Bank of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

It is hereby notified that as the present Capital of the Bank is insufficient to meet its requirements in consequence of the increase of business, principally arising from the establishment of Branches subordinate to the Bank in various parts of the Bengal Presidency, the Directors have determined, under the authority vested in them by Section 6, Act IV. of 1862, to increase the Capital from One Crore, Nine lacs, Ninety thousand, Nine hundred and Nine Rupees, to Two Crores and Twenty lacs, by the issue of new Shares or consolidated Stock under the following conditions:—

1st.—Holders of old Shares will be entitled to claim new Shares at par, in the proportion of one Share for every Share of which they may be registered as Proprietors in the Books of the Bank. Registered Proprietors of consolidated Stock will, in like manner, be entitled to an equivalent amount of new Stock at par.

2nd.—Holders of Shares or Stock, whether in India or elsewhere, shall be allowed to the 15th day of August 1864 to claim the new issue. All Shares or Stock not claimed by the said date shall be at the disposal of the Directors, who shall cause the same to be sold for the benefit of the Bank, in such manner and at such times as they may deem expedient.

3rd.—Payments in one sum of the amount of Subscription on any whole, half, or quarter Share or Stock, to which any Proprietor may be entitled under this Notification, may be made, at any time, after the publication thereof. On all such payments, prior to the 30th June next, interest will be allowed, at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, from date of payment to the 30th June; and the Shares or Stock so paid up shall, thenceforward, be entitled to dividend. On all payments, made subsequent to the 30th June, interest will similarly be allowed (at the rate of 8 per cent.) until the 31st December following, from which date the Shares or Stock so paid up shall, in like manner, become entitled to dividend.

4th.—The transfer Books will be closed from the 16th to the 31st August 1864 inclusive. All Shares or Stock previously subscribed for, but on which the full amount of Capital shall not be paid by the last-mentioned date, will lapse to the Bank and will be at the disposal of the Directors as provided in Clause 2.

By order of the Directors,

C. N. COOKE,

Offg. Secretary and Treasurer.

12th March 1864.

N.B.—This table is an extract from a more extensive yearly Return that is prepared for statistical purposes and chiefly for the detection of any removable sources of disease, with a view to improving the healthiness of the Island. As the principal object cannot be fully attained unless the true causes of death be recorded, persons at out-stations are requested, in each case of death occurring in their circle, to obtain, in writing, from the Medical Attendant, the name of the fatal disease, that it may be delivered to the Policeman at the funeral place. Medical Practitioners particularly are requested to aid the registration. Blank forms of Death Reports, to keep by them in readiness, are given gratuitously on application at the Office of the Deputy Commissioner of Police.

It is thought that some withhold their assistance through the notion that reports of the single casualties coming now and then under their observation could but little affect the Returns; but it ought rather to be borne in mind, that the accuracy of the Returns depends on the correct reporting of all single cases, for of such only the aggregate is made up.

The arrangement will commence as regards despatches from India from the 1st May next. Intimation has been received from the London Post Office that the arrangement will commence as regards despatches thence from the 1st April.

1. The Patterns must not be of intrinsic value. The rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and whatever may have a value of its own apart from its mere use as a Pattern. The quantity of any material sent, ostensibly as a Pattern, must not be so great that it could fairly be considered as having on this ground an intrinsic value.

2. The Patterns must not bear any writing other than the address of the persons for whom they are intended, a manufacturer's or trade mark, numbers, and the prices of the articles; nor must they contain any letter closed or open, or any enclosure sealed or otherwise closed against inspection.

3. The Patterns must be sent in covers open at the ends, so as to be easy of examination; samples, however, of Seeds, Drugs, and so forth, which cannot be sent in open covers, may be enclosed in bags of linen or other material; but closed bags, although transparent, must not be used for this purpose.

4. The rule which forbids the transmission through the Post of any explosive or dangerous substance will of course be applicable to Patterns, and no article likely to injure the contents of the Mail Bags is to be sent.

