

Dhananjayrao Gadgil Library

GIPE-PUNE-000810

Rulers of India

EDITED BY .

SIR WILLIAM WILSON HUNTER, K.C.S.I.

C. I. E. : M.A. (OXFORD); LL.D. (CAMBRIDGE)

WARREN HASTINGS

London
HENRY FROWDE

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS WAREHOUSE
AMEN CORNER, E.C.

THE INDIAN EMPIRE

Prepared for Sir William Wilson Hunter's
IMPERIAL GAZETTEER OF INDIA

Scale 265 miles = to 1 inch

REFERENCES

Railways opened Do not opened
 Roads
 The numerals denote the height above sea level in feet.
 This Map is intended only to exhibit the principal places, chief rivers &c. in India.

68 72 76 80 Long. E. of 84 Greenwich 88 92 96

RULERS OF INDIA

Warren Hastings

BY CAPTAIN L. J. TROTTER

AUTHOR OF 'INDIA UNDER VICTORIA,' ETC.

Oxford

AT THE CLARENDON PRESS: 1890

V2, L. 48

CO

810

Oxford

PRINTED AT THE CLARENDON PRESS

BY HORACE HART, PRINTER TO THE UNIVERSITY

CONTENTS

---

CHAP.		PAGES
I.	1732-1761. FROM CHURCHILL TO CALCUTTA . . .	7-25
II.	1761-1769. CHEQUERED FORTUNES . . .	26-43
III.	1769-1772. THE ENGLISH IN MADRAS . . .	44-56
• IV.	1772-1774. THE NEW ORDER IN BENGAL . . .	57-75
V.	1772-1774. THE ROHILLÁ WAR . . .	76-92
VI.	1773-1775. THE REGULATING ACT . . .	93-109
VII.	1775-1777. HASTINGS AGONISTES . . .	110-129
VIII.	1776-1778. ROUT OF PHILIP FRANCIS . . .	130-143
IX.	1778-1784. THE SAVIOUR OF INDIA . . .	144-160
X.	1779-1781. THE COUNCIL AND THE SUPREME COURT .	161-173
XI.	1781-1783. BENARES AND OUDH . . .	174-186
XII.	1781-1785. THE CROWNING OF A GREAT CAREER .	187-200
XIII.	1785-1818. HASTINGS IN ENGLAND . . .	201-215

---

NOTE

The orthography of proper names follows the system adopted by the Indian Government for the Imperial Gazetteer of India. That system, while adhering to the popular spelling of very well-known places, such as Punjab, Lucknow, &c., employs in all other cases the vowels with the following uniform sounds:—

a, as in woman : á, as in father : í, as in police : i, as in intrigue :
o, as in cold : u, as in bull : ú, as in sure : e, as in grey.

PREFACE.

DURING the present year three folio volumes of 'Letters, Despatches and other State Papers preserved in the Foreign Department of the Government of India, 1772—1785,' have been printed by Authority, under the careful editing of Mr. George W. Forrest. The period covers the entire rule of Warren Hastings. The present volume endeavours to exhibit for the first time the actual work of that great Governor-General, as reviewed from the firm standpoint of the original records now made available to the students of Indian history.

August, 1890.

