 At Harrow, 552-574, 1404-1408, 1116 and note.
 Described by the Rev. C. Evans, of Rugby; would have all the boys educated in classics, French, and mathematics, up to the Fifth Form; would have two Sixth Forms, one for the prosecution of classics, while in the other Greek and versification should give way to extra mathematics, modern languages, history, and physical science, 1229-1272, 2260-2276; analogy of this with the Cambridge system, 1302-1305; opinion that it might be done easily in new schools, and without much difficulty in old ones, 1229-1263, 1283-1301, 1305-1309, 1330-1356; in the Second Sixth the boys fall off in scholar three times as numerous as the admissions, 391 et seq., 1031-1036.

At Shrewsbury, 832-843.

Eton College:

- Preparation for, 3845-3852 ; opinions as to whether progressive or otherwise, 3269 et seq., 5421-5499, 8855 et seq.
Provost of, should be in orders, 5526-5530, 5620-5622, 843-871 ; his influence beneficial, 3653-3658 ; Head Master obstructed by him, 8210-8216, 3090 et seq., 9530-9538 ; election of Provost by fellows, 783-785 ; election of Provost by congrég d'élire, 5526-5530 ; interference of the Crown a usurpation, 786-823 et seq. ; election of Vice-Provost, bursar, scholars, &c., 931-940 ; duties, powers, and restrictions of the Provost, 3659-3671 ; relations with Head Master healthy, 3782-3787, 3793-3797. The Provost in important matters would consult the Fellows, 3659-3667 ; Eton system consists of deputing authority from Provost to Master, Master to Master, and Master to boy, 3788-3800. Opinions that the boys are well trained and accomplished, 5536-5540, 8594-8596 ; that the education is satisfactory, though capable of improvement, 5106-5116 ; but that grammar and composition are not sufficiently attended to, 5556-5559 ; that literary distinction is less valued at Eton than at Harrow, 8201-8207 ;
that the scholarship is not so good as formerly, 9050-9084, 8119-8149, 8165-8180 ; and that the boys from Eton are less successful at the matriculation examination for Christchurch than boys from the smaller and less fashionable schools ; West, 190-217, 241-255 ;
opinions notwithstanding that the time at Eton is advantageously passed, E., 8875 et seq. ; overwhelming preponderance of Cambridge over Oxford men among the Masters, which places Eton boys on a disadvantage in the competition for the Balliol scholarship with candidates from Marlborough or Rugby, E., 8169.

Fagging:

- At Eton, 7521 et seq., 9103 et seq., 4643-4702, 7213-7240, 5793-5830; scarcely to be regarded as objectionable, 9103-9358, 8441-8453; at cricket, abolished, 2965 et seq.
- At Westminster College, variously spoken of, 995-997, 1240-1269, 2160-2193, 465-471; described by Mr. Meyrick as oppressive, degrading, and brutal, its effect on his son being to destroy his health, render visits to Brighton for change advisable, and ultimately necessitate his withdrawal from school, 2476-2583; described by the son himself in great detail, 2586 et seq.; by another boy, 2949 et seq.; fagging interferes with school-work, 2682-2685, 2736-2738, 1250 et seq.; contrary opinions, 2966-2976; practically no appeal, 2811-2817, 3256-3274; as to counter benefit in protection from bullying, 2582 et seq.; punishments, 2601 et seq., 2977 et seq.; it is a tradition of the school that fagging was formerly worse, 2892 et seq.; fagging would not be objected to if under the superintendence of the masters, 2921 et seq.; an increase of servants would enable fagging to be abolished, 2907-2917, 3082-3089, 3277-3281; complaint of the Meyricks, father and son, replied to by the Rev. W. Scott, the Head Master; some of their statements alleged to be untrue, others to arise from misconceptions; some admitted to be well grounded, and the practices at once prohibited; some of the matters complained of he vindicates, 3373 et seq. at great length; letter of the Rev. Mr. Ingram, also impugning some of the statements of the Meyricks, p. 521; evidence of Mr. Alan Stewart, a colleague, that these complaints are mainly exaggerations, and that the fagging, generally speaking, is not over severe, 3303 et seq.
- At Winchester, for prefects only, 1097-1107, 1556-1981, 755-764, 1397-1408, 1534-1544; at cricket and games, 1134-1146, 1155-1158, 1556-1981, 765-781.
- At St. Paul's, none, 545.
- At Charterhouse, right to fag only conferred by master, who would withdraw it if abused, 1555-1561; description of fagging, 1562-1595, 938-952, 1045 et seq.; description of fagging by a junior boy, including fire fagging and cocks-fagging, 1700 et seq.; not abused or disliked, 1562 et seq.; a master protects his fag, 1604 et seq.
- At Merchant Taylors', none, 732-751, 806, 632 et seq.
- At Harrow, 288-291, 990-992; confined to Sixth Form, and scarcely objectionable, 705 et seq., 990 et seq., 1944-1946, 1623-1626, 1646-1650; cricket fagging, 757, 2020-2024, 1668-1675.
- At Rugby, by the Sixth Form, 2023, 2024, 2112 et seq., 1528 et seq., 1616-1636; not menial or extensive, 970-976; cricket fagging, 1630-1636; at games, 977-992, 1630-1636; gross abuse would come to the knowledge of the masters, 993-999; study fagging, 1619-1629.
- At Shrewsbury, only by the 12 preceptors; is very moderate, neither extensive nor menial, 1057-1064, 636-645.

