INSPECTOR GENERAL OF PRISONS OFFICE,

Poona, 7th May 1920.

From

LIEUT.-COLONEL F. O. N. MELL, C.I.E., M.B., C.M. (Edin.),
D.P.H. (Camb.), I. M. S., Inspector General of Prisons,
Bombay Presidency ;

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
Judicial Department,
Bombay.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit the Annual Administration Report for the year 1919, together with the usual Statistical Tables, on the Prisons and Jails in the Bombay Presidency, including the Province of Sind and the Settlement of Aden.

The following officers were in charge :—

Lieut.-Colonel F. H. G. Hutchinson, I. M. S.—from 1st January to 14th March.

Major W. O'S. Murphy, I. M. S.—from 15th March to 1st May.

Colonel H. E. Banatvala, C.S.I., I. M. S. (Retired)—from 2nd May to 28th November.

I held charge for the remainder of the year.

JUDICIAL.

2. The number of Central, District, Special and Extra-mural Prisons has undergone no change. Statistics of the Third Class Subsidiary Jails and Lockups, have been grouped together as in previous years.

3. From the general summary, it will be seen that the total population of all classes of prisoners confined in the Prisons, Subsidiary Jails, Lockups and Civil Jails increased considerably (20,532), being 149,289, as compared with 128,757 in the year 1918. The daily average population shows an increase also of 3,101 as compared with 1918. This has resulted in much overcrowding in all Jails except Karwar and Ratnagiri.

4. The following table, which compares the figures of the past two years, refers to the admission of convicts into Prisons and Second Class Subsidiary Jails only :—

				1918.			1919.
				Males.	Females.	Total.	Males.	Females.	Total.

5. The number of convicts admitted into Prisons and Second Class Subsidiary Jails increased by 5,453. All the Prisons show an increase except Ratnagiri and Rajkot.

It seems fair to conclude that a good deal of this increase was due to rise in price of necessities of life, leading to "Theft," for the number of admissions under this head shows a very much larger increase than under any other:—

In 1915	...	...	5,632
In 1919	...	...	8,413

6. There is an increase under every head except "Transported beyond sea," "Transferred to Lunatic Asylum" and "Died." This last is very satisfactory.

2,394 were released by order of Government, 2,292 being on account of the Peace Celebration:—

Released on 19th July 1919 on the occasion of Peace Celebration .	2,292

4 from the Hyderabad Central Prison.
Released on account of sickness	6
1 each from His Majesty's Common Prison, Bombay, Bijapur, Thana and Ahmedabad Prisons.
2 from His Majesty's House of Correction, Bombay.
Total	2,394

Eighty-three life transports and 17 term transports were deported to the Andamans via Alipore against 94 life transports and 55 term transports in 1918.

On four occasions they could not be deported for following reasons:—

- (1) Pressure of work in the Thana Special Prison Office involved in awarding Peace Celebration remission to prisoners.
- (2) For want of police guard.
- (3) Prevalence of influenza in Thana.

There were 32 State prisoners in confinement in the Presidency at the close of the year.

7. Religion.—Under head "Europeans" there is a decline owing to no Court Martial prisoners being sent to His Majesty's House of Correction, Bombay.

Statement No. II—Religion, age, education and previous occupation of convicts.

Age.—The number of juveniles under 15 years of age shows an increase (33 against 22 in 1918). Of the 26 males and 7 females convicted during the year, three males and one female were previously convicted. Two males were acquitted and one was released on furnishing security. The subjoined table shows the sentences awarded in the case of the remaining 26 as well as the ages of these prisoners.

Sentenced by												Total.	Ages.
Days.						Months.					Years.		10	12	13	14
2	5	7	8	10	14	21	1	2	3	6	10						1
2	1	1	1	2	3	1	6	5	1	1	1	1	26	4	2	7	13

It is apparent from the increase under this class of prisoners that the suggestion made to Magistrates in the last year's report as well as in paragraph 2 of Government Resolution, Judicial Department, No. 7632, dated 10th September 1919, has not been acted on by them. I would respectfully suggest that the Commissioners of Divisions and the Commissioner in Sind would issue circular instructions in this matter to the Magistrates under them.

Of the total number of juveniles three were sent to the Reformatory School by order of the District Magistrate. Seven out of the total 33 juveniles were admitted in Karachi.

Education.—Classified by education, 12.5 per cent. were able to read and write.

Previous occupation.—All the heads show an increase except females ("Unmarried" and "prostitutes").

The percentage of the total number of males and females admitted to the free population according to the census of 1911 was 0.220 and .011 respectively.

8. All the heads show an increase except the two heads "Transportation for a term" and "Death." The largest increase is under 1 to 3 months and 3 to 6 months. The principal jails in which these short-term sentences were high were Common Prison, Yeravda, and Dhulia.

The "Simple imprisonments" have increased (776 as against 719).

The "Rigorous" also (22,656 against 17,286).

"Solitary confinement" given in addition to rigorous imprisonment shows a slight increase (132 against 96). Overcrowding and insufficient cellular accommodation prevents the execution of this to some extent.