INDEX

- ADAMS, Major, his brilliant campaign, 34-6.
- AIX-LA-CHAPELLE, Peace of, 11.
- ALAM-SHÁH (Emperor of Delhi), 20, 23, 37, 41, 77 &c., 191.
- ALÍ VARDI KHÁN (Súbahdár of Bengal), 12.
- ALLAHÁBÁD, 37, 41; 78-9 &c.
- ANDERSON, 128, 171-5.
- ARCOT, 19, 153.
- ARNI, 156.
- ASAF-UD-DAULÁ, (Nawáb-Wazír of Oudh), 105, 181-4, 193.
- BAILLE, Colonel, 150-1.
- BARKER, Sir Robert, 75, 82.
- BARWELL, Richard, of the Bengal Council, 73, 99, 102 &c., 137, 162.
- BASSEIN, capture of, 146.
- BAXÁR, battle of, 37.
- BEGAMS, The, 104, 181 &c.
- BEHÁR, 23, 58 &c.
- BENARES, Treaty of, 82.
— city and district, 174-80, 193.
- BENGAL, 12, 13, and passim.
- BERÁR, 141, 144, 151, 152-3, &c.
- BHUTÁN, 71.
- BLACK HOLE, Night in the, 17.
- BOGLE, 73, 127.
- BOMBAY, 13, 124 &c.
- BRAITHWAITE, Colonel, 155.
- BRISTOW, 100, 105, 128 &c., 192.
- BURKE, Edmund, 187, 202, 204, 207.
- BURNEY, Fanny, 206.
- BUSSY, 159.
- CAILLAUD, Colonel, 22.
- CALCUTTA, 14, and passim.
- CAMAC, General, 147.
- CARNAC, Colonel, 23, 41.
- CARTIER, Governor of Bengal, 54, 57.
- CHAIT SINGH, Rájá of Benares, 174 &c.
- CHAMBERS, Justice, 96, 117, 122.
- CHAMPION, Colonel, 87 &c.
- CHANÁR, Treaty of, 180 &c.
- CIRCARS, The Northern, 25.
- CHANDARNAGAR, 19, 143.
- CLAVERING, Sir John, of the Bengal Council, 96 &c., 120, 128, 136, 138.
- CLIVE, Robert (Lord), 19-22, 41, 42, 56.
- COLEBROOKE, Sir George, 49, 55.
- COMPANY, The East India, 11, 13, and passim.
- COOTE, Sir Eyre, 23, 154, 156, 158.
- CUDDALORE, 154, 159.
- DAKÁITS, 69 &c.
- DAYLESFORD, 7, 8, 202 &c.
- DECCAN, The, 12, 23 &c.
- DELHI, 12, 77-8, 191.
- DIRECTORS, Court of, 128, 134, 140, and passim.
- DRAKE, Roger (Governor of Calcutta), 16, 18.
- DUPLEIX, Governor of Pondicherry, 23 &c.
- DU PRÉ, Governor of Madras, 44 &c., 47 &c.
- DUTCH, in India, 15, 155.

