

KIRLOSKAR RET-4
an investment you recover in 60,000 Kilometers

Brainchild of KIRLOSKAR R & RET-4 is a four cylinder diesel light (only 250 kg) this small packs a big wallop 65 bhp dieselizing wagons, vans, cars. Compare it with petrol engine same horsepower. You'll find operational costs LESS. It saves money every minute it runs. In 60,000 Km on it, you recover your investment on it.

It is a champion of two SHOOT (Poona to Leh) an clouds and back) and 1 (Poona to London and bad roads, bad roads, summer heat, freezing cold, dizzy heights they are all the same to the RET-4. That's reliability for you. Wouldn't you like to repower your vehicle with it?

Seven years ago, the wonder bird, Babcock B-300 came to India a champion poultry breed, the best among layers
We're happy we brought it, and started a poultry revolution Its goodness is spreading everywhere.

Does our work read like a citation ?

- International standards in poultry know-how
 - Development of 92% of the industry
 - Export of eggs, chicks and know-how. earning over Rs 2 crore in foreign exchange
 - Turnkey capability in setting-up poultry plants
- Yes, we can offer you everything in the business...field studies, finance, equipment, training, complete working plants.

Our new symbol marks this high spot. It mirrors the poultry revolution ushered in seven years ago, by Babcock of USA, and us, of VH.

Sub: Supply of side and rear door windows.

Dear Sir,

Please accept our heartfelt thanks for your extra strong and rigid fiberglass body which saved lives of six persons who met with a serious accident in which our Jeep fitted with your body fell into deep trench about 500 feet below the road level. The body was so strong that except the three windows - 2 of sides and one of rear door, the whole body was intact except minor cracks in body.

It is requested that three windows may please be despatched to us immediately on receipt of this letter. The document may please be negotiated through Punjab National Bank, GANGYAL Branch, Jammu - 180003 for payment and windows be despatched through a transport Co; which has a branch in our city.

Please also advise how to seal the cracks as the body is leaking during recent rains.
Awaiting your despatch instruction and advance copy of invoice.

Yours faithfully
for KAY BEE INDUSTRIES

DEVAL UTENSILS FACTORY

15/1 and 5 Karve Road, Pune 411 004

1st and still the only silver platers in India having
I.S.I. certification mark

Manufacturers of 'Deval' Brand Silver-plated
Tableware

Which is better than pure silver ware in many respects and is much much cheaper.

SILVER WARE

- 1 Very Costly.
- 2 Soft. Gets easily deformed.
- 3 A cause of anxiety
of being stolen.
- 4 Labour cost of making of silver ware is very high.

'DEVAL' WARE

- 1 Costs less than 15%
of pure silver ware.
- 2 Strong. Resists
deformation.
- 3 Quite safe. Almost immune from being stollen.
- 4 The cost of 'Deval'
ware is nearly equal to the labour cost of making silver ware.

As there is a thick layer of pure silver all over,
'Deval' ware, has all the hygienic properties
of pure silver ware.

The silver plating on 'Deval' Ware lasts for 5 years for careful daily use.

Foreword

This is the second edition of the Industrial and Commercial Directory of Pune. The first edition was published in the year 1972 and our efforts at compiling the industrial and commercial information of Pune was appreciated by all. This Directory aims at collecting original statistical and economic information about the industries and commercial activities of the city and if I may say so this is the first effort of its kind where an exhaustive coverage is attempted at to collect information from all industries in a region.

This Directory is divided into 10 broad sections. In the first section a brief note on industrial growth of Pune region and a note on the activities of the Chamber is given. The second section gives detailed information regarding industries in Pune region — products manufactured by them, their employment, capital investment, value of their production etc. A product index and a few classified lists of industries are also included in this section. In the fourth section statistical information regarding population, industries, employment, transport, electricity, telephone, education, civic administration are given. Two new sections — one on exporters from Pune and another one on commercial and industrial services have been added in this edition. The other sections are pertaining to dealers in different goods, tourism, publicity and publications and education. Two multi-colour maps of Pune and Pimpri, Chinchwad, Bhosari area are included in this Directory

The Chamber has put in special efforts to collect original and up to date information from the industries and from various other sources and readers will find a lot of original information collected in this Directory.

I take this opportunity to thank all industrial and commercial establishments, government offices, educational and other institutions, authorities of Pune Municipal Corporation and Pimpri-Chinchwad New Municipal Council and many others who helped the Chamber to collect the basic information required for this Directory. I also thank the numerous advertisers in this Directory, because without their financial support this publication would not have been possible. The Secretariat of the Chamber worked zealously for the completion of the project for which I am grateful to them. I am also grateful to Sangam Press Ltd., for their excellent job of printing this Directory, and to Shri G. T. Chavan, for his painstaking work in preparing press copy and proof reading.

We have made every effort to include most of the relevant information and bring it up to date as far as possible. However, it is possible that even with the best efforts there may still be a few omissions. I request the indulgent reader to bring them to our notice and also make any other suggestions so as to enhance the utility of this publication.

CUMMINS NHC-4 GENSET..

Grows with your power needs

Today a 50 KVA set may meet your needs. But, when your power needs grow to 75 KVA, what'll you do? Sell the small set? Replace it with a bigger one? Complement it with another? No.

Install a CUMMINS NHC-4 genset...NOW. It's the right answer.

That's because of its versatile PT fuel system. It can be set for a lower load...say 50 KVA...when you buy it, and, when needed, reset for full load . 75 KVA...without affecting fuel efficiency or economy.

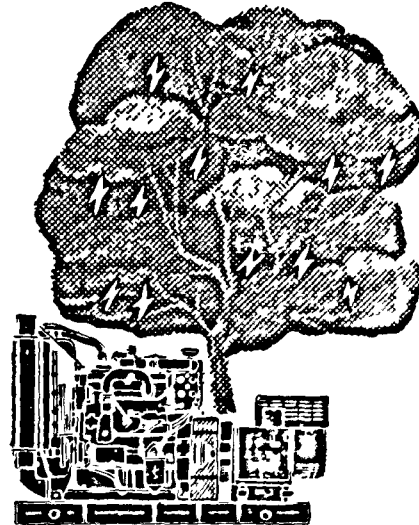

Here are the economics:

- * Almost the same price per KW as other makes
- * Lower running costs due to exclusive Cummins features
- * Higher swept volume (495 cu. in./8.11 litres)
- * Longer life: strong construction (critical components designed for 180 horsepower when turbocharged)

NHC-4 is an international favourite exported regularly to USA, UK, Australia and Japan.

Comprehensive warranty (3600 hours of operation or one year)

The NHC-4 genset is for today and tomorrow...a cool answer to a vexing, hot problem.

3754 Cummins gensets in the service of the nation
Total capacity over 500 MW

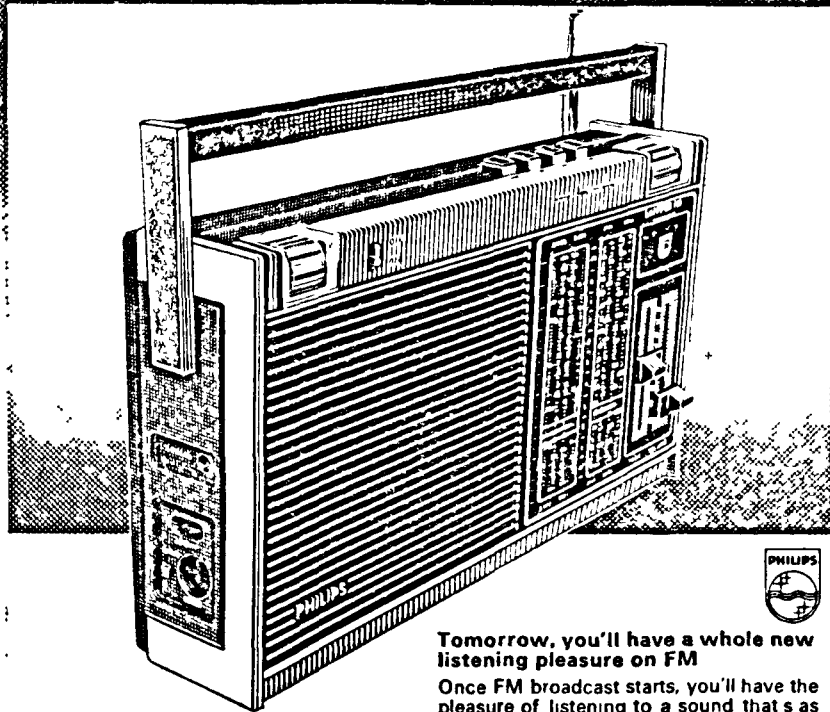

You can buy from any of 15 independent genset manufacturers. Please write for a list.

New SKIPPER FM

a band ahead of time.

Today, FM will boost SW and MW reproduction to a new peak

The New SKIPPER FM has an exclusive FM band and an audio circuitry that acts as a catalyst, to boost SW and MW reproduction to rich and sonorous peak. A 15cm x 10cm elliptical, high-efficiency loudspeaker, housed in a brilliantly engineered cabinet, further enhances its acoustic brilliance

'Avant garde' features:

- Powerful audio-amplifier to increase the acoustic efficiency of your tape recorder/record player.
- Convenient tape-in facility.
- Three sensitive built-in aerials, one telescopic antenna.

There is also a Transmains version of SKIPPER FM which has an electromatic switch-over to battery power in case of power failure.

Tomorrow, you'll have a whole new listening pleasure on FM

Once FM broadcast starts, you'll have the pleasure of listening to a sound that's as rich and clear as from a TV set

What is FM?

In FM or 'Frequency Modulation' broadcasts, sound travels within the frequency carrier and is protected from extraneous noise. (In present AM or 'Amplitude Modulation' broadcasts, sound travels upon the carrier, so noise is a major problem) FM makes high-fidelity reception for mono and stereo broadcasts!

A choice of 2 models:

- 15 RL 557—Rs. 700/-*
- 15 RL 558—Rs. 775/-* (Transmains)

* Recommended price including excise duty. Local taxes extra.

Pune, The New Industrial City

PUNE is one of those few places, like Bangalore, in India where the climate seems to have blended ideally with its people to produce an ethos which has built up, on the one hand, probably the best in Indian culture and education and, on the other, a vital part of the country's growing industry. Comparisons are odious, but for the benefit of a foreigner, contemporary Oxford is just about the most obvious analogue.

Pune has been building up modern industry against the background of its old traditions of learning and administration. The renaissance in education and industry started together in the eighties of the nineteenth century, but industry followed education in its strides of progress and even today though this city is being recognised as one of our new industrial cities, its eminence as an educational centre has not diminished.

As a result of the rapid industrial development in and around Pune, many swift changes have taken place in its civic life. In this small note, it is proposed to give some factual information regarding the city and then trace the important developments that have taken place during the last two decades.

Location

Geographical setting: Pune City is the divisional headquarters of Pune Division, which comprises the districts of Pune, Satara, Solapur, Ahmednagar, Sangli and Kolhapur. It is also the district headquarters of Pune District. The city is situated in 18° 31'N and 73° 51'E and is 192 kilometres (by rail) away from Bombay. It is 570 metres above the sea level and in a straight line about 107 kilometres from the coast.

✓ The Gazetteer of the Bombay Presidency describes the geographical setting of the city in the following manner: "On the right bank of the Mutha river, in a slight hollow, the city and cantonment are bounded on the west by the Mutha, on the north by the joint Mula-Mutha, on the east by their feeder the Bahiroba and on the south-east and the south by the spurs and uplands that rise to the northern slopes of the Sinhagad-Buleshwar Hills. On other sides, except up the Mutha Valley to the south-west, the city and the cantonment are surrounded by uplands and hills. On the north-west is the soilless Ganeshkhind upland, and on the west, from the rocky slopes of the Chatushringi or Bhamburda Hills, bare waving ranges rise to the central peak of Bhamburda. To the south rises the low but sharp cut picturesque temple crowned top of Parvati and behind Parvati the broken outline of the Sinhagad-Bhuleshwar range".

Pune lies on an extensive plain, surrounded by singularly scarped hill from 580 to 700 metres high. The land between the Mula-Mutha and the Sinhagad hills is a plain, rising slightly to the east and south, the surface unbroken except near the river and along four of its smaller feeders which cross the plain from south to north. To the extreme west of the city is Ambil Odha running south-east to north-west. There are also a few other streams like Nagzari, Manik Nala or Bahiroba Nala which flow through the city. The city has a fall from south to north of about 22 metres being approximately 9.375 metres per kilometre.

Climate

Pune is situated at the eastern foothills of the Sahyadri range of mountains. It is within 48 kilometres of the highest peak. Its height from sea level is 570 metres and perhaps that is the reason why Pune's climate is mostly dry. The Southern and Western approaches to the city are hill strewn and covered with forests. Because of its height and dry climate, Pune has an agreeable temperature even in summer. During the winter cold winds from the east blow on the city. With the beginning of January, winds from the sea blow in. By the end of April, Pune generally registers a temperature of 40°C. This causes occasional showers with thunder burst. The showers are usually preceded by very hot spells. May witnesses occasional but violent storms accompanied by cloud bursts. Wet western winds from the sea begin to blow since June, causing a considerable fall in summer temperatures. This heralds monsoon rains. During the rainy season, though the skies are clouded, weather is exhilarating and bracy because of the cool winds from the west.

Pune records 30 inches of rain annually. Most of it falls in July. Pune recorded a maximum of rainfall of 50 inches and 90 cents in 1892. In the same year 5 inches and 76 cents of rain have been recorded in 24 hours.

Pune, through history

The earliest reliable and express reference to the Pune City is to be found in the copper-plate inscriptions of the Rastrakuta Kings in the 8th and the 10th century. In these copper inscriptions Pune has been described variously as Punya Vishaya, Punaka Vishaya, Punakawadi, etc. The Rastrakutas were overthrown in 973 and Pune passed under the Yadav Kings of Daulatabad. In 1294 A.D. it came under Mohamedan Rule. According to the traditional account, Burya Arab built the fort of Chakan and from there administered Pune. Pune thus developed into a small town of the Mohamedans and came to be known as Kasbe Pune. Under the British Rule and till recently it was known as Poona.

In 1510, Shri Chaitanya Prabhu from Bengal, in his wandering through the country, came to Pune. His disciple, Govind Das, has left an account of his impressions regarding the city as it was then. He speaks of a lake in the vicinity of the town, where several Brahmins and their disciples were busy in repeating vedic hymns. Govind Das found the city full of Pathshalas where Bhagwat Gita and Bhagwat were taught. Chaitanya was so impressed by the scholarship of Pandits in Pune that he referred to it as "Purnagrama".

When Pune City came under Shahaji Bhosale, the city had grown with habitation in areas of present Kasba, Shaniwar, Somwar and Ravivar Peths. Till 1630, the city was under his possession. In 1631, when Shahaji rose in revolt against Nizam and Adilshaha, Murar Jagdev Pandit, a Sardar of Adil Shahi, attacked Pune and captured it. He plundered the city and literally razed it to the ground. An ass-drawn plough was driven over the whole place. In 1637, the Pune Jahagir was again given to Shahaji. Shivaji came to reside in Pune along with his mother Jijabai around 1640. In 1656, the city came in the possession of Shivaji and the real progress of Pune may be said to have been started during the time of Chhatrapati Shivaji. Dadoji Konddev, one of the trusted assistants of Shahaji and a Guru (teacher) of Shivaji, played an important role in reconstructing the city. At that time Pune was supposed to be a cursed place as Murar Jagdev had levelled it with an ass-drawn plough. Dadoji Konddev performed some religious ceremonies to drive away the evil spirits haunting the place. He had the whole ground ploughed again by a plough made of pure gold. Dadoji Konddev restored law and order in the land; brought the fields, which had remained fallow for years, under cultivation and constructed a palace in the city, known as Lal Mahal,* for his young master Shivaji. But as Pune was too open to attack and was bare of any natural defence, subsequently, Shivaji removed his capital to Rajgad.

Further growth of the city took place during the time of Peshwas. During the regime of Peshwas the town expanded into a city along the southern bank of the Mutha river. During this period, the total area occupied by the city was about 15.54 square kilometres and the population was in the neighbourhood of about one-and-a-half lakhs.

A few important dates showing the landmarks in the development of the city during the Peshwa period would be interesting: in 1721 Bajirao I appointed Bapuji Shripat as the Subhedar of Pune and charged him with the responsibility of developing the town. In 1730, Bajirao I built for himself Shanwarwada which stands even today. In 1734, Shukrawar Peth was founded by Bajirao I. Balaji Bajirao, the third Peshwa, added, in 1783, four new wards to the city, namely Vetal or Guruwar, Nagesh or Nihal, Ganesh and Narayan. In 1749, the main shrine on the Parvati Hill was built. In 1761 the Lakdi Bridge was constructed on Mutha River. In 1782 the city was provided with a drainage. In 1790 Nana Phadnavis built an aqueduct* and arranged for the continuous water supply to the city.

In November, 1818, when the English occupied the city and deposed the Peshwa, the British troops encamped in tents to the east of the city within the present cantonment limits. Pune cantonment thus dates from 1818. After the addition of the cantonment in 1818 the city did not expand further till well into the 20th century.

A few important developments during the period are the construction of Khadakwasla Dam in 1867 for supplying water to Pune City and

* Apart from this aqueduct, there were two more aqueducts constructed. Sardar Anandrao Raste constructed in 1778 an aqueduct and brought water from Kondhave, a village 7 miles east of Pune. Rup Ram Chaudhari constructed an aqueduct sometime after 1790 and brought water to the Shukrawar and Bhawani wards.

Cantonment; establishment of Pune City Municipality in 1858 and establishment of Pune Suburban Municipality in 1884; introduction of Pune-Bombay Railway line in 1856 and introduction of Pune-Miraj metre-gauge railway in 1886.

Pune as a Military Centre

By the end of the nineteenth century, Pune regained its importance as the seasonal capital of the Bombay Presidency and as a military centre. The Britishers developed the area around the city as headquarters of Southern Command and the cantonment grew into a township on the eastern side of the old city. During this period a number of educational institutions were established in Pune City and Pune came to be known as an important educational centre.

Pune attained all-India importance in politics during the first two decades of the twentieth century. In fact it was the cradle of Indian politics as Lokmanya B. G. Tilak, who led the extremist school and Prof. G. K. Gokhale, the liberal or moderate school, had Pune as their headquarters.

During the years from 1880 to 1920, the growth of the city received a setback owing to the spread of epidemics such as Plague and Influenza. Subsequently Pune was free from these epidemics and the salubrious climate and the other amenities of the civic life attracted large number of pensioners to settle in Pune, after retirement. Thus because of the large number of student population, as a result of Pune being an educational centre, and the preference of retired persons for Pune, this city came to be known as 'the City of Students and Pensioners.'

During the period after 1920, Pune city registered a commendable progress. Though the Lakdi Pool was constructed in 1761 and the Fergusson College was established in 1896, there was not much residential development across the river till 1920. The area of Bhamburda and Erandawana were developed only after 1920 when the Plague and Influenza in Pune were brought somewhat under control.

