Reduction in regional imbalances of educational development is a major objective of the National policy on Education. To promote this programme, it is necessary to collect statistics of educational development in the different regions of the country periodically and to publish them for information and use by all concerned.

The Ministry of Education publishes annually statistics of educational development in the different States of the Indian Union. But as imbalances of educational development between one district and another are far more pronounced than those between one State and another, it was decided to collect and publish statistics of educational development in the districts also every five years. Accordingly, such statistics were collected and published, for the first time, for the year 1960-61.

The study is now being repeated for the year 1965-66 and it is proposed to bring out a separate volume on the district educational statistics of every State. It will contain statistics for the year 1965-66 along with comparative data for the year 1960-61. To make inter district comparisons possible, some important indices such as enrolment ratio, percentage of trained teachers, per capita expenditure on education, etc., will also be included.

In this programme of bringing out 16 volumes for all the States of the Union (except Nagaland) this volume is the fourth and is devoted to the educational statistics of districts in Gujarat State. It has been based on the data collected from the State Department of Education.

I take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the co-operation and help received from the Director of Public Instruction, Maharashtra, and other educational authorities in the State and the staff of the Statistics and Information Division which has prepared this Report.

I - INTRODUCTORY

The Ministry of Education and Youth Services publishes the statistics of education in India annually in their publications 'Education in India, Vol. I and Vol. II'. These publications give the statistics at the national and State levels, but do not provide district-wise statistics.

2. To fill up this gap, the National Council of Educational Research and Training brought out a volume entitled 'Educational Statistics - District-wise' giving the bench mark of educational data of various kinds for all districts for the year 1960-61. To make inter-district comparison possible, some important indices such as enrolment ratios, percentages of trained teachers and per capita expenditure on education were also given. These comparative statements show a wide range of variation between the districts in every respect.

3. It has now been decided to have a similar review of educational development in the districts for the year 1965-66. Such periodic reviews are necessary for several reasons. For instance, they will help to judge the effectiveness of the measures taken to correct regional imbalances at the district level. Secondly, such collection and publication of data on different aspects of education at the district level will help the preparation of educational development plans for all districts so that they can be adopted, as recommended by the Education Commission as the principal unit for administration, planning and development of school education.

4. This review will be divided into sixteen volumes - one volume being devoted to the educational statistics of the districts in every State (except Nagaland). The present volume, which is the fourth in the series, gives the data for each of the districts of Gujarat on number of educational institutions, pupils, teachers, expenditure, etc., at all levels of education. It also gives the rates of growth in different sectors from 1960-61 to 1965-66 and some important indices of educational development.

II - SUMMARY

5. The district-wise statistics of Gujarat State for the years 1960-61 and 1965-66, given in the following pages, give an idea about the disparities in educational development among the 18 districts of the State.

PRIMARY SCHOOL CLASSES:

6. A synoptic view of the relative position of the 18 districts, as far as provision of schooling facilities at primary stage are concerned, is given below in Table 1. This table gives enrolment ratio in classes I-V for the years 1960-61 and 1965-66 and the ranking of the districts according to their position with respect to enrolment ratio.

As a matter of fact for 17 districts only which existed in 1960-61. In 1965-66 though the number of districts rose to 18 by bifurcation of Surat into Surat and Bulsar but population figures of only composite Surat district as it existed in 1960-61 are available.

7. Between 1960-61 and 1965-66 i.e. within a period of 5 years, the enrolment ratio increased from 73.0 to 82.4 at the State level. But the growth in individual districts varied. As a matter of fact, the enrolment ratio slightly decreased in case of Banaskantha whereas there was phenomenal increase in case of Dangs from 51.5 to 95.5 which moved it from 15th position in 1960-61 to 3rd position in 1965-66. In 1960-61, in 10 of the 17 districts the enrolment ratio was less than the State average. In 1965-66 also, the number of such districts remained the same with only difference that Dangs which was below the State average in 1960-61 became above the State average in 1965-66 and in its place Sabarkantha came down from its above the State average position in 1960-61 to below the State average position in 1965-66. The lowest enrolment ratio in 1965-66 was in Banaskantha (44.2) followed by Junagadh (62.0), Kutch (65.1), Panchmahals (67.1) much below the State average of 82.4. Primary education is the base upon which the super-structure of education is built and, therefore, the extent to which this is expended, it will have its impact on other stages of education.