- ELLIOT, Alexander, 121, 134, 140, 143.
 ELLIOT, Sir Gilbert (Lord Minto), 144.
 ELLIS, at Patná, 27, 29, 30 &c.
- FALTA, 18, 19.
 FARNAVÍS, Nána, 126, 146 &c.
 FRANCIS, Philip, of the Bengal Council, 96-7, 100 &c., 107, 128, 133, 142, 162-3, 187.
 FRENCH in India, 15, 19, 23, 141, 148, 159.
 FULLARTON, Colonel, 159.
- GAIKWÁR, The, 146.
 GANJÁM, 153.
 GANTÚR, Circar, 149.
 GODDARD, General, 144, 146, 174, 195.
 GUNDÁS, Raja, 63.
 GWÁLÍOR, capture of, 46.
- HAIÐAB Alf, Sultan of Mysore, 24, 45, 46 &c., 147 &c., 156.
 HALHED, 68, 195.
 HARLAND, Sir Robert, 49.
 HASTINGS, Howard, 8, 10.
 HASTINGS, Mrs. Imhoff, 43, 137, 191 &c.
 HASTINGS, Pynaston, 8, 9.
 HASTINGS, Warren, his birth and parentage, 7, 8: his education, 9-11: life in Calcutta, 13-15: at Kásimbázár, 15, 16: a prisoner at large, 16: joins the camp at Falta, 19: his marriage, 19: serves under Clive, 19: at Murshidábád 20: Member of Council in Calcutta, 22: supports Vansittart, 27 &c.: returns home, 39: his scheme of a Persian Professorship, 40: seeks for re-employment, 40: embarks for Madras, 40: his illness and its sequel, 43: second in Council at Madras, 48: his zeal for the Company's interests, 49, 50: his special duties, 51: sails for Calcutta, 55: becomes Governor of Fort William, 57: stands forth as Diwán, 59: resettles the land revenue, 60, 61: reorganises the civil and criminal courts, 62: remodels the Nawáb's household, 63: represses corrupt practices, 63: his multifarious duties, 65: reforms the revenue system, 67: codifies the native law, 68: his measures against the Dakáits, 69-70: and the Sanyásis, 70: helps Kúch Behar, 71: sends Bogle and Turner to Tibet, 71-3: his administrative successes, 73-4: his influence in council, 74-5: his change of policy towards Sháh Alam, 78-80: transfers Kora and Allahábád to Shujá, 81: his agreement with the Wazír, 82: the true key to his policy, 83-5: he is made Governor-General of Bengal, 94: his struggles with the new Councilors, 98-106: his appeals to England, 107: he breaks up the council-meeting, 111: his countercharge against Nanda-Kumár, 114: his sworn declaration before the Judges, 119: his innocence of Nanda-Kumár's death, 120: his letters to Dr. Johnson and Lord Mansfield, 122: he is overruled on matters of foreign policy, 125: rejects Lord Pigot's appeal from Madras, 127: recovers his power on Monson's death, 128: his schemes for extending the Company's power, 133: his successful struggle with Clavering, 136-7: he marries Mrs. Imhoff, 138: makes good use of his casting-vote, 139-140: his efforts to counteract French intrigue at Poona, 141: his instructions to Governor Hornby, 142: his boldness on the outbreak of war, 143: orders Goddard to march to Bombay, 144: his 'frantic military ex-

- plots,' 146: he conciliates the Nizám, 149: confronts new dangers in Southern India, 151-2: his treaty with Sindhia and the Peshwá, 157: his duel with Francis, 164: 'I have power, and will employ it,' 164: his peace-offering to Sir Elijah Impey, 168: his efforts to promote learning and commerce, 170-71: his new Board of Revenue, 171: his letter to Major Scott, 172: his demands on Chait Singh, 174-8: his journey to Benares and its results, 178-80: his treaty with the Wazír at Chanár, 182: his indignant reply to the Court of Directors, 187: he is thanked by the Proprietors, 190: sends envoys to Delhi, 191: parts from Mrs. Hastings, 192: his last journey up the country, 192-4: reviews Colonel Pearse's brigade, 194: his services to art and learning, 195: extent of his work in India, 196-200: his voyage home, 201: becomes owner of Daylesford, 202: his reply to Burke's attack, 203: is impeached before the Lords, 204: appears for trial in Westminster Hall, 205: his manly speech in defence, 207: his acquittal after seven years, 209: receives a pension from the India House, 210: his way of life at Daylesford, 211: his appeal to the new ministry, 213: his reception by the Lords and Commons, 213: honours bestowed on him in his old age, 214: his last years and death, 215.
- HOLWELL, 17, 22.
- HORNBY, Governor of Bombay, 141 &c.
- HUGHES, Admiral Sir Edward, 155.
- HYDE, Judge of Supreme Court, 96.
- IMHOFF, Baron, 43, 195.
- IMHOFF, Baroness, 43-137 (see also Mrs. Hastings).
- IMPEY, Sir Elijah, Chief Justice of Bengal, 10, 96, 115 &c., 166, 168, 188, 192.
- JAFAR ALÍ KHÁN, Nawáb, 19-21, 36.
- JOHNSON, Dr. Samuel, 39, 122.
- KARNATIC, The, 19, 44, 150 &c.
- KÁSIM ALÍ KHÁN, Nawáb, 21-36.
- KÁSIMBÁZÁB, 16, 20.
- KÚCH-BEHAB, 71.
- LALLY, 23.
- LE MAISTRE, Judge of Supreme Court, 96.
- LUCKNOW, 99, 104, 183, 193.
- MACARTNEY, Lord, Governor of Madras, 157, 160, 191.
- MACAULAY, Lord, 11, 26, 39 &c., 108, 117, 168.
- MACLEAN, Colonel, 107, 132.
- MÁDHÁJI SINDHIA, 78, 146-7, 157, 180, 191, 193.
- MÁDHU RAO, Peshwá, 77.
- MANGALORE, Treaty of, 160.
- MANNI BEGAM, 63.
- MANSFIELD, Lord, 68, 122.
- MARÁTHÁS, The, 45 &c., 77, 84 &c., 125-6, 144-7, 157.
- MIDDLETON, Nathaniel, 9, 104, 183.
- MONGHYR, 30 &c.
- MONSON, Colonel, of the Bengal Council, 96 &c., 127.
- MUDÁJÍ, Bhonsla, of Berár, 141, 151.
- MUGHAL EMPIRE, The, 12 and passim.
- MUHAMMAD ALÍ, Nawáb of the Karnatic, 48, 50, 59, 127 &c.
- MUHAMMAD RAZA, Khán, 48, 58, 66 &c.
- MUNRO, Sir Hector, 37, 150, 155.
- MURSHIDÁBÁD, 16, 20 &c.
- MYSORE, 45-7, 147, 158 &c.

