CHAPTER I GENERAL SURVEY

1. Introduction

In the field of university education, the responsibility of the Govt. of India lies, besides maintenance of the four central universities, in co-ordinating and maintaining the standard of education, for which purpose the University Grants Commission was set up in 1953. The function of the Commission includes, among other things, giving of grants-in-aid to universities, institutions of higher education and voluntary organisations working in the field of higher education, undertaking various programmes of international co-operation for the development of higher education in India, and conducting various projects in this field.

The year 1961-62 signifies the first year of the Third Five Year Plan. Many of the schemes of the Second Plan period were carried over to the Third Plan period and a number of new schemes, both Plan and non-Plan, were started during the year under review. As in the past, new courses of study were introduced in universities and colleges with increasing stress on science and technical education, facilities were expanded for research and training, pay scales of teachers were revised and their service conditions improved and a number of schemes relating to students' welfare were implemented.

A total amount of Rs. 106.91 million was spent by the University Grants Commission during the year for giving grants to the universities and colleges. Out of this, Rs. 28.59 million was paid under non-Plan projects which included block grants to central universities including the institutions deemed to be universities, maintenance grants to constituent colleges of Delhi University and administrative charges of the U.G.C. The remaining amount of Rs. 78.32 million was spent under Plan projects including development schemes, revision of salary scales of university and college teachers, starting of three-year degree course, grants to universities and colleges for construction of library, laboratory buildings, hostels, etc., centenary grants to universities and colleges, students' welfare schemes, fellowships and scholarships, general education and reform of examination system and other miscellaneous schemes.

A brief account of the activities of the Central Government (including University Grants Commission) in the field of university education is given in the following paragraphs.

2. New Universities

During the year under report, five new universities were created by Acts of State Legislatures. In the order of their establishment, these are Punjabi University, Patiala; North Bengal University, Siliguri; Panjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana; Rabindra Bharati, Calcutta; and Magadh University, Gaya. It may, however, be mentioned that for some reason or the other the statistics of these universities could not be obtained for the year 1961-62. Hence the statistical figures given in this publication are exclusive of these new universities. Further, K.S. Sanskrit Vishwavidyalaya, Darbhanga, established during 1960-61, could not supply statistics for 1961-62 and has, therefore, also been excluded from this report. Thus, although there were 51 universities in the country during 1961-62, educational statistics are given in respect of only 45 of them.

The Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi, and the Gurukul Kangri Visvavidyalaya, Harwar, were declared during the year as 'deemed to be universities', thus bringing the total number of such institutions in the country to five.

A committee was constituted in September, 1961 to examine the question of setting up new universities and to suggest the broad principles that should guide the establishment of new universities in the next few years, after reviewing the proposals so far received from the State Governments and the resources likely to be made available for the purpose. The committee submitted an interim report in which it recommended that it would be desirable for every State to have at least one unitary or federal university. The final report of the committee was likely to come out early next year.

3. Vice Chancellors' Conference

A conference of the Vice-Chancellors of all the universities was held at New Delhi in October, 1961 in collaboration with the University Grants Commission. The conference deliberated on important problems on university education. The conclusions and recommendations of the conference were circulated to all universities and other participants for necessary action.

4. General Education Schemes

The general education programme in selected Indian universities, drawn up in 1959-60 with a grant from the Ford Foundation, continued to make progress during the year. The six beneficiary universities under the project conducted seminars and workshops on general education teaching by inviting top-ranking professors and educationists who had made a special study of the subject. Books on general education were purchased and distributed by these universities. A provision of Rs. 79,000 was made in the budget for 1961-62 in this behalf.

Grants amounting to Rs. 7.98 million and Rs. 10.74 million for development of humanities and science respectively were paid to forty universities by the U.G.C. Further, a sum of Rs. 7,000 was paid to Aligarh University for completing its general education reading material project.

5. Home Science Education & Research

The project for assistance to home science education and research under the Indo-U.S. Technical Co-operation Programme continued to progress during 1961-62. Of the last batch of nine American technicians who had come to assist the institutions selected as regional demonstration centres under the project, eight completed their assignments and returned to the U.S.A.

As regards training facilities provided under the programme, the four home science teachers who had gone to the U.S.A. for higher studies and training for twelve months returned to their respective institutions.

The regional demonstration centres conducted workshops on various aspects of home science to assist the teachers of home science in teaching methods and instructional aids. A home science workshop was held in February, 1962 to discuss, among other items, the post-graduate courses in various areas of home science and other related topics.

A post-graduate course in various fields of home science was instituted at five institutions and five others were making preparations to institute the course.

