

CONTENTS

	Page
PART I. HOW THE PROJECT MAY BE DEVELOPED.....	1
The Present Need .....	1
Youth—A Major Resource.....	2
Some Ways in Which High-School Students Can Serve Children..	3
Services through community agencies and organizations..	3
Services in connection with school programs.....	5
Services in homes and neighborhoods.....	6
Some Suggestions about Organization.....	7
Scope of the project.....	7
Relation to the defense program.....	7
Relation to child-care committee of the defense council....	8
Relation to the High-School Victory Corps.....	8
Place in the curriculum.....	8
Three possible plans for organization.....	9
Some Suggestions about the Teaching.....	13
Preliminary arrangements for the project.....	13
The training committee at work.....	14
The first class meeting.....	15
Program planning.....	16
Student guidance.....	18
Determining areas of common concern.....	20
Helping students with special problems.....	27
Supervision.....	28
Evaluation of training.....	28
PART II. HOW ELKVIEW DID IT.....	32
Planning the Project.....	33
Students Observe in Nursery School and Kindergarten.....	35
Students Discuss Their Observations.....	36
Some Things That Happened during the Discussion.....	41
Students Carry on Other Experiences.....	42
Fay takes care of her brothers at home.....	46
Patricia entertains convalescent children in a hospital....	47
Marjory, Joel, and Virginia serve as volunteers in the nursery school.....	48
Ben, Bruce, and Peter make a play yard for the neighborhood children.....	49
Jane works in a doctor's office.....	50
Roger helps with a before- and after-school program for children of working mothers.....	52
Students Need Help on Special Problems.....	53
A small group discusses "When children say, 'No' ".....	53
The class learns about toys for young children.....	55
What Did These Experiences Contribute to the Youth and the Community?.....	58
Guide for Observation in a Nursery School or Kindergarten.....	60