GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, 12th July 1892.

No. 2367.—The following Official Circular of information for Foreign Exhibitors at the Chicago Exhibition, received from the Chief of the Department of Foreign Affairs, World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, United States, America, is published for general information:—

"General Regulations for Foreign Exhibitors.

1. The Exhibition will be held on the shore of Lake Michigan, in the City of Chicago, and will be opened on the first day of May 1893, and closed on the 30th day of October following.
 2. All Governments have been invited to appoint commissions for the purpose of organizing their departments of the Exhibition. The Director-General should be notified of the appointment of such foreign commissions as soon as the appointment is made.
- Diagrams of the buildings and grounds will be furnished to the foreign commissions on or before January 1, 1892, indicating the localities to be occupied by each nation, subject, however, to revision and re-adjustment.
3. Applications for space and negotiations relative thereto must be conducted with the commission of the country where the article is produced.
 4. Foreign commissions are requested to notify the Director-General not later than June 1, 1892 where they desire any increase or diminution of the space offered them, and the amount.
 5. Before November 1, 1892, the foreign commissions must furnish the Director-General with approximate plans showing the manner of allotting the space assigned to them, and also with lists of their exhibitors and other information necessary for the preparation of the official catalogue.

Products brought into the United States at the ports of Portland, Me.; Boston, Mass.; New York; N. Y.; Philadelphia, Penn.; Baltimore, Md.; Norfolk, Va.; Newport News, Va.; Key West, Fla.; Mobile, Ala.; New Orleans, La.; Galveston, Texas; San Francisco, Cal.; Port Townsend, Wash.; Portland, Ore.; Port Haron, Mich.; Detroit, Mich.; and Chicago, Ill., or at any other port of entry, intended for display at the International Exhibition, will be allowed to go forward to the Exhibition buildings, under proper supervision of customs officers, without examination at such ports of original entry, and at the close of the Exhibition will be allowed to go forward to the port from which they are to be exported. No duties will be levied upon such goods unless entered for consumption in the United States.

6. The transportation, receiving, unpacking, and arranging of the products for exhibition will be at the expense of the exhibitor.

7. The installation of heavy articles requiring special foundations or adjustment should, by special arrangement, begin as soon as the progress of the work upon the buildings will permit. The general reception of articles at the Exhibition buildings will commence on November 1, 1892, and no articles will be admitted after April 10, 1893.

NOTE.—Weight of single article limited to 30,000 pounds.

8. Space assigned to foreign commissions, and not occupied on the 10th day of April 1893, will revert to the Director-General for re-assignment.

9. If products are indented for competition, it must be so stated by the exhibitor; if not, they will be excluded from the examination by the International juries.

10. An Official Catalogue will be published in English, French, German, and Spanish. The sale of catalogues is reserved to the World's Columbian Exposition.

The twelve departments of the classification which will determine the relative location of articles in the Exhibition—except in such collective exhibits as may receive special sanction—also the arrangement of names in the catalogue, are so follows:

A. Agriculture, Forest Products, Forestry, Machinery, and Appliances.

B. Viticulture, Horticulture, Floriculture.

C. Live stock: Domestic and Wild Animals.

D. Fish, Fisheries, Fish Products, and Apparatus for Fishing.

E. Mines, Mining, and Metallurgy.

F. Machinery.

G. Transportation: Railways, Vessels, Vehicles.

H. Manufactures.

J. Electricity.

K. Fine Arts: Painting, Sculpture, Architecture, and Decoration.

L. Liberal Arts: Education, Literature, Engineering, Public Works; Music, and the Drama.

M. Ethnology, Archæology, Progress of Labour and Invention, Isolated and Collective Exhibits.

11. Foreign commissions may publish catalogues of their respective sections.
12. Exhibitors will not be charged for space.

A limited quantity of steam and water power will be supplied gratuitously. The quantity of each will be settled definitely at the time of the allotment of space. Any power required by the exhibitor in excess of that allowed will be furnished by the World's Columbian Exposition at a fixed price. Demands for such excess of power must also be settled at the time of the allotment of space.

13. Exhibitors must provide at their own cost all show-cases, shelving counters, fittings, etc., which they may require, and all countershafts, with their pulleys, belting, etc., for the transmission of power from the main shafts in the building where the exhibit is located. All arrangements of articles and decorations must be in conformity with the general plan adopted by the Director-General.

NOTE.—The general plan requires all decorations, signs, etc., to be in harmony with the dignity and magnitude of a magnificent exhibition, and the Director-General is empowered to secure this result.

The World's Columbian Exposition will take precautions for the safe preservation of all objects in the Exhibition; but it will in no way be responsible for damage or loss of any kind, or for accidents by fire or otherwise, however originating.

