PREFACE TO THE THIRD EDITION.

THE third Edition of this volume has been corrected to the end of the First Session of the Second Parliament of Her present Majesty. It comprehends the new By-Law, substituting a Declaration for the Oath, Affidavit, or Affirmation, formerly required to be made by Proprietors of East-India Stock, at any Election of Directors or Ballot; and a continuation of the Acts of the Government of India (as far as required by the object of the work) to the latest period to which they have been received. The nature and intent of the work having already been sufficiently explained, little remains for the Editor but to express his gratitude for the encouragement which he has received to continue his labour.

While, however, in this country the work has been honoured with a degree of approbation, for which the Editor could scarcely have permitted himself to hope, some remarks of a contrary tendency have been made in India, and to these he feels called upon to offer some reply. They occur in the Preface to a publication entitled "The Rules of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors. Edited by W. H. Smoult and E. B. Ryan, Esqrs." The writer of these remarks observes, indeed, that it " is evident that great labour and industry have been bestowed upon the work ;" but he complains that all notice is omitted of the Charters granted by the Crown in 1726 and 1753, under which Courts of Justice were erected at the Company's principal Settlements, and that subsequent Charters of similar character are only casually referred to. The latter part of the objection does not apply to the Second Edition of this Volume, which the writer of the remarks had not seen. In answer to the former, it is only necessary to state, that the Charter of 1726 was devoted solely to the creation of certain Courts of Justice which have long since been superseded, and that the Charter itself was surrendered on the grant of the subsequent Charter of 1753. The main object of this Charter was the same with that of the former, and so far it is now inoperative. It is true, as stated, that it " contains other provisions affecting the Company only, and confirms some of their most extensive powers, which to this day are in full force, and of vast importance to their political existence, though their commercial character is gone; namely, the power to appoint Generals, to raise and maintain standing Forces, Seamen, and Ships of defence, and to repel Invasions," &c.* But these powers were not then first conveyed. By the Charter of William the Third, the Company were empowered to " name and appoint Governors and Officers from time to time, in and for " their " Forts, Factories, and Plantations;" which " Governors and Officers," it is declared, " shall and may, according to the direction of the said Company, raise, train, and muster such Military Forces as shall or may be necessary for the defence of the said Forts, Places, and Plantations." How far these powers were confirmed or modified by the Charter of Justice of 1753, is a question rather of curious inquiry than practical importance; and it is certain, that their exercise has since been subjected to regulation in various respects by Act of Parliament.

The reason for retaining in force those provisions of the Charter of 1753, when the remainder was about to be abrogated, is obvious. To rescind them might have seemed to imply an intention of diminishing the powers of the Company for war and defence; which, although those powers would not, in fact, have been affected, it was desirable to avoid. On these grounds, it is submitted, that the omission complained of affords no just cause of objection.

Three other grounds of complaint are alleged. First, that the work "contains, for the most part, certain sections only of the statutes relating to India and the East-India Company, omitting repealed or altered sections." This is inaccurately, although it is hoped not uncandidly, stated. By the plan of the work repealed sections are excluded, but sections merely altered are retained, accompanied by a note pointing out the alterations. The second ground of complaint is, the omission of "some of the statutes given in former collections, and forming part of the law [introduced by the Charter of 1726 and]* still in force." The bearing of this objection is not perfectly clear. All, therefore, that can be said in answer is, that no statutes or parts of statutes still in force have been knowingly omitted, and that the object of the work was not to exhibit the history of the law, but to afford a view of its present state. The third of this series of objections is, that the collection contains statutes not peculiarly or specially affecting the East-India Company. This is undoubtedly true; and if the Editor has erred in giving too much, he must rest his defence upon his desire to render the work practically and generally useful to those for whom it was intended.

The liberal reception of the work in this country has already been noticed; but the Editor feels too deeply on the subject to refrain from recurring to it. In avowing his gratitude, more especially to those members of the various branches of the legal profession to whom he stands indebted, he feels bound expressly to advert to the generous interest taken by Edward Lawford, Esq., Solicitor to the East-India Company, both in the improvement and success of the compilation. The extensive practical knowledge of the subject possessed by that gentleman, the result of long experience and of the unremitting application of a vigorous mind, gives a peculiar value to his approbation; and the flattering opinion which he has expressed of the work is one of the most gratifying circumstances accompanying its completion.

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

THE present work was undertaken from a conviction, the result of experience, of the necessity of such a publication.

The laws affecting India and the East-India Company are dispersed through more than a hundred volumes of the Statutes; they are to be found, in some cases, in entire Acts of Parliament of great length, specially devoted to the subjects; in others, in scattered provisions, surrounded by enactments applying to objects and interests totally unconnected with India. A very large portion of what once was law has ceased to be so, either from having been directly repealed, or being substantially at variance with subsequent Acts of the Legislature. Of that which still remains in force, much has been limited, extended, and in various respects, modified by later provisions. No one therefore, referring to any one enactment relating to the point upon which he sought information, could rely upon that which he found until he had collated the provision before him with all others existing on the subject, and from a comparison of the whole deduced the present state of the law.

Many years have elapsed since any collection of the laws relating to the East-India Company appeared, and in the period that has succeeded since the publication of the latest work on the subject, changes greater and more important than any which the Company had previously experienced, have taken place. On this account, little assistance could be derived from preceding works in preparing the present. A careful search throughout the whole of the Statutes was indispensable, as well as a careful comparison of such parts as bore on the subject. The time, labour, and thought, demanded by the task, were great, and the duties imposed by the undertaking were not unfrequently of considerable delicacy. Its execution, however, will, it is hoped, afford what was previously wanting—a guide to the state of the Law relating to India and the East-India Company. The necessity of seeking through the Statutes at large for the various provisions on any subject will be removed, and the inquirer will here find the entire law presented to his view. A reference to the Index will afford a direction to every Act and Section relating to any given point, while the illustrative notes which are attached to the more important enactments, will answer the purpose of a Digest of the Law upon the subjects to which they relate. A few of the more recent Acts of the Government of India, to which the opportunity of reference might be desirable, have been placed in an Appendix.

After adverting to the magnitude of the labour necessary to the completion of this Volume, it would be unjust to refrain from noticing the means by which that labour has been lightened and its ends facilitated. Access has been afforded to a series of valuable legal opinions given by Mr. Lawford, Solicitor to the East-India Company, and by their present and former standing Counsel; as well as by other distinguished members of the profession, some of whom now occupy the highest judicial stations in her Majesty's Courts at Westminster.

The assistance afforded by Mr. Melvill, the Secretary of the East-India Company, calls for distinct and grateful acknowledgment. The interest which he has taken in the progress of the work, and the valuable suggestions made by him for its improvement, have greatly added to its comprehensiveness and utility.

Under these circumstances the work is submitted, in full confidence that, upon all material points, entire reliance may be placed on its accuracy and completeness.

London, 9th March, 1840.

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

THE Second Edition of this work has been undertaken under circumstances to which it will be proper briefly to refer.

At the General Court of Proprietors of East-India Stock, held on the 17th of June last, the work was noticed in terms of warm commendation, and several Members of the Court having expressed a wish that Copies should be supplied to the Proprietors, the Chairman intimated that measures would be taken for the purpose. The Court of Directors, with the concurrence of the President of the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, having thereupon been pleased to extend their approbation to the design, the present revised and enlarged edition of the work was forthwith commenced. The greatest care has been taken to render it not altogether unworthy of the distinguished favour which it has obtained. Every part of the work has been carefully examined with a view to the total exclusion of error; many new notes have been introduced; the Acts of the British Parliament are brought down to the close of the last Session, and those of the Government of India to the latest period to which they have been received. Many other additions have been made, tending greatly to increase the value of the work. Among the more important may be mentioned the introduction, at the suggestion of an influential Proprietor, of the By-Laws of the Company. It will also be observed, that the Statutes affecting the Queen's Courts in India, and the Ecclesiastical Establishment in that country, are now illustrated by the insertion of the necessary portions of various Letters Patent from the Crown, under which their respective authorities are exercised.

The practical utility of a work like the present must greatly depend upon the facilities of reference which it offers. Under this impression, a new Index has been prepared for the present Edition, which, whether in regard to accuracy, copiousness, or convenient arrangement, will, it is confidently hoped, be found entirely satisfactory to all who may have occasion to consult the work.

AND THE EAST-INDIA COMPANY.

CHARTERS FROM THE CROWN.

THE first Charter for erecting an East-India Company was dated the 31st December 1600; a second Charter was granted to the original Company under date the 31st May 1609; a third, 3d April 1661; a fourth, 5th October 1677; a fifth, 9th August 1683: a sixth, 12th April 1686; a seventh, 7th October 1693; and an eighth, 13th April 1698. In addition to these Charters, the Company obtained a grant, dated 27th March 1669, of the Island of Bombay, and another, 16th December 1674, of the Island of St. Helena.

The manner in which the corporate rights of the old Company were extinguished will be seen hereafter.

King William the Third incorporated a second East-India Company by Charter, dated 5th September 1698. This Charter, after reciting an Act lately made and passed in Parliament, entitled "An Act for raising a Sum not exceeding Two Millions upon a Fund for payment of Annuities, after the rate of Eight Pounds per centum per Annum, and for settling a Trade to the East-Indies;" and reciting also the appointment of a Commission for receiving the subscriptions, the transmission into the Exchequer of the duplicates of the subscriptions for two millions, (see 9 & 10 Wm. 3, cap. 44, sec. 62, and the note on 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, s. 11), the incorporation of the "General Society," on the third of the instant month, and the desire of the Subscribers to be united in a Joint Stock, proceeds to endow the Company with various privileges, and to make various provisions for its regulation. From the following selection of parts of this Charter every thing of temporary application, or which has been annulled by later authority, is excluded, except so far as it was inseparable from matter necessary to be retained, or requisite for its explanation; and in such cases the additional matter is distinguished by being printed in italics.

The Subscribers incorporated.

Now know ye, That in pursuance of the powers and clauses for this purpose contained in the said Act of Parliament, and of our gracious promise and declaration made in and by our said commission or letters patent, whereby the subscriptions and contributions on the said Act have been promoted and encouraged: and by virtue of our prerogative royal, and likewise of our especial grace, certain knowledge and mere motion, we have given, granted, made, ordained, constituted, declared, appointed, and established, and by these presents for us, our heirs and successors, do give, grant, make, ordain, constitute, declare, appoint, and establish, That the said Subscribers herein last before particularly named, and every of them, and all and every person and persons, bodies politic and corporate, who, as executors, administrators, successors, or assigns, or by any other lawful title derived, or to be derived from, by, or under the same Subscribers, shall have and be entitled to any part, share, or interest of, or in the said yearly fund, by the said Act settled as aforesaid, or of, or in the proportionable annuities or yearly payments, issuing out of the said yearly fund, so long as they respectively shall have any such part, share, or interest therein, to be one body politic and corporate, by the name of the English Company trading to the East-Indies, and them by the name of the English Company trading to the East-Indies, one body politic and corporate, in deed and in name, really and fully for ever, for us, our heirs and successors: we do make, declare, and establish by these presents, and by the same name they and their successors shall have perpetual succession, and shall and may have and use a common seal, for the use of business and affairs of the said Company and their successors, with power to break, alter, and make new their seal from time to time, as to them shall seem expedient; and by the same name they and their successors from time to time, and at all times for ever hereafter, shall be able and shall be a body politic and corporate, capable in law to have, take,

Subjects of redemption of all restrictions in the Act 9 & 10 Will. 3. cap. 44, and this Charter.

(1) [See note on sec. 74, of 9 & 10 Wm. 3. cap. 44.]

The trade of the Company having been suspended, by Act 3 & 4 Wm. IV. cap. 85, the limits of the Charter, in that respect, are for the present unimportant; but reference being frequently made to them for other purposes, it has been thought expedient to insert that part of the Charter in which they are defined.

And our will and pleasure, is and we hereby for us, our heirs and successors, grant, direct, and appoint that the said English Company trading to the East-Indies, and their successors, shall and may for ever hereafter by themselves, or by such factors, agents or servants, as they severally shall think fit to intrust, freely traffic and use the trade of merchandise in such places, and by such ways and passages as are already frequented, found out or discovered, or which shall be hereafter found out or discovered, as they severally shall esteem and take to be the fittest and best for them, unto and from the East-Indies, into the countries and parts of Asia and Africa, and unto and from the islands, ports, havens, cities, creeks, towns, and places of Asia, Africa, and America, or any of them beyond the Cape of Bona Esperanza to the Straits of Magellan, where any trade or traffic of merchandises is or may be used or had, and to and from every of them.

May for ever hereafter freely trade to and from the East-Indies.

After various provisions, temporary and commercial, the following occurs :

And that the Directors of the said English Company trading to the East-Indies, and their successors for the time being, do and shall give in and deliver unto us, our heirs and successors, in our or their Privy Council, yearly and every year, in the month of October, a true account or inventory, fairly written, and signed by two or more directors of the said Company for the time being, containing the nature, quantity, quality, value, and prime cost of all such goods of the growth, product, or manufacture of this our Kingdom of England as in the last preceding year have been exported by the said Company; together with the place, town, or port, from whence the said goods were exported to the East-Indies; and that oath be made of the truth of such account or inventory by the proper officers or servants of the said English Company trading to the East-Indies, who shall keep their books for the entry of goods outwards to the best of their knowledge, and that none of the said goods or commodities so exported shall be again landed in our Kingdom of England, dominion of Wales, or town of Berwick upon Tweed, or be carried to any country or place but unto the East-Indies, or some place within the limits aforementioned.

An account to be delivered yearly in the month of October to the Privy Council on oath.

The remainder of the clause relates to the supply to the Crown of a certain quantity of saltpetre by the Company; and the succeeding clause to the payment of Customs.

The following clause is the next in order.

To maintain a minister and schoolmaster, at St. Helena, and ministers at their factories in India, and a chaplain on every ship of 500 tons :

by whom ministers to be approved.

And we do hereby further will and appoint, That the said Company, hereby established, and their successors, shall constantly maintain a minister and schoolmaster, in the Island of St. Helena (1), when the said Island shall come into the hands or possession of the same Company ; and also one minister in every garrison and superior factory, which the same Company or their successors shall have in the said East-Indies, or other the parts within the limits aforesaid ; and shall also in such garrison and factories, respectively provide, or set apart, a decent and convenient place for Divine Service only ; and shall also take a chaplain on board every ship (2) which shall be sent by the same Company to the said East-Indies, or other the parts within the limits aforesaid, which shall be of the burthen of five hundred tons, or upwards, for such voyage, the salary of which chaplain shall commence from the time that such ship shall depart from England : and moreover, that no such minister shall be sent by the same Company to the said East-Indies, or other the parts within the limits aforesaid, until he shall have been first approved of by the Archbishop of Canterbury, or the Bishop of London, for the time being ; all which said ministers so to be sent, shall be entertained from time to time with all due respect.

(1) [St. Helena was transferred to the crown by Act 3 & 4 Wm. IV. cap. 85.]

(2) [In consequence of the suspension of the Company's trade, they have no mercantile shipping.]

They are obliged to learn Portuguese and the native language.

And we do further will and appoint, that all such ministers as shall be sent to reside in India, as aforesaid, shall be obliged to learn, within one year after their arrival, the Portuguese language, and shall apply themselves to learn the native language of the country where they shall reside, the better to enable them to instruct the Gentoos, that shall be the servants or slaves of the same Company, or of their agents, in the Protestant religion ; and that in case of the death of any of the said ministers, residing in the East-Indies, or other the parts within the limits aforesaid, the place of such minister, so dying, shall be supplied by one of the chaplains out of the next ships, that shall arrive at or near the place where such minister shall happen to die. (1)

(1) [Vide the last note.]

Schoolmasters to be provided.

And we do hereby further will and direct, that the said Company, and their successors, shall, from time to time, provide schoolmasters, in all the said garrisons and superior factories where they shall be found necessary.

The twenty-four Directors, or any thirteen, to be a Court.

And for the better ordering, managing, and governing the affairs of the same Company, and for the making, and establishing, a continual succession of persons to be the Directors of the same, we do, by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, grant unto the said body politic, so called The English Company trading to the East-Indies, and to their successors, and do hereby ordain and appoint that there shall be, from time to time, for ever, (of the members of the said Company) twenty-four Directors, of and in the same Company, which Directors, or any thirteen or more of them, shall be and be called a Court of the Directors, for the ordering, managing, and directing the affairs of the same Company and Corporation, and shall have such powers and privileges as are herein-after mentioned.

After naming the first Directors, and declaring that they shall continue in office until the 15th March 1700, and until others shall be chosen, the Charter proceeds,—

And we do further, by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, give and grant unto the said English Company trading to the East-Indies, and their successors, and we do hereby ordain, will, and appoint, that it shall and may be lawful, to and for all and every the members of the same Company, hereby established, from time to time, to assemble and meet together at any convenient place or places, for the choice of their Directors, and for making of by-laws, ordinances, rules, orders, or directions, for the government of the said Company, or for any other affairs or business concerning the same; and that all the members of the same Company, or so many of them as shall be so assembled, shall be and be called a General Court of the said Company or Corporation, which Court shall assemble and meet at such times and in such manner as hereafter is directed; and that all succeeding Directors of the same Company shall, from and after the said twenty-fifth day of March one thousand seven hundred, be yearly and successively chosen, and for ever, out of the members of [the same Company, on some day or days, time or times, between the twenty-fifth day of March and the twenty-fifth day of April in each year, (1) by the majority of votes of all and every the members of the same Company, having then each of them five hundred pounds, or more, share or interest in the stock of the same Company, (1) and who shall be personally present at such elections, (1) each of them to have and give one vote, and no more (1); and that every particular Corporation or body politic, that shall have five hundred pounds, or more, share or interest, of or in the stock for the said Company in respect thereof, at every such election, and at all General Courts of the said Company, shall have one vote for the whole share or interest of such particular Corporation, or body politic, and no more (1); which votes, for such particular Corporations or bodies politic, shall and may be given by such person or persons as shall be deputed thereunto, under the common seal, or common seals, of such particular Corporation, or bodies politic, respectively; and the said succeeding Directors so chosen, shall severally and respectively continue in their respective offices or trusts, to which they shall be severally elected, for one year (1), and till others shall be duly chosen and sworn into their places respectively.

Members may meet to choose Directors, and make by-laws.

Members so assembled, called a General Court.

All succeeding Directors to be chosen between 25th of March and 25th of April.

None to give more than one vote.

A Corporation may send a vote by a deputy.

(1) [The time of election has since been restricted to a particular day (17 Geo. 3, cap. 8, sec. 1), the time of holding office extended (13 Geo. 3, cap. 63, sec. 1), the qualification of voters raised (13 Geo. 3, cap. 63, sec. 3), the privilege of voting by letter of attorney granted in certain cases (3 and 4 Will. 4, cap. 85, sec. 27), and the number of votes enjoyed by proprietors regulated by their amount of stock (13 Geo. 3, cap. 63, sec. 4).

Provided nevertheless, that in case of death, avoidance, or removal of any of the Directors of the said Company for the time being, the survivors of them; or the majority of those remaining in their office, shall and may at any time assemble together the Members of the said Company, in order to elect other persons, by Members qualified to vote, in manner aforesaid, in the room of those then dead, removed, or avoided. (1)

The surviving Directors may assemble the Members to elect other Directors in room of any deceased, removed, or avoided.

(1) [See the last note.]

Forms of oath and affirmation follow, to be taken by members of the Company before voting, but they are framed with reference to the then existing qualification of £500 stock. The 13 Geo. 3, cap. 63, sec. 6, prescribes a new form adapted to the enhanced qualification. The Charter adds :—

Deputy of a Corporation to make the like oath to the best of their knowledge.

Provided also, that such person or persons as shall be deputed as aforesaid, to vote for any particular Corporation, or body politic, making the like oath or declaration (mutatis mutandis), to the best of his or their knowledge and belief, for or on the behalf of such particular Corporation or body politic for whom he or they are to give such voice or voices as aforesaid, shall be capable of voting at any of such general courts as aforesaid.

Two Directors empowered to administer the oath.

And we do by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, give full power and authority, to any two or more of the Directors of the same Company, for the time being, to give and administer the said oaths and declarations to the said members and deputies, and do hereby order and direct them to administer the same accordingly : Provided also, and we do hereby, for us, our heirs, and successors, constitute, ordain, and appoint, that no person shall be capable of being chosen a Director of the said Company, who shall not, at the time of such choice, be a natural-born subject of England, or naturalized, and shall not also then have in his own name, or in his own right, and for his own use, two thousand pounds or more in the said stock ; and that no Director or Directors shall continue in his or their respective offices, longer than the continuance of such their respective interests and stocks, in their own names and rights, and to their own uses respectively ; but upon parting with, or reducing his or their respective shares or interest in the said stock, to any lesser sum or sums then as aforesaid, the said respective offices or places of such Director or Directors, so parting with, reducing, or diminishing their said shares or interest, as aforesaid, shall cease, determine, and become vacant, and others shall be chosen in their room, by a General Court of the same Company.

No person to be a Director but who hath £2,000 stock in his own right, nor to continue longer than he keeps the same.

Some regulations respecting the oath to be taken by Directors, which follow in the Charter, are here omitted, having been superseded by the 33d Geo. III. cap. 52, sec. 160.

Directors to give an oath to their agents and servants.

And furthermore our will and pleasure is, and we do hereby for us, our heirs and successors, ordain and appoint, that the said Court of Directors shall have power and authority to administer an oath to all the inferior agents or servants that shall be employed in the service of the same Company, for the faithful and due execution of the several places and trusts in them reposed, in the words or to the effect following (that is to say) :

“ I, A. B. being elected into the office or place of Treasurer to the English Company trading to the East-Indies, do swear, that I will be true and faithful to the said Company, and will faithfully and truly execute and discharge the said office or place of Treasurer to the utmost of my skill and power. So help me God.”

A Director not qualified in ten days, the place to be void.

And the like oath to the other agents and servants (mutatis mutandis) : and in case any person hereby nominated, or hereafter to be elected a Director as aforesaid, shall for the space of ten days after such nomination or election neglect or refuse to take the respective oath or declaration hereby appointed to be taken as aforesaid, or shall refuse or neglect to take upon him his or their offices, that then, and in every such case, the office and place of every such person so neglecting or refusing shall become vacant, and others shall be chosen in their places by a General Court of the said Company.

the same Company, and then and there to hold Courts of the Directors, for the purpose aforesaid, and summon General Courts to meet as often as they shall see cause; and that the said Directors, or the Inajor part of them so assembled, shall and may act according to such by-laws, constitutions, orders, rules, or directions, as shall from time to time be made and given unto them by the General Court of the said Company; and in all cases where such by-laws, constitutions, orders, rules, or directions, by or from the General Court shall be wanting, the said Directors, or the major part of them so assembled, shall and may direct and manage all the affairs and business of the same Company, in the direction of all the voyages of or for the same Company, and the provision of the shipping and merchandises thereunto belonging, as also the sale of the merchandises, goods, and other things returned in all or any the voyages or ships of or for the same Company, and in the transacting and handling of all other matters and things touching and concerning the same Company; and shall and may choose and appoint the agents or servants which shall from time to time be necessary to be employed therein, and to allow and pay reasonable salaries and allowances to the said agents and servants respectively; and them, or any of them, from time to time remove or displace as they shall see cause; and generally to act and do in all matters and things whatsoever, which by the said recited Act of Parliament shall or may be done, and in all matters and things whatsoever which they shall judge necessary for the well ordering and managing of the same Company and the affairs thereof; and to do, enjoy, perform, and execute all the powers, authorities, privileges, acts, and things in relation to the said Company, as fully, to all intents and purposes, as if the same were done by the whole Company, or by a General Court of the same; subject nevertheless to such restrictions, limitations, rules, or appointments, as are contained in the sad recited Act of Parliament, or in these presents in that behalf.

as they shall judge necessary.

The General Court to make by-laws, for calling in money, making dividends, and government of the Company.

On the 22d July 1702, an Indenture Tripartite was made between Queen Anne of the first part ; the old Company of the second part ; and the new Company of the third part. The object of this was the union of the two Companies at the end of seven years. Several of the covenants are of temporary interest, and the greater part of them relate to trade. By the seventeenth article, the Queen grants that the General Courts of both Companies and their Sub-managers shall have the sole government of their forts ; that they may coin foreign money in India ; and that the old Company may convey Bombay and Saint Helena to the new Company. By the other articles the old Company covenant to surrender their Charters in two months after the expiration of the said seven years into the Queen's hand, and the Queen engages to accept of such surrender ; and from thenceforth the new Company is to be called The United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, whose affairs shall be conducted by their own sole Directors, agreeable to their Charter of the tenth of King William the Third. And lastly, the Queen declares that this Indenture shall be construed in the most favourable sense for the advantage of both Companies.

By Indenture Quinquartite, dated 22d July 1702, made between various parties, the old Company conveyed to the new Company all their forts, settlements, and dead stock of every description.

By Deed Poll, dated 29th September 1708, under the hand and seal of the Lord High Treasurer the Earl of Godolphin, made in pursuance of an Act of the sixth year of Queen Anne, stating, that the two Companies being desirous that a speedy and complete union might be had and perfected, pursuant to the before-mentioned Indenture Tripartite, had agreed to refer all matters in dispute concerning the same, and the completing the said union, unto the final determination of the said Earl, the Earl having thereupon heard both parties, made an award by virtue of which the union was completed.

And by Deed Poll enrolled in Chancery, dated 22d March 1709, the old Company, in pursuance of Lord Godolphin's award, and for the entire extinguishment of their corporate capacity, granted, surrendered, yielded, and gave up to the Queen, her heirs and successors, their corporate capacity or body politic, of Governor and Company of Merchants of London trading into the East-Indies, and all their charters, capacities, powers, and rights whatever, for acting as or continuing to be a body politic or corporate, by virtue of any Acts of Parliament, Letters Patent, or Charters whatever.

By 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 3, it is enacted, that in all suits, proceedings, and transactions whatsoever, the Company may be called "The East-India Company."

7 GEORGII III. Cap. XLIX.

AN ACT for regulating certain Proceedings of the General Courts of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that no balloting upon any question proposed in any General Court of the said Company, relative either to the declaration of a dividend, or to any other matter whatsoever, shall be begun within a less space of time than eight hours after adjournment (1), or breaking up, of the General Court in which it shall have been determined that such question shall be decided by balloting; and that in no case the balloting shall be begun at a later hour of the day than twelve of the clock at noon, nor closed at an earlier hour than six of the clock in the afternoon.

7 GEORGII III. Cap. LVII.

10 GEORGII III. Cap. XLVII.

AN ACT for better regulating Persons employed in the Service of the East-India Company, and for other purposes therein mentioned.

III. And whereas, by one other Act of Parliament passed in the seventh year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled “An Act for regulating certain Proceedings of the General Courts of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies,” it was enacted, that no dividend should be made by the said Company, for or in respect of any time subsequent to the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven, otherwise than in pursuance of a vote or resolution, passed by way of balloting, in a General Court of the said Company, which shall have been summoned for the purpose of declaring a dividend, and of the meeting of which General Court for such purpose, seven days’ notice at least shall have been given in writing, fixed upon the Royal Exchange in London; and it was thereby further enacted, that no balloting upon any question proposed in any General Court of the said Company, relative to any matter whatsoever, should be begun within a less space of time than eight hours after the adjournment or breaking up of the General Court in which it should have been determined that such question should be decided by balloting: and whereas the balloting for every dividend of the said Company, as prescribed by the last recited Act, would be attended with much inconvenience and delay, in cases where no alteration in the rate of the said Company’s dividend is made or intended to be made : and whereas the time or space of eight hours thereby also prescribed for taking such balloting in question, and not relative to the declaration of a dividend, is not sufficient to give the proprietors at large of the said Company's stock a full and fair opportunity to exercise their right of taking such part in every such determination as they are entitled to by law ; therefore, for preventing the aforesaid inconveniences for the future, be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that from and after the passing of this Act, when any half-yearly or other dividend of the said Company shall be voted and declared by a General Court of Proprietors, not varying or differing from the rate of the said Company's dividend for the last preceding half-year, that then and in every such case it shall not be necessary for the said General Court of the said Company to proceed to a ballot respecting such dividends ; but that a declaration from the Chairman for the time being of the said Company of the voting and agreeing of the General Court of Proprietors to such dividend, shall be a sufficient notice and authority for declaring and making such dividend (1) ; and that from and after the passing of this Act, no balloting upon any question proposed in any General Court of the said Company, relative to any matter whatsoever, shall be begun within a less space of time than twenty-four hours after the adjournment or breaking up of the General Court in which it shall have been determined that such question should be decided by balloting ; any thing in the said last recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding.

No balloting to be begun within less than twenty-four hours after adjournment of General Court.

(1) [By 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 11, the rate of dividend is fixed.]

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that if any person or persons whatsoever, employed by or in the service of the said United Company, in any civil or military station, office, or capacity whatsoever, in the East-Indies, or deriving or claiming any power, authority, or jurisdiction, by or from the said United Company, shall, after the passing of this Act, be guilty of oppressing any of his Majesty's subjects beyond the seas within their respective jurisdictions ; or in the exercise of any such station, office, employment, power or authority, derived or claimed by, from, or under the said United Company, or shall be guilty of any other crime or offence ; such oppressions, crimes, and offences, shall and may be inquired of, heard, and determined, in his Majesty's Court of King's Bench in England ; and such punishments shall be inflicted on such offenders, as are usually inflicted for offences of the like nature committed in that part of Great Britain called England ; and that the same, and all other offences committed against this Act, may be alleged to be committed, and may be laid, inquired of, and tried in the county of Middlesex.

Company's servants in the East-Indies guilty of oppression or other crimes, may be tried in the Court of King's Bench, and punished as if offence committed in England.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that in all actions or suits, brought against the said United Company, their agents, or servants, or any person deriving authority under the said Company, for any thing by him or them done in such capacity, from and after the passing of this Act, the defendant or defendants, in any such action or suit, may plead the general issue, and give the special matter in evidence.

Defendants may plead the general issue.

VII. Provided always, and it is hereby enacted and declared, that the defendant or defendants, or his or their attorney, shall deliver to the plaintiff or plaintiffs in every such action, or his or their attorney, a notice in writing, signed by the defendant or defendants, or his or their attorney, of the substance of the defence or defences, which he or they intend to rely upon, six days before the trial of such action, in case the same is to be tried in London or Middlesex ; and eight days before the trial thereof, in case the same is to be tried in any other county ; and the defendant or defendants shall not, by virtue of this Act, be permitted, at the trial of any such action, to give evidence of any matters not contained in such notice.

Defendant to deliver to plaintiff a notice of the substance of his defence, and shall not give evidence of any matters not contained therein.

In reference to the three preceding sections, vide 13 Geo. 3, cap. 63, sec. 39 to 41; 24 Geo. 3, cap. 25, sec. 64 and 65; 26 Geo. 3, cap. 57, sec. 28.

13 GEORGII III. Cap. LXIII.

AN ACT for establishing certain Regulations for the better management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe.

Preamble.

Whereas the several powers and authorities granted by Charters to the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies have been found, by experience, not to have sufficient force and efficacy to prevent various abuses which have prevailed in the government and administration of the affairs of the said United Company, as well at home as in India, to the manifest injury of the public credit, and of the commercial interests of the said Company; and it is therefore become highly expedient that certain further regulations, better adapted to their present circumstances and condition, should be provided and established: and whereas the electing and choosing of Directors of the said United Company every year, in such manner as at present prescribed by Charter, has not answered the good purposes intended thereby, but, on the contrary, by limiting the duration of their office to so short a time, evidently tends to weaken the authority of the Court of Directors, and to produce instability in the councils and measures of the said Company: May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that at the next ensuing general election of Directors of the said United Company, instead of an election of twenty-four Directors to serve for the space of one year only, there shall be chosen, in such manner and order as the Directors of the said United Company for the time being shall appoint, six Directors expressly for the term of one year, and six other Directors for the term of two years, and six other Directors for the term of three years, and the remaining six Directors for the term of four years, and not otherwise; and from thenceforth yearly and every year, and at the expiration of each and every of the said terms respectively, six new Directors, and no more, shall be chosen, from time to time, in the place of such Directors whose term shall have expired, and who are hereby declared incapable of being then re-chosen; and at every subsequent election, during the continuance of the Charter of the said United Company, six new Directors shall be chosen, and shall continue to be Directors for the term of four years, and no longer, to be accounted from the day on which the election of such Directors was respectively made; and in case the office and authority of any such Director shall become void by death, removal, or otherwise, another shall be chosen from time to time, in his place, to serve as a Director during the remainder of such term for which the person whose office shall have become void was chosen, and no longer.

At the next ensuing general election, instead of twenty-four for one year, there shall be chosen six Directors for the term of one year; six for two years; six for three years; six for four years; and so hereafter yearly.

All transfers made in a collusive manner to qualify voters at elections,

III. And whereas it has been found that the provision made by the Charter of the tenth year of the reign of King William the Third, under which persons possessed of five hundred pounds stock are entitled to vote in General Courts, has been productive of much inconvenience in the present situation of the Company, and tends to promote the mischievous practice of making collusive transfers, which practice hath not been sufficiently prevented by the provision made by an Act of the seventh year of his present Majesty's reign, whereby the right of voting is limited to persons having been six calendar months in possession of their stock; be it further enacted, that all transfers of stocks whatsoever made to any person or persons, in any fraudulent or collusive manner, on purpose to qualify him, her, or them, to give his, her, or their vote or votes, at any election of members of the Court of Directors, or in any general Court of the said United Company (subject nevertheless to conditions or agreements, either verbal or in writing, to defeat or determine such transfers, or to retransfer or return the same), shall be deemed and taken against those persons who transferred the same, as free and absolute, and be holden and enjoyed by all and every such person or persons to whom such transfer shall be made, as aforesaid, freely and absolutely acquitted, exonerated, and discharged, of and from all manner of trusts, conditions, powers of revocation, provisos of redemption, or other defeazances between or with the said parties, or any other person or persons in trust for them; and that all bonds, covenants, notes collateral, or other securities, contracts, or agreements, between or with the said parties, or any other person or persons in trust for them, or any of them, for the retransferring, redeeming, revoking, or defeating such transfer, or for the restoring or retransferring thereof, or any part thereof, to any person or persons who made such transfer, or to any other person or persons in trust for them, or any of them, shall be null and void to all intents and purposes whatsoever: And that every person to whom such transfer shall have been made, and who shall have voted by virtue thereof, at any election of members of the Court of Directors, or in any General Court of the said United Company, and who shall afterwards retransfer or return the same, in consequence of any trust, condition, powers of revocation, proviso of redemption, or other defeazance whatsoever, as aforesaid, shall, for every such offence, forfeit the sum of one thousand pounds; one moiety whereof shall go and be disposed of to any person who shall sue for the same, and the other moiety to his Majesty, his heirs, and successors; to be recovered, together with full costs of suit, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of his Majesty's Courts of Record at Westminster, wherein no essoin, privilege, protection, wager of law, or more than one imparlance, shall be admitted or allowed; and that from and after the first day of October, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three, no member or proprietor of the said United Company shall be deemed qualified, or capable to vote, or be admitted to give any vote or votes, at any election of Directors, or at any General Court of the said United Company, in respect of any stock amounting to less than one thousand pounds, nor in respect of any stock transferred to him, her, or them, after the said first day of October, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three, until he, she, or they, shall have been possessed of such stock twelve calendar months, in his, her, or their own right, and not in trust for any other person or persons whatsoever, freed and discharged of all incumbrances which can or may affect the same, unless such stock shall have been acquired, or shall have come to such proprietor by bequest, or by marriage, or by succession to any intestate's estate, or by the custom of the City of London, or by any deed of settlement after the death of any person who shall have been entitled for life to the dividends of such stock; any law, statute, or usage, to the contrary notwithstanding.

IV. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that every member or proprietor of the said United Company who shall be possessed, for the time or term aforesaid, in his, or her own right, of three thousand pounds capital stock of the said Company, shall be entitled to give two votes at any election of Directors, or at any ballot of the said Company; and every member or proprietor who shall be possessed, for the time or term aforesaid, of six thousand pounds, in his or her own right, shall be entitled to give three votes; and every member or proprietor who shall be possessed, for the time or term aforesaid, of ten thousand pounds, or more, shall be entitled to give four votes at such election and all bonds, covenants, &c. with persons in trust, shall be null and void.

Penalty on persons who shall vote by virtue of collusive transfers at any election, and shall afterwards retransfer the stock in consequence of any trusts, &c.

After Oct. 1, 1773, no proprietor shall vote at any election of Directors in respect of stock amounting to less than £1,000, nor until he shall have been possessed thereof twelve calendar months.

Certain cases excepted.

Every Proprietor possessed of £3,000 capital stock shall be entitled to two votes at any election; if possessed of £6,000, he shall have three votes; and when possessed of £10,000, shall be entitled to four votes.

or ballot; and the oath and affirmation hereinafter respectively prescribed, shall, as occasion shall require, be altered in such manner as shall be necessary to comprise such right of voting.

Upon election of Directors every Proprietor shall, before admitted to vote, take a prescribed oath.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that from and after the first day of October, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three, upon every election to be made of any member or members of the Court of Directors (1), and upon every ballot to be taken at any General Court of the said United Company, every member or proprietor of the said Company shall, before admitted to vote at such election, or in such General Court, first take the oath hereafter mentioned, before two or more of the Directors of the said United Company, who are hereby empowered to administer such oath; that is to say,

[Under the provisions of the Act 5 & 6 Wm. 4, cap. 62, sec. 8, a Declaration has been substituted in place of the prescribed Oath, which is consequently here omitted. For the form of Declaration, see additional By-Law, page 604.]

Persons committing wilful perjury, or corruptly suborning others so to do, shall be liable to the penalties in Act 5 Eliz. c. 9; and 2 G. 2, c. 25.

And in case any person taking the oath or affirmation hereby appointed shall thereby commit wilful perjury, and be thereof convicted; and if any person do unlawfully or corruptly procure or suborn any other person to take the said oath or affirmation, in order to vote, whereby he or she shall commit such wilful perjury, and shall be thereof convicted, he, she, and they, for every such offence, shall incur such pains and penalties as are in and by two Acts of Parliament, the one made in the fifth year of the late Queen Elizabeth, intituled, "An Act for punishing such Persons as shall procure or commit wilful Perjury; or suborn or procure any Person to commit any wilful or corrupt Perjury;" the other made in the second year of his Majesty King George the Second, intituled, "An Act for the more effectual preventing and further Punishment of Forgery, Perjury, and Subornation of Perjury, and to make it felony to steal Bonds, Notes, or other Securities, for Payment of Money," directed to be inflicted for offences committed contrary to the said Acts.

(1) [By 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 27, Proprietors resident within the United Kingdom may vote on Elections of Directors by Letter of Attorney, under certain conditions.]

Sections 7 & 8, relating to the constitution and proceedings of the Governor-general and Council, are practically superseded by later enactments. In reference to sec. 9, it is to be observed, that Bencoolen is no longer a British Settlement.

The powers of the Governor-general and Council.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the said Governor-general and Council, or the major part of them, shall have, and they are hereby authorized to have, power of superintending and controlling the government and management of the Presidencies of Madras, Bombay, and Bencoolen, respectively, so far and in so much as that it shall not be lawful for any President and Council of Madras, Bombay and Bencoolen, for the time being, to make any orders for commencing hostilities, or declaring or making war, against any Indian princes or powers, or for negotiating or concluding any treaty of peace, or other treaty, with any such Indian princes or powers, without the consent and approbation of the said Governor-general and Council first had and obtained, except in such cases of imminent necessity as would render it dangerous to postpone such hostilities or treaties until the orders from the Governor-general and Council might arrive; and except in such cases where the said Presidents and Councils respectively shall have received special orders from the said United Company; and any President and Council of Madras, Bombay, or Bencoolen, who shall offend in any of the cases aforesaid, shall be liable to be suspended from his or their office by the order of the said Governor-general and Council; and every President and Council of Madras, Bombay and Bencoolen, for the time being, shall, and they are hereby respectively directed and required, to pay due obedience to such orders as they shall receive, touching the premises, from the said Governor-general and Council for the time being, and constantly and diligently to transmit to the said Governor-general and Council advice and intelligence of all transactions and matters whatsoever, that shall come to their knowledge, relating to the government, revenues, or interest of the said United Company; and the said Governor-general and Council for the time being shall, and they are hereby directed and required to pay due obedience to all such orders as they shall receive from the Court of Directors of the said United Company, and to correspond from time to time, and constantly and diligently transmit to the said Court an exact particular of all advices or intelligence, and of all transactions and matters whatsoever, that shall come to their knowledge relating to the government, commerce, revenues, or interest, of the said United Company.

The three other Presidencies to obey the orders of the Supreme Government; and the Supreme Government to obey the orders of the Directors, and to transmit intelligence of all occurrences to Directors.

The remainder of this section, relating to the delivery of copies of letters to the Secretaries of State, is repealed by 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52. In regard to the relation of the Government of India, and the subordinate Governments, see 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52, sections 40, 41, & 43; and 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sections 39, 59, 65, and 68.

By Sections 10 & 11 certain persons are appointed to particular offices, and the times of their entering thereupon fixed. These are succeeded by the following proviso.

XII. Provided always, that nothing in this Act shall extend, or be construed to extend, to prevent, control, or restrain, the said United Company from constituting and appointing such officers, factors, or agents, as they shall think proper and necessary, by virtue or in pursuance of any powers, rights, or privileges, granted to them by any former Act or Acts of Parliament, or by any Charter or Charters, for managing, conducting, and transacting the trade and commerce of the said Company, at and within the said Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

The Company may appoint officers in pursuance of former Acts or Charters.

XIII. Preamble.
13 G. 3, c. 63, recited.

Whereas by an Act made in the thirteenth year of the reign of his present Majesty, (intituled, "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe"), it is among other things enacted, that at the then next ensuing general election of Directors of the said United Company, instead of an election of twenty-four Directors to serve for the space of one year only, there should be chosen, in such manner and order as the Directors of the said United Company for the time being should appoint, six Directors expressly for the term of one year, and six other Directors for the term of two years, and six other Directors for the term of three years, and the remaining six Directors for the term of four years, and not otherwise; and from thenceforth yearly and every year, and at the expiration of each and every of the said terms respectively, six new Directors, and no more, should be chosen, from time to time, in the place of such Directors whose term should have expired, and who were thereby declared incapable of being then re-chosen; and at every subsequent election, during the continuance of the Charter of the said United Company, six new Directors should be chosen, and should continue to be Directors for the term of four years, and no longer, to be accounted from the day on which the election of such Directors was respectively made; and in case the office and authority of any such Director should become void, by death, removal, or otherwise, another should be chosen, from time to time, in his place, to serve as a Director during the remainder of such term for which the person whose office should have become void was chosen, and no longer; and whereas the first general election of Directors of the said United Company, after the passing the said recited Act, was made on the thirteenth day of April, which was in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-four, at which time six Directors were chosen for the term of one year, six other Directors for the term of two years, six other Directors for the term of three years, and six other Directors for the term of four years, according to the directions of the said recited Act; and afterwards on the thirteenth day of April, which was in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-five, six other Directors were chosen for the term of four years, in the room of those Directors who were elected for one year, as aforesaid; and on the thirteenth day of April one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six, six other Directors were chosen for the term of four years, in the room of those Directors who were elected for two years, as aforesaid: and whereas there is not any provision in the said Act, for the making an election of Directors of the said United Company at any other time than on the exact day when the term of the former elections expire: and whereas the day of election of Directors in the year one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven, according to the said recited Act, will happen on Sunday, the thirteenth day of April, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven; but it is highly improper that such an election should be made on a Sunday, and it is expedient that the like impropriety should be prevented in future; be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that instead of the said general election of six Directors of the said United Company, in the said year one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven, for the term of four years, being made on Sunday, the said thirteenth day of April, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven, the same election shall be made on Wednesday, the sixteenth day of the same month of April; and in respect to all future annual elections of Directors of the said United Company, instead of the same being made on the exact day of the expiration of the term for which the former Directors were elected, in pursuance of the said recited Act, such future annual general elections of Directors of the said United Company shall be made on the second Wednesday in the month of April in every year.

Directors for 1777, to be on Wednesday April 16;

and all future annual elections on the second Wednesday in April.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the term of three years, for which six Directors of the said Company were elected, in the said year one thousand seven hundred and seventy-four, and which will expire on the thirteenth day of April, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven, shall be enlarged; and such Directors so elected for the term of three years, shall continue Directors of the said United Company until the said sixteenth day of April, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven, and during the whole of that day; and in respect to the said Directors elected in the said years, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-four, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-five, and one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six, for the respective terms of four years; and as to all future Directors of the said United Company to be elected for the term of four years, in case the said respective terms of four years shall happen to expire before the second Wednesday in the month of April, in that year in which the said respective terms of four years shall expire, yet such Directors shall continue to be Directors of the said Company until the second Wednesday in the month of April in which the said respective terms of four years shall end, and during the whole of that determination of the terms for which the Directors are elected.

day, and in case the said respective terms of four years shall not have fully run out on the said second Wednesday of the said month of April, in any subsequent year, in which the said terms shall respectively expire; in such case the same terms respectively shall end and expire at the end of the day on the said second Wednesday in the said month of April in such year in which the said respective terms of four years shall end and expire, in the same manner as if the whole term of four years was fully run out; any thing in the said recited Act of Parliament contained to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

17 GEORGII III. Cap. L.

AN ACT for granting to his Majesty certain Duties on Licences, to be taken out by all Persons acting as Auctioneers; and certain Rates and Duties on all Lands, Houses, Goods, and other things sold by Auction; and upon Indentures, Leases, Bonds, Deeds, and other Instruments.

This Act, which was the first requiring auctioneers to take out a licence and imposing a duty upon goods sold by auction, contains the following provision:—

Certain cases to which this Act shall not extend.

XI. Provided also, and it is hereby further enacted, that nothing in this Act contained shall extend to any sale or sales by way of auction of estates or chattels, made by any rule, or order, or decree, of his Majesty's Court of Chancery, or of Exchequer, in England, before the Masters in Chancery, or the Deputy Remembrancer of the said Court of Exchequer; or by any order or decree of the Courts of Session or Exchequer in Scotland respectively; or at any such sales made by the East-India Company, or the Hudson's Bay Company, or by order of his Majesty's Commissioners for the duty of Customs or of Excise, or by order of the Board of Ordnance, or Commissioners of the Navy and Victualling, or any such sales of estates or chattels, made by the Sheriff in execution of judgments, or of goods distrained for rent, or for nonpayment of tithes, or of goods and effects of bankrupts, sold by order of the assignees, under a commission of bankruptcy, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

Two years after its passing, the Act was modified by another, the title of which follows:—

19 GEORGII III. Cap. LVI.

AN ACT for altering, amending, and enforcing, so much of an Act, made in the seventeenth Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, intituled "An Act for granting to his Majesty certain Duties on Licences to be taken out by all Persons acting as Auctioneers; and certain Rates and Duties on all Lands, Houses, Goods, and other things sold by Auction; and upon Indentures, Leases, Bonds, Deeds, and other Instruments," as relates to the method of granting Licences to Auctioneers, and to the collecting the Duties on Estates and Goods sold by Auction.

This Act contains the provision following:—

Certain auctions to which this Act shall not extend.

XIII. Provided always, and it is hereby further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that nothing in this Act contained shall extend to any sale or sales, by way of auction, of estates or chattels, made by any rule, order, or decree, of his Majesty's Court of Chancery, or of Exchequer in England, before the Master in Chancery, or the Deputy Remembrancer of the said Court of Exchequer; or by any order or decree of the Courts of Great Sessions in Wales, or by any order or decree of the Court of Session or Exchequer in Scotland respectively; or to any such sales made by the East-India Company, or the Hudson's Bay Company; or by order of his Majesty's Commissioners for the duties of Customs or Excise; or by order of the Board of Ordnance, or Commissioners of the Navy or Victualling Offices; nor to the sale by auction of any goods distrained for rent, or for nonpayment of tithes; anything hereinbefore to the contrary notwithstanding.

For continuation of exemptions, vide 43 Geo. 3, cap. 69, and 45 Geo. 3, cap. 30.

19 GEORGII III. Cap. LXI.

AN ACT for continuing in the Possession of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, for a limited Time, and under certain Conditions, the territorial Acquisitions and Revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies; and for continuing for a limited time so much of an Act, made in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, intituled "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe," as will expire in the course of the present Year.

Whereas by an Act, passed in the thirteenth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled "An Act for granting to his Majesty a Sum of Money, to be raised by Exchequer Bills; and to be advanced and applied in the Manner, and upon the Terms, therein mentioned, for the Relief of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies;" it was directed that the Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, or the Lord High Treasurer for the time being, should cause to be prepared and made any number of Exchequer bills, not exceeding in the whole the amount of one million four hundred thousand pounds, to be lent, advanced, and issued, as in the said Act was directed, for the relief of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies; and whereas by the said Act it was declared, that, in the then circumstances of the East-India Company, it would not be in their power to provide for the repayment of the loan aforesaid, and for establishing their affairs upon a more secure foundation for the time to come, unless the public should agree to forego, for the then present time, all participation in the profits arising from the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies; and therefore it was by the said Act enacted, that until the aforesaid sum of one million four hundred thousand pounds should be repaid, and the bond debt of the Company be reduced to the sum of one million five hundred thousand pounds, the whole clear profits arising from the aforesaid territorial acquisitions and revenues, after defraying the charges and expenses attending the same, together with all the clear revenue and profits of the said Company, after providing for the current payments of interest, and other outgoings, charges, and expenses of the said Company, should from time to time, be disposed of and applied in the manner as in the said Act was directed; (that is to say), until the aforesaid sum of one million four hundred thousand pounds should be repaid, and so long as the said sum or any part thereof, should remain unpaid, there should, in the first place, be set apart and applied, out of the said clear revenues and profits, such a sum as might be sufficient for answering a dividend to the proprietors of the stock of the said Company, not exceeding the rate of six pounds per centum per annum upon the capital stock of the said Company; and all the surplus of the said clear yearly revenues and profits should be applied in diminution of the said sum of one million four hundred thousand pounds, or such part thereof as should be remaining unpaid, and for defraying the charges incurred in respect thereof; and after the repayment of the whole of the money so advanced and applied as aforesaid, and until the bond debt of the said Company should be reduced to the sum of one million five hundred thousand pounds, there should in like manner be set apart and applied, in the first place, out of the said clear revenues and profits such sum as might be sufficient for answering a dividend, not exceeding the rate of seven pounds per centum per annum upon the capital stock of the said Company; after which all the surplus of the said clear revenues and profits should be applied in reducing the bond debt of the said Company: And whereas the said sum of one million four hundred thousand pounds has been repaid, and fully discharged, and all the charges incurred in respect thereof have been defrayed, and the bond debt of the said Company has been reduced to, or under, the sum of one million five hundred thousand pounds, whereby the circumstances, in consideration whereof it was in the aforesaid Act declared that the public should agree to forego, for the then present time, all participation in the profits arising from the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies, have ceased and are determined; but whereas notwithstanding it may be expedient that the aforesaid territorial acquisitions and revenues should, for a limited time, and under certain conditions and restrictions, remain in the possession of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies: May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that all the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies, shall remain in the possession of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and their successors, for and during the term of one year, to be computed from the fifth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-nine. (1) [In regard to the Bond Debt, see note on 34 Geo. 3, cap. 41, and for the continuance of the Company's possession of the territory and government of India, see note on the section last quoted in the extracts from 9 & 10 Wm. 3, cap. 44. These references apply also to the first section of the Act which immediately follows (20 Geo. 3, cap. 56).]

Recital of the debt of £1,400,000 being discharged, and the bond debt reduced to £1,500,000.

All the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies to remain in possession of the Company till April 5, 1780.

This Act not to affect the rights of the Crown, or of the Company, after the expiration thereof.

VI. Provided always nevertheless, and be it enacted, that nothing in this Act contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to affect the rights of the Crown, or of the said Company, after the expiration of this Act; but that the same shall remain, continue, and be in the same state and condition, in all respects, as though this Act had never been made.

20 GEORGE III. Cap. LVI.

AN ACT for continuing in the Possession of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, for a further Time, and under certain Conditions, the territorial Acquisitions and Revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies; and for reviving, and continuing for a further Time, so much of an Act, made in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe," as hath expired in the course of the present Year; and for indemnifying the said Company for any Money they have paid, or may pay, in or about the building of three Ships of the Line for the Service of the Public.

Whereas by an Act, passed in the thirteenth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled "An Act for granting to his Majesty a sum of Money, to be raised by Exchequer Bills, and to be advanced and applied, in the manner, and upon the terms, therein-mentioned for the Relief of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies," it was directed, that the Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, or the Lord High Treasurer for the time being, should cause to be prepared and made any number of Exchequer bills, not exceeding in the whole the amount of one million four hundred thousand pounds, to be lent, advanced, and issued, as in the said Act was directed, for the relief of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies: And whereas by the said Act it was declared, that in the then circumstances of the East-India Company, it would not be in their power to provide for the repayment of the loan aforesaid, and for establishing their affairs upon a more secure foundation for the time to come, unless the public should agree to forego, for the then present time, all participation in the profits arising from the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies; and therefore it was by the said Act enacted, that, until the aforesaid sum of one million four hundred thousand pounds should be repaid, and the bond debt of the Company be reduced to the sum of one million five hundred thousand pounds, the whole clear profits arising from the aforesaid territorial acquisitions and revenues, after defraying the charges attending the same, together with all the clear revenue and profits of the said Company, after providing for the current payments of interest, and other outgoings, charges, and expenses, of the said Company, should, from time to time, be disposed of, and applied in the manner as in the said Act was directed; that is to say, until the aforesaid sum of one million four hundred thousand pounds should be repaid, and so long as the said sum, or any part thereof, should remain unpaid, there should, in the first place, be set apart and applied, out of the said clear revenues and profits, such a sum as might be sufficient for answering a dividend to the proprietors of the stock of the said Company, not exceeding the rate of six pounds per centum per annum upon the capital stock of the said Company; and all the surplus of the said clear revenues and profits should be applied in diminution of the said sum of one million four hundred thousand pounds, or such part thereof as should be remaining unpaid, and for defraying the charges incurred in respect thereof; and after the repayment of the whole of the money so advanced and applied as aforesaid, and until the bond debt of the said Company should be reduced to the sum of one million five hundred thousand pounds, there should in like manner be set apart and applied,

The loan of 1773 repaid by the Company to the public, and the bond debt reduced to £1,500,000.

All the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies, to remain in possession of the Company till April 5, 1781.

This Act not to affect the rights of the Crown, or of the Company, after the expiration thereof.

in the first place, out of the said clear revenues and profits, such sum as might be sufficient for answering a dividend not exceeding the rate of seven pounds per centum per annum, upon the capital stock of the said Company; after which all the surplus of the said clear revenues and profits should be applied in reducing the bond debt of the said Company: And whereas the said sum of one million four hundred thousand pounds has been repaid and fully discharged, and all the charges incurred in respect thereof have been defrayed, and the bond debt of the said Company has been reduced to, or under, the sum of one million five hundred thousand pounds, whereby the circumstances, in consideration whereof it was in the aforesaid Act declared, that the public should agree to forego, for the then present time, all participation in the profit arising from the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies, have ceased and are determined; but whereas, notwithstanding, it may be expedient that the aforesaid territorial acquisitions and revenues should, for a limited time, and under certain conditions and restrictions, remain in the possession of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies: May it, therefore, please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that all the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies, shall remain in the possession of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and their successors, for and during the term of one year, to be computed from the fifth day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand seven hundred and eighty.

VI. Provided always nevertheless, and be it enacted, that nothing in this Act contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to affect the rights of the Crown, or of the said Company, after the expiration of this Act; but that the same shall remain, continue, and be, in the same state and condition, in all respects, as though this Act had never been made.

21 GEORGE III. Cap. LXV.

AN ACT for establishing an Agreement with the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, for the payment of the sum of four hundred thousand pounds for the use of the Public, in full discharge and satisfaction of all claims and demands of the Public from the time the Bond Debt of the said Company was reduced to one million five hundred thousand pounds, until the first day of March, one thousand seven hundred and eighty one, in respect of the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies; and also for securing to the Public in respect thereof, for a term therein mentioned, a certain part or proportion of the clear revenues and profits of the said Company; and for granting to the said Company, for a further term, the sole and exclusive Trade to and from the East-Indies, and limits therein mentioned; and for establishing certain Regulations for the better management of the Affairs of the said Company, as well in India as in Europe, and the recruiting the Military Forces of the said Company.

The preamble of this Act recites, among other matters, that the reduction of the bond debt prescribed by 13 Geo. 3, cap. 64, had been effected. See note on 34 Geo. 3, cap. 41.

IV. And moreover it is hereby enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies shall, at all times hereafter for ever, subject as aforesaid, have, hold, and enjoy, and be entitled unto, all and every, the profits, benefits, advantages, privileges, franchises, abilities, capacities, powers, authorities, rights, remedies, methods of suit, and all penalties and forfeitures, and disabilities, provisions, matters, and things whatsoever, which by any former Act or Acts of Parliament, or by any Charter or Charters founded thereupon, or by any clause or clauses in the said Acts or Charters contained, are enacted, given, granted, provided, inflicted, limited, established, or declared to, for, touching or concerning the said Company, or body politic and corporate, either by the name of The General Society, entitled to the advantages given by an Act of Parliament for advancing a sum not exceeding two millions, for the service of the Crown of England, or the said body politic and corporate, called by the name of the English Company trading to the East-Indies, or the said body politic and corporate, now called by the name of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and not by this Act altered, or intended to be altered, according to the tenor and true meaning of the said Acts and Charters, freed and discharged from all provisoes and conditions of redemption and determination therein contained; and the same, and every of them, are hereby ratified and confirmed, and shall continue to be held and enjoyed, and be practised, and put in execution, by the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and their successors, for the better and more effectual settling and securing to them and their successors, the whole, sole, and exclusive trade to the East-Indies, and parts aforesaid; and for the preventing all other his Majesty's subjects trading thither, and for securing also their possessions, estate, and effects, and governing their affairs and business, in all respects as fully and effectually as if the same profits, benefits, advantages, trade, privileges, franchises, abilities, capacities, powers, authorities, rights, remedies, methods of suit, penalties, forfeitures, disabilities, provisions, matters and things, were severally repeated, and at large re-enacted in the body of this Act; subject nevertheless to such restrictions, covenants, and agreements, as are contained in the said Acts and Letters Patent now in force, and not herein or hereby varied or altered, and subject also to the proviso herein-after mentioned.(1)

The Company to enjoy all the profits, privileges, &c. granted by former Acts or Charters, and not altered by this Act.

(1) [Modified by 53 Geo. 3, c. 155, which opened the trade to India, and 3 & 4 Wm. 4, c. 85, which opened the China trade, and suspended altogether the commercial operations of the Company during their retention of the Government of India.]

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that all the territorial acquisitions and revenues lately obtained in the East-Indies shall remain in the possession of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, for and during the term of the exclusive trade granted to the said United Company.(1)

The territorial acquisitions to remain in the possession of the Company.

(1) [By section 5 of this Act the exclusive trade was to terminate upon three years' notice after the 1st of March 1791, and repayment of money due to the Company. For further extension of period of Government, vide note at the end of the extracts from 9 & 10 Wm. 3, cap. 44.]

Reservation of the rights of the Company.

XXV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that all and every the rights, interest, powers, privileges, and authorities, which are now vested in the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and which are not hereby expressly taken away, altered, or varied, shall remain to, and continue in the said Company, in as full and ample a manner, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as if this Act had never been made.

Regulations relative to raising recruits for the Company's service in India.

XXXII. And whereas it is necessary for the said United Company to keep and maintain a military force in the East-Indies, and the present method of obtaining recruits to keep up the same hath been found very inconvenient and defective; be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the said United Company, by licence from his Majesty for that purpose, from time to time to enlist such number of men, being his Majesty's subjects, and of such ages, and for such time, as shall be expressed in such licence, to serve them as soldiers in the East-Indies, and to deposit and keep such men, not exceeding two thousand at any one time in time of war, and one thousand at any time in time of peace, at such place or places, in any part of his Majesty's dominions in Europe, as shall be approved of for that purpose by his Majesty, until they can be sent to India; and in case any person or persons so enlisting and engaging, after he shall have signed an agreement for that purpose, and shall have declared before a magistrate, at the distance of twenty-four hours at the least after his first enlisting, that he freely and voluntarily signed such agreement, and is willing to go and serve the said United Company as a soldier in the East-Indies, shall desert from the place appointed for him to reside at till the time of his embarkation to go to the East-Indies, or shall refuse to perform his agreement, it shall be lawful for any person or persons to apprehend such person or persons, and convey him before a magistrate; and it shall be lawful for such magistrate, on proof of the case, to commit such person or persons to gaol, there to be kept in safe custody, and maintained at the expense of the said United Company, until such person can be sent to India; and it shall be lawful for the said United Company to cause such person or persons to be conveyed in custody on shipboard, to be carried to the East-Indies, in such service as aforesaid. (1)

Deserters may be committed.