The number of prisoners sentenced in Bombay for "Seven days and under" in default of payment of fine was slightly less (366 against 377). Those sent to His Majesty's Common Prison distinctly less (176 against 259). There is still much room for improvement in these figures.

9. The previously convicted prisoners classified as habituals show a large increase (2,573 against 2,011). The number of habituals (vide subjoined statement) identified by Jail Officials was 91 against 70 in the year previous. The statement does not include 1,570 prisoners sentenced under Chapter VIII of the Criminal Procedure Code. The admissions in Sind under this heading are more than in 1918, but much the same as in other years.

I noticed in Sukkur at my visit on 6th February 1920 nearly one-third of the prisoners were imprisoned under this Chapter.

The proper separation of habituals from casuals has been exceedingly difficult, owing to overcrowding and war conditions. But it will slowly improve, I hope, this year. I do not think some of the Superintendents realise the importance of this separation. But I have been pointing it out wherever I have gone.

10. From the information supplied by the Inspector General of Police it appears that 2,088 persons were indentified as old offenders in the Bombay Presidency inclusive of Sind against 1,527 in 1918. Of the 2,088, 142 were identified in Bombay, 395 at Dhulia, 161 at the Deccan Convict Gang, 223 at Thana, 405 at Ahmedabad, 411 at Yeravda, and the rest in other parts of the Presidency.

11. The number of escapes of convicted prisoners from Prisons, Extra-Statement No. V.—Escapes Mural Gangs and Second Class Sub-Jails has been (Convicted prisoners). (23 against 21 in 1918), 2 being from inside jails and 21 from outside. The two prisoners who escaped from inside jail were two of the same batch who escaped from the Hyderabad Central Prison on 4th November 1918 and were reported to Government in letter No. 1186, dated 24th January 1920. This was a case where gross negligence by warders was shown. And they were severely dealt with (two being reduced and two dismissed). The construction of all cells in all jails visited by me is very defective. It will take a long time and much money to remedy these defects. But to prevent any more cells of this sort being built, a standard plan of a good type of cell and locking arrangements has been sent to Superintending Engineers of all Divisions. It will be difficult to tamper with these improved cells without detection.

Eighteen out of the 23 escapes were recaptured, 4 escaped convicts of previous years were retaken.

Of the 21 escapes, or attempts to escape, during the year under review, from outside, 12 were convicts of the Deccan Convict Gang who made a daring dash for liberty, just when work was being closed in the evening. They threw down their tools, and rushed past an armed sentry about ten paces away. The sentry lost his head, and failed to fire. On the alarm being given, the pursuit of the runaways was taken up. Five were recaptured, but the chase had to be given up as darkness was setting in. Subsequently four more were recaptured. The other escapes were isolated instances. When negligence was found, the offender was prosecuted or punished departmentally.

12. The number of offences dealt with by Criminal Courts was 32 against and punishments. 15 in 1918 as detailed below :—

The increase is principally due to 15 prisoners in the Deccan Convict Gang having been prosecuted for refusing to work as against 1 in 1918. Not enough use is made of section 52 of the Prisons Act.

13. The number of offences dealt with by Superintendents increased by 812 (from 16,387 to 17,199) with an increased average population of 11,345 against 9,666 in 1918. The ratio is 149.0. Minor and major punishments increased by 382 and 430, respectively.

The increase of offences under assault is noticeable, viz., from 65 to 235; the Deccan Convict Gang is alone responsible for an increase of 126. These assaults dealt with by minor punishments, were more or less of a trivial nature, caused by petty altercations between prisoners.

14. The total number of major and minor punishments awarded by Superintendents was 18,107 and the total number of offences 17,199. The difference of 908 is due to the award of combined punishments.

15. Of the 18,107 punishments awarded by the Superintendents 11,505 or 64 per cent. were minor and 6,602 or 36 per cent. belong to the major class. Warnings formed 16.9 per cent. of the total number.

The following prisons show an increase in punishments :—

His Majesty's House of Correction, Bombay 101, Deccan Convict Gang 1,470, Karwar 417, Ratnagiri 115, Karachi 90, Sukkur 292, Shikarpur 24 and Sind Convict Gang 230. The increase is principally due to increase in population. In the Deccan Gang and Karwar Prison, in addition to the above reason, many of the punishments were due to bad character prisoners transferred from Bombay. At the Sind Gang the increase was due to stricter discipline enforced during the latter part of the year. This was due to the change of the Superintendents and the Jailer.

Out of 17,199 offences 2,079 habituals were responsible for 5,304 and 5,002 non-habituals for the balance of 11,995 offences. The percentage of habituals including those under section 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code is 16.6 calculated on admission rates.

16. The subjoined table furnishes details of floggings inflicted on convicts in various prisons. The total number of corporal punishments has increased from 21 in 1918 to 25 in 1919 and are accounted for as under :—

His Majesty's Common Prison.—two; one for unprovoked assault on a warder; and the other on a convict barber (with his razor).

His Majesty's House of Correction.—one; for assaulting a night watchman who refused to receive tobacco from outside the prison wall.

Yeravda Central Prison.—three; two for assaults on convict overseers and one for refusing to work.

