

सत्यमेव जयते

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

The

FIRST
FIVE YEAR
PLAN

PLANNING COMMISSION

SUMMARY OF CONTENTS

	PAGE
INTRODUCTION
PART ONE
THE PLAN
I. The Problem of Development	7
II. Objectives, Techniques and Priorities in Planning	28
III. Assessment of Resources	46
IV. The Five Year Plan in Outline	70
APPENDIX—National Budgeting and the Plan	100
PART TWO
ADMINISTRATION AND PUBLIC CO-OPERATION
V. Introduction	111
VI. Reform of Public Administration	115
VII. Administration of District Development Programmes	128
VIII. Public Co-operation in National Development	144
PART THREE
PROGRAMMES OF DEVELOPMENT
IX. State of the Agricultural Economy	153
APPENDIX—Crop Pattern (Indian Union)	162
X. Development of the Co-operative Movement	163
XI. Food Policy for the Plan	173
XII. Land Policy	184
ANNEXURE—Size of holdings	199
XIII. The Agricultural Worker	203
XIV. Programme for Agriculture	208
APPENDIX I—Targets of additional production (Foodgrains), 1955-56	217
APPENDIX II—Targets of additional production (Commercial Crops), 1955-56	218
APPENDIX III—Irrigation programme	220
APPENDIX IV—Five Year programme, minor irrigation works	221
APPENDIX V—Five Year programme, land reclamation and development	222
XV. Community Development and Rural Extension	223
XVI. Finance for Agriculture	234
XVII. Agricultural Marketing	242
XVIII. Some Problems of Agricultural Development	250
XIX. Animal Husbandry	273

	PAGE
✓ XX. Dairying and Horticulture	280
✓ XXI. Forests	285
✓ XXII. Soil Conservation	297
✓ XXIII. Fisheries	306
XXIV. Village Industries	315
APPENDIX—Summary Statement Showing Production, Expenditure and Employment in Selected Village Industry Schemes	324
XXV. Small Industries and Handicrafts	325
✓ XXVI. Irrigation and Power ✓	334
✓ XXVII. Development of Mineral Resources	380
✓ XXVIII. Scientific and Industrial Research	412
✓ XXIX. Industrial Development and Policy	420
APPENDIX I—Industrial Projects in the Public Sector ✓	446
APPENDIX II—Expansion Programme in the Private Sector	449
APPENDIX III—Progress in the Implementation of Development Plans of Certain Major Industries	451
XXX. Foreign Trade and Commercial Policy	452
✓ XXXI. Transport and Communications	461
XXXII. Health	488
✓ XXXIII. Education	525
XXXIV. Labour ✓	570
XXXV. Housing	593
XXXVI. Social Welfare	613
XXXVII. Welfare of Backward Classes ✓	634
XXXVIII. Rehabilitation of Displaced Persons	642
XXXIX. Employment ✓	650
CONCLUSION	659
INDEX	661

CONTENTS

	PAGE
INTRODUCTION	I

PART ONE THE PLAN

CHAPTER I	The Problem of Development ✓
Planning economic and social aspects		7 ✓
The determinants of economic development		11
Investment, income and economic development in India : a broad outline		20
Employment in relation to development		23
External resources for development		26

CHAPTER II	Objectives, Techniques and Priorities in Planning ✓
1 Institutional and structural factors in development		28
2 Democratic planning and the role of the State		31 ✓
Relative shares of the public and private sectors in ownership of productive capital		32
3 Relations between the public and the private sector		33
Organisational aspects economic change		34 ✓
4 Allocation of resources and price policy		36
Working capital requirements and organisation of the credit system		37
Fiscal policy as an instrument of planning		39
Sources of savings in the economy		41
Prices, production and controls		42
The pattern of priorities		43 ✓