(1) [Vide 39 Geo. 3, cap. 109; 50 Geo. 3, cap. 87; 57 Geo. 3, cap. 57; 3 & 4 Vict. cap. 6; and 3 & 4 Vict. cap. 37.]

Claims to the territorial acquisitions not affected.

XXXIX. Provided always, and be it enacted, that nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to prejudice or affect the rights or claims of the public, or the said United Company, respecting the territorial acquisitions and revenues. •

21 GEORGH III. Cap. LXX.

AN ACT to explain and amend so much of an Act, made in the Thirteenth Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, intituled "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India-Company, as well in India as in Europe," as relates to the administration of Justice in Bengal; and for the Relief of certain Persons imprisoned at Calcutta in Bengal, under a Judgment of the Supreme Court of Judicature; and also for indemnifying the Governor-general and Council of Bengal, and all Officers who have acted under their Orders or Authority, in the undue Resistance made to the Process of the Supreme Court.

Whereas, in virtue of an Act passed in the thirteenth year of his present Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe," his Majesty, by his Royal Letters Patent of the twenty-sixth day of March, in the fourteenth year of his reign, did create and constitute a Court of Record, to be within the factory of Fort William, at Calcutta in Bengal, called the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, with sundry directions, powers, and authorities, to the said Court, in the said Letters Patent set forth and expressed: and whereas many doubts and difficulties have arisen concerning the true intent and meaning of certain clauses and provisions in the said Act and Letters Patent, and by reason thereof dissension hath arisen between the Judges of the Supreme Court and the Governor-general and Council of Bengal; and the minds of many inhabitants subject to the said Government have been disquieted with fears and apprehensions; and further mischiefs may possibly ensue from the said misunderstandings and discontents, if a seasonable and suitable remedy be not provided: and whereas it is expedient that the lawful Government of the provinces of Bengal, Bahar, and Orissa, should be supported, that the revenues thereof should be collected with certainty, and that the inhabitants should be maintained and protected in the enjoyment of all their ancient laws, usages, rights, and privileges: may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the Governor-general and Council of Bengal shall not be subject, jointly or severally, to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Council of Fort William in Bengal, for or by reason of any act or order, or any other matter or thing whatsoever, counselled, ordered, or done by them in their public capacity only, and acting as Governor-general and Council.

Preamble.
Recital of 13 G. 3.
e. 63.

The Governor-general and Council of Bengal not to be subject to the Supreme Court.

II. And it is hereby enacted and declared, that if any person or persons shall be impleaded in any action or process, civil or criminal, in the said Supreme Court, for any act or acts done by the order of the said Governor-general and Council in writing, he or they may plead the general issue, and give the said order in evidence; which said order, with proof that the act or acts done has or have been done according to the purport of the same, shall amount to a sufficient justification of the said acts, and the defendant shall be fully justified, acquitted, and discharged from all and every suit, action, and process whatsoever, civil or criminal, in the said Court.

Persons impleaded in the Supreme Court for acts done by order of the Governor-general and Council may plead the general issue.

Proviso.

III. Provided always, that with respect to such order or orders of the said Governor-general and Council as do or shall extend to any British subject or subjects, the said Court shall have and retain as full and competent jurisdiction as if this Act had never been made. (1)

(1) [By 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 43, the Governor-general and Council is empowered to make laws for all persons and all Courts, without exception.]

The Governor-general and Council to remain liable to any complaint before a competent Court in this kingdom.

IV. Provided also, that nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to discharge or acquit the said Governor-general and Council, jointly or severally, or any other person or persons acting by or under their order, from any complaint, suit, or process, before any competent Court in this kingdom, or to give any other authority whatsoever to their acts, than acts of the same nature and description had, by the laws and statutes of this kingdom, before this Act was made.

If any person making complaint to the Supreme Court against the Governor-general, Members of Council, or persons acting under their orders, shall execute a bond to the Company to prosecute the same in some competent Court in Great Britain, within two years.

V. AN ACT for removing any doubt respecting the Power of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to direct that the expense of raising, transporting, and maintaining such Troops as may be judged necessary for the security of the British Territories and Possessions in the East-Indies, should be defrayed out of the Revenues arising from the said Territories and Possessions ; and for limiting the application of the said Revenues in the manner therein mentioned.

Preamble.
24 G. 3, Sess. 2, c. 25,
recited.

Whereas, by an Act passed in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the better Regulation and Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, and of the British Possessions in India; and for establishing a Court of Judicature for the more speedy and effectual trial of Persons accused of Offences committed in the East-Indies," his Majesty is empowered to nominate and appoint a Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India: and whereas, by the said Act, the said Board of Commissioners is invested with the superintendance and control over all the British territorial possessions in the East-Indies, and over the affairs of the United Company of Merchants trading thereto, in the manner in the said Act directed; and is likewise authorized and empowered, from time to time to superintend, direct and control all acts, operations, and concerns, which in anywise relate to the civil or military governments or revenues of the said possessions, in the manner in the said Act directed: and whereas the Court of Directors of the said Company is required by the said Act to pay due obedience to, and to be governed and bound by, such orders and directions as the said Court shall from time to time receive from the said Board, touching the civil or military government and revenues of the said possessions: and whereas, nevertheless, doubts have been raised, whether the said Commissioners are, under the said Act, empowered at any time to direct, that the expense of raising, transporting, and maintaining such forces as may be judged necessary for the security of the British territories and possessions in the East-Indies, shall be defrayed out of the revenues arising from the said territories and possessions, unless such troops are sent at the express requisition of the East-India Company; and particularly whether, under the circumstances now existing, the said Commissioners are not restrained, by certain provisions contained in the said Act, from giving such directions with respect to the expense of raising, transporting, and maintaining any forces which may be sent to India for the security of the said possessions, in addition to the forces now there; and whereas it appears that by reason of the said doubts, the said Directors have delayed to take measures for transporting in the said Company's ships the forces which his Majesty has judged necessary to be sent to India for the security of the said possessions: therefore, for obviating every such doubt, may it please your Majesty that it may be enacted and declared; and be it enacted and declared by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the said Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India was and is by the said Act fully authorized and empowered to order and direct that all the expenses incurred, or to be hereafter incurred, for raising, transporting, and maintaining such forces as shall be sent to India for the security of the said territories and possessions, shall be paid, defrayed, and borne out of the revenues arising from the said territories and possessions; and that nothing in the said Act contained extended or extends, or shall be construed to extend, to restrain, or to have restrained, the said Commissioners from giving such orders or directions as aforesaid, with respect to the expense of raising, transporting, and maintaining any forces which may be sent to India for the security of the said possessions, in addition to the forces now there. (1)

Board of Commissioners, appointed under the recited Act, empowered to direct all expenses for raising, &c. forces sent to India, to be defrayed out of the revenues of the territories there.

(1) [The 24 Geo. 3, cap. 25, referred to in this section, was repealed by 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52, sec. 146, with the exception of certain parts, for which see the note preceding the extracts in this volume from the first-named Act; but sec. 149 of 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52, expressly reserves the powers given or declared by this Act, and sec. 128 enacts that the actual expenses of the forces of the Crown in India, and of raising and supplying recruits for the same, shall be borne by the Company. By sec. 1 of the 4 Geo. 4, cap. 71, the Company are also to pay £60,000 per annum for retiring pay, pensions, and other expenses of that nature, in respect of such forces.]

II. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that it shall not be lawful for the said Commissioners to give or approve any such direction as aforesaid with respect to the payment of any greater number of his Majesty's forces than shall amount in the whole to eight thousand and forty-five men, including the commissioned and non-commissioned officers; or of the European forces of the East-India Company, than shall amount in the whole to twelve thousand two hundred men, including the commissioned and non-commissioned officers. (1)

Commissioners not to give directions for the payment of a greater number of troops than herein specified.

(1) [The 31 Geo. 3, cap. 10, allowed the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, at any time before the 25th March, 1792, to increase the forces of the Crown by 2,682 men, in addition to the number granted by the above section. By 53 Geo. 3, cap. 155, sec. 87, the number may be increased to 20,000 men, and a further increase may take place on the requisition of the Court of Directors, but not otherwise.]

III. And whereas it is expedient that further provisions should be made for limiting the application of the said revenues, with respect to the established salaries and allowances to be paid therefrom to any person in India, and with respect to any extraordinary allowances

Commissioners not to give directions for increasing salaries beyond the amount fixed by orders which have been sent to India, unless proposed by the Directors, &c.

Presidencies may appoint coroners, who may exercise the same powers as coroners in England.

CLVIII. And whereas by an Act of the first year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the First, intituled, "An Act for making the Laws for repairing the Highways more effectual," provision was made for authorizing Justices of the Peace in cities and market-towns, at their General or Quarter Sessions, to appoint scavengers for cleansing and repairing the streets of the same, and to raise money by assessments upon the inhabitants for defraying the expenses thereof: And whereas, by an Act passed in the seventh year of the reign of his present Majesty, to amend and reduce into one Act the Statutes for the amendment and preservation of the public highways, it was enacted, that the said recited Act of the first year of King George the First should be repealed: And whereas, it is essentially necessary for the health, as well as for the security, comfort, and convenience of the inhabitants of the towns and factories of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, in the East-Indies, that the streets therein should be regularly and effectually cleansed, watched, and repaired: be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Justices of the Peace within or for the Presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, for the time being, or the major part of them, from time to time assembled at their General or Quarter Sessions, to appoint scavengers for cleansing the streets of the said towns or factories of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and to nominate and appoint such persons as they shall think fit in that behalf, and also to order the watching and repairing of the streets therein as they respectively shall judge necessary, and for the purpose of defraying the expenses thereof, from time to time, to make an equal assessment or assessments on the owners or occupiers of houses, buildings, and grounds, in the said towns or factories respectively, according to the true and real annual values thereof, so that the whole of such assessment or assessments shall not exceed, in any one year, the proportion of one-twentieth part of the gross annual values thereof respectively, unless any higher rate of assessment shall, in the judgment of the Governor-general in Council, or Governor in Council, of the said respective Presidencies, become essentially necessary for the cleansing, watching, or repairing thereof, in which case the said Governor-general in Council, or Governor in Council, shall and may, on any such urgent occasion, by Order in Council, authorize a further assessment, not exceeding in any one year the half part of the amount of the ordinary annual assessment hereinbefore limited,

1 G. 1, c. 52.

7 G. 3, c. 42.

Justices may appoint scavengers for cleansing the streets of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and may order their being watched and repaired, and make assessments for those purposes, &c.

and that it shall be thereupon lawful for the said Justices to make a further assessment, according to the tenor of such order, and not otherwise, or in any other manner; and that all and every such assessment or assessments shall and may, from time to time, be levied and collected by such person or persons, and in such manner, as the said Justices, by their Order in Session, shall direct and appoint in that behalf, and the money thereby raised shall be employed and disposed of according to the orders and directions of the said Justices in Session respectively, for and towards the repairing, watching, and cleansing the said streets, and for no other purpose: and that the said assessments, being allowed under the hands and seals of such Justices, or any other two or more of them, shall and may be levied by warrant under their hands and seals, or the hands and seals of any two of them, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of any person or persons not paying the same within eight days after demand, rendering the overplus (if any be) to the same person or persons, the necessary charges of making, keeping, and selling such distress or distresses, being first deducted. No spirituous liquors to be sold in Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, without a license.

CLIX. And be it further enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to sell any arrack or other spirituous liquors within the towns or factories of Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay respectively, without a license for that purpose under the hands and seals of two or more of the Justices of the Peace having jurisdiction; and that the powers and authorities vested, by any laws or statutes now in force in that part of Great Britain called England, in any Justices of the Peace for restraining the inordinate sale of spirituous liquors, shall extend to and be put in force against all unlicensed traders in spirits or spirituous liquors within the said towns and factories respectively, by the Justices having jurisdiction therein; (1) and that if any question shall arise touching or concerning the true limits and extent of the said towns and factories, or any of them, the same shall be inquired into by the Governor-general in Council at Fort William, in respect to the limits and extent of Calcutta, and by the Governor in Council of Fort Saint George, in respect to the limits and extent of Madras, and the Governor in Council at Bombay, in respect of the town of Bombay; and that such limits as the said respective Governments, by Order in Council, shall declare and prescribe to be the limits of the said towns and factories respectively, shall be held, deemed, and taken in law as the true limits of the same: any custom or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

By whom the limits of those places shall be prescribed.

34 GEORGII III. Cap. XLI.

AN ACT to empower the East-India Company to continue a Bond Debt of Two Millions, and to increase the same by a further Sum, as Circumstances may require.

Preamble.
38 G. 3, c. 47, recited.

Whereas by an Act, made in the last session of Parliament, intituled, "An Act for placing the stock, called East-India Annuities, under the Management of the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, and ingrafting the same on the three pounds per centum reduced Annuities, in redemption of a Debt of four millions two hundred thousand pounds, owing by the public to the East-India Company; and for enabling the said Company to raise a sum of Money by a further increase of their capital Stock, to be applied in discharge of certain Debts of the said Company;" it was amongst other things enacted, that it should be lawful for the said Company, with the consent of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, or any three of them, or the high treasurer for the time being, at any time or times thereafter, to open books and receive subscriptions for enlarging their then present capital stock or fund of five millions to any sum not exceeding the further sum of one million, so as to make their whole capital stock the sum of six millions; and that the said Company should, out of the monies to arise by the said subscriptions, in the first place, apply so much thereof as should be sufficient for the purpose in reducing their bond debt in Great Britain to the sum of one million five hundred thousand pounds, and after such reduction made, or a sufficient sum set apart and reserved for that purpose, that the said Company should and might apply and dispose of the residue of the monies arising by the said subscriptions in the discharge of such other debts due or coming due from them as they should think fit: and it was thereby also enacted, that after the said bond debt should have been so reduced to one million five hundred thousand pounds as aforesaid, it should not be lawful for the said Company again to increase the same beyond that amount, unless with the approbation of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, for that purpose in writing first had and obtained, and that the whole increase to be made to the said bond debt should in no wise exceed the sum of five hundred thousand pounds: and whereas the said Company have accordingly received subscriptions in the manner by the said Act directed, whereby their capital stock hath been increased to six millions, and the said Company have, out of the monies arising by the said subscriptions, paid, bought up, or otherwise discharged bonds to the amount of one million one hundred and fifty thousand five hundred and seventy-five pounds, or thereabouts, and have set apart a sufficient sum for the purchase or discharge of as many more bonds as will reduce the said debt to two millions: and whereas, in the present state of the affairs of the said Company, it will be for their convenience and advantage, that instead of applying any further part of the money which hath arisen by the said subscription, in or towards a further reduction of their said bond debt, beyond the sum already set apart as aforesaid, the Company should be permitted to apply the same to the general purposes of their commerce, and to continue on foot the said bond debt of two millions, and it is also expedient that the said Company should be permitted to increase their said bond debt by a further sum not exceeding one million, as circumstances may require: may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall and may be lawful for the said Company to keep on foot and continue their said bond debt in Great Britain at the aforesaid amount of two millions, and to apply the surplus monies of the said subscriptions remaining, after reducing or setting apart a sufficient sum to reduce the said bond debt to the amount aforesaid, to and for the general purposes of their trade and commerce; and further, that it shall and may be lawful for the said Company, by and with the approbation and consent of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India for the time being, at any time or times hereafter, to borrow upon and issue bonds, under their common seal, for any further sum or sums of money, not exceeding in the whole the sum of one million, for the purposes of their trade, as circumstances may require; any thing contained in the said Act, or in any other Act, to the contrary notwithstanding. (1)

Company may continue their bond debt of £2,000,000, and borrow a further sum of £1,000,000.

(1) [By 9 & 10 Wm. 3, cap. 44, sec. 75, the corporations, societies, fellowships, companies, and constitutions established under that Act (from which The English Company trading to the East-Indies originated) were not to borrow money except on their common seal, and for the purposes of trade; and no sums thus borrowed were to be repayable at a shorter period than six months. By 6 Anne, cap. 17, sec. 2, The English Company, to enable them to lend money to the Crown to carry on the war, were authorized to borrow £1,500,000, in addition to any amount which might previously be lawfully borrowed on their common seal. By 7 Geo. 1, cap. 5, sec. 32, The United Company were authorized to borrow to an amount not exceeding at any one time the sum due at such time from the public to the Company, or not exceeding five millions in the whole. The 17 Geo. 2, cap. 17, sec. 8, allowed them to borrow an additional million, to enable them to raise and pay a like sum for the service of the Crown. The 23 Geo. 2, cap. 22, which among other objects was "for empowering the East-India Company to raise certain Sums by transferable Annuities," directs in sec. 6, that the money so raised shall be applied in discharge of the bond debt, but the power of borrowing given by previous Acts of Parliament is continued and confirmed. The 13 Geo. 3, cap. 64, sec. 13, prescribed means for reducing the bond debt to £1,500,000, and it was accordingly so reduced, as is recited in 19 Geo. 3, cap. 61, 20 Geo. 3, cap. 56, and 21 Geo. 3, cap. 65. The 23 Geo. 3, cap. 36, sec. 2, allowed an addition of £500,000. The 23 Geo. 3, cap. 83, sec. 8, and the 24 Geo. 3, cap. 34, sec. 4, contemplated a reduction to the former amount of £1,500,000; but the 28 Geo. 3, cap. 29, sanctioned an increase of £1,200,000. The 33 Geo. 3, cap. 47, sec. 14, again directed the bond debt to be reduced to £1,500,000, but sec. 15 provided that, with the approbation of the Board, it might be subsequently increased by a sum not exceeding £500,000. By the 34 Geo. 3, cap. 41, which appears above, it will be seen that the bond debt was allowed to remain at £2,000,000, and might, with the approbation of the Board, be increased to £3,000,000.

Other enactments on the subject followed at various intervals of time, which will be found in their proper places. By 37 Geo. 3, cap. 31, the Company were empowered to enlarge their capital stock by £2,000,000; but, by 47 Geo. 3, sess. 2, cap. 41, instead of thus enlarging their capital stock, they were authorized to increase their bond debt by £2,000,000, provided that thereafter any money raised under the former Act for enlarging their capital stock should be applied in reduction of the bond debt until it was brought down to £3,000,000. No increase of the capital stock of the Company was made, and consequently no reduction on that account took place in the amount of the bond debt. Finally, the 51 Geo. 3, cap. 64, sec. 1, enabled the Company to borrow £2,000,000 on bond, in addition to any sums which previously they might lawfully raise by such means. The same Act, (sec. 2), repealed so much of 47 Geo. 3, cap. 41, as directed that the bond debt should be reduced in proportion to the increase of capital stock, but enacted that when under its provisions, together with those of 37 Geo. 3, cap. 31, and 47 Geo. 3, cap. 41, the sum of £4,000,000 had been raised no further sums should be raised on bond: Thus the whole sum of £4,000,000 being raised by bond no addition could be made to the capital stock. The entire effect of the various enactments respecting the bond debt was to enable the Company, with the approbation of the Board, to borrow £7,000,000 on that species of security.]

36 GEORGII III. Cap. CXIX.

AN ACT to enable the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, to purchase certain Houses and Grounds contiguous to the East-India House, and to widen the North End of Lime Street.

The 15th section of this Act directs that the Company shall widen and pave part of Lime Street. The 16th, which follows, is the only portion of the Act necessary to be retained here.

XVI. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to charge the said United Company alone with repairing or making good the pavement of Lime Street aforesaid in future; but that, from and after the same shall have been well and effectually paved as aforesaid, by the said United Company, the same shall for ever then after be kept in repair by such person or persons, companies or societies, which now are, or hereafter shall be, chargeable with the repairs of the public streets in the said parish of Saint Andrew Undershaft.

United Company not liable to pay future repairs thereof.

37 GEORGII III. Cap. XXXI.

AN ACT to enable the East-India Company to raise Money by further increasing their Capital Stock, and to extend the Provisions now existing respecting the present Stock of the Company to the said increased Stock.

The increase of capital stock authorized by this Act was never effected. See note on section 11 of 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85.

37 GEORGE III. Cap. CXVII.

AN ACT for regulating the Trade to be carried on with the British Possessions in India, by the Ships of Nations in Amity with his Majesty.

Preamble.

12 Car. 2, c. 18, re-cited.

Vessels of countries in amity with his Majesty may import into, and export from, the British possessions in India, goods permitted by the East-India Directors, not contrary to treaties or law.

Whereas by an Act, passed in the twelfth year of the reign of his late Majesty King Charles the Second, intituled, "An Act for the encouraging and increasing of Shipping and Navigation," it was enacted, that, from and after the first day of December one thousand six hundred and sixty, and from thenceforward, no goods or commodities shall be imported into or exported out of any lands, islands, plantations, or territories, to his Majesty belonging or in his possession, or which may hereafter belong unto or be in the possession of his Majesty, his heirs and successors, in Asia, Africa, and America, in any other ship or ships, vessel or vessels, than such as do truly and without fraud belong unto the people of England or Ireland, dominion of Wales, or town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, or are the built of and belonging to any of the said lands, islands, plantations, or territories, as the proprietors and right owners thereof, and whereof the master and three-fourths of the mariners at least are English, under certain penalties and forfeitures therein mentioned: and whereas it is expedient that the ships and vessels of countries and states in amity with his Majesty should be allowed to import goods and commodities unto, and to export the same from the British territories in India, subject to certain restrictions and regulations: be it therefore enacted, by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that, from and after the passing of this Act, and during the continuance of the exclusive trade of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and during the term for which the possessions of the British territories in India is secured to the said United Company, (1) it shall and may be lawful for the ships and vessels of countries and states in amity with his Majesty, to import into and export from the British possessions in India, such goods and commodities as they shall be permitted to import into and export from the said possessions by the Directors of the said Company, who are hereby directed to frame such regulations for carrying on the trade to and from the said possessions, and the countries and states in amity with his Majesty, as shall seem to them most conducive to the interest and prosperity of the said British possessions in India, and of the British empire; and no ship or vessel belonging to any of the subjects of states or countries in amity with his Majesty shall be liable to seizure, confiscation, or forfeiture, or other penalty, for exporting from or importing into the said British possessions in India, any goods or commodities, the importation or exportation of which respectively shall be permitted by the said regulation; any thing in the said herein-before recited Act of the twelfth year of the reign of King Charles the Second, to the contrary notwithstanding: provided always, that it shall not be lawful for the Directors of the said United Company to frame any regulations for the conduct of the said trade, which shall be inconsistent with any treaty or treaties which shall have been or may be entered into by his Majesty, his heirs and successors, and any country or state at amity with his Majesty, or which may be inconsistent with any Act or Acts of Parliament which have been passed for the regulation of the trade and commerce of the said British territories in India.

(1) [Vide 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 2, which continues all powers and authorities (not inconsistent with its enactments) granted by any former Act for the term limited by 53 Geo. 3, cap. 155, the last-named Act having granted an extension of the term in progress when the 37 Geo. 3, cap. 117, was passed.]

II. And be it further enacted, that all such regulations as shall be framed by the said Court of Directors, for carrying on the trade to and from the British possessions in India, and the countries and states in amity with his Majesty, shall be and they are hereby directed to be subject to the superintendance, direction, and control of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, in the same manner as all Acts, operations, and concerns, which anywise relate to or concern the civil and military governments and revenues of the British territories and acquisitions in the East-Indies now are.

Regulations framed by the Directors to be subject to the control of the Board of Commissioners.

III. And be it further enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any General Court of Proprietors to alter or change, or to direct, or order, or authorize, the altering or changing, any resolution of the Court of Directors, or to rescind, revoke, suspend, or vary the same, in so far as the same relates to the intercourse of foreign nations in amity with his Majesty and the British territories in India.

Court of Proprietors not to alter any resolution of the Directors relating to intercourse of foreign nations in amity with his Majesty and the British territories in India.

37 GEORGE III. Cap. CXLII.

AN ACT for the better Administration of Justice at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and for preventing British Subjects from being concerned in Loans to the Native Princes in India.

Whereas by an Act, passed in the thirteenth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe," it was enacted, that it should be lawful for his Majesty, by Letters Patent, under the great seal of Great Britain, to erect and establish a Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, to consist of a Chief Justice and three other Justices, being barristers of England or Ireland, of not less than five years standing, to be named from time to time by his Majesty, his heirs and successors: and whereas by the said Act, and by divers other Acts of Parliament, certain jurisdictions, powers, and authorities, were given to the said Court to be exercised in the manner therein directed: and whereas it may be expedient that the number of Judges should be reduced; be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that immediately after the death, resignation, or removal of any of the Puisne Judges of the said Supreme Court, that the office of one of the said Puisne Judges shall be and the same is hereby suppressed; and from and immediately after such death, resignation, or removal, the said Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice, and two other Judges only; and all powers, jurisdictions, and authorities whatsoever, shall, from and after such period as aforesaid, be enjoyed and exercised by the said Chief Justice and other Judges, in as full and ample a manner as the same might have been held,

Preamble.
13 G. 3, cap. 68.

On the death, &c. of any of the Puisne Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature in Bengal, it shall consist of a Chief Justice and two other Judges.

enjoyed, and exercised, by the said Supreme Court under the authority of the said herein-before recited Act, or any other Act or Acts of Parliament, or under the Charter of Justice, granted by his Majesty under the authority of the same.

His Majesty may direct the payment of a yearly sum out of the territorial revenues to any Chief Justice, or other Judge, returning to Europe.

II. And whereas his Majesty has by law no power to direct the application of any part of the revenues of the territorial acquisitions in India, as a provision for a Chief Justice, or other Judge, of the said Supreme Court, who, from infirmity, or other causes approved of by his Majesty, may return to Europe: and whereas it is expedient that such power, to a limited extent, be vested in his Majesty, his heirs and successors; be it therefore enacted, by the authority aforesaid, that from and after the death, resignation, or removal, of one of the Judges of the said Supreme Court, and the suppression of the said office in the manner herein-before directed, that it shall and may be lawful for his Majesty, his heirs and successors, by warrant under his royal sign manual, to authorize and direct the payment of a competent yearly sum out of the revenues arising from the territorial acquisitions in India, to be applied for the use and behoof of any Chief Justice or other Judge, who, from age, infirmity, or other cause, to be approved of by his Majesty, his heirs and successors, shall return to Europe. (1)

(1) [The required term of residence, and the amount of revenue, were variously determined by 39 & 40 Geo. 3, cap. 79, 55 Geo. 3, cap. 84, and 4 Geo. 4, cap. 71. For the present law on those points, see 6 Geo. 4, cap. 85, secs. 7, 8, 10, 12.]

The Supreme Court, where the matter in dispute does not exceed 1,000 pagodas, may direct depositions to be filed of record, or not.

IV. And whereas, by the Charter of Justice granted by his Majesty, under the authority of the herein-before recited Act, passed in the thirteenth year of his present Majesty's reign, the said Supreme Court of Judicature was directed and required to reduce, or cause to be reduced, to writing, the depositions of witnesses in civil causes, and was directed to require the same to be subscribed by such witnesses, with their name or other mark, and to file the same of record: and whereas by the same Charter of Justice, it was also directed that no appeal should be allowed from the said Supreme Court of Judicature, unless the value of the matters in dispute exceed the sum of one thousand pagodas: (1) and whereas the requiring the depositions of witnesses to be reduced into writing, and filed of record, is productive of much expense and delay in small causes, where the value of the matter in dispute does not exceed one thousand pagodas, and which, for that reason, cannot be made the subject of appeal: (1) be it therefore enacted, that, from and after the passing of this Act, it shall be in the discretion of the said Supreme Court, in all cases when the value of the matter in dispute does not exceed one thousand pagodas, either to direct the deposition of witnesses to be reduced into writing, and filed of record, or not, as the said Court shall think fit, in the particular case; any thing in the said Charter of Justice contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

(1) [Under section 24 of 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 41, which empowers his Majesty in Council to make regulations as to the amount or value of the property in respect to which any appeal may be made, an order was passed on the 10th April 1838, fixing 10,000 Company's rupees as the minimum for which an appeal from any Court in India may be preferred as matter of right.]

VIII. And whereas certain regulations for the better administration of justice among the native inhabitants and others, being within the provinces of Bengal, Bahar, and Orissa, have been from time to time framed by the Governor-general in Council in Bengal; and among other regulations it has been established and declared as essential to the future prosperity of the British territories in Bengal, that all regulations passed by Government, affecting the rights, properties, or persons of the subjects, should be formed into a regular code, and printed, with translations, in the country languages, and that the grounds of every regulation be prefixed to it; and that the Courts of Justice within the provinces be bound to regulate their decisions by the rules and ordinances which such regulations may contain, whereby the native inhabitants may be made acquainted with the privileges and immunities granted to them by the British Government, and the mode of obtaining speedy redress for any infringement of the same: and whereas it is essential that so wise and salutary a provision should be strictly observed, and that it should not be in the power of the Governor-general in Council to neglect or to dispense with the same; be it therefore enacted, that all regulations which shall be issued and framed by the Governor-general in Council at Fort William in Bengal, affecting the rights, persons, or property of the natives, or of any other individuals who may be amenable to the Provincial Courts of Justice, shall be registered in the judicial department, and formed into a regular code, and printed, with translations, in the country languages, and that the grounds of each regulation shall be prefixed to it; and all the Provincial Courts of Judicature shall be, and they are hereby directed to be bound by and to regulate their decisions by such rules and ordinances as shall be contained in the said regulations; and the said Governor-general in Council shall annually transmit to the Court of Directors of the East-India Company ten copies of such regulations as may be passed in each year, and the same number to the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India.

Jurisdictions of the Courts of Requests at Madras, Bombay, and Calcutta, extended to eighty rupees.

towns of Madraspatnam, Bombay, and Calcutta, respectively, shall be and the same is extended to the recovery of all or any manner of debts, duties, and demands, not exceeding in value the sum of eighty current rupees respectively; and for that purpose that the Commissioners of the said Courts of Requests, and their successors, shall have full power and authority to hear and determine all actions, plaints, and suits, which have grown, or shall be brought before them, in their said respective Courts where the debt, duty, or matter in dispute, shall not exceed the said value of eighty current rupees, and to award execution thereupon for the debt or sum adjudged to be due, in the same manner as they now do for debts and demands under the sum of five pagodas.

AN ACT to enable Courts of Equity to compel a Transfer of Stock in Suits, without making the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, or the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, or the Governor and Company of Merchants of Great Britain trading to the South Seas or other Parts of America, party thereto. [1st May, 1800.]

Whereas great expense arises in suits in Courts of Equity, from the practice of making the Governor and Company of the Bank of England parties thereto, for the mere purpose of compelling or authorizing the said Corporation to suffer any transfer of stock standing in their books to be made which justice may require: be it enacted by the King's most excellent

Preamble.

Any Court of Equity may order the Bank of England to suffer a transfer of stock to be made, or to pay dividends belonging to, or standing in the names of, any party to a suit, or issue an injunction to restrain such transfer or payment, although the Bank be not a party, &c.

Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall be lawful for any of his Majesty's Courts of Equity, before or upon hearing any cause depending therein, to order the Governor and Company of the Bank of England to suffer a transfer of stock standing in their books to be made, or to pay any accrued or accruing dividends thereon, belonging to, or standing in the names of, any party to a suit, as such Courts may deem just; or to issue an injunction to restrain them from suffering any transfer of such stock, or from paying any dividends or interest accruing or accrued thereon, although such Governor and Company are not parties to the suit in which such decree or order shall be made, such Courts being satisfied by the certificate of the accountant of the said Corporation, duly signed by him as herein-after is directed, that the stock required to be transferred is standing in their books in the name of the persons or person required to transfer the same, or of the persons or person to whom they or he are or is the legal representative; and that after due service of a short order upon the said Governor and Company, or their proper officer, which shall contain no recital of their pleadings or other matter than the title of the cause, and the ordering part of such decree or order which respects the said Governor and Company, and for which the sum of eighteen shillings, and no more, shall be paid, like process shall issue to enforce such order or decree as to enforce them against any party to a suit depending in such Court.

On request of the clerk of the Court and the solicitor of the party, the Bank shall deliver a certificate stating the amount of such stock or dividends, &c. for which the fees herein specified shall be paid.

II. And for the better enabling any party to a suit to obtain and produce such certificate in Court, be it enacted, that upon request in writing, signed by the clerk in Court (or other officer answering thereto) and the solicitor concerned in the cause for the party applying, which shall state the cause, and for what parties they are concerned, the Governor and Company of the Bank of England shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the said clerk in Court, or other officer and solicitor, or one of them, a certificate signed by their accountant, stating the amount of such stock or dividends, and in whose names or name such stock is standing in their books, and, if it be particularly required (but not otherwise) when such stock or any part thereof was transferred, and by whom, for the signing of which request in writing there shall be paid to such clerk in Court or other officer, a fee of six shillings and eightpence, and no more, and to such solicitor, for the drawing, copying, and delivering at the Bank, a fee of thirteen shillings and fourpence, and no more, and to the officer making out and delivering such certificate, a fee of two shillings and sixpence, and no more: provided nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall extend to any case where any further discovery is wanted than what is herein-before expressly mentioned, nor to any case where the said Governor and Company claim any interest in or lien upon the said fund, but that, in such cases it shall be necessary to make them a party to such suit as if this Act had never been made; and that if any special matter shall arise, which in the opinion of the said Governor and Company shall affect their interests, or which might be objected against suffering such transfer of stock or payment of dividends, it shall be lawful for them to state such matter to the Court by motion or petition in such suit, and that execution of process to compel such transfer or payment shall be suspended until final order shall be made thereon.

Act not to extend to any further discovery than herein mentioned, nor to any case where the Bank claim an interest in the fund, &c.

In suits depending where the Bank have put in their answer, not claiming any interest in the stock required to be transferred, proceedings shall be stopped and the bill dismissed, &c.

III. And be it further enacted, that in all suits now depending, in which the said Governor and Company may have put in their answer, not claiming any interest in or lien upon the stock required to be transferred, no further proceeding shall be had against them as a party to such suits, but that the bill shall stand dismissed as against them in such suits; and that in all such suits an order may be made, upon motion or petition as of course, for the taxing of their costs already incurred, and for immediate payment thereof by the plaintiffs in any such suits, or any of them, subject however to any further order as between the other parties to such suits, respecting the final payment of such costs, as by the Court in which any suit may be depending shall be deemed just.

IV. And be it further enacted, that all the several regulations and provisions herein-before enacted, shall extend mutatis mutandis to every case where the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, or the Governor and Company of Merchants of Great Britain trading to the South Seas or other parts of America, have any stock standing in the books of such respective Corporations, which may now be or hereafter may become the subject of any suit in equity or incidental thereto, saving to the said Corporations respectively the like right of being made a party, or applying by motion or petition, in such suits as is before reserved or given to the Governor and Company of the Bank of England.

The provisions aforesaid shall extend to the East-India Company and the South Sea Company, where they have stock standing in their books which may become the subject of a suit in equity.

AN ACT for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the British Territories in India, and the better Administration of Justice within the same.

[28th July, 1800.]

Whereas the territorial possessions of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, in the peninsula of India, have become so much extended as to require further regulations to be made for the due government of the same: and whereas by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the thirty-third year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for continuing in the East-India Company, for a further Term, the Possession of the British Territories in India, together with their exclusive Trade, under certain Limitations; for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the said Territories, and the better administration of Justice within the same; for appropriating to certain Uses the Revenues and Profits of the said Company; and for making Provision for the good Order and Government of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay;" it is enacted, that the whole civil and military Government of the presidency of Fort Saint George, on the coast of Coromandel, and the ordering, management, and government of all the territorial acquisitions and revenues on the said coast, and also so much and such parts of the territories and possessions on the coast of Orissa, with the revenues of the same, as had been and then were under the administration of the government or presidency of Fort Saint George, should be and were thereby vested in a Governor and three Counsellors of and for the said presidency of Fort Saint George, subject to such rules, regulations, and restrictions, as were therein mentioned: and that the whole civil and military government of the presidency and island of Bombay, on the coast of Malabar, and the ordering, management, and government of all the territorial acquisitions and revenues on the said coast of Malabar, should be and were thereby vested in a Governor and three Counsellors of and for the said presidency and island of Bombay, subject to the provision therein mentioned: may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from and after the passing of this Act, it shall and may be lawful for the Court of Directors of the said Company for the time being, to declare and appoint what part or parts of the said territorial acquisitions, or of any other now subject to the government of the said presidency of Fort Saint George, or the said presidency of Bombay, together with the revenues arising therefrom, and the establishment of civil servants connected therewith respectively, shall from thenceforth hereafter be subject to the government of either and which of the said presidencies, or of the presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and from time to time, as occasion may require, to revoke and alter in the whole or in part such appointment, and to make such new distribution of the same as to them shall seem fit and expedient, subject nevertheless, in all cases, to the superintendence, direction, and control of the Commissioners for the affairs of India, in like manner as any acts or orders of the said Court of Directors are now by law subject; and all such territorial acquisitions, and the revenues arising therefrom, and the establishment of civil servants connected therewith, shall, from and after the time, and subject as to such time to the conditions and limitations to be by the said Court of Directors limited and appointed for such purposes respectively, be to all intents and purposes whatsoever annexed to and made subject to such presidency, and to the Court or Courts of Judicature established, or to be established, therein respectively.

Letters Patent of G. 2, dated the 8th of January, in the 21st of his reign.

37 G. 3, c. 142, recited.

13 G. 3, c. 63.

His Majesty may establish a Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, to consist of the like number of persons, &c. as the Supreme Court at Fort William.

II. And whereas his late Majesty King George the Second did, by his Letters Patent, bearing date at Westminster the eighth day of January in the twenty-first year of his reign, grant unto the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, his royal Charter, thereby amongst other things constituting and establishing Courts of Civil, Criminal, and Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction at the United Company's respective settlements at Madraspatnam, Bombay, or the island of Bombay, and Fort William in Bengal: and whereas the said Charter, in so far as it respects the administration of justice at Madras, has been altered and changed, by virtue of an Act passed in the thirty-seventh year of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for the better Administration of Justice at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay; and for preventing British Subjects from being concerned in Loans to the Native Princes in India:" and whereas the said Charter, so far as it respects the administration of justice at Fort William in Bengal, has also been altered and changed, by virtue of an Act passed in the thirteenth year of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe," and by divers subsequent statutes: and whereas it may be expedient for the better administration of justice in the said settlement of Madras, that a Supreme Court of Judicature should be established at Madras, in the same form, and with the same powers and authorities, as that now subsisting, by virtue of the several Acts before-mentioned, at Fort William in Bengal: be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for his Majesty, his heirs and successors, by Charter or Letters Patent under the Great Seal of Great Britain, to erect and establish a Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras aforesaid, to consist of such and the like number of persons, (1) to be named from time to time by his Majesty, his heirs and successors, with full power to exercise such civil, criminal, Admiralty, and ecclesiastical jurisdictions, both as to natives and British subjects, and to be invested with such power and authorities, privileges and immunities, for the better administration of the same, and subject to the same limitations, restrictions, and control within the said Fort Saint George, and town of Madras, and the limits thereof, and the factories subordinate thereto, and within the territories which now are or hereafter may be subject to or dependant upon the said Government of Madras, as the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, by virtue of any law now in force and unrepealed, or by this present Act, doth consist of, is invested with, or subject to, within the said Fort William, or the kingdoms or provinces of Bengal, Bahar, and Orissa.

(1) [A Chief Justice and two Puisne Judges. Vide 37 Geo. 3, cap. 142, sec. 1.]

III. Provided always, that the Governor and Council at Madras, and the Governor-general of Fort William aforesaid, shall enjoy the same exemption, and no other, from the authority of the said Supreme Court of Judicature to be there erected, as is enjoyed by the said Governor-general and Council at Fort William aforesaid, from the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Judicature there already by law established.

How far the Governor and Council at Madras, and the Governor-general of Fort William shall be exempted from the authority of the Court to be erected.

IV. And be it further enacted, that if his Majesty, his heirs or successors, shall grant such Charter as aforesaid, and erect such Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras as aforesaid, all the records, muniments, and proceedings whatsoever, of and belonging to the late Mayor's Court at Madras, or to the late Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, which were, by the said Act passed in the thirty-seventh year of his present Majesty, directed to be delivered over, preserved, and deposited to the new Courts, erected by virtue of the said Act; and all the records, muniments, and proceedings whatsoever, of and belonging to any of the said new Courts, shall, from and immediately after such Supreme Court of Judicature as his Majesty is hereby empowered to erect shall be established at Madras, be delivered over to be preserved and deposited for safe custody in the said new Court of Judicature; to which all parties concerned shall and may have resort and recourse upon application to the said Court.

If his Majesty shall erect a Supreme Court at Madras, the records directed by recited Act of 37 G. 3, to be delivered over to the new Courts, and those belonging thereto shall be delivered over to the Supreme Court.

V. And be it further enacted, that so much of the Charter granted by his present Majesty, for erecting the Courts of the Recorder of Madras and Bombay, as relates to the appointment of such Recorder, and the erecting of such Courts of Judicature at Madras, in case a new Charter shall be granted by his Majesty, his heirs or successors, and shall be openly published at Madras, from and immediately after such publication, shall cease and determine, and be absolutely void to all intents and purposes whatsoever; and all powers and authorities granted by the said Act of the thirty-seventh of his present Majesty to the said Courts of the Recorder at Madras, shall cease and determine, and be no longer exercised by the said Court, but the same shall and may be exercised by the Supreme Court of Judicature to be erected by virtue of this Act, in the manner and to the extent herein-before directed.

So much of the Charter of his present Majesty for erecting the Courts of Recorder at Madras, as relates to the appointment of a Recorder, &c. If a new Charter be granted, shall be void, and the powers granted by recited Act of 37 G. 3, may be exercised by the Supreme Court.

Section 6 prescribes the salaries to be paid to the Chief Justice and Judges, but these are now regulated by 6 Geo. 4, cap. 85, sec. 1.

VII. And be it further enacted, that the said salaries shall commence and take place in respect to such persons who shall be resident in Great Britain at the time of their appointment, upon and from the day on which such persons shall embark from Great Britain, (1) and that the salaries of all such persons, who shall at the time of their appointment be resident in India, shall commence and take place from and after their respectively taking upon them the execution of their office as aforesaid; and that all such salaries shall be in lieu of all fees of office, perquisites, emoluments, and advantages whatsoever, and that no fees of office, perquisites, emoluments, or advantages whatsoever shall be accepted, received, or taken in any manner, or on any account or pretence whatsoever, other than such salaries and allowances as are in and by this Act directed to be paid.

The salaries of the Judges of the Supreme Courts, and of the Recorder of Bombay, to cease on their leaving India.

IX. Provided always, and be it hereby further enacted, that when either of the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William, or of the Supreme Court of Judicature which his Majesty is hereby empowered to erect at Madras, or the Recorder of Bombay (1), shall respectively leave India, the salary now payable, or which may become payable under and by virtue of this Act, to any such Judge or Recorder respectively, shall cease and be no longer paid; any thing herein or in any former Act or Acts contained to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding.

(1) [There is now no Recorder of Bombay, a Supreme Court, resembling those previously erected at Fort William and Fort St. George, having been established at Bombay, under 4 Geo. 4, cap. 71.]

If the Governor-general of Fort William or the Governor of Fort St. George, or of Bombay, shall signify his intended absence from the Council, the senior member present shall preside; but no act of such Council shall be valid, unless signed by the Governor-general, or Governor respectively, if resident at the Presidency, and not prevented by indisposition; and if not so prevented, and he shall refuse to sign, he, and the members who shall have signed, shall mutually communicate the grounds of their opinions as directed by recited Act of 33 G. 3, where he shall when present dissent from the Council.

XII. And be it further enacted, that if the Governor-general of Fort William in Bengal for the time being, or the Governor of the said Presidency of Fort Saint George, and of the said Presidency and island of Bombay respectively for the time being, shall happen to be absent from any Council to be assembled for the said respective Presidencies of Fort William and Fort Saint George, and the said Presidency and island of Bombay, owing to indisposition or any other cause whatsoever, and shall signify such his intended absence to such Council so to be assembled, then and in every such case the senior member for the time being who shall be present at the Council so assembled, shall preside at such Council, in such manner, and with such full powers and authorities, during the time that such Council shall continue to be assembled, as such Governor-general or Governor might or would have had in case such Governor-general or Governor were himself actually present at such Council: provided nevertheless, that no act of any Council so held shall be valid to any effect whatsoever, unless the same shall be signed by such Governor-general or Governor respectively, if such Governor-general or Governor shall at the time be resident at the Presidency at which such Council shall be so assembled, and shall not be prevented by such indisposition from signing the same: provided always, that in case such Governor-general or Governor, not being so prevented as aforesaid, shall decline or refuse to sign such act of Council, he and the several Members of the Council who shall have signed the same, shall mutually exchange with and communicate in writing to each other the grounds and reasons of their respective opinions, in like manner and subject to such regulations and ultimate responsibility of such Governor-general or Governor respectively, as are by the said Act, passed in the thirty-third year of the reign of his present Majesty, (1) provided and directed, in cases where such Governor-general or Governor respectively shall, when present, dissent from any measure proposed or agitated in such Council respectively: provided also, that nothing herein contained shall be taken or construed to prevent such Governor-general, in case he shall be absent from his own Government of Bengal, to nominate a Vice-president and Deputy-governor of Fort William, according to the provision for that purpose in the said Act passed in the thirty-third year of his present Majesty. (2)

The Governor-general, when absent, may nominate a Vice-president and Deputy-governor of Fort William.

XVII. And whereas great inconveniences have resulted from the manner in which the Courts of Requests for the recovery of small debts in the respective settlements of Fort William and Fort Saint George are constituted; be it therefore further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Governor-general and Council of Fort William, and for the Governor and Council of Fort Saint George (1) aforesaid, for the time being respectively, to order and appoint in what manner the said Courts respectively shall in future be formed, and to what amount in value, not exceeding the sum of four hundred sicca rupees, the jurisdiction of the same shall extend, and to frame and make such new rules and orders, and to establish and declare such new modes and forms of proceeding, as to them shall appear to be necessary and expedient for new-modelling, altering, and reforming the present constitution and practice of the said Courts respectively, and by their proclamation, to be made and published in due form of law, to declare and notify to all persons concerned, such new constitution, rules, orders, modes, and forms of proceeding, and the time from whence they are to have force and effect; and from and after such time as shall be so respectively notified for that purpose, the present Courts of Requests, as well as the rules, orders, modes, and forms of proceeding which are now used and observed therein, shall be abolished and cease, and thenceforth the new Court, rules, orders, modes, and forms of proceeding which the said Governor-general and Council are authorized and empowered, under and by virtue of this Act, to make and publish, shall be in full force and effect; any former Act or Acts to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding.

The Governor-general and Council of Fort William, and the Governor and Council of Fort St. George, may order in what manner the Courts of Requests shall in future be formed, and to what amount the jurisdiction shall extend, &c.

(1) [The Government of Fort St. George has no longer any legislative power in ordinary circumstances. Vide 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 59.]

XVIII. And whereas the powers given by the Act of the thirteenth year of his present Majesty to the Governor-general and Council of the said United Company's settlement at Fort William aforesaid, to enforce the observance of such rules, ordinances, or regulations, for the good order and civil government of the said settlement, and other factories and places subordinate to or to be subordinate thereto, as they are thereby authorized to make, by setting, imposing, and levying reasonable fines and forfeitures for the breach or non-observance of such rules, ordinances, and regulations, have not been found sufficient for the preservation of good order in the said settlement; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Governor-general and Council for the time being, in addition to, or instead of, such fines and forfeitures as above mentioned, to order or appoint such moderate and reasonable corporal punishment, by public or private whipping, or otherwise, as to them shall seem fit and expedient, for the breach or non-observance of any such rules heretofore made, or hereafter to be by them made, by virtue of the authority herein-before recited, subject nevertheless to such registry, (1) publication, approbation, power of appeal, and other regulations, as in and by the said recited Act, passed in the thirteenth year of his present Majesty, are prescribed and provided touching the rules, ordinances, regulations, fines, and forfeitures therein and herein-before mentioned.

The Governor-general and Council at Fort William may order corporal punishment for breach of rules, made under authority of the recited Act of 13 G. 3.

(1) [By 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 45, no registry or publication in any Court of Justice is necessary.]

No corporal punishment to be ordered, except on conviction before two Justices.

No conviction to be reviewed.

XIX. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that no such corporal punishment shall in any case be ordered to be inflicted, except only in case of due conviction of the offender before two (1) Justices of the Peace acting in and for the said settlement, presidencies, and places thereto subordinate, which offence such two (1) Justices of the Peace are hereby authorized and empowered to hear and determine, and to order such punishment upon conviction as aforesaid: provided also, that no such conviction, judgment, or order, shall be reviewed or brought into any superior Court by writ of certiorari or appeal, or any other process whatsoever; any thing in any former Act or Acts to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding.

(1) [Vide Acts of Government of India, Nos. 4 of 1835, and 32 of 1838, in Appendix.]

From March 1, 1801, the power of the Supreme Court of Judicature of Fort William shall extend over the province of Benares, and all places subordinate thereto, and all districts hereafter annexed to the Presidency.

XX. And whereas the province or district of Benares has been ceded to the said United Company, and been annexed to the said Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, since the establishment of the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William aforesaid, and it is expedient that the same should be subject to the jurisdiction of the said Court, in like manner as the kingdoms or provinces of Bengal, Bahar, and Orissa; and that the said province or district, and all other provinces or districts, which may hereafter be at any time annexed and made subject to the said Presidency, should be subject to such regulations as the Governor-general and Council of Fort William aforesaid have framed or may frame for the better administration of justice among the native inhabitants and others within the same respectively; be it therefore further enacted, that, from and after the first day of March which will be in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and one, the power and authority of the said Supreme Court of Judicature in and for the said Presidency of Fort William aforesaid, as now and by virtue of this Act established, and all such regulations as have been or may be hereafter, according to the powers and authorities, and subject to the provisions and restrictions before enacted, framed, and provided, shall extend to and over the said province or district of Benares, and to and over all the factories, districts, and places, which now are or hereafter shall be made subordinate thereto, and to and over all such provinces and districts as may at any time hereafter be annexed and made subject to the said Presidency of Fort William aforesaid.

From March 1, 1801, whenever any British subject shall die within either of the Presidencies or subordinate territories, and no next of kin or creditor shall appear, the register of the Ecclesiastical Court shall apply for letters of administration, and shall collect the assets of the deceased, and bring them into Court, and account for them.

XXI. And whereas great inconveniences have arisen from the practice of granting letters of administration by the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William aforesaid, in cases where the next of kin, or any of the creditors of the deceased, do not apply for the same, to persons calling themselves friends of the deceased; be it therefore further enacted, that, from and after the first day of March which will be in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and one, whenever any British subject shall die intestate within either of the Presidencies of Fort William, Fort St. George, or Bombay, or the territories subordinate to either of the said Presidencies, or to become subordinate thereto, and on return of the citation to be issued from the proper Ecclesiastical Court, no next of kin or creditor shall appear and make out their claim to the administration of the effects of the intestate deceased to the satisfaction of the said Court, it shall and may be lawful for the register of such Court respectively, and he is hereby required, to apply for, and such Court is hereby required and directed to grant such letters ad colligenda or of administration, as to such Court shall seem meet, by virtue whereof such register shall collect the assets of the deceased, and shall bring them for safe custody into such Court, and account for them regularly, in like manner as is now by law provided in cases where assets are vested in the hands of any officer of the Court, under or by virtue of the equitable jurisdiction of any such Court. (1)

(1) [The 55 Geo. 3, cap. 84, sec. 2, provides for granting administration to attornies of absent executors, administrators, or persons entitled to administration in preference to the register.]

XXII. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that when any next of kin or creditor, who, at the time of the return of the above citation, shall have been absent in Europe or elsewhere, shall make and establish their claim to the administration of the assets of such intestate, the letters ad colligenda or of administration, granted by virtue of this Act to the said register, shall be recalled, and administration in due form granted to such next of kin or creditor respectively. (1)

When any next of kin or creditor, who shall have been absent, shall make out his claim, the letters of administration to the register shall be recalled, and letters granted to the claimant.

(1) [The 55 Geo. 3, cap. 84, sec. 3, directs the revocation of letters of administration granted to the register, on the application of appointed attornies, where no unreasonable delay takes place.

The same Act (sec. 5) provides for the keeping, inspection, and publication of accounts of estates to which the register has administered.]

Section 23 provides for extending to insolvent debtors in India the relief intended by 32 Geo. 2, cap. 28, commonly called the Lords' Act, but by 1 & 2 Vic. cap. 110, sec. 119, no prisoner for debt is to petition any Court for his discharge under the Lords' Act, nor is any creditor to petition any Court for the exercise of the compulsory powers of that Act against debtors. Section 24 ratifies any rules and orders previously made by the Court for the relief of insolvents, and confirms the acts done under them.

XXV. And whereas it may be expedient for his Majesty, his heirs or successors, to issue a Commission from his High Court of Admiralty in England, for the trial and adjudication of prize causes, and other maritime questions arising in India; be it therefore further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for his Majesty, his heirs and successors, to nominate and appoint all or any of the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William aforesaid, or of the Supreme Court of Judicature to be erected as aforesaid at Madras, or the Court of the Recorder at Bombay, either alone or jointly with any other persons to be named in such Commission, to be Commissioners for the purpose of carrying such Commission so to be issued as aforesaid into execution: any Act or Acts to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding.

Whereas persons holding and exercising public employments out of Great Britain often escape punishment for offences committed by them, for want of Courts having a sufficient jurisdiction, in or by reason of their departing from the country or place where such offences have been committed, and that such persons cannot be tried in Great Britain for such offences as the law now stands, inasmuch as such offences cannot be laid to have been committed within the body of any county: and whereas it is therefore expedient that such and the like provisions as are contained in an Act passed in the eleventh and twelfth years of the reign of his late Majesty King William the Third, intituled, "An Act to punish Governors of Plantations of this Kingdom for Crimes by them committed in the Plantations," and in an Act passed in the thirteenth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe," and in an Act passed in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for the better Regulation and Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, and of the British Possessions in India, and for establishing a Court of Judicature for the more speedy and effectual trial of Persons accused of Offences committed in the East-Indies," should be extended and applied to the punishment of such offenders: may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that, from and after the passing of this Act, if any person who now is, or heretofore has been, or shall hereafter be employed by or in the service of his Majesty, his heirs or successors, in any civil or military station, office, or capacity out of Great Britain, or shall heretofore have had, held, or exercised, or now has, holds, or exercises, or shall hereafter have, hold, or exercise any public station, office, capacity, or employment, out of Great Britain, shall have committed, or shall commit, or shall have heretofore been, or is, or shall hereafter be guilty of any crime, misdemeanour, or offence, in the execution, or under colour, or in the exercise of any such station, office, capacity, or employment as aforesaid, every such crime, offence, or misdemeanour may be prosecuted or inquired of, and heard and determined in his Majesty's Court of King's Bench here in England, either upon an information exhibited by his Majesty's Attorney-general, or upon an indictment found, in which information or indictment such crime, offence, or misdemeanour may be laid and charged to have been committed in the county of Middlesex, and all such persons so offending, and also all persons tried under any of the provisions of the said recited Act, passed in the reign of King William as aforesaid, or this Act, or either of them, for any offence, crime, or misdemeanour, and not having been before tried for the same out of Great Britain, shall, on conviction, be liable to such punishment as may, by any law or laws now in force, or any Offences committed by persons employed in any public service abroad may be prosecuted in the Court of King's Bench in England, and may be laid in Middlesex, and the offenders punished as if the offences had been committed in England.

II. And be it further enacted, that in all cases of indictments found or informations exhibited under and by virtue of this Act, it shall be lawful for his Majesty's said Court of King's Bench, upon motion to be made, and such notice thereof as to the said Court of King's Bench may appear to be sufficient, by or on behalf of his Majesty's Attorney-general or other prosecutor, or of the defendant or defendants, to award at the discretion of the said Court a writ or writs of mandamus to any Chief Justice and Judges, or any Chief Justice or other Judge, singly for the time being, of any Court or Courts of Judicature in the country or island, or near to the place where the crime, offence, or misdemeanor shall be charged in such indictment or information to have been committed, or to any Governor or Lieutenant-governor, or other person having any chief authority in such country, island, or place, or to any other person or persons residing there, as the case may require, and as to the said Court of King's Bench may, under all the circumstances of the case, seem most expedient, for the purpose of obtaining and receiving proofs concerning the matters charged in any such indictment or information; and the person or persons to whom such writ or writs shall be directed and sent, are hereby respectively authorized and required to hold a Court, Session, or Meeting, with all convenient speed, for the examination of witnesses and receiving other proofs concerning the matters charged in such indictment or information respectively; and in the mean time to cause public notice to be given of the holding the said Court, Session, or Meeting, and to issue such summons or other process as may be requisite for the attendance of witnesses, and to adjourn from time to time as occasion may require; and such examination or examinations shall be then and there openly and publicly taken, viva voce, in the said Court, Session, or Meeting, upon questions put by any such prosecutor or prosecutors, defendant or defendants, or any agent or agents, person or persons on behalf of the said Attorney-general or other prosecutor or prosecutors, and defendant or defendants respectively, if any such shall attend for that purpose, and by the Court, person or persons to whom such writ shall be directed and sent as aforesaid, upon the respective oaths of witnesses, and the oaths of skilful interpreters if necessary, administered according to the forms of their several religions, and shall, by some officer or person sworn for that purpose, be reduced into writing on parchment or paper; and in case any duplicate or duplicates shall be required by or on behalf of the prosecutor, or the defendant or defendants respectively, into two or more writings on parchment or paper, as the case may require; and such examination or examinations shall be sent to his Majesty in his Court of King's Bench closed up, and under the seal or seals of the person or persons before whom such examination or examinations as aforesaid shall have been taken; and the person or persons taking such examination or examinations as aforesaid shall deliver the same to any person or persons appointed by the said Court of King's Bench to receive the same, or shall transmit the same in such manner as the said Court of King's Bench shall direct; and all such examinations shall, with all convenient speed, be delivered to one of the clerks in Court of his Majesty's Court of King's Bench, in the Crown Office of the said Court, for the safe custody thereof; and every clerk in the said Court of King's Bench, to whom any examination or examinations shall be delivered, is hereby authorized to administer an oath to the person delivering the same to him, in such form as the said Court of King's Bench shall direct; and such examination or examinations shall be allowed and read upon the trial of any such indictment, or information, or any

The Court of King's Bench, on motion, may award a writ of mandamus to any Court of judicature, or the Governor, &c. of the country where the offence was committed, to obtain proofs of the matters charged in the indictment, which shall be done by viva voce evidence, and the same shall be transmitted to the Court of King's Bench, and admitted on the trial, &c.

Court of King's Bench may order an examination de bene esse, in cases where viva voce evidence cannot be had.

III. And be it further enacted, that it shall also be lawful for the said Court of King's Bench upon motion to be made, and such notice thereof as aforesaid, by or on behalf of his Majesty's Attorney-general, or other prosecutor, or defendant or defendants in any such indictment or information, to order an examination de bene esse of witnesses upon interrogatories, in any case where the viva voce testimony of such witnesses cannot conveniently be had, to be taken before an examiner to be appointed by the said Court, and the depositions taken upon such interrogatories shall be afterwards admitted to be read in evidence upon the trial of such indictment or information, or in any other subsequent proceeding thereon or relating thereto, and shall be deemed good and sufficient evidence in the law, saving all just exceptions to be taken to such depositions when the same shall be offered to be read as aforesaid.

Persons to whom any such writ or writs of mandamus shall be directed, shall do all things necessary for the due execution thereof by compelling the appearance and giving evidence of witnesses, &c.

IV. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for any person or persons to whom any such writ or writs of mandamus shall be directed or order sent as aforesaid; and in case the same shall be directed or sent to more than one person, for so many of them as shall for that purpose be appointed by the said writ, or required by the said order, and who shall act in the execution thereof; and such person and persons is and are hereby respectively authorized and required to administer all oaths required to be taken under any of the provisions of this Act, or necessary for the due execution of any such writ or order, or any act, matter, or thing relating thereto, and to examine upon oath all persons whom he or they find occasion to summon, and all other persons whom he or they shall think fit to examine, touching all matters and things necessary for the due execution of any such writ or order as aforesaid: and such person and persons respectively, to whom such writ shall be directed, or order sent as aforesaid, or so many of them as shall in that behalf be appointed, and shall act in the execution thereof as aforesaid, shall have full power and authority to compel the appearance and giving evidence of any witness upon any such writ or order, and to issue special summons, or other process for that purpose, and may proceed upon such summons, or other process, by imprisonment of the body of any person refusing to appear or give evidence, in like manner as any Court or Courts of Record within this kingdom, having competent authority for that purpose, may proceed against any person or persons for any contempt committed against the authority of any such Court.