Dhulia Prison.—one; for assault on a fellow convict.

Bijapur Prison.—one; for assaulting a head warder.

Karwar Prison.—one; for persistent short work.

Ratnagiri Prison.—two; one for pilfering wheat with the object of passing it outside the jail and the other for throwing faeces at the Jailer.

Ahmedabad Central Prison.—two; one for persistent short work and the other for refusing to do any other work.

Hyderabad Central Prison.—seven; two for assaults on a convict and a convict overseer, one for assault and wounding a convict, two for removing iron patties fixed to the doors of cells, one for removing tiles of the floor of a cell and doing damage to buildings. The remaining one should have been punished in some other way, and this is being brought to the Superintendent's notice.

Shikarpur Prison.—one; for stealing shoes of another prisoner in the garden.

Sind Convict Gang.—four; all for assaults.

Of the 25 prisoners flogged, four were habituals.

17. Fetters.—11,083 prisoners were fettered against 9,164 in 1918; mostly prisoners employed extramurally for purposes of security (8,754).

18. 2,875 prisoners were released under the system against 2,849 in 1918.

Remission System. The percentage of those released under the remission system, if of average good conduct upto the date of release, was 97.8 against 98.2 in 1918. The practice of mustering prisoners and reading and explaining to them the benefits of the remission rules requires to be done more systematically.

Special awards under rules 514 and 519, i.e., remission for one year's good conduct and for doing special work, were granted to 2,002 and 2,231 prisoners, respectively against 2,193 and 2,618 in 1918.

The practice of promoting prisoners under sentence of one year, in the absence of suitable long-term prisoners, was adopted in most of the prisons, and was found to work fairly satisfactorily.

19. The average number employed as prison officers was 1,165 males and 11 females against 1,031 and 13, respectively in 1918. The total number of punishments was 2,540 against 1,959. The increase can be partially explained by the fact that a large number of old convict officers was released on Peace Celebration remission, and new and inexperienced convict officers had to be employed in their places.

Diet. 20. The statement requires no comment. No change from last year.

21. There was a large increase in undertrial prisoners admitted, 10,623 (1,04,835 against 94,207 in 1918). Also a large increase in daily average, 1,231 (3,621 against 2,390). The increase in acquittals was largely due to the internments during the period of unrest, 3,150 (21,538 against 18,438) and their subsequent release.

22. The number of adolescents or juveniles detained as undertrials for prolonged periods was more than in 1918. The following table compares the figures for 1919 and 1918 according to detention periods. :—

Year.				2 to 3 months.	3 to 4 months.	Over 4 months.
1919	...	...	...	47	25	35
1918	...	...	...	29	8	4

The increase in the last two columns is due to two causes—

- (1) cases of rioters tried at Ahmedabad, and
- (2) the Dharwar Prison which is alone responsible for 15 cases out of the 47 shown in column 2.

23. Sixty-one undertrial prisoners escaped against 38 in 1918. All of these escaped from 3rd Class Subsidiary Jails and Lockups. The main increase was due to 23 escaping from the Viramgam Sub-Jail during the riot of April 1919 having been forcibly released by the crowd of rioters.

24. The number of deaths among undertrial prisoners shows a large decrease (71 against 140).

Prisons	351	24

26. The number of prisoners admitted to Civil Jails was 527 males and 6 females against 739 males and 2 females in 1918; the daily average was 30 against 39. The total cost and cost per head have been Rs. 8,059 and Rs. 268-10-4 against Rs. 6,719 and Rs. 172-4-7 in 1918. The increase in the expenditure is due to the war allowance of the warders of the Civil Jail, Bombay, for 1918 having been drawn in 1919 and to the higher rates of articles required for the upkeep of these Jails in the Presidency.

FINANCIAL.

27. Statement No. IX includes charges for inspection and general superintendence. Sale proceeds of garden produce have been deducted from the total charges.

Statements Nos. IX and X.—
Expenditure.

The gross expenditure was Rs. 23,27,911 against Rs. 14,58,992.

The cost per head was Rs. 153-7-11 against Rs. 121-0-3.

28. The total cost as compared with the last year has increased (Rs. 3,95,510 to Rs. 4,39,986) while the cost per head has decreased (Rs. 29-0-2 against Rs. 32-13-0). The increase of Rs. 44,476 in the former was due to—

Establishment

- (1) the increased pay of Sub-Assistant Surgeons,
- (2) war allowance for 1918 drawn in 1919, and

(3) the revised pay of warders being drawn for 12 months as against eight months in previous year.

20. The total cost and cost per head has increased from Rs. 7,57,687 and Rs. 62-13-6 to Rs. 14,56,761 and Rs. 96-0-11, respectively. This was due to—

- (1) the increase in population,
- (2) the high rates of provision of all sorts—

			1918.	1919.
Jowari per rupee	...	...	lbs. 18-12	7-14

(3) the higher rates of all articles of every description required for repairs, renewals, and so forth.

30. The value of vegetables and other supplies from the jail gardens was Rs. 88,353 against Rs. 40,135 in 1918, an increase of Rs. 48,218. This was due to the good rainy season of the year; some of the gardens are in a very backward condition, and these are being brought to a higher state of cultivation.

