1920.<sup>2</sup> Includes box factories (wood).<sup>13</sup> Includes the few laborers reported in rayon factories in 1920. See, also, footnote 14.<sup>14</sup> Includes "Farm laborers (turpentine farm)" classified in "Agriculture" in 1920. See, also, footnote 14.<sup>15</sup> Laborers in bedding and quilt factories, hat and cap materials factories, and millinery factories, all included in the group "Other miscellaneous industries" in 1920, and laborers in white goods factories, included in the group "Other clothing factories" in 1920, were classified in the group "Other and not specified textile mills" in 1930.<sup>16</sup> Totals include figures for occupations (total, 4,798; single, widowed, divorced, and unknown, 3,186; married, 1,602) omitted in detail because not comparable with 1930 figures.<sup>17</sup> Neither in 1920 nor in 1930 was the attempt to distinguish chauffeurs and motor truck drivers from draymen, teamsters, and carriage drivers very successful.<sup>18</sup> Postmistresses, classified in "Public service" in 1920, were transferred to "Transportation and communication" in 1930.<sup>19</sup> Radio and wireless operators, included with telegraph operators in 1920, and classified separately in 1930, are here included in the group "All other occupations."<sup>20</sup> Comparable figures for 1920 not available.<sup>21</sup> Classified, in 1920, in the group "Agents" in "Clerical occupations."<sup>22</sup> This group was more strictly confined in 1930 than in 1920 to persons specifically returned as "clerks" in stores.<sup>23</sup> Includes, also, managers and superintendents of retail stores.