CHAPTER III	Assessment of Resources ✓
1 Taxation and public savings as a source of development finance		47
2 Magnitude of savings in the economy		47
3 Narrow coverage of tax revenue		49
Scope for higher taxation		51
Budgetary resources of the Central and State Governments		52
Classification of Sources		52
Growth of public savings and capital receipts		53
Responsibility of raising resources : Division between Centre and States		54
The borrowing programme		56
Sharing of resources between the Centre and the States		58
Deficit financing		59
External resources and the problem of foreign exchange		62

	PAGE
The gap in internal resources	62
Foreign exchange requirements and foreign exchange savings	62
Likely movements in terms of trade and their effects	64
Foreign exchange deficits and balance of payments policy during the Plan	65
The problem of mobilising financial and physical resources	66
Statement 'A'—Production, imports and exports of certain major commodities entering India foreign trade	68
CHAPTER IV
	The Five Year Plan in Outline ✓
Priorities and the pattern of outlay	70
Distribution and phasing of expenditure	72
Appraisal of the programme in the Plan-	75
Agriculture and community development	77
Irrigation and power programmes	78
Industrial development	80
Transport and communications	82
Social services and rehabilitation	83
Assessment of the Plan in terms of income and employment	84
Statement I—Development expenditure under the Plan : Centre and States	88
Statement II—Development expenditure under the Plan : Part 'A' States	90
Statement III—Development expenditure under the Plan : Part 'B' States and Jammu and Kashmir	92
Statement IV—Development expenditure under the Plan : Part 'C' States	94
Statement V—Progress of development expenditure : Central Government	96
Statement VI—Progress of development expenditure in States by heads of development	98
Statement VII—Progress of development expenditure by States	99
APPENDIX—National budgeting and the Plan	100

PART TWO

ADMINISTRATION AND PUBLIC CO-OPERATION

CHAPTER V	Introduction ✓
Political executive and public services	111
Policy and administration	112
Three groups of problems	113
CHAPTER VI	Reform of Public Administration ✓
Administrative leadership	115
Integrity	115
Efficiency	118
Personnel	119

	PAGE
Methods	122
Financial control and economy	123
Incentives]	124
Evaluation	125
Strengthening administration in the States	126
Administration of public enterprises	127
CHAPTER VII Administration of District Development Programmes
Effect of recent changes	128
Strengthening the general administration	130
Village agency for development	132
Rural extension and the integration of development activities	136
Role of local bodies in development programmes	138
Regional co-ordination and supervision of district programmes	141
Social service agencies and district administration	142
CHAPTER VIII Public Co-operation in National Development
Democratic planning	144
Reaching the people	145
Role of the administration	145
Public participation in programmes	146
Manpower resources	148
Agencies of public co-operation : local authorities	149
Professional associations	149
Universities	149
Voluntary organisations	150
National Advisory Committee for Public Co-operation	150
Bharat Sevak Samaj	151

PART THREE

PROGRAMME OF DEVELOPMENT

CHAPTER IX The State of the Agricultural Economy
1 Land utilisation and crop pattern	153
2 Trends in land use pattern	154
3 Yield trends	155
4 Availability and requirements	157
5 Tea, coffee and rubber	159
6 Condiments and spices	160
7 Approach to agricultural development	160
8 APPENDIX—Crop pattern (Indian Union)	162

CHAPTER X	Development of the Co-operative Movement
Development through co-operatives and panchayats		165
Multi-purpose and credit societies		165
Sale and purchase societies		167
Co-operative farming		167
Co-operation and community projects		168
Industrial co-operatives		168
Urban co-operatives		169
Improvement of personnel		171
Future policy		172
CHAPTER XI	Food Policy for the Plan
Basic considerations		173
The ' deficit '		174
Food prices		177
Recent changes in food control		178
Food controls in relation to the Plan		179
Rationing and procurement		182
Administration of food controls		182
Change in food habits		183
CHAPTER XII	Land Policy
The land problem		184
Intermediary rights		185
Substantial owners of land		187
Small and middle owners		191
Tenants-at-will		192
Landless workers		193
Co-operative farming		193
Co-operative village management		194
Central Organisation for land reforms		197
ANNEXURE—Size of holdings		199
CHAPTER XIII	The Agricultural Worker
Magnitude of the problem		203
Approach to the problem		204
Minimum wages		205
House sites		206
Labour co-operatives		207
Resettlement schemes for landless workers		207