I notice in some jails that a contractor, knowing that in that particular jail he would never need to supply vegetables, immediately puts down on his tender absurd rates, e.g., 60 lbs. per rupee. This would tend to lower prices of the whole tender. This will receive attention this year. It also has the effect of lowering the credit of that jail for its vegetable supply.

31. The total cost and cost per head have been Rs. 93,877 and Rs. 6-3-1 against Rs. 54,824 and Rs. 4-8-8 in 1918. The increase was due to—

- (1) the increase in admissions to hospitals (12,225 in 1918 to 12,990),
- (2) the high rates of articles of food, milk and extras noted in paragraph 29.
- (3) high prices of medicines, and
- (4) more adjustments for medicines in 1919 than in 1918.

32. The total cost and cost per head increased to Rs. 1,21,994 and Rs. 8-0-8 against Rs. 75,092 and Rs. 6-3-7 in 1918. The increase was partly due to larger population, and partly to higher rates of twist and wool.

I hope to effect a saving in this by standardising clothing. I see that nearly every jail seems to be going its own way in the matter, with a result that there is no uniformity at all, and a great leakage in expenditure.

33. The total cost has increased from Rs. 32,965 to Rs. 37,985 while the cost per head has fallen from Rs. 2-11-8 to Rs. 2-8-1. The increase in the total cost was due to excess population, and to the higher rates for washing and disinfection.

34. Both the total cost and cost per head have increased from Rs. 60,335 to Rs. 77,984 and Rs. 5 to Rs. 5-2-3. This was due to—

- (1) increase in population,
- (2) transfers of prisoners from jails to jails, to relieve overcrowding.
- (3) transfers of prisoners of the Ahmedabad Central Prison and the two Bombay Jails to other prisons to provide accommodation for the prisoners convicted of rioting at those places in April 1919,
- (4) a large number of releases on the occasion of the Peace Celebration, and
- (5) the higher rate of subsistence allowance from annas 2 to annas 4.

The charges under the head of "Moving prisoners" have been heavily increased by the Peace remissions. Many prisoners who were released had to be sent to stations far distant from the jails where they were confined, in some cases as far as Burma.

35. The total cost has increased from Rs. 58,716 to Rs. 69,459 and the cost per head has fallen from Rs. 4-14-0 to Rs. 4-9-3. The increase in the former was due to—

Charges for Miscellaneous Services and Supplies.

- (1) higher rate of Kerosine oil.
- (2) higher rate of iron required for repairs to fetters and handcuffs,
- (3) the purchase of badges (Rs. 500) for the head dress of warders in the department,
- (4) large amount of gratuity required to be paid to a large number of convict officers, released on the Peace Celebration.
- (5) freight charges on prison clothing of large transfer of prisoners, and
- (6) the supply of tobacco at a higher rate to prisoners in the Deccan Convict Gang.

36. The total cost has been Rs. 6,312 against Rs. 5,163 and the cost per head has been Re. 0-6-8 against Re. 0-6-11 in 1918.

Travelling allowance.

The increase in the former was due to—

- (1) more transfers of prisoners from jail to jail whom warders had to accompany,
- (2) the Jailer of the Yeravda Central Prison and a Head Warder, from the House of Correction had to go to Calcutta to identify accused persons in Criminal Courts there and remained away a long period, and
- (3) payment of amounts to the Jailer and Head Clerk of the Aden Special Prison in 1919.

37. The total cost and cost per head have increased from Rs. 11,859 and Re. 0-15-10 to Rs. 15,413 and Re. 1-0-3. The increase was due to—

Contingencies.

- (1) the enhanced rates of postal and telegraph charges,
- (2) the supply of typewriters at the prisons of Yeravda, Ratnagiri, Thana and Karachi, and
- (3) the increased cost of printing and binding charges for the Jail Department.

38. The total expenditure has increased from Rs. 6,841 to Rs. 8,140 while the cost per head has decreased from Re. 0-9-1 to Re. 0-8-7. The increase in the total cost was unavoidable in certain prisons and was incurred after due scrutiny by my office.

Extraordinary charges for live-stock, tools and plant.

39. The average number of prisoners sentenced to labour shows a large increase (11,404 against 9,547 in 1918). The percentage of those employed on manufactures and extramural works was 36.5 against 37.2 in 1918; the difference of 0.7 was due to the excess number of sick and convalescents, owing to the effects of the severe epidemic of influenza in the latter part of the year 1918.

Statement No. XI.—Employment of convicts.

40. The net cash earnings have increased from Rs. 1,60,744 to Rs. 2,51,811, an increase of Rs. 91,067. The prisons of Yeravda, Bijapur, Dharwar, Ahmedabad, Rajkot, Karachi, Sukkur, Aden, H. M.'s Common Prison, Bombay, and the Deccan Convict Gang show an increase in the profits, while the prisons of Dhulia, Karwar, Ratnagiri, Hyderabad, H. M.'s House of Correction, Bombay, and the Sind Convict Gang show a decrease.