Rapid Urban Growth after the Second World War

During the Second World War, because of the establishment of defence industries near Pune, the population of the city increased considerably. As a result of the partition of the country, immediately after Independence, there was an influx of refugees in Pune. In 1950 the Pune City Municipality and the Pune Suburban Municipality were merged together and the Pune Municipal Corporation was formed. As a result of all these developments in one decade, 1941-1951, the population of the Pune City suddenly increased from about 2.37 lakhs to about 4.81 lakhs, i.e., by 74% in a decade.*

After 1951, the city has undergone further transformation. Realising the changing times, Pune came forward to respond to the challenge of achieving rapid economic development, and during these two decades made a noteworthy progress in the industrial sphere. A large variety of industries—small, medium and large—have now grown in and around Pune. A new industrial township has grown in Pimpri-Chinchwad-Bhosari areas near Pune, and in the city itself, on all sides a good number of industries have been established.

The other developments which have helped Pune to grow during the last two decades are the establishment of the National Defence Academy, the National Chemical Laboratory, Pune University, a number of Defence establishments, Central Water and Power Research Station, etc. in and around the city. The Panshet floods in 1961 affected a large number of families living in the areas on the river banks. Thereafter a rapid expansion of the city is taking place; new residential colonies are being established and the city is expanding on all sides.

* Detailed statistics of growth of population in Pune City from 1740 to 1971 have been given in the Statistical Section.

In 1962, the boundaries of Pune Municipal Corporation were further extended to include certain new areas.

Development of Industries in Pune

Pune's industrial growth barely spans a dozen odd years. The city had earlier no local tradition of large-scale trade or commerce. It has been a typical middle-class community. None of its leading entrepreneurs today claims a textile background which was the chief ingredient in the success formula of many a prominent business house in other parts of India.

Though Pune does not have any tradition of organised industries, attempts were made as early as in the last quarter of the 19th century to start industries in the vicinities of Pune. In 1885, Deccan Paper Mills was founded by Sardar Dorabjee Pudumjee and Sardar Nowrojee Pudumjee. In 1888, an attempt was made by Shri Anantrao Bhau Godambe to undertake large-scale production of brass and copperware with the aid of machinery. After running it for 20 years the factory was sold to its wholesale selling agents, Messrs. Hakamchand Ishwardas, and was renamed as "Gujarat Metal Factory". In 1893, Seth Hindumal Balmukund, one of the leading traders, started Raja Bahadur Motilal Poona Mills in Pune and Lokmanya Tilak had written a special editorial in Kesari welcoming this new venture of the Pune industrialist and his friends. With the blessings of Lokmanya Tilak an Industrial Fund named the Paisa Fund was started to give a boost to Swadeshi industries, which started a glass factory at Talegaon in 1908. It provided blowers to other glass factories in the country. In 1896 the famous artist Raja Ravi Varma had started a litho press at Malavali near Lonavala. These factories are still running and have recorded considerable progress during all these years.

Apart from these private efforts, the Government set up its defence factories near Pune. Thus in 1869, Ammunition Factory was started at Khadki and during the First and the Second World War considerable expansion took place at this factory. In 1940 High Explosive Factory went into production at Khadki.

Though these large factories were started in good old days and they have progressed during these years, the establishment of these factories did not set further process of industrialization. Thus the picture of Pune industries in early 'fifties was the existence of these large-scale industries and the side-by-side existence of a few small-scale units producing a variety of consumer articles such as bidis, bricks, coarse cloth, brass and copper utensils, stationery, perfumes, soaps, etc. But the predominant character of Pune as an educational and administrative centre did not materially change.

This change was initiated with the establishment of Messrs. Kirloskar Oil Engines at Khadki in 1946. This factory gave an impetus to the setting-up of a number of small-scale units serving as feeders to the large-scale units. Subsequently a few more large-scale factories, like Ruston & Hornsby, Cooper Engineering, Buckau Wolf, K S B Pumps, Bajaj Auto were started and this gave further fillip to the growth of small-scale ancillary units in Pune.

In 1954, Ruston and Hornsby (India) Ltd., the first factory in Greaves Cotton Group, was set up at Chinchwad and Greaves Foseco, another factory in the same group, was also set up in the same premises at Chinchwad in 1957. In 1955, Hindustan Antibiotics Ltd., a public sector project, was set up at Pimpri, near Pune. The setting up of these manufacturing units encouraged considerable industrial development nearabout these factories in the Bombay-Pune rail-road corridor in Pimpri-Chinchwad area. This growth was further accelerated mainly because of the proximity and easy accessibility of this area to Bombay and also owing to restrictions imposed by the State Government on the industrial expansions in Greater Bombay. The other factors, such as salubrious climate, availability of skilled personnel, necessary infrastructure facilities such as water, power, transport, etc. also played a great part in attracting industries to Pune. The establishment of Hadapsar Industrial Estate in 1956 by Pune Municipal Corporation and the exemption of octroi duty on the raw material and machinery of the units located in this Estate also attracted a few new industries to Pune.

In 1960, the Maharashtra Industrial Development Corporation (MIDC) undertook development of a large industrial area of 3000 acres at Bhosari in the Pimpri-Chinchwad Industrial Complex. A large number of industries both large-scale and small-scale have already been established in the area and the development of this area by the MIDC has helped the process of industrialisation in Pune further. Pimpri-Chinchwad-Bhosari Industrial Complex is one of the larger industrial complexes in our State.

The result is that now there are about 2500 units — both large-scale and small-scale — in and around Pune. On all sides of Pune City industries have now been established. And where once cattle grazed and farmers chatted under the cool shade of the banyan trees, there have sprung up new industrial areas at Pimpri, Chinchwad, Bhosari, Kothrud and at Hadapsar, and on both sides of Pune-Nagar Road. During night time, they provide a spectacle of lights with well-lighted factories with their neon-signed hoardings, and with their modern architectural designs showing prominently in lights.

Important large industrial units in Pune

Among the large units today are: Associated Bearing Co. Ltd. (ball bearings); Associated Batteries Ltd. (car batteries); Atlas Copco (India) Ltd. (air compressors); Ayurveda Rasashala (Ayurvedic medicines); Bajaj Auto Ltd. (scooters); Bajaj Tempo Ltd. (tempo vehicles); Bharat Forge Ltd. (industrial forgings); Buckau Wolf

New India Engineering Works Ltd. (sugar machinery); Cooper Engineering Ltd (machine tools); Dr. Beck & Co. (India) Ltd. (wire enamels, impregnating varnishes and synthetic resins for electrical industry); Century Enka Ltd. (nylon yarn); Dai-Ichi Karkaria (P) Ltd. (textile chemicals); Deccan Metal Works (non-ferrous rolling mills); David Brown Greaves Ltd. (worm reduction gears and marine gear boxes); Deccan Paper Mills Ltd. (paper); Elpro International Ltd. (lightning arresters, X-ray equipment, Allnico magnets and calrod heating units); Formica India Ltd. (laminated boards); Garware Nylons Ltd. (nylon thread); Garware Wall Ropes; Globe Electric Stores (electric fans); Greaves Foseco Ltd. (foundry fluxes); Gujarat Metal Factory (brass utensils); Western Insulated Cables Ltd. (electrical cables); Hindustan Antibiotics Ltd. (antibiotic drugs); Hindustan Precision Instruments (P) Ltd. (scientific instruments); Hortsmann India (P) Ltd. (precision gauges and small tools); Indian Cable Industries (P.V.C. cables); Indian Hume Pipe Co. Ltd. (pipes); Industrial Oxygen Ltd. (industrial gases like oxygen, hydrogen, etc.); Indian Card Clothing Co Ltd. (textile accessories); I.C.L. (India) Ltd. (punches, verifiers, sorters and tabulators); J. B. Advani-Oerlikon Electrodes (P) Ltd. (arc-welding electrodes); Jg Glass Industries (glass vials); J. N. Marshall (P) Ltd., Jaya Hind Industries Ltd., Jaya Hind Sciaky Ltd.; K.S.B. Pumps Ltd. (special purpose industrial pumps, motors and valves); Kanthal India Ltd.; Kinetic Engineering Ltd., Khosla Plastics (P) Ltd. (electrical accessories); Kirloskar Cummins Ltd. (diesel engines); Kirloskar Oil Engines Ltd. (diesel engines); Kirloskar Kisan Ltd. (petrol engines, sprayers, etc.); Kirloskar Pneumatic Co. Ltd. (air compressors); Kulkarni Foundries Ltd. (castings and foundry machinery); Mahindra Owen Ltd. (trailors of all types); Matchwell Electricals (India) Ltd. (A.C. motors and electric fans); Mather Greaves Ltd. (pressed calender bowls and textile machinery);

Morris Electronics Ltd. (ferrite rods); Philips India Ltd. (wireless sets and other electrical equipment); Raja Bahadur Motilal Poona Mills Ltd. (plain and printed cotton cloths); Racold Appliances Co (P) Ltd. (electrical appliances); Rescon Mfg. Co. (P) Ltd. (electrical components and carbon resistors); Ruston & Hornsby (India) Ltd. (vertical, horizontal and marine diesel engines); Sandvik Asia Ltd. (tungston carbide and rock drill steel equipment); Sanghvi Non-ferrous Metal Industries (steam cooker, household utensils, etc.); Sathe Biscuit and Chocolate Co. Ltd. (biscuits, cocoa and chocolates); Sahyadri Dyestuffs & Chemicals (P) Ltd. (synthetic dyes); Spaco Carburettors India Ltd; Spirax Marshal Ltd., S.T. Central Workshops (motorbody building, automobile parts); Sudarshan Chemical Industries Ltd. (textile dyes); Semi-conductors Ltd. (rubber goods, suction and delivery hose pipes, industrial and auto rubber parts, cables, oil-seals, gloves, rubber stoppers, shoes, etc.); Tata Engineering and Locomotive Co Ltd. (trucks and press tools); Thermax India (P) Ltd.; Thermolab Glass Products (P) Ltd. (packaging bottles, scientific glassware, B.T. bottles, milk bottles, vacuum flasks); PMT Machine Tool Automatics Ltd; Varma Pharmacy (P) Ltd. (pharmaceuticals); Vulcan Laval Ltd. (Dairy machinery and auxiliary equipment for food, chemical, dairy machinery); Vacuum Plants and Instruments Pvt. Ltd. (machines relating to vacuum technology), Wandleside National Conductors Ltd. (electrolytic copper conductors); Wanson (India) Pvt. Ltd.; Weikfield Products Co. (India) Pvt. Ltd. (food products); West India Chemicals Ltd. (sulphuric acid and single super-phosphate).

Variety in Production

✓ The peculiarity about industrialisation of Pune is that there is no concentration of any particular industry. ✓ Thus, there are industries in the large-scale sector, which manufacture textiles, pharmaceuticals, biscuits and chocolates, electrical appliances, electronic instruments, diesel engines, electric fans, machine tools, air compressors, chemicals, dye-stuff, sugar machinery, scooters, trailers, paper, paper boards, cables, rubber goods, glass, plastics, etc. In the small-scale sector in addition to the traditional lines of manufacture, such as brass and copperware, furniture, toys, mulls, dhoties, sarees, hosiery, leather articles, dyeing and printing, a number of units have been started in such lines as chemicals, electrical equipments, soaps, pharmaceuticals, sports goods, stationery goods, printing, engineering, scientific instruments, electronic equipment, etc. A number of small-scale industrial units are also working as ancillaries to the new industrial units which are being started in the vicinities of Pune.

Locationally, industries in Pune are well distributed over the whole region, creating some well-demarcated pockets of industries. Thus to the north-west of Pune city are situated the well-known industrial areas of Khadki, Pimpri and Chinchwad. To its east are Hadapsar and Loni, to north-east is Yeravada, Pune-Nagar Road and Dhanori and within the city itself industries have concentrated along Karve Road, near the railway station, along the Shankarshet Road and near the Gultekadi area. A new industrial zone of 365 acres has been declared in Hadapsar and within the next few years this will be full of a variety of small-scale industries. Nearabout Pune, industries have been started at Bhor, Lonavala, Talegaon, Malegaon, Sansar and Walchandnagar in the district.

Electronic Industry in Pune

During the course of years, Pune has developed into a centre for electronic industry. Starting from basic transistors and other semi-conductor devices, components of all types are manufactured in the electronic industries in Pune. The small- and medium-scale equipment manufacturers are also specialised in different lines of instrumentation, such as digital equipment, process control equipment, industrial equipment, consumer equipment, communication equipment, etc. The manufacturers of all these equipments and components need raw materials of various types, and most of these raw materials and electronic hardware are manufactured in Pune. No city other than Pune has such a unique collection of electronic manufacturers. In addition, in Pune we have a large number of research laboratories and other government establishments wherein continuous research and development in the field of electronics take place. The Government has also established a testing and development centre in electronics at Pune in the Engineering College. All this concentration and the necessary infrastructure facilities are certainly going to help further growth of electronic industry in Pune.

Institutions related to Industries

Behind this industrial effort and supporting it in terms of research and training, stands the city's complex of institutions — its social overhead capital. Thus, there are the College of Engineering, Government Polytechnic, Sir Cusrow Wadia Institute of Electrical Technology, Automobile Research and Development Laboratory, Central Mechanical and Engineering Research Institute, Indian Drug Research Institute, Industrial Training Institute and an Institute in Paints Technology. The National Chemical Laboratory — one of the 25 national laboratories — is also located in Pune. The State Government has put up its industrial research laboratory and Small Industries Research Institute at Pune. For small-scale industries there is an extension centre of Small Industries Service Institute which offers many common service facilities.

The Mahratta Chamber of Commerce and Industries is the parent body and has taken considerable efforts to promote and develop trade and industry in the Pune region. Founded in 1934 to spearhead the Swadeshi movement and particularly to give impetus to the growth of local enterprise, it promoted the Bank of Maharashtra in 1935. This Bank was one of the leading regional banks and played a very useful role in financing industry and trade and more particularly local small-scale industries in Maharashtra State. The Bank was nationalised along with other banks in 1969. The Chamber also made an attempt to start a financial institution for providing medium- and long-term finance to industries. But this experiment, because of the apathy of the then Government, could not succeed. Some of the Office-Bearers of the Chamber had also made an attempt to develop an industrial estate called Pimpri Udyogpur at Pimpri, but the conditions then were rather unfavourable and the scheme met with failure. Now the Chamber has promoted two industrial estates: one exclusively for small electronic industries and the other for all types of small-scale industries. Both together, about 300 industrial units will be established in these estates.

The Chamber has played an important role in the industrial development of Pune. It submitted in 1953 detailed proposals for the proper development of Hadapsar Industrial Estate and requested the Corporation to exempt the industries in this Estate from the payment of octroi levy. In 1961, when a large number of industries in the city were affected by Panshet floods, the Chamber took considerable efforts to rehabilitate the flood-affected units. Emergency arrangements for their raw materials, machinery, finance and accommodation were made with the active assistance of the State Directorate of Industries. Present Parvati Industrial Estate is an outcome of these efforts. The Chamber then promoted Maharashtra Commerce and Industries Rehabilitation Society as a guarantee organisation for the finances of banks to such flood affected units. In 1962 the Chamber worked out a detailed scheme of Functional Electronic Estate and submitted it to Maharashtra Industrial Development Corporation. The scheme of this estate was accepted and the Estate was established in Bhosari. The problems of regional development of Pimpri-Chinchwad area such as overbridge at Chinchwad, development of Chinchwad Railway Station, introduction of E M U coaches, water supply, uninterrupted power supply, police outpost, drainage system, development of roads, fire brigade, post and telegraph facilities, transport facilities, formation of civic authority in the area, etc., were taken up by the Chamber from time to time with the authorities concerned. Some of these problems have been solved and some are still awaiting solution. The Chamber was also closely associated with the work of Pune Metropolitan Regional Planning Board and assisted the Board in the preparation of the regional plan.

The Chamber is not a grievance-ventilating body, as is the common concept of any Chamber of Commerce, but during the course of years it has developed as a common service agency rendering important services to the business community. Thus it offers labour advisory services, industrial engineering services, group telex service, translation service, Xerox copying service, import-export and excise consultancy service and has organised an excellent commercial reference library, an audio visual laboratory, collects statistics, undertakes publications, organises training programmes, industrial tours, exhibitions, issues certificates of origin and price certificates, has set up two industrial estates and has organised many professional committees to look after day-to-day problems of business and industry.

The industrial development of Pune has given rise to a number of professional organisations like Poona Management Association, Institution of Engineers, National Institute of Labour Management, Institute of Industrial Engineers, Institute of Cost Accountants, Association for Quality and Reliability and so on. All these organisations are rendering special services to industries in Pune region.

It was feared that the rapid pace of industry would destroy the city's placid calm. Some people were visibly disturbed lest the process should lead to a gradual erosion of its people's zest for learning and for various other cultural activities. People earlier used to do all these with poise and grace and seemingly without rush. The frenzied pace and rhythm of modern industry, it was thought, would queer this age-old cultural stance.

All these fears have been laid at rest by the course of events. The industrial transformation of the city has made education all the more indispensable as a highroad to employment. There is not only more education in Pune now, but education in many more fields than before. There has been no lowering of standard either. Pune still holds its own as one of the good places to bring up children of school- and college-going ages. Commerce colleges, management institutes and polytechnics have sprouted up, new courses in business management have been now well established, a number of private bodies like Poona Divisional Productivity Council, Poona Management Association and Institute of Engineers have been conducting short courses on a variety of technical and management subjects. Not only education but the cultural activities in the city also have grown during the recent years. The film clubs, cultural groups, music circles, art societies have proliferated, the art exhibitions are held more frequently and the music halls and drama theatres carry packed houses all the year round. The civic body of Pune is the first in our State to build an air-conditioned playhouse — Bal Gandharva Ranga Mandir. A new air-conditioned drama theatre has been opened in 1976 — Tilak Smarak Mandir. In spite of the expanding industry, one little observes the rush and sick hurry in Pune that one almost accepts as a matter of course in a huge metropolis. It is not uncommon for a factory worker to run the whole gamut of work, recreation and games and the enjoyment of family solitude in the evening at a leisurely pace everyday.

Social Effects

It is extremely difficult to describe the changes which business organisations bring in the social fabric of a city. But one can see the new social pattern in the restaurants, in conference halls, in business organisations and associations. Probably, the "Deccan Gymkhana" area in the city symbolises the new Pune society. Once this locality was described as a "paradise of pensioners" who used to build small bungalows and feel a sense of achievement in their ownership and in the fading years of their lives. Now young men living here own cars, houses, and enjoy the benefit of modern living. Their families eat well, dress well and their children get education of their choice. This has brought about many social changes. One can now see a young couple with their children eating in an air-conditioned restaurant and pay the price of a good meal — perhaps equivalent to the monthly earnings of the young man's father. Shops are crowded and buyers offer a colourful spectacle with young men and women in dominating numbers.

