

VILLIERS
HIS FIVE DECADES OF ADVENTURE
VOL. II

HOW THE AUTHOR LOOKED JUST AFTER THE GREAT WAR

VILLIERS

His Five Decades of Adventure

By

FREDERIC VILLIERS

War Artist and Correspondent

VOLUME II

Hutchinson & Co.,

London

1921

VILLIERS: HIS FIVE DECADES OF ADVENTURE

Copyright, 1920, by Harper & Brothers
Printed in the United States of America

R-V

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
I. THE NEGUS NEGUSTI An uphill journey—Sir William Hewitt and Mason Bey—The great Theodore—The Abyssinia plateau—Adowa—The reception—Manners and customs of the people—A Worcester sauce bottle for a bride—A reception at the Palace—Johannes—Monkey land—A simian of quality.	I
II. CATASTROPHE The return to the coast—The simian's attempt to desert—The mummers—Lion—The palace—The catastrophe—A curious sunrise—Adventures of William Ridley—Down the Red Sea—Alexandria—Paris—London—He meets his old enemy—Arrested by police—His incarceration—His end.	26
III. ORIENTAL YET OCCIDENTAL Dongola and its Mudirie—Oriental splendor—A quaint fleet—By Nile and desert—I interview the Mudir—I am disillusioned—My first immersion in the historic river—Crocodiles—I lose my kit, but save my life—Küchener comes on the scene.	45
IV. THE FIGHT FOR THE WATER Sir Herbert Stewart—The Desert Column—The camel and his ways—Abu Klea—Mayor French's squadron to the rescue—By the skin of our teeth—The march to the Nile—The knoll at Metamneh—Our general placed hors de combat—The forlorn hope—The bloody square—The Nile at last—A silent reveille—Correspondents' casualties 50 per cent.	58
V. WRECKED A SECOND TIME A "baggie" and his ways—Wolseley's anxiety—I return to Cairo—Wrecked—I keep the gangway—A topsy-turvy life belt—A gruesome find—Rescued by friendly enemies—The solar tope—Brigand and cutthroats—A merry crew—The case of	74

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
	a mummy—In the meshes of Shepherd's once more—The terrible curse—Ingram's fate—A sailor field marshal—The lines of communication.
VI.	A SHORT CAMPAIGN AND A LONG JOURNEY 94 A Serb-Bulgar quarrel—A novel way to gain the front—A retreat—The Sovereign Order of the Knights of Malta—My harem—Safe in Belgrade—I beat the mail, am delivered before the letters—On the road to Mandalay—Bells and pagodas—An amiable viceroy—An adventure on the Irrawaddy—The reception at the palace of the bloodthirsty monarchs—I am introduced to a great general—I tell my story to Sir Frederick Roberts.
VII.	ONCE A GREAT LONE LAND—1898—1900 115 A governor-general of ancient lineage—"On, Stanley, on!"—Canada from coast to coast—Some of her cities—Plains, forests, and a few of her denizens.
VIII.	TOPSY-TURVY 129 The Land of the Rising Sun—Where East is West—Ping Yang—Umbrellas in action—Kinchow—A pawnbroker's shop—Sacks of jewelry—The egg—The dragon-eyed general—Capture of "the Chair Hill"—"Hang out our banners"—Chinese methods of attack—The streets of Port Arthur—A bloody business.
IX.	PATHS OF PEACE 139 The Antipodes—Australia and South Africa—Governors-general—Tasmania—A popular Prime Minister—A Western state governor—A simple knight—The late Lord Brassey—"I'm not a Seidlitz powder"—An indiscreet nobleman—Artistic coteries—The Sydney Supper Club—Verse between two cigars—Phil May—South Africa—I dine with Cecil Rhodes—Diamond hospitality—Jameson's Raid—Millionaires in a night—How pebbles of the right sort are found—The last of the Tsars—He crowns the Empress—Their bloody end.
X.	AN UNEQUAL STRUGGLE 159 I land at Volo—The broken siesta—A turbulent night—I keep gate at the British consulate—My cinema camera—How I nursed it—A crude machine—I am hostage in the land of the unspeakable Turk and find him a good fellow—An Englishman's word—The last fight at Domokos—The war of the cinema—Barnum's axiom.