5. No Pattern Packet can be received if it exceeds two feet in length, width, or depth, or 3 lbs. in weight.

6. The Inland Transit of Pattern Packets will be by Banghy Post.

7. The following Postage rates (prepaid by a Stamp or Stamps) will be charged on Pattern Packets sent under these regulations by Post to the United Kingdom. The rates being consolidated rates, no Inland Postage is leviable in addition:—

8. If the Packets be prepaid with a single rate of Postage (as given in Column 1 of the above Table), the full rate chargeable being more, they will be forwarded charged with the deficient Postage, together with an additional single rate.

9. If the Packets be prepaid with less than a single rate of postage, they will be forwarded charged with double postage, less the amount actually paid.

10. If the Packets be wholly unpaid, they will be forwarded charged with double postage.

N.B.—In respect to Inland Transit the general conditions for Patterns are similar to those for Book Packets, and they will be treated like Book Packets.

If received unpaid or insufficiently paid from the United Kingdom, they will be charged at the rates mentioned in Paras. 8, 9, and 10 of the foregoing notice.

SUPPLEMENT

BOMBAY GOVERNMENT GAZETTE.

Published by Authority.

THURSDAY, 28TH JULY 1864.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT, BOMBAY.

The following Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it are, under Rule 12 of the Rules for the conduct of business at Meetings of the Council of the Governor of Bombay for making Laws and Regulations, published for general information :—

A Bill for the regulation of Gaols, and the enforcement of discipline therein.

WHEREAS it has become necessary, in consequence of the alterations which have taken place in the Civil and Criminal Codes of Procedure, that the Laws relating to Gaols and the custody and punishment of prisoners in this Presidency should be consolidated and amended; It is enacted as follows :—

I. Section XXVI. and Clause 5 Section XXX. Regulation II. A. D. 1827, Section XLII. and Clauses 2, 3, and 4, Section XLIII. Sections XLIV., XLV. and XLVI. Regulation XIII. A. D. 1827, Sections I., II., and III. Regulation XVI. A. D. 1828, Act XI. of 1840, and (Bombay) Act. X. of 1862, are hereby repealed.

II. From and after the date on which this Act shall come into operation there shall be two classes of Gaols established in the territories subordinate to the Presidency of Bombay, including the Province of Sind and the Promontory of Aden :—

- (1.) Civil Gaols, for the confinement of persons committed to prison or custody in a Civil Gaol, or under process of any Civil Court.

- (2.) Criminal Gaols, for the execution of punishments under Section 53 of "the Indian Penal Code" (Act XLV. of 1860,) and for the confinement of persons committed to custody or imprisonment by any Court of Criminal jurisdiction.

III. There shall be one Civil Gaol for each District, and it shall be at the seat of the District Court.

IV. The Nazir of the District Court shall be ex-officio keeper of the Civil Gaol, and shall be responsible for the safe custody of the prisoners, and for the preservation of cleanliness and good order in the Gaol and among the prisoners, and shall have such establishment under him as the Judge, with the sanction of the Government, may direct.

V. The District Judge shall visit the Civil Gaol at least once in each month, and shall issue such orders connected with the economy of the Gaol, the good management, health, and accommodation of the prisoners, as he may think fit. He shall record the date of his visit and any remarks he may have to make in a book to be called "the Visitor's Book," and shall bring any special cases to the special notice of Government.

VI. The Civil Surgeon of the station shall attend the Gaol, and administer remedies at the expense of the Government to those of the sick who ask for his assistance.

VII. The Civil Gaol shall be opened daily for the admission of those wishing to visit their friends and relations from one hour after sunrise until one hour before sunset, and no stranger shall on any account be allowed to sleep in the Civil Gaol.

VIII. Prisoners in the Civil Gaol may either make their own arrangements with their friends for their subsistence, or may require the Nazir to furnish their food and other necessities out of the subsistence money fixed for them by the Court by which they are committed. A Tariff of prices approved by the District Judge on the first day of each month shall be kept in the Gaol, accessible to all the prisoners. Provided that in either case intoxicating liquors or drugs be only allowed in limited quantities.

IX. Whenever a prisoner shall die in the Civil Gaol, his corpse shall, after the Civil Surgeon has certified to his death, be made over to his friends, or, in failure of their taking him, shall be buried at the expense of the Gaol.