Shops have not only increased in number but have a variety of goods to offer. Some hair-cutting saloons are now air-cooled for the comforts of the customers. The hotels and restaurants have multiplied. Scooters have tremendously increased and crowded the roads often to the exasperated honking of the cars which too have multiplied. The change has percolated to all localities and all strata of the society. Even abodes with modest appearance have TVs, radios and modern furniture.

Professional services found the growth of industries adequate to operate in Pune. New firms of auditors, legal advisors, architects, interior decorators, management consultants, advertisers, and specialists in a variety of subjects have come up and are expanding.

New Class of Entrepreneurs

It would be idle to try to identify all the factors that have worked towards the rapid social transformation of Pune. The most important must, however, be mentioned. By far the most vital is the inbreeding of industrial leadership. Quite of the growth of Pune is from within, and much under its own steam. Here one is reminded of the Kirloskars, the Pittus, the Parkhes, the Vaidyas, the Sathes, the Rathees — all local people. The process is not over. Even now one will find a whole new generation of young technicians struggling hard to achieve success in industry. These are young graduates in Physics, Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Electronics and they are starting new small-scale industries in increasing numbers in this region. Normally these graduates — and there are many who have distinguishing university careers — would be occupying executives' jobs in large business offices or administrators' jobs in the administration. But the industrialisation in Pune has brought about a change in their value judgment. The industry has acquired respectability and an ambitious young man of Pune is today aspiring to have an independent enterprise of his own.

The upsurge of ambition in men wanting to go ahead is the motive force that has brought Pune to prominence as an industrial city. It is increasing and intensifying. Young men are making various things, be it electronics instruments or furniture. They run shops, manage industries, run goods haulers or audit accounts. This multiplication of productive activities may look diverse, often disjointed, but the unity of purpose and single-mindedness of men to achieve success is the same.

Special Characteristics

This is so far as industries. One would naturally think that as a result of this rapid industrialisation, Pune must have changed completely. But not so. Even today, amidst growing industries, it has been able to retain its importance as a centre of administrative, military, educational and social activities.

In historic times, Pune occupied a strategic position for military purposes. Both Mohammedans and Marathas used Pune as military base. In modern times its importance further increased as a result of the location of the ammunition and high-explosives factories near Pune and as the headquarters of Southern Command at Pune.* The location of National Defence Academy at Khadakwasla near Pune, establishment of Armed Forces Medical College, Army School of Physical Training, Military Intelligence School and College of Military Engineering in Pune, setting up of quite a few defence research establishments round about Pune and the location of a large Air Force establishment at Lohagaon near Pune have further enhanced the reputation of Pune as a military centre.

As a result of the military centre, a large number of administrative offices concerning Defence work have been established in Pune. Many important departments of the State Government, such as Police, Public Health, Agriculture, Education, Forest, Survey and Settlements, Town Planning, Co-operation, Land Records, Animal Husbandry are still located in Pune. For about four months the Governor stays in Pune at the Government House, Ganeshkhind. Then as a result of various Central Government establishments, such as Meteorological Office, Central Water and Power Research Station, Film & T.V. Institute, Beam Wireless Station, Western Regional Office of Botanical Survey of India, and as a result of the administrative offices of Pune University, S.S.C. Examination Board, Text Book Bureau, etc. there is a large number of administrative staff in Pune. The satellite station in our country has also been set up at Arvi near Pune.

The educational importance of Pune needs no emphasis. Since long Pune is well known for its good education. The city has facilities for education in Arts, Science, Engineering, Medicine, Commerce, Management, Architecture, Commercial Arts, and a wide variety of technical subjects. There are 26 colleges in Pune and the total number of students studying in these colleges is more than 30,000. The high-school-going students are estimated at over 1,75,000. Apart from these there are large number of students studying in various technical institutions, polytechnics and industrial training schools.

Apart from the colleges and institutions imparting education, Pune has eminent research institutions like Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute, Vaidik Samshodhan Mandal, Bharat Itihas Samshodhan Mandal, Deccan College, Virus Research Institute, Institute of Management Development and Research, National Chemical Laboratory, Central Mechanical Engineering Research Institute, etc. These institutions are carrying out important research work in their respective fields and have achieved all-India and in some cases worldwide eminence.

Association with Political Movements

The historic association of Pune with the freedom movement of the country is well known. In the early years, Pune produced such eminent men as Justice Mahadev Govind Ranade—the inspirer of Indian National Congress, Chaphekar brothers—the revolutionaries, Lokamanya Tilak—the father of Indian unrest and Gopal Krishna Gokhale—the leader of the liberal group. From Pune rose the resounding cry of Lokamanya Tilak “Swarajya (Independence) is my birthright and I shall have it”. The cry stirred the hearts of millions in India and Pune became a focus of political activity. For almost forty years from 1880 to 1920, Pune was in the forefront of political activity of the country.

Pune also had very intimate associations with Gandhiji's life and his fight for country's freedom.

Gandhiji was incarcerated in Pune several times; it was in this city that he underwent his famous operation within the precincts of the Sassoon Hospital; it was here that he undertook one of his famous fasts which led to the so-called Pune Pact. The city has become permanently associated with his biography because of the Samadhis of Srimati Kasturba and Mahadeo Desai, his friend and Secretary, in the grounds of the Aga Khan Palace. Recently, Pune was the spearhead of the Samyukta Maharashtra Movement, and the activities for the liberation of Goa too were carried from Pune. The prominent leaders of the Second Freedom movement in 1977 were also from Pune and they played a great role in this task.

If there is one feature, more than another, which is bound to strike the visitors to Pune, it is the institutional life which this city has succeeded in building up all these years. The cultural heritage has found expression in the establishment of institutions of social service based on the highest ideals of liberalism and social service. The Pune Sarvajanik Sabha was probably the first such institution which was established with a view to building a bridge or establishing a nexus between the common people and the Government. Since then a number of such institutions have been established and though a few have gone into oblivion there are a large number of such institutions working in Pune now. Their fields of activity range from Hindu philosophy to child welfare and from anthropology to international understanding. These institutions have produced a number of dedicated selfless men who have made signal contribution in their respective fields of activities.

The name of Pune cannot be mentioned without remembering names of many great men of the city who have added lustre to the recent history of the country, names which at one time or other have reverberated throughout India: Mahadev Govind Ranade, Bal Gangadhar Tilak, Gopal Ganesh Agarkar, Maharshi Jyotiba Phule, Gopal Krishna Gokhale, Ramkrishna Bhandarkar, Maharshi Vithal Ramji Shinde, M. R. Jaykar, N. C. Kelkar, Maharshi Annasaheb Karve, Wrangler R. P. Paranjpe, N. V. Gadgil, Keshavrao Jedhe, D. R. Gadgil and many others. Obvious reasons do not permit references to living personalities, some of whom are still active in the life of the city and are playing an important role in the various fields of our country such as politics, industry, education, administration, social life, etc. Science and technology, politics and religion, banking and industry, linguistics and indology, not to speak of administration and social service, have all had distinguished recruits from Pune intellectuals.

Civic Administration

The Pune City is administered by Pune Municipal Corporation; Khadki and Pune Cantonments by the respective cantonment boards; Pimpri, Bhosari and Chinchwad by a Municipal Council and in some areas like Loni, Grampanchayat looks after the local affairs.

Pune Municipal Corporation

The civic affairs of Pune City are now managed by Pune Municipal Corporation which was established on 15th February, 1950 by amalgamating Pune City Municipality and the Pune Suburban Municipality.

The Pune City Municipality was functioning from 1858 and the Suburban Municipality from 1884. Public men of Pune were, in their days, members of the municipality. The Pune Municipal Corporation has now 73 corporators on its general body who are elected every four years. The General Body of the Corporation, the Standing Committee, the Municipal Commissioner, the Transport Committee and the Transport Manager are charged with the day-to-day administration of the Municipal Corporation.

Pimpri-Chinchwad New Township Municipal Council

As a result of the recommendations made by the Pune Metropolitan Regional Planning Board, and because of the general demand of the industry, Pimpri-Chinchwad New Municipal Council came into operation from 4th March, 1970. It comprises areas from the villages of Nigadi, Akurdi, Chikhli, Moshi, Bhosari, Pimpri, Ravet and Chinchwad. This Municipal Council is now an elected body and 'A' Class Municipality. It is one of the rich municipal councils and has an income of Rs. 5 crores a year.

Cantonment Boards

Pune Cantonment area was established in 1818 and Khadki in 1840. At present the Pune Cantonment area covers a total area of 13.80 sq. kilometres and is administered by 13 members out of which 7 are elected and 6 nominated. Khadki Cantonment covers an area of 13.28 sq. kilometres and is administered by a body of 11 members, out of which 7 are elected and the remaining nominated.

Pimpri-Chinchwad New Township Development Authority

In April 1972, the Pimpri Chinchwad New Township Development Authority was established by the Government of Maharashtra. It proposes to acquire 6,000 acres of land for the development of an entirely new township around the existing industrial area of Pimpri, Chinchwad and Bhosari.

Fear of stagnation

The growth of industries in Pune in the early 'fifties and early 'sixties has been spectacular. But during the last few years, no new major industrial units have been established in and around Pune and the whole picture is that of a near stagnation. Whatever growth has taken place is at the level of individual units and that too has not been rapid enough and not more than what is essential for sheer survival. The tempo is maintained to a certain extent because of the establishment of quite a few industrial units in the small-scale sector either by technicians themselves or others. But the new industrial policy of the Government of India will not allow establishing large industries in towns where the population is more than 5 lakhs. Not only so but the Government is also considering to request financial institutions to deny support to industries, even in small-scale sector, in metropolitan and large industrial areas. This will be a crippling blow to Pune and if this policy is strictly followed, this city will have virtually no industrial growth in the future.

Industrial land in and around Pune is still available. Out of the total area of 8650 acres allowed by the Pune Metropolitan Regional Planning Board for industrial use, still an area of 2000 acres is to be occupied. The MIDC area in Bhosari is not full. In Hadapsar Industrial Estate, plots are still available. New areas at Ramtekdi, on Pune-Nagar Road at Wagholi and on Pune-Solapur Road are yet to be developed. Thus there is a plenty of scope for establishing industries in the Pune Region. The necessary skilled manpower is available and the class of entrepreneurs is also there. Pune has reached a take off stage and its further growth will be on its own without any special incentives from the Government. It has still a vast potentiality of industrial growth and it should not be throttled by any restrictive policy measures.

LABOUR ADVISORY SERVICE
OF THE MAHARATTA CHAMBER poona 440371 440472

Mahratta Chamber and its Activities

The Mahratta Chamber of Commerce and Industries was founded on 16th March 1934. In four decades it has become a leading spokesman and representative of Industry and Trade in Maharashtra.

Over the years, hundreds of companies have benefited from their association with the Chamber and by their participation and involvement with its activities.

The Central and State Governments have given the Chamber representation on various Committees, making it possible for the individual concerns, including the small-scale organisations, to have a share in the decision-making process that affects industry and trade as a whole.

Services Offered

A Storehouse of Information

All important developments concerning the business community are communicated to the members, by means of circulars, bulletin, lectures, discussion meetings and journals. The weekly bulletin in English 'World of Business' published by the Chamber is distributed free of charge to all members and contains Government Notifications and Public Notices on all aspects relevant to business such as: Sales-tax, Income-tax, Excise, Customs, Import & Export, Company Law, Labour laws, Industrial licensing, etc. All the Government notifications that are published till Friday evening are made available to the members on Monday morning through the Weekly Bulletin. The Chamber also publishes a Marathi monthly 'Sampada' which is exclusively devoted to trade, industry and commerce.

Labour Advisory Service

The Chamber maintains expert staff specialised in the field of Industrial Relations. Industrial and commercial units can draw upon the expertise and experience of this staff on a reasonable charge. This service has proved particularly useful to units that are not large enough to afford a special department of their own to deal with the specialized problems of Industrial Labour such as handling day-to-day labour problems, negotiations with unions, appearances before Conciliation Officers, Labour Courts and Tribunals. The Labour Advisory Service also arranges periodical meetings, discussions and seminars on day-to-day labour problems facing the employers.

Small-scale Industries Wing

Special problems of small-scale industries are looked after by this wing. It has a separate Executive Committee and a Chairman and meets every month to review problems before the small-scale industrial units in this region. It also makes representations to concerned authorities and invites them for discussions. It also arranges its meetings at places outside Pune like Kolhapur, Satara, Ahmednagar, etc.

Group Telex Service

If the number of messages you send and receive by Telex does not warrant your own installation, you can make use of the Chamber's Group Telex Service and have access to the world Telex network at a very reasonable cost. This service is provided under a special licence from the Post & Telegraph Board, Government of India, and this is the only chamber which operates this service.

Xerox Copying Service

For the benefit of members, the Chamber offers Xerox copying service for taking out copies of their important documents, licences and other papers. This service is also available for reproduction of important material from the commercial reference library of the Chamber.

Import-Export Advisory Service

If you need information on importing items for your business or advice on processing the import licence application, the Chamber can give you the necessary guidance. Import sub-committee of the Chamber, during the last few years, has been very active and has been responsible in bringing many changes in the procedural formalities of Import Policy.

The Chamber also has facilities for giving advice to exporters. The services cover all aspects of exporting — from information on likely markets, banking and financial facilities available to exporters, to guidance in advertising and publicity, shipping, insurance and packing. It also maintains a library of export literature, conducts training programmes for exporters, organizes seminars, lectures and discussions on the related subjects. The Export Sub-committee of the Chamber meets every month to discuss problems of exporters and to guide newcomers in the field.

Certificate of Origin

The Chamber has been authorised by the Government of India to issue certificates of origin to exporters. In addition it also certifies the invoices of exporters and issues certificates regarding prices of export items.

Trade Introductions

The Chamber receives numerous trade enquiries from various parts of the country and abroad. These are passed on to our members in concerned trade. Several member-concerns have established regular business relations through such introductions.

Statistics

Statistical information regarding import and export trade, industrial licencing, industrial production, employment, data on joint-stock com panies, capital issues, prices, etc. is available with the Chamber for members' reference. Compilation of statistics on the above subjects is also undertaken on behalf of members at additional but reasonable cost.

Poona Divisional Productivity Council

This Council has been promoted by the Chamber which looks after the Council's day-to-day activities. Training programmes and audio-visual programmes, incountry and circuit teams, seminars, lectures relating to productivity are organized by the Council. It also maintains a library of technical books and films for the benefit of the members.

Industrial and Commercial Directory of Pune

Every four years, the Chamber publishes commercial and industrial directory of Pune. It gives detailed classification of industrial units in and around Pune and information about their capital investment, turnover, products manufactured, employment, etc. Information about more than 5000 dealers and those rendering various types of industrial services is also given. This is a unique attempt of collecting original regional statistics by a regional chamber of commerce.

Publications

Apart from its weekly bulletin and monthly journal, the Chamber undertakes publications from time to time on various subjects relating to industries. So far it has published a directory of financial assistance to industries, a handbook on plastic industry, energy crisis in India, exporters from Pune, Urban Land Ceiling Act etc., etc.

Industrial Estates

In order to solve the accommodation problem of small-scale industries in and around Pune, the Chamber has promoted two industrial estates: one exclusively for electronic industry and the other for all types of small-scale industries. More than 300 new industrial units will be established in the two estates together.

Industrial Tours

The Chamber arranges industrial tours both in India and abroad for the benefit of its members. So far three such foreign tours, one to Japan and two to Europe were organised by the Chamber. Local tours have been organised to Punjab, Rajkot in Gujarat, Southern Maharashtra and other places.

Commercial Reference Library

The Reference Library of the Chamber is unique of its kind in our country. Years of genuine efforts have gone into the compilation and careful classification of the material contained in the library and sincere efforts being made to update this material every day, add to its richness and open new sections.

Apart from a select range of reference books on commerce, banking, finance, taxation, labour, planning, small-scale industries, import, export, etc., it subscribes to a wide range of magazines and periodicals of interest to the man in business. The library also has commercial directories of most important countries in the world, a wide range of Indian manufacturers directories, all ISI specifications, all Indian patents, trade marks, State and Central Government gazettes, notifications for the last ten years on excise, customs, import, taxation, industrial licensing etc. It also has more than 4000 project profiles for use by small-scale units.

Other Activities

Memorial Lectures

On 16th October every year, the Chamber organizes the G. P. Ogale Lectures on a subject of current economic, commercial or industrial interest. Many leading businessmen, economists and administrators have delivered lectures in the series, which are printed and sent to members. So far 30 such lectures have been published by the Chamber.

Industrial Merit Prizes

The Chamber awards G. S. Parkhe Industrial Merit Prizes on 16th June every year for successful product-marketing of a new invention or innovation. In this unique scheme, more than 200 products have received these prizes in the last 32 years. Apart from Parkhe Prizes the Chamber awards three more prizes in the names of a few other trusts for the new industrial products.

Kamat Memorial Prize

The Chamber awards this prize to the student securing highest marks in 'Commerce' at the Pre-Degree Commerce Examination through the B. M. College of Commerce, Pune.

Other Prizes

The Chamber has also instituted three prizes at the University of Poona in the names of the Late Shri D. V. Potdar, the Late Shri G. D. Apte and Shri A. R. Bhat respectively awarded to the student standing first in the examination in Electrical Engineering at the final B.E. examination, in the Diploma in Business Administration and in the paper on Newspaper Production in the Degree in Journalism of the University of Poona.

Pimpri-Chinchwad-Bhosari Sub-committee

To deal with their common problems, the Chamber has formed a sub-committee of industrialists in the above area. Difficulties facing these industries and the regional problems are discussed by this committee and followed up by the Chamber, with the concerned authorities.

A separate sub-committee looks after the problems of industries located on the Pune-Nagar Road and another one to look after industrial problems of Ahmednagar District.

Various Sub-committees

The Chamber has also various professional sub-committees of experts in the field of transport, import, export, excise and customs, taxation, company law, labour, etc. These sub-committees meet periodically to review problems in their particular fields.

Translation Service

The Chamber offers translation service for the following languages: German, French, Spanish, Arabic and Japanese. This service has proved very useful to member-concerns with export business.

Training Programmes

Short-duration training programmes in industrial management, industrial relations, export marketing, business law, etc. are organised by the Chamber periodically. Experts in respective fields are invited to conduct these programmes, thereby giving an opportunity to the participants of deriving maximum benefit from the course.

Conferences, Lectures and Seminars

Conferences on topical problems, lectures and seminars on important legal enactments, is another feature of the Chamber. These have helped to focus the attention of the government and the public on problems facing the business community. Important officials of the government, statesmen, administrators, scientists, industrialists, bankers, traders, visitors and delegates from abroad are invited to participate and lead the discussion in lectures and seminars.

Discussions with Officials

Members are given an opportunity of discussing with officials from various departments of the State Government as well as the Central Government, on matters of individual or collective interest. This has helped considerably in solving many problems and overcoming many difficulties because in such direct confrontations, the Government has been able to better appreciate the day-to-day and practical difficulties facing the business and industry. Similarly these meetings have also enabled the members to understand and appreciate the thinking of the Government on new and proposed enactments and resulted in active participation from the business community in carrying out policies of the Government.