	PAGE
CHAPTER XIV	Programme for Agriculture
• Production targets	208
• The programme	210
• Commercial crops	212
• Other agricultural products	213
• The effects of the programme	213
• Agricultural planning	214
• Appendix I—Targets of additional production (food grains), 1955-56	217
• Appendix II—Targets of additional production (commercial crops), 1955-56	218
• Appendix III—Irrigation programme	220
• Appendix IV—Five year programme, minor irrigation works	221
• Appendix V—Five year Programme, land reclamation and development	222
CHAPTER XV	Community Development and Rural Extension
Basic principles	223
Community development programme	224
Size of the unit	224
Location of units	224
Main lines of activity	225
Agriculture and related matters	226
Irrigation	226
Communications	226
Education	226
Health	227
Supplementary employment	227
Housing	227
Training	227
Social welfare	227
Organisation	228
Peoples' participation—the crux of the programme	228
Villagers' contribution to the programme	229
Finance	229
Supporting Projects	230
Evaluation	230
National extension service	231
CHAPTER XVI	Finance for Agriculture
Nature of requirements and agencies of agricultural credit	234
State loans	235
Loans by co-operative societies	235
Medium and long-term loans	238

	PAGE
CHAPTER XVII	Agricultural Marketing
Progress of co-operative marketing	243
Storage and warehousing	245
Future pattern of development	246
Grading	247
Weights and measures	249
CHAPTER XVIII	Some Problems of Agricultural Development
Minor irrigation and rainfall	250
Improved seed production and supply	252
Manures and fertilizers	254
Agricultural implements and machinery	260
Plant protection, quarantine and storage	263
Agricultural education and training	267
Agricultural research	268
CHAPTER XIX	Animal Husbandry
Key village scheme	275
Gosadan scheme	276
The fodder and feed problem	277
Disease control	278
Poultry	278
Sheep and wool	279
Veterinary education and research	279
CHAPTER XX	Dairying and Horticulture
Horticulture	283
CHAPTER XXI	Forests
Forest areas	285
Village plantations	287
Soft coke as household fuel	287
Production and requirements of timber	288
Forest industries and minor forest produce	290
Grazing lands	291
Forest administration	292
Forests research and education	292
Forest tribes	293
The programme	294
Appendix I—Statement showing area under forests in different forest regions of India (1949-50)	295
Appendix II—Production and availability of fuel (1947-48)	296
CHAPTER XXII	Soil Conservation
Soil conservation associations	300
Legislation	300

	PAGE
Research and demonstration	301
Soil and land utilisation survey	301
Soil conservation in community development projects	301
Soil conservation in river valley project areas	302
The problem of the Rajasthan desert	303
Organisation	303
CHAPTER XXIII	Fisheries
Production trends	306
Scope for development	307
Inland fisheries	307
Marine fisheries	309
Personnel and training	311
Ground organization	311
Supplies and marketing	312
The fisheries plan	314
CHAPTER XXIV	Village Industries
Organisation	316
State policy	317
Research and training	319
Finance	321
Village industry programmes	321
Appendix—Summary statement showing production, expenditure and employment in selected village industry schemes	324
CHAPTER XXV	Small Industries and Handicrafts
Handicrafts	327
Small industries	329
State purchase	331
Replacing imports	332
New centres of small-scale production	332
Training	333
CHAPTER XXVI	Irrigation and Power
Assessment of water resources	334
Available water resources.	335
Water resources that can be developed for irrigation	337
Existing development	338
Assessment of power resources	340
Existing development	341
Need for future development	343
The quantum of development necessary	344