X. The balance of subsistence money remaining in hand at the time of a prisoner's death or release shall, if applied for within one month from the date of the prisoner's release or death, be refunded to the Plaintiff or person furnishing it, but if not applied for within one month after the prisoner's release or death, it shall be credited to a fund to be called "the Civil Gaol Fund" to be expended on the burial of those buried at the expense of the Gaol.

XI. Criminal Gaols are of three kinds :—

- (1.) Central,
- (2.) District, and
- (3.) Divisional, which last may be either :—
 - (i.) Permanent, or
 - (ii.) Temporary.

XII. Temporary Divisional Gaols may be established by order of the Government in any part of the Country as occasion may require, and may also as occasion requires be removed from time to time to other places. They may also, if special reasons exist, be established by the Officer in charge of the District or Divisional Gaol in anticipation of the sanction of Government.

XIII. Divisional Gaols when not expressly declared to be temporary shall be deemed permanent, and may be established in any division of a District as defined in Section 18 of Act XXV. of 1861, and all persons committed by Criminal Courts for safe custody, and convicts sentenced to periods of imprisonment not exceeding days, shall be sent to undergo their sentences in the District Gaol, or permanent Divisional Gaol, whichever may be the nearer to the place where sentence is passed upon the convict or the order given for the culprit's detention.

XIV. District Gaols shall be established at the seats of the Courts of Session, and all convicts sentenced by the Court of Session, and all others not specially ordered or required by the last preceding clause to be imprisoned in another Gaol, shall be imprisoned in the District Gaol. Nothing however in this Section is to be held as interfering with the power of the Governor in Council to direct the removal of prisoners from one Gaol to another.

XV. Central Gaols may be established at any places the Government may think fit, and to them those prisoners only shall be sent who may be specially ordered there by the Governor in Council.

XVI. Subject to the general superintendence of such person as the Government may appoint, District and permanent Divisional Gaols shall be in charge of the Gaoler to whom all warrants for the confinement of prisoners shall be addressed.

XVII. The Gaoler shall be responsible for the safe custody of the prisoners from the time they are received into the Gaol, until they are discharged by lawful authority : he shall also be liable for the due execution of all warrants or orders which he may receive regarding prisoners and their punishment.

XVIII. The Gaoler shall be appointed by the Superintendent of the Gaols, subject to the approval of the Government, or of the Inspector General of Prisons.

XIX. Central Gaols and temporary Divisional Gaols shall be in charge of persons specially appointed by the Government, and such persons shall be subject to the same responsibility as Gaolers under Section XVII. of this Act.

XX. No Gaoler or person in charge of a Gaol shall receive any prisoner into custody without the warrant of a Court or Officer having authority to commit to prison or custody, or without an authenticated copy of the sentence or order required by Articles 87 and 88 of Act XXIX. of 1861.

XXI. All clothing and other property and money delivered with, or found upon the person of a prisoner on his admission, or at any future period during his confinement in Gaol, shall be taken charge of by the Gaoler, under such rules for its safe custody as the Officer in charge of the Gaol may direct, and the prisoner shall have no claim thereto until his discharge. In the event of the prisoner's death while he is undergoing his sentence, the property shall be made over to whomsoever he may appoint to receive it, and, failing such an appointment, it shall be made over to the Civil Court under Chapter II. Regulation VIII. A. D. 1827, as if there were no heir or executor competent or willing to take possession of it.

XXII. Such clothing, bedding, and other household articles, as are absolutely necessary for prisoners in Criminal Gaols, shall be supplied at the expense of Government, under direction of the Officer in charge of the Gaol.

XXIII. All prisoners confined in Criminal Gaols shall be subsisted at the expense of the Government, the allowance, which shall always be of food and not of money, being regulated by the Officer in charge of the Gaol, under the general direction of the Government, or of the Inspector General of Prisons.

XXIV. Male prisoners shall always, and in all Gaols, be kept separate from female prisoners, and those sent to gaol for punishment from those sent there for safe custody. Sick prisoners shall always be sent to the Hospital, which may be either a separate Gaol or a building distinct from the Gaol, and prisoners sent to Hospital shall be detained there until the Surgeon direct that they may be returned to Gaol, and, with regard to any further sub-division of prisoners, the Gaoler shall attend to any general orders on the subject that he may receive from the Officer in charge, or, through him, from the Government or the Inspector General of Prisons; provided that due care is taken in regard to religious prejudices, and to protect the trivial offender from, of necessity, associating with the vicious and heinous offender.

