

The Chronicles of the EAST INDIA COMPANY
trading to CHINA

1635-1834

By HOSEA BALLOU MORSE, LL.D.

VOL. III

THE scope of this work is exactly indicated by its title. The English trade between Canton and London was preserved as a strict monopoly for the benefit of the United Company of Merchants of England Trading to the East Indies, commonly referred to as the Honourable (English) East India Company. From the Canton records, in which we have a graphic representation of the doings of the Company's agents in China, every fact has been extracted which could be of economic value to the student of the commercial history of the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries.
