The following Notifications by the Government of India, are republished for general information :—

“ FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

No. 11.

From the BUDGET and AUDIT COMMITTEE,

To C. H. LUSHINGTON, Esq.,

Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department.

Fort William, the 22nd February 1861.

SIR,—In continuation of paragraphs 6 to 11 of our Report, No. 5, of the 15th October last, in reference to the incorporation of the Accounts and Audit of the Postal and Electric Telegraph Departments with the general system now approved and sanctioned by the Supreme Government, we have the honor to transmit copies of communications* received from the

* No. 1773, of 7th December 1860.

No. 8539, of the 19th January 1861.

Director-General of the Post Office in India, and from the Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs in India, regarding this matter. We have also to add that we have communicated personally with both these Officers (Mr. Riddell and Major Douglas), and also with the Post Master General of the North-Western Provinces, Dr. Paton. We have now to submit our report regarding the carrying out of the principles already recommended by us in our letter No. 5, of the 15th October 1860, and sanctioned by Government in your letter No. 10693, of the 20th idem. That principle is that the accounts of both these Departments shall, after due preparation in the respective Departments, be subjected to separate and independent audit.

2. In reference to the Post Office Department, we were at first of opinion that the accounts of each Deputy Post Master in charge of a Post Office should be transmitted direct to an independent Examiner acting under the Imperial Audit Board, instead of being transmitted, as heretofore, to the Post Master General. The Director-General of Post Offices in India so far concurred in that principle as to consider that the accounts of each Post Office, instead of being sent to the Post Master General, should be sent direct to the Presidency. But Mr. Riddell urges that these accounts, before being subjected to independent examination by an Officer under the Audit Board, should first be examined, and, if necessary, corrected and completed in the Director-General's Office. Mr. Riddell apprehends that as the various Deputy Post Masters receive inferior pay and cannot, therefore, be highly trained officials, their accounts will often be erroneous and defective. These defects would cause much trouble when detected by an independent Examiner; whereas they might all be, in the first instance, rectified in the Office of the Director-General before the accounts were finally submitted for independent examination and audit. Mr. Riddell, therefore, is anxious to have a Compiler appointed in his own Office, to whom the accounts would, in the first instance, be submitted by the several Deputy Post Masters, and by whom the said accounts would be primarily examined, and, if necessary, rectified, and then transmitted, in extenso, with vouchers and explanation, for independent audit. Considering all the circumstances of the case, we would admit this proposal, in addition to the proposals already submitted by us; and we recommend that the Director-General be allowed a Compiler on a salary not exceeding Rupees 500 per mensem, whose duties would be such as those already described. In his letter No. 570, of the 18th June last, Mr. Riddell showed how the cost of centralizing the accounts of the Department might be met by savings. He would manage to provide for the Compiler's salary without a net increase. At all events, the increase, if any, would be trifling, and would be desirable in consideration of the object in view.

3. In respect to the Electric Telegraph Department, Major Douglas would desire to retain the audit of Departmental accounts, as much as possible, within the Department itself. We still, however, consider it absolutely necessary that the principle of the accounts of every Department being audited by independent agency, must be carried out for the Electric Telegraph, as much as for every other branch of the service. The arguments adduced by Major Douglas appear to us to be precisely the same as would be urged by any Department which might desire virtually to exercise the power of auditing its own accounts. And we think that whatever control the Superintendent General may desire to exercise over Departmental finance will be amply provided for by the appointment of a Compiler similar to the Compiler which we have already recommended for the Post Office Department. At present the accounts for each Executive Telegraph Office are sent to the Superintendent of the Circle, who sends them on for audit to the Superintendent-General. We recommend that the accounts be sent by the Officer in charge of each Telegraph Office to the Superintendent of the Circle, who is a responsible Officer, and will be able to check many charges peculiar to the Department, which cannot otherwise be checked so well. The Superintendent of the Circle can then send them to the Compiler at Head Quarters, who will transmit them, in extenso, with vouchers, to an independent Examiner acting under the Imperial Audit Board.

4. In both Departments, Post Office and Electric Telegraph, the Compiler subordinate to the Departmental Chief should, we submit, be distinctly recognized as Departmental Examiner and Sub-Auditor, responsible for not permitting unauthorized expenditure.

5. We recommend that this system apply equally, in both the Post Office and the Electric Telegraph Departments, to fixed charges as well as to contingent charges. The fixed charges, comprising salaries, cannot well be subjected to pre-audit, the Audit authority being often at a great distance, without causing delay and inconvenience. If it were said that these charges might be pre-audited by the local Civil Paymaster, still we should not recommend that this latter alternative be adopted, as it would cause delay and a multiplication of accounts. Nor, in common with the subject referred to us in Government letter No. 6968, of 11th August 1860, would we advise that the cost of Establishments for the Electric Telegraph Department be limited, separately for each Circle, Division, or Sub-division.