- French introduced by the late Provost, about half the boys take it up, but it does not tell in the school, 3801-3806; French masters cannot keep discipline, 5217-5241, 3809-3811, 2367-2485, 6972-6977.
- German and French, 6072 et seq., 3735-3745, 6878 et seq.
Italian, 3735 et seq.
The Albert prize for modern languages, 6072 et seq., 3735-3745, 6978 et seq.
- At Winchester, French taught effectively, 864-918, 1268 et seq., 328-346; the boys pronounce well, 585 et seq.; some speak well, 867 et seq.; more time required for it, 867 et seq., 1470-1480, 1490-1492.
- German taught, 1268 et seq., 328-346, 1470 et seq.; more might be done in modern languages and physical science without trenching on classics or recreation, 1530-1533.
- At Westminster, French is obligatory, 949, 1023-1027, 1037-1055, 1072-1074, 2384-2401, 437; but not popular, 440-452; French master has little difficulty in managing the boys, 440-452. Latin the foundation of modern languages, 949.
- No demand for German, 437-439.
- At Charterhouse, French is taught, boys read average French books and newspapers, but do not converse well, 1652-1663, 475-481, 495-498, 489 et seq., 499-502, 507-509, 699-719, 668 et seq.
- German also taught, 229-239, 491-494, 503-517, 735, 741-748, 1195 et seq., 710 et seq.
- Boys regard modern languages as inferior to classics and mathematics, 699 et seq.
- At St. Paul's, French is taught to all except boys whose parents desire their sole attention to be given to classics and mathematics, 1052 et seq., 826-831, 302 et seq.; details of the teaching, and its satisfactory results, 340-394.
- German not taught, 832.
- At Merchant Taylors', French introduced in 1646, 455; taught well, and prizes given for it, 906-924, 74-187, 450-468; but not much esteemed, 906 et seq.; more time wanted for it, 1105 et seq.; extent of French acquired, 96 et seq.; less interest in French than in classics, 140-143.
- German not taught, 908.
- At Harrow, French or German compulsory since 1857, 374-404, 1802-1806, 1828-1831, 1415-1463; boys can be taught to read, but not to speak fluently, 374-404, 846-848, 1977-1993; progress satisfactory, 843-845, 1415-1463; but looked down upon, 1977-1993; a foreign master finds no difficulty as to discipline, 1467-1470.
- At Rugby, 1209-1218, 2228 et seq., 1484-1496, 99-120, 125-192, 287-310, 629-637, 640-675, 1061 et seq., 1851-1905, 1405-1412; better taught at Rugby than abroad, 1490-1493; pronunciation, 1209-1213, 1468-1470, 287-310, 1851-1884; conversation classes not taken up heartily, the time is taken from the games, 1420-1432, 2228-2257, 1433-1465, 1480 et seq., 1874, 1889; some boys well up in French, 1433-1465; no difficulty as to discipline, 1466 et seq., 237-310, 1851-1884.
- At Shrewsbury, French well taught, 1233-1246, 186 et seq., 244 et seq.; and as part of the curriculum, 981-985; but not considered in the general examinations, 499 et seq.; prizes, 499 et seq.; French master's position the same as that of other masters, 186 et seq.
- German taught, 1247 et seq., 186 et seq., 253 et seq.; fair progress made, 943 et seq.; it is optional, 981-985.
- Modern languages require more time, 981 et seq.