XXV. Prisoners sentenced to hard labour, rigorous imprisonment, transportation, penal servitude, or death may be secured with fetters, which, as well as handcuffs or stocks, may be used to secure prisoners of any other description, if necessary, it being understood that such means of restraint are to be imposed as a necessity, only for the maintenance of discipline, and as a security against the escape of the prisoner, and not as a part of the punishment. Provided always that no British born subject shall be so secured, unless it be urgently necessary for the preservation of the discipline of the Gaol, or for the prevention of violent or dangerous behaviour.

XXVI. The Gaoler shall be careful to prevent drunkenness, gaming, and immoral or disorderly conduct of any sort within the Gaol, and to report to the Officer in charge all instances of such misconduct, as well as all prisoners guilty of disobedience, or of violent or refractory conduct, or of using insulting or abusive language, or of refusing or wilfully neglecting to perform the work, or of wilfully mismanaging the work allotted to them, or of wilfully disabling themselves for labour, or of the breach of any rules prescribed for the good management or economy of the Gaol.

XXVII. The Officer in charge of the Gaol, on such report being made to him, and being satisfied of the fact, or when any misconduct of the nature described in the preceding section is committed or occurs in his presence, may punish such misconduct or breach of discipline by solitary confinement for a period not exceeding fifteen days, by confinement in fetters and manacles for a period not exceeding three days, or in the stocks for a period not exceeding twelve hours, or by corporal punishment not exceeding thirty stripes with the rattan; provided always that corporal punishment shall not be inflicted on any male prisoner unless the Medical Officer of the Gaol shall state that the prisoner can bear it, and that corporal punishment shall in no case be inflicted on any female prisoner.

XXVIII. The Officer in charge of the Gaol shall keep a book to be called "the Punishment Book" in which shall be recorded the prisoner's name, the breach of prison discipline of which he was guilty, the date on which it was committed, the punishment inflicted, and the date.

XXIX. The Civil Surgeon of the Station shall attend the Gaol, and administer remedies to the sick, removing such as require it to the Hospital. In the event of a Surgeon being specially appointed to the Gaol, or of the Civil Surgeon being appointed under Section XVI. or XIX. to the charge of a Gaol, he shall himself attend as Medical Officer, and administer remedies to the sick.

XXX. When a sentence has been fully executed, the Gaoler shall make over to the prisoner the clothing taken from him under Section XXI., and receive from him the clothing and other articles with which he was furnished at the expense of the Government, and shall endorse upon the warrant a statement of how it has been executed, and shall then take the warrant and the prisoner before the Officer in charge of the Gaol, and there in presence of the Officer in charge of the Gaol discharge the prisoner, and return the warrant with the endorsement thereon to the Officer from whom he received it.

XXXI. In the presence of the Officer in charge of the Gaol, and at the time of discharging the prisoner, the Gaoler shall make over to him any other property or money he may have received with the prisoner or found on him and taken charge of as directed in Section XXI., and shall take his receipt for the same; and the receipt when countersigned by the Officer in charge, shall be deemed to be and is a good acquittance and release from all claims by the prisoner or his representative against the Gaoler for such property.

XXXII. When a prisoner is released, the Officer in charge of the Gaol may, if he sees sufficient reason, grant him a sum of money sufficient for his subsistence until he reach his native village, or the place of abode from whence he was apprehended.

XXXIII. No prisoner, being in hospital on the expiration of his sentence, shall be discharged from the hospital, on the expiration of his sentence, unless the Surgeon certify that he can be discharged without endangering his life or chance of recovery, but the Officer in charge of the Gaol shall explain to him that his sentence has expired, and shall direct all restraint, save such as the Surgeon may place upon him for medical purposes, to be removed, and on the Surgeon reporting the late prisoner convalescent and about to leave the hospital, the Officer in charge of the Gaol may grant him, if necessary, subsistence money as provided in the last Section.

XXXIV. If any prisoner shall die in Gaol before full execution of his sentence, the warrant shall be returned by the Gaoler to the Officer who issued it, with an endorsement showing how far it had been executed, and with a certificate attached to it from the Surgeon certifying to the prisoner's death.

