When all the Khillats had been conferred, His Excellency the Governor delivered the following address to the assembled Darbáris:—

"Your Highnesses, Chiefs, and Táluكدárs of Káthiáwár,—I am gratified that the warrant which I have received from His Excellency the Grand Master of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire to perform on the morrow the ceremony of investing the first Chief of this province with the insignia of a Knight Grand Commander of that Order has given me this early opportunity of visiting this province and receiving you in public Darbār. I shall hope on some future occasion to make a longer stay amongst you, and to visit some at least of the States and localities in this part of the Bombay Presidency which are famous beyond the limits of the province. This is the first occasion on which the visit of a Governor to the head-quarters of this important Agency for the purpose of investing one of your number and of holding a public Darbār has been rendered easy by the completion of railway communication with the great railway systems of India. Although the particular line over which I have just travelled owes its existence to the enterprise and enlightened policy of His Highness the Thakor Saheb of Morvi, yet it must be remembered that the first step in railway construction was taken by His Highness the Thakor Saheb of Bhavnagar, who with the co-operation of the Gondal State completed the Bhavnagar-Gondal line nearly ten years ago. The original line, 192 miles long, has now been extended to the capital of His Highness the Nawab of Junágad and to Porbandar. I am not aware of any other line in India constructed and worked by the joint co-operation of four different States, and such a result reflects peculiar credit upon the administration of the States concerned, and upon the sound advice of your Political officers. The difficulties of jurisdiction and of joint management have been met as they have arisen by a spirit of compromise and common action which I trust promises still greater advantages in the future. You will more and more realize the benefits of removing obstructions to trade and thus developing the resources of this rich province by maintaining and completing the policy which my predecessor, Lord Reay, so frequently recommended to your attention. It is a satisfaction to me, and I am sure it must be so to all of you, that the Government of India has been able to accept the offers made by two of your leading States, those of His Highness the Nawab of Junágad and of His Highness the Thakor Saheb of Bhavnagar, to place certain of their military resources at the disposal of the British Government for enrolment in the Imperial Service Corps. The honour thus conferred on the military forces of those States by the selection of the troops volunteered by their rulers to form part of the general forces available for the defence of the united Empire of India, is an honour conferred on the province at large. I have heard much of your horse-breeding establishments and read the accounts of your annual horse-shows, and I feel sure that, with that spirit of co-operation which you have shown in the development of your railways, and in the institution of your Rajasthani Court, as well as in your Educational Departments, applied to the solution of military questions, this province might supply a cavalry force which would be worthy of the great Rajput families that live here, and hold its own in honourable rivalry against similar corps in Rājputāna and elsewhere of which we have lately read such flattering accounts. I congratulate Your Highnesses of Junágad and Navānagar, and the Gondal State, that you have been able to dispense with the special assistance lent to you by my predecessor for the restoration of order and the re-organization of your police. The suppression of outlawry, which had long prevailed, and the absence of violent crime from the statistics of your latest administration reports, are conspicuous. At the same time, I need not remind you that the best preventive of those dacoities and outlaws, for which this province has in time past been notorious, lies in the contentment of the people, in the pure administration of justice, and in the firm but righteous discharge of those administrative powers which the famous settlement of Kāthiāwār and the treaties negotiated by the British Company, and above all the gracious Proclamation of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress, have secured for you. Should these preventive causes prove insufficient and the suppression of organized crime be hereafter forced upon you, I am confident that systematic co-operation between the several States and the Agency in police arrangements, will prove the most effective and prompt method of controlling the criminal classes of the province. It will be my duty and my pleasure to uphold your rights and privileges and to assist you in the discharge of your responsibilities and duties. For those high functions I cannot impress upon you too strongly the importance of education and of personal preparation. The direct interest which Her Majesty the Queen-Empress and Her Viceroy take in your affairs is abundantly proved by the decorations and favours of the Sovereign which I see around me. Every year added to the record of good administration will strengthen you in bearing the strain to which all Governments are subject by seasons of famine or by the pressure of external events. It is especially necessary in this province to develop and utilize your water-supply, so that the seasons of scanty rainfall, to which its bare and treeless plains are so liable, may be relieved by well-planned irrigation works. A competition with each other in the promotion of reforms and improvements is offered to you by the existence side by side of so many separate jurisdictions and distinct States, and I trust that, during the tenure of the high office to which Her Majesty has been pleased to call me, I may be enabled to count many of you as my friends, and to witness a still greater advance in the prosperity of this rich and interesting province under its own indigenous rule, fostered by the maintenance of peace and by the constant aid and supervision of the Paramount Power."

The Oriental Translator to Government then read a translation in Gujarātī of His Excellency's address.

The distribution of attar, pān and garlands brought the Darbār to a termination, and another salute of 17 guns was fired as His Excellency departed, the Guard of Honour presenting arms, and the Band playing as His Excellency passed. The Chiefs were accorded the same honours on their departure as on their entrance, the order of arrival being inverted at their departure.

Full dress was worn by all officers and evening dress by all gentlemen not entitled to wear uniform. Ladies were morning dress.

The remainder of the day was occupied in paying return visits to the Chiefs of the first three classes who had visited His Excellency on the 18th. The order of the visits was that most convenient with reference to their residences or encampments.

8. On the morning of the 20th the ceremony of investing His Highness the Nawab of Junágad with the Insignia of a Knight Grand Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire, to which dignity he had been appointed by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, was performed.