Oaths to be taken as in Schedule.

Whereas an Act passed in the thirty-ninth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for the better recruiting the Forces of the East-India Company;" and whereas an Act passed in the twenty-seventh year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Second, intituled, "An Act for punishing Mutiny and Desertion of Officers and Soldiers in the Service of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and for the punishment of Offences committed in the East-Indies or at the Island of Saint Helena:" and whereas it would tend to the more speedy recruiting of the forces of the East-India Company, if men were permitted to enlist for a limited time in the service of the said Company, without engaging to serve in his Majesty's forces; and provision must in such case be made for quartering and billeting the men so raised; and whereas it is also expedient that the provisions of the said recited Act of his late Majesty King George the Second, as to trials by regimental courts-martial, should be amended in relation to the members and witnesses being sworn, as now required on such trials in his Majesty's regular forces; be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall be lawful for his Majesty, his heirs and successors, to order and cause such of his officers as he shall see fit, to levy, enlist, and raise such number of men, either for life or limited service, as his Majesty shall from time to time think fit, not exceeding the number of men specified in the said recited Act of the thirty-ninth year of the reign of his present Majesty aforesaid, (1) for the special purpose of serving in the East-Indies in the forces of the said United Company only; and the recruits to be raised for such special purpose, instead of taking the oath of fidelity appointed to be taken by the said recited Act of the thirty-ninth year aforesaid, or by any Act in force for the punishment of mutiny and desertion, shall take the oath specified in the Schedule to this Act annexed, marked (A.); and instead of the oath of service prescribed by any Act in force for the punishing of mutiny and desertion, shall take the oath in the Schedule to this Act annexed, marked (B.); which oaths shall be administered by all justices of the peace and magistrates before whom any such recruits shall be carried for the purpose of being attested; and the certificate given upon such attestation shall be in the form in the Schedule to this Act annexed, marked (C.). (1) [See note on 28 Geo. 3, cap. 8, sec. 2.]

(2) [By 3 & 4 Vict. cap. 6, (the Annual Mutiny Act), the oaths therein prescribed, are, during the continuance of that Act, to be administered and no other. These as well as the form of certificate directed to be given by the attesting Justice, will be found in their proper place in this volume.]

II. And be it further enacted, that all soldiers enlisted into the service of the said United Comany of Merchants shall be trained and disciplined and subject to such command and regulations, and at all times and until their embarkation be subject to all the provisions of any Act in force for the punishment or mutiny and desertion, and the better payment of the army and their quarters, and after their embarkation, to the provisions of the said recited Act of the twenty-seventh year aforesaid, (1) in like manner as is prescribed in the said recited Act of the thirty-ninth year aforesaid; and all the powers, authorities, provisions, clauses, rules, regulations and restrictions, penalties and forfeitures, contained and prescribed in the said recited Act of the thirty-ninth year aforesaid, shall extend and be in full force as to all soldiers enlisted under and after the passing of this Act into the service of the said United Company of Merchants, as fully and effectually, as if the same were severally and respectively repeated and re-enacted in this Act and made part thereof.

Soldiers to be subject to the Mutiny Act till their embarkation, then to be subject to the recited Act of 27 G. 2, c. 9.

(1) [The 27 Geo. 2, cap. 9, here referred to, was repealed by 4 Geo. 4, cap. 81. The laws for punishing mutiny and desertion of officers and soldiers in the service of the East-India Company are now consolidated in 3 & 4 Vict. cap. 37.]

III. And be it further enacted, that all the powers, authorities, provisions, clauses, rules, regulations, and restrictions, and penalties, and forfeitures, contained and prescribed in any Act or Acts of Parliament in force for the time being, in relation to the quartering and billeting and provisioning of, and allowances in respect of such quartering and billeting of soldiers and officers in his Majesty's service, and to the providing of carriages for the use of soldiers, shall, from and after the passing of this Act, extend to all soldiers enlisted for or transferred into the service of the said United Company of Merchants, as fully and effectually as if the same were severally and separately repeated and re-enacted in this Act, and made part thereof; any thing in the said Act of the thirty-ninth year aforesaid, or any other Act or Acts of Parliament to the contrary notwithstanding.

Powers of Acts relating to quartering, &c. to extend to this Act.

IV. And whereas it is expedient to allow men to enlist in the service of the said United Company for twelve years; be it therefore enacted, that it shall be lawful for any person enlisting for limited service in the service of the said United Company, to enlist for twelve years, if at the time of such enlisting he shall be of the age of eighteen years and upwards, and if he shall be under eighteen years of age, then for such further period beyond twelve years as shall be equal to the difference between eighteen years and the age of the person so enlisting.

Men may enlist for twelve years, &c.

V. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for all persons who shall have been enlisted for limited service in the forces of the said United Company, after the expiration of the first period for which they shall have been severally enlisted, to re-enlist for such further period as shall be allowed and appointed by any order of the Governor-general in Council in Bengal.

After the expiration of the first period the men may re-enlist.

His Majesty may direct the manner of trials by courts-martial.

VII. And be it further enacted, that all regimental and garrison and other courts-martial which shall be held for the trial of any offences committed by the troops in the service of the said United Company, shall have full power and are hereby authorized and required to take and administer such oaths, and to proceed in such manner in the trial of offences, as his Majesty shall from time to time think fit to order and direct.

51 GEORGE III. Cap. LXIV.

AN ACT to enable the East-India Company to raise a further Sum of Money upon Bond, instead of increasing their Capital Stock; and to alter and amend an Act, passed in the Forty-seventh Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, relative thereto.
[10th June, 1811.]

37 G. 3, c. 31.

Whereas by an Act made in the thirty-seventh year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act to enable the East-India Company to raise Money for further increasing their Capital Stock, and to extend the Provisions now existing respecting the present Stock of the Company to the said increased Stock," after reciting, that the affairs of the United Company of Merchants of England required a permanent advance of a considerable sum of money, beyond what the said Company could raise under the powers then vested in them by law, the said United Company are authorized and empowered to raise money by enlarging their then capital stock or fund of six millions of pounds, to any sum or sums not exceeding the further sum of two millions capital stock, so that their whole capital stock should not exceed the capital sum of eight millions; and whereas by an Act made in the forty-seventh year of the reign of his said Majesty, intituled, "An Act to enable the East-India Company to raise Money upon Bond, instead of increasing their Capital Stock," the said Company are authorized to borrow, upon bonds to be issued under their common seal, any sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of two millions sterling, over and above such sum and sums of money as the said Company could then lawfully raise on their bonds, and to apply the money so to be borrowed and raised, for such purposes as under and by virtue of the said Act of the thirty-seventh year of the reign of his said Majesty, the money to be raised by enlarging the capital stock of the said Company was applicable; and by the said Act of the forty-seventh year of the reign of his said Majesty, it is provided, that when the said Company should have raised any part of the money which they were thereby authorized to raise by bond, then and so long as such further bond debt, or any part thereof, should continue, all the money thereafter to be raised by enlarging the capital stock of the said United Company, under and by virtue of the said Act passed in the thirty-seventh year of the reign of his said Majesty, should be applied towards the reduction of the bond debt of the said United Company, until it should be reduced to the sum which the said Company might then lawfully raise by bond; and in case the said Company should enlarge their capital stock, under and by virtue of the said Act passed in the thirty-seventh year of the reign of his present Majesty, before they should have increased their bond debt under the authority of the Act now in recital, that then the sum which they were thereby empowered to raise on bond, should be reduced by the sum of two hundred pounds sterling, in respect of every one hundred pounds capital stock so enlarged, and so on in proportion for a greater or less amount of capital stock which should have been created: and whereas a considerable part of the debt secured by the engagement of the said Company in the East-Indies, and which was incurred by reason of territorial and political expenses in that country, has lately been discharged in India, by means of bills drawn by the Governments of the said Company in the East-Indies upon their Court of Directors in London; and thereby it has become necessary for the said Company to provide in this country a much larger sum of money than in the ordinary course of their transactions can arise from the sales of their goods and the ordinary receipts and means of the said Company; and whereas the said United Company have not yet increased their capital stock, under and by virtue of the powers contained in the said first-mentioned Act; and it is expedient that the power of the said United Company to raise money upon their bonds should be enlarged, so that they may be enabled either to raise a further sum by bond, or by increase of their capital stock; and therefore that the provisions in the said last-recited Act, as to the application of the money to be raised by increasing the capital stock of the said Company, and as to the reduction of the power of the said Company to increase their bond-debt in a certain case, should be repealed, and that other provisions should be made in respect thereof; may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Company, by and with the approbation and consent of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India for the time being, at any time or times hereafter, to borrow upon bonds to be issued under their common seal, any further sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of two millions sterling, over and above such sum and sums as the said Company can now lawfully raise on their bonds, and to apply the money so to be borrowed and raised for such purposes, as under and by virtue of the said Act of the thirty-seventh year of the reign of his said Majesty, the money to be raised by enlarging the capital stock of the said Company is applicable; any thing contained in the said recited Act or any other Act notwithstanding.

47 G. 3, c. 41.

Enabling the Company to borrow a further sum of money upon bonds.

II. And be it further enacted, that so much of the said Act of the forty-seventh year of the reign of his present Majesty, as provides that all the money to be raised by enlarging the capital stock of the said Company as therein mentioned, should be applied towards the reduction of the bond debt of the said United Company, until it should be so reduced to the sum which the said Company might then lawfully raise by bond, and as provides that in case the said Company should enlarge their capital stock, then that the sum which they were thereby empowered to raise by bond should be reduced, shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

Repealing part of 47 G. 3. c. 41.

III. Provided always, and be it enacted, that when the said United Company shall have raised under and by virtue of the said Act of the thirty-seventh year of the reign of his present Majesty, and of the said Act of the forty-seventh year of the reign of his present Majesty, and of this Act, such sums of money as together shall amount to the sum of four millions sterling, then and from thenceforth it shall not be lawful for the said Company to raise any further sum of money upon bond; and all money which from thenceforth shall be raised by increase of capital stock, under and by virtue of the said first-mentioned Act, shall be applied in discharge of the said bond debt, until the said bond debt, created by virtue of the said Act of the forty-seventh year of the reign of his Majesty, or this Act, together with the money to be raised by increase of capital as aforesaid, shall be reduced to the sum of four millions sterling.

After raising £4,000,000, Company restrained from raising further money on bond.

Bonds issued by the Company under their common seal shall be transferable, &c.

IV. And whereas bonds issued under the common seal of the said United Company, for money borrowed by them by virtue of the powers enabling them to borrow money upon bond, have usually been entered into, and have been expressed to have been made payable to the person who for the time being has been the treasurer of the said United Company, or his assigns, and upon his indorsement thereof they have been sold and passed from one person to another, by delivery of the possession thereof; and it is expedient that a legal effect should be given to such mode of transfer of the property in the said bonds, and the money secured thereby; be it therefore further enacted, that all bonds issued, or to be issued, under the common seal of the said United Company, by virtue of any power by which they have been, are, or hereafter may be authorized to borrow money upon their bonds, shall be assignable and transferable by delivery of the possession thereof; and upon every such assignment or transfer, the money secured by the bond so assigned or transferred, and due, and to become due thereon, and the property in such bond, shall be absolutely vested, as well at law as in equity, in the person or persons, body or bodies politic and corporate, to whom the same shall be so assigned or transferred, and the person or persons, body or bodies politic and corporate, to whom any such bond shall be so assigned and transferred, and his, her, and their executors, administrators, and successors respectively, shall and may maintain, his, her, or their action for the principal and interest secured thereby, and due thereon, or otherwise relating thereto, in like manner as the obligee or obligees named in any such bond, or his, her, or their executors, administrators, or successors, may now maintain any action thereon; and in every such action the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall recover his, her, or their debts, damages, and costs of suit; and if any such plaintiff or plaintiffs shall be nonsuited, or a verdict be given against him, her, or them, the defendant or defendants shall recover his, her, or their costs against the plaintiff or plaintiffs, and every such plaintiff or plaintiffs, defendant or defendants, respectively recovering, may sue out execution for such debt, damages, and costs by capias, fieri facias, or elegit.

Public Act.

V. And be it further enacted, that this Act shall be deemed and taken to be a public Act and shall be judicially taken notice of as such by all judges, justices, and others, without being specially pleaded.

For other enactments respecting the bond debt, see note on 34 Geo. 3, cap. 41.

51 GEORGII III. Cap. LXXV.

AN ACT for making further Provision for the Payment of Salaries and other Charges in the office of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India; and for enabling the East-India Company to restore to the Service of the said Company Military Officers, removed therefrom by Sentences of Courts-Martial; and to authorize the said Company in cases of unforeseen emergency, to take up Ships by private Contract. [15th June, 1811.]

Whereas by an Act passed in the thirty-third year of the reign of his present Majesty, intitled, “ An Act for continuing in the East-India Company, for a further term, the Possession of the British Territories in India, together with their exclusive Trade, under certain Limitations; for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the said Territories, and the better Administration of Justice within the same; for appropriating to certain Uses the Revenues and Profits of the said Company; and for making Provision for the good Order and Government of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay,” it was among other things enacted, that it should be lawful for his Majesty, his heirs or successors, by any Letters Patent, or by any commission or commissions, to be issued under the great seal of Great Britain from time to time to nominate, constitute, and appoint, during his or their pleasure, such members of the Privy Council (of whom the two principal Secretaries of State and the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the time being should always be three), and such other two persons as his Majesty, his heirs, or successors, should think fit, to be, and who should accordingly be and be styled Commissioners for the affairs of India; and it was in and by the said Act also enacted, that the said Board of Commissioners should and might nominate and appoint such secretaries and officers as should be necessary to attend upon the said Board, who should be subject to dismissal at the pleasure of the said Board; and that as well the said Commissioners, or such and so many of them as his Majesty should think fit, as likewise their secretaries and other officers, should be paid such fixed salaries as his Majesty should by any warrant or warrants under his sign manual, countersigned by the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the time being, direct; all which salaries, together with all other contingent charges and expenses to be incurred by the said Board, should be paid and defrayed quarterly by the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and be deemed and taken as part of their commercial charges, the quarterly amount thereof being first settled and allowed by the said Board, and certified by the president or acting president of the said Board for the time being, to the Court of Directors of the said Company; provided that the whole of the salaries to be paid to the members of the said Board should not exceed the sum of five thousand pounds in any one year; and that the whole of the salaries, charges, and expenses of the said Board, exclusive of the salaries of the members of the said Board, should not exceed the sum of eleven thousand pounds in any one year; and whereas it is reasonable that a more ample allowance should be made for the said salaries, charges, and expenses: be it therefore enacted by the King’s most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that so much of the said Act as limits the whole of the salaries to be paid to the members of the said Board, to the sum of five thousand pounds in any one year, and the whole of the salaries, charges, and expenses of the said Board, exclusive of the salaries of the members thereof, to the sum of eleven thousand pounds in any one year, shall be, and the same is hereby repealed. (1)

(1) [For the present constitution of the Board of Commissioners, see 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, secs. 19 and 20. By section 23 two secretaries and other officers are to be appointed and paid; but no Commissioner, excepting the President, is to receive any salary in virtue of his office of Commissioner. By 53 Geo. 3, cap. 155, sec. 90, the expenses of the Board are limited to £26,000 per annum; and the 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 110, restrains the Board from increasing the amount, except for defraying the extraordinary expenses occasioned by the suspension of the Company's trade, and which are provided for by sec. 6 of the same Act.]

So much of 50 G. 3, c. 117, as directs accounts of increase and diminution of salaries, &c. to be laid before Parliament, shall extend to the office of the Commissioners for the affairs of India.

III. And be it further enacted, that so much of an Act passed in the fiftieth year of his present Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act to direct that Accounts of Increase and Diminution of Public Salaries, Pensions, and Allowances shall be annually laid before Parliament, and to regulate and control the granting and paying of such Salaries, Pensions, and Allowances," as directs that between the first day of February and the twenty-fifth day of March in every year, if Parliament shall be sitting during any part of such period; or if Parliament shall not be sitting during any part of such period, then within forty days after the commencement of the session of Parliament in such year, there shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament an account of every increase and diminution which shall have taken place within the preceding year, ending on the first day of January, in the number of persons employed in all public offices or departments, or in the salaries, emoluments, allowances, and expenses which may have taken place, or been paid, granted, received, or incurred for and in respect of all officers and persons belonging to or employed in or by, or in the service of all public offices or departments, specifying the amount and nature thereof, and distinguishing in such account every increase and diminution in the amount of all allowances or compensations granted or allowed, as retired allowances or superannuations, to any person or persons having held any office, place, or employment in any such public office or department; or having been employed in any manner in any public services under any such office or department; and specifying in every such account the time and length of service of every such person, and the amount of the salary or allowances received by such person immediately preceding such superannuation, and the nature of his services; and also specifying in every such account the grounds upon which every such increase or diminution in the establishment of any such public office or department, or of any such salary, emolument, allowance, or compensation, or superannuation as aforesaid, shall have been made, granted, or allowed, shall extend, and be construed to extend, to the office of the Commissioners for the affairs of India.

East-India Company may restore to their service military officers removed therefrom by sentences of courts-martial;

IV. And whereas it was in and by the said Act of the thirty-third year of his present Majesty's reign also enacted, that after sentence or judgment of any Court, having competent jurisdiction, whether in Great Britain or in India, against any Governor-general, Governor, President, Counsellor, or Commander-in-chief, or against any of the said United Company's servants, civil or military, for any debts or penalty due or belonging to the said United Company, or for any extortion or other misdemeanor, it should not be lawful for the said United Company, in any case whatever, to release or compound such sentence or judgment, or to restore any servant or servants of the said Company who should have been removed or dismissed from his or their office or employment, for or on account of misbehaviour, by the sentence of any of the said Courts: and whereas doubts have arisen whether military officers may be restored to the service of the said United Company, who may have been removed therefrom by sentences of courts-martial; be it therefore enacted and declared, that it was and is lawful for the Court of Directors of the said United Company, to restore to the service of the said Company any military officer who shall have been or shall be dismissed or suspended therefrom by the sentence of a court-martial.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act, no such restoration shall be in anywise valid or effectual, without the approbation and consent of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, for that purpose had and obtained.⁽¹⁾ with consent of the Board of Commissioners.

(1) [By 53 Geo. 3, cap. 155, sec. 83, the consent of the Board is rendered necessary to give effect to the restoration of any servant, civil or military, who may have been suspended or removed by any of the local Governments.]

50 G. 3, c. 87.

Whereas an Act passed in the fiftieth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend Two Acts relating to the raising Men for the Service of the East-India Company, and the quartering and billeting such Men, and to Trials by Regimental Courts-Martial:" and whereas doubts have arisen as to whether the provisions of the said Act extend to Ireland; and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed: may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it declared and enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the said Act, and all the provisions thereof shall, from the passing thereof, extend and be deemed and construed to extend to that part of the United Kingdom called Ireland, and all other the dominions and territories of his Majesty; anything in any Act or Acts to the contrary notwithstanding.

III. Provided always, and be it further enacted and declared, that nothing in this Act contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to that part of the United Kingdom called Scotland, or to that part of the United Kingdom called Ireland (except as to the forging marks as in this Act after mentioned), or to the proving of any barrels used in the manufacturing of any musket, pistol, or other fire-arms, for the use of his Majesty's forces, or for the Honourable East-India Company.

53 GEORGII III. Cap. CLV.

AN ACT for continuing in the East-India Company, for a further Term, the Possession of the British Territories in India, together with certain exclusive Privileges; for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the said Territories, and the better Administration of Justice within the same; and for regulating the Trade to and from the Places within the Limits of the said Company's Charter.
 [21st July, 1813.]

Whereas by an Act of the Parliament of Great Britain, passed in the thirty-third year of his present Majesty's reign, for continuing in the East-India Company, for a further term, the possession of the British territories in India, together with their exclusive trade, under certain limitations, and for other purposes, the possession and government of the British territories in India, together with an exclusive trade in, to, and from the East-Indies, and other the limits described in an Act made in the ninth year of the reign of King William the Third, or in a certain Charter of the fifth day of September, in the tenth year of the same King, were continued in the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, for a term thereby limited, under certain regulations and conditions; and whereas by an Act of the Parliament of Ireland, passed in the same thirty-third year of his present Majesty's reign, for regulating the trade of Ireland to and from the East-Indies under certain conditions and provisions, for a time therein mentioned, the exclusive privileges granted to the said United Company by the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain were confirmed, subject to certain conditions and restrictions; and whereas it is expedient that the territorial acquisitions mentioned in the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain of the thirty-third year of his present Majesty, together with such other territorial acquisitions on the continent of Asia, or in any islands situate to the north of the Equator, as are now in the possession and under the government of the said United Company, with the revenues thereof, should, without prejudice to the undoubted sovereignty of the Crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in and over the same, or to any claim of the said United Company to any rights, franchises, or immunities, remain in the possession and under the government of the said United Company for a further term; subject to such powers and authorities for the superintendance, direction, and control over all acts, operations, and concerns, which relate to the civil or military government or revenues of the said territories, and to such further or other powers, authorities, rules, regulations, and restrictions, as have been already made or provided by any Act or Acts of Parliament in that behalf, or are made and provided by this Act; and whereas it is expedient that from and after the tenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, the right of trading, trafficking, and adventuring in, to, and from, all ports and places within the limits of the said United Company's present Charter, save and except the dominions of the Emperor of China, should be open to all his Majesty's subjects, in common with the said United Company, subject to certain regulations and provisions; but that the existing restraints respecting the commercial intercourse with China should be continued, and the exclusive trade in tea preserved to the said Company, during the further term hereby limited: may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the territorial acquisitions mentioned in Secret Committee to take the following instead of former oath.

LXXIV. And be it further enacted, that instead of the oath by the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain, of the thirty-third year of his present Majesty, required to be taken by the several Directors who shall from time to time be appointed a Secret Committee, they shall take an oath of the tenor following; (1) that is to say,

"I, A. B., do swear, that I will, according to the best of my skill and judgment, faithfully execute the several trusts and powers reposed in me as a member of the Secret Committee, appointed by the Court of Directors of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies; I will not disclose or make known any of the secret orders or instructions which shall be given, communicated, or transmitted to the said Committee by the Commissioners for the affairs of India, nor any despatches communicated or transmitted to the said Committee by any of the Governments or Presidencies in India, which relate to the levying of war or the making of peace, or treating or negotiating with any of the native princes or states of the East-Indies, or other parts within the limits of the said Company's Charter, save only to the other members of the said Secret Committee, or to the person or persons who shall be duly nominated and employed in transcribing or preparing the same respectively, unless I shall be authorized by the said Commissioners to disclose and make known the same.

"So help me God."

(1) [In connexion with this section, see 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 35.]

New oath of secrecy to be taken by persons employed in preparing or transcribing secret despatches.

LXXV. And be it further enacted, that the Secretary of the said Court of Directors, or the Examiner of Indian Correspondence, or any other person employed by the Secret Committee, in preparing or transcribing any secret despatches, orders, or instructions, required to be transmitted by them to India, under the direction of the said Act of Parliament of Great Britain, of the thirty-third year of his Majesty's reign, or any secret despatches received from the governments or presidencies in the East-Indies or parts aforesaid, shall, before they respectively enter upon that duty, take and subscribe, before any of the members of the said Secret Committee, an oath of secrecy, as near unto the tenor and form of the oath herein-before provided and directed to be taken by the members of the said Secret Committee, as the case will admit, in such manner as by the same Act of the thirty-third year of his present Majesty is required in regard to the oath thereby directed to be taken by persons employed in preparing and transcribing secret despatches intended to be sent to India.

LXXXVI. And be it further enacted, that in the oath prescribed to be taken by the Directors of the said Company, after their election, by the said Act of Parliament of Great Britain, of the thirty-third year of his Majesty's reign, the year and title of this Act shall be inserted, instead of the year and title of the said Act of the thirty-third of his Majesty's reign.

Title of this Act to be inserted in the Director's oath.

LXXXVII. And whereas by the Charter of incorporation of the said United Company, granted under the authority of an Act passed in the ninth and tenth year of the reign of his late Majesty King William the Third, intituled, "An Act for raising a Sum not exceeding two millions, upon a Fund for Payment of Annuities, after the Rate of Eight Pounds per Centum per Annum, and for settling the Trade to the East-Indies," it is ordered and appointed, that in all cases where there shall be an equality or equal number of votes in any General Court, or in any Court of Directors to be holden as aforesaid, the matter shall be determined by lots, which the treasurer for the said Company shall cause to be prepared and drawn for that purpose: and whereas it is expedient that such mode of decision should be no longer continued; be it therefore enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act, no question in any such General Court, or Court of Directors, shall be carried otherwise than by a majority of votes; and in all cases of an equality of votes upon any question put in any such General Court or Court of Directors, such equality shall be deemed and taken to operate as a rejection of the motion or proposition on which such question shall have been so put: provided always, that nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to cases of election of any person to any office or place where there shall be more than one candidate for such office or place, but that in all such cases where there shall be an equality of votes, in favour of any two or more candidates, such election may be determined by lot, in manner directed by the said Charter; any thing herein-contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

In cases of equality of votes in General Courts or Courts of Directors, the questions to be considered as rejected, except in cases of two or more candidates for office, which are still to be determined by lot.

LXXXVIII. And be it further enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act, the Commissioners for the affairs of India, or any of the officers of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, by the order and authority of the said Board, shall not only have free access to the books, papers, letters of correspondence, evidences, and other records of the said Company, and be assisted in their searches for the same, and furnished with copies or extracts, in the manner prescribed by the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain of the thirty-third year of his Majesty's reign, but shall and may call for, and direct to be prepared, all such accounts, statements, and abstracts, relating to the affairs of the said Company as the said Board shall think fit; and the said Court of Directors shall, with all reasonable dispatch, cause to be prepared and transmitted to the said Board all such accounts, statements, and abstracts, as the said Board shall so direct to be prepared.

Board may require accounts, abstracts, and statements to be prepared by the Directors.

33 G. 3. c. 52.

LXXXIX. And whereas by the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain, of the thirty-third year of his Majesty's reign, it is enacted, that the several orders and proceedings of the Presidencies of Fort William, Fort St. George, and Bombay, should previously to their being published and put into execution, be signed by the chief secretary to the Council of the presidency, by the authority of the Governor-general in Council or Governors in Council, as the case may be; and whereas inconvenience may arise to the public service, unless some other person, besides such chief secretary, be authorized to sign such orders and proceedings; be it therefore further enacted, that all such orders and proceedings of the several governments and presidencies in the East-Indies, and parts aforesaid, shall or may previously to their being published or put in execution, be signed in manner aforesaid, either by the chief secretary to the government of the said presidency, or in the absence of such chief secretary, by the principal secretary of the department of such presidency to which such orders and proceedings relate; anything to the contrary notwithstanding. (1)

(1) [Vide Acts of Government of India, No. 2 of 1834, in Appendix.]

Vacancies of Governor, and Commanders-in-chief, to be filled up by the Court of Directors, subject to his Majesty's approbation.

LXXX. And be it further enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act, all vacancies which shall happen in the office of Governor-general of Fort William, or of Governor of either of the Company's presidencies or settlements of Fort Saint George, or Bombay, or of Governor of the forts and garrisons of Fort William, Fort Saint George, or Bombay, or of Commander-in-chief of all the forces in India, or of any provincial Commander-in-chief of the forces there, shall be filled up and supplied by the Court of Directors of the said United Company; subject nevertheless to the approbation of his Majesty, to be signified in writing under his royal sign manual, countersigned by the President of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India: provided always that nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to take away or affect the power of the said Court of Directors, to remove or recall any such Governor-general, Governor, or Commander-in-chief; but the said Court shall and may at all times have full liberty to remove, recall, and dismiss any such Governor-general, Governor, or Commander-in-chief, at their will and pleasure, in the like manner as if this Act had not been made. (1)

Not to affect the right of Directors to recall.

(1) [Vide 3 and 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, secs. 42, 58, and 75. By sec. 58 of that Act the power of the Court is extended to the newly constituted Government of Agra; but by 5 & 6 Wm. 4, cap. 52, authority was given to suspend the creation of that government, and it has accordingly been suspended.]

Vacancies in India (with exceptions) not to be supplied by the Directors without the approbation of the Board.

LXXXI. And be it further enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act it shall not be lawful for the said Court of Directors, either provisionally or otherwise, to nominate or appoint any person to succeed to any office or employment in the civil or military establishments of the said Company in the East-Indies, or parts aforesaid, without the approbation of the said Board of Commissioners, other than and except as aforesaid: provided always, that nothing herein contained shall prevent or hinder the said Court of Directors from nominating or appointing absolutely or provisionally such persons as they may think fit to the offices of member of council, general officer on the staff, advocate and attorney-general, attorney at law of the said Company, or chaplain at the several presidencies or settlements, or to any offices or employments in the civil or marine establishments of the said Company, which may be and usually have been supplied by persons not having been covenanted servants of the said Company previously to their nominations or appointments, nor to prevent the said Court of Directors from nominating or appointing writers, cadets, or assistant surgeons, in such manner as they have heretofore been used or accustomed to do.

LXXXII. And whereas a strict adherence to the provisions contained in the said Act made in the thirty-third year of his present Majesty's reign, in respect to the filling up and supplying vacancies in the civil service of the said Company has been found impracticable, without detriment to the public service, or injury to the just claims and meritorious exertions of individuals; and whereas a modification of the said Act has been in part adopted in the Act of the forty-seventh of his present Majesty, relative to the scholars educated at Hertford College; (1) be it therefore enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act, any office, place, or employment, the salary and perquisites whereof shall exceed the sum of fifteen hundred pounds, may be granted to and conferred upon the said servants who shall have been actually resident in India in the said Company's service for the space of four years at the least in the whole, antecedent to such vacancy; and if the salary, perquisites, and emoluments of any office, place, or employment, shall exceed the sum of three thousand pounds per annum, such office may be conferred upon any of the said servants who shall have been actually resident in India seven years at least in the whole; and if the salary, perquisites, and emoluments of any office, place, or employment, shall exceed four thousand pounds per annum, such office, including that of the Council, may be granted to or conferred upon any of the said servants who shall have been actually resident in India in the Company's service for the space of ten years at the least in the whole. (2)

(1) [Further modification in 10 Geo. 4, cap. 16, sec. 2.]

(2) [See, as to Members of the Council of India, 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 40.]

LXXXIII. And whereas by a certain Act, made in the fifty-first year of his Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for making further Provision for the Payment of Salaries, and other Charges in the office of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India; and for enabling the East-India Company to restore to the service of the said Company military officers removed therefrom by Sentences of Courts Martial; and to authorize the said Company, in cases of unforeseen Emergency, to take up Ships by private Contract;" it was declared and enacted, that it was lawful for the Court of Directors of the said United Company, to restore to the service of the said Company any military officer who should have been or should be dismissed or suspended therefrom by the sentence of a court-martial, provided that no such restoration should be in anyways valid or effectual, without the approbation and consent of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, for that purpose had and obtained: and whereas it is expedient that the restoration by the said Court of Directors to the service of the said Company, of such of the said Company's servants, civil and military, as shall be suspended by the authority of any of the governments or presidencies of the said Company in India, and also that the restoration to their former stations of officers civil and military, removed by the like authority, should be subject to the like approbation and consent of the said Board of Commissioners; be it therefore further enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act no restoration by the said Court of Directors, to the service of the said Company, of any servant of the said Company, civil or military, who shall have been suspended by the authority of any of the said Company's governments or presidencies in the East-Indies, or parts aforesaid; and no restoration by the said Court of Directors to his station, office, or employment in the service of the said Company of any officer of the said Company, civil or military, who shall have been removed therefrom by the like authority, shall be valid or effectual, without the approbation and consent of the said Board of Commissioners, for that purpose first had and obtained.

Provisions of 33 G. 3, c. 58; respecting the periods of service necessary for qualification of civil officers modified, viz. places of more than £1,500 per annum may be given after four years' service in India; places of more than £3,000 per annum after seven years: and places of more than £4,000 per annum (including the Council) after ten years.

Restoration of servants, civil and military, suspended or removed by the Governments abroad, not to be valid without consent of the Board.
51 G. 3, c. 75.

Certain officers may return to India, after five years' absence, with consent of the Directors and the Board, though their absence may not have been occasioned by sickness, infirmity, or inevitable accident.

LXXXIV. And whereas by the said Act of Parliament of Great Britain, of the thirty-third year of his Majesty's reign, it is enacted, that no person who shall hold a military station in the service of the said Company, being under the rank of Commander-in-chief of the forces, and who having departed from India by leave of the Governor-general in Council, or Governor in Council, shall not return to India within five years next after such departure, shall be entitled to any rank, or be capable of again serving in India, either in the European or native corps of troops, unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the said Court of Directors, and the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, that such absence was occasioned by sickness or infirmity, or some inevitable accident: and whereas inconvenience to the military service of the said Company has been found to arise, in certain cases from the said provision; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the said Court of Directors, with the approbation of the said Board of Commissioners, to permit any military officer, being of the rank of a general officer or colonel commanding a regiment, or being a lieutenant-colonel commandant of a regiment, who, having departed from India with such leave as aforesaid, shall not have returned to India within five years from the time of such departure, to have his rank and to be capable of again serving in India, although such absence may not have been occasioned by sickness or infirmity, or any inevitable accident, any thing in the said Act contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

Restored civil servants to take precedence according to their seniority at the time of their departure from India.

LXXXV. And be it further enacted, that when and as often as any person having held any civil station in India, in the service of the said Company, and having departed from India by leave of the Governor-general in Council, or Governor in Council, shall be restored to the said Company's service, after an absence of five years from the time of such departure, such person from and after such restoration, shall take rank and precedence only according to the time he shall have passed in the service of the said Company at the period of his departure from India; and on his return to India, if any other civil servant or servants at the settlement to which he shall belong, shall have then passed a greater or the like length of time in the service of the said Company, as the person so restored had passed when he left India, the person so restored shall be placed and take rank immediately below such other civil servant or servants; any matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding.

Servants of the Company may be appointed to Boards, Courts, or other official establishments, though they do not take precedence according to seniority of services.

LXXXVI. And whereas by the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain, of the thirty-third year of his present Majesty's reign, it is enacted, that all the civil servants of the said United Company in India, under the rank or degree of Member of Council, shall have and be entitled to precedence in the service of the said Company, at their respective stations, according to the seniority of their appointment: and whereas the several governments of the said Company are often prevented from appointing meritorious servants of the said Company to be members of courts, boards, and other official establishments, where offices or employments are exercised by several servants of the said Company collectively, lest by such appointment one or more members of such court, board, or other establishment should be superseded; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for any Governor-general or Governor in Council of the said Company, if he shall think proper, upon application in writing for that purpose by any civil servant of the said Company desirous of being appointed a member of any such court, board, or other establishment, by special order to direct that such servant of the said Company, on being appointed to any office or employment in any such court, board, or other establishment, shall take precedence at or in such court, board, or other establishment, according to the seniority of his appointment as a member of such court, board, or other establishment, although such civil servant in respect of whom such order shall be made may thereby not take precedence at or in such court, board, or other establishment, according to the seniority of his appointment to the service of the said Company; and such civil servant shall thereupon take precedence at such court, board, or other establishment accordingly, the said Act or any other matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding.

LXXXVII. And whereas it is expedient, in the present circumstances, that the number of his Majesty's forces, for which payment should be made out of the revenues arising from the British territories and possessions in the East-Indies should be ascertained and fixed, be it therefore enacted, that it shall not be lawful for the Commissioners for the affairs of India to give or approve orders or directions, that there shall be paid, defrayed and allowed, out of the revenues arising from the said territories and possessions, in respect of his Majesty's forces sent or to be sent to the East-Indies or parts aforesaid, for the security of the said territories and possessions, any sum or sums of money, in respect of any greater number of his Majesty's forces, than shall amount in the whole to twenty thousand men, including the commissioned and non-commissioned officers; unless any greater number of his Majesty's forces shall be sent to the East-Indies or parts aforesaid, on the requisition of the said Court of Directors; in which last case it shall and may be lawful for the said Commissioners to give and approve such orders and directions, for paying, allowing, and defraying such sums aforesaid, in respect to such additional forces of his Majesty so to be sent on the requisition of the said Company. (1)

Payment for King's troops by the Company not to exceed 20,000 men, unless greater number sent on their requisition.

(1) [Vide note on 28 Geo. 3, cap. 8, sec. 2.]

LXXXVIII. And whereas by the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain of the thirty-third year of his present Majesty, it was enacted, that no grant or resolution of the said Company, or their Court of Directors, to be made after the passing of that Act, and during the continuance of their right in the exclusive trade thereby granted, whereby the funds of the said Company might become chargeable with any new salary, or increase of salary, or any new or additional establishment of officers or servants, or any new pension or increase of pension, to any one person, exceeding two hundred pounds per annum, should be available in law, unless such grant or resolution should be approved and confirmed by the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, attested under the hand of the President of the said Board: and whereas, for further protecting the funds of the said Company, during the continuance of the further term hereby granted to the said Company, it is expedient that the said Company should be put under reasonable limitations, in respect to the granting of gratuities; be it therefore further enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act it shall not be lawful for the said Court of Directors to charge the funds of the said Company with the payment of any gratuity to any officer, civil or military, or other person, exceeding the sum of six hundred pounds, unless the grant or resolution for that purpose shall have been sanctioned by the Court of Proprietors, and approved and confirmed by the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India; and that copies of all warrants or instruments granting any salary, pension, or gratuity, shall be submitted to both Houses of Parliament, within one month after such grant, if Parliament shall be then sitting, or if not, within one month after their then next meeting. (1)

33 G. 3, c. 52.

Copies of grants of annuities to be laid before Parliament.

(1) [The 55 Geo. 3, cap. 64, was passed to explain and amend this section. That Act precludes the Company, or Court of Directors with the sanction of the Court of Proprietors, from charging their funds with any gratuity without the approval and confirmation of the Board. The 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 25, subjects all grants and payments of money to the control of the Board, with the exception, under section 37, of the details of the home establishment.]

LXXXIX. And whereas by a certain Act, passed in the thirteenth year of his present Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe," it is enacted, that the salaries of the Governor-general and Council of Fort William, and of the Chief Justice and Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, shall take place and commence, in respect to all such persons who shall be resident in Great Britain at the time of their appointment, upon and from the day on which such persons shall embark from Great Britain; and that the salaries of all such persons who shall at the time of their appointment be resident in India, shall commence from and after their respectively taking upon them the execution of their offices: and whereas by an Act passed in the fortieth year of his Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for establishing further regulations for the Government of the British Territories in India, and the better Administration of Justice within the same," a similar provision is made in respect to the salaries of the Chief Justice and Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras: and whereas by an Act passed in the thirty-seventh year of his Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for the better Administration of Justice at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and for preventing British Subjects from being concerned in Loans to the Native Princes in India," a similar provision is made in respect to the salary of the Recorder of the Court of Judicature at Bombay: and whereas no such provision has been made respecting the commencement of the salaries of the Governor or Council of Fort Saint George, or of the Governor or Council of the town and island of Bombay, or of the Governor of Prince of Wales' Island, or of the Recorder there: and whereas it is expedient that a general and moderate provision should be made in respect of all the said officers and of others who may happen to be in the United Kingdom at the time of their appointments; be it therefore further enacted, that so much of the said Acts of the thirteenth, thirty-seventh, and fortieth years of his Majesty's reign, as relates to the commencement of salaries, shall be and the same is hereby repealed: and that from and after the passing of this Act, the salaries of the several officers herein-before mentioned shall commence from and after their respectively taking upon them the execution of their offices; and the said Court of Directors shall and they are hereby required to pay and advance to all and singular the officers and persons herein-after mentioned, who shall be resident in the United Kingdom at the time of their respective appointments, for the purpose of defraying the expences of their equipments and voyage, such sums of money as are set against the names of such officers and persons respectively, that is to say,

To the Governor-general of Fort William, in Bengal (1)	...	Five thousand pounds:
To each of the Members of Council there (2)	...	One thousand two hundred pounds:
To the Commander-in-chief of all the forces in India	...	Two thousand five hundred pounds:
To the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court at Fort William	...	One thousand five hundred pounds:
To each of the Puisne Judges there	One thousand pounds:
To the Governor of Fort Saint George (3)	(Varied by 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85)
To each of the Members of Council there	One thousand pounds:
To the Commander-in-chief there	Two thousand pounds:

18 G. 3. c. 63.

For repealing parts of Acts respecting the commencement of certain salaries, and directing the commencement thereof, and for payment of passage money to certain officers.

39 & 40 G. 3. c. 79.

37 G. 3. c. 142.

To the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court there	One thousand two hundred pounds:
To each of the Puisne Judges there	One thousand pounds:
To the Governor of Bombay (4)	Two thousand five hundred pounds:
To each of the Members of Council there	One thousand pounds:
To the Commander-in-chief there	One thousand five hundred pounds:
To the Recorder there (5)	(See note)
To the Governor of Prince of Wales' Island	One thousand two hundred pounds:
To the Recorder there	One thousand pounds:
To the Bishop (6)	One thousand two hundred pounds:
To each of the Archdeacons	Five hundred pounds.

(1) [Re-enacted, as to the Governor-general of India, by 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 76.]

(2) [Extended to Members of the Council of India, by Act and section quoted above.]

(3) [By 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 76, reduced to two thousand five hundred pounds.]

(4) [Re-enacted by 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 76.]

(5) [There is no longer a Recorder of Bombay; a Supreme Court having been erected by 4 Geo. 4, cap. 71. By that Act (sec. 12) the allowance for passage-money to a Chief Justice is fixed at one thousand two hundred pounds; and that to a Puisne Judge, at one thousand pounds.]

(6) [This allowance is for the Bishop of Calcutta. The 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, authorized the erection of two new sees, Madras and Bombay; and the allowance to the Bishops of those sees for passage-money is fixed, by section 91 of that act, at five hundred pounds.]

Xc. And whereas by an Act passed in the fifty-first year of his Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for making further Provision for the payment of Salaries and other Charges in the Office of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India, and for enabling the East-India Company to restore to the service of the said Company Military Officers removed therefrom by sentence of Courts Martial, and to authorize the said Company, in cases of unforeseen emergency, to take up ships by Private Contract," it is enacted that the whole of the salaries to be paid to the members of the said Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, and to the secretaries and officers of the same, together with all other contingent charges and expenses of the said Board to be defrayed by the said United Company, should not exceed the sum of twenty-two thousand pounds in any one year: and whereas it is necessary that an addition should be made to the said sum, for the purpose of further remunerating the services of the secretaries and officers of the said Board: be it therefore enacted, that so much of the said Act as limits the sum to be defrayed by the said Company on account of the said Board, to the sum of twenty-two thousand pounds in any one year, shall be, and the same is hereby repealed; and for the salaries and charges of the Board that from and after the passing of this Act, the sum to be defrayed by the said Company, on account of the said Board, shall not exceed the sum of twenty-six thousand pounds in any one year; (1) and that the same shall be deemed and taken as a part of the political charges of the said Company.

(1) [By 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, sec. 6, the Board are empowered to make a temporary increase upon the sum above-named for the payment of such additional officers as might be necessary during the winding-up of the commercial concerns of the Company; but section 110 prohibits any permanent increase.]

His Majesty empowered to grant superannuations to the officers of the Board of Control.

XC. And whereas it is reasonable that his Majesty, his heirs or successors, should have power to grant allowances, compensations, remunerations, or superannuations, to the secretaries and other officers of the said Board, under the conditions herein-after provided; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for his Majesty, his heirs or successors, by any warrant or warrants, under his or their sign manual, countersigned by the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the time being, to grant or allow to any of the secretaries or officers for the time being belonging to the said Board, such allowances, compensations, remunerations, or superannuations, as his Majesty, his heirs or successors, shall think proper; under and subject nevertheless to such or the like conditions, and in such or the like proportions, as allowances, compensations, remunerations, or superannuations, may now be made to public officers by virtue of an Act passed in the fiftieth year of his present Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act to direct that Accounts of increase and diminution of Public Salaries, Pensions, and Allowances shall be annually laid before Parliament, and to regulate and control the granting and paying of such Salaries, Pensions, and Allowances;" and that the same shall be paid and defrayed quarterly by the said Company, and be deemed and taken as part of their political charges.

50 G. 3, c. 117.

Previous service to be taken into account for officers of the Board.

XCII. Provided always, that where any officer or servant of the said Board shall have been in the service of the said Company, previously to his employment under the authority of the said Board, the time of such service under the said Company shall be taken into account, in computing the number of years service under the said Board.

Court of Directors empowered to grant superannuations to Company's servants in England.

XCIII. And whereas it is reasonable that the said Court of Directors should have power to grant allowances in the nature of superannuations, to such of their officers and servants in England as from age or infirmity may no longer be qualified for the execution of their several offices or employments; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Court of Directors, to make allowances, compensations, remunerations, or superannuations, to the officers and servants of the said Company in England; subject to the restrictions and according to the conditions and proportions following; (that is to say), where it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the said Court of Directors, that any such officer or servant, being under sixty years of age, shall be incapable, from infirmity of mind or body, to discharge the duties of his office, in such case, if he shall have served with diligence and fidelity in the service of the said Company for ten years, it shall and may be lawful to grant him by way of superannuation, any annual sum not exceeding one-third of the salary and allowed emoluments of his office: if above ten years and less than twenty, any such sum not exceeding one half of such salary and allowed emoluments: if above twenty years, any such sum not exceeding two-thirds of such salary and allowed emoluments : if such officer or servant shall be above sixty years of age, and he shall have served fifteen years or upwards, it shall and may be lawful, without proof of infirmity of mind or body, to grant him, by way of superannuation, any annual sum not exceeding two-thirds of the salary and allowed emoluments of his office : if sixty-five years of age or upwards, and he shall have served forty years or upwards, any such sum not exceeding three-fourths of such salary and allowed emoluments : if sixty-five years of age or upwards, and he shall have served fifty years or upwards, any such sum not exceeding the whole of such salary and allowed emoluments : all which allowances so to be made shall be charged in the books of account of the said Company to the debit of that branch of the Company's affairs (1) to which the said officers or servants may respectively belong ; anything in the said Act of the thirty-third year of his Majesty's reign to the contrary notwithstanding.

(1) [This refers to the distinction between territory and commerce, which no longer exists. The 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 85, made special provision in section 7, for compensation to servants, their widows, or children, whose interests were affected by the discontinuance of the Company's trade.]

XCIV. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that an account of all allowances, compensations, remunerations, and superannuations, which shall be granted, either to the officers or servants of the said Board of Commissioners, or to the officers or servants of the said Company, as aforesaid, during the preceding year, shall be laid before Parliament within fifteen days after the next meeting thereof.

Account of superannuations to be laid before Parliament.

XCv. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that nothing in this Act contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to prejudice or affect the undoubted sovereignty of the Crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in and over the said territorial acquisitions, nor to preclude the said United Company, after the determination of the term hereby granted, from the enjoyment of, or claim to, any rights, franchises, or immunities which they now have, or to which they may hereafter be entitled.

Act not to prejudice the King's sovereignty, or affect rights of the Company.

XCVI. Provision for summary conviction and punishment of British subjects being in India without licence, or exceeding the terms of their licence.

CI. And whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for empowering the several governments of the said Company in India to restrain, by summary convictions, British subjects residing in India without licence or certificate, or beyond the terms of such licence or certificate, in cases where such governments may not deem it advisable to exercise the powers vested in them of prosecuting such persons for a misdemeanor, or sending them to the United Kingdom; be it therefore enacted, that upon information being exhibited by the Advocate-general, or other principal law-officer of the said Company, at any of their presidencies, in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William, the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, the Recorder's Court at Bombay, (1) or the Court of Judicature at Prince of Wales' Island, that any such subject of his Majesty as has been found in any part or place of the East-Indies, or parts aforesaid, to which the jurisdiction of the Court in which such information may be filed extends, without being duly licensed or otherwise authorised for that purpose, it shall and may be lawful for the Court in which such information may be filed, to cause such person to be arrested and brought before such Court; and upon proof being duly made before such Court of the substance of the matter stated in the said information, such person shall be required to produce or prove the licence or other authority under which he came to and resides in the East-Indies, and under which he resorted to or was remaining, or found at the place where he shall be proved to have been: and in case he shall fail to produce or prove any such licence or authority, or duly account for the non-production or want of proof thereof, or if upon production or proof thereof it shall appear to the said Court that the residence of such person in the East-Indies, or his resorting to or remaining in the place where he shall be proved to have been, was not within the true intent and meaning of such licence or authority, it shall and may be lawful for the said Court, in a summary way, to convict such offender of having been found on such a day at such a place within the East-Indies, or parts aforesaid, without being duly licensed or otherwise authorised for that purpose, and to order such offender to pay such fine, not exceeding two thousand rupees, as the said Court shall think fit, and also to commit such offender to the gaol of the presidency to which such Court shall belong, for a period not exceeding two months, unless such fine shall be sooner paid; and in case such person shall a second time be convicted of a like offence, either before the same or any other Court, it shall and may be lawful for such Court before which such person shall be so convicted a second time, to order such offender to pay such fine, not exceeding four thousand rupees, as the said Court shall think fit, and also to commit such offender to the gaol of the presidency to which such Court shall belong, for a period not exceeding four months, unless such fine shall be sooner paid: provided always, that nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to repeal, alter, or annul any enactment or provision contained in any former Act or Acts, whereby any person so being found in the East-Indies, or parts aforesaid, without having a licence or other authority for that purpose, is or may be subjected to a prosecution for a misdemeanor, or whereby such person is or may be liable to be sent to the United Kingdom: provided nevertheless, that no person who shall have been convicted CII. And for preventing any delay of justice, or the unnecessary detention of persons charged with offences; be it further enacted, that all his Majesty's Courts exercising criminal jurisdiction within the said several presidencies of the said Company, shall, and they are hereby required, four times at the least in every year, on such days and at such convenient intervals of time as the Judges of the said Courts respectively shall appoint, to hold their sessions, for the purpose of taking cognizance of all matters relating to pleas of the Crown.

King's Courts regularly to hold sessions four times in every year, for trying criminal offences.

CIII. And whereas great inconvenience and expense have hitherto been experienced in cases of prosecution under the authority of the Advocate-general or other principal law-officer of the said Company, at their several presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, for misdemeanors committed at a distance from the said several presidencies, by the ordinary course of indictment, or information filed with leave of the Court; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Advocate-general, or other principal law-officer of the said Company at their several presidencies, in all cases of misdemeanor alleged to have been committed by any British subject, at a distance of more than one hundred miles from the presidency, within the limits whereof such offence shall be alleged to have been committed, to file an information eo officio in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William, the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, or the Recorder's Court at Bombay, (1) as the case may be; and all such proceedings shall and may be used and had upon such information as may lawfully be used and had in cases of information filed eo officio by his Majesty's Attorney-general in his Majesty's Court of King's Bench in England, any matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding.

For misdemeanors committed by British subjects more than one hundred miles from a presidency, informations may be filed eo officio, and prosecuted as in the Court of King's Bench in England.

(1) [See note (5) on section 89.]

CIV. And whereas it may be doubtful whether the Governor-general of Fort William in Bengal, or other persons authorised to take, arrest, and seize such persons as may be found within the East-Indies, and other limits of the said Company's Charter, without licence or other lawful authority for that purpose, have power to remit or send any such person or persons to the said United Kingdom, except for the purpose of being prosecuted for a misdemeanor: and whereas it may be sufficient in many cases to remit and send such persons to the United Kingdom, without subjecting them to further punishment; be it enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the said Governor-general, or in his absence from his government the Vice-president, the Governor of any of the said Company's presidencies, the chief officer of the said Company resident at any British settlement in the East-Indies or parts aforesaid, the Company's council of supercargoes at the town and factory of Canton, within the said town and factory, and upon the river of Canton, or other part of the coast of China, (1) and such other persons as may be from time to time especially deputed and authorized for that purpose by the Court of Directors of the said United Company, to take, arrest, seize, and cause to be taken, arrested, and seized, at any place or places within the East-Indies or parts aforesaid, and to remit and send to the United Kingdom, on board any ship or ships of or belonging to or in the service of the said Company, bound to the United Kingdom, all such Justices of Peace in the provinces shall have jurisdiction in case of assault and trespass committed by British subjects on the natives of India.

CV. And whereas his Majesty's British subjects resident in the British territories in India, without the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and the town and island of Bombay, are now, by law, subject only to the jurisdiction of his Majesty's Courts at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and are exempted from the jurisdiction of the Courts established by the said United Company within the said territories, to which all other persons whether natives or others, inhabitants in the said territories, without the limits of the towns aforesaid, are amenable: (1) and whereas it is expedient to provide more effectual redress for the native inhabitants of the said territories, as well in the case of assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, which may be committed by British subjects at a distance from the places where his Majesty's Courts are established, as in case of civil controversies with such British subjects; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for any native of India, resident in the East-Indies, or parts aforesaid, and without the said towns, in case of any assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, alleged to have been done against his person or property by a British subject, to complain of such assault, forcible entry, or other injury accompanied with force, not being felony, to the magistrate of the zillah or district where the alleged offender shall be resident, or in which such offence shall have been committed; and that such magistrate shall have power and authority, at the instance of the person so complaining, to take cognizance of such complaint, to hear parties, to examine witnesses, and, having taken in writing the substance of the complaint, defence, and evidence, to acquit or convict the person accused; and, in case of conviction, to inflict upon such person a suitable punishment, by fine, not exceeding five hundred rupees, to be levied in case of non-payment by warrant under the hand of the said magistrate, and upon any property of the party so convicted, which may be found within the said district; and if no such property shall be found within the said district, then it shall be lawful for the said magistrate, by warrant also under his hand, to commit such offender to some place of confinement within the said zillah or district, which in the judgment of the said magistrate shall be fit for receiving such offender; or if there shall be no fit place of confinement, then to the gaol of the presidency, to remain there for a period not exceeding two months, unless such fine shall be sooner paid; and it shall be lawful for the said magistrate to award the whole or any portion of such fine to the party aggrieved, by way of satisfaction for such injury: provided always, that in all cases of conviction of a British subject, under the provision herein-before contained, the magistrate before whom such conviction shall take place shall forthwith transmit copies of such conviction, and of all depositions and other proceedings relative thereto, to the Government to which the place wherein the offence was committed is or shall be subordinate; provided also, that all such fines shall be paid in the first instance to the magistrate before whom the party offending shall be convicted, and the amount thereof after making such

CVIII. And be it further enacted, that every British subject of his Majesty, not in the service of his said Majesty, or of the said United Company, who, after the tenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, shall go and reside in any part of the British territories in India, distant more than ten miles from the presidency to which the same shall be subordinate, with the permission of the government of such presidency, or who shall, after the said day, change his residence from one part thereof to another, distant as aforesaid, with such permission, shall procure from the chief secretary (1) of the said government or other officer authorized for that purpose, a certificate signed by the said chief secretary or other officer, expressing that such British subject has the permission of such government to reside at such place, specifying the same, and expressing also whether such permission has been granted during the pleasure of such government or for any limited time; and the said certificate shall be deposited by such British subject in the civil Court of the district in which he shall so go to reside, within one month after his taking up his residence there, and shall be kept among the records of the said Court, of which certificate so deposited, a true copy attested by the judge or other officer of such Court thereto authorized, shall be given to the party depositing the same, and shall be deemed and taken in all Courts of Justice, and on all occasions whatsoever, to be good and sufficient evidence of such certificate, unless the contrary shall be shewn: and no British subject not in the service of his Majesty, or of the said United Company, going to reside in any such part of the British territories, or changing his residence from one part thereof to another, after the said day, shall be allowed, while he so resides, to have or maintain any civil action or proceeding (other than in the nature of an appeal) against any person whomsoever in any Court of civil jurisdiction within the British territories in India, until he shall have filed, in the Court in which such action or proceeding is commenced, a copy of such certificate signed by the Judge of the Court wherein the same is deposited; or an affidavit accounting to the satisfaction of the Court for not filing the same; and if it shall be proved to the Court in which such action is brought that such British subject is residing at any place within the said territories, distant more than ten miles from the presidency to which it is subordinate, without such certificate or otherwise than according to the permission contained in such certificate, or that such permission has been revoked, or that, being for a limited time, it has expired and has not been renewed, and that such British subject is therefore residing without permission at more than ten miles distance from such presidency, such British subject shall thereupon be non-suited. (2)

British subjects allowed to reside more than ten miles from presidency, shall procure and register certificate of such permission in the Court of the district; and suing in any civil Courts, shall produce copy of such certificate, or an affidavit accounting for not filing it.

CIX. And whereas doubts have been entertained whether persons being natives of India, in the service of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, or of any of his Majesty's subjects, are amenable to the jurisdiction of the provincial Courts established in the East-Indies, or whether such persons being natives of India, in the service of the said United Company, or of his Majesty's subjects, are not exclusively amenable to the jurisdiction of the said Courts at Fort William, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed; be it further enacted and declared, that all persons whosoever, being natives of India, who have been, now are, or hereafter may be employed, by or in the service of his Majesty, the said United Company, or of any of his Majesty's subjects, were, and are, and shall be subject and amenable to all provincial Courts of competent jurisdiction for all crimes and misdemeanors, and in all actions and suits whatsoever, of which such Courts respectively could take cognizance, if the persons having committed such crimes or misdemeanors, or against whom the causes of such actions or suits shall have arisen, had not been employed by, or had not been in the service of his Majesty, or the said United Company, or any of his Majesty's subjects; any law, usage, or practice to the contrary thereof in anyways notwithstanding: provided always, that nothing herein contained shall anyway oust the said Supreme Courts of Judicature of Fort William and Madras, and the said Court of the Recorder of Bombay(1) respectively, of any jurisdiction over any natives of India, which such Courts may now lawfully exercise; but such Supreme Courts of Judicature of Fort William and Madras, and the said Court of the Recorder of Bombay(1) respectively, as well as the provincial Courts herein referred to, according to their several jurisdictions, shall have a concurrent jurisdiction over natives of India, employed by or in the service of the said United Company, or any of his Majesty's subjects.

Natives of India in the service of Company subject to provincial Courts.

(1) [Now a Supreme Court of Judicature.]

Admiralty jurisdiction of King's Courts extended.

CX. And whereas the Courts established by the said United Company have no jurisdiction over crimes maritime, and doubts have been entertained whether the Admiralty jurisdiction of his Majesty's Courts at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, extends to any persons but those who are amenable to their ordinary jurisdiction; by reason whereof failures of justice may arise; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for his Majesty's Courts at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, exercising Admiralty jurisdiction, to take cognizances of all crimes perpetrated on the high seas, by any person or persons whatsoever, in as full and ample a manner as any other Court of Admiralty jurisdiction established by his Majesty's authority in any colony or settlement whatsoever belonging to the Crown of the said United Kingdom.

Advocate-general of the Company may file informations in King's Courts for debts due to his Majesty.

