Readers' Opinions

A splendid production.—SIR JOSIAH STAMP.

A noble volume which has surely come to stay as an indispensable item in every library of importance.—PROFESSOR J. F. MUIRHEAD.

Worthy of a hearty welcome.—RT. HON. J. RAMSAY McDONALD.

A splendid achievement.—FRIDTJOF NANSEN.

"Europa's" direct and indirect influence on a clearer understanding of public events is bound continually to increase.—COUNT SFORZA.

One of the most interesting and valuable reference books that I have seen.—COLONEL HOUSE.

One of the most valuable publications I have seen for years.—W. H. FAUNCE, President Brown University, U.S.A.

Admirable and most useful . . . contains just the sort of thing that a man on my job is looking for.—WALTER LIPPMANN, The World, New York.

One of the most useful books for our purposes we have yet found.—ED. L. KEEN, United Press of America.

Invaluable possession for a journalist.—STEPHEN GWYNN.

The amount of information packed away in your pages—information that can only be obtained elsewhere by searching through a hundred books in a dozen languages—must make this book the indispensable companion of every publicist.—F. A. MACKENZIE.
