MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of a Committee appointed, under the provisions of Sections 100 to 102 of Act I. of 1859, to investigate the circumstances connected with the sinking of the Pattamar ALLY MUDUT, caused by her coming in contact with the Steamer KARANJAH, while leaving the port of Bombay on the 24th January last, has been confirmed by His Excellency the Governor in Council, and is published for general information :—

“REPORT.

From the evidence it appears that the Steamer “Karanjah” was, on the 24th January 1866, bound to Goa, and having weighed from a berth off the Apollo Bunder, the tide being about half ebb, proceeded at halfspeed to turn in order to shape a course out of the harbour by going between the shipping moored in the vicinity of the middle ground.

2. When nearly across the tide and between two ships, which she could only clear by going ahead, the Master of the Steamer observed the Pattamar "Ally Mudut" about 200 feet ahead of the Steamer, passing the quarter of the northernmost ship (the Combermere), and steering to the south south-west, or nearly across the track of the Steamer, whose head then was about south-east. The wind was moderate or light from west north-west.

3. Under these circumstances, to have starboarded the helm of the Steamer would have brought her in contact with the "Combermere," from which she was distant about 100 yards, and to port the helm, sooner than was done, would have brought her foul of the ship to the southward, while to reverse the engines and stop altogether would, owing to the tide, have led to the same result.

4. The only alternative seems to have been to allow the Steamer to shoot slowly ahead, at the risk of touching the Pattamar in the event of no sufficient effort being made on board her to avoid the danger.

5. This course was adopted; the steamer's helm being put hard a port as soon as she had gone far enough ahead to clear the ship anchored to the southward, but her port sponson struck the stern of the Pattamar, which, though she filled, continued to float, and the crew and passengers were rescued by the boats of ships anchored near.

6. The tindal of the Pattamar states that he was sailing out of the harbour bound to Rutnagirree, with her head to the southward under a jib sail only, which, he says, is customary when among the shipping in the harbour; that when passing the "Combermere" he observed the Steamer crossing the tide in the line of of the Pattamar's course, and immediately tried to go to port, but owing to the light wind and the small sail he had set, he was unable to alter her course in time to avoid a collision.

7. From the tindal's own admission it is clear that if the Pattamar had more sail set, she would have been more under command, but having regard to the wind there was at the time, we think that even under the sail she had she might have got out of the way and avoided the collision, if her helm had been put to starboard immediately on the Steamer coming into view.

8. The "Karanjah" should have proceeded higher up the harbour, and found a clearer space before attempting to turn, and we think the master showed a want of judgment in throwing a Steamer of her length across the tide, in a position where the shipping are moored so closely that he could neither go on nor stop without coming into collision with the Pattamar or the ships at anchor.

9. In our opinion the conduct of those on board both vessels contributed to the accident, and we think the masters of both are blameable."

Secretary to Government.

Bombay Castle, 5th March 1866.

2. Tenders to be forwarded to the Superintendent's Office in sealed envelopes, superscribed as "Tender for making up Clothing," and they will be opened on the date and hour above-mentioned in the presence of the Tenderers, when the deposit money will be returned, except that of the successful tenderer, which will be retained.

3. The Clothing must be made up in accordance with the patterns, which may be inspected at the Superintendent's Office daily (Sundays excepted) between the hours of 12 and 4 P.M., when every information as to the quantity of clothing required to be made up, &c., will be afforded.

4. The tenderers must specify the rate at which they are willing to make up each garment, musters of which are to be seen in the Superintendent's Office. Books and Patterns to Belgium.—Under an additional Postal Convention concluded between Great Britain and Belgium, Books and Patterns can be sent through Great Britain to Belgium under the following Regulations :—

In future, under the term "Book Packets" may be forwarded not only stitched or bound books, pamphlets, and sheets of music, but also printed proof sheets, with ordinary corrections in writing and manuscript attached to such proofs and having reference to them as well as legal and other documents in manuscript; photographs and drawings [so long as those articles are not in glass or placed under glass]; prints or maps, printed, engraved, or lithographed, and whether in paper, parchment, or vellum: but no letter or communication of the nature of a letter, must be forwarded in such packets, or in or upon their covers.

Further, all legitimate binding, mounting, or covering of a book, publication, &c., or of a portion thereof will be allowed, whether such binding, &c. be loose or attached; as also rollers in the case of prints or maps; markers (whether of paper or otherwise) in the case of books; and, in short, whatever is necessary for the safe transmission of literary or artistic matter, or usually appertains thereto.

Patterns or Samples of Merchandise may also, in future, be sent to Belgium at the same rates of postage as Book Packets, and subject to the following Regulations :—

1st.—The Patterns or Samples must not be of intrinsic value. This Rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and, indeed, whatever may have a value of its own, apart from its mere use as a Pattern or Sample; and the quantity of any material sent ostensibly as a Pattern or Sample must not be so great that it can fairly be considered as having on this ground an intrinsic value.

2nd.—There must be no writing or printing, in addition to the address of the person for whom the packet is intended, and the address of the sender other than a trade-mark and numbers and the prices of the articles; and these particulars must, in all cases, be given, not on loose pieces of paper, but on small labels attached to the Samples, or the bags containing them.

3rd.—The Patterns or Samples must be sent in covers open at the ends, so as to be easy of Examination. Samples, however, of seeds, drugs, and so forth, which cannot be sent in open covers, may be enclosed in bags of linen or other material tied at the neck; or the bags may be entirely closed, provided that they be transparent, so that the Officers of the Post Office may be able to satisfy themselves as to the nature of the contents.

4th.—No article likely to injure the contents of the mail bags, or the person of any officer of the Post Office, may be sent through the Post as a Pattern.

If either of the foregoing Rules be infringed, the packet must not be forwarded.