MIDDLE SCHOOL CLASSES:

9. During the 5 years period under consideration, the enrolment ratio at middle school stage (classes VI-VIII) increased from 26.3 to 34.9 at the State level. But the district-wise growth had been some what uneven. As a matter of fact in Sabarkantha enrolment ratio decreased from 22.2 to 20.2. In both 1960-61 and 1965-66, of the 17 districts, only 6 had the enrolment ratio above the State average. These districts in 1960-61 were Ahmedabad, Baroda, Broach, Kaira, Mehsana and Surat. In 1965-66, Bhavnagar which was below the State average in 1960-61 moved above the State average in 1965-66 and contrary to it Broach which was above the State average in 1960-61 went below the State average in 1965-66. In all other districts the enrolment ratio was less than the State average. The lowest enrolment ratio in 1960-61 was in case of Dangs and was 6.8 as against 26.3 of the State. In 1965-66, the lowest enrolment ratio was in the case of Banaskantha and was 11.3 as against the State average of 34.9.

HIGH SCHOOL STAGE:

11. During the period 1960-61 to 1965-66, the enrolment ratio at the State level increased from 13.0 to 20.1. As in the case of previous stages, the increase in the enrolment ratio varied from district to district. However, there is no much change in the ranking of the different districts during this period. In 1960-61, only 6 of 17 districts had enrolment ratio at high school stage above the State average. This number remained the same in 1965-66 also with one change that Mehsana was replaced by Broach. These districts in 1965-66 were Ahmedabad, Baroda, Broach, Kaira, Rajkot and Surat. All other districts had enrolment ratio less than the State average and Dangs had the lowest enrolment ratio of 2.2 in 1960-61 and 4.2 in 1965-66 as against the State average of 13.0 and 20.1 respectively.

ALL SCHOOL CLASSES:

12. The complete enrolment ratio for classes I-XI district-wise is given in Table 4 along with the ranking of the districts according to their position.

13. Taking school stage as a whole, the enrolment ratio was 46.6 in 1960-61 and 55.0 in 1965-66 at the State level. In 1960-61 there were only 6 districts whose enrolment ratio was higher than the State average. This number increased to 7 in 1965-66. These districts were Ahmedabad, Mehsana, Kaira, Surat, Broach, Baroda and Dangs. In both the years 1960-61 and 1965-66, the highest enrolment was in Ahmedabad and the lowest in Banaskantha. One could see that taking the school stage as a whole, the districts of Banaskantha, Junagadh, Kutch, Panchmahals, Surendranagar and Jamnagar were behind the other districts in enrolment ratio.

HIGHER EDUCATION:

15. During the period under review, the enrolment ratio at higher education stage increased from 2.1 to 3.9 at the State level. Though the increase varied from district to district, there was not much variation in ranking of the districts for the years 1960-61 and except 1965-66, except that there were no students in higher education in the districts of Amreli and Banaskantha in 1960-61. While such a provision was there in these two districts in 1965-66. In 1965-66, only in the districts of Ahmedabad, Baroda, Kaira and Rajkot the enrolment ratio was higher than that of the State average. In rest of the districts it was less than that of the State average.

III - AREA AND POPULATION

16. Gujarat State as at present, consists of 18 districts. In 1961 there were only 17 districts in the State. The Surat district of 1961 was bifurcated into two districts, viz. Surat and Bulsar. The total area of the State is 72,245 sq. miles. The area of the different districts varied from 17,060 sq. miles of Kutch to 689 sq. miles of Dangs. The area of Banaskantha, Bhavnagar, Junagadh, Mehsana, Rajkot undivided Surat and Surendranagar varied between 4,000 to 5,000 sq. miles; Ahmedabad, Jamnagar and Panchmahals varied between 3,000 to 4,000; Baroda, Broach, Kaira and Sabarkantha varied between 2,000 and 3,000 and of Amreli it was less than 2,000 sq. miles.