Statement No. XII.—Net cash earnings.

The increase in the cash profits is due to—

- (1) less stock of manufactured articles and raw material on hand at the end of the year,
- (2) less outstanding,
- (3) the contracts held by the Ahmedabad Central Prison with the Army and Police Departments for stitching garments and sewing articles of uniforms for the respective departments,
- (4) convicts supplied to Loco Department for coaling engines at Rohri and Sukkur railway stations,
- (5) convicts employed by the Public Works Department at Aden throughout the year, and
- (6) the Aden Prison Press getting a large amount of printing work from the British Somaliland Government.

The profits of the Sind Convict Gang have been reduced apparently by Rs. 33,981 as compared with those for 1918, the reason being that in 1918 a large outstanding for 1917 (Rs. 13,607) was added, also cost of ballast for 1917. The real difference is small—Rs. 6,483.

I am in correspondence about the rates for ballast which strikes me as being all to the advantage of the Railway.

The sale of quinine packets at Yerayda and Hyderabad Central Prisons has resulted in a loss of Rs. 11,331. This was due to the difference in the selling and purchase rates of the drug which were respectively Rs. 20-10-0 and Rs. 24 to Rs. 28.

Quinine treatments of the value of Rs. 47,131 were received from the Medical Storekeeper, Bombay, and 6,644 parcels were distributed. These transactions have also resulted in a loss of Rs. 25,679 owing to the difference of Rs. 3-8-8 between the purchase and selling prices of the treatments.

41. Jail made articles of the value of Rs. 98,865 against Rs. 83,496 in 1918 were supplied to Government Departments as detailed below:—

	Rs.
Public Works Department	5,458
Police Department	17,021
Telegraph Department	1,510
Marine Department	2,578
Military Department	27,011
Other Civil Departments	18,607
Somaliland Protectorate	4,764
Basrah and Bagdad Jails	21,364
War Hospitals	552
Total	98,865

I am going to try and extend the supply of articles to Government Departments this year.

42. The Gang remained at Visapur in the Ahmednagar District throughout the year. With an average of 1,907 prisoners sentenced to labour, the net cash profit amounted to Rs. 61,229 against Rs. 43,848 with an average of 1,301 prisoners in 1918. The health of the prisoners was not satisfactory, the death rate per mille being 27·2 against 84·2 in 1918. The decrease was due to there being no influenza epidemic. If we take that away, the number of admissions for diarrhoea, dysentery, malarial fevers and pneumonia was greater during 1919. These diseases accounted for most of the mortality. This increased mortality was due largely to overcrowding. Mr. Hall's work with this Gang is so well known that there is no need for me to say anything about it. I only regret I was unable to see his work before the end of 1919.

43. This Gang was at Ganja Takar near Hyderabad (Sind) during the whole year. It showed a net cash profit of Rs. 50,033 against Rs. 84,014 in 1918; the average number of prisoners sentenced to labour was 800 against 775. The reason of the fall in profits has been stated under paragraph 40.

The health of this Gang was still not satisfactory, the death rate, exclusive of influenza cases, was as high as 37.5. Although it has decreased, it is still very high. There were four Superintendents during the year. With so many changes the administration always suffers. I am hoping for a distinct improvement this year. There was a good deal of overcrowding here also, which is always a main feature in increase of mortality.

44. The subjoined statement compares the outturn of the Yeravda Prison Press for the years 1918 and 1919. The number of prisoners employed was 237 against 252 in 1918, the total cost of their maintenance being Rs. 36,800 calculated on an average cost of Rs. 155-4-5 per prisoner.

VITAL.

46. The following table compares the principal features relating to Statement No. XIV—Sick- sickness and mortality for the years 1918 and ness and Mortality. 1919:—

Year.				Daily average strength.	Admission into hospital.	Daily average sick.	Total number of deaths.	Ratio of deaths per mille.
1918	...	...	...	12,095	12,225	336-9	708	58-5
1919	...	...	...	15,194	12,990	419-9	851	28-1

47. The great fall in the death ratio per mille is due largely to the non-recrudescence of influenza during the year. The death rate (excluding 34 due to influenza) comes 20.9 against 22.5 in 1918. The general death rate for the Presidency was 32.53 against 88.05 in 1918.

48. I now comment on the mortality in jails where the death rate exceeded 20 per mille:—

His Majesty's Common Prison—31.5.

Tubercle: The three deaths were direct admissions to hospital, and two were transferred to Thana (Tubercle Ward), where they died. The third was too ill to be transferred. All the cases of tubercle admitted had contracted the disease outside.

Pneumonia: Of the 4 deaths, two were direct admissions to hospital, a third within three days of arrival, and the fourth within a fortnight.

The other deaths call for no special remark, except the case of Perforation Small Intestine, which was admitted into jail in a dying condition.

Considering the extreme overcrowding in this jail, and that 7 deaths occurred from direct admissions, the jail has a good bill of health.

Yeravda Central Prison—204.

Tubercle: Of the 11 deaths one occurred in a direct admission (in 1916). Another probably had the disease before coming to jail, as he was admitted within 10 days of arrival. Of the remainder 1 was good, and the remainder in fair health.

