

THE MAN A WOMAN MARRIES

By

VICTOR COX PEDERSEN

M.D., A.M., F.A.C.S.

AUTHOR OF "THE WOMAN A MAN MARRIES"

JARROLDS Publishers LONDON
Limited, 34 Paternoster Row, E.C.4

THE MAN A WOMAN MARRIES

*Some Press Extracts
Concerning the Companion Volume*

THE WOMAN A
MAN MARRIES

By the same author.

Times.—"Dr. Pedersen writes to impart knowledge of a scientific and social nature to those who need it most: the women who consider ignorance and innocence synonymous when applied to sexual mysteries. He writes sensibly and unobjectionably."

Lancet.—"The method of exposition combines a presentation of the alleged basic scientific facts of sex with a narration of case-histories of marital disharmonies."

Medical Times.—"The author shows how ignorance of sex matters is often the stumbling-block to happy wedlock, and discusses in straightforward language ignorance of biology and physiology, of social development and conditions, of venereal disease, of marriage, and of the relief. Dr. Pedersen has evidently bestowed much care and thought in the preparation of this book."

Sheffield Independent.—"His views on marriage may come as a shock in one sense to some idealists, but Dr. Pedersen is a realist who takes life as it is, and every woman who is married, or who contemplates marriage, would do well to ponder this striking book."

Yorkshire Post.—"Includes a good deal of valuable information on the technique of sex which is not always as well known as it should be either by the married or those about to marry, and the facts themselves, although selected and arranged in a fashion dictated by strong prejudice, are presented frankly and without offence."

This work is dedicated to those men who still accept as their most noble and exacting duties the foundation and protection of the home ; the reverence of personal and familiar obligations ; the relief of human suffering ; the correction of error in society ; the promotion of all effort toward human betterment, social, economic, moral and spiritual ; and finally fealty and homage toward fatherhood, motherhood and childhood, as the greatest aspirations and inspirations of life.

CONTENTS

PROBLEM I		PAGE
CONSIDERATION IN HUMAN NATURE .		II
PROBLEM II
CONSIDERATION IN SOCIAL PROGRESS .		45
PROBLEM III
CONSIDERATION IN SOCIAL CONDITIONS .		89
PROBLEM IV
CONSIDERATION IN SOCIAL DISEASES .		135
PROBLEM V
CONSIDERATION IN MARRIAGE . . .		181
PROBLEM VI
CONSIDERATION IN RESTORATION . .		233