Conference Facilities

The Chamber has a well-equipped building with an auditorium, air-conditioned Board Room, training-class room with all modern facilities. These are made available to members on a nominal charge.

Audio-visual Laboratory

The Chamber has set up a complete audio-visual laboratory and now it has two 16 mm projectors, two automatic slide projectors, professional cassette and ordinary tape recorders, epidiascope, overhead projector, loud speakers and other ancillary equipment. The Chamber has also plans to purchase complete video tape-recording unit and set up a collection of video tapes on technical and technological subjects. All this equipment can be used by the members at a nominal cost.

Exhibitions and Monthly Film Show

Periodically the Chamber organises exhibitions on various specialised products such as the electronic industry and plastic industry products from Pune, exhibition of technical journals, catalogues, balance-sheets, etc. It has also plans to organize an exhibition of Pune products at Bombay. Every month the Chamber arranges a film show on technical and industrial subjects for the benefit of the members.

Industrial Engineering Services

Through the courtesy of the Poona Divisional Productivity Council, services of industrial engineers can be made available for the members. Special assignments on production planning and control, stores reorganisation, work study, cost reduction, plant layout and such other subjects are undertaken by these industrial engineers.

Chamber at your Service

The Chamber, thus, has organised many common services for the benefit of its members and others in business. It is not just a grievance-ventilating body as is the common concept of any chamber of commerce, but is a common service agency rendering important services to the business community. It is continuously striving to add to its services and to be more useful to its members.

What does SVC Bank mean?

Safe. Versatile. Co-operative.

Yes, that describes us aptly.

SVC—incidentally—also happens to be our name ..short for THE SHAMRAO VITHAL CO-OPERATIVE BANK LTD.

Either way it's a name that means a lot—moneywise.

ADDENDA

Guide to Manufacturers

The Chamber had sent special investigators to visit each industrial unit in Pune region and collect data required for the Directory. The proformas were specially mailed to the industries with a request to them to send the information. Special press advertisement was also issued and a general appeal was made to all the industries to give information for publishing in the Directory. But in spite of our best efforts some industries did not respond at all and some gave information very late. This necessitated us to issue an addenda to the original compilation. In this addenda we have given detailed information in respect of those who gave information to us. But in some cases we could not get this information in spite of our continuous persuasion. We have, therefore, given only names and products manufactured by such companies. In respect of certain industries like garments, hosiery, stone crushers, brick manufactures, bakeries classified lists along with their addresses have also been given. Economic data in respect of them have not been collected.

In the Product Index, however, we have covered all these lists. In preparing statistical tables also information in respect of all those units who have supplied their economic data has been included. These tables are presented in the statistical section of the Directory.

About 71% of the industries in Pune Metropolitan Region have investment below Rs. 2 lakhs, but their share in total production is only 10.51%. They employ about 25% of total industrial workers in Pune.

On the contrary only 50 units representing only 2% of total industrial units, provide employment to 52% of industrial working population. Their share in total production is also significant (68% of total production). However, capital investment per worker in this group is as high as Rs. 56,800 as compared to Rs. 6,854 in the group of industries having capital investment up to Rs. 2 lakhs.

Industrial output per worker in the group of industries having capital investment from 0 to 2 lakhs is Rs. 25,000 as compared to Rs. 80,000 in the group of Rs. 1 crore and above.

I. TECHNICAL TESTING, RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT, AND CONSULTANCY INSTITUTIONS

In this Section an effort has been made to list various institutions in Pune which render services such as testing of raw material and finished products, research and development of processes and products and technical consultancy in their respective areas of activity. An endeavour has been made to make the list as comprehensive and useful as possible by including all the major institutions in this field in the city and also to give as many relevant details about their services as would be found necessary by those desirous of availing of them. The list includes government, semi-government and private institutions of national and regional stature.

All the above services are available to industries, individuals and entrepreneurs on charge basis details of which could be obtained from the respective institutions.

ABASAHEB GARWARE COLLEGE, DEPARTMENT OF MICROBIOLOGY

Address : Karve Road, Pune 4. Tel. 56311. Head of the Department : Dr. A. D. Agate. Nature of management : The College is run by the Maharashtra Education Society, which is registered under the Societies Act and also as a Public Trust. It renders the following services.

1. Testing : Analytical facilities are available for microbiological examination of food such as masala, pickles, dehydrated meat and meat products, milk and milk products, and other materials such as air, water, soil, effluent sewage, etc. The department also provides for examination of raw, stored, contaminated, preserved or spoiled food and food products such as (a) sugar and sugar products like honey, candy etc.; (b) cereals and cereal products like grains, meals, flours, bread, cakes etc.; (c) vegetables and fruits and allied products like pickles, juices, sauces, fermented products etc.; (d) meats and meat products, including poultry; (e) fish and sea foods including shellfish; (f) eggs and egg powder, including products like egg noodles etc.; (g) milk, milk products like condensed milk, dry milk, frozen milk, butter, ghee, ice-cream etc.; (h) miscellaneous foods like oils, bottled beverages, spices, condiments, salts, fermented and non-fermented prepared food and food products; and (i) canned foods like meats, fish, vegetables etc.

2. Standards : Microbiological standards are available for (i) starch, (ii) sugar, (iii) liquid sugar, (iv) dairy products, (v) frozen products, (vi) tomato products, (vii) precooked foods, (viii) drinking water, (ix) eggs, (x) preserved and also frozen jams, (xi) juices, (xii) raw meats (precooked), and (xiii) fish (including shellfish).

3. Consultancy : The Department of Microbiology renders technical advice on the products mentioned above and processes allied to them.

4. Library : The Department has a well-equipped library on Microbiology, and books are available for reference purposes.

THE AUTOMOTIVE RESEARCH ASSOCIATION OF INDIA

Address : Survey No. 102, Vetal Hill, off Paud Road, Kothrud, Pune 29. Tel. 55546, 50816, 52423. Director : Shri. B. S. V. Rao. Nature of management : Co-operative Research Association with the Council of Scientific & Industrial Research and assisted by the Government of India and the United Nations Development Programme. The Association renders the following services.

1. Testing

Materials Laboratory: The laboratory provides for (i) complete chemical analysis of metal and alloys; (ii) physical and mechanical tests such as tension, compression, bend, shear, impact, hardness including micro-hardness, cupping test for sheet material etc.; (iii) determination of hardness of rubbers and plastics; (iv) detection and determination of depth of coated surfaces; (v) tests on fuel, lubricating oils and grease; (vi) ultrasonic-flaw detection and magnetic-flaw detection of ferro-magnetic materials; and (vii) precision metallographic examination with stereo microscope and metallographic microscope. Sophisticated and precision equipment for torsion test, tensile, bend and compression tests on small test pieces of metals and alloys is under installation.

Metrology Laboratory: This is equipped with (i) measuring projector with max. magnification of 100, co-ordinate measuring facility with $1/\mu\text{m}$ accuracy; (ii) universal measuring microscope with least count $0.2/\mu\text{m}$ for measuring any type of dimensions in two planes, external and internal, and checking of threads and gear profiles; (iii) camshaft tester for linear measurements of profiles of camshafts and any other component with least count $1/\mu\text{m}$ and bed-length 1600 mm.; (iv) precision instruments for measurement of internal and external features of any component including gauges, gears, gauge blocks etc., all linear measurements and measurement of angles, profiles, radial, thread etc.; (v) gear base pitch measuring instrument and cavity inspection device; and (vi) surface roughness measuring and concentricity checking equipment for checking roundness, concentricity, particulellism, straightness, squareness, alignment, etc. including those of multi-trow crankshafts.

Environmental Laboratory : To create different conditions under which components are to be tested, it has (i) a dry heat chamber up to 300°C ; (ii) a cold chamber for sub-zero conditions up to -53°C ; (iii) a damp heat chamber with max. humidity 99.5% R.H. temp. 10°C — 90°C ; (iv) a salt mist chamber for accelerated corrosion test under up to 90°C ; (v) a mould growth chamber to assess growth and sustainability of moulds, particularly electrical and electronic; (vi) a dust chamber; and (vii) a vibration table system capable of producing vibration accelerations up to 100 and accommodating components up to 300 N for testing vibration sustainability and transmissionability characteristics of components over a wide range of 0—5000 Hz. Impact and drop testing facilities are being planned.

Engine-testing Laboratory : ARAI is recognised by the Indian Standards Institution for ISI certification marking scheme for automotive, industrial and agricultural engines. The laboratory provides for (i) performance and life test on all automotive and industrial I. C. engines up to 150 h. p.; (ii) testing of low-speed stationary diesel engines; and (iii) testing of engines up to 350 h.p., engine-analyser, pressure-volume diagram recorder, exhaust gas analyser.

Vehicle-testing Laboratory : It has (i) a precision fuel consumption meter which can also be used on board vehicle; and (ii) on-the-road brake test and pedal pressure gauge, Fifth wheel, Tapley meter, steering torque meter, head-light beam tester, wheel alignment equipment and a chassis dynamometer are under procurement.

Instrumentation Laboratory : This laboratory is equipped with (i) precision transducers for stress, strain, pressure, displacement, linear and angular acceleration and angular velocity; (ii) temperature amplifying and indicating instruments; (iii) X-Y recorder; (iv) oscilloscope; (v) multi-channel ultraviolet recorder; (vi) load cells; (vii) torque and angular displacement transducers; (viii) digital indicators; and (ix) programmable calculator with printer.

Test Rigs: The Association has facilities for performance and endurance tests of the following as per ISI and other international standards: (i) air filter, (ii) fuel filter, (iii) shock absorber, (iv) horns and horn relay, (v) oil-pressure switches, (vi) on frictional material like brake and clutch liner, (vii) crash helmet, (viii) friction liners, and (ix) horn switches.

The Association has also planned to provide, in the near future, for more testing facilities such as (i) installation of test rigs for various automotive components; (ii) oil-seal test; (iii) endurance and performance trials on dynamos and alternators, starter motors, magnetos and distributors; (iv) propeller shaft and crank shaft testing; and (v) valve spring fatigue test.

2. Research and Development, and Consultancy : The Association has facilities for (i) designing and drawing and their blue printing, (ii) development, (iii) prototype experimentation including precision manufacturing, (iv) product analysis and improvement projects, (v) value engineering, and (vi) investigational studies.

3. Library of Technical Information: Publications and technical reports on automotive engineering and allied fields are available for reference. Information and data contained in these are constantly abstracted and monitored for the benefit of technologists.

BEHRAM WADIA AND ASSOCIATES

Address : 77 Koregaon Park, Pune 1. Tel. 23134.
Laboratory : 44/2 Sassoon Road, Pune 1 Tel. 26961.
Managing Director : Dr. B. H. Wadia. Nature of management : Private. The following services are rendered.
 1. Testing : A well-equipped laboratory is available for testing components and circuits. 2. Consultancy.
 3. Research and Development. For details please see "Consultancy Services" section.

THE BHARATIYA AGRO INDUSTRIES FOUNDATION

Address : 'Kamadhenu', Senapati Bapat Road, Pune 16. Tel. 50526-7. Director : Dr. Manibhai Desai
Nature of management : A non-profit non-governmental voluntary organisation, registered as a public trust. The activities of BAIF are divided into four groups : (i) The BAIF Research Institute for Cattle and Agricultural Development (BRICAD) consisting of Central Research Station at Uruli-Kanchan; (ii) Cattle Development Programme; (iii) The BAIF Research Institute of Animal Health (BRIAH), Briahnagar, near Poona and (iv) Rural Development Programme. The foundation renders the following services.

1. Testing : The Foundation has various laboratories where facilities for testing cattle progeny and testing veterinary preventive medicines are available.

2. Research and Development : The Foundation has the following laboratories and sections for research and development facilities at BRICAD : (i) Genetics Section; (ii) Semen-freezing Laboratory; (iii) Semen Bank; (iv) Liquid Nitrogen Plant; (v) Nutrition Laboratory; (vi) Disease Investigation Laboratory and (vii) BAIF's Research Institute for Training in Economic Milk Production. Studies are conducted on utilisation of by-products like sugar-cane, jowar, etc. for production of cattle-feed. The following laboratories carry on research work in their respective fields at BRIAH : (i) Independent Epidemiological Surveillance Laboratory with foot and mouth disease virus-typing facilities; (ii) Cell Culture Feed Bank Laboratory; (iii) Virus Culture Seed Bank Laboratory; (iv) Viral Bio-chemical Research Laboratory; (v) Cell Culture Research and Production Laboratory; (vi) Experimental Virus Fermentation Laboratory; (vii) Tissue Culture Media Production Laboratory on Industrial Scale; (viii) Virus Fermentor Battery Laboratory which is capable of producing 5000 litres of viruses per week—the biggest of its kind in India; and (ix) Bio-engineering Laboratories for virus inactivation and vaccine production. The BRIAH has commenced large -scale production of Foot and Mouth Disease Vaccine of international standards for the first time in India.

3. Training : BAIF is recognised by (a) The Indian Council of Agricultural Research; (b) Department of Science and Technology, Ministry of Scientific Affairs, Government of India; (c) Mahatma Phule Agricultural University, Rahuri, Maharashtra, to which it is affiliated for Post-Graduate Programmes; and (d) The Revenue and Forests Department, Government of Maharashtra, for research in Agriculture. It imparts training in the following fields : (a) Exotic Dairy Cattle Management (b) Economic Milk Production—to Veterinary and Agriculture graduates and also to farmers; (c) Fodder Crop Cultivation Strategies and Designing of efficient minimum cost cattle-feed; (d) Animal Health Management; and (e) Exotic Cattle Breeding.

CENTRAL BEE RESEARCH INSTITUTE

Address : 839/1 Decean Gymkhana, Pune 4. Tel. 54019. Director : Shri S. V. Thakar, Nature of management : Semi-government; managed by the Khadi and Village Industries Commission (an autonomous body of the Government of India).

The Institute has carried out exhaustive research on bees and bee-keeping and has evolved standards for various bee productions, processes and bee management. The Indian Standards Institution has laid down ISI standards and specifications based on the standardisation evolved by this Institute. The Institute is a member of the Honey and Wax Sub-Committee of the ISI, Central Agmark Organisation and the Central Committee of Food Standards, Ministry of Health, Government of India. It renders the following services :

1. Analysis and Testing : The Institute carries on (a) physico-chemical studies on nectars of major bee plants, composition of unifloral and multi-floral honeys, waxes secreted by different species of bees, and other bee products like royal jelly, bee venom, etc ; (b) Fische's Test on honey as prescribed by the Food Adulteration Act and Rules; (c) synthesization of Hydroxy-methyl-furfural; and Sucrose-octo-acetate; and (d) finer analysis of different ingredients in honey, wax and other bee products.

2. Research and Development, and Consultancy : This wing of the Institute caters to the needs of institutions and individual bee-keepers in India and individuals in Asian and African countries on all aspects of bees and science of bee-keeping, viz. (a) comparative studies on Indian honey bees; (b) bee botany; (c) melitto-palynology (pollen study as related to honey bees; (d) pollination of agriculural crops; (e) cyto-genetics and breeding of bees; (f) chemistry of bee products; (g) bee management comprising optimum brood chamber capacity, optimum bee space, and optimum width of top bar; (h) honey processing; (i) methods for extraction and purification of bee's wax; (j) techniques for manufacture of good-quality comb foundation sheets; (k) designing of honey house for storage, testing, processing and packing of honey and wax; (l) pollen bee research; and (m) bee pathology.

3. Library and Publications : The Institute's library is recognised by the International Bee Research Association and the Association has established its Regional Library for Asia at this Institute. The Institute has 115 papers on various aspects of bee-research and bee-keeping, published in international journals. Its library has over 800 books on bees, bee-keeping and bee research; over 1500 reprints of papers on apiculture and apiculture research published all over the world; and periodicals, journals, back volumes of journals and other literature.

4. Central Museum : The Institute has developed a museum for bees and bee-keeping at its central laboratory. A collection of about 300 colour and black-and-white transparencies, hundreds of photographs, beeboxes and other bee equipments, charts and colour panels on bee research is maintained in the museum.

5. Training : This is the only institute in India which imparts advanced training in Apiculture. The following courses are conducted : (i) Apiarist Course, (ii) Apiarist Refresher Course, (iii) Fieldman Training Course, (iv) Beekeeper's Training Course, (v) Amateur's Course, and (vi) Special course for service personnel. A post-graduate diploma course is intended to be started soon.

CENTRAL INSTITUTE OF ROAD TRANSPORT (TRAINING & RESEARCH)

Address: Pune-Nasik Road, Bhosari, Pune 26. Tel. 83671-72. Director : Brig. Lokesh Dhar (Retd.). Nature of management: The Institute is an organ of the Association of State Road Transport Undertakings with the Secretary, Ministry of Shipping and Transport, as its President. The Institute is to be assisted by the United Nations Development Programme for its further development. The services rendered are:

1. Testing as per ASRTU/ISI Standards

Metallurgical Laboratory : In this laboratory there are facilities for measurement of hardness by Vickers, Brinell, Rockwell, Shore; micro-hardness test; Izod and Charpy impact test; magnetic or fluorescent flow detection test of machined parts, welded joints, castings and forgings; tensile test; compression test; bend test; torsion test; metallographic examination; ultrasonic flow detection test of castings and forgings, welded joints, small machined components; dimensional measurement of small, medium and large items or components; sheet metal testing on Erichson Sheet Metal Tester; rubber hardness test—Shore A & D; rubber tensile test; adhesion test; abrasion test; and flex resistance test for rubber and PVC.

Automobile Laboratory : The laboratory has provided for diesel fuel filter test; lubricating oil filter test; load-rate deflection test for coil spring and leaf spring assembly up to 100 Kg. load; fuel injection pump test; nozzle injection test; dead weight pressure gauge test; and complete testing of hydraulic vehicle jack up to 15-ton capacity, hydraulic trolley jack up to 6-ton capacity, hydraulic trolley jack up to 15-ton capacity, self-locking nuts, nylon washer used in self-locking nuts, piston rings, fuel flexible hoses, fuel pressure pipes, fan belt, oil seal, burst test of rubber hoses up to 350 Kgs/cm², brake chamber diaphragm, brake hose, and shock absorbers.

Electrical Laboratory : The laboratory carries on the following numerous tests. (i) Battery testing comprising capacity test, air pressure test, high rate discharge test, and life cycle test; (ii) Cable testing comprising Kelvin Wheatstone bridge test, spark test, electric oven test, high voltage breakdown test, fire resistance test, hot deformation test, diesel and lubricating oil bath test, insulation test, and measurement of capacitance, inductance and resistance; (iii) Carbon brush testing comprising coefficient of friction and contact drop test, hardness, transverse strength and pulling-strength test, and specific resistance and milli-volt drop test; (iv) Auto bulb testing comprising torsion test, life cycle test, and potentiometric integration; (v) Environmental testing comprising vibration test, humidity test, damp heat cycling, dry heat test, salt spray test, water spray test, and hot air oven; and (vi) complete testing of dipper switch, dynamo 6, 12, 24 volts, field coil, fuse box, horn switch, wiper motor, horn relay, electric horn, speedometer cables, ammeter, taper terminal battery connectors, head light switch, fuel gauge and tank unit, stop light switch, and voltage regulator.