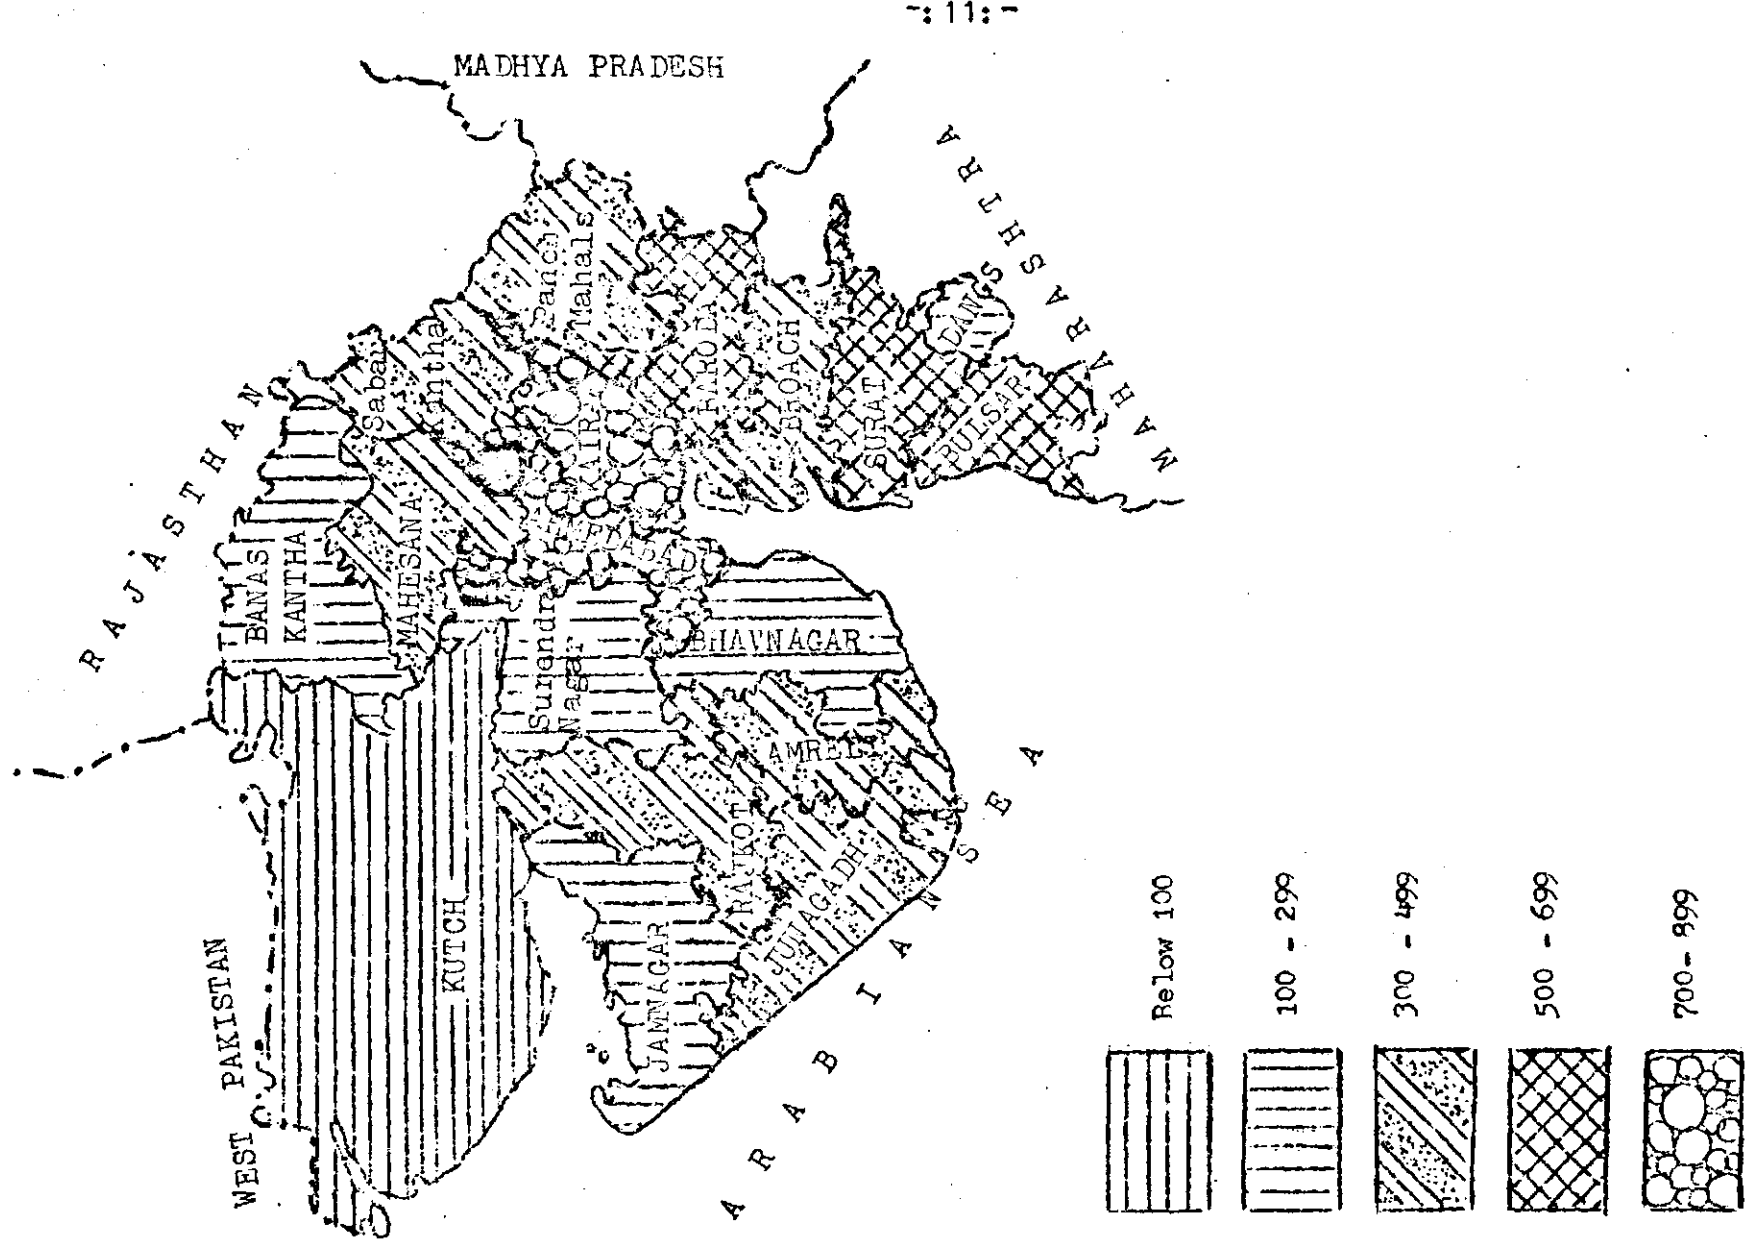

17. The total population of the State in 1961 was 206.33 lakhs consisting of 106.34 lakh males and 99.99 lakh females. By 1966 the population of the State is estimated to have increased to 256.64 lakhs of which 121.95 lakh were males and 114.69 lakh females. The population of the different districts in 1966 varied very much. In Ahmedabad, undivided Surat and Kaira the total population was 20 to 30 lakhs each whereas in Banaskantha, Baroda, Bhavnagar, Broach, Junagadh, Mehsana, Panchmahals, Rajkot and Sabarkantha the population varied between 10 to 20 lakhs each. However, in Amreli, Jamnagar and Kutch the total population was 7 to 10 lakhs. In Dangs, however, the total population was only 0.8 lakhs.

18. The overall density of population per sq. mile for the State as a whole increased from 286 in 1961 to 328 in 1966. The density of population also varied very much among the districts. The density was the highest in 1966 in Kaira (865) followed by Ahmedabad (732), Baroda (592) and undivided Surat (579). In 7 of the other districts the density varied from 300 to 500 and in three districts from 200 to 300. In Surendranagar the density was 190, in Dangs 119 and in Kutch only 47 per sq. mile.