	PAGE
Development under the Plan	347
Need for a national policy	347
Basis of the Plan	349
The Plan	350
Utilisation of power	352
Policy and administration	355
Economics and financing of irrigation projects	356
Economics and financing of power projects	360
Irrigation development (ways and means) fund	361
Economic use of available irrigation supplies	362
Major and minor irrigation projects	364
Conditions for inclusion of new projects in future plans	365
Hydrologic investigations	367
Rural electrification	367
Public co-operation	368
Table 1—List of principal irrigation works of India	371
Table 2—Area cultivated and irrigated in different States of India	373
Table 3—Major (existing) power stations in India (public utilities only as on 31st December 1951)	376
Table 4— Per capita use of electricity in the States of India	378
Table 5—Irrigation and power projects in the Five Year Plan	379

CHAPTER XXVII

Development of Mineral Resources

Assessment of mineral resources	380
Mineral policy	383
Some important minerals	385
Coal	385
Development programme	389
Iron ore	393
Manganese ore	395
Chromite	397
Non-ferrous metals	398
Copper	399
Lead and zinc	399
Bauxite	400
Magnesite	401
Mica	402
Gypsum	405
The geological survey of India	409
The Indian bureau of mines	409
The national research laboratories	410
Co-ordination of mineral development and research	411

	PAGE
20 Sulphur	407
Programme of mineral development	409
CHAPTER XXVIII	Scientific and Industrial Research
Programme of laboratories and institutes	415
CHAPTER XXIX	Industrial Development and Policy
Industrialisation and economic development	420
Indian industrial structure	420
National planning and the private sector	422
Industrial priorities in the Plan	425
Development in the public sector	428
Development in the private sector	430
Industrial development, 1951-56 : resume	433
Progress in the achievement of the targets	434
Controls and incentives for development	435
Financial requirements and sources	436
Foreign capital	437
Additional demands for raw materials, fuel and power	438
Research into development of new processes	441
Measures for increasing industrial productivity	441
Location of industries	442
Industrial management	443
Appendix I—Industrial projects in the public sector	444
Appendix II—Expansion programme in the private sector	446
Appendix III—Progress in the implementation of development Plans of certain major industries	451
CHAPTER XXX	Foreign Trade and Commercial Policy
Role of commercial policy in planning	452
Determinants of policy, pre-war and post-war	453
Effects of the war and the partition on pattern of trade	454
Shifts in the composition and direction of trade	455
The impact of the Plan on volume of foreign trade	457
Changes in composition of trade in the Plan period	458
Outlook for the future	460
CHAPTER XXXI	Transport and Communications
Introduction	461
I. Railways :
Magnitude of the rehabilitation programme	462
Demands on the railway system	463

	PAGE
Future programme	464
Manufacture and import of railway equipment	464
Rehabilitation of track	465
Railway development under the Five Year Plan	466
Financing the Railway plan	466
2. Shipping :
1 Coastal shipping	468
2 Overseas shipping	469
3 Rate of interest on loans	469
4 Fiscal concessions	469
5 Programme of acquisition of tonnage	470
6 Nature and quantum of expansion based on foreign assistance	470
7 Sailing vessels	471
8 Co-ordination of shipping with other transport agencies	471
9 Technical training	472
10 Lighthouse development	472
3. Ports and Harbours :
1 Ports in India's national economy	473
2 Need for port development	473
3 Capital expenditure for modernisation and development during the period of the Plan	473
4 Programme of various ports	474
5 Financing of the port development projects	474
4. Civil aviation :
Progress of civil aviation in India	475
Aviation policy	477
5. Roads :
State of road development	478
Priorities under the Five Year Plan	479
National highways	480
State roads	481
Village roads	481
Finance for road development in the Five Year Plan	482
6. Road Transport :
Emergence of public road transport services	482
Programme of State road transport services	483
7. Communications :
The state of the communication services	484
Development plans	485