NOTE.—A thoroughly equipped fire department will protect the buildings and exhibits, and a large police force will maintain order. The entire exposition grounds will be under the immediate supervision of the City of Chicago and of the State of Illinois. A guard equal to any possible contingency is thus provided; the municipal authority being upheld, if necessary, by the State troops, and the State by the army of the United States, so that no apprehension need arise as to losses resulting from lawlessness.

14. Favourable facilities will be arranged by which exhibitors or foreign commissions may insure their own goods.

NOTE.—Special care has been taken to render everything about the Exposition as nearly fireproof as possible, and it is reasonably certain that the rates of insurance will not be excessive, but, on the contrary, very reasonable. Exhibitors may insure in any company, foreign or domestic. Arrangements will be made with English, French, German and American companies to fix uniform or special rates on exhibits and buildings, so that no advantage will be taken of any exhibitor who wishes to insure his goods.

Foreign commissions may employ watchmen of their own choice to guard their goods during the hours the Exhibition is open to the public, subject to the rules and regulations of the Exposition.

15. Foreign commissions, or such agents as they may designate, shall be responsible for the receiving, unpacking, and arrangement of objects, as well as for the removal at the close of the Exposition; but no person shall be permitted to act as such agent until he can give to the Director-General written evidence of his having been approved by the proper commission.

16. Each package must be addressed, "To the Commission (name of country) at the World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, United States of America," and should have at least two labels affixed to different, but not opposite, sides of each case, and give the following information:

17. (1) The country from which it comes; (2) name of firm of the exhibitor; (3) residence of the exhibitor; (4) department to which objects belong; (5) total number of packages sent by that exhibitor; (6) serial number of that particular package.

18. Within each package should be a list of all objects.

19. If no authorized person is at hand to receive goods on their arrival at the Exposition buildings, they will be removed without delay and stored at the risk and cost of whomsoever it may concern.

20. Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent nostrums and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted.

21. The removal of goods on exhibition will not be permitted prior to the close of the Exhibition.

NOTE.—Articles not on exhibition in competition may be sold under special permit.

22. Sketches, drawings, photographs, or other reproductions of articles exhibited will only be allowed upon the joint assent of the exhibitor and the Director-General; but views of portions of the building may be made upon the Director-General's sanction.

23. Immediately after the close of the Exhibition, exhibitors shall remove their effects, and complete such removal before January 1, 1894. Goods then remaining will be removed and sold for expenses, or otherwise disposed of under the direction of the World's Columbian Exposition.

24. Each person who becomes an exhibitor thereby acknowledges and agrees to be governed by the rules and regulations established for the Government of the Exhibition.

Special regulations will be issued concerning the Exhibition of fine arts, awards, the organization of the international juries, and sales of special articles within the buildings, and on other points not touched upon in these preliminary instructions.

25. All communications concerning the Exhibition will be addressed to the Director-General, World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, Illinois, United States of America.

The Management reserves the right to explain or amend these regulations, whenever it may be deemed necessary for the interest of the Exhibition.

United States Government Regulations governing the free importation of Articles for Exhibition at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in the year 1893.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, D. C., November 5, 1891.

On April 25, 1890, the President of the United States approved an Act passed by the Congress providing for celebrating the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, which Act contains the following preamble:

"WHEREAS it is fit and appropriate that the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America be commemorated by an exhibition of the resources of the United States of America, their development, and of the progress of civilization in the new world; and

"WHEREAS such an exhibition should be of a national and international character, so that not only the people of our Union and this Continent, but those of all nations as well, can participate, and should therefore have the sanction of the Congress of the United States."

And Section 11 of said Act is as follows:

"That all articles which shall be imported from foreign countries for the sole purpose of exhibition at said Exposition, upon which there shall be a tariff or customs duty, shall be admitted free of payment of duty, customs fees or charges under such regulation as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe; but it shall be lawful at any time during the exhibition to sell, for delivery at the close of the Exposition, any goods or property imported for and actually on exhibition in the Exposition buildings or on its grounds, subject to such regulations for the security of the revenue and for the collection of the import duties as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe: provided that all such articles, when sold or withdrawn for consumption in the United States, shall be subject to the duty, if any, imposed upon such articles by the revenue laws in force at the date of importation, and all penalties prescribed by the law shall be applied and enforced against such articles, and against the persons who may be guilty of any illegal sale or withdrawal."

Under the authority conferred upon him by the above section and by previous statutes of the United States, the Secretary of the Treasury prescribes the following regulations, viz.:

1. It is the purpose of this Department to secure expedition and security to all articles imported for exhibition at the Chicago Exposition without the exaction of customs duties, fees, or charges, and to arrange the proceedings on entry so as to afford the utmost convenience and despatch.