General evidence:

At Oxford, Gen. Ev. Max Müller, 1-6; since Royal Artillery and Indian Civil Service have been thrown open to competition the attainments of boys in modern languages have greatly improved, but the boys who carry off the Taylorian prizes are sons of foreign parents, or boys who have enjoyed special advantages with regard to the acquisition of foreign languages, 7-19; details as to learning French and German, 20 et seq.; also other modern languages, 153 et seq.

Masters:

At Eton, Head Master should be in orders, though this is not required by the statutes, 872-878; with Provost, governs the school, 942 et seq.; his power and duties, 1148-1210, 1812-1819, 1826-1832, 1836 et seq.; is overworked, 5192; remedy for this, 3773-3779; opinion regarding an addition to the masters, 5193 et seq., 5480-5485, 5506-5508; Classical Masters, 2058 et seq., 5508 et seq., 6153 et seq., 1871 et seq., 2640-2643, 6327-6331; they are all Eton men, 2078-2089, 3250-3260, 6015-6029, 6030-6055, 6043-6048, 5518-5525, 5531-5535, 3763, 2090-2133, 6470-6485, 4223-4235, 4238-4241, 6732-6738; they are all overworked, 3788-5213, 5487, 8122-8149, 8181-8187; Lower Master, 5939 et seq.; his power and duties, 1210-1227; proportion of masters to boys, 3406-3419, 5940 et seq., 5488 et seq.; Mathematical Masters, their status, lower than that of the Classical Masters; they have less power, and less respect is shown to them, 3432-3492, 7773 et seq., 1960-2053, 2059-2077, 6722-6731, 6747-6753, 5117-5122, 4258-4302, 4312-4314, 6043-6048, 1918-1959, 2034-2037, 6261-6326, 6332-6469; Assistants, 6009-6022, 3761-3764, 1871 et seq.; Lower, 6059 et seq., 6156 et seq.; French, 3508-3547, 5217-5241, 6240 et seq., 3532 et seq.; German, 3832 et seq.

At Winchester, 1265-1267, 177-181, 210-222, 542-605; appointed by Warden, 347 et seq. to a great extent.

At Westminster, 1695 et seq., 551-568.

At Charterhouse, 98-113, 175-190, 219-221; their duties defined by the statutes, 194-214, 161-174; Head Master and Second Master must be Catholics, 181 et seq., 188-190; Head, has not sufficient control over the internal arrangements of the school, 1140-1142.

At St. Paul's, 399-406, 418-429, 609 et seq.; all elected annually, 154-163; another wanted, 418 et seq., 609 et seq.; High Master at St. Paul's elected annually, 302-314, 399-406; practically he directs and governs the school, but is entirely under the corporation of the Mercers' Company, 315-323; no difficulty in procuring masters at present salaries, 417; the existing non-responsibility of the school authorities for the boys out of school, morally disadvantageous to the pupils, 186-189.

At Merchant Taylors, must be Protestants, 69-73; prohibition of Roman Catholics not the rule but practice, 348-350; their number and salaries, 256-271, 282-312; no difficulty in providing masters at existing emoluments, 282-293; discipline, 344, 345; Head Master cannot introduce a new subject of education without consulting the Corporation, 440 et seq.; his power otherwise absolute, 440-447.

At Harrow, Head Master has the de facto responsibility of the school, but is removable by the Trustees, 29 et seq., 43-51, 325-333.

At Rugby, 210-224, 344-346; all University men except one foreign language master, 344-346; no preference given to Rugby men, 344-346. Power of Head Master, 133-135, 146-151.

At Shrewsbury, all the masters are University men, except the modern languages masters, 273-276; Head Master has entire direction of the school, 263 et seq., 270-272, 326-328, 449-454.

Mathematical Masters:

(See Masters, &c., under the various school headings.)

