INDIA CAN DO IT!

Nearly 50 years ago the inspiration of the late Mr. Godrej began a business, which keeps on flourishing on the principles of Indian self-sufficiency. Observing that India has engineering skill, he first enlisted the hereditary locksmiths of Malabar to make locks. From this simple beginning the firm proceeded to develop the manufacture of dependable Safes and other security equipment, then Metal Furniture, and can now manufacture anything in sheet metal or hardware; and it has reached the peak of skill in an Engineering factory by producing Machine-tools (for its own use) for the first time in India. A skilled staff of 2,000 is thus able to cope with anything from the supply of tens of thousands of bedsteads to the designing and building of giant Safe-Deposits.

Godrej 8-ton Strong-Door.

Over two decades ago, Mr. Godrej envisaged the great necessity of a swadeshi soap industry; and so was laid the foundation of another pioneer industry by the same man. He realised that good soaps should be made exclusively from vegetable oils, and that India fortunately possess both raw materials as well as markets for finished products. The countrywide distribution of Godrej Toilet Soaps has made it a pleasure for Indians to keep themselves clean by washing with pure toilet soap.

A Soap-Milling Machine in the Godrej Factory.

Much regard one feels for national industry, but true pride comes when the home-made articles are better value than the imported. The contribution by Godrej is very substantial; there are now practically no imports of security articles; and the figure for soaps is only about 1 per cent. of what it used to be twenty years ago.