GUJARAT

Population Density (per Sq. mile)

19. Of the total population in the State in 1966 the population in the age-group 6-11 was 32.4 lakhs, consisting of 16.7 lakh males and 15.7 lakh females. The children in this age-group formed 13.7% of the total population of the State.

20. The population in the age-group 11-14 in 1966 in Gujarat was 17.1 lakhs consisting of 8.8 lakh males and 8.3 lakh females. This formed 7.2% of the total population of the State.

21. Similarly, the total population of the State in the age-group 14-17 in 1966 was 15.5 lakhs consisting of nearly 8 lakh males and 7.5 lakh females. The population in this age-group formed 6.5% of the total population in the State.

22. In the age-group 17-23 the total population in the State was 26.5 lakhs consisting of 13.8 lakh boys and 12.7^{lakh} girls. The total population in this age-group formed 11.2% of the total population of the State.

23. Thus of the total population of the State, 91.4 lakhs consisting of 47.2 lakh boys and 44.2 lakh girls was in the age-group 6-23. The population in the age-group 6-23 in the State formed 38.6% of the total population. Among the males they formed 38.7% and among the girls they formed 38.5%.

IV - LITERACY

24. According to 1961 census the general literacy rate that is the number of literates per thousand of corresponding population was 305. This rate for males was 411 and for females 191 only. Among the districts the literacy rate for the total population was highest in Ahmedabad (419). In 6 of the 17 districts this varied from 300 to 400; in 7 districts from 200 to 300 and in the remaining 3 districts, namely, Banaskantha, Panchmahals and Dangs it was less than 200, the lowest being in Dangs (93). Among the males, the literacy rate per thousand of population was the highest again in Ahmedabad (527). In 6 of the districts it varied from 400 to 500; in 7 districts from 300 to 400, in 2 districts from 200 to 300 and in one district, namely, Dangs less than 200 (143). Among the total number of teachers 23.4% were women in 1960-61 and the corresponding percentage in 1965-66 was 26.1. In 1965-66 the percentage of women teachers was more than 30 in Ahmedabad, Bhavanagar, Jamnagar, Kutch and Rajkot. The lowest percentage of women teachers was in Banaskantha (11.0) followed by Sabarkantha (15.6). In 1960-61 for every 1,000 population the number of teachers was 4.1 and by 1965-66 this number increased to 4.8. In 1965-66 the number of teachers per thousand population was the highest in Ahmedabad (6.7), followed by Bhavnagar (6.0) and was the lowest in Banaskantha (2.5).

EXPENDITURE:

30. The total direct expenditure on all recognised institutions in Gujarat was Rs.1,463.4 lakhs in 1960-61. By 1965-66 the total direct expenditure more than doubled to Rs.2,995.5 lakhs. The annual cumulative rate of growth of direct expenditure during the period was 13.7%. The direct expenditure has shown substantial increase in all the districts. The increase in the expenditure during the period was the lowest in Surendranagar followed by Bhavnagar and Amreli.

31. The direct expenditure per head of population was Rs.7.1 in the State in 1960-61. By 1965-66 the direct expenditure per capita increased to Rs.12.7. Among the districts in 1965-66, the per capita expenditure on education was the highest in Ahmedabad (Rs.25.9) followed by Baroda (Rs.22.5) and Kaira (Rs.17.3). On the other side of the scale, the per capita expenditure was only Rs.4.4 in Banaskantha and Rs.5.8 in Kutch. VI - PRE-PRIMARY EDUCATION

INSTITUTIONS:

33. The number of pre-primary schools in Gujarat increased from 348 in 1960-61 to 627 in 1965-66. In 1960-61 there was no pre-primary school in the districts of Dangs and Jamnagar, whereas by 1965-66 24 pre-primary schools were opened in Jamnagar but still Dangs remained without a pre-primary school. In the other districts the number of pre-primary schools varied very much from less than 10 in Banaskantha to 98 in Mehsana.