Chemical Laboratory : This laboratory has facilities for (i) ferrometal analysis of (a) carbon steels and cast iron, (b) alloy steels and cast iron; (ii) non-ferrous metal analysis; and (iii) complete testing of oils and lubricants such as brake fluid, diesel fuel and engine oil; and of paints and greases.

2. Research and Development : The Institute conducts management research studies concerning organisational problems, operations, road transport economics, engineering, and transportation problems. It envisages to lay down standards, specifications and norms for various materials used by the road transport industry and will have its own testing facilities. The Engineering Research Centre of the Institute will help small-scale industries in developing quality product of prescribed specifications with indigenous raw materials and encourage import substitution. A test track incorporating different types of severe operating conditions and provision for acceleration, braking, steering, skidding tests etc is also planned for testing passenger vehicles. The Engineering Research Centre will carry out defect and failure analysis of parts having frequent failures and evolve methods to reduce such failure. The centre is working on methods for achieving optimum use of fuel, lubricants, tyres, brake liners and other important components.

3. Consultancy : The services rendered by the Institute are mostly in the areas of organisation, traffic management, production planning and control, and maintenance management.

4. Training : Training programmes are conducted in the following fields for personnel from road transport undertakings : (a) Automotive Engineering, (b) Traffic Management, (c) Stores Management, (d) General Administration, and (e) Industrial Relations.

CENTRAL WATER AND POWER RESEARCH STATION

Address : P. O. Khadakwasla Research Station, Pune 24. Tel. 445550-51-52. Director : Shri P. C. Saxena
Nature of management : Under the Ministry of Agriculture & Irrigation. Government of India. Estd. 1916.

The CWPRS is a unique research institution with a staff of about 800 professional engineers and scientists, many of whom are trained and educated abroad, and over 800 technicians and workers. The Station has an assured supply of about 90 million cubic metres of water, which is used for operating a large number of hydraulic models. Currently, the CWPRS has 450 research projects and 200 models on hand. The Station is recognised as a Regional Laboratory by the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific and it has carried out research and advisory projects for Africa, Sri Lanka, Egypt, Iraq, Philippines, Singapore, Afghanistan, Malaysia, Burma, Nepal and several other countries. Its main activities are : (1) Testing, and (2) Research and Development, and Consultancy.

1. Testing

River and Canal Hydraulics : Instrumentation and special equipment is available for rapid and accurate measurement of current velocities and water levels. There is an arrangement for automatic control of water supply, detritus feeding, photographic recording of flow pattern, and simultaneous measurement of water temperature at a number of locations.

Coastal and Harbour Engineering : Sophisticated equipment is available for measurement of waves, tides, salinity, temperature, silt charge, currents, and pressure in hydraulic models.

Ship Model Testing : The 'Station has a unique testing tank, 228 metres long, 3.65 metres wide and 0.66 to 2.13 metres deep for testing models of ships. The following tests are conducted on ship models, fishing trawlers, passenger launches, barges, tugs, cargo vessels and high-speed specialised crafts, hopper dredger and landing craft: (i) Resistance of a hull to determine effective horsepower of a hull; (ii) Open-water test for propeller thrust and torque; (iii) Self-propulsion test to predict speed and power of a vessel; (iv) Tow rope and Ballard pull for tugs and trawlers; and (v) Pitching and heaving of ships in head-on waves.

Hydraulic Machines & Equipment : The multi-test water tunnel at the Cavitation Research Centre of the Station caters to industrial testing of homologous models of machines. There are equipments for establishing their performance and cavitation characteristics in their complete operating range. Turbine and pump models are tested as per international test code. The other tests include field efficiency tests of prototype water turbines, testing of models of Kaplan & Francis turbines of hydel projects, and NPSH tests on barrel pumps.

Geomechanics and Construction Materials : This section carries out geotechnical investigation of hydraulic and maritime structures such as dams, barrages, breakwaters and quays. Evaluation of engineering characteristics of construction materials such as soil, rock, concrete, cements, stone, steel, bricks, tiles etc., and evaluation of shear strength of concrete and masonry are also carried out.

Structural Engineering : There are facilities for stress analysis of structural models made of plastic materials, micro-metals, gelatine, plaster of Paris etc., and analysis of structural models for their resistance to heavy water pressure, forces due to self-weight wind, temperature and earth-quake stresses.

Earth Sciences: Facilities are available for dynamic tests to study response of lightning arrestors to earthquakes; testing of sub-surface material for capability to bear load, safety against stresses caused by vibration, explosion and earth-quakes; testing to avoid geological faults in the periphery of a reservoir; geophysical surveys and investigations with sophisticated instruments using isotope and other tracers; and study of prototype and model behaviour with the help of seismographs, large vibrators, accelerographs, spectrum analysers, etc.

Applied Sciences: Two major aspects that are dealt with are (i) mechanical, chemical and biological analysis; and (ii) determination of quality of river, reservoir and sea water to establish pollution levels.

Mobile Laboratory: The Station has two air conditioned mobile laboratories on shock resistant vans and are equipped with computer-based data loggers for off-line data acquisition and prototype measurements. The equipment includes analog and digital magnetic tape recorders, transducers, level recorders, and real time analysers for vibration measurement and analysis, telemetry systems, etc.

2. Research and Development, and Consultancy

River and Canal Hydraulics: There are facilities for (i) study of river processes and methods of river improvement, control and utilization; (ii) potamological studies, river morphology and stability; (iii) flood protection works; (iv) bank protection measures; (v) flood routing studies; (vi) cofferdam and diversion work; (vii) barrages and weirs; (viii) bridge design; (ix) sediment control and exclusion devices (desilting basins); (x) siting cooler water intakes and warm water outlets for thermal power plant; (xi) vortex prevention at intakes; (xii) design of canals and canal structures; and (xiii) basic studies.

Coastal and Harbour Engineering: Facilities include a number of tidal and wave basins and a set of wave flumes of varying sizes for practical experimentation in coastal engineering, ports and harbours, and maritime structures of tidal hydraulics. Consultancy and R & D facilities are available in the following fields : (i) location and layout of harbours, docks and jetties; (ii) estimation of siltation in harbours and navigation channels; (iii) design of marine structures such as breakwater and seawalls; (iv) measurement of wave and wave impact forces; (v) navigation channels in estuaries; (vi) dredging methods and location of dumping grounds; (vii) surging in harbours; (viii) reclamation of deltaic areas; (ix) littoral drift and stability of coastal inlets; (x) coastal protection; (xi) navigation locks, docks and gates; (xii) erection of offshore oil-drilling platforms; (xiii) cooling water intakes and hot water outlets for power stations; (xiv) hydraulic design of tidal power schemes; (xv) hindcasting and forecasting of wind waves and storm surges in the ocean; (xvi) field data collection on oceanographic parameters; (xvii) radioactive and fluorescent tracer studies for sediment movement in models and prototypes; (xviii) behaviour of cohesive sediments in marine environment; (xix) pollution problems of coastal areas due to thermal discharges, oil spills and effluents; (xx) development of fishery harbours; (xxi) coastal erosion; (xxii) navigation locks; (xxiii) sediment transport studies using tracers; and (xxiv) coastal reclamation.

Reservoir Control and Appurtenant Structures : The Station has so far evolved hydraulic designs for nearly 100 river valley projects. Model trays for models of spillways and appurtenant structures, glass-sided flumes for models of spillways and conduits and free-surface and pressure chambers for models of gates and valves are available for these studies. Consultancy and R & D facilities are available in the following fields : (i) profiles and energy dissipators for spillways and outlets; (ii) approaches and exit channels of spillways; (iii) protective works for adjacent structures; (iv) highhead gates and valves and free surface control gates; (v) siphons, tunnels, conduits and intake structures; (vi) power house inlet, outlet manifolds and surge tanks; (vii) hydel and irrigation projects; (viii) water supply schemes; (ix) lift irrigation schemes; and (x) pump intake.

Hydraulic Machines and Equipment : This section deals with (i) NPSH characteristics and their improvement for condensate extraction pump, (ii) cavitation problems, (iii) design of small water tunnel systems, and (iv) rectification of cavitation damage.

Geomechanics and Construction Materials : It deals with (i) assessment of engineering characteristics of soil and rock mass in situ and in the laboratory; (ii) foundation studies; (iii) stability of embankments; (iv) determination of stresses in rock mass for tunnels and underground structures; (v) suitability of construction materials such as cement, aggregate, stones, steel, bricks, tiles etc., and (vi) use of epoxy polyester resins for repairing cracks in concrete and other civil engineering works. The Station has investigated several dams and barrages, tunnels, ports and harbours, aerodromes, satellite stations etc. for the above.

Structural Engineering : The Station has undertaken and completed investigations for nearly all major river valley projects in India and substantial economy has been achieved by improvement in design. Analysis and design of the following structures are undertaken: (i) foundations, (ii) dams, (iii) galleries, (iv) sluiceways, (v) intake and outlet structures, (vi) power house structures, (vii) tunnels, (viii) conduits, (ix) sheet piles, (x) bridges, (xi) surge tanks, (xii) maritime structures, (xiii) space frames, and (xiv) aqueducts.

Earth Sciences : The facilities include (i) estimation of borrow area capacity; (ii) delineation of bed rock profile; (iii) underwater geophysical survey; (iv) detection of sources of seepage and leakage by tracers (chemicals, electrolytes and isotopes); (v) location of fissures, solution channels, shear and fault zones, permeable seams and deep seated river courses; (vi) study of efficacy of grouting and diaphragm walls; (vii) resistivity measurements for earthing of electrical systems and apparatus; (viii) determination of aquifer characteristics; (ix) in situ dynamic modulus of elasticity; (x) location of machinery buried during floods; (xi) slide area studies; (xii) seismo-tectonic investigations of project sites; (xiii) evaluation of earthquake co-efficients for design of engineering structures; (xiv) vibration characteristics of machine foundations; (xv) safe charge determination; (xvi) model studies on vibration table; (xvii) non-destructive studies for quality of concrete etc.; and (xviii) crack detection studies in large structures like dams.

Hydrology : It incorporates (i) statistical studies, correlation and analysis of hydrological data for development of river valley basins and planning of river valley projects; (ii) field study to assess the water balance as governed by soil conservation methods and watershed management; (iii) rainfall-runoff studies; (iv) estimation of peak values of hydrological and meteorological parameters with various return periods; (v) assessment of effects of soil conservation measures; (vi) estimation of wasteload and soil erosion; (vii) estimation of seepage and evaporation losses; (viii) synthetic generation of hydrological information; (ix) investigation into trend periodicity and seasonal variation in data on hydrological, hydraulic and meteorological characteristics and (x) study of changes in river beds by specific discharge gauge curves.

Mathematical Modelling : This branch covers (i) transformation of mathematical formulation describing the behaviour of physical systems into numerical form and processing the same on computer to yield static and dynamic characteristics; (ii) data reduction and analysis of hydraulic, oceanographic and seismographic data; (iii) analysis of behaviour of physical systems—hydrodynamic, structural and seismologic; (iv) mathematical modelling—flood and tidal propagation in rivers, estuaries etc.; (v) wave data analysis; (vi) analysis of earthquake data; (vii) cubature; (viii) tidal propagation and salinity intrusion; (ix) flow resulting from collapse of dam; (x) hydraulic transients in water conducting systems of hydel projects; (xi) systems analysis of water resources; (xii) slope stability of earth dams; (xiii) slope stability of breakwaters; (xiv) hydroturbine design; (xv) spectral levels and solidstate physics; and (xvi) tidal oscillations; (xvii) two-dimensional tidal circulation.

Applied Sciences : Electrical and electronic analogues have been developed to study sub-soil and open channel flow, characteristics of seepage under dams, aquifer problems and flood routing. The other studies comprise determination of uplift pressures, effect of deep scour on exit gradient, quantity of seepage, flood routing, inundation, backwater effects, fluorescent tracer studies, flocculation of sea bed material and salinity and silt charge of sea waters.

Instrumentation : The main work constitutes design, development, fabrication, installation and maintenance of instruments and systems for measurement of hydraulic and other parameters such as water levels and bed profiles, current-speed and direction, wave heights, salinity, temperature and depth, static and transient pressures, force and vibration, strain and deflection, torque, precipitation, wind speed and direction, evaporation and evapotranspiration, and water stage. The Instrumentation Division has so far designed a number of sophisticated instruments and systems for measurement of the above hydraulic parameters, besides transmitting and recording coastal data from on-shore and off-shore locations through telemetry systems. Computer based flood forecasting system using multi-channel telemetry systems for transmission of hydrometeorological data is proposed.

3. Library : The excellent technical reference library houses 60,000 items comprising books, journals, and publications. The library subscribes to over 450 journals and technical publications.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Address : Shivajinagar, Pune 5. Tel. 56835, 55466.
Principal : Prof. M. G. Shah. Nature of management : Under the Government of Maharashtra. The following services are rendered.

1 Testing

Civil Engineering : This department has facilities for testing water, sewage and industrial effluents.

Structural Engineering : Facilities include finite element analysis of pump heads and end fitting tubes; dynamic response of flexible couplings; analysis of water supply pipes on saddle supports; and soil testing.

Mechanical Engineering : This branch has arrangements for pressure gauge and pressure vessel testing; taxi and auto-rickshaw fare meter testing; engine and pump testing; dynamic balance testing, fuel and lubricant testing; and pressure vessel testing.

Metallurgy : This section carries out physical, mechanical and chemical testing of metals and metallography.

Electrical Engineering : The department provides for instrument calibration; and testing for electrical and magnetic properties.

Telecommunication Electronics : There are facilities for electronic component testing; radio frequency cable testing; testing of industrial electronic controls; test on electronic instruments; test on electronic material; and field strength testing.

Instrumentation : This wing has provided for the testing of pneumatic pressure, gauges, control valves, transmitters, PID controllers, control relays, timers, thermocouples, flow meters, level meters, Ph meters, recorders, electronic components, digital instruments, oscilloscopes, frequency meters, amplifiers, industrial and electronic controllers, electro cardio-gram machines, health monitor, all types of surgical and chemical instruments, and industrial speed regulators.

Geology : In this department there is a facility for testing stability of cuts and tunnels.

Meter Testing : All types of meter testing in all departments is undertaken.

2. Consultancy

Civil Engineering : Consultancy services are available in matters of bridges, contour bunding, flow indicators, legal advice, and valuation.

Structural Engineering : Services are available in matters of design of bus body; finite element analysis of fuel pump heads and end fitting tubes; military equipment, bridges and structures; structural design of bridges; river improvement schemes; investigation in cases of structural failures; computer programmes for finger prints; computer solution of cylinder heads; dynamic response of flexible couplings; computer programmes for examination results; structural design of various buildings; and analysis of water supply pipes on saddle supports.

Mechanical Engineering : Consultancy services in matters of testing are available for all the aspects mentioned under this head earlier under testing. Such services are also available in matters relating to refrigeration.

Metallurgy : Facilities exist in matters of selection and specification of materials for automobile components from the point of view of import substitution; development of heat treatment—schedule for high-speed steels and spring steels; investigation of failures in heat treatment, corrosion and casting; designing and development of tensometer; design and development of cup testing machine; foundry; and failure analysis.

Electrical Engineering : Services are available in connection with machines and transformers, instruments calibration, electrical and mechanical properties, and lighting and illumination.

Electrical Communication (Telecommunication Electronics) : Services available in this field are mostly in aspects described under this head earlier under testing.

Instrumentation : Here also the items of consultancy are the same as described under this head under testing.

Geology : Services are available in matters of engineering geology investigations, irrigation projects, hydro-electric projects, stability of cuts and tunnels, alignment of road highways and railways, and construction materials.

Town Planning and Architecture : The assistance is mostly in connection with traffic analysis, urban design models, master plan and regional plans, architectural designs, and valuation of properties.

Computer Programming : The College owns ICL 1904 S Computer. For details please see Structural Engineering above.

Environmental Engineering : The laboratory is equipped for (1) analysis of waste water samples; (2) preparation of designs and drawings for water treatment plants, sewage treatment plants and industrial effluent treatment plants; (3) technical scrutiny of tenders for the type of works mentioned; and (4) improving the operation of existing treatment plants.

3. Research and Development

Civil Engineering : This division renders facilities in matters of pollution problems of rivers, energy dissipations, seepage losses in canals, strengthening of dams, seepage problems in connection with earthen dams, and piled foundation.

Structural Engineering : The facilities available are in connection with Shell Lamella roofs, prestressed trussed beams, optimization of various structures, finite element analysis applied to structural and soil machines, analysis of water supply pipes, military bridges and structures, numerical analysis of wall-panel action, selective energy approach in isoparametric element, soil testing, and pile foundation and soil mechanics.

Mechanical Engineering : The services pertain to internal combustion engine development, compressor valve development, machine tool structures and joints, heat transfer, and machine elements.

Metallurgy : The services relate to superplasticity and creep; development of high-speed steels by powder metallurgy; development of manganese, zinc and nickel zinc ferrites; machinability—evaluation and assessment; fluid sand process, and development and continuous anodising of aluminium.

Electrical Engineering : The aspects include special machines design, machine transients and stability, power system computerized design, and servosystems and control.

Telecommunication Electronics : It includes electronic instrumentation, digital communication, and television antennae.

Instrumentation : In connection with silicon controlled rectifier power control

Geology : The studies pertain to basalt petrography, Deccan trap studies—field characters, and nature of volcanicity—engineering aspects.

Town Planning and Architecture : The services available are in matters of physical planning of towns and cities, slums removal and low-cost housing, traffic and transport in metropolitan areas and cities, and its impact on civic design, and urban aesthetics.

4. Training

There are full-fledged courses leading to graduation and Master's degrees in (i) Civil Engineering, (ii) Structural Engineering, (iii) Mechanical Engineering, (iv) Metallurgy, (v) Electrical Engineering, (vi) Telecommunication Engineering, (vii) Instrumentation, and (viii) Geology. The College imparts vocational/vacational training through evening courses of 6-week duration, for self-employment in repairs and maintenance of scooter and motor-cycles; repairs and maintenance of domestic refrigerators; T. V. receiver servicing; domestic use of electricity; operation and maintenance of automatic electrical equipment, surveying methods and practice; ferrocement technology; CPM/PERT for project planning, implementation and monitoring; water and waste water treatment; building supervision; building surveying; masonry; plumbing; carpentry; and legal aspects pertaining to civil engineering.

