PATRICK GEDDES
IN INDIA

Edited by
JAQUELINE TYRWHITT
A.I.LA., A.M.T.P.I

with an Introduction by LEWIS MUMFORD

and a Preface by
H. V. LANCHESTER

LONDON
LUND HUMPHRIES
1947
The extracts from Professor Sir Patrick Geddes's official Reports on Indian Cities in 1915-19 were selected and edited in co-operation with H. V. Lanchester and Arthur Geddes

Photographs by Anthony Denney
Contents

INTRODUCTION by Lewis Mumford .......................... page 7

Preface by H. V. Lanchester ................................ 14

THE GEDDES OUTLOOK ....................................... 22

THE DIAGNOSTIC SURVEY ..................................... 24

CONSERVATIVE SURGERY ...................................... 40

A SOCIOLOGICAL APPROACH .................................. 60

PLANNING FOR HEALTH ...................................... 66

OPEN SPACE AND TREES ....................................... 84

MAHARAJAH FOR A DAY by P. Boardman ................. 96

BIBLIOGRAPHY .................................................. 102

ILLUSTRATIONS

Patrick Geddes in Indore 1919 .............................. Frontispiece

Plate Numbers 1–9 ............................................... facing page 32

Plate Numbers 10–20 ........................................... ,, ,, 64

Plate Numbers 21–32 ........................................... ,, ,, 80

Diagrams A, B and C ........................................... pages 42, 43

Diagrams D and E ............................................... ,, 50, 51

Diagrams F and G ............................................... ,, 54, 55
EDITOR’S NOTE

The passages in this book represent a fraction of the writings of Patrick Geddes between 1915 and 1919, drawn from reports that he made on eighteen Indian cities. His work was commissioned both by British Governors and by Indian Rulers. Many more reports are known to have been written, some of which are said to remain, still in typescript, in the pigeon-holes of India.

The first selection of material was made by Dr. H. V. Lanchester. The task was then to choose passages that clearly illustrated the practical application of those town planning principles for which Patrick Geddes stood.

Particular places are not deliberately identified with any particular comment, unless necessary to illustrate the general argument—as in the plans illustrating methods of ‘conservative surgery.’

Patrick Geddes wrote as he thought and the actual wording of many passages could only be understood with difficulty, especially after they had been uprooted from their context. With the approval and assistance of Dr. Arthur Geddes, his son, these passages have been edited, but Patrick Geddes’s picturesque style has not been wilfully altered.

The illustrations were taken by Anthony Denney, on war service in India, and show that persistent loveliness and vitality Patrick Geddes so much admired.

Association for Planning and Regional Reconstruction.

Jaqueline Tyrwhitt
February 1, 1947