- NANDA-KUMÁR, RÁJÁ, 63, 110, 112—118.
NEGAPATAM, 154.
NIZAM ALÍ, 44, 45, 149.
NORTH, Lord, 106, 130-1, 190.
PÁNÍPAT, battle of, 23.
PATNA, 27, 29, 34 &c.
PEARSE, Colonel Thomas, 152, 194.
PIGOT, Lord, Governor of Madras, 127-28.
PITT, William, 190, 194, 202.
PLASSEY, battle of, 19.
PÓLLILÚB, battle of, 154.
PONDICHERRY, 23, 143.
POPHAM, Colonel, 14<sup>b</sup>, 179.
PORTO NOVO, battle of, 154.
PRINCE REGENT, The, 214.
PURANDHAR, Treaty of, 125.
RÁGHUBA, 122, 126 &c.
RÁHMAT KHÁN (Háfiz), 81 &c.
REVENUE, Board of, 171.
ROHILKHAND, 77, 85, 87-89.
ROHILLÁS, The, 77, 83, 86-7.
ROHILLÁ WAR, 86-7.
RUMBOLD, Sir Thomas, 148, 150.
SADR DIWÁNÍ ADÁLAT, 62.
SADR NIZÁMAT ADÁLAT, 62.
SALBÁI, Treaty of, 157.
SANYÁSÍ FAKÍRS, 70-1.
SCOTT, Major John, 170, 204.
SHERIDAN, Richard Brinsley, 204, 206.
SHITÁB RÁI RÁJÁ, 58, 65 &c.
SHUJÁ-UD-DAULÁ, Wazír of Oudh, 37, 41, 81, 85 &c., 104.
SMITH, Colonel, 45.
SUAN, battle of, 23.
SUFFREIN, Admiral, 155.
SULIVAN, Laurence, 55 &c.
SUMMU (Walter Reinhardt), 35-6.
SUPREME COURT, The, 94, 165-9.
SURÁJ-UD-DAULÁ, Viceroy of Bengal, 16, 19,
SURÁT, Treaty of, 123-4.
STEPHEN, Sir J. Fitzjames, 119 &c.
STUART, General, 159.
TANJORE, 127, 155.
THURLOW, Lord Chancellor, 202.
TIBET, Missions to, 73.
TIPÚ, Sultan, 154 &c., 160.
VANSITTART, Governor of Bengal, 20, 22, 30, 31 &c.
WANDIWASH, 153-54.
WARGAON, Convention of, 144.
WATSON, Admiral, 19.
WELLESLEY, Marquis, 213.
WHEELER, of the Bengal Council, 139, 143, 172, 178.
WHITEHILL, Governor of Madras, 150-1.
ZOFFANY, 195.

