SCHEDULE.

(Vide Section 3.)

Duties which render the provisions of section 3 applicable to the persons employed by, or on behalf of, the Corporation or a Municipality to perform them.

Class I.—Duties connected with the public health :

- (a) Scavenging or cleansing streets or premises,
- (b) cleansing or flushing drains,
- (c) removing or disposing of excrementitious or polluted matter from houses, latrines, privies, urinals, or cess-pools,
- (d) removing carcasses,
- (e) preventing nuisances generally.

Class II.—Duties connected with the public safety :

Duties of

- (a) members of a fire-brigade,
- (b) persons, however designated, employed on, or in connection with, the maintenance or service of any municipal water-work, drain, pumping station or fire hydrant, including :
 - (1) inspectors,
 - (2) sub-inspectors,
 - (3) foremen,
 - (4) mechanics,
 - (5) drivers,
 - (6) watchmen,
 - (7) labourers,
 - (8) workmen,
- (c) lamp-lighters.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The necessity for the present Bill has arisen from the repeal of the Bombay Municipal Act, 1872, and the omission from the present City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, of the provision contained in section 267 (a) of the repealed Act. Bo. III of 1872.
Bo. III of 1888.

2. That sub-section gave the power to make bye-laws to secure "the regular, efficient and faithful performance of their several duties by all officers and servants of the Corporation." Till the repeal of Bombay Act III of 1872, bye-law No. 9, made with the required sanction, imposed a penalty in case of unauthorised abandonment of duty by certain municipal servants.

3. The power to make such bye-laws is not continued by the present Act, and the bye-law is, therefore, Government are advised, no longer in force. Bo. III of 1888.

4. The primary object of the present Bill is thus, not so much to introduce any new obligations, as to provide by legislation the penalty hitherto imposed under municipal bye-laws. The punitive clauses of the Bill are, it will be noted, limited in their application to those classes of servants whose duties intimately concern the public health or safety.

5. By section 365 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, the Commissioner is bound to provide for the surface cleaning of the city, and by Section 371 an absolute monopoly is created as to the employment of halálkhors. The residents are, therefore, entirely at the mercy of the Municipality in these matters, and if the municipal machinery were to break down even for a week, the result, as everybody familiar with Bombay must be aware, would be most deplorable, and there would be the greatest risk of an epidemic. The desired legislation may, therefore, be regarded as a necessary corollary to the extensive powers already vested in the municipal executive by sections 64 (3) (c) and 434 of the present Municipal Act. Bo. III of 1888.
Bo. III of 1888.

6. The danger to life would be no less serious if the members of the fire-brigade could with impunity abandon their duties at the moment they were most urgently required.

Till quite recently the firemen in the City of Bombay were members of the Police, and the due discharge of their duties was consequently secured by the law applicable to them as part of the general Police force. Section 359 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, imposes on the Corporation the duty of "extinguishing fire and protecting life and property in case of fire," and the agency employed for the purpose is now under the control of the Commissioner. There is, however, no penal clause for breaches of discipline or neglect of duty by firemen. Bo. III of 1888.

7. The fire-brigade is in great measure dependent on the supply of water, and would be almost helpless if that supply were interrupted. The health as well as the safety of the entire city might, moreover, be endangered by an abandonment or neglect of duties connected with the maintenance or service of water-works.

8. The lighting of the city also concerns the public safety, and the consequences would be serious were it in the power of the lamp-lighters, by refusing to perform their duty, to plunge the city, or any part of it, in darkness.

9. In all these cases, therefore, it appears to be necessary to provide by legislation the protection which the repeal of the bye-laws has withdrawn.

10. It is possible that hereafter, experience may show the necessity for further extending this list (see Schedule annexed to the Bill), and it is therefore proposed to empower the Governor in Council by notification, giving due warning, to extend the application of the Bill to any class of duties that concern the public health or safety. The notice to be given will be long enough to enable any one who does not approve of the terms to withdraw from the service.

11. Provision is also made in section 2 of the Bill for its extension on due warning given to any Municipal District in the Presidency.

12. In order that all persons employed on duties, rendering them liable in case of wilful neglect or withdrawal, to the penalties proposed, may have full warning of such liability, provision has been made in the Bill for the supply to such employés of copies of the Act at a nominal price.