	PAGE
8. Broadcasting :
The state of the broadcasting service	487
Programme under the Five Year Plan	487

CHAPTER XXXII

Health

State of public health	488
Causes of low state of health	490
Personnel	490
Physical facilities	491
Priorities	491
Organisation and administration	491
Medical and public health programmes	492
Environmental hygiene	496
Water supply	496
Nutrition	498
Malaria	500
Filariasis	502
Tuberculosis	502
Venereal diseases	504
Leprosy	506
Cancer	507
Mental diseases	508
Maternity and child health	509
Health education	511
Medical education, medical research and medical relief	512
Indigenous systems of medicine	515
Drugs and medical requisites	518
Vital statistics	521
Family planning	522

CHAPTER XXXIII

Education

1. General :
Assessment of the present position	525
Resources	529
Priorities	530
Agencies	532
2. Pre-school education	533
3. Primary (including basic) education	534
4. Secondary education :
Objectives	538
Finance	539
Relationship of post-basic and secondary schools	539

	PAGE
5. University education :
Reform of the existing system	539
Building up of a new system-rural universities	542
Relationship between existing and rural universities	542
6. Social education:
Assessment of the present situation	543
The approach	543
The programme	544
Selection and training of workers.	546
Research in literacy methods and production of literature	547
Devising a suitable machinery	547
7. Professional education :
Engineering and technological education	548
Education for commerce and management	555
Law	557
8. Women's education	557
9. Other problems :
Labour and social service by students	559
Teachers' salaries and conditions of service	560
Physical and mental health	561
10. Educational programmes :
Scope	562
Distribution of expenditure.	562
Programmes of the ministry of education	563
Programmes of the State Governments	565
Results of the programmes	566
Statement—Progress of education, 1951-56	568

CHAPTER XXXIV

Labour

I. Industrial relations :
A. Private sector	572
1 The approach	572
2 Avoidance of disputes	575
3 Internal settlement	576
4 Collective bargaining	577
5 Conciliation and enquiry	578
6 Arbitration	578
7 Stoppages	579

	PAGE
B. Public Sector (industrial and commercial employees in public undertakings).	580
C. Role of trade unions and employers' associations in a planned economy .	581
II. Wages and social security :
A. Wages	583
B. Social security	585
III. Working conditions :
A. Factories	586
B. Plantations	588
IV. Employment and training	589
V. Productivity	591
 CHAPTER XXXV	 Housing ✓
1 Introductory	593
2 Conditions in India	593
Housing by Governments and public bodies	594
3 Private enterprise	596
4 Estimate of housing shortage	597
5 Housing policy	598
6 Housing standards and estimates of cost	600
7 Housing finance	603
8 Town and country planning	603
9 Slum clearance	604
10 Rural housing	605
11 Research	607
12 National building organisation	608
13 Housing boards	609
14 Legislation	611
 CHAPTER XXXVI	 Social Welfare ✓
1 Agencies	616
2 Social research	619
3 Resources	619
4 Social legislation	620
5 Women's welfare	621
6 Child welfare	623
7 Family welfare	626
8 Youth welfare	627
National physical fitness	629
9 Crime and correctional administration	631
10 Welfare of the physically handicapped	632
11 Community approach in social welfare	633

	PAGE
CHAPTER XXXVII	Welfare of Backward Classes
Scheduled castes and other backward classes	634
The scheduled tribes	636
Development of the economic life of the scheduled tribes	637
Criminal tribes	640
CHAPTER XXXVIII	Rehabilitation of Displaced Persons
Rural rehabilitation	642
Urban resettlement	644
Other rehabilitation measures	646
Expenditure on rehabilitation	647
Compensation for displaced persons	648
Rehabilitation and development	649
CHAPTER XXXIX	Employment
Employment among the educated	655
CONCLUSION	659
INDEX	661