BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

"A PERSONAL NARRATIVE OF A PILGRIMAGE TO AL-MADINAH AND MECCAH." Memorial Edition. Complete: carefully revised from the Author's own Copy, and containing all the original coloured Illustrations, and Maps, and Plans, and also the Wood-cuts from the later Editions. In 2 vols. Price TWELVE SHILLINGS, net.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The brilliant narrative reads as vividly as ever...We are glad to see his books revived in a form worthy of their intrinsic merit."—Athenaum.

"As a mere book of travel and adventure it is excellent, and it is besides shot through with humour."—Manchester Guardian.

"Few stories of adventure have the interest of Sir Richard Burton's vigorous narrative, and fewer still have its literary and ethnographic value....One of the most marvellous records of daring ever penned....We heartily recommend the Memorial Edition of the Pilgrimage."—Publishers' Circular.

"Every credit is due to the publishers for what they have done towards making paper, printing, binding, and those dozen matters which are included in the one term 'get-up,' worthy of the book and worthy of the author."—Graphic.

"Two most fascinating volumes; the richness and magic of which it is only possible to realise by reading them—as every one must, who once takes them up,—from beginning to end."—Star.

"The book is one of extraordinary interest, and well repays purchase and perusal."—Manchester Courier.

"It is a fascinating story, not only picturesquely told, but revealing on every page a personality more interesting than anything that the said personality ever wrote."—Daily Graphic.

Opinions of the Press.

"It will be impossible in a paragraph or two to give any adequate idea of the mass of information and entertainment it contains."—Saturday Review.

"Every episode is so vividly described that the reader is compelled to follow the story with increasing interest, and cannot fail to obtain, almost unconsciously, a vast amount of valuable information."—Dundee Advertiser.

"Burton never wrote anything more captivating. Those who excite and incite like him, and make a ceiling and stone walls a prison while you read, are rare, just as rare as he was himself."—Sketch.

"This is one of those books which, when once read, are never forgotten, and are always re-read with pleasure."—St. James's Budget.

"Even Burton never wrote anything better than his 'Pilgrimage to Mecca.' After years one's appetite returns to it, and on a second reading one is more than ever struck by the amount of marvel and of peril which he takes for granted, and mentions as mere circumstance. It is a great book of travels."—Bookman.

"The narrative is one of absorbing interest... Those who know the book of old will welcome the present handsome edition, and those who do not know it may be congratulated on the pleasure in store for them."—Glasgow Herald.

II.—A MISSION TO GELELE, KING OF DAHOME."
Memorial Edition. Complete in 2 vols. Price TWELVE SHILLINGS, net.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Of all Burton's books this account of his hazardous mission to Dahomey is one of the least known; it brings out, in a very marked manner, the writer's unflinching tact and resource in dealing with savage peoples."—Daily Graphic.

"Carefully edited and excellently got up."—Glasgow Herald.

"The style is more colloquial than that of the 'Pilgrimage to Mecca,' but it is none the less readable and attractive. The effect produced by the book is that of a clever man talking over his adventures after dinner, or in a club smoking-room."—Manchester Guardian.

"An uncompromising account of a race which has, perhaps, been sentimentalised over more than any other."—Star.

Opinions of the Press.

"The republication of Sir R. Burton's 'Mission to Gelele, King of Dahomy,' is seasonable, seeing that public interest in that country has been revived by the recent operation of French troops."—Manchester Examiner and Times.

"Among the multifarious works of Sir Richard Burton, this monograph on the kingdom of Dahomey holds its place as a proof of the author's inveterate love of travelling, of his searching insight into native habits, of his capabilities as a public servant, and of his frank and uncompromising expression of his own opinions regardless of the prejudices of others."—Publishers' Circular.

"In view of the French projects these volumes appear very opportunely, and are in themselves, as a record of an embassy to a very unconventional potentate, among the most interesting of Sir Richard's strange and varied experiences."—The Literary World.

"His expedition may be regarded as the first opening up of the interior of this part of Africa to European enterprise."—Dundee Advertiser.

"Now that the affairs of Dahomey are frequently attracting attention, these volumes are very timely. How exceedingly interesting they are, our extracts will have sufficed to show."—St. James' Budget.