ENROLMENT:

34. The total enrolment in pre-primary schools including attached classes increased from 25,547 in 1960-61 to 47,287 in 1965-66. The enrolment in pre-primary classes was less than 1,000 in Banaskantha, Baroach, Sabarkantha and Bulsar districts in 1965-66; 1,000 to 2,000 in Amreli, Kutch, Panchmahals, Surat and Surendranagar; and 2,000 to 3,000 in Bhavnagar and Jamnagar; 3,000 to 5,000 in Junagadh, Baroda and Ahmedabad and 5,000 to 7,000 in the other 3 districts. The sex ratio in students of pre-primary schools at the State level was 80 girls for every 100 boys in 1960-61 which increased to 84 girls per 100 boys by 1965-66.

ENROLMENT OF SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES:

35. Of the total enrolment, Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes was 2,198 at the State level. In many districts the enrolment of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in pre-primary schools was negligible.

TEACHERS:

36. The number of teachers in pre-primary schools increased from 694 to 1,195 during the period. Of the total number of teachers in 1965-66 all excepting 196 were women. Of the total number of teachers 60.8% were trained in 1960-61, whereas by 1965-66 the percentage of trained teachers decreased to 55.7. This decrease in the percentage of trained teachers is mainly due to the decrease in the percentage of trained teachers in Ahmedabad, Junagadh, Kutch and Mehsana. The pupil teacher ratio at the State level was 40 students per teacher and it varied from less than 30 in Surat and Bulsar to more than 50 in Mehsana and Amreli.

The direct expenditure per pupil in the pre-primary schools was Rs.50 at State level in 1965-66. The expenditure per pupil varied from Rs.75 in Jamnagar to Rs.29 in Kutch and Mehsana.

VII - PRIMARY EDUCATION

INSTITUTIONS:

38. The number of primary schools in Gujarat slightly decreased from 12,031 to 11,191 during the period 1960-61 to 1965-66. This decrease in the number of primary schools is mainly due to up-grading of primary schools to middle and high schools and is observed in the districts of Amreli, Banaskantha, Bhavnagar, Jamnagar, Junagadh, Kaira, Kutch, Mehsana, Panchmahals, Rajkot, Surat and Surendranagar. The number of primary schools show an increase only in Ahmedabad, Baroda, Broach, Dangs and Sabarkantha.

39. On an average there was a primary school for every 6.0 sq. miles in 1960-61 and every 6.5 sq. miles in 1965-66. In 10 districts the average area served by a primary school in 1965-66 was less than 5 sq. miles and in 5 districts it was more than 10 sq. miles and in the remaining districts it was between 5 - 10 sq. miles per school.

40. The population served by a primary school increased from 1,715 in 1960-61 to 2,115 in 1965-66. The average population served by a primary school in a district was less than 1,500 in 5 districts and more than 3,000 in 4 districts. In Dangs the average population per primary school was only 325, whereas in Mansana it was 4,560. Details are given in Statement VI.

ENROLMENT:

41. The total enrolment in primary schools in Gujarat in 1965-66 was 8.6 lakhs. In classes I-V the enrolment at the State level which stood at 20.6 lakhs in 1960-61 increased to 25.6 lakh by 1965-66. This shows a growth rate of 5.1% per annum. The growth rate of enrolment in these classes was 4.8% in the case of boys and 5.6% in the case of girls. Among the districts also there was substantial increase in the enrolment of classes I-V during this period. However, the increase in the enrolment of both boys and girls was the highest in Dangs district.

42. The sex ratio of enrolment in 1960-61 at the State level was 56 girls for every 100 boys and in 1965-66 it was 58 girls for every 100 boys. The table on next page gives the enrolment in 1965-66 in classes I-V as a percentage of enrolment in 1960-61 and the sex ratio of enrolment in 1965-66.

43. The percentage enrolment in classes I-V to the total population in the age-group 6-11 i.e. enrolment ratio gives an index of facilities created for primary stage education. This enrolment ratio was 73.0 at State level taking both boys and girls together in 1960-61 which increased to 82.4 by 1965-66. In the case of boys this enrolment ratio increased from 91.2 to 101.3 during the period while in case of girls the increase was only from 53.7 to 62.2 during the period. In 1965-66 the enrolment ratio of boys in classes I-V was more than 100 or around 100 in 11 districts out of 18 districts. The enrolment ratio was the lowest in Banaskantha (68.0) and the highest in Dangs (119.3). In the case of girls in none of the districts the enrolment ratio exceeded 86.0 which was in Ahmedabad. On the other hand in Banaskantha the enrolment ratio was only 18.8. Taking both boys and girls together, the enrolment ratio in classes I-V was 100 or more in Ahmedabad and Mehsana. In Banaskantha the enrolment ratio was the lowest and was only 44.2. The details are given in Statement VII-A.