The only limit, consistent with the efficient working of the Department, seems to be the general one for the cost of the entire Establishments in India.

6. We would recommend that the charges in the Electric Telegraph as well as the Post Office Department be paid, subject to the checks of the Budget, and monthly Estimates of Cash requirements, and of post-audit. Both fixed charges and contingencies, for instance, might be paid within the limits of the sanctioned Estimates, on the countersignature of the Post Master-General, and of Superintendent of Electric Telegraph Circle, respectively. We would recommend also, that every Officer having contingent disbursements should receive a distinct advance permanently, say (50) fifty Rupees per mensem. He would not account for this while holding office, but it would constitute his permanent stock in trade, and instead of setting off each cash contingent bill, as it was passed, against the advance, he would obtain payment of it, and apply his advance to further payments as necessary. On leaving his appointment, he would have to pay 50 Rupees to his successor, or account for the amount.

7. For the examination of the account transmitted from the Post Office and Electric Telegraph Departments, we recommend that an independent Examiner be appointed. This Officer would be immediately subordinate to the Audit Board, and should receive such a salary, and occupy such a status, as would offer every inducement for the work being done thoroughly well. One examiner might manage the detailed audit for both these Departments, and would transmit abstracts to the Auditor-General. We believe that a salary of 800 Rupees per mensem will suffice. We hope the cost may be met by re-arrangement of other Establishments. But under any circumstances, it would be necessary to incur the charge for the due auditing of the accounts of two Departments, of which the aggregate expenditure must be considerable, and in which financial economy may be materially promoted by efficiency of audit.

8. We observe that Major Douglas deprecates the audit of the Post Office and the Electric Telegraph accounts being both done by the same Officer. But as the audit is independent, the Departmental authority can have no concern in the method or the means by which such audit is conducted. The audit of one Department alone might not furnish sufficient work for one Officer, and instances are frequent in all branches of the service, of one Officer auditing the accounts of two or more Departments. In fact, any reasonable objection which Major Douglas could entertain will be met by the proposition we have made for the appointment of a Departmental Compiler.

9. It only remains to notice one point in the Electric Telegraph Department, namely, the system of cash payments for messages sent on the Public Service. It was thought that if an Officer or a Department had to pay for a message, and had to charge the amount in a contingent bill liable to audit, there would be greater care exercised in sending the message, in considering its actual necessity or otherwise, and in the length of the communication; and that thus economy would result. We cannot, however, discover that this result has been in the least degree attained. On the other hand, we apprehend that the rule of cash payment is open to serious objection. Cash is received for this purpose by every Department from the Treasury, and is again paid into the Electric Telegraph Office. This constant passing of cash from hand to hand is very objectionable. The substitution of stamps would, no doubt, remove some of these defects; but still there would remain an objection, as the service stamps would be liable to mis-appropriation. We would submit that it will be preferable to devise a plan whereby the responsibility of the Officer sending the message may be fixed, without the actual payment of cash, and that thus the real object of the cash system may be secured. With this view, we would suggest that a receipt book be established in the form appended to this letter to be kept by the Telegraph Office. This book would contain a form of receipt and a check margin. The Telegraph Office, on receiving the message, would enter the number of words and the cost of the message, and having signed the receipt, would transmit it to the Officer sending the message.

10. The Telegraph Office would submit to the Examiner of Telegraph Accounts, monthly, a separate statement of all receipts so issued, properly classified and debited to each Department. On the other hand, the several Offices sending messages will submit all receipts obtained by them from the Telegraph Office as above described, as vouchers. By means of these receipts, the Examiner will check the lists received from the Telegraph Department, and will bring to notice any Department in which the number and extent of messages may appear excessive. This plan would, we think, meet the requirements of the case, and would ensure the charges incurred by each Department for telegrams being strictly examined, and would ensure all the purposes of the cash system, without being open to any objection in practice.

"His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Royal Warrant, authorizing the distribution of the booty captured at Lucknow:—

'VICTORIA R.