CXI. And whereas doubts have arisen whether the Advocate-general or other principal law officer of the said Company, at any of the said Company's presidencies, is by law authorized to exhibit to the respective Courts of Judicature at any of the said presidencies, for and on behalf of his Majesty, informations in the nature of actions at law, or bills in equity, for and in respect of any cause or causes of actions, debts, dues, demands, accounts, reckonings, sum or sums of money, stores, goods, chattels, or any other matter, cause, or thing whatsoever, which may have arisen or accrued, or which may arise or accrue to his Majesty; for remedy thereof, be it further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Advocate-general, or other principal law officer of the said Company for the time being, at each of the said Company's presidencies respectively, for and on behalf of his Majesty, his heirs, and successors, to exhibit to the respective Supreme Courts of Judicature at the said Company's presidencies of Fort William and Madras, or to the Recorder's Court at Bombay, or the Court of Judicature at Prince of Wales' Island, any information or informations in the nature of an action or actions at law, or of a bill or bills in equity, as occasion shall require, against any person or persons residing within or being amenable to the jurisdiction of the said Courts respectively, for or in respect of any cause or causes of action, debts, dues, demands, accounts, reckonings, sum or sums of money, stores, goods, chattels, or any other matter, cause, or thing whatsoever, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes, as his Majesty's Attorney-general for the time being is by law authorized to exhibit any such information or informations in any of his Majesty's Courts of Law or Equity in this realm; and that thereupon such proceedings shall be had, as far as the circumstances of the case in the course and practice of the said Courts of Judicature, at the said several presidencies will admit, as are had upon such informations exhibited by his Majesty's Attorney-general in any of his Majesty's Courts of law or equity in this realm.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament passed in the fifty-third year of his Majesty's reign, for continuing in the East-India Company, for a further term, the possession of the British territories in India, and for other purposes, after reciting therein, that it was expedient that the said Company should be put under reasonable limitations in respect to the granting of gratuities, it was enacted, that from and after the passing thereof, it should not be lawful for the Court of Directors of the said Company to charge the funds of the said Company with the payment of any gratuity to any officer, civil or military, or any other person, exceeding the sum of six hundred pounds, unless the grant or resolution for that purpose should have been sanctioned by the Court of Proprietors, and approved and confirmed by the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India; and that copies of all warrants or instruments, granting any salary, pension, or gratuity, should be submitted to both Houses of Parliament within one month after such grant, if Parliament should be then sitting, or if not, within one month after their then next meeting: and whereas the said last-mentioned enactment doth not fully effectuate the intention expressed in the preamble thereto; be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from and after the passing of this Act it shall not be lawful for the said Company, or for the Court of Directors of the said Company, with the sanction of the Court of Proprietors of the said Company, to charge the funds of the said Company with the payment of any gratuity to any officer, civil or military, or other person, exceeding the sum of six hundred pounds, unless the grant or resolution for that purpose shall have been approved and confirmed by the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India; and that copies of all warrants or instruments granting any salary, pension, or gratuity, shall be submitted to both Houses of Parliament within one month after such grant, if Parliament should be then sitting, or if not, within one month after their then next meeting.

55 GEORGII III. Cap. LXXXIV.

AN ACT to amend so much of an Act of the Thirty-third Year of his present Majesty, as relates to fixing the Limits of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay; and also so much of an Act of the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Year of his present Majesty, as relates to granting Letters of Administration to the Effects of Persons dying intestate within the several Presidencies in the East-Indies to the Registrar of the Ecclesiastical Courts; and to enable the Governor in Council of the said Presidencies to remove Persons not being British Subjects; and to make Provision for the Judges in the East-Indies in certain cases.

Whereas by an Act of the Parliament of Great Britain, made and passed in the thirty-third year of his present Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for continuing in the East-India Company for a further Term the Possession of the British Territories in India, together with their exclusive Trade, under certain Limitations; for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the said Territories, and the Better Administration of Justice within the same; for appropriating to certain Uses the Revenues and Profits of the said Company; and for making Provision for the good Order and Government of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay;" it was amongst other things enacted, that if any question should arise touching or concerning the true limits and extent of the towns and factories of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, or any of them, the same should be inquired into by the Governor-general in Council at Fort William, in respect to the limits and extent of Calcutta, and by the Governor in Council at Fort Saint George in respect to the limits and extent of Madras, and the Governor in Council at Bombay in respect of the town of Bombay; and that such limits as the said respective Governments by order in Council should declare and prescribe to be the limits of the said towns and factories respectively, should be held, deemed, and taken in law as the true limits of the same; any custom or usage to the contrary notwithstanding; and whereas by reason of the increase of the population of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, it is expedient that the several governments of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay, in the East-Indies, should be further empowered, in manner hereinafter mentioned, to extend from time to time the limits of the said several towns: may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Governor-general in Council at Fort William in Bengal, from time to time, as circumstances shall in their judgment require, to extend the limits of the town of Calcutta; and to and for the Governor in Council at Fort Saint George, from time to time, as circumstances shall in their judgment require, to extend the limits of the town of Madras; and to and for the Governor in Council at Bombay, from time to time, as circumstances shall in their judgment require, to extend the limits of the town of Bombay; and that such extended limits as the said respective governments shall from time to time, in and by their respective orders in Council, or by their regulations, declare and prescribe as aforesaid to be the limits of the said towns respectively, shall, from the time of publishing such orders in Council, or regulations by proclamation, at the respective presidencies, be held, deemed, and

taken, as and for the true limits of the same; and from time to time, as any extension shall be made thereof, all jurisdictions, powers, and authorities which by virtue of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or any Charter or Charters, or any law or usage, shall or may be bounded or regulated by the limits of the said towns respectively, shall thenceforth be bounded and regulated by the limits of the said towns respectively, as they shall be declared and prescribed from time to time in manner herein-before mentioned; any custom, law, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding: provided always, that no order in Council or regulation hereafter to be made, and declaring or prescribing the limits of any of the said towns, shall be valid or effectual, until it shall have been sanctioned, or shall have been authorised to be made and passed by the Court of Directors of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, with the approbation of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India.

39 & 40 G. 3, c. 79.

II. And whereas by an Act passed in the thirty-ninth and fortieth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the British Territories in India, and for the better Administration of Justice within the same," it was enacted among other things, that whenever any British subject should die intestate, within either of the presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, or Bombay, or the territories subordinate or to become subordinate thereto, and on return of the citation to be issued from the proper Ecclesiastical Court, no next of kin or creditor should appear and make out their claim to the administration to the effects of the intestate to the satisfaction of the said Court, it should and might be lawful for the registrar of such Court, and he was thereby required to apply for, and such Court was thereby directed to grant letters ad colligenda or of administration to such registrar, in such manner as the said Act set forth: and whereas the said Act doth not expressly provide for the cases of executors or administrators, or persons entitled to administration, as herein-after mentioned, not resident within the jurisdiction of such Courts, who may have appointed attornies resident or being therein; and it hath been doubted whether the said Courts were not required under the said Act, to grant letters ad colligenda or of administration to their registrars, in preference to attornies so appointed; and it is fit that such doubts be removed; be it therefore enacted and declared, that when the executor or administrator lawfully appointed, or the person entitled to administration as next of kin or residuary legatee with the will annexed, of any person deceased, whose effects shall be subject to the jurisdiction of any of the said Courts in respect to the granting of administration, not being resident within the jurisdiction of such Court, shall have appointed or shall hereafter appoint, either by power of attorney under seal, or by any other sufficient authority, to be shewn to the satisfaction of the said Court, any person or persons resident or being within such jurisdiction to act for such executor or administrator, or person entitled to administration as aforesaid, in collecting or administering in any manner the effects of the deceased, the person or persons so appointed shall be entitled to obtain letters ad colligenda or of administration, either general or special, as the tenor of such authority and the nature of the case may require, preferably to the registrar of such Court, and all other persons to whom such executor or administrator, or persons entitled as aforesaid, would have had a preferable claim, if personally resident within the jurisdiction of the said Court.

Letters of administration to attornies or executors.

Making void letters of administration to registrar.

III. And be it further enacted, that where any such letters ad colligenda or of administration shall have been granted to the registrar of such Court, and application shall be afterwards made by any person or persons so appointed as aforesaid for the revocation thereof, in order to grant other letters to such person or persons, the letters so granted to such registrar shall be revoked, unless it shall appear to the said Court that there has been unreasonable delay, either in the transmission of the authority under which such application is made, or in making such application; provided always, that when any letters ad colligenda or of administration shall have been actually granted to the registrar of any such Court by virtue of the Act herein-before recited, and shall be revoked on the application of such attorney or attorneys as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Court, if they shall think fit, to direct that the whole or part of any commission, in respect to the administration of assets which may arise or become due by virtue of any reasonable custom, obtaining within the jurisdiction of such Court, shall be allowed to such registrar out of any assets which may have come to his hands, regard being had to the trouble and responsibility actually incurred, and to the service rendered by the said registrar in the collection of such assets: provided also, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to render necessary the taking out of letters ad colligenda or of administration from any of the Courts aforesaid, by any such attorney or attorneys, otherwise than it would have been if this Act had not been made; and that no claim or right to any such commission in respect of administration of effects as aforesaid, shall be deemed to accrue to any such attorney or attorneys by reason of letters ad colligenda or administration, taken out by him or them in virtue of such authority as aforesaid, nor any other or further commission than would have been payable to him or them as agents, either according to the usual and reasonable rates of such an agency, or by special agreement.

IV. Provided also, and be it further enacted, that this Act shall not, nor shall anything herein contained, in anywise prejudice or affect the rights, claims, actions, suits, or appeals of any person or persons being entitled to or claiming to be entitled, either as principal or principals, attorney or attorneys, to the probate or probates of any will or wills, codicil or codicils, or letters ad colligenda or of administration of the goods, chattels and effects of any person or persons who shall have died before the passing of this Act; nor the rights, claims, actions, suits, or appeals of any person or persons claiming or suing, or to claim or sue for the recall or repeal of any letters ad colligenda or of administration, granted of the goods, chattels, or effects of any person or persons who shall have died before the passing of this Act, which may have been or shall be granted to any such registrar as herein-before mentioned; nor to the rights, claims, actions, suits, or appeals of any person or persons claiming or to claim as executors, legatees, or next of kin of any person or persons who shall have died before the passing of this Act, in any way relating to the goods, chattels, property, estate, or effects of such deceased person or persons, or to the transactions, acts, deeds, neglects, defaults, intermeddlings, or accounts of any such registrar relating to any such goods, chattels, property, estate or effects, or under or by pretence of any letters ad colligenda or of administration, which may have been granted to him; nor in any way to entitle any such registrar to any commission, compensation, or allowance in respect of any thing done or to be done by him in relation to the goods, chattels, debts, credits, estate, or effects of any person or persons who shall have died before the passing of this Act, which he would not have been entitled to if this Act had not been passed; but every person being entitled to or claiming any such probate or probates, letters ad colligenda or of administration, or to have any such letters ad colligenda or of administration, recalled or repealed, or having or been entitled to, or claiming or to claim any such cause or causes of action, suit, or appeal shall be entitled thereto, and all benefit and advantage thereof, and to prosecute and carry on the same, in the same manner, as he, she, or they would have been entitled to if this Act had not been passed.

Not to affect the rights of persons entitled to probates of wills of administration of effects of persons who shall have died before the passing of this Act, &c.

Registrar when appointed administrator, to enter in a book separate accounts.

V. And be it further enacted, that in all cases in which the registrar of any of the said Courts shall be appointed administrator under the aforesaid Act, besides filing an inventory and account current according to the tenor of the administration bond and the usual course of the Ecclesiastical Court, he shall enter into a book, to be kept by him for that purpose, separate and distinct accounts of each estate, and of all such sums of money, bonds, and other securities for money, goods, effects and things as shall come to his hands, or to the hands of any persons employed by him or in trust for him by virtue of any letters ad colligenda or of administration granted to him under the authority of the said Act, and likewise of all payments made by him for or on account of the said estates, and of all debts due by or to the same, specifying the dates of such receipts and payments respectively; which said book shall be kept at the registrar's office, and shall be open for the inspection of all such persons, practitioners in the said Courts or others, as may have occasion to inspect the same, at office hours, paying such reasonable fee as may be fixed therefore by the said Courts, and no more; and the said registrars shall twice in every year, that is, on the first day of March and the twenty-second day of October, or on the first day after those days on which their respective Courts shall be sitting, exhibit and deliver in open Court, a true and perfect schedule of all sums of money, bonds, or other securities, received on account of each estate remaining under their charge, together with the payments made thereout, and the balances; and also of all administrations whereof the balances shall have been paid over to the persons entitled to the same, since the period of exhibiting the last schedule, specifying the amount of such balances, and the persons to whom paid; which schedules shall be filed of record in the said Courts, and shall within fourteen days afterwards be published in the Gazettes of the presidencies within which such Courts are respectively situated, by the said registrar, who shall likewise cause copies thereof, in triplicate, to be delivered to the chief secretary at such presidency, and the same shall be transmitted by the respective governments at such presidencies to the Court of Directors of the East-India Company, who, upon the receipt thereof, shall cause the same to be published in the London Gazette.

Removal of persons not being British subjects.

VI. And whereas it is expedient that the several governments in the East-Indies should be enabled to prevent subjects of foreign states from residing or sojourning within the British territories there against the consent of such governments respectively; be it further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Governor-general in Council, and to and for the Governor in Council or chief officer for the time being of any presidency, or of any place not being subordinate to any presidency under the Government of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, to cause notice in writing to be given to any person, not being a native of any part of the British territories in India, or within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company, other than such natural-born subjects of his Majesty as may from time to time lawfully resort to or reside in the East-Indies, to remove himself or herself from such presidency, or from all or any part of the British territories in the East-Indies, as may be deemed expedient, within a time to be limited by such notice: and in case any such person shall not obey such notice, then it shall and may be lawful to and for the Governor-general in Council or Governor in Council, or other chief officer (as the case may be) of the place where such person shall be found, to cause such person to be apprehended and brought before the Court of Civil or Criminal Judicature, to the jurisdiction whereof such place may be subject; and upon proof being made upon oath to the satisfaction of such Court, by any credible witness swearing to his knowledge or belief, stating the ground of such belief, that such person is an alien and the subject of a foreign state, and that such notice as aforesaid has been served on such person, either personally or by leaving the same at his dwelling-house, unless such person shall prove that he is a natural-born subject of his Majesty authorized to reside in India, or a native of the British territories in India, or within the limits of the Charter of the Company, for the making which proof reasonable time and opportunity shall be allowed by the said Court, such person shall be remanded by the said Court into the custody of the Governor-general, Governor, or chief officer, who shall, as soon as may be, cause such person to be removed in such manner as his or her rank, state, and condition in life shall require, by the first convenient opportunity, to the country or place to which he or she shall belong, if he or she shall be willing to go thereto, or otherwise to such country or place as the Governor-general, Governor, or officer by whose authority he or she shall have been apprehended or shall be detained, shall be of opinion shall be most proper, regard being had to the convenience of the person to be removed, and the peace and security of the British territories in the East-Indies, and of the allies of his Majesty and the East-India Company, and of any neighbouring princes or states; and in the meantime and until such person can be conveniently and properly removed, it shall and may be lawful to detain him or her in such custody or under such guard as the person by whose authority he or she shall have been apprehended or shall be detained shall see fit and necessary, so as that the person detained may be put to as little inconvenience as shall be consistent with the object of his or her detention; and in case any such person, having removed him or herself in pursuance of any such notice, or having been so removed, shall again willfully return to any country or place from which he or she shall have had notice to remove, without the consent of the government or chief officer of the place to which he or she shall so return, it shall and may be lawful to and for the Governor-general in Council, or Governor in Council, or chief officer of the place where such person shall be found, to cause such person to be apprehended and detained in safe custody, until he or she shall be discharged out of custody, upon such terms and conditions as the Governor-general in Council, Governor in Council, or other chief officer at the place where he or she shall be detained, shall deem sufficient for the peace and security of the British territories, and of the allies of his Majesty and of the East-India Company, and of the neighbouring princes and states.

VII. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful to carry into execution any warrant or authority for the apprehension, detention or removal of any such person or persons as aforesaid, notwithstanding he, she, or they may be in custody, or delivered to ball, or in execution on any civil process, and notwithstanding any licence, privilege or protection whatsoever; any law, statute, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding: provided always, that no British subject, nor any native of the British territories in India, or within the limits of the Charter of the said Company, shall be apprehended, detained, or removed, by virtue of any of the provisions herein contained, nor shall any thing herein contained in anywise alter or affect any law or statute under or by virtue of which any British subject may resort to or is restrained from resorting to the East-Indies: provided also, that it shall not be lawful to apprehend, detain or remove any person being the subject of any foreign state, under or by virtue of this Act, in any way inconsistent with any treaty made or to be made by his Majesty or the East-India Company, and to the benefit of which such person shall be entitled.

VIII. And whereas by an Act passed in the thirty-seventh year of his Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for the better Administration of Justice at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and for preventing British Subjects from being concerned in Loans to the Native Princes in India," it was enacted among other things, that it should be lawful for his Majesty, his heirs and successors, under certain limitations in the said Act expressed, to direct the payment of a yearly sum out of the territorial revenues in India to any Chief Justice or other Judge of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, who should have resided in India as Judge of the said Supreme Court for seven years, and to any Recorder of the Court of Judicature at Bombay, who should have resided in India as such Recorder(1) for five years, and who, from age, infirmity, or other cause, to be approved by his Majesty, his heirs or successors, should return to Europe, not exceeding to any such Chief Justice two thousand pounds per annum, to any such Judge fifteen hundred pounds per annum, or to any Recorder of Bombay(1) twelve hundred pounds per annum : and whereas also by the Act herein-before mentioned of the thirty-ninth and fortieth year of his Majesty's reign, it was enacted, that it should be lawful for his Majesty, his heirs, and successors, under certain limitations therein also expressed, to direct an allowance from the said revenues to any Chief Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, who should have resided in India for seven years, either as Chief Justice or Puisne Judge of the said Court at Fort William, or of the said Court at Madras, and should return to Europe, for any such cause, and with such approbation as aforesaid, not exceeding to such Chief Justice sixteen hundred pounds per annum, nor to such Puisne Judge twelve hundred pounds per annum : and whereas it is expedient that provision should be made respecting the said allowances, in case of the promotion or removal of any person from any of the said Courts to any other thereof, and also in case of the resignation of any Chief Justice, Judge, or Recorder (1) of any of the said Courts, with the approbation of his Majesty, although the person so resigning should not return to Europe ; be it therefore enacted, that where any person shall have resided in India seven years, (2) either as Chief Justice or Judge of his Majesty's Supreme Courts of Fort William or Madras, or Recorder (1) of Bombay, and shall, from age, infirmity, or other cause, to be approved of by his said Majesty, resign such office, it shall be lawful for his Majesty to direct the payment out of the territorial revenues, to such person, of a yearly sum not exceeding the highest rate of allowance limited by the said Acts (2) to such one of the said offices of Chief Justice or Judge at Fort William, Chief Justice or Judge at Madras, or Recorder (1) at Bombay, as the said person shall have filled, provided he shall have filled the same for four years at the least ; (2) and that such allowance shall be payable to such person, although he shall not return to Europe : provided, that if such person be thereafter re-appointed to any of the said offices, such payment shall from thenceforward cease.

No action to be commenced against the Company until after twenty days' notice ; nor after three years after the cause of complaint.

IX. And be it further enacted, that no action or suit shall be commenced against the said United Company, or any of their servants, or any person or persons whomsoever, for anything done in pursuance or under colour of this Act, until twenty days' notice shall have been given to the said Company, or to the person or persons respectively against whom the same is to be brought, or after a sufficient satisfaction or tender thereof shall have been made to the party or parties aggrieved, nor after three years next after the cause of complaint shall have arisen ; and the defendant or defendants in such action or suit shall and may plead the general issue, and give this Act and the special matter in evidence at any trial to be had thereupon, (1) and that the same was done in pursuance and by authority of this Act; and if it shall appear to be so done, or that a sufficient satisfaction or tender thereof hath been made before the commencement of such action or suit, or that such action or suit hath been commenced after the time limited for bringing the same, or in any other manner than as directed by this Act, the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall become nonsuited; and in such case, or in any other cases wherein the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall become nonsuited, or discontinue his or their action or suit after the defendant or defendants shall have appeared, or wherein judgment shall be given against such plaintiff or plaintiffs upon demurrer, or objection in nature of a demurrer, or where a verdict, or judgment in nature of a verdict, shall pass for the defendant or defendants, he or they shall have treble costs awarded, to be paid by the respective plaintiff or plaintiffs in such action or suit.

AN ACT to make further Regulations for the Registry of Ships built in India.

This Act was repealed partially by 4 Geo. 4, cap. 41, and entirely by 4 Geo. 4, cap. 80; but the effect of the following section was revived by 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 56, until the issue of a declaration by proclamation, which by the last-named Act the Governor-general in Council is authorized to make. See the Act last mentioned.

AN ACT to render valid the Judicial Acts of Surrogates of Vice-Admiralty Courts abroad, during vacancies in Office of Judges of such Courts.

Acts of Surrogates appointed by Judges, or by Governors of plantations and colonies, rendered valid.

Whereas it is requisite that due validity should be given to the judicial acts of Surrogates who have executed the offices of Judges in the Courts of Vice-Admiralty established in his Majesty's plantations and colonies, during vacancies occasioned by the deaths or resignation or other removals of the said Judges, or who also shall hereafter execute the same during such vacation; be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that all judicial acts of Surrogates having been appointed to act as Judges during such vacancies, either by Judges of the said Courts previously to their removal, or, in default of such appointment, by the Governors of the plantations and colonies in which such Courts shall be, shall have the same force and validity, and shall be subject to the same course of appeal, as if the said acts had been done by the authority of Judges regularly appointed by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

AN ACT to empower his Majesty to suspend Training, and to regulate the Quotas of the Militia.

Persons enlisting militia-men for the East-India Company's service subject to the penalties of recited Act.

III. And whereas doubts have arisen whether officers, serjeants, or other persons enlisting men to serve the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, are subject to the penalties, forfeitures, and provisions contained in the said recited Act of the forty-second year aforesaid, in relation to enlisting into his Majesty's other forces men enrolled or engaged to serve in the militia; and whether militia-men so enlisting, or militia-men offering themselves to serve for any other parish or place than the parish or place for which they are first enrolled, are within the provisions of the said Act contained in relation to offering to be enrolled in any other regiment, battalion, or company of militia; for remedy whereof, be it declared and enacted, that every officer, serjeant, or person who shall wilfully or knowingly enlist any man to serve the United Company of merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, who at the time of such enlisting shall be enrolled or engaged to serve in the militia, shall be and be deemed to be within the provisions of the said recited Act, and shall be subject to the penalties and forfeitures therein contained for enlisting militia-men to serve in his Majesty's other forces; and that every militia-man offering to enlist to serve the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, who shall deny to the officer, serjeant, or other person recruiting men for such service, that he is at the time of such offering a militia-man, or who shall offer himself to be enrolled and be enrolled as a militia-man for any other parish or place than the parish or place for which he 58 GEORGII III. Cap. LXXXIII.

AN ACT to amend and reduce into one Act the several Laws relating to the manner in which the East-India Company are required to hire Ships. [5th June, 1818.]

The discontinuance of the Company's trade renders most of the provisions of this Act temporarily inoperative. As, however, they are recognized as By-Laws of the Company (see By-Laws, chap. 2, sec. 3, in Appendix), it has been deemed proper to give them insertion here.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament passed in the thirty-ninth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for regulating the Manner in which the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, shall hire and take up Ships for their regular Service;" and by another Act of Parliament, passed in the fiftieth year of the reign of his said present Majesty, intituled, "An Act to amend Two Acts passed in the Thirty-ninth and Forty-third Years of the Reign of his present Majesty, for regulating the Manner in which the East-India Company shall hire and take up Ships;" and by another Act of Parliament, passed in the fifty-first year of the reign of his said present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for making further provision for the Payment of Salaries and other Charges in the Office of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India; and for enabling the East-India Company to restore to the Service of the said Company Military Officers removed therefrom by Sentences of Court Martial; and to authorize the said Company, in Case of unforeseen Emergency, to take up Ships by private contract;" various provisions, regulating the manner in which the said United Company shall hire and take up ships for their service, are now in force: and whereas it is expedient that the laws relative to the manner of hiring ships for the said United Company's service should be amended, and reduced into one Act: and whereas the fluctuation of prices of naval stores, and of other articles incident to the equipment of ships in times immediately following the termination of war, has been such as to render the calculations upon which the contracts for peace freight have from time to time been made, greatly erroneous and insufficient, and the performance of such contracts has in consequence thereof been found so injurious to the contracting parties, that the Court of Directors of the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies have in two instances, videlicet, after the termination of war in one thousand eight hundred and two, and after the termination of war in one thousand eight hundred and fifteen, presented petitions to the House of Commons, praying that Parliament would authorize and empower the said Company to make allowances to the owners of several ships hired by them under the provisions of the said Acts, over and above the prices to which the said owners were entitled by their contracts; and Parliament has in the said instances complied with the prayer of the said petitions: and whereas it is highly inexpedient that the revision and alteration of contracts by authority of Parliament, on whatever plea or pretext, should grow into precedent: be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the whole of the said Acts made and passed in the thirty-ninth and fiftieth years of the reign of his said present Majesty, and so much of the said Act made and passed in the fifty-first year of the reign of his said present Majesty as relates to the hiring of ships by the said United Company, shall be and the same are hereby repealed: provided always, that the repeal of the said Acts shall in nowise be construed to affect any contract or agreement made or entered into under or in pursuance of any the said Acts, but all such contracts or agreements shall be carried into execution in the same manner as if this Act had not been made and passed.

Regulations for hiring ships built for the service of the Company.

II. And be it further enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act, the said United Company or their Court of Directors shall not hire or take up on freight, for the service of the said Company, any ship or ships other than such as shall be contracted for or hired in manner herein-after mentioned; that is to say, that from time to time whenever the said United Company shall have occasion to contract for the hire of any ship or ships to be built for their service, the Court of Directors of the said United Company shall give notice thereof by public advertisement, and therein state the burthen of the ship or ships wanted, the dimensions or scantlings of timbers and planks, number of guns, manner of building, providing, furnishing, and storing such ships, the time to be allowed for building (which shall be as long as reasonably may be), and other particulars necessary to enable persons to judge of the expense thereof, and the proper rate of freight for such ships respectively, or shall refer to printed terms and conditions to be delivered by their proper officer; and the said advertisement shall fix a time, not less than four weeks from the publication thereof, for receiving proposals in writing, sealed up, for building and freighting the same to the said Company; such proposals to specify the lowest rates of freight for each and every voyage in time of peace required for such ships, for such number of voyages, not less than six, as the said Court of Directors shall see fit from time to time to fix, to and from India or China, or elsewhere within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company, to be employed in trade and in warfare or otherwise, as shall be thought proper by the said Company if the said ships respectively shall so long be fit for the Company's service; and that all the tenders or proposals which shall be made in pursuance of such notices, shall be put into a box locked and sealed, which shall not be opened except publicly in a Court of Directors, and the contents of such proposals respectively shall be entered in a book, and the proposals offering the lowest peace freight shall be accepted without favour or partiality, subject to the several provisions in this Act contained; and in case more ships than shall be wanted at the time of considering such proposals, shall be tendered to be built at the same low freight, then the Court of Directors shall determine by lot which of the said proposals shall be accepted, and the same shall be accepted accordingly, subject to the several provisions in this Act contained.

Court of Directors may engage ships for a limited number of voyages after the expiration of their contracts.

III. And whereas it may happen that ships which may have been built for the service of the said United Company, and which have performed or completed, or hereafter may perform or complete, the number of voyages for which they have been or hereafter may be contracted to serve the said Company, may be in sound and proper condition to perform a further voyage or further voyages in the service of the said United Company; be it therefore further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Court of Directors of the said United Company, if they shall see fit, in the manner and according to the provisions herein contained, as to hiring ships to be built for the service of the said Company, to advertise for proposals for any such ships which have performed and completed, or hereafter shall have performed and completed the contracts by which they were built for the said United Company, again to be tendered for the service of the said United Company; and that it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Court of Directors again to hire and take up any such ship or ships so tendered for the service of the said United Company, for an additional voyage, or for such number of additional voyages to and from India or China, or elsewhere within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company, as the said Court of Directors shall see fit, beyond and after the performance of the voyages for which any such ship or ships respectively have been or shall be engaged by any prior contract or contracts to serve the said Company; provided that all such ships shall be fit or shall be capable of being repaired and made fit to serve the said Company for such additional voyage or voyages: provided always, that the peace freight and additional allowance to be paid for any such ship or ships to be taken up for any additional voyage or voyages shall not exceed the rate of peace freight paid for such ships respectively under the last contracts respectively by which they have been engaged in the service of the said United Company, together with such additional allowance as she might eventually be entitled to under this Act, in respect of any voyage for which she might be afloat to proceed upon in time of peace.

IV. And be it further enacted, that over and besides the peace freight for ships built or to be built and hired, or to be hired for the service of the said United Company, the Court of Directors of the said Company shall be at liberty to make such allowances to the owners of the said ships, from voyage to voyage, in respect of the additional charges, if any, arising to the said owners in time of war or hostilities, or of preparations for war or hostilities, as the said Court of Directors shall think right and just.

Besides the peace freight, an allowance may be made in respect of charges arising to owners in time of war.

V. And be it further enacted, that the Court of Directors of the said United Company shall and they are hereby required to cause to be prepared, once in every year, by the master attendant or other proper officer or officers of the said United Company, tables of the average current prices for the time being of the articles of building and outfit for ships to be engaged in the service of the said United Company, and tables of the probable total cost and expense of such building and outfit for the several voyages for which any ship or ships shall have been contracted for or hired, distinguishing the probable expense of each voyage of ships of the different sizes actually engaged or which may be engaged in the service of the said Company; which tables, when signed by the master attendant or other proper officer or officers of the said United Company, and when approved and allowed by their Court of Directors, shall be fairly transcribed and signed by the secretary or assistant secretary of the said Company, by order of the said Court of Directors, and shall be left or hung up in some public office in the East-India House, for the perusal and inspection, at reasonable times and in a reasonable manner, of all persons whom it may concern, with liberty for them, at such times and in such manner as aforesaid, to make and take copies and extracts thereof; and the first of such tables or sets of tables shall be made and completed within four months next after the passing of this Act, and afterwards such tables or such sets of tables shall from time to time be made and completed between the first day of June and the first day of October in every year.

Tables of the average current prices of building and outfit for ships, and of the probable expense for several voyages for which any ship shall have contracted, which tables shall be hung up in the India-House.

VI. And be it further enacted, that from and after the conclusion of any war or hostilities which may hereafter take place, when any ship which now is or hereafter shall be in the service of the said United Company, under or by virtue of any contract made or entered into since the twentieth day of November one thousand eight hundred and fifteen, or hereafter to be made or entered into, shall come afloat, to proceed upon any voyage in execution of any such contract in time of peace, then the Court of Directors shall cause, as to all ships now in the service of the said United Company, the tables or sets of tables first to be completed, approved, and allowed after the passing of this Act, as herein-before mentioned; and as to all ships which shall hereafter be contracted for in time of peace, the tables or sets of tables which shall have been completed, approved, and allowed next immediately before such ships shall have been respectively contracted for; and as to all ships which hereafter shall be contracted for in time of war or hostilities, or of preparations for war or hostilities, the tables or sets of tables which shall have been completed, approved, and allowed next immediately before the commencement of such war or hostilities, or of such preparations for war or hostilities, to be compared with the tables or sets of tables which shall have been completed, approved, and allowed next before such ships shall come afloat in time of peace to proceed on such voyage; and if it shall appear on such comparison that the probable cost of the outfit of such ship for the voyage on which such ship shall be about to proceed, shall exceed the amount estimated by the tables or sets of tables with which such comparison shall be made, as the probable cost of outfit of a ship of the same or as nearly as may be of the same size for a similar voyage, by one-tenth part of such last-mentioned amount, then the owners of such ship shall be entitled for that voyage to an additional allowance, at a rate which, calculated upon the chartered tonnage of such ship, shall be equal to such probable excess, to be determined finally and conclusively by order of the said Court of Directors:

In what case abatement to be made.

provided always, that the owner or owners of such ship shall have entered into an agreement with the said Court of Directors, that if upon such comparison as aforesaid the probable cost of the outfit of such ship for such voyage as aforesaid shall be found to fall below the amount estimated by the tables or sets of tables aforesaid by one tenth part of such last-mentioned amount as aforesaid, then the said Court of Directors shall be at liberty to make an abatement from the freight to which such ship would be entitled under its contract, at a rate which, calculated upon the chartered tonnage of such ship, shall be equal to such probable diminution of cost of outfit; the said abatement to be in like manner determined finally and conclusively by the said Court of Directors:

And in what cases abatements are not to be made.

provided always, that the owners of the several ships which are already in the service of the said United Company under contracts made since the twentieth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifteen, shall not be entitled to any such additional allowance, nor subject to any such abatement, until after a war or hostilities shall have taken place and have been concluded: provided also, that the owners of ships hereafter to be contracted for in time of peace to enter into the service of the said United Company shall not be entitled to any such allowance, nor subject to any such abatement, in respect of any voyage to be performed during the continuance of the peace in which the several contracts for such ships shall have been entered into: provided also, that such owners of ships hereafter to be contracted for in time of war or hostilities to enter into the service of the said United Company, as shall have entered into such agreement as before mentioned, shall be entitled to a comparison of the costs of their outfits respectively, and to any eventual additional allowance which may become due to them thereupon in respect of every voyage which the said ships shall respectively come afloat to proceed upon in time of peace: provided always, that no additional allowance shall be payable in time of peace to the owners of any ship, under or by virtue of this Act, for any voyage in respect of which the owners of such ship shall be entitled, under or by virtue of this or any former Act, to any payment in respect of any additional charges arising in time of war or hostilities, or of preparations for war or hostilities: provided also, that any time when owners of ships shall not be so entitled to any payment in respect of any additional charges arising in time of war or hostilities, or of preparations for war or hostilities, shall be deemed and considered a time of peace within the meaning of this Act: provided always, that the additional charges (if any) which may be incurred by reason of any ship being built during a time of war or hostilities, or of preparations for war or hostilities, shall and may be paid to the owners of such ship, although she may come afloat to proceed on her first voyage in time of peace.

VII. And be it further enacted, that in cases of unforeseen exigency, which cannot be answered conveniently by any ship or a sufficient number of ships in the service of the said Company, and which will not admit of delay, it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Court of Directors, or for any one of their several governments abroad, to hire any ship or ships which can be procured to answer such exigency; provided that public notice shall be given by advertisement of the ships and tonnage wanted and the service required, fourteen days at least previous to the time appointed for taking up the same; and the proposals to be made in pursuance of such advertisement shall be put into a box locked and sealed, which shall not be opened except publicly in a Court of Directors, or by the Governor and Council or chief agents of the said Company at any place within the limits of the Charter of the said Company where it shall be necessary to hire any such ship or ships; and then the lowest tender or tenders shall be accepted, without favour or partiality, if it or they shall be deemed reasonable, and if upon a due examination and survey the ship or ships tendered shall appear in all respects fit for the service required: provided always, that the engagement or employment of such ships shall not extend beyond the duration of the particular service for which they shall have been specifically hired.

Court of Directors may take up ready-built ships for their service, in case of unforeseen exigency.

VIII. Provided also, and be it further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Court of Directors of the said United Company, or their said Governments abroad, in cases of unforeseen and pressing exigency, to hire and take up by private contract, with or without advertising, any ship or ships whatsoever for any particular purpose: provided that no such ship shall be hired or taken up for more than one voyage, and that the reasons for taking up any such ship or ships at home in less time than fourteen days as aforesaid after the publication of an advertisement, be stated in the minutes of the said Court of Directors and reported to the Court of Proprietors that shall next be holden after such hiring and taking up; and that the reasons for taking up any such ship or ships abroad in less time than fourteen days after the publication of an advertisement as aforesaid, be stated in the minutes of the proceedings of the government by which such ship or ships shall be taken up, and be communicated to the Court of Directors as soon as conveniently may be afterwards.

In cases of unforeseen exigency, ships may be taken up for one voyage by private contract.

IX. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Court of Directors of the said United Company to hire and take up by private contract, without advertising, any ship or ships engaged or to be engaged in his Majesty's transport or other service, to carry convicts or stores to New South Wales, the Cape of Good Hope, or Ceylon, or elsewhere within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company, for the purpose of bringing cargoes from China or India, at such rate of freight and demurrage as they shall judge to be reasonable, so as no such ship shall be hired or taken up for more than one voyage.

Court of Directors may hire by private contract, for voyages from China or India, ships going out in the transport or other public service.

X. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Court of Directors of the said United Company, if they shall see fit, in the manner and

Court of Directors may take up ships whether built for the service or not, or whether new ships or ships employed before for a voyage out or home, to any place except China.

according to provisions herein contained as to hiring ships to be built for the service of the said Company, to advertise for, hire, and take up for trade and warfare and any other service, or for trade only, or for any specific purpose, as the said Court of Directors shall see fit, any ship or ships, whether built expressly for the service of the said United Company or any other service, and whether new ships or ships which shall have been then before employed in any service whatsoever, so as the registered measurement of such ships shall not be more than eight hundred tons, for one voyage, or for a voyage out or a voyage home, as the said Court shall think proper, to and from, or to or from any ports or places, port or place whatsoever, within the limits of the said Company's Charter, except the dominions of the Emperor of China.

But not to authorize the employment of any ship under the measurement prescribed by 53 G. 3. c. 155.

XI. [See 5 Victoriae, Cap. 5.]

Order of the Court of Exchequer at Westminster, 17th July, 1747, as to securing of the suitors' money.

Whereas his Majesty's Court of Exchequer at Westminster did, on the seventeenth day of July one thousand seven hundred and forty-seven, make an order touching the money belonging to the suitors of that Court, whereby after reciting that his Majesty's remembrancer of the said Court and his deputy had informed the said Court, that there were standing in the name of the said deputy, in the books of the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, and in the books of the South Sea Company, divers sums in certain stocks and annuities of the said Companies respectively, which had been purchased with the money of the suitors of the said Court, or were belonging to them, and that no declaration of trust had been or could be made in relation thereto, in the books of the said several Companies, without an order of the said Court for that purpose; it was ordered, that the said Deputy-remembrancer should cause the said sum to be transferred in the books of the said Companies into his name, as Deputy-remembrancer of the said Court, in trust to attend the orders of the said Court in the several causes to which the same respectively belonged; and that for the future all other sums of stock or annuities, or any other transferrable securities for the benefit of or belonging to the suitors of the said Court, should be in like manner transferred in trust to attend the orders of the said Court, to be made in the several causes to which the same should respectively belong; and that the said Deputy-remembrancer should from time to time receive the dividends or interest to arise on all the said securities, in order to apply the same for the benefit of the suitors, pursuant to the orders of the said Court; and by the said order, certain other regulations were made for the conduct of the said Deputy-remembrancer in the sale and transfer of such stocks and securities, and the receipt of the dividends and interest thereon: and whereas several effects of the suitors of the said Court were and from time to time have been delivered into the Bank of England and elsewhere, and divers stocks, funds, and annuities were and have been transferred from time to time in the books of the Bank of England and elsewhere, South Sea Company, and East-India Company, into the name of the Deputy-remembrancer of the said Court for the time being, and are now standing in the said books in the name of Abel Moysey, Esq., the present Deputy-remembrancer of the said Court; but no declaration of trust relating thereto has been made in the books of the said several Companies, according to the said order, and large sums of money or securities for money belonging to the said suitors, are now in the hands, custody, or power of the said Abel Moysey; and it is expedient that a fit and proper person should be appointed to be Accountant-general of the said Court, in whose name all effects, stocks, funds, annuities, and securities belonging to the said suitors, might become and be from time to time securely vested for the use of the said suitors, and who might keep the account of the funds of the said suitors, but who should have no power to dispose of or otherwise intermeddle with such funds, further or otherwise than as hereinafter directed: be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from

An Accountant-general of the said Court shall be appointed by the Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer.

III. And, to the end that all misapplication or wasting of the suitors' money may be entirely prevented, be it therefore enacted, that the Accountant-general of the said Court of Exchequer for the time being shall not meddle with the actual receipt of any of the money or effects of the suitors of the said Court, but shall only keep the account thereof with the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, and every other body politic or corporate, or company whom it may concern; and such Accountant-general observing the rules by this Act prescribed, or hereafter to be prescribed to him by the said Court of Exchequer, shall not be answerable for any money or effects which he shall not actually receive; and the Bank of England, or such other body politic or corporate, or company, shall be answerable for all the monies and effects of the suitors which are or shall be actually received by them respectively.

AN ACT to enable the Examination of Witnesses to be taken in India in support of Bills of Divorce on Account of Adultery committed in India.

Whereas much inconvenience hath arisen to his Majesty's subjects residing in India, and petitioning either House of Parliament for Bills for the dissolution of marriages by reason of acts of adultery committed in India, from the difficulty of producing in England the evidence necessary to substantiate the allegations of such Bills: and whereas by reason of the religious scruples of several of the natives of India, it is impossible to prevail upon them to come to England for the purpose of being examined as witnesses at the bar of either House of Parliament: and whereas, for remedy of the said inconvenience, it is expedient that provision shall be made for examining witnesses in India, and for duly transmitting their depositions to such Houses of Parliament: be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that whensoever and as often as either House of Parliament, upon the petition of any party praying for a Bill for the dissolution of any marriage, and stating that the witnesses necessary to substantiate the allegations of such Bill are resident in India, shall see cause to direct that the examinations of such witnesses shall be taken in India, the Speaker of such House of Parliament shall thereupon issue his warrant or warrants to the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature of the Presidency of Calcutta, the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature of the Presidency of Madras, the Recorder of the Presidency of Bombay, (1) or the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature of the Island of Ceylon, respectively, accordingly as the witnesses proposed to be examined shall be resident within any one or more of the said presidencies, or the said island, for the examination upon oath of all such witnesses as shall be produced before them touching the allegations of such Bill, and touching any notices or other matters which shall in such warrant be specified; and that in all cases where such warrants shall be so issued, duplicates of such warrants, together with copies of such Bill, shall be transmitted by different ships, at the desire of the agent of the party or parties soliciting such Bill, to the persons to whom such warrants shall be directed.

Speaker may issue his warrant for the examination of witnesses in India in cases of bills of divorce.

(1) [Under 4 Geo. 4, cap. 71, the Recorder's Court at Bombay was replaced by a Supreme Court of Judicature.]

Judges in India, on receipt of such warrant, to examine such witnesses.

II. And be it enacted, that in all cases immediately upon the receipt of such warrant or warrants, the Judges or Recorder to whom the same shall have been directed, shall appoint some time or times with all convenient speed for the examination of witnesses, and receiving other proofs touching the allegations of such Bill; and in opposition thereto and touching such notices and other matters as shall in such warrant have been specified, and in the meantime shall cause such public notice to be given of such examination, and shall issue such summons or other process as may be requisite for the attendance of witnesses, and of the agents or counsel of all or any of the parties respectively, and of such other witnesses as after mentioned, and to adjourn from time to time as occasion may require; and such examinations as aforesaid shall be then and there openly and publicly taken visd voce upon the respective oaths of witnesses, and the oaths of skilful interpreters, administered according to the forms of their several religions, and shall, by some sworn officer of the Court, be reduced into writing, and that two copies thereof shall be made; and that the Judges or Recorder before whom such examination shall have been taken, shall certify the same under the official seal of their several Courts, together with a declaration of such Judges or Recorder, that such examinations have in their or his judgment been fairly and properly conducted, and that all such witnesses had been produced as were fit to be produced, for the purpose of ascertaining the whole truth, so far as the attendance of such witnesses could be reasonably obtained; and shall transmit the same by different ships to the Speaker of either House of Parliament, under whose warrant such examination shall have been taken; and every such examination so returned to the Speaker of either House of Parliament as aforesaid, shall be competent and admissible evidence, and shall be allowed and read in both Houses of Parliament, or either of them respectively, as occasion may require; any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

Two copies of such examinations to be certified and transmitted to the Speaker of either House of Parliament.

III. And be it further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for such Judges or Recorder, upon any such examination, to ask any such questions of any witness who shall be produced before them or him, and to require such further witnesses resident within such presidency or island respectively to be produced, as shall appear fit and necessary for the due investigation of the allegations of such Bill, or of any other matters in such warrants specified; and to allow such attendance by counsel, and such cross-examination of witnesses, as shall be deemed by such Judges and Recorder to be fit and proper for the purpose of such investigation, and for such purpose, if necessary, to name some proper person or persons to attend as counsel and agent in opposition to such Bill, and to procure any evidence which may be necessary for the purpose of such opposition, to the end that a full and fair disclosure may be made of all the facts and circumstances of the case.

Judges may ask such further questions and require such further witnesses to be produced as shall be necessary.

IV. And whereas by the usage and custom of Parliament, no proceedings by Bill in Parliament have continuance from one session to another; and whereas it would be impracticable that the examination taken upon such warrant as aforesaid could ever be returned within the ordinary length of a session of Parliament; be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that from and after the passing of this Act no proceedings in Parliament, touching any Bill for the dissolution of marriage, wherein such warrant as aforesaid shall have been issued, shall be discontinued by any prorogation or dissolution of Parliament, until the examination therein directed shall have been returned, but that such proceedings may be resumed, and proceeded upon in a subsequent session, or in a subsequent Parliament, in either House of Parliament, in like manner and to all intents and purposes as they might have been in the course of one and the same session; any law, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

AN ACT for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in Ireland.

This Act was continued by others passed at various times, the latest being the 6 & 7 Wm. 4, cap. 23, by which it was continued for three years from the passing of that Act (21st June, 1836), and from thence to the end of the then next session of Parliament. The only section connected with the subject of this volume was the 47th, which provided for the payment to the assignees of an insolvent being an officer in the naval or military service of the East-India Company, of a portion of his pay or pension to be applied in discharge of his debts. The 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 107, confirms the previous law as far as it related to the persons who should have petitioned the Court before the time fixed for the commencement of that Act (1st November, 1840), and to persons who had obtained their discharge by virtue of any Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in Ireland. The present law, as far as it peculiarly affects servants of the East-India Company, will be found in its proper place, 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 107.

II. And whereas by the said Act of the fifty-third year of the reign of his said late Majesty King George the Third, provision was made for granting certain pensions to the Bishop of Calcutta, and the Archdeacons of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, who should have exercised in the East-Indies, or parts in the said Act mentioned, for fifteen years, the office or offices of bishop or archdeacon; and it is expedient to shorten the period during which such bishops and archdeacons respectively are required to hold their said offices before such pensions could be granted to them respectively, and to make other provisions respecting such pensions: be it enacted, that so much of the said Act as relates to such pensions shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

4 GEORGE IV. Cap. LXXX.

AN ACT to consolidate and amend the several Laws now in force with respect to Trade from and to Places within the Limits of the Charter of the East-India Company, and to make further Provisions with respect to such Trade; and to amend an Act of the present Session of Parliament, for the registering of Vessels, so far as it relates to Vessels registered in India. [18th July, 1823.

This Act, which repealed various previous enactments relating to the trade of the East-India Company, was itself repealed by 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 93, except the repealing clauses, and the following sections relating to Asiatic seamen.

XX. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that no Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives of any of the territories, countries, islands, or places within the limits of the Charter of the East-India Company, although born in territories, countries, islands, or places under the government of his Majesty, or of the East-India Company, shall at any time be deemed or taken to be British sailors, seamen, or mariners, within the intent and meaning of an Act passed in the thirty-fourth year of the reign of his late Majesty, intituled, "An Act for the further encouragement of British Mariners, and for other Purposes therein mentioned," or of any other Act or Acts of Parliament relating to the navigation of British ships by subjects of his Majesty, for the purpose of entitling any ship or vessel to be deemed to be a British ship navigated according to law, and to have the privileges and advantages of British ships having the master and three-fourths of the mariners British subjects, anything in the said recited Act of the thirty-fourth year aforesaid, or in any other Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws to the contrary notwithstanding: provided also that it shall be lawful for his Majesty, by his royal proclamation, upon or after the commencement of any hostilities, to permit all merchant ships or any other trading vessels, and all privateers, to be manned wholly or in any such proportions as shall be specified in any such proclamation, with such Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives as aforesaid, for and during such periods as shall be specified in any such proclamation as aforesaid.

XXI. And whereas Lascars and other natives of the East are not deemed to be equal in strength and use to European or other seamen, and the requiring the proportion of three-fourths of British seamen in ships having as part of the crew Lascars and natives of the East, would compel such ships to carry a larger number of British seamen than other ships, or to employ a smaller number of Lascars and natives of the East than would be sufficient to make a proper crew; be it therefore enacted, that any ship or vessel duly registered, manned in part with Lascars or natives of India, which shall be commanded by a British master, and navigated by four British seamen as part of the crew, for every hundred tons of her registered burthen, and so in proportion for any part of a hundred tons shall be deemed, construed, and taken to be navigated according to law as to the crew of any such ship or vessel; although the number of such British seamen shall not be equal to the proportion of three-fourths of the whole crew of such ship or vessel; anything in any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws to the contrary notwithstanding.

A proportion of British seamen to the tonnage of any ship sufficient.

In cases where in India a sufficient number of British seamen cannot be obtained, Governors may license the ship to sail.

XXII. AN ACT for the better Protection of the Property of Merchants and others who may hereafter enter into Contracts or Agreements in relation to Goods, Wares, or Merchandizes intrusted to Factors or Agents. [18th July, 1823.]

[This Act was amended by 6 Geo. 4, cap. 94, which will be found in its proper place.]

Whereas it has been found that the law, as it now stands, relating to goods shipped in the names of persons who are not the actual proprietors thereof, and to the deposit or pledge of goods, affords great facility to fraud, produces frequent litigation, and proves, in its effects, highly injurious to the interest of commerce in general; be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from and after the passing of this Act, any person or persons intrusted, for the purpose of sale, with any goods, wares, or merchandize, and by whom such goods, wares or merchandize shall be shipped in his, her, or their own name or names, or in whose name or names any goods, wares, or merchandize shall be shipped by any other person or persons, shall be deemed and taken to be the true owner or owners thereof, so far as to entitle the consignee or consignees of such goods, wares, and merchandize to a lien thereon, in respect of any money or negotiable security or securities advanced or given by such consignee or consignees to or for the use of the person or persons in whose name or names such goods, wares, or merchandize shall be shipped, or in respect of any money or negotiable security or securities received by him, her, or them to the use of such consignee or consignees, in the like manner to all intents and purposes as if such person or persons was or were the true owner or owners of such goods, wares, and merchandize; provided such consignee or consignees shall not have notice, by the bill of lading for the delivery of such goods, wares, or mer-

Persons in whose names goods shall be shipped, shall be deemed to be the true owners, so as to entitle consignees to a lien thereon in respect of their advances, or of money or negotiable securities received by the shippers to the use of the consignees, provided the consignees have no notice that the consignors are not the actual proprietors of such property.

chandise, or otherwise, at or before the time of any advance of such money or negotiable security, or of such receipt of money or negotiable security, in respect of which such lien is claimed, that such person or persons so shipping in his, her, or their own name or names, or in whose name or names any such goods, wares, or merchandize shall be shipped by any person or persons, is or are not the actual and bona fide owner or owners, proprietor or proprietors of such goods, wares, and merchandize so shipped as aforesaid, any law, usage, or custom to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding: provided also, that the person or persons in whose name or names any such goods, wares, or merchandize are so shipped as aforesaid, shall be taken for the purposes of this Act to have been intrusted therewith, unless the contrary thereof shall appear or be shewn in evidence by any person disputing such fact.

II. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful to and for any person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, to accept and take any goods, wares, or merchandize, or the bill or bills of lading for the delivery thereof, in deposit or pledge, from any consignee or consignees thereof, but then and in that case such person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, shall acquire no further or other right, title, or interest, in or upon or to the said goods, wares, or merchandize, or any bill of lading for the delivery thereof, than was possessed, or could or might have been enforced by the said consignee or consignees at the time of such deposit or pledge as a security as aforesaid; but such person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, shall and may acquire, possess, and enforce such right, title, or interest, as was possessed, and might have been enforced, by such consignee or consignees, at the time of such deposit or pledge as aforesaid; any rule of law, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

Any person may take goods or bill of lading in deposit from any consignee; but such person shall not acquire any further right than the consignee possessed.

III. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed, construed, or taken to deprive or prevent the true owner or owners, proprietor or proprietors of such goods, wares, or merchandize, from demanding and recovering the same from his, her, or their factor or factors, agent or agents, before the same shall have been so deposited or pledged, or from the assignee or assignees of such factor or factors, agent or agents, in the event of his, her, or their bankruptcy; nor to prevent any such owner or owners, proprietor or proprietors, from demanding or recovering of and from any person or persons, or of or from the assignees of any person or persons in case of his or her bankruptcy, or of or from any body or bodies politic or corporate, such goods, wares, or merchandize, so consigned, deposited, or pledged, upon repayment of the money, or on restoration of the negotiable security or securities, or on payment of a sum of money equal to the amount of such security or securities, for which money or negotiable security or securities such person or persons, his, her, or their assignee or assignees, or such body or bodies politic or corporate, may be entitled to any lien upon such goods, wares, or merchandize; nor to prevent the said owner or owners, proprietor or proprietors, from recovering of and from such person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, any balance or sum of money remaining in his, her, or their hands, as the produce of the sale of such goods, wares, or merchandize, after deducting thereout the amount of the money or negotiable security or securities so advanced or given upon the security thereof as aforesaid; provided always, that in case of the bankruptcy of such factor or agent, the owner of the goods so pledged and redeemed as aforesaid shall be held to have discharged pro tanto the debt due by him to the bankrupt's estate.

Right of the true owner to follow his goods while in the hands of his agent, or of his assignees in case of bankruptcy, or to recover them from assignees, &c. upon paying his advances secured upon them, &c.

AN ACT to amend Two Acts; of the Fifty-eighth year of his late Majesty, for regulating the Payment of Regimental Debts, and the Distribution of the Effects of Officers and Soldiers dying in Service, and the Receipt of Sums due to Soldiers; and of the Fourth Year of his present Majesty, for punishing Mutiny and Desertion of Officers and Soldiers in the Service of the East-India Company.

Whereas an Act was passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Third, intituled, "An Act for Regulating the Payment of Regimental Debts, and the Distribution of the Effects of Officers and Soldiers dying in Service, and the Receipt of Sums due to Soldiers:" and whereas by an Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act to consolidate and amend the Laws for punishing Mutiny and Desertion of Officers and Soldiers in the Service of the East-India Company, and to authorize Soldiers and Sailors in the East-Indies to send and receive Letters at a reduced Rate of Postage,"(1) and by certain articles of war made in pursuance thereof, provision is made for the care and application of the effects and credits of deceased officers and soldiers in the said Company's service: and whereas the transmission to regimental agents or other persons of the effects or proceeds of effects of officers and soldiers dying in his Majesty's service, or in the service of the said Company, has been found highly beneficial in securing an early distribution of such effects among the relations of such officers and soldiers at small expense, and many sums are thereby saved to the relations of soldiers, which would otherwise be, from their small amount, wholly lost; and it is therefore expedient to render the provisions of the said recited Acts, relating to such matters, more effectual: be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall be lawful for all officers and persons who may be employed or required by or under the authority of any articles of war in force for the time being, either for the officers or soldiers in the service of his Majesty, or for the European officers or soldiers in the service of the said Company, to take care of or collect, or superintend and direct the collection of the effects of officers or soldiers dying in service out of the United Kingdom, to ask, demand, and receive any such effects, and to commence, prosecute, and carry on any actions or suits for the recovery thereof, without taking out any letters of administration, either with any will annexed or otherwise, in like manner in every respect as if such officers or persons had been appointed executors, or had taken out letters of administration of such effects; and no registrar of any Court in the East-Indies, or elsewhere in any colonies or possessions of his Majesty abroad, shall in any manner interpose in relation to any such effects, unless required or au-

AN ACT for declaring the Law in relation to Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes becoming payable on Good Friday or Christmas Day.

[12th April, 1827.]

Whereas an Act was passed in the thirty-ninth and fortieth years of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Third, intituled, "An Act for the better Observance of Good Friday in certain Cases therein mentioned;" and it was thereby enacted, that where bills of exchange and promissory notes became due and payable on Good Friday, the same should, from and after the first day of June then next ensuing, be payable on the day before Good Friday, and that the holder or holders of such bills of exchange or promissory notes might note and protest the same for nonpayment on the day preceding Good Friday, in like manner as if the same had fallen due and become payable on the day preceding Good Friday; and that such noting and protest should have the same effect and operation at law as if such bills and promissory notes had fallen due and become payable on the day preceding Good Friday, in the same manner as was usual in the cases of bills of exchange and promissory note coming due on the day before any Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, and before the feast of the nativity or birth-day of our Lord, commonly called Christmas Day; and whereas, notwithstanding the said recited Act, and notwithstanding the general custom of merchants, doubts have arisen whether notice of the dishonour of bills of exchange and promissory notes falling due on any Good Friday or on any Christmas Day, should not be given on such Good Friday or Christmas Day respectively, and whether in cases where bills of exchange and promissory notes fall due on the day preceding any Good Friday or Christmas Day, notice of the dishonour thereof should not be given on the Good Friday or the Christmas Day next after the same bills of exchange and promissory notes so fall due; and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed: be it therefore declared and enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from and immediately after the tenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven, in all cases where bills of exchange or promissory notes shall be payable, either under or by virtue of the said recited Act, or otherwise, on the day preceding any Good Friday, or on the day preceding any Christmas Day, it shall not be necessary for the holder or holders of such bills of exchange or promissory notes to give notice of the dishonour thereof until the day next after such Good Friday or Christmas Day; and that whenever Christmas Day shall fall on a Monday, it shall not be necessary for the holder or holders of such bills of exchange or promissory notes as shall be payable on the preceding Saturday, to give notice of the dishonour thereof until the Tuesday next after such Christmas Day; and that every such notice given as aforesaid shall be valid and effectual to all intents and purposes.

II. And whereas similar doubts have existed with respect to bills of exchange and promissory notes falling due upon days appointed by his Majesty's proclamation for solemn fasts or days of thanksgiving, or upon the day next preceding such days respectively, and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed; be it therefore further declared and enacted, that from and after the said tenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and twenty-

Executors may sell such real estates for the payment of debts.

III. And it is further declared and enacted, that in any suit or action to be commenced and prosecuted in any of the said Courts respectively, against such executor or administrator as aforesaid, for the recovery of any debt or demand due and owing by such testator or intestate in his life-time and at the time of his death, such executor or administrator shall and may be charged with the full amount in value of such real estate as aforesaid, not exceeding the actual net proceeds of such estate when sold by the sheriff, as assets in the hands of such executor or administrator to be administered.

And be it further enacted, that when any petition shall have been presented under this Act to any of the said Courts for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, either by an insolvent or by any creditor or creditors of such insolvent, it shall be lawful for any person or persons to whom such insolvent shall be indebted, at any time before or after the discharge of such insolvent, to make claim upon the estate of such insolvent, and to prove his or their debt or debts, whether due by such insolvent solely, or jointly with any other person or persons, and shall be entitled to and receive a dividend thereon rateably with the other creditors of the said insolvent, although the name of such creditor may have been wholly omitted by the said insolvent in his or her schedule, or may have been inserted for a smaller amount than the debt really due to such person ; and in the case of an adjudication of an act of insolvency under this Act, then although no schedule shall have been filed by such insolvent, and where any objection to the existence or amount of such debt so claimed shall be made by such insolvent or any creditor, such Court shall hear the same, and make such order thereon as may seem meet and just.

XXXVIII. And be it further enacted, that upon the hearing of any such petition it shall be lawful for the Court to adjudge that the insolvent is entitled to the benefit of this Act, and to order his immediate discharge from custody accordingly, or to dismiss or amend the petition, or to order the insolvent or insolvents to amend his, her, or their schedule or schedules, or to adjourn the further hearing of the petition until a future day, or to make a reference to the examiner or other proper officer of the Court, to make inquiry into any matter of account, or into the truth of the schedule or schedules, and to report thereon to the Court ; and it shall also be lawful for the Court to remand the insolvent or insolvents to prison until the further hearing of the petition, or until final order be made in the matter thereof, or to commit the insolvent or insolvents to custody for any debt or debts, if he, she, or they shall not be in custody at the time of the hearing, and to cancel or renew any such certificate as is herein-before mentioned, which may have been given for the purpose of protecting the insolvent or insolvents from arrest, or to make any fresh order for protecting the insolvent or insolvents from arrest until final order shall be made in the matter of the petition before the Court, and to order and direct that the assignee or assignees shall make some reasonable allowance for maintenance until such final order, the amount of which shall be fixed by the Court, and shall not exceed five sicca rupees per week : provided always, that in case of the Court dismissing any petition, the acts previously done by the assignee or assignees, or any person or persons acting under his or their authority, in pursuance of this Act, shall be valid ; but in such case the Court shall make such order for re-assigning and re-delivery to the insolvent the residue of his or her estate and effects, as the case shall require, whereupon the same shall be re-vested in such insolvent accordingly.

XXXIX. And be it further enacted, that the Court by which any order shall be made upon any such hearing as is herein-before mentioned shall also order that the assignee or assignees shall give such notice of such order having been made as to the Court shall seem fit and convenient.

Public notice shall be given of the order.

XI. And be it further enacted, that the discharge of any such insolvent so adjudicated as aforesaid shall and may extend to any sum and sums of money which shall be payable by way of annuity or otherwise, at any future time or times, by virtue of any bond, covenant, or other security whatsoever ; and that every person and persons who would be a creditor or creditors of such insolvent for such sum or sums of money, if the same were presently due, shall be admissible as a creditor or creditors of such insolvent for the value of such sum or sums of money so payable as aforesaid ; which value the said Court shall, upon application at any time made in that behalf, ascertain, regard being had to the original price given for such sum or sums of money, deducting therefrom such diminution in the value thereof as shall have been caused by the lapse of time since the grant thereof to the time of filing such insolvent's petition ; and such creditor or creditors shall be entitled, in respect of such value, to the benefit of all the provisions made for creditors by this Act, without prejudice nevertheless to the respective securities of such creditor or creditors, excepting as respects such insolvent's discharge under this Act.