ENROLMENT OF SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES:

44. Of the total enrolment in classes I-V, 4.21 lakhs belonged to the S.C. & S.T. communities. Of this number 2.91 lakhs were boys and 1.30 lakhs girls. The percentage of S.C. & S.T. students to the total enrolment in classes I-V was 15.8 at the State level. Among the boys the percentage of S.C. & S.T. students was 17.3 and among the girls 13.3. There is large variation among the districts in the percentage of S.C. & S.T. students to the total enrolment in classes I-V. This is mainly due to the variation in the percentage of S.C. & S.T. population to the total population and also due to the variation in the educational development in the different districts. Among the boys the percentage of S.C. & S.T. to the total enrolment in classes I-V varied from less than 10 in Amreli, Banaskantha, Bhavnagar, Jamnagar, Junagadh, Kaira, Kutch, Rajkot and Surendranagar to 45.3 in Surat. In Dangs however 82.0% of the students belonged to S.C. & S.T. In case of girls the percentage of S.C. & S.T. to the total enrolment was more than 10% only in Banaskantha, Baroda, Broach, Dangs, Panchmahals, Sabarkantha and Surat, the highest being in Dangs (73.3). Taking both boys and girls together the percentage of S.C. & S.T. to the total enrolment was more than 10% only in 7 districts, the highest percentage being in Dangs. The details are given in Statement VII-B. The Statement VII-B also gives in columns 11-13 the extent of coverage. The extent of coverage is defined as

$$\frac{\text{Percentage of S.C. \& S.T. students to corresponding total enrolment}}{\text{Percentage of S.C. \& S.T. population to total population}} \times 100$$

This shows that the enrolment of S.C. & S.T. in classes I-V is similar to the enrolment of all students in comparison to the respective total population. At the State level the extent of coverage taking both boys and girls together was 79.0. In the case of boys the extent of coverage was 87.8 and in the case of girls 65.5. In the case of boys, the extent of coverage was more than 100 in Ahmedabad, Bhavnagar, Jamnagar, Kaira, Mehsana, Rajkot and Sabarkantha and was the lowest in Banaskantha (43.9). In case of girls, the extent of coverage of S.C. & S.T. was more than 100 only in Bhavnagar. The extent of coverage was the lowest in Baroda 38.8. Taking both the boys and girls together the extent of coverage of S.C. & S.T. was more than 100 in Ahmedabad, Bhavnagar, Kaira and Mehsana and was lowest in Baroda 52.6.

In Banaskantha the per capita expenditure on primary schools was only Rs.0.3.

49. The total direct expenditure on primary schools formed 18.0% of the total direct expenditure on education in the State in 1960-61. By 1965-66 this percentage decreased to 11.4 at the State level. Among the districts in Dangs 67.8% of the total expenditure on education was on primary schools. In Panchmahals and Surendranagar districts the direct expenditure on primary schools formed nearly 21% and in Amreli and Broach nearly 15.5%. In Banaskantha, Baroda, Jamnagar, Junagadh, Kaira, Mehsana, Rajkot and Sursar districts the expenditure on primary schools formed less than 10% of the total expenditure on education in these districts.

50. The expenditure per student in primary schools in 1965-66 was Rs.39.4 at the State level. This varied from Rs.20 or less in Rajkot, Mehsana, Bhavnagar and Banaskantha to Rs.75.3 in Ahmedabad and Rs.95.9 in Dangs. The cost per student has a direct relation with the pupil-teacher ratio. The pupil-teacher ratio was the highest in those districts where the cost per student was lowest. At the State level the pupil-teacher ratio was 44 in 1965-66. Among the districts it varies from less than 30 in Dangs, Jamnagar and Junagadh to 74 in Mehsana. The Table on next page summarises the position.
