ANNUAL REPORT.

1. General.—The standard of citizenship prevalent in a country is a very important factor in its moral and material advance. An ideal citizen is not only interested in keeping himself "within the law" and performing such functions as are incumbent upon him as a member of his nation and a resident of his city, but he regards it as his duty and privilege to render help to others to follow his example. He is not content with immunity from evil operations of a criminal or a law-breaker, but he is on the other hand interested in the law-breaker and is anxious to turn him into a useful citizen. In all modern States the offender against law is not a person to be hated, branded and barred from reverting to a life of a normal law-abiding man, but he is a person desiring the attention and sympathy and assistance of those who are in a more happy position. His segregation for a time is not designed so much for revenge or punishment, as with a view to reform him and to reinstate him to his position in Society.

In conformity with the above principle, in many civilised countries public-minded citizens extend a helping hand to those who are released from prisons thus enabling them to rehabilitate themselves by finding a suitable sphere for the exercise of their normal talents. After-care of the prisoner is the duty of every public spirited citizen with the help and the co-operation of the State.

The Prisoners' Aid Societies have been fulfilling this duty in many parts of the world, and in India also in several Provinces a start in this direction has been made. The Punjab has at last followed suit and in 1928 the Punjab Prisoners' Aid Society was organised and is now meeting in its first Annual General Meeting.

The year under review has been a year of preparation and preliminary organisation. The society has been duly registered and has already begun its career of usefulness and help to the Released Prisoners.

2. Provisional Executive Committee.—The Committee after its formation in July 1928, met 6 times to transact business of the Society and the attendance of the members was very satisfactory. The interest shown in the work of the Society has been considerable, though the real test of the sincerity of the workers and the members of the Society will be in the maintenance of the interest not only on the present but on an ever-increasing level.

3. The work done.—The work that the Executive Committee has so far done is as follows :—

- (1) The issuing of an Appeal Letter to the Public and canvassing for Members.
- (2) Formation, Registration and publication of Rules in English and Urdu.
- (3) Gurmukhi Edition of the Rules is under preparation.
- (4) Propaganda in the interest of the Society.

Colonel Barker to whose enthusiasm and genuine sympathy the Society owes a great deal lectured in several places and inspired the formation of many district Committees.

4. District Committees.—There are now 27 District Committees. A list is attached to this report. The number of members who have paid their subscriptions directly is 192 while 1,066 members are reported by the District Committees. This number includes some members who have not yet paid their subscription.

The actual work of giving aid to the prisoners had already been started in several stations. Two members of the Lahore Committee have visited the Central Jail, Lahore, every week on Saturdays since October 1928. These members interview the prisoners to be released during the succeeding week, who are informed of the objects of the Society and the help that it is desirous of rendering to the prisoners on their release in enabling them to live an honourable life.

Efforts are made to secure suitable employment for the prisoners who want to take up work through the Committee. For this purpose some of the members have to visit or write to employers of labour, officials on works, Managers of firms or offices. So far seven ex-prisoners have been helped in securing suitable posts. The Reclamation officer has now kindly undertaken to assist in finding out suitable jobs though this is by no means an easy task.

Subsistence money for a limited time is given to the released prisoners who have no friends or means of support. Clothes are also provided in some cases. Tools or small amounts of money are offered to enable certain released convicts to set up a trade or business with which they are familiar. Railway tickets and road money are given to the ex-prisoners in special cases.

Arrangements are being made whereby the released prisoners with no home to go to, will be given temporary shelter until some work is found for them. As the Society has got no home of its own for giving such shelter to the ex-convicts efforts are being made to secure some rooms in Poor Houses for this purpose.

A small circulating and travelling library containing selected vernacular books of moral teachings and instructive stories and biographies was sent to the Superintendent of the Lahore Central Jail, to be utilized for the literate prisoners after his approval.

This work of weekly visits has been done voluntarily by the following in addition to the Secretaries; Lala Lajpat Rai Sahni, Khan Bahadur Sheikh Amir Ali, Mr. K. N. Agnihotri, Mr. W. M. Hume, Captain D. S. Otto and Prof. Ganga Ram Kohli.