2. In order to obtain the benefits of this arrangement, every package destined for the Exposition should have affixed to it by the foreign shipper one or more labels representing the flag of the country to which it belongs. This label should be about eight by twelve inches in size, and should bear above the face, in plain black letters, the inscription "Exposition at Chicago." All packages should be plainly marked as follows: (1) "Collector of Customs, Chicago"; (2) "Exhibits for Columbian Exposition"; (3) Name of consignee or agent at the port of first arrival in the United States; (4) The shipping marks and numbers of the exhibitor; (5) Name and address of the exhibitor.

3. Every foreign exhibitor will prepare, in duplicate, a statement in the form of an invoice, which shall show the name of the exhibitor, the marks and numbers of the packages, with a description of their contents and a declaration of the quantity and the market value of each separate kind thereof in the country of production. This statement must be signed by the exhibitor, but will require no further verification. One of the invoices will be transmitted by mail to the Collector of Customs at Chicago, and the other to the consignee of the goods at the port of first arrival.

4. As a matter of convenience, it is recommended that all packages intended for the Exposition shall be consigned to an agent, or forwarder, or commissioner, at the port of first arrival, who will attend to customs business incident to the transfer of packages from the importing vessel to a bonded route for transportation to Chicago. All of the bonded transportation lines will discharge their freight at stations in Chicago to be arranged within the Exposition grounds, and packages marked as suggested in Article 2 may be taken to their respective divisions as soon as they have been identified by the customs officers.

5. The following list of companies, bonded for the transportation of merchandise to Chicago without appraisement, is furnished for the information of parties whom it may concern:

From Portland, Me.—Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada; American Express Company.

From Boston, Mass.—Central Vermont Railroad Company; American Express Company; New York and New England Railroad Company; The Fitchburg Railroad Company; Merchants' Despatch Transportation Company; Boston and Maine Railroad Company.

From Port Huron, Mich.—Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway Company.

From Detroit, Mich.—Michigan Central Railroad Company; Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad Company; Wabash Railroad Company.

6. The consignee of the merchandise at the first port of arrival must present at the custom-house the invoice above described, with a bill of lading and an entry in duplicate made out upon the special form to be provided for this purpose by the Treasury Department, which shall show the name of the foreign shipper or owner, the name of the importing vessel, the marks and numbers of the packages, with a statement of the nature of their contents and of their foreign value as declared in the invoice. The entry must also indicate the bonded route by which the goods are to be transported to Chicago, and must be signed by the consignee. No other declaration will be required. The goods will be consigned, on the customs entry, to "Collector of Customs, Chicago," and there need be no computation of duties upon this entry, but the amount charged against the bond of the transportation company shall be double the invoice value.

7. The Collector will thereupon issue a special permit bearing the words "Chicago Exposition," authorizing the transfer of the goods from the ship to the bonded railroad for transportation to Chicago, and will record and file one of the entries in his office and send the other by mail, with the invoice, to the Collector at Chicago.

8. The permit will be taken by the agent or consignee to the inspector on board the importing vessel, who will thereupon send the goods, by a cartman duly licensed, to be delivered under the supervision of a customs officer to the transportation company.

9. The consignee will also prepare a manifest of the goods, which, after being duly certified, will be handed to the conductor of the car carrying the same, and a duplicate copy must be sent by mail to the Collector of Customs at Chicago. Upon arrival at Chicago of any car containing such articles, the conductor or agent of the railroad company will report such arrival by the presentation of the manifest to the customs officer designated to receive it, who shall compare the same with the copy received by mail, and superintend the opening of the car, taking care to identify the packages by marks and numbers as described in the manifests. In case of the non-receipt of the manifests, the unloading of cars need not for that reason be delayed, but the invoice may be used to identify the packages.

10. Articles sent by foreign Governments to the Exposition, which are used solely for Government purposes and are not intended for sale, will be admitted to entry at the exterior port of arrival on certificates of the proper foreign commissioner without the production of invoice. But it is desired that the estimated value of each package shall be stated on the certificate or the bill of lading in order that the pecuniary responsibility of the transportation company may be fixed.

11. These regulations will also apply to goods sent to the Exposition from foreign contiguous territory. All articles destined for the Exposition arriving from Canada or through cars under consular seal, and articles which are sent direct by vessels from any foreign port to Chicago, must be consigned by the foreign shipper to the "Collector of Customs" at that port, and on entry being made as in the case of goods arriving at the seaboard, a permit will be issued for the transfer of the goods directly to the Exposition grounds.