XXXV. The Gaoler shall be present with the convict's warrant at all executions of sentences of death, and shall certify full execution of the sentence by endorsement on the warrant, and return it to the Officer from whom he received it.

XXXVI. If any prisoner make his escape from Gaol, the Gaoler shall endorse on his warrant to what extent it had been carried out, and the date of the escape, and shall return the warrant to the Officer who issued it, and the warrant and endorsement shall be proof in every Court that the prisoner was convicted, that he underwent the extent of punishment endorsed on the warrant, and that he effected his escape from confinement on the day stated.

XXXVII. The Magistrate or his Assistant shall, once in every month, visit the District Gaol and Hospital to hear complaints, and to see that cleanliness, salubrity, and security are attended to, and a proper management maintained in all respects. He shall examine the Punishment Book, and record his proceedings and observations in a book to be called "the Visitor's Book." He shall bring any special cases to the special notice of the Inspector General of Prisons, or, if necessary, of the Government, and he may direct petitions from prisoners to Government to be prepared and forwarded, the Officer in charge of the Gaol being likewise at liberty, for special reasons, to allow a prisoner to send a petition to Government.

XXXVIII. Visitors for Central and Divisional Gaols shall be appointed by the Government for the purposes contemplated in the last Section, to the provisions of which they shall in all respects conform.

XXXIX. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed as interfering with the power vested in the Governor in Council, under Act VIII. of 1856, of control of all Gaols, and to appoint persons to inspect and superintend Gaols, and to vest in them such power and authority, for the purpose, as to the Governor in Council may seem proper.

XL. Words importing the masculine gender include the feminine, and words importing the singular number, include the plural, wherever they are used throughout this Act.

XLI. This Act shall come into operation three months after it receives the assent of the Governor General.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The propriety of consolidating and amending the law relating to the management of Gaols and Gaol Discipline in the Bombay Presidency has for some years engaged the attention of the Government. The necessity for such a measure has been more especially felt since the new Codes of Civil and Criminal Procedure came into operation. The introduction of a Bill into the local Council with the above object was, however, deferred, as it was understood that it was the intention of the Supreme Government to legislate on the subject of the management of Gaols throughout the whole of India, and it was only in November last that an intimation was received that no such legislation was at present contemplated in the Council of the Governor General.

The laws under which the Gaols in the Bombay Presidency are at present managed are enumerated in the first Section of the Bill. These laws have effect only in the Regulation Districts. The jurisdiction of the Inspector General of Prisons extends however to all the Gaols in the Presidency, including Sind and Aden. By the present enactment the system of prison management in all the Gaols will be regulated by one Law, an object which must be held to be desirable.

The present Bill provides for an effectual separation of Civil from Criminal Gaols, an end which is not sufficiently attained under the existing Law. The system of Gaols and Gaol management constituted by this measure will also be in accord with the requirements of the new Codes of Civil and Criminal Procedure.

Hitherto there have been no central Gaols in this Presidency. There can be no question as to the advantages of such institutions, and the advisability of establishing them in this Presidency has been pressed upon the attention of the Government by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India. It is proposed to construct central Gaols in Goozerat, the Dekhan, the Southern Mahratta Country, and in Sind, and provision has accordingly been made in the Bill to enable the Government to establish such Gaols at such places as may be hereafter selected for this purpose.

At present the charge of our District Gaols is vested in the Session Judges. The proposal to relieve them of this charge has from time to time engaged the attention of the Government during the last eight years. The experiment has been partially tried at Dhoolia, where the Civil Surgeon is in charge of the Gaol in subordination to the Session Judge. This arrangement has, in the opinion of the present Inspector General of Prisons, met with "sufficient success to warrant its extension." A similar arrangement was made at Ahmednuggur and Sholapore towards the end of the year 1855, but was not sanctioned by the Government of India on the ground that the number of prisoners in the Gaols at Sholapore and Ahmednuggur did not warrant the continued employment in the charge of the Gaols of the two Assistant Surgeons. It may be here remarked that a Session Judge cannot be relieved of the charge of a Gaol so long as Section 42 of Regulation XIII. of 1827 remains unrepealed.