RULERS OF INDIA

THE CLARENDON PRESS SERIES OF INDIAN HISTORICAL RETROSPECTS

Edited by SIR W. W. HUNTER, K.C.S.I.

Price 2s. 6d. each.

The following volumes have been arranged for:—

- I. ASOKA: and the Political Organisation of Ancient India, by PROFESSOR RHYS-DAVIES, LL.D., Ph.D., Secretary to the Royal Asiatic Society, Professor of Pali and Buddhist Literature at University College, London; Author of The Hibbert Lectures, 1881; Buddhism, &c.
- II. AKBAR: and the Rise of the Mughal Empire, by COLONEL MALLESON, C.S.I., Author of A History of the Indian Mutiny; The History of Afghanistan; Herat, &c. [Published.]
- III. AURANGZEB; and the Decay of the Mughal Empire, by SIR WILLIAM WILSON HUNTER, K.C.S.I., M.A., LL.D.
- IV. *LORD CLIVE*: and the Establishment of the English in India*, by PROFESSOR SEELEY, M.A., Professor of Modern History in the University of Cambridge, Author of The Expansion of England, &c.
- V. DUPLEIX: and the Struggle for India by the European Nations, by COLONEL MALLESON, C.S.I., Author of The History of the French in India, &c. [Published.]
- VI. WARREN HASTINGS: and the Founding of the British Administration, by CAPTAIN L. J. TROTTER, Author of India under Victoria, &c. [Published.]
- VII. THE MARQUESS OF CORNWALLIS: and the Consolidation of British Rule, by W. S. SETON-KARR, Esq., sometime Foreign Secretary to the Government of India. Author of Selections from the Calcutta Gazettes, 3 vols. (1784-1805).
- VIII. RANJIT SINGH: and the Sikh barrier between our Growing Empire and Central Asia, by SIR LEPEL GRIFFIN, K.C.S.I., Author of The Punjab Chiefs, &c.
- IX. MOUNTSTUART ELPHINSTONE: and the Making of South-Western India, by J. S. COTTON, Esq., M.A., formerly Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, Author of The Decennial Statement of the Moral and Material Progress and Condition of India, presented to Parliament (1835), &c.

* The Volumes marked thus (*) are provisionally arranged for.

RULERS OF INDIA SERIES (continued).

- X. LORD WILLIAM BENTINCK: and the Company as a Governing and Non-trading Power, by DEMETRIUS BOULGEE, Esq., Author of England and Russia in Central Asia, The History of China, &c.
- XI. THE MARQUESS OF DALHOUSIE: and the Final Development of the Company's Rule, by SIR WILLIAM WILSON HUNTER, K.C.S.I., M.A. [Published.]
- XII. LORD CLYDE*: and the Suppression of the Great Revolt, by MAJOR-GENERAL SIR OWEN TUDOR BURNE, K.C.S.I., sometime Military Secretary to the Commander-in-Chief in India.
- XIII. EARL CANNING: and the Transfer of India from the Company to the Crown, by SIR HENRY S. CUNNINGHAM, K.C.I.E., M.A., Author of British India and its Rulers, &c.
- XIV. THE EARL OF MAYO*: and the Consolidation of the Queen's Rule in India, by SIR WILLIAM WILSON HUNTER, K.C.S.I., M.A.

---

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS WAREHOUSE, AMEN CORNER, LONDON,
AND ALL BOOKSELLERS. Price 2s. 6d. each volume.

---

Opinions of the Press

ON

SIR WILLIAM HUNTER'S 'DALHOUSIE.'

'An interesting and exceedingly readable volume. . . . Sir William Hunter has produced a valuable work about an important epoch in English history in India, and he has given us a pleasing insight into the character of a remarkable Englishman. The "Rulers of India" series, which he has initiated, thus makes a successful beginning in his hands with one who ranks among the greatest of the great names which will be associated with the subject.'—The Times.