VICTORIA, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, to all to whom these presents shall come, greeting. Whereas it has been represented unto Us, by the Commissioners of Our Treasury, that in the month of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, a Rebellion took place within that part of Our East Indian dominions known as "Oudh," and theretofore as the "Kingdom of Oudh," and that the Rebels forcibly took possession of the City of Lucknow therein, and compelled the British Authorities and Our Troops, and the Troops of the East India Company, to entrench themselves in the Residency at Lucknow, and levied war against Us and Our Authority, and besieged and attacked them therein: And that measures having been taken for the relief of the said British Authorities and Troops, a Force, under the command of the late Major General Sir Henry Havelock, Baronet, Knight, Commander of the Most Honorable Military Order of the Bath, entered the Residency, and relieved and assisted the Troops then there. That afterwards a Force, composed of Our Naval and Military Forces, and of European and Indian Troops of the East India Company, was employed against the Rebels, under the personal Command of Our then Commander in Chief of Our Forces in India, General Sir Colin Campbell, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honorable Military Order of the Bath, now Colin, Baron Clyde of Lucknow, and that on the sixteenth of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, the said City of Lucknow and its Dependencies was taken by assault; and booty, consisting of gold, jewels, shawls, dresses, and other property, was captured therein, the sale proceeds of which have been realized by the Prize Agents employed for collecting, selling, and realizing the said booty, or have been otherwise realized, amounting to, or computed to amount to, the sum of fourteen lacs, seventy-one thousand nine hundred and six rupees, six annas, eleven pie. That, in addition to this amount, a sum of ten thousand seven hundred and thirty-nine rupees has been also realized from the sale of arms, Native dresses, and other property, taken by the Force under the Command of the said late Major General Sir Henry Havelock, Baronet, Knight, Commander of the Most Honorable Military Order of the Bath, during actual hostilities with the said Rebels in the said City of Lucknow, making together a total, or estimated total, of fourteen lacs, eighty-two thousand six hundred and forty-five rupees, six annas, eleven pie. And whereas Our said Commissioners have recommended unto Us to grant all the said booty for the use of the Commander in Chief, Officers, and Men belonging to Our Naval and Military Forces, and the European and Indian Troops of the East India Company, which took active part in the operations leading to the aforesaid capture of the said City of Lucknow and its Dependencies, including all the Troops at first entrenched in the said Residency, the said Force under the Command of the late Major General Sir Henry Havelock, Baronet, Knight, Commander of the Most Honorable Military Order of the Bath, the Force which held Cawnpore during the final operations against Lucknow, and the said Force under the personal Command of the said Baron Clyde of Lucknow, which took part in the said capture of the said City of Lucknow and its Dependencies, or in the operations which contributed thereto, which operations commenced with the first affair at Chinhutt, and the investment of the Residency by the Rebels on or about the twenty-ninth of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and ended with the final expulsion of the Rebels, and the capture of the said City of Lucknow, on or about the twenty-first of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, in consideration of their gallant and meritorious services, and to give such directions, as to the appropriation and distribution thereof as to Us should seem fit, to which We are graciously pleased to condescend. Now We do hereby give and grant to our Secretary of State for India in Council for the time being, all the aforesaid booty and proceeds in trust, for the use of the said Commander in Chief, Officers, and Men belonging to the said Forces which took active part in the said capture of the said City of Lucknow or its Dependencies, or in the operations which contributed thereto, and including the said Troops at first entrenched in the said Residency; the said Force under the Command of the said late Major General Sir Henry Havelock, Baronet, Knight, Commander of the Most Honorable Military Order of the Bath; the said Force which held Cawnpore as aforesaid, and the said Force under the personal Command of Our said Commander in Chief of Our Forces in India, the said Colin, Baron Clyde of Lucknow; and including Our aforesaid Naval Forces serving therein, who served at any time in the operations, commencing and ending as aforesaid: Such booty to be distributed by Our Secretary of State for India in Council for the time being, or by any other person or persons he may appoint for that purpose, as follows, videlicet—

No. 132 of 1861.—The following General Order by the Government of India, dated 5th March 1861, No. 183, is republished :—

"His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication, for general information, of the following Resolution :—

RESOLUTION.—With the view to dispose, as soon as practicable, of the arrears of business existing in many Offices, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that all Offices in which there may be arrears shall be divided into two branches—one to be specially devoted to the bringing up of arrears, and the other to the performance of current work.

The arrears and current branches will be formed by the separation of the present fixed Establishment, together with any temporary Establishment now authorized, into two bodies, each of which is to have a fair proportion of the more experienced Clerks.

The Head of each Office will then make a careful review of the amount of arrears to be disposed of, and form an estimate of the time in which such arrears may be cleared off with the Establishment at his command. He will also state what additional Establishment will, in his opinion, be necessary to enable the arrears to be cleared off by the close of the current official year.

Should the Establishment allotted to the current branch not be considered adequate to keep all business current, an estimate of the extra Establishment necessary to perform the duty is also to be submitted.

Each application is to be accompanied by a tabular Statement, showing the portion of the present Establishment, with rates of pay to be allotted to each branch, and the number of additional hands, with the rate of pay proposed for each.

No increase will be permitted to the salaries of the existing Establishments; but Heads of Offices may announce to the permanent Establishments that, on the completion of the work in a satisfactory manner within the time specified above, those Members who have distinguished themselves by their zeal, energy, and devotion, will be recommended for special reward or for permanent advancement, and that a revision of the Office rates of salaries will be made so as to improve the position of individuals and encourage the deserving.

Whenever practicable, the arrears branch of all large Offices will be placed under a separate Officer, acting independently of the Officer in charge of the current duties.