Discharge may extend to sums payable by way of annuity.

Any actions which may have been brought upon claims admitted in the schedule shall be discontinued.

XLII. And be it further enacted, that if at the time of any such hearing and order any suit or action shall be pending against the insolvent or insolvents in any Court within the British territories in the East-Indies, or for any debt, claim, obligation, or demand admitted in the schedule of the insolvent or insolvents, or disputed as to amount only, every plaintiff in such suit or action shall discontinue the same, and shall pay all costs incurred, subsequent to his having notice of such hearing and order; and in case of such discontinuance, the insolvent or insolvents shall not by virtue of any supersedeas, nonsuit, or judgment as in case of nonsuit in any such suit or action, be relieved from the debt, claim, obligation, or demand for which it shall have been brought, or entitled to claim from the plaintiff or plaintiffs any of the costs of any such suit or action incurred before the plaintiff or plaintiffs had notice of the hearing and order aforesaid.

Assignees may seize the property of the petitioners.

XLIII. And be it further enacted, that every such assignee as aforesaid shall, with all convenient speed, take possession, by himself, or by means of messengers of the Court, or by other fit and proper persons, of all the real and personal estate and effects of the insolvent of which immediate possession may be obtained, and shall use his or her best endeavours to seize, obtain, recover, and reduce into possession as speedily as possible the rest of such estate and effects, and all debts, claims, and choses in action which by such assignment he shall have been empowered to obtain, recover, and get in.

The Court may sell the reputed property of the petitioner.

XLIV. And be it further enacted, that if any such insolvent or insolvents as are before-mentioned, at the time of filing his, her or their petition, or at the time of any such adjudication of an act of insolvency as aforesaid, shall, by the consent and permission of the true owner thereof, have in his, her, or their possession, order, or disposition, any goods or chattels whereof he, she, or they is or are reputed owner, or of which he, she, or they have undertaken the sale, alteration, or disposition, as owner, the Court in which the petition shall have been filed, or by which such adjudication shall have been pronounced, shall have power to sell and dispose of the same for the benefit of the creditors of such insolvent or insolvents; provided that nothing herein contained shall invalidate or affect any transfer or assignment of any ship or vessel, or any share thereof, made as a security for any debt or debts, either by way of mortgage or assignment, according to the provisions of an Act of Parliament made in the sixth year of the reign of his present Majesty, and intituled, "An Act for the registering of British Vessels."

Assignees may redeem any property of the petitioner.

XLV. And be it further enacted, that if any insolvent or insolvents shall have mortgaged, pledged, pawned, or deposited any real or personal estate, or any effects, deeds, or written instruments, with a reservation to himself, herself, or themselves of a power of redeeming the same, his, her, or their assignee or assignees shall have the same right and power of redemption as the insolvent or insolvents would have had if the assignment had not been made.

Where a petitioner is beneficially entitled to stock, Court may order transfer thereof.

XLVI. And be it enacted, that if any insolvent or insolvents shall, at the time of filing his, her, or their petition for relief in any such Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, or at the time of any such adjudication of an act of insolvency as aforesaid, or at any time before he or she shall have become entitled to his or her final discharge according to this Act, have any Government stock, funds, or annuities, or any of the stock of any public company either in England, Scotland, or Ireland, standing in his, her, or their own name or names, in his, her, or their own right, it shall be lawful for such Court, whenever it shall deem fit so to do, to order all persons whose act or consent is thereto necessary to transfer the same into the name or names of such assignee or assignees as aforesaid, and all such persons whose act or consent is so necessary as aforesaid are hereby indemnified for all things done or permitted pursuant to such order: provided always, that in all transfers into the name or names of any such assignee or assignees, the transferee or transferees shall be described as assignee or assignees of the estate and effects of the insolvent; and no dividend shall be payable to, nor any future transfer made by, any person of any such stock, funds, or annuities, except under a power of attorney in the usual form required for the receipt of dividends upon or transfer of such stock, funds, and annuities respectively, duly executed by such assignee or assignees, and attested by two credible witnesses, one of whom shall be an officer of such Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors, and to which attestation the seal of such Court shall be affixed.

XLVI. And be it further enacted, that after the hearing of any such petition and schedule as herein-before mentioned, it shall be lawful for the assignee or assignees, by and with the approbation of such Court, and by and with the consent of any creditors, whose claims after such hearing shall appear to amount to more than half of all the debts due from the insolvent to persons resident within the British territories in the East-Indies, to take such reasonable part of any debts due to the petitioner or petitioners, as may by composition be gotten, in full discharge of such debts, and to submit to arbitration any difference or dispute between the assignee or assignees, and any other person or persons, for or on account or by reason of anything relating to the estate and effects of such prisoner.

Assignees may make composition for the rights and dues of the petitioners.

XLVII. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the assignee or assignees, by and with the like approbation and consent, to commence and prosecute or defend any suits or actions at law or in equity which the insolvent or insolvents might have commenced and prosecuted or defended, and to defray the costs to which he or they may be put in respect of such suits or actions out of the proceeds of the estate and effects of the insolvent or insolvents; and if there be any partner or partners of the insolvent or insolvents who hath not or have not joined in the petition, it shall be lawful for the Court to authorize the assignee or assignees to join such partner or partners with himself or themselves as plaintiffs in such suit or action; and if such partner or partners shall execute any release of the debt or demand for which such suit or action is brought, the release shall be void; provided always, that such partner or partners, if he, she, or they shall take no part in the prosecution or defence of such suit or action, shall not be liable to pay costs in respect of the same.

Assignees may prosecute and defend actions at law and suits in equity, with the approbation of the Court and consent of creditors.

XLVIII. And be it further enacted, that all powers vested in any such insolvent or insolvents as afore-mentioned, which he, she, or they might lawfully execute, for his, her, or their benefit, might be executed by his, her or their assignees, for the benefit of his, her, or their creditors.

Assignees may execute powers vested in insolvent.

XLIX. And be it further enacted, that from time to time as possession is obtained of any of the estate or effects of any insolvent or insolvents, the assignee or assignees shall with all convenient speed make sale of the same; subject nevertheless to the direction and control of the Court by authority of which he or they shall have been appointed, in case any application shall be made to such Court by any insolvent, or any creditor or mortgagee, in all which cases such Court shall have full power and authority to delay or postpone the sale of any property, and to make such other order regulating the same as to such Court shall seem meet.

Assignees shall sell the property, unless the Court direct otherwise.

Court may defer the sale of property, if it shall think proper.

L. And whereas the insolvents may be entitled to annuities for their own lives, or other uncertain interests, or to reversionary or contingent interests, or may have made advances of money for the cultivation of lands, or may be interested in property in other ways, in which the immediate sale thereof for payment of their debts may be very prejudicial to them and to their creditors, and it may be proper in some cases to defer the sale of such property, and to put it under temporary management, or to authorize the raising of money by way of mortgage for payment of the debts or part of the debts of an insolvent, and for defraying the expenses attending the execution of this Act, instead of selling for such purpose; be it enacted, that in all such cases it shall be lawful for the said Courts for Relief of Insolvent Debtors at any time to take into consideration all circumstances affecting any property of the prisoner which shall have been assigned under the provisions of this Act; and if it shall appear to any such Court that it would be reasonable to make any special order touching the same, it shall be lawful for such Courts so to do, and to direct that so much of the said property as it may be expedient not to sell immediately, according to the provisions of this Act, shall not be so sold, and from time to time to order and direct in what manner such property shall be managed, for the benefit of the creditors of such insolvent, until the same can be properly sold, or until payment of such creditors be effected, according to the provisions of this Act, and to make such order touching the sale or disposition of such property as to such Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors may seem reasonable and beneficial, and upon such terms and conditions, with respect to the allowance of interest on debts not bearing interest, or other circumstances, as to such Court shall seem just; and if it shall appear that the debts of any such insolvent or insolvents can be discharged by means of money raised by way of mortgage on any of the said property of the said insolvent or insolvents, instead of raising the same by sale, it shall be lawful for the said Court so to order, and to give all necessary directions for such purpose, and generally to direct all things which may be proper for the discharge of the debts of such insolvent or insolvents, as may be most consistent with the interest of such petitioner or petitioners, and of his, her, or their creditor or creditors.

Assignees to render accounts to the Court.

LI. And be it further enacted, that the assignee or assignees of all such insolvents as are herein-before mentioned shall keep accounts of the property, debts, and credits of such insolvents, whether belonging or due to or from such insolvents solely, or jointly with any other person or persons, wherein they shall enter all property of the insolvents received by them, and all payments made by them; which accounts any creditors may inspect at all reasonable times; and it shall be lawful for the Courts for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors at all times to summon the assignees before them, and require them to produce all books, papers, deeds, writings, and other documents in their possession, which in any way relate to the petition of the insolvent or insolvents; and if such assignee or assignees so summoned shall not come before such Courts respectively at the time appointed, or shall not bring with him or them such documents as are afore-mentioned, it shall be lawful for such Courts respectively to issue attachments, and to cause such assignee and assignees to be brought before them, and to commit such assignee or assignees to prison until he or they shall submit to the Court by which he or they shall have been summoned.

Court shall declare dividends.

LII. And be it further enacted, that whenever it shall appear by the accounts of any assignee or assignees that a dividend may be beneficially made amongst the creditors, it shall be lawful for any Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors to summon before it the assignee or assignees, and to direct that such public notice as to the Court may seem meet shall be given of a further hearing of the petition on a day certain, for the purpose of making a divi-

LIII. Provided always, and be it enacted, that it shall not be lawful for such Court to order any dividend to be made amongst the joint creditors out of the separate estate, until the separate creditors shall have been paid in full, nor to order any dividend to be made to the separate creditors out of the joint estate, until all the joint creditors shall have been paid in full; in which latter case it shall be lawful for such Court to order such dividend to be made among the separate creditors, out of such interest in the joint estate, as such insolvent shall appear to be separately entitled to.

A certain part of an insolvent's property to be reserved for a limited time.

LV. And be it further enacted, that if any creditor whose claim shall have been established in any Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors shall not appear, by himself, his attorney or agent, at the making of any dividend, nor shall make application to receive his, her, or Assignees to make compensation to the petitioners or their creditors for any losses which may be occasioned by their misconduct.

LVI. And be it further enacted, that if any assignee or assignees shall neglect to account, or to pay any difference which shall have been ordered by any Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, or in any other respect shall neglect his or their duty as assignee or assignees, it shall be lawful for such Court to summon such assignee or assignees, and to inquire into such neglect; and if such Court shall be of opinion that the insolvent or insolvents, or his, her, or their creditors, have suffered any injury by the fault of the assignee or assignees, it shall be lawful for such Court to order the assignee or assignees to make such compensation for the same as to such Court shall seem fit; and in default of the assignee or assignees obeying the summons of such Court, or making such compensation as shall be ordered by such Court, it shall be lawful for such Court to commit the assignee or assignees who shall have so offended to the common gaol, there to remain without bail until he or they shall obey the order of such Court; or to levy, by distress and sale of the offender's goods, so much as shall be sufficient to make the compensation which shall have been ordered by such Court.

In certain cases, discharge to be at any period not later than three years from petitioning.

LIX. And be it further enacted, that whenever any creditor or creditors opposing such insolvent's discharge shall prove, to the satisfaction of any such Court, that such insolvent has done or committed any act for which, upon such adjudication as aforesaid, he or she may be liable to remain in such custody as aforesaid for a period not exceeding three years, to be computed as aforesaid, such Court shall adjudge the taxed costs of such opposition to be paid to such opposing creditor or creditors, out of the estate and effects of such prisoner, by his or her assignee or assignees, before any dividend made thereof: and in all other cases of opposition to an insolvent's discharge being substantiated or effectual, it shall be lawful for such Court to adjudge in like manner if it shall seem fit; and that in case it shall appear to such Court that the opposition of any creditor to any such insolvent's discharge was frivolous and vexatious, it shall and may be lawful for such Court to award such costs to such insolvent as shall appear to be just and reasonable, to be paid by the creditor or creditors making such opposition, which shall be paid accordingly.

LXI. And be it further enacted, that every such adjudication for discharge of any insolvent as aforesaid by any such Court as aforesaid, and the order thereupon, so made as aforesaid, except in cases of appeals, shall be final and conclusive, and shall not be reviewed by such Court, unless such Court shall thereafter see good and sufficient cause to believe that such adjudication has been made on false evidence, or otherwise improperly made or fraudulently obtained, in which case it shall and may be lawful for such Court, upon the application

Adjudication and order to be final, unless obtained on false evidence, &c. in which case Court may order a rehearing.

Insolvent may, after discharge, be examined as to the estate and effects, on application of the assignee.

LXII. And whereas the estate, both real and personal, of any person whose discharge has been adjudicated under this Act, may not be sufficiently described or discovered in his or her schedule so sworn to as aforesaid, or the assistance of such person may be necessary to adjudge, make out, recover, or manage his or her estate and effects, for the benefit of his or her creditors; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the assignee or assignees of the estate and effects of any such person whose discharge shall have been adjudicated under this Act, in case such person shall, upon application to him or her for that purpose, have refused or neglected to give the necessary information, from time to time to apply to the Court by which any such adjudication shall have been pronounced, that such person may be further examined as to any matters or things relating to his or her estate and effects by such Court; and thereupon, and also in case such person shall neglect or refuse to appear before such Court at such time and place as shall be directed by such order, or appearing shall refuse to be sworn, or to answer such questions as shall be put to him or her relating to the discovery of his or her said estate and effects, then and in any of such cases it shall be lawful for such Court, by warrant, to commit such person to gaol, there to remain without bail or mainprize until such time as he or she shall submit himself or herself to the order of such Court in that behalf, and shall answer upon oath or otherwise, as shall be required, to all such lawful questions as shall be put to him or her, in pursuance of the same, for the purposes aforesaid.

LXIII. And be it further enacted, that whenever it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of any Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors, upon the application of any insolvent, his assignee or assignees, or any of his or her creditors, that the estate of such insolvent debtor which shall have come to the hands of the assignee or assignees shall have produced sufficient to pay and discharge three-fourths of the amount of the debts which shall have been established in such Court, or that creditors to the amount of more than one-half in number and value of the debts which shall have been so established shall signify their consent in writing thereto, it shall be lawful for such Court to inquire into the conduct of the said insolvent; and if it shall appear to such Court that the said insolvent has acted fairly and honestly towards his or her creditors, such Court shall be fully authorized and empowered thereupon to order that the said insolvent shall be for ever discharged from all liability whatsoever for or in respect of such debts so established as aforesaid; and such Court shall, in the order to be drawn up, specify and set forth the names of such creditors; and after any such order shall have been so made, no further proceedings shall be had in the matter of the petition before the Court, unless upon appeal made to the Supreme Court of Judicature of the presidency where such Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors shall be holden, as hereby authorized: provided always, that no such order as last aforesaid shall prevent any creditor who shall not have been resident within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company at any time between the filing of such petition and the making of such order as last-mentioned, and who shall not have taken part in any of the proceedings under the said petition, from bringing any suit or action in the East-Indies, for the purpose of obtaining execution against the goods, estate, or effects of such insolvent, for any unsatisfied claim of such creditor, nor from bringing any suit or action for such claim in any Court of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or elsewhere without the limits of the said United Company's Charter, against such insolvent, in the same manner, and with the like consequences and effects, as if such order as last-mentioned had not been made.

Court may, in certain cases, discharge the insolvent from all liability in respect of the debts specified.

Order of discharge not to affect creditors residing out of the limits at the time.

LXIV. And be it further enacted, that if after the making of any such order as last aforesaid any insolvent shall, contrary to the tenor of the same, and to the true intent and meaning of this Act, be sued in any Court whatsoever, it shall be lawful for such person to plead such order, and to give an office copy thereof in evidence; and if such person shall thereupon obtain a verdict or decree in his or her favour, or if the bill shall be dismissed for want of prosecution, or there shall be judgment of nonsuit, the defendant or defendants shall also be adjudged to have treble costs.

Remedy for unlawful proceedings against petitioner after final order.

LXV. Provided always, and be it enacted, that in all cases where it shall have been adjudged that any such insolvent shall be so discharged and be entitled as aforesaid at some future period, such insolvent shall be subject and liable to be detained in prison, and to be arrested and charged in custody, at the suit of any one or more of his creditors with respect to whom it shall have been so adjudged, at any time before such period shall have arrived, in the same manner as he or she would have been subject and liable thereto if this Act had not passed: provided nevertheless, that when such period shall have arrived such insolvent shall be entitled to the benefit and protection of this Act, notwithstanding that he or she may have been out of actual custody during all or any part of the time subsequent to such adjudication, by reason of such prisoner not having been arrested or detained during such time or any part thereof.

Where adjudication of discharge at a future period, the petitioner may be arrested, &c. till period arrives.

LXVI. And be it further enacted, that in all cases where such insolvent shall, upon such adjudication as aforesaid, be liable to further imprisonment at the suit of his or her creditor ceeding five sicca rupees per week.

or creditors, or any or either of them, it shall be lawful at any time for the Court by which such adjudication shall be pronounced, on the application of such insolvent, to order such creditor or creditors at whose suit he or she shall be so imprisoned to pay to such insolvent such sum or sums of money, not exceeding the rate of five sicca rupees by the week in the whole, at such times, and in such manner, and in such proportions as such Court shall direct; and that, on failure of payment thereof, as directed by such Court, such Court shall order such insolvent to be forthwith discharged from custody at the suit of the creditor or creditors so failing to pay the same.

Special provisions for insolvent married women.

LXVII. And be it further enacted, that if any married woman, being a prisoner, or in insolvent circumstances, within the intent and meaning of this Act, shall petition to be discharged for any debt or debts under the provisions of the same, it shall be lawful for any Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors to which such petition shall be presented to receive the same, without requiring such married woman to execute such conveyance or assignment as may be lawfully required for other petitioners according to the provisions of this Act, but instead thereof such Court shall require such married woman to execute a conveyance and assignment for vesting in an assignee or assignees appointed by such Court, all property, real and personal, to which she may be entitled for her separate use, whether in possession, remainder, reversion, or expectancy, or over which she shall have any power of disposition, notwithstanding her coverture, or which shall be vested in any trustee or trustees, or other person or persons, for her benefit, and to deliver up all personal estate and effects of which she shall have the actual possession, except such as she may be permitted by such Court to retain, subject only to such right, title, or interest as her husband may have in the aforesaid real and personal property; all which acts she is hereby empowered to do without her husband, notwithstanding her coverture, so nevertheless as not to prejudice any right of her husband in such real and personal estate and effects respectively; and all such estate and effects, real and personal, in possession, reversion, or remainder, shall, by such conveyance and assignment so to be executed under the order of such Court, be as effectually vested in the assignee or assignees as the same might have been vested in such assignee or assignees by the conveyance or assignment of such woman if she had been sole and unmarried, subject only to the rights of her husband therein as aforesaid; and all provision in this Act contained, touching the real and personal estate of any petitioner or petitioners seeking to be relieved under the authority of the same, shall apply to such real and personal estate and effects of such married woman, in the same manner as the same would apply to such personal estate.

Insolvent lunatics.

LXVIII. And be it further enacted, that if any such prisoner for debt as aforesaid shall be or become of unsound mind, and be therefore incapable of taking the benefit of this Act, in such manner as he or she might have done if of sound mind, the gaoler or keeper of the prison wherein the prisoner shall be shall give information thereof to the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors of the presidency wherein such prison shall be situated, which Court shall thereupon issue a commission to some competent person or persons to inquire, examine, and report to such Court touching and respecting the state of the prisoner's mind; and such Court may either confirm or set aside the report of such commissioner or commissioners, and may, if it think fit, make further inquiry by examination of witnesses upon oath; and if such Court shall conclude that the prisoner is of unsound mind, it shall be lawful for such Court, at the instance of any person or persons on behalf of such prisoner, to order notice to be twice inserted in the Gazette of such presidency, and in such notice to specify and direct that application will be made to such Court for the discharge of such prisoner on a day to be specified in such notice, being twenty days at least from the first time of publication of such notice; which notice, together with service of the notice on the creditor or creditors at whose suit such prisoner shall be detained in custody, or his, her, or their attorney, shall be deemed sufficient to authorize such Court to proceed to the discharge of such prisoner, and such Court shall proceed accordingly, and discharge such prisoner: provided always, that all and every estate, right, title, interest in law and equity, real and personal, power, benefit, and emolument whatsoever, which if such prisoner were of sound mind could and ought to be assigned by such prisoner pursuant to the provisions of this Act, shall, by force and virtue of the order for the discharge of such prisoner, be vested in the common or other assignee or assignees appointed by such Court, as fully and effectually, and in the same manner, and with all and every the same consequence and effect, both in fact and law, as if such prisoner had been of sound mind, and had duly conveyed the same to such common or other assignee at the time and in the manner in this Act provided.

LXIX. And be it further enacted, that after the time appointed for this Act to take effect, every warrant of attorney to confess judgment in any personal action, in any of his Majesty's Courts of Record within the British territories under the government of the said United Company, and every cognovit actionem given by any defendant in any personal action which shall be pending in any of the said Courts, shall, within six weeks after the execution of such warrant or cognovit, be filed, together with an affidavit of the time of the execution thereof, with the prothonotary or other proper officer of the Court in which the judgment is confessed or the action is pending; and every such warrant of attorney and cognovit actionem as aforesaid, which shall not be so filed as aforesaid, shall be deemed fraudulent, null and void, to all intents and purposes; and if any warrant or cognovit which shall be so filed as aforesaid shall have been given subject to any defeazance or condition, such defeazance or condition shall be written on the same paper or parchment on which such warrant or cognovit shall be written, before the time when it shall be filed, otherwise such warrant or cognovit shall be null or void to all intents and purposes.

Warrants of attorney and cognovits shall be void, unless filed in six weeks after execution.

LXX. And be it further enacted, that the prothonotary or other proper officer of his Majesty's Court of Record within the British territories under the government of the said United Company shall cause every warrant of attorney and cognovit actionem in any personal action, filed in his office, to be numbered, and shall keep a book or books in his said office, in which he shall cause to be fairly entered an alphabetical list of all such warrants and cognovits, according to the form of a schedule annexed to an Act passed in the third year of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for preventing Frauds upon Creditors by secret Warrants of Attorney to confess Judgment;" which book or books, and every warrant of attorney and cognovit actionem filed as aforesaid, shall be searched and viewed at all times, upon payment of the fees lawfully established.

Prothonotary, &c. to keep books for the registry of warrants and cognovits.

3 G. 4, c. 39.

LXXI. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Court in which any such warrant or cognovit is filed to order a memorandum of satisfaction to be written upon any such warrant or cognovit, if it shall appear to such Court that the debt for which such warrant or cognovit was given as a security shall have been satisfied or discharged.

Court may order memorandum of satisfaction to be indorsed.

LXXII. And be it further enacted, that if any person, in any proceeding, examination, affidavit, or affirmation had or taken under this Act, shall wilfully and corruptly swear or affirm falsely, it shall be lawful for any Court before which any such person shall be convicted of any such offence by due course of law, to order and adjudge such person, if convicted in the said United Kingdom, to be transported for any term not exceeding seven years, or if convicted in the East-Indies, to be transported to such place and for such term as the Court shall direct, or in either case to order and adjudge that such person shall be imprisoned and fined, or imprisoned or fined only, for such time, and to such amount, and in such manner, as the same Court shall direct.

Penalty for embezzlement or concealment of effects.

LXXIII. And be it further enacted, that if any insolvent or other person shall wilfully and fraudulently embezzle or conceal any part of the real and personal estate or effects of any insolvent or insolvents who shall have filed a petition for relief, or against whom any petition shall have been filed in any of the said Courts for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and it shall be lawful for any Court before which any such person shall be convicted of any such offence by due course of law, to order and adjudge that such person shall be transported to such place and for such term of years as the said Court shall direct, or to order and adjudge that such person shall be imprisoned and fined, or imprisoned or fined only, for such time, and to such amount, and in such manner, as the same Court shall direct.

Application of fines imposed for the foregoing offences.

LXXIV. And be it further enacted, that whenever any person or persons shall have been ordered and adjudged, under the provisions of this Act, to pay any fine for any forgery, perjury, embezzlement, or concealment, and such fine shall have been paid, it shall be lawful for any assignee or assignees in whom the estate and effects of any insolvent or insolvents shall be duly vested, according to the provisions of this Act, to apply to the Court by which such fine shall have been imposed; and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the same Court that the creditors for whose benefit the said assignee or assignees shall hold in trust the said estate and effects have been defrauded, or have incurred loss, by means of such forgery, perjury, embezzlement, or concealment, the said Court by which the said fine shall have been imposed shall pay the same, after deducting the costs of prosecution, to the said assignee or assignees for the use and benefit of the said creditors; provided always, that if no such application shall be made by such assignee or assignees within one year after any such fine shall have been paid, it shall be lawful for the Court by which such fine shall have been imposed, to appropriate, apply, and pay over such fine to such uses, purposes, and persons, and in such manner as any other fine imposed by the same Court for any forgery, perjury, or other crime or misdemeanor may be lawfully appropriated, applied, and paid over.

Mode of taking affidavits.

LXXV. And be it enacted, that all affidavits and affirmations to be used before any Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, or any officer of such Court, shall and may be sworn and affirmed before such Court, or any commissioner or other person appointed by such Court for that purpose, or any judge or commissioner for taking affidavits in any of his Majesty's Courts of Record within the limits of the said United Company's Charter, or before any master or master extraordinary in Chancery in England or Ireland, or any magistrate authorized to take affidavits or affirmations in Scotland.

No person having had the benefit of this Act shall have it again within five years, except in certain cases.

LXXVI. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that no person who shall have been at any time discharged by virtue of this Act shall again be entitled to the benefit thereof within the space of five years after such discharge, unless a majority in number and value of the creditors against whom such person shall seek to be discharged by virtue of this Act shall signify his, her, or their assent to such discharge, or unless it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, to which application for such discharge shall be made, that such person has since his or her former discharge endeavoured by industry and frugality to pay all just demands upon him or her, and has incurred no unnecessary expense, and that the debts which such person has incurred subsequent to such former discharge have been necessarily incurred for the maintenance of such person, or his or her family, or that the insolvency of such person has arisen from misfortune, or from inability to acquire subsistence for himself or herself, and his or her family.

LXXVII. And be it further enacted, that if any action of escape, or any other suit or action shall be brought against any magistrate or officer, or any other person for performing the duty of his office or appointment in pursuance of this Act, he or they may plead the general issue, and give this Act in evidence; and if the plaintiff shall be nonsuited, or discontinue his or her action, or a verdict shall pass against him or her, or judgment shall be given for the defendant upon demurrer, the defendant shall have treble costs.

In actions under this Act the general issue may be pleaded.

LXXVIII. And be it further enacted, that the proper officer of the several Courts for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors shall, on the reasonable request of any such insolvent as aforesaid, or of any creditor or creditors of such insolvent, or his or their attorney, produce and shew to such insolvent, creditor or creditors, and his, her, or their attorney, at such times as such Courts respectively shall direct, every petition, schedule, order of adjudication, and all other orders and proceedings made and had relating to such insolvent, and all books, papers, and writings filed in such matter, and permit him, her, or them to inspect and examine the same, and shall provide for any such insolvent, or creditor or creditors, or his, her, or their attorney requiring the same, a copy or copies of such petition and other proceedings, or of such part thereof as shall be required, receiving such fee as such Court shall appoint for so providing the same; and that a copy of such petition, schedule, order, and other orders and proceedings, purporting to be signed by the officer in whose custody the same shall be, or his deputy, certifying the same to be a true copy of such petition, schedule, order, or other proceeding, and sealed with the seal of the said Courts respectively, shall at all times be admitted in all Courts whatever, and before Commissioners of Bankrupt and Justices of the Peace, as sufficient evidence of the same, without any proof whatever given of the same, further than that the same is sealed with the seal of such Courts respectively as aforesaid.

Officer of Court to produce proceedings, and give copies.

LXXIX. And be it further enacted, that no conveyance, assignment, letter of attorney, affidavit, certificate, or other proceeding, instrument, or writing whatsoever, before or under any order of any of such Courts for Relief of Insolvent Debtors, nor any copy thereof, nor any advertisement inserted in any newspaper by direction of any such Court, relating to matters within the jurisdiction of such Court, shall be liable to or chargeable or charged with the payment of any stamp or other duty whatsoever, and that no sale of any real or personal estate of any such insolvent as aforesaid, for the benefit of his, or her creditors under this Act, shall be liable to any auction duty.

Proceedings not liable to stamp duty, &c.

LXXX. And be it further enacted, that his Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, shall respectively have power to make all necessary and reasonable rules for facilitating and carrying into effect within their respective jurisdictions the relief intended to be given by this Act in cases for which sufficient provision has not been thereby made.

Courts may make rules for facilitating the relief hereby intended.

AN ACT for improving the Administration of Criminal Justice in the East-Indies.
[25 July, 1828.]

Whereas many wholesome alterations have lately been made in the criminal law of England, and the administration thereof, by authority of Parliament: and it is expedient that some of the said alterations should be extended to the British territories under the Government of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies; be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that this Act shall commence and take effect on and from the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-nine, and shall extend to all persons and all places, as well on land as on the high seas, over whom or which the criminal jurisdiction of any of his Majesty's Courts of Justice erected or to be erected within the British territories under the government of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies does or shall hereafter extend.

From the 1st March, 1829, this Act to take effect throughout the jurisdiction of the King's Courts in the East-Indies.

Who may be admitted to bail on a charge of felony, and who may not.

II. And be it enacted, that where any person shall be taken on a charge of felony or suspicion of felony before one or more justice or justices of the peace, and the charge shall be supported by positive and credible evidence of the fact, or by such evidence as if not explained or contradicted, shall in the opinion of the justice or justices raise a strong presumption of the guilt of the person charged, such person shall be committed to prison by such justice or justices in the manner herein-after mentioned; but if there shall be only one justice present, and the whole evidence given before him shall be such as neither to raise a strong presumption of guilt, nor to warrant the dismissal of the charge, such justice shall order the person charged to be detained in custody until he or she shall be taken before two justices at the least; and where any person so taken, or any person in the first instance taken before two justices of the peace, shall be charged with felony or on suspicion of felony, and the evidence given in support of the charge, shall in their opinion not be such as to raise a strong presumption of the guilt of the person charged, and to require his or her committal, or such evidence shall be adduced on behalf of the person charged as shall in their opinion weaken the presumption of his or her guilt, but there shall notwithstanding appear to them, in either of such cases, to be sufficient ground for judicial inquiry into his or her guilt, the person charged shall be admitted to bail by such two justices in the manner herein-after mentioned: provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to require any such justice or justices to hear evidence on behalf of any person so charged as aforesaid, unless it shall appear to him or them to be meet and conducive to the ends of justice to hear the same: provided also, that in all cases where any person or persons charged as aforesaid, shall be brought before one justice, at any place beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of any of his Majesty's Courts of Justice erected or to be erected within the British territories, under the Government of the said United Company, it shall be lawful for such justice alone either to commit such person to prison, or to admit him to bail as herein-before directed.

III. And be it enacted, that the justice or justices of the peace, before he or they shall admit to bail or commit to prison any person arrested for felony or on suspicion of felony, shall take the examination of such person, and the information upon oath of those who shall know the facts and circumstances of the case, and shall put the same or as much thereof as shall be material into writing, and the two justices shall certify such bailment in writing; and every such justice shall have authority to bind by recognizance all such persons as know or declare anything material touching any such felony or suspicion of felony, to appear at the next Court of Oyer and Terminer or Gaol Delivery, or superior Criminal Court or Sessions of the Peace, at which the trial thereof is intended to be, then and there to prosecute or give evidence against the party accused; and such justices and justice respectively shall subscribe all such examinations, informations, bailments, and recognizances, and deliver or cause the same to be delivered to the proper officer of the Court in which the trial is to be, before or at the opening of the Court.

Before any person charged with felony, &c. shall be bailed or committed, the Justices shall take down in writing the examination, &c. and bind witnesses to appear at the trial.

Examinations, &c. to be delivered to the Court.

IV. And be it enacted, that every justice of the peace before whom any person shall be taken on a charge of misdemeanor or suspicion thereof, shall take the examination of the person charged, and the information upon oath of those who shall know the facts and circumstances of the case, and shall put the same, or as much thereof as shall be material, into writing, before he shall commit to prison or require bail from the person so charged; and in every case of bailment shall certify the bailment in writing, and shall have authority to bind all persons by recognizance to appear to prosecute or give evidence against the party accused, in like manner as in cases of felony; and shall subscribe all examinations, informations, bailments, and recognizances, and deliver or cause the same to be delivered to the proper officer of the Court in which the trial is to be, before or at the opening of the Court, in like manner as in cases of felony.

Duty of Justices on charges of misdemeanor.

V. And be it enacted, that every coroner, upon any inquisition before him taken, whereby any person shall be indicted for manslaughter or murder, or as an accessory to murder before the fact, shall put in writing the evidence given to the jury before him, or as much thereof as shall be material, and shall have authority to bind by recognizance all such persons as know or declare anything material touching the said manslaughter or murder, or the said offence of being accessory to murder, to appear at the next Court of Oyer and Terminer, or Gaol Delivery, or superior Criminal Court or Sessions, at which the trial is to be, then and there to prosecute or give evidence against the party charged; and every such coroner shall certify and subscribe the same evidence, and all such recognizances, and also the inquisition before him taken, and shall deliver the same to the proper officer of the Court in which the trial is to be, before or at the opening of the Court.

Duty of coroner.

VI. And be it enacted, that if any justice or coroner shall offend in any thing contrary to the true intent and meaning of these provisions, the Court to whose officer any such examination, information, evidence, bailment, recognizance, or inquisition ought to have been delivered, shall upon examination and proof of the offence in a summary manner, set such fine upon every such justice or coroner as the Court shall think meet.

Accessory before the fact may be tried as such, or as a substantive felon, by any Court which has jurisdiction to try the principal felon, although the offence be committed on the seas or abroad.

VII. And for the more effectual prosecution of accessories before the fact to felony, be it enacted, that if any person shall counsel, procure, or command any other person to commit any felony, whether the same be a felony at common law or by virtue of any statute or statutes made or to be made, the person so counselling, procuring, or commanding shall be deemed guilty of felony, and may be indicted and convicted either as an accessory before the fact to the principal felony, together with the principal felon, or after the conviction of the principal felon, or may be indicted and convicted of a substantive felony, whether the principal felon shall or shall not have been previously convicted, or shall or shall not be amenable to justice, and may be punished in the same manner as any accessory before the fact to the same felony if convicted as an accessory, may be punished; and the offence of the person so counselling, procuring, or commanding, howsoever indicted, may be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished by any Court which shall have jurisdiction to try the principal felon, in the same manner as if such offence had been committed at the same place as the principal felony, although such offence may have been committed either on the high seas, or at any place on land, whether within his Majesty's dominions or without; and that in case the principal felony, and the offence of counselling, procuring, or commanding, shall have been committed in different places, the last-mentioned offence may be inquired of, tried, determined and punished in any of his Majesty's Courts of Justice within the British territories under the government of the said United Company, having jurisdiction to try either of the said offences; provided always, that no person who shall be once duly tried for any such offence, whether as an accessory before the fact or as for a substantive felony, shall be liable to be again indicted or tried for the same offence.

If the offence be committed in different places, accessory may be tried in any of the King's Courts in India having jurisdiction.

Accessory after the fact may be tried by any Court which has jurisdiction to try the principal felon.

VIII. And be it enacted, that if any person shall become an accessory after the fact to any felony, whether the same be a felony at common law, or by virtue of any statute or statutes made or to be made, the offence of such person may be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished by any Court which shall have jurisdiction to try the principal felon, in the same manner as if the act by reason whereof such person shall have become an accessory had been committed at the same place as the principal felony, although such act may have been committed either on the high seas or at any place on land, whether within his Majesty's dominions or without; and that in case the principal felony, and the act by reason whereof any person shall have become accessory, shall have been committed in different places, the offence of such accessory may be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished in any of his Majesty's Courts of Justice within the British territories under the government of the said United Company, having jurisdiction to try either of the said offences: provided always, that no person who shall be once duly tried for any offence of being an accessory shall be liable to be again indicted or tried for the same offence.

If the offence be committed in different places, accessory may be tried in any Court having jurisdiction.

Accessory may be prosecuted after conviction of the principal, though the principal be not attainted.

IX. And be it enacted, that if any principal offender shall be in anywise convicted of any felony, it shall be lawful to proceed against any accessory, either before or after the fact, in the same manner as if such principal felon had been attainted thereof, notwithstanding such principal felon shall die or be pardoned, or otherwise delivered before attainer; and every such accessory shall suffer the same punishment, if he or she be in anywise convicted, as he should have suffered if the principal had been attainted.

X. And be it enacted, that in any indictment or information for any felony or misdemeanor wherein it shall be requisite to state the ownership of any property whatsoever, whether real or personal, which shall belong to or be in the possession of more than one person, whether such persons be partners in trade, joint tenants, parceners, or tenants in common, it shall be sufficient to name one of such persons, and to state such property to belong to the person so named, and another or others, as the case may be; and whenever in any indictment or information for any felony or misdemeanor it shall be necessary to mention, for any purpose whatsoever, any partners, joint-tenants, parceners, or tenants in common, it shall be sufficient to describe them in the manner aforesaid; and this provision shall be construed to extend to all joint-stock companies and trustees.

In indictments for offences committed on the property of partners, it may be laid in any one partner by name, and others.

XI. And be it enacted, that no indictment or information shall be abated by reason of any dilatory plea of misnomer, or of want of addition, or of wrong addition of the party offering such plea, if the Court shall be satisfied by affidavit or otherwise of the truth of such plea, but in such case the Court shall forthwith cause the indictment or information to be amended according to the truth, and shall call upon such party to plead thereto, and shall proceed as if no such dilatory plea had been pleaded.

Indictment not to abate by dilatory plea of misnomer.

XII. And be it enacted, that no judgment upon any indictment or information for any felony or misdemeanor, whether after verdict or outlawry, or by confession, default, or otherwise, shall be stayed or reversed for want of the averment of any matter unnecessary to be proved, nor for the omission of the words "as appears by the record," or of the words "with force and arms," or of the words "against the peace;" nor for the insertion of the words "against the form of the statute" instead of the words "against the form of the statutes," or vice versa; nor for that any person or persons mentioned in the indictment or information is or are designated by the name of office or other descriptive appellation instead of his, her, or their proper name or names; nor for omitting to state the time at which the offence was committed, in any case where time is not of the essence of the offence, nor for stating the time imperfectly, nor for stating the offence to have been committed on a day subsequent to the finding of the indictment or exhibiting the information, or on an impossible day, or on a day that never happened; nor for want of a proper or perfect venue, where the Court shall appear by the indictment or information to have had jurisdiction over the offence.

What defects shall not vitiate an indictment after verdict or otherwise.

XIII. And be it enacted, that no judgment after verdict, upon any indictment or information for any felony or misdemeanor, shall be stayed or reversed for want of a similitur, nor by reason that the jury process has been awarded to a wrong officer, or upon an insufficient suggestion, nor for any misnomer or misdescription of the officer returning such process, or of any of the jurors, nor because any person has served upon the jury who has not been returned as a juror by the sheriff or other officer; and that where the offence charged has been created by any statute, or subjected to a greater degree of punishment, the indictment or information shall, after verdict, be held sufficient to warrant the punishment prescribed by the statute, if it describe the offence in the words of the statute.

What shall not be sufficient to stay or reverse judgment after the verdict.

XIV. And be it enacted, that if any person, being arraigned upon any indictment or inquisition for treason, felony, or piracy, shall plead thereto a plea of not guilty, he shall by such plea, without any further form, be deemed to have put himself upon the country for trial, and the Court shall in the usual manner order a jury for the trial of such person accordingly.

A plea of not guilty shall put the prisoner on his trial by jury.

If he refuse to plead, Court may order a plea of not guilty to be entered.

XV. IV. And be it further enacted, that where any stock shall be standing in the name of any person who shall be a lunatic, as a trustee or executor, alone or jointly with any other person, or shall continue to be standing in the name of a deceased person whose executor shall be lunatic, or shall be otherwise vested in or transferable by any person who shall be lunatic, for the benefit of some other person, it shall be lawful for the Lord Chancellor, intrusted as aforesaid, to direct the committee of the estate of any such lunatic to transfer or join in transferring such stock to or into the name of such person and in such manner as the said Lord Chancellor shall think proper, and also to order such person appointed as aforesaid to receive and pay over or join in receiving and paying over the dividends of such stock in such manner as the said Lord Chancellor shall direct; and every such transfer, receipt and payment, shall be as effectual as if the person being lunatic had been of sane mind, memory, and understanding, and had transferred, received, and paid, or joined in transferring, receiving, and paying, such stock or dividends.

And be it further enacted, that where any person in whose name as a trustee or executor (either alone or together with the name of any other person,) or in the name of whose testator (whether as a trustee or beneficially,) any stock shall be standing, or any other person who shall otherwise have power to transfer or join with any other person in transferring any stock to which some other person shall be beneficially entitled, shall be out of the jurisdiction of or not amenable to the process of the Court of Chancery, or it shall be uncertain whether such person be living or dead; or if any such trustee or executor or other person shall neglect or refuse to transfer such stock, or receive and pay over the dividends thereof to the person entitled thereto or to any part thereof respectively, or as he shall direct, for the space of thirty-one days next after a request in writing for that purpose shall have been made to any such trustee or executor or other person by the person entitled as aforesaid, then and in every or any such case it shall be lawful for the Court of Chancery to direct such person as the said Court shall think proper to appoint for that purpose, in the place of such trustee or executor or other person, to transfer or join in transferring such stock to or into the name of such person and in such manner as such Court shall direct, and also to order any person appointed as aforesaid to receive and pay over or join in receiving and paying over the dividends of such stock in such manner as the said Court shall direct; and every such transfer, receipt, and payment shall be as effectual as if the said trustee or executor or other person had transferred or joined in transferring such stock, or had received and paid or joined in receiving and paying the said dividends.

In certain cases the Lord Chancellor or Court of Chancery may appoint new trustees, upon petition.

XXII. (C.) and (D.): and whereas, upon the aforesaid Commissioner having made the aforesaid report of the twenty-ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty, to the said Court at Madras, in pursuance of the order of the said Court of the fifteenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, the honourable the Judges of the said Court transmitted the same, on the thirtieth day of August one thousand eight hundred and twenty, to the Governor in Council at Madras, stating that Mr. Ricketts died insolvent, and that there was no fund applicable to the discharge of the balances reported due, and recommended it as highly important to public justice that some fund should be provided for the discharge of such claims: and whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for payment to such persons as shall appear entitled thereto of the several sums so lost by the malversation of the said Gilbert Ricketts; be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the Court of Directors of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and the said Court of Directors is hereby authorized, empowered, and required, to appropriate so much of the territorial revenues of the said United Company as will be sufficient to pay off and discharge to such persons as shall appear to be entitled thereto, as the lawful representatives of the intestates named in the schedule annexed to the said report of the twenty-ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty, marked (D.), and also to the suitors of the said Court named in the schedules annexed to the said report of the twenty-ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty, marked respectively (A.), (B.), and (C.), or to the lawful representatives of such of the said suitors who have since deceased, and shall appear to be entitled thereto, the several and respective principal sums of money set forth and specified in the said schedules respectively as due to the estates of the intestates and the suitors therein respectively named.

AN ACT to amend the Law relating to the Appointment of Justices of the Peace, and of Juries, in the East-Indies. [16th August, 1832.]

Whereas it is expedient that other persons besides the covenanted servants of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, or other British inhabitants of the East-Indies, should be capable of being appointed to the office of justice of the peace within and for the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that in the manner prescribed by law for the nomination and appointment of persons now eligible to the office of justice of the peace in the territories in the possession and under the Government of the said Company, and subject, except as to the taking of any oaths to the other provisions of the law which relate to the said office, it shall and may be lawful for the Governors in Council empowered to authorize any persons to act as justices of the peace.

Governor-general in Council of Fort William in Bengal; the Governor in Council of Fort St. George, and the Governor in Council of Bombay, respectively, for the time being, to nominate and appoint, in the name of the King's Majesty, his heirs and successors, any persons resident within the territories aforesaid, and not being the subjects of any foreign state, whom the said Governor-general in Council and Governors in Council respectively shall think properly qualified, and who will bind themselves by such oaths or solemn affirmations as may from time to time be prescribed in that behalf by the said Governor-general in Council and Governors in Council respectively, to act within and for the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, as justices of the peace; and the persons so to be nominated and appointed to act as justices of the peace within and for the towns aforesaid shall have full power and authority to act as such justices of the peace, but according only to the tenor of the respective commissions wherein such persons shall be so nominated and appointed.

II. And whereas by an Act passed in the seventh year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled, "An Act to regulate the Appointment of Juries in the East-Indies," it is, amongst other things, provided and enacted, that the grand juries in all cases, and all juries for the trial of persons professing the Christian religion, shall consist wholly of persons professing the Christian religion: and whereas it is expedient to repeal such enactment; be it therefore enacted, that from and after the first day of July one thousand eight hundred and thirty-two, the said recited provision and enactment shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

AN ACT for abolishing the Punishment of Death in certain cases of Forgery.
[16th August, 1832.]

Whereas by an Act passed in the first year of his present Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for reducing into one Act all such Forgeries as shall hereafter be punished with Death, and for otherwise amending the Laws relative to Forgery," it was provided, that if any person should after the commencement of that Act be convicted of any forgery or other offence therein named or described, for which he would at the time of the passing of that Act have been liable to the punishment of death, he should not suffer death for the same, unless the same should be made punishable with death by that Act: and whereas by the law and practice now prevailing in Scotland and in Ireland the penalty of death may be awarded, in certain cases, for forgery, for uttering counterfeit instruments, and for false personation: and whereas it is expedient to abolish the punishment of death for offences of that nature, except so far as relates to wills and certain powers of attorney, as herein-after mentioned: be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that where any person shall after the passing of this Act be convicted of any offence whatsoever for which the said Act enjoins or authorizes the infliction of the punishment of death, or where any person shall after the passing of this Act be convicted in Scotland or Ireland of any offence now punishable with death, which offence shall consist wholly or in part of forging or altering any writing, instrument, matter, or thing whatsoever, or of offering, uttering, or disposing of any writing, instrument, matter, or thing whatsoever, knowing the same to be forged or altered, or of falsely personating another, then and in each of the cases aforesaid the person so convicted of any such offence as aforesaid, or of procuring or aiding or assisting in the commission thereof, shall not suffer death, or have sentence of death awarded against him, but shall be transported beyond the seas for the term of such offender's life.

The 2d section made certain exceptions from the operation of the Act, in respect of forgeries of wills or testamentary writings, and of powers of attorney for the transfer of stock or receipt of dividends at the Bank of England, South-Sea House, or Bank of Ireland; but the punishment of death was abolished with reference also to these excepted cases, by 7 Wm. 4, and 1 Vic. cap. 84. The same Act left it to the discretion of the Court to sentence the offender to transportation for life, or for any term not less than seven years, or to be imprisoned for any term not exceeding four years, nor less than two years.

It shall not be necessary to set forth copy or fac-simile of forged instruments in indictment.

III. And in order to prevent justice from being defeated by clerical or verbal inaccuracies, be it enacted, that in all informations or indictments for forging or in any manner uttering any instrument or writing, it shall not be necessary to set forth any copy or fac-simile thereof, but it shall be sufficient to describe the same in such manner as would sustain an indictment for stealing the same; any law or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

8 Eliz. c. 5.

Whereas by virtue of an Act passed in a session of Parliament of the second and third years of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for transferring the Powers of the High Court of Delegates, both in Ecclesiastical and Maritime Causes, to his Majesty in Council," it was enacted, that from and after the first day of February one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, it should be lawful for every person who might theretofore, by virtue either of an Act passed in the twenty-fifth year of the reign of King Henry the Eighth intituled, "The Submission of the Clergy and Restraint of Appeals," or of an Act passed in the eighth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, intituled, "For the avoiding of tedious Suits in Civil and Marine Causes," have appealed or made suit to his Majesty in his High Court of Chancery, to appeal or make suit to the King's Majesty, his heirs or successors in Council, within such time, in such manner, and subject to such rules, orders, and regulations for the due and more convenient proceeding, as should seem meet and necessary, and upon such security, if any, as his Majesty, his heirs and successors, should from time to time by order in Council direct: and whereas by Letters Patent under the great seal of Great Britain certain persons, members of his Majesty's Privy Council, together with others, being Judges and Barons of his Majesty's Courts of Record at Westminster, have been from time to time appointed to be his Majesty's Commissioners, for receiving, hearing, and determining appeals from his Majesty's Courts of Admiralty in causes of prize: and whereas, from the decisions of various Courts of Judicature in the East-Indies, and in the plantations, colonies, and other dominions of his Majesty abroad, an appeal lies to his Majesty in Council: and whereas matters of appeal or petition to his Majesty in Council have usually been heard before a Committee of the whole of his Majesty's Privy Council, who have made a report to his Majesty in Council, whereupon the final judgment or determination hath been given by his Majesty: and whereas it is expedient to make certain provisions for the more effectual hearing and reporting on appeals to his Majesty in Council and on other matters, and to give such powers and jurisdiction to his Majesty in Council as herein-after mentioned: be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the President for the time being of his Majesty's Privy Council, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain for the time being, and such of the members of his Majesty's Privy Council as shall from time to time hold any of the offices following, that is to say, the office of lord keeper or first lord commissioner of the great seal of Great Britain, lord chief justice or judge of the Court of King's Bench, master of the Rolls, vice chancellor of England, lord chief justice or judge of the Court of Common Pleas, lord chief baron, or baron of the Court of Exchequer, judge of the Prerogative Court of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, judge of the high Court of Admiralty, and chief judge of the Court in Bankruptcy, and also all persons, members of his Majesty's Privy Council, who shall have been President thereof, or held the office of lord chancellor of Great Britain, or shall have held any of the other offices herein-before mentioned, shall form a committee of his Majesty's said Privy Council, and shall be styled "The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council:" provided nevertheless, that it shall be lawful for his Majesty from time to time, as and when he shall think fit, by his sign manual, to appoint any two other persons, being Privy councillors, to be members of the said Committee.

Certain persons to form a Committee, to be styled "The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council."

II. And be it further enacted, that from and after the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three all appeals or applications in prize suits and in all other suits or proceedings in the Courts of Admiralty, or Vice Admiralty Courts, or any other Court in the plantations in America and other his Majesty's dominions or elsewhere abroad, which may now, by virtue of any law, statute, commission or usage, be made to the high Court of Admiralty in England, or to the Lords Commissioners in prize cases, shall be made to his Majesty in Council, and not to the said high Court of Admiralty in England or to such Commissioners as aforesaid: and such appeals shall be made in the same manner and form and within such time wherein such appeals might, if this Act had not been passed, have been made to the said high Court of Admiralty or to the Lords Commissioners in prize cases respectively; and that all laws or statutes now in force with respect to any such appeals or applications shall apply to any appeals to be made in pursuance of this Act to his Majesty in Council.

Appeals from Vice Admiralty Courts abroad, &c. to be made to the King in Council.

III. And be it further enacted, that all appeals or complaints in the nature of appeals whatever, which either by virtue of this Act, or of any law, statute, or custom, may be brought

All appeals from sentence of any Judge, &c. to be referred by his Majesty to the Committee to report thereon.

before his Majesty, or his Majesty in Council, from or in respect of the determination, sentence, rule, or order, of any Court, judge, or judicial officer, and all such appeals as are now pending and unheard, shall from and after the passing of this Act be referred by his Majesty to the said judicial Committee of his Privy Council, and that such appeals, causes, and matters shall be heard by the said judicial Committee, and a report or recommendation thereon shall be made to his Majesty in Council for his decision thereon, as heretofore, in the same manner and form as has been heretofore the custom with respect to matters referred by his Majesty to the whole of his Privy Council, or a Committee thereof (the nature of such report or recommendation being always stated in open Court).

No matter to be heard unless in presence of four members of the Committee.

V. And be it further enacted, that no matter shall be heard, nor shall any order, report, or recommendation be made by the said judicial Committee, in pursuance of this Act, unless in the presence of at least four members of the said Committee; and that no report or recommendation shall be made to his Majesty, unless a majority of the members of such judicial Committee present at the hearing shall concur in such report or recommendation: provided always, that nothing herein contained shall prevent his Majesty, if he shall think fit, from summoning any other of the members of his said Privy Council to attend the meetings of the said Committee.

Evidence may be taken ~~and~~ ⁱⁿ ~~and~~ ^{by} ~~upon~~ ^{written} depositions.

VII. And be it enacted that it shall be lawful for the said judicial Committee, in any matter which shall be referred to such Committee, to examine witnesses by word of mouth, (and either before or after examination by deposition), or to direct that the depositions of any witness shall be taken in writing by the registrar of the said Privy Council, to be appointed by his Majesty as hereinafter-mentioned, or by such other person or persons, and in such manner, order, and course, as his Majesty in Council, or the said judicial Committee shall appoint and direct; and that the said registrar, and such other person or persons so to be appointed shall have the same powers as are now possessed by an examiner of the high Court of Chancery, or of any Court ecclesiastical.

Committee may order any particular witnesses to be examined, and as to any particular cases, and may remit causes for rehearing.

VIII. And be it enacted, that in any matter which shall come before the said judicial Committee, it shall be lawful for the said Committee to direct that such witnesses shall be examined or re-examined, and as to such facts as to the said Committee shall seem fit, notwithstanding any such witness may not have been examined, or no evidence may have been given on any such facts in a previous stage of the matter; and it shall also be lawful for his Majesty in Council, on the recommendation of the said Committee, upon any appeal, to remit the matter which shall be the subject of such appeal to the Court from the decision of which such appeal shall have been made, and at the same time to direct that such Court shall rehear such matter in such form, and either generally or upon certain points only, and upon such rehearing take such additional evidence, though before rejected, or reject such evidence before admitted, as his Majesty in Council shall direct; and further, on any such remitting or otherwise, it shall be lawful for his Majesty in Council to direct that one or more feigned issue or issues shall be tried in any Court in any of his Majesty's dominions abroad, for any purpose for which such issue or issues shall to his Majesty in Council seem proper.

Witnesses to be examined on oath, and to be liable to punishment for perjury.

IX. And be it enacted, that every witness who shall be examined in pursuance of this Act, shall give his or her evidence upon oath, or if a Quaker or Moravian (1) upon solemn affirmation, which oath and affirmation respectively shall be administered by the said judicial Committee and registrar, and by such other person or persons as his Majesty in Council, or the said judicial Committee, shall appoint; and that every such witness who shall wilfully swear or affirm falsely, shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and shall be punished accordingly.

(1) [Vide 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 82, and 1 & 2 Vic. cap. 77.]

X. And be it enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said judicial Committee to direct one or more feigned issue or issues to be tried in any Court of common law, and either at bar, before a judge of assize, or at the sittings for the trial of issues in London or Middlesex, and either by a special or common jury, in like manner and for the same purpose as is now done by the High Court of Chancery.

Committee may direct an issue to try any fact;

XI. And be it enacted, that it shall be in the discretion of the said judicial Committee to direct that, on the trial of any such issue, the depositions already taken of any witness who shall have died, or who shall be incapable to give oral testimony, shall be received in evidence; and further, that such deeds, evidences, and writings shall be produced, and that such facts shall be admitted, as to the said Committee shall seem fit.

may, in certain cases, direct depositions to be read at the trial of the issue;

XII. And be it enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said judicial Committee to make such and the like orders respecting the admission of persons, whether parties or others, to be examined as witnesses upon the trial of any such issues as aforesaid, as the Lord High Chancellor or the Court of Chancery has been used to make respecting the admission of witnesses upon the trial of issues directed by the Lord Chancellor or the Court of Chancery.

XIV. And whereas by an Act passed in the thirteenth year of his late Majesty King George the Third, and intituled, "An Act for establishing certain Regulations for the better Management of the Affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe," and by an Act passed in the first year of the reign of his present Majesty, and intituled, "An Act to enable the Courts of Law to order the Examination of Witnesses upon Interrogatories and otherwise," certain powers are given to certain Courts therein mentioned to enforce, and provisions are made for the examination of witnesses by commission, upon interrogatories and otherwise; be it therefore further enacted, that all the powers and provisions contained in the two last-mentioned Acts, or either of them, shall extend to and be exercised by the said judicial Committee in all respects as if such Committee had been therein named as one of his Majesty's Courts of Law at Westminster.

XVII. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Committee to refer any matters to be examined and reported on to the aforesaid registrar, or to such other person or persons as shall be appointed by his Majesty in Council or by the said judicial Committee, in the same manner and for the like purposes as matters are referred by the Court of Chancery to a Master of the said Court; and that for the purposes of this Act the said registrar and the said person or persons so to be appointed shall have the same powers and authorities as are now possessed by a master in Chancery.

Attendance of witnesses, and production of papers, &c., may be compelled by subpoena.

XIX. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the President for the time being of the said Privy Council to require the attendance of any witnesses, and the production of any deeds, evidences, or writings, by writ to be issued by such President in such and the same form, or as nearly as may be, as that in which a writ of subpoena ad testificandum or of subpoena duces tecum is now issued by his Majesty's Court of King's Bench at Westminster; and that every person disobeying any such writ so to be issued by the said President shall be considered as in contempt of the said judicial Committee, and shall also be liable to such and the same penalties and consequences as if such writ had issued out of the said Court of King's Bench, and may be sued for such penalties in the said Court.

Time of appealing.

XX. And be it further enacted, that all appeals to his Majesty in Council shall be made within such times respectively within which the same may now be made, where such time shall be fixed by any law or usage, and where no such law or usage shall exist, then within such time as shall be ordered by his Majesty in Council; and that, subject to any right subsisting under any Charter or constitution of any colony or plantation, it shall be lawful for his Majesty in Council to alter any usage as to the time of making appeals, and to make any order respecting the time of appealing to his Majesty in Council.

XXII. And whereas various appeals to his Majesty in Council from the Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut at the several presidencies of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay in the East-Indies, have been admitted by the said Courts, and the transcript of the proceedings in appeal have been from time to time transmitted under the seal of the said Courts, through the United Company of Merchants in England trading to the East-Indies, to the office of his Majesty's said Privy Council, but the suitors in the causes so appealed have not taken the necessary measures to bring on the same to a hearing: be it therefore further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that it shall be lawful for his Majesty in Council to give such directions to the said United Company and other persons, for the purpose of bringing to a hearing before the said Committee the several cases appealed, or hereafter to be appealed, to his Majesty in Council from the several Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut in the East-Indies, and for appointing agents and counsel for the different parties in such appeals, and to make such orders for the security and payment of the costs thereof, as his said Majesty in Council shall think fit; and thereupon such appeals shall be heard and reported on to his Majesty in Council, and shall be by his Majesty in Council determined in the same manner, and the judgments, orders, and decrees of his Majesty in Council thereon, shall be of the same force and effect, as if the same had been brought to a hearing by the direction of the parties appealing in the usual course of proceeding: provided always, that such last-mentioned powers shall not extend to any appeals from the said Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut other than appeals in which no proceedings have been or shall hereafter be taken in England on either side for a period of two years subsequent to the admission of the appeal by such Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

der Dewanny Adawlut Courts to a hearing.

XXIII. And be it enacted, that in any case where any order shall have been made on any such appeal as last aforesaid, the same shall have full force and effect notwithstanding the death of any of the parties interested therein; but that in all cases where any such appeal may have been withdrawn or discontinued, or any compromise made in respect of the matter in dispute, before the hearing thereof, then the determination of his Majesty in Council in respect of such appeal shall have no effect.

Orders made on such appeals to have effect notwithstanding death of parties, &c.

XXIV. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for his Majesty in Council from time to time to make any such rules and orders as may be thought fit for the regulating the mode, form, and time of appeal to be made from the decisions of the said Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or any other Courts of judicature in India or elsewhere to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, (from the decisions of which an appeal lies to his Majesty in Council,) and in like manner from time to time to make such other regulations for the preventing delays in the making or hearing such appeals, and as to the expenses attending the said appeals, and as to the amount or value of the property in respect of which any such appeal may be made. (1)

His Majesty empowered to make orders for regulating the mode, &c. of such appeals.

(1) [By an Order in Council, dated 10th April, 1838, the minimum amount for which an appeal from any Court in India may be preferred as a matter of right, is fixed at 10,000 Company's rupees.]

