

Dhananjayao Gadgil Library

GIPE-PUNE-020054

ECONOMIC SURVEY OF PALESTINE

WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE YEARS 1936 AND 1937

DAVID HOROWITZ

AND

RITA HINDEN

ECONOMIC RESEARCH INSTITUTE

OF

THE JEWISH AGENCY FOR PALESTINE

TEL-AVIV — 1938

Printed in Palestine

X . 465. N3t4
G8

Copyright by the Economic Research Institute of the Jewish Agency for Palestine

2005A

Co-operative Press "Hapoel-Hazair", Tel-Aviv

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

I.	THE CHANGING ECONOMIC SCENE :	Page
	The Prosperity Period	7
	The Reversal of Prosperity	24
	Structural Changes	28
II.	POPULATION TRENDS :
	A Survey of Palestine's Population Growth	19
	The Immigration Cycle	29
	Population Growth in 1936 and 1937	32
	Palestine's Place among the Immigration Countries of the World	35
	Occupational Distribution	36
	Distribution of the Population in Towns and Villages	38
	Population Density	38
III.	COLONISATION AND INDIGENOUS AGRICULTURE :
	Cereal Growing	40
	Mixed Farming	45
	The Outstanding Features of Palestine Agriculture	54
	The Problems of Agriculture in Palestine	61
	New Colonisation	65
IV.	THE VICISSITUDES OF CITRICULTURE :
	The Citrus Seasons 1935-1937	66
	The Position of the World Citrus Industry	67
	The Special Difficulties of the Citrus Industry in Palestine	69
	A Survey of Palestine's Citrus Markets	73
	Efforts for the Improvement of the Industry	75
	Demands of the Palestine Citrus Industry	76
	The Importance of Citriculture in Palestine's Economic Life	78
	Conclusion	79
V.	THE POSITION OF INDUSTRY :
	The Background of Rapid Industrialisation	80
	Special Conditions favouring Industrialisation in Palestine	82
	A Survey of 1936 and 1937	84
	Individual Industries in 1936 and 1937	91
	Industrial Wages in 1936 and 1937	99
	Special Problems of Industry in Palestine	100
VI.	BUILDING AND HOUSING :
	The Role of Building in Present-Day Economics	104
	The Importance of Building in Palestine's Development	105
	The Dangers of the Present Situation and Prospects for the Future	109
	Rents, Overcrowding and the Mortgage Market	110
	Building in 1936 and 1937	114

VII. FOREIGN TRADE :
	The Special Characteristics of Palestine's Foreign Trade ... 118
	The Explanation of these Special Characteristics 121
	The Effect of the World Trade Situation and Palestine's Trading Handicaps 123
	Palestine's Foreign Trade in 1936 and 1937 125
	Import and Export Markets 129
	Trading Problems in 1936 and 1937 131
VIII. THE GROWTH IN COMMUNICATIONS :
	The High Level of External Transport 134
	The Low Level of Internal Export 136
	The Growth in Communications 1932—1937 139
IX. SOME PROBLEMS OF PUBLIC FINANCE :
	Government Policy 149
	Finance in 1936 and 1937 151
	The Expansion of Revenue since 1929 154
	Palestine's Taxation System 154
	The Growth in Expenditure since 1929 159
	An Analysis of Palestine's Budgetary Expenditure 160
X. CAPITAL IMPORT, CREDIT, AND THE BANKING STRUCTURE :
	The Inflationary Effect of Capital Import 163
	Deflation in 1936 and 1937 166
	Special Features of Palestine's Banking Structure 171
	Palestine's Security Market 179
	Conclusions 182
XI. THE WORKER AND HIS STANDARD OF LIVING :
	The Formation of a Proletariat 184
	The Composition of the Jewish Working Class 188
	Working Class Organisation 191
	The Standard of Living 193
	The Labour Position in 1936 and 1937 201
XII. THE ARAB ECONOMY :
	The Transformation of the Arab Village 203
	The Growth of the Arab Town 208
	The Years 1936 and 1937 210