6. Three-Year Degree Course

In accordance with the formula worked out by the Deshmukh Committee for grants for implementing the three-year degree course scheme, an expenditure of Rs. 225.5 million in 31 universities was approved, the University Grants Commission's share being Rs. 113.7 million. So far, 962 colleges affiliated to 30 universities had changed over to the three-year degree course pattern. A sum of Rs. 11.7 million was paid to these institutions during the year under review.

7. Technical Education

Grants amounting to Rs. 10.16 million were paid to 18 universities for continuing or completing their development and expansion schemes like increasing the intake of students to existing engineering and technological courses, establishing new engineering colleges and polytechnics, introducing new courses at the under-graduate and post-graduate levels, extending duration of courses, etc. Steps were also taken to assist some universities for continuing and starting courses in business management and industrial management.

On the recommendation of the All India Council for Technical Education, the University Grants Commission agreed to pay a recurring grant of Rs. 3,22,000 per annum to the Roorkee University for the maintenance of the Water Resources Development Training Centre. The Commission also paid grants amounting to Rs. 1,62,000 to universities for 94 junior fellowships to be awarded to post-graduate students on engineering subjects.

8. Correspondence Courses and Evening Colleges

On the recommendation of the Central Advisory Board of Education, an expert committee was set up under the chairmanship of the Chairman, U.G.C., to work out the details of the scheme of assisting universities to impart instruction through evening colleges and correspondence courses. The Government on the recommendation of the committee, amended the Delhi University Act to enable it to start correspondence courses from 1962. A provision of Rs. 1,00,000 was included in the revised estimates for 1961-62 for this purpose.

9. Teachers

The scales of pay of teachers in the four Central universities and the constituent colleges of the Delhi University were revised during the year as under:—

University:—

Professor Rs. 1,000—50—1,500

Reader Rs. 700—40—1,100

Lecturer Rs. 400—30—640—40—800

College (under Delhi University):—

Principal Rs. 1,000—50—1,500

Senior Lecturer Rs. 700—40—1,100

Lecturer Rs. 400—30—640—40—800

Among the other universities, twenty-two had so far agreed to participate in the scheme of raising the salary scales of teachers to the same level as in the Central universities and they agreed to provide their matching share of the increased expenditure on this account. A sum of Rs. 1·086 million was paid to sixteen universities under the scheme during 1961-62.

The engineering and technological institutions or departments of thirteen universities introduced the scales of pay for teachers prescribed by the All-India Council for Technical Education. A sum of Rs. 6,04,000 was paid to the universities on this account during the year.

The U.G.C. suggested to the universities that normally the age of retirement of teachers should be 60 years and that provision should be made for further extension upto a maximum of 5 years. Thirty-five universities agreed to raise the age of retirement of teachers to 60 years.

Travel grants were awarded to teachers to enable them to visit and work in institutions where advanced work was being done and a sum of Rs. 1,22,000 was paid to forty-two universities on this account. Travel grants were also sanctioned to some university teachers to enable them to participate in academic conferences abroad and grants amounting to Rs. 17,000 were paid for this purpose during the year.

10. Library and Laboratory Facilities

During the year under review, the U.G.C. paid Rs. 1·183 million to 27 universities for the purchase of library books and journals. This was in addition to the 'split-over' grants of Rs. 2 million from the Second Plan schemes.

A total amount of Rs. 3·57 million was paid to 29 universities for the purchase of essential scientific equipment. The universities were also encouraged to fabricate apparatus of various kinds in the central workshops attached to them.

11. Grants to Colleges

A total of Rs. 3·866 million was paid to the colleges for various schemes. This, however, excludes payments made under the three-year degree course scheme.

Under the scheme of centenary grants to colleges, a sum of Rs. 40,000 was paid to three colleges during the year, thus bringing the total number of colleges receiving assistance under this scheme to 34.

12. Fellowships and Scholarships

25 junior fellowships in humanities and 86 junior fellowships in science, each at the rate of Rs. 300 per month, were awarded during the year and grants amounting to Rs. 1,50,000 were paid for this purpose. Senior fellowships of the value of Rs. 500 were awarded to 12 candidates in the humanities and to 31 candidates in science and a sum of Rs. 1,49,000 was paid for the purpose. Further more, 27 senior fellowships in engineering and technology were awarded during the year for which an amount of Rs. 92,000 was paid.

The research scholarships of the value of Rs. 200 per month each, transferred previously from the University Grants Commission to the Ministry of Education, were transferred back to the Commission again alongwith the research scholarships in the humanities which were hitherto being dealt with by the Ministry of Education. During 1961-62, 151 research scholarships in the humanities and 100 in science were awarded.

13. Students' Welfare

Students' welfare forms an integral part of educational development. With the rapid increase in the number of students seeking the benefits of higher education, the need for adequate amenities for students in colleges and universities has become greater and more urgent. During the year under review, several schemes relating to students' welfare were implemented.