(Signed) R. J. H. BIRCH, Major General,
Secretary to the Government of India."

N.B.—This table is an extract from a more extensive yearly Return that is prepared for statistical purposes, and chiefly for the detection of any removable sources of disease, with a view to improving the healthiness of the Island. As the principal object cannot be fully attained unless the true causes of death be recorded, persons of all stations are requested, in each case of death occurring in their circle, to obtain, in writing, from the Medical Attendants the name of the fatal disease, that it may be delivered to the Policeman at the funeral place. Medical Practitioners, particularly, are requested to aid the registration. Blank forms of Death Reports, to keep by them in readiness, are given gratuitously on application at the Office of the Deputy Commissioner of Police.

It is thought that some withhold their assistance through the notion that reports of the single casualties coming now and then under their observation could but little affect the Returns; but it ought rather to be borne in mind, that the accuracy of the Returns depends on the correct reporting of all single cases, for of such only the aggregate is made up.

NOTIFICATION BY THE CIVIL AUDITOR.

No. 43.

In accordance with paragraph 1 of printed Circular No. 1309, dated 12th September 1860, and with reference to Notification No. 24, dated 27th November 1860, which, it will be perceived, is annulled by the present ruling of the Government of India, the following three paragraphs of a letter from the Supreme Government to this Department, No. 2295, dated 1st March 1861, are published for general information, and the attention of all Officers, who consider themselves entitled to exemption on account of House-rent, is particularly requested to paragraph 4.

"2. With respect to your reading of the Government Order of the 12th November last, I am desired to refer you to the Advocate General's opinion, obtained on a reference from the Accountant General of Bombay, on the same subject, and published in the Calcutta Gazette (page 111), under date the 4th January 1861, No. 7, with reference to which the Governor General in Council observes, that a man ought to be charged on his whole salary, whether he lives in a house of the Government or not; and that living in a Government house should be on precisely the same footing as if he lived in a private house; viz. if he pays rack-rent, he will pay Income Tax on his Salary, but nothing additional in respect to his house. If he is rent-free, or pays less than rack-rent, the amount below rack-rent is profit or income, assessable over and above his Salary, under Schedule 1, Rule 7.

3. In short, the principle is clear, that the rent of a man's private dwelling-house is not to be treated as a working expense, and deducted from his net income, but as part of the necessary expenditure of that income.

4. The only possible case for deduction is, if there be such a case, when a man pays a rent for a larger house than he would otherwise occupy, whether to Government or any one else, because he uses part of it for necessary Government Offices, &c., such a case the Governor General in Council considers that, when the arrangement for Offices has been recognised, the Officer who engages the house is entitled to a pro rata deduction for so much of the rent as is fairly due for Offices, but not to the extent argued for by you, that because part is occupied as Offices, he is to be exempt from the whole."

Great Britain and India, Rule regarding Prepayment of Postage between rescinded.

—The Public are hereby informed that the rule has been rescinded under which the prepayment of Letters between Great Britain and India was compulsory.

After the 1st of March it will be optional with the sender to prepay Letters addressed to Great Britain or to send them unpaid. Unpaid or insufficiently paid Letters will be forwarded, charged with a fine of four annas in addition to the ordinary Postage.

Receipt Stamps on Letters.—Instances having occurred of Bill and Receipt Stamps being attached to Letters instead of Postage Stamps, the Public are warned that Bill and Receipt Stamps are not received in payment of Postage. A Letter with a Bill and Receipt Stamp only affixed to it will be treated as unpaid.

Notice

Is hereby given, that a REWARD of Rupees 500 will be given to any person who will give information leading to the Apprehension and Conviction of the Leaders in the Gang of Robbers by whom numerous Robberies of Bhangy Parcels have been committed on the different Post Lines in the Nagpore Postal Division.

Notice.

In continuation of the Notification published on the 20th of October 1860, the Public are hereby informed that Umbria and the Marches have now been included in Sardinian Territory, and that Letters, Newspapers, &c., for places in Umbria and the Marches will be treated and charged with Postage precisely as Letters addressed to other parts of Sardinia. Bombay, Post Master General's Office, 30th October 1860.

Changes of Address and Instructions to stop Letters directed to Out-Stations cannot be attended to after the Mail Steamer has been signalled.

The numerous references made to the Post Office on such occasions, and very frequently after the Overland Mails have been brought to the Post Office, preclude the possibility of attending to them correctly, and the above information is given to prevent disappointment.

China.—Letters posted in India, addressed to any place in China except Hongkong can be registered only as far as the Port in India from whence they are despatched.

Letters on the Public Service.—Post Office Officials are authorised to receive and despatch, as on the Public Service, unpaid Covers to the address of the Senior Chaplain of the Church of Scotland, superscribed "Sacred Returns for transmission to Government."