Mathematics:

At Eton, 7919 et seq., 5418 et seq., 6480-6563, 6583-6590; details of teaching, 3832, 8604-8613, 9366, 9441-9447; lower status of masters, 5472-5479, 6564-6582, 8624-8625; former treatment of mathematical masters prejudicial to the study of mathematics, 6705-6719, 6261-6326.

At Winchester, 1283-1288, 285-288, 1481.

At Westminster, introduced in 1828, 945-947, 565, 574-577, 1020-1071, 2305-2310, 437-439; less efficient than classics in mental training, 1056-1064; private work prize, 2311-2315.

At Charterhouse, compulsory, and well taught, 1672-1675, 445 et seq., 475-485, 495-498, 310-514, 702, 666 et seq., 1144-1151, 1170-1189; tell in promotions, 510-514; private instruction, 1679-1682; great improvement recently in mathematical learning, 1160-1163, 1195 et seq.; as much time given to mathematics as can be spared, 1160 et seq.; no difficulty in arranging the school so as not to interfere with classics, 1190-1194.

Mathematics—continued.

- At St. Paul's, taught to all, but subordinate to classics, 335-387, 211-225, 845-870; schools for mathematical purposes differently classified, 211-217; Paulines obtaining honours at Cambridge, rather few of late, 845-870; mathematical master has not the status of a resident master, 218 et seq.; sufficient weight not given to mathematics; opinion that making two mathematical marks equal to one classical, would give what is desired, 262-285.
- At Taylors', 874-896; encouraged, 321-336, 469-1105-1119; Merchant Taylors' men think most of sciences, but occasionally become wranglers, 874-885; scientists in mathematics must learn drawing, 71 et seq., 321-327.
- At Harrow, introduced in 1845, and now studied in real earnest, 372-384, 1269 et seq., 1865 et seq., 1804-1806, 1392-1403; result satisfactory, 1998-2005, 1304 et seq., 1341-1358, 1389-1391, 1870-1876, 1409-1415; but for further progress more time is wanted if it could be obtained, 1304 et seq., 1359-1364, 1389-1391.
- At Rugby, mode of teaching, 1310-1330, 2274-2284, 2259-2306, 125-132, 628-637, 664-676, 1037-1048, 1362, 1363; strongest in classics generally the strongest in mathematics, 1326-1344; private tuition, 1345-1349, 2274-2279, 781-808, 814-828.
- At Shrewsbury, mathematics are part of the curriculum, and compulsory; range from arithmetic to the differential calculus; time devoted to them four hours a week, 902-919, 240-244; do not conflict with other teaching, 922 et seq.; marks given for them same as for classics, 924-927; progress, 928-931; examinations in, 931 et seq.; best mathematicians are generally average classical scholars, 933-936; their value as a complement to classical and non-collegiate education, 695 et seq.

General Evidence:

- Mathematics proper to be known by a boy of 18, Airy, 30-40, and to be learned afterwards, 47-87; opinion that without disturbing classical learning as the basis of English education at the public schools, there is no difficulty in superadding mathematics and science, Airy, 101-105.