XXVIII. And be it enacted, that the said judicial Committee shall have and enjoy in all respects such and the same power of punishing contempts and of compelling appearances, and that his Majesty in Council shall have and enjoy in all respects such and the same powers of enforcing judgments, decrees, and orders, as are now exercised by the High Court of Chancery or the Court of King's Bench (and both in personam and in rem), or as are given to any Court ecclesiastical by an Act of Parliament passed in a session of Parliament of the second and third years of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for enforcing Retired Judges attending the judicial Committee to receive an allowance.

XXX. And be it enacted, that two members of his Majesty’s Privy Council who shall have held the office of judge in the East-Indies or any of his Majesty’s dominions beyond the seas, and who, being appointed for that purpose by his Majesty, shall attend the sittings of the judicial Committee of the Privy Council, shall severally be entitled to receive over and above any annuity granted to them in respect of having held such office as aforesaid, the sum of four hundred pounds for every year during which they shall so attend as aforesaid, as an indemnity for the expense which they may thereby incur ; and such sum of four hundred pounds shall be chargeable upon and paid out of the consolidated fund of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

AN ACT to allow Quakers and Moravians to make Affirmation in all Cases where an Oath is or shall be required. [28th August, 1833.]

Whereas it is expedient and reasonable that the solemn affirmation of persons of the persuasion of the people called Quakers, and of Moravians, should be allowed in all cases where an oath is or shall be required ; be it therefore enacted by the King’s most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that every person of the persuasion of the people called Quakers, and every Moravian, be permitted to make his or her solemn affirmation or declaration, instead of taking an oath, in all places and for all purposes whatsoever where an oath is or shall be required either by the common law or by any Act of Parliament already made or hereafter to be made, which said affirmation or declaration shall be of the same force and effect as if he or she had taken an oath in the usual form ; and if any such person making such solemn affirmation or declaration shall be lawfully convicted wilfully, falsely, and corruptly to have affirmed or declared any matter or thing, which if the same had been in the usual form would have amounted to wilful and corrupt perjury, he or she shall incur the same penalties and forfeitures as by the laws and statutes of this realm are enacted against persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury, any law, statute, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding : provided always, that every such affirmation or declaration shall be in the words following ; (that is to say,)

Quakers and Moravians permitted to make a solemn affirmation or declaration instead of an oath.

Penalty on affirming or declaring falsely.

Form of declaration.

“ I, A. B., being one of the people called Quakers [or one of the persuasion of the “ people called Quakers, or of the United Brethren called Moravians, as the case may “ be], do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm.”

The 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 82, allows the people called "Separatists" to make a solemn affirmation and declaration instead of an oath. The 1st. and 2d Vic. cap. 77, permits an affirmation to be made instead of an oath by persons having been Quakers or Moravians, although they may have ceased to belong to those denominations.

AN ACT for the general Regulation of the Customs.

Several sections of this Act contain provisions specially relating to the trade of the East-India Company; but these being necessarily inoperative during the suspension of that trade, are omitted. Those provisions which prescribe the modes of proceeding in the Customs department, and which constitute the larger portion of the Act, are also omitted, as well as others of local or particular application.

IV. Provided always, that no ship or vessel to be registered at Heligoland, except such as is wholly of the built of that place, and that ships or vessels, after having been registered at Malta, Gibraltar, or Heligoland, shall not be registered elsewhere; and that ships or vessels registered at Malta, Gibraltar, or Heligoland, shall not be entitled to the privileges and advantages of British ships in any trade between the said United Kingdom and any of the British possessions in America: provided also, that wherever in and by this Act it is directed or provided that any act, matter, or thing shall and may be done or performed by, to, or with any collector and controller of his Majesty's Customs, the same shall or may be done or performed by, to, or with the several persons respectively herein-before authorized and required to make registry, and to grant certificates of registry as aforesaid, and according as the same act, matter, or thing is to be done or performed at the said several and respective places, and within the jurisdiction of the said several persons respectively; provided also, that wherever in and by this Act it is directed or provided that any act, matter, or thing shall or may be done or performed by, to, or with the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs, the same shall or may be done or performed by, to, or with the governor, lieutenant-governor, or commander-in-chief of any place where any ship or vessel may be registered under the authority of this Act, so far as such act, matter, or thing can be applicable to the registering of any ship or vessel at such place.

IV. And be it further enacted, that in case any ship or vessel not being duly registered, and not having obtained such certificate of registry as aforesaid, shall exercise any of the privileges of a British ship, the same shall be subject to forfeiture, and also all the guns, furniture, ammunition, tackle, and apparel to the same ship or vessel belonging, and shall and may be seized by any officer or officers of his Majesty's Customs: provided always, that nothing in this Act shall extend, or be construed to extend, to affect the privileges of any ship or vessel which shall prior to the commencement of this Act have been registered by virtue of an Act passed in the sixth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled, "An Act for the Registering of British Vessels."

V. And be it further enacted, that no ship or vessel shall be registered, or having been registered shall be deemed to be duly registered, by virtue of this Act, except such as are wholly of the built of the said United Kingdom, or of the Isle of Man, or of the Islands of Guernsey or Jersey, or of some of the colonies, plantations, islands, or territories in Asia, Africa, or America, or of Malta, Gibraltar, or Heligoland, which belong to his Majesty, his heirs or successors, at the time of the building of such ships or vessels, or such ships or vessels as shall have been condemned in any Court of Admiralty as prize of war, or such ships or vessels as shall have been condemned in any competent Court as forfeited for the breach of the laws made for the prevention of the slave trade, and which shall wholly belong and continue wholly to belong to his Majesty's subjects duly entitled to be owners of ships or vessels registered by virtue of this Act.

The sixth section regulates the issue of Mediterranean passes to ships belonging to Malta or Gibraltar.

VII. And be it further enacted, that no ship or vessel shall continue to enjoy the privileges of a British ship after the same shall have been repaired in a foreign country, if such repairs shall exceed the sum of twenty shillings for every ton of the burthen of the said ship or vessel, unless such repairs shall have been necessary by reason of extraordinary damage sustained by such ship or vessel during her absence from his Majesty's dominions, to enable her to perform the voyage in which she shall have been engaged, and to return to some port or place in the same dominions; and whenever any ship or vessel which has been so repaired in a foreign country shall arrive at any port in his Majesty's dominions as a British-registered ship or vessel, the master or other person having the command or charge of the same shall, upon the first entry thereof, report to the collector and controller of his Majesty's Customs at such port that such ship or vessel has been so repaired, under penalty of twenty shillings for every ton of the burthen of such ship or vessel, according to the admeasurement thereof; and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs that such ship or vessel was seaworthy at the time when she last departed from any port or place in his Majesty's dominions, and that no greater quantity of such repairs have been done to the said vessel than was necessary as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, upon a full consideration of all the circumstances, to direct the collector and controller of the port where such ship or vessel shall have arrived, or where she shall then be, to certify on the certificate of the registry of such ship or vessel that it has been proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs that the privileges of the said ship or vessel have not been forfeited, notwithstanding the repairs which have been done to the same in a foreign country.

The master on arrival to report such repairs.

Necessity of such repairs to be proved to Commissioners of Customs.

VIII. And be it further enacted, that if any ship or vessel registered under the authority of this or any other Act shall be deemed or declared to be stranded or unseaworthy, and incapable of being recovered, or repaired to the advantage of the owners thereof, and shall for such reasons be sold by order or decree of any competent Court for the benefit of the owners of such ship or vessel or other persons interested therein, the same shall be taken and deemed to be a ship or vessel lost or broken up to all intents and purposes within the meaning of this Act, and shall never again be entitled to the privileges of a British-built ship for any purposes of trade or navigation.

Ships declared unseaworthy to be deemed ships lost or broken up.

IX. And be it further enacted, that no British ship or vessel which has been or shall hereafter be captured by and become prize to an enemy or sold to foreigners shall again be entitled to the privileges of a British ship: provided always, that nothing contained in this Act shall extend to prevent the registering of any ship or vessel whatever, which shall afterwards be condemned in any Court of Admiralty as prize of war, or in any competent Court for breach of laws made for the prevention of the slave trade.

British ships captured not to be again entitled to registry; but ships condemned in Courts of Admiralty may be registered.

X. And be it further enacted, that no such registry shall hereafter be made, or certificate thereof granted, by any person or persons herein-before authorized to make such registry and grant such certificate, in any other port or place than the port or place to which such ship or vessel shall properly belong, except so far as relates to such ships or vessels as shall be condemned as prizes in any of the Islands of Guernsey, Jersey, or Man, which ships or vessels shall be registered in manner herein-after directed; but that all and every registry and certificate, made and granted in any port or place to which any such ship or vessel does not properly belong shall be utterly null and void to all intents and purposes, unless the officers aforesaid shall be specially authorized and empowered to make such registry and grant such certificate in any other port by an order in writing under the hands of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs, which order the said Commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to issue if they shall see fit; and at every port where registry shall be made in pursuance of this Act a book shall be kept by the collector and controller, in which all the particulars contained in the form of the certificate of the registry herein-before directed to be used shall be duly entered; and every registry shall be numbered in progression, beginning such progressive enumeration at the commencement of each and every year: and such collector and controller shall forthwith, or within one month at the farthest, transmit to the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs a true and exact copy, together with the number, of every certificate which shall be by them so granted.

Port to which vessels shall be deemed to belong.

Change of subscribing owners to require registry de novo.

If registry de novo cannot be made, ship may go one voyage with permission indorsed on certificate of registry.

Ships built in foreign possessions, for owners resident in United Kingdom, may have a certificate from the collector, &c. to trade for two years or until arrival in United Kingdom.

Persons residing in foreign countries may not be owners, unless members of British factories, or agents for, or partners in British houses, or member of merchants trading to Levant seas.

XI. And be it further enacted, that every ship or vessel shall be deemed to belong to some port at or near to which some or one of the owners, who shall make and subscribe the declaration required by this Act before registry be made, shall reside; and whenever such owner or owners shall have transferred all his or their share or shares in such ship or vessel, the same shall be registered de novo before such ship or vessel shall sail or depart from the port to which she shall then belong, or from any other port which shall be in the same part of the United Kingdom, or the same colony, plantation, island, or territory as the said port shall be in: provided always, that if the owner or owners of such ship or vessel cannot in sufficient time comply with the requisites of this Act, so that registry may be made before it shall be necessary for such ship or vessel to sail or depart upon another voyage, it shall be lawful for the collector and controller of the port where such ship or vessel may then be to certify upon the back of the existing certificate of registry of such ship or vessel, that the same is to remain in force for the voyage upon which the said ship or vessel is then about to sail or depart: provided also, that if any ship or vessel shall be built in any of the colonies, plantations, islands, or territories in Asia, Africa, or America, to his Majesty belonging, for owners residing in the United Kingdom, and the master of such ship or vessel, or the agent for the owner or owners thereof, shall have produced to the collector and controller of the port at or near to which such ship or vessel was built, the certificate of the builder required by this Act, and shall have made and subscribed a declaration before such collector and controller of the names and descriptions of the principal owners of such ship or vessel, and that she is the identical ship or vessel mentioned in such certificate of the builder, and that no foreigner, to the best of his knowledge and belief, has any interest therein; the collector and controller of such port shall cause such ship or vessel to be surveyed and measured in like manner as is directed for the purpose of registering any ship or vessel, and shall give the master of such ship or vessel a certificate under their hands and seals, purporting to be under the authority of this Act, and stating when and where, and by whom, such ship or vessel was built, the description, tonnage, and other particulars required on registry of any ship or vessel, and such certificate shall have all the force and virtue of a certificate of registry under this Act, during the term of two years, unless such ship shall sooner arrive at some place in the United Kingdom; and such collector and controller shall transmit a copy of such certificate to the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs.

XII. And be it further enacted, that no person who has taken the oath of allegiance to any foreign state, except under the terms of some capitulation, unless he shall afterwards become a denizen or naturalized subject of the United Kingdom by his Majesty's Letters Patent, or by Act of Parliament, nor any person usually residing in any country not under the dominion of his Majesty, his heirs and successors, unless he be a member of some British factory, or agent for or partner in any house or copartnership actually carrying on trade in Great Britain or Ireland, shall be entitled to be the owner, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, of any ship or vessel required and authorized to be registered by virtue of this Act; save and except that it shall be lawful for any person who was a member of the Company of Merchants trading to the Levant seas at the time of its dissolution, and who was a resident at any of the factories of the said Company, to continue to hold any share or shares in any British-registered ship, of which, at the time of such residence, he was an owner or part owner, although such person shall continue to reside at any of the places where such factories had existed prior to the dissolution of the said Company.

XIII. And be it further enacted, that no registry shall henceforth be made, or certificate granted, until the following declaration be made and subscribed, before the person or persons herein-before authorized to make such registry and grant such certificate respectively, by the owner of such ship or vessel, if such ship or vessel is owned by or belongs to one person only, or in case there shall be two joint owners, then by both of such joint owners, if both shall be resident within twenty miles of the port or place where such registry is required, or by one of such owners, if one or both of them shall be resident at a greater distance from such port or place; or if the number of such owners or proprietors shall exceed two, then by the greater part of the number of such owners or proprietors, if the greater number of them shall be resident within twenty miles of such port or place as aforesaid, not in any case exceeding three of such owners or proprietors, unless a greater number shall be desirous to join in making and subscribing the said declaration, or by one of such owners, if all, or all except one shall be resident at a greater distance :

Declaration to be made by subscribing owners previous to registry.

Proportion of owners who shall subscribe and take the declaration.

Form of declaration.

Provided always, that if it shall become necessary to register any ship or vessel belonging to any corporate body in the United Kingdom, the following declaration, in lieu of the declaration herein-before directed, shall be taken and subscribed by the secretary, or other proper officer of such corporate body; (that is to say),

“ I, A.B., secretary or officer of [name of company or corporation] do truly declare, “ that the ship or vessel [name] of [port] whereof [master's name] is at present “ master, being [kind of built, burthen, et cetera, as described in the certificate of “ the surveying officer], was [when and where built, or, if prize or forfeited, capture “ and condemnation as such], and that the same doth wholly and truly belong to [name “ of company or corporation].”

Addition to declaration in case the required number of owners do not attend.

XIV. And be it further enacted, that in case the required number of joint owners or proprietors of any ship or vessel shall not personally attend to make and subscribe the declaration herein-before directed to be made and subscribed, then and in such case such owner or owners, proprietor or proprietors, as shall personally attend and make and subscribe the declaration aforesaid, shall further declare that the part owner or part owners of such ship or vessel then absent, is or are not resident within twenty miles of such port or place, and hath or have not, to the best of his or their knowledge or belief, wilfully absented himself or themselves, in order to avoid the making the declaration herein-before directed to be made and subscribed, or is or are prevented by illness from attending to make and subscribe the said declaration.

Vessels to be surveyed previous to registry.

XV. And in order to enable the collector and controller of his Majesty's Customs to grant a certificate truly and accurately describing every ship or vessel to be registered in pursuance of this Act, and also to enable all other officers of his Majesty's Customs, on due examination, to discover whether any such ship or vessel is the same with that for which a certificate is alleged to have been granted; be it enacted, that previous to the registering or granting of any certificate of registry as aforesaid, some one or more person or persons appointed by the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs (taking to his or their assistance, if he or they shall judge it necessary, one or more person or persons skilled in the building and admeasurement of ships) shall go on board of every such ship or vessel as is to be registered, and shall strictly and accurately examine and admeasure every such ship or vessel as to all and every particular contained in the form of the certificate herein-before directed, in the presence of the master, or of any other person who shall be appointed for that purpose on the part of the owner or owners, or in his or their absence by the said master; and shall deliver a true and just account in writing of all such particulars of the built, description, and admeasurement of every such ship or vessel as are specified in the form of the certificate above recited to the collector and controller authorized as aforesaid to make such registry and grant such certificate of registry; and the said master or other person attending on the part of the owner or owners is hereby required to sign his name also to the certificate of such surveying or examining officer, in testimony of the truth thereof, provided such master or other person shall consent and agree to the several particulars set forth and described therein.

Certificate of survey to be given;

owner or master concurring therein.

Mode of admeasurement to ascertain tonnage.

XVI. And be it further enacted, that for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of ships or vessels the rule for admeasurement shall be as follows; (that is to say,) the length shall be taken on a straight line along the rabbet of the keel, from the back of the main stern-post to a perpendicular line from the fore part of the main stem under the bowsprit, from which subtracting three-fifths of the breadth, the remainder shall be esteemed the just length of the keel to find the tonnage; and the breadth shall be taken from the outside of the outside plank in the broadest part of the ship, whether that shall be above or below the main wales, exclusive of all manner of doubling planks that may be wrought upon the sides of the ship; then multiplying the length of the keel by the breadth so taken; and that product by half the breadth, and dividing the whole by ninety-four, the quotient shall be deemed the true contents of the tonnage.

XVII. And whereas it would in some cases endanger ships or vessels to cause them to be laid on shore; be it therefore enacted, that in cases where it may be necessary to ascertain the tonnage of any ship or vessel when afloat, according to the foregoing rule, the following method shall be observed; (that is to say,) drop a plumb line over the stern of the ship, and measure the distance between such line and the after part of the stern-post at the load watermark, then measure from the top of the plumb line, in a parallel direction with the water, to a perpendicular point immediately over the load watermark at the fore part of the main stem, subtracting from such measurement the above distance, the remainder will be the ship's extreme, from which is to be deducted three inches for every foot of the load draught of water for the rake abaft, also three-fifths of the ship's breadth for the rake forward, the remainder shall be esteemed the just length of the keel to find the tonnage; and the breadth shall be taken from outside to outside of the plank in the broadest part of the ship, whether that shall be above or below the main wales, exclusive of all manner of sheathing or doubling that may be wrought on the side of the ship; then multiplying the length of the keel for tonnage by the breadth so taken, and that product by half the breadth, and dividing by ninety-four, the quotient shall be deemed the true contents of the tonnage.

Mode of ascertaining tonnage when vessels are afloat.

XVIII. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that in each of the several rules herein-before prescribed, when used for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of any ship or vessel propelled by steam, the length of the engine room shall be deducted from the whole length of such ship or vessel, and the remainder shall, for such purpose, be deemed the whole length of the same.

Engine room in steam vessels to be deducted.

XIX. And be it further enacted, that whenever the tonnage of any ship or vessel shall have been ascertained according to the rule herein prescribed (except in the case of ships or vessels which have been admeasured afloat), such account of tonnage shall ever after be deemed the tonnage of such ship or vessel, and shall be repeated in every subsequent registry of such ship or vessel, unless it shall happen that any alteration has been made in the form and burthen of such ship or vessel, or it shall be discovered that the tonnage of such ship or vessel had been erroneously taken and computed.

Tonnage when so ascertained to be ever after deemed the tonnage.

XX. And be it further enacted, that at the time of the obtaining of the certificate of registry as aforesaid sufficient security by bond shall be given to his Majesty, his heirs and successors, by the master and such of the owners as shall personally attend, as is herein-before required, such security to be approved of and taken by the person or persons herein-before authorized to make such registry, and grant such certificate of registry at the port or place in which such certificate shall be granted, in the penalties following; (that is to say), if such ship or vessel shall be a decked vessel; or be above the burthen of fifteen tons and not exceeding fifty tons, then in the penalty of one hundred pounds; if exceeding the burthen of fifty tons and not exceeding one hundred tons, then in the penalty of three hundred pounds; if exceeding the burthen of one hundred tons and not exceeding two hundred tons, then in the penalty of five hundred pounds; if exceeding the burthen of two hundred tons and not exceeding three hundred tons, then in the penalty of eight hundred pounds; and if exceeding the burthen of three hundred tons, then in the penalty of one thousand pounds; and the condition of every such bond shall be, that such certificate shall not be sold, lent, or otherwise disposed of to any person or persons whatever, and that the same shall be solely made use of for the service of the ship or vessel for which it is granted; and that in case such ship or vessel shall be lost, or taken by the enemy, burnt, or broken up, or otherwise prevented from returning to the port to which she belongs, or shall on any account have lost and forfeited the privileges of a British ship, or shall have been seized and legally condemned for illicit trading, or shall have been taken in execution for debt and sold by due process of law, or shall have been sold to the Crown, or shall under any circumstances have been registered de novo, the certificate, if preserved, shall be delivered up, within one month after the arrival of the master in any port or place in his Majesty's dominions, to the collector and controller of some port in Great Britain, or of the Isle of Man, or of the British plantations, or to the governor, lieutenant-governor, or commander-in-chief for the time being of the islands of Guernsey or Jersey; and that if any foreigner, or any person or persons for the use and benefit of any foreigner, shall purchase or otherwise become entitled to the whole or to any part or share of or any interest in such ship or vessel, and the same shall be within the limits of any port of Great Britain, or of the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, or Man, or of the British colonies, plantations, islands, or territories aforesaid, then and in such case the certificate of registry shall, within seven days after such purchase or transfer of property in such ship or vessel, be delivered up to the person or persons herein-before authorized to make registry and grant certificate of registry at such port or place respectively as aforesaid; and if such ship or vessel shall be in any foreign port when such purchase or transfer of property shall take place, then that the certificate shall be delivered up to the British consul, or other chief British officer, resident at or nearest to such foreign port; or if such ship or vessel shall be at sea when such purchase or transfer of property shall take place, then that the certificate shall be delivered up to the British consul, or other chief British officer, at the foreign port or place in or at which the master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel shall first arrive after such purchase or transfer of property at sea, immediately after his arrival at such foreign port: but if such master or other person who had the command thereof at the time of such purchase or transfer of property at sea shall not arrive at a foreign port, but shall arrive at some port of Great Britain, or of the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, or Man, or of his Majesty's said colonies, plantations, islands, or territories, then that the certificate shall be delivered up, in manner aforesaid, within fourteen days after the arrival of such ship or vessel, or of the person who had the command thereof, in any port of Great Britain, or of the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, or Man, or of any of his Majesty's said colonies, plantations, islands, or territories: provided always, that if it shall happen that at the time of registry of any ship or vessel the same shall be at any other port than the port to which she belongs, so that the master of such ship or vessel cannot attend at the port of registry to join with the owner or owners in such bond as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for him to give a separate bond, to the like effect, at the port where such ship or vessel may then be, and the collector and controller of such other port shall transmit such bond to the collector and controller of the port where such ship or vessel is to be registered, and such bond, and the bond also given by the owner or owners, shall together be of the same effect against the master and owner or owners, or either of them, as if they had bound themselves jointly and severally in one bond.

If ship at the time of registry be at any other port than that of registry, the master may there give bond.

When master is changed new master to give similar bond, and

XXI. And be it further enacted, that when and so often as the master or other person having or taking the charge or command of any ship or vessel registered in manner herein-before directed shall be changed, the master or owner of such ship or vessel shall deliver to the person or persons herein-before authorized to make such registry and grant such certificates of registry at the port where such change shall take place the certificate of registry belonging to such ship or vessel, who shall thereupon indorse and subscribe a memorandum of such change, and shall forthwith give notice of the same to the proper officer of the port or place where such ship or vessel was last registered pursuant to this Act, who shall likewise make a memorandum of the same in the book of registers which is hereby directed and required to be kept, and shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs: provided always, that before the name of such new master shall be indorsed on the certificate of registry he shall be required to give and shall give a bond in the like penalties and under the same conditions as are contained in the bond herein-before required to be given at the time of registry of any ship or vessel.

XXII. And be it further enacted, that all bonds required by this Act shall be liable to the same duties of stamps as bonds given for or in respect of the duties of Customs are or shall be liable to under any Act for the time being in force for granting duties of Stamps.

Bonds liable to same duties of stamps as bonds for Customs.

XXIII. And be it further enacted, that if any person whatever shall at any time have possession of and wilfully detain any certificate of registry granted under this or any other Act, which ought to be delivered up to be cancelled according to any of the conditions of the bond herein-before required to be given upon the registry of any ship or vessel, such person is hereby required and enjoined to deliver up such certificate of registry in manner directed by the conditions of such bond in the respective cases and under the respective penalties therein provided.

Certificate of registry to be given up by all persons as directed by the bond.

XXIV. And be it further enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any owner or owners of any ship or vessel to give any name to such ship or vessel other than that by which she was first registered in pursuance of this or any other Act; and that the owner or owners of all and every ship or vessel which shall be so registered shall, before such ship or vessel, after such registry, shall begin to take in any cargo, paint or cause to be painted, in white or yellow letters of a length of not less than four inches, upon a black ground, on some conspicuous part of the stern, the name by which such ship or vessel shall have been registered pursuant to this Act, and the port to which she belongs, in a distinct and legible manner, and shall so keep and preserve the same; and that if such owner or owners or master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel shall permit such ship or vessel to begin to take in any cargo before the name of such ship or vessel has been so painted as aforesaid, or shall wilfully alter, erase, obliterate, or in anywise hide or conceal, or cause or procure or permit the same to be done (unless in the case of square rigged vessels in time of war), or shall in any written or printed paper, or other document, describe such ship or vessel by any name other than that by which she was first registered pursuant to this Act, or shall verbally describe, or cause or procure or permit such ship or vessel to be described, by any other name to any officer or officers of his Majesty's revenue in the due execution of his or their duty, then and in every such case such owner or owners or master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel shall forfeit the sum of one hundred pounds.

Name of vessel which has been registered never afterwards to be changed, and to be painted on the stern.

XXV. And be it further enacted, that all and every person and persons who shall apply for a certificate of the registry of any ship or vessel shall and they are hereby required to produce to the person or persons authorized to grant such certificate a true and full account, under the hand of the builder of such ship or vessel, of the proper denomination, and of the XXVI. And be it further enacted, that if the certificate of registry of any ship or vessel shall be lost or mislaid, so that the same cannot be found or obtained for the use of such ship or vessel when needful, and proof thereof shall be made to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs, such Commissioners shall and may permit such ship or vessel to be registered de novo, and a certificate thereof to be granted: provided always, that if such ship or vessel be absent and far distant from the port to which she belongs, or by reason of the absence of the owner or owners, or of any other impediment, registry of the same cannot then be made in sufficient time, such Commissioners shall and may grant a licence for the present use of such ship or vessel, which licence shall, for the time and to the extent specified therein, and no longer, be of the same force and virtue as a certificate of registry granted under this Act: provided always, that before such registry de novo be made the owner or owners and master shall give bond to the Commissioners aforesaid in such sum as to them shall seem fit, with a condition that if the certificate of registry shall at any time afterwards be found, the same shall be forthwith delivered to the proper officers of his Majesty's Customs to be cancelled, and that no illegal use has been or shall be made thereof with his or their privity or knowledge; and further, that before any such licence shall be granted as aforesaid the master of such ship or vessel shall also make and subscribe a declaration that the same has been registered as a British ship, naming the port where and the time when such registry was made, and all the particulars contained in the certificate thereof, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and shall also give such bond and with the same condition as is before-mentioned: provided also, that before any such licence shall be granted such ship or vessel shall be surveyed in like manner as if a registry de novo were about to be made thereof; and the certificate of such survey shall be preserved by the collector and controller of the port to which such ship or vessel shall belong; and in virtue thereof it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners and they are hereby required to permit such ship or vessel to be registered after her departure, whenever the owner or owners shall personally attend to take and subscribe the declaration required by this Act before registry be made, and shall also comply with all other requisites of this Act, except so far as relates to the bond to be given by the master of such ship or vessel; which certificate of registry the said Commissioners shall and may transmit to the collector and controller of any other port, to be by them given to the master of such ship or vessel, upon his giving such bond, and delivering up the licence which had been granted for the then present use of such ship or vessel.

XXVII. And whereas it is not proper that any person under any pretence whatever should detain the certificate or registry of any ship or vessel, or hold the same for any purpose other than the lawful use and navigation of the ship or vessel for which it was granted; be it therefore enacted, that in case any person who shall have received or obtained by any means or for any purpose whatever the certificate of the registry of any ship or vessel (whether such person shall claim to be the master or to be the owner or one of the owners of such ship or vessel, or not,) shall wilfully detain and refuse to deliver up the same to the proper officers Ship altered in certain manner to be registered de novo.

XXIX. And be it further enacted, that the owner or owners of all such ships and vessels as shall be taken by any of his Majesty's ships or vessels of war, or by any private or other ship or vessel, and condemned as lawful prize in any Court of Admiralty, or of such ships or vessels as shall be condemned in any competent Court as forfeited for breach of the laws for the prevention of the slave trade, shall, for the purpose of registering such ship or vessel, produce to the collector and controller of his Majesty's Customs a certificate of the condemna-

XXXII. And be it further enacted, that the property in every ship or vessel of which there are more than one owner shall be taken and considered to be divided into sixty-four equal parts or shares, and the proportion held by each owner shall be described in the registry as being a certain number of sixty-fourth parts or shares; and that no person shall be entitled to be registered as an owner of any ship or vessel in respect of any proportion of such ship or vessel which shall not be an integral sixty-fourth part or share of the same; and upon the first registry of any ship or vessel the owner or owners who shall take and subscribe the declaration required by this Act before registry be made shall also declare the number of such parts or shares then held by each owner, and the same shall be so registered accordingly: provided always, that if it shall at any time happen that the property of any owner or owners in any ship or vessel cannot be reduced by division into any number of integral sixty-fourth parts or shares, it shall and may be lawful for the owner or owners of such fractional parts as shall be over and above such number of integral sixty-fourth parts or shares into which such property in any ship or vessel can be reduced by division to transfer the same one to another, or jointly to any new owner, by memorandum upon their respective bills of sale, or by fresh bill of sale, without such transfer being liable to any stamp duty; provided also, that the right of any owner or owners to any such fractional parts shall not be affected by reason of the same not having been registered: provided also, that it shall be lawful for any number of such owners, named and described in such registry, being partners in any house or copartnership actually carrying on trade in any part of his Majesty's dominions, to hold any ship or vessel, or any share or shares of any ship or vessel, in the name of such house or copartnership, as joint owners thereof, without distinguishing the proportionate interest of each of such owners, and that such ship or vessel or the share or shares thereof so held in copartnership shall be deemed and taken to be partnership property to all intents and purposes, and shall be governed by the same rules, both in law and equity, as relate to and govern all other partnership property in any other goods, chattels, and effects whatsoever.

XXXIV. And be it further enacted, that no bill of sale or other instrument in writing shall be valid and effectual to pass the property in any ship or vessel, or in any share thereof, or for any other purpose, until such bill of sale or other instrument in writing shall have been produced to the collector and controller of the port at which such ship or vessel is already registered, or to the collector and controller of any other port at which she is about to be registered de novo, as the case may be, nor until such collector and controller respectively shall have entered in the book of such last registry, in the one case, or in the book of such registry de novo, after all the requisites of law for such registry de novo shall have been duly complied with, in the other case (and which they are respectively hereby required to do upon the production of the bill of sale or other instrument for that purpose), the name, residence, and description of the vendor or mortgagor, or of each vendor or mortgagor, if more than one, the number of shares transferred, the name, residence, and description of the purchaser or mortgagee, or of each purchaser or mortgagee, if more than one, and the date of the bill of sale or other instrument, and the production of it; and further, if such ship or vessel is not about to be registered de novo, the collector and controller of the port where such ship is registered shall and they are hereby required to indorse the aforesaid particulars of such bill of sale or other instrument on the certificate of registry of the said ship or vessel, when the same shall be produced to them for that purpose, in manner and to the effect following; videlicet,

And forthwith to give notice thereof to the Commissioners of Customs; and in case the collector and controller shall be desired so to do, and the bill of sale or other instrument shall be produced to them for that purpose, then the said collector and controller are hereby required to certify, by indorsement upon the bill of sale or other instrument, that the particulars before mentioned have been so entered in the book of registry, and indorsed upon the certificate of registry as aforesaid.

Notice to Commissioners.

XXXV. And be it further enacted, that when and so soon as the particulars of any bill of sale or other instrument by which any ship or vessel, or any share or shares thereof, shall be transferred, shall have been so entered in the book of registry as aforesaid, the said bill of sale or other instrument shall be valid and effectual to pass the property thereby intended to be transferred as against all and every person and persons whatsoever, and to all intents and purposes, except as against such subsequent purchasers and mortgagees who shall first procure the indorsement to be made upon the certificate of registry of such ship or vessel in manner hereinafter mentioned.

When a bill of sale has been entered for any shares, thirty days shall be allowed for indorsing the certificate of registry, before any other bill of sale for the same shall be entered.

XXXVI. And be it further enacted, that when and after the particulars of any bill of sale or other instrument by which any ship or vessel, or any share or shares thereof, shall be transferred, shall have been so entered in the book of registry as aforesaid, the collector and controller shall not enter in the book of registry the particulars of any other bill of sale or instrument purporting to be a transfer by the same vendor or mortgagor or vendors or mortgagors of the same ship or vessel, share or shares thereof, to any other person or persons, unless thirty days shall elapse from the day on which the particulars of the former bill of sale or other instrument were entered in the book of registry; or in case the ship or vessel was absent from the port to which she belonged at the time when the particulars of such former bill of sale or other instrument were entered in the book of registry, then unless thirty days shall have elapsed from the day on which the ship or vessel arrived at the port to which the same belonged; and in case the particulars of two or more such bills of sale or other instruments as aforesaid shall at any time have been entered in the book of registry of the said ship or vessel, the collector and controller shall not enter in the book of registry the particulars of any other bill of sale or other instrument as aforesaid unless thirty days shall in like manner have elapsed from the day on which the particulars of the last of such bill of sale or other instrument were entered in the book of registry, or from the day on which the ship or vessel arrived at the port to which she belonged, in case of her absence as aforesaid; and in every case where there shall at any time happen to be two or more transfers by the same owner or owners of the same property in any ship or vessel entered in the book of registry as aforesaid, the collector and controller are hereby required to indorse upon the certificate of registry of such ship or vessel the particulars of that bill of sale or other instrument under which the person or persons claims or claim property who shall produce the certificate of registry for that purpose within thirty days next after the entry of his said bill of sale or other instrument in the book of registry as aforesaid, or within thirty days next after the return of the said ship or vessel to the port to which she belongs, in case of her absence at the time of such entry as aforesaid; and in case no person or persons shall produce the certificate of registry within either of the said spaces of thirty days, then it shall be lawful for the collector and controller, and they are hereby required, to indorse upon the certificate of registry the particulars of the bill of sale or other instrument to such person or persons as shall first produce the certificate of registry for that purpose, it being the true intent and meaning of this Act that the several purchasers and mortgagees of such ship or vessel, share or shares thereof, when more than one appear to claim the same property, or to claim security on the same property, in the same rank and degree, shall have priority one over the other, not according to the respective times when the particulars of the bill of sale or other instrument by which such property was transferred to them were entered in the book of registry as aforesaid, but according to the time when the endorsement is made upon the certificate of registry as aforesaid: provided always, that if the certificate of registry shall be lost or mislaid, or shall be detained by any person whatever, so that the indorsement cannot in due time be made thereon, and proof thereof shall be made by the purchaser or mortgagee, or his known agent, to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to grant such further time as to them shall appear necessary for the recovery of the certificate of registry, or for the registry de novo, of the said ship or vessel under the provisions of this Act, and thereupon the collector and controller shall make a memorandum in the book of registers of the further time so granted, and during such time no other bill of sale shall be entered for the transfer of the same ship or vessel, or the same share or shares thereof, or for giving the same security thereon.

XXXVII. And be it further enacted, that if the certificate of registry of such ship or vessel shall be produced to the collector and controller of any port where she may then be, after any such bill of sale shall have been recorded at the port to which she belongs, together with such bill of sale, containing a notification of such record, signed by the collector and controller of such port as before directed, it shall be lawful for the collector and controller of such other port to indorse on such certificate of registry (being required so to do) the transfer mentioned in such bill of sale, and such collector and controller shall give notice thereof to the collector and controller of the port to which such ship or vessel belongs, who shall record the same in like manner as if they had made such indorsement themselves, but inserting the name of the port at which such indorsement was made: provided always, that the collector and controller of such other port shall first give notice to the collector and controller of the port to which such ship or vessel belongs of such requisition made to them to indorse the certificate of registry, and the collector and controller of the port to which such ship or vessel belongs shall thereupon send information to the collector and controller of such other port, whether any and what other bill or bills of sale have been recorded in the book of the registry of such ship or vessel; and the collector and controller of such other port having such information shall proceed in manner directed by this Act in all respects to the indorsing of the certificate of registry as they would do if such port were the port to which such vessel belonged.

Bills of sale may be produced after entry at other ports than those to which vessels belong, and transfers indorsed on certificate of registry.

XXXVIII. And be it further enacted, that if it shall become necessary to register any ship or vessel de novo, and any share or shares of such ship or vessel shall have been sold since she was last registered, and the transfer of such share or shares shall not have been recorded and indorsed in manner herein-before directed, the bill of sale thereof shall be produced to the collector and controller of his Majesty's Customs, who are to make registry of such ship or vessel, otherwise such sale shall not be noticed in such registry de novo, except as herein-after excepted; provided always, that upon the future production of such bill of sale, and of the existing certificate of registry, such transfer shall and may be recorded and indorsed as well after such registry de novo as before.

If upon registry de novo any bill of sale shall not have been recorded, the same shall then be produced.

Bill of sale previous to registry may be recorded after registry.

XXXIX. And be it further enacted, that if upon any change of property in any ship or vessel the owner or owners shall desire to have the same registered de novo, although not required by this Act, and the owner or proper number of owners shall attend at the Custom-house at the port to which such ship or vessel belongs for that purpose, it shall be lawful for the collector and controller of his Majesty's Customs at such port to make registry de novo of such ship or vessel at the same port, and to grant a certificate thereof, the several requisites herein-before in this Act mentioned and directed being first duly observed and complied with.

Upon change of property registry de novo may be granted if desired, although not required by law.

XL. And whereas great inconvenience hath arisen from the registering officers being served with subpoenas requiring them to bring with them and produce, on trials in Courts of law relative to the ownery of vessels, or otherwise, the oaths or declarations required to be taken by the owners thereof prior to the registering thereof, and the books of registry, or copies or extracts therefrom: and whereas it would tend much to the dispatch of business if the attendance of such registering officers with the same upon such trials were dispensed with; be it therefore enacted, that the collector and controller of his Majesty's Customs at any port or place, and the person or persons acting for them respectively, shall, upon every reasonable request, by any person or persons whomsoever, produce and exhibit for his, her, or their inspection and examination any oath or declaration sworn or made by any such owner or owners, proprietor or proprietors, and also any register or entry in any book or books of registry required by this Act to be made or kept relative to any ship or vessel, and shall, upon every reasonable request by any person or persons whomsoever, permit him, her, or them to take a copy or copies or an extract or extracts thereof respectively; and that the copy and copies of any such oath or declaration, register or entry, shall, upon being proved to be a true copy or copies thereof respectively, be allowed and received as evidence upon every trial at law, without the production of the original or originals, and without the testimony or attendance of any collector or controller, or other person or persons acting for them respectively, in all cases, as fully and to all intents and purposes as such original or originals, if produced by any collector or collectors, controller or controllers, or other person or persons acting for them, could or might legally be admitted or received in evidence.

Vessels or shares sold in the absence of owners without formal powers.

Commissioners may permit record of such sales or registry de novo as the case may require:

and in other cases where bills of sale cannot be produced:

security being given to produce legal powers or abide future claims.

XLII. And be it further enacted, that if the ship or vessel, or the share or shares of any owner thereof who may be out of the kingdom, shall be sold in his absence by his known agent or correspondent, under his directions either expressed or implied, and acting for his interest in that behalf, and such agent or correspondent who shall have executed a bill of sale to the purchaser of the whole of such ship or vessel, or of any share or shares thereof, shall not have received a legal power to execute the same, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs, upon application made to them, and proof to their satisfaction of the fair dealings of the parties, to permit such transfer to be registered, if registry de novo be necessary, or to be recorded and indorsed, as the case may be, in manner directed by this Act, as if such legal power had been produced; and also if it shall happen that any bill of sale cannot be produced, or if, by reason of distance of time or the absence or death of parties concerned, it cannot be proved that a bill of sale for any share or shares in any ship or vessel had been executed, and registry de novo of such ship or vessel shall have become necessary, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs, upon proof to their satisfaction of the fair dealings of the parties, to permit such ship or vessel to be registered de novo in like manner as if a bill of sale for the transfer of such share or shares had been produced: provided always, that in any of the cases herein mentioned good and sufficient security shall be given to produce a legal power or bill of sale within a reasonable time, or to abide the future claims of the absent owner, his heirs and successors, as the case may be: and at the future request of the party whose property has been so transferred without the production of a bill of sale from him or from his lawful attorney, such bond shall be available for the protection of his interest, in addition to any powers or rights which he may have in law or equity against the ship or vessel, or against the parties concerned, until he shall have received full indemnity for any loss or injury sustained by him.

Transfer by way of mortgage.

XLII. And be it further enacted, that when any transfer of any ship or vessel, or of any share or shares thereof, shall be made only as a security for the payment of a debt or debts, either by way of mortgage, or of assignment to a trustee or trustees for the purpose of selling the same for the payment of any debt or debts, then and in every such case the collector and controller of the port where the ship or vessel is registered shall, in the entry in the book of registry, and also in the indorsement on the certificate of registry, in manner herein-before directed, state and express that such transfer was made only as a security for the payment of a debt or debts, or by way of mortgage, to that effect; and the person or persons to whom such transfer shall be made, or any other person or persons claiming under him or them as a mortgagee or mortgagees, or a trustee or trustees only, shall not by reason thereof be deemed to be the owner or owners of such ship or vessel, share or shares thereof, nor shall the person or persons making such transfer be deemed by reason thereof to have ceased to be an owner or owners of such ship or vessel, any more than if no such transfer had been made, except so far as may be necessary for the purpose of rendering the ship or vessel, share or shares so transferred, available by sale or otherwise for the payment of the debt or debts for securing the payment of which such transfer shall have been made.

XLIV. And be it further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for any governor, lieutenant-governor, or commander-in-chief of any of his Majesty's colonies, plantations, islands, or territories, and they are hereby respectively authorized and required, if any suit, information, libel, or other prosecution or proceeding of any nature or kind whatever shall have been commenced or shall hereafter be commenced in any Court whatever in any of the said colonies, plantations, islands, or territories respectively, touching the force and effect of any register granted to any ship or vessel, upon a representation made to any such governor, lieutenant-governor, or commander-in-chief, to cause all proceedings thereon to be stayed, if he shall see just cause so to do, until his Majesty's pleasure shall be known and certified to him by his Majesty, by and with the advice of his Majesty's Privy Council; and such governor, lieutenant-governor, or commander-in-chief is hereby required to transmit to one of his Majesty's principal secretaries of state, to be laid before his Majesty in Council, an authenticated copy of the proceedings in every such case, together with his reasons for causing the same to be stayed, and such documents (properly verified) as he may judge necessary for the information of his Majesty.

Governors of colonies, &c. may cause proceedings in suits to be stayed.

XLV. And be it further enacted, that if any person or persons shall falsely make declaration to any of the matters herein-before required to be verified by declaration, or if any person or persons shall counterfeit, erase, alter, or falsify any certificate or other instrument in writing required or directed to be obtained, granted, or produced by this Act or shall knowingly or wilfully make use of any certificate or other instrument so counterfeited, erased, altered, or falsified, or shall wilfully grant such certificate or other instrument in writing, knowing it to be false, such person or persons shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of five hundred pounds.

Penalty of £500 on persons making false declaration, or falsifying any document.

XLVI. And be it further enacted, that all the penalties and forfeitures inflicted and incurred by this Act shall and may be sued for, prosecuted, recovered, and disposed of in such manner, and by such ways, means, and methods, as any penalties or forfeitures inflicted or which may be incurred for any offences committed against any law relating to the Customs may now legally be sued for, prosecuted, recovered, and disposed of; and that the officer or officers concerned in seizures or prosecutions under this Act, shall be entitled to and receive the same share of the produce arising from such seizures as in the case of seizures for unlawful importation, and to such share of the produce arising from any pecuniary fine or penalty for any offence against this Act as any officer or officers is or are now by any law or regulation entitled to upon prosecutions for pecuniary penalties.

Act may be altered
this session.

XLVII. And be it further enacted, that this Act may be altered, varied, or repealed by any Act or Acts to be passed in this session of Parliament.

3 & 4 GULIELMI IV. Cap. LVI.

AN ACT for granting Duties of Customs.

6 G. 4, c. 111.

Whereas an Act was passed in the sixth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled, "An Act for granting Duties of Customs," whereby the several duties of Customs were consolidated in one Act: and whereas since the passing of the said Act divers Acts altering the said duties have been passed, and it will be of advantage to the trade and commerce of the country that the said several duties should be consolidated in one Act: be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that this Act shall commence upon the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, except where any other commencement is herein particularly directed.

Commencement of Act.

Instead of all other
cept on corn, &c.)
there shall be paid and allowed the duties and drawbacks specified in the tables annexed.

II. And be it further enacted, that in lieu and instead of all other duties of Customs (except the duties upon corn, grain, meal, or flour), there shall be raised, levied, collected, and paid unto his Majesty, his heirs and successors, upon goods, wares, and merchandize imported into or exported from the United Kingdom, the several duties of Customs, and there shall be allowed the several drawbacks, as the same are respectively inserted, described, and set forth in figures in the tables to this Act annexed, and denominated respectively "Table of Duties of Customs Inwards" and "Table of Duties of Customs Outwards."

The third section relates to drawbacks upon goods having paid duty under previous Acts. The fourth directs that the duties imposed by this Act shall be under the management of the Commissioners of Customs, and shall be administered under the Act for the general regulation of the Customs, 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 52. The fifth gives certain powers to the Crown in reference to the Goods of countries withhold- ing advantages from Great Britain. The sixth and seventh relate to a drawback on foreign rice or paddy exported after payment of duties and clearings.

VIII. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the importer of any goods subject to any duties of Customs to warehouse such goods upon the first entry thereof, under the laws in force for the warehousing of goods, without payment of duty upon such first entry; and that all goods which shall have been so warehoused before the commencement of any such duties, and shall remain so warehoused after the commencement of the same, shall become liable to such duties in lieu of all former duties.

Warehousing of goods.

The ninth section declares the Cape of Good Hope and its dependencies to be, for the purposes of this Act, within the limits of the East-India Company's Charter; and the Island of Mauritius to be one of the sugar colonies of the Crown, and placed on the same footing as his Majesty's islands in the West-Indies.

X. And be it further enacted, that all goods the produce of places within the limits of the East-India Company's Charter, having been imported into Malta or Gibraltar from those places in British ships, shall, upon subsequent importation into the United Kingdom direct from Malta or Gibraltar, be liable to the same duties as the like goods would respectively be liable to if imported direct from some place within the limits of the said Charter.

Produce of limits of Charter imported from Malta or Gibraltar.

The remaining sections relate to the accounts of the hereditary revenue of the Crown, to the payment of duties into the Exchequer, and to the appropriation of duties due before the 1st September of the year in which the Act passed, but not levied till after that day.

DUTIES OF CUSTOMS INWARDS.

A Table of the Duties of Customs payable on Goods, Wares, and Merchandize imported into the United Kingdom from Foreign Parts, and of the Drawbacks to be allowed on the Exportation of such Goods, Wares, and Merchandize.

[It is necessary to observe, that all the articles in this table, except spirits and wood, are, under 3 & 4 Vic., cap. 17, subject to an additional duty of 5 per cent. on the amount with which they were previously chargeable. For the additional duties on spirits and wood, see the note at the end.

The extent of the table renders it necessary to exclude many articles: for any not inserted, reference must be made to the Act.]

By 5 & 6 Wm. 4, cap. 66, the duty on coffee, the produce of British possessions within the limits of the Charter, and imported from such possessions, is 6d. per pound. The mode of regulating the entry will be seen by reference to the Act.

By 6 & 7 Wm. 4, cap. 26, sec. 1, (continued by later enactments), the duty on sugar, the growth of British possessions within the limits of the Charter, into which the importation of foreign sugar may by that Act be prohibited and imported from thence, is, £1. 4s. per cwt. Section 3 prohibits the importation of sugar into the Presidency of Bengal and its dependencies, except by appointment of the Governor-general in Council; and section 4 excludes the districts thus excepted from the prohibition from the privilege of the lower rate of duty. The sugar of those British possessions in India into which importation is not prohibited, is subject to a duty of £1. 12s. per cwt.

The 7th Wm. 4 & 1st Vic. cap. 27, sec. 3, provides that on satisfactory proof being laid before her Majesty in Council, that the importation of sugar was prohibited in any British possession within the limits of the Charter, an order might issue from time to time to allow the importation of sugar from such possession at the reduced rate of duty. This provision was repeated in 1 & 2 Vic. cap. 33; 2 & 3 Vic. cap. 21; and 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 23. By Act No. 15 of 1839, the Government of India prohibited the importation of sugar into the territories subject to the presidency of Fort Saint George after the 10th June, 1840; and by an Order of the Queen in Council, dated 22nd May, 1840, sugar, the produce of those territories, may be imported at the lower rate of duty, £1. 4s. per cwt.

By 6 & 7 Wm. 4, cap. 60, sec. 12, and 1 & 2 Vic. cap. 113, sec. 16, the rates of duty on the articles following are thus fixed:—Asphaltum 1s. per ton; Cassia fistula, 1d. per lb.; Castor oil, 1s. 3d. per cwt.; Cloves, 6d. per lb.; Elephants' teeth, 1s. per cwt.; Horns, horn tips, and pieces of horns, 1s. per ton.; Mace, 2s. 6d. per lb.; Nutmegs, wild in the shell, 1s. per lb.; Pepper, 6d. per lb.

The first description of Spirits in the table was thereby subjected to a duty of 15s. per gallon, and the second to a duty of £1. 10s. By 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 17, both were subjected to an additional duty of 4d., making the whole 15s. 4d. and £1. 10s. 4d. But by 4 Vic. cap. 8, Rum and Rum Shrub, the produce of British India, may be imported, under certain conditions therein prescribed, at a duty of 9s. 4d. See the Act.

By 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 19, an additional duty of 1s. 6d. is imposed on all timber previously chargeable with any duty by the load of 50 cubic feet. The present duties on Teake wood are, therefore, according to the classification of the table, 1s. 7d. and 11s. 6d.

For duties on tea, see 5 & 6 Wm. 4, cap. 32.

The additional 5 per cent. duty on most articles has been noticed.

For duties payable in India, see Acts of Government of India, No. 14 of 1836, and No. 1 of 1838, in Appendix.

AN ACT to allow the People called Separatists to make a solemn Affirmation and Declaration instead of an Oath. [28th August, 1833.]

Whereas there are in various places in Ireland, and in some parts of England, and elsewhere, certain Dissenters from the United Church of England and Ireland and from the Church of Scotland, commonly called Separatists, the members of which class or sect of Dissenters, from conscientious scruples, refuse to take an oath in Courts of justice and other places, and in consequence thereof are exposed to great losses and inconveniences in their trades and concerns, and are subject to fines and imprisonment for contempt of Court, and the community at large are deprived of the benefit of their testimony: and whereas it is therefore expedient that the said sect called Separatists should be relieved in manner hereinafter mentioned; be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that every person for the time being belonging to the said sect called Separatists, who shall be required upon any lawful occasion to take an oath in any case where by law an oath is or may be required, shall, instead of the usual form, be permitted to make his or her solemn affirmation or declaration in these words following: videlicet, Separatists, instead of an oath, may make affirmation.

“ I, A. B., do, in the presence of Almighty God, solemnly, sincerely, and truly affirm “ and declare that I am a member of the religious sect called Separatists, and that “ the taking of any oath is contrary to my religious belief, as well as essentially opposed to the tenets of that sect; and I do also in the same solemn manner affirm and “ declare.”

Which said solemn affirmation or declaration shall be adjudged and taken, and is hereby enacted and declared to be of the same force and effect, to all intents and purposes, in all Courts of justice and other places whatsoever, where by law an oath is or may be required, as if such Separatists had taken an oath in the usual form.

Such affirmation shall have the effect of an oath.

II. And be it further enacted, that if any person making such solemn affirmation or declaration shall in fact not be one of the people commonly called Separatists, or shall wilfully, falsely, and corruptly affirm or declare any other matter or thing which if the same had been sworn in the usual form would have amounted to wilful and corrupt perjury, every such person so offending shall incur the same penalties and forfeitures as by the law and statutes of this kingdom are or may be enacted or provided against persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Persons making a false affirmation to be subject to the same punishment as for perjury.

(1) [The original capital of the English Company trading to the East-Indies was £2,000,000. The 6th Anne, cap. 17 (under which the union of the two Companies was effected) authorized an increase of £1,200,000 to be raised by additional subscriptions of the Proprietors. This addition was made for the purpose of granting a loan to the Crown, and very stringent proceedings were prescribed with respect to those Proprietors who refused or neglected to pay up their quota of the additional subscription. By 26 Geo. 3, cap. 62, a further addition of £800,000 was sanctioned, and it was provided that the new stock might be subscribed at the rate of £160 per cent. The 29 Geo. 3, cap. 65, empowered the Company again to increase their capital stock by an addition of £1,000,000, and provision was granted to receive subscriptions for the increased amount at the rate of £170 per cent. A further extension took place under 33 Geo. 3, cap. 47, to the amount of £1,000,000, which was allowed to be raised at the rate of £200 per cent. The 37 Geo. 3, cap. 31, authorized an addition of £2,000,000. No increase of capital, however, took place under that Act, and the Company were permitted by 47 Geo. 3, cap. 41, to raise the required sum on bond. The amount of capital stock thus remained at £6,000,000; of which, as has been shown, £800,000 was subscribed at a premium of 60 per cent., £1,000,000 at a premium of 70 per cent., and £1,000,000 at a premium of 100 per cent. The dividend secured on the suspension of the Company's trade is at the same rate as that paid without interruption from the year 1793, and which had been confirmed by 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52, and 53 Geo. 3, cap. 155.]

XII. Provided always, and be it enacted, that the said dividend shall be subject to redemption by Parliament upon and at any time after the thirtieth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, on payment to the Company of two hundred pounds sterling for every one hundred pounds of the said capital stock, together with a proportionate part of the same dividend, if the redemption shall take place on any other day than one of the said half-yearly days of payment: provided also, that twelve months' notice in writing, signified by the Speaker of the House of Commons by the order of the House, shall be given to the said Company of the intention of Parliament to redeem the said dividend.

His Majesty in Council may issue orders and commissions to have force in China;

And be it enacted, that no superintendent or commissioner appointed under the authority of this Act shall accept for or in discharge of his duties any gift, donation, gratuity, or reward, other than the salary which may be granted to him as aforesaid, or be engaged in any trade or traffic for his own benefit, or for the benefit of any other person or persons.

AN ACT to provide for the Collection and Management of the Duties on Tea.

Whereas the exclusive right of trading in tea now enjoyed by the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies will on the twenty-second day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four terminate, and it is therefore necessary to make further provisions for the regulation of the trade in tea and the duties payable thereon, and to transfer the management of the said duties from the Commissioners of Excise to the Commissioners of Customs; be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from and after the twenty-second day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, it shall be lawful to import any tea into the United Kingdom from the Cape of Good Hope, and from places eastward of the same to the Straits of Magellan, and not from any other place, in such and the like manner as if the same were set forth in an Act passed in the present session of Parliament for the general regulation of the Customs.

Tea importable into the United Kingdom from the Cape of Good Hope and places eastward thereof.

II. And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful to import any tea into any of the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, or into the British possessions of America, from the Cape of Good Hope and places eastward of the same to the Straits of Magellan, or from the United Kingdom, and not from any other place, in such and the like manner as if the same were set forth in an Act passed in the present session of Parliament to regulate the trade of the British possessions abroad.

Tea importable into British possessions, &c. from Cape of Good Hope, &c.

The former part of the third section imposed different rates of duty upon tea of various descriptions, but by 5 and 6 Wm. 4, cap. 32, all descriptions of tea are subjected to a duty of 2s. 1d. per lb. in addition to which they are further chargeable with 5 per cent. upon that duty under 3 and 4 Vict., cap. 17. The third section concludes with the following proviso:

Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall alter or affect the duties payable upon tea which shall have been sold by the East-India Company at their public sales prior to the said twenty-second day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four: provided also that the allowance commonly called draft now made by the Commissioners of Excise in the weighing of tea shall be made by the Commissioners of Customs under the authority of this Act.

Not to affect tea sold before 22d April, 1834.

Allowance of draft.

IV. And be it further enacted, that no abatement of duty shall be made on account of damage received by any tea during the voyage; but it shall be lawful for the importer to separate the damaged parts, and to abandon the same to the Commissioners of the Customs for the duty.

Abatement for sea damage not to be allowed.

The fifth section relates to the mixing or packing together of different sorts of teas, but by 5 and 6 Wm. 4, cap. 32, above referred to, one rate of duty is imposed on all teas.

VI. And be it further enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act it shall be lawful for the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, by any warrant under the hands of any three or more of them, to order and direct that the importation of tea and the duties thereon shall be under the management of the Commissioners of Customs, instead of the management of the Commissioners of Excise, and from and after the time specified in any such warrant the same shall be transferred accordingly: provided always, that until the transfer of such management and of the custody of tea in warehouse shall have been fully made under the directions of the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, any act, matter, or thing done or performed by, to, or with the Commissioners of Excise or their officers shall have the same effect in law as if the same had been done or performed by, to, or Importation of tea to be under management of Commissioners of Customs, but acts done by Excise to be legal.

with the Commissioners of the Customs or their officers under the authority of this Act; but nothing herein-before contained shall extend to alter or affect any law of excise relating to licences for the sale of tea, or relating to permits for the removal of tea, or otherwise to the internal management of tea by the Commissioners of Excise, after the duties of importation on the same shall have been paid, and after the same has been delivered out of the charge of the officers of the Customs.

Licences to sell tea, and permits, not to be affected.

The seventh section relates to the means of protecting the revenue by permits or otherwise, on the removal of tea.

AN ACT to alter, amend, and consolidate the Laws for regulating the Pensions, Compensations, and Allowances, to be made to Persons in respect of their having held Civil Offices in his Majesty's Service. [25th July, 1834.]

57 G. 3, c. 65.

6 G. 4, c. 90.

Pensions to the First Lord of the Treasury, Secretaries of State, Chancellor of the Exchequer, First Lord of the Admiralty, President of the India Board, President of the Board of Trade;

Whereas by an Act passed in the fifty-seventh year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Third, to enable his Majesty to recompense the services of persons holding or who have held certain high and efficient civil offices, his Majesty is empowered to grant pensions as therein provided, to persons who shall have served his Majesty, his heirs or successors, in the offices therein mentioned: and whereas by an Act passed in the sixth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, for amending the said recited Act, it is enacted, that the several other offices therein particularly described shall be deemed to be comprised in the several classes of offices in the said recited Act respectively specified: and whereas it is expedient that the amount of the pensions by the said two Acts authorized to be granted should as to future pensions be reduced, and the conditions under which the same shall be granted be altered and regulated: be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from and after the passing of this Act no pension to be granted to any person in respect of his having served in any one or more of the offices of First Lord of the Treasury, or of one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, or Chancellor of the Exchequer, or First Lord of the Admiralty, or President of the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, or President of the Committee of Council appointed for the consideration of matters relating to Trade and Foreign Plantations, shall exceed the sum of two thousand pounds per annum: nor shall any such pension be granted to any person unless he shall have held one or more of the said offices for a period of not less than two years in the whole, either uninterruptedly or at different times; nor shall any more or greater number than four such pensions hereafter to be granted be existing or in force at the same time.

Under Secretaries of State, Clerk of the Ordnance, second Secretary of Admiralty, Secretaries of India Board.

IV. And be it further enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act the pension, not exceeding one thousand pounds, authorized by the said recited Act to be granted to any person in respect of his having served in any one or more of the offices of one of the Under Secretaries of State, or Clerk of the Ordnance, or Second Secretary of the Admiralty, or one of the Secretaries of the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, shall not be granted to any such person unless he shall have held one or more of the said offices for a period of not less than ten years in the whole, either uninterruptedly or at different times; nor shall any more or greater number than six such last-mentioned pensions be existing or in force at the same time.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted, that in case it shall happen that any person shall have served his Majesty, his heirs or successors, in more than one class of offices herein-before specified, in respect whereof any pension less than two thousand pounds may be granted, it shall be lawful to grant, under the regulations aforesaid, to such person any pension annexed to the highest class of office in which such person may have been employed, whenever the whole period of the service of such person in the several offices in which he shall have been employed shall amount to ten years, although the period of the service of such person in such highest class shall not have extended to the period of five years; provided always, that such person shall have served in such highest class for the period of not less than three years; and in cases in which the service of any such person in any class of those offices shall not be sufficient to entitle him to the pension of that class, it shall be lawful to grant him a pension not exceeding one thousand pounds, provided the period of his aggregate services in that and any inferior class or classes or department of the public service shall amount to ten years; provided also, that there shall not be more than the aforesaid number of pensions to that amount existing at the same time.