CONTROLLERATE OF INSPECTION (ENGINEERING EQUIPMENT)

Address : Dighi, Pune 15. Tel. 27936. Controller : Col. S. B. Ghorpade. Nature of management : Under Ministry of Defence (DGI), Government of India. It is recognised by the Indian Standards Institution, New Delhi, as approved laboratory for I. S. I. certification mark scheme for steel wire ropes, link chains, fibre ropes etc. It renders valuable services in testing jobs through its following laboratories.

(1) Engine-testing Laboratory : There are facilities for testing CI/SI engines up to 75-KW capacity as per ISS 1601, JSS 20,000. Facilities for engines up to 270 KW are to be installed shortly.

(2) Pneumatic Laboratory : This has facilities for testing compressors, pneumatic tools and rock drills etc. as per ISS and Defence specifications.

(3) Horizontal Testing Machine : This is available for proof load and tensile test on chains, steel ropes, bars, flats, conduit pipes, etc. It has capacity to apply load up to 1000 KN with accuracy better than Grade I of German Standards DIN 51220.

(4) Material Testing Laboratory : It helps physical testing of ferrous and non-ferrous metals like textiles, rubber, plastic, timber etc. as per ISS, BS, ASTM; non-destructive testing for detection of cracks, blow-holes, etc.

(5) Metrological Laboratory : It undertakes fine precision measurements of inspection gauges, cutting tools, fasteners, gudgeon pins, cylinders, rings, pistons, etc.

(6) Electrical and Climatic Testing Laboratory : It has facilities for (i) trial and test on charging sets, welding generator, welding transformer, motor-operated hand tools etc; (ii) electrical tests for high voltage, insulation resistance, power voltage, current, etc; and (iii) humidity test, salt spray test, and cold condition test.

(7) Hydraulic Laboratory : It does fullscale testing of outboard motors, car washers, pumps, etc. There are facilities for testing as per I. S. S., protable fire-extinguishers.

CONTROLLERATE OF INSPECTION (MILITARY EXPLOSIVES)

Address : Kirkee, Pune 3. Tel. 54349, 56736, 58746
Director : Dr. Surjit Singh. Nature of management : Under Department of Defence Production, Ministry of Defence, Government of India.

Its services are mainly in the field of testing. Tests are carried out on materials such as chemicals, rubber, plastics, certain packages, adhesives, cements, lutings, textiles, paper and boards, and allied materials pertaining to the Controllerate's AHSP responsibility. This work is done with a view to helping the prospective manufacturers who are interested in supplying raw materials or products conforming to Defence specifications.

CONTROLLERATE OF INSPECTION (SPECIAL VEHICLES)

Address: Bombay-Pune Road, Dehu Road, Pune 412 101. Tel. 83255/56. Controller: Brig. P. K. Pant, S. M. Nature of management: Under the Department of Defence Production, Ministry of Defence, Government of India. Services rendered are mostly in the field of testing.

1. Testing of metals: (i) Chemical composition; (ii) hardness; (iii) tensile properties; (iv) fatigue properties; (v) torsion properties; (vi) spring rating; (vii) piston and piston-ring testing; (viii) sulphur print and micro examination; (ix) metallographic examination—Universal microscope (X 10 to X 2000) and stereo microscope (X 4 to X 100); (x) magnetic particle inspection for cracks; (xi) fluorescent dye inspection for cracks; (xii) impact test; (xiii) ultrasonic inspection—flaw detection; and (xiv) surface finish tests.

2. Testing of rubber and plastics: (i) Tensile properties; (ii) elasticity test; (iii) permanent set in compression tension; (iv) adhesion test; and (v) cold chamber and ageing oven test.

3. Testing of automobile assemblies/components on Test Rigs: (i) Oil seals, (ii) fan belt, (iii) hoses for burst test, (iv) fuel and oil filter, (v) bond strength test on rubber-bonded tyres, and (vi) radiator and radiator caps etc.

Direct Reading Spectrometer is being installed and shortly chemical composition of metals will be done on the spot. Testing on payment is being undertaken at standard government rates at par with National Test House. Schedule of test charges and other details can be obtained on request from the above address directly.

DECCAN EDUCATION SOCIETY'S TECHNICAL INSTITUTE

Address: Servants of India Society Road, Near Gokhale Institute of Politics & Economics, Pune 4. Tel. 55573. Principal: Mrs. Tara S. Deo. Nature of management: Semi-government. It renders the following services.

1. Testing: The Institute has a well-equipped laboratory for analysis and testing of paints, varnish, pigments, printing inks, synthetic resins, lacquers, etc.

2. Training: The Institute conducts a full-time six-semester (Sandwich Pattern) Diploma Course in Surface Coating Technology, recognised by the Director of Technical Education, Government of Maharashtra. The Course is covered by the Apprenticeship Act, 1973.

DECCAN SUGAR INSTITUTE

Address: Project Office, 270 Senapati Bapat Road, Pune 16. Tel. 55963, 56328. Adviser: Shri. S. N. Gundu Rao. Chief Project Officer: Shri. N. C. Varna. Nature of management: Private, managed by Trust and registered under the Societies Act. The Maharashtra State Government has allotted 535.25 acres to the Institute at village Naigaon, Taluka Haveli, situated about 30 Kilometres from Poona City on the Pune-Solapur Road, for construction of the Institute's buildings and research laboratories. The total project cost is estimated at Rs. 5 crores with an annual expenditure of Rs. 40 lakhs. The Institute will start its full-fledged activities and services by the end of 1980.

I. Services rendered: (1) Consultancy service to the member sugar-factories in day-to-day problems; (2) Assistance to them in developing by-product industries; (3) Extension service in regard to sugar-cane development work; and (4) Survey and information service.

II. Services proposed: The Institute will provide the following facilities after its building and research laboratories are ready in 1980.

1. Testing of products of the sugar industry and products allied to sugar and sugar-cane.

2. Research and Development: (i) Time-bound result-oriented applied research of the problems of sugar industry in the field and factory in Maharashtra; (ii) research on utilization of by-products of the sugar industry including trials of known or evolved processes on pilot plant or commercial scale.

3. Advisory, extension and information services to member-factories.

4. Training in (i) scientific methods of sugar-cane cultivation; (ii) sugar technology; (iii) sugar engineering and instrumentation; (iv) sugar industry management; and (v) other required disciplines.

The Institute will be organised into 3 divisions; (1) Sugarcane Research Division, for research on agronomy, cane physiology, plant breeding, soil science, plant protection, agricultural engineering, and extension and field service 2. Technological Research Division for research on by-product utilisation, sugar technology, chemical engineering, sugar engineering, organic chemistry, physical chemistry, and bio-chemistry and microbiology 3. Technical Services Division for (i) analysis and testing, (ii) economic evolution and process release, (iii) ad hoc consultancy and extension services, (iv) planning and development, (v) documentation, (vi) publication, (vii) statistical compilation and data processing, (viii) liaison and co-ordination, and (ix) technical audit, of factory performance.

ELECTRONICS TESTING AND DEVELOPMENT CENTRE

Address: College of Engineering Campus, Pune 5. Tel 56835. Officer-in-Charge: Prof. K. L. Joshi, Nature of management: Under the Government of Maharashtra, with the help of grants from the Department of Electronics, Government of India. It is proposed that this Centre will be taken over by the Maharashtra Electronics Corporation Ltd. and the facilities will be augmented by procuring environmental and mechanical test equipment. It is also envisaged to maintain echelon III calibration facilities, traceable to echelon II calibration facilities at the Regional Testing Centre at the Bhabha Atomic Research Centre, Bombay.

The services rendered are mainly in Testing and calibration. The following equipment is available at the Centre for testing and calibration: (i) Aplat A. C. stabiliser, L V, H V (up to 3 KW) supplies; (ii) ECIL pulse generator (10 MHz); (iii) Yamuna Digital DVM DM (0.01%); (iv) ECIL oscilloscopes—50 MHz with plugins; (v) Curve tracer units; (vi) storage CRO; (vii) BPL capacitance bridge (1%) and component comparator; (viii) Marconi AM/FM generator 220 MHz; (ix) R. F. attenuator (1000 MHz); (x) Distortion factor meter; (xi) RFT Sweep frequency set—wobbulo-scope (0.3—1000 MHz); (xii) Radart decade R, L, C boxes; (xiii) Teletronix oscilloscope—581 A (100 MHz); (xiv) 502 double beam (1 MHz); (xv) 459 storage (30 MHz) with plugin sampling (1000 MHz); (xvi) Spectrum analyser (1200 MHz); (xvii) R & S field strength meter (47-225 MHz); (xviii) Systron Donnor counter 50 MHz (1 in 107); (xix) Bontoon RI mv meter; (xx) Metrimpex wobbulo-scope (1-220 MHz); (xxi) Marconi Q Meter (50 KHz-300 MHz); (xxii) RFT sound level meter.

FOOD CRAFT INSTITUTE

Address: Engineering College Campus, opp. 'Lok-mangal', Shivajinagar, Pune 5. Tel. 58298. Principal:

Mrs. V. A. Gangolli. Nature of management: Managed by Trust and jointly sponsored by the Government of India and the Government of Maharashtra. The following services are rendered.

1. Testing: The Institute has a well-equipped and modern laboratory where the following testing facilities are available: (i) Fermentation test for juices and beverages; (ii) Bacterial count in tomato products; (iii) Water analysis—colony count; (iv) Microbiological examination of canned foods; (v) Examination of raw material for food and fruit products; (vi) Examination of can ream, (vii) Determination of brix by hydrometer, refractometer, and by indirect method; (viii) Determination of acidity in fruit and vegetable products, (ix) Determination of salt; (x) Detection and determination of sulphur-dioxide and benzoic acid; (xi) Determination of reducing sugar, (xii) Detailed cut-out analysis of fruits and vegetable products.

2. Consultancy: The services are available in the following fields of (i) bakery and confectionery; (ii) hygiene in hotels etc, (iii) storage of food; (iv) care of premises and equipment; (v) canning and bottling processes; (vi) fruit and vegetable beverage preparation and preservation; (vii) preparation of jams, jellies, marmalades, fruit preserve candies, cheese, butter and other confectionery; (viii) preparation of tomato products, pickles, sauces, chutneys and vinegar; (ix) drying and dehydration; (x) utilisation of fruit and vegetable waste; (xi) food packing; (xii) microbiology, sanitation and quality control; (xiii) source and control of contamination in preserved food; (xiv) food poisoning—causes and control; (xv) control of insects and rodents in factories; (xvi) food toxicology; (xvii) food grades and standards; (xviii) product evaluation and marketing techniques; (xix) cookery; (xx) hotel reception; (xxi) housekeeping; and (xxii) use, service and maintenance of large-scale equipment used in bakery, confectionery, canning and food preservation, and cookery.

3. Training: The Institute conducts the following courses which are recognised by the Board of Technical Examinations, Government of Maharashtra: (i) Craftsmanship course in Bakery and Confectionery—1 year; (ii) Craftsmanship course in Canning and Food Preservation—1 year; (iii) Craftsmanship course in Cookery—6 months; (iv) Craftsmanship course in Restaurant and Counter Service—6 months; (v) Craftsmanship course in Reception and Book-keeping—6 months; (vi) Craftsmanship course in House-keeping—6 months; (vii) Housewives course in Bakery and Confectionery—13 weeks; (viii) Housewives course in Cookery—13 weeks; (ix)

Housewives course in Canning and Food Preservation—13 weeks.

GOVERNMENT POLYTECHNIC

Address : Poona University Road, Pune 16. Tel. 57907. Principal : Prof. M. S. Srikantiah. Nature of management : State Government institution. The following services are rendered.

1. Testing : It includes : (i) Testing of materials for strength; (ii) Testing of taxi and auto-rickshaw meters; (iii) Metallurgical testing; and (iv) Testing of I. C. engines up to 10 h. p. on behalf of the Indian Standards Institution, New Delhi. It also carries out repairs to survey instruments.

2. Consultancy : This service is available in heat treatment, metal forming and material selection problems.

3. Training : The Polytechnic conducts full-time courses for (i) Diploma in Mechanical Engineering; (ii) Diploma in Electrical Engineering; (iii) Diploma in Civil Engineering; (iv) Diploma in Telecommunications Engineering; and (v) Diploma in Metallurgical Engineering. It also conducts part-time diploma courses for candidates sponsored by industries; and a post-diploma course in Production Engineering. The latter is a part-time course conducted for working-engineers.

HANDMADE PAPER INSTITUTE

Address : K. B. Joshi Road, Agriculture College Campus, Pune 5. Tel. 56383. Director : Shri D. C. Nadaph. Nature of management : Semi-government, under the Maharashtra State Khadi and Village Industries Board. It renders the following services.

1. Testing : The Institute possesses a well-equipped laboratory for conducting all physical and chemical tests on paper and board as per ISI specifications.

2. Research and Development : Facilities exist for research and development on all aspects of handmade paper and board.

3. Consultancy : On all aspects of production, standardization and processing of handmade paper and board.

4. Training : The Institute imparts training in production of handmade paper and board.

INDIAN DRUGS RESEARCH ASSOCIATION DRUG RESEARCH LABORATORY

Address : 561-B Shivajinagar, Pune 5. Tel. 55018. Hon. Director : Dr. G. S. Pende. Nature of management : I.D....19

ment : Society and Trust. The following services are rendered.

1. Testing : The laboratory has facilities for testing drugs, pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, fats, oils, etc.]

2. Research and Development : The Institution undertakes research and development programme on behalf of industries which may have some problems of their own and also of those who wish to diversify to other important industrial enterprise, on certain terms and conditions to be mutually agreed upon.

3. Consultancy Services : These services are available on a limited scale in the fields mentioned above.

4. Training : Students are provided research facilities in their study for M.Sc. and Ph.D. degrees of the University of Poona and Bombay University. Training facilities are also available for analysts and commercial apprentices.

INDUSTRIAL CHEMICAL LABORATORY

Address : Poona University Campus, opp. Raj Bhavan, Ganeshkhind Road, Pune 7. Tel. 56853. Industries Officer (Laboratory) : Shri N. M. Chudgar. Nature of management : Under the Government of Maharashtra. The following services are rendered.

1. Testing : The Laboratory has facilities for testing chemicals, raw material, and finished products such as adhesives, soap oil, inks, acids, alkalis, minerals, ores, clays, non-ferrous metals, spirits, solvents, etc.

2. Research and Development : Facilities for conducting initial experiments and trials are available for technical entrepreneurs who desire to start a new chemical industry but do not have sufficient funds and time to establish a well-equipped laboratory. This Laboratory is well equipped with many quick-fit glass assemblies and instruments for conducting such experiments and trials. Facility for conducting experiments in the Laboratory is provided at nominal fees. The Laboratory also undertakes to carry out experiments for technical entrepreneurs on a limited scale.

3. Training : Short-duration practical training courses of 3 to 7 days and demonstration are arranged for specific small and cottage industries for the manufacture of products such as inks, gum, adhesive, washing soap, liquid soap, candles, crayons, detergents, incense sticks (agarbatties), phenyl, etc.

INDUSTRIAL TECHNICAL INSTITUTE

Address : 3B, Lajwanti, 9/62 Erandawana, Karve Road, Pune 4. Tel. 55848, 54685. Proprietor : Shri Shashikant D. Mahulikar, Chartered Engineer, Approved Valuer, Insurance Surveyor, Technical Consultant. Nature of management: Private. The following services are rendered.

1. Testing: The facilities include (i) testing of equipment as per Factories Act; (ii) oil tanker testing and inspection as required by the Explosives Inspector; and (iii) inspection and testing of pressure vessels, lifting tackles etc. as per Factories Act. For other services please see under "Consultancy Services" section.

INSECTICIDES TESTING LABORATORY

Address: Administrative Building, Agriculture College Campus, Shivajinagar. Pune 5. Tel. 58413. Chemist: Shri U. D. Thakare. Nature of management: Under Department of Agriculture, Government of Maharashtra. The services rendered are mostly testing of insecticides and pesticides.

INSPECTORATE OF ELECTRONICS WING

Address: CIA Campus, Khadki, Pune 3. Tel. 57520, 58176. Inspector-in-Charge: Lt. Col. J. S. Brar. Nature of management: Branch Office of Inspectorate of Electronics, Bombay, under Controllerate of Inspection (Electronics), Bangalore, and Directorate of Production and Inspection Electronics, New Delhi. It renders valuable services in the field of testing.

The Wing has the following imported and indigenous equipment for providing testing facilities: (i) Power-measuring set multi-range of voltage, current power, and reactive power; (ii) Voltmeter AC/DC, PR, 0-600 V for measurement of voltage; (iii) Voltmeter D. C., 0-150 V accuracy 0.5 for measurement of voltage; (iv) Ammeter AC with CT, PR, 0-100A accuracy 0.5 for measurement of current; (v) Ammeter D. C. with shunt 75 mV, 20-100A accuracy 0.5 for measurement of current; (vi) Universal LCR bridge. Freq. 1 KHZ, 10 micro H to 100 H, 10 PF to 100 MF, 1 Ohm to 10 M Ohms for measurement of resistance, inductance and capacitance; (vii) Multimeter model 8 X MK III multi-ranges for measurement of electrical parameters, (viii) Breakdown tester RM 215 0-5 KV A.C 0-10 KV D. C., 100 MA for voltage proof test; (ix) Electronic megger 500 V. D. C., 100 M Ohm for insulation test; (x) Insu-tester for insulation test; (xi) Oscilloport with universal rheostat for measurement of transient changes, voltage and current; (xii) VTVM AC/DC EM 201/C for precise AC/DC voltage and resistance measurement; (xiii) Frequency meter for measurement of frequency; (xiv) Wattmeter AC/DC single phase PR for measurement of power; (xv) Multi-meter for measurement of electrical parameters.

Tests as per I.S.I. Standards are also taken of electric hot plate, electric irons, and electric kettles.

INSTITUTE OF ARMAMENT TECHNOLOGY

Address: Girinagar, Pune 25. Tel. 440050, 440501, 440701-2-3. Director and Dean: Air Commodore S. K. Nair, AVSM. Nature of management: Under the Research and Development Organisation, Ministry of Defence, Government of India. The services rendered are mostly in Research and Development. Applied research is undertaken in (i) Physics, (ii) Chemistry, (iii) Mathematics (Mechanism and Ballistics), (iv) Telecommunications, and (v) Metallurgy.

KIRLOSKAR CONSULTANTS LIMITED

Address: 917/19-A Shivajinagar, Fergusson College Road, Pune 4. Tel. 56495-96-97/54211-12 Managing Director: Shri D.V. Tikekar. Nature of management: Public Limited Company. Services rendered by Laboratory Division (Manager: Shri I. S. Kirad):

1. Testing: The Company has a well-equipped laboratory for chemical analysis of (i) metals and its alloys, (ii) ores and minerals, (iii) limestone and soapstone, (iv) soil and fertilizers, (v) cattle and poultry feed, (vi) oil-seeds and cakes, (vii) rice bran and rice polish, (viii) fish meal, (ix) water for industrial uses, and (x) waste water and effluents. These services are as per requirements of clients, and charges vary accordingly.

