ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This study, "Problems of Tribal Agriculture in India", was taken up under the able guidance of Dr. Neelakanth Rath, Joint Director, Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics. I am grateful to him for his valuable advice and constructive suggestions in preparation of this work.

I owe a lot to Miss F.K. Wadia, Ex-Director (E & M), North Eastern Council Secretariat, Shillong and presently at Indian School of Political Economy, who was kind enough to go through my earlier drafts patiently at the cost of her precious time and give useful suggestions.

I am grateful to the authorities of Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics for awarding me a Teacher Fellowship under the U.G.C. Faculty Improvement Programme. I am equally grateful to the Management and Principal of D.A.V. College, Koraput (Orissa) for granting me the necessary leave for this period.

My special thanks are due to the Staff of the Servants of India Society Library for their co-operation and help in providing me the necessary reading material required for the preparation of this dissertation.

I will be failing in my duty, if I do not express my thanks to Shri K.P. Limbore for typing the dissertation neatly.
