NOTICE.

1619

THE present History has been drawn up chiefly for the lower forms in schools, at the request of several teachers who require for their pupils a more elementary book than the Author's larger History of Greece. It is accompanied by a similiar History of Rome, and will be followed by one of England.

The Table of Contents presents a full analysis of the work, and has been so arranged that the teacher can frame from it questions for the examination of his class, the answers to which will be found in the corresponding pages of the volume.

The restorations of Athens with its Acropolis and harbours, have been designed by Mr. P. W. Justyne.

AN ANCIENT HISTORY FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES to the FALL of the WESTERN EMPIRE: forming the First Period of the 'History of the World.' By PHILIP SMITH, B.A., one of the Principal Contributors to Dr. Smith's Classical Dictionaries.

For the first time in English literature, the reader has before him, in the moderate compass of Three Volumes, a complete ANCIENT HISTORY, from the Creation of the World to the Fall of the Western Empire of Rome, treated as a continuous narrative, and with unity of purpose. The work embraces the whole period of nearly 4500 years. In traversing so large a space of human history, it has been the author's aim to condense and arrange the facts without reducing them to bare annals, and to suggest their leading lessons without encumbering his pages with controversy or moralising.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"His points of transition are well chosen, and his wide and various panorama of principalities, powers, and dominions, clearly arranged. He has availed himself liberally of the new lights thrown by recent discovery and philology, upon the annals of the East, and in all that relates to the Oriental empires and African kingdoms or republics (if, indeed, that term can be applied to the timocratic, or perhaps ploutocratic Carthage: his work is far in advance of any Ancient History in our language."—Saturday Review.

"The style of the volumes is sustained with the equal tone of a single, able, unimpassioned and dignified historian throughout."—Athenaeum.

the Earliest Times to the Death of Commodus. Twenty-third Thousand. 100 Illustrations. Small 8vo. 7s. 6d.

"The most prominent feature in the work is, as it appears to us, the great labour bestowed on the earlier portion, the development of the constitution, and the struggle between the two estates. While the difficulties of this subject are fairly grappled with, the discussion is not overlaid with a needless display of abstruse learning, useless, and therefore mischievous, in a work designed for Schools. To the complete success of this effort to render intelligible to boys this most important, if not very attractive part of Roman history, we can testify from our own experience."—Cautional Times.

New Latin Exercises

ANALYTICAL LATIN EXERCISES. I.

C. P. MASON, B.A., Fellow of University College, London. 12mo. 3s. 6d., cloth.

These Exercises are based, as regards the Accidence, on the Crude Form system, which is so applied that the work may be used in connexion with any of the best school grammars in current use. The study of the Accidence is succeeded by a systematic development of the formation and meaning of compound and derived words. The general object of the book is to give the learner a clear understanding of the formation and sense of the words of the Latin language, and of the constructions in which they are employed.