2. Fixation of quality control standards for internal use.

3. Study of process of manufacture for various metallic and alloy components.

4. For consultancy and other services, please see "Consultancy Services" section.

KIRLOSKAR FOUNDATION

Address: 13 Laxmanrao Kirloskar Road, Khadki, Pune 3. Tel. 58334. Chairman: Shri S. L. Kirloskar, Holding Trustees: Shri C. S. Kirloskar and Shri V. B. Kirtane. Nature of management: Managed by Trust and registered under the Societies Registration Act 1860 and the Bombay Public Trust Act 1950. The Foundation has been established in the memory of Late Shri Laxmanrao K. Kirloskar who founded the Kirloskar Group of Companies and who was a pioneer in the industrialisation of Maharashtra. The Foundation aims at continuing the spirit and work of Late Shri L. K.

Kirloskar to encourage new entrepreneurs and thereby reduce unemployment in the country. It renders the following services to entrepreneurs for starting small and large industries.

1. Technical and Management Advice : These services include (i) technical advice, (ii) management advice, (iii) technical and management information, (iv) practical assistance based on experience for the improvement of production and management techniques, and (v) assistance in securing bank loans for starting an industry by standing as guarantor for such loans; no commission is charged for the guarantee by the Foundation.

2. Training: Small courses of 1 to 2 days' duration are arranged at various places in the State on subjects like labour legislation, costing, financing, income-tax and sales tax, and other government laws, rules and regulations affecting industry, in order to educate small-scale entrepreneurs on these vital subjects. The Foundation organises these courses in co-operation with Chambers of Commerce and local Associations of Industries.

MAHARASHTRA ASSOCIATION FOR CULTIVATION OF SCIENCE—Research Institute

Address: Law College Road, Pune 4. Tel. 56357/53683. Director : Dr. G. B. Deodikar. Estd. 1946. Nature of management : Autonomous, private institution registered as a Public Trust and aided by the Department of Science and Technology, Government of India and the Government of Maharashtra. The Institute is devoted to both basic and applied research in Science and has on its rolls, about 70 scientists apart from post-graduate research students, post-doctoral fellows, visiting scientist, pool scientists and casual research workers. The Institute has unique distinction of utilising valuable services of eminent retired scientists from various fields of sciences who work full-time but in an honorary capacity. It renders the following services.

1. Research and Development, and Consultancy : The MACS Research Institute has well equipped laboratories in its various departments. Research and development facilities are available in the fields of : (i) Biometry, (ii) Botany, (iii) Chemistry, (iv) Genetics and Plant Breeding, (v) Geology and Palaeontology, (vi) Instrumentation, (vii) Microbiology, (viii) Mycology and Plant Pathology, (ix) Zoology and Agricultural Entomology, and (x) Quantitative Biology.

2. Training : The Institute is recognised by the University of Poona for research leading to M.Sc. and Ph.D. degrees of the University in the following subjects : Botany, Cytogenetics, Plant Breeding, Entomology, Zoology, Mycology, Microbiology, Chemistry, Biochemistry, and Agricultural Chemistry. The Mahatma Phule Agricultural University has recognised the Institute as a Centre for post-graduate research leading to the M.Sc. and Ph.D. degrees of the University in Agricultural Chemistry, Soil Science, Entomology, Mycology, Bacteriology, Plant Pathology, Agricultural Microbiology, Agricultural Botany, Genetics, and Plant Breeding.

3. Library : The Institute has an excellent library which houses 10,739 books and 19,364 other publications on the subjects mentioned above. It receives 117 Indian and foreign journals on the related subjects. It also has a collection of microfilms on the above subjects. Scientists of the Institute have so far published* over 700 research papers in Indian and foreign journals. The Institute publishes a monthly Biovigyanam.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT ORGANISATION

Address: National Chemical Laboratory Campus, Pashan, Pune 8. Tel. 58224, 50743. Scientist-in-Charge: Shri N. C. F. Shah. Nature of management: Autonomous, under the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi. The following services are rendered.

Testing and Evaluation: This includes (i) Destructive testing comprising tensile tests, compression tests, transverse tests, impact tests—Brinell, Rockwell, Vickers and Shore—, bend tests, hydraulic pressure tests, spring tests, and special testing such as piston ring tests etc.; (ii) Non-destructive testing comprising ultrasonic testing, ultrasonic thickness survey and detection of corrosion in vessels, pipelines, heat exchangers etc.; radiography of welds etc., surface crack detection—metallic and non-metallic, survey of radioactive contaminants on surface and radiation working areas, and surface and sub-surface magnetic crack detection in ferrous materials; (iii) Metallurgy and Metallography covering macro and micro structures of ferrous and non-ferrous metals and alloys, determination of ASTM grain size, thickness measurement, micro hardness, sulphur printing, and heat treatment; (iv) Chemical analysis of ferrous and non-ferrous metals and alloys; and (v) Metrology covering surface roughness measurement, pitch measurement of screws, calibration of micrometers, calibration of dial gauges and test indicators, plane tapers, indexing of any parts into any number of equal parts, flatness surface plates, and concentricity and eccentricity measurements.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF VIROLOGY

Address: 20-A Dr. Ambedkar Road, Post Box No. 11, Pune 1. Tel. 23471-2. Director: Dr. N. P. Gupta.

Nature of management: Under the Indian Council of Medical Research, Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India. The Institute was established in 1952 under the joint auspices of the I. C. M. R. and the Rockefeller Foundation, U. S. A., and is now recognised by the World Health Organisation as a Reference Centre on Arboviruses. It renders the following services.

1. Testing: There are facilities for (i) the testing of all the field specimens by virological and serological techniques; (ii) physico-chemical and biological characterisation and pathogenicity studies of the isolated viruses and rickettsiae; (iii) interaction of viruses and other parasites or micro-organisms in different host systems; and (iv) testing and development of effective control measures through the use of insecticides for certain vectors of arboviral and rickettsial diseases.

2. Research and Development: Facilities exist in the fields of (i) arbo and respiratory viruses; (ii) immunology; (iii) tissue culture and cell biology; (iv) medical entomology and zoology; (v) rickettsiology; (vi) laboratory animals; (vii) development of newer techniques for quicker and efficient diagnosis of viral diseases; (viii) experimental studies on viral genetics for developing "candidates" for viral vaccines; (ix) development of newer cell lines from vertebrate and non-vertebrate; and (x) designing, fabrication and modification of laboratory equipment employing indigenous materials to minimise imports.

3. Supplies: The Institute maintains and supplies laboratory animals, Swiss mice, arthropods, mammalian and arthropod cell lines to different research institutes in India and abroad. It also prepares and supplies standard serological reagents and prototype viruses.

4. Training: The Institute is affiliated to the University of Poona and is recognised by several other universities in India. It has training facilities for Ph.D. and M.Sc. students, partly by research and partly by thesis. It gives Diploma in Virology in the fields of Virology, Medical Zoology and Entomology, and Viral Epidemiology including Tissue Culture and Immunology. The Institute conducts short-duration practical training courses of 6 months to one year in the fields of (a) Serological Diagnosis, (b) Tissue Culture, (c) Virus Isolation and Identification, (d) Epidemiology, and (e) Medical Zoology and Entomology. It also conducts post-graduate certificate courses in virology sponsored by

I. C. M. R.; technicians' training courses in virology (12 months' duration); and inter-country courses in virology sponsored by the World Health Organisation.

NATIONAL CHEMICAL LABORATORY

Address: Pashan, Pune 8. Tel. 56451/2/3. Director: Dr. L. K. Doraiswamy. Nature of management: Constituent laboratory under the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi, an autonomous body registered under the Societies Act.

The NCL has been quite successful in transferring its technology to small, medium and large scale private and public sector industries. The cumulative value of industrial production based on the NCL technology for the last decade (1965-75) was Rs. 33.4 crores of which Rs. 13.4 crores can be claimed as foreign exchange saving, as most of these products were being imported. As against this contribution to national economy, the CSIR has spent only Rs 13 crores on the NCL since its inception. The value of production based on NCL technology is Rs. 15 crores annually. Out of a total of 139 processes developed by the NCL so far, presently 6 processes are in production in public sector undertakings, 23 processes in other large-scale companies and 42 processes in medium and small-scale industries. The NCL has to its credit 22 Indian patents sealed, out of which 7 have been released for commercial exploitation, 17 Indian patents filed, and 3 foreign patents in force in the USA and Cuba. The research work at the NCL is recorded in the publication of about 3000 papers in India and foreign journals. The NCL has on its staff 392 scientists, 78 research fellows and graduate trainees, 380 technical personnel and 190 other personnel. Major beneficiaries of the NCL technology have been the public sector enterprises: Hindustan Organic Chemicals Ltd., Indian Drugs and Pharmaceuticals Ltd., Hindustan Antibiotics Ltd., Indian Petrochemicals Ltd., Hindustan Insecticides Ltd., Ministry of Finance, and the Railways. Several industries in the small and medium sectors have also benefited from the NCL technology. As an objective and a feasible target, the NCL hopes to generate technology which is expected to lead to industrial production worth around Rs. 200 crores per year within the next five to ten years. Major areas of thrust for the NCL's efforts in the decade 1975-85, would be: (a) development of technology which will promote agricultural production and economic utilization of forests; (b) utilization of regenerative resources such as cellulose materials; (c) development of much needed technology for critical sectors such as health-care (drugs and pharmaceuticals), defence, petrochemicals, polymers and elastomers; (d) utilization of mineral resources; (e) projects expected to bring economic benefits to the economically backward sections of our society such as rural, backward and tribal population, e. g. assistance in the development of Chandrapur, a backward district in Maharashtra; (f) development, absorption and improvement of technology in public sector enterprises with the view for its diffusion within India and eventual export, and development of closer links with public sector manufacturing and engineering companies for the above purposes; and (g) contributions to frontiers of science and technology in areas such as (i) application of plant tissue culture to horticulture, agriculture and forestry, (ii) development and use of immobilized enzymes as industrial catalysts, (iii) use of solar energy in association with other CSIR laboratories, (iv) exploitation of renewable resources, (v) catalysis and catalytic processes, and (vi) development of new production techniques based on the use of fluidized bed techniques.

Testing: The NCL has modern sophisticated equipment for structural elucidation such as (i) Mass Spectrometer, (ii) Vapour Phase Chromatograph, (iii) Gas Liquid Chromatograph, (iv) High Pressure Liquid Chromatographs, (v) Ultra Violet, (vi) Infra Red, (vii) Nuclear Magnetic Resonance, (viii) Gamma Ray and Mossbauer Spectrometers, (ix) X-Ray and Electron Diffraction Equipment, (x) Analytical and Preparative Ultra-Centrifuges, (xi) Amino Acid Analyser, (xii) Impedance Bridge, (xiii) LUVA Evaporimeter, (xiv) Printing Digital Analogue Indicator (Rikadenki Model Padal-1), etc. The following facilities for testing and analysis are available: (i) physico-chemical analysis of raw materials, intermediate and finished products; (ii) microanalysis of organic and organo-metallic compounds for various elements and functional groups; (iii) other estimations like molecular weight determination; (iv) thermogravimetric analysis. (v) X-Ray powder patterns; (vi) optical microscopy; (vii) spectrophotometric estimation; (viii) inorganic analysis of special nature; (ix) determination of surface area by BET technique; (x) measurement of capacitance, inductance and resistance at different frequencies; (xi) removal of moisture, residual solvents from organo-phosphorous pesticides. An entomology unit is available for testing various compounds like pesticides and hormones; and a separate laboratory is available for studying high pressure chemical reactions.

Research and Development, and Consultancy: The NCL undertakes projects from industries on sponsorship basis is for the development of technology and on specific problems faced by industries, and also offers consultancy services. These facilities are available in the following subjects: (i) petrochemicals and bulk organic chemicals, (ii) chemical engineering, (iii) pesticides and agro-chemicals, (iv) agro-chemicals based on natural products, (v) drugs, dyestuffs and fine chemicals, (vi) organic intermediates, (vii) utilization of agricultural, plant, forest and marine products, (viii) organic chemistry, (ix) industrial polymers, elastomers and resins, (x) polymer chemistry, (xi) utilization of mineral sources. (xii) industrial inorganic and organo-metallic chemistry, (xiii) solid state materials including materials for electronic industry, (xiv) physical chemistry, (xv) plant tissue culture, (xvi) fermentation technology, (xvii) enzyme technology, (xviii) biochemistry, (xix) development of instruments, and (xx) water management. In addition to the above areas of industrial and socio-economic relevance, senior NCL scientists are also working on problems of a basic nature in their own fields of interest.

Technology for new industries : The NCL has developed various technological processes which are available for commercial exploitation in existing industries and for starting new industries in the large, medium and small-scale sectors. The process of transfer of this technology for actual production depends upon the level of technology development. The NCL develops technology on three distinct levels:—Level 1: For low volume/value products prepared by one or two simple chemical steps, only laboratory work is carried out, i.e. on 1-5 kg/batch scale. This level of transfer meets the needs of companies which are already in the manufacturing line or the entrepreneurs who have the necessary expertise. Level 2: At this level, in addition to laboratory work pilot plant trials on a scale of 10-100 kg/batch or 2-20 kg/hour (in the case of continuous operations) are carried out. The required design data are collected and complete process engineering package (PEP) is prepared, usually in collaboration with a project engineer. Based on the PEP, the entrepreneur can erect a plant either with the help of their own engineers or with the assistance of a project engineer of their choice. Level 3: A complete turn-key offer with guarantees of commercial plant performance is made to entrepreneurs through a firm of reputed project engineers. This level of transfer is similar to foreign turn-key offers. In this level of transfer, the NCL's responsibility is only to the project engineering firm, while the client deals with the project engineers. However, the NCL actually associates with the project engineers in designing, commissioning and guaranteeing runs.

Consultancy: The NCL can enter into agreements with firms/groups of firms and public sector undertakings for rendering technological support to industry in the fields of (i) development, (ii) planning, (iii) programming, (iv) feasibility studies, (v) designs, (vi) start-up help and commissioning of the plant, (vii) research and development establishment, and (viii) trouble shooting. Such institutional consultancy is operated through the NCL scientist/s particularly desired by the industry with the concurrence of the NCL/Council of Scientific Industrial Research.

Ad hoc Assistance: The NCL can render assistance to industry in (i) standardization, (ii) optimization, (iii) analysis and testing, and (iv) trouble shooting, on ad hoc payment basis depending upon the nature of the problem and provided the necessary facilities and expertise are available and can be spared.

Pilot Plant Work: Based on the laboratory data obtained elsewhere, pilot plant work on agreed terms could be undertaken on behalf of industry, either on sponsorship basis or on ad hoc basis.

Feasibility Studies: The NCL offers assistance on payment to project engineering firms for the preparation of feasibility reports or turn-key proposals for NCL technology.

R & D Collaboration with Industry: In projects which are engineering intensive or technically complex and involving high capital investment or high risk factors and necessitating establishment of semi-commercial units for large-scale proving runs, the NCL is keen to collaborate with interested industry on such joint development programmes. Such units could be established at the site of the industry and run at the cost of the industry. The National Research and Development Corporation may also participate in the financing of these semi-commercial plants.

Import of Foreign Technology : The NCL can participate with industries in their negotiations for importing foreign technologies so as to choose proper technology from the various foreign technologies available. The NCL scientists could also be associated with training abroad and commissioning of the plants in India, as an integral part of foreign collaboration agreements, so as to help in assimilation and further improvement of foreign technology.

Miscellaneous Services: (i) The NCL has a National Collection of Industrial Micro-organisms (NCIM) of non-pathogenic yeasts, bacteria and fungi. These are supplied to industries and other institutions on nominal charges. (ii) Glass Blowing—An excellent glass-blowing section undertakes fabrication of glass assemblies and repair of glass apparatus for research and development work in the laboratory.

Training: The NCL is recognised for post-graduate research leading to the M.Sc. and Ph.D. degrees, by a number of Indian universities. A limited number of scholarships financed by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi, are available for doctoral and post-graduate work. The NCL also imparts technical training to representatives from industries, in various subjects such as (a) Thin Film Physics, (b) Mass Spectrometry, (c) Microbiological Technique, (d) Electrophoresis, and (e) Glass Blowing.

Library: The library which is one of the finest of its kind in India, maintains an impressive collection of 75,000 books, periodicals, patents, standards, technical reports etc. on chemistry and chemical technology. Library facilities are available to industries. Micro-films and Xerox copies of references available in the library, are supplied to outside parties on payment. The library also compiles bibliography on special subjects of interest to the NCL.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTING OFFICER (ENGINEERING)

Address: D. G. S. & D., "Surad", 1st floor, 106/13 Erandawana, Dr. Ketkar Road, Pune 4. Tel. 55164. Inspecting Officer-in-Charge: Shri S. K. Gautam. Nature of management: Under the Director General of Supplies and Disposals, Department of Supply, Government of India. The services rendered are inspection and testing of stores against government or semi-government orders.

RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT ESTABLISHMENTS (ENGINEERS)

Address: Dighi, Pune 15. Tel. 27221, 20427, 20428, 25387 Director: Brig. P. N. Kapoor. Nature of management: Under Research and Development Organisation, Ministry of Defence, Government of India. The following services are rendered.

1. Type testing of IC Engine.
2. Environmental Tests. These tests comprise cold test, dry heat test, damp heat (accelerated), mould growth test, salt spray test, dust test, rapid change of temperature test, rain test, ultra violet radiative test (100-hr. test or part thereof), bump and jolt test DEF-133, vibration test DEF-133, rubber strength test DIN 5904, and thermal conductivity test.
3. Metallurgical Tests : These tests include tensile test; bending test; shear test; hardness test—Rockwell, Brinell, Vickers, and Shore Scleroscope; torsion test; X-Ray radiography and interpretation; flow-detection by ultrasonic method; flow-detection by magnetic particle.

4. Fabric Tests : There are facilities to test breaking strength of fabrics; tearing-strength of fabrics; bursting-strength of coated fabrics; waterproofness of basic and coated fabrics—cone test, pressure head test, Bundes-mann test; flexing-strength of fabrics; and flame-proofness of fabrics.

5. Soils and Civil Engineering Tests : These include: (i) Cement testing as per IS-269-1958 for fineness, soundness, setting time, comprehensive strength, heat of hydration, and chemical requirements as per clause 3.1 and 3.2. (ii) Concrete testing as per I. S. I. specification, for workability, comprehensive strength, flexural strength, and modulus of elasticity by electrodynamic method. (iii) Aggregates testing as per IS 2386 (Part I to V only) 1963 for grading, soundness, water absorption, specific gravity, bulk density, hardness in Moh's scale, aggregate abrasion value, adhesion of aggregates to tar, and aggregate impact test. (iv) Tar and bitumen testing for specific gravity IS 1202-1958, penetration IS-1203-1958, softening point IS-1205-1958, ductility IS-1208-1958, viscosity IS-1206-1958, and flash point and fire point IS-1209-1958. (v) Soil testing as per IS-2780 Part I to XXXI for moisture content, specific gravity, particle size analysis, shrinkage factor, moisture content—dry density relation using light and heavy compaction, unconfined compressive strength, consolidation properties, laboratory determination of CBR, field determination of California Bearing Ratio, field moisture equivalent, laboratory determination of permeability, organic matter, calcium carbonate, PH value, dry density by core cutter method, and laboratory vane-shear test.