Dysentery: 3. One was in bad health and admitted 4 days after arrival.

Diarrhoea: 4. One was in bad, 2 in fair, and 1 in good health on admission.

Most cases of diarrhoea and dysentery occurred during the rainy season (June to September).

Pneumonia: 5 deaths. No remarks to make.

Suicide: 1. The prisoner was a patient in hospital, suffering from chronic diarrhoea, and in a very weak condition. He was segregated in a cell, and committed suicide by strangling himself with his lungoti twisted into a cord, while the round officer was going his rounds in another part of the hospital yard. The magisterial enquiry showed no one was to blame.

The other cases call for no particular notice.

This hospital was very much overcrowded during the whole year.

Dhulia Prison—223.

Dysentery occurred in June, July and August.

Pneumonia: 4 deaths.

Relapsing fever: 2 deaths. This disease was prevalent throughout 11 months of the year but especially from July to November. It was confined to new arrivals from East and West Khandesh and Dhulia itself. Of cases infected in jail 8 were amongst hospital attendants.

Malaria was worst in March and the rainy season (June to October). This jail was also overcrowded.

Deccan Convict Gang—272.

Tubercle: Owing to overcrowding in all jails, prisoners other than those in good health were sent here, i.e., fair health and cases of tubercle were found amongst these.

The three deaths were direct admissions to the Gang.

Dysentery and Diarrhoea: 3 out of 4 direct.

All diarrhoea deaths occurred in direct admissions and men in bad health.

Dysentery and diarrhoea prevailed from April to October. During this time the Medical Officer was a man who could not be relied on.

The overcrowding here was also largely responsible for increase in deaths, because there was no room to segregate cases properly, or to disinfect efficiently.

Pneumonia: 15 deaths, 12 of which occurred in January to March inclusive.

Cholera: There was a slight epidemic in the month of August. This occurred in 3 particular barracks. Effective measures were taken to stamp it out. There were 8 cases in the warders' lines.

Thana Special Prison—315.

Tubercle: This jail receives tubercle cases from other jails. There were 4 deaths—

1 direct admission,

1 admitted a week after being in jail,

1 admitted two weeks after being in jail,

1 admitted five months after being in jail.

I may presume they all had the disease, except No. 4, before admission. It is not easy to diagnose this complaint on first examination.

Pneumonia: 6. Three deaths in October; the others scattered throughout the year.

There were three epidemics here during the year :—

1. Cholera in July. 4 cases, 3 deaths. Two were sweepers in the same barrack. Cholera was raging in the town.
2. Influenza of a severe type. 106 cases, 6 deaths from August to end of December.
3. Small-pox. 6 cases, no deaths in September. The cause could not be found.

There was overcrowding throughout the year.

Hyderabad Central Prison—204.

Tubercle: Nothing particular; 4 cases 2 deaths. Two were discharged cured. The two deaths were direct admissions to hospital.

Dysentery: Requires no remark.

Diarrhoea: 49 cases, no deaths. Occurred throughout the year to a slight extent. There were 9 cases in June and 16 in October.

Pneumonia. 7 cases, 1 death.

Sukkur Prison—428.

Pneumonia chief cause of mortality, 20 deaths and 100 cases.

Months during which attacks were most frequent November (10), January (30), February (24).

Least during June to September.

Most attacks occurred in men between 30—45 years of age.

Sind.—Pneumonia was most prevalent in the districts during first four months of the year. The increased recoveries, the Medical Officer says, are due to "care and nursing".

Preventive inoculation is under trial at present.

Sind Convict Gang—475.

Tubercle: 4 cases, 2 deaths. One case was sent straight into hospital on admission, and discharged cured.

The remaining three, two of which died, were more than six months in the Gang before disease was diagnosed.

Dysentery: 69 cases, 4 deaths. The disease was prevalent throughout the year. April was the worst month. There were four Superintendents during the year, and supervision suffered in consequence. The work of the Sub-Assistant Surgeons was unsatisfactory also.

Diarrhoea: 101 cases, 2 deaths. Most prevalent between June and October.

Pneumonia: 51 cases and 17 deaths. January was the month in which nearly one-third of the attacks took place.

The number of deaths is half that of last year, but is still very high.

Malaria: 286. 1 death. Prevalent throughout the year, but worst in March, and period from August to November inclusive. The same remarks regarding Superintendents and supervision apply here. There has been a good deal of improvement this year.

Influenza accounted for 8 of 9 other deaths. Two fatal epidemics—one in August, one in December.

All the prisons were overcrowded except Shikarpur, the two coast prisons of Karwar and Ratnagiri, His Majesty's House of Correction, Bombay, and Aden Special Prison.

Steps are being taken to relieve this, by the formation of two convict gangs, and proposals to build a New Central Jail near Kurla, and a new prison in Bombay. As the scheme for the formation of one gang is well framed, it is anticipated that the overcrowding will be partially relieved before the end of the current year; and when the Belgaum Central Jail is built, the Deccan Prisons will be relieved.

