A Exclusive of officers on leave from Bengal; whilst those of Madras and Bombay are included.

B Madras and Bombay staff corps officers are included, but those of Bengal are excluded, excepting such as are serving with the regiments to which they may be attached, also Bengal officers attached to Civil Force; officers on leave as in Note A.

C Includes European troops, of Bombay Presidency only, serving in Abyssinia.

D Includes the Native troops of all three Presidencies, serving in Abyssinia.

E In 1868 Bengal and Bombay regiments received augmentation, nearly the whole of which was struck off in the following year, leaving the supernumeraries to be absorbed.

Note.—The figures contained in the above and following statements have been taken from the Returns of the Adjutant-General, but when the information regarding certain regiments is not given by that officer, for the same date, then the particulars supplied by the Quarter-Master-General have been taken to show the strength:—

The above and following statements, though differing from similar returns furnished in previous volumes of this work, approximate more closely to accuracy than heretofore, inasmuch as the information has been compiled from results derived by the operations of a committee specially appointed to investigate military finance, which results have been as carefully extracted as the incomplete nature of the military returns received from India would permit.