- At Westminster, 2110-2114, 3135-3205, 1200-1220, 1230-1239, 2081-2107; punishments by, 1200-1220, 1230-1239, 1282-1285, 2081 et seq.
- At Charterhouse, 1516-1516, 164-167, 410, 929-937, 1013-1017, 1059-1062, 2118 et seq.; power of punishment, 1516-1543; no complaint against the system, 1544-1546; Dr. Rell's system and its result, 545-560.
- At St. Paul's, regarded as satisfactory, 526-532; the 8th, or highest class, are monitors, 526-532, 704-714; no monitorial supervision out of school, and boys would be about town while supposed to be at cricket, 553-558, 717-734.
- At Merchant Taylors', 721 et seq., 852-872, 619-630, 1004-1007, 1011-1013; monitors inflicted no punishment, but brought any complaint before the masters, 721 et seq.
- At Harrow, the first 15 of the Sixth Form boys are monitors, under the head of the school, 707-750, 1499-1507, 1593 et seq., 1607-1611, 1538 et seq., 1580 et seq., 1836-1845; satisfactory, and a protection against bullying, 742 et seq., 907-937, 1883-1920, 1517 et seq., 1568 et seq., 1596-1634; right of appeal against punishment, 921-951, 1906-1928, 1517 et seq., 1583-1589, 1604-1607, 1612-1634; a monitor removed or degraded, or both, 948-951, 1542-1545, 1607-1611; power of head of the school, 1508-1516, 1538 et seq.
- At Rugby, power of checking offences and immorality and preserving order vested in the Sixth Form; punishments of coming and imposition by the Sixth Form; abuse of this power kept in check by appeal; power of Sixth Form useful in preventing bullying by the big boys, and settling little school matters without interference of the masters, 1124-1142, 1976-1981, 1935-2002, 868 et seq., 900-869, 1512-1520, 1530, 1538-1541, 1528 et seq., 1542-1572; and it is popular, 1976-1981, 868 et seq.
- At Shrewsbury, the Sixth Form are preceptors, their duties are undefined; they are supposed to look after boys, and check out of school boys doing wrong, with power only traditional to punish by imposition and the cane, 1012-1022, 249-251, 322-325, 622-632; monitors obtain rank by literary ability, 605-607; wear a hat as proof of confidence, 608-611.

- Music as part of education:
At Eton, 5418-5420, 5472-5479, 2818-2824, 6646-6677, 4148-4150, 4562-4574, 4750, 9516 et seq. Hullah's system tried, 6646-6677.
- At Westminster, taught occasionally by Mr. Turle, the organist, at the Abbey, 1155 et seq., 1157-1163.
- At Shrewsbury, 576-579.
- Mutilated children:
Excluded from competition for Eton foundation, the reason, 1258-1279.

N.Natural Science:

- At Eton, taught only by lectures, 2585, 2586, 6591-6643, 4750, 3548-3600, 7822-7832.
- At Winchester, 1290-1305, 930-965, 481; important as knowledge, but not as an instrument of mental training, 481-520.
- At Westminster, 231-240.
- At Charterhouse, taught only a few years, 1676-1679, 1214-1226, 1225-1241, 1195 et seq.; at present chemistry is taught in lectures, 1676-1679, 486 et seq., 518, 519, 639 et seq., 1222-1224; boys should begin early, 1242-1253; charge for science, 1254 et seq.; learning science has a tendency to increase a love of knowledge generally, 1195-1211.
- At Harrow, is no part of the regular study of the school, 344-350; but is examined for, 405-411; and prizes awarded, 1807-1827, 1832-1835.
- At Rugby, 2285-2288, 125-132, 2295-2297, 1037-1048, 1885-1888, 1902-1905, 1357-1414; chemistry and laboratory, 1374-1384.

Tutorial System:

At Eton, described and approved, 5793 et seq., 3271-3332, 3386-3395, 3353-3359, 3363-3368, 3383-3385, 8646-3647, 5903-5912, 3895-3901, 3966-3999, 1803-1811, 2299 et seq., 2308-2316, 2533-2545, 2751-2776, 5007-5027, 4303-4311, 4476-4502, 8486-8513, 8540-8545, 9016-9049; charge for private tuition and board, 3911 et seq.; payment to tutors apparently inconsistent with gratuitous education, but it is by consent, 1414-1449; opinion that the tutors do too much, the boys too little, 8122-8149.

At Harrow, 140-145, 193-197, 430-454, 467-469, 476, 455-466, 470-529, 815-817, 787-791, 1957-1968, 1738-1749, 1382-1388, 1127-1133; private tutor stands in loco parentis to his pupils, 787-833, 1735-1737, 1185-1220.

Tuition, Private:

At Winchester, exceptional, 1195-1237; but increasing, 438-447, 625-656, 1435-1453.

At Westminster, abolished by Dean Liddell, 148-167, 907 et seq., 943-980, 406-413; none at Westminster for 250 years, 597-600; advantages of moral superintendence obtained from the boarding masters, 168-172; Eton system approved, 966-968; still exists to a small extent, 1682-1694.

At Charterhouse, exceptional, 1635-1644, 796-822, 670 et seq.

At St. Paul's, none, 446 et seq., 756 et seq.

At Merchant Taylors', none, 788-808, 381-386; boy tuition, 557-566, 1006-1004.