SHEEP BREEDING FARM

Address: Gokhale Nagar, Pune 16. Tel. 54862.

Manager : Shri. G. R. Potnis. Nature of management: Under the Government of Maharashtra. The following services are rendered.

1. Testing : It includes testing and analysis of raw wool, and proximate analysis of cattle-feed samples.
2. Processing of raw wool into thread through scouring, carding, spinning, dyeing, sizing, winding and warping of woollen yarn.
3. Consultancy in sheep-breeding, and manufacture and processing of wool and wollen products.

SMALL INDUSTRIES DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE

Address: Agriculture College Campus, Shivajinagar, Pune 5. Tel. 56368. Asstt. Director in-charge: Shri V. B. Diwakar. Nature of management: Under the Industries Commissioner, Government of Maharashtra. It renders the following services.

1. Testing: The Institute has the following equipment for testing of various engineering products: (1) Sine Protractor, (2) Parallelism Tester, (3) Three-point Internal Micrometer, (4) Cylinder Bore Gauge, (5) Co-ordinate Table, (6) Magnetic Base 48×2×49, (7) Magnetic Base 70×46×64, (8) Magnetic Base flexible post, (9) Magnetic Holder, (10) Adjustable Links, (11) Dial Test Indicator 38 mm dial 0.01, (12) Dial Test Indicator 38 mm dial 0.002, (13) Dial Bevel Protractor, (14) Magnetic V Blocks, (15) Indicator Stand 250×51 base, 200×18 column, (16) Indicator Stand 300×100 base, 300×40 column, (17) Universal Surface Gauge 80×65×300, (18) Universal Surface Gauge 125×95×600, (19) Dial Indicator Lever type, (20) Vernier Calliper 600 mm, (21) Vernier Calliper 200 mm, (22) Mini Bench Centre, (23) Screw Pitch Gauge 4×160, TPI, (24) Screw Pitch Gauge 0.25 to 2 mm, (25) Straight Edge, (26) Combination Square Set, (27) Telescopic Gauge, (28) Vernier Depth Gauge, (29) Column Measuring Support, (30) Outside Micrometer, (31) Vernier Height Gauge, (32) Micrometer, (33) Slip Gauge, (34) Surface Plate, (35) Height Master Gauge, (36) Optical Flat, (37) Hardness Tester, (38) Profile Projector, and (39) Universal Tester.
2. Research and Development: Facilities are available to small-scale industries through the Institute's Workshop and Tool Room.
3. Training: 18 months' full-time training courses in the manufacture of scientific glass apparatus for boys who have passed the SSC Examination.

SMALL INDUSTRIES SERVICE INSTITUTE —INDUSTRIAL EXTENSION CENTRE

Address: Shankarshet Road, Swargate, Pune 9. Tel. 440594. Assistant Director-in-Charge: Cap. T. D. Srinivasan. Nature of management: Under the Small Industries Development Organisation, Ministry of Industry, Government of India. It renders the following services.

1. Workshop facilities: They include (i) machine, and (ii) electroplating.
2. Training: The Centre imparts training to artisans and small industrialists. Short-term courses are arranged for new and prospective entrepreneurs.

3. Consultancy: The Centre helps new entrepreneurs in preparing project reports and also provides brief project reports on various types of small-scale industries. It provides technical information, management advice, economic information, and marketing advice.

UNIVERSITY OF POONA

Address: Ganeshkhind Road, Pune 7. Tel. 56061.
Vice-Chancellor: Dr. R. G. Takawale. Nature of

management: Autonomous, under the Government of Maharashtra. It renders the following services.

1. Testing: The University has modern and well-equipped laboratories in its various departments, such as Biology, Botany, Chemistry, Physics, Microbiology, Zoology, etc., and testing facilities are available in these laboratories.

2. Training: The University imparts advanced education in all the above disciplines. It also runs various other courses of study through the colleges and technical commercial, and management institutes affiliated to it

For the small scale industry:

MSSIDC keeps pace with the growing needs of the small scale sector: Procurement and distribution of industrial raw materials, marketing, imports, exports. MSSIDC has a model warehousing facility in Bombay. It also has undertaken development of Handicrafts and Leather Industry besides management of certain production centres.

And to help you wherever you are, MSSIDC has decentralised its functions and widened its network of Divisional/Regional Offices and Depots. There is one in your area. Step in and discuss your problems with us any time.

We'd be glad to help.

BOMBAY - POONA - JAMSHEDPUR

Industrial Director,

It took a man years to acquire such beauty

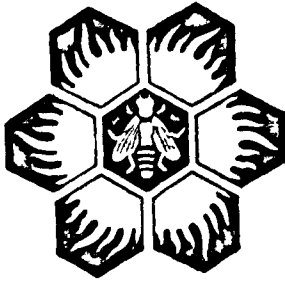

It was centuries ago, when Aurangabad was young. Some distance away, an old sculptor was busy putting life into stone. Hundreds of other artists were busy all around, creating eternal beauty in the wilderness. Year in, year out, they cut, carved and painted. Till a dead, barren hillside came to life... and started throbbing with beauty and art...

Even today, this place lives in the past. Its Ajanta frescoes welcome you to 200 B.C. Its Ellora sculptures talk to you of days that used to be. And, its Aurangabad caves, only about 3 kilometres from the city, enchant you with the fascinating 'dancing panel' wherein stone figures have danced for years and years...

Plunge into this glorious past.. Fly to Aurangabad any day of the week.

Aurangabad will be the experience of your life. We promise.

Go places...
save time, fly

Places of Tourists' Interest in the City and nearabout

1. Kasturba Samadhi—Agakhan Palace

Agakhan Palace is a conspicuous landmark in the neighbourhood of Pune. During 1942 "Quit India" movement Mahatma Gandhi was incarcerated in this place along with Kasturba Gandhi and Shri Mahadeobhai Desai. Katurba Gandhi and Mahadeobhai Desai died here and their marble Samadhis are erected on the ground of this palace.

2. Bund Gardens

Situated on the right bank of the Mula-Mutha River,

Bund Gardens are about 2 km north east of Railway Station. It is one of the attractive evening resorts with added attraction of boating facility.

3. Chaturshringi Temple

This is a shrine of Durga (or Ambreswari). The temple is reached by a flight of steps in stone and concrete. During 'Navaratra', the first nine days of the month of Ashvin, a big fair is held here.

4. Empress Gardens

It is a beauty spot. The gardens are artificially laid out on an area of 24 hectares. There are tall majestic trees as well as innumerable varieties of plants and flowers.

5. Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute

Situated in the picturesque surroundings at the foot of the Law College hill, this famous institution has devoted to the study of oriental learning. It has a splendid stone building built in oriental style and ample guest houses. It contains nearly 20,000 manuscripts collected by Prof. Bolher Keilhorn and Prof. Bhandarkar.

6. Central Water & Power Research Station (CW & PRS)

It is located below the Khadakwasla irrigation dam on the Mutha River. The research work on local problems of land, drainage, reclamation and hydro-dynamics is carried on here. The institution is specially renowned for its large-scale model experiments on taming of rivers such as Ganga, Yamuna and Brahmaputra.

7. Bharat Itihas Sanshodhan Mandal

This institution devoted to historical research was founded in 1910 by V. K. Rajwade, one of the pioneers in historical research in Maharashtra and a well-known scholar. In its Fine Arts Section there are more than 1400 exhibits of which 1050 are old paintings, 75 illustrated manuscripts, maps and charts, 100 articles of armoury, 50 Moghal, Nizamshahi, Marathi, Persian, and English documents and hundreds of other miscellaneous objects.

8. Gliderdrome (Phursungi about 13 km south-east of Pune on the Southern Railways)

This gliderdrome is maintained by the Indian Gliding Association Ltd. It trains persons in gliding. The centre is equipped with a number of primary and secondary gliders, and there is a winch for launching the gliders.

9. National Chemical Laboratory

It is situated on the Pashan Road on a beautiful plateau covering an area of about 188 hectares. This institution is one of the important links in the chain of national laboratories which the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research has sponsored.

10. National Defence Academy

This is situated at Khadakwasla (17 km from Pune) and imparts basic training to officer-cadets of all the three branches of the Defence Services for commissions in the Army, Navy and Air Force.

11. Pataleshwar Caves (God of the nether world)

This is a rock-cut cave temple in Shivajinagar on the Jangli Maharaj Road. It has huge pillars and a shrine of Shiva in centre, with the Nandi in front under a circular canopy, all apparently hewn from a single rock.

12. Parvati Hill and Temples

This hill commands superb panoramic view of Pune and its environs. Up runs a broad flight of 108 steeply rising steps, leading to an imposing 'Nagarkhana', a big drum-house, which is the entrance to an octagonal enclosure containing the historical temple of Parvati and Devadeveshwar.

13. Raja Kelkar Museum

A three-storeyed building houses one-man collection of historical exhibits. It has rare collection of lamps, nut, crackers, number of varieties of musical instruments and many more. All these are from Mogul and Maratha periods. A masterpiece among the exhibits is 'Mastani Mahal,' which was brought and erected as it was from its original place. Mastani was the mistress of Peshwa Bajirao, who was Prime Minister of Chhatrapati of Satara. This museum is one of the 'must be visited' spots in Pune.

14. Mahatma Phule Vastu-Sangrahalaya

The museum has number of sections, viz. Information Bureau, Library and Reading Room, Emporium of Arts and Crafts and Educational Displays on Industries.

15. Observatory

It is a three-storeyed building, dominated by a clock-tower more than 36 meters high and surrounded by a well-laid-out garden with lawns and variegated flower beds.

16. Shaniwar Wada

Here are the ruins of old palaces which were built as the chief residence of the Peshwas during the 18th century. The balcony of the Nagarkhana gives a magnificent view of the whole enclosure inside.

17. Saras Bag

It is a picturesque and beautiful garden with a temple of Ganapati in the centre and ever-green lawns around it with fountains with colourful lighting arrangements.

18. Shinde's Chhatra

Amongst architectural prides of Pune, the memorial of the Great Mahadji Shinde, known as Shinde's Chhatra, would rank very high. It is a handsome and imposing edifice at Vanavadi, about 5 km. from Pune.

19. University of Poona

The site of the Poona University, the stately mansion at Ganeshkhind, was the official residence of the Governor of Bombay during the monsoon season. It is a large building in Italian Gothic Style and built of the local gray trap rock. It is surrounded by a high square tower (30 metres high) and a flag staff. The mansion has two well kept lawns adjoining it and is surrounded by a variety of majestic trees.

20. Vishrambag Wada

It is a large three-storeyed mansion 78 meters broad and 66 meters long. The Wada is remarkable for its beautiful entrance surrounded by a balcony.

21. Film and Television Institute of India, Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Prabhat Road, Pune 4.

It imparts training in all branches of film industry viz. direction, music, screen play, acting, editing, photography etc. Office of the National Film Archives is also located in its campus.

22. Tilak Smarak Mandir

This beautiful monument of Lokmanya Tilak is situated at Tilak Road near S. P. College.

PLACES OF EXCURSIONS NEAR PUNE

1. Alandi: Here is the Samadhi of Shri Dnyaneshwar, the author of Dnyaneshwari, the famous Marathi Commentary on the Bhagwat Gita. A big fair is held twice a year. Alandi is on the bank of river Indrayani 19 Km. from Pune.

2. Baneshwar: It is a temple of Shiva in jungle surroundings about 35 Km. from Pune. The temple, built by Peshwa Bajirao I, has a pleasant and copious water supply skillfully engineered from a constructed tank with a perennial source of water. It is a very good picnic spot.

3. Bhedasa Caves (48 Km): Famous Buddhist caves of about first century A. D. They consist of a Chaitya (Chapel) and a Vihara (dwelling cave) with some Dagobas (relic shrines), wells and cells.

4. Bhaja Caves (42 Km): There are eighteen early Buddhist caves of about the second and the first century B. C. The twelfth cave forms a chaitya and is, according to Dr. Burges, of the greatest importance for the history of cave architecture. It is 17.7 x 8.7 meters with apse and aisle one meter wide separated from the cave with 27 plain octagonal shafts 3-4 meters high. The remaining caves are also interesting.

5. Bhimashankar (128 Km): The place is 1034 meters above the sea level and is famous for its temple of Mahadeva. It is one of the twelve Jyotirlingas of India. The entrance portal of the temple is elaborately carved. A yearly fair, attended by about 20,000 pilgrims, is held on "Mahasivaratri."

6. Bhor: It is situated on the bank of Nira River at a distance of 56 Km. (35 miles) south of Pune City. There is one big temple of Shiva and Rajasabeb's Palace which contains a private museum. It is also an industrially developed town.

7. Chinchwad (16 Km): It is famous for the temples and Samadhi of Moraya Gosavi, the founder of Ganapatya Cult and his descendants known as "Deves". A yearly fair is held on Margasirs Vadya 6 (December).

8. Dehu: Situated on the right bank of Indrayani River, about 29 Km north-west of Pune is a place of pilgrimage. It is the birth place of Tukaram, a great poet-saint of Maharashtra of the 17th century.

9. Jejuri: It is about 51 Km from Pune. It is also a place of pilgrimage. Fairs are held in honour of the god Khandoba, also called Bhairoba, Malhari and Martand.

10. Karla Caves (40 Km): These caves are situated high in the range of hills and about 4 Km from Malavli station and 8 Km from Lonavala. They consist of a large Chaitya and several Viharas. The Chaitya is the largest and finest as well as the best preserved of its class.

11. Lohagad Fort: It is about 6 Km south of Malavali Railway Station and is situated on a striking hill in the same range as the neighbouring fort of Visapur. It is a good spot for picnic as well as for trekking and hiking.

12. Lonavala: A Hill Station situated on the top of the Bor Pass off the Sahyadris and at a distance of 64 Km from Pune. It is an ideal place for picnics, surrounded as it is by woods and valleys.

13. Purandhar Fort: A hill-fort 40 Km south-east of Pune. The summit on which it is built, is 1,350 metres high. It was a capital of Shivaji Maharaj for some time.

14. Bhatgar Dam: It is 52 Km. from Pune. It is a good holiday resort.

15. Mahabaleshwar and Panchgani: Mahabaleshwar is situated at a height of 1,350 metres above sea level. It is a paradise of the tourists with a variety of attractions. Panchgani, situated at the foot of the Mahabaleshwar is a tourist resort all the year round.

16. Shivneri Fort: It is 88 Km. from Pune. Nearest S. T. Bus Stop is Junnar which is 84.8 Km. from Pune and from there Shivneri is 4.8 Km. It is the birth place of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj. It is an important national monument.

The most striking feature of the fort is a mosque with two flanking minarets, a graceful flying arch uniting the latter.

17. Sinhagad Fort: It is situated at a height of 1,290 meters and is 25 Km (16 miles) from Pune. This fort is famous for a historical episode.

18. Shivapur: Here is the famous shrine of Qamarali Darvesh with its incredible levitating stone. It is about 18 Km from Pune on Satara Road.

(1) Craftsmanship Training Scheme (2) Advanced Vocational Training System and (3) Production Oriented Training Scheme. The Craftsmanship Training Scheme Consists of three courses: (1) Training course of 1 year's duration in the trades of blacksmith, welder, sheet metal worker, moulder, carpenter, painter, mechanic (diesel), mechanic (tractor), and plumber. (2) Training courses of 2 years' duration in the trades of mechanic—motor vehicle, building constructor, pattern-maker, wireman, farm mechanic, fitter, turner, machinist, grinder machinist, watch and clock maker, electroplater, electrician, mechanic instrument, tool & die maker, mechanic (refrigeration) and air-conditioning, draughtsman (mechanical), draughtsman (civil), surveyor, mechanic (radio and television), and electronics. (3) Training courses of 1 year duration in the trades of wireless operator, auto electrician, hand composition & proof-reading, book-binding, printing—machine operator, cutting and tailoring, manufacture of suit cases and other leather goods, stenography (English) and stenography (Marathi). The Advanced Vocational Training System has been launched jointly by the Government of India and the Government of Maharashtra in collaboration with the United Nations Development Programme and the International Labour Organisation, based on the working experience at the Advanced Training Institute, Madras. The System aims at giving a stimulus and support for the accelerated development of critical skills needed for industrial development in India. It offers programmes for upgrading and updating the skills of industrial workers through need-based and tailor-made courses of shorter duration on a modular basis. Large and small industries can avail of this system by enrolling their workers for these courses and also by arranging with the Institute for special courses for groups of workers. Even workers without the requisite educational qualification but having adequate industrial experience are admitted to these courses. Presently, the Institute conducts training courses in the following trades under this system : (i) Reading of Indian standards and engineering drawings; (ii) tool and die making; (iii) machine tool maintenance (conventional machines); and (iv) electrical maintenance.

The Production Oriented Training Scheme has been introduced by the Government of Maharashtra in May 1976. Under this scheme job-orders are accepted by the Institute from industries and individuals and these are entrusted to the concerned sections. Job-orders in all the trades mentioned above under the craftsmanship training scheme are accepted. The job-work is carried out by the trainees under the supervision and guidance of instructors and the amount received through such job orders is shared between the institute, trainees and staff. Thus, through this scheme practical training is imparted to the trainees in production work.

Want a pump that's designed to keep your sewage and effluent systems going on and on?

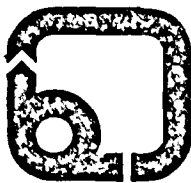

KSB non-clogging pumps enable

- continuous handling of contaminated fluids, sludges, etc.
- easy interchanging of parts
- minimum down-time in re-aligning
- simple maintenance due to back pull-out design

All this is due to the sophisticated design and manufacturing specifications of Klein, Schanzlin & Becker AG. As technical collaborators, they provide KSB-India with the complete know-how of one of the world's leading pump manufacturers.

A wide range of industries including chemical, iron and steel, paper, sugar, canned foods and sewage disposal systems use KSB non-clogging pumps.

750 units ordered for major paper mill project

Manufactured by KSB PUMPS LIMITED in technical collaboration with Klein, Schanzlin & Becker AG Frankenthal, West Germany at their modern factories in Pimpri and Chinchwad, Poona and Vambori, Ahmednagar Dist.

Everybody's saying things about Camlin good things !

When people say things about us, we prick up our ears.

To us, what they say is most important. Even more important than boosting our sales.

Are the millions who use our products pleased with our quality?

Yes! Quality is a vital word at all our Camlin Divisions:- Stationery, Art Materials, Pencils and Cosmetics. Forty years back, we resolved never to compromise on quality; and we never have.

So when we listen to people saying things about 'Camel' and 'Camlin' products, we invariably end up happy For we find the things they're saying... are good things!