'To no one is the credit for the improved condition of public intelligence [regarding India] more due than to Sir William Hunter. From the beginning of his career as an Indian Civilian he has devoted a rare literary faculty to the task of enlightening his countrymen on the subject of England's greatest dependency. . . . By inspiring a small army of fellow-labourers with his own spirit, by inducing them to conform to his own method, and shaping a huge agglomeration of facts into a lucid and intelligible system, Sir W. Hunter has brought India and its innumerable interests within the pale of achievable knowledge, and has given definite shape to the truths which its history establishes and the problems which it suggests. . . . Such contributions to literature are apt to be taken as a matter of course, because their highest merit is to conceal the labour, and skill, and knowledge involved in their production; but they raise the whole level of public intelligence, and generate an atmosphere in which the baleful influences of folly, ignorance, prejudice, and presumption dwindle and disappear. . . . No one we think, who fairly studies Sir W. Hunter's exact and lucid narrative of these transactions, can question the result which he seeks to establish—namely, that Lord Dalhousie merely carried out with moderation and skill a policy deliberately adopted by the Government before his arrival in the country—a policy the strict legality of which cannot be disputed, and which was inspired by the growing sense that sovereigns exist, not for their own enjoyment, but for the happiness of their subjects.'—Saturday Review.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS ON 'DALHOUSIE' (continued).

'Admirably calculated to impart in a concise and agreeable form a clear general outline of the history of our great Indian Empire.'—Economist.

'A skilful and most attractive picture. . . . The author has made good use of public and private documents, and has enjoyed the privilege of being aided by the deceased statesman's family. His little work is, consequently, a valuable contribution to modern history.'—Academy.

'The book should command a wide circle of readers, not only for its author's sake and that of its subject, but partly at least on account of the very attractive way in which it has been published at the moderate price of half-a-crown. But it is, of course, by its intrinsic merits alone that a work of this nature should be judged. And those merits are everywhere conspicuous. . . . A writer whose thorough mastery of all Indian subjects has been acquired by years of practical experience and patient research.'—The Athenaeum.

'Never have we been so much impressed by the great literary abilities of Sir William Hunter as we have been by the perusal of The Marquess of Dalhousie. . . . The knowledge displayed by the writer of the motives of Lord Dalhousie's action, of the inner working of his mind, is so complete, that Lord Dalhousie himself, were he living, could not state them more clearly. In the next place the argument throughout the book is so lucid, based so entirely upon facts, resting upon official documents and other evidences not to be controverted, that the opponents of Lord Dalhousie's policy will be sorely put to it to make a case against him. . . . Sir William Hunter's style is so clear, his language so vivid, and yet so simple, conveying the impressions he wishes so perspicuously that they cannot but be understood, that the work must have a place in every library, in every house, we might say indeed every cottage.'—Evening News.

'Sir William Hunter has written an admirable little volume on "The Marquess of Dalhousie" for his series of the "Rulers of India." It can be read at a sitting, yet its references—expressed or implied—suggest the study and observation of half a life-time.'—The Daily News.

'A brilliantly written account of the life and work of that able ruler of men, the Marquis of Dalhousie. . . . A very remarkable and excellent volume.'—Asiatic Quarterly Review.

Opinions of the Press

ON

COLONEL MALLESON'S 'AKBAR.'

'Colonel Malleison's interesting monograph on Akbar in the "Rulers of India" (Clarendon Press) should more than satisfy the general reader. Colonel Malleison traces the origin and foundation of the Mughal Empire; and, as an introduction to the history of Muhammadan India, the book leaves nothing to be desired.'—St. James's Gazette.

'Colonel Malleison has done well to tell his story succinctly and sympathetically. Akbar was certainly a great man; and the great man will show himself great in spite of creed and tradition.'—Nonconformist.

'The chief interest of the book lies in the later chapters, in which Colonel Malleison presents an interesting and singularly pleasing picture of the great Emperor himself and the principles which governed his enlightened and humane administration.'—Literary World.

