NOTE.

IN compiling the seventh edition of the Forest Code only matters with which the Government of India is directly concerned have been retained. Most of the detailed rules for the regulation of accounts and the conduct of office business contained in Chapters II (part II), III, IV and V of the sixth edition have been omitted, and those instructions only have been retained in regard to which uniformity is desirable. It is left to Local Governments and Administrations to issue such further instructions as they consider necessary for the conduct of all forest business for which they are responsible. Matters affecting Pensions, Leave and Acting Allowances in the Forest Department are governed generally by the Civil Service Regulations—and in account matters the rules in the Civil Account Code apply to the accounts of the Forest Department.

The revised Code will have effect from the 1st April 1913.