Regulation as to period of service.

VI. And whereas the principle of the regulations for granting allowances of this nature is and ought to be founded on a consideration, not only of the services performed by the individual to the state, but of the inadequacy of his private fortune to maintain his station in life; be it therefore enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act, whenever any person shall seek to obtain any one of the pensions before-mentioned, his application for that purpose shall be made in writing to the Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, to which he shall subscribe his name, and which shall contain, not only a statement of the services performed by him, and the grounds on which such pension is claimed, but a specific declaration that the amount of his income from other sources is so limited as to bring him within the intent and meaning of this Act and the principle herein-above declared; and without such declaration no pension as herein-before provided or authorized shall be granted.

Declaration to be made by persons claiming pensions.

The seventh section provides that pensions granted under this Act shall be subject to the regulations of 57 Geo. 3, cap. 65, and 6 Geo. 4, cap. 90, except so far as they may be altered or repealed. The principal of those regulations are the following:—no pension is to take effect till the surrender of office; no grant is to be valid unless it contain a provision for the suspension of the pension during the possession of any office producing not less than double the amount, and for reducing the pension by one half if the office be of equal value or more; upon the acceptance of the pension any pension previously enjoyed is to cease, except such as may be charged by Act of Parliament upon the Consolidated Fund; payment is to be made quarterly, exempt from fees and deductions, and the warrants, if signed, are not to be determinable by the demise of the Crown, or any change in the treasury.

4 & 5 GULIELMI IV. Cap. LXXIX.

AN ACT to amend the Law relating to Insolvent Debtors in India.

[14th August, 1834.]

(Continued by 6 & 7 Wm. 4, cap. 47, until the 1st March, 1839, and from thence till the end of the then next session of Parliament; further continued by 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 80, till the 1st March, 1845, and from thence to the end of the then next session of Parliament. See also Act of Government of India, No. 4 of 1836, in Appendix.)

9 G. 4, c. 73.

2 W. 4, c. 43.

Whereas an Act was passed in the ninth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled, "An Act to provide for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies until the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three;" and by another Act passed in the second year of the reign of his present Majesty King William the Fourth, the said Act was continued in force until the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six: and whereas, in and by the said Act to provide for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies, certain provisions were enacted as to a commission of bankruptcy issuing against any such insolvent debtor as therein mentioned, and as to the proceedings consequent thereon; and amongst other things it was enacted, that a certificate obtained under such commission as therein provided should have the same force and effect in all places situate without the limits of the East-India Company's Charter, as if the same had been duly signed in the usual way after such bankrupt had duly surrendered and passed his last examination; and it was also by the said Act amongst other things provided and enacted, that whenever it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of any Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors, upon the application of any insolvent, his assignee or assignees, or any of his or her creditors, that the estate of such insolvent debtor which shall have come to the hands of the assignee or assignees shall have produced sufficient to pay and discharge three-fourths of the amount of the debts which shall have been established in such Court, or that creditors to the amount of more than one-half in number and value of the debts which shall have been so established shall signify their consent in writing thereto, it shall be lawful for such Court to inquire into the conduct of the said insolvent, and if it shall appear to such Court that the said insolvent has acted fairly and honestly towards his or her creditors, such Court shall be fully authorized and empowered thereupon to order that the said insolvent shall be for ever discharged from all liability whatsoever for or in respect of such debts so established as aforesaid, and such Court shall, in the order to be drawn up, specify and set forth the names of such creditors, and after any such order shall have been so made no further proceedings shall be had in the matter of the petition before the Court, unless upon appeal made to the Supreme Court of Judicature of the presidency where such Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors shall be holden as thereby authorized; and it was by the said recited Act also provided, that no such order as last aforesaid shall prevent any creditor who shall not have been resident within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company at any time between the filing of such petition and the making of such order as last-mentioned, and who shall not have taken part in any of the proceedings under the said petition, from bringing any suit or action in the East-Indies for the purpose of obtaining execution against the goods, estate, or effects of such insolvent for any unsatisfied claim of such creditor, nor from bringing any suit or action for such claim in any Court of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or elsewhere, without the limits of the said United Company's Charter, against such insolvent, in the same manner and with the like consequences and effects as if such order as last-mentioned had not been made; and whereas it is expedient to extend and add to the provisions of the said Acts, so as to give insolvent debtors, being traders, who shall have acted fairly and honestly towards their creditors, an additional and more complete discharge, and also to render more effectual the means of obtaining such discharge, and at the same time to preserve to such insolvent debtors such relief as is already afforded by the said recited Acts: and whereas under the provisions of the Act passed in the first and second years of his present Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled, "An Act to establish a Court in Bankruptcy," a fiat is issued in bankruptcy in lieu of a commission of bankrupt in every case where the Lord Chancellor, by virtue of any former Act, had heretofore power to issue a commission of bankrupt: be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that any person who now is or who shall hereafter become an insolvent debtor within the intent and meaning of the said Act of the ninth year of the reign of his Majesty King George the Fourth, either upon petition filed, or by adjudication on an act of insolvency as therein provided, and who, at the time of such petition being filed or adjudication made as aforesaid, shall have been or shall be a person who, by an Act passed in the sixth year of the reign of his late Majesty, intituled, "An Act to amend the Laws relating to Bankrupts," or by any Act hereafter to be passed, would be deemed a trader liable to become bankrupt, shall be at liberty, at any time not earlier than three months from the making of such assignment as in the said Act, intituled, "An Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies," directed, or from any such adjudication of insolvency as therein mentioned (as the case may be), to apply by petition for his discharge to any one of the said Courts in the East-Indies for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, in the said last-mentioned Act mentioned, as shall have already jurisdiction over the matter of his insolvency; and the principal officer of such Court shall cause a notice of such petition to be forthwith inserted in the Gazette of the presidency within which such Court shall be holden; and the chief secretary of the government of such presidency shall, without delay, transmit to the Court of Directors of the said United Company, by different ships, two at least of every such Gazette, which shall contain such notice as aforesaid, who shall, without delay, cause such notice to be inserted in the London Gazette; and all creditors of the said insolvent, either alone or as partner with any other person or persons, and either within the limits of the said Charter of the said United Company, or elsewhere, who shall not within fourteen calendar months from the filing of such petition for a discharge as aforesaid have given notice to the said Court of his dissent from such insolvent having his discharge, shall be taken to have assented thereto; and thereupon, and at the expiration of the said fourteen calendar months from the filing of such petition for discharge as aforesaid, if it shall appear to such Court that the said insolvent has acted fairly and honestly towards his creditors, and unless creditors to the amount of one-sixth in number and value of the debts that shall have been established in such Court shall have given notice of their dissent as aforesaid, or unless a fiat in bankruptcy (not being a fiat issued under the provisions of the said recited Acts "to provide for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies,") shall have been sued out in England against such insolvent within the time herein-after provided, such Court shall be authorized and empowered to order the discharge of the said insolvent from liability for debts, claims, and demands of and against such insolvent; and such order shall operate (save as herein-after provided) as a release and discharge from all debts claims, and

Any insolvent within the meaning of the Act of 9 G. 4, may petition the Court for his discharge after three months.

6 G. 4, c. 16.

9 G. 4, c. 73.

Notice of such petition to be inserted in the Gazette of the Presidency, and in the London Gazette.

Creditors who shall not dissent within 14 months to be deemed to assent.

Court may then order discharge, unless 1-6th dissent, or a fiat in bankruptcy issue under the general Bankrupt Acts.

Order of Court to discharge all debts both in India and elsewhere.

demands for which such insolvent was liable at the time of his petition for relief being filed, or of any such act of insolvency committed as aforesaid (as the case may be), and whether, within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company, or elsewhere, and whether such debts, claims, and demands shall or shall not have been established in such Court as aforesaid; provided nevertheless, that such order shall not operate as a release or discharge of any person who was partner with such insolvent, or jointly bound or liable with him.

But not to discharge partners.

If any fiat of bankruptcy shall be issued under the Acts for Relief of Insolvent Debtors in India, then the discharge to be confined to India;

II. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that in case any fiat in bankruptcy shall be issued in England against any such insolvent trader as aforesaid, under the provisions of the said Act, intituled, "An Act to provide for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies," or under the provisions of any other Act passed or to be hereafter passed respecting insolvent debtors in the East-Indies, then and in such case such order for discharge as aforesaid shall not operate as a discharge of the debt, claim, and demand of any creditor who shall not have been resident within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company at any time between the filing of such petition and the making of such order as last-mentioned, nor shall any such creditor be debarred from bringing any suit or action for such debt, claim, or demand in any Court of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or elsewhere without the limits of the said United Company's Charter, against such insolvent, in the same manner and with the like consequences and effects as if such order as last-mentioned had not been made.

but on the order for discharge being proved to the Commissioner, and on his signing the bankrupt's certificate, such certificate is to be a general discharge from all debts.

III. Provided nevertheless, and be it further enacted, that in such last-mentioned case, upon any application made to the Commissioner acting in such fiat as aforesaid, to sign the certificate of such insolvent, and after the same shall have been signed by the requisite number of creditors under the provisions of the said Act, intituled, "An Act to provide for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies," or any other Act passed or hereafter to be passed respecting insolvent debtors in the East-Indies, then if it shall be made to appear to such Commissioner that such order for a discharge has been made by the Court in the East-Indies as aforesaid, and if such Commissioner shall sign such certificate, he shall also certify in writing upon such certificate that such insolvent has obtained such order for discharge in the East-Indies as aforesaid, and thereupon such certificate shall have the same force and effect, as well within as without the limits aforesaid, as a certificate duly obtained under the said Act of the sixth year of the reign of his Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled, "Act to amend the Laws relating to Bankrupts," or in any other Act passed or to be hereafter passed respecting bankrupts.

6 G. 4, c. 16.

In case there is no bankruptcy, the order of discharge to have effect everywhere.

IV. And be it enacted, that any such insolvent trader who shall not be made a bankrupt under the provisions of the said Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies, or of any other Act passed or hereafter to be passed respecting insolvent debtors in the East-Indies, if he shall, after such order for his discharge shall have been made as aforesaid, be arrested, or have any action brought against him for any debt, claim, or demand for which he was so liable as aforesaid, either within the limits of the Charter of the said United Company or elsewhere, shall be discharged upon common bail, and may plead in general that the cause of action accrued before he became insolvent, and may give this Act and the special matter in evidence; and such order as aforesaid, duly sealed with the seal of the said Court, shall be sufficient evidence in all Courts and places whatsoever of all the proceedings precedent to such order being made, and of the same being duly obtained; and if any such insolvent trader shall be taken in execution or detained in prison for such debt, claim, or demand, where judgment has been obtained before such order of the Court for his discharge as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for any Judge of the Court wherein such judgment has been obtained, on such insolvent producing such order as aforesaid, to order any officer who shall have such insolvent in custody by virtue of such execution to discharge such insolvent without exacting any fee, and such officer shall be hereby indemnified for so doing; and any such insolvent trader who shall be a bankrupt under the provisions of the said last-mentioned Act, and who shall be arrested within the limits of the Charter of the said Company, shall be so discharged, and may so plead, and shall have otherwise such relief, within the said limits, as herein-before mentioned; and if he shall also obtain such certificate as herein-before provided, he may be at liberty to avail himself either of such certificate, or of such order of discharge as aforesaid, for the purposes of his discharge within the limits aforesaid.

If certificate be obtained, it may be pleaded in India.

V. And be it further enacted, that in case any fiat in bankruptcy (other than a fiat under the provisions of the said Act, intituled, "An Act to provide for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies, or any other Act relating to the Insolvent Debtors in the East-Indies,") be issued against any such insolvent trader within the period of eight calendar months from the time of such petition for relief being filed, or of such adjudication of insolvency being made, as the case may be, and such insolvent trader shall be duly adjudged a bankrupt under such fiat, then and in such case such Court as aforesaid shall not be authorized and empowered to make any such order for discharge as aforesaid.

If a fiat under the Bankrupt Act within eight months after petition for discharge, the Court to make no order.

VI. AN ACT for declaring the Law as to the Day on which it is requisite to present for Payment to the Acceptors or Acceptor supra Protest for Honour, or to the Referees or Referee in case of Need, Bills of Exchange which had been dishonoured.
[13th August, 1836.]

Whereas bills of exchange are occasionally accepted supra protest for honour, or have a reference thereon in case of need: and whereas doubts have arisen when bills have been protested for want of payment as to the day on which it is requisite that they should be presented for payment to the acceptors or acceptor for honour, or to the referees or referee, and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed: be it therefore declared and enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall not be necessary to present such bills of exchange to such acceptors or acceptor for honour, or to such referees or referee, until the day following the day on which such bills of exchange shall become due; and that if the place of address on such bill of exchange of such acceptors or acceptor for honour, or of such referees or referee, shall be in any city, town, or place, other than in the city, town, or place where such bill shall be therein made payable, then it shall not be necessary to forward such bill of exchange for presentment for payment to such acceptors or acceptor for honour, or referees or referee, until the day following the day on which such bill of exchange shall become due.

A subsequent section of this Act contains a table of new duties; but all variations thereby made with respect to articles contained in so much of the table appended to 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 56, as is printed in this collection, have been noticed in a note upon that table.

Her Majesty may allow the importation of sugar the growth of certain British possessions.

The only remaining section to which it is necessary to advert is the 47th, which relates to the interpretation of the Post-office laws. As it is very long, and much of it inapplicable to the object of this work, it will be sufficient to state the substance of those parts requiring notice. It declares that the term "Colonial letter" shall mean a letter transmitted between any of her Majesty's Colonies and the United Kingdom; that the term "Colonial newspapers" shall mean newspapers printed and published in any of her Majesty's dominions out of the United Kingdom; that the term "East-Indies" shall mean every port and place within the territorial acquisitions now vested in the East-India Company, in trust for her Majesty, and every other port or place within the limits of the Charter of the said Company, China excepted, and also including the Cape of Good Hope; that the term "her Majesty's Colonies" shall include every port and place within the territorial acquisitions now vested in the East-India Company, in trust for her Majesty, as well as her Majesty's other colonies and possessions beyond sea; that the term "ships" shall include vessels other than packet-boats; that the term "sea postage" shall mean the duty chargeable for the conveyance of letters by sea by vessels not packet-boats, and the term "ship letter" a letter transmitted inward or outward by any such vessel; and that the term "vessel" shall include every ship or other vessel not a Post-office packet.

And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court of Directors, subject to such control as aforesaid, to direct the refunding, by any officer or servant of the said Company, or by the representatives of any such officer or servant, of the whole or any part of the salary or allowance which he or they may have received under or by virtue of any such rule so to be established as aforesaid, if it shall appear to the said Court, subject to such control as aforesaid, that the permission to such officer or servant to quit the presidency to which he shall belong hath been improperly granted or obtained; and such sum as the said Court, subject to such control as aforesaid, shall direct such officer or servant; or the representatives of such officer or servant, to refund, shall be a debt to the said Company, and shall be recoverable by them in any Court in like manner as any debt may now or hereafter shall be recovered by them.

The 1st and 2d sections of this Act provide for the continuance and collection of the duties imposed by 6 & 7 Wm. 4, cap. 26, until the date specified in the title. AN ACT for permitting Affirmation to be made instead of an Oath in certain cases. [10th August, 1838.]

Whereas by an Act passed in the reign of King William the Third, intituled, "An Act 7 & 8 W. 3, c. 34. that the Solemnization, Affirmation, and Declaration of the People called Quakers shall be received instead of an Oath in the usual form," reciting that divers Dissenters, commonly called Quakers, refusing to take an oath in Courts of justice and other places, are frequently imprisoned and their estates sequestered by process of contempt issuing out of such Courts, to the ruin of themselves and families, it is enacted that every Quaker on every occasion (except on criminal trials) where an oath is by law required, shall be permitted to make solemn affirmation and declaration in lieu thereof: and whereas the same privilege has by subsequent Acts of Parliament been extended in all cases to the persons called Quakers and Moravians: and whereas it is expedient and fitting that the aforesaid privilege should be extended to such persons as have been Quakers and Moravians, but have ceased to belong to either of such religious denominations of Christians, still continuing nevertheless to entertain conscientious objections to the taking of an oath: be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall be lawful for any person who shall have been a Quaker or a Moravian to make solemn affirmation and declaration in lieu of taking an oath, as fully as it would be lawful for any such person to do if he still remained a member of either of such religious denominations of Christians, which said affirmation or declaration shall be of the same force and effect as if he or she had taken an oath in the usual form; and if any such person making such solemn affirmation or declaration shall be convicted of having wilfully, falsely, and corruptly affirmed or declared any matter or thing which, if the same had been sworn in the usual form, would have amounted to wilful and corrupt perjury, every such offender shall be subject to the same pains, penalties, and forfeitures to which persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury are or shall be subject: provided always, that every such affirmation or declaration shall be in the words following; that is to say,

"I, A. B., having been one of the people called Quakers, [or one of the persuasion of the people called Quakers, or of the United Brethren called Moravians, as the case may be,] and entertaining conscientious objections to the taking of an oath, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm."

Certain persons may make affirmation in lieu of oath;

if convicted of having falsely affirmed, to be punished as if guilty of perjury.

Form of declaration.

The 7 & 8 Wm. 3, cap. 34 (recited in this Act), allowed the solemn affirmation of a Quaker to be received on all occasions except on criminal trials.

By various enactments in this collection it is prescribed that the solemn affirmation of a Quaker is to be taken in the cases referred to in place of the oath required from others. The 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 49, allowed of the substitution of the solemn affirmation or declaration of a Quaker in all cases where an oath might be required, either by common law or Act of Parliament. The same privilege, and to the like extent, was by that Act afforded to Moravians, and by 3 & 4 Wm. 4, cap. 82, to the people called Separatists.

AN ACT to amend the Laws relating to the Customs.

[16th August, 1838.]

XII. And whereas it is expedient that true information should be had at every port in her Majesty's dominions whether all the vessels registered at such port are actually in existence and entitled to the privileges of British registered ships, or not; be it therefore enacted, that the person or persons registered as owner or owners of any British ship or vessel which shall have been lost, or taken by the enemy, or burnt, or broken up, or otherwise prevented from returning to the port to which such ship or vessel belongs, or which shall on any account have lost or forfeited the privileges of a British ship, shall immediately upon obtaining knowledge of any of the circumstances aforesaid give notice in writing of such circumstances to the collector or controller of the Customs at the port of registry of such ship or vessel.

And whereas by one other of the said first-mentioned Acts, intituled, "An Act for the encouragement of British Shipping and Navigation," it is enacted, that goods the produce of Asia, Africa, or America, shall not be imported from Europe for consumption in the United Kingdom, except in certain cases: and whereas by the said Act it is provided that goods the produce of Asia or Africa, which have been brought into places in Europe within the Straits of Gibraltar from or through places in Asia or Africa within those straits, and not by way of the Atlantic Ocean, may be imported from such ports in Europe in British ships: and whereas treaties beneficial to British shipping may be made with countries having ports within the Straits of Gibraltar if her Majesty were empowered to authorize the importation of such goods from such ports in the ships of such countries respectively; be it therefore enacted, that in case any treaty shall be made with any such country, stipulating that such productions of Asia or Africa shall be imported from the ports of such country in the ships of the same as well as in British ships, such goods so imported shall in virtue of such treaty be admitted to entry in the United Kingdom, to be used and consumed therein, any thing in the said Act of Navigation to the contrary notwithstanding.

2 & 3 VICTORIÆ. Cap. XXXVII.

AN ACT to amend and extend until the First Day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty-two, the Provisions of an Act of the First Year of her present Majesty, for exempting certain Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes from the Operation of the Laws relating to Usury. [29th July, 1839.]

7 W. 4 & 1 Vic. c. 80.

Whereas by an Act passed in the first year of the reign of her present Majesty, intituled, "An Act to exempt certain Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes from the Operation of the Laws relating to Usury," it was enacted, that bills of exchange, payable at or within twelve months, should not be liable, for a limited time, to the laws for the prevention of usury: and whereas the duration of the said Act was limited to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty; and it is expedient that the provisions of the said Act should be extended: be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that from and after the passing of this Act no bill of exchange or promissory note made payable at or within twelve months after the date thereof, or not having more than twelve months to run, nor any contract for the loan or forbearance of money, above the sum of ten pounds sterling, shall, by reason of any interest taken thereon or secured thereby, or any agreement to pay or receive or allow interest in discounting, negotiating, or transferring any such bill of exchange or promissory note, be void, nor shall the liability of any party to any such bill of exchange or promissory note, nor the liability of any person borrowing any sum of money as aforesaid, be affected, by reason of any statute or law in force for the prevention of usury; nor shall any person or persons or body corporate drawing, accepting, endorsing, or signing any such bill or note, or lending, or advancing, or forbearing any money as aforesaid, or taking more than the present rate of legal interest, in Great Britain and Ireland respectively, for the loan or forbearance of money as aforesaid, be subject to any penalties under any statute or law relating to usury, or any other penalty or forfeiture; any thing in any law or statute relating to usury, or any other law whatsoever in force in any part of the United Kingdom, to the contrary notwithstanding: provided always, that nothing herein contained shall extend to the loan or forbearance of any money upon security of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any estate or interest therein.

II. Provided always, and be it enacted, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to enable any person or persons to claim, in any Court of law or equity, more than five per cent. interest on any account or on any contract or engagement, notwithstanding they may be relieved from the penalties against usury, unless it shall appear to the Court that any different rate of interest was agreed to between the parties.

Five per cent. to be considered the legal rate of interest, except, &c.

IV. And be it enacted, that this Act shall continue in force until the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty-two. (1)

Continuance of Act.

(1) [Continued by 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 83, till the 1st January, 1843, and by 4 & 5 Vic. cap. 54, till 1st January, 1844.]

3 & 4 VICTORIÆ. Cap. VI.

AN ACT for Punishing Mutiny and Desertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters. [3d April, 1840.]

An Act under this title is passed annually; but as the operation of this Act does not commence in India till the 1st February, 1842 (see sec. 80), unless previously promulgated by general orders, it has been thought convenient to retain such of its provisions as it is necessary to quote, and point out the difference, where any occurs, between them and those of the later Act 4 Vic. cap. 2. Another Act exists for the troops of the East-India Company (3 & 4 Vic. cap. 37), but it has no operation within the United Kingdom.

VI. And be it enacted, that a general Court-martial convened in any part of the Queen's dominions (Bermuda, the Bahamas, Saint Helena, Africa, and the Australian colonies excepted), or in the settlements of the East-India Company, shall consist of not less than thirteen commissioned officers; * * * and no judgment of death shall pass without the concurrence of two-thirds at the least of the officers present; and the president shall in no case be the officer commanding-in-chief or governor of the garrison where the offender shall be tried, nor under the degree of a field officer, unless where a field officer cannot be had, nor in any case whatsoever under the degree of a captain.

Powers of general
Courts-martial.

VII. And be it enacted, that a general Court-martial may sentence any soldier to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, in any public prison, or other place which the Court or the officer commanding the regiment or corps to which the offender belongs or is attached shall appoint, and may also direct that such offender shall be kept in solitary confinement for any portion or portions of such imprisonment, not exceeding one month at a time or three months at different times, with intervals of not less than one month between such times in one year, or of such imprisonment with hard labour, or may sentence any soldier to corporal punishment, not extending to life or limb, for immorality, misbehaviour, and neglect of duty; and a general Court-martial may, in addition to any such punishment as aforesaid, sentence any offender to forfeiture of all advantage as to additional pay, and pension on discharge which might have otherwise accrued from the length of his former service, or to forfeiture of such advantage absolutely, whether it might have accrued from past service or might accrue from future service, according to the nature of the case; and whensoever any general Court-martial by which any soldier shall have been tried and convicted of any offence punishable with death shall not think the offence deserving of capital punishment, such Court-martial may, instead of awarding a corporal punishment or imprisonment, adjudge the offender, according to the degree of the offence, to be transported as a felon for life or for a certain term of years, or may sentence him to general service as a soldier in any corps and in any country or place which her Majesty shall thereupon direct, or may, if such offender shall have enlisted for a limited term of years, sentence him to serve for life as a soldier in any corps which her Majesty shall please to direct, and the Court may, in addition to any other punishment, sentence such offender to forfeit all advantage as to increase of pay, or as to pension on discharge, which might otherwise have accrued to such offender from the length of his former service, or to forfeiture of such advantage absolutely, whether it might have accrued from past service or might accrue from future service, according to the nature of the case; provided that in all cases where a capital punishment shall have been awarded by a general Court-martial it shall be lawful for her Majesty, or, if in the East-Indies, for the officer commanding-in-chief the forces at the presidency to which the offender shall belong, instead of causing such sentence to be carried into execution, to order the offender to be transported as a felon, either for life or for a certain term of years, as shall seem meet to her Majesty, or, if in the East-Indies, to the officer commanding as aforesaid.

(1) [The passages between brackets are added in the last Mutiny Act, 4 Vic. cap. 2.]

XIII. And be it enacted, that in certain cases, where it may be necessary or expedient, officers of her Majesty's marine forces may sit upon Courts-martial in conjunction with officers of her Majesty's land forces, and such Courts-martial shall be regulated, to all intents and purposes, in like manner as if they were composed of officers of the land forces only, whether the commanding officer by whose order such Court-martial is assembled belongs to the land or to the marine forces; and officers of her Majesty's land forces and officers in the service of the East-India Company, when serving together, may be associated in Courts-martial, which shall, to all intents and purposes, be regulated in like manner as if consisting wholly of officers of her Majesty's land forces, or wholly of officers in the service of the East-India Company; save and except that on the trial of any person in her Majesty's land forces, the provisions of this Act, and the oaths thereby prescribed, shall be applicable; and that on the trial of any person belonging to her Majesty's marine forces, the provisions of an Act passed in the present session of Parliament for the regulation of her Majesty's royal marine forces while on shore, and the oaths thereby prescribed, shall be applicable; and on the trial of any officer or soldier in the service of the East-India Company the provisions of an Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of his Majesty King George the Fourth, (1) to amend the laws for punishing mutiny and desertion of officers and soldiers in the service of the East-India Company, and the oaths thereby prescribed, shall be applicable, notwithstanding any officer in the actual service of the said Company may have a commission from her Majesty or from his late Majesty King William the Fourth.

(1) By 4 Vic. cap. 2, (the India Mutiny Act), 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 37, is substituted for the Act here referred to, which Act is repealed.

XV. And be it enacted, that in all trials by general Court-martial to be held by virtue of this Act, the president and every member assisting at such trial, before any proceeding be had thereon, shall take the oath in the schedule to this Act annexed, before the judge advocate or his deputy, or person officiating as such, and on trials by other Courts-martial before the president of such Court, who are hereby respectively authorized to administer the same, and any sworn member shall administer the oath to the president, and as soon as the said oaths shall have been administered to the respective members, the president of the Court is hereby authorized and required to administer to the judge advocate, or the person officiating as such, the oath in the schedule to this Act annexed; and no proceeding or trial shall be had upon any offence but between the hours of eight of the clock in the morning and four in the afternoon, except in cases which require an immediate example, and except in the East-Indies, where such proceedings or trial may be had between the hours of six in the morning and four in the afternoon: provided also, that all witnesses duly summoned by the judge advocate or the person officiating as such, or by the president of a district or garrison Court-martial, shall during their necessary attendance in such Courts, and in going to and returning from the same, be privileged from arrest, and shall, if unduly arrested, be discharged by the Court out of which the writ or process issued by which such witness was arrested, or if such Court be not sitting, then by any Judge of the Court of Queen's Bench in London or in Dublin, or the Court of Session in Scotland, or Courts of Law in the East or West-Indies or elsewhere, according as the case shall require, upon its being made to appear to such Court or judge, by any affidavit in a summary way, that such witness was arrested in going to or returning from or attending upon such Court-martial; and that all witnesses so duly summoned as aforesaid who shall not attend on such Courts, or attending shall refuse to be sworn, or, being sworn, shall refuse to give evidence or to answer all such questions as the Court may legally demand of them, shall be liable to be attached in the Court of Queen's Bench in London or Dublin, or the Court of Session, or sheriff's depute, or stewards depute, or their respective substitutes, within their several shires and stewardries in Scotland, or Courts of Law in the East or West-Indies, or in any of her Majesty's colonies, garrisons, or dominions in Europe or elsewhere respectively, upon complaint made, in like manner as if such witness had neglected to attend in a trial in any proceeding in that Court.

Proceedings
Courts-martial.

the colonies.

XIX. And be it enacted, that whenever any sentence of transportation heretofore or hereafter passed by any Court-martial holden in the East-Indies, or in any part of her Majesty's foreign dominions, is to be carried into execution for the term specified in such sentence or for any shorter term, or when sentence of death has been or shall as aforesaid be commuted to transportation, the same shall be notified by the officer commanding-in-chief her Majesty's forces at the presidency or station, or in his absence by the adjutant-general for the time being, to some judge of one of the Supreme Courts of Judicature in the East-Indies, or chief-justice, or some other judge, as the case may be, in any part of her Majesty's foreign dominions, who shall make order for the transportation or intermediate custody of such offender, in like manner as for the transportation or intermediate custody of any other convict; and the necessary proceedings shall be taken, according to such order, for the transportation or intermediate custody of such offender; and all Acts in force in such place touching other offenders to be transported shall in all respects apply as well to the offender himself so to be transported as to all other persons whatsoever therein concerned.

XXIII. And be it enacted, that any person who shall voluntarily deliver himself up as a deserter from her Majesty's forces, or the embodied militia, or the forces of the East-India Company, or who, upon being apprehended for any offence, shall, in the presence of the justice, confess himself to be a deserter as aforesaid, shall be deemed to have been duly enlisted and to be a soldier, and shall be liable to serve in any of her Majesty's forces, as her Majesty shall think fit to appoint, whether such person shall have been ever actually enlisted as a soldier or not; and in case such person shall not be a deserter from the regiment stated in such confession, he shall be liable to be punished as a rogue and vagabond, or may be prosecuted and punished for obtaining money under false pretences; and the confession and receiving subsistence as a soldier by such person shall be evidence of the false pretence and of the obtaining money to the amount of the value of such subsistence, and the value of such subsistence so obtained may be charged in the indictment as so much money received by such person; and in case such person shall have been previously convicted of the like offence or as a rogue and vagabond for making a fraudulent confession of desertion, such former conviction may be alleged in the indictment, and may be proved upon the trial of such person; and in such indictment for a second offence it shall be sufficient to state that the offender was at a certain time and place convicted of obtaining money under false pretences as a deserter, or as a rogue and vagabond for making a fraudulent confession of desertion, without otherwise describing the said offence; and a certificate containing the substance and effect only (omitting the formal part) of the indictment and conviction for the former offence, purporting to be signed by the clerk of the Court or other officer having the custody of the records of the Court where the offender was first convicted, or by the deputy of such clerk, or by the clerk of the convicting magistrates, shall, upon proof of the identity of the person of the offender, be sufficient evidence of the first conviction, without proof of the signature or official character of the person appearing to have signed the same; and if the person so confessing himself to be a deserter shall be serving at the time in any of her Majesty's forces, he shall be deemed to be and shall be dealt with as a deserter.

XXXII. And be it enacted, that all the provisions of this Act shall apply to all persons employed on the recruiting service receiving pay in respect of such service, and to the forces of the East-India Company while they shall be in any part of the United Kingdom, and until their arrival in the territories of the East-India Company (1), and to the officers and persons who are or shall be serving and hired to be employed in the Royal Artillery and Field Train, and to master gunners and gunners, and conductors of stores, and to all officers and persons who are and shall be serving in the regiment of Royal Engineers and the corps of Royal Sappers and Miners, and in the corps of Royal Military Surveyors and Draftsmen, and to persons in the Ordnance and in the Commissariat Departments, who are or shall be serving with any part of her Majesty's forces, at home or abroad, under the command of any officer having commission from her Majesty, or from his late Majesty King William the Fourth, and to all storekeepers and other civil officers who are or shall be employed by or act under the Ordnance at any of her Majesty's ordnance establishments at foreign stations; provided that nothing in this Act contained shall extend to affect any security which has been given by such storekeeper, barrack-master, or other officer, or their sureties, for the due performance of their respective offices, under the provisions of an Act passed in the fiftieth year of the reign of his Majesty King George the Third, to regulate the taking of securities in all offices, but that such bonds and other securities shall be and remain in full force and effect.

(1) [In 4 Vic. cap. 2, the words in italics are omitted. All officers and soldiers enlisted in or transferred to the service of the Company, and all officers in the Company's service proceeding in charge of such officers and soldiers or appointed to do duty with them, are from and after their embarkation subject to 3 & 4 Vic. cap. 37.]

XXXVI. And be it enacted, that every person who shall receive enlisting money from any person employed in the recruiting service, he being an officer, non-commissioned officer, or an attested soldier, shall be deemed to be enlisted as a soldier in her Majesty's service, and while he shall remain with the recruiting party shall be entitled to be billeted; and every person who shall enlist any recruit shall first ask the person offering to enlist whether he does or does not belong to the militia, and shall cause to be taken down, in writing, the name and place of abode of such recruit; and (if such recruit shall not reside in or in the vicinity of the town or place where he offered to enlist) the place also at which he shall declare that he intends to sleep, in order that within forty-eight but not sooner than twenty-four hours, any intervening Sunday not included, after his having received the enlisting money, notice of his having so enlisted be given to the recruit or left at his usual place of abode, or at the place where he stated that it was his intention to sleep; and when any person shall be enlisted as a soldier in her Majesty's land service he shall within four days, any intervening Sunday not included, but not sooner than twenty-four hours after such enlisting, appear, together with some person employed in the recruiting service of the party with which he shall have enlisted, before a justice, or, in Scotland, before any ballie of a royal burgh, residing within the vicinity of the place, and acting for the division or district where such recruit shall have been enlisted, and not being an officer in the army; and if such recruit shall declare his having voluntarily enlisted, the said justice shall put to him the several questions contained in the schedule to this Act annexed, and shall record, or cause to be recorded, in writing, his answers thereunto; and the said justice is hereby required forthwith to cause the answers so recorded in writing, and the first and second articles of the second section of Articles of War against mutiny and desertion, to be read over in his own presence to such recruit, and to administer to such recruit the oath in the schedule to this Act annexed for limited or unlimited service, or for service in the forces of the East-India Company, as may be applicable to the case of the recruit, and no other oaths, any thing in any Acts to the contrary notwithstanding; (1) and the said justice is hereby required to give, under his hand, the certificate in the schedule to this Act annexed; and if any such recruit so to be certified shall refuse to take the oath in the schedule to this Act annexed before the said justice, it shall be lawful for the officer or non-commissioned officer with whom he enlisted to detain and confine such person until he shall take the said oath of fidelity.

(1) [The 50 Geo. 3, cap. 87, prescribes other oaths, the administration of which is thus suspended.]

XXXVII. And be it enacted, that any recruit appearing as aforesaid before such justice shall be at liberty to declare his dissent to such enlisting, and upon such declaration, and returning the enlisting money, and also paying the sum of twenty shillings for the charges expended upon him, together with the full amount of subsistence and beer money which shall have been paid to such recruit subsequent to the period of his having been enlisted, shall be forthwith discharged and set at liberty in the presence of such justice; but if such person shall refuse or neglect, within the space of twenty-four hours after so declaring his dissent, to return and pay such money as aforesaid, he shall be deemed and taken to be enlisted as if he had given his assent thereto before the said justice: provided also, that it shall be lawful for any justice to discharge any person who shall have hastily enlisted, and who shall apply to him to declare his dissent within such four days as aforesaid, upon the payment of the sum of money required to be paid by any recruit declaring his dissent under this Act, notwithstanding no person belonging to the recruiting party shall be with the recruit, if it shall appear to such justice, upon proof to his satisfaction, that the recruiting party has left the place where such recruit was enlisted, or that the recruit could not procure any person belonging to such party to go with him before the justice; and the sum paid by such recruit upon his discharge shall be kept by the justice, and paid to any person belonging to the recruiting party entitled thereto demanding the same; provided that no recruit who has been actually, though erroneously, discharged by the justice before the expiration of twenty-four hours after the time of his enlistment shall be liable on that account to be proceeded against as having deserted from her Majesty's service; and the justice who shall discharge any recruit shall in every case give a certificate thereof, signed with his hand, to the recruit, specifying the cause thereof.

Offences connected with enlistment.

XXXVIII. And be it enacted, that if any recruit shall receive the enlisting money from any person employed in the recruiting service (knowing it to be such), and shall abscond or refuse to go before such justice, or shall thereafter absent himself from the recruiting party or person with whom he enlisted, and shall not voluntarily return to go before some justice within such period of four days as aforesaid, such recruit shall be deemed to be enlisted and a soldier in her Majesty's service, as fully to all intents and purposes as if he had been duly attested, and may be apprehended and punished as a deserter, or for being absent without leave, under any Articles of War made for punishment of mutiny and desertion; and such recruit shall not be discharged by any justice of the peace after the expiration of such four days as aforesaid, unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of such justice that the true name and residence of the recruit were disclosed and known to the recruiting party, and that no notice was given to the recruit, or left at his usual place of abode, of his having so enlisted; provided that in every case wherein any recruit shall have received enlisting money, and shall have absconded from the party, so that it shall not be possible immediately to apprehend and bring him before a justice, the officer or non-commissioned officer commanding the party shall produce to the justice before whom the recruit ought regularly to have been brought for attestation a certificate of the name and place of residence of such recruit; and the justice to, whom such certificate shall be produced shall, after satisfying himself that the recruit who had absconded cannot be found and apprehended, transmit a duplicate thereof to her Majesty's Secretary at War, in order that, in the event of such recruit being afterwards apprehended and reported as a deserter, the facts of his having received enlisting money, and having absconded after having been enlisted, may be ascertained, before he be finally adjudged to be a deserter; and any recruit who shall enlist into her Majesty's forces, and who shall be discovered to be incapable of active service by reason of any infirmity concealed or not declared by such recruit before the justice at the time of his attestation, may be transferred into any garrison or veteran or invalid battalion or company, or into her Majesty's marine forces, notwithstanding he shall have enlisted for any particular regiment, and shall be entitled to receive such proportion or residue of bounty only as her Majesty may allow in that behalf, instead of the bounty upon which such man shall have been enlisted, any thing in any Act or Acts, or any rules and regulations relating to soldiers, to the contrary notwithstanding; and it shall be lawful for any two justices before whom such recruit shall be brought, and who shall be proved upon oath, before them, to have concealed his having been a soldier and discharged, or to have concealed his having been discharged upon any prior enlistment, or to have wilfully concealed any such infirmity upon being attested, or to have designedly made any false representation as aforesaid; to adjudge such person(1) to be a rogue and vagabond, and to sentence him to such punishment as by any law in force may be inflicted upon rogues and vagabonds and vagrants and incorrigible rogues;(2) and any recruit who shall designedly make any false representation of any particular contained in the oaths and certificates in the schedule to this Act annexed, before the justice, at the time of his attestation, and shall obtain any enlisting money or bounty for entering into her Majesty's service or any other money, shall be deemed guilty of obtaining money under false pretences within the true intent and meaning, if in England, of an Act, intituled, "An Act for consolidating and amending the Laws in England relative to Larceny and other Offences connected therewith;" and if in Ireland, of an Act passed in the ninth year of the reign of his Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled, "An Act for consolidating and amending the Laws in Ireland relative to Larceny and other Offences connected therewith;"(3) and the production of such certificate, and proof of the handwriting of the justice giving such certificate, shall be sufficient evidence of such party having represented the several particulars contained in the oath sworn by him, and specified in the certificate of the justice at the time of his being attested; and that proof by the oath of one or more credible witnesses that the person so prosecuted hath voluntarily acknowledged that at the time of his enlistment he belonged to the militia, or to any regiment in her Majesty's service, or to her Majesty's ordnance, navy, or marines, shall be deemed and taken as evidence of the fact so by him acknowledged, without production of any roll or other document to prove the same; and such proof of such acknowledgment shall be certified to the Secretary at War by the justice before whom such proof shall have been given; and any man having been enrolled to serve in the militia at the time of offering to enlist who shall deny that he is a militia man then actually enrolled and engaged to serve, or shall deny to the justice before whom he shall be attested that he belongs to the militia, shall, on conviction thereof before any one justice in the United Kingdom, either upon oath of one witness or upon his own confession, or upon the production of the attestation, and the before-mentioned acknowledgment of such person certified by the Secretary at War or Deputy Secretary at War, be committed to the common gaol or house of correction, there to remain without bail or mainprize for and during any time not exceeding six calendar months, over and above any penalty or punishment to which such person so offending may be otherwise liable, and shall from the day on which his engagement to serve in the militia shall end, and not sooner, belong as a soldier to the corps of her Majesty's regular forces, or of the East-India Company's forces, into which he shall have so enlisted; provided that every such person shall be liable to serve within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in any regiment, battalion, or corps of her Majesty's regular forces, or of the East-India Company's forces, in which he has so enlisted, during all the time the militia to which he shall belong shall remain disembodied, or shall not be called out for training or exercise, and shall during all such time be subject to all the provisions of this Act, and liable to be apprehended and dealt with and punished as a deserter from the corps in which he shall have so enlisted, if he shall neglect or refuse to join and serve in such corps as aforesaid.

(1) ["If in England or Ireland," 4 Vic. cap. 2, sec. 38.]

(2) ["And to adjudge such person, if in Scotland, to be imprisoned in a Prison or House of Correction for any period not exceeding six months, and with or without hard labour."—Ibid.]

(3) ["And such recruit, if in Scotland, shall be deemed guilty of falsehood, fraud, and wilful imposition."—Ibid.]

Penalty on officers
regarding enlistment.

XXXIX. And be it enacted, that every military officer who shall act contrary to the provisions of this Act in any respect regarding the enlisting and attesting of recruits of her Majesty's service, or for the service of the East-India Company, shall, upon proof thereof upon oath by two witnesses before a general Court-martial, be cashiered, and disabled to hold any civil or military office or employment in her Majesty's service.

Apprentice enlisting
his apprenticeship.

XLII. And be it enacted, that any person duly bound as an apprentice, who shall enlist as a soldier in her Majesty's or the East-India Company's service, and shall state to the magistrate before whom he shall be carried and attested that he is not an apprentice, shall be deemed guilty of obtaining money under false pretences within the true intent and meaning of the before-recited Acts, and shall, after the expiration of his apprenticeship, whether he shall have been so convicted and punished or not, be liable to serve as a soldier in any of her Majesty's regular forces, or in the forces of the East-India Company, according to the terms of the enlistment; and if on the expiration of his apprenticeship he shall not deliver himself up to some officer authorized to receive recruits, may be taken as a deserter from her Majesty's forces.

XLIII. And be it enacted, that no master shall be entitled to claim an apprentice who shall enlist as a soldier in her Majesty's or the East-India Company's service, unless he shall, within one calendar month after such apprentice shall have left his service, go before some justice, and take the oath mentioned in the schedule to this Act annexed, and produce the certificate of such justice of his having taken such oath, which certificate such justice is required to give in the form in the schedule to this Act annexed; and unless such apprentice shall have been bound, if in England, for the full term of seven years, not having been above the age of fourteen when so bound, and, if in Ireland or in the British Isles, for the full term of five years at the least, not having been above the age of sixteen when so bound, and, if in Scotland, for the full term of at least four years, by a regular contract or indenture of apprenticeship, duly extended, signed, and tested, and binding on both parties by the law of Scotland, prior to the period of enlistment, and unless such contract or indenture in Scotland shall, within three months after the commencement of the apprenticeship, and before the period of enlistment, have been produced to a justice of the peace of the county in Scotland wherein the parties reside, and there shall have been indorsed thereon by such justice a certificate or declaration signed by him, specifying the date when and the person by whom such contract or indenture shall have been so produced, which certificate or declaration such justice of the peace is hereby required to indorse and sign; and unless such apprentice shall, when claimed by such master, be under twenty-one years of age; provided that any master of an apprentice indentured for the sea service shall be entitled to claim and recover him in the form and manner above directed, notwithstanding such apprentice may have been bound for a less term than seven, five, or four years, as aforesaid; and any such master who shall give up the indentures of apprenticeship within one month after the enlisting of such apprentice, shall be entitled to receive to his own use so much of the bounty payable to such recruit, after deducting therefrom two guineas to provide him with necessaries, as shall have not been paid to such recruit before notice given of his being an apprentice.

XLIV. And be it enacted, that no apprentice claimed by his master shall be taken from any corps or recruiting party, but under a warrant of a justice residing near and within whose jurisdiction such apprentice shall then happen to be, before whom he shall be carried, and such justice shall inquire into the matter upon oath, which oath he is hereby empowered to administer, and shall require the production and proof of the indenture, and that notice of the said warrant has been given to the commanding officer, and a copy thereof left with some officer or non-commissioned officer of the party, and that such person so enlisted declared that he was no apprentice; and such justice, if required by such officer or non-commissioned officer, shall commit the offender to the common gaol of the said place, and shall keep the indenture to be produced when required, and shall bind over such person as he may think proper to give evidence against the offender, who shall be tried at the next or at the sessions immediately succeeding the next general or quarter sessions of the county, division, or place, unless the Court shall on just cause put off the trial; and the production of the indenture, with the certificate of the justices that the same was proved, shall be sufficient evidence of the said indenture; and every such offender, in Scotland, may be tried by the judge ordinary, in the county or stewardry, in such and the like manner as any person may be tried in Scotland for any offence not inferring a capital punishment; provided that any justice not required as aforesaid to commit such apprentice may deliver him to his master.

Punishment of apprentices enlisting.

LII. And whereas by petition of right in the third year of King Charles the First it is enacted and declared, that the people of the land are not by the laws to be burthened with the sojourning of soldiers against their wills; and by a clause in an Act of the Parliament of England, made in the thirty-first year of the reign of King Charles the Second, for granting a supply to his Majesty of two hundred and six thousand four hundred and sixty-two pounds seventeen shillings and three pence, for paying and disbanding the forces, it is declared and enacted, that no officer, civil or military, nor other person whatsoever, should thenceforth presume to place, quarter, or billet any soldier upon any subject or inhabitant of this realm, of any degree, quality, or profession whatsoever, without his consent, and that it shall be lawful for any subject or inhabitant to refuse to quarter any soldier, notwithstanding any warrant or billeting whatsoever; and whereas by an Act passed in Ireland in the sixth year of the reign of Queen Anne, intituled, "An Act to prevent the Disorders that may happen by the marching of Soldiers, and providing Carriages for the Baggage of Soldiers on their March," it was enacted, that no officer, soldier, or trooper in the army, nor the servant of any officer, nor any attendant on the train of artillery, should at any time thereafter be allowed any quarters in any part of Ireland, save only during such time as he or they should be and remain in some seaport town in order to be transported, or during such time as there should be any commotion in any part of Ireland, by reason of which emergency the army should be commanded to march from any part of Ireland to another: but forasmuch as at this time, during the continuance of this Act, there is and may be occasion for the marching and quartering of regiments, troops, and companies in several parts of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, be it enacted, that it shall be lawful for all constables of parishes and places, and other persons specified in this Act, in England and Ireland, and they are hereby required, to billet the officers and soldiers in her Majesty's service, and persons receiving pay in her Majesty's army, and the horses belonging to her Majesty's cavalry, and also all staff and field officers' horses, and all bāt and baggage horses belonging to any of her Majesty's other forces, when on actual service, not exceeding for each officer the number for which forage is or shall be allowed by her Majesty's regulations, in victualling houses and other houses specified in this Act (taking care in Ireland not to billet less than two men in any one house, except only in case of billeting cavalry as specially provided); and that they shall be received by the occupiers of such houses in which they are so allowed to be billeted, and be furnished by such victuallers with proper accommodation in such houses, or if any victualler shall not have sufficient accommodation in the house upon which a soldier is billeted, then in some good and sufficient quarters to be provided by such victualler in the immediate neighbourhood, and in England with diet and small beer, and with stables, hay, and straw for such horses as aforesaid, paying and allowing for the same the several rates hereinafter provided; and at no time when troops are on a march shall any of them, whether infantry or cavalry, be billeted above one mile from the place mentioned in the route; and in all places where cavalry shall be billeted in pursuance of this Act, the men and their horses shall be billeted in one and the same house, except in case of necessity; and in no other case whatsoever shall there be less than one man billeted where there shall be one or two horses, nor less than two men where there shall be four horses, and so in proportion for a greater number; and in no case shall a man and his horse be billeted at a greater distance from each other than one hundred yards; and the constables are hereby required to billet all soldiers and their horses on their march in a just and equal proportion upon the keepers of all houses within one mile of the place mentioned in the route, although some of such houses may be in the adjoining county, in like manner in every respect as if such houses were locally situate within such place; provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to authorize any constable to billet soldiers out of the county to which such constable belongs, when the constable of the adjoining county shall be present and undertake to billet the due proportion of men in such adjoining county; and no more billets shall at any time be ordered than there are effective soldiers and horses present to be billeted; all which billets, when made out by such constables, shall be delivered into the hands of the commanding officer present; and if any person shall find himself aggrieved by having an undue proportion of soldiers billeted in his house, and shall prefer his complaint, if against a constable or other person not being a justice, to one or more justices, and if against a justice, then to two or more justices, within whose jurisdiction such soldiers are billeted, such justices respectively shall have power to order such of the soldiers to be removed, and to be billeted upon other persons, as they shall see cause; and when any of her Majesty's cavalry or any horses as aforesaid shall be billeted upon the occupiers of houses in which officers or soldiers may be quartered by virtue of this Act, who shall have no stables, then and in such case, upon the written requisition of the commanding officer of the regiment, troop, or detachment, the constable is hereby required to billet the men and their horses, or horses-only, upon some other person or persons who have stables by this Act liable to have officers and soldiers billeted upon them; and upon complaint being made by the person or persons to whose house or stables the said men and horses shall have been so removed to two or more justices within whose jurisdiction such men or horses shall be so billeted, it shall be lawful for such justices to order a proper allowance to be paid by the person relieved to the persons receiving such men and horses, or to be applied in furnishing the requisite accommodation; and commanding officers may exchange any man or horse billeted in any place with another man or horse billeted in the same place, for the benefit of the service, provided the number of men and horses do not exceed the number at that time billeted on such houses; and the constables are hereby required to billet such men and horses so exchanged accordingly; and it shall be lawful for any justice, at the request of any officer or non-commissioned officer commanding any soldiers requiring billets, to extend any routes or enlarge the districts within which billets shall be required, in such manner as shall appear to be most convenient to the troops; provided that, to prevent or punish all abuses in billeting soldiers, it shall be lawful for any justice within his jurisdiction, by warrant or order under his hand, to require any constable to give him an account in writing of the number of officers and soldiers, who shall be quartered by such constable, together with the names of the persons upon whom such officers and soldiers are billeted, stating the street or place where such persons dwell, and the sign, if any, belonging to those houses; and it shall be lawful to billet officers and soldiers in Scotland according to the provisions of the laws in force in Scotland at the time of its union with England; and no officer shall be obliged to pay for his lodging where he shall be regularly billeted, except in the suburbs of Edinburgh. (1)

How and where troops may be billeted.

(1) [By 50 Geo. 3, cap. 87, sec. 3, all the powers, authorities, provisions, &c., in any Act of Parliament in force for the time being, relating to the quartering, billeting, and provisioning of soldiers and officers of the Crown and to allowances in respect thereof, as well as to the providing of carriages for the use of such soldiers, are extended to soldiers enlisted for or transferred to the service of the Company.]

LVII. And be it enacted, that for the regular provision of carriages for her Majesty's forces, and their baggage in their marches, in England and Ireland, all justices of the peace within their several jurisdictions, being duly required thereunto by an order from her Majesty, or the General of her forces, or the Master-general or Lieutenant-general of her Majesty's ordnance, or other person duly authorized in that behalf, shall, on production of such order to such justices by some officer or non-commissioned officer of the regiment so ordered to march, issue a warrant to any constable having authority to act in any place from, through, near, or to which the troop shall be ordered to march (for each of which warrants the fee of one shilling only shall be paid), requiring him to provide the carriages, horses, and oxen, and drivers therein-mentioned, and allowing sufficient time to do the same, specifying places from and to which the said carriages shall travel, and the distance between the places, for which distance only so specified payment shall be demanded, and which distance shall not, except in cases of pressing emergency, exceed a day's march prescribed in the order of route, and shall in no cases exceed twenty-five miles; and the constables receiving such warrants shall order such persons as they shall think proper, having carriages, to furnish the requisite supply, who are hereby required to furnish the same accordingly; and when sufficient carriages cannot be procured within the proper jurisdiction, any justice of the next adjoining jurisdiction shall, by a like course of proceeding, supply the deficiency; and in order that the burthen of providing carriages may fall equally, and to prevent inconvenience arising from there being no justice near the place where troops may be quartered on the march, any justice residing nearest to such place may cause a list to be made out once in every year of all persons liable to furnish such carriages, and of the number and description of their said carriages (which list shall at all reasonable hours be open to the inspection of the said persons), and may by warrant under his hand authorize the constable within his jurisdiction to give orders to provide carriages, without any special warrant for that purpose, which orders shall be valid in all respects; and all orders for such carriages shall be made from such list in regular rotation, as far as the same can be done.

Penalty on unlawful recruiting.

LXVII. And be it enacted, that all the persons (except such recruiting parties as may be stationed under military command) who shall cause to be advertised, posted, or dispersed bills for the purpose of procuring recruits or substitutes for the line, embodied militia, or East-India Company's service, or shall open or keep any house, place of rendezvous, or office, or receive any person therein under such bill or advertisement, as connected with the recruiting service, or shall directly or indirectly interfere therewith, without permission in writing from the Adjutant-general, or from the Directors of the East-India Company (as the case may be), shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of twenty pounds.

Duration of Act.

LXXX. [4th August, 1840.]

Whereas an Act was passed in the fourth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled, "An Act to consolidate and amend the Laws for punishing Mutiny and Desertion of Officers and Soldiers in the Service of the East-India Company, and to authorize Soldiers and Sailors in the East-Indies to send and receive letters at a reduced Rate of Postage," and it being requisite for the retaining of such forces in their duty, that an exact discipline be observed, and that soldiers who shall mutiny or stir up sedition, or shall desert the said Company's service, be brought to a more exemplary and speedy punishment than the usual forms of the law will allow; be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that if any person who is or shall be commissioned or in pay as an officer, or who is or shall be listed or in pay as a non-commissioned officer or soldier in the service of the said Company, shall, at any time during the continuance of this Act, begin, excite, cause, or join in any mutiny or sedition in the land or marine forces of her Majesty or of the said Company, or shall not use his utmost endeavours to suppress the same, or coming to the knowledge of any mutiny or intended mutiny shall not, without delay, give information thereof to his commanding officer; or shall cast away his arms or ammunition, or otherwise misbehave himself before the enemy; or shall shamefully abandon or deliver up any garrison, fortress, post, or guard committed to his charge, or which he shall be commanded to defend; or shall compel the governor or commanding officer of any garrison, fortress, or post to deliver up to the enemy or to abandon the same; or shall speak words or use any other means to induce such governor or commanding officer, or others, to misbehave towards the enemy, or shamefully to abandon or deliver up any garrison, fortress, post, or guard committed to their respective charge, which he or they shall be commanded to defend; or shall treacherously make known the watchword; or shall intentionally occasion false alarms in action, camp, garrison, or quarters; or shall leave his post, for plunder or otherwise, before relieved, or shall be found sleeping on his post; or shall hold correspondence with or give advice or intelligence to any rebel or enemy of her Majesty or the said Company, either by letters, messages, signs, or tokens, in any manner or way whatsoever; or shall knowingly harbour or protect such rebel or enemy, or shall treat or enter into any terms with such rebel or enemy, without the licence of the said Company or of the said Company's Governor-general in Council, or Governor in Council at any of their presidencies, or without the licence of the general or chief-commander; or who shall do violence to any person bringing provisions or other necessaries to the quarters of the forces; or shall force a safeguard; or shall strike or shall use or offer any violence against his superior officer, being in the execution of his office; or shall disobey any lawful command of his superior officer; or shall desert the said Company's service; and all and every person and persons so offending in any of the matters before-mentioned, whether such offence shall be committed within the dominions of her Majesty or the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said Company, or in foreign parts, upon land or upon the sea, within or without the limits of the Charter of the said United Company, shall suffer death, transportation, or such other punishment as by a Court-martial shall be awarded.

II. And be it enacted, that the general or other officer commanding in chief the forces of or belonging to the presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively for the time being may appoint general Courts-martial, and issue his warrant to any general or other officer not below the degree of a field officer, having the command of a body of troops of her Majesty, or of the said Company, empowering them respectively to appoint general Courts-martial, as occasion may require, to be holden within the territories of any foreign state, or in any country under the protection of her Majesty or the said Company, or at any place (other than Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca), in the territories under the government of the said Company, and situated above one hundred and twenty miles from the said presidencies respectively, for the trial of any person under his command, accused of having committed wilful murder or any other capital crime, or of having used violence or committed any offence against the person or property of any subject of her Majesty, or any other person entitled to her Majesty's protection, to the protection of the respective governments of the East-India Company, or of any state in alliance with the said Company, within the territories of any foreign state, or in any country under the protection of her Majesty or the said Company, or at any place, other than Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, or Malacca, in the territories under the government of the said Company, situated above one hundred and twenty miles from the said presidencies respectively; and the persons accused, if found guilty, shall suffer death, or be liable to transportation for life or for a term of years, or to such other punishment, according to the nature and degree of the respective offences, as by such sentence of any such general Court-martial shall be awarded: provided always, that any person so tried shall not be liable to be tried for the same offence by any other Court whatsoever.

III. And be it enacted, that in every case wherein a sentence of death or transportation shall be pronounced, or a sentence of death shall be commuted to transportation, for any such capital offence committed at any place situated above one hundred and twenty miles from the presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, and being within the territories under the government of the said Company, such sentence, whether original, revised, or commuted, shall not be carried into execution until confirmed by the general or other officer commanding-in-chief at the presidency, with the concurrence of the Governor-general in Council, or Governor in Council of the presidency in the territories subordinate to which the offender shall have been tried, although such offender may belong to the forces of another presidency: provided always, that such sentence shall have been regularly reported to and approved and confirmed by the general or other officer commanding-in-chief the forces of the presidency to which such offender shall belong, and by whom or under whose authority the Court-martial by which such offender shall have been tried was appointed.

IV. And be it enacted, that if any person liable to be tried by a Court-martial for any such offence alleged to have been committed within the territories of any foreign state, or in any country under the protection of her Majesty or the said Company, or at any place (other than Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, or Malacca,) in the territories under the government of the said Company situate above one hundred and twenty miles from the said presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, and for which no proceeding

This Act to have the same force as 55 G. 3, c. 116.

III. And be it enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Governor-general of India in Council, by proclamation, to declare that all ships or vessels, built or to be built within the limits of the Charter of the East-India Company, being owned by her Majesty's subjects for whom the said Governor-general in Council has power to legislate, and belonging, under the regulations herein-after provided for, to any ports in the territories under the government of the said Company, shall be deemed to be British ships for all the purposes of trade within the said limits, including the Cape of Good Hope and the territories and dependencies thereof ; provided that upon such declaration being made, the said Governor-general in Council shall and the said Governor-general in Council is hereby accordingly empowered to make regulations, to be enforced by suitable penalties, concerning the registering, licensing, and ascertaining the admeasurement of the tonnage and burden, and generally for the trading within the limits aforesaid of such ships or vessels, any thing in any Act to the contrary notwithstanding ; which regulations shall be of equal force and effect with any laws and regulations which the said Governor-general in Council is authorized to make, but shall be subject to disallowance and repeal, and shall in the same manner be transmitted to England, and be laid before both Houses of Parliament, as in the case of any other laws or regulations which the said Governor-general in Council is now by law empowered to make.

IV. And whereas it may be expedient to admit to similar privileges and advantages any ships or vessels belonging to native princes or states in subordinate alliance with, or having subsidiary treaties with the East-India Company, or owned by subjects of any such princes or states; be it therefore enacted, that the Governor-general of India in Council may by such regulations as aforesaid, such regulations being subject as aforesaid, admit to the privileges and advantages of British ships, for the purposes of trade within the limits of the Charter of the said Company, including the Cape of Good Hope, and the territories and dependencies thereof, or to any of such privileges and advantages, any ships or vessels belonging to such princes or states or any of them, or owned by subjects of any such princes or states; but any such regulations shall provide for the granting to such ships or vessels fit and convenient licences or passes, and generally for, the trading within the limits aforesaid of such ships or vessels.

Giving legal validity to acts of Governors of presidencies for regulating trade.