'It is almost superfluous to say that the book is characterised by the narrative vigour and the extensive familiarity with Indian history to which the readers of Colonel Malleison's other works are accustomed.'—Glasgow Herald.

'This volume will, no doubt, be welcomed, even by experts in Indian history, in the light of a new, clear, and terse rendering of an old, but not worn-out theme. It is a worthy and valuable addition to Sir. W. Hunter's promising series.'—Athenæum.

'Colonel Malleison has broken ground new to the general reader. The story of Akbar is briefly but clearly told, with an account of what he was and what he did, and how he found and how he left India . . . The native chronicles of the reign are many, and from them it is still possible, as Colonel Malleison has shown, to construct a living portrait of this great and mighty potentate.'—Scots Observer.

---

Opinions of the Press

ON

COLONEL MALLESON'S 'DUPELIX.'

'In the character of Dupleix there was the element of greatness that contact with India seems to have generated in so many European minds, French as well as English, and a broad capacity for government, which, if suffered to have full play, might have ended in giving the whole of Southern India to France. Even as it was, Colonel Malleison shows how narrowly the prize slipped from French grasp. In 1783 the Treaty of Versailles arrived just in time to save the British power from extinction.'—Times.

'Colonel Malleison's Life of Dupleix, which has been just published, though his estimate of his hero differs in some respects from Lord Stanhope's and Lord Macaulay's, may be accepted as, on the whole, a fairly faithful portraiture of the prophetic genius to whom the possibility of a great Indo-European Empire first revealed itself. Had the French profited by all the advantages they possessed when Clive exchanged the counting-house for the army, the history of India, and perhaps of Europe also, might have been different.'—Standard (leading article).

Works by Captain Trotter.

STUDIES IN BIOGRAPHY.

'Captain Trotter has a ready pen and a keen appreciation of character.'—Notes and Queries.

'Extremely well written and entertaining biographies.'—Public Opinion.

'Sensible, clear and fluent.'—Spectator.

'The study of Pitt is wellnigh exhaustive.'—Westminster Review.

'Captain Trotter writes fluently and thinks worthily.'—Pall Mall Gazette.

'Thoughtful and discriminating papers.'—Dublin Univ. Magazine.

HISTORY OF INDIA UNDER QUEEN VICTORIA,

FROM 1836 TO 1880 (2 vols.).

'His chapters are never dull, and are often picturesque.'—Graphic.

'Clearly, ably, and brightly written.'—Truth.

'The generous and liberal spirit which animates the writer.'—Blackwood's Magazine.

'He writes flowingly and is never dull. By clear exposition and a light touch he contrives to make even his less attractive topics interesting.'—English Historical Review.

'No part of these volumes will be read with greater interest than the story of the Mutiny; it is told simply and with much force.'—Saturday Review.

'There is no other record of the same period so complete, so full, so easily intelligible, and so easily read.'—Scotsman.

'Numerous as are the histories of India dealing with this period . . . we do not hesitate to say that none approaches this one in completeness, accuracy, and intense and sustained interest.'—Literary World.

HISTORY OF INDIA FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES.

NEW EDITION, REVISED AND ENLARGED (1 vol.).

'This is a new and enlarged edition of a book which, in its original form, was undoubtedly one of the most popular histories of India that had yet been written.'—Home News.

(For notices of the first edition see Times, Spectator, Saturday Review, Academy, Brit. Quarterly Review, &c.)

LIFE OF THE MARQUIS OF DALHOUSIE.

'This valuable addition to popular literature.'—Athenaeum.

'Captain Trotter is not the first writer who has vindicated his [Dalhousie's] memory; but he has done it fearlessly and well.'—Saturday Review.

WARREN HASTINGS: A BIOGRAPHY.

'As a piece of literary work this book has high merits. . . . It is a valuable contribution to history, and should be read by every one as a corrective to Macaulay.'—World.