A sum of Rs. 5,75,000 was paid to the colleges under the scheme for the construction of 17 hostels in different universities at an estimated cost of Rs. 3.67 million for accommodating some 1,000 students. Approval was also accorded for construction of 15 hostels in various universities at an estimated cost of Rs. 5.57 million out of which the U.G.C.'s share would be Rs. 3.74 million; these hostels would provide accommodation for about 1,800 students.

An amount of Rs. 4,05,000 was paid to the Universities of Allahabad, Gauhati and Gujarat for construction of non-resident students' centres. The total grants paid to the colleges in 1961-62 for construction of students' centre amounted to Rs. 1.865 million. Further, the establishment of 22 non-resident students' centres in colleges was approved at an estimated cost of Rs. 1.013 million.

302 colleges joined the U.G.C. scheme of students aid fund during the year to bring the total number of colleges having these funds to 927. A sum of Rs. 9,31,000 was paid to the colleges on this account. Further, 21 universities implemented the scheme during the year and received payments amounting to Rs. 1,37,000.

Table IV gives a detailed break up of enrolment of universities and Boards of Intermediate Education. As in the previous years, teaching departments and colleges of Calcutta University continued to have the largest enrolment (1,16,069) in 1961-62 also as compared to other universities. Next in order was Madras University, with enrolment of 58,815 and the last was Kalyani University leaving out Indira Kala Sangeet from consideration because the details regarding its affiliated colleges were not available. Apart from Calcutta and Madras Universities, other universities having more than 50,000 students on rolls were Punjab (57,813) Agra (51,041) and Bombay (50,692). In 14 universities the enrolment was between 20 and 50 thousands and in 8 universities it was between 10,000 and 20,000. Universities with less than 1,000 enrolment were Indira Kala Sangeet (557), Kalyani (339), Kurukshetra (500), U.P. Agricultural (415) and Visvabharti (489). In so far as Boards are concerned, the intermediate students of U.P. Board alone constituted about 97.5 per cent of the total enrolment of the Boards of Intermediate Education.

As compared to 1960-61, the enrolment in 1961-62 increased in all the universities except Annamalai, Banaras, Jabalpur, Punjab and Visvabharti. Numerically, the largest increase was in Gauhati University (7,152), followed by the Universities of Kerala (5,764), Nagpur (5,309), Vikram (5,156), Gujarat

(4,813), Madras, (4,565) Bihar (4,517) and Agra (3,983). Of the remaining universities the increase was between 1,000 and 3,000 in 12 universities and in others the increase was less than 1,000.

Of the total enrolment of 11,37,967, 8,50,758 students (74.8 per cent) were enrolled for general education courses and the remaining 2,87,209 (25.2 per cent) for technical and Professional education courses. The corresponding percentages for the previous years were 75.6 and 24.4 per cent respectively for 1960-61, 77.4 and 22.6 respectively for 1959-60 and 78.1 and 21.9 respectively for 1958-59. Of the 9,44,774 boys enrolled in 1961-62, 6,79,030 (71.9 per cent) were enrolled for general education and 2,65,744 (28.1 per cent) were enrolled for technical and professional education. In the case of girls, of a total number of 1,93,193, 1,71,728 (89 per cent) were enrolled for general education and only 11 per cent were enrolled for technical and professional education. The distribution of the total enrolment by stages of education was as follows—

	Percentage
	1961-62	1960-61	1959-60
Intermediate (Including Pre-University, Pre-Professional) stage	43.1	46.8	51.7
Graduate stage	50.0	45.0	40.8
Post-Graduate and Research stage	6.2	6.2	5.8
Diploma and Certificate Courses	0.7	2.0	1.7

The fall in the percentage of total enrolment in Intermediate/pre-university may be due to the adoption of pre-university courses in place of intermediate courses in more States.

The following table gives further details of enrolment by type and stage of education.

Of the 45 universities, 18 adopted the scales of pay recommended by the U.G.C. for lecturers, readers and professors, in their teaching departments and constituent colleges. Among the other universities, the minimum of the scale of pay for the lecturers was least (Rs. 200) in Bhagalpur, Patna, S.N.D.T. Women's, Utkal and Varanaseya Sanskrit Universities. As regards readers, the starting pay was less than Rs. 500 in Bhagalpur, Indira Kala Sangeet, Mysore, Patna and Varanaseya Sanskrit universities. It was least (Rs. 300) in Mysore and Varanaseya Sanskrit universities. The starting pay of professors in university teaching departments and university colleges was less than Rs. 800 in Mysore and S.N.D.T. Women's universities. In the former, the starting pay was Rs. 400 for some and Rs. 600 for others and in the latter the starting pay was Rs. 500. The scales