The arrangements were precisely similar to those of the previous day, the Princes and Chiefs, officials and other visitors occupying the same seats and being dressed in full costume as before. The invited guests were all in their seats by half-past seven, and during the next hour the First Class Chiefs of Káthiáwár arrived, each receiving the salute to which he was entitled, while the Members of the Order in attendance, namely, His Highness the Thakor Saheb of Morvi, K.C.I.E., the Thakor Saheb of Limbdi, K.C.I.E., Khán Bahádur Kázi Shahábadin, C.I.E., Khán Bahádur Pestonji Jehangir, C.I.E., Ráo Sáheb Mahipatram Rupram Nílkant, C.I.E., Ráo Sáheb Dálpatram Dayabhai, C.I.E., Ráo Bahádur Ranchodlal Chotalal, C.I.E., Muncherji Merwanji Bhowanuggri, Esquire, C.I.E., and Colonel C. Wodehouse, C.I.E., met in the assembly tent adjoining the large Shamiana, to wait upon His Highness the Nawab of Junágad on his arrival.

At 8-20 A.M. His Highness the Nawab of Junágad arrived accompanied by the Assistant Political Agent in charge of the Sorath Pránt and escorted by Cavalry; he was met by an Officer deputed by the Political Agent and by an Aide-de-Camp to His Excellency the Governor, and was conducted by them to the tent where the members of the Order had assembled. The followers of His Highness were conducted to their seats in Darbár by the Oriental Translator to Government.

His Excellency the Governor arrived at 8-30 A.M., dressed in official uniform, and wearing the Insignia of a Knight Grand Commander of the Order of the Indian Empire; the Guard of Honour consisting of a detachment of the 2nd Gloucester Regiment presented arms; and a salute of 17 guns was fired. A procession was then formed of the members of the Order, according to custom, the junior preceding the senior members of the Order. Mr. E. C. K. Ollivant, Political Agent of Káthiáwár, and Mr. W. Lee-Warner, Secretary to Government, Political Department, marched in front, followed by the Companions of the Order of the Indian Empire and the Knights Commander of the Order. Then came His Excellency the Governor preceded by his Staff and followed by pages holding his cloak. As the procession entered the tent the assembly rose in a body. On reaching the Dais the members of the Order filed off right and left and saluted His Excellency as he took his seat upon the Dais the Band playing the National Anthem. All having resumed their seats the Secretary to Government reported to His Excellency that the business of the Darbár was the investiture, under the Sovereign's grants, of His Highness Bahádurkhanji Mohobatkhanji, Nawáb of Junágad, as a Knight Grand Commander, and delivered to His Excellency Her Majesty's grant.

The Political Secretary and the Political Agent, Káthiáwár, with two junior Knights Commander then withdrew in order to conduct His Highness the Nawab from his tent into the presence of the Governor. They returned in procession, the Political Agent bearing the insignia, and His Highness the Nawab, attended by his pages, bringing up the rear. The procession stopped in front of the Dais, when the Secretary received from His Excellency the Governor and read the Sovereign's grant in favour of His Highness the Nawab of Junágad.

The two Knights Commander receiving the Riband, Badge and Star of the Order from the Secretary, attached them to His Highness' dress and afterwards robed him in the mantle of the Order. His Excellency the Governor was then handed the gold collar of the Knight Grand Commander, with which he invested His Highness the Nawab, addressing him as follows:—

"In the name of the Queen-Empress of India and by Her Majesty's Command, I hereby invest you with the Honourable Insignia of the Order of the Indian Empire, of which Most Eminent Order Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to appoint you to be a Knight Grand Commander."

His Highness remained standing while a salute of 11 guns was fired, after which the newly invested Knight made his reverence to His Excellency and was conducted to his seat. The Guard of Honour presented arms and the Secretary then proclaimed the full titles of His Highness as follows:—His Highness Sir Bahádurkhanji Mohobatkhanji, Knight Grand Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire and Nawab of Junágad.

His Excellency then said: "I declare this Chapter to be now closed," and the ceremony terminated; a procession of the Knight Grand Commander, Knights Commander and Companions of the Order was formed and left the Darbár tent in the reverse order from that in which it entered, a Grand March being performed and the Guard of Honour presenting arms. As His Excellency the Governor departed a salute of 17 guns was fired.

In the afternoon His Excellency visited the Horse-Show and presented the prizes and diplomas to the winners and replied to an address from the Political Agent, Káthiáwár. In the evening His Excellency and all the European gentlemen and ladies at Rájkot were entertained at a grand banquet given by His Highness the Nawab of Junágad.

9. On the 21st His Excellency laid the foundation stone of the Victoria Jubilee Water-works, and, after doing so, briefly addressed the assembly. Subsequently His Excellency drove to the Rájkumár College, where he was received by Mr. Macnaghten, the Principal. After a number of recitations by the students His Excellency distributed the prizes and addressed the students.

10. On the 22nd His Excellency attended the Races, and on the following day left Rájkot, reaching Broach at 11-5 P.M. He was received at the station the following morning by the Collector of Broach and a number of other gentlemen. He visited the public offices, the Hospital and the High School in the morning, and at 11 o'clock he drove to the Municipal Hall and received and replied to an address from the Municipality, which was read by the Vice-President, Ráo Bahádur Chunilal Venilal.

By order of His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor in Council,

W. LEE-WARNER,
Secretary to Government.