The Ludhiana District Committee reports as follows:—

“No less than 20 cases have so far been dealt with by the Society and the good work done by Mr. Sarab Kishen, Advocate, and Kh. Mahmud Shah who have made strenuous efforts to find employment for the convicts after release is worthy of special mention. The Society has been successful in effectively rendering aid to all prisoners who asked for help. Some of the prisoners have however, not availed themselves of the opportunities to the fullest extent, as they visited their homes just after their release, with the promise to return, but have not so far appeared. There are present  $\frac{1}{2}$  dozen prisoners who are under the protection of the Society. The Executive Committee has to meet frequently to dispose of these cases.”

The following statement is taken from the report submitted by the Sialkot Prisoners' Aid Society:—

“Soon after the formation of the Society, attempts were made to find work for two discharged convicts, one of whom was very kindly provided with work by Messrs. Uberoi, Limited, and the other by Messrs. Phillips and Company, both at Sialkot. The convicts took very kindly to the work provided for them and it is a matter of great pleasure that not only are they leading honest and useful lives but Messrs. Uberoi have shown their willingness to provide work for another convict. Arrangements are being made with the Superintendent, Lahore, to send a released prisoner to them and when he reaches here it is hoped that it will be possible to help and guide him so as to train him into an honest and useful citizen.

Another interesting experiment was made in connection with paying the fines of the convicts who in default of payment of fines would have undergone a sentence of imprisonment. This was also attended with success as the discharged convicts paid their fines without any call for payment of the sums being made on them.

The writing of the Appeals of the poor convicts in the local Jail by D. Chaman Lal, Puri, Pleader, at a considerable inconvenience to him and without any consideration is another line of important work to which the Society can lay claim. The number of such appeals has been pretty large and the effects of this course have been very appreciable. The convicts have welcomed this new procedure and whenever the sentence has been reduced a sigh of relief has been heard and a greater faith in the sympathy of the public with a feeling of thankfulness for disinterested labour have been regarded. Many convicts have been acquitted who but for this help would have remained in Jail."

In the Ambala District three released prisoners have been employed as Malis, and further efforts are being made in the direction of finding suitable work for them. It is satisfactory to note that the Rawalpindi District and the Rawalpindi Municipal Committee and the Cantonment Committee have sanctioned an annual grant of Rs. 100 each in the first two and Rs. 50 in the third case. This is a worthy example for other Municipalities and District Boards to follow.

In other districts also the actual work of relief is being started. Two landlords have offered to accept released prisoners as tenants on their lands.

Probably much more work has been done than is indicated in this report as some of the districts have not yet replied to the letter.

Office-bearers.—At the organization of the Society His Excellency Sir William Malcolm Hailey was pleased to become the Patron of the Society and His Excellency Sir Geoffrey deMontmorency kindly accepted the Presidentship of the Society. On the appointment of His Excellency Sir Malcolm Hailey to the Governorship of the United Province, His Excellency Sir Geoffrey deMontmorency was pleased to accept the Patronship and the Honourable Mr. A. M. Stow was elected President of the Society in his place. His keen interest in the work of the Society and his wise counsel and guidance have been assets of very great value to the progress that the Society has made.

Messrs. B. L. Rallia Ram and Pandit Haradatta Sharma have acted as Honorary Secretaries during this year.

5. Expression of appreciation.—In addition to the gentlemen already mentioned in this report following gentlemen have been specially helpful to the cause of the Society and have been instrumental in starting the branches of the Society and enlisting members :—

1. Sh. Azmat Ullah Sahib of Gujrat.
2. Ch. Mushtaq Ahmad, P. C. S.
3. K. B. Shah Nawaz Khan, P. C. S., Rawalpindi.
4. Ch. Baldev Singh, M.L.C., of Rohtak.
5. K. S. Mohammad Raza of Ambala.
6. R. S. Lala Bishen Dass of Multan.
7. Lala Mulk Raj Puri, Sialkot.
8. Lala Hargobind, Sialkot.
9. Major Nawab Talib Mehdi Khan of Jhelum.
10. Bawa Narindra Singh, M.A., Multan.

6. Conclusion.—If the Society is to do its work effectively it will need a much larger circle of workers and supporters.

The task that the Society has undertaken is a worthy one and calls for the careful thought, active co-operation and help of all those who are interested in the welfare of their fellowmen and the progress of their Province and their country. The Society looks for support from the Government, the general public and last but not the least the press of the Province in furthering this noble cause.