12. The buildings and spaces set apart for the purposes of the Exposition are constituted "constructive bonded warehouses and yards," and all foreign articles placed therein under the supervision of the custom officers, and which have been specially imported for exhibition therein, will be treated the same as merchandise in bond. No warehouse entry will be required at Chicago in order to obtain entrance for such goods, but the latter will be kept under customs supervision in accordance with the general regulations governing merchandise in bonded warehouses, except as herein otherwise provided for. The Collector at Chicago will keep a special record in the form of a warehouse ledger, of every invoice, assigning serial numbers to the same in order of their reception, and the transportation entry received from the Collector at the port of arrival will be considered the warehouse entry.

13. After the packages have been placed in the respective positions assigned to them by the officers of the Exposition, they will be opened by an officer of the customs, who shall primarily identify the contents with the invoice only as to quantity and character. Due examination of the contents and appraisement of values will be subsequently made by the appraiser, who shall be furnished with the invoice of the articles to be appraised, and shall indorse his report of appraisement upon such invoice in like manner as if such articles were regularly entered for consumption or warehouse. The entry will then be liquidated, the full amount of duties ascertained, and the whole transaction entered upon the prescribed record. All the proceedings relating to the examination, appraisement, and liquidation shall be the same as on ordinary importations.

14. As, under the United States tariff, the cost of packages is made a part of the dutiable value of imported goods, the empty boxes, barrels, and casks from which imported articles have been taken in order to be displayed should be carefully preserved so as to be repacked for exportation at the close of the Exposition. Dutiable packing-cases not exported will be subject to the payment of duty. It is expected that a place will be provided for the storage of such empty packages, and the latter should be recorded and numbered for identification.

15. Packages containing articles imported for gratuitous distribution, or for actual use and consumption in restaurants, refreshment rooms etc., must be regularly entered for consumption and duty paid thereon before being delivered by the customs officers.

16. The articles after having been received in the Exposition will remain under the custody of the customs officers, and must not be removed from the place assigned without a permit from the Collector of Customs or the officer who may be designated by him to grant such permit. In no case shall such articles be released from the custody of the customs officers, unless the same shall have been regularly withdrawn for consumption, for warehouse, or for export. The requisite number of customs inspectors will be stationed at every place containing foreign exhibits, each of whom will be placed in charge of a section, which shall be numbered and designated as a customs division. A list of the articles entered for exhibit in his section will be furnished to each of such inspectors, who shall retain a copy thereof, certify the original, and transmit it to the Collector.

17. Sales may be made during the exposition of articles imported for exhibition, but deliveries of the same will be allowed only at the close of the Exposition. For this purpose a regular withdrawal as from bond will be required, and duty must be paid according to law. In case the articles are sold for delivery at some port other than Chicago, a withdrawal may be made for transportation and re-warehouse duty to be paid at the place of destination. Any exhibitor of articles which shall be sold may authorize withdrawal of the same by the purchaser, such authority to be contained in a written notice to the Collector at Chicago. After the filing of such notice, the person specified in the same shall be recognised as entitled to all the rights and subject to all the liabilities of the original importer.

18. Withdrawal from bond cannot be made for less than one entire package, but in case of accidental damage or destruction, it is not intended to assess duties upon such articles as shall not have entered into actual consumption in this country. On articles which shall have suffered diminution or deterioration from incidental handling and necessary exposure, the duty, if paid, will be assessed according to the appraised value at the time of withdrawal for consumption.

19. At the close of the Exhibition all goods intended for exportation will be transported in bond to the seaboard or exterior port, and exported therefrom under the general regulations for immediate export in bond, as modified by special regulations to be in due time provided.

20. Any exhibitor who may import merchandise in excess of that which he desires to place on view in the Exposition may make regular warehouse entry of the same on its arrival at Chicago, whereupon it shall be taken to a United States bonded warehouse and stored without payment of duty, subject to the regulations provided for bonded goods. Withdrawals of merchandise stored under these conditions, if made for the purpose of placing the same within the Exposition, will be treated under the provisions for entry on arrival at first port of entry, and no duty will be required to be paid. Such merchandise must be delivered at the Exposition in charge of a customs officer. Should any merchandise be abandoned by the owner at the close of the Exposition, it will be placed in a general order warehouse for twelve months, and, if then unclaimed, will be sold for account of owner.

21. The privileges granted by virtue of these regulations are intended solely for the benefit of exhibitors at the World's Columbian Exposition, and with the view of relieving them, so far as practicable, of delays and vexations in connection with the customs business pertaining to their importations. Any attempt to take advantage of these regulations in order to evade the tariff laws of the United States will subject the offender to all the penalties prescribed by those laws, including confiscation of goods and fine and imprisonment.

22. The regulations issued by this Department on January 7, 1891, are hereby revoked, and the foregoing adopted in lieu thereof.

(Signed) CHARLES FOSTER,
Secretary."

By order of His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor in Council,

T. D. MACKENZIE,
Chief Secretary to Government.