In their letter No. 671, dated the 15th March 1856, the Judges of the late Court of Suddur Foujdaree Adawlut said that they had always thought that "it would be very desirable to relieve the Session Judges altogether from the charge of Gaols." "These Officers," the letter says, "having powers of life and death, the duty now required of them of visiting the Gaol, and the condemned prisoners especially, is, in the opinion of the Suddur Foujdaree Adawlut, inappropriate, and they would therefore most strongly recommend that the Legislative Council should be moved for an enactment which shall relieve all the Session Judges of this duty."

In a Government Resolution No. 2238, dated 26th June 1856, the Judges of the Suddur Foujdaree Adawlut were requested to embody in a draft Act (which they were preparing with a view to amend Act VIII. of 1856) some provision whereby Session Judges might be relieved of the charge of Gaols, and the Governor in Council empowered to appoint such Officers to this duty as might appear to him fit.

The reply of the Court was sent to the then Inspector General of Prisons, Mr. A. Bettington, who reported as follows in his letter No. 914, dated 3rd September 1858.—"The co-operation of the Court is required for the purpose of the proposed Bill."

tion and assistance of the Session Judges is still necessary. Hereafter when the system has been fairly established, when the several employments of labour have been tested, and the various efforts now experimental have been proved successful or otherwise, when the correct valuation of labour has been determined, and the several important details connected with diet, clothing, and discipline have been reduced to formulæ, and when there will consequently be no need to leave a considerable latitude to the discretion of the local Officer, then the Session Judges may fairly be relieved, and an Officer of less status appointed, without an undue delegation of responsibility. We are now in a transition state, and it is absolutely necessary I should have the aid of the Session Judges, and what I now, without exception, invariably receive, their hearty co-operation."

Mr. Bettington pointed out also the expense the proposed arrangement would involve, and was of opinion that until a more efficient Gaol Establishment could be ensured by the adoption of a more liberal scale of salaries, "the influence and authority of the Session Judge, as in charge of the Gaol," could "not safely be dispensed with." On receipt of this report the Government resolved that no alteration was required in the Law, and were "convinced that any slight difficulties which might possibly occur would be easily surmounted by the exercise of a little tact."

The subject was again brought to the notice of the Government by the Sudder Court in the year 1862. The Judges suggested whether it would not be expedient to relieve the Session Judge as well as the Nazir of all direct charge of the Gaol. "It is obviously unbecoming" they write "that the Session Judge should be responsible for all the petty details involved in this duty, and that after sentencing a prisoner, he should be required to go into the Gaol to see that he is kept clean, fed, worked, &c., as he is obliged to do at present. He should be a visitor of the Gaol, but not a subordinate to the Inspector General of Prisons. The charge of the Gaol should be given, the Judges consider, to the Magistrate, as contemplated by the Code of Criminal Procedure."

There can be no doubt that the time has now come when a change in the existing Law is urgently called for. Little can be added to the reasons adduced by the late Sudder Court in favour of a change. It need only be noticed that the duties devolving on the District Judges, under the operation of the new Codes, are now so heavy, and occupy so much of their time, that these Officers can have little time left for their duties in connection with the Criminal Gaols under their charge. The Session Judges are in general in favour of a change in the Law, and the Inspector General of Prisons, in recommending lately that the prisons at certain stations in this Presidency should be placed under the charge of the Civil Surgeons of the stations, recorded his opinion that the change in management would result in "greater economy, improved manufactures, and a higher standard of discipline."

In the present Bill it has been left open to Government to appoint any Officer who may be deemed fit for the duty to have charge of each District and Divisional Gaol established under the proposed Act.

It does not appear necessary to notice prominently in this statement the other provisions of the Bill. So far as any of these may involve a departure from the practice hitherto in force, they have been adopted only after the necessity for them has been demonstrated by experience.

The Bill should be translated into the Murathi, Goozerathi, Canarese, and Sindhi languages.

The Select Committee appointed to report on the "Bill to repeal Clause 4 of Section II. of Regulation V. of 1830, and Section I. of Regulation VIII. of 1831," beg to report that they approve of the principle of the Bill, and recommend that it be passed with the addition of the words "and henceforth, a Sub-Collector's functions as a Magistrate shall depend upon the appointment he may receive from the Governor in Council."
