STORMING HEAVEN

By RALPH FOX

Times Literary Supplement: "The fascination of this story lies in the unfolding of its varied episodes, its liveliness, its absence of sentimentality, and its broad range. It is a real unfolding of modern Russia by a mind who knows it. . . . Mr. Fox quite clearly approves of the Bolshevik ideal. . . . The book compels admiration."

TROUBLOUS TIMES:

Experiences in Bolshevik Russia and Turkestan.

By CAPT. A. H. BRUN

(of the Danish Army)

Captain Brun's book describes with great verve and realism his experiences during the Russian Revolution in Russia and Turkestan. It sheds most valuable sidelights on the lives of the people of this little-known region.

GATHERING OF EAGLES

By VAL GIELGUD

Times: "Napoleon's Russian campaign affords plenty of material for an exciting romance, and Mr. Gielgud has made full use of it. . . . has considerable historical knowledge and an undeniable gift for vivid narrative. . . ."

IMPERIAL TREASURE

By VAL GIELGUD

A Tale of Bolshevik plots, desperate pursuits, fighting and courage.

Novelised Biographies

SHEPHERD OF ISRAEL

By LEONORA EYLES

New Adelphi: "Romantic recasting of the story of Moses . . . we admire her refusal to scribble modern sophistications over the plain portraying of the ancient world. We admire, too, the idyllic beauty."

THE FORERUNNER:

The Romance of Leonardo da Vinci

By DMITRI MEREJKOWSKI

Daily Telegraph: "Perhaps the most remarkable of all his astonishing works."

Time and Tide: "No statement can do anything but injustice to a writer who possesses in the highest degree the power of dramatic construction and evocation."

SHIP WITHOUT SAILS

By B. BARCLAY CARTER

The author's aim has been to give a living interpretation of Dante and his age. Here Dante, his friends and his family, are real living beings, set against the rich and colourful background of their times.
