This study deals with the organization of government relief activities after the last war; the work done by charitable organizations; the cost of communal feeding; the composition of the meals provided to the undernourished children of Europe; the connection between relief and social and financial stability; the fate of relief loans; the effect of relief deliveries on the price and stock situation in the United States, etc. It also contains a series of conclusions based on the evidence afforded by this experience.

EUROPE'S OVERSEAS NEEDS, 1919-1920, AND HOW THEY WERE MET

The purpose of this study, which is a companion to "Relief Deliveries and Relief Loans, 1919-23," is to consider what were the effects of the lack of any policy of reconstruction after the last war and how and to what extent, in the absence of concerted action, Europe was able to provide itself with the raw materials and other essential goods it needed. The post-armistice situation is briefly described, the value and the kind of purchases effected, both by the Continent of Europe as a whole and by various regions, are shown and an estimate is made of Europe's balance of payments during the two years 1919 and 1920.