This overcrowding causes an increased mortality during epidemics, because of the difficulty of segregation. The question of lateral ventilation is under consideration. Overcrowding was relieved by use of tents, verandahs, unused worksheds, and transfers to other prisons.

49. The following methods were adopted during the year under report with a view to improve the health of the prisoners confined in our prisons and are inserted in accordance with the orders contained in paragraph 1 of Government Resolution, Judicial Department, No. 9115, dated 29th December 1896:—

- (1) Issue of wheat and rice in lieu of bajri and jowari in certain cases.
- (2) Issue of two ounces extra flour and one ounce of molasses to working prisoners in the Deccan Gang.
- (3) Issue of wheat in lieu of bajri and jowari at the Sind Gang and anti-scorbutic chatni in the hot weather.
- (4) Issue of extra rations to weakly prisoners and convalescents.
- (5) Issue of quinine as a prophylactic against malaria.
- (6) Issue of potatoes and onions in the vegetable ration.
- (7) Issue of extra warm clothing when considered necessary.
- (8) Inoculation with plague prophylactic serum and influenza vaccine.
- (9) Physical drill at Dharwar Prison.
- (10) Teeth scaling newly introduced.
- (11) Segregation of scabies and ringworm cases.
- (12) Issue of limes to prisoners with spongy gums at Ratnagiri.

50. In subsidiary Jails and Lockups the population, the daily average strength, etc., were much increased as shown below:—

Population	...	...	101,284	against	90,308	in 1918.
Daily average strength	...	...	3,035	„	1,997	„
Admissions into hospital	...	...	2,261	„	1,725	„
Daily average sick	...	...	32.5	„	25.7	„
Deaths	...	...	63	„	120	„
Death rate per mille	...	...	22.0	„	60.1	„

The deaths and death rate, being less, are chiefly due to the absence of influenza during the year.

Statement No. XV.

51. This statement has been noticed under paragraph 48.

Plague.—Inoculation has been resorted to in the prisons of Dhulia, Bijapur, Dharwar, Ratnagiri, Thana, Hyderabad, Common Prison—Bombay, and the Deccan Convict Gang.

Dysentery shows a large increase in admissions (896 against 307) and the number of deaths (21 against 10). This increase was noticed in all jails except House of Correction, Bijapur, Ratnagiri, Rajkot, Shikarpur, Hyderabad and Aden. It was worst in the rainy season in most jails. Owing to changes amongst medical subordinates in many jails the supervision over water and food was not constant or effective.

Malaria was a good deal more prevalent. Quinine prophylaxis was continued. The mortality rate was less. The actual number of deaths 8 against 7 in 1918.

Pyrexia of uncertain origin showed 88 against 23. Fifty of these occurred in Yeravda Central Prison and 30 in Deccan Convict Gang. There were no deaths.

Tubercle has been noted under the different jails. The number of admissions was 91 against 63 and deaths 37 against 19.

More accommodation for tubercular patients is going to be built, and I hope we shall be to get over a good deal of the overcrowding this year.

Pneumonia has also been noticed under the different jails affected.

There was a great increase (321 against 206) in admissions and deaths 86 against 71. I am putting up a proposal about this disease in Sind.

Diarrhæa.—Admissions 710 against 358 and deaths 15 against 8. My remarks under dysentery apply equally well to this disease.

52. Prisoners' weighments.

The following table compares the figures for the years 1918 and 1919:—

Year.	Number of prisoners discharged.	Of the number discharged those who
		Gained.	Lost.	Remained stationary.
1918	20,183	11,170 or 55.3 per cent.	4,664 or 23.1 per cent.	4,349 or 21.6 per cent.
1919	28,001	16,113 or 57.5 per cent.	5,925 or 21.2 per cent.	5,963 or 21.3 per cent.

More attention is being paid to the weighment of prisoners. While it does not mean everything as regards health, it is a great help when taken—along with other factors—in determining the condition of health of a convict.

OFFICIAL AND NON-OFFICIAL VISITORS.

53. There were 270 official visitors. Sixty-two quarterly meetings were held, all being well attended. Five hundred and two visits were paid by official visitors and 92 by non-official visitors.

BUILDINGS.

54. The following allotments were sanctioned during the year for original major works:—

	Ra.
(1) Quarters for additional warders at the Hyderabad Central Prison	11,000
(2) A block of 8 cells for condemned prisoners and quarters for warders at the Ahmedabad Central Prison	15,000
(3) A workshop in the Ahmedabad Central Prison	5,600
(4) Acquisition of land for the new jail for Bombay at Chembur ...	3,00,000
(5) New jail at Hindalgi, Belgaum	80,000
(6) Quarters for the head clerk and compositor at Aden Special Prison	10,000

In addition to the above, a sum of Rs. 25,000 was allotted for the discretionary grant, the whole of which was utilized during the year.

MISCELLANEOUS REMARKS.

55. The following Prisons, Sub-Jails and Gangs were inspected by Colonel H. E. Banatvala, C.S.I., I.M.S. (Retired), and myself:—

Central Prisons.	District Prisons.	Sub-Jails.	Gangs.
Yeravda.	His Majesty's Common Prison, Bombay.	Belgaum.	Deccan Gang.
Ahmedabad.	Do. House of Correction, Bombay.		Sind Gang.
Hyderabad.	Dharwar. Bijapur. Thana. Karwar.