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
XI. SHADOWS OF THE PAST AND HIGH LIGHTS OF TO-DAY . . .	184
Archibald Forbes—Fred Burnaby—Pellegrini—Sir A. Conan Doyle—Thomas Hardy—Henry Seton Merriman—Scott of Chicago—Bruce Ingram of the "Illustrated London News"—Sir Forbes Robertson—Barry Pain—W. W. Jacobs—Richard Barry—Stanley Washburn.
XII. ON THE HORNS OF A DILEMMA	205
I try my friends the Japs once more—Am not disappointed—Curious behavior of my colleagues—"You told the truth ten years ago; you will tell the truth now"—Well chosen—The peculiar Chinese—A pet fowl—Scattered leaves from my diary.
XIII. A MIDNIGHT INFERNO	221
The beginning of night warfare—A Whistler study—A nocturne in gold, silver, and blood—An attack under star bombs—Searchlight and the crescent moon—Ban-w-san in the light of day—Japanese heroes—Life on a mountain top—Dodging the eyes of the enemy—The Shinto Shades.
XIV. GREETED BY THE EMPEROR OF KOREA	238
More scattered leaves from my diary—Silver fish—A bad cat—I change quarters—Cho-san takes a hard drink and becomes soft—My colleague's birthday—Land of the Morning Calm—The Palace of Prosperity and Virtue—We interview royalty—The chief eunuch—Morning Calmers and their ways—Togo and his ships of war.
XV. KITCHENER IN THE SUDAN	259
Up the Nile—Across the desert—A movie camera and iron horse cause jealousy—The advance on Omdurman—A scorpion and its ways—A gunboat darkroom—A setback—The dervish attack—Saving the Camel Corps—Winston Churchill—Lieutenant Beatty—Their first rungs of the proverbial ladder—A solemn ceremony—The men of the moment, MacDonald, Hunter, and "Back-acher" Gatacre.
XVI. CLAIRVOYANCE	273
I am told my fortune—I sail for the Cape—Land at Port Elizabeth—The trail of the prophecy—The Magersfontein affair—The prophecy comes true—Sunnyside—Lumbago saves a brigade—Major Haigh—General French—Brabazon of the Guards—I miss my silver disk—Cecil Rhodes besieged—I interview the Empire-builder—He takes me round Kimberley

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
	and shows me the sights—Methuen and his night attack—The passing of an Empress—The mystery of the cannon.
XVII.	RIFFIANS AND RUFFIANS 292 I arrive in Melilla—The Berberine Coast—Corsairs of old—Pinto's disaster—Mount Gurugoo—A polite General Staff—A courteous officer—The best way to take Malaga—Riff manners and customs—I meet El Garto—Spanish troops.
XVIII.	A GHASTLY BUSINESS 300 Once under the Turkish yoke—The quick change to freedom—Good soldiers—Mustapha Pasha—Snapshot and movies at an execution—Gruesome scenes—I meet King Ferdinand—He admires my leather coat—War and water colors—His knowledge of my career—Belgrade—Looking for trouble—The coming of the Great Storm—My incredulous agent.
XIX.	1914 306 Stranded war correspondents—Paris during mobilization—The last of the Contemptibles—After the Marne—Like rabbit shooting—The Prussian debacle—Tramping it—A shift in a furniture van—The Crown Prince and champagne—The battle of the Aisne—I am taken for a spy—A score for my paper—Early- and latter-day trenches—The Red Tabbies—The British War Office and its way "peculiar"—I exhaust the Western front of dramatic incidents—I seek fresh fields and pastures new—I try East Africa-Mesopotamia without success and find incident for my sketchbook on the northwest frontier of India—The Mohmands at war—Armored cars, airplanes, and electricity surprise the hillmen.
XX.	MY LAST CHAPTER 327 Four big sights in the four quarters of the globe—The Matoppos, South Africa—The Khyber—The Great Wall of China—The movies, California—People by the way—The City of White Light—Things to be considered by the man who wants to be a war correspondent—Hors-de-combat—Prolonged visits to certain Hotels Dieu—Canada and her Sisters of Mercy—A famous surgeon and his patients—Good Samaritans everywhere—Adieu.

ILLUSTRATIONS

HOW THE AUTHOR LOOKED JUST AFTER THE GREAT WAR	Frontispiece
SCENE IN THE LATE RUSSIAN-JAPANESE WAR . .	Facing p. 254
VIEW OF TRENCHES ON WESTERN FRONT, 1914. (PERISCOPE IN LOWER RIGHT-HAND CORNER)	“ 318
THE AUTHOR VISITS CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN CALI- FORNIA	“ 332