V. And whereas vessels exceeding the burden of three hundred and fifty tons, built in ports within the limits of the East-India Company's Charter since the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixteen, and owned by British subjects, and vessels built in ports within the limits aforesaid, owned by native princes or states in subordinate alliance with, or having subsidiary treaties with the East-India Company, or by the subjects of such princes or states, may have heretofore engaged and may be now engaged in trade within such limits, under some licence, authority, or sanction of the respective governments of the several presidencies in India; and it is expedient that full legal validity and effect should be given to all Acts of the said Government respectively in reference to any trading; be it therefore enacted, that all Acts and documents whatever, done, given, or issued by any of the said Governments in reference to the trading of the two classes of vessels last herein-before mentioned, shall be deemed and construed to have had for all purposes full legal validity and effect from the respective times when such Acts and documents may have been done, given, or issued respectively, and shall for all purposes continue to have such validity and effect until the Governor-general of India in Council shall make other provisions in respect of the trading of such classes of vessels respectively under the authority of this Act.

Provisions of Act for registering British vessels to have full force in East-Indian territories.

VI. And whereas doubts have been entertained whether the provisions and remedies enacted and contained in an Act passed in the session held in the third and fourth years of the reign of his late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled, "An Act for the Registering of British vessels," in cases of the wilful detention and refusal to deliver up the certificate of the registry of any ship or vessel to the proper officer or other persons authorized and entitled in that behalf, as in the said last-mentioned Act is specified, extend to and are in force in the territories under the government of the East-India Company; and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed; be it therefore declared and enacted, that the said several provisions and remedies in the said last-mentioned Act contained, touching the wilful detention of such certificate of registry, or the absconding of any person in possession of the same, shall be deemed and taken to extend to, and shall extend to and be in force in the said territories under the government of the East-India Company.

Matters directed to be performed before Governors of any particular place may be performed in presence of Governor-general of India, &c.

Oyer and Terminer.

And it is our further will and pleasure, and we do hereby grant, order, ordain, and appoint that the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras shall also be a Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, in and for Fort Saint George, and the town of Madras and the limits thereof, and the factories subordinate thereto, and shall have and be invested with the like power and authority, as Commissioners or Justices of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery have, or may exercise in that part of Great Britain called England, to inquire, by the oaths of good and sufficient men, of treasons, murders, and other felonies, forgeries, perjuries, trespasses, and other crimes and misdemeanors, heretofore had, made, done, or committed, or which shall hereafter be had, done, or committed, within Fort Saint George, and the said town of Madras, or the limits thereof, or the factories subordinate thereto: and for that purpose to issue their warrant or precept, to be prepared in manner above-mentioned and directed to the said sheriff, commanding him to summon a convenient number, therein to be specified, of the principal inhabitants, resident in Fort Saint George, or the said town of Madras, being persons so heretofore described and distinguished as British subjects of us, our heirs, and successors, as aforesaid, to attend and serve, at a time and place therein also to be specified, as a grand jury, (1) or inquest, for us, our heirs, and successors, and present to the said Court such crimes and offences as shall come to their knowledge, and the said crimes and offences to hear and determine, by the oaths of other good and sufficient men, being persons so heretofore described and distinguished, as British subjects (1) of us, our heirs, and successors, and resident in Fort Saint George or the said town of Madras, or the limits thereof, or the factories subordinate thereto: and for that purpose to issue a summons or precept, prepared in such manner as is herein-before mentioned, and directed to the said sheriff, commanding him to summon a convenient number, to be therein specified, of such persons so heretofore described and distinguished, as British subjects, (1) as aforesaid, to try the said indictment or inquest. And if any person or persons to be summoned upon such grand or petit jury, as aforesaid, shall refuse or neglect to attend, according to such summons, and be sworn upon inquest, we do hereby further empower the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras to punish the said contempt, by fine, or by imprisonment for a reasonable time, to be limited, or by both. And we do further empower the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, in like manner, and under the like penalties, to cause all such witnesses as justice shall require, to be summoned, and to administer to them, and each of them, the proper oaths, (1) that is to say; to such as profess the Christian religion, an oath in such manner and form as the same would have been administered in England; and to others, such oaths, and in such manner, as the said Court shall esteem to be most binding upon their consciences; and to proceed to hear, examine, try, and determine the said indictments and offences, and to give judgment thereupon, and to award execution thereof, and in all respects to administer criminal justice, in such or the like manner and form, or as nearly as the condition and circumstances of the place and the persons will admit of, as our Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery do or may in that part of Great Britain called England, due attention being had to the religion, manners, and usages of the Native inhabitants.

(1) [On juries, and also on oaths, information will be found in the notes on the Charter of the Supreme Court at Fort William.]

And we do further authorize and empower the said Supreme Court of Judicature of Madras, in like manner, to inquire, hear, and determine, and to award judgment and execution of, upon, and against all treasons, murders, felonies, forgeries, perjuries, crimes, extortions, misdemeanors, trespasses, wrongs, and oppressions, had, done, or committed, or which shall hereafter be had, done, or committed, by any of our subjects, in any of the territories subject to, or dependent upon the government of Madras, or within any of the territories which now are, or hereafter may be, subject to, or dependent upon the said government, or within any of the dominions of the native princes of India in alliance with the said government; and for that purpose to award and issue a writ or writs to the said sheriff, prepared in manner before-mentioned, commanding him to arrest and seize the body or bodies of such offender or offenders, and bring him or them to Fort St. George aforesaid, and him or them to keep, until he or they shall be delivered by due course of law, and to do all other acts which shall be necessary, as well for the due administration of criminal justice, as for any other purpose or purposes, in as ample manner and form as might have been done by the Court of Oyer and Terminer at Fort St. George, as established by the said Charter of Justice; so granted as aforesaid by our said royal grandfather, or by the said Charter so granted by us as herein-before mentioned, or by virtue or under the authority of any Act or Acts of Parliament relative thereto, and in such manner and form, as nearly as the circumstances and condition of the case will admit of, as our Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery may do in that part of Great Britain called England. And we further ordain and establish, that in any case it shall not be lawful for any offender to object to the locality of the jurisdiction of the Court, or of the grand or petit jury summoned as hereby directed; but he shall be indicted, arraigned, tried, convicted and punished, or acquitted or demeaned, in all respects as if the crime had been committed within Fort St. George or the town of Madras, or the limits thereof, or the factories subordinate thereto.

Criminal jurisdiction as to offences committed by any of the King's subjects in the territories of foreign princes.

Provided always, and we do hereby declare, that the said Court shall not be competent to hear, try, and determine, any indictment or information against the Governor-general of Fort William in Bengal, or the Governor, or any of the Council of Fort St. George, (1) not being for treason or felony, which the Governor-general, or Governor, or any of the Council shall or may be charged with having committed within the jurisdiction of the same.

Exception of the Governor and Council of Fort St. George, in certain cases, from the criminal jurisdiction.

(1) [In the Bombay Charter the excepted persons are the Governor-general, the Governor of Fort St. George, the Governor of Bombay, and the Members of the Council of Bombay.]

A clause, not inserted here, gives the Court a power of reprieve and suspension of the execution of sentence, similar to that possessed by the Court at Fort William. See the Charter of that Court and a note thereon.

After clauses conferring ecclesiastical jurisdiction and making provision for administration by executors, next of kin, or creditors (as at Fort William), the Charter proceeds thus :

And for want of any creditor appearing, then to the Register of the said Court, in such manner, and subject to such power of revocation as in and by the said recited Act of Parliament, passed in the fortieth year of our reign, is for that purpose provided. (1)

(1) [The Charter of Bombay refers also to the 55 Geo. 3, cap. 84.]

The provisions for taking and enforcing security in the case of administrators do not differ essentially from those at Fort William; but the bond required by administrators is to be given to the Registrar or Chief Clerk instead of the Junior Judge.

The Court may grant administration of effects at the settlement, though left by persons who died out of the settlement.

And whereas many persons possessed of, or entitled to, money or effects within the limits of the jurisdiction hereby given to the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, may die in other parts or countries, in aid therefore of the executors or next of kin and creditors of the persons so dying not within the said limits, we further, for us, our heirs and successors, grant and ordain, that the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras shall and may grant such probates of wills, and letters of administration of any person dying out of the limits of the said jurisdiction, and leaving effects within the said limits, as the said Court is authorized to grant in case of a person dying within the said limits, so far as may relate to such money or effects, as the person so dying was possessed of or entitled to at the time of his decease, within the limits of their said jurisdiction, and no farther.

By clauses, which it is not necessary to insert, Admiralty jurisdiction is conferred similar to that given to the Supreme Court at Fort William, as enlarged by the 33 Geo. 3, cap. 52.

And we do hereby further will, ordain, and declare, that it shall and may be lawful, to and for the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, in any part of its jurisdiction, whether common law, equity, ecclesiastical or admiralty, by commission or commissions, under the seal of the said Court, to authorize and appoint any fit or proper person or persons, either generally, or in any particular case, or for one or more turn or turns only, to receive the acknowledgments of recognizances of bail and bail process, and to administer oaths for the justification of bail, and for the taking of any affidavit or affirmation, or for receiving and taking the answer, plea, demurrer, disclaimer, or examination of any party or parties to any suit, or for the examination of any witness or witnesses, upon interrogatories, either de bene esse or in chief, or any other occasion, and for the swearing executors and administrators in any suit, matter, or proceeding, which may be pending, or about to be instituted in the said Court, upon such occasions as the said Court shall think fit to issue such commissions. And we direct and ordain, that such commission and commissions, so to be issued, shall respectively be executed, acted under, and returned, if the same shall require any return, in such manner and form as such matters are usually transacted by commissions, general or special, issued out of our Court of King's Bench at Westminster, or our High Court of Chancery, or the Ecclesiastical Court of the Diocese of London, or our High Court of Admiralty in England, respectively. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize or empower the issuing of any commission or commissions, for the examination of any witness or witnesses, upon any indictment or information for any offence whatsoever, to be tried and determined by and before the said Court.

Suitors' money and securities to be deposited with the Company's cash.

And we do further will and ordain, that all the monies, securities, and effects of the suitors of the said Court, which shall be ordered into Court, or to be paid, delivered, or deposited for safe custody, shall be paid or delivered unto, or deposited with the Governor, or President and Council at Fort St. George, to be by them kept, and deposited with the cash and effects of the said Company, subject to such orders and directions as the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras shall from time to time think fit to make concerning the same, for the benefit of the suitors; the said United Company being responsible for the said monies, securities, and effects, in such manner, and subject to the same exceptions, as is mentioned in the said in part recited Charter of our said royal grandfather, with respect to the monies, securities, or effects, to be deposited with the said Governor, or President and Council, under the authority of the Mayor's Court thereby erected.

An accountant-general to be appointed by the Court of Directors.

And we do, for us, our heirs, and successors, give and grant unto the Court of Directors of the said Company, or the major part of them, full power and authority, from time to time, to name and appoint an officer, under the name of the Accountant-general of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, and the same at their pleasure to remove, and another to appoint, who shall act, perform, and do all matters and things necessary to carry into execution the orders of the said Court, relating to the payment or delivery of the suitors' money, effects, and securities, unto the Governor, or President and Council of the said United Company of Fort St. George, and taking the same out again, and keeping the accounts with the said Governor and Council, and Register, of the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, and other matters relating thereto, under such rules, methods, and directions, as shall from time be made and given, under the hands of thirteen or more of the Court of Directors of the said Company; which rules, methods, and directions, we will and direct, shall be according to such rules, methods, and directions, as are observed by the Accountant-general of our High Court of Chancery in Great Britain, or as near thereto as may be, and as the situation and circumstances of affairs will permit.

By a clause following the above, Courts of Requests and Quarter Sessions are brought under the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, as at Fort William.

Other clauses, giving, restricting, and regulating the power of appeal, correspond with those in the Charter of the Supreme Court at Fort William, as also those directing the Chief Justice and Judges to be sworn.

By others, the Charter of the Recorder's Court is revoked, and the transfer of its authorities and records ordered. The following clauses succeed:

And it is our further will and pleasure, and we do hereby authorize and empower the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras (respect being had to the seasons of the year and the convenience of the suitors) to settle and appoint proper terms and law days, and days for sittings after term, if necessary, and to change and vary such appointments as occasion shall require, and to proclaim, hold, and adjourn the sessions of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, and Admiralty Sessions as to them severally shall seem most expedient.

Court to settle proper terms, &c.

Provided nevertheless, that the said Court shall, and is hereby required, in each year to hold at the least four sessions of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, within and for its limits, and more if the same shall be found necessary for the convenience of the said settlement of Madras, and the ends of public justice.

The Oyer and Terminer shall be held four times a year.

Provided also, and it is our further will and pleasure, and we do hereby require and enjoin the said Court, as soon as any rules shall have been made for the appointment of terms, or law days, or for the variation of such appointment, by the first convenient opportunity after making or varying the same, to transmit a copy thereof, under the hands and seals of the Judges of the said Court, to the President of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India, to be laid before us, our heirs or successors, for our and their royal approbation and correction. And we ordain and direct, that such appointments shall be kept and observed, until the same shall be altered by us, our heirs, or successors, and then with such variation or alteration as we, our heirs or successors, shall cause to be made therein. Provided also, and we do hereby further will and ordain that after the said terms and law days shall once have been fixed by the said Court of the Recorder of Madras, no variation to be made therein by the said Court shall take effect until such variation shall have been approved and confirmed by us, our heirs or successors.

Rules to be transmitted to the President of the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India.

Provided always, and we do hereby direct and declare, that in all cases in which the person or persons of the Governor-general of Fort William, the Governor or President of Fort St. George, or any of the councillors of the said Presidency, or the Chief Justice, or any of the Puisne Justices of the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras(1) is and are hereby declared not to be subject or liable to be arrested or imprisoned as aforesaid, and wherein a capias or process for arresting the body is hereby given and provided against other persons, it shall and may be lawful for the said Courts hereby established, respectively to order the goods and estates of such persons so exempted from arrest and imprisonment as aforesaid, to be seized and sequestered, or sold, if need be, until he or they respectively shall appear and yield obedience to the judgment, decree, or decretal, or other order or rule of the said Court.

(1) [In the Bombay Charter the Governor-general, the Governor or President of Fort Saint George, the Governor or President of Bombay, the Councillors of Bombay, the Chief Justice and Puisne Judges of Bombay.]

Provided always, and we do hereby direct and declare, that all offences committed by, or charged upon the said Chief Justice or any of the Puisne Justices of the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, respectively shall be heard, tried, and determined in the same manner as if the same were committed by, or charged upon any of the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Calcutta.

General clause as to powers of the new Courts to try all causes which may now be tried at Fort St. George.

And it is our further will and pleasure, and we do hereby grant and declare, the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras shall have full power and authority to hear, try, and determine all and all manner of suits and actions, either civil or criminal, which by the authority of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or under the authority of our said Letters Patent of the thirty-eighth year of our reign, may now be tried or determined by the said Court of the Recorder at Madras; and that all powers, authorities, and jurisdictions, of what kind or nature soever, which by any Act or Acts of Parliament, or by the said Letters Patent, may be or are directed to be exercised by the said Court of the Recorder of Madras, shall and may be as fully and effectually exercised by the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, as the same might have been exercised and enjoyed by the said Court of the Recorder of Madras.

Grants of fines to the East-India Company.

And furthermore, we, of our further especial grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and by these presents, for us, our heirs, and successors, do give, grant, and confirm, unto the said United Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East-Indies, and their successors, all such fines, amerciaments, forfeitures, penalties, or parts of penalties, and sums of money, whatsoever, as have heretofore been ordered, charged, adjudged, set, imposed, or awarded, upon or against any person or persons whomsoever, in or by any Court of Justice or person at Madras, having lawful authority to order, charge, adjudge, set, impose, or award the same; and all such fines, amerciaments, forfeitures, penalties, or parts of penalties, and sums of money, which hereafter, during all the residue of the term of the continuance of the said United Company's exclusive trade, shall be ordered, adjudged, set, imposed, or awarded, upon or against any person or persons whatsoever, in or by the said Court, hereby established, or by any Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, or General Court of Quarter Sessions, or by any of the Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Oyer and Terminer or Gaol Delivery for the said presidency of Madras, or any of them, or by any person or persons there, having lawful authority to order, charge, adjudge, set, impose, or award the same, for or by reason of any offences, misdemeanors, defaults, contempts, neglects, or forfeitures, whatsoever, to have, hold, receive, levy, sue for, recover, and enjoy the same, to the said United Company and their successors, for ever, in as large and ample manner, to all intents and purposes, as we, our heirs, or successors, could or might have had held, received, levied, sued for, recovered, and enjoyed the same, if these presents had not been made, without any account, or other matter or thing to be rendered or paid for the same, unto us, our heirs, or successors; subject, nevertheless, to the several powers and authorities by these our letters granted to, or vested in, the said Court, hereby established, to discharge, mitigate, or set over, any of such fines, amerciaments, forfeitures, penalties, or sums of money, respectively, according to the true intent and meaning hereof.

Power for the Courts to make satisfaction to prosecutors out of fines.

Provided always, nevertheless, that it shall and may be lawful, and we hereby authorize and empower the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras to make such satisfaction to prosecutors of informations or indictments, as to the said Court shall seem reasonable and fit, out of any fine or fines to be set or imposed upon any person or persons who shall be convicted upon such proceedings, respectively, and to order and direct such satisfaction to be paid accordingly, as hereinafter directed.

Power given to the East-India Company to recover the fines.

And we do hereby, for us, our heirs, and successors, give and grant unto the said Company, full power and authority to sue for, recover, and levy, all and every the said fines, amerciaments, forfeitures, penalties, and sums of money, by any action or actions of debt to be brought in the said Court, hereby established, or by such other suits, actions, ways, means, and proceedings, as may be lawfully had and prosecuted in the said Court, in their corporate name, or by any other lawful ways or means, either in the name of us, our heirs, or successors, or of the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, or their successors; and to collect, take, seize, and levy the said fine, amerciaments, forfeitures, penalties, and sums of money, in and by these presents granted, or mentioned to be granted, from time to time, by the proper officers and ministers of the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies, and their successors, to the only proper use and behoof of them and their successors, without any writ, warrant, or other process of the Exchequer, of us, our heirs, and successors, or any other Court or Courts, whatsoever and wheresoever to be had and obtained in that behalf, any usage or custom to the contrary thereof, in anywise, notwithstanding: subject, nevertheless, to such orders as the said Court, hereby established, shall respectively make, in favour of prosecutors, as herein-before directed.

And we do hereby, for us, our heirs and successors, direct, authorize, and command the Chief Justice, and other Justices of the said Court hereby established at Madras, and all Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, now and for the time being, all sheriffs and other officers and ministers and others therein concerned respectively, by virtue of these our Letters Patent, to cause to be paid over to the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East-Indies and their successors, from time to time, all such fines, amerciaments, forfeitures, penalties, and sums of money as shall be set or imposed upon, or be forfeited, or accrued due, by or from any person or persons as aforesaid: and the same shall be paid or satisfied by such person or persons accordingly, or otherwise shall and may be recovered and levied by any of the ways and means before-mentioned: subject, nevertheless, to such orders as shall be made for the satisfaction of prosecutors as herein-before directed. And we do by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, declare and grant, that such payments, so to be made, shall be as full and sufficient a discharge, to all intents and purposes, to the said Chief Justice, and other Justices of the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, and the said respective officers and ministers, and all and every other person and persons, as if such payments had been made to us, our heirs and successors, at the receipt of our or their exchequer.

And to the intent that the ends of justice may not be frustrated or delayed by the want of a due remedy to enforce the payment of the said fines, amerciaments, forfeitures, penalties and sums of money, we hereby will and direct, that the Commissioners of the said Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, and the Justices of the Peace in their Courts of Quarter Sessions shall, by themselves, or by the proper officers of the said Court, in every term next after the holding of the said Courts respectively, deliver into the said Court hereby established, upon oath, an estreat roll of all fines, amerciaments, forfeitures, penalties and sums of money, which shall have been set, imposed, lost, or forfeited, by any person or persons whatsoever, at or by or before the said Courts, or any of them, or by or before any of the said Commissioners or Justices of the Peace, during the time of the holding any of the said Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, or Quarter Sessions, at any period subsequent to the time when the next preceding Courts aforesaid were last holden respectively. And that it shall and may be lawful for the said Court hereby established to award and issue such process against the persons liable to the payment thereof, in order to the recovery of the same, in aid and for the use of the said Company, or otherwise, according to the circumstances of the case, to discharge or mitigate the same, as our Court of Exchequer in England, or the Chancellor and Barons thereof may or can lawfully do upon estreats of the green-wax in England; with power also to the said Court hereby established, by any rule or order, to cause a share or proportion of any fine imposed on any person or persons, for any delinquency or misdemeanor prosecuted to judgment, to be paid over to the prosecutor, towards defraying his expenses occasioned thereby, as such Court shall, in its discretion, think fit or expedient.

In conclusion, all the King's officers and subjects are required to be aiding, assisting, and obedient, as in the Charter of Fort William.

LETTERS PATENT, establishing the Supreme Court of Judicature at Bombay, in the East-Indies, bearing Date the eighth Day of December, in the fourth Year of the Reign of George the Fourth, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-three.

These Letters Patent correspond almost entirely with those establishing the Supreme Court at Madras. Any points of difference deserving notice have been referred to in the notes upon that Charter.

LETTERS PATENT, establishing the Court of Judicature at Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, in the East-Indies, bearing Date the twenty seventh Day of November, in the seventh year of the reign of George the Fourth, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six.

These Letters commence by reciting various Charters and Acts of Parliament. It is also recited, that the East-India Company, having annexed Singapore and Malacca to Prince of Wales' Island, had petitioned the Crown to accept the surrender of the Charter of the former Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island, and to grant a new one, with which prayer the Crown was pleased to comply.

The clause following succeeds to the recital :

Now we, having considered the premises, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and by these presents do, for us, our heirs, and successors, give and grant unto the said United Company and their successors, and by these presents we, for us, our heirs and successors, do grant, direct, ordain, and appoint, that there shall be within the settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, and the places now, or at any time to be, subordinate or annexed thereto, a Court of Record, which shall be called "The Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca." And we do hereby erect, create, and constitute the said Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, to be a Court of Record.

Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island established.

To consist of the Governor and the resident counsellor, and one other judge, to be called the Recorder of Prince of Wales' Island.

And we do further will, ordain, and appoint, that the said Court of Judicature shall consist of, and be holden before, the Governor or President and the resident Counsellor for the time being, of the station where the said Court shall be held, as two of the Judges of the said Court, and before one other Judge, who shall be called "the Recorder of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca," and which Recorder shall be a barrister in England or Ireland of not less than five years' standing, to be named and appointed from time to time by us, our heirs and successors, by Letters Patent under our and their great seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

And we do ordain, that the said Governor or President, and the resident Counsellor of the station where the said Court shall from time to time be held, shall at all times be Judges of the said Court, and shall hold their said offices of Judges, severally, during all such time as they shall severally hold and exercise the offices of Governor or President and Counsellor, respectively, of the said settlement. Provided always, and we hereby declare, that in case at any time there shall be more than one Counsellor present at either of the said stations, besides the Governor or President, then that the Governor or President and the resident Counsellor only, if he shall be there, shall be Judges of the said Court; and if the resident Counsellor shall not be present, then that the Governor or President and the senior Counsellor present, according to his rank in the said Council, shall be Judges of the said Court. And we further direct, that the said Recorder of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, shall hold his office during the pleasure of us, our heirs and successors.

And we do hereby further give and grant to the said Governor or President for the time being, rank and precedence above and before all our subjects whomsoever, within the said settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, and the places now or at any time hereafter to be subordinate or annexed thereto; excepting the Governor-general for the time being of Fort William in Bengal, if he shall happen to be at any time within the said settlement or places aforesaid. And we do hereby also give and grant to each of the said three Counsellors respectively, being Judges of the said Court, according to the order of rank they shall hold in the said Council, rank and precedence above and before all our subjects whomsoever within the said settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, and the places now or at any time hereafter to be subordinate or annexed thereto; excepting the said Governor-general for the time being of Fort William in Bengal, if he shall happen at any time to be within the said settlement and places aforesaid; and excepting the said Governor or President of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, for the time being; and excepting all such persons as by law or usage take place in England before our Justices of our Court of King's Bench, except as hereinafter mentioned. And we do hereby also give and grant to the said Recorder of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, for the time being, rank and precedence above and before all our subjects whomsoever within the said settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, and the places now or at any time hereafter to be subordinate or annexed thereto; excepting the said three Counsellors, being respectively Judges of the said Court, and excepting such persons and officers as hereinbefore are directed to take precedence of and before them.

Provided always, and we do hereby declare, that when the said Judges shall be respectively sitting and acting in and as a Court, or otherwise executing the judicial functions hereby vested in them, but upon no other occasion, the said Recorder, if he shall be present, shall have and take precedence next after the Governor or President for the time being of the said settlement, or next after the Counsellor for the time being acting as such Governor or President of the said settlement, if he shall be present, but before any other Judge of the said Court, any thing herein contained to the contrary thereof in any wise notwithstanding.

And we do further will and ordain, That all judgments, rules, orders, and acts of authority or power whatsoever, to be made or done by the said Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, shall be made or done by and with and by the concurrence of the Judges of the said Court, or so many or such one of them as shall be, on such occasions respectively, assembled or sitting as a Court, or of the major part of them so assembled or sitting; except in the case of adjournment hereinafter mentioned.

And we declare, that in case at any time there shall be more than one of the said Judges present or sitting as a Court, the Recorder, if he shall be present, shall vote in every question to be decided before the other Judges present shall vote, and then the Governor or President of the said settlement, or the Counsellor acting as the Governor or President of the said settlement shall next vote, and then the resident Counsellor if he shall be present.

Provided always, that in case the Judges present at any time shall consist of only two, and they shall be divided in their opinions, the Recorder, if present, and if the Recorder shall be absent, then the Governor or President of the said settlement shall have a double or casting voice.

Provided also, and we further will and direct, that no Court shall be holden, and that no act shall be done by the said Court without the presence of the Recorder of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, for the time being, if he shall be resident within the said settlement, or the places now, or at any time hereafter to be subordinate or annexed thereto, unless the Governor or President of the said settlement, or the Counsellor acting as such, shall authorize the Court to sit and act in the absence of the Recorder; and in such case we direct, that the granting of such authority shall be noticed and recorded on the proceeding of the said Court. But in all cases of the absence of the Recorder from the said Court, and in case of vacancy of the office of the Recorder, we declare that it shall be lawful for the Governor or President of the said settlement, or the Counsellor acting as such, to adjourn the trial, hearing, or decision of any cause, or any matter to be considered or done by the said Court, from time to time, as he shall see fit, until the said office of Recorder shall be full and the Recorder shall be present.

And we do hereby direct, ordain, and appoint, that such salaries and emoluments as shall, from time to time, be paid, given, or allowed to the said Governor or President and Counsellors, for their services as Governor or President and Council of the said settlement, shall be accepted and taken by them in full satisfaction for their services as judges of the said Court, and that they, or any of them, shall not be entitled to have or receive any salary, fee, perquisite, or emolument whatsoever, as judges of the said Court.

And we do hereby further direct, ordain, and appoint, that it shall and may be lawful to

Moreover, we will and ordain by these presents, that the Bishop of the said See of Calcutta and his successors, shall be subject and subordinate to the Archbishop of the province of Canterbury and to the Most Reverend Father in God Charles Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of all England and Metropolitan, and his successors, in the same manner as any Bishop of any See within the province of Canterbury in our kingdom of England is under the authority of the aforesaid Archbishop of Canterbury and the Archbishop thereof, save and except in the matter of appeals from judgments, decrees, and sentences pronounced by the Bishop of Calcutta or his successors, or by his or their Commissaries, which we will shall not be made to the said Archbishop or to his Courts, but shall be made to Commissioners appointed by us or our successors, in manner hereinafter set forth. And to the end that all the matters and things herein prescribed may have their due effect, we do hereby signify to the Most Reverend Father in God Charles Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of all England and Metropolitan, that we have erected and founded the aforesaid Episcopal See of Calcutta, and have named and preferred our beloved Thomas Fanshaw Middleton, Doctor in Divinity, to the said Bishopric, and have appointed him the Bishop and ordinary pastor thereof, requiring, and by the faith and love whereby he is bound unto us, commanding him to consecrate the aforesaid Thomas Fanshaw Middleton Bishop of Calcutta in manner accustomed, and diligently to do and perform all other things appertaining to his office in this behalf with effect. And we do by these presents give and grant to the said Thomas Fanshaw Middleton and his successors, Bishops of Calcutta, full power and authority to confer the orders of Deacon and Priest, to confirm those that are baptized and come to years of discretion, and to perform all the other functions peculiar and appropriated to the office of a Bishop, within the limits of the said See, but not elsewhere, such Bishop and his successors having been first duly ordained or consecrated Bishops according to the form prescribed by the liturgy of the Church of England, and also by himself or themselves, or by his or their Commissary or Commissaries, to exercise jurisdiction, spiritual and ecclesiastical, in and throughout the said See and Diocese, according to the ecclesiastical laws of our realm of England, which are lawfully made and received in England, in the several causes and matters herein-after in these presents expressed and specified, and no other: and for a declaration of our royal will concerning the special causes and matters in which we will that the aforesaid jurisdiction shall be exercised, we have further given and granted, and do by these presents give and grant to the aforesaid Bishop and his successors full power and authority, by himself or themselves, or by his or their Commissary or Commissaries, by him or them to be thereunto specially authorized, to grant licences to officiate to all Ministers and Chaplains of all the churches or chapels or other places within the said Diocese wherein divine service shall be celebrated according to the rites and liturgy of the Church of England, and to visit all such Ministers and Chaplains and all Priests and Deacons in holy orders of the United Church of England and Ireland resident in their said Diocese, with all and all manner of jurisdiction, power, and coercion ecclesiastical, that may be requisite in the premises: as also to call before him or them, or before his or their Commissary or Commissaries, at such competent days, hours, and places whatsoever, when and as often as to him or them shall seem meet and convenient, the aforesaid Ministers, Chaplains, Priests, or Deacons in Holy Orders of the United Church of England and Ireland, or any of them, and to inquire by witnesses, to be sworn in due form of law, and by all other lawful ways and means by which the same may be best and most effectually done, as well concerning their morals as their behaviour in their said offices and stations respectively, and we do hereby authorize and empower the said Bishop and his successors, and his and their Commissary or Commissaries to administer all such oaths as are accustomed and may by law be administered according to the ecclesiastical laws of our realm of England, and to punish and correct the aforesaid Chaplains, Ministers, Priests, and Deacons in Holy Orders of the United Church of England and Ireland according to their demerits, whether by deprivation, suspension, or other such ecclesiastical censure or correction as they would be liable to according to the ecclesiastical laws aforesaid. And for the further accomplishment of our intention, and for aiding the said Bishop of Calcutta according to the laws and customs of the United Church of England and Ireland in the due and Canonical superintendance of ecclesiastical persons and affairs, we do hereby erect, found, and constitute one Archdeaconry in and over the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, to be styled the Archdeaconry of Calcutta, and one other Archdeaconry in and over the Presidency of Fort St. George, on the coast of Coromandel, to be styled the Archdeaconry of Madras, and also one other Archdeaconry in and over the Presidency and Island of Bombay, on the coast of Malabar, to be styled the Archdeaconry of Bombay.

In other parts of these Letters, not inserted, the Archdeacons are declared to be Commissaries of the Bishop, with the usual ecclesiastical jurisdiction of such officers. Power is also granted to the Bishop to fill vacancies in the office of Archdeacon by appointments from the Chaplains of the Company; and to appoint Registrars, or persons to act as such at all the presidencies. But since the establishment of the Sees of Madras and Bombay, the Archdeacons of those places are no longer appointed by the Bishop of Calcutta, nor are they Commissaries of that Bishop. The right of the Bishop of Calcutta to appoint Registrars, &c. at Madras and Bombay has also ceased.

And moreover we command, and by these presents for us, our heirs and successors, strictly enjoin, as well the Court of Directors of the said United Company and their Governors, officers and servants, as all and singular, and Governors, Judges, and Justices, and all and singular Chaplains, Ministers, and other our subjects within the parts aforesaid, that they and every of them be in and by all lawful ways and means aiding and assisting to the said Bishop and Archdeacons and his and their successors in the execution of the premises in all things. Nevertheless, we will, and do by these presents declare and ordain, that in all grave matters of correction which are accustomed according to the practice of the ecclesiastical laws of our realm of England, to be judicially examined, the same shall in like manner be judicially examined and proceeded in before the said Bishop and his successors, or his or their Commissary or Commissaries aforesaid, in the respective Archdeaconries in which the party to be proceeded against shall reside, and all such causes shall be proceeded in to final sentence in due form of law. * * *

And further, we will and do by these presents declare and ordain, that if any person against whom a judgment or decree shall be pronounced by the said Bishop or his successors, or by his or their Commissary or Commissaries, shall conceive himself to be aggrieved thereby, it shall be lawful for such person to appeal to us, our heirs or successors, provided such appeal be entered within fifteen days after such sentence shall have been pronounced; and we do hereby nominate, constitute and appoint the Judges of our Supreme Court of Judicature at Calcutta for the time being, and the Members of the Council at Calcutta for the time being, to be our Commissioners delegate, to hear such appeals, and that such Commissioners delegate, or any three of them, of whom one shall be a Judge of the said Supreme Court of Judicature, shall have power finally to decide and determine the said appeals in as ample manner and form as the Commissioners appointed under our great seal, by virtue of the Statute made in the twenty-fifth year of the reign of King Henry the Eighth, intituled, "An Act for the submission of the Clergy and restraint of Appeals," can or may hear and definitely determine appeals from any of the Courts of the Archbishops of our realm of England, provided always, that in any sentence to be given by the said Commissioners delegate, one at least of the said Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature shall concur. And we do further direct, that the person appointed to act as registrar within the Archdeaconry of Calcutta, shall act as registrar of the said Commissioners delegate, or if there be no such registrar, or such registrar be unable to act, the said Commissioners delegate may assume an actuary to do all acts as their registrar. And we do further will, declare and ordain, that in case any proceeding shall be instituted against any Archdeacon, such proceeding shall originate and be carried on before our said Commissioners delegate, whom we hereby authorize and direct to take cognizance of the same. And we further will, and do by these presents declare and ordain, that in case any Archdeacon appointed as aforesaid, or Chaplain duly appointed by the Court of Directors of the said United Company, shall be for any cause whatever deprived of his said office or suspended therefrom, or inhibited from preaching the word of God, or exercising his holy office within the limits of the presidency to which he shall have been appointed, or shall be subjected to any ecclesiastical punishment or censure whatsoever by the said Bishop of Calcutta, or by his successors, or by his or their Commissary or Commissaries, a copy of the sentence in such case promulgated and given, setting forth the causes of such deprivation, suspension, or other ecclesiastical punishment or censure, shall without delay be certified and transmitted by the said Bishop and his successors, or his or their Commissary and Commissaries to the Governor-general in Council of Fort William, or the Governors in Council of Fort Saint George or Bombay, as the case may be, and we further ordain, that the Supreme Court of Judicature at Calcutta or Madras, or the Recorder's Court at Bombay, as the case may be, shall have such and the like jurisdiction and power of interfering by writ of prohibition or mandamus, subject to the same laws, restrictions, and rules of practice as is, or has been exercised by our Court of King's Bench at Westminster, in regard to proceedings in the Ecclesiastical Courts in England, regard being had nevertheless to any special provisions or exceptions contained in these our Letters Patent, and to any other laws and regulations specially applicable to, or concerning our territories in the East-Indies, or the See and Diocese of Calcutta. Moreover it is our Royal will, and we do hereby declare and ordain, that nothing in these presents contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to repeal, vary, or alter the provisions of our several Charters of the twenty-sixth day of March, in the fourteenth year of our reign, the twenty-sixth day of December, in the forty-first year of our reign, and the twenty-eighth day of February, in the twenty-eighth year of our reign, whereby ecclesiastical jurisdiction was given to the said Courts of Judicature and Recorder's Court respectively, so far as the same does not appertain to the correction of Clerks, or the spiritual superintendance of ecclesiastical persons, or to give to the said Bishop or Archdeacons, or their successors, any authority or jurisdiction whatever in matters now cognizable in the said Courts, except as herein last before excepted. Moreover, we will and grant by these presents, that the said Bishop and Archdeacons respectively, be bodies corporate, and do ordain, make, and constitute him and them to be perpetual Corporations, and to have perpetual succession, and that he and they, and his and their successors be for ever hereafter called and known by the names of Bishop of Calcutta, and Archdeacon of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, and that they and their successors by the names aforesaid shall be able and capable in the law, and have full power to purchase, have, take, hold, and enjoy such manors, messuages, lands, rents, tenements, annuities, and hereditaments, of what nature or kind soever, in fee and in perpetuity, or for term of life or years, as by grant or licence from the said United Company, they shall at any time be authorized to take, hold or enjoy, and also all manner of goods, chattels, and things personal whatsoever, of what nature or value soever; and that they and their successors, by and under the said name, may prosecute claim, plead and be impleaded, defend and be defended, answer and be answered in all manner of Courts, of us, our heirs and successors, and elsewhere, in and upon all and singular causes, actions, suits, writs, and demands, real, personal and mixed, as well temporal as spiritual, and in all other things, causes, and matters whatsoever. And that the said Bishop and his successors shall and may for ever hereafter have and use a corporate seal, and the said seal from time to time at his and their will and pleasure, break, change, alter or make new as to him or to them shall seem expedient. And we do hereby further declare, that nothing herein contained, shall extend, or be construed to extend, to limit or abridge any power, now by law vested in the Governor-general in Council, or Governors in Council of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, as to the residence of any person whatsoever within the territories under the government of the said United Company. And we do hereby declare, that if we, our heirs or successors, shall think fit to revoke or recall the appointment of the said Bishop of Calcutta, or his successors, or of the Archdeacons of Calcutta, or Madras, or Bombay respectively, for the time being, and shall declare such our pleasure by Letters Patent under our great seal of our United Kingdom, then every such Bishop or Archdeacon shall from and after the notification thereof, in such manner as in the said Letters Patent shall from time to time be directed to the said Bishop or Archdeacons respectively, to all intents and purposes, cease to be Bishop of Calcutta, or Archdeacon of Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, as the case may be. And for removing doubts with respect to the validity of resignations of the said offices of Bishop, or Archdeacon, it is our further will that if the said Bishop or any of his successors shall by instrument under his hand and seal delivered to our Commissioners delegate aforesaid, and to be by them accepted and registered, or any of the said Archdeacons or their successors by a like instrument delivered to the Bishop of Calcutta, for the time being, and by him accepted and registered, resign the office of Bishop of Calcutta, or Archdeacon, as aforesaid, such Bishop, or Archdeacon, shall forthwith cease to be Bishop of Calcutta, or Archdeacon, as the case may be, to all intents and purposes, but without prejudice to any responsibility to which he may be liable, in law or equity, in respect of his conduct in his said office.

LETTERS PATENT respecting the Bishoprics of Calcutta and Madras, dated the thirteenth Day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five.

So much of these Letters as consist of recital or revocation of former Letters is omitted.

And whereas it is our intention by Letters Patent under the great seal of our said United Kingdom, bearing even date with these presents, to erect, found, and constitute our territories in the East-Indies, within the limits of the Presidency of Madras, and also our territories within the said Island of Ceylon, to be a Bishop's See, and to be called from henceforth the Bishopric of Madras, and to name and appoint our well-beloved Daniel Corrie, Doctor of Laws, now Archdeacon of Calcutta, to be Bishop of the said See of Madras, and to grant to such Bishop of Madras, and his successors, such or the like ecclesiastical jurisdiction, and the exercise of such or the like episcopal functions within the said See of Madras as were heretofore enjoyed and exercised by the said Bishop of Calcutta within the limits of the said Presidency of Madras, and within our territories in the said Island of Ceylon. And we do further will and ordain, that the Bishop of the said See of Calcutta for the time being, shall be and be deemed and taken to be the Metropolitan Bishop in India, and shall have and enjoy and exercise such ecclesiastical jurisdiction as herein-after is mentioned, (subject nevertheless to the general superintendence and revision of the Archbishop of Canterbury for the time being, in the same manner as the said Bishop of Calcutta was subject and subordinate to the Archiepiscopal See of the province of Canterbury, in the exercise of all ecclesiastical jurisdiction and powers which previously to these our Letters Patent were vested in the said Bishop). And we will and ordain, that the said Bishop of Madras shall be a suffragan to the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors. And we give and grant unto the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors, full power and authority to perform all functions peculiar and appropriated to the office of Metropolitan within the limits of the said See of Madras, and to exercise metropolitical jurisdiction over the Bishop of Madras and his successors, and the Archdeacon of Madras and Colombo, and all other Chaplains, Ministers, Priests, and Deacons in Holy Orders, of the united Church of England and Ireland, within the limits of the said Diocese of Madras. And we do, by these presents, give and grant unto the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors, full power and authority to visit once in every five years, or oftener if occasion shall require, as well the said Bishop of Madras and his successors, as all Ministers and Chaplains, and all Priests and Deacons in Holy Orders of the united Church of England and Ireland, resident in the said Diocese of Madras, for correcting and applying the defects of the said Bishop of Madras and his successors, with all and all manner of visitatorial jurisdiction, power, and coercion. And we do hereby authorize and empower the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors to inhibit, during any such visitation of the said Diocese of Madras, the exercise of all or of such part or parts of the ordinary jurisdiction of the said Bishop of Madras or his successors, as to him the said Bishop of Calcutta or his successors shall seem expedient, and during the time of such visitation to exercise by himself or themselves, or his or their Commissaries, such powers, functions, and jurisdictions in and over the Diocese of Madras, as the said Bishop of Madras might have exercised if he had not been inhibited from exercising the same. And we do further ordain and declare, that if any person against whom a judgment or decree shall be pronounced by the said Bishop of Madras or his successors, or his or their Commissary or Commissaries, shall conceive himself to be aggrieved by such sentence, it shall be lawful for such person to appeal to the said Bishop of Calcutta or his successors, provided such appeal be entered within fifteen days after such sentence shall have been pronounced. And we do give and grant to the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors, full power and authority finally to decree and determine the said appeals, in as ample a manner as any of the Archbishops of England can or may hear and determine appeals from the Courts of the Bishops within his province. And we do hereby authorize and empower the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors, and his and their Commissary or Commissaries, to administer in his and their metropolitical and visitatorial and appellate jurisdiction over the said See of Madras, all such oaths as the said Bishop of Calcutta and his predecessors have been accustomed lawfully to administer in his and their ordinary jurisdiction. Nevertheless we do will, and by these presents declare and ordain, that in the exercise of the metropolitanical, visitorial, and appellate jurisdiction aforesaid, hereby limited and given to the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors, all grave matters of correction which are accustomed according to the practice of the ecclesiastical laws of England to be judicially examined, shall in like manner be judicially examined and proceeded in before the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors, or his or their Commissary or Commissaries, and all such causes shall be proceeded into final sentence in due form of law. And we do further will and ordain, that in case any proceedings shall be instituted against any Bishop of Madras, such proceedings shall originate and be carried on before the said Bishop of Calcutta, whom we hereby authorize and direct to take cognizance of the same. And we further will, that during a vacancy of the said See of Calcutta, by the demise of the Bishop thereof for the time being, or otherwise, the episcopal jurisdiction and functions appertaining to the said See shall be exercised by the Bishop of Madras for the time being, and in case of a vacancy of the said See of Madras, then the same jurisdiction and functions shall be exercised as far as by law they may by the Archdeacon of Calcutta for the time being, or in case of a vacancy of the said Archdeaconry, then by the Archdeacon of Madras, or the Archdeacon of Bombay, or by two Clergymen of the Church of England resident within the Diocese of Calcutta, as may be directed by the Governor-general of India in Council. And we further ordain, that the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, or in Ceylon (as the case may be) shall have such and the like jurisdiction and power of interfering by writ or prohibition, or mandamus, in regard to all proceedings to be had or instituted, or which might be had or instituted, in pursuance of these presents, subject to the same laws, restrictions, and rules of practice, as is, or has been exercised by our Court of King's Bench, at Westminster, in regard to proceedings in the Ecclesiastical Court in England, regard being had, nevertheless to any special provisions or exceptions contained in these our Letters Patent, and to any other laws and regulations specially applicable to, or concerning our territories in the East-Indies, or the See and Diocese of Calcutta. Moreover it is our Royal will, and we do hereby declare and ordain, that nothing in these presents contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to repeal, vary, or alter the provisions of the several Charters, whereby ecclesiastical jurisdiction has been given to the said Court of Judicature respectively, so far as the same does not appertain to the correction of Clerks, or the spiritual superintendence of ecclesiastical persons, or give to the said Bishop of Calcutta, or his successors, any authority or jurisdiction whatever in matters now cognizable in the said Courts, except as herein last before excepted. And moreover, we command and enjoin the Court of Directors of the East-India Company, and their Governors, officers, and servants, and our Governor of Ceylon, and all and singular our Governors, Judges, and Justices, and all and singular Chaplains, Ministers, and others our subjects, within the parts aforesaid, that they and every of them be in and by all lawful ways and means aiding and assisting to the said Bishop of Calcutta and his successors in the execution of the premises in all things.

XV. And it is hereby enacted, that any chokee officer who shall permit goods to pass across the frontier when not covered by a sufficient certificate, or who shall permit goods to pass by any prohibited route, shall be liable, on conviction before the collector of Customs, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, and to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, commutable, if not paid, to imprisonment for a further period of six months.

XVII. And it is hereby enacted, that all goods imported by sea into any port of the Presidency of Bombay from any foreign European settlement in India, or from any native state, the inland trade of which has been declared by the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Bombay, under section VIII. of this Regulation, to be subject to the duties levied on foreign bottoms, shall be liable to the same duties as are imposed by schedule A on imports on foreign bottoms.

XVIII. And it is hereby enacted, that no goods whatsoever entered in either of the schedules of this Act, as liable to duty, shall be exempted from the payment of such duty or of any part thereof, except under special order from the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Bombay: provided always, that it shall and may be lawful for the collector of Customs, or other officer in charge of a Custom-house, to pass free of duty any baggage in actual use, at his discretion; and if any person shall apply to have goods passed as such baggage, the collector, acting under the orders of the Government, shall determine whether they be baggage in actual use, or goods subject to duty under the provisions of this Act.

XIX. Provided always, that when goods are imported at any port of the Bombay Presidency from any other port in that Presidency under certificate that the export duty specified in schedule B has been duly paid thereon, or that there has been a re-export, and that the import duty specified in schedule A has been duly paid, the said goods shall be admitted to free entry.

XX. Provided also, that when duties of Customs shall have been paid on any goods at any port in any part of the territories of the East-India Company not subject to the Presidency of Bombay, and when such goods shall subsequently be imported at any port of the Presidency of Bombay, credit shall be given at such last-mentioned port for the sum that may be proved by the production of due certificates to have been so paid.

XXI. And it is hereby enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Bombay, from time to time, by notice in the official Gazette of that Presidency, to fix a value for any article or number of articles liable to ad valorem duty, and the value so fixed for such articles shall, till altered by a similar notice, be taken to be the value of such articles for the purpose of levying duty on the same.

XXII. And it is hereby enacted, that when goods liable to duty, for which a value has not been fixed by such a notice as is above directed, or for which a fixed duty has not been declared by the schedules annexed to this Act, are brought to any Custom-house in the Presidency of Bombay, for the purpose of being passed for importation or exportation, the duty leviable on such goods shall be levied ad valorem, that is to say, according to the market value of such goods at the place and time of importation or exportation, as the case may be.

XXIII. And it is hereby enacted, that the market value for assessment of duties on ad valorem goods shall be declared by the owner, consignee, or exporter, or by the agent or factor for any of these respectively, upon the face of the application to be given in by him in writing for the passing of the goods through the Custom-house; and the value so declared shall include the packages or materials in which the goods are contained, and the application shall truly set forth the name of the ship in which the goods have been imported or are to be exported, the name of the master of the said ship, the colours under which the said ship sails, the number, description, marks, and contents of the packages, and the country in which the goods were produced.

XXIV. And it is hereby enacted, that every such declaration, when duly signed, shall be submitted to the officer of Customs appointed to appraise goods at the Custom-house, and if it shall appear to him that the same is correct, he shall countersign it as admitted; but if any part or the whole of the goods shall seem to him to be undervalued in such declaration, he shall report the same to the collector of Customs, who shall have power to take the goods or any part thereof as purchased for the Government at the price so declared; and whenever the collector of Customs shall so take goods for the Government, payment thereof shall be made to the consignee or importer, if the goods be imported goods, within fifteen days from the date of the declaration, the amount of import duty leviable thereon being first deducted, and if the goods be intended for exportation, the entire value as declared shall be paid without deduction on account of Customs duty.

XXV. And it is hereby enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Bombay to declare by public notice in the official Gazette of that Presidency, what places within the same shall be ports for the landing and shipment of merchandize, and any goods that may be landed, or which an attempt may be made to land, at any other port than such as shall be so declared, shall be seized and confiscated.

XXVI. And it is hereby enacted, that when any vessel shall arrive in any port of the Presidency of Bombay, the master shall deliver a true manifest of the cargo on board, made out according to the form annexed to this Act, and marked C, to the first person duly empowered to receive such manifest that may come on board, and if no such person shall have come on board before the anchor of the said vessel is dropped, then the manifest shall be forwarded to land on board of the first boat that leaves the vessel after dropping anchor, and if the port be up a river, or at a distance from the land first made, then it shall be lawful for the said Governor in Council, by an order published in the official Gazette of the Presidency, to fix a place in any such river or port, beyond which place it shall not be lawful for any inward bound vessel, except such country craft as are described in sections LI. and LII. of this Act, to pass until the master shall have forwarded in such manner as may be ordered by the said Governor in Council such a manifest as is required by this Act.

XXVII. And it is hereby enacted, that if the manifest so delivered by the master shall not contain a full and true specification of all the goods imported in the vessel, the said master shall be liable to a fine of one thousand rupees, and any goods or packages that may be found on board in excess of the manifest so delivered, or differing in quality or kind, or in marks and numbers, from the specification contained therein, shall be liable to be seized by any Customs officer and confiscated, or be charged with such increased duties as may be determined by the collector of Customs under the orders of Government.

XXVIII. And it is hereby enacted, that if any inward bound vessel shall remain outside or below the place that may be fixed by the said Governor in Council for the first delivery of manifests, the master shall deliver a manifest as herein-before prescribed, to the first person duly empowered to receive such manifest that may come on board, and if any vessel entering a port for which there is a Custom-house established, shall lie at anchor therein for the space of twenty-four hours, the master whereof shall refuse to deliver the said manifest in the manner above-prescribed, he shall for such refusal be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees, and no entry or port clearance shall be given for such vessel until the fine is paid.

XXIX. And it is hereby enacted, that no vessel shall be allowed to break bulk until a manifest, as required by this Act, and another copy thereof to be presented at the time of applying for entry inwards, if so required by the collector of Customs, shall have been received by the said collector, nor until order shall have been given by the said collector for the discharge of the cargo; and that the said collector may further refuse to give such order, if he shall see fit, until any port clearances, cockets, or other papers, known to be granted at the places from which the vessel is stated to have come, shall likewise be delivered to him.

XXX. And it is hereby enacted, that no goods shall be allowed to leave any vessel or to be put on board thereof until entry of the vessel shall have been duly made in the Custom-house of the port, and until order shall have been given for discharge of the cargo thereof as above provided, and it shall be the duty of every Customs officer to seize as contraband any goods which have been removed or put on board of any vessel in contravention of the above provision, or which any attempt shall have been made to remove from, or to put on board of any vessel in contravention of the above provision: and after entry of the vessel at the Custom-house in due form, such part of the cargo as may not be declared for re-exportation in the same vessel shall be sent to land, and export cargo shall be laden on board according to the forms and rules that may be prescribed for the port by this Act, or by order of the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Bombay, and if an attempt be made to land or put on board goods or merchandize in contravention of the forms and rules so prescribed, the goods shall be liable to seizure and confiscation.

XXXI. And it is hereby enacted, that if goods entered in the manifest of a vessel shall not be found on board that vessel, or if the quantity found be short, and the deficiency be not duly accounted for, or if goods sent out of the vessel be not landed at the Custom-house, or at such other place as the collector of Customs shall have prescribed, the master shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred rupees for every missing or deficient package of unknown value, and for twice the amount of duty chargeable on the goods deficient and unaccounted for, if the duty can be ascertained: provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the collector of Customs from permitting at his discretion the master of any vessel to amend obvious errors, or to supply omissions from accident or inadvertence, by furnishing an amended or supplemental manifest.

XXXII. And it is hereby enacted, that there shall, in every port of the Bombay Presidency, be one or more places appointed for the landing and shipment of goods, and goods shall not be landed at any other place without the special order in writing of the collector of Customs for the port, and if any goods be landed, or an attempt be made to land any goods at any other than the said authorized places, without such order, they shall be seized and confiscated.

XXXIII. And it is hereby enacted that if the Governor in Council shall see fit, for the security of Customs at any port, to maintain special establishments of boats for the landing and shipping of merchandize, or to license and register the cargo boats plying in any ports, then, after due notification thereof, it shall not be lawful for any person to convey goods to or from any vessel in such port, otherwise than in the boats so authorized and prescribed, except under special permit from the collector of Customs at the port, and any goods that may be found onboard of other boats than those so authorized for the port, shall be liable to be seized by any officer of Customs, and shall be liable to confiscation.

XXXIV. And it is hereby enacted, that when the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Bombay shall see fit to maintain at any port an establishment of officers to be sent on board of vessels to watch their unloading and lading, then, after due notification shall have been given that such establishment is so maintained at any port, the collector of Customs at that port shall have power at his discretion to send one or more officers of such establishment to remain on board of any vessel in such port by night and by day, until the vessel shall leave the port, or it shall be otherwise ordered by the collector.

XXXV. And it is hereby enacted, that any master of such vessel at such port who shall refuse to receive such officer with one servant on board, when such officer shall be so deputed as above provided, or shall not afford such officer and such servant suitable shelter and sleeping accommodation while on board, and likewise furnish them with a due allowance of fresh water if necessary, and with the means of cooking on board, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding the sum of one hundred rupees for each day during which such officer and servant shall not be received and provided with suitable shelter and accommodation.

XXXVI. And it is hereby enacted, that whenever a collector of Customs shall see cause to direct that any vessel shall be searched, he shall issue his warrant or written order for such search, addressed to any officer under his authority, and upon production of such order the officer bearing it shall be competent to require any cabins, lockers, or bulkheads to be opened in his presence, and if they be not opened upon his requisition, to break the same open, and any goods that may be found concealed, and that shall not be duly accounted for to the satisfaction of the collector of Customs, shall be liable to confiscation, and any master or person in charge of a vessel, who shall resist such officer, or refuse to allow the vessel to be searched when so ordered by the collector of Customs, shall be liable upon conviction for every such offence, to a fine of one thousand rupees.

XXXVII. And it is hereby enacted, that every master of a vessel who shall remove from such vessel or put on board thereof any goods, or cause or suffer any goods to be removed from thence or put on board thereof between sunset and sunrise, or on any day when the Custom-house is closed for business, without leave in writing obtained from the collector of Customs, shall be punished with a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

XXXVIII. And it is hereby enacted, that no cargo boat laden with goods, intended for exportation by sea, shall make fast to, or lie alongside of, any vessel on board of which there shall be a Customs officer stationed, unless there shall be on board the boat, or have been received by the said Customs officer, a Custom-house permit or order for the shipment of the goods, and the goods on board of any boat that may be so alongside or be made fast to a vessel if such goods be not covered by a Custom-house pass accompanying them, or previously received by the Customs officer on board the said vessel, shall be liable to confiscation.

XXXIX. And it is hereby enacted, that when goods shall be sent from on board of any vessel having a Customs officer on board for the purpose of being landed and passed for importation, there shall be sent with each boat load, or other separate despatch, a boat note, specifying the number of packages, and the marks and numbers or other description thereof, and such boat note shall be signed by an officer of the vessel, and likewise by the Customs officer on board, and if any imported goods be found in a boat proceeding to land from such a vessel without a boat note, or if being accompanied by a boat note they be found out of the proper track between the ship and the proper place of landing, the boat containing such goods may be detained by any officer of Customs duly authorized by the collector, and unless the cause of deviation be explained to the satisfaction of the collector of Customs, the goods shall be liable to confiscation.

XL. And it is hereby enacted, that when goods shall be brought to be passed through the Custom-house either for importation or exportation by sea, if the packages in which the same may be contained shall be found not to correspond with the description of them given in the application for passing them through the Custom-house, or if the contents thereof be found not to have been correctly described in regard to sort, quality, or quantity, or if any goods not stated in the application be found concealed in or mixed up with the specified articles, all such packages, with the whole of the goods contained therein, shall be liable to confiscation.

XLI. And it is hereby enacted, that if any person, after goods have been landed, and before they have been passed through the Custom-house, removes or attempts to remove them with the intention of defrauding the revenue, the goods shall be liable to confiscation, unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the collector of Customs that the removal was not sanctioned by the owner or by any person having an interest in or power over the goods.

XLII. And it is hereby enacted, that it shall be lawful for the collector of Customs, whenever he shall see fit, to require that goods brought by sea and stowed in bulk shall be weighed or measured on board ship before being sent to land, and to levy duty according to the result of such weighing or measurement.

XLIII. And it is hereby enacted, that on application by the exporter of any salt that has paid the Excise duty fixed by Act No. XXVII. of 1837, a certificate shall be granted by the collector of Customs at the place of export, under authority of which certificate the quantity of salt specified therein shall be landed at any other port of the said Presidency of Bombay, and shall be passed from such port into the interior without the levy of any further duty either of Excise or of Customs.

Whereas it is expedient to specify the particular purposes to which rates assessed on houses, buildings, and grounds in Calcutta shall be applied; and abolish the practice which has hitherto prevailed, of levying five per cent. on the annual value of all houses, buildings, and grounds, without reference to the amount necessary for accomplishing the purposes of the rates; such per centage being inadequate for the purposes to which the rates have hitherto been deemed applicable. And whereas it is expedient to make the per centage leviable by quarterly rates on the annual value of property to depend entirely on the expenditure necessary for accomplishing, in an efficient manner, the purposes to which the rates shall henceforth be applicable, and providing for all incidental expenses and casual deficiencies or defaults. And whereas it is expedient to subject the collection and administration of the funds raised for municipal purposes in the various districts of the town to the management of the rate-payers themselves within such districts respectively, whenever they are desirous of undertaking the same, and are willing to enter into proper arrangements for the purpose. And whereas it is expedient to modify the provisions of the Statute 33 Geo. 3, Cap. 52, in regard to assessments for the town of Calcutta, in order for the better collection of the same, reserving all the authority of such Statute in matters not inconsistent with this Act;—

II. And it is hereby enacted, that the assessments and rates made under the authority of the said Statute shall be sufficient for accomplishing, in an efficient manner, the purposes mentioned in the last Section, for discharging all incidental expenses, and for making up deficiencies and defaults of every kind whatsoever. Provided always that no rate shall be made exceeding the amount of five per cent. on the assessed value of property without the sanction of the Governor of Fort William in Bengal.

III. And it is hereby enacted, for the encouragement of the control and supervision of the assessment and collection of the rates and the management thereof within particular divisions being undertaken by the rate-payers themselves, the Justices at their Quarter Sessions shall publish quarterly the particulars of all sums laid out, and of all the expenses of collection and deficiencies during the preceding quarter within the following divisions of the town, or such other divisions as the Governor of Fort William in Bengal may from time to time direct, so long as the assessment, collection, or management of the rates for such divisions shall remain under their jurisdiction; viz., the 1st or Upper North Division, bounded as follows:—

IV. And it is hereby enacted, whenever two-thirds in number and value of the rate-payers of any of such respective divisions shall apply to the Governor of Fort William in Bengal to undertake themselves the assessment, collection, and management of the rates of such division, or any or either of these trusts, it shall be lawful for the Governor of Fort William in Bengal to authorize the same accordingly, at his discretion; provided always that such majority of rate-payers shall present a scheme, which shall obtain his full approbation, for the safe and efficient execution of the trusts, the transfer of which from the present authorities is sought for. Provided always that in any such arrangement the amount to be levied in any particular division shall not be considered as necessarily limited by the amount expended within such division, but shall be adjusted by the Governor of Fort William in Bengal upon reference to all local circumstances.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that for the better assessment and collection of rates under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Governor of Fort William in Bengal to appoint such Assessor or Assessors, Collector or Collectors, and to make such union of the offices of Assessor and Collector, and to prescribe such rules and take such securities for the due execution of this Act by the person or persons employed in assessments and collections, and in the management of the rates collected, as he shall deem expedient.