56. The year opened with 183 adolescents. There were 278 admissions including one recovered criminal lunatic, who was sent last year to Dharwar Lunatic Asylum, against 136 the year previous, and 162 releases, leaving a balance of 299 at the close of 1919.

Transfers.—Two bad characters were transferred to the Yeravda Central Prison and Deccan Convict Gang respectively.

One Somali prisoner, and one sentenced to simple imprisonment by the Military authorities, were also transferred to the Yeravda Central Prison.

One was transferred to the Hyderabad Central Prison, Sind, as the Police authorities wanted his presence there. He had escaped in 1915 and was recaptured this year.

Releases.—Forty juvenile adolescents were released on the occasion of the Celebration of Peace. Seventeen were released conditionally, and sent to the Salvation Army Released Prisoners' Home, Byculla. One was released on appeal. One died in prison hospital. Ninety-seven were released in the ordinary way, and sent to their native places. Four good carpenters were given sets of tools on release.

As far as can be ascertained, only two boys were reconvicted after release from this institution. There were no less than thirty-two minor cases of theft against one, with a total sentence of two and a half years and ten days. The other boy had a previous conviction.

The former was a good working lad and perhaps, with a little "after care" on release, he would have made an honest citizen.

A sentence of one year is too short a period, in which to turn out a good carpenter or blacksmith, and to teach the boy in the way he should go. It is also too short, considering two hours every day is spent in schooling, drilling, etc. Remission also reduces the sentence by a month and ten days a year. I would recommend the shortest period of incarceration being three years; especially, with boys with previous convictions, as it means they are tainted, and the taint cannot be thoroughly eradicated within a year, or even two.

The school has again been favourably reported on by the Educational Inspector. The boys are taught, by two trained teachers, upto the III standard, in one of the following languages, Urdu, Guzarati, Marathi and Kanarese. It may soon be necessary to have a master for each language.

An instructor in gymnastics and Indian club-swinging may be necessary in the future as the boys are increasing in numbers. Strict discipline, physical drill, and gymnastics go a long way towards reforming the boys. Cricket and football are now played.

A year has elapsed since the completion of the new jail wall by the boys. The main gate and offices have not been started. At present everything is scattered, and the sooner the whole jail is rebuilt, and confined within the walls, the better for the institution.

The building of the Belgaum Prison might be expedited, so that, on completion, adult convicts admitted from the district now confined here, may be transferred and all executions carried out at Belgaum, instead of in the Dharwar Prison, as at present.

Besides the usual lectures to the boys, Professor Moulvi of the Karnatak College, twice lectured to them. And, with the kind permission of the Lady Superintendent of the Training College for Women, a lecture on "Guinea-worm," with magic lantern pictures, was given by Mr. R. B. Kerur.

As the Superintendent was going on leave this year, I advised him to visit the Borstal Jails at Home, and got him an introduction (through Mr. Mitchell-Innes, one of the members of the Jail Commission) to the Superintendent, Borstal Jail, Rochester. I hope this will help him on his return from leave.

57. The Bombay Presidency Released Prisoners' Aid Society completed four years of work. It has made great progress, and helped a larger number of prisoners during the year. Mr. M. R. Chitnis, Agent, and Mr. G. K. Dixit, as Police Court Agent, worked well. Many visits were made to the Bombay Prisons and lectures given by Mr. T. A. Kulkarni, and Mr. S. R. Bhise.

Assistance is given by finding employment for released prisoners, giving them temporary board and lodging, clothing, boots, etc., and restarting them in business by giving tools and materials.

The Society also try to keep in touch with released prisoners, and succeed better every year. Help was given to prisoners in Court, by pointing out any extenuating circumstances to Magistrate.

The Society require more funds to appoint an additional Agent and to buy better quarters for released prisoners.

No report received from Bijapur.

The Annual Report on the Salvation Army Boys' Home, declared as a Reformatory at Byculla, Bombay, has been separately submitted for the information of Government.

58. A report on the Hur Settlement at Visapur has, under orders of Government, been forwarded to the Criminal Tribes Settlement Officer, Bijapur.

59. The sanctioned strength of warders was 861. There were 105 resignations, 104 dismissals or discharges and 40 vacancies at the close of the year.

The pay of the whole department from Superintendent to warder establishment has gone up for revision. With the present prices of food and necessities, and high remuneration given to labour, skilled and unskilled, recruitment is very difficult at present rates.

Service of warders is now regarded as superior service for purposes of pension. This ought to make the men more contented with their lot. It removed a grievance.

60. The results of the year may be briefly summarised as follows:—

The gross cost per head was Rs. 153-7-11 against Rs. 121-0-3 in 1918.

The net cost per head exclusive of charges on account of inspection and general supervision was Rs. 133-12-0 against Rs. 103-15-0.

The cash earnings were Rs. 2,51,811 against Rs. 1,60,744.

The death rate was 23.1 against 58.5.
